Weary Crews Still Fight Flames Sweeping Across Galena Summit's Timber

HAILEY, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Weary firefighters, bolstered by two national guard units and aerial pumps of equipment, Monday continued to battle advancing flames that already have destroyed some 600 acres of timberland near Galena summit. Shortly before noon Monday, fire service officials reported the fire was raging between Pole creek and the top of the ridge between the Salmon river and Wood river drainages and near a branch of Rainbow creek. Hope was expressed the flames could be controlled by Monday night.

Plane Wreckage Is Located in Search

BOISE, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Searchers reported about 10:30 a.m. today they had sighted in the Bruneau river about 30 miles southeast of Mountain Home the wreckage of a missing Piper Cub J3 airplane which disappeared after taking off on a local flight five days ago. State Director of Aeronautics, Chet Moulton, who sighted the little single-engine airplane, said he had seen no sign of the two men believed aboard.

Statesman Dies

WALTER F. GEORGE, 79, ex-senator and diplomat, died yesterday at his home at Vienna, Ga. (AP photo)

He died quietly in his sleep at the white frame house in this south central Georgia town of 2,900 where he first started practicing law 56 years ago.

Puneral services were held this afternoon in the red brick First Baptist church where he often worshipped. He will be buried in Vienna cemetery a mile from town.

In Washington, the senate planned to meet only briefly and recess out of respect for the courtly Southerner.

Fire Hits Range

SHOSHONE, Aug. 5—A range fire that moved out of control for about 24 hours was subdued in the Kimama area at 1 p.m. Sunday, but not until it had covered some 4,900 acres of rangeland.

Cause of the fire, which was reported about 1 p.m. Saturday, was not determined.

Another range fire reported Saturday burned about 70 acres of private land near Wendell. Bureau of land management personnel said the blaze was caused when flames started by a farmer burning land got out of control.

Strike by Rebels Harasses Cuban Transportation

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—A rebel-sponsored general strike movement hit Havana's transportation industry today and stopped construction on an American oil refinery on the outskirts of the city. The strike was not wholly effective. Some public transportation was operating and banks and stores were doing business as usual.

Area Youth Is Hurt in Spill From Tractor

RICHFIELD, Aug. 5—Knocked unconscious when he was thrown from his overturning tractor near here Sunday morning, Kenneth Hilderman, 18, was reported in good condition Monday at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome.

Hilderman was pulling a cultivator on his father's ranch when the tractor apparently caught on an obstacle and overturned. Hilderman was thrown clear but was knocked unconscious by the fall. The tractor caught fire.

Charles Slader, Richfield, and Ralph Ritey, Jr., saw the smoke and rushed to Hilderman's aid. Ritey and his wife took the injured youth to the hospital and slung upright on the tractor and extinguished the flames.

The extent of Hilderman's injuries was not yet determined. He had regained consciousness.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hilderman, were visiting in Nampa at the time of the accident.

Wind-Blown Waters Claim Lives of Four

By United Press

High winds churned up mountains of water in Lake Michigan yesterday, causing at least four deaths by drowning. Extended rescue operations marked by instances of high courage resulted in the saving of at least eight more lives.

Turbulence in Midwest waters was centered in a cool Canadian air mass which pushed the mercury down as generally brisk weather prevailed through the eastern half of the country. Numerous thunderstorms fell along the areas just outside the cool air mass.

Death struck along the lower rim of Lake Michigan, taking a 13-year-old Chicago girl, a lifeguard and a swimmer at Gary, Ind., and a young man washed off a pier at St. Joseph, Mich.

Estimates put waves that lashed the lower shore of Lake Michigan at five to 15 feet high. Distress signals sounded all day along the Chicago waterfront where beaches had been closed. Lifeguards continually plunged into the water to rescue bathers who violated the swimming ban.

Speclators lined along a seawall on Chicago's north side joined in the rescue operations and hauled a lifeguard and two young men 100 yards back to shore. The lifeguard had swum to the young men, carried off by strong currents in 20 feet of water, attached a cable to them and instructed the people on shore to pull the trio in.

Three Dams Burst; New Mexico Areas Battered by Floods

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Three dams on the Gallinas river burst early today, sending an estimated 90 million gallons of water rushing through Las Vegas and flooding homes above and below the city to a depth of up to 14 feet. No loss of life was reported, although damage to livestock and property was heavy. National guardsmen and lawmen evacuated hundreds of persons from riverbank homes. The river, swollen by heavy rain, was falling as dawn broke.

Tally Sheet Is Inspected

Police Sgt. George Shannon said many of the homes had been built along the normally trickling river during the past seven years of drought.

Las Vegas itself, a northcentral New Mexico city of about 14,000 some 50 miles due east of the state capital of Santa Fe, escaped flooding. Shannon said the river banks held well within the city.

Northwest of the city in Gallinas and Montezuma canyons, where the reservoir dams were located, more than a dozen homes were hit by the flash of floodwaters released when the earth fill dams burst under pressure of heavy mountain rains. Water ran three and four feet deep there.

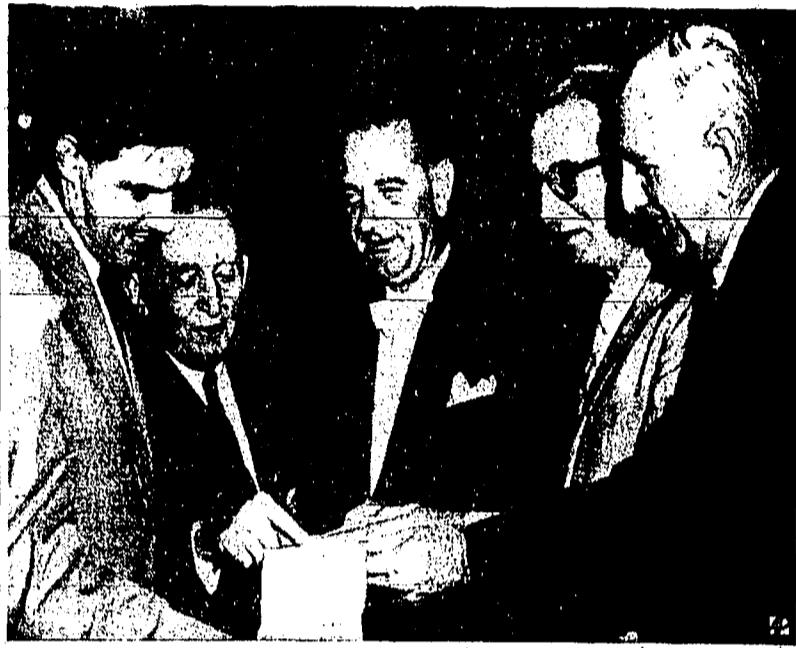

South of the city, the water spread to 25 feet from its normal channel on each side, lapping the roofs of 25 to 30 homes to a depth of 12 to 14 feet, Shannon said.

No immediate estimate of property damage could be made, he said.

A suburban area of 25 homes a quarter of a mile south of town was cut off for a time. It lay at the junction of the Gallinas and the normally dry Pecos arroyo. Floodwaters in the river and down the arroyo knocked out the only two bridges giving access to the area.

High wheeled national guard trucks brought out some of the residents, the remainder wading the Pecos arroyo when the water fell. They went to safety on a nearby high bluff, Shannon said.

Radio calls from rescue workers further south of the city reported the flood crest had passed the village of Lourdes 18 miles from Las Vegas with no damage. A national guard contingent had been dispatched there to warn residents of the city community.

Democratic Sens. Frank Church, Idaho; Joseph C. O'Mahoney, Wyoming; Lyndon Johnson, Texas; Estes Kefauver, Tennessee; and Richard Russell, Georgia, left to right, go over senate vote tally sheet after victory in attaching jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill by a vote of 51-42. O'Mahoney, Kefauver and Church sponsored the amendment. Russell led the southern bloc. Johnson, majority leader, was a big factor in passage of the measure. (AP wirephoto)

Johnson Says Nixon Spearheads Rights Bill "Propaganda Drive"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson asserted today that Vice President Richard M. Nixon is leading a "concerted propaganda campaign" of veto threat against the senate version of the civil rights bill. "This talk about the senate refusal to waive the right of trial by jury being a dilution of the bill is political propaganda," Johnson told reporters. He was asked about the week-end report from high sources

Tito Is Back In Home City After Confab

BELGRADE, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Yugoslav President Tito returned to Belgrade today from his secret meeting in Romania with Soviet communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Tito came home just in time to welcome President Ho Chi Minh of communist North Viet Nam, who arrived from Hungary for a five-day official visit. Thousands lined the streets as the two presidents drove together through the capital.

Unity Drive

Experts on Yugoslav foreign relations meanwhile indicated that, as a result of the Khrushchev-Tito meeting, the Yugoslav leader would appear at a new Soviet-inspired drive to forge closer links with non-communist socialist parties of the West.

Five More Cases of Topsy Driving Noted

Five more cases of drunken driving have been reported through Magic Valley courts. Donald Eugene Swanson, 692 Washington street north, was sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $100 and $3 costs Monday in Twin Falls police court for drunken driving. A report of his conviction will be sent to Boise and to Salem, Ore. He will be denied the privilege of applying for a driver's license in either state for one year. Swanson was carrying an expired Oregon driver's license when he was arrested Sunday near Five Points east by city police. He accepted a blood-alcohol test following his arrest but waived trial Monday and pleaded guilty.

Frederic Loyd Barnes, Ogden, was fined $150 and $3 costs Monday in Twin Falls justice court after changing his plea from innocent to guilty.

Syria Trades Threats With Arab Enemy

AMMAN, Jordan, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—The Jordanian government was expected today to demand the withdrawal of Syrian Charge d'Affaires Ahmad Rabbil for his part in the crisis in Syrian-Jordanian relations.

The crisis exploded when Damascus radio broadcast a Syrian communique saying Jordan had threatened to sever diplomatic relations and to resort to "armed intervention" if Syria did not end its propaganda campaigns against Jordan.

Syria called it an "ultimatum."

Authoritative sources in Amman said "Jordan will never be the first in any case to take action in respect to cutting off diplomatic relations with Syria or resorting to armed intervention."

It was understood the Syrian reply to the Jordan warning would be delivered to Foreign Minister Samir Rifai today by the Syrian charge d'affaires.

Diplomatic circles in Damascus said the tension had receded following the denial but that the crisis was not yet over. Informal sources there said the Arab league council may be called in to try to end the state of tension.

Syrian Police Chief Shaker Intaki told newsmen in Damascus that "strict searching measures" on Syrian travelers but that the border between the two countries was still open.

Cooler Again

After a day or two of warm weather, lower temperatures and some clouds are promised for Magic Valley, according to the five-day forecast received from Associated Press.

"Short summer, wasn't it?" grinned the AP reporter as he read this forecast:

"Temperatures averaging five to 10 degrees below normal. Maximums mostly in the 70s or low 80s, minimums mostly in the low 50s. Showery periods. A few afternoon thundershowers."

British Slate

New Drive in Desert Fight

BAHRAIN, Persian Gulf, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Authoritative sources said today a British-led ground war against the rebel forces of the Imam of Oman would begin in the sultanate of Muscat and Oman within the next day or two.

(In Cairo Sheikh Mohammed El Harithy, the Imam's representative, called on the American and Russian embassies to relay an appeal by the Imam to stop "British aggression" in the Arabian peninsula.)

The appeals were addressed to President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

El Harithy conferred with U.S. Embassy Counselor Parker Hart and Russian Charge d'Affaires Pavel Bursakov.

An official British spokesman said "units of British forces are engaged in forward grouping" for the assault but he would not elaborate on grounds of military security.

His comment was assumed to mean that the "forward grouping" was from the advance operational base at Taji where British infantry and armor have moved up for an attack.

City Is Hit by Terror Wave

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—New York's 23,000 policemen are on a special alert to block any new outbreaks of teen-age terrorism. Teen-agers have killed two boys and a man in a little more than a week.

Acting Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy placed the force on special alert Saturday night. A few hours later a gang of teen-agers wounded two men in Brooklyn with a shotgun blast.

About the same time a squad of detectives mounted on bicycles took up a brawl between two gangs in the Bronx. Police arrested 14 boys and boys who were slugging it out with baseball bats, heavy leather belts and iron pipe. Governor Averell Harriman called on his state youth commission to meet with city officials today. They will explore ways of ending the crime wave.

"Drys" Ready to Battle "Wets" On Reduction in Cabaret Tax

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—The "drys" are ready for a wet-vs-dry fight today over a bill to reduce the federal tax on night-clubbing. The outcome was in doubt.

Called up for house passage was a bill to reduce to 10 per cent the present 20 per cent cabaret tax on beer and drink consumed in hotel dining rooms and other night spots providing entertainment or live music.

The musicians' union was leading the battle for the bill outside Congress. The union blames the tax for closing hotel entertainment rooms and throwing musicians and other entertainers out of work.

Leading the opposition were prohibitionists who contend that drink is sinful and should be taxed heavily. The treasury opposes the bill on grounds it would lose revenue, cutting treasury income by an estimated $1 million a year.

The treasury disputed the musicians' contention the tax is responsible for closing hotel entertainment rooms and other night spots. The treasury contended American consumers have simply decided to spend their money on other things, such as television sets.

Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell said several months ago he agreed the tax was hurting musicians and should be repealed entirely. The proposed 10 per cent reduction was backed by the musicians as a compromise.

Backers of the measure argued the 20 per cent cabaret tax is discriminatory since almost all such excise (sales) taxes have been scaled down to a maximum of 10 per cent since the Korean war. The only items that retain a tax of as much as 20 per cent are club dues and admission to horse and dog races.

Pocatello Woman Passes of Beating

POCATELLO, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—A woman died last night, 36 hours after being shot through the hand and chest and being beaten on the head with a wrench.

She was Mrs. Clara Cope, 45, Pocatello.

Ernest Palmer, 56, also of Pocatello, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon before Mrs. Cope died. Police were expected to confer with the prosecuting attorney later today on a possible change in the charge.

Senate Body Votes to Kill Tax Writeoff

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—The Senate Finance Committee today voted to limit sharply the fast tax writeoff program for the next 2½ years and then kill it entirely.

The move to eventually halt the program took the form of a committee amendment to a minor house tax bill.

Certificates allowing rapid amortization on 23 billion dollars worth of new plant and equipment have been issued since 1955 when the fast tax writeoff program was revived because of the Korean war to promote defense-useful facilities.

Senator Byrd, D. Va., finance chairman, has led the fight to end the program.

He said in a statement after the committee action that "abuse and exploitation" of these provisions have contributed to inflation, caused dislocation within whole industries, resulted in unfair advantages in many areas of business, especially small business.

"In addition, the consequent fall in revenue has required a higher federal debt which will cost taxpayers billions of dollars in interest."

The committee voted to limit any new fast tax writeoff certificates, starting today, to new and specialized items of military equipment bought by the defense department or atomic energy commission. On Dec. 31, 1959, the program would be shut down.

Compact Okayed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—A bill to authorize 23 states to enter into interstate "compact" dealing with juvenile delinquents who have crossed state lines was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

The states included Nevada, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Tax Collections Decline in July

BOISE, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—General fund tax collections last month totaled $806,873, or $307,278 less than July of 1956, State Tax Collector P. G. Nell reported today.

Nell said income tax collections came to $440,428 during the first month of the new fiscal year, compared to $713,076 in the same month last year.

Work Starts on Safety Picture

BOISE, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Filming of a new traffic safety movie, to be called "Killer on the Highway," was begun today under sponsorship of Idaho state police.

A. E. Perkins, superintendent of state police, said the film is being financed through voluntary contributions from businesses and organizations.

It will be in color and run about 25 minutes, Perkins said the police hope to have 30 prints ready for distribution by the time school starts.

The film is designed to be shown to organizations and in schools. A similar film, dealing with the need for improved driver training in Idaho schools, was made last year.

NEWS-BULLETINS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—The Asiatic flu epidemic is sweeping South Africa. Johannesburg's nonwhite Baragwanath hospital reported more than 1,500 cases today.

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Floods caused by the heaviest rains in 30 years killed at least 115 persons in South Korea, national police headquarters said today. It said 37 others were missing and 51 injured. Police said 2,243 houses were destroyed or flooded and more than 45,000 persons homeless. They reported nearly 100,000 acres of farmland washed away or damaged.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—The administration today lowered down payments and raised interest rates from five to 6½ per cent on government-backed home loans to stimulate the lagging housing program.

Critic of Britain's Queen Gets Mild Support, Severe Lashing

LONDON, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Some British newspapers suggested today that Lord Altrincham was right in complaining that Buckingham palace is not in tune with the times.

But most papers agreed that the 33-year-old peer was insulting in his personal criticism of Queen Elizabeth II and her platform "personality."

Altrincham, who edits the scholarly weekly The English and National Review, wrote the Queen needed some new advisers to replace "a second-rate lot." He said her speaking style "is frankly a pain in the neck" and her speeches make her sound like a "priggish school girl."

If dueling were still legal in Britain, Altrincham undoubtedly would have been pacing the grass at dawn Monday in an old-fashioned affair of honor. Noblemen who rank as court advisers responded to the attack with strong denunciation of the young Etolian.

In the best royal tradition, the Queen herself gave no hint that she was aware of the storm breaking around the palace.

The London News Chronicle suggested Altrincham may not be all wrong. The London Daily Mirror suggested his "attitudes on the court and the 'light little enclave of British ladies and gentlemen' who compose it are legitimate."

Altrincham said the Socialists' Reynolds Sunday News "has said out loud what many people are thinking—Buckingham palace is not in tune with this Britain of 1957."

But the Earl of Strathmore, a cousin of the Queen, fumed:

"Young Altrincham is a bounder and should be shot. I would even do the job myself, but he's not worth court advisers responded to the ar-

Women Observe Anniversary for Society at Meet

PAUL, Aug. 5—The golden anniversary of the National Missionary Union society was observed Thursday evening at the First Baptist church by the women of the Rupert Baptist church as guests.

Mrs. Huldick Schaefer presented a history of the society. Activities of the different phases of the society were given by Mrs. Vern Jensen, Mrs. Jack Paulson, Mrs. Arthur Thompson, Mrs. Alvin Renz and Mrs. Lester Freeman. As the women gave their talks they placed a candle by the large three-tiered cake. Each candle represented ten years.

Mrs. Calvin Connor, Mrs. Richard Praeger, Mrs. George Connor, Mrs. Paul Schaefer sang, "Help Me Find My Place" and "Why Stand Ye Here Idle." They were accompanied by Mrs. Alvin Renz.

Mrs. John Broder gave a talk on the Missionary Union. She also gave the opening prayer and read the scriptures. Mrs. Fred Renz gave the closing prayer.

Mrs. David Kraus, Mrs. Sam Kraus and Mrs. Phillip Renz served.

Helen Bordewick Weds Randall in Services at Buhl

BUHL, Aug. 5—Helen Jean Bordewick, San Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Bordewick, Buhl, and Jack Randall, Ventura, Calif. were married Thursday afternoon at the Bordewick home.

The Rev. Leonard Clark performed the ceremony under an arbor decorated with pink roses and ivy. In the presence of a small group of close friends Mrs. Charles Allen, Twin Falls, was organist.

The bride chose a gray chiffon afternoon dress for her wedding. She carried white orchids on a Bible brought from the Holy Land by Mrs. James T. Shields.

Jane Bishop, San Francisco, was Miss Bordewick's attendant and Bertram Bordewick, Lafayette, Ind., brother of the bride, was best man. Miss Bishop wore a gray afternoon dress.

Mrs. Bordewick wore a pink afternoon dress and a corsage of pink roses.

Immediately after the ceremony a buffet dinner was served on the lawn of the Bordewick home. The yard was set with umbrellas and round tables.

For her going-away ensemble the bride chose a tweed suit with black and white accessories.

The couple will take a short trip to Sun Valley before returning here for a short visit and then will go to Oregon and down the coast to San Francisco, where they will reside.

Miss Bordewick was graduated from the Buhl high school. She attended Stevens college, Columbia, Mo., and was graduated from the University of Colorado at Boulder.

The bridegroom attended the University of Southern California for two years and was graduated from Southwestern university, Los Angeles. He was a captain in the air force. Both the bride and bridegroom are employed by I. Magnin and company.

Wendell Woman Hostess to Group

WENDELL, Aug. 5—Mrs. R. D. Plegenbaum was hostess to the women of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Thursday afternoon.

The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Grace Porter. The program was arranged by Mrs. Edwin Bitterli.

Those taking part with articles and poems were Mrs. Carl Doramus, Mrs. E. F. Maurer and Mrs. Porter.

Plans were made for the September meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Maurer. The program will be on the flower mission.

Late afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Margaret Plegenbaum, Yakima, Wash.

Declo Group Has Meeting in Park

DECLO, Aug. 5—The Ladies Aid of the Declo Presbyterian church met Friday afternoon at the village park in Declo for its meeting.

Mrs. Jones Leonard was in charge of the meeting. Plans were discussed for the rummage sale to be held in September with Mrs. Lawrence McCall as chairman.

The lesson, "Christ Teaching of Citizenship," was given by Mrs. Austin Walker.

After the meeting watermelon was served.

Mrs. Ruth Paddock was presented a gift. She is leaving Declo to live in Boulder City, Colo.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"Yes, mother. In a minute." How often mothers hear that and how often that minute stretches beyond its legal limits every mother knows.

By saying, "Junior, dinner will be ready in five minutes. Better stop that now and get ready," the child absorbed in his game or his book or his program has a chance to slow down and change the direction of his thought. At least he has a chance to do so and mother has the chance that he may do so.

A busy child has his mind centered on what he is doing. His energy is at high tide and centered on the occupation. He cannot check this tide suddenly without a feeling of discomfort that is likely to linger in him for some minutes to come.

A warning call then can be a great help even though it has to be repeated, which is often the case.

Mothers are likely to be impatient when this happens and their second call is likely to be sharp. "Junior, you heard me, didn't you? Well, if you want any supper tonight you'd better get here and fast." In his easy chair sits father deep in his newspaper.

Mother says, "Dinner will be on the table in a few minutes, dear."

"Huh," says father, still deep in his story.

By and by mother says, "Dinner is on the table, dear. Better come before it gets cold."

"Huh, Hm-m," says father stirring, but still intent on getting to the end of the tale.

Mother sighs and serves Junior who, eying father still reading says, "You don't call me 'Dinner' when I want to finish what I'm doing."

"You be careful, young man," says mother severely, "you're not the head of the house, at least not yet."

Now father reaches the end of the piece and puts on great speed, hastily folds the paper, tosses it on the nearest table, rushes off to wash.

We are NOT suggesting that housewives do a ballet along with the housework. We are suggesting that housework, in itself, will not keep a woman trim and beautiful, contrary to the accepted notion. It can, in fact, do damage. This girl has borrowed the ballet approach to show the correct use of muscles. She keeps her back straight (left) as she scours.

Ballet Principle Applied to Work Is Exercise Aid

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

It's amazing how many housewives labor under the mistaken idea that housework automatically keeps them in shape. Actually, it doesn't seem quite fair that all the bending, squatting and lifting that go into a day's house cleaning can't be depended upon to keep our figures trim.

Yet, as one ballet master warned: "What the average woman does to herself in an eight-hour day of cleaning ought to deform her!"

If you are one of the majority of housewives who make no attempt to exercise systematically, the Tide Washing Clinic has worked out a program to show you how typical household tasks can be converted into body-building exercises. They have created a "housewife's ballet."

The first step is to get your feet on the ground. Don't do your work in high heels or go to the other extreme of working in a pair of run-over slippers. Either will tangle your ankles like telephone wires.

Essentially housework divides itself into tasks which require bending or reaching and those which require standing or walking.

It is important always to keep the spine straight, but relaxed. Pretend that the parts of your body are blocks. Keep one part directly above the next, but don't stiffen.

The two ballet positions most applicable to housework are arabesque for reaching jobs and the pile for bending and squatting.

If you are lifting a bundle of wet wash, make the job do some muscle working for you. Don't arch your back and jerk up the bundle. Squat down beside it, one foot slightly in advance of the other, knees turned out. This way you will make the leg and thigh muscles do the work.

Then rise up, as the dancer doing an arabesque, lifting the diaphragm and stomach and neck muscles. You will not only have made his hands and returns all smiling promptness and mother serves him with more or less appreciation.

Well, a family is made up of human beings, each with his idiosyncrasies and a mother must meet them all with the understanding, patience and good humor that makes them mothers. Knowing the ways of each member and fitting time and circumstances accordingly, they manage somehow to weld the group into a family, no mean accomplishment.

"But why do you make that child obey? If she did maybe that child might grow into a considerable husband." Because heads of homes are not simply disciplinarians. They know that there must be time for living so that absolute obedience on signal is not required always. Time and space must be allowed for the expression of each personality so that in time, each has developed the ability of self-direction. "In a minute" can be doing just that.

Conscientious children must be amused and also guarded against fatigue. Since there's little exhilaration in cleaning house it makes sense to see that it pays off in graceful posture and a good figure.

Start at least one family project in house or yard so that there is a little work and accomplishment mixed in with the hours of loafing.

Plan some picnics away from home. Eating on your own patio or in your own back yard isn't the same thing for children as packing a picnic meal in a basket and exploring country roads until you find a picnic spot.

No wonder the summer months seem to drive so many mothers close to distraction, with the TV blaring, the kids demanding to be chauffeured—here and there and never any end to the noise and confusion.

When you do bending chores, such as cleaning baseboards, use the pile. Don't kneel down, bend over. Instead, get down on your haunches with your back straight, supporting your weight on your thighs. Practice going up and down this way. When you get used to it try thrusting one leg behind you and one forward and from this squatting position reach and stretch your torso as you wash or dust.

Undoubtedly you'll have trouble at first. It may seem to you that you are making your housework unnecessarily difficult. But it will come more easily as you get accustomed to it.

When you do bending chores, such as cleaning baseboards, use the pile. Don't kneel down, bend over. Instead, get down on your haunches with your back straight, supporting your weight on your thighs. Practice going up and down this way. When you get used to it try thrusting one leg behind you and one forward and from this squatting position reach and stretch your torso as you wash or dust.

Undoubtedly you'll have trouble at first. It may seem to you that you are making your housework unnecessarily difficult. But it will come more easily as you get accustomed to it.

Since there's little exhilaration in cleaning house it makes sense to see that it pays off in graceful posture and a good figure.

Housework Won't Provide Exercise

We are NOT suggesting that housewives do a ballet along with the housework. We are suggesting that housework, in itself, will not keep a woman trim and beautiful, contrary to the accepted notion. It can, in fact, do damage. This girl has borrowed the ballet approach to show the correct use of muscles. She keeps her back straight (left) as she scours.

We, the Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Want to give your children the kind of life, happy summer you remember from your own childhood?

Well, here are a few suggestions for how it can be done. First of all, make it a TV-less summer. Just get rid of the continual noise of gushings and canned laughter will make your home seem like a suddenly restful, peaceful place.

And instead of the kids sitting sprawled in front of the TV set all day long, they'll have to start thinking of ways of entertaining themselves.

Building a playhouse in the back yard, cultivating a small garden, plot, playing baseball or selling lemonade to the neighborhood kids will keep them happier than anything TV can offer.

Get down on your own chauffering so that you can have a little more time to help the children bake cookies, make a freezer of homemade ice cream or find some old dresses of your own and some old high-heeled shoes for the little girls to play in.

If you aren't giving one child to a playground, another to a swimming pool, and another across town to play with a friend, you'll have some time to keep them busy and happy at home.

Start at least one family project in house or yard so that there is a little work and accomplishment mixed in with the hours of loafing.

Plan some picnics away from home. Eating on your own patio or in your own back yard isn't the same thing for children as packing a picnic meal in a basket and exploring country roads until you find a picnic spot.

No wonder the summer months seem to drive so many mothers close to distraction, with the TV blaring, the kids demanding to be chauffeured—here and there and never any end to the noise and confusion.

Dentist's Wife Is Acquainted With Alaskan Eskimos

By ROBERT SUNDY

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—Alaskan eskimos have bad teeth, and they can thank the white man for that.

So says an American woman who probably has had more to do with Eskimo teeth than any other woman alive.

She's done it all the hard way, living in igloos, traveling by dog sled in 50-below-zero temperatures, hunting animals for food and wearing animal hides for clothes.

"The white man's diet is largely responsible for generally poor teeth among natives in Alaska who have come in contact with our civilization," says Mrs. Margaret P. Lathrop. "On the other hand, natives in the interior, where the white man's influence has not been felt, have good teeth."

Mrs. Lathrop's Alaskan home is the tiny community of Kotzebue, north of Fairbanks. That's where her husband, Robert, 38, a dentist from Bellaire, Mich., built and operates a dental clinic for the Alaska native service. The service is a division of the U. S. department of health, education and welfare. Dr. Lathrop's job is to provide free dental care for native children. Mrs. Lathrop, a former lieutenant commander in the navy nurse corps, is his dental assistant.

Mrs. Lathrop, the former Margaret Peterson, was interviewed at her parents' home in Camden on one of her frequent trips to the U. S.—and one of the rare occasions during the last 10 years in which she has renewed acquaintance with everyday luxuries most women consider necessities. Her husband had to stay in Kotzebue to run the clinic.

"I had never even camped out overnight in the back yard before I went to Alaska," says Mrs. Lathrop. "But in the last few years I've had my share of roughing it. I'd be lying—any woman would—if I said I thought it was an ideal way to live. But our work is satisfying and we're happy in what we're doing."

Mrs. Lathrop met her husband while both were stationed in Alaska in 1946. Lathrop was a navy dentist with the rank of lieutenant.

"We fell in love, and Bob asked me to marry him even though I outranked him," Mrs. Lathrop smiled. Lathrop had developed a fondness for Alaska—and a desire to do something for the natives, particularly the children. They decided to return to Alaska as man and wife.

Margaret and Bob were married in 1948 in Camden following their discharge from the navy. Then they bought a new car and headed back for Alaska—in the dead of winter.

"We drove up the Alcan highway with the heater on full blast. It was nice and warm inside even though it got as low as 40 below outside," Mrs. Lathrop recalled.

They got jobs with the Alaska department of health on a medical ship which visited villages along the coast and the Aleutian Islands.

A year later, they decided to prepare themselves for setting up a practice in a remote native village. The preparation: living for a solid year in a native igloo in the village of Point Hope in northern Alaska. They hunted for their food—mostly caribou—and Mrs. Lathrop made their clothes from animal hides.

"In that place, even the natives thought life was pretty rough," she remarked.

After a year they set out for the village of Kotzebue. The Alaska native service had assigned them to open a dental clinic there.

The Lathrops made the 800-mile journey by dog sled. It took them and their 11 dogs 21½ days. The temperature was between 30 and 60 below zero all the way.

"Since then, life has become a little easier," Mrs. Lathrop said. "We have a pretty home, a well-equipped clinic and we've become fast friends with most of the 1,000 natives and handful of white people in the area."

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Stevens left Saturday to attend the Robert R. Moore family reunion in Boise.

Return to Wendell

WENDELL, Aug. 5—The Rev. and Mrs. Chad F. Bollek and daughter returned Friday from a month's visit in Norway, O., at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilcox, parents of Mrs. Bollek and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bollek, Anaheim, Calif., parents of Rev. Bollek.

Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hagerman and daughters have left for Seattle to visit Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Talbot and family.

LDS Fete Held

HEYBURN, Aug. 5—A fund-a-lay was held at the LDS church Thursday evening for the Trail Builder boys and their parents Mrs. Glen Filley was in charge of arrangements.

Prizes at contract were presented Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Margaret Haddock, Shoshone.

Gooding Couple Exchange Vows. In T. F. Services

HAGERMAN, Aug. 5—Mrs. Jeanette Martin and Joe Smithbauer, both Gooding, were married in a double ring ceremony at the Methodist parsonage in Twin Falls, with the Rev. Charles Banks, Birmingham, England, officiating.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Karnloff, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

The bride chose for her wedding dress a two-piece summer suit of tussage brown with white accessories. She wore a white hat trimmed with pearls and rhinestones and matching earrings. Her corsage was of bluish pink tea roses with lily-of-the-valley and three small hearts trimmed with pearls. Mrs. Karnloff wore a pink cotton summer dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Her two daughters Mary Martin and Katherine Martin also attended.

A wedding dinner was held in the dining room at the Rogerson hotel. The couple plan a two-weeks trip through Yellowstone National park.

The new Mrs. Smithbauer of 513 Montana street, Gooding, was a former resident of Hagerman.

Court Ruling Gives Probes New Troubles

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5 (AP)—Forty-five persons involved in security investigations have been indicted on contempt of congress charges in the past three years. But none has yet spent a day in jail. Acquittals, appeals and suspended sentences have kept them from being behind bars.

Congress cites for contempt witnesses who refuse to answer questions put to them by congressional committees and who, in the opinion of the lawmakers, have no legitimate grounds for their refusal. The question of the witnesses' guilt is decided by federal judges.

Justice department officials say it will be even tougher to make contempt of congress citations stick in the future. The reason: The supreme court's ruling in the Watkins case that Congress upheld the right of witnesses to refuse to answer questions unless congressional questions establish the pertinency of their questions and show that their investigations are intended to lead to new legislation and are not exposure for exposure's sake.

Justice department records show 54 persons have been cited for contempt of congress in security investigations in the past three years. Of this number, 45 were indicted and 27 later were convicted.

Four were acquitted, eight are still awaiting trial and two have been tried and are awaiting verdicts. In another four cases indictments were dismissed in the district court before trial—three by the court and one by the government on its own motion.

Of the 27 convicted, a number chose to appeal, including Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe.

The U. S. court of appeals so far has upheld four of these appeals and reversed four. In one case, the district court reversed itself. Twelve appeals are now pending.

Two of those convicted decided to accept suspended sentences and fines.

In the Watkins case, the supreme court reversed the contempt conviction of John T. Watkins, a labor leader, who spoke freely of his own past communist connections but refused to name others he knew or believed to be communists.

The court found the house committee on un-American activities had gone beyond its authority in questioning Watkins about the affiliations of his associates.

Watkins did not take refuge in any of the usual constitutional protections, contending only that he believed such questions lacked pertinency.

Protest Walk Scheduled at Test Grounds

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 5 (AP)—Participants in a non-violent action against nuclear weapons today set a target time of 2 p.m. PDT tomorrow by walking into the atomic testing grounds north of here.

The group plans open defiance of the atomic energy commission in having its members walk into the area near AEC headquarters at Mercury, Nev., in protest to testing of nuclear devices.

A spokesman for the group said one detail that must be worked out is the means of barred wire which has been strung into the desert recently, presumably by the AEC.

Leaders of the protest visited the Mercury area yesterday and found new barbed wire stretching into the desert as far as they could see.

Lawrence Scott, coordinator, who will lead the group tomorrow, has described their project as depending "entirely on non-violence and the power of love and goodwill."

He said his group is willing to suffer "loss of liberty by imprisonment" and some members "even loss of life if necessary, in order to register our protest."

The group will begin a "prayer vigil" at the entrance of the AEC headquarters at 10 a.m. tomorrow. After that the walk into the desert is slated to begin.

France Tries To Straighten Finance Mess

PARIS, Aug. 5 (AP)—France today is facing her most economic crisis since the bleak days when she was digging herself out of the havoc of World War II.

After years of carefree spending, Frenchmen have awakened to a fact of life—no individual or nation can spend more than is earned.

The awakening has been as sudden as it was brutal. The reason is simple. For many months past, government after government has tried to keep the unpleasant truth hidden. In May it began to come to light and there was a fury of recrimination between right and left parties.

Three Facts

But it couldn't do away with the facts that the new premier, Raymond M. Bourges, Maunoury, has now to wrestle with.

1. France has been living beyond her means since 1946. No post-war government kept the deficit down to manageable proportions.

2. Until 1954, aid from the United States tilted the nation over.

3. This aid no longer exists. But, as new Finance Minister Felix Gaillard put it, the past governments acted as if Uncle Sam still was doling out millions to finance reconstruction, modernization and rearmament.

The deficit in 1955 was 660 billion francs—$1,668,000,000. Last year it skyrocketed to 1,500 billion francs—more than four billion dollars.

A strange accompaniment has been that the gross national product, the total of all goods and services produced, increased 20 per cent since 1955 but that was pitifully small in view of the budget deficit.

War Is Blamed

The Algerian war is one of the main culprits. It costs France almost three million dollars a day. It has drained 450,000 soldiers to Algeria and put a severe load on a working population of only 12 million out of a total population of 45 million.

Employers are offering higher salaries in many trades to lure workers. There has been a buying spree on the home market, with wages up and many prices frozen, and this had led to import of more and more goods.

At the same time, no serious effort was made to compete on foreign markets.

Now Finance Minister Gaillard has instituted a drastic cut in the budget. It will be around 15 billion dollars instead of the planned 17 billion. The cuts will hit every department including the army.

He has ordered an end to road building and on many construction projects. And the French had a foretaste of the taxes to be imposed when the government last week put an increased sales tax on 24 categories of goods ranging from household appliances to motor boats.

Oil Recovery Plan Readied

GRAND JUNCTION, Aug. 5 (AP)—Standard Oil company of California plans to produce synthetic fuel from oil shale "when the time is ripe," says board chairman R. G. Follis.

Standard of California has the largest of all holdings in the rich shale oil area of western Colorado and eastern Utah, Follis said.

Here to attend the recent dedication of a new American Gilsonite company refinery last week-end, Follis said no timetable has been set for the development of oil from shale. He said his company has been watching Union Oil of California, which is operating a pilot plant in this area.

"We have some ideas of our own on retorting and mining," Follis said. "Be assured, when the time is ripe, we'll be in on it."

American Gilsonite is a subsidiary of Standard Oil of California and the Barber Oil corporation. Its new plant is 40 miles from shale holdings of the California firm.

Airman Not Hurt In Plane Accident

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Aug. 5 (AP)—A 21-year-old airman crash landed his Cessna 140 some 25 miles northwest of here yesterday but escaped uninjured.

He was identified by civil aeronautics administration officials as Otto Evers of New York City, an airman stationed at Malmstrom air force base here.

Evers said the light plane developed engine trouble and he was forced to make a "dead stick" landing in a field near Tower, Mont. The plane was a total loss, he said.

A statewide alert for the plane had been scheduled for early today.

Airman Dies

FT. WALTON BEACH, Fla., Aug. 5 (AP)—An airman was electrocuted by an electric wire near here when he drank from an electric water cooler while wearing a wet bathing suit.

A base spokesman said Airman 2 C Frederick Pardee, 18, Mooreville, N. C., died instantly Saturday night after apparently brushing against an electric outlet near the water fountain.

Crash Kills Five

NAPA, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—Five persons were killed yesterday in a violent collision at a freeway intersection.

COWBOYS DEFEAT GREAT FALLS 5 TO 2 TO RETAIN LOOP LEAD

Three-Run Homer by Dixon
In Eighth Puts Game on Ice for Magic Valley Squad

Magic Valley manager Walt Dixon hit a three-run eighth inning homer in Twin Falls last night to keep the Cowboys out in front of the Pioneer league pennant race. The Magic Valley 5-2 victory over Great Falls and second place Billings 7-3 loss to Pocatello opened up a one and one-half game bulge for Magic Valley. Third-place Idaho Falls took Salt Lake City 6-3 and Boise defeated Missoula 6-2 in other league encounters. United Press reports.

Peewee Beamed

Peewee Reese, Dodger shortstop, clutches his head after being struck in the fifth inning of the Brooklyn-Chicago game in Chicago. The pitcher Bob Anderson fielded Sandy Kousser's grounder, whirled and threw to shortstop Jack Littrell, foreground at second. The ball hit Reese in the face and he was forced to leave the game. The Dodgers won 12-3. (NEA telephoto)

U.S. Distance
Swimmer Hits
New Record

WESTON-SUPER-MARE, Eng., Aug. 5 (U.P.)—American distance swimmer Florence Chadwick bucked the fields of seaweed and swam around a menacing oil tanker today to beat a 24-year-old record by swimming the Bristol channel in six hours, seven minutes.

The veteran San Diego, Calif., swimmer left here at 8 p.m. (4 p.m. yesterday) and arrived at Penryn, Wales, at 2:22 a.m. today to beat the old mark of 7:50 set by Miss Helen Swaine in 1933.

Chadwick said when she returned after her hotel this morning she had made it "quite a bit faster than I was for the thick seaweed of an tanker that I had to swim around."

She said she expects to leave for England within the next two days on an assault on the Irish channel, one of the few stretches of comparative waterway through which she has not yet stroked to a record. But the first thing right now is a bath, she said. "Then I'm going to bed."

De Vincenzo fired a two under par yesterday for a 203 total. Springman Sprad, White Sulphur Springs, Va., became the runner-up with six under par 68 for 207. Paul Carney, Worcester, Mass., was third with a 208 on a third round 72.

Bunched behind the three leaders were Don Fister, Pequotia, Ill.; Bill Casper, Jr., Bonita, Calif.; Jimmy Demaret, Kiamesha, N. Y.; at 210, Art Will, Jr., Boone Manor, Pa.; at 211, and Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Tex.; Jack Fieck, Rochester, Mich.; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco; Doug Ford, Mahopac, N. Y.; and Don Fairfield, Casey, Ill., 212.

Jacki Pung, Honolulu, led the women pros with 228, two under par. Fay Crocker, Uruguay, and Betty Berg, Chicago, tied for second at 227.

L.S. Takes Title
in Zone Davis Cup

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Belgian and Barry MacKay Saturday defeated the Brazilian doubles team of Carlos Fernandes and Armindo Vieira to give the American Davis cup championship to the United States. The scores were 7-5, 6-3, 11-9 and 7-5.

Saturday's victory, combined with Sunday's victories registered by the U.S. team in the exhibition class, the U.S. team will meet the Philippines, eastern zone champion, at the next step toward the final challenge. The winner goes against either Belgium or Italy for the right to challenge Australia.

Remote Control Putting

Ed (Porky) Oliver, Canton, Mass., drops his putter and tries to wave the ball into the cup on the 14th green at the Tam O'Shanter Country club in Niles, Ill. Oliver, playing in the All-American tourney, shot a 65 even though this putt missed by inches. (NEA telephoto)

Rosy Dream of California
Baseball May Be Nightmare

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Swaying palm trees and good weather! Fans yearning for major league teams! Big stadiums and plenty of parking space! And millions in California money floating around!

Sounds like a baseball magnate's paradise, doesn't it?

Well, it may be at that. But before Horace Stoneham's Giants switch to San Francisco and Walter

O'Malley's Dodgers head for Los Angeles, we might take off those rose colored glasses for the nonce.

The five million fans in the Los Angeles area and the three million in the San Francisco bay region will undoubtedly turn out in multitudes at the outset, but there are a few ominous flies.

There are beautiful six and eight-lane freeways right to the ball park front doors. But, for example, let's take a look at the Los Angeles situation.

As is well known, that is a sprawling town. The population is big but it is spread over a lot of territory and some of the people will have to travel 50 miles to see a ball game.

The new stadium will be built in the Chavez ravine at the intersection of freeways from Pasadena, Hollywood, the harbor and Santa Ana. Plans now call for an arena seating 50,000 with space for 20,000 cars. There are big Negro (250,000) and Mexican (300,000) populations and they are avid fans with players like Don Newcombe and Roy Campanella assured draws.

There are about 7,000,000 TV sets in the area and when pay-TV lines are set up, that may prove a big factor in the financial success of the move.

Weather-wise Los Angeles probably will offer the best in the majors. Down through the years the Angels of the Pacific league averaged only two or three rain-outs per season.

San Francisco is something else again. The stadium will probably be built near the bay at a spot called South Basin which is pretty well protected from the wind and fog. But let's face it—the worst weather in San Francisco is in June, July and August.

It is cold and foggy during those months and to attend a ball game, most people wear top coats and some carry handwarmers. Fans also consume enormous quantities of beer, coffee, hot dogs and peanuts to keep warm. The per capita seat cushion sale is one for every two customers, compared with a national average of one for five, and again it is to help keep warm.

Aug. 20 Deadline
Stated by State in
Hunt Applications

BOISE, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Applications for controlled deer and elk hunts must reach the state fish and game department here by Aug. 20, director Ross Leonard said Monday.

Leonard said drawing of names will be held for the five elk hunts and three deer hunts Sept. 3.

The deer hunts will include Payette preserve, 700 permits, Oct. 1 through Nov. 25, and two hunts at the Pocatello preserve, 500 permits each, Oct. 1-5.

Elk hunts will include Payette preserve, 700 permits, Oct. 1 through Nov. 15; Solitude mountain, two units, one for 900 permits, Oct. 1 to Nov. 10, and the second for 300 permits, Oct. 25 to Nov. 10; Big Wood river, 250 permits, Oct. 25 to Nov. 10, and Owyhee, 75 permits, Oct. 1 to Oct. 6.

"Country Boy" Slaughter
Leads Yanks to Double Win

By The Associated Press
Enos Slaughter, 41, the hustling "Country Boy" who is the oldest active player in the American league, is showing the younger New York Yankees how the game is played. Five hits in Sunday's double victory over Cleveland boosted Slaughter's lifetime total to 2,201 in a career dating back to 1938 when he broke into the majors with the St. Louis Cardinals. Slaughter's single tied the score and his three-run homer off Johnny Gray sewed up the 5-2 first game.

After Jerry Lumpe's scratch pinch single had tied the score in the ninth inning of the second game, Enos came through with a looping single to center, that gave the Yanks their eighth straight 6-5 win.

The sweep stretched the Yankee lead to 6½ games over Chicago which battered Boston pitching for 19 hits and an 11-6 decision in a single game. Cleveland dropped into a fifth-place tie with Baltimore 19 games off the pace. The Orioles handed Kansas City its seventh straight defeat 5-0 on Billy Loes' five-hitter and Washington thumped Detroit 8-4 as the two clubs set a Griffith stadium record with seven homers.

While Slaughter was strutting his stuff at Yankee stadium, his old St. Louis mates saw their National league lead reduced to a half game. After bowing to the brilliant relief pitching of the Phillies' Harvey Haddix in the 12-inning opener 5-4, the Cards won the second game 4-1 on Lindy McDaniel's steady nine-hitter.

Milwaukee moved within a half game of St. Louis by holding off a late Brooklyn spurt for a 9-7 victory with the help of homers by Eddie Matthews, Del Rice, Johnny Logan and Henry Aaron.

Cincinnati split a pair with New York, losing the first in 14 innings 7-6 when Willie Mays hit two homers and a triple. The Redlegs pulled out the second game 3-2 on a six-hitter by rookies Vicente Amor, Chicago climbed out of the cellar by beating Pittsburgh twice 6-0 behind Moe Drabowsky and 3-2 on Jack Littrell's pinch double in the 11th, spoiling Danny Mortag's debut as pitcher.

Slaughter drove in four runs off Gray while White Ford rolled to his seventh win on a six-hitter. After Tommy Byrne blew a 4-1 lead in the second game, it was Slaughter's hit that finally hung a 10th defeat on relief man Bob Lemon.

A deal made with the Yankees last June 15, in which Kansas City acquired Billy Martin, Ralph Terry, Bob Marlyn and Woody Held, had been calculated to help the floundering A's, but at the moment they are two games behind the seventh-place Senators and 14 games behind the Orioles and Indians, who are tied for sixth.

Boudreau, 40, began his managerial career with Cleveland in 1942 and piloted the Indians through 1950. He managed the Boston Red Sox three seasons and succeeded

Eddie Joost as manager of the Athletics in 1955.

Under Boudreau's direction, the A's finished sixth in 1955 and eighth last season.

Eddie Joost as manager of the Athletics in 1955.

Under Boudreau's direction, the A's finished sixth in 1955 and eighth last season.

A deal made with the Yankees last June 15, in which Kansas City acquired Billy Martin, Ralph Terry, Bob Marlyn and Woody Held, had been calculated to help the floundering A's, but at the moment they are two games behind the seventh-place Senators and 14 games behind the Orioles and Indians, who are tied for sixth.

Spectacles Help

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Bobby Avila, sharp-hitting Cleveland Indian second-baseman, is rapidly becoming convinced he made a good move when he decided to wear glasses.

Avila has hit in 17 straight games since he donned the spectacles.

Bobby led the American league in batting with .341 in 1954 but dropped to .272 in 1955 and .224 last year.

Vancouver, Seattle and Portland were all two game winners in Pacific Coast league contests Sunday while San Francisco, still holding out in the league's first split, split a twin bill with Hollywood.

Vancouver downed the San Diego Padres 3-2 and 1-0 behind the fine pitching of Art Houtteman in the first game and Charlie Beamon in the second.

The single-run-in-the-last-game came after two outs in the ninth frame. With Mouton Joe Frazier on third base, Padre relief pitcher Donald Nichols fired a fast ball into the dirt which allowed Frazier to scurry across the plate and win the ball game for Vancouver.

Hal Bevin's powerful left led the Seattle Rainiers to a double victory over the Los Angeles Angels 6-5 and 5-7. Bevin hit a homer in each game and also singled in another run in the second contest.

At Sacramento the Portland Beavers downed the Solons twice 3-1 and 4-2 in games that featured an error that cost the Solons the first game and an inside-the-park homer that tied up the second contest.

In San Francisco the Hollywood Stars won the 12-inning opener from the Seals 4-3 but the Seals came back in the nightcap to win 7-6.

Pirates' New
Chief Offers
Win Formula

CHICAGO, Aug. 5 (U.P.)—Danny Murtaugh, Pittsburgh's new manager recently got over a case of ulcers and has no intention of running himself into poor health over the National league cellar dwellers.

Danny's formula is simple: "All we have to do is play winning baseball and I'm positive this team can play .500 ball from here on in."

Murtaugh, who replaced brash Bobby Bragan Saturday, got off to a poor start in his debut as the Pirates dropped a doubleheader to the Chicago Cubs, 6-0, and 3-2 in 11 innings to drop into eighth place replacing Chicago.

Murtaugh, 40, said he is well aware of the fact that he is a "temporary" manager but added "this is a real challenge."

Bragan, meanwhile, planned to meet general manager Julio Aron of Almaden in the Cuban winter league to sign a contract to manage that club this winter. Bragan says it's a $10,000 pact.

Moral: You're paying for a new car... make sure you get one!

When you buy a new car, put your money on tomorrow—not yesterday.

Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsolesces other cars in its field. Should you invest in high, boxy styling when Dodge offers the low, low look of tomorrow? Should you invest in outmoded coil springs when Dodge offers new Torsion-Aire Ride?

Should you invest in an old-fashioned lever-type transmission when Dodge offers the ease of Push-Button Driving? In other things, too—engines, brakes, interiors—Dodge is years ahead. So put your money on tomorrow. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge!

Bulganin May Be Ousted as Russian Chief

LONDON, Aug. 5 (AP)—It's Khrushchev and Mikoyan now instead of Khrushchev and Bulganin.

Moscow dispatches reported that Soviet communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev had dropped premier Nikolai Bulganin from the team of "B and K" for his visit to East Germany this week.

Instead, Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, the Soviet foreign trade expert who accompanied Khrushchev to Romania for talks with Marshal Tito, will go with the party chief to Germany.

May Be Out

There was renewed speculation in London that the spade-bearded premier would be kicked upstairs, possibly to replace President Kliment Voroshilov, and that Khrushchev might be grooming Mikoyan for the premiership.

Western diplomats in London have said that Bulganin is on his way out because he is reported to have aided with the disgraced Molotov-Malenkov-Kaganovich trio during the recent Kremlin purge.

No Explanation

The original Soviet acceptance of an East German invitation said both Khrushchev and Bulganin would make the trip. But the Soviet press, without explanation, announced that Bulganin would stay home. The dispatch was given place one prominence.

Although Bulganin accompanied Khrushchev on his recent visit to Czechoslovakia, he was conspicuously absent during the secret Khrushchev-Tito talks on Soviet-Yugoslav relations.

There appeared little bias to rumors that Bulganin would be dropped altogether, or disgraced, as was the Malenkov trio. But since they were "exposed" Bulganin has dropped more and more into the background.

Hoffa Attends Union Confab

James R. Hoffa, standing left rear, midwest boss of the Teamsters' union, chuckles as he poses with members of the union's constitution committee in San Francisco, while back in Washington, Sen. John L. McClellan's committee probing rackets in labor is engaged in a series of hearings which McClellan, D. Ark., said will show that Hoffa sought and may have gained "stranglehold" power over the port of New York and the "entire eastern seaboard." Seated, left to right, are: William A. Lee, Frank W. Brewster, Ellen Mohn, and Thomas Hickey. Standing with Hoffa is John T. O'Brien. All are teamster union vice presidents. (AP wirephoto)

Markets Are Super, but Shopper May Feel That She Is "Forgotten Woman"

NEW YORK, Aug. 5 (AP)—In the food market, getting so super that the shopper is the forgotten woman? Anyone faced with the rows of shelves and stocks of products in the modern supermarket would think nothing possibly could have been forgotten.

But grocery manufacturers who spend more than a billion dollars each year pre-selling the consumer say that something has been—personal contact.

Have you every walked into a supermarket intent on buying a certain product only to be unable to locate it? Often there'll be no one around to ask save a clerk restocking the shelves who doesn't know about the brand and isn't paid to care.

Once the shopper walked into a store and asked the grocer for what she wanted and he made up her order. If he didn't have a wanted item in stock, he could order it.

Now with self-service the rule, the shopper browses around. If she doesn't find what she wants she either gets something else or gives another store her business.

Both retailers and food manufacturers are tackling the problem. The large retail distributors have buying committees meeting regularly to decide which new products to handle and which present products to discontinue.

"They pass judgment on hundreds, even thousands, of products a year," Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, points out.

"Their major consideration is whether there will be a good demand. But their communication facilities may be such that consumers' wishes don't reach them. Result: Everybody loses!"

Manufacturers invest heavily in preselling the customer. They put scores of millions of dollars a year in product, consumer and market research to find and suit the public taste. Motivational research digs even into the subconscious.

Industrial designers come up with packages of a color and shape with maximum appeal. Home economists provide recipes considered mouth watering.

And more than a billion dollars a year goes into advertising to get the shopper in the mood to buy the product.

The jolt to all this planning comes when—and if—the product isn't on the shelf.

Retailers answer this complaint with one of their own—there are more brands than shelf space. The competition for that space is keen, as any grocer or food company salesman can tell you. Often the space goes to the salesman with the glibest tongue or the best deal.

But some retailers are trying ways to give the shopper more of a say. Some of the ways being tried, but in only a few stores, are:

A centrally located suggestion box for shoppers to use.

Small bulletin boards with pads on which the shopper can write a memo to leave at the checkout counter—or similar pads attached to shopping carts.

Reply cards addressed to chain headquarters with space for shoppers' requests.

A corner of the store's newspaper ad inviting consumers to tell the manager their wishes, or handbills stuffed in the packages at the checkout counter with the same appeal.

Grocery manufacturers wish all stores would try to close the gap in communications between the consumer and the retailer.

Hiker's Body Is Recovered

BIG PINE, Calif., Aug. 5 (AP)—A team of eight experienced mountain climbers, including four marines, yesterday brought out the body of a college student from rugged Temple Craig mountain in the High Sierras.

The mountaineers used ropes to remove the body of Walter Griga, Washington, D. C., from a cliff about 1,000 feet below the 13,016-foot summit of the mountain. The student had been missing on a hike since July 23.

Sheriff's deputies said Griga's body was seen Saturday under the overhanging cliff.

Deputies said Griga apparently fell to his death while trying to climb the mountain face.
