

Crash Kills Salesman in Blaine Area

HAILEY, Aug. 21 — Blaine county chalked up its first traffic fatality for 1957 in the death of Orville E. Colyar, 31, Boise, at the Hailey Clinical hospital shortly after 10 p.m. Tuesday. Colyar was injured around 6 p.m. when his 1953 Willys went out of control on a curve 10 miles east of Carey on highway 93A. E. D. Rowell, Boise, a passenger in the car, was injured slightly but was not hospitalized. Deputy Sheriff Frank Inama, who investigated the accident with State Patrolman Willard Baker, said Colyar apparently fell asleep as the car started around the curve.

Jerome Court Trial Held for Topsy Charge

Jury trial of Glenn White, Twin Falls, charged with drunken driving, was held Wednesday in Jerome county court. The six-member jury reached a verdict.

White was charged with the offense Aug. 4 following a traffic accident on the Perrine Memorial bridge. In a complaint filed by state police, White was charged with driving his car into the rear of a car driven by Eldon Tisdale. He pleaded innocent.

During the trial he denied driving the car. Mrs. Ann Bonar, listed earlier as a passenger in the car, testified she was the driver of the car when it collided with the Tisdale vehicle.

Mrs. Bonar invoked the fifth amendment when prosecuting attorney Richard Sealey asked if she had been drinking prior to the accident.

Two drivers who pleaded guilty of driving while intoxicated are serving time in county jails at Rupert and Shoshone in lieu of fines and a third paid a fine of $100 in Jerome county court Wednesday.

They are Donald Dashiell, Spokane, who is serving out his fine of $150 and $3 costs in the Lincoln county jail at Shoshone after he pleaded guilty in court of justice of

Officials "Reinstated" as Council Told It Has No Authority to Fire Them

GOODING, Aug. 21—Because of a state law which prohibits a city council from firing appointed city officials, Police Chief Ed Culver and City Clerk Orris Griffith are back in office here and Mayor Neil Warrington said he is satisfied with the work of the two men.

The same state law which prohibits a city council from firing appointed officers, vests that power only in a mayor. The two officials were fired by the city council Monday night but were asked to stay on duty until replacements for them could be found. The "reinstatement" of the two officials was announced at noon Wednesday following a special meeting of the council and the mayor. Warrington said both Culver and Griffith had agreed to continue in their respective capacities.

Following their dismissal, both Culver and Griffith said the council had given them no reasons for its action Tuesday night, however, Councilman Warren Thornton, who made the motion to release Griffith, said he had offered the motion because the police chief wanted an increase in salary for himself and his policemen. Thornton said the council had raised his salary from $320 to $345 a month this spring and had increased salaries of others on the police force, too.

He said the police chief wanted the same basis of pay that Twin Falls and Buhl and other cities in Magic Valley are paying.

Thornton said he figured the (Continued on Page 2, Column 7)

Tanker Loses Race Against Time, Waters

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 21 (AP)—The explosion-ravaged tanker World Splendor lost a dramatic race against time today and sank within sight of safety off Gibraltar.

Nine officers who remained on the smoking hulk and a British admiralty tug had battled to get the 25,000-ton ship into Gibraltar before seas flooded its forward hull.

But flooding through cracks opened by the two explosions and flash fire which hit the ship yesterday poured in before the tug Confident could cover the last 20 to 30 miles to the British naval base.

United States Has Plan on Two-Year Atomic Tests Ban

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower proposed today a two-year suspension of nuclear tests, provided Russia agrees to an eventual permanent halt in production of atomic weapons. Eisenhower said in a statement that Canada, France and Great Britain are joining the United States in presenting this proposal in the United Nations disarmament subcommittee now meetings in London. The plan "should be a major step toward reaching a sound and safeguarded first-step arms control agreement," Eisenhower said in making the proposal public.

He expressed hope "that the Soviet Union will now join us and our Western colleagues in agreeing to our disarmament proposals, including the cessation of production of fissionable materials for weapons purposes."

An outline of the Western agreement had been obtained previously in Paris.

As reported from there the weapons test recess would be conditioned upon Russian acceptance of a limited disarmament plan and agreement to full safeguards during the test stoppage. The latter would include inspectors stationed in the agreeing countries.

In London, meanwhile, the Soviet Union accused the West of blocking agreement on nuclear disarmament by advancing "artificial" preconditions.

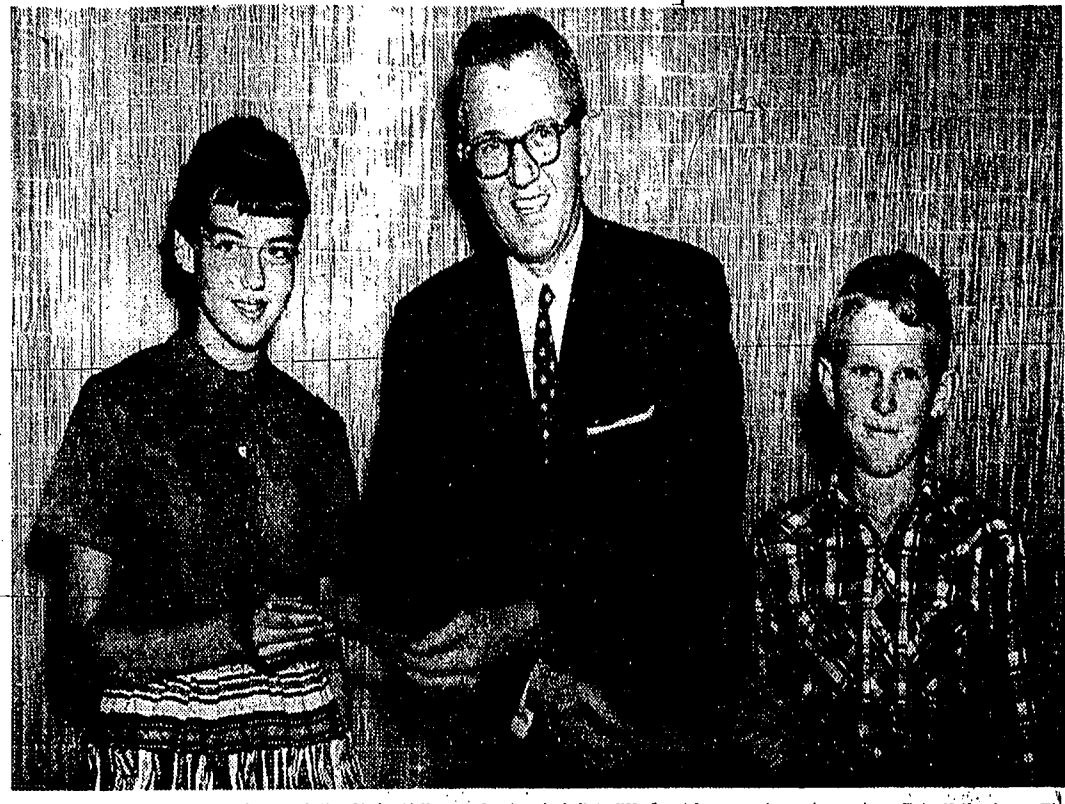

Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin, in a blistering attack on the West before the United Nations disarmament subcommittee meeting in London, asserted:

"If the Western powers intend seriously to discuss and to solve in a business like way the question of ending atomic and hydrogen weapon tests, they must renounce linking the question of ending these tests with other aspects of the disarmament question, on which there are still substantial differences."

The four Western powers in Paris will present to Zorin in London a proposal calling for suspension of nuclear tests beginning in November, 1958.

It would continue for 12 months and then, if all powers concerned found it satisfactory, would be extended for another 12 months.

Estimate of Burned Range Land Down

With the range fire in the south hills under control, forest service officials have had a chance to reappraise the area burned and Wednesday noon dropped the original estimate of 5,000 acres down to 3,000 acres. Maurice Fickes, fire control aide for the Sawtooth national forest, said he flew over the area at 7 p.m. Tuesday and discovered a number of unburned "islands" in the burned area. He said an accurate estimate should be reached by Wednesday night when officials expect to have a preliminary survey completed.

Parley Slated On Carpenter Wage Dispute

BOISE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Federal Mediator Dan Edwards was continuing an attempt today to bring striking southern Idaho carpenters and the Associated General Contractors to a contract agreement.

Edwards arranged for representatives of the Rocky Mountain District Council of carpenters and for the contractors to meet here as the strike started its sixth week.

An earlier meeting here failed to reach agreement between the AGC and the carpenters. The AGC wants carpenters in heavy construction and highway work.

Of the 1,800 carpenters who walked out July 17 in southern Idaho, only one-third returned to work last week after reaching agreement at Pocatello with the Southern Idaho Contractors association.

Other small contractors were reluctant to have made individual agreements with the carpenters in their localities. More carpenters went back to work last week in Nampa and Caldwell after their employers ended their former contract was in force.

The new contract being negotiated replaces one which union members say expired May 1. The union is asking wage hikes raising the present scale of $2.65 an hour, plus travel and health benefits, which have so far blocked a settlement.

U. S., Britain Still Prepared On New Tests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Both Britain and the United States are keeping their H-bomb proving grounds ready for new tests.

Neither has publicly scheduled further big-bomb tests but either could stage new ones next year.

A London dispatch quoted official British sources yesterday as saying the British proving ground at Christmas Island, south of Hawaii, is being readjusted for future tests. The British exploded three test H-bombs there this year.

The United States meanwhile is keeping its Eniwetok-Bikini proving ground in the Pacific ready for use by its test organization, joint task force seven, when "national needs" require.

An atomic energy construction program sent to the White House yesterday carries $7,917,000 for Eniwetok. A caretaker force has been at the Pacific test site ever since the last H-bomb experiments of 1955.

Spud Growers Favor Cut in Minimum Size

Potato growers of the Twin Falls district of the Idaho Potato Producers association voted Tuesday night to change minimum sizes to two inches or four ounces instead of the present regulation of two and one-eighth inches or four ounces. The Twin Falls meeting was a third in a series being held throughout the state to determine sentiments of producers regarding size regulation. The regulation for late 1957 summer crop has been, on U. S. No. 2 or better grade, two and one-eighth minimum diameter or four ounces minimum weight.

Syria Leader Charges U. S. Planned Plot

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 21 (AP)—Syria's new army chief of staff says "gangsters made in America" planned to kill him and other Syrian military leaders.

The alleged mass assassination plan, Maj. Gen. Afif Blazy told Western newsmen yesterday, was part of a plot Syria has charged the United States directed against the Syrian government.

"They were to send gangsters to our houses to kill us," Blazy declared. "They were gangsters made in America."

The military chief leveled the charge shortly after Syria instructed its U. N. delegation to inform the security council that the United States had conspired to overthrow President Shukri Kuwaili's regime.

The U. S. state department has labeled the Syrian plot charge a complete fabrication.

Kuwaili, who flew to Egypt after the Syrian army shakeup last week, is in an Alexandria hospital for the announced purpose of getting a medical checkup. A foreign ministry source said he is expected to return within a week.

Blazy charged that Howard E. Stone, the U. S. embassy's second secretary for political affairs, was the mastermind behind the alleged plot. Stone was one of three American diplomats expelled from Syria last week.

Marked for death besides himself, Blazy said, were Brig. Amin Nufoury, new deputy chief of staff, and Col. Abdul Hamid Barraj, the army's intelligence chief.

"The prime purpose was to kill staff officers who opposed American policy," Blazy said. "They wanted the head of every honest man. We have the evidence."

Morse Lashes Fellow Demos On Dam Votes

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 21 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, D., Ore., has accused two Democratic representatives of joining the Republicans to "scuttle" the bill authorizing a federal Hells Canyon dam.

The charge brought an immediate denial from one of the two, Rep. George A. Shuford, D., N.C.

Speaking here last night, Morse said that Shuford and Rep. James A. Haley, D., Fla., had joined in a "Republican policy sell-out to private profiteering."

Shuford and Haley were the only Democrats voting to withhold action on the senate-passed Hells canyon bill when it came before the house interior committee last month.

Charge Denied

Shuford told United Press in Washington, "I didn't join with anyone to vote against the bill. I merely voted my convictions on the bill. I didn't think Hells canyon was justified under the circumstances."

Haley was unavailable for comment.

Water Cutoff Due For Salmon Tract

HOLLISTER, Aug. 21—Irrigation water will be shut off in the Salmon River Canal company system on Sept. 6, officials of the firm reported Tuesday.

This will mark the end of the irrigation season on the Salmon tract but there may be a domestic run after the official end of the season.

So far this season, water users on the tract have received 95 of an acre foot of water per share, officials added. Last year the allotment was only .85 of an acre foot.

By the end of the season the delivery this year may be a little higher than the figure on Tuesday, officials said.

Showers

Thundershowers are predicted for the week-end in the Magic Valley area. Although no general rains are in prospect, isolated heavy showers are forecast, according to the five-day forecast received from the Associated Press.

The cause of the explosion has not yet been determined.
The tanker was launched in February, commissioned only last June and was on its third voyage.
Thirty-two survivors of the explosion and fire arrived at Gibraltar last night aboard the British destroyer Delight. Some of the survivors had been burned and injured. The British destroyer was en route to the Persian Gulf from Southampton, England, carrying nothing but ballast.

Jerome Court Trial Held for Topsy Charge

The Peace W. L. Austin, and Louis Martinez, El Paso, Tex., serving 20 days in lieu of a fine of $100 and $3 costs, Martinez is in the Minidoka county jail at Rupert. He was sentenced by Rupert Police Judge George Redford.

The third drunk driver is Edgar Howard Carlow, 50, Jerome, who was fined $100 by Mrs. Roberta Kehrer, Jerome police judge. He was arrested Saturday by Jerome police and Judge Kehrer suspended his license for one year.

Dashell was arrested Aug. 15 by Lincoln county Sheriff Thomas Conner 10 miles north of Shoshone on U. S. highway 93 on the drunk driving charge.
Charles E. Atkinson, 20, 179 Flier avenue, pleaded innocent Wednesday in Twin Falls police court to a charge of reckless driving and was released on $75 bond. Judge J. O. Pumpfrey says he will set his trial at a later date.

Atkinson was cited by city police at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday after his car skidded 144 feet along Jefferson street in the 300 block and went into a ditch. He was not injured and the car did not overturn.

The complaint, signed by Police Chief Howard Gillette, says Atkinson failed to have the vehicle under proper control and drove it carelessly, heedlessly with unlawful and wanton disregard for the rights and safety of persons and property.

Loren E. Walker, 18, Hansen, was fined $25 and costs Tuesday in Twin Falls justice court for negligent driving.
State Patrolman H. E. Carr charged that on Aug. 18, Walker drove in a negligent manner on Main avenue north and when approaching Five Points west in the left lane of traffic "gunned" his vehicle at an excessive rate of speed through the intersection onto Addison avenue west.

Maurice O. Colton, Twin Falls, has been fined $20 and $3 costs by Wendell Police Judge David Collett on a charge of speeding. Judge Collett also has fined Curtis Bartholomew, Jerome, $3 and $3 costs on a like charge and Malcolm G. Ford, Payette, $5 and $3 costs on a charge of making a U turn.

Improvement Racket Given C. of C. Blast

Mitchell Hunt, manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday warned that anyone making home improvements this year should confine business dealings with reputable firms.
Hunt received a bulletin from the National Better Business Bureau which described the long-standing building racket as the "display house scheme."

He advised all persons be wary if itinerant roofing companies, half advertising of storm windows and doors, phony furnace repairmen and individuals using certain types of mastic paint.

Hunt said the "display house scheme" is a costly hoax which often hurts one or more home owners in a particular area in the community.

Hunt said the promoter calls on one or several local home owners and explains that his company plans to commence remodeling operations in the community. Before beginning activities, the promoter says, a "demonstration job" is needed in the neighborhood to demonstrate the company's ability.

The promoter then offers his "customer" an abnormally low rate to supply a new roof or new siding for the house, and suggests the house be opened for public observation in order to sell other home improvement jobs.

Hunt said the entire sales pitch is false and the promoter has no intention of using the house for display purposes. The home owner finds he has paid an exorbitant price for an inferior job.

The Better Business Bureau has supplied the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce with a set of recommendations for persons who are planning home improvements. Hunt said the chamber would be glad to discuss building racket problems and Better Business Bureau suggestions with any Twin Falls resident.

Film on Reds Shown to T.F. Rotary Group

What would happen if the communists would take over the administrative judicial and police powers of a small American city was shown Twin Falls Rotarians Wednesday in a film produced by the U. S. air force.

Titled "Face to Face with Communism," the film depicted an air force man on leave in a city where for one day the city officials let some of the residents take over the city government and run it in the communist manner.

It showed the arrest of the airman, his hurried flight before a magistrate without the benefit of counsel, his inhuman treatment and ultimate sentence to death for daring to defy the communists.

Prior to the film, Boys' state Gov. Mike Gray, Twin Falls, reported on his trip to Washington, D. C., in July to take part in Boys' nation. Gray, sponsored by the Twin Falls Rotary club to Boys state, was elected governor of Idaho and represented the Gem state at Boys' nation.

He told of lunching with Sen. Dworshak and Bank Chambers and visiting the various buildings, senate and house of representatives at the capitol.

Dr. Wallace Bond introduced baseball managers Walter Dixon of the Magic Valley Cowboys and Cliff Dapper of the Salt Lake City Bees. He urged Rotarians to attend the remaining home games of the Cowboys.

Political Courage Displayed by Two Idaho Solons by Balking Atom Plant

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (Special)—Congress recently has been treated to a rare show of political courage. Two Idaho members have questioned the wisdom of spending 40 million dollars for an atomic power plant in their state.

GOP Rep. Hamer Budge successfully opposed the authorization to spend funds. He insisted that the plant, to be built at Arco, was an "obsolete" model — an argument which many prominent technicians in the atomic field support. The house struck out the item which earlier had won approval of the joint atomic energy committee.

The senate, however, approved the project and it is now up to congresses to work out some compromise.

Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, R., did not take a position in his right opposition to the plant. As he so frequently does, he "hedged" the issue by offering an amendment granting $500,000 to permit a "study" of the proposal. This would have the practical effect, however, of perhaps stalling it for years.

Nevertheless, the senate was treated to the rare sight of a member having doubts about a federal project in his own state. Dworshak, who serves on the joint atomic committee, said:

"Notwithstanding the fact that in Idaho we would be very happy to have this installation, it is difficult for me to go along with a proposal which may reflect an element of political expediency at a time when it is not definitely known whether the atomic energy commission is justified in expending 40 million dollars for a natural uranium nuclear powerplant."

"I offer the amendment on the basis that it resolves the doubt which I still have in my mind concerning this proposal."

The Dworshak amendment would have required AEC to report back to congress by April 1 next year. Before a vote was taken, Dworshak was defeated, 40-70. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D. N. M., read a letter from Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., who was in Buenos Aires attending a metals conference. Church firmly declared, "I have been impressed with the virtues of field."

Hoffa Claims Ignorance of Thug Record

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Teamsters' boss James R. Hoffa testified today he once intervened to get a Philadelphia charter in another union for a hoodlum but said he wasn't fully aware at the time of the man's record.

Hoffa's testimony came as the senate rackets investigating committee explored Hoffa's complicated investments and use of Michigan teamsters funds in such projects as a race track, a gangster's home, a girl's camp and to influence union elections in other states.

Hoffa said in 1955 or 1956—he couldn't recall exactly—he intervened with President Ed Miller of the AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Workers' union to get a Philadelphia charter in that union for Samuel (Shorty) Feldman, then a Philadelphia teamsters official.

Was In Prison
Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Feldman had a long police record, including time served in Sing Sing.

He said Feldman's arrests, dating back to the 1920s, included shoplifting, armed holdups, using narcotics, carrying burglary tools, and larceny.
"I never knew the extent of his record," Hoffa said. "I knew he'd had some difficulty, but I didn't know the extent of it."

Facts Revealed
Other matters developed today were that Hoffa, the man tagged as Dave Beck's successor as president of the 1½ million member Teamsters union:

1. Had okayed investing some $150,000 union funds to buy the Long Beach, Ind., home of notorious Chicago racketeer Paul (the Walter) Ricca. Hoffa said the property was to be used as a training school for teamsters officials and that he didn't know Ricca owned it. Ricca now is facing deportation.

2. Had sent $5,000 from the Michigan Conference of Teamsters to help finance a re-election drive of Edward Crumbach as president of the Philadelphia Teamsters local. Crumbach lost, and ultimately lost out, too, as a teamsters national vice president.

3. Had approved investing $50,000 of teamsters funds in a Michigan harness racing horse track where a Hoffa crony, Bert Brennan of Detroit, wanted to race his horses. It was brought out Brennan had been barred from racing in New York state.

Wheat Burns

GOODING, Aug. 21—Sixty acres of wheat were destroyed in a fire near Fairfield Sunday afternoon. The grain had been insured at the rate of 25 bushels to the acre so the loss could exceed 2,000 bushels of wheat.

The fire, believed to have been started from a spark from a truck which was picking up grain that had been threshed, was on land belonging to Forrest Kinney, Ruth Neyer and Rose Toone. The land had been leased to Ernie Wilson.

Gay Nineties

BURLEY, Aug. 21—Charles Davis, Jr., and Larry Dittie, both Burley, proved Tuesday not all accidents are between motor vehicles.

The two, riding bicycles, rounded the corner at an intersection at 1 p.m. and collided. One bicycle was damaged extensively but the other had only a flat tire. Neither rider was injured.

Police, who investigated the accident, said Dille ran through a stop sign.

Two Serious After Mishap

RUPERT, Aug. 21—Two persons are in serious condition as a result of a truck accident at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday at a rural intersection four miles northwest of Rupert.

Mrs. William Bower, Rupert, is a patient at the Rupert General hospital and Bryant Skeen, 14, Ogden, has been taken to Salt Lake City for treatment.

Mrs. Bower was driving a 1954 international truck east on a county road when her vehicle collided with a 1951 Dodge truck driven by Skeen and belonging to Newell Baker, Burley.

Sheriff Theo Johnson and Deputy Merlin Johnson, who investigated, said the boy ran through a yield right of way sign.

Wednesday morning hospital attendants said Mrs. Bower, had improved. The boy has a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Between 1946 and 1956, the dog population in the United States jumped from approximately 17 million to 25 million.

Decision for Girard Trial Is Criticized

TOKYO, Japan, Aug. 21 (AP)—day the Japanese trial of Sp. J. William S. Girard will determine whether the United States will continue to station ground forces in foreign countries.

Col. Alvin M. Owsley, Dallas and court "went too far" when it consented to permit a Japanese court to try Girard for an offense committed while on duty.

The 68-year-old Texan, who is an attorney in private life, questioned the constitutionality of the "extrajudicial agreements" that enable foreign courts to try U. S. soldiers.

Owsley, a former commander of the American Legion, will sit in the Girard trial at the request of the Legion's president, W. C. Dana.

In addition to his military career, Owsley is a former U. S. minister to Romania, Ireland and Denmark. He noted that the manslaughter trial of the young American soldier by a Japanese court made up of a jury of judges would deprive him of his constitutional right of trial by jury.

He added that a great deal may depend on the verdict. Girard, while on duty as a guard at a U. S. firing range, accidentally killed a Japanese woman who was scavenging scrap brass from the range. An empty cartridge case fired from his grenade launcher was a warning struck the woman in the back.

Japanese authorities waived jurisdiction today in a generally similar case, involving a U. S. pilot whose light plane hit and killed a Japanese woman bicyclist.

The Mito district attorney's office said it is up to U. S. authorities to determine whether Lieut. John L. Gordon, Erie, Pa., was guilty of negligence.

A fifth air force spokesman would say only that "the case is being reviewed."

Gordon was taking off when his plane suddenly lost altitude, either because he retracted the flaps too soon or because they were defective. The tail wheel dragged along the ground for several feet, hitting a bicycle and killing the Japanese woman.

Leak in Balloon Blamed in Delay

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Aug. 21 (AP)—A balloon designed to carry a nuclear device has sprung a leak, forcing the atomic energy commission to call the third postponement of its 13th shot in the summer test series.

The device, dubbed "Doppler," was to be detonated from the helium-filled balloon today 1,500 feet above the Nevada proving grounds. Scientists disclosed yesterday that the leak resulted in the loss of nearly all of the lighter-than-air gas pumped into the plastic balloon.

Vehicles Collide

RUPERT, Aug. 21—A 1955 Chrysler and a Mack truck and trailer collided Sunday three miles east of Hazelton.

The car, driven by Lucian W. Hawk, Boise, was going west, followed by the truck. Both had come to a stop to allow a car to turn off the highway. The Chrysler started up and stopped again and the driver of the truck was unable to stop in time to keep from striking the rear of the Chrysler. Damage to the Chrysler was estimated at $400 and to the truck at $25.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
WASHINGTON—The extravagantly erroneous advice given to President Eisenhower by his law experts during the historic civil rights struggle has hurt the prestige of the White House occupant in legal and judicial circles. It has embittered both conservative and liberal Democrats more than any other incident in several years.
In opposing the senate measure providing jury trials for those accused of violating a person's voting rights, Eisenhower's department of justice aides used superlative and in-accurate language and tactics. But the President, not being a lawyer, accepted their analysis in good faith.
As a result of this advice, which was a political rather than a legal brief, Eisenhower was permitted—or prodded—to say that the milder senate version "weakens our whole judicial system."

POT SHOTS
Dear Pot Shots:
I realize Pot Shots contributions are supposed to be funny. But only the ones with a pervaded sense of humor will find the following funny, unless you could have seen the expression on the woman's face at the time.
It seems a Twin Falls woman found an old pop bottle in the weeds. It was covered with mud and dirt, but she took it in the house to wash and return to the store along with others she had on hand. She took the bottle to the sink and let some water run in it, then put her hand over the bottle and shook it. Turning the bottle upside down, she let the water run out into the sink over her hand and a little snake came swimming out of the bottle into the sink.
She let out a shriek and yelled for her husband to come and kill the snake, which was wriggling around in the sink sticking its tongue out.
It may have been only seven or eight inches long—but to the woman it might as well have been a 10-foot cobra.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE
There are those who think the Far West, in its new exuberance and financial power, will eagerly absorb major league baseball represented by the New York Giants and the Brooklyn firm.
There is no doubt that the new Far West has the money and the population to accommodate these changes, but the doubt that the people will give their time, their money, and their attendance is almost a certainty. They are just as busy as mid-western Americans, they are no more natural than those others, their parking problems are the same, give or take the local peculiarities, and, as I see it, sadly through the eyes of a traditional American, baseball is on the way down.
I would find it almost impossible to say "out" even if I so believed because I am as typical as the stereotype depicted in the cartoons. However, it occurs to me that therein I have unintentionally and fatuously put my finger on the jugular, because the typical fan is a fellow who is too tired or busy to go to the ball games in person and so craves his baseball on the TV in his own place or leaning on some bar and dips his bill into the little wooden paraphernalia which the press associations send the local papers about yesterday's games and the competition among the top four.
We Americans do not go to ball games even in the major leagues and while the world series and the all-star shows come along in season the best seats are allotted to big shots who converge on the honored cities to scatter money among the expense-account hotels and restaurants. At those games, baseball is the sport of tin-horns who almost never show up in hard times but take idiotic pride in boasting back in Evansville or Dallas that they just have to phone the Kintners or Toots Shor in New York to get box seats.
I can't say whom they phone in Cleveland or Cincinnati, but would it matter? Nothing important happens in those tributary places except by miraculous mishap and when the big rush towns do catch the ring-the-best-seats are sold out of town by the same process although through different agents. If a big advertiser or the head of a Detroit automobile company wants a batch of seats he is in. All practical hands on the sport page know that.
However, I am not carrying on in surly resentment over the imposition on the faithful fan of the local scene who is almost entirely a myth and more often than not a noisy vulgar bum. In Brooklyn he has been endowed with amiable, al-

Is That So!

Sharks Born Mature And Ready to Fight
In the waters of the earth there are more than 30,000 different kinds of fish, almost eight times as many as warm-blooded mammals, and their ways of reproducing their kind are many.
Some fish, like the ling cod and the ocean sunfish, simply cast millions upon millions of eggs into the open sea trusting to chance. They will be fertilized. Most inefficient—but by their tremendous numbers, they succeed in propagating their own kind.
Fish like the salmon and trout have improved upon this chance method by pairing up. The female prepares a nest in the gravelly river bed and lays her eggs into it while her mate fertilizes them immediately upon extrusion. The timing is perfect. But these are externally fertilized.
Some rays have the eggs fertilized within the mother's body where they hatch alive. But, unlike warm-blooded mammals, these young within the mother are not nourished by her. Actually, there is no more connection between these developing young rays and their mother than there is between a hen and the eggs on which she is sitting. The female's body is merely the nest in which the eggs remain protected until they hatch. Her eggs, just like the hen's,

Blackbirds Pay Back City With 'Hopper Attack'
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—For years the city of San Francisco has budgeted $9 a year to keep friendly blackbirds on city property. When the birds returned this year for their handout of grain, they found the leaves of wheat trees planted on the Sunset grounds. The blackbirds began devouring the grasshoppers.
The city had planned to spend $1,000 for insecticides to kill the grasshoppers, but the blackbirds have saved it that expense.

SPECIAL SESSION THREAT
President Eisenhower for the most part has had better fortune in pressing his foreign programs than on the domestic front. Perhaps mindful of that fact, he has now put congress on notice that if it slices deeply into new foreign aid appropriations he may summon the lawmakers this fall for a special session to try for more money.
Originally this year foreign aid seemed headed for a bad time. Then the President swung into action and used both pressure and persuasion to stir public support of his program.
Largely he succeeded, though the foreign aid authorization bill he finally signed—for $3,367,000,000—was some 500 million dollars short of the sum he asked for in May.
Mr. Eisenhower knew, however, that when congress got around to voting the actual money for this aid it would chop a good deal more off the total. That has been the custom in handling foreign assistance for many years. The appropriations committees draw the purse strings tighter than the authorization bill recommends.
Because he has already lost $500-million dollars of his desired goal, the President is anxious this year to hold the rest. Hence his warning that if congress appropriates less than the authorized total he might call the legislators back and compel them to re-examine the matter.
Congress doesn't like this kind of pressure and could be sternly resistant. The house vote of 252-130 to slash $809,650,000 below what the President called a rock-bottom minimum might be reflection of this resentment against pressure. On the other hand, the lawmakers don't like the exposure of a special session, where they are so obviously on the spot.
It is the first time Mr. Eisenhower has resorted to this tactic, which President Truman employed in his regime with much fanfare. It will be interesting to see what happens if Ike is forced to execute this strategy.

PERPLEXING COMMENT—Just what the President or Attorney General Brownell had in mind when they sponsored such an extreme statement is a question. But here are Brownell's own departmental records on the insignificant importance of criminal contempt cases, tried with or without a jury, in federal courts.
In fiscal 1956, only 48 cases involving criminal contempt were brought because of alleged contempt of congress, and, of course, the defendants were entitled to jury trials.
But in that same year the number of criminal cases heard by a jury totaled 28,739. Lawyers can't understand Brownell's contention that submitting only 48 criminal contempt cases to a jury would "weaken the whole judicial system," when so many thousands of far more important matters were settled in the same way, that is, by jury.
FIGURES ON SOME COURT CASES—In fiscal 1957, 26 of the 69 criminal contempt cases in all federal courts were for contempt of congress, and they were tried by jury without any revolutionary or destructive effects. In the record year of 1951, when the house un-American activities committee was doing a land office business as an aftermath to the First-Chambers disclosures of communist espionage in the United States, there were 124 criminal contempt actions.
Since 64 of these involved refusal to answer questions before congressional committees, they went to a jury for a decision. Thus, in these three years, 93 of 241 criminal contempt cases were submitted to juries under procedure fixed by law and supervised by federal judges.
In short, the record reveals, first, that there are an extremely small number of these controversial cases, compared to the total of criminal matters submitted to a jury. The number may increase in enforcement of a civil rights act, but there is no evidence that the government or the judicial system would be damaged seriously by giving a citizen his constitutional right to judgment by his "peers."
SPEAKER SAM'S COMMENT—Regardless of technicalities, however, the statistics demonstrate that President Eisenhower's "Prof. J. lawyers" had no conception of the operations of the judicial system, or the effect of the senate civil rights bill upon that branch of the government.
As Speaker Sam Rayburn growled when he read the memorandum on which the Eisenhower statement was based: "Whoever wrote that letter was no lawyer."
What the Texan meant was that the critic was a politician.

HAD TO MAKE 'EM GOOD
Actually, just what would happen if that reactionary idea of junking all cars were to be carried out? For one thing, people might get a little much-needed exercise they don't get any more.
On this subject of cars how many times have you heard some one say, "They sure don't make 'em like they used to!"
In the "old days" they had to make those cars to hold up good because the roads of the day would shake anything less sturdy to bits in nothing flat.
And speaking of flats, remember how many you had and how you repaired them on the road? Some one else can have the "good old days." Me, I'll take a 1957 Super Dooper and head for the superhighway!

ARE THEY GETTING THEM?
Dear Pot Shots:
Noticed you had a few offers of free apricots this year. A few years ago we pleaded with friends and acquaintances to come out to our place and pick all the apricots they wanted from our three trees.
No one showed up and a few people actually appeared to be insulted because we ever offered apricots to them for nothing. I was wondering if the situation is still the same. Are people actually going out to pick the apricots now or are they still too good to do something like that?
Canned Mine (Twin Falls)
Lots of things would never be done if there weren't any tomorrow. Our Toaster sighs.
A. B. O.
Dear Sir:
This country of ours has degenerated into a land of leeches, no-good loafers and other similar types all looking for something for nothing. It's as simple as A, B, C and we have plenty of examples right before our eyes, if anyone were interested enough to recognize them for what they are.
Let's take up only one case, that of the Twin Falls Cowboys. "Baseball fans" are only too happy to go to the games providing someone will offer them "a little something extra" for their effort.
What's in it for me? What do I get out of it? When you can make that quite clear to folks today, you have, indeed, perfected the better mousetrap and the world will beat a path to your door.

Miners Killed
CALTANISSETTA, Sicily, Aug. 20.—A fire-damp explosion in a sulphur mine near here killed three miners and injured eight yesterday. Two more miners were reported missing and rescue squads were frantically digging through the collapsed vaults of the mine to locate them.
In others, growths form which bring the membranes of mother and young fish in close contact. Sometimes, when the mother's tissues into the openings of the baby young and, one instance, the embryo actually feeds on the mother.
The efficiency of the various methods is attested by the number of eggs required to maintain each species; an ocean sunfish may lay 300,000,000 eggs at one spawning. The salmon, much more efficient, will lay about 1,000 eggs per pound of body weight. But the fish which will protect their eggs by carrying them within the body until they hatch, have very few young comparatively speaking—the number varying from 4 to 100 or more.
The maturity of fish born alive varies. Some are very minute at birth—hardly discernible. In others, as with the shark, the young are held inside the mother until they reach a large size—and they are only a few in number.
As to be expected, the shark young are larger at birth and prepared to take care of themselves. But this maturity is carried to an extreme by some of the warm sea perches. They give birth to sexually-mature adults.

SPENDING AND INFLATION
William Martin, Jr., chairman of the federal reserve board, had some sober words of caution the other day on the subject of inflation. He warns us not to try to do too much too fast.
Basically America today is in a period of expansion, but the present is not a boom phase. Some parts of the economy are moving ahead, others are lagging. In Martin's view, these mixed trends produce imbalances which must be brought into adjustment if we are to avoid trouble.
He noted, for instance, that total U. S. output went up 10 billion dollars last year but half of that increase represented simply higher prices rather than greater production of goods and services.
He suggested that some enterprises may be expanding too rapidly and thus developing temporary overcapacity.
To Martin, curbing inflation is an elemental matter of reducing spending and boosting savings. By this process, money goes out of circulation and the pressures on the price structure are eased.
He thinks we've had too much spending recently in relation to savings, but there are signs we may now be heading toward a better balance which could lessen inflationary dangers.
Americans always have been great anticipators. If the long-range trend is toward expansion, they like to spend the money now for what lies ahead.
What Martin seems to be saying is that we will all be better off, that the economy will keep in better balance, if we don't try to spend today what we ought to keep in our pocketbooks until tomorrow.
And that goes both for the ordinary consumer and the enterpriser eager to put up another batch of factories.

Views of Others
"IF A MAN IS STUPID ENOUGH..."
Editor John Fischer of Harper's magazine is not beguiled by that curious philosophy of life which defines the "common man." Writing in his "Editor's Easy Chair" column, he says: "Our whole way of life is now based on the theory that only the mediocre and ineffectual deserve to be especially cherished by society."
"So if a man is stupid, lazy and feckless enough, there is nothing our society won't do for him—particularly if he comes from a long line of stupid, lazy, and feckless ancestors. When he has a job, the union sees to it that he is never fired for anything short of the most outrageous sloppiness and shirking. When he doesn't, a relief check is always waiting. If he absent-mindedly begets more children than he can support, the state takes care of them. For good measure, we ply him with subsidized housing, free medical care, and the tender ministrations of social workers; and we entertain him lavishly with free television programs carefully tailored to his sluggish will."
"His children become the darlings of the public schools, which are primarily designed to keep mediocre youngsters (and their parents) happy. Here little Willie Jukes is taught 'life adjustment,' including how to dance, play the clarinet, and drive a hot-rod—but rarely does any teacher insist that he learn to read and spell properly, because the effort might bruise his fragile soul."
Mr. Fischer will make many people angry. And the reason he will make them angry is a sad and ominous one—that what he says is so largely and increasingly true.—Industrial News Review.
ATOMIC ARMS FOR SATELLITES
East Germany's officialdom may be well advised to go slow about counting their chickens before they're hatched—especially when it's a poultry promised by their Soviet Russian overlords.
This is particularly pertinent to Soviet boss Khrushchev's reported offer to give satellite East Germany atomic arms.
Hitherto the Russians have carefully kept atomic weapons out of the hands of satellite regimes.
That's readily understandable because there's a strong element of risk involved in departure from that rule.
It was not so many months ago that revolting East Germans shed their blood in the streets. That could happen again and, with modern weapons within their reach, their sacrifice might not be so hopeless next time.
Two considerations may have impelled Khrushchev to make this reputed promise. One may be that he's been stung by American taunts that the Russians are afraid to trust satellites with the war machines that America is supplying to allied nations. The other, stemming from the first, is the probability that Khrushchev is taking advantage of an opportunity to put out a new batch of red Russian propaganda.
In any event, if and when the Russians actually put atomic weapons in the hands of subject peoples it will mark a new and radical departure from their accustomed course.—Boise Statesman.

NOT 'OUT OF THE WOODS' IN TIMBER
Some 40 years ago the nation was removing five times as much timber as it could count on gaining in new growth. Five years ago new growth of what is termed "fast-growing stock" (as distinct from "saw-timber") passed the rate of removal. And only two per cent more sawtimber was being cut than grown.
Forests are important, of course, for reasons other than timber—for conservation of water, for instance, and prevention of erosion. But it is the state of saw-timber that is most crucial at the moment. And here the nation is not yet "out of the woods."
A writer on conservation, Weldon F. Heald, points out in a recent Nation magazine article that timber cutting is not the only figure to be taken into account. The forest service says he estimates that timber cut, plus that destroyed by fire, disease and pests each year, exceeds the timber grown by 50 per cent.
Rising rate of consumption is another factor. And he quotes an estimate of the Industrial Forestry association as predicting the nation cannot achieve a "sustainable" yield balance before the year 2005. The Forest Service chief fears a national timber shortage by 2000.—Christian Science Monitor.

NO "POLITICAL PLUM"
The donnybrook over the appointment of Maxwell H. Gluck as U. S. ambassador of Ceylon reveals that somebody is pulling somebody's leg.
Senate Democrats charge that Gluck bought his "political plum" with a $30,000 contribution to the Republican party.
When asked at a press conference if this was true, President Eisenhower got pretty huffy about it. He said that he knew Gluck was a darn good businessman, but didn't know about any contributions.
In the first place, the difficult working conditions which Gluck faces for the next few years in steaming Colombo, Ceylon, do not make the job a political plum by any stretch of the imagination.
In the second place, if it's true that he did buy this job for $30,000, then he's not the good businessman Ike thinks he is.
Mostly because of the oppressive, unrelieved heat of Colombo, the state department rates it a hardship post. This gets the under-manned staff extra pay. But the ambassador does not receive this bonus.
If Gluck's critics in the senate conjure up a vision of him enjoying a gay, mad existence in an exotic Far East city, with oriental luxuries available at ridiculously cheap prices, they are quite wrong.
The experts in the state department who have briefed him report that Ambassador Gluck is sincerely enthusiastic about his new job. He'll need plenty of enthusiasm to keep him going in this post for the next couple of years.

Death Termed "Accident" by Coroner Jury

MOUNTAIN HOME, Aug. 21 (AP)—A coroner's jury ruled Tuesday the death of a 19-year-old New York airman occurred by the "accidental discharge of a firearm in the hands of William-Grady Harder, Jr., in a negligent manner but with no criminal intent."

Airman 3/C Richard Barnum of Binghamton, N. Y., died instantly Monday 45 minutes before he was due back at Mountain Home air force base. Coroner Art Smith said Barnum was shot through the jaw and head. He said the 32-20 caliber weapon was held by Harder, 19, also, an airman third class from Dallas, Tex.

Smith said testimony indicated the two airmen, with several friends, had been "dry firing" the rifle without discharging it, at the home of a Mountain Home civilian, John Willis.

Smith said evidence indicated the fatal discharge came from a cartridge from the magazine. The youths had been breech-loading the 50-year-old weapon during week-end rabbit hunting trip, and none of the witnesses knew how the shells got into the supposedly unloaded rifle.

Smith said Elmore County officials will file charges against Harder under a section of the Idaho code which makes it a misdemeanor to injure another person by accidental discharge of a firearm. The law was made part of the state fish and game laws by the 1937 legislature.

Senate Okays Payments for Indian Ponies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The senate has agreed that the government ought to pay out another $11,934 to pay 169 Indians for ponies lost by their forebears in the Sioux Indian war of the 1870's.

By voice vote, it passed and sent to the White House yesterday a bill to clean up claims which have been in dispute for years.

According to the interior department, congress provided $435,617 to pay the Sioux for their personal property losses, "chiefly Indian ponies" in a series of laws enacted between 1869 and 1906.

The Indians were not satisfied. In a 1945 law, congress voted another $101,630 to settle 1,038 more claims. The money lapsed June 30, 1953, before all heirs had been identified.

The bill passed today provides $11,934 for 169 who have since been identified. Because heirs of the missing claimants were not found, the treasury can keep $21,464 made available in the 1945 law.

Race Policies Outlined for Union Group

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (AP)—The American Federation of Teachers (AFT) today was aligned against segregation in housing.

A resolution passed at the AFT's annual convention yesterday condemned the practice and urged states and communities to pass laws prohibiting housing discrimination where federal funds are involved.

Edwin C. Berry, executive director of the Chicago Urban League, had charged earlier that Chicago was the nation's "most segregated city, residentially speaking."

The AFT has already taken a stand on racial segregation and supported school integration. In addition, the group has set a merger deadline of Jan. 1 for all locals under its jurisdiction, White and Negro.

The 1,000 delegates also approved resolutions demanding salary increases for teachers, extension of teacher tenure laws, and the elimination of teachers' aides.

Three Deaths After A-Bomb To Be Probed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The defense department today agreed to make a formal investigation of the deaths from cancer of three youths after exposure to nuclear radiation tests in Nevada.

The action was announced by Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D. O., after he received assurances from Assistant Defense Secretary Frank B. Berry that "a full inquiry" would be made.

Two of the youths came from Toledo in Ashley's district and the third from New York.

Close Friends
The three were close friends in the army and they died from cancer within a year of each other. None had reached the age of 30.

Ashley said that Berry told him he was "extremely interested" in the "strange coincidence" of the three deaths.

Ashley's office said the two youths from Toledo were Pfc. Dale B. Mock and Larry H. Fitz. Ashley's office did not know the name of the New Yorker.

Last week Ashley wrote Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson suggesting that a thorough study be made of the health of former servicemen who were exposed to the effects of nuclear testing.

Ashley said today he still believes the study is needed.

Ashley also wrote to Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker protesting the army's handling of the cases. Ashley said that he learned about the cancer deaths of the two Toledo men and the New Yorker "some time ago."

Routine Request
"When I learned that the three youths had participated in the 1952 nuclear tests near Las Vegas, Nev., Ashley told Brucker, "I directed a routine request to the army for verification of the various stations where one of the Toledoans had served."

"I was officially informed by the army that the youth, Pfc. Dale B. Mock, was never stationed anywhere near Las Vegas, Nev."

Ashley said, however, that he subsequently received letters and postcards written by Mock to his wife and family and begging the postmark April 20, 1952, Las Vegas, Nev. "I also have seen statements from the boy's relatives and friends," Ashley said, "which describe his account of how he felt as he lay in a slit trench within range of the nuclear explosion."

Man May Have Lighted Blaze

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 21 (AP)—Forest service authorities today probed the possibility that a sick man set a four-acre fire in Nes Perce canyon to get help.

Nello Ferrando, 47, Butte, was found unconscious yesterday, only 20 feet from the rim of the blazing fire. Two forest service employees, Leo Maney and Joe Gorah, found him while helping 17 others battle the blaze.

Ferrando was taken to a Butte hospital, where he was reported in serious condition from exposure, shock and an old illness described by officers as serious.

They said he had gone for 48 hours without medication needed daily. Ferrando was the object of a widespread search after he apparently became lost during a walk Sunday.

State Bond Data Posted for July

BOISE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Idahoans bought $651,782 worth of U. S. savings bonds during July, State Chairman Charles C. Adams said Tuesday.

July purchases brought total sales for the year to $4,804,418. While the dollar volume is less than for the same period a year ago, sales of bonds in the smaller denominations exceeded their previous postwar peak by three per cent, the chairman said.

'Land Grab' Bill Is Granted Okay

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—The senate has passed an amended bill designed to stop military "grabbing" of public lands.

The measure—returned to the house for consideration of changes—provides that the military will have to get congressional approval for withdrawal of anything over 5,000 acres of land.

LONDON, Aug. 21 (AP)—Nathaniel Russo, 13, a Boy Scout from Ghana, went to the London zoo yesterday to look at the lion. "I had my leg pulled so much about never having seen a lion that I had to go to the zoo before returning to Africa," he explained.

Suicide Ruled

LONDON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A coroner decided today that Sir Winston Churchill's son-in-law, Antony Beauchamp, killed himself with sleeping tablets.

After a 10-minute inquest into the death of the 39-year-old society photographer early Sunday, the motive was still a mystery. Some friends had hinted he was despondent over finances.

Academy Limit Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—President Eisenhower found on his desk today a bill limiting to 712 annually the number of cadet appointments to the air force academy for another four years.

The bill first passed by the house cleared the senate yesterday. Committees of both houses said that, unless the limitation is continued, an oversize class of 1,639 might enter the academy when it opens its permanent home at Colorado Springs next year.

By law, each senator and representative would be entitled in 1958 to have four cadets in the school, which still is operating in smaller, temporary quarters at Lowry air force base at Denver.

Polish Refugees Ask for Asylum

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

When a child says to his chums "Come over to my house," you can be sure that his is a happy home and that he has been allowed his full share of it, flavored with affection. He is a happy child and growing up in healthy fashion.

This is not to say that his father and mother have no difficulties with him, that there are not times when he has to be refused, and firmly, but it does say that he has been reared in an atmosphere where there is love enough to go around and some to spare for him.

A child can be happy and at the same time be a disciplined member of the family. He knows that there are words he is not to say, things he is not to do and that there are jobs to be done and lessons to be learned and while on occasions he is likely to overstep bounds he knows he will be promptly reminded of his limitations. Still he can be happy because he feels the affection and the protection and strength of the family.

One day he is likely to come home wearing a troubled face.

"Mother, they have a radio for Bud and one for Marie and one for the grown-up people. Why don't we so I can listen to what I like and Lou can listen to what she likes?"

"It's like this: You and Lou each have an allowance. You spend it one way and she in another. You are careful about it and so you think before you spend any money and ask yourself if what you buy will give you pleasure for a minute, like buying candy—or for a long time as when you buy a book or a string for your violin."

"Grown-up people are on allowances too. Before we spend any money we think about you children. We would like you to have good things but we want them to be the kind that will be good for you for a long, long time, so the money goes into a fund that will pay for your college education when you get out of high school."

"Maybe I won't want to go to college."

"Not likely, your father did. I did. So will you. That education we are going to buy for you is what is going to help you have a good home, fine children to whom you can give radio, travel, college, things like that to last a lifetime and make you glad you have them. If you can buy three radios and four cars and still have money left to buy fine clothing, housing, food clothes, doctor's care, wonderful! But first things first and you and Lou are first with us."

Talks like these are what make children say, "Come over to my house."

Now the older children can maintain their property rights and how to prepare them for the coming of the new baby so there is no love instead of jealousy is the object of Dr. Patri's letter, P-2, "Relationship to Other Children." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y.

Bees Use 13th Inning Homer To Trip Magic Valley 6-4 And Snap 4-Game Win Skein

A two-run homer in the top of the 13th inning off the bat of Fred Hopke gave the Salt Lake Bees a 6-4 win over Magic Valley's Cowboys and Bill Denney. Hopke's smash climaxed the Bees' come from behind fight and snapped a four game win streak the local team held going into the contest. The two teams meet in the rubber game at 8 p.m. Wednesday, which also has been set aside as "West End" night. A three run homer in the first inning by Lou Jackson had helped give the Cowboys' ace moundmen a four run lead, but Denney didn't have it in the early stages of the game and he gave up three tallies in the third and another in the sixth. After that both Art Mahaffey, winning pitcher, and he hung good eggs on the board until the final inning.

Mahaffey got off to a rocky start also as Bill Schmidt got a line shot single to start off the Magic Valley rally in the first. Manager Walt Dixon followed with a walk and Jackson lost Mahaffey's first pitch over the right field wall. Denney Loudenback also worked the Bee pitcher for a walk and romped in easily as Tom Clarkson blasted a triple.

But a walk and a wild pitch began the Bees resurgence. Manager Cliff Dupper doubled in the first run and then scored himself as Hunt lined a single to right. A walk and another single pushed in the third marker. Then Hunt tied the game up in the sixth with a solo shot over the wall.

The Cowboys missed several good opportunities throughout the game to shove in what would have been the winning run, but they couldn't come up with a clutch hit. In the 11th, they began a rally with Loudenback and Clarkson getting singles, but that was snuffed out on a very liberal call by the umpire who called Loudenback out while getting back to second on a relay from the outfield.

Russets Use Homers to Beat Billings

BILLINGS, Mont., Aug. 21 (AP)—The Idaho Falls Russets collected seven runs from homers Tuesday night to trim the Billings Mustangs off the top of the Pioneer league standings with an 8-4 score.

The result put the Russets in command of the league lead and dropped the Mustangs back to second—a half-game off the pace.

Billings got three of its runs on homers during the slug fest.

Russet Bob Seaton homered in the third for two runs and in the seventh for two more. Jack Risch got a solo homer in the first and Jay Cooke tagged a four-bagger with a man aboard.

Roberto Vea blasted a Russet pitch out of the park with one runner on in the fourth and Manager Eddie Lyons grabbed a leadoff round tripper in the seventh.

Idaho Falls had a 5-0 lead going into the bottom of the fourth. The Mustangs scored twice and Idaho Falls followed up with two tallies in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Hiskey Trails in Meet by 6 Strokes

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Phil Rodgers, a 19-year-old Cedar Rapids, turned in the toughest old Warson Country club course with excellent iron play Tuesday for a 3-under-par 68 and the halfway lead in the Western amateur golf tournament's qualifying play.

His 141, one stroke under par for 36 holes, was two strokes ahead of veteran Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn.

Play Tuesday reduced the bulky 150 player field to 50 for the final 36 qualifying holes Wednesday.

The top 16 in Wednesday's competition begin match play Thursday for the crown.

Tied at 147 were Kenneth Hellmann of Kirkwood, Mo.; Edwin Hopkins, Jr., of Abilene, Tex.; Jim Hiskey of Pocatello, Ida., and Pete Dye of Indianapolis.

Hiskey shot 53-58—71 for one of the few par rounds of the day.

Plus the following ten finishers behind Mayer and Middlecoff at Inverness: Jimmy Demaret, Julius Boros, Walter Burkemo, Fred Hawkins, Ken Venturi, Sam Snead, Roberto De Vicenzo, Billy Maxwell, Chick Harbert and amateur Billy Joe Patton.

Among those who will be forced to play qualifying rounds to make the Open are Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Gene Littler and former Open champion Lew Worsham.

Challenger Concludes Drills for Title Fight

SEATTLE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Heavyweight challenger Pete Rademacher counted some 350 rounds of boxing, bag punching and rope skipping behind him Tuesday as he concluded major preparations for his brash attempt to win the world championship from Floyd Patterson. This is a considerable number of rounds for a bout that most every critic in the land suspects won't last more than five.

But Rademacher, the crown prince of the world amateurs, who won the Olympic games gold medal last winter and then picked none other than the king of the professionals for his first fight as a pro, remained calm and amazingly confident that a miracle will take place Thursday night in the local baseball park.

The 28-year-old one-time farm-boy from Washington, now an adopted son of Columbus, Ga., quietly observed:

"I'm in the best condition of my life. I feel confident about my chances. Otherwise I would not have gone for this match."

"I'm a lot calmer about this than I was going into the Olympics," Patterson, the 22-year-old stylish hitter from New York, took things easy at his camp at suburban Kent. He completed his serious work Monday.

His manager, cautious Gus D'Amato, said his tiger was in top form and added that Floyd always is in perfect shape for a fight.

"We certainly won't take any chances with Rademacher. You can't take any with a heavy hitter."

"It may take 10 rounds or 10 seconds—but we'll get him," crew-top Cus declared.

D'Amato preferred not to discuss Patterson's future plans. But he claims he has two $250,000 offers for title matches. He would not name names or sites.

Norris said he was "flabbergasted" by Robinson's action but declared, "As far as we're concerned, the fight is still on until the New York Athletic commission notifies us that it isn't. Robinson signed commission contracts on July 31."

Julius Helfand, chairman of the commission, said he has not heard from Robinson.

"I have not heard from Robinson and as far as I'm concerned Robinson signed contracts on July 31 and those contracts Robinson is supposed to fulfill," said Helfand when advised of Robinson's statement.

The contracts set forth all the terms and Robinson, acting for himself without a manager, signed them. No other issues were raised at the contract signing.

At Alexandria Bay, N. Y., where Basilio is training, a spokesman for the welterweight champion said Robinson "apparently was trying to squeeze the last drop out of this thing."

Basilio, who called Robinson "arrogant and greedy," after the official signing July 31, said he would continue training and planned to step into the ring Sept. 23.

In his telephone talk with The Associated Press, Robinson said Norris had failed to fulfill his promises in regard to television and radio commitments.

"Before we signed for the fight it was agreed that we would accept the best television and radio offer," said Robinson. "I have a written agreement with Norris that I must okay any deal on TV and radio that is made."

16 Teams to Compete in State Softball Tourney Set to Open Here Friday

The 16 top softball teams in Idaho will converge on Twin Falls Thursday in preparation for the state softball tournament which will be conducted at Jaycee park Friday through Sunday. Although not all the names of teams participating have been received by district commissioner Rod Gordon, he anticipates all 16 will be on hand as action opens at 9 a.m. Friday. Because of a limited time factor for the participants, this year's tournament will be crowded into the three days and action will be under way about 14 hours a day. First games on each of the days will begin at 9 a.m. and the final game will start at 9 p.m. It will be a double elimination tourney.

The local district has a better than average chance of keeping the state honors in Magic Valley as the three local entries are strong. Phillips-Wells, Twin Falls city league champion and host team, boasts tremendous power at the plate and a top hurler in Bob Crooker. The team went through their schedule in the city league without a loss and added a few more wins in exhibition games.

Clint Nelson and the all-round efficiency of Pat's Beeline service, Burley, stamps the district champs as definite championship timber. Nelson's hurling probably will be the strong point of Burley's game but the booming bats of Bob Mathews and Sanford are capable of breaking up any ball game. Nelson usually requires only two to three runs for a win and the Burley line-up is fully capable of providing them.

Strong defensive play and the pitching of Webb Malone mark Jerome's Merchants as another favorite. Defensively the Northside team will probably be the best in the meet and the bats of Skip Easterbrook, Chad Browning and Eddie Peterson greatly enhance their chances.

They will be vying against teams from Moscow, Lewiston, in the central district, West Vaco and the Bargain Barn, Pocatello's representatives and a strong Couer d'Alene team from the northern district. Gordon says these are the teams that have submitted entries thus far, but adds telegrams are constantly arriving.

Al Starnes, former Diderich resident, will be the leader for the Moscow Merchants. He is considered one of the best softball pitchers in the state and chalked up several no-hitters in Twin Falls league play four years ago.

The Bargain Barn is a perennial runner-up in the state tournament.

5,000 Boys Will Compete in High School Football

BOISE, Aug. 21 (AP)—Idaho high schools will begin Wednesday football practice sessions that will enroll an estimated 5,000 prep athletes. Ed F. Grider, executive secretary of the Interscholastic Activities association, said Wednesday is the earliest date the high schools can begin practice. That is 10 days prior to Labor day, when the first games may be played.

Grider made the estimate of 5,000 players. He said 95 schools have indicated they will play 11-man football this year with 25 more engaging in the 8-man sport.

He said an estimated 850 games will be played before the schools end their seasons in November.

Idaho picks no state football champion.

"Primarily that is because of financial problems," Grider said. "Idaho is spread out over a wide area and playoffs would require a lot of travel."

"In addition, inter-district playoffs sometimes match teams which have little natural rivalry and their games do not draw as well as regularly scheduled contests."

For purposes of competition Idaho is divided into six districts—two in the north and four in the south. But in addition there are a number of organized conferences with competition in the leagues replacing district competition for many teams.

In southern Idaho the largest schools are in the Big Six conference with other class A schools making up the Cross-State league and the Snake River conference. In the north, the Inland Empire and Panhandle conferences operate among the class A schools.

More than the cost of travel figures in the financial picture.

"It costs about $100 to outfit one player these days," Grider noted. For the 5,000 players that adds up to a total investment of one-half million dollars.

Theater TV Excuse Used by Robinson as He Calls Off Title Fight With Basilio

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (AP)—Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson Tuesday called off his million dollar Sept. 23 title fight with the promoting International Boxing club over theater television. A demand by Robinson that the IBC switch from Theater Network Television, Inc. (TNT) to another organization—Teleprompter—was rejected by IBC President James D. Norris. Robinson walked out of the IBC's offices and in a telephone call to The Associated Press said "the fight is off."

Sugar Ray said Norris told him that he had an offer from Nat Halpern, president of TNT, for theater television promising 250,000 seats in theaters.

"I told Mr. Norris that this was not agreeable to me," said Robinson. "I told him I had an offer which was better. I made arrangements to see him Monday but I couldn't. Then today I brought in a representative of Teleprompter with a representative of 400,000 seats."

"This is 150,000 seats more than Halpern could offer, and in money it would amount to about $300,000 more."

"Mr. Norris told me that it didn't matter. He had done business with Mr. Halpern before and he had already agreed to work with him on this deal."

"I protested. I told Mr. Norris of my contract and the written stipulation. But he wouldn't listen. So I told him the fight is off."

Robinson said furthermore he would bring suit against the IBC. "I don't yet know what I'll sue for," he said, "but it will be plenty."

Keegan Pitches First No-Hit Game of Year

By The Associated Press

Rob Keegan, aging Chicago righthander, gained himself a full measure of baseball immortality and the Chicago White Sox a 6-0 victory over the Washington Senators Tuesday night by pitching the first no-hit game of the major league season. Keegan's great performance came in the second half of a two-night doubleheader at Comiskey Park. The Senators won the first game 5-4 on Ed Fitzgerald's first homerun of the year.

Musial Paces Cards' 2 Wins Over Giants

By The Associated Press

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals scored all but one of their runs with four homers, two by Stan Musial who was 5-for-7 as the visiting Redbirds swept a two-night doubleheader from the New York Giants 4-3 and 3-2 Tuesday night while running their winning streak to four games.

Musial, adding six points that put his league-leading bat average at .339, walloped a first inning solo shot in the opener, then hauled the Cards from behind with his two-run, 28th homer in the nightcap sixth.

At Ebbets field Duke Snider, trapped his second homerun of the game in the nightcap 12th for a 6-5 victory that gave Brooklyn's Dodgers a two-night doubleheader sweep over the Cincinnati Redlegs, who have lost eight in a row. Ed Roebuck's fine relief work clinched the opener, which was turned into an 11-5 rout by a four-run Dodger eighth.

The pennant-hungry, first-place Milwaukee Braves exploded for two runs in the ninth inning to break a 1-1 tie and defeat the last-place Pirates 3-1 at Pittsburgh.

Veteran southpaw Warren Spahn hooked up in a tight pitching duel with Vernon Law over the first eight innings, went all the way to record his 15th victory against 8 defeats.

Pirates Set Football Drill For Thursday

HAGERMAN, Aug. 21—Football uniforms will be issued Wednesday afternoon to all candidates seeking a place on the Hagerman high school football team in preparation for first drills Thursday, reports Al Glanders, coach.

Glanders said the first practice period will begin at 8 a. m. Thursday and if possible another warm-up period is slated for the afternoon. The team will be getting ready for its first game Sept. 8, when Hagerman travels to Malta.

Glanders urges all boys in the high school grades to turn out, noting no one had any position "cinched." He reminds this will be his first year at Hagerman and having no one or meet all the boys makes the race for letters wide open.

Forty-Niner on Loose

Quarterback Y. A. Tittle (14) of the San Francisco 49ers rambles through the New York Giants defense for touchdown in this sequence of action during their exhibition game in San Francisco. Tittle is shown on a bootleg play as he gets by, first, Ron Nery, 74, upper left, then Bill Svoboda, 30, and then upper right, Henry Moore, 32. The latter made a futile effort, lower left and center, but gets only a look at Y. A.'s heels as he scores, lower right. (NEA telephoto)

Caldwell Miss Sets New Record in Meet

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 21 (AP)—Caldwell's young golf star, 16-year-old Shirley Englehorn, broke the Idaho Falls municipal course record with a 77 Tuesday to take medalist honors in the Idaho women's amateur tournament. Her score was two under women's par. The previous women's record was 80, by Chloe Martin of Idaho Falls.

The Caldwell high school junior, who is the defending champion, will meet Lucille Barrett of Boise in first round match play Wednesday. Of the 78 women entered, 16 made the championship flight.

The tournament will continue with 18-hole match play rounds each day, with a 36-hole championship contest on Saturday.

The women, at a business meeting Tuesday, voted to open the Idaho tournament to women of other states. Two more votes, scheduled Wednesday and Thursday, are necessary to make the action final.

Moore Signs for Championship Bout

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21 (AP)—Archie Moore—goat head, mustache and apparently ageless—has signed with boyish-faced Tony Anthony for their Sept. 20 lightweight championship bout.

Under the contract signed Monday, champion Moore gets all the money for television, $70,000, in addition to $20,000 of the gate. Anthony, a dapper 22-year-old, receives 33 1/2 percent of the gate, after Moore's $20,000 has been taken off the top.

With a top of $25, the house is scaled to do $116,000. The nationally televised fight will be blacked out within a 150-mile radius of Los Angeles.

Snake Penalty

BISBEE, Ariz., Aug. 21 (AP)—The scoreboard at the nearby Warren district Country club recites this course rule: "A ball lying within a club's length of a rattlesnake may be moved two lengths without penalty."

George Michaels, president of the club, says that when the golf course was laid out 22 years ago rattlesnakes were quite common. Now, he says, there are very few. Only two bothered golfers last year.

State Little Loop Meet Will Start Friday at Hailey

HAILEY, Aug. 21—Action in the first state Little League tournament to be conducted in Idaho will get under way here Friday and run through Sunday. The tournament committee reports 12 teams have entered the junior meet from throughout southern Idaho. Included in the entries are Lewis and Clark and the Optimists, both from Pocatello; Tommy Walker's Bulldogs, Twin Falls; United Airlines Mainliners, Boise; Hailey-Sun Valley team and town teams from Filer, Shoshone, Gooding, Caldwell, Salmon, Malad City and Burien.

The tournament teams all have had seasoning through the season, some of the different members opposing each other. The town teams are being entered from the smaller communities and are similar to All-Star groups. The Twin Falls entry, the Bulldogs, won first place in the Knothole's Minor League.

Opening round of play at Sun Valley sees Salmon and Buhl playing at 1 p.m. Friday; Boise vs. Twin Falls at 3 p.m., and Lewis and Clark, Pocatello, vs. Sun Valley-Hailey at 5 p.m.

At the same time play will begin in Hailey with Shoshone vs. Optimists, Pocatello, at 1 p.m.; Gooding vs. Caldwell at 3 p.m. and Malad City vs. Filer at 5 p.m.

Elimination play will continue at the same times Saturday with the semi-finals slated to begin at 1 p.m. Sunday at Sun Valley. The championship also will be decided on the Sun Valley field and will start at 2 p.m.

All boys in the meet must be 12 years of age or under and the tournament will be conducted under the Little League rules.

Bat, Monroe Get Tag Team Tilt Victory

The Bat and Rocky Monroe teamed together here Tuesday night to take a cheap win from Shag Thomas and Stretch Parks in the headliner of the VFW's wrestling card.

The two men managed to get Parks and Thomas down by one fall at the end of 28 1/2 minutes but then the two teams grappled to the end of the one hour time limit and the one fall meant the win. The Bat took that fall with a body press after delivery of some heavy damage to his opponent.

In the opener, newcomer Charo Aztech put together a fall and a disqualification to beat Bob Corby two out of three falls. After dropping the first on the disqualification, Corby came back with a body-press to even the match. Aztech then used an Indian death lock to wrap up the win.

Fire Hazard Will Delay Hunting

VALE, Ore., Aug. 21 (AP)—State game officials have been asked to postpone the opening of the antelope season in eastern Oregon because of the extreme fire hazard.

Darrell S. Fulwider, manager of the Vale-Jordan Grazing District of the Bureau of Land Management, said Monday he is asking for a delay in the area south of the Malheur river.

The season is set to open this week-end. Said Fulwider: "Everything is bone dry and the area is just like a powder keg."

TROUT CATCHES GIRL

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Aug. 21 (AP)—When a fish catches a girl that's news. A four-pound rainbow trout hooked in the McIntyre river pulled 11-year-old Wendy Zappa into the water. Her companion, Betty Gregory, fished both of them out.

Auto Buyer Is Warned Over Sales Scheme

BOISE, Aug. 17—Kenneth Miller, manager of the Idaho State Automobile mobile association, has warned prospective car purchasers to beware of a sales plan which he says has burned thousands of car purchasers and will burn thousands more unless they take warning.

He says the scheme involves telling a car prospect he can obtain a new car by becoming a "referral representative" or "advertising representative" for the dealer. If he represents a car, as a representative, he buys a car. As a representative, he promises $100 or some such sum for every new car buyer he brings in. Thus, in addition to getting a new car, the customer is persuaded he can earn all of nearly all of the cost by bringing in new customers who, in turn, are offered the same plan, Miller explains.

Miller says, "The Buyer signs a purchase contract, sometimes selling his old car hurriedly and at a loss. He really cannot afford a new car but wants to take advantage of a terrific bargain."

If the car costs $3,000 and the purchaser gets $100 for each new customer he brings in, he must find 30 new customers to pay for the car, Miller notes. If each of the 30 get involved, they would have to find a total of 900 to pay for their cars. In turn would have to provide 27,000 new customers to pay for their cars, Miller said.

"Sure, the customer at the top of the chain stands a chance of getting some or all of his money back," Miller said, "but what of those who are at the second or third stage? Many will find all potential buyers are signed up and they will find themselves obligated to pay for a car they didn't intend to buy and may be in no position to pay for."

Miller said the AAA is warning all potential car buyers against the "pyramid" car purchase plan because all it can possibly do for them is to "pyramid your debts."
