State GOP, Demos Urged To Combine in Revisions Of Primary Election Law

BOISE, Jan. 7 (P)—Republicans and Democrats were urged today to join in efforts to draft a revision of Idaho's primary election laws which would be acceptable to both parties. Gov. Robert E. Smylie, a Republican, said he felt that only by such a means could a desired change be brought about. Smylie made the appeal for cooperation at a meeting with legislative leaders of both parties, the first of a daily series of such sessions which he has proposed. Democratic chiefs pledged cooperation with such a program coincident with an appeal by a member of their party for speed.

Smylie's Talk Gets Favorable Reaction

There was praise from both sides for the Republican governor's views on labor legislation and revision of the primary election law. "I think it was a very forthright speech," said senate President pro tem O. J. Buxton, D., Teton. "We will attack our problems from a bipartisan view." "The governor expressed his willingness to assume his responsibility in this bipartisan leadership," added Senate minority leader A. W. Naegle, R., Bonneville.

Non-Surgical Method Cures Hemorrhoids Painlessly

A relatively painless, non-surgical method of treating hemorrhoids (piles) is working therapeutic miracles for thousands who suffer from rectal and colon disorders.

A recently developed electronic treatment is proving more effective than surgery, with none of the after effects of surgery.

The relatively new technique requires no hospitalization or confinement. Patients show marked improvement almost immediately, and uncomplicated cases can be frequently cured in as little as 10 days.

LDS Church Plans School in Utah Area

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 7 (AP)—The LDS church announced yesterday it is planning a junior college in the Salt Lake City area which it is hoped will be ready for use in 1961.

Officials said the college will be planned to eventually handle "several thousand" students.

Proposals Planned

The announcement preceded by only a week opening of the Utah legislature. A number of proposals have been suggested for presentation to the legislature for expansion of Utah's university and junior college system.

The LDS church already has a widespread educational system. It owns and operates Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, which has a student body of almost 10,000. It also operates a junior college at Rexburg and only last month dedicated a college at Laie in Hawaii.

Other Schools Hinted

There have been unconfirmed reports that other junior colleges are planned, one of them possibly in the Los Angeles area. Flicks College also is to be moved to Idaho Falls.

Announcement of the Salt Lake junior college plan was made by David O. McKay, church president, and Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, president of Brigham Young University and administrator of the church's unified school system.

They said architectural planning will begin immediately, and announcement of the site will be made soon.

Fourth Shot of Polio Vaccines Recommended

ANN ARBOR, Mich. Jan. 7 (AP)—Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the anti-polio vaccine that bears his name, has recommended a fourth shot to increase immunization against crippling infantile paralysis.

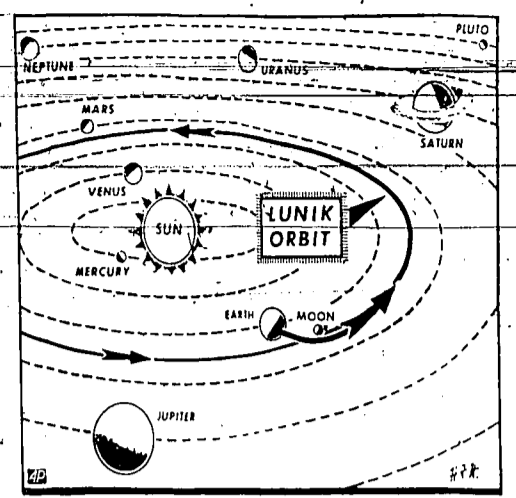

But Dr. Gordon Braun, a University of Michigan scientist, said that while a fourth dose undoubtedly would be beneficial to many "what is most needed is complete three-shot immunization of the larger number" who have as yet had no vaccine at all.

The president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Gunnar Gundersen, declared "there is no time to lose" in the two-shot plus-booster campaign, that partial immunization is not enough and that doctors must see that the unimmunized, the indigent and the complacent are vaccinated.

And Dr. Thomas Francis, Jr., on whose 1955 findings Salk's vaccine was accepted as "safe, potent and effective" suggested from the same platform today that Americans be made to comply with a code of health, just as they must with housing, electrical and plumbing codes.

All four appeared on a symposium sponsored by the University of Michigan school of public health in connection with the kickoff of the National foundation's 1959 March of Dimes campaign to raise 65 million dollars to combat arthritis and birth defects, as well as polio.

Salk Vaccine Kills Type of Polio's Virus

ANN ARBOR, Mich. Jan. 7 (AP)—Salk antipolio vaccine has eliminated completely one of the three types of polio virus among the vaccinated persons according to Dr. Jonas Salk, the University of Pittsburgh physician-scientist who developed the vaccine.

The three types are known as I, II and III. In the before-vaccine days, type I appeared on an average of eight times in 10 cases; types II and III only once each in 10. Type II has been eliminated among those vaccinated, he said.

Dr. Salk and other authorities studying degrees of immunity given by his vaccine agree it has reduced chances of developing either type I or III polio and apparently even has resulted in a reduction in type II among the unvaccinated.

Why the latter is true Dr. Salk is uncertain, but he suggests that with fewer persons to spread type II, fewer are likely to get it.

Why his vaccine is not more potent against I and III Dr. Salk said he is uncertain.

Plans Mapped At PTA Parley For Shoshone

SHOSHONE, Jan. 7—Plans for the Jan. 19 PTA meeting were outlined at an executive board meeting held after school Monday at the high school building.

"Budget night" will be observed that night with the dads as hosts. Double votes will be allowed for all dads present in the room award contest. Program of the evening is "the exceptional child" with Mrs. F. R. Mabbutt program chairman.

The high school music department will present special musical selections.

The unit will be asked to cast a vote for the year's project. Proposals to be made are a large globe for the grade school, recreation equipment for the Lincoln school or more library books for the rooms.

The group voted not to have a film strip and lecture program on the IEA legislation for the next biennium which is being circulated throughout the state by the public relations chairman of the IEA.

Room representatives will meet at 2 p.m. Monday at the Lincoln school cafeteria. A study group session will be presented, according to Mrs. J. Howard Manning, chairman.

Mrs. Paul Bancroft sent word that the annual penmanship contest for the grade school will be held in the next few weeks. The March PTA program will be on penmanship.

Mrs. Frank Lequerica, hot lunch chairman, announced 248 adults and 3,879 children were served during December.

Mrs. W. A. Hall conducted the meeting with Mrs. Burton Thorne acting as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Leo Knowles. The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Elmer Terry.

The boy, identified as Fidel Castro, Jr., talked to newsmen on boarding a plane at Idlewild airport to return to Cuba.

He said his fellow pupils in the third grade at public school 20, Flushing Queens, didn't know he was Castro's son.

"They didn't ask me and I didn't tell them," he added.

Daniel Glennon, a United Nations employe, was with the boy at the airport.

Dispatches From Behind Iron Curtain Indicate Russ, China Tension Mounts

LONDON, Jan. 7 (UPI)—Diplomatic dispatches from behind the Iron Curtain have reported mounting tension between Moscow and Peking over red China's "communes" drive.

Success or failure could cause Russia serious embarrassment. Red China has just ordered a slow-down in the drive for the anti-heaven communist society which it has been pushing with complete disregard for human endurance.

But latest reports said the slow-down applied chiefly to cities, whereas the "communism-now" strategy remained in full swing throughout China's countryside.

Much is at stake for red China's regime as well as for the Soviet Union, the authoritative reports warned.

Success of Peking's forced system of communes would make red China the first world communist society and steal the march on the Soviet Union's claim to leadership.

Its failure, on the other hand, could seriously shake the Peking regime and thus have grave repercussions for the Soviet Union and the communist-regime in the satellite states in Europe.

The reports cited strong evidence that the hastened development towards a communist society in red China has caused considerable worries in Moscow and above all to Soviet Leader Nikita Khrushchev personally.

Officially, the Soviet Union has maintained a studied silence and little has been said in the press.

But Moscow was understood to have cautioned Peking in definite terms against its over-hasty communes drive which Russia herself tried and quickly dropped in the early stages of the revolution.

Moscow was believed to have in effect urged red China to abandon the explosive policy or, if that proved impossible, at least to ease in her own interest and in that of continued solidarity of world communism.

Russia under Khrushchev's direction has in effect taken almost an opposite course. Her latest seven-year economic plan, despite its ambitious targets, has been officially termed merely the beginning of "a new stage in the development of the Soviet on the way to communism."

Some reports suggested that the conflict has resulted in a head-on collision between Khrushchev and red Chinese Leader Mao Tse-tung. Last month Peking in a surprise move officially gave notice of its intention to slow-down the communes drive.

The decision was taken by the central committee of the Chinese Communist party Dec. 10 and experts believed it was the result of a combination of Soviet pressure and menacing internal stresses.

These stresses apparently became serious when Peking decided to extend the system of communes to the countryside with appalling speed and ruthlessness.

Reports reaching the outside world revealed opposition in the cities from workers and intellectuals. Apparently sensing the danger,

Telephone Firm Sets Expansion

BOISE, Jan. 7 (AP)—Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company spent $4 million dollars last year and plans to spend a similar amount this year on expansion of its service.

Snyder said the expansion program "will be the dynamic growth of this state."

The company added 8,240 telephones during the year, bringing its Idaho total to 183,181.

He said Idaho customers placed 18 per cent more long distance calls than they did the previous year.

Genealogy Meet Held

SPRINGDALE, Jan. 7.—C. A. Rasmussen presided at the genealogy meeting Sunday night with Tom McGraw conducting.

Talks were given by Mrs. Ray Zollinger, Gerald Marchant and Steve Ellis.

They lead a communal existence, possess virtually nothing and are paid the wages and work the hours of farm hands, regardless of the work performed.

The degree of ruthlessness was reflected in a recent review in the party organ, The Peoples Daily, which said that "in order to break down superstition and to increase arable land the original graves are to be removed and dug deeper. Some factory buildings and walls of kilns have been erected with tablets from graveyards."

Situation in Cuba Could Effect U.S. Sugar Supply Only Little

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Sugar is one commodity whose price is closely watched and regulated by the U.S. government.

What happens to Cuba's crop as Fidel Castro takes over could affect the supply and price here but not the extent it might if such regulations didn't exist.

That is because Cuba is allowed to send only part of its normal crop here, and because chances of getting more sugar from other areas are excellent.

Last year Cuba sent 3 1/2 million short tons of raw sugar here. Its quota this year—out of a total estimated U. S. consumption of 9 1/2 million tons—is set at just over three million tons.

The Cuban Sugar Institute estimates this year's crop there—harvested and marketed without hitch—should be just under six million tons. That would make plenty and to spare for the U. S. market.

The United States requires sugar sales under a law designed to keep domestic cane and sugar beet growers as happy as possible while still letting our offshore possession and allies maintain their economies. Before the sugar harvests start the U.S. department of agriculture has the duty of estimating how much Americans will consume during the year. It then divides that by formula among the suppliers—the domestic sugar growers, Cuba, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

Their harvesting and refining is then tailored to these quotas and to their own estimates of how much more sugar they can sell in markets other than the United States.

If American consumption drops, the department of agriculture lowers the quotas allowed into the market. Thus drooping prices are revived.

If consumption exceeds the quota, they are raised.

Traders say that this year the outlook for harvests in all sugar growing areas is excellent.

Traders will watch Castro. But unless the wholly unexpected happens, the American housewife shouldn't see any sugar shortages in the stores or any wide swings in prices.

Ricks College Move Told by LDS Educator

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 7.—Dr. Er. Provost, head of the LDS church education program, issued a statement yesterday explaining the decision to move Ricks college from Rexburg to Idaho Falls.

The statement was issued to the church members in Idaho. Strong reasons have been made by school and business leaders in Rexburg.

Last year, the church said it did not plan to move the college. But the statement said information obtained from Rexburg leaders in Rexburg, Idaho, had been made by school and business leaders in Rexburg.

Fewer Houses Available

He said, for instance, that a house survey conducted later by the church staff showed only 622 acceptable accommodations for student housing, as compared to the 1,570 reported to the church by the Upper Valley Real Estate board, Rexburg.

Wilkinson said the important issue for moving the college was the shortage of the church by being in Rexburg.

He said it was apparent that establishment of a junior college in Idaho Falls was under way anyway, and that such a college might hurt future enrollment at Ricks in Rexburg.

More Students Seen

He said also that Idaho Falls, with a population of about 24,000 in 1955—compared to Rexburg's 4,350—had at least twice as many students who could live at home and attend a college located there.

Wilkinson said too that there were many more opportunities for part-time work in Idaho Falls for those students who need such extra remuneration while going to school, and that the Idaho Falls location would better serve 38,000 church members, compared to 8,000 who he said were served in the Rexburg location.

Wilkinson Blamed

The church education leader, who is also president of Brigham Young University here, has been pointed out by some as personally responsible for the shift.

But he said the action, a unanimous one, was taken by the church's board of education of which he is administrator.

U.S. Production Climbs

After a dip in 1957 and early 1958, the gross national product (total of all goods and services produced) resumed its steady climb, and is expected to hit the 475 billion dollar rate in 1959.

Strikes, Buyers, Builders and Exports Form Clouds for 1959

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (NEA)—Four clouds lie ahead on the 1959 business horizon:

(1) There may be serious industry-wide strikes after mid-year as unions press for stiff wage increases.

(2) John Q. Consumer is going to buy—but with caution. There are some who feel some industry is pricing itself out of the market.

(3) Businessmen are going to be slow about expanding plant capacity on the scale of 1958 and 1957. Despite their optimistic talk, businessmen generally are moving ahead with caution in making 1959 plans. There is no program in industry for a booming expansion of plants and capacity.

(4) U. S. exporters in 1959 will run into more and more competition in foreign markets. Overseas plants have been modernizing their machinery, lowering costs.

European currency moves will tend to make it harder to sell high-cost American products abroad.

As a net result, the new boom will slow down in 1959, ease away from the sharp upturn of the last half of 1958.

Nevertheless, 1959 should be a good year for businessmen. Production will rise steadily. Profits will be up. Taxes should hold at their present levels with few increases.

But the big boom—if it shows up—is more likely in 1960 than in 1959.

These are conclusions drawn from an NEA service survey of top U. S. government and private economists on the 1959 outlook.

Despite talk these days from Detroit of selling six million U. S. automobiles in 1959, economists here have serious doubts sales will push much over $4 billion. A continued boom for small U. S. and foreign cars is predicted.

The construction industry should have a good year, with contracts up four billion dollars, thanks to the wholesale voting of school, hospital and public utility bonds by local county and city voters. And thanks, too, to the highway boom.

Sales of durable goods—washing machines, driers and other household equipment—should do well in 1959.

The airline-missile industry will step up slightly—maybe half a billion dollars—spurred by government spending and by the airline switch to jets.

Government and industry orders, should strengthen the electronics business. Steel production may grow from 85 million to 110 million tons. But the industry could be hit hard by a strike this summer when wage contracts run out.

The home building industry apparently is in for but little more business than in 1958. And even these hopes may be dampened by a growing shortage of mortgage money. Congress may step in here with aid.

Retail sales should be up around five per cent. There are signs the consumer is ready to buy—selectively and cautiously. If he doesn't buy one thing, he may buy another.

What isn't certain is whether he's ready to go into debt to buy what he wants as he was in 1958 and 1957.

Chemical sales should rise—maybe six per cent—but increasing competition and higher costs may plague the industry. The petroleum people should have a good year, though there are some indications of higher gasoline taxes which may discourage sales. Tool and die industry men expect an increase of 15 per cent in their shipments. Machinery and metal producers should do well.

Farm income will be the major soft spot—down—perhaps five to eight per cent in 1959.

But overall, the gross national product, the total of goods and services produced in the United States, should rise from a late 1958 rate of $465 billion to $480 billion by the end of 1959.

Auto Industry Tells Plans as Sales Go Well

DETROIT, Jan. 7.—The auto industry is scheduling 1 1/2 million cars for production in this year's first quarter.

The projection is based on an assumption that retail demands will hold up at the current improved rate. A further upsurge will bring increased output, possibly as much as 150,000 more units.

Sales Said Encouraging

So far in the 1959 model year new car sales have been encouragingly brisk. There is no indication of a leveling off with production again at a more nearly normal level. Some industry optimists are predicting a return of the traditional spring sales upsurge.

The seasonal upturn did not appear in 1958 or 1957. Some analysts noted that 1957, despite the lack of a spring sales boom. But much of the 1957 volume came at the expense of profits. A lot of price slashing was needed to attain the relatively high unit volume.

Predictions Aren't Agreed

Nobody close to the car factories is disputing predictions that 1959 will bring production and sales of approximately 5 1/2 million cars. Some forecasters say this figure would be in addition to more than 400,000 imported-car sales.

The industry's retailers started the new year with approximately 600,000 new cars in inventory. That compares with 652,000 units on hand at the start of 1957. At the present sales rate the inventory represents about four weeks' supply, or about a normal stock.

Whatever else may be said about the new car market immediately ahead, the industry is favored with more buyer interest, apparently less reluctance to buy and a better overall inventory situation.

Cuban Rebels Have Problems

9 Separate Units Are United Behind Cuban Rebel Castro

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (NEA)—Behind the simple label of rebel victory in Cuba are the nine separate and distinct groups that have united under Fidel Castro and the 26th of July Movement.

Today, after five and a half years of guerrilla warfare, the complete victory over the Batista dictatorship may mean the defeat of resistance unity and the beginning of a scramble for power by the people who have waited for this day.

"We are," said a spokesman in Cuban rebel headquarters in New York, "one of the few peoples in modern times whose volunteer citizen's army has defeated the regular army. But have we defeated the law of history? There has never been a revolution without a counter-revolution?"

It is not surprising to hear this kind of talk among Cuban rebels. The revolt itself has been led, shaped and inspired largely by Cuba's middle class: Doctors, lawyers, merchants, students.

Fidel Castro himself embodies the spirit of the revolution. He is the son of a Spanish immigrant who worked on a sugar plantation until he had enough money to buy his own land.

At his death, the Castro estate was valued at $448,000. Fidel's share was about $80,000. Even by Cuban standards, this kind of bank account

Manuel Urrutia, Is Part and Parcel of the Same Kind of Middle Class Rebellion

According to the Pact of Caracas, signed last August by all Cuban revolutionary groups, Urrutia was named unanimous choice for provisional president—a formal step that gave the middle class leadership.

"This is something new on the face of this island an air kour away from Florida where brutalizing government by chief and army has been the tradition.

If the new government can take hold, its adherents say, historians may some day draw parallels between the movement of July 26, 1953, in Santiago de Cuba and July 4, 1776, in Philadelphia.

It was on July 26, 1953, that a poorly armed band of rebels attacked the Ft. Moncada in Santiago without any more reason than a desperate weariness of the dictatorship.

And from this futile, bloody attack the revolution took its name. But one spokesman at rebel headquarters in New York explained:

"July 26 is only the symbol of resistance against tyranny. It is the fight for freedom. It is not a way of life after the victory."

What worries this leader and others in the movement is the wide spectrum of causes that make up the nine separate rebel groups united by the tyranny of Batista under the banner of Castro.

There are the directorio—professionist men; the autenticos—followers of former President Dr. Carlos Prío Socarras; the students who left the University of Havana last year; the followers of individual leaders like De Varona, Bisbe, Rodon, Carrillo, Villaverde.

And in the background is the Civic Resistance movement led by Dr. A. M. Santos Bush. This group refuses to carry guns or grenades, but dedicated itself to building an underground railway of shelter, medical aid stations, money collections and smuggling in the cause of the rebellion.

In addition there are the guerrilla commanders themselves—used to independent action and accepting leadership only to make sure of victory.

Each group and each leader, rebel hierarchy expects, will want its own ends served.

For this reason, rebel headquarters in Cuba, has prepared a list of authoritative names—a handful of men who may speak for the July 26 movement: Fidel Castro, Comandante Diego, Armando Harí, Jose Lanusa.

No promises, statements, posts or plans by anybody else outside of the provisional government will be accepted.

Neither will any agreement with a military junta—the remainder of the army leadership that Batista led—be tolerated.

In addition to gaining unanimous approval for his Provisional President Urrutia, Fidel Castro has made one other step to maintain the unity of the rebels by promising his volunteer army a place as the nucleus and leadership of the new Cuban army.

Is it enough?

With the first flush of victory faded, and with 1,500 miles between them and the enormous happiness at home, the Cuban underground in New York is not too sure.

"We are a nation of individualists," a weary member said. "Our wealth comes from our sugar, our gambling casinos—in short, our ability to deal with others. We are like an important corridor, but a corridor nonetheless. And it is difficult to have a secure family life if you live in a busy corridor."

Eisenhower Is Said Liked by Russian Chief

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has a high regard and deep respect for President Eisenhower, but dislikes former President Harry S. Truman and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

This was reported yesterday by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D., Minn., who had an eight-hour conference with Khrushchev at the Kremlin on Dec. 1.

Humphrey, using notes he took during the meeting, recounted his experiences and quoted some of the Soviet leader's statements in an article published by Life magazine.

Khrushchev quoted the senator as saying at one point: "I have the deepest respect for President Eisenhower, I like President Eisenhower. We want no evil to the United States or to free Berlin. You must assure the President of this."

At another point Humphrey quoted Khrushchev as saying, of the President: "He is a very honest man who wants peace."

As for Truman: "I did not like Truman, I did not like Truman's policies, but Truman did make decisions."

Dulles-Claimed "Warlike" — The senator said Khrushchev termed Dulles, "imperialist" and "warlike."

Humphrey said he expressed sharp disagreement with such statements and asked the premier to drop Dulles as a subject after telling him that if those descriptions were correct neither Eisenhower nor the American people would tolerate him as secretary of state.

Before it came to this juncture, however, Humphrey said Khrushchev made this statement: "I am sorry that the policies of the United States are made by Dulles. He is a man of a very special kind of character. This is your own internal matter, but that is not only my view."

Opinion Said Shared — Throughout the whole world he is regarded in the same way. It is not just I who do not like Mr. Dulles. If you don't think so, read the British press and the French press and the press of other countries.

However, I will tell you that the Soviet Union will survive. We have survived many secretaries of state."

Monday Reserved For Tax Questions

Mondays are taxpayer information days again at the Twin Falls Internal Revenue office, during the Jan. 1-April 15 federal income tax filing period.

"Self-help" will be stressed again, with taxpayers requested to follow instruction booklets which show line-by-line how to prepare returns, and to complete them so far as they can before asking for help, Olsen states. Further questions will be answered, and if necessary, taxpayers will be shown how to complete returns.
