DIPLOMACY, GANGSTER-STYLE
Obviously, the Soviet Union genuinely cared about peace in the Far East and elsewhere.

It is in negotiation, then it's a business deal when a third walk into a room, points to the owner and says: "Give me your money."

Mr. Eisenhower quite properly declined to give that note dignified answer. Indeed, in what seems to be an almost unprecedented personal attack, he literally threw it back in Premier Khrushchev's face.

He called it "unacceptable under established international practice." Certainly such a note, replete with false charges, abuse and personal attack, could have no standing in diplomatic communication between nations.

The wonder is that it was not delivered unsigned, pieced together from odd letters clipped from magazines and slipped under the door of the Kremlin in the manner of a kidnaper's ransom note.

Our position in the matter of helping China, Kool-Hai's Nationalist China defend the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu is difficult and uncomfortable.

China, 100 miles to the east, is a different story. Our strategic interest in that big island is legitimate, for it is a link in a long Pacific defense chain involving Japan and the Philippines.

There are no signs of evidence can be adduced to support Red China's claim to this bastion. The people are not Chinese, and ultimately deserve the right to rule themselves.

This they would never be likely to gain under Communist rule.

So Khrushchev's peremptory order to us to get out or be thrown out is presumptuous, arrogant, rooted in deliberate, conscious ignorance.

When the world's top gunman donned the marshal's badge and direct order citizens to clear the way for his gangster cronies?

Obviously, the Soviet Union genuinely cared about peace in the Far East and elsewhere, it would be doing all it could to provide a conciliatory atmosphere for the current Warsaw talks between the United States and Red China.

It addressed an insulting note to President Eisenhower demanding that U.S. forces get out of Formosa or face the threat of expulsion by Red China's armies.

If this is negotiation, then it's a business deal when a third walk into a room, points to the owner and says: "Give me your money."

Truman said the GOP's power policy in the West is a failure because it has failed to bring about a power program for the West that is as good as the power program in the rest of the country.

Slaying in Utah's State Prison Renews Debate on Operations

BALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 27 (AP)—A slaying in Utah's state prison here about 500 inmates ago had been fairly quiet until Feb. 6, 1935, when about 500 inmates ago for 12 hours.

A governor's committee was set up to investigate. It said Graham was a sincere and efficient warden but that there was confusion at all levels of prison administration.

The same general opinion was expressed by some members of the board of corrections.

"There is, too, a hard core of tough criminals who rule many of the prisoners inside the compound.

Banks and others suggested a need for segregating such tough types. He also said investigation of the murder may have broken the code inside the compound that no inmate would dare tell officers about another inmate.

The rioting prisoners of 1937 asked that the partition between prisoners and visitors be removed. The governor's committee did not go along with that. But the partition was removed and narcotics were smuggled in by visitors.

Banks said at least one or two of three convicts against whom first-degree murder charges were filed were using narcotics or milder drugs.

The charges were filed against Max J. Rivenbargh, 29, Holladay, 19-year-old Jesse M. Greck, Jr., Salt Lake City, and 19-year-old

BOISE HOLDS OFF BRUINS FOR 13-7 SOUTHERN IDAHO LOOP WIN

Murtaugh Red Devils Storm Past Declo 31-0 for Fourth Straight Win

Last-Second Pass Play by Bruins Almost Pulls Game Out; T. F. Linemen Shine

The Boise Bruins, capitalizing on two quick touchdowns in the third quarter, managed to hold off a determined Twin Falls Bruins eleven to just a 13-7 South Idaho conference victory here Friday night. But the Bruins harassed the visiting team throughout the evening and the visitors had to stop a 61-yard play in the final second of the game to finally chalk up the victory. The Bruins ran up an edge in yardage gained from scrimmage, moving the ball 218 yards compared with 169 for the Braves. Both teams notched 10 first downs. Unofficial statistics showed:

The misdirection of the Bruins game was the off-time brilliant work of the line. Spearheading the tight line was Ed Barry, although each of the men thrown into line play by coach Bob Hilliard more than carried their share.

The Bruins carried the fight to their heavily favored opponents, throwing scores into their net in the opening minutes. Twin Falls received and marched down to Boise's 12-yard line. Then the Bruins were stopped less than one inch short of a first down on the ball sent to Boer. But the Braves were stopped cold, a knifing tackle by Dave Fox giving the best team the ball on Boise's 24. Again the Braves held and the game settled into a rugged defensive battle.

scoreless stalemate. The Braves got the break that gave them the game, a knifing tackle Marshall Stevens gathered in the second-half kick-off and while his teammates opened a 10-yard path to the center of the field, Marshall set sail and crossed the goal line 90-yards away without a hand being laid on him.

The Braves, reaching their highest pitch of the game because of that score, struck again just two minutes later. They forced the Bruins to kick and Al Kogala returned the punt for 30 yards. Fannin got nine and Stevens picked up two for the first down. Then a 15-yard penalty against the Bruins moved the ball to the 11. The Twin Falls line arose to throw Fannin for a two-yard loss, but then the 160-pound fullback cracked over standing up to run the count to 13-0.

John Ulrich, a tiger on offense and defense for Twin Falls, blocked the conversation attempt.

Minutes later it appeared the Braves might turn the game into a three-touchdown run. They took the field Friday night. Fannin was a major contributor to Boise's hard-fought 13-7 decision over the Bruins. (Staff photo-engraving)

Reserve Power Gives Burley 51-0 Win Over Malad

BURLEY, Sept. 27—Burley's Bobcats, using the third string throughout the second half, swept to a 51-0 Cross State conference decision over Malad Friday night. The home team opened up a 93-0 lead at halftime, thanks to long runs by Dennis Keaton and Roxer Wilson, and then turned the third string loose. Burley started fast, taking the opening kick-off and marching to a touchdown. The first Wilson got the score from six-yards out.

After the ensuing kick-off, Burley held Malad punted. On the first play, Keaton slipped through the center of the line and steamed 65-yards for the score. The next touchdown was a repeat of the second half effort, and on the first play Wilson churned 70 yards for the third score.

The Ben Bryant, the offensive hero of the game, opened the second quarter by returning a punt 60 yards for the first of his three touchdowns. A sustained march was capped by Melvin Temple on a 40-yard run. The Bruins' Dick Church scampered 50 yards and then Bryan came back for the first on a 20-yard run and swept and went 15 yards for the other.

Steve Hogan converted, turning the first two scores into Wilson got the third extra point.

Malad was completely bottled up by Burley's defense. The visitors got but three first downs and reached Bobcats territory only once, that time getting to the 45-yard line.

Running of Stastny, Ward Lets Devils Trim Hornets For First Time Since 1951

MURTAUGH, Sept. 27—The steamrolling Murtaugh-Red-Devils, featuring the middle running of Gayle Stastny and Andrew Ward's outside sweep, swept past Declo Hornets 31-0 Friday afternoon for their fourth consecutive victory. It marked the first time Murtaugh turned back the Hornets since 1951. He Red Devils scored before the game had run a play from scrimmage and the visitors never let up. They were knocking at the 10's six-yard line when the final gun sounded. However, the Hornets had some consolation in that they came closer to scoring on Murtaugh than any team has come this year. In the third period they passed their way down to the Devils' 16-yard line before being halted. Previously, no team had penetrated beyond the 25-yard line of Murtaugh.

The Devils stayed close to the ground in setting up an overwhelming statistical edge. Their defense, spearheaded by sophomore guard Ben Stastny, forced the Hornets offense into the air, where the visitors gained most of their yardage.

A fumbled punt, which Gary Lemon recovered on the Declo 40-yard line set up the first. Devil score. Stastny and Ward took turns punting the ball to the nine-yard line and Stastny played in for the six points.

Another fumble gave the win-back.

A high pass from center sailed over the head of the Declo punter and the end zone where end Jim Asendrup fell on it for the score.

The second half opened with the Hornets making their lone drive. A roughing the kicker penalty against Murtaugh, gave Declo the ball on their 44 yard line. That point Marvin McCall lofted two passes that ate up 42 yards. The first, a 20-yard pass, was caught by Dick Taylor and Don Gillette snapped the second for 18 more. Then on the 10-yard line the Devils defense stiffened and Stastny intercepted the fourth-down pass in the end zone.

Deep in their own territory, the Devils tried one play and were stopped cold by Stastny, running from fullback in coach Tom Toller's single wing formation, smothered the line and his lone 40 yards before being hauled down from behind. Ward punched the ball into the end zone and a penalty seemed to kill the drive. After Stastny had picked up the ball on the 10-yard line, he ran into the end zone. The try for the point was blocked by Jerry Oest.

Murtaugh moved 55 yards to set their fourth touchdown. This time involving their pass pattern. After Stastny and Ward had combined for a first down, Dave Jansen hit Jerry Becker on an eight-yard jump pass. Ward rambled for 12 more and Becker took another pass for 11 yards. Stastny plunged through the line and tumbled past fullback to the one-half yard line where three Stastny men fell on it. Then sophomore Dick Morgan, another of Murtaugh's budding runners, plunged it across.

Declo got to try but one play after the kick-off, but Ron Kell intercepted that pass on the 24-yard line. Stastny plunged it over four plays later. Declo continued in hard luck on their final play, fumbling this one. The Devils had time left for but one play. Ward hit Larson with a swing pass and the last Declo man pulled him down just six yards from pay dirt.

Bulldogs Bump Speedy Wendell Dumps Glenns Ferry by 40-6

WENDELL, Sept. 27—Led by fleet halfback Jerry Stevenson, the Wendell Trojan backfield turned on the speed here Friday night to blast Glenns Ferry 40-6. It was the second Little Six conference win for the Trojans who are defending champions while the loss left the Pilgits with a 1-1 league mark. Stevenson, an ace 100- and 140-yard dash man in track, started the Wendell machine toward victory in the first quarter when he skirted end and swept 32 yards. Then he converted the first down by covering 40 yards minutes later. In the second score, Stevenson came back before the period ended by scoring 20 yards.

Junior halfback Carl Dillie opened the second count by going 30 yards and Stevenson looked the extra point again.

Glenns Ferry got its touchdown before the half ended, a pass from quarterback Ward Puck eating up the last yardage.

Keith's second-half second-half touchdowns for the winners, getting the first on an end sweep and scoring in the last quarter on the same type of play. Stevenson kicked off his fourth extra point to wrap up the score.

Wendell coach Dick Anderson praised the all-around play of end Steve Rose and the work of Steve Dixon, John Waverly and the line. He drew comment from the coach that the defensive work of David Rodriguez.

With two hits in five tries, Mays fractionally improved his average to .348. The Cards lowered the boom on young Mike McCormick with four outsides hits in four-run-fourth-inning. Stan Musial started with a double and scored on Stan Boyer's single. Gene Green hit a two-run homer and B. O. Smith followed with a double. Joe Cunningham grounded roller to second. Mays had a single scoring third.

The Chicago Cubs came up with a four-run sixth inning to tie the Los Angeles Dodgers 7-4. Johnny Podres, fifth Dodger pitcher who has lost, walked out the win. Bobby Thompson, 21st homer of the year for the Cubs and Roseboro and Carl Furillo homers for the Dodgers.

Penn State, which was the best of Princeton, Duke, North Carolina State and Washington State.

The Tigers, reputed to be the class of the Ivy League, were ousted by Rutgers, 28-0, in a renewal of the oldest rivalry in college football. These two New Jersey neighbors started it all in 1869. Duke—a two-touchdown victory over Clemson, which now becomes a definite threat for the AAC title.

Maryland upended North Carolina State, 26-21. The Tarps who have been jelling their troubles, lost to Wake Forest, 20-14. The three big boys in the East—Army, Navy, and Penn. State—were blanketed, Penn. State 43-0.

Michigan State, No. 4 in the ranking, whipped California, 22-12. Notre Dame got past Indiana, 18-0. Perhaps the most significant victory was that of West Virginia, which hasn't lost a Southern Conference game since heavens knows when. It presented a formidable opponent in the Sooners' opener. The Sooners won, 27-14.

The 40-year-old Williams, defending champion and seeking his sixth title, hit two singles and his 25th homer in four official trips. He also walked once.

Jimenez cracked out a triple, a single and his eighth homer in his first three trips to the plate in his last three times at bat. Howard Reed, 21-year-old rookie making his first major league start, hurled Kansas City to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

Reed, allowing only five hits, blocked Early Wynn from regaining his California League victory. Wynn, who allowed only six hits himself, suffered his 16th loss of the season against 14 wins.

Gus Zernial, pinch-hitter in the tying run, and Al Kaline hit a three-run triple in five-run, eighth-inning rally that brought the Detroit Tigers from behind and beat the Cleveland Indians 5-3 Saturday.

Paul Foylack gave the Tribe only three hits in the first seven innings. Rocky Colapinto spoiled Foylack's shutout by doubling after Vic Power walked and Minnie Miñoso beat out an infield roller in the fourth.

Ohio State, Michigan State and Notre Dame, in that order, all came through as expected. Some did it the hard way, Ohio State, No. 1 in the Associated Press poll did it the hard way. The Buckeyes fought off a mighty aerial barrage and finally kicked Southern Methodist, 29-26.

People Living in Trailer Houses To 'Follow Sun' in About Month

In the next month, when fall days get longer and nights are colder and darker in Magic Valley, owners of trailer houses will be heading south for the winter. Retired couples who adopted a trailer house as their home... We'll be going about the first of November... The Kincheleos are typical of many other couples who 'follow the sun' in their home on wheels. They have 'hot' or 'cold' in their trailer, their only companion being Smokey, a chester cat.

Coffee and all the comforts of home are found in trailer house living by Charley Sharp. 'We've got as much convenience and efficient use of space as you find in any conventional home,' he remarks. Most trailer dwellers find that it is not practical to raise young children in the mobile homes. A family with older children, however, can get along fine in a trailer, other owners insist. Life in MAGIC VALLEY

After 50 years, Sam Garmendia, SHOSHONE, once again visited his motherland in this country. He was 80 years old and had wondered if he would ever see his mother again. Obstacles were overcome, however, and he and his wife made the trip to Spain. They returned from their trip a couple of days ago.

Mrs. Garmendia was born in this country of Spanish parents, while her mother, Mrs. Garmendia was born in Owyhee county.

Mrs. Garmendia, accompanied by her husband, who has returned to Spain to stay, arrived from his trip to Twin Falls Aug. 7. From New York City they flew to Madrid, Spain, in two days. At Madrid their mother and other relatives were waiting for them.

Garmendia's mother, Mrs. Aramburi, lives at Mundaca. When they first met, she was only several minutes. The reunion was a happy one and Mrs. Garmendia was seeing her mother for the first time, said she was delighted with the beautiful country and the people and colorful flower gardens.

Mrs. Garmendia said living conditions in the United States, with homes built in the old two-story banyan type, was better than in the old country. The donkey is still used to carry loads of goods and people in the old country. The donkey is still used to carry loads of goods and people in the old country.

Eugene D. Moon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Moon, DELO, has a child's law of his boyhood obligations. Since childhood on his parents' ranch at Willow Creek, south of Burley, he has been interested in geology and dreamed of traveling to South America. Moon is a geologist at Socoyo, Idaho. He and his wife, Mrs. Gene Moon, recently returned from a three-year stay in Venezuela.

Moon was born March 27, 1923, at Burley and attended elementary school there. He was graduated from Burley high school in 1941 and then enrolled in the college of mines at the University of Colorado, graduating in June, 1955, with a geological engineering degree. He married the former Mrs. Helen Moon, HEYBURN, having accepted a position with Socoyo, Idaho, and the bride left Idaho July 4 to make their new home in Caracas, Venezuela.

After working six months in Caracas on geological interpretations, Moon was sent to Socoyo's field camp in western Venezuela. There he was working on a scheme crew about a hundred miles from the nearest town. He was allowed one week out of every six spent in the interior. Moon enjoyed the fabulous hunting and fishing in the area.

After the field season ended in May, Moon was sent back to Venezuela, then transferred to Anaco, Venezuela. Socoyo's eastern field camp, near the "Lost World" area of Venezuela and saw Angel Falls, 3,190 feet high, and plunging more than 3,000 feet. Moon is being transferred to Socoyo's main office in New York City. Before leaving they are spending a few days with their parents. Before they left Venezuela, Moon and sister flew down to spend a few weeks visiting with them in Idaho.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

BY ERNEST HASSELBLAD
(Pastor, First Baptist Church)

Worship is one of the oldest, the most universal, of the practices of man. From worship man has gained deep and significant inspiration and motivation.

In the earliest of human records we find God and His first priest, Adam, meeting at the foot of the tree of life. From that time to the present, the church has been a place of worship and prayer.

But it is not only the habit and practice of worship that is important. It is the attitude of the heart that counts. It is the attitude of the heart that counts. It is the attitude of the heart that counts.

"Interruption of Worship"

Adam to hide from God and the experience of worship suffered its first interruption.

It has been that way always. It is that which breaks down and interrupts and destroys the practice of worship. Oh, to be sure, some call it business, others call it convenience, others call it the disturbing factor of the habit and practice of worship is sin.

Earlier than the traditions can trace man began to build altars and to establish places of worship in the course of time rituals were evolved. Then came sacrifices and ceremonies and ordinances.

But as one turns to the Word of God it is no longer an evolution of man's seeking for God. It is God in His infinite love reaching out to man. It is God who is seeking for man. It is God who is seeking for man. It is God who is seeking for man.

It is a God in His wisdom who has set aside days and times, providing methods and means of worship. And the Saviour's first recorded utterance declares that He was being about His father's business as He lingered on in the temple in Jerusalem. And it must become important, that we worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.

Mrs. Barbara Jean Athay was granted a divorce from Frederick James Athay. Her name was restored to Barbara Jean Keeling. She was awarded their household furnishings, a 1951 Ford and a bank account which is in her name. They were married Sept. 22, 1955, at Twin Falls, and have no children. Rugged Trip Into Primitive Area Planned for Boy Scouts Next Summer

Scenes like this hike on Roundneck peak with an elevation of 8419 feet, will be noted this summer 129 Scouts, possibly from throughout the nation, converge again next summer when Boy Scouts, possibly from throughout the nation, converge on Bear creek. First night is spent near Lancer peak. After two days of tramping, the Scouts make camp in the Soldier lakes area.

Scouts From All Over Nation Might Be Using Idaho Primitive Trail in 1959

By Scouts from all over the nation may be using an Idaho primitive area trail next summer. During the summer of 1957, the Matshu lodge of Order of the Arrow gathered a rugged trail into the primitive area between the middle fork of the Salmon river and Boy Scout camp Cape Horn about 22 miles northwest of Stanley.

mer he explained lore and history of Salmon river canyon to Scouts making the trail.

Brown says he is a "real character and very colorful." Since Sullivan was born and reared around in the area he knows it well.

Take-off point on the trail is a short distance north of Cape Horn on Bear creek. First night is spent near Lancer peak. After two days of tramping, the Scouts make camp in the Soldier lakes area.

Third night is spent at Sheepcreek hot springs. The following evening, the Scouts stop where Rapid river enters the Salmon. The trail follows Rapid river most of the fifth day, leaving it a few miles from Seafarm ranch station, where the boys are picked up by car for the return trip home.

The Scouts made the journey during August. Each day from Aug. 19 to 23 a group left the lake off point, with a group returning to Scout camp every day from Aug. 23 to 26. Representatives of 18 different troops and posts went on the hike during the summer. Groups and individuals who accompanied the trip were: 45, Bulli troop 4, Twin Falls troop 56 and Knoll troop 62, led by Dr. David McCluskey.

Another group was led by Robert Logan. He had Scouts from Wentwell troop 95 and Ingersand troop 55. Troops 68 and 69, both Twin Falls, went with Frank Robinson and Joe McCollum.

Post 38, Jerome, and Paul troop 49—Scouts were accompanied by Floyd Culley and Dale Munk. Ronald Peck led post 21, from Burley, and Casey troop 55.

William Horling and Frank Rasmussen conducted Hagerman troop 100. Hitchcock troop 8 and post 21 from Burley.

Burley troop 18 was led by Harold Brown. Frank Mogneson and Ralph Hais hiked with Twin Falls troop 67 and members of the Scout camp staff.

A few days after returning from the hike, Charles Bloom and Terry Williams, both Twin Falls, and Tom Mahan, Jerome, left for National Order of Arrow conference at Lawrence, Kans. They took a display map and pictures of the trail and hikers.

The three boys impressed attendees with their knowledge of the country so much that many have inquired about coming here next summer.

Democratic Rally

SHOSHONE, Sept. 27.—One big rally will be held in Lincoln county in late October by the Democratic party, replacing the smaller ones usually held throughout the county. The rally will be at the Lincoln auditorium. The exact date will be announced later.

Named to obtain speakers for the rally are Mrs. Maylin Cole, Roy E. Dyer and R. E. Powell. A free luncheon and dance will follow the speaking and presentation of local candidates.

summer to climb the 58-mile trail. One group is from as far away as Florida.

Another Order of Arrow lodge had planned to travel to England for a summer project. Now, after hearing about Matshu trail, they are talking to come to Idaho.

Brown expressed his hope that many Scouts will come and use the trail. He says it's a "real hike."

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Postmaster W. W. Frantz Has Spent 38 Years Working in Twin Falls Postoffice

Twin Falls' special postmaster, W. W. Frantz, was once a fireman, a mail carrier and a railroad worker and at another time a fireman on the old Los Angeles and Salt Lake City railroad.

He has been a resident of Twin Falls for nearly 40 years with 38 of those years devoted to the post office service. With the exception of three and one-half years, he has performed his postal duties in Twin Falls.

Frantz had been postmaster since July 16, 1929. Prior to his appointment he had in every department of this postoffice.

Recognition of his service, both as a postal employee and as a citizen of Twin Falls, is evidenced by the selection to receive the annual Chamber of Commerce senior citizens community service award shortly after his appointment as postmaster in 1949.

Frantz has received other honors including the Silver Beaver award for his service and work with Boy Scouts. He is a baseball fan and an organizer of several baseball teams, a past department vice commander of the American Legion and a participant in outstanding emergency housing in Twin Falls when the housing situation was acute.

Mr. and Mrs. Frantz have two children, a son and daughter, and five grandchildren. Frantz was born May 6, 1897, in Salt Lake City. He began his first job there as a sheet-metal worker but later moved to Frantz's job on a railroad because of the Los Angeles and Salt Lake City railroad.

He was on the Salt Lake City to Callente, Nev., run for one year before leaving the railroad to enter World War I. He was stationed at Camp Hancock, Ga., where he attended an officers machine gun school.

On his discharge from service in December, 1918, he was assigned to Salt Lake City and in February, 1919, he moved to Twin Falls. On Aug. 25, 1919, he was married in Pocatello.

He entered the postal service as a substitute clerk in Twin Falls on April 21, 1920. After one year he was transferred to Salt Lake City and on July 26, 1920, was appointed regular clerk. While in Salt Lake City he also served as a mail carrier and in January, 1924, was transferred to Twin Falls.

In the late 1920s he managed the Twin Falls baseball team and with others organized the Southern Hills Baseball League. The league included teams from Twin Falls, Jerome, Mountain Home, Bulli, Declo and Owyhee.

He has been active in scouting, serving at various times as Scoutmaster, Scout commissioner for the Twin Falls district and as a member of the Snake River Boy Scout Council.

Frantz was instrumental in forming the first softball league in Twin Falls and was president of the league when the night leagues were instituted at Lincoln field and presented to the school board.

His work and activities in the American Legion have been long and varied. WATCH YOUR STEPS

Comfort is many things to many people. To some it may be curling up in a big downy chair to watch television. To others it may be sitting in one easy chair, cracking their feet with a good book or for easy conversation. One thing is certain, you'll have more time to enjoy your special brand of comfort if your home is planned to be easily kept, with sleep-making equipment and furnishings carefully arranged to minimize the time and effort required for household chores.

One of the areas where a lot of extra steps are frequently taken is the dining room. A simple remedy for this is to have ample cupboard space to keep china, silver and glassware close at hand so that saving space and time when serving the table.

A open hatch has been provided for this purpose in the dining room.

Local Doctor's First Big Game Is Magnificent Trophy, Rocky Mountain Goat

Dr. Charles D. Collins, Twin Falls, goes with his first big game trophy, a mountain goat, high in the mountains north of the Salmon river in the Corn Lake country. He dropped the male goat with one shot from a .308 caliber rifle at about 3,500 yards. The goat was shot at about 3,500 feet elevation in extremely rough and rocky terrain. Horns of the doctor's trophy measure about 19 inches. (Photo by Robert Geer—staff engraving.)

T.F. Doctor Hunts Big Game for First Time, Bags Trophy in Mountain Goat

A Twin Falls doctor bagged a first-class trophy on his first big game hunt and with his first shot across a mountain goat hunt in the Corn Lake area on the north side of Salmon river.

Dr. Charles D. Collins picked off his 10-inch horn goat with a .308 caliber rifle from about 3,500 yards. The shot was at a downhill angle in rugged and rocky country at about 3,500 feet. The rifle was equipped with a four-power scope and he used a 180-grain bullet.

Robert Geer and Neil Morrison, both Twin Falls, accompanied Dr. Collins in the hunt. Geer and Morrison did not have goat permits, but did not shoot. Geer went as a guide because he was familiar with the area.

Geer explained that he had become almost too familiar with the country two years ago when Morrison was forced to walk for two days to get out of the area after descending some almost perpendicular cliffs.

Dr. Collins said he saw signs of many big game animals in other areas but in the area where he was hunting there were no other big-game tracks or signs.

The goat was spotted early in the morning on a rocky point. Geer stood up and the goat saw him. While Geer held the goat's attention, Dr. Collins made a revolutionary shot in position for a shot. His first shot dropped the goat.

Mountain goat country north of the Salmon river is rough and steep. Arrow points to Dr. Charles D. Collins, Twin Falls, who has just killed his first big game animal. The white dot beyond the doctor is his mountain goat which he started and killed during a hunt in the area. Staff photographer, Robert 1803 Geer, Twin Falls, had attached the attention of the animal and Dr. Collins made a long, cautious stalk to come within range. (Photo by Robert Geer—staff engraving.)

People Who Live in Trailer Houses to Be "Following Sun" in About Month

needs more space for his hunting and fishing equipment. "I think a trailer's probably a necessity if you move around too," he says, adding, "but we don't move enough for that."

Continuing, she says, "I think a trailer would be ideal for a couple with no kids or just one child, who like to live in any climate."

However, Mrs. George Davidson, another trailer house dweller, says children are no problem when they get older. The Davisons and two high school-age girls have lived in a trailer for the past eight years and four years ago she and her husband that Davidson is a millwright for the flour mill and moves around a lot in his work. The couple had their first trailer when their oldest girl was a baby, then moved into a house again.

"When we moved into the house I swore I'd never live in any trailer again," says Mrs. Davidson. "I said they were too small for the baby we were expecting. Two young children in a trailer can be pretty rough, but when they're older it's okay. Besides, trailers are more convenient now, more modern than they used to be."

The Davisons first lived in a trailer 10 years ago.

The Davisons have a yard measuring 30 by 90 feet not counting the trailer space. "I'd rather live in a trailer now," she says, citing compactness, roominess and operation costs as reasons. "We've even got room for company," she notes.

The cost of the Davisons' 42-foot trailer is about $2,200. "We paid about one-third down," she says, "but believe operation costs are much less than they would be with a house—she estimates expenditures of $60 for fuel oil last winter, $5 for electricity each month, with a $20 a month rent for the court space.

Some courts provide water, other who have already raised their families. Some trailer owners are getting out of town at job requiring long commutes. Other owners believe it is more convenient to live in a home on wheels.

Expert Advises Hunters to Take Time, Enjoy Outing and Have Better Success

Want to assure yourself of a deer or elk for your freezer this year? Then in slow down! Take plenty of time in your hunting and, to achieve complete satisfaction, try and save some of the pleasure of hunting as did the old timers.

The advice was given Wednesday club members in Twin Falls by no less a game expert and hunter than Mr. Mohler, chief of the game management division of the Idaho fish and game department.

Another says the reason for most unsuccessful big game hunts is the hurry that the average hunter puts into his hunting. "A lot of hunters are in a hurry to get to the game areas. He is in a hurry to find and kill his animal and he is in a hurry to get back home," Mohler declares.

"The same officer predicted that 1937 would be a particularly good hunting year." He says game department figures indicate deer are abundant and early reports of elk kills in the Selway and Salmon river country compare favorably with 1937.

"The average southern Idaho hunter spends one or one-half days hunting in 1937 to obtain his deer as compared to one week for northern Idaho hunters.

Mohler says characteristics of the contemporary big game hunter in the time involved. Also, the northern hunter must look for his game in timbered and brushy country. He also is looking more for the white-tailed deer which is scarcer than the mule deer. Such hunting is more difficult and the hunter can't hurry if he is to be successful.

In southern Idaho, the hunter is not handicapped to such an extent by brush and timber.

Mohler says the objections from Idaho hunters to out-of-state hunters is not justified. "Percentage-wise, the number of terminals issued to the non-resident is low. In 1937 number known to inhabit the high and rocky peaks of northern and central Idaho.

In 1937 only 29 goat kills were reported and recorded by the game department. The sheep kill for the same season also was low, with between 80 and 90 kills reported. So far during the 1938 season only 30 sheep kills have been recorded.

Mohler need not caution the hunter about hunting during his recent hunting of goat or sheep because the high altitude and rough terrain preclude any hurry. However, hunters who are in a hurry and so limit their time in actually hunting the "high-living" animals are rarely successful.

The prospects for waterfowl hunters during the long 1938 season are good. Mohler claims. Reports from the great breeding grounds in northern Canada, despite an early drought in some Watery areas, indicate that the fall migration of geese will take the Watery areas a weather progress.

Mohler says one of the longest

Mountain Home Crew Prepares for Bombing

Much preparation goes into the planning of a mission during the SAC bombing competition. Here, from left, Lieut. Col. Joseph J. O'Hara, observer, First Lieut. Bertie W. Wallin, pilot, and Lieut. Col. Charles D. Shippen, aircraft commander, of the air force's oldest unit, first squadron, ninth bomb wing, Mountain Home air force base, make a final check before take-off. Aerial "Taxi" Service Notes

Reeder engages in all types of flights. His planes regularly patrol a gasoline pipeline running between Salt Lake City and Twin Falls. The inspections, with the exception of two flights per year, are done by a pilot flying from 50 to 200 feet above the line.

On the other two flights a representative of the oil company goes on the inspection trip. Other contract flights by Reeder including flying Idaho-Bowen, company-inspectors along power lines to check for damage, wear and other conditions.

Following a heavy windstorm, Reeder pilots many of his company representative along power lines extending from Bliss to American Falls and from Idaho to Hiley. They check for damage.

If a business man arriving in Twin Falls on commercial airplane charter Reeder's planes for fast trips to surrounding cities and towns. In Hiley Johnson also flies many Sun Valley businessmen and visitors to Twin Falls, Pocatello, Boise, Idaho Falls and other cities.

Planes from all three air services are frequently utilized for rescue missions and mercy flights. Johnson uses a Beechcraft with 400-horsepower engine for much of his "back country" flying. He has a total of five planes.

Skayways has five planes but uses a five-place Cessna 18 for many of its charter flights. A new service offered by Skayways is accredited aircraft and engine mechanic service. Reeder also offers A and E service on all aircraft.

Reeder has a seven-passenger Norseman, which is used principally for cargo charters, but which can be used to haul large parties.

Eighteenth and flight training are included in Reeder's service. His company also makes and repairs the middle fork with hunting parties as does Skayways.

Reeder began business in Twin Falls in 1941. Hansen and Payne recently purchased the Skayways flying service from Kenneth R. Bessinger Johnson has been in business at Hiley for several years.

Skayways has one fulltime pilot and one parttime pilot in addition to Hansen. Reeder has several pilots and mechanics at his hangars.

Pilots operating the planes for all three services are well qualified and experienced. Many have logged thousands of hours in all kinds of weather.

Sometimes Duck Blinds Can Be Home Away From Home

B. Walker saw a board while Herman Spertling hands up a roll of roofing paper at the lower center. Reeder's remaining duck blinds on Snake river in preparation for the opening of the season. Situated on the river bank with rushes, willows and weeds for a background, the blinds will "blend" with the surroundings when willows are over boards. Time to Work on Duck Blinds; Season Scheduled to Open on Next Saturday

By MARSHALL EDSON

Boys who enjoy duck hunting will agree regarding what constitutes a good blind, but all agree that it should blend well with the surrounding terrain. For example, if willows grow near, it is advisable to use willows around the exterior walls of the blind. All sorts of things may be attached, however. Cattails, rushes, camouflage netting, branches, brown canvas, burlap and weeds.

Many blinds are built with four posts to form the corners with wire netting stretched around the outside. This method is handy because it flows and quite often comfort. For duck blinds range all the way from a few pieces of brush and cattails twisted together to a full fledged super-duper clubhouse.

Of course, a well constructed blind with roof, side walls, shelves for shotgun shells and coffee cups, benches and a place for a charcoal stove, just makes the old, open-top blind brush pile, hunter laugh at the thought. He says these refinements are for the "dudes" and that to really enjoy duck hunting you have to stay out, where it is colder than home freezer and snow can pile up on your gun barrel and run off the end of your nose.

But the "we may as well be comfortable" class, like their counterparts around the glowing charcoal wall—can sit and eat a pot of coffee keeping hot over the coals. It even gets so at times that more hunters are "reading" than are at the blind scanning the skies for a flight of working a duck call.

Probably no two hunters will agree regarding what constitutes a good blind, but all agree that it should blend well with the surrounding terrain. Charles R. Hardy, aircraft commander, First Lieut. Robert P. Loken, pilot, and Lieut. Col. Manrus P. Murtha, observer, ninth bomb squadron; and Maj. John R. Smith, aircraft commander, Capt. Walton M. Hirscher, pilot, and Lieut. Col. Robert G. Dunkin, observer, ninth provisional.

After an early lead in the contest last year, base crews felt behind because of a radar failure in the last day of competition.

The only crew repeating its appearance at the meet will be that of Lieut. Col. Charles Hardy, observer, First Lieut. Bertie W. Wallin, pilot, and Lieut. Col. Joseph J. O'Hara, observer, first bomb squadron. Maj. William Brown, aircraft commander, First Lieut. is, will have topped the toughest competition in the world. SAC headquarters described it as the most severe test yet of the target-finding and target-destroying abilities of professional air crews.

During this year's meet, each crew will be allowed just one attempt at its assigned mission. Previously the crews had three missions and were scored on the two best. To make it even tougher, no practice missions will be allowed. This therefore will closely simulate actual combat missions when the SAC and RAF crews will have little, if any, prior knowledge of their target.

The bombs, of course, won't be real but just, invaluable electronic ruses which will activate the intricate radar-seeing mechanisms. In most cases, the civilian population of the bombers' target will be unaffected.

They are being annihilated. — on paper.

SAC crews habitually place their bombs so close to the specified target that only a few points generally separate the winning crews and the rest of the field.

In addition to bombing three widely separated targets, the crews will be required to fly a night celestial leg, thereby navigating entirely by the stars.

Two prizes in the competition is the Pilschold trophy which will go to the best overall wing.
