Aid Group Again Balks at Urging On Bigger Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Tex., said today the senate appropriations committee has balked at the administration's request for $12 billion dollars available for foreign aid. He said the group wants to know why more money is needed. But Senator Knowland of California, the republican leader, said in a separate interview that "there is $12 billion dollars available." Knowland also said President Eisenhower is quite hopeful that the senate will vote to restore a good share of the $809 million dollars cut from the program by the house.

Probers Find Hoffa's Wife Made Profits

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Senator James R. Hoffa was indicted today with evidence his wife and a friend—the wife of another union official—ran a $4,000 a week income dealing with a firm for which Hoffa helped settle a fine.

Hoffa, in the witness chair of the racketeering investigation committee, did not dispute the figures reported by committee counsel Robert P. Kennedy but said Kennedy apparently was speaking of profits "before taxes." "Oh, did they pay taxes?" Kennedy said.

Background
The profitable business dealings of the two women, dating back to 1945, were developed as Kennedy dug to the background years of the 37-year-old Midwest Teamsters chief, now risen to the point where he seems her apparent to national leadership of this country's biggest union.

Kennedy went into Hoffa's police record, too, and brought from the witness an acknowledgment that he returned more than $7,500 to the grocer after he had been charged with extortion.

On this Hoffa protested that the charge had been reduced to a misdemeanor and contended the matter is being put in an unfair light in presentation at the committee's hearings.

Local Youth's License Lifted After Accident
Raymond D. Armstrong, 17, 222 Diamond Street, was assessed $30 and his driver's license was lifted for 75 days Monday in Twin Falls justice court on a reckless driving charge.

The youth was cited Saturday by Sheriff James H. Benham for an accident near the Horton bridge home in which Armstrong and five other teen-agers escaped serious injuries.

Judge J. O. Pumphrey restricted the youth from riding in an automobile other than one driven by his parents except when going to school. The 75 days there cannot be more than one other person in the car.

Judge Pumphrey said the youth is eligible to regain his license after the 75-day revocation period but he will have to show proof of financial responsibility at that time.

Oscar Olsen, Heyburn, reported today as having been arrested on charges of drunken driving while his license was revoked under a previous conviction for drunken driving. Olsen was only arrested on a charge of driving on a revoked license. Justice of the Peace Joe Wells, Burley, reported Tuesday. He said Olsen lost his license last January on a drunken driving conviction and that the recent arrest was only for driving on a revoked license.

Pilot Killed
MANILA, Aug. 20 (AP)—A U. S. air force pilot died today as a result of collision between two F100 Super Sabers at an altitude between 5,000 and 12,000 feet over Tarlac, central Luzon. The other pilot bailed out and landed safely.

Radical Changes in Tractor Styling, Comfort Predicted

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20 (AP)—Designers with the refinements of modern automobiles—including styling changes designed to make farmers want to trade them in every few years—are heading for the American farm.

Air Force Physician in Balloon Is Descending After Toppling Record

CROSBY, Minn., Aug. 20 (AP)—Maj. David G. Simons, air force doctor-flier on a scientific balloon expedition into space, began his descent shortly before noon today after telling his ground crew by radio that he had reached an altitude of 102,000 feet. Lieut. Col. J. W. McMurtry of the air force evaluation team said Maj. Simons' last reported position was about 50 miles west of Breckenridge, Minn. Major Simons began his flight in a tiny sealed capsule hooked to a huge plastic balloon from an open pit iron mine near here yesterday morning.

Scientific information about conditions in the upper air and the ability of man to survive there were the objects of his flight. However, his peak height was 6,000 feet higher than the previous record for a manned balloon.

Major Simons reached an estimated 100,000 feet, about 19 miles, yesterday in his first 15 hours aloft, spending a night in the heavens he termed "indescribable."

At midmorning, the balloon was reported about 60 miles west-southwest of Crosby, N. D., at an altitude of 90,000 feet.

A planned descent to start at 7:30 a.m. was canceled when the balloon started to rise as hellum expanded under the sun's warmth. Wahpeton is about 150 miles west of Crosby, Minn., launching point.

Major Simons reported the balloon dropped several thousand feet early today in turbulence created by a heavy thunder and lightning storm at 50,000 feet above Sisseton, S. D.

The balloon dropped to about 68,000 feet.

U. S. Rejects Charge Made About Policy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The state department today rejected a Syrian charge that the United States was trying to destroy Arab independence, declaring U. S. policy is "just precisely the opposite of that."

The statement was made by department spokesman Lincoln White, who also said the United States would deal with a formal Syrian accusation when and if it comes before the United Nations security council.

White told a news conference the Eisenhower administration is closely following the Syrian crisis.

But White refused to characterize developments in Syria as a drift toward Syria's becoming the first Soviet satellite in the Middle East.

He said American diplomats are sharing views on the Syrian situation with foreign offices in the Middle East and western Europe. He said, however, there were no special instructions to them.

U. N. Council Hears Charge In Desert War

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Aug. 20 (AP)—Ambassador Hashim Jawad of Iraq appealed to the security council today to take action on the British "aggression" in Oman.

He said this would show the world the United States can serve the interests of small as well as large nations.

Jawad, presenting the case of the Arab world to the 11-member council, said the little war in the Arabian peninsula territory of Muscat and Oman was a real threat to world peace.

He asked the council to place the item on its agenda for discussion, but it appeared in advance that the move would not succeed.

Diplomatic sources said the request would get no more than three favorable votes—Iraq, the Soviet Union and the Philippines. Australia, Britain and France were expected to vote against it and the others, including the United States, were expected to abstain.

Fighters Confident Over Holding Line To Control Flames

Forest service officials at noon Tuesday felt confident they could hold the fire line that has been established between Cottonwood creek and Dry Cottonwood creek and bring the 5,000-acre range fire in the south hills under control. The fire fighting crew has been re-deployed from 275 to 200 men and the fire camp in McMullen basin has been cut back to a patrol camp to maintain a constant watch over the eastern boundary of the fire. The fire area now is completely ringed by fire fighters and bulldozer trails and officials are hopeful the worst of the fire is over.

Officials said that even though there were cattle grazing in the area when the fire broke out on Sunday, no livestock have been lost to their knowledge. Men on horseback have been clearing the gullies, canyons and draws in front of the fire.

The burned area covered some of the best deer country in the south hills because of the abundant growth of bitterbrush. Fire fighters have spotted deer near the flames but no deer have been reported. The flames also have driven out a number of rattlesnakes, some of which have been caught by fire fighters and tossed back into the flames.

The fire crews still are being provided with food and other supplies from Twin Falls. In order to reach the men on the far line, air-plane drops of food and fuel have been made to them.

During the afternoon officials expect some heavy smoke to pour from the burned area as canyons are burned out. The burning will be within the ring fighters have thrown around the burn.

The fire flanked a firebreak on the west side Monday night, causing fighters to lose two-thirds of their line on that side. Earlier in the afternoon the south sagely blew up again and jumped the fire line.

Russians' Base For Sub Fleet Is Threatened

By United Press
Official quarters in London said today there was mounting evidence the Soviet Union intends to establish a submarine base in the Middle East as a follow up to its victory in Syria.

A Soviet submarine base in Syria, or one controlled by Russia, would outflank the Baghdad base, lessen the effectiveness of the U. S. sixth fleet and would change the strategic picture in the Mediterranean.

Growing Fears
The reports coincided with growing fears in the Arab world that the Soviets were becoming too well entrenched. A Middle East report said Syrian President Shukri El Kuwaili was being approached for a "last resort" Arab conference to try and halt the Soviet advance.

Unconfirmed rumors circulating in Beirut, Lebanon, said the Soviet was pouring in technicians and civilians to speed the "takeover" of Syria. There was no confirmation of these reports in official quarters.

Two Submarines
In Cairo the government newspaper Al Gomhouriya reported Syrian officials had trained in Poland to operate two Russian submarines being turned over to Syria by the Soviet Union under their arms pact deal.

Egypt recently received three submarines from the Soviets, but Al Gomhouriya noted this was not the same kind of agreement reached in Moscow by Syrian Defense Minister Khaled Elazm.

Swallows Pin

GOODING, Aug. 20 (AP)—Lorraine Carnahan, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Carnahan, King Hill, has been released from the Gooding County Memorial hospital following an operation to remove a three-inch corage pin from her stomach.

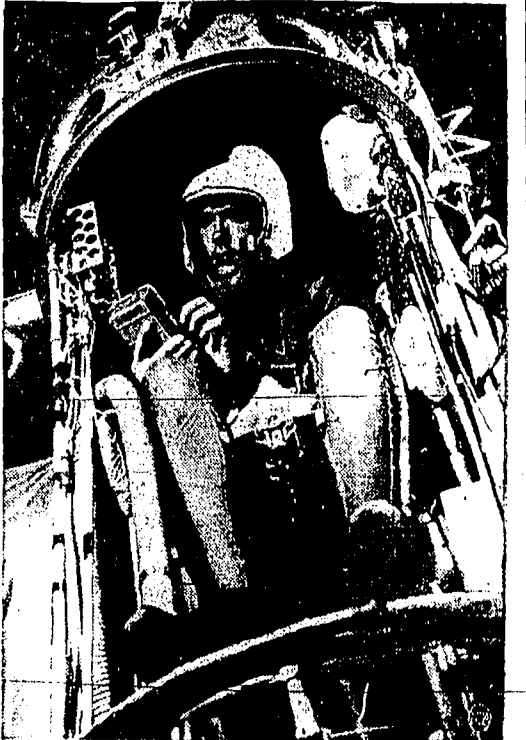

Last Thursday the girl was lying on a davenport in her home, playing with the long pin in her mouth. The pin, which has a large plastic head, got away from her and slipped down her throat.

A Gooding physician operated Friday night to remove the pin which had punctured the wall of her stomach. Her condition, when released from the hospital Tuesday, was reported as "good."

Elaborate Tests Started for Flu Transmittal Information

LIVERMORE, Calif., Aug. 20 (AP)—A big hospital building internally bathed in "black light" is the setting for an unusual experiment designed to show whether the new Asian flu can be transmitted through the air.

Inside this building, part of the veterans administration hospital here, are about 140 long-term patients. So long as they are patients they will not be allowed to leave the structure, which has been equipped with a barber shop, a chapel and other features to "make it virtually a fortress."

Wearing a high-altitude pressure suit, Maj. David G. Simons, an air force physician, checks equipment inside the gondola in which he soared about 20 miles into the sky over northern Minnesota, setting a new manned balloon record. The gondola, suspended from a block-long balloon, is three feet in diameter and eight feet high. (NEA photo)

Gooding City Council Dismisses 2 Officials

GOODING, Aug. 20—Without previous warning and without any reasons given, City Clerk Orris Griffith and Police Chief Ed Culver were released of their duties by the city council Monday night but were asked to stay on duty until replacements could be found for them. Both Culver and Griffith said Tuesday the council had given no reason for its action and that their discharge came as "a complete surprise." Each said he would like to know why the council had taken the action.

The motion for dismissal of the two officials was made by Councilman Julius Schmitt and was backed by Councilmen Henry Bausher and Warren Thornton. Fred Schoettger, who is police commissioner, voted against the motion.

Tuesday noon Schoettger said he thought "both men were very efficient, contrary to other opinions." Schmitt, Bausher and Thornton could not be reached for comment and Mayor Neil Warrington is out of the city.

Griffith, who has been clerk since May, 1952, also serves as acting police judge when Police Judge Joe Baumgartner is not available. The police judge also is fire chief.

Culver would have been police chief for three years in November. In addition to the chief, the police force contains three patrolmen and a night watchman.

Benson Okays Confab Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson said today he would be "glad" to discuss department affairs with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D. Minn. Humphrey has threatened to subpoena Benson to testify before the senate reorganization subcommittee on reports that he has been exercising a veto over rural electrification administration loans.

Benson said he didn't think a subpoena would be necessary. "I've never refused to meet with any committee or to meet privately with any member of congress," Benson told a news conference—his first since June 26.

Humphrey said he has been trying for several weeks to get Benson to testify before the subcommittee.

No Injunction

DETROIT, Aug. 20 (AP)—Circuit Judge Horace Gilmore ruled tentatively today that the state courts of Michigan do not have jurisdiction to grant an injunction in the Detroit newspaper strike.

The judge said the publishers and the unions should seek to settle their differences before the national labor relations board.

Traffic Court Parley Replacement Named

Judge George Redford, Rupert city magistrate and Minidoka county probate judge will appear as panelist at a one-day traffic court conference here Thursday. Judge Redford was selected by the Idaho department of law enforcement to fill a vacancy on the program of the governor's traffic court conferences when Judge J. O. Pumphrey, Twin Falls city judge and justice of the peace, announced he would be unable to participate in the final meeting of the series. The Twin Falls session will be conducted from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. in District Judge Hugh A. Baker's courtroom at the courthouse.

Twin Falls Probate Judge Everett M. Sweeley, host for the Magic Valley conference, said those invited from Magic Valley include judges of district, probate, municipal and justice court, city and county prosecuting attorneys, Idaho Bar association district president and PTA representatives.

City, county and state law enforcement officers also are invited. William B. Taylor, assistant Idaho attorney general, will conduct the meeting as moderator. Panel members, in addition to Judge Redford, include Prosecuting Attorney James Cunningham, Earl E. Koehler, Idaho commissioner of law enforcement; Ken McCoy, director of the safety responsibility division, and Harold Davis, state traffic safety officer.

The panel discussion will include traffic court procedure, state level coordination of traffic law enforcement, Idaho's safety responsibility law as it affects traffic courts, and proposed driver training legislation.

Similar sessions during July and August have been held at Boise, Lewiston, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho Falls and Pocatello.

No Change Is Made by City On Coal Bids

Twin Falls city commissioners voted Monday night to reaffirm a bid by Warberg Brothers for coal although the bid is higher than bids placed by two other companies.

Two weeks ago the commissioners, acting upon the recommendation of City Manager Joseph Lattimore, voted to contract with Warberg Brothers for coal at $19.19 per ton. The Idaho Bean and Elevator company had submitted a bid for $12.85 and the Intermountain Fuel company had offered to supply coal at $12.10.

At the time, Lattimore said the two low bids were for coal that did not fit the city's specifications. He said the coal was air washed coal and not water washed as called for in specifications set by the city.

Last week a representative for the Idaho Bean and Elevator company appeared before the commissioners and stated his company's coal was water washed and mined in Utah. The commissioners agreed to reconsider the bid.

The commissioners again postponed action on the purchase of the swimming pool from the Hollywood Pool company. The company built the pool at Barry park on a lease (Continued on Page 11, Column 4)

BOISE, Aug. 20 (AP)—Some 700 acres of sagebrush and grass were blackened yesterday by a range fire which burned out of control southeast of here for nearly five hours.

The suit, filed in San Juan superior court yesterday, named the Bull, Waterman, Alcoa and Lykes steamship lines. The largest single claim was against the Bull line, totaling $843,500.

New Manned Balloon Mark Reported Set

000 feet, Maj. Simons regained altitude by dumping ballast.

Simons described the storm to ground trackers as "a whale of a one" and spectacular to watch from above.

The pilot said he catnapped a total of about an hour, spending most of the time observing the spectacle of night heavens ranging from deep violet to jet black, interrupted by a vivid display of the aurora borealis.

"I have a ringside view of the heavens—it is indescribable," was the terse radio message ground trackers received from Simons.

The giant polyethylene bag, 280 feet long and 200 in diameter, was launched from a 450-foot-deep mine pit here at 9:30 a.m. yesterday.

Aside from condition reports, ground crews tracking the balloon said Simons' radio is used mostly for data to be used in evaluating man's chances for survival in outer space. He also is taking hundreds of pictures.

The previous mark for manned balloons, 98,000 feet, was set in June by air force Capt. Joseph Kittinger in a test run for the current project.

House Stalled On Action in Rights Battle

The request carries a Thursday deadline, but the Democrats would still need some help from the four Republicans on the 12-man rules group to get a majority to call a meeting.

Rayburn said that when the matter comes to a head Thursday "we will see where our Republican friends stand, whether they want to make any progress on this bill."

Martin said no Democratic leader has come to see him about the measure since the senate passed it Aug. 7. Rayburn, asked about that, said, "Well, I've been here all the time. If anybody wants to talk to me I'm here."

The house Democratic chief said he still hopes to get a civil rights bill passed this session.

Radars Patent Finally Given

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The man primarily responsible for developing radar, a vital national defense device, finally has won a patent on his discovery, the army announced today.

He is Col. William R. Blair, Fair Haven, N. J., a retired signal corps scientist. Blair conceived the idea "prior to 1930," the army said, and has had a "basic and fundamental" patent application pending since June, 1945.

Blair is a pulse-echo system in which a transmitter sends out electrical impulses which bounce back or echo from aircraft and other targets.

The army revealed that a workable set was demonstrated to the war department and members of congress in early 1937. Manufacturers later began turning out radar equipment for the army. It said Blair's patent application was not filed until 1945 because of the secrecy surrounding radar in World War II.

Senate Okays Controls Over 'Peace Atoms'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The senate today adopted a compromise bill putting a congressional check on U. S. contributions to the international atoms for peace program.

The senate action, by voice vote, came minutes after house members of a joint conference committee dropped their demands that no limitation be placed on U. S. participation in the international atomic energy agency.

Disagreement

The house had refused to go along with a senate amendment by Senator Bricker, R. O., that would require congressional approval of any U. S. contributions above a certain level. The bill itself implements participation by this country in the atoms for peace program originally proposed by President Eisenhower. Members of the conference committee predicted the house would not reject the amendment a second time.

Compromise

Senator Henry Dworshak, R. Ida., said the conferees adopted a compromise on a natural uranium power reactor to be built at the national reactor testing station in eastern Idaho. He said it was substantially like an amendment which he offered but the senate rejected last week, except that it provided for spending $3,000,000 instead of $500,000, as he proposed.

The senate has authorized a $40,000,000 appropriation for construction, while the house deleted the entire project.

Probe Blames Dynamite for Plane's Blast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The civil aeronautics board said yesterday that laboratory tests indicated dynamite was the cause of an explosion in a Western Airlines two-engine plane near Daguerre, Calif.

A CAB spokesman said that after examining scorched pieces of the fuselage, laboratory experts were satisfied that dynamite caused the destruction of a 23 square-foot section of the fuselage.

As a result of the accident, passenger Saul Blinck was blown out of the Convair craft and fell 10,000 feet to his death.

The FBI said it also was investigating the cause of the mishap but would not comment further until the probe was completed.

The CAB spokesman said the board was concerned only with finding the "probable cause" of the accident and had no interest in criminal prosecution. That, he said, is up to the FBI.

Immediately after the incident, the plane made an emergency landing at George Air force base, Calif. There were no other deaths or injuries.

Speaker Tells His Views for Revolt Blame

John Graham, Jerome, blamed Radio Free Europe and the Voice of America as the main influencing forces of the Hungarian revolution when he spoke at the regular luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Exchange club Tuesday.

He said the feeling toward Americans because of the Hungarian action has taken a tremendous drop. He said the Hungarians felt they were pushed into revolting and then when they made a move the Americans backed out on them.

Graham left for Europe in February and returned June 20. He said many differences between Europeans and Americans result from a bad propaganda policy.

He said properly is not the subject in which Europeans are interested. They want peace of mind and emotional security. High pressure sales tactics such as employed by American propaganda agencies are not the answer, he asserted.

Offering a solution to the problem, Graham noted the materialistic approach must be replaced with another full of humility in order to gain European confidence.

He said for the 23 foot-ball game were discussed.

Ralph Olmstead spoke on the Exchange club award which will be presented to the 4-H livestock club which has cleanest and neatest exhibit at the Twin Falls county fair.

"Deep Freeze" Surgery Tried On Sick Child

DENVER, Aug. 20.—Linda Ray Doughty, 8, Glendale, Ariz., underwent a 5½-hour "deep freeze" operation at National Jewish hospital yesterday in an effort to correct two narrow heart valves.

A team of 15 specialists opened the defective mitral and aortic valves "without undue complications."

Heart tissue will be examined to determine whether Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Doughty, also suffers from a degenerative disease of the heart lining called subendocardial fibroelastosis. These tests will take about three days.

Diagnosis

Linda's troubles began the day she was born. A "blue baby," she underwent a transfusion by which a new supply of blood was pumped into her body.

At the age of 11 months, Linda underwent surgery at Children's hospital in Denver to close a hole in the inside wall of her heart.

The family lived in Scottsbluff, Neb., at the time.

The parents had hoped the child would be able to lead a normal life but they soon noticed that she tired easily at play and was subject to frequent illnesses.

A hospital checkup last month disclosed the defective heart valves.

The "deep freeze" procedure involved the piling of ice cubes about Linda's body after she was anesthetized. The child's temperature fell to 64 degrees in an hour. This enabled surgeons to cut off the blood flow and deprive her brain of oxygen for about eight minutes without danger. After the operation the girl was submerged in warm water to bring her temperature back to normal.

Violator Goes To Jail Again

BOISE, Aug. 20.—Clifford J. Butler, 35, was back in the Idaho state prison today after being declared a parole violator again.

Butler first entered the prison April 28, 1954, to serve a five-year sentence for issuing no account checks. He has had three short periods of parole.

Prison officials said Butler, sentenced from Bannock county, received his first parole April 1, 1955, and was back in the prison on June 20 that year. He had another six days of parole from June 20-26, 1956.

He went on parole the third time July 13 this year.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The house today approved a compromise $1,232,485,000 authorization for the construction of armed services bases and facilities in the United States and abroad.

Projects in the bill include $2,022,000 for Mountain Home air force base.

Senator Sees No Juggling In REAFund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Senator Allott, R., Colo., told the senate yesterday there has been no department of agriculture tampering with the loan authority of the rural electrification administration (REA).

Allott said he has established this to his own satisfaction after a personal investigation of reports that the department had assumed authority to pass on all REA loans of $500,000 or more.

Senator Humphrey, D. Minn., said he wanted to question Secretary of Agriculture Benson about this and Benson had refused to appear before a senate government operations subcommittee.

Wins Promise

Humphrey said Benson had promised in previous testimony before senate committees that there would be no interference in REA loans or other policies.

Senator Kefauver, D. Tenn., said Benson's position was "surprising, alarming and arrogant."

Humphrey said he didn't know whether a cabinet officer could be subpoenaed but he will look into it. He said Benson "deserved" to be subpoenaed.

Senator Carroll, D. Colo., said he had heard reports authority over large loans had been transferred to Kenneth Scott of the agriculture department "and in his absence to former congressman Wesley D'Ewart," Montana Republican.

Humphrey said he thinks that "only the secretary of agriculture can set us straight on this."

"Irritating"

Humphrey said he didn't want to give Benson a hard time "but it becomes a little irritating when a cabinet member refuses to cooperate, and he has refused to cooperate."

Humphrey said Scott, director of agricultural loan policies in the department, had conceded the REA loans have been reviewed.

Allott said that was true but he said it had been made clear to REA Administrator David Hamill that he alone had the decision on what loans were made.

Chain Letters Warning Told In Bond Sale

BOISE, Aug. 20.—O. J. Bothne, Idaho state savings bonds director, said today the treasury department is opposed to the use of the "chain letter" system for the sale of savings bonds.

"U. S. savings bonds themselves are an absolutely safe investment free from elements of risk because the principal and interest are fully guaranteed by our government," Bothne said.

"However, these schemes for acquiring savings bonds 'for nothing' are a risky gamble."

"Some organizers of the new 'chain letter' plans imply that the government and banks approve of the idea in order to increase bond sales. This is not true. The treasury department through the federal reserve bank, has instructed banks and other issuing agencies to reject applications for purchase of savings bonds where the applicant states, or where the issuing agency has reason to believe, that the bonds will be used in the 'chain letter' scheme."

Senate Approves Additional Fund

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The senate passed a $1,623,001,547 supplemental appropriations bill last night to provide extra funds for a variety of federal programs, including a project to fight Asiatic flu.

It added $3,650,000 to the funds recommended by its appropriations committee. Of the increase, $3,500,000 was for a new poultry inspection program and $150,000 for a study of farm housing.

The bill which now goes to a house-senate conference committee, would provide $800,000 for the public health service anti-flu program. This is $300,000 more than the administration asked.

Violator Goes To Jail Again

Syria Trouble Being Viewed With Gravity

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—U. S. officials said today the United States regards the communist power grab in Syria with "great seriousness."

"Syria certainly is going in the direction of becoming a Soviet satellite," one top official said.

Officials said the situation was being watched "very carefully for further developments." They said it was still impossible to tell what will happen.

Action Possible

Senate assistant Democratic leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., said yesterday if Syria does become an outright communist state and attempts to impose its will on any neighbor, "I would assume the so-called Eisenhower doctrine would go into operation."

Mansfield urged Syria's neighbors to "take adequate precautions for any eventuality that might arise because of the swing to the extreme left of the Syrian government."

U. S. officials said two things have to happen before the Eisenhower doctrine can be invoked.

—A state has to be clearly menaced by international communism.

—The state menaced has to ask U. S. assistance.

Talks Held

The United States held day-long conferences yesterday with its Western allies, including British Ambassador Sir Harold Caccia, on the possible effects of the Syrian situation. Caccia said after a meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that the Middle Eastern country is going "very far" toward becoming a Soviet satellite.

The U. S. embassy in Damascus is filing reports to the state department, but the diplomats are under strict surveillance and the information on events there is sketchy.

U. S. Ambassador James S. Moore is in the United States. He will not return to his post in Damascus because the United States last week ousted Syrian Ambassador Farid Zeinedine in retaliation for the expulsion of three American diplomats from Syria.

Chamber Unit Tours Burley Spud Factory

The Industrial Development commission of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce toured the new Idaho Potato Processing company plant in Burley Monday on the first leg of a valley-wide tour which will eventually include all major segments of Magic Valley industry.

Leading the commission was Warren Berry, commission chairman. He was accompanied by Harold Hove, chairman of the industrial public relations committee, Ronald Cutler, chairman of the committee on labor supply, and Mitchell Hunt, chamber manager.

The group spent the day conferring with officials of the million-dollar plant and examining the firm's industrial production.

Harold West, senior state commissioner of agriculture and now general manager of the plant, conducted the tour.

Hunt, speaking on behalf of the commission, noted the plant is typical of the many agricultural processing plants which will be locating in Magic Valley in future years.

Hunt said the plant employs some 350 persons on a 10-month operating period and potatoes are processed and frozen in trench fry, hash brown, patties and moulded baking potato product.

Because the plant utilizes enough electricity to supply a small city, the Idaho Power company has constructed a new sub-station specifically for plant use. With heavy machinery still being installed, officials expect the plant to be in full operation in 30 days.

Tobacco Sale On Planes Is Under Attack

LONDON, Aug. 20 (AP)—Customs men yesterday seized 40 portable bars, whisky and cigarettes from planes of the government-owned British Overseas Airways.

They contend the company is violating the law in dispensing liquor and smokes.

The law, seems a bit contradictory and confusing. About 200 years ago a law held a vessel away from Britain less than 24 hours can bring in duty free only an ounce of tobacco per passenger. Similar restrictions were applied to spirits.

But another law says a passenger may bring in duty free 200 cigarettes. BOA carried extra cigarettes to sell duty free in planes to passengers. That business pushed the airline over the once-per-passenger limit and customs slapped down the 200-year-old law. It was designed for sailing ships crossing the English channel.

England Accepts Utah Assignment

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 20 (AP)—The Utah road commission said today Keith E. England, 31, former personnel officer of the Idaho highway department, has accepted a $500 a month position as its personnel director.

England had reconsidered, the Utah offer after the board of examiners balked at paying him $400 to move him from Boise to Salt Lake City. But he later accepted the new position.

A previous plan had called for England to work as assistant to the state director but spend most of his time on road commission matters. It was later arranged for England to work directly under the road commission.

Plan Readied For Expected Flu Outbreak

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (AP)—The armed forces, aiming at holding the nation's defense intact during an expected outbreak of influenza, are testing volunteers to see if they will need a double dose of vaccine to guarantee immunity.

The public health service so far has recommended only one shot for all civilians, but is studying whether two are needed.

Drug manufacturers are rushing to supply vaccine. Estimates are that there will be an average of less than one shot for every two civilians in the United States available by mid-winter.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney warned last night the flu could strike 10 to 20 per cent of the population—up to 34 million Americans—in an explosive outbreak. If the disease hits the west coast, he said it could sweep to the east coast in four to six weeks and have a crippling effect on the nation.

Impact Seen
Burney said there could be a "terrific" impact if 20 per cent of Washington was laid low with flu and 200,000 workers were taken out of vital government services.

The highly-contagious disease, already reported to be well-spread throughout the country, is a mild influenza lasting from four to five days, Burney said. It is characterized by a sore throat, fever, cough and muscle ache and is followed by a weakened condition lasting four or five days.

Dr. Geoffrey Edsall, director of the communicable disease research at Walter Reed hospital, said full protection is needed for the men in the strategic air command, air defense crews, radar warning technicians and in thousands of other key jobs.

Test Shots

Edsall said about 100 soldiers and civilians have taken various doses of the vaccine in tests which will show how much is needed to produce absolute protection. Final results have not yet been completed. He said he and four colleagues first took the vaccine and "felt fine" thereafter, with no ill effects. At the same time, the veterans administration announced it is using 500 volunteers in a series of blood tests. The study, conducted at a Livermore, Calif., hospital, may produce clues on how the almost invisible virus travels and thus suggest ways of controlling epidemics.

Spellman Pays Visit to Pope

CASALEGGIO, Italy, Aug. 20 (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman visited Pope Pius XII at his summer home today, on the New York's 25th anniversary as a prelate. The pope, then Eugenio Cardinal Pacelli, conducted the ceremony on Aug. 20, 1932, that made the present cardinal a bishop, elevating him into the upper ranks of the church. The New York archbishop thanked the pontiff today for the part he played in the ritual.

Before leaving on the 16-mile drive to Casaleggio, the cardinal celebrated mass at the tomb of Pope (now Saint) Pius X in St. Peter's basilica. The former pope died 43 years ago today.

Persons attending the service included Msgr. Martin O'Connor, rector of Rome's North American college, and his aide, Msgr. Francis Rih.

James W. Heckman, Boise, vice president and general manager for the company in Idaho, was featured speaker at the ceremonies. He said his firm was "proud to be demonstrating in a tangible way the progress of Pocatello and to assure the people of Pocatello our faith in the future."

Pocatello city commission Chairman Ray S. Hunter turned the first shovelful of earth for the project.

New Syrian Crisis Poses Worries for Arabs as Well as for Western World

By The Associated Press

A new general crisis threatens the Middle East today as a result of the weekend power seizure in Syria by a clique of pro-Soviet officers.

It will take some time for a full-blown crisis to develop while the Syrian regime stamps out internal resistance and rids itself of its pro-Western leadership.

In addition, a sharp faction can be expected from Turkey, which will have no liking for the prospect of a nation on her southern frontier becoming a military and political base for Soviet communism in the Middle East.

For President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, the Syrian events pose big problems. An Egyptian officer, known throughout the Middle East as a known communist, jolts Nasser's proclaimed policy of "positive neutrality" in the cold war and is a threat to the prolonged armistice in Egypt's middle class. To keep his control, Nasser himself now may be forced into some extreme moves.

For a while, the Syrian regime can be expected to be preoccupied with internal business. Gen. Aziz Bizry, 43, known throughout the Middle East as an extreme leftist, apparently is in control of the army, but to keep that control he certainly must purge the officer corps of any shadow of resistance. That will take time.

Bizry, promoted by presidential decree from lieutenant colonel to general, commander-in-chief and chief of staff, may find it necessary to invoke martial law once again, while he cleans out the large number of conservative army officers who distrust and fear a policy of close collaboration with Moscow.

Syria lived through martial law through the last general Middle East crisis, while Egypt was fighting the Israeli-British-French invasion. The military rule permitted the leftist officer clique, directed in the background by Col. Abdul Hamid Serraj, the intelligence chief to enforce the tanks of Arab world leaders.

The big danger is that the regime may have to invent pretexts for keeping the military in total control.

Syria is armed with Soviet weapons and the regime may be tempted to use them in some sort of adventure which once again could throw the entire area into turmoil and even threaten world war. A move of desperation against Israel or even in some other direction to keep a shaky regime in control is not beyond the bounds of possibility.

Syria's position will cause extreme nervousness in neighboring Iraq, Jordan and Lebanon, and in Saudi Arabia. Already King Saud of Saudi Arabia is reported to have called home his ambassadors from Syria and Lebanon to discuss the new situation.

Iraq's ruling group has been lending for a long time with Syria's leftist leaders, while the Iraq masses continue to view Syria as a faithful ally of their hero, Nasser.

Much the same situation faces Jordan's regime, which itself just passed through a severe crisis which almost cost King Hussein his throne.

Saudi Arabia has reason to be worried. Soviet arms also have gone to Yemen, a feudal country on the southwest corner of the Arabian Peninsula. The presence of these weapons in the Middle East threatens local eruptions, and it will not be easy to keep such explosions localized.

In Syria itself, there is some question about the future of President Shukri Kuwally and Premier Sabri Assal. There's a hint in reports from the Middle East that Kuwally gave reluctant consent to elevating a communist to command in chief.

Premier Assal is noted as a compromiser. His long series of compromises permitted the pro-Soviet clique to move steadily into control until the military began to act with complete independence of the civilian government. Now that As-sal has served his purpose, so far as the extreme left is concerned, he may have to step aside.

The extent to which Bizry controls Syria is a matter for conjecture. His rise is on a wave of Arab nationalism. That created the Syrian passion to arm to the teeth.

Nationalism motivated the action of Col. Serraj, himself no communist but pro-Soviet because Moscow supplied the arms he could not get elsewhere. Serraj apparently still is a gray eminence in Syria—looming from the background.

But Bizry is a man of another stamp. While he may profess nationalism, the fact that he carries a communist card can well mean that he is prepared to serve Moscow's purposes.

Police Aid as Negro Moves To Levittown

LEVITTOWN, Pa., Aug. 20 (AP)—State police last night forced a crowd of about 250 persons to move some two blocks away from the house of the first Negro to move into the 15,000-home all white community of Levittown.

William Myers and his wife, Daisy, with one of their three children, moved into their $12,150 bungalow Monday night and bagged a groundsman of the project by their neighbors. State troopers rained the house to prevent any violence.

Several white men helped carry towels and other small articles into the house as the college-educated Myers announced, "we're here to stay." Their furniture was moved in last week shortly after settlement was made on the dwelling in this planned city of 60,000.

Monday night, about 250 gathered quietly on the four corners of the intersection adjoining the Myers' home. Wicker urged them to go home and then told his men gradually move the crowds some two blocks, or as the police lieutenant put it, "beyond shouting distance so they cannot annoy anyone."

Earlier, Myers held a press conference in his new home, telling reporters:

"I don't believe the demonstrations that have been held present a true picture of the feelings of the people of Levittown. All people are good of heart."

"I expected there might be some trouble when we bought this place, but I didn't think there would be so much."

The 34-year-old World War II veteran emphasized that he had no backing, financial or otherwise, from any group or organization. He did say, though, that following his purchase, when trouble arose, the American Friends Service committee, a Quaker organization, offered to advise him. Representatives of the committee helped him move in and were also present during the press conference.

Teamsters for New York Cut Milk Supplies

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—A Teamsters' strike approved by union chief Dave Beck today cut all but 30 percent of the milk going to 12 million consumers in the New York metropolitan area.

About 850 members of Teamsters' Local 770 walked off their jobs last night. The truck drivers normally carry 70 percent of the bulk milk sent in from farms for processing and distribution to dealers.

Emergency food supplies were not in the strike. Local 770 agreed to deliver emergency milk supplies for hospitals and other institutions.

Harold Felix, New York City labor commissioner, said consumers would not feel the pinch of the strike until sometime tomorrow.

Last night, union and dairy transport associations negotiators agreed to resume talks tomorrow morning with federal, state and city mediators.

The walkout originally had been set for last Friday at midnight. Teamsters' Vice President Thomas Hickey said the strike was approved by union President Dave Beck.

Wages Are Key
Hickey said wages are the key issue. The union demanded an 86-cent an hour package increase over a three-year period. The association offered a 50-cent boost over four years.

Harry Uviller, chairman of the state mediation board, said he will recommend that a three-man board of inquiry be appointed at once to study the situation.

Pocatello Woman Reenters Prison

BOISE, Aug. 20 (AP)—Edna May Hester, 38-year-old Pocatello woman released from the Idaho penitentiary a little over a month ago, was back behind the prison's walls again today.

Miss Hester pleaded guilty last Thursday to a charge of voluntary manslaughter in the slaying of Mary Gholson, 24, also of Pocatello. On July 8, she was released from prison after serving nearly two years of a 14-year term. She had pleaded guilty to a charge of throwing a pan of hot lard in the face of Claude Williams in Pocatello.

Bill Reported

ONTARIO, Ore., Aug. 20 (AP)—Farm officials in Ontario were notified by Senator Neuberger, D. Ore., yesterday that the senate agriculture committee has reported to the floor of the senate the bill banning trading in onion futures. "Because of adjustment is imminent," Neuberger said, "it's doubtful whether the senate will act this session."

Top Japanese Lawyers Will Prosecute GI

MARBASHI, Japan, Aug. 20 (U.P.)—A boyish-looking young man with a well-earned reputation as a fencer, will argue Japan's case against Spec. G. William S. Girard in his trial. Girard is charged with shooting down a Japanese woman on a target range.

Yoshinori Konawa, 35, a soft-spoken man, 5 feet 7 inches tall, is rated the most brilliant of eight young prosecutors assigned by the justice ministry to this rural district court. He also is the fiercest swordsman in the province and regularly cuts down husky policemen in exhibition duels.

Shows No Concern
Konawa, apparently unconcerned about his key role in the sensational trial which opens next Monday, works on his case daily with Kaname Watanabe, 34, the chief district prosecutor.

Court observers and newsmen accustomed here call Watanabe a "man of the greatest caliber" and a man headed for the summit of Japan's judiciary system. He will not appear in court, but will mastermind the prosecution.

Konawa, who was associate prosecutor in another widely publicized trial involving Americans, is well versed in international law and the complicated status of forces agreement between Japan and the United States.

Insists on Trial
Friends say he has steadfastly insisted on Japan's right to try Girard since Mrs. Naka Sakai died on a U. S. military firing range last Jan. 20 with an empty cartridge case lodged in her back.

Konawa was associate prosecutor in the trial of four American soldiers involved in what became to be known internationally as the "Maezashi pinball riot." Several Japanese policemen were injured in quelling a street fight which began in a Maezashi pachinko (pinball) parlor. The soldiers were convicted and sentenced to prison terms of three to six months, but all sentences were suspended.

Acid Comment
Unofficial reports credit Konawa with quashing plans for an appeal with this acid comment:
"It was a shame that sober Japanese policemen were beaten and injured by a bunch of drunken Americans."

Watanabe, a former chief criminal prosecutor in the Tokyo higher court, was transferred to Marbashi early this year. The son of a successful Tokyo lawyer, Watanabe is tall and slender, every inch the Japanese gentleman. He looks much younger than his 34 years and loves to play baseball on the prosecutor's team here.

Young Konawa, incidentally, is the team's star pitcher and has a batting average of over .300.

Congress OK For Weather Plan Is Seen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (Special)—Prospects continue good for approval at this congressional session of a bill to permit the National Science Foundation to explore the complicated subject of weather control.

The Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee has unanimously approved the measure and there appears to be a final deal of favorable sentiment for it in the house.

In the meantime work in this field has been suspended by the President's advisory committee on weather control. Reason: Congress has so far denied it funds for the new fiscal year which started July 1. It has, however, filed an interim report, which indicates among other things that rain can be produced more easily by seeding clouds in mountainous regions than in level areas.

Range Reseed
SHOSHONE, Aug. 20—Bureau of land management crews are reseeding some of the area recently burned in range fires. They are working at the Wendell cattle allotment area, using four grain drills and two tractors.

One crew recently completed a truck trail and fire guard north of Minidoka.

PROGRAM PLANNED
SHOSHONE, Aug. 20—The program to conclude the daily vacation Bible school of the Methodist-Baptist churches will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Methodist church.

Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel. Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac—and the time is now!

Miss Bond Weds Dr. H. P. Potter In Church Rites

Beverly Anne Bond, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Wallace Bond, was married to Dr. Howard Phelps Potter, Jr., son of Howard Phelps Potter, Wilmington, Del., and the late Mrs. Margaret Quillen Potter in services Sunday in the First Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Donald B. Blackstone, D.D.

The church was decorated for the four o'clock ceremony with arrangements of all white flowers consisting of chrysanthemums, stocks, pompon chrysanthemums and spider chrysanthemums, backed by woodwinds. The altar bouquets were encircled by spiral candelabra and the altar was backed by seven tall ecclesiastical candles. The aisles of the church were marked by 28 seven-foot white wrought iron standards holding ecclesiastical candles and spiraled with ivy.

Mrs. Charles A. Allen, organist, played Gottfried's "Soul Adorn Thyself with Gladness," Wesley's "Three Short Pieces," Pachelbel's "Toccata in E Minor," Marcello's "The Heavens Declare" (the 19th Psalm), Dunstable's "Agnus Dei," and Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." The wedding march was the assembly march from "Tannhauser."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Blanche gown of pale ivory French Alencon lace, fashioned in simple elegance along princess lines with tiny pearl embroidery and a chapel train. It had a Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and folds of Peau de Sole accenting an Empire effect.

Her headpiece was a tiny Peau de Sole pillbox with matching Alencon appliques from which extended a four-tiered imported ivory illusion veil. She carried a cascade of lily-of-the-valley centered with miniature white callies and phalaenopsis orchids.

Attending the bride were Mrs. David E. Fox as matron of honor, and Margaret Weaver, San Francisco, and Dorothy Ann Blackstone as bridesmaids. They were given identically in cocktail-length white chiffon. The dresses were designed with pleated fitted bodices, bouffant skirts and ivory satin obi sashes. They wore pleated gold chiffon pillbox hats and carried cascade bouquets of gold miniature chrysanthemums, centered with gold tuberous-begonias and accented with antique gold strands of ivy.

Barclay Roberts Challenger, Fair Haven, N. J., served as best man for Dr. Potter. Ushers were Dr. J. W. Laurier Bond, Walla Walla, Wash., brother of the bride, Dr. Dean H. Affleck, Dr. George T. Davis, Dr. George W. Warner, Dr. William H. Woodson and Dr. Clarence F. Wurster.

The bride's mother wore a full-skirted, chiffon dress with matching shoes. Her hat was tiny and of velvet and silk leaves in the same color. She carried a small purse of matching chiffon upon which she placed her corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

A reception in the garden of the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bond was attended by approximately 350 guests. The reception was supervised by Mrs. Lyle Frazier, Mrs. Charles Bermer and Mrs. Paul Thoman. The appointments of crystal and silver and arrangements of white flowers decorating all of the serving tables were arranged by Mrs. Paul Tabor, sr., and Mrs. R. L. Roberts. Mrs. Rose North was official hostess.

Reception assistants were Mrs. Dean Affleck, Mrs. George Warner, Mrs. A. W. Kendall, Mrs. George T. Davis, Mrs. James Kinney, Mrs. Ben R. Tillery, Mrs. J. W. Marshall, Mrs. C. R. Weaver, Mrs. Hugh Phillips, Mrs. Rudy Ashenbrenner, Mrs.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Children have rights that are often disregarded by their elders who find it more convenient, or expedient, to ignore them. The person who likes and dislikes of children are among these.

Peter, aged 4, refuses to kiss Aunt Emily who was highly offended in consequence.

"Shame on you Peter. Go and kiss your auntie. Like a good boy, go kiss your kind auntie."

"No," said Peter, scowling like an outraged person.

"Why not?" asked Aunt Emily in her sweetest tones.

"Cause I don't want to," and coaxed did not budge him.

"You're a very naughty boy. If you don't love people they won't love you," said his mother. Peter remained unmoved so his mother said "All right. You don't love us so you go stay in your room alone until you make up your mind to be a nice boy to your kind Aunt Emily."

Peter might have stayed in his room a long time had not his presence been needed below stairs when the nurse came to give him an injection in preparation for his entering school. That done, and his elders busy with their own concerns, Peter slipped out to play.

But he was not to get off that easily. When his father came home he was told how naughty Peter had been in not kissing Aunt Emily. His father tried to look impressed but all he managed to say was,

"That's too bad."

"Well," said mother, "He is the loser. Aunt Emily was going to give him a velocipede, but now of course she won't. And I certainly will not give him one, not until he knows how to treat people nicely."

Peter, sensible beyond his years, said nothing. Unconvinced that he should kiss anybody he did not want to kiss, only strengthened his determination. After all this was a personal matter with him and any attempt to override it was sure to meet with stubborn resistance.

This sort of interference with a child's personal feelings is ill-founded. It is not a matter of discipline that may force his acquiescence. Forcing compliance will but strengthen his inward feeling of resistance and that bodes no good to future relationships with all concerned. Into the bargain it is likely to build up unfortunate prejudices that otherwise might never have entered his head.

Children should be treated with respect; the same respect shown other people. Children have personal dignity, personal feelings, personal rights and some of the advice given them about getting along with people might well be taken by those who give it.

Does your child cry at bedtime or refuse to take his bath? You can change his habits by changing the way of doing things. Dr. Patri explains how to give a child a new start in his latest book, "Changing Habits." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P.O. Box 99, Station 10, New York 19, N.Y.

COWBOYS EDGE BEES 7-5 TO EXTEND WIN STREAK TO FOUR

Grandslam Homer by Denny Loudenback, 2-Run Clout By Jackson Pace Victory

A grand slam homer by Denny Loudenback, Lou Jackson's two-run clout and stout pitching by Russ Wingo pushed Magic Valley past Salt Lake City 7-5 and extended the Cowboy winning streak to four games. The win kept the Cowboys in the thick of the Pioneer league race and knocked the first half champions farther down the ladder. The two teams will continue Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the second of the three game series. Loudenback's maximum effort came in the first inning after walks to Jackson and Bill Schmidt and Bill Denny's single had loaded the bases. The ball sailed over the wall in dead centerfield. Jackson tapped in what proved to be the winning tallies after starter Bill Pleiss had dropped a line shot into center.

The Cowboys had their six tallies before the Bees finally got into the win column in the sixth. Don Jackson then got the second hit of the game off Pleiss, a solo homerun. But the Bees came to life again in the eighth inning and threatened the Cowboys seemingly safe lead. Consecutive singles by Manager

95-Day Duck Season Set to Begin Oct. 5

BOISE, Aug. 20 (AP)—Waterfowl hunting season in Idaho will be 15 days longer this year than last, but the bag and possession limit will be smaller by one duck, state fish and game director Ross Leonard announced Monday. Leonard said the U. S. fish and wildlife service has authorized a 95-day straight season for Idaho, to be set between Oct. 1 and Oct. 15. The state fish and game commission unanimously set the dates as Oct. 5 through Jan. 7, Leonard said. The opening date is eight days later than last year. The bag and possession limits for ducks were reduced to offset the increased number of open days. The limit will be five ducks in a day or three in possession. In addition, hunters will be allowed three pintails or geese as "bonus" ducks, just as they were last year. The goose limit is the same as last year, except that hunters in the Snake, Bonneville and Caribou basins will have a bag and possession limit of only one Canada goose. The season was set to protect goose populations, Leonard said. The over-all goose limit will be of which three must be of the lake or Canadian species. The director said the 95-day season provides the best chance in years of furnishing some hunting for all parts of the state. He added that it would take more than three months to give all parts of the state an equal break.

Skyline Coaches See Better Race

DENVER, Aug. 20 (AP)—Declining to vote on how they expected teams to finish, Skyline conference coaches Friday predicted better football and closer competition in the conference this fall during their annual pre-season huddle.

Let's All Go To The Ballgame Tonight!

Head men of New Mexico, Brigham Young and Montana—the three last place teams last year—reported their teams would be sharply improved. Quality of play will be better than ever, all eight coaches agreed. They cited larger enrollments and improved quality among players choosing mountain schools as two major factors. Though declining to vote how they expected the conference teams to finish, it was clear in discussions with sportswriters and sportscasters that Utah is likely to take over the crown worn by undefeated Wyoming last season.

Board Gives Okay For Giants' Move To San Francisco

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—The New York Giants officially decided Monday to become the San Francisco Giants. The Brooklyn Dodgers may follow the Giants to California next week. The historic decision to move westward was made during a 21-hour meeting when the Giants' board of directors voted 8 to 1 to shift the National league baseball franchise to San Francisco. The lone dissenter was M. Donald Grant, a minority stockholder.

Mixed Emotion Greet News of Giants' Move

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20 (AP)—The New York Giants' decision to move here next year touched off all kinds of reactions Monday. News that the Giants will move their National league franchise to the West Coast was met generally with gloom in Pacific Coast league baseball circles. Many other notable people were delighted. Some faithful followers of the San Francisco Seals in the PCL expressed mixed emotions. The Seals have dominated the league this season for the first time in a decade. "There will be no Pacific Coast league left," predicted Emil Sick, owner of the Seattle Rainiers. The PCL, and particularly the Sacramento Solons, "certainly will suffer with major league ball in San Francisco," Solons president Fred David commented. "The PCL will have to chart a definite course of action," Bill Mulflur, the Portland Beavers' acting general manager said. "No comment," was all that Leslie O'Connor, president of the PCL, had to say. But the San Francisco Seals' president, Jerry Donovan, took it gracefully. "It's wonderful. San Francisco fans are entitled to major league baseball."

Wardrobe Skimpy? No One Looks at Tourist Clothing

By HENRY McEMORE
ZERMATT, SWITZERLAND—For anyone with an "extremely limited and extremely tired wardrobe, this is an ideal spot."

Nature is so beautiful here that no one gives a hoot how the humans look.

Since reaching this Alpine retreat, snuggled at the base of the Matterhorn, I've seen more varieties of costume than you'll see at a costume ball and three Hollywood period epics.

No matter what clothes you have in your suitcase, they are adequate and acceptable. A man could come here with a missionary's barrel for a valise and get by just fine. He might even earn the distinction of the best dressed man in town.

The only people here whose dress is at all standard are the serious mountain climbers. While there are a lot of them walking about in the proper haberdashery for their chosen sport, they are in the minority. Most of the visitors, along with the townspeople, like to look at the mountains. Not climb them.

There is no set garb for looking at mountains—anything will do. Apparently the peaks look just the same to a man wearing a flowered Hawaiian shirt and a pair of plus-four corduroy knickerbockers as they do to a man in bathing trunks and wooden clogs. I have seen both of these outfits worn on the streets of Zermatt as well as on the mountain slopes. Lederhosen, blue jeans, and early yesterday morning a dinner jacket.

Also to be seen on the streets of Zermatt are quite a few suits of Edwardian vintage. The sport of climbing the Matterhorn was at its height in the late 1880's, and many of the Englishmen of that era who accomplished the feat, return to the scene of their youthful triumph.

But it is the women, not the men, who win the wreath of edelweiss for bizarre get-ups. Name it, no matter how odd, and it is to be found here beneath the snow-crowned Alps. Downers barge by in dresses suitable for a Buckingham levee. High heels are worn with rucksacks. Now and then, as it is warm here, a bikini-clad beauty is to be seen sunning on a chaise longue. Unbelievable as it is, I saw a stout woman in leather shorts and silk blouse put her prince-neice to inspect a music box. I have a picture of her to prove it.

My own mountain-viewing outfit is worth a snap or two from someone's camera. I am wearing the trousers to one of those do-it-yourself suits which can be washed by hand, need no pressing, and are guaranteed to look it. With the trousers, which have more wrinkles than an octogenarian's prune, I am wearing a brown sports shirt embossed with horses' heads, a pair of tennis shoes, one of which has no shoe lace, and a gray flannel cap with link spots on it that I bought in Malta months ago.

Mary won't even let me describe her get-up, and I don't blame her. But if some passer-by doesn't offer her a crust of bread before the day is over I am going to be surprised.

The truth is, everybody is so busy looking at the scenery that they don't have time for looking at people. Here one's gaze is usually up where Nature's handiwork is on display as it must be in a few other spots in the world.

I'm liable to go barefoot tomorrow, and turn my cap around like Jackie Coogan used to. There's no use in not going back to nature. There's plenty of it around here.

Youth Killed After Rabbit Hunting Trip

MOUNTAIN HOME, Aug. 20 (AP)—An airman from New York state was accidentally shot to death yesterday 45 minutes before he was due back at nearby Mountain Home air force base from a jackrabbit hunting trip.

Base officials identified the dead youth as a 3/c Richard Barum, 19, Birmingham, N. Y. They said the gun was held by William Harder, jr., also an airman at the base.

Earl Winter, Elmore county sheriff, said the shooting occurred at the home of John Willis, a civilian in Mountain Home. He said Barum died instantly of a bullet wound in the head.

Coroner Art Smith said an inquest would be held either tonight or tomorrow night. He said the men were evidently trying with a 22-20 rifle which they thought was empty.

Booklet Tells Of Problems On A-Attacks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20 (Special)—In event of enemy attacks with atomic weapons, farmers face special problems from radioactive fallout.

First, both he and his family, plus livestock, may find suitable shelter a serious problem.

Second, the farmer's production of food and fiber will alone sustain this country's fighting strength even under the most adverse conditions.

What to do about the problem is described in a 16-page booklet recently issued by the department of agriculture. Single copies may be obtained by writing the office of information at the department, or bulk sales can be handled by the government printing office in Washington.

The pamphlet is the result of a year's work by the department in cooperation with the atomic energy commission, civil defense administration and public health department.

Some 50 scientists reviewed its contents. Extremely lively demand for it has caused the department to double its original order of 100,000 copies.

This fall the department will start preparing a more technical and lengthy treatise on the subject for use by county agents and agricultural teachers.

The new work should be out next spring and will incorporate material (principally the length of time within which farmers may return to their work following an attack) obtained by a team of department scientists during the current atomic tests in Nevada.

Firemen Hurt In Spokane's $500,000 Fire

SPOKANE, Aug. 20 (AP)—A three-alarm fire raced through five shops in the downtown section here yesterday causing damage estimated at more than $500,000 and putting 14 firemen out of action.

It was the second major fire in the building at Riverside and Post in six years.

The blaze broke out in the basement of the building housing a bakery, shoe repair shop, women's clothing store, shoe repair shop and a cheese shop.

Smoke Is Thick
Dense, rolling smoke poured out of the building and hampered firemen trying to find the seat of the blaze.

Fireman Theom McMann was overcome by smoke while in the building. His partner, Dan Bolten, tried to carry him to safety and made it through the dense smoke only by following a fire hose. Bolten said the visibility inside the building was "zero."

One fireman was cut by flying glass. Another fell into an open manhole and received a painful leg injury. Others were overcome by smoke.

Traffic Snarled
The heavy smoke attracted thousands of people to the downtown area and traffic was snarled on Riverside avenue.

Fire department investigators were alighting around in five feet of water in the basement of the building, trying to determine the cause of the blaze, which is still unknown.
