"good and strong, the same as in Syria."

Kuwaili held a final two-hour conference in Cairo with Egyptian President Nasser, who saw him off at the airport. Earlier, leaving Alexandria, the Syrian President told newsmen his country looks forward to uniting with Egypt "in a union which will be the nucleus for total Arab unity."

Meanwhile, non-communist Arab leaders in the Lebanese capital of Beirut speculated that Kuwaili's return to Damascus indicated Syria had not yet slipped completely into the Soviet orbit. Otherwise, they declared, he would not have gone home.

Kuwaili has been considered a major force keeping Syria from becoming a full-fledged Soviet satellite.

Loy Henderson, U. S. state department Middle East expert who flew to Istanbul during the week-end for consultations on the Syrian developments, said he had found the talks "most helpful."

Henderson conferred with Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes and had separate talks with King Hussein of Jordan and King Faisal of Iraq.

Union Leader Claims Group Making Gains

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (AP)—President A. J. Fitzgerald of the left-wing United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers union said today, "we've hit our low point and we've started to climb back up."

The union, kicked out of the CIO in 1949 on communist-domination charges, opened its 22nd annual convention here today.

"We're starting to take back in some of the local that either jumped out under attack or were raided by other unions," Fitzgerald said.

Union officials estimated the UE membership now at 150,000 to 200,000. "And we're gaining every day," organization director James J. Mattes said.

The union had 326,000 members when the CIO ousted it.

The CIO organized the International Union of Electrical workers. The AFL-Brotherhood of Electrical workers also took away some members.

High point of the five-day convention will be an address Thursday by Harry Bridges, head of the west coast longshoremen.

they met privately with no others present.

Johnson said he told the President he was prepared to support "a substantial increase" over the 21 billion dollars in new aid money voted by the house.

Asked to elaborate on the amount, he would support, Johnson told newsmen it would be "in the neighborhood of a half billion dollars" above the house figure.

He said the President is "very much concerned" with getting adequate funds for the mutual security program, and added: "I've been concerned about it for some time."

Eisenhower has voiced hope the senate will vote the full $3,387,000,000 provided in the authorization bill passed previously by both houses.

The President likewise has said he hopes senators will make the best deal they can in reaching agreement with the house on a final figure.

The authorization measure merely fixed spending ceilings for the aid program. Actual appropriations now are being considered by the senate.

Eisenhower accompanied Johnson to the door of the White House's north portico after their steak breakfast. Newsmen thought they heard the President tell his guest: "Thanks a million."

Eisenhower's supporters were reported willing to compromise on a hike of about a half billion dollars.

Speed Limit Sign Dropped on Lawn Of T.F. Residence

A state highway department speed limit sign was found on the lawn at the home of R. S. Toffle, 123 Millmore street, sometime Sunday and turned over to Twin Falls police at 8:25 a.m. Monday.

The sign, approximately four feet in length and two feet wide, warns drivers the speed limit on state highways is 65 miles an hour in daytime and 55 miles an hour at night.

Persons removing the sign had written in lipstick a message "... from the teen-agers. Put this on your drag strip, signed, Billy The Kid."

Police Chief Howard Gillette said Monday the sign would be turned over to the state highway department. He said the sign was not removed from within the city limits. The number "158" was stamped on the back of the sign.

Removing, defacing or destroying such signs is a misdemeanor and the maximum punishment is a $300 fine and six months in jail for an adult.

In the event the offense was committed by a person, 16 years or under, the case would be handled through probate court under the youth rehabilitation act.

Approval for Files Secrecy Bill Foreseen

their testimony. The high court ordered a new trial for Jencks.

Since then several lower federal courts have ordered government agencies to open their confidential files or dismiss criminal charges. There are conflicts among these decisions.

Pending now in the supreme is a bill drafted by Attorney General Brownell and sent completely rewritten by O'Mahoney and the senate judiciary committee. The newest version brings most parties to the dispute into near agreement. Under its provisions, federal judges would first inspect FBI files and could delete any material not relevant to the pending case. In case of an appeal, the entire file, including the deleted matter, would be sent to the higher courts.

If federal prosecutors decided against presenting the files, the testimony of the government witness would be stricken by the judge. Or the judge could declare a mistrial or order a dismissal of the case.

Parade to Launch Annual Elko Fair

ELKO, Nev., Aug. 26—A big opening day parade Friday will mark the start of the 1957 Elko county livestock and livestock show. Festivities will last through the Labor day weekend.

The four-day fair, featuring eight horse races, stock horse contest, fair exhibits and special evening entertainment daily, will run through Friday.

A highlight of the parade will be a 90-member band and marching unit from Tooele, Utah. The band also will play during the afternoon races and present a concert Friday evening at the Elko city park.

Reservations for 309 horses have been received for the race. Post mutual Secretary Sam McCulloch reports excellent track conditions.

A sidelight for many fairgoers will be a 4-H fat lamb and baby pig auction at 9:30 a.m. Sunday. Spectators will bid for the choice livestock raised by Elko county youngsters.

Barbecue Served

HEYBURN, Aug. 26—The second ward Boy Scouts held a salmon barbecue on the church lawn Friday evening. Bishop Ralph McIntosh was in charge.

Scoutmaster Otis Oring presented the boys with campemats. The salmon for the barbecue was caught by the boys on their recent trip to Scout camp, Cape Horn.

Graveside services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Sunset Memorial park with the Rev. Reuben Pirner of the American Lutheran church officiating. The funeral cortege will leave the White mortuary at 10:50 a.m.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—All organized labor will suffer from political and legislative retaliation, if the Teamsters' union elects James R. Hoffa as president next month in the face of the McClellan committee's revelations that he has been in league with notorious gangsters and convicted criminals.

Equally threatening to the privileged status which labor has enjoyed for a quarter of a century is Hoffa's boast that he plans to organize all transportation workers under one tent so that he can paralyze the nation with a single massive strike shutting off such essentials as food, coal and both raw and finished products.

He can accomplish such an unprecedented thrust against society and the government only if he becomes head of the most important union in such a nationwide organization—namely, the discredited Teamsters' union.

LABOR LEADERS HOLD HOFFA IN LOW ESTEEM—The fact that Hoffa has shown a tolerance for communists as well as gangsters in fighting and bruising his way to the top only aggravates his potential threat to the national welfare and security. His past behavior, as well as his announced program of sabotage, opens wide the gate for a flood of new and punitive labor legislation.

George L. Meany and Walter P. Reuther, AFL-CIO president and vice-president respectively, recognize the menace to their organization in Hoffa's candidacy. But whether they will have the authority to expel him and his union from their ranks based on the McClellan disclosures, is still a question.

They have no use for Hoffa, now that he has been exposed along with Dave Beck and their underworld aides, but the less of the Teamsters' support, membership and funds would be serious. Few strikes of any magnitude can succeed without the Teamsters' co-operation with regard to transportation of goods and the crossing of picket lines.

A HOFFA ELECTION WOULD BE DAMAGING TO LABOR—An immediate effect of Hoffa's election would undoubtedly be strengthening of the Taft-Hartley act on every front. It would be amended so as to make unions subject to the anti-trust statutes. As of today, thanks to judicial interpretations, unions can combine to discipline an employer, but corporations cannot join forces or even discuss a common labor policy.

Even more damaging to labor would be the impetus which a Hoffa election would give to the movement for enactment of a national or states' right-to-work laws. This kind of statute, which bars enforced membership in a union, has been adopted by 17 states, mostly in the South.

Even more than the attempt to repeal the Taft-Hartley act, opposition to the spread of this kind of legislation has engaged the efforts, the money and the lobbyists of the unions at Washington and every state capital. They have been moderately successful, especially in the great industrial states, but a Hoffa-led union movement of the kind he plans would, without a doubt, inspire more right-to-work laws as a measure of self-defense.

LABOR GAIN OF LAST 25 YEARS WOULD BE LOST—Enactment nationally or on a state-by-state basis would destroy almost every gain which the unions have achieved during the new deal-fair deal era. It would wipe out all the progress which labor has made in the last 25 years. It would be a high price to pay for Hoffa.

A Hoffa election would also destroy a great deal of the political influence which labor has enjoyed in such areas as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and California. It would harm such favorite candidates as Governor G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Averell Harriman of New York.

Future candidates for public office, unlike FDR and Harry S. Truman, would not dare to court the union bosses so assiduously. The White House hatchery would not hang low for them. In fact, a union endorsement so tainted might come to be regarded by the politicians of both major parties as "the kiss of death."

VIEW OF OTHERS

TONGUE-TWISTER TEST

Maxwell H. Gluck, wealthy owner of a chain of women's wear stores, racehorse breeder, substantial contributor to the Republican party and newly approved ambassador to Ceylon, has been held up to scorn in Washington because he couldn't pronounce the name of Solomon Bandaranaike, prime minister of the country in which he is to represent the United States.

Well, how does one pronounce it? Looks like Bandaranaike to us, but the Associated Press says it is Bahndrah-NIK-ah. Mr. Gluck says he knew the name of the prime minister when he appeared before the senate foreign relations committee but wasn't sure how to pronounce it and, therefore, told the senators it was a bit unfamiliar. An AP writer points out that if he had not been so new to Washington he would not have hesitated pronouncing the name, even wrongly. Sen. Tom Connally, when chairman of the foreign relations committee, frequently called Chiang Kai-shek "Shanghai Shek."

The case of Mr. Gluck may indicate that ambassadors should be appointed from the ranks of career diplomats, as this page has contended, rather than from the lists of party financial angels. But it also demonstrates another Washington defect: Capable men from the business world who are induced to take government jobs frequently are too harshly treated by politicians and the press. No wonder offers of high government posts are rejected by so many.

By the way, how does one pronounce Gluck, as in "luck" or as in "look"? We don't know, and Prime Minister Bandaranaike probably didn't either when he first saw it.—Portland Oregonian.

AN END TO LENIENCY

A few days ago The Tribune, commenting on the need for eliminating habitually reckless, accident-prone or incompetent drivers from the highways, criticized among other things abuse of the granting of "restricted" driving permits to those motorists whose licenses have been revoked or suspended. We said that there was far too much leniency on the part of judges in recommending a restricted license for motorists convicted of offenses which require license suspension or revocation, and that the driver license division too readily accepted a judge's recommendation as justification for granting such a restricted license.

A report by the National Safety Council criticized Utah on this score also, noting that three times as many restricted licenses are granted as would be normally justified.

Now we are pleased to note that Commissioner Jay C. Newnam of the department of public safety has ordered a sharp reduction in the issuance of restricted licenses. Such licenses will be given only if the individual's driving record indicates he is not really a bad risk, and usually only in the case of minimum, first-time suspensions. In no case will a second restricted license be given—which happens to be the law.

This is a commendable decision and we hope it is religiously carried out.

Of course, as with all driver control measures, the tightening up on issuance of restricted licenses will be meaningless unless there is tightening up of supervision to see that those whose licenses are suspended or revoked do not in fact drive—or if they do drive that they are caught and severely punished, which in every case should mean a jail term.—Salt Lake Tribune.

WASHINGTON TAKES OVER

Publisher Tom Anderson of Farm and Ranch magazine points out that "In 1914 state and local governments spent 70 per cent of all money spent by government. Now 70 per cent is spent by Washington bureaucrats." Then, to make a bad matter worse, "A big part of our tax money never comes back to us in services—but is lived up by the swarms of bureaucrats whose hands it goes through."

President Eisenhower has proposed that the states assume responsibility, in whole or in part, for many projects now handled on the federal level. If the states will do that, the taxpayers will find that they will get more and better service—and for less money.—Idaho Falls Post-Register.

POT SHOTS

HERE WE GO AGAIN

Dear Pot Shots:

Noticed where some boys sleeping out in a backyard saw a whole bunch of mystery lights going across the sky. So here we go again.

There is no doubt the lights were from flying saucers. Also, there is no doubt that lots of other folks are going to see them again. The only doubt about the whole situation is why the flying saucers are returning to this particular part of the country again.

Maybe the saucers are sort of splitting up their time between the atomic energy setup over around Arco, the Mountain Home airbase and the atomic tests down in Nevada. If that's so, we're going to be seeing plenty of them.

And make no mistake about it—they're plenty real!

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:

You've helped before—hope you can again. We have a surplus of kittens (another one of those farm surplus we read about, you know). There are white, black, dark gray, three different sizes and part of them long-haired. We live six miles west and one-half mile south of Jerome.

A. Dykstra

NO NERVE?

Any of you good constituents who happened to see Earl Haroldson just after he got back from his vacation undoubtedly noticed that mustache. It was so red you couldn't help noticing it!

As a matter of fact, Earl looked rather good with the thing, but apparently he (a) didn't think so or (b) didn't have enough nerve to go on wearing it or (c) removed the thing after a domestic ultimatum.

But it was a good one! Maybe things like that grow better in Canada, huh?

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT.

Dear Pot Shots:

Three male pups and the mother must be good. Breed is doubtful, but a good mixture is guaranteed. Will be medium size dogs, not too large. Just old enough to be cute and playful. On Clover road from Buhl, first house on left side of road after the first curve. Phone Buhl 359. The mother is an exceptionally good dog for children.

HOW TO CATCH BIG ONES

Dear Shooter:

All summer I've been trying to catch some big fish. I've devoted almost every spare moment to fishing and I've caught a lot of them, but I don't think any has been more than 10 inches long.

Tell me, is there some sort of secret to catching the big ones? And how do you keep from catching the little ones?

OUR BULLETIN BOARD

Still Hoping, Twin Falls—After reading your note twice, we're still in a bit of doubt what it's all about. We thought if we couldn't figure it out after reading it twice that it certainly shouldn't be passed along. Sorry.

HMMMMMMMM

Dear Sir:

The little note from the person who showed so much concern over the welfare of a rattlesnake was somewhat amusing.

But I have just one question: What sort of person can stir up so much sympathy for a rattler?

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—The day after Dave Dubinsky's pious denials was printed, disclaiming any truck with Johnny Dio, in an affidavit filed with the senate committee, I met Dubinsky in the lobby of the Drake in Chicago and we had quite a party.

A lot of leeches of the executive committee of the AFL-CIO stood around gapping and one of the bell-men, an old friend from the happy days of the big fight and prohibition, stepped up at the conclusion and said:

"Brother, I wish I Westbrook Pegler had the movie rights to that one—with sound."

Dave made the pass. He threw me a nod and when I stopped he said, "How long ago did you learn that Dio was a hoodlum?"

I said I couldn't say as to that, but, anyway, why? What was the point? Dave did a couple of laps around Robin Hood's barn and finally said that even if he had known Dio back in 1935, as a witness had charged before the senate committee the day before, that would not prove toleration of a crook. Dave said he did not learn that Dio was a gangster until later. I said I couldn't be sure about that because he has access to information which I and others haven't.

"And, anyway," I said, "don't tell me that you are always quick to throw hoodlums out of your racket because I know you had a report on your desk for about two years which absolutely wrapped up your pal Sam Berger as a gangster, but you didn't even make a swipe at the house until a few weeks ago and then only because he took the fifth amendment."

I said: "You knew Berger and Dio were close friends and had business relations and this report even told you how many miles of clothes and pairs of pastel-colored slacks Berger was buying and just exactly where and the prices. And don't try to tell me you didn't because I know you did."

This is not verbatim on either side, you understand, but a fair presentation from memory. You see Dave has been peering down his snoot at other bass uncleaners who make traffic with criminals and this Dio had been nailed as one of the mob who blinded Dave's intimate personal friend and political devotee, Victor Riesel. And, moreover, just 24 hours before, on that same lobby, I had slapped into his fat, chubby fist a whole page of single-space on the criminal record of his fabulous martyr, Willie Lurye, who got a grand political demonstration, old-world style, at his funeral in New York in 1949.

The compromise measure, which had moved back and forth between the two houses because of disagreement over some items, was finally approved by both the house and the senate Friday.

About 1 1/2 billion dollars of the total would go for military projects here and overseas.

The bill carried about 238 million dollars less than President Eisenhower had requested.

Building Bill Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25 (AP)—A catch-all appropriations bill carrying $1,734,011,947—mostly for military construction projects—has been passed by congress and sent to the White House.

Army Instructors Will Face Charge

FT. CARSON, Colo., Aug. 25 (AP)—An unspecified number of basic training instructors at this army post will be court martialed on charges of physically abusing recruits.

A Ft. Carson spokesman has revealed that "enough evidence of physical mistreatment... or beating" of basic trainees in company I of the 39th infantry regiment has been gathered to "make court martial charges applicable."

The spokesman did not say how many trainees were mistreated or how many cadetmen face court martial. He did say that the mistreatment resulted in "very slight physical harm."

Is That So!

Plants Have Poison For Self-Protection

Strike most animals, a plant can not take to its heels to escape its enemies. Therefore to survive, it too has perfected ways to defend itself from destructive animals.

Some have developed poisons. The number of such plants which may cause itching skin, dizziness in a daze, a crazy hallucination, a distorted vision, or increase the business of the undertaker is large.

Within Canada, the United States, and the United States, it exceeds 500 plants and includes such well known irritants as poison oak, poison ivy and swamp sumac, some beautiful flowering plants as rhododendron, jackspar, foxglove, lily-of-the-valley, lady's slippers; and some wholesome vegetables as tomato, potato, asparagus and carrot.

To this poisonous list we have the lupine, with its near-relative the blue bonnet; the azalea, the fragrant narcissus, the dainty buttercup, the clematis, daphne, many of the lilies, and that fragrant shrub, the oleander. With some, like the rhododendron, mostly the leaves are poisonous; with others like the narcissus, the poison is largely confined to the bulb and when eaten for onions can be permanently disastrous; but with the oleander every part is highly poisonous.

Fortunately most flowers are not dangerous for the simple reason that they are not eaten. But plants which are mistaken for wholesome varieties of food can take a high toll. Such a one—perhaps the worst offender—is the poisonous toadstool.

As for the tomato and potato, related to the deadly nightshade, the foliage contains traces of poison which if concentrated could be lethal—but little or none is ever found in their edible parts. Yet, should the tubers of the potato grow in sunlight and turn green, they may be quite poisonous!

Besides poisons, some plants have also developed skin irritants to keep animals away. There are many. The best-known, of course, is poison ivy and its relatives, poison oak and swamp sumac. They are widespread and induce intolerable itching for

Rock Slide Kills Man at Dam Site

GLEN CANYON, Ariz., Aug. 26 (AP)—A rock slide at the Glen Canyon dam site Saturday caused the death of a 38-year-old Tooele, Utah, man. Officials identified the victim as Robert Frazier. He was walking toward the diversion tunnels at the bottom of the dam when he was hit by several tons of rock. The rock fell from high up the rim of the canyon.

A doctor was flown to the scene from Kanab, Utah, but decided not to move Frazier from the site because of the man's serious condition. He died without regaining consciousness.

What Truck?

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Postal employe Frank Scherz was surprised when police woke him up and accused him of stealing a mail truck.

Scherz said he forgot he had left his car at the postoffice garage and had driven home in a red, white and blue delivery truck.

Many of the plants—roots, flowers, stem and leaves—is poisonous. Contact with poison ivy, poison oak and swamp sumac itself, or with animals who have brushed against it or even by taking off one's shoes after walking through a patch may cause one to suffer from the stinging.

Inhaling the pollen of the small green flowers which appear during March and April, or just standing in the smoke of the burning plants may be near-disastrous. Sometimes it takes up to four days for the symptoms to appear.

The stinging nettle may produce an itching, burning sensation lasting several minutes; and to some, contact with primrose leaves, hops, even carrot tops will do the same thing.

Some of these poisons have serious effects. Primitive hunters have tipped their arrow, points into them to kill their game. They still do in the parts of Africa and South America. More important many of the poisons are incorporated into man's drugs—such as atropine, digitalis, ipecac, morphine, quinine and strychnine. Given in correct doses, they can save lives.

More Control Of Dams Seen In Resolution

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Senate may act this week on a resolution which asserts the powers of Congress over development of land and water resources.

The resolution has been approved by majorities of the Senate Interior and Public Works committees and is expected to be officially reported to the Senate today or tomorrow.

Hindrance Charged
Sponsors of the resolution, which requires only Senate approval, say actions of agencies in the executive departments have been hindering congressional consideration of water project proposals.

The sponsors are Senators Murdock, D. Mont., Interior committee chairman; Chavez, D. N. M., public works committee chairman; Anderson, D. N. M., Carroll, D. Colo., Francis Case, R. S. D.; Kerr, D. Okla.; Malone, R. Nev.; McNamara, D. Mich.; Neuberger, D. Ore.; Morse, D. Ore.; Church, D. Ida., and O'Mahoney, D. Wyo.

The resolution states, "Congress will continue to exercise its constitutional powers to encourage the comprehensive conservation, development and utilization of the land and water resources of the nation."

Wants Cooperation
It requests agencies to execute the executive branch to cooperate by making improvements in reports sent to the Senate on projects proposed to Congress for its approval. The improvements are sought for three purposes:

1. To provide Senate committees with adequate information relative to project benefits, costs, allocations, utilizations and other facts.
2. To expedite delivery to Congress of project reports without cutting the time needed for adequate technical work in their preparation.
3. To provide for determination by Congress of the method of allocation of project costs which may materially affect the character of services provided by projects, especially power dams.

A memorandum by chairman of the two committees says the present procedure for presenting projects to Congress "impairs consideration of desirable developments and tends to curtail full resource conservation and utilization."

Some desirable dam projects are excluded from consideration by criteria contained in a budget bureau circular, they said. The circular, they declared, "runs directly counter to practical experience and sound planning objectives for unified development of all related resources of an area."

Poverty, High Prices Plague Red Satellites

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 26 (AP)—Industrial workers in communist Hungary are earning an average of 1,400 forints a month—just over $81 at the official rate of exchange.

Except for rents and some basic food items, prices are much higher than in the United States.

Wages Rise
The government's official bulletin of statistics reports that wage averages are 17 to 25 per cent over a year ago, before last fall's revolt against Russia. Top officials have been warning that some increases granted since then have been too big and illegal, and would have to be reduced. There has been some acknowledgment in the government-run press that workers are perturbed about this.

Officials and newspapers have been complaining about the situation in the coal mining industry. Hungary's basic source of energy. Workers there now get the highest average wage—1,902 forints ($28.80) a month. Last year the average was 1,481 forints ($24.35).

Miners Strike
In between came the revolt, and many miners took part. Strikers in the mines held out for weeks. It was put down, refusing to go back to work while the Russians remained in Hungary. Many eventually returned to their jobs, but many others fled to the West or just melted into the countryside.

Increased pay has played a big part in getting production back to normal, but the price of digging a ton of coal has increased to what the government considers an uneconomical level—228 forints or nearly $10 a ton, instead of the old 165.63 forints, about $7.

The statistical report found textile workers getting the lowest wage—an average of 1,099 forints ($16.75) a month.

Voters Ready To Name New Solon Choice

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Wisconsin's special senate election tomorrow gives national political parties their first chance to test political wind directions since the Eisenhower landslide 10 months ago.

The prize is the vacant senate seat of the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, the controversial figure who held it for almost 11 years.

The Republicans expect to win but seem a little nervous. The Democrats are hopeful but recognize that they are underdogs in normally Republican Wisconsin.

Although the state GOP organization tends to be conservative, the Republican nominee is an Eisenhower Republican, former Gov. Walter J. Kohler. The Democratic candidate is William Proxmire from the liberal wing of his party—a three-faced nominee for governor who once lost to Kohler by a margin of 35,000 votes.

Trends Watched
Whatever the result, the trend-hunters in both parties will go to work with slide rules. In Wisconsin last year, Sen. Alexander Wiley, another Eisenhower Republican, was reelected with 58 per cent of a total vote of 1,523,358 while President Eisenhower also was sweeping the state.

Forecasts reaching the party managers here estimate a much smaller vote tomorrow—in the neighborhood of 600,000. Even that turnout would be higher than was expected a few weeks ago.

One source of Republican worry is the independent candidacy of Howard H. Boyle, Jr., a conservative Republican, who figures to subtract from Kohler's vote. GOP leaders are conceding him about 20,000 votes.

GOP Is Nervous
Republicans are also nervous about the farm vote in the northwestern part of the state, which will be watched closely by the Democrats, too. In that area four years ago, the Democrats smashed the Republican hold on the ninth congressional seat and elected Rep. Lester R. Johnson, who has twice been reelected.

Democrats also will be wondering whether there is any political payoff in their efforts to develop an issue from inflation and the rising cost of living. They have doubts, however, that the issue was exploited in Wisconsin to the extent that it will be tried in some states in the 1958 congressional elections.

The result tomorrow can have much impact on the senate where there are now 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans and one vacancy.

A Proxmire victory would provide some insurance against the Democrats losing control before the 1958 elections. A Kohler victory would put the GOP in position to take control if a Democratic senator should die in a state with a Republican governor who could fill the vacancy by appointment.

Republicans have the tie-breaking vote of Vice President Richard M. Nixon to organize the senate should their membership rise to 48.

Gas Delivery Date Nearing

IDAHO FALLS, Aug. 26 (AP)—An official of the Intermountain Gas company says delivery of natural gas to Idaho Falls, Shelley and Blackfoot is only one month away.

Martin E. Hill, district manager for the company, said crews are ahead of schedule in installing the network of pipes in the three communities, and in completing the 10-inch arterial pipe between Pocatello and Idaho Falls.

Hill said the arterial pipeline is within 15 miles of completion. One leg is working north from Pocatello and another is headed south toward Idaho Falls.

Hill said some 1,600 residential and commercial customers already are signed for service.

Boyle Gleans Facts on Rain, Garb Ideas, Giraffes' Necks

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might not know if he didn't open his mail:

The sternest test of whether you have real will power is this: Can you meet a friend with a black eye—and refrain from asking how he got it?

That a giraffe has no more bones in its neck than a sparrow.

That the word "tip" originally stood for "to insure promptness" . . . but many people today give it a different meaning.

That Grace Downs, dean of a school for hostesses, tells her girls, "one good way to test your memory is to try to remember the things that worried you yesterday."

That in Roman times the day began at sunrise rather than midnight . . . which may or may not explain why Rome fell.

That it was President U. S. Grant who said, "labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men disgrace labor."

Trips Stop as Reds Tighten Travel Rules

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 26 (AP)—Private travel abroad, never easy for residents of Poland, is getting even more difficult.

The finance ministry has recommended that passports generally be issued only to those whose fares are paid for them by friends or relatives abroad.

The announced aim is to save a drain on foreign currency reserves estimated at 30 million dollars annually.

Last week at least 30 members of a holiday expedition of 800 Poles defected to the West at Copenhagen, Denmark, where the liner Batory had brought them.

This has been a boom year in foreign travel. According to official figures, 172,000 Poles visited abroad in the first half of this year against 170,000 all last year. The number still waiting for passports runs into scores of thousands.

The communist organ Tybuna Ludu says "there is nothing bad in the fact that large numbers of people want to travel" but said the state cannot afford to help them do so even when costs abroad are met by friends. Every international travel ticket bought with Polish money has to be backed with dollars from the state's dwindling reserves, it added.

According to the finance ministry recommendation, it still will be possible for his own ticket for one visit every two years to a close relative—brother, sister or parent.

Another new regulation stipulates that invitations sent by Poles abroad to relatives and friends here must be certified as genuine by a Polish consulate. Hundreds of applications have been returned because they lack this certification.

The Krakow paper Dziennik Polski said this regulation is supposed to prevent frauds. People manufacture invitations to foreign countries and borrow money to help them get there. But the paper said it doubted the regulation would serve its declared purpose, adding:

"One thing is certain—the issue of passports will be made more difficult, if only because not all Poles abroad live in cities where Polish consular offices are available."

Selling Task By Inventors Is Hard One

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Countless American men and women have a conviction—they have an idea that if recognized and properly commercialized would prove to be a money-making invention.

Many a corporation knows that their present products run the risk of becoming outdated, despite all the dollars that are being poured into company research. Outdated ideas could be the answer if they are to outstrip their competitors.

The problem is to get the inventor and the producer and financier together without confusions and abrasions.

Fear Thefts
Inventors have some strong fears about theft or double dealing by corporations. And some suspect that ideas are suppressed to protect present products.

Companies have had their fingers burned enough by law suits to be aware of the risks of dealing with outside ideas, especially if unsolicited.

But men dealing with patents contend that the examples of losses on either side, provable in the courts, have been small compared with the gains to both inventors and corporations, especially in the fields of products for public consumption.

Corporation executives contend that from 200 to 500 ideas submitted must be examined to find one that is worthwhile. They point out that a $25 preliminary patent search by the inventor saves everybody time and money.

George S. Hastings, American Machine and Foundry vice president in charge of its patent department, says many companies now insist upon a submit agreement. This states that the invention is not being submitted in confidence and that the corporation doesn't agree in advance to compensate the inventor.

A payment agreement is something that many an outsider with ideas has asked because he fears that when the corporation knows his secret he's lost his bargaining power. Some courts have held that without the submit agreement an outside submission implies a contract, even if the invention is old or readily available from other sources.

Costs Count
The inventor's greatest fears are probably that the corporation will use his idea without pay or that it will buy the idea but never bring the product out lest that upset the company's large vested interest in its present product because of the costs of tooling, servicing and advertising.

Hastings admits that these costs count with a big corporation in deciding upon accepting an invention. But he contends that this condition often gives the inventor a better chance with companies trying to make their way in a given field.

He gives some other pointers to inventors about what companies look for in a new product.

It should fit into the company's existing facilities for production, engineering and marketing. As the outside inventor's probable price must be substantially in excess of cost of manufacturing.

Bare ideas aren't enough. The inventor should take into consideration the product's customer appeal and its commercial practicality and should be proven. The cost and amount of materials or mechanism to be employed weigh heavily in the decision.

And the invention should have sufficient patent protection to prevent others from copying it later.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Cinderella was only one of the hosts of children, and youth, in love with pretty shoes. To the small ones a pair of new shoes is sheer delight. They are shown proudly to all who will be pleased to look. The child just entering school, and many of those to whom school is an old story, will have new shoes for the opening day. Let us hope they are comfortable.

The children, and many girls are included with the very young ones will be so eager to have the pretty shoes that they will assure their mothers and the salesman that they feel "just right." This is not to be taken at face value. The fit must be assured. Let the salesman measure the larger foot. There usually is one, and then make certain about the fit of the shoe for both feet.

Have the child put on both shoes, stand up in them and take a few steps while you watch and then feel the foot in the shoe. There is nothing so painful as an ill-fitting shoe. The longer it is worn the worse the pain and it has a fashion of spreading to every part of the body, including the eyes. A child, on his first day in school, has about all he can do to keep up with the procession and if his feet hurt he is at a great disadvantage.

The kind of shoes is important. They should be firm under the foot and about the ankles so that they support the foot. Leather is the best material for a school shoe. It stands rough usage well and school children's shoes need to be tough to take it. Remember the tin cans that have to be kicked just so many times on the way to school. And then, too, the toe of a shoe is so useful when a depression has to be made in the playground surface. Let's come in

VICTORY OVER T.F. HANDS MOSCOW STATE'S SOFTBALL CROWN

Phillips-Wells Is Loser in 4-2 Tilt As Tourney Ends

Moscow's Merchants, behind the three-hit pitching of Al Starnes, swept past Phillips-Wells 4-2 Sunday night and capped the 1957 state softball championship. However, most of the action occurred in the semi-final as the Twin Falls team eliminated Bargain Barn, Pocatello, 5-1 in a fight-marred contest. Earlier in the day, Phillips-Wells had beaten Moscow 6-5 in a 12-inning tilt. However, Moscow lodged a protest with the state eligibility board claiming the winning pitcher, Cal Abrams, Boise, was ineligible. After a lengthy discussion, the board upheld the protest and declared Moscow winner of the game by forfeit. That handed Twin Falls its first loss of the tourney and put them into the semi-finals against Pocatello at 7 p.m.

But Sunday evening, after the board had rejected an appeal from Phillips-Wells, the team, by vote of its members, decided it would not play. They noted the status of at least one player on almost all the teams entered could be seriously doubted, but the board had not upheld any protest, except the one lodged against them. (Several protests were made during the meet and all were thrown out.) After one-half hour's discussion though, they agreed to play the game, but then Pocatello said it was withdrawing, citing fear of "roughness" as the reason.

Finally, after the umpires had promised a rigid hand in governing the game, Bargain Barn agreed to play. Then in the second inning Pocatello Catcher Hobson, was a knocked out in a legitimate play at the plate, in which Rex Wells scored. Even the Pocatello players agreed that the play was entirely within the meaning and letter of the game rules.

But, tension being high, both teams immediately rushed to the plate and after a brief tussle, Darrell Willard was knocked to the ground. The umpires quickly restored order, ejecting one Twin Falls man, and the game continued without mishap.

The brief ruckus took all the fight out of Pocatello which was playing its fourth game as they lost the one run lead they held at the time and Twin Falls ran away with the game. But in the final, Phillips-Wells suffered the let down from the fight and they were easy prey for Starnes and Moscow.

In the championship game, Ozell Kanikberg started off the second inning against loser Al Welt with a walk and advanced as Jim Douglas dropped a bunt single. Transit then dropped a hit into short right-field to score both runners.

They added two more in the third on two hits, a sacrifice fly and an error.

Rex Wells got the Twin Falls team into the scoring column as he broke up Starnes perfect game with a single to lead-off the fifth and Wells romped all the way in when the ball got past the left fielder. In the sixth inning, Elias Russell and Weick gained base on errors, moved up on Joe Meyer's sacrifice. Lenie Cronan then poked a bunt over the in-rushing third baseman's head and both runners scored. Cronan picked up a double on the bunt.

In the semi-final, Bargain Barn jumped to a one-run lead in the second inning, but Phillips-Wells got those back in their half of the inning and Weick went on to post the win, finishing strong.

Rex Wells and George Semba got singles and John Wells gained life on an error, which scored Semba. Russell then lashed a double that chased in the second run.

Crandall and Chuck LaMar scored two more in the third, getting on base with hits and coming around on an error and Rex Wells' hit.

Jerome's Merchants were eliminated from play Sunday morning by Simplops of Caldwell 4-3. Craig was the big gun for the Northsiders, rapping in two tallies with a single.

Burley was defeated by the Bargain Barn in the afternoon as the Pocatello team got to Clint Nelson for six hits and posted a 4-2 win. Three singles and a passed ball let in four Pocatello runs in the first. Other results include Bargain Barn defeated Wallace 4-3; Westvaco defeated Simplops 7-6; and Bargain Barn eliminated Westvaco 8-0.

Braves Credit Hazle With Pennant Push

By United Press

The Milwaukee Braves feel they'll win in a breeze, especially now that rookie Bob (Hurricane) Hazle is leveling a path to the pennant for them.

Hazle, a left-handed hitting outfielder brought up from Wichita on July 27, has been Milwaukee's most devastating hitter the past two weeks and now sports a .526 average with 30 hits in 57 times at bat.

"The kid is fantastic," exclaims Milwaukee manager Fred Haney. "That description certainly fitted Hazle yesterday as he blasted a pair of three-run homers plus a single for a 'perfect day' that powered the Braves to a 7-3 victory over the Phillies and enable them to stretch their National League lead to 7½ games.

The Brooklyn Dodgers edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5; the Giants crushed the Redlegs, 10-1, and the Pirates beat the Cubs, 3-0. In the opener, then lost the nightcap, 8-2.

The White Sox tightened the American League race considerably, climbing to within four games of first place by beating the Orioles twice, 6-2 and 3-0, while Detroit defeated the Yankees, 7-2. Cleveland took a pair from Washington, 3-2 and 6-4, and Kansas City beat Boston, 3-2.

Patty, Mulloy Team for Net Doubles Play

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 26 (AP)—Budge Patty, who dislikes the doubles game, Monday joined Gardner Mulloy to battle Australia's Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser for the national doubles championship he did not seek.

The suave 34-year-old employee of a Paris travel agency and the 42-year-old Mulloy, formerly of Denver, are top-seeded as a result of their triumph of experience over youth at Wimbledon.

"I never have had much success at doubles," the mustachioed Patty said Sunday as he relaxed shortly after it was announced the finals were postponed because of rain.

"I don't like the doubles game and I'm not good at it. I just don't like anything to do with a team. I prefer to play alone. When I win the credit is mine and when I lose I am responsible."

"I didn't plan to play anything but the singles championships at Forest Hills but after Mulloy and I won the Wimbledon title from Fraser and Lew Hoad I was prevailed upon to come over earlier."

"Gardner and I have played a dozen times together at most but he is a terrific partner. We never get mad at each other. We work well together. I never have felt so at ease playing with someone."

Defending champions and 11-time winners Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret Dupont met Althea Gibson and Darlene Hard for the women's doubles title Monday. Althea and Darlene never have lost a match in the eight tournaments they have played together plus the Wightman Cup.

Champ Trains Despite Balk at Bout

Sugar Ray Robinson, body bent like a playing card, gets his body hardened at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., despite his claims he won't fight Carmen Basilio, the welter champ. Bout was scheduled Sept. 23 at Yankee stadium but Robinson balked at the fight in a row over television rights. However, as the photograph shows, Sugar Ray still trains for the blows Basilio would throw if and when they fight. (NEA photo)

Skyline Coaches Foresee Better Times in Grid Play

DENVER, Aug. 26 (AP)—Football coaches in the Skyline conference are out of character in their preseason predictions.

The head men at Brigham Young, New Mexico and Montana—the tall ends last year—are talking about better times ahead.

Loquacious Jack Curlice of Utah, who loves to chatter about championships, is strangely uptight. Jack hasn't won a Skyline title since a three-year sweep ended in 1954.

But it looks like Curlice and his Utah Redskins have the power this year to grab the crown won last season by Wyoming's undefeated Cowboys.

Almost everyone figures Wyoming's chances to repeat departed along with Coach Phil Dickens, who resigned to take over the head coaching job at Indiana university. Dickens has been waved off the field for this season on charges of too aggressive retooling in the Big Ten.

Along with Dickens, Wyoming lost eight of the starting 11 of its 1956 team. The departures included three of the four starting backs.

Bob Devaney, a staff assistant at Michigan State, has taken over at Wyoming. Devaney's outstanding high school record in Michigan along with his experience at M-State promises another reputable team from Wyoming. He's installed the multiple offense in place of the Cowboys' traditional single wing.

Utah rates the favorite's role for two reasons. First, the Utes have depth of manpower and the line looks solid. Second, a quarterback of outstanding talent, Lee Grosscup, packs the weapon Curlice likes best—the pass. One of the reasons the Utes have lagged the past few years has been a weak aerial attack.

Curlice said Grosscup could develop into the best quarterback he's had in 25 years of coaching. He's a transfer from Santa Monica Calif., Junior college where he enrolled after a brief period as a freshman at University of Washington.

Utah's rugged schedule may be the Utes' biggest problem. It includes Army, Colorado, Idaho and the Air Force academy.

The general level of play in the Skyline is expected to be better than ever. Substantial improvement is reported in the quantity and quality of players at Montana, Brigham

Young and New Mexico.

Hal Kopp, in his second season at Brigham Young, reports the Cougars were a "little too nice" last season. Kopp said the Cougars have toughened up and should play ball "equal to the middle group in the conference."

Idaho Falls Is Round Robin Winner Here

A round robin tennis tournament was held at Harmon park Sunday and Idaho Falls, coping 14 sets of a total 18, took top honors.

Boise with a 9 won and 9 lost record took second; Pocatello with 8 and 10, and Twin Falls with 5 and 13, rounded out the four team tournament finals.

Bill Koch, who last week won the Magic Valley open tennis tournament, singles title, ran into some difficulty this week and wound up in a three way tie for first in the No. 1 singles division.

Tied with Koch were Bob Nogler, Idaho Falls and Dr. Irving Kellogg, Boise. All three had two wins and one loss record.

Doug Smoot, Idaho Falls, powered his way past Lindy Tremayne, Pocatello, 6-2; Dale Hammond, Boise, 7-5; and Larry Moss, Twin Falls, 6-4, to capture the No. 2 singles division honors.

The No. 3 singles division championship went to Lynn Benson, after he defeated Bob Wadsworth, Idaho Falls, 6-3; Lee Holmes, Twin Falls, 7-5; and Ed Morgan, Pocatello, 6-1.

Gordon Bryndillon, Boise, found the No. 4 singles competition extremely tight as he squeaked past Arton Deft, Boise, 11-9; Al Rollinson, Boise, 6-4; and Bill Trimmell, Twin Falls, 6-3.

In the No. 1 doubles class there was a three-way tie for first among Bob Nogler and Doug Smoot, Pocatello; Dale Hammond and Dr. Irving Kellogg, Boise; and Lindy Tremayne and Len Fenwick, Pocatello.

Lynn Benson and Al Rollinson, Boise, tied with Gordon Bryndillon and Bob Wadsworth, Idaho Falls for first place in the No. 2 doubles event.

Sawyer, Armstrong Set Arena Clash

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rudy Sawyer and Gene Armstrong, two unbeaten new-talent middleweights, collide tonight in a TV 10-rounder at St. Nicholas arena.

Sawyer of Long Island City, N. Y., is a slight favorite at 6-5 because he punches harder than Armstrong of Elizabeth, N. J., a slick boxer.

$2 Ticket Pays Well for Trio

AQUA CALIENTE, Mexico, Aug. 26 (AP)—Two middle-aged sisters from Fresno, Calif., and their niece yesterday collected a record payoff of $68,717.60 for a $2 ticket by picking all six winners in the fifth through 10th races in the "5-10" handicapping pool at Caliente racetrack.

Boosted into a higher tax bracket were Mrs. Celia Mason, an employee of the Sanger school district, near Fresno; her sister, Anna Vazmanian, a schoolteacher, and their niece, Betty Anne Noorigan. They said they knew "next to nothing" about horses and bought the single handicap ticket as a joint investment.

Mrs. Mason said last year she spent $2 for a handicap ticket but couldn't even pick a winner. The three said they chose two of the six winners because they were ridden by jockey Merlin Volzke. "We just loved his name," they added.

Doctor Wins 55th Amateur Golf Crown

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Dr. Ed Updegraff, the prize winner of a grueling tournament that had been conceded to youth, carried the big silver trophy of the 55th western Amateur Golf championship home to Tucson, Ariz., today and decided to rest on his laurels.

Updegraff, 35-year-old surgeon who whipped Joe Campbell, 9 and 8, in the 36-hole final yesterday, said he would pass up the National Amateur next month.

"I've got to get back to my patients," the lanky, balding doctor said. "I've been gone long enough."

But Campbell, despite 12 rounds of golf in seven days, was in Minneapolis, Minn., today for a Walker Cup match practice round. The 21-year-old former national intercollegiate champion was exceptionally well yesterday, hitting only 15 of 28 greens.

Kray Homers for Magic Valley Win

By The Associated Press
Vic Kray blasted a game winning solo homer in the seventh Sunday night and the Magic Valley Cowboys slipped into second place in the Pioneer league on a 2-1 victory over Idaho Falls. That put the Cowboys one and one-half games behind the leading Billings Mustangs, idled by rain at Salt Lake City.

Idaho Falls and Missoula dropped out of their second-place tie into third—two full games behind. The Jacks dropped a 16-11 contest to the fifth-spot Pocatello As.

The Great Falls Dodgers, scratching in the cellar 15 games off the pace, got a 10-1 loss dropped on them by the sixth-place Boise Braves.

The teams shift parks Monday night with Great Falls in Salt Lake City, Billings at Boise, Pocatello in Idaho Falls and Magic Valley at Missoula.

Kray's homer broke up a tight pitching duel between Bob Moore and the Russels' Bob Paffel. Moore was the winner as he gave up seven hits, walked four and struck out 10. Paffel nearly matched his opponent as he walked only one batter and fanned seven.

The Cowboys scored in the fourth on a double from Tom Clarkson's sacrifice fly, but the Russels tied it on three singles in the fifth for their only score.

Missoula held a 9-5 lead after four innings against the Athletics but Pocatello promptly tied the score in the next frame and went on to score seven times in the last four innings to pull out the win. The A's hammered out 16 hits, including four by Roy McClutcheon, but the big damage was done by Don DeGroot who drove in seven runs with a homer and a triple.

Boise scored four times in the first and was never threatened by the Dodgers until the ninth when Shelly Brodski hit a home run for the only Great Falls tally. Boise got 16 hits, including a triple and three doubles, while winning pitcher Bob Botz was holding the Dodgers to five hits.

Bilko Knocks Two Homers In Record Try

By The Associated Press

Steve Bilko of Los Angeles could become the first man in Pacific Coast league history Monday night to belt 50 homers in each of two consecutive seasons.

The hefty Angel slugger boomed his 48th and 49th for this year Sunday night while leading Los Angeles to a 6-2 nightcap victory over Hollywood. The Twins won the first 6-3.

Every team in the PCL played a doubleheader but only the leading San Francisco Seals scored a shutout. They defeated seventh-ranked Sacramento 4-3 and 4-2, and boosted their lead over second-place Vancouver to 4½ games.

Vancouver split with San Diego, which is in a third-place tie with Hollywood. The Mounties won, 8-0, and then lost in an eight-inning nightcap, 3-2.

Seattle dumped Portland, 9-5, but the cellar-dwelling Beavers came to life in the second game and edged the fifth-place Rainiers, 4-3.

Personal Income Figures Set New Record for U. S. in 1956

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Personal income in the United States last year reached a record of 324 billion dollars. This was an average of $1,940 for every man, woman and child in the country—before taxes, that is.

The figures came out Monday in a census bureau report that showed, among other things:

- Delaware's $2,868 was the highest per capita income in the country, 38 per cent above the national average.
- Mississippi was low with $984, less than half the average.
- Indiana hit the average almost on the nose with per capita income of $1,946.
- Fifteen states and the District of Columbia were above the average and 33 states and Hawaii were below.
- The 1956 total income of 324 billion dollars was seven per cent higher than 303 billion of 1955. The per capita income of $1,940 was five per cent higher than the $1,847 of 1955.
- Nevada was the only state to show a decline in per capita income—from $2,451 to $2,423. That dropped Nevada from third in 1955, behind Delaware and Connecticut, to fifth in 1956.
- Delaware also showed a 14 per cent increase, largest in the country, in total income from 1955 to 1956.
- An upturn in the coal-mining industry helped boost West Virginia's total income by 11 per cent last year.
- Idaho showed a similar rise, mainly from a 20 per cent boost in farm income. Idaho income was $1,466 in 1955 and $1,587 in 1956.

Church Supports Memorial Plans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., has offered his support to legislation authorizing a memorial to crewmen of the battleship Arizona, his office reported today.

The Arizona was sunk when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941. Twelve Idahoans among her crew died with the ship as she settled to the bottom of the harbor.
