

PARIS, Dec. 15 (UPI)—The alliance between the United States and its NATO allies agreed unanimously today to strengthen the Atlantic Pact's defensive shield with American missiles and nuclear warheads in Europe. At the same time, they agreed to seek new Big Four talks with the Russians. It was then submitted for final endorsement by the heads of government at their third working session, which got under way at 12:10 p.m. EST. U. S. delegation source hastened to stress that no "deal" was involved. They said the United States did not agree to new East-West talks merely to win the European members' acceptance of American missiles in the NATO defense shield.

A CHILD'S FAITH
 I wonder why my mother cries
 And Daddy looks so sad
 When Christmas is almost here
 And everyone is glad.

Of course, we haven't much to eat
 Except a crust of bread
 And when it's pretty cold outside
 We huddle up in bed.

But Santa Claus is coming soon,
 Because I wrote a note,
 And I would like a toy or two,
 Some candy and a pot.

And I have been so very good
 And every night I pray
 That Santa Claus will come around
 To see if I'm a good boy.

And when my Daddy is home
 And when my Mother is home
 When they get up on Christmas
 And when the things I'll bring.

 DUCK HUNTERS KNOW IT
 Dear Shooter:

Unless coming late, Saturday is going to be the shortest day in the year. Duck hunters know this, but maybe the rest of the people should be reminded.

And now, Oh Great One, can you explain this shooting hour for duck? The fact is the hours are exactly the same for Dec. 21 and 22.

But, permit me to explain. The shooting hour is 3:00 back on Dec. 10 when Dec. 21, the shortest day, permits shooting three hours later.

And how come the starting times get later—instead of earlier—each year? Duck hunters know it, but some might explain why.

IT HAPPENS
 Every so often you apologize for the proofreading in the T-N. Well, other readers have their own reading problems, too, it seems.

In the barber shop this morning I noticed a new 1954 calendar on the wall—of those great big ones for business houses.

Well, there it was, big as life. The two calendar pages were "BOTH" wrong! "Both" instead of "BOTH" and "Schiffner" instead of "Schiffner". In great big red letters.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—All things change and pass away, but we suppose the handicaps imposed on the railroad industry by the Interstate Commerce Commission are actually handicaps on all of us because the railroad just can't bear the burden of the Interstate Commerce Commission's "commuter" rates.

Some railroad men overheard the debate with futile theories that certain conditions which never will be seen again, the railroad men are now in a state of confusion. This is an opportune place to insert for the information and no doubt, the amendment in the Interstate Commerce Act is not actually material institutions. Water Around Antartica
 World's Richest Pasture
 Although Antarctica is the most forbidding, hostile land on earth with no one living land mammal on it, nonetheless its surrounding waters are perhaps the earth's richest in foodstuffs.

Surrounding the continent like a belt of water, "drifting" ice which girds Antarctica. During winter, the sea freezes. Under the floating ice, the water is so cold that it is almost impossible to swim in it.

BLACKMAIL BY STRIKE

Labor's right to strike is of course a cherished privilege. However, in such a long time that this right cannot be freely exercised in public utility operations where the health, welfare and safety of thousands of millions of citizens may be affected.

The existence of this usually unwritten rule has prevented the strike in such vital fields as transportation. We have had brief but severe rail strikes, stoppages affecting air transport, and numerous interruptions of local city transit.

It was this long stoppage behind New York city was plunged into a subway strike which virtually paralyzed the community's chief mode of transport.

The subway workmen whose craft-type union called the strike may or may not have grievances. They claim that the big Transport Workers Union, an industry-wide organization, fails to meet their real needs.

But there can be little sympathy with the tactics they have used to enforce their wishes. They broke a vital link in the nation's transportation. They violated a court injunction against this particular stoppage. And now they are insisting as part of their terms for resuming work that the union leaders jailed for this violation must first be released.

Obviously, neither any labor union nor any other kind of organization or individual may be permitted to dictate in this fashion to the courts and the state law enforcement agencies.

Where would we be if we yielded to men who said they would stop breaking the law if others jailed for such infraction be freed without penalty?

Men working in public utilities need special consideration. In view of the limits on their right to strike. But they forfeit that consideration when they attempt to blackmail not only the courts and the government but the whole population of a great community.

FRIENDLY BRITISH

This time last year the historic alliance between the United States and Great Britain was in the worst shape in decades. It seemed impossible that the breach over Suez could be closed for years.

But as the important NATO parley in Paris approaches, the old ties have been substantially restored.

Britain very likely has not forgotten past differences. Yet it has nevertheless put them aside in the face of the larger cause of having human freedom.

Much of the free world took fright when Russia launched its earth satellites. The United States, berated for boastful attitudes when it was ahead, was hammered with even greater vehemence for falling behind.

Britain, however, stood by us staunchly. To emphasize her steadfast support in our adversity, Prime Minister Macmillan came to Washington to meet with President Eisenhower. Out of their lips grew the plan for the high-level NATO talks in Paris.

American and Britain were able to get together, too, on an arms deal for Tunisia. Although that angered France, it further warmed Anglo-U. S. relations.

Now, as this new era of placing intermediate range ballistic missiles on foreign bases, only Britain has thus far indicated willingness to allow this defense measure. It will do so, of course, at heavy risk.

These and other manifestations of British backing have led key leaders to look with new favor on a nation they had begun to downgrade sharply after the Suez fiasco of 1956.

FACTS NOT OPINION
 If the McClellan committee has been unfair in its investigation of labor racketeering, as the AFL-CIO national convention charged last week, then certainly the matter should be left to public opinion. The committee was set up to inquire into abuses by both unions and labor management.

It needs to be pointed out, however, that disclosure of corruption by the committee preceded the AFL-CIO convention's action in ousting the leaders and laundry list of labor racketeers. This was not done by the AFL-CIO but by the committee. The AFL-CIO has no right to complain. It also has every right to criticize certain committee members as being "politically motivated."

It helps us to understand that there is more corruption objective industry than in labor. The main reason is that the government has not been able to explain and evidence. Organized labor should be the McClellan committee. Labor racketeering is a fight on corruption depends upon cooperative effort.

West German Is 'Key Man' During Talks

By United Press

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has emerged as the key man in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting in Paris. It is clear that no big decisions can be made at the 15-nation conference without Adenauer's full approval.

The 62-year-old old man is the most powerful figure at the conference table.

Adenauer speaks for Europe's most prosperous, and potentially most powerful, country.

Adenauer set the tone for the NATO meeting right at its start.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had gone to Paris thinking of the enlargement of missile bases in western Europe as the chief issue.

But Adenauer put first the question of unity to find out what kind of unity, if any, there will be in Soviet Russia's "peace offensive" and the better equipped, more powerful, and more numerous NATO members.

Adenauer said his speech at the opening business meeting that evening was "not a declaration of war, but a declaration of peace."

He said the "peace offensive" is a challenge to NATO. He said NATO must be equipped to meet this challenge.

COMPTON, Calif., Dec. 18 (AP)—Timmy Perry, 4, cut into the Christmas spirit a little too much, his mother thought today.

Mrs. Perry had set aside $30 for Christmas presents. Timmy, 4, took it in his own way, went to a store and handed the bills to pass and presented, wishing all a "Merry Christmas."

Funds Slated for Michael Project

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Emphasis on military missile programs next year will have no effect on funds for the Michael Project, a national project, U. S. Sen. Henry Reuss said today.

Reuss said a check with the bureau of reclamation reveals that no immediate cutbacks are planned.

The bureau has allocated $1,911,000 to be spent on the project this fiscal year, which the senator said will include $1,200,000 newly appropriated to be retained in full by the bureau and earmarked for the project.

Reuss said the project will require an additional $400,000 for completion and that he has received assurance from the bureau that appropriations will be guaranteed through the bureau's appropriation from congress to do this.

Truckload of Food Is Sent to Church Home for Old People

A truckload of food is on its way to a unit in the North-Western Christian Home for Aging in Heaverton, Ark., thanks to the cooperative efforts of members of The Twin Falls First Christian Church, the Reno and Christian Youth Fellowship organizations and personnel of the local Consolidated Firehouse.

Approximately a ton of food includes 80 quarts of sweet cherries, 20 quarts of green beans, 20 quarts of apples, 4 sacks of corn, the sacks of potatoes and 100 sacks of dried beans. It was loaded onto a Consolidated Firehouse truck Wednesday for a free trip to the home in Heaverton.

Most of the food was packed and canned by the young people, although donations of food were made by many First Christian church members. Collection of the food began last summer and church youths donated their time and effort for packing.

The idea of sending food to the home in Heaverton originated with James Gentry, former director of youth activities at the church.

Mr. Gentry, head manager for Consolidated Firehouse, has been a member of the church since his company headquarters.

Denver Sales Tax Defeated by Votes

DENVER, Dec. 18 (AP)—A city income tax defeated in a vote yesterday by a vote of 57-17 to 48-14.

Mayor Wm. F. Nicholson, who had campaigned for six months to get a city income tax—levied on city residents and businesses who earn their living in the city as well as the deficit meant a cut in city services and a bid to plan for capital improvements.

The tax would have amounted to one-half of one per cent of gross income up to $5,000 a year, with a $1,000 exemption allowed for households. On income beyond $5,000 a year, the city tax would have been one per cent.

For a family man earning $5,000 a year, the tax would have amounted to $20.

Mild Weather, Rains Provide U. S. Features

By United Press

Mild weather and widespread rain dampened seasonal spirits from the bitter plagues through the Ohio valley and along the coast.

Precipitation last night and early today fell in just about all forms.

Light drizzle occurred in the central plains southward into Arkansas, rain was general in the western sections of the Ohio valley and freezing drizzle hit lower Michigan.

Rain and showers continued from northern California into Washington and a few scattered showers occurred in the south.

Amounts ranged from one-fourth to one-half inch.

Although it is only three days away, above freezing temperatures prevailed in most sections except New England through the northern Great Lakes.

Cold air pushed into New England during the night, dropping temperatures about 25 degrees to low or near 10 above zero. Hailings in the north were reported in the northern New England through the northern Great Lakes.

Temperatures, however, were not lower than the 30s in the middle Atlantic states near the coast.

Lower Great Lakes, the northern and central plains, Rockies and Pacific states. Readings ranged from the 40s to the 60s in the south.

Weathermen warned of possible freezing rain today in the central Great Lakes region and in parts of Pennsylvania and New York. Occasional snow flurries were expected in the northern and central plains, the Rockies and the northern Great Lakes.

More rain was seen for the week, from Washington to northern California today, and light rain or drizzle was reported in continuing from the central plains through the Ohio valley and into the Great Lakes.

Flames Destroy Gooding Trailer

GOODING, Dec. 12.—A small Washington trailer was destroyed by a fire at 8 a. m. Wednesday when it caught on fire on an overhauled alley.

Eddie Taylor, Gooding, and a companion were occupying the wagon, according to Gooding Fire Chief Joe Baumgartner. Neither was in the wagon when it blazed and had not been located.

The trailer was parked in back of the Gooding supply company. The fire department answered, found call when the flames started and again threatened a fence.

Parking Fines

Violations were by E. C. Shirley, J. W. McFarland, L. L. Little, Alma Kenner, Frank W. Gorn, Gorn State Park company, Rose Holmes, Floyd Olson, and Claude Mendola.

Trials Wiping Out Traces of Anti-Red Tilts

VIENNA, Dec. 18 (AP)—A wave of trials aimed at wiping out the last traces of the 1930s anti-communist uprising is sweeping Hungary. Informed sources said here today.

The sources said at least three major trials are in progress, and others are expected to be disclosed shortly.

They said the wave was expected to culminate with the trial of Imre Nagy, prime minister of the short-lived "free" Hungarian government which was crushed by Soviet troops.

Trials currently in session, according to the sources, include those of Attila Szilagyi, secretary to Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, a group of priests, 18 workers of the huge copper iron and steel works and members of the Győr city revolutionary committee.

The trials of Mindszenty and the workers are being held in the Markovits court in Budapest, the sources said.

They said that although no announcement has been made in the press, the trials are open to the public.

Chief defendant in the Győr trial is Attila Szilagyi, who headed a provincial revolutionary government in that western Hungarian city.

The sources also confirmed that Maj. Gen. Pal Matfyer, defense minister in the Nagy government, Maj. Gen. Istvan Kovacs, chief of staff of the Hungarian army, and Col. Emeric Koczary, former Budapest chief of police, are being tried, probably in the Koltva secret prison in Sopron.

Just yesterday the Hungarian delegation at the United Nations denied these three were on trial.

The sources here said Nagy himself, as well as other members of his government, are believed held in Koltva prison undergoing preparation for trial.

Koltva was one of the few prisons in Hungary from which no prisoners were released during the latter part of October and November last year.

It was in this prison that Maj. Antal Pallos-Balazs was held after being captured last week after conviction on charges of releasing Mindszenty from his communist jail.

Low Cost for Nuclear Fuel Is Said Need

DENVER, Dec. 18 (AP)—Two speakers cautioned the Uranium Institute of America yesterday that nuclear fuel costs must be held down in order to get the power program rolling.

Lack of a strong uranium market was stressed as a possible encumbrance to the launching of the program by Charles O. Manly, chief of the commercial development branch for civilian application of the atomic energy commission.

"Widespread use of uranium depends on an assured supply, readily available at a reasonable price," Manly told the concluding session of the two-day convention.

"Without it, the utility industry would be ill-advised to invest hundreds of millions of dollars in nuclear-electric power plants."

A poor nuclear fuel market was forecast by Dr. Karl M. Mayer, director of economic research for the American Gas Foundation.

He said that market would not exceed a demand of 1,000 tons annually during the next 10 years. Cuts in demand from 50-60 per cent per kilowatt hour to 15 to 20, Mayer said, would only produce a modest European market.

If the cost could be brought below 15 mills, the European market would become tremendous.

"It is apparent that some early action is needed to speed the timing and the rate of growth of nuclear power may have been overly optimistic."

Another speaker, Edward L. Lynch, atomic energy adviser to the export-import bank, warned that public utilities already have been unable to find the investment capital needed for expansion from private sources.

"This," he said, "results from a growing trend toward nationalization of power production and distribution throughout the world."

Lynch said the export-import bank is willing to consider some loans to finance U. S. materials, equipment and services involved in construction of atomic power plants abroad.

Discounts Reds

PALO ALTO, Calif., Dec. 18 (AP)—Hans Bethe of Cornell, one of the world's top atomic physicists, plans the Russians no better than third in nuclear physics.

The Cornell university physicist told a press conference yesterday that America is way ahead of every other country and the British are second.

However, Dr. Bethe described the race as close in the field of thermonuclear reactions, which includes both the hydrogen bomb and harnessing atomic fusion for peacetime uses.

MINE TO CUT OUTPUT

KELLOGG, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Dunbar Hill company said Monday it will cut back production because of low metal prices and declining sales which it blamed on increased foreign imports of lead and zinc.

Girard Is Back Home

Pvt. William S. Girard, en route to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., for discharge from the army, follows his Japanese wife, Haru (Candy) as they leave the army transport USS Gen. A. E. Anderson following arrival in San Francisco from Japan. Girard, 22, is on a three-year suspended sentence from a Japanese court for killing a Japanese woman while on duty at a firing range. GI Is Moving To U. S. Post For Removal

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Pvt. William S. Girard, 22, convicted slayer of a Japanese woman on a military rifle range, arrived here today for quick transfer to Ft. Sheridan, Ill., and discharge from the army.

His brother, Louis, Ottawa, Ill., and Louis' wife, Shirley, planned to be on hand when the young GI was touched off an international incident returns to his home state with his delinquent Japanese bride, the former Haru (Candy) Sugiyama, 20.

William's arrival in San Francisco Monday was marked by a show of hostility as he disembarked from the navy transport Anderson and set foot on American soil again.

A chorus of boos went up from 600 soldiers lining the railings of the transport and from 150 onlookers at the pier.

Girard defiantly snapped back at the jeerers. "Yeah, you too."

The incident which triggered an international controversy began last Jan. 30 on a military firing range in Japan. Girard, whom army authorities said was on duty at the time, fired an expended cartridge case at Mrs. Naka, Naka's 15-year-old scrap picker, killing her.

A protest immediately went up from the Japanese press, insisting on Japan's right to try the youthful GI. In America, the incident provoked wide discussion of the status of forces treaties, and brought demands from some groups that such agreements with foreign nations be terminated.

The U. S. supreme court, finally decided Japan had jurisdiction over the GI's offense and released him to civil authorities for trial.

A three-man Japanese court convicted Girard Nov. 19, describing his action as a "childish whimpering gesture," however, was suspended, and in the absence of a demand for retribution by the defense or prosecution lawyers, Girard was freed to go home.

Name Manager

LEWISTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—Potlatch Forest, Inc., today announced the appointment of Lemuel E. Pious as general manager of its lumber division.

Pious takes over the new duties from J. S. O'Connell, about the first of the year. O'Connell, a PFT vice president who has been in charge of lumber operations, is retiring.

LIGHTS OUT

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., Dec. 18 (AP)—Two hours after he finished training as close in the field of thermonuclear reactions, which includes both the hydrogen bomb and harnessing atomic fusion for peacetime uses.

Reserve Board Figures Offer Gloomy Prospect in Economy

NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—Statistical figures aren't doing much today to enhance Christmas cheer. Gloomy figures for December and November keep rolling in. Here are a few of the Christmas shoppers are carrying the load of uncertainty and light three days almost by himself.

Several inches have been snipped off that prime yardstick of business condition, the federal reserve board's index of industrial production. In November it measured 124 per cent of its 1947-49 average—a drop of two points from October and eight points from its high of 147 last December.

Burley Group Sees Films on Smaller Firms

BURLEY, Dec. 18 — Members of the Chamber of Commerce saw a recently purchased film "Main Street and the Minimum Wage," at its regular weekly membership meeting Monday noon at Cousin Roy's dining room in the National hotel.

The film was an interview with merchants and businessmen along main streets of America and offered valuable information to small business. A question and answer period followed. The film was presented by John Chisholm who furnished the equipment for it.

Two new members were welcomed into the Chamber representing the Burley Welcome club. They are Mrs. Elven Oberlin and Mrs. Kent Woodhouse. Mrs. Rebecca Williams and Mrs. Edward Wells also attended. Harold West was a guest.

Don Chisholm reported on the success of the Christmas dinner held last week. He said several farmers and businessmen had commended the group on the interest shown on both sides.

The secretary read the editorial of congratulations on the new box factory, from Sunday's edition of the "Twin Falls Times-News."

The State Federation of Labor will have a speaker present at the meeting next Monday to present his views on the right to work issue.

Confusion

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 18 (AP)—The madhouse that is a U. S. postoffice at Christmas time hasn't been helped much by various patrons in the Oklahoma City area.

Postal officials reported dealing with a man with a full set of cards in one hand and canceled checks in the other. He mailed the checks, walked out with the cards.

A woman insisted that "fragile" be stamped all over her package, not because it was china but because, "It's a pair of socks. I just wanted them to be in good shape when daddy got them for Christmas."

Vows Planned

LUXEMBOURG, Dec. 18 (AP)—The grand ducal court has formally announced the engagement of Princess Marie-Adelaide, daughter of the grand duchess of Luxembourg, to Silesian Prince Charles Joseph Bruck of Donnersmarck.

The announcement yesterday did not specify a date for the wedding, but court sources said it probably would take place in the spring of 1958 in Luxembourg cathedral. Princess Marie-Adelaide, 32, is the second of the grand duchess's four daughters and the last to marry.

Nobel Prize Winner Charges U.S. Is Becoming "Decadent"

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Dr. Harold C. Urey, noted pioneer in nuclear chemistry, contends that America is showing signs of decadence. Urey, who won the Nobel prize for his discovery of heavy water, made these other points in an interview:

—The nation's school system needs overhauling, and it must be done through the federal government.

—The missile program might not be lagging as it is if the government had not fired scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer and Edward U. Condon as security risks.

—The American people need a "blood, sweat and tears" lecture by a top government leader, but will get "nothing more than soothing syrup" from President Eisenhower.

Urey said "tall fins and big, gaudy cars" are signs of American decadence. "These over-powered gas-engines are an idiotic waste," he said. "Some day we'll wake up in a serious conflict with our left-handed friend behind the iron curtain and we won't be able to get out of the Middle East. Maybe then we'll regret the waste of our resources on useless horsepower."

"And just think of the money, materials and engineering talent that go into retooling for model changes to make last year's car obsolete and hasten it to the junk pile."

Urey said Oppenheimer and Condon are "two of this country's most brilliant scientists."

He said he knows Condon "quite well, and there's no more honorable, upright man in the country."

"McCarthyism is dying," he said, "and the country can use men like Oppenheimer and Condon."

"We need a thorough overhauling of the primary and secondary schools," he said, "and it can't be done except through the federal government because of the enormous number of hardies in the way."

"A lot of people are suspicious of 'government meddling,' but what would the government do that would be so terrible? It might interfere with local pressure groups and people whose children have finished school and who want to cut education costs."

Urey said the schools have suffered at the hands of "professional educators, most of whom didn't do too well in school themselves."

"A lot of them have little background in language, science, mathematics or literature," he said. "But they've got a lot of theories about education."

He said more emphasis must be put on grouping students as the brightest can move ahead.

Urey said his own projects at the University of Chicago Enrico Fermi Institute are staffed by teams made up in substantial part by foreign graduate students.

"A country of 150 million people should be able to produce more of its own scientists," he said.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The boys and girls who, having reached early adolescence, think they should have the privilege of maturity, should try to grow into it before making demands upon their parents and teachers for such privileges.

A boy 15 years old leaves his little brother of 7 until he cries and his mother has to come to his relief. That same boy a few hours later wants his father to let him have the car. "Just to go round the block," says Benny's father lets him.

When his father emphatically says no, he complains bitterly that he is being treated as a child. Yet he has indicated his childishness by treating his little brother instead of being helpful to him and by asking for the car, something that he knows is against the law and which if allowed to do would be endangering his life and that of other people.

The girl who, seeing her mother bustling at work preparing dinner, and watching the baby, says, "I'll be back in a little while, I'm going over to Betty's."

When her mother says, "Don't go now. Can't you see I need help? If you'll keep an eye on the baby until I get this pie in the oven you'll be helping me."

Daughter begins to whimper and complain, "I don't see why I have to mind him. I never have any fun. Every other girl can go out and have a little fun but not me. I'm always having to do something."

This is childish, very childish on her part. Yet this child will wonder why her parents will not allow her to go to evening dances, to the ways of childhood, her childishness, patiently and keep teaching and protecting her until at last the child does mature in a degree and carries more responsibility.

These adolescent boys and girls long to be grown-up that they might have the privileges of maturity but

Reception Fetes Couple Married In Temple Rites

A reception Saturday evening at the LDS third ward recreation hall honored Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Dee Bagley who were married Dec. 11 in the Idaho Falls LDS temple. The ceremony was performed by President William L. Kilpatrick.

The bride, the former Nina Monette Westendorp, is the daughter of B. Y. Westendorp, Tremonton, Utah. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Westley Bagley.

Accompanying the couple through the temple were the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Luke, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henry, Mrs. Nina Cunningham, Chad McGavin, Richmond, Utah, and Joseph L. Allen, Provo.

For her wedding and reception the bride wore a floor length gown of French imported tulle with lace over white slipper satin. The lace and satin were sent from Mar Del Plata, Argentina, by the bride's mother. The gown was designed and made by Mrs. Alex Erickson, Kimberly, assisted by the mother of the bridegroom.

The fitted bodice of lace was fastened with a Sabrina neckline and five-pointed sleeves with long, tapered puffed sleeves. The veil was made of the lace and attached to the bodice with a pink rosette and wore a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings.

They received their guests before an arch of greenery and pink candelabra and a pink chandelier. The bridegroom was escorted by his best man, Mr. Chad McGavin, missionary companion of the bridegroom in Argentina, and a white corded corsage.

The mother of the bridegroom selected a navy blue tulle dress with a white corded corsage.

The bride's table was covered with a handmade Maya lace cloth. On the table, over the arch, was a centerpiece with a four-tiered white cake trimmed with pink rosettes, blue and white candles, and orange blossoms. Mrs. Harry Moore, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake.

Mrs. Wardell Freeman and Marie Liffitt presided at the punch bowl. Edith Allen attended the guest book. Mrs. Zane Parker, Neal Garrison and Lily Garrison arranged the gifts.

Alabama Vote Could Abolish Negro County

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 18.—Alabama's white voters, apparently fearful of a return to "Cotton Belt" government, are voting today to abolish Negro counties.

The amendment creates a 16-member legislative committee to study whether or not it would be practical to wipe out Negro counties.

United Press Publications at 8:15 a.m. CST today from 1,774 of the estimated 2,700 precincts gave the amendment 54,089 votes while 37,774 were recorded against it.

If the study committee recommends to the legislature that Marion county be done away with, the government body would then be allowed to take action through passage of a local bill. But the legislature would have to follow the committee's suggested procedure.

A-Power Is Used In Lighting Town

SHIPPOINGPORT, Pa., Dec. 18.—The Shippeningport atomic power plant, the first of its kind in the world, is now being used to light the town.

At full power, the reactor plant, situated in this little Ohio town, can produce about 25 million watts of electricity.

Power Firm's County Taxes Are $151,546

A check for $151,546 has been paid today by Twin Falls county's power firm to the Idaho Power company.

Nearly $1,000,000 in new checks have been handed in to the Idaho counties this week by the company to pay the first installment on its tax property taxes.

That much money in dollar bills piled end to end would stretch all the way from Twin Falls to Pocatello.

Idaho Power, the first or second counties to receive the taxes, has multiplied three times since 1947. The taxes are levied by the counties on Idaho Power's property, including power plants, transmission and distribution lines, substations, offices, warehouses and other facilities.

The increase in our property taxes is a good yardstick to measure the company's growth in only 10 short years. Roach said. "Since World War II the company has greatly increased its generating and transmission facilities to provide the electricity for the constant growth of the area."

Roach pointed out that the company's payments for all types of taxes will rise sharply with completion of Bromley, Oxbow and Tella Canyon dams. Its three new hydroelectric projects on Snake River, however, the first of these projects, is scheduled for completion by Dec. 1938.

The company's state and local tax bill in Idaho for 1937 will amount to about $2,500,000.

Idaho Power's taxes of all types for the year will total approximately eight million dollars—more than half of which goes to the federal government.

Roach said taxes are the largest single item of expense in the company's operation.

"Our 1937 taxes will be more than twice the company's total operating payroll," he reported.

They are nearly double the dividends paid to shareholders and are about equal to the total amount received during the year from all the company's urban residential customers.

2 Boys Facing Crash Charge

Charges are pending against two boys—Twin Falls boys—as a result of a one-car traffic accident north of Twin Falls Tuesday.

David Holcomb, 14, route 3, Twin Falls, and Richard Kelso, 15, 830 Walnut street, incurred minor injuries at 10:35 a.m. Thursday when a 1931 Willys station wagon went out of control on a county road and crashed into a telephone pole.

Boys said the car was driven by Kelso who was not watching the road but was looking at Holcomb who was playing with a 22 caliber pistol. Holcomb incurred face lacerations when he hit the windshield of the car after it struck the pole. Kelso sustained a sprained wrist.

Boys said Kelso will be charged with driving a car without a driver's license and Holcomb for permitting an unauthorized person to drive his car.

Mountain Stays Beneath Waters

HONOLULU (UPI)—An 11,000-foot mountain has been discovered to the northeast of Hawaii, but it doesn't figure to give famed Diamond Head much of a run as a tourist attraction.

The peak, tentatively dubbed Mount Inubiki, is located 800 miles from Honolulu and is 900 feet under water. It was discovered accidentally by engineers aboard the Navy ship Arthur C. Hopper.

Engineers charted the mountain as being 18 miles in diameter. Scientists believe it to be an extinct volcano.

Mount Inubiki is the highest mountain with a radius of hundreds of water miles and is apparently unconnected with the 100-mile long range of submerged peaks in the central Pacific which are appropriately named the Hawaiian Islands.

Manpower-Thin Texas A and M Sees Strong Test in Gator Bowl Game

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 18 (AP)—For the sake of Texas A and M's rugged "hard-nosed seven" stalwarts, Aggie coach Paul Bryant hoped today—with apologies to the Florida Chamber of Commerce—that it will be unmercifully chilly in Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28. That's the date Bryant's manpower-thin Aggies tangle with Tennessee in the Gator Bowl football game and he knows he'll need every second of playing time in the contest.

Bliss Beats Richfield for First Victory

BLISS, Dec. 18.—The Bliss Beaters rang up their first win of the season here Tuesday night as they topped Richfield 45-40 in a mop and bucket contest.

Carrying a five point margin in the third period, the winners, led by Morris with 77 points, gained their biggest margin of the night, emerging from the period with a 37-20 lead. Richfield rallied and the fourth quarter but couldn't catch up.

Bliss King led Richfield with 11 points around for the end of the game.

The steady, winning overall play of Randall Tuesday night resulted in some long overdue credit for the 6-foot, 140-pound senior who was on a workhorse for coach Bob Hilliard for the past three years on the football team and two on basketball.

Never a high scorer in basketball, Randall has probably been the most consistent all-around player in the last year and so far this. While he won't get many points, neither will the man he guards and Randall always has taken more than his share of rebounds.

Speaking of consistency, the Castledown Wolves are doing very well. Under their new head coach Bob Thomas, they have racked up four straight wins.

In their first three games, the Wolves scored 42 points and won two by 42-36 counts. Saturday night they charged a little and got 44 points but stayed consistent by letting Bliss have the usual 36.

Coach Thomas already has led Castledown out of the woods crowd to last year's mark. The Wolves won only two games in 1935-36 season and Thomas took the Wolves to the underdog level in rebuilding basis. It looks like a one-year job for the coach and Herald.

Along the same line, Marvin Rose of Hansen needs only one more win to tie last year's mark. Rose, who Thomas appears to be clinches for the fourth district.

Getting back to the Twin Falls-Piler game, it was a hard one for the Vikings to lose and almost as hard for the Bruins to win. Both teams were tight, missing several good shots and a couple serious fumbles.

Although the non-conference game affects only the season records of the two teams, it points out that the Vikings are still in the final of the game is winning the AAA district championship.

The Vikings too early to tell which team or teams will be favored but the Vikings are favored.

Bowl Group to Consider Bums as Tenants

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18 (AP)—The little blonde 10-year-old, lying flat on the hospital bed, looked with a wide smile and said, "I can raise up for a picture with him."

So little Ann did lift her shoulders up several inches while a photographer snapped the shot of her with All-America football player Jim Phillips of Auburn.

Her tiny figure, with coals on her legs, was in marked contrast with the hulking 200-pound gragger. But the little crippled girl and the 6-foot-2 football giant smiled and talked like buddies.

Urbano Claims Crown After Defeating Bat

REY Urbano laid claim to the Western heavyweight wrestling championship here Tuesday night following his challenge match win over The Bat.

In a rugged battle, Urbano capped the first win with a Filipino twist after 24 minutes of grappling. The Bat came back to even the match with his trademark, the claw, four minutes later, but Urbano capped the win with his favorite hold, the sleeper, and claimed his victim's crown.

The semi-final saw Eric the Great lose to John Goetz on a disqualification. The men each took a fall, Eric with a body slam and Goetz with a hammerlock.

The special event went the time limit and was declared a draw between Merrin Bat and Bolo Shilumi.

Wrestling will not be presented here again until Jan. 7.

Washington Seeks to Dissolve PCC by June

SEATTLE, Dec. 18 (AP)—The University of Washington will ask the Pacific Coast conference to dissolve by June 30, its faculty athletic representative said Tuesday. If the five other remaining conference members refuse, said Dr. H. H. Wollett, Washington would have no choice but to withdraw.

He said the motion would be made at a special meeting planned for the near future. No date has been set.

"I hope by the time we have an agreement that dissolution is no longer a question," Wollett said, adding it will be "the objective of all of us, rather than a Washington proposition."

The statement followed one Monday night by Dr. H. H. Wollett, Washington's president, recommending "an early dissolution of the Pacific Coast conference."

The only alternative to a breakup, Wollett continued, would be a year and a half of hopeless confusion with no reason to believe that the California schools will change their minds.

The University of California, UCLA and Southern California have announced their intentions to withdraw from the conference. Southern California will be the first to go. June 30. The others have set their final withdrawal for one year later.

Students of four other Northwest schools urged that the conference continue to operate with six members—Stanford, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho.

Yankee Hurlers Top Junior Loop In ERA; Shantz Is Individual King

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 (AP)—Pitching was major league pennants, if official American League statistics released Tuesday are any indication. The New York Yankees, perennial pennant winners, topped the entire league with a club earned run average of 3.00, while two of their hurlers, Roy Halladay and right-hander Tom Sturdivant, ran one-two in the individual category. Chicago was second with a team average of 3.33. Not only were the Yankees pitchers tough to beat, but the overall earned-run average of pitchers in the league was well below par, and the American League had a combined average of 3.33, well under the 4.00 mark of the 1956 season.

Total strikeouts went up in 1957, and total walks dropped. The Yankees had 1,000 strikeouts and 1,000 walks. The American League had 1,000 strikeouts and 1,000 walks.

Skipper and Small Motorboat Find Adventure on High Seas

By DOC QUINN
NEW YORK, Dec. 18 (AP)—The man of high adventure on the seas may be gone with the windjammers, and Mel West says he doesn't give a hoot whether it is or isn't—the 46-year-old skipper of the 10-foot motorboat "The Skipper" is just trying to prove something.

What, then, is he doing out there in the stormy north Atlantic in a 10-foot open boat with an outboard motor? Does he play the racing man in a puny putt-putt job just—as the climber said of Mt. Everest—"because it's there?"

And if he's got to choose a boat for open ocean-going, why doesn't he slip into something safe and seaworthy?

That's just it, says West, the thing is seaworthy—it can be maneuvered safely in any body of water, even in the ocean, provided there is the proper care, planning, and common sense. That's what he's trying to prove. It takes a heap of proving.

Last October, he proposed to take a 10-foot open runabout—a plywood job with a 20-horse outboard motor, the type of thing used for rivers and lakes and not for ocean going—on a 61-mile jaunt from North Carolina to Bermuda. The proposal left a few marine aces in shoreland. City, N. C., his home town. The month belonged to the coast guard and numerous old salts who had spent a lifetime at sea.

"Nobody gave me a chance," says West. But he had put in 10 months of planning—weather, load ration with power, weight, and fuel consumption. He started out one morning on what was supposed to be a three-day run to Bermuda. Eleven days later when a coast guard plane sighted him, he was 160 miles from destination, out of gas.

He had run into stormy weather.

Church "Shocked"

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 18 (AP)—The Lutheran World federation has sent a strong telegram to communist Hungary expressing "shock and anxiety" over the Hungarian government's "unilateral" appointment of Lutheran church officials last week.

The protest was sent by Federation President Franklin Clark Fry and Executive Secretary Carl E. Lundquist, who announced they wrote to newsmen here yesterday. W. A. Visser 't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, issued a statement associating the council with the Lutheran protest.

Dog, Burro Haul "Sport Car" Buggy for Hank's Amazement

By HENRY McLEMOIRE

NIMBLE, dog, after a long tangle, pulled the 10-gallon oil can today at a slow pace. Hank, the owner, was a little surprised when he saw a light which came out of the dog's mouth. He was not sure if it was a light or a fire. He was not sure if it was a light or a fire. He was not sure if it was a light or a fire.

We were pulled up alongside the road, trying to figure out which way to turn to get to Arley and a visit to the Van Gogh coffeehouse. It was a miniature buggy, easy for two, and between the diminutive shifts were (1) a shaggy, collared dog, only shaggy, and (2) a burro, not much bigger than the dog, and with a plume on his head.

I have no idea what horsepower rating Detroit would give this contraption, but it wasn't dawdling. It was good right off, and it was a good right off, and it was a good right off.

The buggy had to be horse-made.

Long Trial Seen For Union Case

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18 (AP)—A long court trial appeared likely today to keep the nation's largest labor union—the scandal-ridden Teamsters—without effective national leadership for many years.

Officials at the union's headquarters said the union's lame-duck executive board is simply marking time.

They said major policy decisions were being delayed pending outcome of the federal court trial in which 13 "rank-and-file" members are seeking to prevent President, Elmer James Jr., from taking office.

Why the Big M means the Most for your Money

Rolling to every part of Idaho—to busy metropolitan centers and isolated hamlets—the Idaho Truck and Bus Industry plays a major role in making your Christmas a merry one. Chances are that the gaily wrapped presents under your tree and the tree itself, the delectable food that will grace your Christmas table—all come to you by modern motor transport.

And the part of Christmas that makes it the most joyous time of the year—the re-uniting of families and friends—is another service of your motor transport industry. Traveling comfortably, swiftly and safely in modern buses, your loved ones will arrive rested, refreshed and ready for a wonderful holiday season.

There is another contribution, too—the significant role of the Truck and Bus Industry in the economic structure of Idaho. In 1956, the total payroll of Idaho's for-hire and private carriers was over $20,000,000.00. Those same carriers paid over half of all taxes assessed on ALL Idaho motor vehicles. Many more facts and figures could be quoted to further illustrate this economic contribution—and to show how Motor Transportation means better living for you and your family. But, at this time, the nearly 8,000 employees of the Idaho Truck and Bus Industry join in wishing one and all in our great state a very

Defense Department Has Eye On Death Ray as Future Arm

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 18 (AP)—The U. S. department of defense is looking for a way to develop a "death ray" capable of hitting enemy troops at a range of at least 500 yards, it was reported today.

It also needs a "counting device" able to bore through solid rock at a half-mile an hour, a gadget that will dig a hole in a minute and a method of snuffing out a burning city.

These requests are contained in a 36-page blue booklet being sent to scientific societies, research organizations and individual inventors by the defense department.

The booklet is distributed by the U. S. department of commerce on behalf of the defense department. It is no secret. The department of defense is in dead earnest when it asked for a death ray. The booklet reads:

"No. 40. Destructive ray—equipment of usable size capable of producing destructive or death rays effective at 500 yards without excessive power input. Military application—to augment conventional weapons. Status—Investigation to date indicates that tremendous amounts of power would be required using present techniques, and that a completely new approach is indicated."

If the death ray is not immediately forthcoming, the defense chiefs will settle for a somewhat less visionary weapon. What they immediately need is a weapon which would be more effective than conventional infantry tools in attacking the so-called "human sea" which can be predicted by the communists in Korea.

Man Stoppers
Idea No. 872 calls for "man stopping" weapons. More effective weapons to prevent overrunning masses of enemy troops from over-running positions.

The inventor council booklet also asks for: An artificial skin to be used for treatment of atomic burn cases; a method of transmitting electricity without wires; an "ice-proof" paint; A noiseless rocket; a quick way of "freezing" solids as a base for missile launching pads and a "night field boundary detector" which can ferret out hidden mine fields from a distance.

In its request for an atomic fire-fighting method, the booklet asks

New Veterans Leader Paves Economy Way

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The day-after-morning appointment of a new administrator appears to have cleared the way for a new administration program.

Mr. Summer Whitaker, former lieutenant governor of Massachusetts, was named to the top veterans administration post late yesterday by President Eisenhower.

He is expected to take office tomorrow. A recent appointment that is subject to Senate confirmation is a controversial figure who has been a controversial figure in the past.

Whitaker parted questions about the House decision to report the House on spending for veterans' benefits not linked with their military service.

Red Proposal to Ban Nuclear Weapon May Lead to New Talk in Cold War

By United Press

A Soviet Russian proposal to ban nuclear weapons bases in central Europe may lead to a new negotiation of the cold war.

Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin made the proposal in the series of "peace and co-existence" letters he sent last week to western allied governments and to all other countries which belong to the United Nations.

Bulganin said that if the United States would give up the idea of establishing the bases in West Germany, Russia would not set up similar bases in East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The United States believes that it is essential to establish intermediate range ballistic missile bases in the allied countries of western Europe.

This issue is one of the principal issues at the North Atlantic Treaty conference to the establishment of most any kind of negotiations to ease the strain of the cold war, and especially to stimulate the direct of a calamitous nuclear war, are becoming almost irrefutable.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles do not believe that Bulganin's various "peace and co-existence" proposals on the balance of nuclear weapons, on disarmament, on the reunification of Germany—were a long period.

In addition, Bulganin's letters were too obviously aimed at subjecting the NATO members in the NATO meeting in Paris.

But at the first business meeting which followed, Adenauer really got down to business.

Adenauer relied on Eisenhower and other NATO leaders to open the way for cold war talks with Russia.

He suggested that a start be made through normal diplomatic channels. The idea would be to find out just what Bulganin meant in his letters.

He admitted that Bulganin's proposals were vague. And he said that until a basis for a secure peace is found, the NATO allies must be prepared to defend themselves against the Russian threat.

But the Adenauer's is now coming from NATO capitals and from capitals of other countries. It is coming from controversial leaders in Washington and, privately, even from officials of the administration.

It looks as if, for better or worse, "peace" has really started something.

Hal Is Nervous "Trigger Man" To Launch Big Ocean Vessel

BY HAL ROY, DE 18
PASCAGOULA, Miss., Dec. 18
—Thanks to 800 good men and a frightened stranger, the SS Brazil, the largest passenger liner ever built, in the deep south, was successfully launched here this week.

I was the frightened stranger — the "trigger man" picked to stand by the big, handsome 22,000-ton vessel as it slid down the ways. When a representative of the owners, the Moore-McCormack line, asked if I'd like to launch the new ship, I replied that I had no honor for a boy's first writer piece.

"But," I demurred, "I've never put anything into the water before (and I'm a canoe)." "Oh, there's nothing to it," a New York sportsman of the line assured me. "All you have to do is push a button."

Push a button? That didn't seem too hard. So for a week I practiced pushing every button I could find. "Where's that little old button I have to push," I asked.

"What button?" came the answer. "The 'trigger' button — you know, the push a lever? It was an expert on buttons. I felt even more unsure when it was explained that the 80 trained men would knock out all but two pins holding the 26 million dollar ship.

Promptly at 3 p.m. on the day I had to move the lever that would release the two pins, and start the ship down the graced slides.

What if I did something wrong? At 2:50, beneath the vast steel slide of the SS Brazil, my station, my duty was away and I had a bad case of back fever.

At 10 seconds to 3 o'clock, I heard a voice chanting "One... nine... eight... seven... six... five... four... three... two... one... trigger!"

I pushed the lever, nothing happened. I turned in a panic and felt it all over again.

For a fraction of a second that second floor there was absolute silence down below while on the official platform Mrs. Emmet J. McCormack, wife of the lines' board chairman, tossed a bottle of champagne against the ship and christened her.

But I could hear my heart pounding. Something must have gone wrong. I could visualize the owner saying "You damn fool, you spent months on this ship and you turned her in one second. Well, you'll have to pay for her yourself!"

Then came the sound of cracking wood almost like an explosion, and the huge vessel began to slide. Slowly at first, then faster and faster, creating a mighty wind, and then, with a little old button, she was in the water.

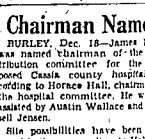

It was a tremendous moment. "It's going to be a very big ship," I thought to myself, and I felt my heart pound. I pushed a lever? It was an expert on buttons. I felt even more unsure when it was explained that the 80 trained men would knock out all but two pins holding the 26 million dollar ship.

Promptly at 3 p.m. on the day I had to move the lever that would release the two pins, and start the ship down the graced slides.

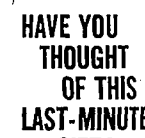

What if I did something wrong? At 2:50, beneath the vast steel slide of the SS Brazil, my station, my duty was away and I had a bad case of back fever.

Chairman Named

BURLEY, Dec. 18—James Rogers was named chairman of the contribution committee for the proposed Cassia county hospital according to Horace Hark, chairman of the hospital committee. He will be assisted by Austin Wallace and Russell Jensen.

Site possibilities have been narrowed to three according to Hark and final decision is hoped by the next meeting. Also on the agenda is selection of a group to operate the hospital when it is completed.

Four helicopters owned by radio recently lost track of a Cessna biplane near Burley, Calif., with a wall of wind created by the whirling blades.
