

Russia Would Lose in A-War, Admiral Says

HONOLULU, Oct. 31 (AP)—A high ranking navy officer says Russia would be "wiped out" if she started a war with the United States.

This statement came yesterday from Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations who has just completed a three and one-half week tour of the Far East. He left last night for Washington.

Food to Start War

"There is no way in God's good earth that she (Russia) could avoid being wiped out," Burke said. "For that reason, I don't think we need to start a general war."

Burke said the Russians could "hurt us badly" if they launched a sudden air and submarine attack. However, he said they could not deliver knockout blows.

Use Depth Charges

The U. S. fleet in the western Pacific is now equipped with atomic depth charges, Burke hinted. In the event of war, they would give the fleet a mighty punch to light the 100 submarines the Russians are believed to have in their Pacific fleet.

Burke said it would be "very unlikely" that the Russians could undertake large scale submarine operations without being detected.

Capability Reduced

Burke said economic sanctions in Washington have somewhat reduced the navy's capability. He said the cuts mean a 10 per cent reduction in operating navy aircraft and ships, or 100 ships and 1,000 planes.

Burke said the navy could not keep the seventh fleet in the western Pacific and the sixth fleet in the Mediterranean at peak readiness.

U. S. Jury Indicts Firms on Prices

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 31 (AP)—The federal grand jury indicted several companies yesterday charging several prices with conspiracy to fix milk prices in the Portland market.

The indictment named the Oregon Milk Distributors, Arden Farms company, Dairy Farms, Inc., Damascus Milk company, Farmers Dairy association, Safeway Stores, Inc., Sunnyside Farms-Milk and Ice Cream company, and Sunnyside Dairy.

All of the firms named in the indictment have headquarters in Portland except Safeway, headquartered in Oakland, Calif., and Arden Farms, headquartered in Los Angeles.

Exposure Is Fatal For U. S. Scientist

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Oct. 31 (AP)—Dr. Richard Carleton Hobbie, a prominent meteorologist from the University of Washington, died Monday night apparently from prolonged exposure to cold.

Hobbie, 51, of Tacoma, was project scientist on the Meteorological Service in the current international geophysical year activities and has been working with the Arctic Institute of North America.

Hobbie left camp late in the evening to make scientific observations and did not return, an official of the Arctic aeromedical laboratory said. He said air force men have a search party from the camp discovered the body.

U. S. Airman Dies In Chute Attempt

WHEELS, AIR BASE, Libya, Oct. 31 (AP)—A U. S. air force pilot was killed in a vain attempt to parachute from his disabled jet Monday, air force officials reported today.

First Lieut. Bernard G. Hochmuth, Jr., 24, Lancaster, N. Y., attempted to parachute from his aircraft but was apparently too low. The air force said.

Hochmuth, who was stationed in Zia, France, with the 380th fighter bomber wing, was returning from runway practice at the range near Zia when his jet engine flamed out.

Medals Awarded In Missiles Work

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The army has awarded medals to two men for leading development of its "emmerly successful" Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile.

Both men, Maj. Gen. John B. McFarland and Dr. Werner Von Braun, figured in the courtmartial of Col. C. Nickerson, Jr., convicted last June of leaking secrets in what his claim was a battle to save the Jupiter program from being junked as inferior to the air force's Thor IRBM.

McFarland testified against Nickerson, who was suspended in rank, fined $1,000 and transferred to Panama. Von Braun was a defense witness.

Musical Inventor

Composer Makes Instruments To Match His Musical Scores

DAYTON, O., (AP)—While it is a "harmonic canon," a zitherlike instrument, it is a "boon harria." A number of jazz musicians have cast longing glances at his "autochrome kithara," which Harry Partch says he would like to play.

Partch's music is copyrighted, but the instruments are unprotected. "I'd feel quite complimented if someone would copy the instruments," he said.

The composer has spent the last 35 years in pursuit of new music. Two Cincinnati fellowships, Carnegie grant and research grants from Mills College and the University of Wisconsin have helped keep a roof over his head. Home for the time being is Yellow Springs, O., where he is preparing a narrative musical piece on railroad for a theatrical production he hopes will be shown in art theaters.

Results of Retail Selling May Show Industry Future in 1958

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—How the retail stores fare in the next eight weeks will go a long way in forecasting what kind of a year 1958 will be for industry.

Consumer buying in November and December will be what the business economists will be watching. It should have more than usual weight this year on the future course of prices, industrial output, factory jobs—perhaps even on interest rates.

How the public spends for Christmas this time and how it reacts to the new cars now being unveiled is the big question mark of the day.

Retail sales have been just ahead of last year for some time now. Taken in account the higher price level and unit sales may be a little off.

But in the next two months, on the whole, the economy will be expected to do one-fourth of the whole year's business. This makes or breaks the year as far as earnings go.

If they move the goods they have on hand or order, they'll be in a position to re-order. If they don't, they'll be slow on buying, or buy less expensive goods than last Christmas, or add to the new car model, but holds onto the old family auto, the economy all the way back to the prime producer of materials will feel the jolt. And even the Washington money managers may decide it's time to ease up on money and credit—and therefore on interest rates.

However, therefore, is the day the merchant starts to look for his fingers.

On the sunny side is the fact that total personal income is high and that total employment is high. Also the battle from the new car model, a record 1 1/2 billion dollars in Christmas club payments, 37 million dollars more than last year.

On the darker side is that many families show a tendency to spend more on stock or other investments than on necessities. When prices went up and borrowing charges went up, when overtime pay faded and some factory work weeks were shortened, these families just weren't in the position to spend for anything but the necessities.

Dealers in the more expensive material, whether it be fur coats or convertibles, are also nervous today about what the stock market drop may do to their business. When a man makes a killing on the market, he's not likely to buy a new car.

Asks Appointment

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Representative Homer R. Holt, a former employee of the atom spy ring, asked today he will seek appointment next year to the congressional atomic energy committee.

Holt applied to the seat to be vacated by the resignation of Rep. C. R. Nixon, N. Y., to join the international atomic energy agency in Vienna.

Sky 'Roundup' Is Planned for U. S. Satellites

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 31 (AP)—Texan Walter Lang is a cowboy-scientist who will ride the world to establish a "roundup" for the U. S. earth satellites.

An observer for the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, he's in charge of building 12 camera stations from Florida to Iran to track the American moon.

These stations will "range over the surface of the earth along the path of our satellites."

"And if I can't find anyone to build them, I'll build them myself," Lang said.

The 33-year-old mathematician photograph and radio astronomer could do just that. He's a 200-pounder with a two-inch beard and a soft hair drawn down his forehead in a scientific planning at the observatory here. Lang wears white slacks and a blue shirt.

But when he was helping to build America's first camera station, he was a sombrero and a mustache. That station, completed this month, went up in a desert area at Organ Pass, N. M. It was during work there that Lang, along with two other Smithsonian workers, acquired their cowboy names.

At first, he said, they decided to crew them for a joke, but now he's decided not to leave his "until the American satellite is launched."

By then he hopes all the camera stations will be finished. Once set up, the camera watch—of the kind that a cowboy after her cattle—will be handed by about 24 men all over the world, two manning each station. Each of the watch points will be equipped with a 6,000-pound telescope-camera which will be used to observe the moon's exact distance from the satellite.

There will be only two in the United States. They are the already completed station at Organ Pass and a second one soon to be built somewhere in Florida. The other 22 will be in Afghanistan, South Africa; Hialeah, Hawaii; Tokyo, Japan; Caracas, Netherlands; Dutch Indies; Madrid, Spain; Shiraz, Iran; Arequipa, Peru; India; Villa Dolores, Argentina; and Woomera, Australia.

One Quad Passes; Others 'Very Nice'

ELGIN, N. D., Oct. 31 (AP)—Hospital officials today said the three surviving quadruplets of Mr. and Mrs. Arlene Meier are "looking very nice." The smallest of the girls died yesterday.

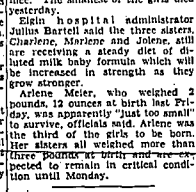

Elgin hospital administrator Julius Bartlett said the three sisters, Charlene, Marlene and Jolene, still are receiving a steady diet of diluted milk baby formula which will be increased in strength as they grow stronger.

Arlene Meier, who weighed 2 pounds, 12 ounces at birth last February, was apparently "just too small" to survive, officials said. Arlene was the third of the girls to be born. Her sisters all weighed more than three pounds at birth and were expected to remain in critical condition until Monday.

CAIRO, Oct. 31 (AP)—An Egyptian military court today sentenced 13 defendants accused of communist activities to prison terms ranging from two to seven years.

World calendar makes all years align, "W" at right is Worldaidy and follows Dec. 31 each year and June 30 every four years. All quarters match, too.

Promoters of World Calendar Are Marking Time Hopefully

CLEVELAND (AP)—The traditional Dec. 31 blank day may soon become offset. But this blank is calculated to eliminate headaches for millions of people, not cause them.

If the World Calendar association has its way, Dec. 31 would be no more. It would be replaced by a simply marked "W" for Worldaidy. Celebration of New Year's Eve would still be in order and world-wide bubbly-hoisting would have the added impetus of a day set apart for nations, races and people to "come together in peace, harmony and cooperation."

The major difficulty, boosters have found, is public apathy. The World calendar has an unvarying year of 12 months divided into equal quarters. Each quarter has exactly 91 days, 13 weeks or 91 holidays.

Each month has 28 week-days plus Sundays. Every year, half year and quarter-year begins with Sunday and ends with a Saturday. Day-dates would be unvarying from year to year.

Added to this year of 364 days is "Worldaidy" (corresponding to Dec. 31) and "Leapday" (which would be inserted between the end of June and the beginning of July every fourth year. This, too, would be a world holiday.

Elizabeth Achens founded the WCA plan, which appears to be the simplest and most practical means to present calendar hash of 14 different kinds of Februarys and seven different kinds of the other months. There are plenty of influential backers and groups trying to get Internation-

Russia Brings Tightening of Arms Alliance

By United Press
Soviet Russia finally has rounded the members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization into tightening up their alliance.

The plan to hold a meeting of heads of government of the 15 NATO members in Paris in December is an effective answer to Russia's long campaign of bluster and brag.

Russia's campaign started last November at the time of the Suez canal crisis.

It reached its climax in the amazing propaganda campaign in which Russia accused the United States and Turkey of plotting to invade Syria.

But the deciding factor was Moscow's announcement of the successful testing of an intercontinental ballistic missile and the launching of the Sputnik earth satellite.

During all this campaign, Russia interpreted its threats and boasts with demands for a big four "summit" conference in which President Eisenhower would meet Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, communist chairman Nikita S. Khrushchev and the prime ministers of Great Britain and France.

The Russians also angled vainly for an invitation to Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, now disposed as Soviet premier, to visit the United States.

The NATO alliance was formed in 1949, when the threat of Russian aggression that would start a third world war seemed imminent.

It was extended until it included 15 countries, stretching from Norway through western Europe to Turkey in addition to the United States and Canada in the western hemisphere.

But as the threat of war diminished, the rift between the 15 allies loosened, and relations between the United States and its chief allies were weakened seriously by the British-French invasion of the Suez canal last November.

Insomnia

ALTOONA, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Walter Evans slept a little uneasily the other night. So did his wife.

During the afternoon two mice collided at an intersection on a few feet from the Evans home. The mice, locked together and swayed into a wall of the house.

Little more than three hours later a truck and auto came together and they too swayed into the Evans home.

The wall of the house was damaged but no one inside the house was hurt. Two of the four drivers were injured.

"We've lived here five years and nothing ever like this happened before," Mrs. Evans said. "It makes a person wonder if that shouldn't move to a safer location."

Radars Held in Secret

HILL AIR FORCE BASE, Ohio, Oct. 31 (AP)—Delegates to the U. S. air force's third worldwide radar symposium conference broke up into small working committees yesterday.

They met in extreme secrecy, behind doors that were locked and guarded. A spokesman said each committee was working on a separate phase of a main problem dealing with the American continent's radar defense, warning system. He added that the secret would remain tight today as well.

of the most magnificent motorcars of our time
... setting new standards of classic elegance

The Lincoln Preserve Club

THE NEW LINCOLN FOR 1958

... now styled and crafted in the Continental tradition

You are invited to see the most magnificent Lincolns ever built—inspired by the new Continental Mark III, and crafted in the tradition of every Continental ever built.

Longer, lower, and more spacious than any Lincolns before them, these cars have the clean, timeless character of the Continental in every classic line. Inside, there is an elegance not found in any other motorcar. The engine is new, the transmission is new, the suspension is new. And for an extra measure of lasting quietness, they are the only cars in their class with single unit body and frame construction.

By all means, see these new Lincolns.

The Continental Mark III Lincolns. Continental prices are now within the reach of every fine car buyer.

THE NEW CONTINENTAL MARK III

... classic elegance in its finest form

Here—in four incomparable new models—is the greatest Continental of them all.

As you would expect, the new Mark III has advanced new features: a retractable rear window, for example, in all models including the convertible.

It has uncommon luxury: exemplified by leathers imported from Bridge of Weir, Scotland, and in the Continental tradition, the engine is so smooth you can balance a coin on the hood.

And because this car is built in the newest, most modern automobile plant in the world, with the highest standards of craftsmanship, the Continental Mark III is now priced just slightly above the fine car field.

You're invited to inspect the new Continental Mark III.

Senator Asks Revival of GI Schools Plan

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Sen. Richard L. Neuberger, D. Ore., called today for a revival of educational provisions of the GI bill of rights to give the United States an even chance with Russia in the present race to outer space.

Neuberger told the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce that Russia's successful satellite experiment gives the U.S. government "a new responsibility" to foster basic scientific research to create means of training space technicians and researchers.

"Although the GI bill made possible the training after World War II of 450,000 civil engineers, 115,000 physical and research scientists, and 180,000 doctors and nurses, our government nevertheless abandoned it in January of 1955," the senator said.

On the other hand, he said, Russia has accelerated her progress for training young people in technical fields and in 1956, the Soviet Union graduated twice as many students from science courses as did American universities.

Neuberger said a government-supported program, such as that provided by the GI bill of rights, is "urgently needed if we are to make the best use of our nation's young brains and talents."

"This would make it possible for many young people of limited financial means to attend college, otherwise many gifted young men and women will be permanently lost to the classroom," he said. "Our nation is rich in many ways, but we cannot countenance the waste of human resources."

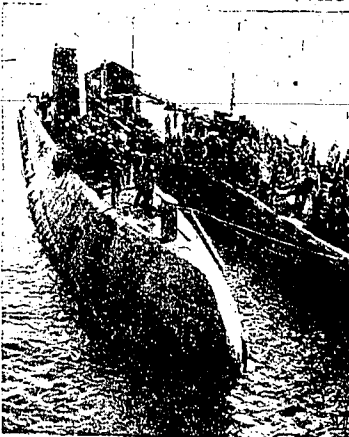

Attend Meeting

HAYLEY, Oct. 31—Mrs. Fred Allen, Lucille Friedman, Margaret Brooks, Mrs. Ward Beck, Mrs. Lovett Campbell, Mrs. C. E. Arndt and Amy Gamble of the Sun Valley Business and Professional Women's club attended the semi-annual meeting of the southeastern district at Burley.

The spring meeting is slated for Gooding.

Nautilus Returns From Arctic

Friends and relatives meet the atomic submarine Nautilus at a Graton, Conn., dock Tuesday after the underwater craft returned from the Arctic. During the 11-day Arctic trip the Nautilus spent five and one-half days cruising under the Arctic ice pack. The navy announced the craft traveled farther north than any other ship on plastic nose. Nautilus is an area which was cracked and damaged during Arctic trip. The damage, including a hole eight or 10 inches long, was attributed by navy to "rigors of the sea." (AP wirephoto)

Nuclear Tests Help Weapon Design in U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Weapon designers are making a big jump in the design of the recently concluded atomic tests in Nevada.

An authoritative source told the United Press this information will be possible to make more powerful and efficient hydrogen warheads for long-range missiles.

The tests further the host of special purpose atomic weapons for use on the battlefield or in anti-aircraft missile defense against enemy intercontinental rockets with hydrogen warheads.

—Hasten perfection of many H-bombs—the so-called “clean” atomic weapons—about which U. S. officials have been dropping hints of late.

The 1957 Nevada tests began May 28 and ended Oct. 7. In 24 weapons or experimental devices were exploded, 10 more than in the previous year of 1956. Their power in terms of TNT ranged from around 1,000 tons to around 15,000 tons. The bombs included the hydrogen bomb, the first was a thermonuclear bomb.

This year's tests included the first test firing of an operational air-to-air missile, the first test of a new type of atomic warhead, not merely a test, model, but a weapon being used in a combat situation. A similar warhead is being produced for the Nike-Hercules ground-to-air missile which will defend U. S. cities from enemy bombs.

The tests also included the first test of an atomic charge placed deep under the ground. This shot fascinated scientists. Scientists expect it and similar shots planned for the future to provide new information about the earth's crust.

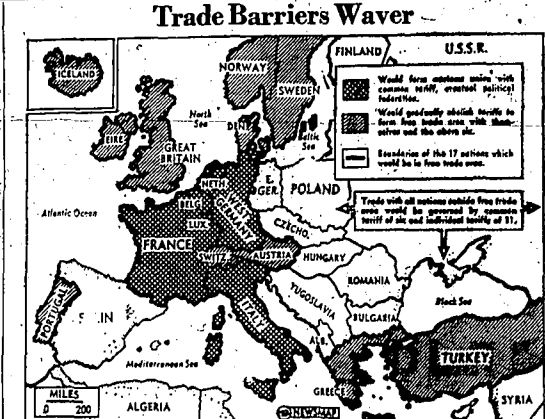

Scientists speculate that when the superman-made radioactivity has diminished enough to permit drilling, an Alaskan cat of gem-like materials created by the atom's multi-million-degree heat will be found.

Although the power of the underground blast was only 1,000 to 2,000 tons, its shock waves were recorded on seismographs 350 miles away.

An atomic submarine was launched in Nevada will be proof-tested in the 1958 program starting next April at Elizabeth in the Pacific.

The Nevada tests, he said, “are extremely valuable for the Pacific tests. The two programs are interrelated. Many of the Nevada shots are pilot experiments whereas many in the Pacific are actual weapons.”

Seventeen European nations have agreed to create a European free trade area as the result of a recent meeting in Paris of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation. The plan grew out of an agreement among six nations (Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands and Belgium) to form a common market in the near future. The plan, which would gradually abolish tariffs on most commodities. This would, in effect, create a free trade area of all 17. In addition, the Scandinavian countries (Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Finland, Iceland, and the Netherlands) have agreed to form a free trade area with the six nations. The free trade area comprises presents difficulties but many consider its adoption inevitable.

Construction of New Student Union Starts at Idaho State

IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, Oct. 31.—Construction of Idaho state college's new Student Union building started Tuesday afternoon when Russell Albright, a junior pharmacy student, turned the first shovel of earth.

C. H. Ellis Construction company, the building contractor, had equipment waiting at the site between the old building and the stadium. After the brief formal ceremony, ISU President Carl W. McIntosh drove a huge earth-mover through the sections of foundation remaining from temporary classroom buildings which formerly occupied the site.

Robert King, Twin Falls, president of the Associated Students of ISU, introduced Dr. McIntosh and other key persons in planning of the new student center. John Korba, director of maintenance and operations, Earl Pond, graduate manager and advisor to the student council; Jay Brown, Student Union director and advisor to the Student Union board of control; and Cedric Allen, Pocatello, architect, who designed the building.

Albright, Sacramento, Calif., is chairman of the board of control governing body for union activities. The Student Union is being built with funds of the Associated Students.

Dr. McIntosh said the ceremony was the second formal groundbreaking in the past 10 years, a period in which an average of one building was completed each year.

Indian Population Growth Reported

CRALEIGH, Okla., Oct. 31 (AP)—The Indian population in America is growing too large for reservations.

That is the view of Glenn T. Simmons, U. S. commissioner of Indian affairs, who spoke yesterday to delegates of the National Congress of American Indians.

Simmons defended his bureau's controversial relocation policy, declaring:

“We are carrying forward our education service program to provide a kind of outlet for the Indian people who are unable to make a decent living from reservation lands and those who prefer to engage in some non-agricultural line of work.”

Albright, Sacramento, Calif., is chairman of the board of control governing body for union activities. The Student Union is being built with funds of the Associated Students.

Millions Hear Graham Talks At New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The official tally on attendance at Billy Graham's New York Crusade meetings showed the evangelistic effort attracted 1,145,000 persons. It was announced yesterday.

The evangelists staff also revealed that 60,577 recorded "decisions for Christ" in the course of the crusade, which began May 18 in Madison Square Garden and officially closed last Sunday with a rally in the Polo Grounds.

A spokesman for Graham said the evangelist had canceled all engagements for the next three weeks to Montreal, N. C., home and recovery from a knee injury suffered when he was hit by a car in the Polo Grounds due to begin April 27.

Members of Graham's evangelistic "team" will go without him to San Francisco for a ministerial seminar Nov. 11 to prepare for a crusade in the Cow Palace due to begin April 27.

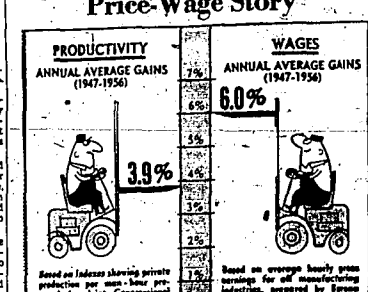

Graham also will hold a series of evangelistic meetings in the Caribbean area in January, a crusade in Charlotte, N. C., next fall, and another in Australia in early 1959.

Rude Awakening

TURKOOKE, Ala., Oct. 31 (AP)—Deputies Bobby Pailino and Ray Parnell set the perfect trap for the owner of a 1956 Buick Wildcat moonshine whiskey they found in a field, then set back comfortably to wait for him to show up.

In fact, they were so comfortable they went to sleep and the bootlegger recovered his booze and walked off.

Kewhart chart shows the relationship between productivity and wages over the past 10 years. While productivity has moved forward about 18 per cent annually from 1947 to date, wages have climbed 6 per cent each year, and the economy, the economist says, needs to increase prices. Can the spiral end? Yes, economists report, when productivity matches or exceeds wage increases. Data from Steel magazine.

U. S. Keeping Radar's 'Eye' On Red Area

SAMSON, Turkey, Oct. 31 (AP)—High on a hill overlooking this Turkish Black sea port, a powerful radar force men look across the water with a radar eye aimed at the Soviet Union.

When attention was suddenly focused on Samson last week when an American aviation journal said the radar post here was the backbone of a system enabling the United States to spot a major portion of Russia's long range missile and rocket tests.

"There is no question that security is the watchword of the American airman stationed here, from Capt. Leo Rabot of Kansas on down. They can admit nothing but the obvious fact that they are here."

Tough Turkish sentiment is on constant patrol outside the barbed wire that rings the installation, housed in a cluster of old farm buildings at a radius of about 200 yards. No one can enter without clearance from the highest American and Turkish authorities.

However, the small size of the radar scanners plus the fact that the detachment is commanded by a single officer with no civilian technicians makes it doubtful the operation has the high priority with which it has been credited.

Essentially it looks very much like one of the early warning radar stations that the United States is known to operate in Alaska, Newfoundland and other Arctic regions.

Assisting Captain Rabot, here on leave, is Lt. George Genereux, Quincy, Mass., and about 200 enlisted men. The officers live in private homes while the men are quartered in the comfortable Vidinli hotel overlooking the sea.

While the air force men can talk, townfolk and American civilians in the area tend to consider the Samson installation's mission as of less than world-shaking importance.

"This is only one of a number of U. S. bases along the coast," a non-military American said. "There are others at Amarn, Eres, Ayazik, Sile and Trabzon. Maybe together they add up to something, but it's doubtful it's anything important."

Cheerful Woman Displays Courage Despite Handicap

BOSTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—A cheerful 24-year-old army wife painted with her teeth today to prove that her body is only 95 per cent paralyzed.

Mrs. Martin Roberts, Gilsum, Mass., mother of two young children, showed off and amazed audiences at the more than 100 shows she has staged since a will to find meaning in life, were not affected by the disease which struck her down two years ago.

Her inspiring performance with a "mouth stick" was part of a demonstration at the Lemuel Shattuck hospital to show how modern occupational therapy methods can teach an almost completely handicapped person to work creatively.

Mrs. Roberts, who has only the use of her neck, throat and jaw muscles, spends her days in a bed equipped with a chest respirator and sleeps in an iron lung at night.

She wastes little time brooding over the cruel fate visited upon her and many thousands of others.

Secret of Life on Other Planets May Be Solved by Explorations of Space

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Are we the only humans living in this incomprehensible vast universe of oxygen and all other conditions for your kind of life? Dr. Shapley reacts.

Or are there people like us, or even superior, on other planets near or far away?

Only by exploring space can man begin to answer this question, he said, and he is sure it will come in time.

"We are not alone," declares Dr. Harlow Shapley, famous Harvard astronomer. He estimates there could be 100 million planets capable of supporting life as we know it.

There are billions upon billions of stars in the universe. Even supposing that most have no planets at all, there still could be 100 billion planets.

Some are arid, some terribly hot or cold, some bathed in poisonous fumes.

What is the meaning of Mars' "canals," of Jupiter's strange markings? Are the asteroids the belt of flying chunks of matter between Jupiter and Mars, really the remains of an exploded planet?

But reaching even the nearest star, to see if it has planets at all, seems impossibly beyond man's dreams.

This star is Alpha Centauri. It is so far away that it takes four years and four months for its light to reach us, and light travels 186,000 miles per second. Physical laws say it is impossible for anything to travel faster than light—science as yet has no inkling even how to approach that fabulous speed.

Yet the chances of learning about life elsewhere are not entirely hopeless.

Men in space could build giant telescopes, far more powerful than any on earth. Our earth's air distorts starlight, blurs clear seeing.

Giant observatories on space platforms, or on the moon, could look clearly and accurately vast distances into space, some astronomers believe such seeing could help learn secrets of the birth of the universe, or whether life exists on other planets.

Both American and Russian scientists are talking of putting telescopes in the sky. They could take pictures, or use TV eyes.

Space opens vast new frontiers for good or bad, depending on how nations use the new potentials and how they guard against anything to threaten life.

A space station hung some 22,000 miles above the earth could provide continuous television for half the world at a time.

It could circle at such a speed, relative to the earth's own rotation, that it would appear to stay always at the same point above the earth. TV signals could be reflected from it into homes over the whole Western Hemisphere.

Other satellites at chosen heights could survey the world with telescopic and TV eyes, or radar, prying into any country's secrets. Military men see them also as potential bases for launching guided missiles with atomic warheads to impose the will of the sky-maiden nation.

Rocket and space control, though, is not likely to become one nation's monopoly, many scientists believe. Checking is more likely. War in space, aimed at destroying an unfriendly space station, is mentioned as a possibility.

Prof. Hermann Oberth of Germany, a famous space pioneer, proposed a giant mirror, composed of many facets, above the earth. It might be 50 miles in diameter, focusing the sun's rays upon the earth, as you might do with a magnifying glass.

For good, part of the mirror could be used safely to light large towns at night, or to melt dangerous Antarctic icebergs, open winter-frozen seas, counteract night frosts threatening fruit crops over perhaps after temperatures and cloud movements to bring rain where needed.

Ketchum Get Second Library As Building Nears Completion

SUN VALLEY, Oct. 31—Ketchum's second public library building is nearing completion and the new structure will hold not only 1,000 but 2,000 of its history in the near future when the finishing touches are added to the structure.

Mrs. Heister Barlow, treasurer, says the library, just as in 1945, is in "good condition" with the cost of the new building well within the budget.

Edie Seagle, chairman of the building committee, pointed out the comfortable margin the new building has over the old one in terms of material and labor. However, he warned that chairs and tables are still needed and suggested that local civic groups might want to provide some part of that.

At present, the only major part of construction left is flooring and lighting. The 45 by 60 foot building of concrete veneered in Mediterranean pink tile, rafters and paneling, is being stained wood, houses a main library room, conference room, utility, storage and rest room. The main room, that includes a casual reading area and a children's section, will be painted platinum gray with an aqua ceiling and butternut beams. A vinyl cork tile floor and coral colored metal shelves are also called for by the present plans. The men's building committee, however, that has ruled all major construction details with a firm hand promises to give the women of the organization full liberty to change their mind about plans for interior decoration.

Japan Region Hit With Earthquakes

OSAKA, Oct. 31—A rolling earthquake shook northeastern Honshu, including the Tokyo area, today.

The Tokyo central meteorological observatory said the epicenter of the quake was some 40 miles under the sea 130 miles northeast of Tokyo.

It was most severely felt in Miyagi and Fukushima prefectures, where the seismograph registered three on the scale of seven (rather strong).

In the Tokyo area it registered Grade two, or weak.

The tremor rocked tall buildings and rattled window panes in Tokyo. There were no reports of casualties or damage.

Gem Solon Says Defense Not Hurt

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 31—Senator Dworkin, R. Ida., told a meeting here he did not think the defense budget cut of $60 million dollars last year would retard the defense program.

"There has been no dearth of funds for scientific development," he said.

Dworkin, conferred with atomic energy commission officials while visiting here.

"There has been too much apathy and indifference in utilizing the billions of dollars appropriated for national defense," he said.

Second Sputnik Is Planned by Soviet

LONDON, Oct. 31—The Communist Daily Worker reported in a dispatch from Moscow today that the Russians definitely would launch their second sputnik Nov. 1, the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, if weather permitted.

The newspaper's Moscow correspondent, Sam Huse, said it has not been announced officially yet but the second will be bigger than the first.

He said plans call for the launching to be part of a "grand fireworks display" showing Soviet technical advancements of the last 40 years.

Pact Is Reached On Labor Clash

SPokane, Oct. 31—Federal mediator Louis Egan said today agreement has been reached on a contract dispute to end a 16-day strike at some 300 men at the Okla. state company plant at Coeur d'Alene.

He said the agreement is subject to approval of the members of the International Brotherhood of America but that TWA negotiators would recommend acceptance. He declined to give terms until after the vote is taken Friday night.

Police Receiving Eastern Stations

"ships" on police shortwave radio Thursday hampered officers searching for lost persons and cars in the Eden area during the morning.

A ship on the shortwave radio relayed in local stations and police cars receiving broadcasts from stations as far east as Minneapolis and some cases from Kansas. Usually FM radio is transmitted only a relatively short distance.

A radio technician explained some stations in the east are on the same frequency as local stations. A broadcast goes out as a "broad" layer of heavy air. The broadcast "bounced off" and is picked up by another station as a distant point.

Judge Learns Idaho Agency Can Overrule

BOISE, Oct. 31 (UP)—Procedures under at least one Idaho law allow an Idaho administrative body the right to overrule a decision of the judiciary. An administrative body, Judge W. K. Smith said yesterday. Smith said he wanted to call attention to Idaho's 1955 youth rehabilitation act, which he said permitted the action. Smith said he had ordered a 16-year-old boy jailed pending outcome of appeal of commitment to the state industrial school. Judge M. Oliver Koeckel ruled the boy could be held, at least until Koeckel could hear the case. The boy's attorney then withdrew the appeal which automatically referred the case to the state board of health, Smith said. Smith said the health board ordered the boy released before he could be taken to jail. He said the 1955 rehabilitation act gave the health board the right to ignore suggestions of the court in juvenile cases. Aside from the procedure in which the judiciary may be ignored, Smith said he thought the health board was doing a "great job" in medical and psychological phases of juvenile work.

Hawk With Radar Eye

Noosed skyward, these three new Hawk missiles were displayed in Washington, Oct. 28 at the annual meeting of the Association of the United States Army. The army said its new Hawk is designed to shoot down low-flying planes through use of a "radar" eye that ignores stationary objects but spreads the missile toward a target that's moving in the air—even at tree-top levels. Salty Phrases Aid Sailor Who Pilots Antarctic's Dog Teams

MCMURDO, Antarctica, Oct. 31 (UP)—It may be "mush" at the North Pole and in Alaska, but it's "ree haw, haw" and a couple of cuss words that make the dogs run at the bottom of the world. Aviation Boatwatches—Male-3/c John Yeckley, St. Benedict, Pa., who drives and cares for the 17 sled dogs here, said driving a sled is much like pushing the plow back on the farm, but much less work. The big problem is making the dogs stop. Yeckley, 21, not only is the dog's best friend, he's their drill sergeant, housekeeper and chef. He demands and gets instant obedience from his charges, using his big right fist, if necessary, to keep the dogs in line. He said that once his dogs, Male-3/c and Siberian Huskies, get going across the Antarctic snows they want to continue until they drop. They see and howl (go right and left) pretty well, he said, but it often takes plenty of repetition and salty language to keep them on the track, especially when the dogs think they know the route better than the driver, Yeckley said. Another problem, he said, is the unscheduled slowdown that comes when the lead dog finds an ice hummock that resembles a fire plug.

They've been inoculated with American flu shots.

Concern Over Reds' Sputnik Noted by 'Ike'

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—No one mentioned Sputnik by name but the shadow of the Russian satellite across President Eisenhower's news conference yesterday was just as real as if it had been revolving around his head.

The questions and answers reflected the shock of Sputnik on both the American people and the Eisenhower administration—a shock into an acute realization of Russian progress in missiles, science and scientific brains.

Nothing showed better the kind of silly paradise in which this country has been living than Eisenhower's own words in explaining his desire to promote American-British cooperation in nuclear development. Under laws now on the books, they've been there for years—they can't share it with nuclear secrets with its allies although cooperation with them might have put the allies ahead of Russia.

These laws apparently were meant to prevent the secrets from falling into Russian hands. The Russians have been doing all right by themselves, Eisenhower pointed out.

Most of our security laws were written at a time when we thought we had a monopoly. Now we are getting to the point where we know that a great many of our secrets are known to the enemy, but they are still secret from our friends, which seems rather an anomalous situation.

As a result of Sputnik, Eisenhower will go to Paris in December for an allied summit meeting to talk more cooperation on defense among the allies. The British spurring him into that idea.

"They had a real shock from Sputnik. Since the Russians were able to build a missile to shoot Sputnik into outer space, they should be able to build missiles that could be shot over Britain from Moscow."

That this country needs more scientists is hardly a new idea, since it's been talked about for years. But it was emphasized anew by Eisenhower who said his scientific advisers want the schools to produce more scientists.

Just how long the shock of Sputnik will affect the American people will depend in large part on what kind of leadership Eisenhower shows in keeping the public aware of the need for scientific development, especially in missiles and outer space progress.

This was brought home to him by one questioner who quoted an interview with Dr. Vannevar Bush. The "World War II scientific director" who isn't optimistic about our overtaking the Russians in the outer space race unless the public is alerted and that the alerting is the President's job.

Eisenhower in effect said he was aware of that but indicated it's a pretty complicated problem.

Swedish filling made from chopped or mashed hard-cooked eggs will benefit from the addition of finely diced celery and green pepper along with the usual mayonnaise.

Scientist Sees No Cause for Worry in Atomic Test Fallout

(Editor's Note: What's the case for and against future atomic tests? Dr. Thomas H. Shipman, chief of the health division of the Los Alamos scientific laboratory—which is working to clarify the atomic fallout picture—sums up his findings to date in a simple sentence: "If atomic tests continue for 20 years at their present rate the worldwide increase in radiation from fallout for a man's lifetime will be much less than from wearing a luminous wristwatch.")

Expressed another way, a person who undergoes ordinary X-ray studies of his stomach and gallbladder will receive almost three times more radiation in a lifetime than he would in a lifetime from fallout.

Normal "background radiation" received by a human is calculated at about 100 roentgens in a lifetime, varying considerably in different parts of the world. It comes from the food he eats and radiation naturally present in some degree in

Grange Proposes 'Urban' Program For Rural Areas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The National Grange is calling for planning programs for the urbanization of rural areas, a process it refers to as "rur-urbanization."

Roy Battles, assistant to the master of the farm organization, said today this process often means a "hodge-podge of string-towns along highways leading to metropolitan areas."

"First, comes a few houses, then more, and finally stores and gas stations. This often fragments adjacent farm lands, often leading to rural slums and requiring costly and inefficient, string-out utility and other facility installations."

Battles said a major problem in this development is the cost of public services.

"What will pay for them? Will the newcomer pay his fair share of the cost of new roads, parks, schools, playgrounds, sewage and water installation, police and fire protection, or will existing property owners pay the lion's share?"

Large Helicopter Claimed by Reds

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Russia today claimed a world record for a new helicopter which is said to be capable of carrying up to 80 persons.

Moscow Radio said the helicopter, described as the first to be powered by two turbo-rotor engines, carried a record payload of 26,600 pounds to an altitude of 7,870 feet. The broadcast heard here said the craft also can be used to transport tractors, bulldozers and other equipment.

Payment of Note Is Sought in Suit

C. G. Wyllie filed suit Thursday in Twin Falls probate court to collect $142.27 balance due on a promissory note from George E. Jones and Arminia Jones.

Wyllie says Mr. and Mrs. Jones signed and delivered a $3,000 promissory note to him on April 11, 1953. He says $2,537.73 has been paid. He asks $142.27 interest plus attorney fees. He is represented by Attorney H. N. Jewell, Twin Falls.

Warnings of future generations from tests. He, Dr. Hermann Muller of Indiana University, and Dr. James P. Crow of Wisconsin hold that since fallout is distributed around the world, "we can be sure that several thousands or perhaps more will be discussed or deformed or will die prematurely or be otherwise impaired as a consequence of fallout if the present rates of atomic testing continue."

NO STAMPS!

CASH SAVINGS AS YOU GO

Here's Why Cardinal Does Not Give Stamps!

The Naked Truth!

It's no secret among grocery store operators that when stamps are given the price automatically GOES UP from 2% to 3% ON EVERYTHING IN THE STORE! This is a proven fact! Comparison of Cardinal's prices (now) that they do not give stamps) with prices at trading stamp stores PROVE THAT THE STAMPS YOU GET ARE BY NO MEANS FREE! When we started giving stamps some time ago we had to raise our prices on all foodstuffs accordingly. Now that we do not give stamps, we lowered all the prices. That friends, is the naked truth. So why bother with stamps when you can save the cash and spend it as you like!

It's Christmas Each Day for Stricken Boy

—By "OHO," Mass., Oct. 31—
"Little Boy Blue" hasn't even thought of Santa Claus' visit in about two months.

Every day is Christmas for the little boy who touched a nation's heart.

Lately and forgotten less than a month ago, the dark-haired 9-year-old wished for a few birthday cards. To date, he has received about a quarter million cards, letters and presents.

The mail at Lakeville sanatorium here, where Little Boy Blue is a patient with incurable muscular dystrophy, still comes in at the rate of one bag a day. That figures to 200 bags, or more than two tons of mail, since his appeal was caught up by warm-hearted Americans.

It all started early this month when "Francis K." as the hospital staff identifies him, asked for "four or five" birthday cards. He felt unwanted and had no mail or visitors in four months. He was alone. His mother was dead. His father was in prison for killing her.

Francis' 9th birthday on Oct. 8 was capped by a closed circuit television show by Hollywood stars just for him and the other boys and girls at the sanatorium.

Most of the confusion has subsided, but Francis is still dazed by it all. A doctor says he is "much happier now, more pepped up and more responsive. This thing has really worked a miracle for him psychologically."

Federal Aid Provides Spark For City's Development Plan

(Editor's note: Across the nation, towns are despoiling in their centers as residents and business alike move to the outskirts. Here is an unusual story of one city that did something about it.)

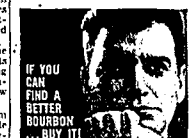

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 21 (AP)—This city has stopped waiting to die of old age.

New Haven has embarked upon a 120 million dollar "total redevelopment" program that has attracted nationwide attention and earned it the title of "new New Haven."

Before it happened aboard the redevelopment plan, the aging process had left its mark on the city. "For rent" signs along the city's prime business block, Church street, nearly outnumbered the rent signs. Narrow streets were crowded with bumper-to-bumper traffic. Shoppers headed for suburban retail centers to avoid the downtown congestion. And a few blocks from Church street, nearly 600 families huddled amid rotting, smelly, ragged tenement buildings, littered streets and dark back alleys.

This was Oak street, one of the worst slums in the east, with its blight threatening the surrounding neighborhoods, including the campus of Yale university only a few blocks away.

Then came the government's slum clearance program, known as title I. Under this plan, the federal gov-

Seek Philippines Presidency

Pictured above are four of the seven candidates on the Nov. 12 presidential ballot. Carlos P. Garcia, top right, who succeeded to the presidency after the death of President Ramon Maguayay in a plane crash last March 17, is regarded by some observers as a shoo-in. Garcia leads the strong Nacionalista party. His strongest opposition reportedly will come from Jose Yulo, top left. The Liberal party candidate, Carlos M. Recto, bottom left, and Antonio Quinsino, bottom right, are considered longshot dark horse bets at best. (NEA photo)

Danger Listed In Production In Atom Raid

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Hydrogen bombs dropped on Los Alamos, N.M., and Wichita, Kan., could wipe out a major part of the nation's aircraft and missile producing plants.

Air attacks on Pittsburgh and Chicago could cripple 87 percent of the nation's electrical facilities. A hydrogen bomb on Detroit could deal a serious blow to the nation's vital machine tool industry and other key facilities.

"Despite all the talk about the diversification of industry," the U.S. today is in greater danger of being completely paralyzed by an enemy air attack than ever before in history," Leonard C. Yacene, head of Patent, Factory Location service, told the United Press.

He said that despite repeated warnings, "our defense industries today are clustered in a few primary target areas as they were at the beginning of World War II."

He said the only thing that has changed "is that the potential enemy is far more able to reach and destroy those target areas than he was at the time of Pearl Harbor."

Citing the lack of progress in dispersing industry, Yacene said the same 22 metropolitan areas which accounted for 50 per cent of the nation's manufacturing output 20 years ago, still account for the same percentage of total output.

Yacene said without government control over the location of new industries, companies naturally concentrate their facilities in areas favored by economic factors.

He said a realistic and enforceable dispersion program must be put into effect immediately.

Yacene said the national security resources board, the defense department, the commerce department and the office of defense mobilization all have emphasized the need for industrial dispersion since 1948.

He also noted that two congressional committees have recommended the urgent action along this line.

Yet, in all this time, we have made no headway whatever," Yacene said.

Armstrong Ready For Russian Trip

Buenos Aires, Oct. 31 (AP)—Louis (Slim) Armstrong said last night he is ready to take his trip to Russia "anytime" since the U.S. government did the "right thing" in the Little Rock integration crisis.

Armstrong had rejected in no uncertain terms an invitation from the state department to visit Russia shortly after the eruption of the integration crisis in Arkansas.

"President Eisenhower turned up and did the right thing in sending federal troops," Armstrong said. "I'm ready to go to Russia anytime."

California Jolted By Strong Quake

UNION, Calif., Oct. 31 (AP)—A fairly strong earthquake "jarred" Mendocino and parts of Humboldt county last night, but no damage was reported.

"The tremor shook lights and rattled furniture here," said the seismograph at the University of California in Berkeley recorded the 6.4-magnitude quake.

The seismologist Thomas Tuzo said he was unable to get a reading on the Loma Prieta scale. He described it as "a fairly strong one."

Last of Veterans Sign for Ranches

RUPERT, Oct. 31 (AP)—Bureau of reclamation officials said 23 of the 33 veterans called to Rupert last week have signed to accept farm lands allotted them on the North Side project.

Witt says he was with two grandsons, Clarence and Bert Middleton, Buhl. He failed to get any pheasants.

Warning Is Given On Influenza Cure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The government warned today that bogus "cures" for Asian flu may be dumped on the market, and promised to prosecute those responsible.

The warning was issued as the government's rough count of flu cases since the Asian-type epidemic last summer soared to more than 1,500,000.

The food and drug administration said in simultaneous announcements that they will act against any drug manufacturer making "false and misleading claims" that their products can prevent or cure Asian flu.

Bureaucratic Bottlenecks of Satellite Program Are Noted

By DOUGLAS LARSEN, NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Russia's Sputnik may be logging more global circles than the U.S. Vanguard, but the Soviet satellite program can never hope to catch up with the equally bureaucratic complexity of the American space competitor.

President Eisenhower reveals: "The first serious discussion of an earth satellite as a scientific experiment to be incorporated in the program for the International Geophysical Year took place at the meeting of the international council of scientific unions in Rome in October, 1954."

Today, three years later, the USSR still has its fingers in the U.S. satellite pie which may be started baking at that meeting.

Other cooks which have moved in on the so-called policy level include the National IOY committee, National Academy of Sciences, White House, state and defense departments, army, air force, navy, Smithsonian Institution and Martin Marietta company.

Each of these outfits has jealousy guarded and exercised its prerogative of making decisions about Vanguard. The state department is in the act because tracking stations had to be built in foreign countries.

Army engineers built the stations. The air force is supposed to provide launching facilities at its Patrick air force base in Florida.

The Smithsonian is in charge of visual tracking of the satellite from its observatories around the country. The science organizations and the IOY group have exercised a nebulous kind of clearing-house, advisory function.

And of course, the U.S. taxpayer has paid for it. The tune of $110 million dollars while may be increased since the Russians got into space first.

"The only thing out of this world about Vanguard is the red tape connected with it," says a harassed navy administrator officer who has tried in vain to streamline the organization.

With all these agencies having to approve almost all decisions, there have been incredible delays. It took six months before a decision could be reached on what markings to put on the rocket, which would fire it, for example.

Before any official connected with the program can make a speech or the most minor announcement about Vanguard, minimum of 10 officials have to read and approve it first. It is said that the many scientific problems which have

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"You say that parents should read to their children and I think you are right and I would love to do it but my aged eight, just doesn't listen. I begin reading and he is all for it but before I have read a page he is out of his chair, looking out of the window, fiddling with the dog, anything but listening. What can I do?"

Reading to children is something like telling them a story. Many factors are concerned and have to be carefully observed. First, the story must be suited to the child's understanding of the language. Second, the child's interests, his span of attention and his state of mind. An eight-year-old child usually has a short span of attention; that means the story for him must be short and to the point. All children want action in their stories. Something must be happening every minute. The story must move fast which means that there must be very little description, very little moralizing. The story must tell itself as the reader, or the teller, unfolds it.

To read well to children, the reader must first study the story to make certain it is suitable for the audience. Even when the Book-of-the-Month is labeled for an 8-year-old it may not be suitable for the entire group. That must be considered. It is not necessary to read every word of the story; the reader should, so through it, select the important paragraphs—the ones that are the heart of the story—mark them, then read aloud what remains to make certain that the tale holds together, telling the story rapidly and with enough drama to hold the audience.

The mother or teacher who is reading to children is trying to stimulate interest in reading. And this is one good way of doing it. Of course this takes time and calls for a lot of patience. But it is all necessary if the reading is to result in attracting the children to the book.

As the children learn to read it is a good idea to pick up a book, let the child read it, and then read the story and then hand it to the child to finish himself.

Even the teachers in secondary school will find these hints useful in getting their students to read the prescribed book. By judicious skipping they can hold the interest of the class to such books as David Copperfield, Silas Marner, or even Huckleberry Finn.

All lines of a play or a story are not equally important and if the teacher trains the student to find the important lines or paragraphs

New Approaches Take Open Mind

New approaches to beauty are like new approaches to fashion. They take an open mind. They also take sound judgment.

The fact that everybody else is wearing bangs doesn't necessarily mean that you will find bangs becoming. On the other hand, you shouldn't reject them because you've been comfortable with the same hair style for the past 10 years.

Developing a sense of beauty means that you learn, through experience and observation, to choose and reject what's right and what's wrong for you.

If a certain shade of blue makes you look as if you had the vapors, stay away from it no matter who's wearing it. But if a new and daring eye shadow comes along that you think you'd like to try, don't be timid about it.

Give it a whirl. You may find that you've scored a real beauty hit.

Trend Foreseen By Architect for 2-Story Houses

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Correspondent
STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (NEA)—If you push nature around, it will push back eventually.

A conservationist talking? No. A woman who spends most of her busy life plotting man-made edifices on nature's landscape.

Mrs. Christine P. Salmon is a practicing architect who really practices. In addition to maintaining her regular business she is also a consultant for the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, for whom she architects the development of two daughters, ages 9 and 6.

And she is doubly devoted to her profession; her husband, F. Cuthbert Salmon, is also an architect. They are business as well as marital partners and share their teaching and consulting roles too.

Unlike many architects, Mrs. Salmon does not name as her pet peeve the impractical woman client who can't understand why she can't have that window just where the condensation ought to be. She saves her wrath for the professional builder who refuses to "respect nature and be sensitive to the contour and natural beauty of the site."

"It may be exciting for a builder to move in heavy equipment and clear the place flat and build row on row of one-story houses," she says. But they turn out to be a blot on the landscape.

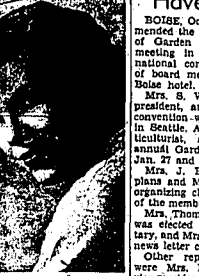

And with just a little more care the houses could be adjusted to the contour of the land and more trees retained. She is speaking, mind you, of the inexpensive, so-called development houses, as well as those of the carriage trade.

Better living would result, she feels. If builders, architects and landscapers would work together more. And it would become permanent. Already in many new development sections, "the floors are heaving, the lumber is shrinking and the roofs are leaking."

By 1975, Mrs. Salmon predicts, some trends will be reversed. If the preference for large families continues, the two-bedroom home may become as obsolete as the upstair bedrooms. Houses will have to be larger.

And as building sites get scarcer, homes may become vertical again. The convenient one-floor house, so popular currently, may also become a mode of the past, as we are forced to build up—and down.

Cross State, Little Six Leagues Dominate Action In Valley Football Slate

Magic Valley high school football enters its final stages this week-end and the Cross State and Little Six league-dominate the action. Only one more round of play remains for the schools and the action will be between Friday and Saturday games. The Twin Falls Bruins will be fighting to stay out of the Big Six cellar when they travel to Idaho Falls. The Tigers, who have won only one game this year, currently are in sixth place and the Bruins hold their only conference victory over them.

Twin Falls Rifle Club Elects Officers

Albert Peterson was elected president of the Twin Falls Rifle Club Monday night at the group's reorganization meeting. Mrs. Eva Rosa was named secretary and Andy Yarrington was elected Range officer. The group also appointed Grant Sanborn, Frank Jenkins and Al Becker as assistant tournament scorers for the state postal and Magic Valley rifle matches.

Other action of the group voted to enter two rifle teams and a pistol team in the Magic Valley league. The pistol team will be new this year and is not connected with the pistol division of the local club. The rifle team will be composed of members who have been reserved for 10 p.m. Monday and Thursday at the club.

Members also voted to submit a bid to the National Rifleman's association for the right to conduct the 1958 Idaho state outdoor rifle championships and the gallery pistol shoot next spring.

Inter-rifle matches will begin Monday at 8 p.m. Competitors will be divided into four teams and matches will be made on a handicap basis according to the regulations of the NRA. Members of the teams will be allowed to fire official scores on the club's other Monday or Thursday nights.

All interested persons are invited to join the club or to watch the matches.

Bengals Drill Without Top Quarterback

POCAHONTO, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Idaho State College Bengals scrimmaged Wednesday against the single A team of the Idaho State Bengals. Ken Peterson, who is still recovering from an ear infection and what was thought to be a concussion, was not in the game. Coach Babe Garcia has said of Peterson that he is "the most improved player I ever coached." Garcia said if Peterson isn't ready for Saturday's game against Colorado State, he may start at quarterback, a sophomore transfer. The game will be played in Pocatento, a guard who was hurt in the game against the Bengals, was injured, and Duane Henson, who returned his leg against Colorado State, was also injured.

However, speedy Charlie Campbell is back in action and Bert Peterson, who has been out since after being on the sidelines for several weeks.

ISU is undefeated in five games this season and leads in the Rocky Mountain conference.

SIDELINED

BOSTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Forward Jim Lanning will be lost to the Bruins for an indefinite period because of an injured knee. Lanning suffered the injury in a game against New York Saturday night.

LeBaron, Wilson Stage Run-Away For Offense Honors in Pro League

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31 (AP)—Little Eddie LeBaron, Washington quarterback, and Tommy Wilson, hard running Los Angeles Rams back, are running away from their opposition in the passing and running departments in the National Football League. The league statistics showed Wednesday that LeBaron, topped the passers with a 10.96 average per pass. The Redskins have completed 44 of 67 attempts for 734 yards, seven touchdowns and a pass completion percentage of 65.7 per cent.

Wilson, in his second year of pro football, increased his ground gaining lead to 106 yards over runnerback Earl Edwards of the Cleveland Browns. The Rams runner has gained 450 yards on 88 attempts for a 5.1 average. McClellenny has 344 for 72 and a 4.8 average.

Third is Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals with 305 for 59.9 and 3.2 average.

Tommy O'Connell of the Eastern Conference is leading Cleveland Browns, is second to LeBaron with 27 completions for 471 yards and 4.4 average.

The Redskins have changed the script in 1957.

In 1956, the Redskins scored so far this season, rookies have been involved in 35 or nearly one-fourth of the total. Redskins have scored 19 touchdowns on runs or plunges during 13 touchdowns passes, scored on interceptions and passed for another.

In addition, Paige Coltrane, the former Mississippi star is making like Lou Groza with his foot. Coltrane has kicked five field goals and an extra point for the Los Angeles Rams to lead the first-year players in scoring with 27 points.

Willie Gailimore of the Chicago Bears, a former Florida A. & M. player who didn't show on the 1956 All-American team, leads the rookies in touchdowns with six. Willie, who played a Bears single-game record by running for touchdowns against the Rams, might have more but was hampered by injuries in the team's first two games.

R. C. Owens of the San Francisco 49ers, a College of Idaho player who won't find on any 1956 All-American team, is second to Gailimore among the rookie touchdowns, makers with four on pass receptions. Y. A. Tittle's rookie to Owens in the final minutes beat both the Rams and the Bears.

Stahley Hunts for Substitute End

MOSCOW, Oct. 31 (AP)—Coach Skip Stahley was still trying to find a substitute end for injured Larry Albritch at left end before Idaho meets Montana here Saturday in the first game of the Idaho-Bronco State football season.

Wednesday Stahley switched reserve right end J. D. Lawson to the other flank. Tuesday he had at fourth string quarterback, Doyle, working out at the spot and the day before had tied out fullback Bud Dowling.

The Vandals' first string went through a hard 40-minute defensive scrimmage in the afternoon against Montana-type plays run by reserves.

Novikov increased his individual point total to 4,769, compared with 4,445 for the second-placed Alexander Tatarskiy.

Jack Daniels of Missoula, Mont., finished ninth in the individual pentathlon, with 4,411 points.

Big Six to Study Double Count in Bruin-Indian Tilt

IDAHO FALLS, Oct. 31 (AP)—Glenn Manion, president of the Idaho Big Six high school conference, said today that the "double count" of the Pocatento-Twin Falls football game likely would be up for discussion at the conference meeting Nov. 16 in Boise. Manion told United Press that some of the league officials had questioned whether the contest, which counted as two games, was contrary to conference policy.

Manion said that the conference was approved by each member of the conference prior to the opening of the season and that he was told by some members that the league should have approved the double game.

Twin Falls head Bruin coach Bill Hilliard said the extending circumstances caused by the double count would be the big point of the game would have to be studied. He noted neither Twin Falls nor Pocatento had an available week-end for a make up game until after Veterans day.

The game, in question, which Pocatento won 10-0, combined a regularly scheduled contest with a game that had been cancelled. Sept. 27 encounter was called off when an outbreak of flu sidelined several members of the Pocatento team. The game then was rescheduled and approved by Bill Grider, executive secretary of the Idaho high school Interscholastic Activities association, for Nov. 6.

Manion, who also is principal at Idaho Falls high school, said there was no action underway against the game. He said the conference members would discuss the situation in case it should arise in future conference play.

Meanwhile, in Boise, Grider said that the association was not taking any action in the matter. There had been some question as to whether it violated association rules on the number of games which a team can play in a given number of days.

But Grider explained that the association has no rulings on how games should be counted. The association thus have, he added, a rule which states that no team can play more than one game in a five-day period without special permission. The association would not take action on the double game.

In this case, Grider added, it would be up to the conference to decide whether ruling the game on a double basis was in violation of conference policy.

Meat Choices Are Available For Shoppers

By The Associated Press
Housewives surveying the special bargains offered by supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this week will find they have a choice of beef or pork, the two most popular meats.

Beef accounted for 53 per cent of all red meat consumed in this country in 1955, agriculture department figures show. This week top and bottom round steak, sirloin and porterhouse steaks and rib roasts are being featured in some stores. Others are stressing pork, which accounted for 38 per cent of the 1955 total consumption, with offerings of pork loins, pork roasts, fresh ham and smoked ham.

Turkeys, still at bargain levels, are the No. 1 attraction in some stores, while others offer lamb leg or the increasingly popular lamb combination of chops and stew meat. Shrimp prices are shrinking now that autumn catches in Louisiana waters are surpassing last year's haul. Fishermen reported shrimp were mysteriously absent from their usual haunts during most of the summer.

Vegetable counters offer a good variety of outstanding buys, with such items as cabbage, onions, potatoes, cauliflower, beets and carrots. Sweet potatoes from the Virginia-Maryland area also are a bargain item in most places. Western pascal celery remains a good buy, although somewhat higher this week, while other good buys include western topped carrots packed in cellophane bags, cucumbers, Idaho and Washington Russet potatoes and yellow and green squash from Florida. Escarole and endive are starting to fade out in Northern growing areas but the Florida crop is coming on strong.

More expensive are Florida green beans, California tomatoes, peppers and western lettuce.

Just about any variety of fall apples you like is an outstanding buy this week.

Just as much a bargain are Florida times. Good buys include grapefruit, seedless and emperor grapes and pears.

Melons are becoming scarce.

Red Military Unrest Cited By Document

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (U. S. A.)—A long classified U. S. Army document reports there has been considerable resentment among Soviet military men over meddling by politicians in military matters.

The document is four years old. It apparently was declassified from its secrecy, making about two months ago, but quietly.

A second, and generally ignored, army publication, "The Information Digest," indicates the army recently completed a reappraisal of the Soviet armed forces — and that U. S. superiority is doubtful.

The discussion of differences between soldiers and politicians gains particular interest now because of the removal of Marshal Zhukov as the Soviet defense minister by the political wing in Russia.

Zhukov, a top military hero during World War II, was relegated to an obscure post by Stalin. Subsequently, and during the struggle within the Kremlin for power, Zhukov reportedly swung the army's power to the communist party leader, Nikita S. Khrushchev.

In the wake of that event Khrushchev is believed by some to have been engaged in a struggle to gain control of the military, and thus make himself sole boss of Russia. This school of thought says Zhukov apparently retained his history repeat itself.

The handbook makes this observation: "When the fate of the regime rested squarely on military success during World War II, the party formed a close relationship with the army... with victory, national patriotism... yielded first place to communism as the moral force which was said to have won the war... the army was shorn of its glory and prestige. Several of the most popular and influential army leaders were shabbily treated."

"Consequently all Soviet professional soldiers... feel constrained to maintain a close relationship with the party... these officers cannot help resenting the spiritual prison that a jealous and unwelcome regime has built around them."

As for the "Information Digest," it makes this point: "The Soviet army is the only major force in the world today that has a completely new arsenal of weapons, in being, in the hands of trained troops, capable of fighting either a nuclear or non-nuclear war, big or small, in any kind of climate or terrain."

Guest speakers will be Eldon Coffman, Oscar Jones and Jack Womel, pastor of the Intermountain Indian school, Brigham City, Utah. The men's chorus of the Twin Falls church, directed by James Hall, will provide choral music.

The dinner is under the direction of a committee of the Presbyterian Women's organization, headed by Mrs. Roy Palmer.

The Rev. Donald B. Blackstone, pastor, says Presbyterian men from all over Magic Valley are expected to attend.

GI Genius Is Recruited by Army's Brass

EDGEWOOD, Md., Oct. 31 (AP)—A college football coach trying to lure a star high school halfback, army scientists set out Wednesday to corral the services of Pvt. Ernest Shultz.

It's the same little Private Shultz of Chicago, Ill., whose college professor last week described him as a mathematical genius. The professor said the "army of genius" that he had "lured" to the service of the army was "luring" to the service of the army.

Reassigned to the army chemical center at Edgewood, Shultz Wednesday began a series of interviews with scientists eager to have him work in their departments.

A good-natured fight has developed among the various division heads, said an Edgewood spokesman.

"The minute they heard he was coming here, they all asked for a chance to talk with him and see if they couldn't sell their program to him."

Dr. Carl O. Lindgren, with whom Shultz was associated while studying at Southern Illinois University before being drafted last April, had called him "the outstanding mathematical genius I have encountered in 30 years of medical research."

Dr. Lindgren, director of biological research at the university, had called Shultz's assignment as a chemist an example of the army's anti-intellectual instinct.

Col. Walter C. Norris, information officer at this push-hush center of army chemical warfare research, said about six interviews were being set up for the 34-year-old Shultz. Each will be conducted by army and professional scientists heading a special department or division at Edgewood.

"Our only interest in this man is to get him properly assigned in the area where he will make the greatest contribution," said Norris.

This still being the army, added Norris, "he won't be able to pick his job but, commensurate with his qualifications, he will have a hand in the ultimate assignment."

The information officer said Shultz was good-natured but faintly amused by the sudden clamor for his services.

"I hate to use this description," said Norris, "but he seems perfectly average—just like any other 34-year-old, 160-pound boy."

The army spokesman said there was nothing in Shultz's record to indicate, as Shultz later explained, he was within one semester hour of receiving his bachelor's degree at the time of his induction.

"All we know," said Norris, "is that he was drafted, was given eight weeks of basic training, then eight weeks of clerk typist training. He learned to type at a speed of 50 words a minute and probably will never have occasion to do so again."

CHOSEN LEADING LADY
KING HILL, Oct. 31—Sharon Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greer, a freshman at the College of Idaho, Tootsie, will be leading lady in the all college play "The Crucible" which will be presented Nov. 6 through Nov. 8.

Boise Businessman Appointed Chairman for March of Dimes

BOISE, Oct. 31—Appointment of a prominent Idaho businessman and civil leader as state chairman of the March of Dimes was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

R. E. Gustafson, Boise, will coordinate the March of Dimes activities of the 41 Idaho chapters of the national foundation during the drive to be conducted Jan. 2 to 31.

The critical and continuing need for funds to finance the care of polio patients makes it imperative that we have the caliber of leadership which Gustafson can provide," O'Connor said.

"Many of our Idaho people, who have been left paralyzed in the wake of some bitter polio epidemics, are dependent upon a successful March of Dimes for a fighting chance to return to useful, productive lives," he added.

Gustafson, who served as Ada county campaign director in the 1937 March of Dimes drive, "although now polio cases are decreasing, post acute patients remain a serious problem. That is why 80 per cent of the money chapters are spending for patient aid in 1957 is for old patients," he stated.

A related member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, Gustafson is district sales manager for United States Lines. He is vice president of PTA, a member of the board of directors of Junior Achievement and a member of Rotary.

PTA Slates Meet On Library Books
BLISS, Oct. 31—Mrs. Arthur Shultz, librarian at the Boise city library, will direct a discussion on "books and children and how to use them" at 8 p. m. Nov. 1 in the high school library.

Mrs. Carl Burgess, PTA president, has set the theme of the discussion, "What does Johnny read?"

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Balch, Boise, for he on the program. Balch is well known for his children's books and Mrs. Balch is chairman of the state library board.

Following the discussion a film, "Ozark Bookmobile" will be shown in the lunch room. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Walt Hobbey and Mrs. Aldrich Bowler.

JOINS IN FIRING
GOODING, Oct. 31—Pfc. Robert R. Bell, Jr., son of Robert R. Bell, Gooding, participated in a room seventh army small arms firing match, at Grafenwohr, Germany. He is a truck driver in battery 3, 720th field artillery battalion.

4-H Clubs Slate Achievement Day

SHOSHONE, Oct. 31—National achievement day for 4-H clubs will be observed Saturday.

There are 37,000 volunteer leaders in the work in the country for more than two million members. In Idaho there are 14,000 members, according to the county agent.

C. O. Youngstrom, associated director of the University of Idaho extension service, which supervises the 4-H program, says 4-H enrollment is at an all-time high. During 50 years about 18 million people have taken part.

Last year the members completed more than three and one-half million projects in farming, home-making and community service. They owned and cared for more than one million head of livestock, grew 900,000 acres of food and raised more than five million quarts of vegetables and fruit, and made one and a half million articles of clothing.

Conscience

PORTSMOUTH, O., Oct. 31 (AP)—Six years ago, a man walked into a Portsmouth doughnut shop and, without anyone noticing him, took some money out of the cash register.

Yesterday, he came back, put $40 on the counter, said "I stole this here" and walked out again.

Crippled Craft Landed Safely

BOSTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—A crippled Scandinavian airplane plane with 56 persons aboard landed safely in Logan airport Tuesday night with one propeller missing and flames belching from an outboard engine.

The emergency landing, made in a shower of foam spread by the firefighters, climaxed an ailing three-hour flight from 200 miles east of Boston where one starboard engine suddenly burst into flames as its propeller ran wild.

As the plane cruised at 21,000 feet off Sydney, N. S., the radio reported a runaway propeller and an oil leak. Shortly after the engine burst into flame.

Whitehead's Ellis Rensen of Copenhagen headed the passengers to the rear of the ship in case the forward portions caught fire, the pilot turned toward Boston, jettisoning 20,000 pounds of fuel along the way.

Reds Said Ahead In Space Science

CAMBRIDGE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Dr. Vannevar Bush, a world-famed scientist, said today he is not optimistic about the United States overtaking the Russian lead in outer space scientific development.

The director of the World War II office of scientific research and development, under which the atom bomb was developed, gave that answer to the question "Are you optimistic about our catching up?" given by Joe Yule, Earl Blockington.

"We've got a lot to learn," he said in an interview with the New Bedford-Dorchester and Mary Shaffer.

Key Areas Listed In Resources Talk

BOISE, Oct. 31 (AP)—Latin America, Canada and Africa were described yesterday as key land masses in the battle with Russia.

Resources on those three areas, said air force Col. E. O. Simenson, can be developed by the free world to maintain technological superiority over Russia.

Simenson, a member of the industrial college of the armed forces at Washington, said Russia occupies a choice geographic position in an air age.

He said the position of North America would become precarious under increasing Russian aggression unless technological superiority is maintained.

ATTEND CONFERENCE

BLISS, Oct. 31—Aldrich Bowler, accompanied by three of his drama students, Charlotte Butler, Claudia Ford and Mary Miller, attended the Rocky Mountain theater conference at Pocatello Friday.

Bowler conducted a panel at Washington, said Simenson, on "How do you teach drama?"

AROUND THE WORLD

DETROIT PARIS GENOVA ROME ATHENS ISTANBUL ANKARA TEHRAN LAHORE SINGAPORE BANGKOK PHNOM PENH CALCUTTA JAIPOUR

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaysia, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies; it crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris courtesies at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world. It followed the historic Road to Rome, to stand in the square of St. Peter's before the Vatican. The drivers threw coins in the Fountain of Trevi, and went out the Appian Way to Venice.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Poseidon.

Into Turkey, and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn.

And then the 58 Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan, and then to the crystal-white beauty of the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur for a welcoming parade of elephants, and through Banaras and on down to Calcutta.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoon rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang to Malaysia, and then north to Bangkok.

It forded jungle streams to stand beside the ancient golden Royal Barges of Siamese Kings. Then it plowed on to the jungles of Cambodia to reach the most fantastic temple of all, the strange ruins of Angkor Wat, eighth wonder of the world. Thence into Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of Southeast Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Michigan.

The 58 Ford... has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiation, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer: In the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive possible demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value, hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

Railroad Car Slates Tours Of This Area

BOISE, Oct. 31—Advice on soil fertility will roll to Idaho farmers when the agricultural improvement car of the Union Pacific railroad tours the southern part of the state in November and December.

The annual tour was announced today by Carol Youngstrom, associate director of the University of Idaho extension service. Boyd Butler, Fossilville, and Lefty Puller, Boise, agricultural agents of the railroad. The educational program is a cooperative activity of the Union Pacific and the extension service.

"It is wise to fertilize" is the 1957 theme. The classroom on wheels will offer the first discussion at Ashton, Nov. 18. The car will continue across the state with daily stops at 20 places.

Charles G. Painter, soils specialist of the extension service, has planned for each community a program of practical recommendations on soil improvement by wise use of commercial fertilizers, manure, and crop rotations. Painter and other men experienced in the field will tell about the benefits of the three principal plant nutrients, nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium, the need for trace elements in certain areas, and the advantages of good soil management.

County agents will plan the discussions in each area to emphasize information most useful to the immediate district. Admission will be free. The public is invited.

Instructors will use motion pictures, charts and slides.

The car will be in Shoshone, Dec. 3; Burley, Dec. 8; Rupert, Dec. 8; Jerome, Dec. 8; Wendell, Dec. 8; and Glenns Ferry, Dec. 9.

Masons Awarded

HAGERMAN, Oct. 31—George Lenker and Jerry Williams, Wendell, were presented master's certificates at Wendell Monday evening. Those who attended from Hagerman were Tommy Thompson, worshipful master, Hagerman lodge 78, E. L. Chaplain, News-Crawford, Ivan Dunham, and George Lenker.

The third degree was conferred. This was also the official visit of Walter Pyrah, Hallett, District four deputy.

TWIN FALLS STORE
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY!

It takes a good neighbor to found a good neighbor store!

From his pioneer store in Kemmerer, Wyoming, in 1902, J. C. Penney has been a merchant of the people... selling to serve... keeping shop on a strict budget to keep prices down... selling laboratory-tested first quality to protect his customers.
