Soviets Ask Fast Treaty Discussions

MOSCOW, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed the speedy negotiation of a German peace treaty as a step toward settling the Western Berlin problem. It suggested a 28-nation peace conference in Warsaw or Prague within two months. The proposal was made in a 12-page note to 27 other countries which had fought against Hitler's forces in World War II. With it, the Kremlin distributed a 25-page proposal for a draft treaty for Germany, except for some additions, which was similar to a draft ordered by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in the unsuccessful ministers' conference in Berlin in 1954.

U.S. officials in Washington and western officials in Berlin said the proposal appeared unacceptable in its present form.

One addition proposed that West Berlin be an unarmored free city under the protection of the West. East and West Germany are to be united. The western powers already have turned down the idea of a free city.

The draft included several other proposals which have been turned down by the West in the past. Among them: that all foreign troops withdraw from Germany within a year after the treaty is effective and that Germany be prohibited from joining any political or military bloc that does not include all signatory nations.

The Russians said Red China should be at the peace conference, and that the treaty should be signed both by East and West Germany and by a new confederation of the two Germans. These two suggestions alone seemed certain to be rejected.

Russian Premier Visit Is Met With Eggs in West, Bomb Threat in Chicago

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10 (AP)—Soviet first Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan flew today from Chicago, scene of a telephoned bomb threat, and was rushed past fist-shaking, egg-throwing demonstrators at San Francisco's International airport to a waiting car. A heavy police escort held off 200 Hungarian and other Iron curtain country refugees from pressing too close. None of the eggs hit Mikoyan. The demonstrators angrily shouted "murder" and "kidnap" as the car departed immediately for the city. There was no attempt at any welcoming ceremony. In an effort to outwit the demonstrators, officials had the plane swung away from the concourse here where he had been scheduled to leave it. It was taxied to a spot at the opposite end of the terminal.

Speaking at a news conference in the San Francisco Press and Union League club, Mikoyan said if such demonstrations "are considered an inevitable part of American life, then this will not make that way of life more attractive to others."

He declared: "It is said there has to be freedom. We stand for freedom. But we stand not for freedom for hoodlums but for freedom from hoodlums."

Six hundred members of the club, including many working newsmen, applauded this statement.

He had been asked why there was no mention in the Soviet press of "unpleasant incidents" on his visit to various American cities.

He said if this were true this is to the benefit of America and is to be welcomed.

He said the demonstrations deserve only to be ignored and are "ridiculous."

As Mikoyan left the club, one egg was thrown. It missed badly, hitting the marquee above the entrance.

At 6:50 p.m., just 10 minutes before the deputy premier completed his question and answer period, the Associated Press telephone rang and a woman's voice intently said: "In 10 minutes there will be a bomb explosion in the city."

Pair of Leaders in Legislature Favor Sales Tax in Idaho

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Democratic and Republican leaders of the Idaho legislature expressed themselves in favor of a sales tax today. Sen. A. W. Nagle, leader of the GOP minority in the senate, said he is "convinced we can't get along on a hold the line policy." A sales tax is needed for support of schools and municipalities, he said. Rep. Don Pieper, Democratic majority floor leader of the house, said he favors enactment of a "broad-base" tax to provide income and property tax relief. "The only broad-base tax that has a solid precedent is a sales tax," Pieper added.

Both lawmakers are from Bonneville county. They made their comments in separate interviews during a week-end recess of the legislature.

"I think, said Pieper, that if there is not sufficient sentiment in the two houses of the legislature to affect tax reform we will at last get an interim committee formed and authorized for the herculean task of research and drawing of bills, so that the next session will be all ready to go."

Pieper said in an earlier interview: (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

Sterling Vaughn, Twin Falls, state president, said he was pleased at the attendance. Registration began at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Tournament play began at 10 a.m. and continued until 6 p.m.

Vaughn said that winners will be announced at the close of the tournament Sunday afternoon. Trophies will be awarded to the winners.

Dick Vandenberg, Boise, state defending champion, played his first round Saturday and won.

Play is divided into three classes, Class A for more expert players; Class B for average players, and Class C for beginning players or players lacking extensive experience.

Idaho Police Nab Pair for Nevada Case

Two Colorado youths, accused of breaking into a trailer house near Wilkens, Nev., and later escaping by pointing a gun at the owner, were apprehended late Saturday afternoon near Rogerson by State Patrolman R. E. Young.

The two, James Edward Taylor, 20, and Jim Dee Bradley, 18, told officers they were from Colorado and were on their way to Oregon looking for work.

Local authorities received a report Saturday afternoon that two youths had broken into a trailer house on the highway 11 miles south of Wilkens. Owner of the trailer, unidentified by local officers, had left the trailer beside the highway after having trouble with it. When he returned he saw a car and the two boys. As he entered the trailer, one youth drew a 22 caliber pistol. The youth got into a 1958 Chevrolet sedan with his companion and they drove away northward toward Idaho.

Young spotted the car at Rogerson and made the arrest with no resistance. Besides the pistol, the two had a 22 caliber rifle in their car.

The two were held at Hollister for the sheriff of Elko county, Nev. Sheriff James H. Benham reported the Nevada sheriff "said he would charge the two with second degree burglary."

Man Killed Instantly By Wheels of Truck

A 44-year-old Twin Falls man was killed instantly at 8:45 a.m. Saturday when two rear wheels of a cement truck rolled over his head. Edwin August Gier, employed by the Sumner Sand and Gravel company, apparently backed the truck down an incline behind the company's plant to load it with cement. Investigating city and county law enforcement officials, believe the truck suddenly lurched backward 15 or 20 feet just as Gier brought it underneath the loader. It is believed that Gier was standing on the truck's running board, keeping one hand on the steering wheel.

When the truck lurched, Gier apparently was thrown in front of the left rear wheels. The truck struck one end of the loader and bounced forward about eight feet with the wheels passing over Gier's skull.

Earl Boatright, 505 Locust street, reported to city police that he was working in the plant control room directly above the loader. He said he heard the truck's engine accelerate and then heard a crashing sound.

The accident was investigated by city police, Sheriff James H. Benham and Dr. J. Woodson-Creed, county coroner.

Mr. Gier was born May 28, 1914, in Sylvan Grove, Kans. He came to Twin Falls from Kansas in 1937. He married the former Alice Mae Terdy in Boise July 23, 1937.

He was a member of the Immortal Lutheran church in Twin Falls. In addition to his widow, survivors include two sons, Larry and Duane Gier, and two daughters, Sharyn Gier and Gaylene Gier, all Twin Falls; eight brothers, Arnold Gier, Filler; E. H. Gier, Buhl; C. E. Gier, Longmont, Colo.; Lduis Gier, Lincoln, Kans.; and Emil Gier, George Gier and Al Gier, all Sylvan Grove, and two sisters, Mrs. Mabel-Thaege Downs, Lyons, Kans. and Mrs. Melinda Bern, Lyons, Kans.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Reynolds funeral home.

Rule Revision Has Prospect, Senator Notes

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R., N. J., said today he believes there is a real chance the senate will revise its rules to allow three-fifths of the members to cut off a filibuster.

This would be a middle ground solution between the bare majority proposed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D., Ill., as a substitute for the two-thirds majority urged by Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Douglas advanced his proposal in behalf of the bipartisan bloc of northern and western senators who so far have been routed in the rules battle by the forces led by Johnson. Southern senators are vigorously defending the tradition of unlimited debate which they have used in the past against civil rights bills.

Case, a leader of the anti-filibuster coalition, acknowledged in an interview that probable defeat lies ahead for the Douglas proposal for debate limitation by the votes of 50 senators, or a bare majority of all 98 senators.

But he said he sees a real chance for a proposal by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R., Ky., to permit filibusters to be halted by three fifths, or 60 percent, of the senators present and voting.

The satellite will be traveling overhead at an altitude ranging between 385 and 400 miles.

Three men are scheduled to appear on charges of forgery. William F. Hobbs, charged with giving a check to a Buhl service station for $40 Nov. 27, 1958, signed "A. H. Reed." Aubrey L. Webb, charged with forgery, is also scheduled to appear.

Man Predicted to Orbit Earth Soon

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10 (AP)—A pioneer air force experimenter in high-speed travel predicts a man will orbit the Earth in a space vehicle in two to four years.

Col. John Paul Stapp, chief of the aero medical lab at Dayton's Wright Air Development center, said Friday night: "Man actually is ready now for the flight but he must wait two, three or four years for the proper machines."

Stapp told a joint meeting of three greater Cincinnati technical societies that "one can hope that man will progress so that space achievement will take the place of these insane drives which push man into war."

"Mankind may then pull itself up by its bootstraps into a new age of reason and peace," he added.

Driver, 17, Is Arrested for Recklessness

A Twin Falls teen-ager was charged with reckless driving Saturday night after giving a city officer a short chase on downtown streets and alleys.

Police reported Richard Simmons, 17, 1001 Shephens street north, was spotted by a traffic officer driving at a high rate of speed on Main avenue north. The officer started after the youth in the 500 block of Main avenue and chased him to Eighth street. Simmons turned onto an alley, still driving at a high rate of speed. He drove through alleys and into a parking lot behind the Military Inn where he parked among the other cars and turned off the car lights. Four other youngsters were in the car with him, police reported.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orfel Simmons, were notified and the boy was released to their custody Saturday night.

Marilyn Denny, 27, Twin Falls, forfeited a $10 bond in Twin Falls police court Saturday on a charge of speeding. She was cited by city police Dec. 19 in the 200 block of Blue Lakes boulevard north for driving 32 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Slate of Six Looms In Canal Firm Vote

Twin Falls Canal company stockholders will probably choose from a slate of six candidates when they vote Tuesday to select a five-man board of directors for 1959. Approximately 500,000 nominating votes were filed at the company office before the 5 p.m. Thursday deadline. Officially, the names of the candidates will not be known until the stockholders meet Tuesday. In previous years, with some exceptions, only incumbent members of the board were candidates for election. This year, however, at least two stockholders are challenging members of the present board for their positions.

Dick Stafford, Twin Falls, and Edd Reicher, Filer, are known to be candidates for positions on the board.

Present members of the board are Fay Frahm, Hansen, first elected in 1953; Tom Olmstead, Twin Falls, appointed to the board in March, 1958, upon the death of Don Stafford; N. V. Sharp, not seeking reelection; Albert Kilsa, Buhl, first elected in 1953; and Alfred Kramer, Castleford, first elected in 1947 and reelected in 1950 after two years' absence.

It is generally believed that, except for Sharp, the present board members are seeking reelection.

Alfred Peters, company manager, points out that voting is not by district—in other words, no two candidates run against each other to represent any certain district of the tract. The five candidates (Continued on Page 1, Column 1)

T. F. Youth Still Reported Critical

The condition of James Rose, 16, son of Mrs. Ardis Catron, Twin Falls, is reported "still critical" at the LDS hospital, Salt Lake City.

Physicians in Salt Lake City also have been treating the youth for pneumonia, which he contracted after the shooting.

The boy was flown to Salt Lake City from Magic Valley Memorial hospital Jan. 4.

Commissioners Taking Oath Monday to Make 38 Who Have Served Since 1907

When Russell C. Larsen and Harold Lancaster are sworn in Monday morning as Twin Falls county commissioners they will bring to 38 the total of men who have served as commissioners since 1907.

Larsen and Lancaster, both Democrats, defeated Glenn Whitney and L. W. Hawkins, incumbent Republicans, for the commissioner positions in the November election.

Larsen, Rock Creek, was elected from the county's third commission district for the four-year term. Lancaster, Filer, was elected from the first district for the two-year term.

Henry Crow, now the only Republican on the commission, represented the second district with his term expiring early in 1961.

Hawkins, who was first elected a commissioner in 1946, ends 12 consecutive years on the board. No other commissioner since the first board was appointed by the governor in 1907 has served so long without interruption.

T. E. Moore, first elected in 1914, served a total of 12 years on the board over a period of 16 years. Moore was reelected in 1916, 1918 and 1920, accumulating eight years' service, and was elected again to the board in 1928 and 1929.

Until the mid-thirties, the terms of all three commissioners were for two years.

The county's first commissioners were George L. Crocker, John F. Bowen and L. E. Halladay. They were appointed by Gov. Frank R. Gooding on March 18, 1907, and served until the first elected board took over in January, 1908.

Other former commissioners who served a total of eight years or more on the board are James L. Barnes, 10 years, who served from 1927 to 1929 and from 1931 to 1933; George R. Starr, 10 years, 1931 to 1941; Ben E. Potter, eight years, 1939 to 1947; and O. R. Cannon.

Man Fatally Crushed Under Wheels of Truck

Man Killed Instantly By Wheels of Truck

A 44-year-old Twin Falls man was killed instantly at 8:45 a.m. Saturday when two rear wheels of a cement truck rolled over his head. Edwin August Gier, employed by the Sumner Sand and Gravel company, apparently backed the truck down an incline behind the company's plant to load it with cement. Investigating city and county law enforcement officials believe the truck suddenly lurched backward 15 or 20 feet, just as Gier brought it underneath the loader. It is believed that Gier was standing on the truck's running board, keeping one hand on the steering wheel.

When the truck lurched, Gier apparently was thrown in front of the left rear wheels. The truck struck one end of the loader and bounced forward about eight feet with the wheels passing over Gier's skull.

Earl Boatright, 605 Locust street, reported to city police that he was working in the plant control room directly above the loader. He said he heard the truck's engine accelerate and then heard a "crashing sound."

The accident was investigated by city police, Sheriff James H. Benham and Dr. J. Woodson Creed, county coroner.

Mr. Gier was born May 28, 1914, in Sylvan Grove, Kans. He came to Twin Falls from Kansas in 1937. He married the former Alice Mae Tverdy in Boise July 23, 1937.

He was a member of the Immanuel Lutheran church in Twin Falls. Douglas advanced his proposal in behalf of the bipartisan bloc of northern and western senators who so far have been routed in the rules battle by the forces led by Johnson. Southern senators are vigorously defending the tradition of unlimited debate, which they have used in the past against civil rights bills.

Case, a leader of the anti-filibuster coalition, acknowledged in an interview that probably to defeat lies ahead for the Douglas proposal for debate limitation by the votes of 80 senators, of a bare majority of all 99 senators.

But he said he sees a real chance for a proposal by Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R., Ky., to permit filibusters to be halted by three fifths, or 80 percent, of the senators present and voting.

Idaho Police Nab Pair for Nevada Case

Two Colorado youths, accused of breaking into a trailer house near Wilkerson, Nev., and later escaping by pointing a gun at the owner, were apprehended late Saturday afternoon near Rogerson by State Patrolman R. E. Young.

The two, James Edward Taylor, 20, and Jim Dee Bradley, 19, told officers they were from Colorado and were on their way to Oregon looking for work.

Local authorities received a report Saturday afternoon that two youths had broken into a trailer house on the highway 11 miles south of Wilkerson. One of the trailer, unidentified by local officers, fled the trailer beside the highway after having trouble with it. When he returned he saw a car and the two boys. As he entered the trailer, one youth drew a .22 caliber pistol. The youth got into a 1958 Chevrolet sedan with his companion and they drove away northward toward Idaho.

Young spotted the car at Rogerson and made the arrest with no resistance. Besides the pistol, the two had a 12 caliber rifle in their car. He drove through alleys and into a parking lot behind the Military Inn where he parked among the other cars and turned off the car lights. Four other youngsters were in the car with him, police reported.

The youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriel Simmons, were notified and the boy was released to their custody Saturday night.

Commissioners Taking Oath Monday to Make 38 Who Have Served Since 1907

When Russell C. Larsen and Halston Lancaster are sworn in Monday morning as Twin Falls county commissioners they will bring to 38 the total of men who have served as commissioners since 1907.

Larsen and Lancaster, both Democrats, defeated Glenn Whitney and L. W. Hawkins, incumbent Republicans, for the commissioner positions in the November election.

Larsen-Rock Creek, was elected from the county's third commission district for the four-year term, Lancaster, Filer, was elected from the first district for the two-year term.

Henry Crow, now the only Republican on the commission, represents the second district, with his term expiring early in 1961.

Hawkins, who was first elected a commissioner in 1946, ends 12 consecutive years on the board. No other commissioner since the first board was appointed by the governor in 1907 has served so long without interruption.

T. E. Moore, first elected in 1914, served a total of 12 years on the board over a period of 16 years. Moore was reelected in 1916, 1918 and 1920, accumulating eight years' service, and was elected again to the board in 1926 and 1928.

Until the mid-thirties, the terms of all three commissioners were for two years.

The county's first commissioners were George L. Crocker, John F. Hansen and L. E. Balladry. They were appointed by Gov. Frank R. Gooding on March 16, 1907, and served until the first elected board took over in January, 1909.

Other former commissioners who served a total of eight years on the board are James L. Barnes, 10 years, who served from 1927 to 1929 and from 1931 to 1933; George B. Hart, 10 years, 1931 to 1941; Ben E. Potter, eight years, 1933 to 1941; and O. E. O'Connell, 1933 to 1947, and O. E. O'Connell.

Builders Vote To Keep Fund Within Idaho

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Idaho chapter of Associated General Contractors voted yesterday to work for retaining in Idaho the money they contribute to union health and welfare funds.

Present labor agreements require Idaho employers in heavy construction to contribute to welfare funds 7 1/2 cents for each hour worked by 2,500 to 3,000 workers. The funds are controlled by employer - employee boards of trustees.

The contractors, in a resolution, said they wanted the administration and deposit of these funds shifted to Idaho.

Another resolution asked for legislation to limit benefits under the funds to workers actually employed under the labor agreements.

The resolutions were passed in the final day of an annual convention here.

Contractors opposed labor efforts to organize government workers. They expressed support for the one-bid system of letting contracts, which they said would encourage the greatest efficiency.

Six Idaho firms received commendation for operating one year without losing employe work time because of injuries. They were Brennan Construction company, Pocatello; Fulton Construction company, Boise; Gooding Construction company, Blackfoot; L. H. Krieger Construction company, Nampa; K. H. Matthews, Boise; and Reynolds and Walker, Inc., Twin Falls.

"MENACE TO SOCIETY"

Now that the legislature is in session and Idaho has just ended one of its worst years for death and destruction on the state's highways...

It's ghastly, when one stops to think about it, that 594 individuals lost their lives during a four-day holiday span starting at 6 p. m. Dec. 24.

The horrible part of it is that it is so largely a predictable price. The only thing we don't know in advance is who are the ones who will go to their deaths.

As we have pointed out many times in the past, Idaho's campaign against traffic deaths has lacked leadership. As a consequence we hear a lot of talk on the subject, but see little effective action.

What Governor Smylie has to say about this problem in his special message to the legislature will probably determine to a large extent what, if anything, will actually be accomplished in recognizing the need for an outright war against persistent traffic law violators.

WASHINGTON—"Can you tell me," writes Mrs. G. P. of Bridgeport, Conn., indignantly, "why we have rolled the red carpet for Anastas Mikoyan..."

He managed the massacre of his own people, the enslaved Armenians, kossaks ago. He is now running Russia's trade war and economic offensive...

Answer: Although the writer's bitterness is understandable, it would have been most undiplomatic for the administration to have refused the specific request for Mikoyan's visit.

President's attitude to any visitor. Herewith is President Eisenhower's attitude, which he gave when a visit from Marshal Tito was under discussion.

Those Long Minutes. I wonder if anyone's ever heard that phrase, "Just a minute?"

When Legislators should themselves decide—"Why didn't President Eisenhower give support to the Republican liberals in the senate?"

Views of Others. The DELINQUENTS. The conclusions of people who study other people to see what makes them tick sometimes are profound and sometimes are so simple...

Mechanized Self-Control. Thus far the word "automation" has suggested chiefly vast unmanned steel mills, simmering chemical plants, sky-ranging satellites...

Now for Hawaii. There is one way better than all others to welcome Alaska into the union Saturday coincident with President Eisenhower's issuance of the necessary formal proclamation.

LIASE. There's a new verb in the gobbledygook vocabulary. It's attributed to John W. Hanes, formerly one of Secretary of State Dulles' assistants...

LIASE (continued). The verb is "liase" (pronounced lee-aze). No, you won't find it in any dictionary. It's a corruption of the French noun "liaison..."

When the Nazis attacked Russia, Mikoyan became one of eight ministers who ran the war production effort. He was virtual quartermaster for the red army.

After the war, Mikoyan became a member of the council of commissars for economic rehabilitation of liberated areas with Georgi M. Malenkov. They reportedly differed on policy.

In 1953-55 period, Mikoyan was responsible for building up consumer goods. But when Bulganin became chairman of the council of ministers and cut back consumer goods to place more emphasis on heavy industry, Mikoyan resigned.

At one time Mikoyan was Soviet ambassador to the U. S. He was retained, however, as first deputy chairman of the presidium, overseeing both domestic and foreign trade.

The ousting of Bulganin and the rise of Khrushchev to chairmanship has made no difference in Mikoyan's standing. If anything, it is enhanced.

Mikoyan sided with Voroshilov and Zhukov to keep Khrushchev in power when Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich tried to overthrow him, only to be ousted themselves.

Mikoyan's speeches indicate that he repeats Khrushchev's boasts that the Soviet Union will surpass the United States economic output. Mikoyan is considered the operator if not the architect of Russia's economic warfare policies against the U. S. throughout the world.

He is completely communist. He is crafty, he is flexible, he is smart. He has kept his head by not sticking his neck out at the wrong time.

Taxpayer Agent Sees Big Gains In Spending by State Agencies

BOISE, Jan. 10 -- Executive Manager Max Yost of the Associated Taxpayers of Idaho reported today that an analysis of budget requests from state departments and agencies would call for expenditures of $222,503,767 in the next biennium.

Although public attention is generally focused on general fund appropriations, the fact is that state government spending from other funds is considerably greater than most people realize.

Yost cited the demand from the United Education Council for $3,000,000 more for state support for public schools than the $1,600,000 increase already reflected in the budget.

He pointed to reminders from cities and villages that they are faced with the need for $10,000,000 more in the next biennium to meet their local needs.

He said advocates of health and welfare programs also are pressing for more funds, with requests already amounting to about $3,500,000. The national defense education act would require Idaho to put up nearly $1,000,000 in matching funds.

Library Sets Plan to Note 'Golden' Year

Plans for a 50th anniversary observance of the Twin Falls library have been made by the library board.

The Twin Falls library association was first established Feb. 26, 1909, spearheaded by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnes. Formal celebration of the event is planned during National Library Week in April.

The board authorized purchase of a new building for the proposed youth center at the Wednesday session. Members also authorized purchase of a vacuum cleaner and heard reports from the librarian.

A continued gain in circulation was announced by Arthur L. DeWolfe, librarian, with 8,814 items being charged to patrons during the past month.

The breakdown showed adults reading 3,195 books of fiction, 1,867 of non-fiction, 468 magazines and 151 pamphlets. Juvenile department circulation was 2,338 juvenile fiction, 647 non-fiction, 11 magazines and 27 pamphlets.

One hundred and sixty-four new books were purchased. Twenty-nine books were worn out and withdrawn. The staff rebound and repaired 44 books and magazines.

Fifteen new phonograph records were added, with a total circulation of 92 adult records and 83 juvenile for the month.

New readers included 178 adults and 130 juveniles, with 92 adult and 40 juvenile cards withdrawn.

The library was open 26 days with average daily circulation of 339, a high of 558 and a low of 186.

Overdue fines totaled $158, pay shelf, $56, and cards to non-residents, $44. Total expenditures were $3140.

Story hour attendance totaled 236, with Dorothy Evans, Edith Dygert and Mrs. Eugene Sturgill conducting the sessions.

Magic Valley Memorial Hospital gullid, Lee Zahn, Paul Thoman and the Lydia Donrose estate were among donors of books for the past month.

Mrs. Pauline Wilks was named assistant librarian, circulation, part-time, effective Jan. 2.

Earl Haroldsen Elected New President Of T.F. Chamber of Commerce for 1959

Earl Haroldsen was elected president of the board of directors of Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce Friday noon.

Carl Berg was named first vice president and Egan Kroll, second vice president. Other new board members are Joseph McCollum, Carl Irwin, Mel Carr and Otto Florence, Jr.

Holdover directors include the retiring president, Edward Heap, Warren Barry, Leo Fillmore, William Lanting and Earl Faulkner.

R. S. Tofflemire, outgoing board member, reported on his attendance at the opening session of the legislature and stated that the Twin Falls county delegation is an outstanding one. He urged chamber members to give their full support to these men.

Criticism of the chamber for taking a stand on issues which are to come before the voters was expressed in a letter from Bert Sweet, Jr. His letter referred specifically to the sewer bond election and the city manager form of government.

Several members from the Twin Falls chamber will attend the annual banquet of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce Monday night.

In discussing problems facing the new board of directors, the opinion was voiced that the first aim of the committee will be to promote harmony and unity of spirit among businessmen and the city.

The board has been asked by Howard Burkhardt, member of the city commission, to explore possibilities for additional facilities for care of the aged.

The legislative committee will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the chamber offices. Carl Irwin, chairman, announced. Other members of the committee include R. S. Tofflemire, William Hoops, William Lanting, John Hahn, J. H. Lattimore, James Norfleet, Clifford Smith and Lyons Smith. Deutsch said he slept in the coach all night at the trolley parking lot, hooked up the poles to the power lines overhead in the morning and drove off.

Hard Methods Not Any Help, Lawyer States

SUN VALLEY, Jan. 10—Brooklyn's district attorney says young Philadelphia hoodlums must be "panty waists" if they knuckle under to harsh anti-crime methods.

Edward S. Silver, speaking during a discussion session at the convention of the National Association of County and Prosecuting Attorneys, said today severe punishments do not seem to have any great deterrent effect in Brooklyn.

Silver commented after Victor H. Blanc, Philadelphia district attorney, said he thinks there is a value in "adult punishment for adult crime."

Blanc told the group that since a Philadelphia jury gave a 19-year-old murderer the death penalty, juvenile "headings" and "mugging" have decreased.

Los Angeles Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson said he hoped psychiatric advances would show the middle way "between medieval severity and modern coddling."

Dividend Use Reported for GI Insurance

More than a million veterans holding GI life insurance policies are using their regular annual dividends or rebates to guard against loss of their GI insurance, says Arnold Helwege, representative of the veterans administration.

The statement followed the recent announcement that $250,000,000 in policy dividends would be paid during 1959 to more than five million holders of participating GI insurance.

Helwege said GI policyholders may have these annual dividends held, with interest, by the agency as credit to pay the premium monthly if the policyholder fails to pay it before the end of the 31-day grace period.

This policy safeguarding procedure is followed automatically if the policyholder has not requested other disposition of his annual dividends, he pointed out.

Two other dividend options were open to all holders of participating GI policies. They may direct VA to use their annual dividends to pay policy premiums ahead of time, or they may request that their dividends or premium rebates be paid in cash.

In addition, holders of permanent plan policies have still another option that is not open to term policyholders. They may authorize VA to hold annual dividends on deposit, with interest and subject to withdrawal on request. If not withdrawn, the money and accrued interest will increase the value of the policy.

To change their options, veterans should write to the VA district office which services their policies, making sure to include their insurance number and the new option they wish to elect, Helwege said.

Medic Dies While Doing Operation

The suit was filed by mail in U.S. district court at Shreveport. The suit could be a crucial test case. More than 530 persons were killed in the hurricane and its watery aftermath.

Winter Wheat Crop Estimate Lower in 1959

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The agriculture department expects the winter wheat crop this year to fall below the record set in 1958.

In other parts of the report, the department said farm feed supplies were adequate for livestock, milk production was up, and egg production was higher.

The department also raised its winter potato crop forecast 2 per cent from the Dec. 1 prediction.

Farm employment dropped 18 per cent in December, the department said, reflecting the normal low level of winter activity in agriculture.

Three Towns Given Nod on Road Project

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Assurances have been given by the state highway board that three southern Idaho projects will be placed on future schedules.

One of them involves use of federal aid funds jointly by two counties.

The board said Friday it hoped to place on its 1960 construction program an improvement project on state route 68 in an area west of Corral in Camas county.

Funds allotted to Camas and Blaine counties will be used. They said they had no other projects for the use of the federal money.

The board discussed with Mayor G. L. Aycock and a group from Rupert the proposed replacement of the present two-lane U.S. highway 30-N with a four-lane highway.

In another discussion over U.S. 30-N, an American Falls group was told the state highway department would not improve the business route until a section of interstate highway in that area has been completed.

Ignoring Pedigree Costs Dog Fine of $5.80 for 'Loitering'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 10 (AP)—Pan is a gay dog. Pan is a democratic dog, part alabian, part his and that.

Last fall, Pan's roving eye fell upon a gorgeous alabian female standing behind a high fence. She had a pedigree as long as Pan's tail. She was betrothed to Arno von Haus Gersl, an alabian with a pedigree twice as long as Pan's tail.

Pan, unimpressed by pedigree, jumped the fence. In due course the alabian beauty gave birth to seven healthy but obviously unpedigreed pups.

Her architect owner sued Pan's owner, an engineer. The architect said the love affair was illicit, the pups were worthless, and he had lost the revenue expected from the union of the female with Arno von Haus Gersl.

A court Saturday awarded the architect 2,000 kroner or $290 damages. Pan was fined 40 kroner, $5.80, for loitering.

Escapée Given Added 3-Year Term in Court

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—A 22-year-old woman who escaped from the state penitentiary and later was captured while attempting to hide a hike near Kimberly faced an additional three years of imprisonment today as the penalty for less than one week's freedom.

Virginia Lorene Pugmire, Pocatello, was sentenced by Judge Merlino S. Young in third district court Friday on a charge of escaping from the Idaho prison. He ruled the term will begin at the expiration of Miss Pugmire's term for forgery which she was serving at the time of her escape.

Meanwhile, another woman who escaped has been reported captured. Warden L. E. Clapp said he has been advised the woman was taken into custody in Austin, Tex., and has been identified as Nancy Frances Christopher, one of the three women who scaled a 16-foot wall surrounding the women's ward the night of Dec. 28.

The other woman, Mary Ann Gardner, 21, El Monte, Calif., asked for appointment of an attorney to defend her when she appeared Friday before third district Judge M. Oliver Koelsch. The judge delayed proceedings until Jan. 23. She was brought back to Idaho from California by her father.

The Pugmire woman was arrested near Kimberly shortly before midnight on New Year's eve by Kimberly Policeman Paul Corder. She was held in the Twin Falls county jail for several days waiting for prison officials to return her to Boise.

Miss Pugmire was the first of the trio to be apprehended. She apparently was trying to make her way to Pocatello. She told officers in Twin Falls she never would have been caught if she had reached Pocatello.

Ignorance Pedigree Costs Dog Fine of $5.80 for 'Loitering'

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 10 (AP)—Pan is a gay dog. Pan is a democratic dog, part alabian, part his and that.

Last fall, Pan's roving eye fell upon a gorgeous alabian female standing behind a high fence. She had a pedigree as long as Pan's tail. She was betrothed to Arno von Haus Gersl, an alabian with a pedigree twice as long as Pan's tail.

Pan, unimpressed by pedigree, jumped the fence. In due course the alabian beauty gave birth to seven healthy but obviously unpedigreed pups.

Her architect owner sued Pan's owner, an engineer. The architect said the love affair was illicit, the pups were worthless, and he had lost the revenue expected from the union of the female with Arno von Haus Gersl.

A court Saturday awarded the architect 2,000 kroner or $290 damages. Pan was fined 40 kroner, $5.80, for loitering.

Bond Election Needs Told at Meet for PTA

PAUL, Jan. 10—Members of the Paul PTA were told this week by Camden Meyer, superintendent of Blaine county schools, that it was time to start thinking about a bond election for needed classrooms for the growing school population.

Speaking at the PTA meeting in the Blaine county high school, the superintendent said the county now has 3,900 students and if no new residents move into the area, there will be 600 more students within five years.

Eight new classrooms are in the process of being built at Acequia and Pershing school, he said. The Washington school, built for 610 students, now has more than 700 enrolled, he noted. Classrooms are being used in the bus garage and one church, officials stated.

A panel on science and mathematics was conducted with John Mitchell as moderator. Participating were Lena H. Huppworth, Mark Johnson, Anderson and Walter Bromenschenkel, teacher of those subjects.

It was pointed out the high school had the faculty and facilities for both but students were not taking in any number of the courses which are not required to graduate. They noted that 325 students were taking the required course in biology while only 168 were enrolled in chemistry and only 19 in physics.

In mathematics the same situation exists, with 300 students taking first year algebra and only 16 are taking trigonometry. In biology a student actually has to learn 1,500 new words and terms, which is more than they have to learn in first year Spanish, panel members said.

The opening prayer was given by Walter Stram, minister of the Christian church in Rupert. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jesse Hymas, Mrs. U. U. Locander and Mrs. Virginia Blair.

A skit was presented by the drama department directed by Donald Bates, instructor, advertising the National Parent and Teachers magazine. Participating in the skit were Boyd Morgan, Carm Peiton, Larry Dunn, Carol Jarvis and Diane Plocher.

Idaho's Plan Just Starting, Speaker Says

MERIDIAN, Jan. 10 (AP)—Idaho's planning for industrial and economic development has actually just scratched the surface of what might be done, Louise Shaduck, state secretary of commerce and development, said tonight.

She pointed to Meridian, rural community 10 miles west of Boise, as typical of small towns throughout the nation to which industry is turning for new sites.

She told the Meridian Chamber of Commerce that the community itself must carry the brunt of the load in attracting new industry.

While the state department, area development groups and community organizations can take the lead and lead a prospect to the community, she said, "the local area has to do the final job itself."

EMMETT, Ida., Jan. 10 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie dedicated an Idaho national guard armory here tonight, expressing the hope that it would enrich the life of the community as well as serve the military unit for which it was built.

The armory will be the headquarters of the 618th transportation company of the guard. But it was designed to serve also as a civic center, available for many functions in the community.

The Emmett building is the first to be financed from the funds approved by the 1957 legislature and six more are planned — at Idaho Falls, Jerome, Rigby, Twin Falls, Preston and Orofino.

ASSISTANT NAMED BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Appointment of Earle M. Boys, Boise, as assistant district manager was announced today by C. Ben Reavis, district manager of the Boise office of the social security system.

Public Forum Gooding Man Says Aid Funds Better Than Missile Spending

Editor, Times-News:—In discussing the "Battle of the Budget" Senator Henry Dworshak has written recently "... Emphasis is placed upon national defense and foreign aid as being indispensable to our welfare and thus incapable of any reduction. Actually, the defense department is inefficient and wasteful. Large sums of money could be saved in procurement of planes, missiles, and everything required to implement preparedness.

Contractors are handed lush contracts without competition, and their stocks reflect abnormally high profits.

This is a dangerous thing for a man in politics to say, for so many people seem to challenge the patriotism of anyone who dares question military expenditures as the solution to every problem. But is it not true that the spread of communism is being made, not by military force, but by capturing the minds of oppressed peoples and offering them a way out of their economic difficulties? And what can our H-bombs, guided missiles, or even moon-rockets do about this?

It is my hope that readers of this letter who are not desirous of using their taxes to pay for defense department inefficiency or to increase the profits of military contractors (which are already at record heights) will take 10 minutes to write Senator Dworshak, Senator Church, and Congressman Budge—and let them know how you feel.

As for "foreign aid" (which Senator Dworshak seems to disfavor)—would it not be a better investment to spend dollars to enable a country to improve its economy rather than to build a missile base to destroy that country—or some other land? PAUL V. LARUE (Gooding)

Hemingway Is 'Very Glad' at Cuban Revolt

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Ernest Hemingway said today he is very happy about the success of the Castro revolution in Cuba but had nothing to do with it.

In Ketchum, Ida., was interviewed via telephone by a reporter for radio station WNEW.

A Cuban resident, Hemingway said he had never met either Fidel Castro, victorious rebel leader, or Fulgencio Batista, ousted dictator.

Asked if he played any part in the Castro movement, Hemingway replied:

"None at all. I believe that Americans should take no part in Cuban politics, and that is what the Cubans want. They do not want Americans to interfere in any way in the destiny of the country."

Hemingway said he expects to return to Cuba when he finishes his current novel, which he hopes will be within six weeks. He would not discuss the book.

Asked why he left Cuba last October, the writer said it was because it was "too hot"—but he made it plain he was talking about the weather.

Korea Police Confirms Plot Against Rhee

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 10 (AP)—South Korean national police today officially confirmed reports of a North Korean communist assassination plot against Syngman Rhee and other South Korean leaders.

The report first came from Tokyo Friday, quoting a highly placed Korean source.

National Police Director Lee Sung Woo said the reported plot was connected with an earlier police ban on all outdoor meetings and demonstrations.

It was pointed out in Tokyo that such a story of an assassination plot could be deliberately circulated to justify recent police and government actions.

Lee said that "there always have been communist plots to assassinate Rhee, but police just do not announce them because such information is unnecessary for the people."

Police late in November banned all outdoor meetings for security reasons, claiming they had obtained "information of a serious nature on communist subversion."

Dutch Reports Vary on Russ Aide Proposal

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Jan. 10 (AP)—Dutch officials gave conflicting statements today as to whether the Soviet Union had issued feelers regarding Dutch reaction to the possible appointment of ex-Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as ambassador to The Hague.

A high government official said Moscow had asked—several weeks ago whether Molotov would be acceptable.

A spokesman for The Netherlands foreign ministry commented later this was not true. But other government sources said the ministry declined confirmation because the exchange had not been of an official nature.

Neither the official nor the ministry spokesman could be identified by name.

The government official said the Dutch government replied about 10 days ago "that there will be no objection to the appointment of Molotov as ambassador to The Netherlands."

"Since then," this official added, "we have not heard from the Soviet government."

Molotov was sent into virtual banishment as ambassador to Outer Mongolia after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev had won a showdown with Molotov and his so-called anti-party group in 1957.

Little Misses Prefer Mothers' Gifts as Toys.

From left, Little Misses Kathy Sizemore, 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Shirley Sizemore, and Jan Carey, 2 1/2-year-old daughter of Mrs. Robert Carey, sometimes object to their mothers using cuddly dogs made from bath towels and wash cloths as gift items. Kathy and Jan think they are much more interesting as toys. For the small dog Kathy is holding, only three wash cloths, bits of felt and four spoons of thread are required. The larger dogs with floppy ears are made from a bath towel, wash cloth, felt, buttons and ribbon. (Staff photo- engraving)

Everyday Items Will Make Unique Toys and Presents

Ordinary terry cloth bath towels and wash cloths are put to a unique use by Mrs. Harley Sizemore and Mrs. Robert Carey. In addition to the obvious practical use of these items, they make simple cuddly toys for children and add interest to their use as gift items without changing the original state of the articles. The women make a large lovable cuddly dog with floppy ears from one bath towel and a contrasting wash cloth. Other articles needed are a strong rubber band or length of string, a length of matching ribbon, three buttons and bits of felt. To form the dog, lay bath towel flat and roll each side lengthwise to center. Turn rolled sides under leaving flat surface on top. Fold one end back approximately one-third the length of the towel, extend other end completely over first folded portion and then fold back half way. Now turn folded towel-

Twin Falls Beats Borah 53-51 but Bows to Nampa 61-49; Ulrich Stars

Diminutive John Ulrich came off the bench midway through the third quarter to lead the Twin Falls Bruins to a 53-51 Southern Idaho conference victory over the Borah Lions. Ulrich, who is the Bruin team captain, came into the fray with the Bruin machine sputtering almost lifelessly in the face of Borah's twin pronged game of full court press and fast break. The 5-foot, 7-inch guard used the simple method of rendering the full court press to nothing by bringing the ball down himself and then slowed the Twin Falls team sufficiently to make their shots count.

Under Ulrich's expert generalship, the Bruins boomed from five points behind into a 10-point lead. But even then they had to weather a desperation rally by the Lions. Larry Kincheloe also shared big honors for the Bruins as he was a demon on the boards and spent much of the night cramming shots down the intended shooters' throats.

But the Bruins almost found more than they could handle in the Borah crew which had little but scrap. The Lions gave away several inches in height to the Bruins in many cases but their ballhawking and scrappiness kept the Bruins offbalance throughout much of the evening.

The game opened according to plan, the Bruins jumping off to an 8-2 lead, thanks to Dave Fix's four-point effort. At the end of the period, Twin Falls was on top 13-8. The Lions pulled close in the second quarter but they fell back as the half ended 23-18.

It was in the third quarter that the Lions all but upset the Bruin attack. They roared into a 25-25 tie early in the period. The Bruins rebounded to a 29-25 edge but then Borah racked up 11 points while Twin Falls got but a lone field goal by Fix. The visitors were on top, 36-31 and the Bruins were reeling.

Then Ulrich was injected and he completely dominated the game for the next several minutes. Under his leadership the Bruins righted themselves and at the end of the period were back knocking at the door, behind only 40-39.

As the last quarter opened, Twin Falls pumped through 11 straight points to build their biggest lead of the night—50-40.

Then they had to hang on. The Lions slowly inched back bucket by bucket. Twin Falls couldn't stand against their ballhawking efforts. Finally, the Bruins managed to save the game by holding onto the ball for 53 seconds when the score was 62-49.

Wanek Stein hit on an 18-footer to bring the Lions within one point. With three seconds left, Bruin guard Bill Hiltorf clipped in a free throw and the Lions called time out.

They had time to throw the ball in and take one shot. But the ball bounced off the edge of the rim and the game was over.

Dodgers Plan to Shorten 'Pasture'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Here's a belated but welcome Christmas gift for left-handed hitters of the National League: the Dodgers plan to shorten the Coliseum's right field fence.

No longer will the power hitters blast one about 440 feet into right center and then, as they round first base, hear the small-voiced-of-the-fielder from those immense pastures: "I got it."

The Dodger plan, announced Friday, is this: Reduce the distance from home plate to dead center from 425 feet to 410.

Full in right-center's "power alley" from an almost impossible 440 feet to 385. The foul line remains unchanged at 300 feet.

Panthers Collect College's First Hoop Victories By Dumping Nazarene JV's

DECLO, Jan. 10—Magic Valley Christian college Panthers made it two in a row—the first two victories in the school's history) by dumping the Jayvees of Northwest Nazarene college 66-60 Saturday night. The Panthers clipped the western Idaho team 56-16 Friday.

Four of the Panthers jumped into double scoring figures Saturday night and for the first time this year they were led in scoring by a man other than Jim Tidwell. It was Roger Williams who tanked 17 points and took game scoring honors while Tidwell was two points behind. Behind that tandem attack, the Panthers jumped to an early lead that mounted steadily after halftime.

Coach Leonard Hall got his first opportunity of the year to throw his second string into the fray and build up reserve power and experience.

The second string, however, ran into trouble. They entered the game with eight minutes remaining and Magic Valley-owning a 65-45 lead. They could muster only a single free throw while the Nazarene crew ate up the deficit in huge chunks.

The Panthers hope for further action in the final minutes of the game. They are slated to play in the Nazarene frosh invitational tournament at Nampa.

Nampa Uses Field Goal in Last 24 Seconds to Squeak Past Jerome Tigers 30-29

NAMPA, Jan. 10—Jack Mosely tanked a field goal with only 24 seconds remaining and the Nampa Bulldogs gave the Jerome Tigers a narrow 30-29 decision over Jerome's Tigers Friday night. The score ruined the Tigers bid to take the victory in a second half rally. It was a non-conference tilt. Nampa pulled ahead of the cold shooting Tigers 10-5 at the end of the first quarter and held that five-point lead through the second period, which ended 16-11. In the third quarter the Tiger offensive machine finally got rolling while its defensive game became even tighter. The Tigers inched back into contention and were on top 23-21 at the fourth quarter began.

NCAA Okays Military Academies' Tutoring

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10 (AP)—The NCAA council Saturday approved a plan by which the U.S. Military academy can provide preparatory tutoring for its prospective football players. Delegates to the 53rd annual NCAA convention Friday approved an amendment to the by-laws which gave the council the right to grant exceptions to the service academies in the matter of providing advance tutoring. The council acted Saturday in closing sessions of the convention.

The Jerome Tigers have almost completed their Southern Idaho conference schedule and are posting good showing against the "larger" schools. This year it would appear from the Tiger slate they are playing in two conferences for they are playing SIC members and also course their own Big Seven league lists.

More troubles have cropped up in the past several previous years about officiating locally. Discussion with coaches points up the need for additional, more experienced talent along those lines.

The last two years have seen a drastic reduction in experienced officials in the fourth district. Many of the old standbys have quit the game while several others have become very choosy over which games they call.

This year Ernie Crater, fourth district commissioner, has 37 officials compared with a high of 66 two years ago. One of the big voids in the official roster is the "mid-level" men or the men who started two to three years ago and then quit for some reason or another.

But the older officials are also the smarter. Knowing they are can turn down these close games and pick up their share of assignments over the remainder of the season, they become choosy. The difference in pay is so slight it often is little as an inducement.

Crater reports he had four of the better officials turn down assignments to one game. It figured to be a close and it was. The crowd was at a boiling best.

Kentucky Wallops Louisiana State
BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 10 (AP)—Johnny Cox, Kentucky's All-American candidate, shattered Louisiana State's ball-hawking defense with his looping hook shot today as the top-ranked Wildcats raced to a 41-10 Southeastern conference basketball victory.

Kentucky coach Adolph Rupp, smiling mad over the 75-60 defeat last Tuesday by Vanderbilt, benched Cox as former starter and started Cox, lone returning regular from last year's NCAA champs, and four sophomores. Kentucky had won 11 straight before it lost to Vanderbilt.

But Kentucky scored 10 points in the first five minutes of the second half. Cox scored only a field goal.

Two Men Lead Hagerman Past Hornets 55-39

HAGERMAN, Jan. 10—John Mason rammed through 14 points in a three-quarter stint and Mike Preston added 13 more as those two paced the Hagerman Pirates to a lopsided 55-39 decision over Declo Friday night.

The Pirates, who are 2-0 in Southside league play, pulled away from a tight first-quarter battle and never were headed.

The inexperienced Hornets led after the first eight minutes 11-9 but then Hagerman started moving. By halftime the Pirates were on top 27-18 and after holding a 41-26 edge as the fourth quarter opened, coach Al Glanders cleared his bench.

Declo Jayvees salvaged the opener 52-44.

Mushers Cop Win Over Panthers in Overtime

CAREY, Jan. 10—Camas County Mushers pumped through four points in an overtime period to notch a 53-51 Northside conference victory over the Carey Panthers. Again it was junior Lee Hutcherson who paved the way for the Musher victory. The 6-foot, 2-inch junior had his best night of the season, crumpling through 29 points, more than half of his team's total.

The luckless Panthers, who have lost five decisions by a total of 20 points and two in overtime, jumped out to an 11-8 first quarter lead but trailed 24-17 at halftime. They pulled into a narrow 35-33 edge as the fourth quarter opened and almost got into the win column.

But Camas wouldn't let them get away and knotted the count at 40-49 after four full periods. Then in the three-minute overtime, they dumped through four points to cop the decision.

The victory kept Camas' league record unblemished in two tries while Carey sustained its first conference loss.

While Hutcherson's 29-point effort dominated the game for Musher fans, three men were stars for Carey. Sophomore Kent Briggs pumped through 17 points to lead his team while Tony Albrethsen and Bob Roseberry got 13 each.

GLENNS FERRY, Jan. 10—The Hailey Wolverines roared back after a half-time rest, Friday night, to break open a tight game and roll on to defeat the Glens Ferry Pilots 47-29.

The undermanned Pilots, who outscored the visitors 41-7 in the second quarter and left the floor at the half trailing by a single point, 20-19, could manage only 10 points in the rest of the game.

Dave Inchausti and Ridgway of Hailey shared scoring honors with 14 points each. Inchausti got his with six field goals and two free throws. Ridgway sank only three field goals but dropped in eight shots from the foul line.

SHOSHONE, Jan. 10—The Wendell Trojans went on a scoring spree here Friday night and coasted to a 61-24 victory over an out-of-control Blisss.

It happened this way: The referees noticed Mines player Bill Anderson had an incorrect number on his uniform. When there was no replacement for Anderson, a technical foul was imposed.

Gooding Rallies In Second Half to Trim Buhl 46-39

GOODING, Jan. 10—Trailing 20-17 at halftime, the Gooding Senators staged a second half spurt Friday night to topple the Buhl Indians 46-39. It was the first Big Seven conference victory for the Senators against two losses while Buhl's league record evened out at 2-2. The victorious spurge by Gooding was paced by Scanton and Hill, who teamed up to tank 13 points apiece, just two more than teammate Gibbons scored. Sophomore Gary Matlock recently raised from jayvee status, pounded through 12 to pace the Indians.

Gooding started out on top and held a narrow 8-6 edge at the first rest period. Then Buhl had its best quarter of the night and posted its 20-17 halftime lead.

The game still was up for grabs in the third quarter although the Senators were on top by four points as the last eight minutes began. But they steadily nursed that lead and the Indians could maintain the pace.

Jon Crain, Noted Tenor, Sets Concert for Thursday Night

Jon Crain, whose professional singing career has ranged from featured vocalist with Xavier Cugat's dance band to leading tenor with the Metropolitan and New York City Opera companies, will appear in the third 1958-59 Magic Valley Community Concert Association series at 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the Filer high school auditorium.

During the last two seasons, Crain has filled leading roles with the Metropolitan, San Francisco and New York City Opera companies. In one season he sang roles with both New York companies, production of Strauss' "Arabella" and filling regular roles in the standard repertory with the New York organization.

In addition to appearances with other opera organizations throughout the United States, Crain also fills a crowded tour itinerary each season.

Born in St. Louis, Crain was still a teen-ager when he studied with the late Oscar Seagle, pupil and long-time associate of the famed tenor Jean de Reszke, at Seagle's school in upper New York state.

Crain joined the army at the outbreak of World War II. He was at a port of embarkation for the Pacific when the special Services division heard of his singing and requisitioned him for war bond rallies and camp shows, throughout the country.

After the war Crain used his GI bill educational benefits to continue his musical training. In order to support himself, he toured for a while as featured vocalist with Cugat's dance band.

Later, Crain joined the Wagner Opera company. In 1950 he accepted a position with the New York City company.

Crain married a fellow pupil at the Seagle school and they have two sons.

The final concert of the association's 1958-1959 season will be Feb. 16 with the appearance of the Flower Huler dancers.

Gooding Man, Idaho Basque Stone-Lifting Champion, Demonstrates Technique Used to Win in Matches at Boise

Jose Maruri, Gooding, current Idaho Basque stone lifting champion, demonstrates how to flip a 253-pound stone to his shoulder. (Staff photo-engraving)

After tipping the stone against his waist Maruri pulls back on the top and rocks the stone to rest on his waist. It looks simple but it isn't. After the stone is balanced he shifts his grip. (Staff photo-engraving)

After the grip on the stone is changed the entire stone is shifted to one side in preparation for the final hoist to the shoulder. With one well-coordinated movement Maruri slides the stone to his shoulder. (Staff photo-engraving)

Here it is and he didn't even grunt. Maruri won the championship Dec. 28 by lifting the stone to his shoulder in this fashion 13 times in three minutes and 52 seconds. Maruri says there are many stone lifters stronger than he in the Basque provinces in northern Spain. (Staff photo-engraving) shoulder in contests back home in the Basque provinces of Spain.

Not to be outdone, Idoeta has chalked up an impressive record lifting a Basque-type barbell. The barbell weighs 180 pounds.

He has lifted the barbell over his head 58 times in 15 minutes.

According to Maruri and Idoeta the Basque object in rock and weight lifting is to lift a heavy weight numerous times in the space of a few minutes.

Both men are 33 years old and came from the same town in the Basque provinces, about 250 miles northeast of Madrid. The town is Murelaga in the province of Viscaya. It is the same hometown from which their employer, Eusebio Astorquia, Gooding sheep rancher, came years ago.

Maruri is a permanent resident of the United States. Idoeta, who came here in 1957, must return to Spain in 1960.

The two men, who have known each other since childhood and whose parents were friends of Astorquia before he came here, say they worked in lumber mills and tended livestock before coming to Idaho.

Speaking of their homeland, and with sincere modesty, Maruri says, "There are a lot of people there that are stronger than we are."

Three Local Church Schools Educating Total of 670 Pupils in Elementary Grades

Three parochial schools in Twin Falls have the responsibility of educating 670 students.

The largest of the schools is the Catholic parochial school, St. Edward's, 139 Sixth avenue east. It has an enrollment of 276 students in eight grades.

There are seven teaching sisters and one mother superior, Sister Marie Bernarde. One of the nuns teaches both the seventh and eighth grades, which are combined in one classroom.

The sisters are members of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, which has its mother house at Scranton, Pa. All are graduates of Marywood college at Scranton, a Catholic girls school. It is a four-year liberal arts school and the sisters either have a BS or BA degree in elementary or intermediate education.

According to Sister Marie Bernarde, they either enter the sisterhood before or after college or can take religious training concurrently. It takes three years to become a sister in their order.

The curriculum at St. Edward's offers such varied subjects as social dancing and ancient history. In addition to the regular course of study students are active in some extra-curricular subjects, such as Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, 4-H and eighth grade students edit a quarterly magazine, "The Edwardite."

Once a year the school produces an operetta and a play. The operetta is performed by the children in the first seven grades. The play is done by eighth grade students alone.

Social dancing is taught in grades five through eight, and there is an all-school dance on the last Friday of each month. The dance is held in the evening and is attended by the students and their parents. The course in dancing is taught by a special dancing instructor.

The school has two choirs with the 50-voice junior choir composed of students in the fourth and fifth grades. This choir sings at least one mass on Sunday and at special church services throughout the week.

The 40-voice senior children's choir is composed of students from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. It sings for most Sunday masses.

The junior choir is directed by Sister Mary Mark and the senior choir is directed by Sister Marie Bernarde.

The school has a hot lunch program and Sister Marie Bernarde says 75 per cent of the students eat at the school. Only the ones living close to the school go home for lunch. The various classes eat at different times throughout the noon hour, and by 12:30 p.m. they are through. From 12:30 to 1 p.m. there is a supervised play period. There are no recesses.

In the first grade subjects include spelling, writing and printing, reading, arithmetic, music, art, English and religion. Required home work also starts in the first grade.

The school uses the phonics system of teaching spelling and reading. Sister de Montfort, first grade teacher, says students are reading by the end of the first six weeks of school. During the first grade stu-

Two Valley Men Shine at Lifting

Unless you can drag a ton rock 10 feet or lift a 253-pound rock to your shoulder 13 times in about 3 minutes you wouldn't get very far in Basque rock lifting contest.

Two Basque residents of Magic Valley recently showed their mettle in the Basque rock lifting contest at Boise.

Jose Maruri and Martin Idoeta, Gooding, lifted their share of heavy stones and Maruri emerged the champion rock lifter of Idaho. He won both the heavy (253-pound) rock lifting contest and the "light" (223-pound) rock lifting contest.

Idoeta won the rock throwing contest by flipping a 106-pound rock 10 feet, 11 inches.

Maruri lifted the heavy rock to his shoulder 13 times in three minutes and 52 seconds. And he lifted the "light" stone 22 times.

Maruri, who has been in the United States for six years, has lifted as much as 400 pounds to his

Technologists Part of Blood Procedure

Mrs. Robert Flander and Dale Lauritsen, Magic Valley Memorial hospital technologists, are part of the procedure of giving blood transfusions to injured or sick patients. Samples of blood from patients requiring transfusions are collected by the technologists as they make their rounds. Blood samples are also necessary to aid physicians in judging a patient's progress to recovery. In a matter of minutes a sample patient's blood can be obtained, the blood group determined and a transfusion of identical blood administered. (Staff photo-engraving)

Laboratory Work Is Key For Blood Transfusions

A severely injured woman hesitated on an ambulance cot as her way to the hospital. Just a few minutes ago, she was thrown from her car when it collided with another vehicle at a country intersection.

She is losing blood through deep cuts on her head and arms. As soon as the ambulance reached the hospital, a sample of the woman's blood is obtained by a laboratory technician. In the laboratory, tests are run to determine to which blood group the woman's blood belongs. Once the blood group is known, matching blood from the hospital's Red Cross supply can be given through transfusions.

Similar needs for blood arise in hospitals across Magic Valley and elsewhere throughout the year. Automobile accident victims are not alone in their need of blood. Transfusions often are given to patients for acute anemia, carbon monoxide poisoning, infections and burns.

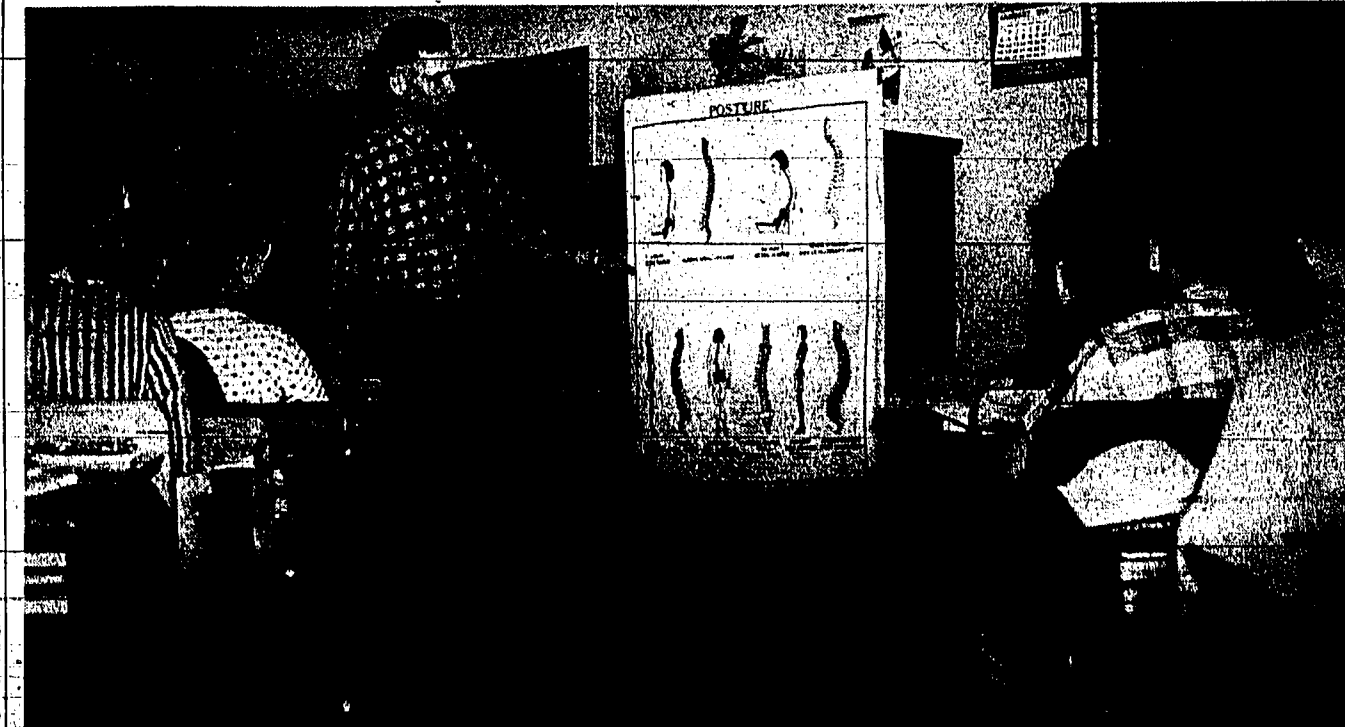

According to Dr. J. Woodson Creed, Magic Valley Memorial hospital pathologist, approximately 1,000 pints of blood are used at the hospital every year. Dr. Creed explains that all blood obtained in periodic drawings by the Red Cross is first sent to Red Cross headquarters in Boise. Local hospitals receive their supply of blood from the Boise center.

No patient requiring a transfusion is ever charged for the Red Cross blood administered to him. A charge is made, however, for the laboratory work necessary to identify the patient's own blood group.

Blood recipients, knowing that no charge is ever made for Red Cross blood, are often puzzled at the charge for laboratory services, Dr. Creed says.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

The Women's Air Force band flew into the Mountain Home air base last Saturday to entertain troops with two evening concerts at the air base theater. Made up of 50 enlisted personnel, based at Norton air force base in California, they are under the leadership of Marybell Nisley, an expert in leadership in the entertainment field. Her entire time is spent drilling and arranging various programs.

Members range in age from 19 to 36 years. Some are new recruits. There is only one Idaho girl in the band. She is Donna Lee Blakeley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Blakeley, Mackay, formerly of PAUL and TWIN FALLS. Her father is superintendent of schools at Mackay and is well known in the field of education in the state.

Her grandmother is Mrs. Verna Blakeley, former school teacher in Magic Valley, and her aunt is Margaret Blakeley, both of BUREAU. She has an uncle and aunt in Twin Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Rhuel Beeboul.

Miss Blakeley's parents and Bureau relatives heard the two concerts. They were guests with the girls at the base for two days.

This band is reported to be the only group of its kind organized as strictly an entertainment feature for air force base personnel in the U. S. and Overseas.

In January they will visit bases in the southern states, going to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras in February and May they will spend in Japan filling engagements at

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

"Exciting New Year"

BY PAUL E. KENNY
Pastor, Kimberly-Christians Church
It is here and we already have been using part of it. The New Year 1959 is ours to use the way each of us may choose.

There is something exciting about looking forward to having something new. The new year, a new dress, a new car, or a new gadget that we have dreamed about. It's new, unused in our possession to do with as we please. It can be used for good or evil according to our choice. With each of these new things the one receiving them has a great responsibility. Each new day God places upon His people the responsibility of making that day full of Christian living.

In Christ old things are passed away, behold, all things become new. This new life in Christ is a gift from God. What does each one who receives it do with it? Is it taken and nurtured with the bread of life (God's Word) until it grows into the fullness of the stature of God? Or is it squandered and misused until it is destroyed?

In this New Year when many important things will be considered, God's people must remember that the most important of all is to put the Kingdom of God first in all their affairs. If a people is right with God through obedience to His will He has promised that He will see that all other matters of importance will be taken care of for them. May we remember that all things work together for good for those who love the Lord. So in this year 1959—pray—without ceasing, study God's word as a good workman, and serve Him diligently through His church. It will be a Happy and Prosperous year.

Drug Addiction Complex Problem, Doctor Reports

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

I am inclined to feel that the common notion of the menace of drug addicts to law-abiding citizens is somewhat exaggerated. However, dope peddlers and narcotics rings are certainly working against the welfare of the rest of us.

No doubt the individual dope addict will commit crime to obtain money for narcotics if he cannot pay for them in any other way. Furthermore, the common picture of the agony of stopping drugs by a confirmed addict is probably all too accurate.

It is not possible to more than skim the surface of this complex social, medical and legal problem in a few words. Certainly one of the basic problems is to know more about what causes drug or narcotic addiction. It is almost beyond doubt that no normal person really wants to become a drug addict.

It is generally believed that most victims of the habit are those who feel themselves inadequate to face life, who have feelings of inferiority, who are social misfits in some way, or who have been suffering from ill health and have unwisely taken these habit-forming drugs until they could not stop.

In referring to the drug habit, one usually means a craving for one of the derivatives of opium, although cocaine and marijuana can also be included among the habit-forming drugs.

To opium and its derivatives, suffering humanity owes an enormous debt, since these substances have been used over the centuries to relieve unbearable pain. But they cannot be used indefinitely without running the risk of developing a craving. The symptoms of habit-formation come slowly. At first the health is little disturbed, but gradually the dose of the drug used has to be increased in order to produce the wanted pleasurable sensation.

Once the habit has finally formed, the victim of drug addiction becomes mentally depressed and often suffers from vague symptoms in the digestive tract or elsewhere whenever the effects of the drug have worn off. This leads towards more frequent use of the particular drug and the need for larger doses until the addict is completely at the mercy of dope rings or peddlers who supply the drug.

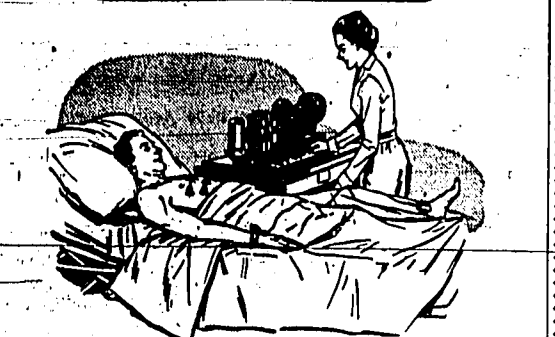

The treatment of fully-established drug addiction is difficult, indeed. It is best given in an institution since the results are likely to be better if temptation is fully removed.

The greatest effort in the control of narcotic addiction should be made by informing everyone, particularly youngsters of high school age, of the dangers of starting down this path, which looks so rosy and daring. Furthermore, we should increase our efforts to smash the dope rings and vicious elements of society which are leading so many innocent victims to disaster.

Patient's Blood Must Be Typed Before Transfusion

One of the first steps in providing blood transfusions at Magic Valley Memorial hospital for sick and injured patients is to identify the victim's blood group. Ben Roberts, medical technologist at the hospital, begins the process of seeing if the patient's blood clumps when mixed with identified blood serums. Technicians can identify blood groups by observing the clumping or non-clumping action of the blood. To Roberts' right are bottles of serum and an apparatus for viewing slides containing blood and serum. (Staff photo-engraving)

Blood Typing, Matching Are Vital in Process of Life-Saving Transfusions

(Continued From Page 17) —center for work involved in receiving and classifying the blood. In addition, Dr. Creed says, it costs the hospital approximately $3,500 a year for the serum needed in identifying the patient's blood group. Basically, the role of the hospital laboratory in providing blood for an injured or sick patient is to match the patient's blood with similar blood stored in the laboratory. According to the Red Cross, there are four major blood groups, A, B, AB and O. The blood of approximately 45 per cent of all people in the country belongs in the O group, with 40 per cent in group A, 10 to 12 per cent in group B and three to five per cent in group AB. Several years ago, a series of tests demonstrated that illness and death can be caused in some patients when certain groups of blood are mixed. Today, strict care is taken so that only "compatible" bloods are ever mixed. Technicians are able to determine blood groups by observing the results of placing drops of the patient's blood into identified blood serums. By seeing which serum causes the drop of blood to clump or not to clump, the blood group can be identified. Dr. Creed points out that years of training are necessary for a technician to carry out the complicated procedure of matching blood groups. Since some blood groups are not compatible, it is a life or death matter at times that blood given in a transfusion match the recipient's blood, he says. Red Cross blood drawings are held throughout the state periodically. In Twin Falls, for example, a blood drawing is held every two months. The next blood drawing in Twin Falls will be held at the American Legion hall Jan. 25. Other Red Cross blood drawings scheduled in Magic Valley are in Filer Jan. 27; Burley, Feb. 10; Rupert, Feb. 11; Wendell, Feb. 24; and Glenns Ferry, Feb. 24. Any person from 21 to 59 years old, in good health and weighing a minimum of 110 pounds may donate blood. Written parental consent is necessary before persons from 18 to 20 years old can donate. Most people tend to think that blood is needed only during blood drawings, local Red Cross workers say, pointing out that blood is used in hospitals throughout the year.

Microscope Examination of Blood Necessary

A close examination with a microscope reveals to a trained medical technologist whether a sample of Red Cross blood stored at the hospital can be given safely to an injured or sick patient. No donated blood is ever given in transfusion to a patient unless thorough testings show it is "compatible" with the patient's own blood. Ben Roberts, medical technologist at Magic Valley Memorial hospital, examines a slide containing a patient's blood and a special blood serum. Whether the blood clumps when mixed with the serum is one way of determining the group to which the patient's blood belongs. (Staff photo-engraving)

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Robert A. Erkins Triples Production At Largest Trout Farm in Five Years

When Robert A. Erkins became manager of the Snake River Trout company, Buhl, the world's largest trout farm, in 1953, it was producing 350,000 pounds of rainbow trout a year. In 1958 the farm produced nearly one million pounds of trout.

Erkins, with a background in hotel administration, came to Buhl in 1952 and bought the company in 1953 from the late J. W. Tingey, a pioneer in the domestic commercial trout industry.

Erkins soon launched an ambitious expansion program to enlarge the hatchery's physical plant and took an active part in developing the entire trout industry advertising and merchandising program.

He has built the trout hatchery into an efficient operation closely resembling poultry or livestock farming. It is now the largest trout farm in the world and, according to Erkins, the largest foreign trout hatchery produces less than one-third of what the Snake River Trout company does.

The company now employs about 30 persons and has an annual payroll in excess of $100,000.

Erkins was graduated from Notre Dame university in 1947 after his college training was interrupted by World War II. While he was in the navy he served as a shore fire control officer in the South Pacific and North China.

Most of his duty was aboard the USS New York, an outmoded battleship the navy had recommissioned. Erkins said the New York was commissioned in 1914 and saw service in both world wars.

Erkins recalls the New York "fired more shells in battle and fought longer than any other warship in history." He explains the ship's mission throughout World War II was shore bombardment. Before the invasion of Okinawa the New York shelled the island for 67 continuous days and nights. Erkins' ears still ring when he gets in a quiet room. Duty aboard the New York was not without its amusing aspects. Old and decrepit as the New York was, Erkins said, "You couldn't get hurt on that ship; it was just a lucky ship."

He recalls how the battleship, referred to with affection by the crew as "The Queen," led a charmed life. Many times torpedoes headed directly for the ship, then ran out of fuel and sank slowly within sight of the ship. One kamikaze plane hit the ship, and the only person injured was a marine who burned his fingers trying to retrieve a piece of the airplane for a souvenir.

One of the more unusual aspects of duty aboard the New York was the nighttime band concert, shelling or no shelling. The captain would halt the shelling at noon and the ship's band would give a concert for the next hour. At 1:30 (1 p.m.) the band would stop and the shelling would commence.

In the afternoon the captain would practice his golf game on the side of the ship opposite the firing guns, and a marine in white gloves would retrieve the golf balls. After the war Erkins returned to Notre Dame for one semester and received his degree in business administration.

Erkins, eager to learn all the aspects of hotel administration, started to work in the stockroom of the Hollywood Beach hotel, Hollywood, Fla. He worked there for some time and then worked for two hotels in Cincinnati, O., before going to work as an accountant in the Fort Lauderdale Beach hotel, Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Searching for more experience in the hotel business, Erkins moved to Jackson, Wyo., in 1949 and worked as an assistant manager doing general administrative work for the Rockefeller hotels, which consist of the Teton lodge, Jackson Lake lodge and the Jenny Lake lodge.

Before he came to Buhl in 1952 he managed the Shadow Mountain club, Palm Springs, Calif.

Erkins first became acquainted with the trout farm when he was on vacation from promotion and sales work with a Pasadena, Calif., hotel. During the course of his job he had met a man who told him about the Snake River Trout company.

That summer when Erkins and his wife were on their way to Jackson, Wyo., for a vacation, they visited the farm and talked with Mr. Tingey. Erkins returned later with an option to purchase the farm and spent a year learning the business from Mr. Tingey. Erkins is now president of the corporation which has 20 stockholders.

"In the past few years we've gone on a concerted sales and promotion program," Erkins says. "We now sell about three times the amount of trout the company sold six years ago."

He explains the company and the trout industry as a whole have gone on an extensive promotion, advertising and sales campaign in an effort to encourage the eating and serving of trout.

Trout farmers have saturated their market and now are in the process of educating the public on the advantages of eating trout. His company increased sales 20 per cent last year and hopes to increase sales that much for several more years. Erkins, a past president of the American Trout Farmers' association, says one of the biggest problems facing American trout farmers is the influx of foreign trout on the market.

He explains high operating costs force American growers to sell their product for 85 to 95 cents per pound. This price must compare with the 98 to 52 cents per pound price of Danish and Japanese trout.

"But we have them beat on quality," he says. "This is because of the excellent source of water and the fine feeds we use."

Erkins says the even temperature of springs in Magic Valley are probably the best in the world for trout raising. This promotes even and rapid growth. A trout can be grown to maturity here in 10 to 14 months, but in areas where the water varies greatly or becomes too cold the growing time stretches to 20 - 36 months.

"If the water remains warm enough the fish can eat constantly," Erkins says.

"I doubt if anyone can harvest as much protein food per acre as we can," he adds.

To illustrate how much trout food is fed each day, Erkins says it is not uncommon for the daily feed bill to total $800.

The farm feeds a pelleted trout food that is manufactured by various feed concerns. It is a high protein diet scientifically prepared to promote fast growth.

Aside from running the largest trout farm in the world, Erkins also finds time to serve as a director for the National Fisheries Institute, a national organization that deals with commercial fishing problems.

He also heads a joint committee composed of members of the American Fisheries society and the United States Trout Farmers' association to work with problems that arise between federal, state and commercial trout producers.

Asked if he was a fisherman, Erkins says, "I used to be a trout fisherman, but for some strange reason I slowly gave up going fishing."

How to give a small, box-like, or poorly proportioned room "perspective" is one of the most frequently encountered decorating problems.

Perspective is important in all rooms, and particularly in inside rooms, where the walls will give the feeling of "closing in" unless they're given special treatment. Perspective is needed, too, in rooms where architectural features such as a fireplace or picture window are lacking, and a center of interest must be improvised.

A feeling of openness has been given to the small apartment living room shown in the sketch above by using a scenic mural (wallpaper) on one wall. This not only forms a distinctive focal point for the room, it also visually doubles the room's size. The brown shutters and varied green tones of the foliage in the mural form the basis for the room's color scheme... sandalwood brown walls, a pale beige carpet, and soft green upholstery colors. Draperies match the beige of the carpet.

Furniture has been arranged to make the most of every inch of available space. Decorative accessories have been carefully chosen and kept to a minimum to avoid a cluttered look. Here a small closed-in room has been made to appear spacious and open by giving it interesting perspective.

Our experienced decorators have many ideas that will help add importance and beauty to small rooms, make them seem to be twice their actual size. If you would like to hear about these and other ideas; come in for a chat at your nearest convenience.

It is always our pleasure to have you come in and browse around our show rooms. We offer you a wide assortment of fine furnishings for living room, dining room and bedroom. Decorator-type pieces that will add charm to your rooms, comfort and pleasure to your day-to-day living. Come in today!

Inmates at Idaho Prison Get Vocational Training Making License Plates

Idaho prison inmates work at the stamping machine making Idaho state license tags. Several different machines are used in the plant, offering vocational training to many inmates. According to Warden L. E. Clapp, this is excellent training for the men. (Staff photo-engraving)

This is the parking area of the auto license plant at the penitentiary. The tags have been made here since 1947. About 850,000 plates are made each year at a cost of 10 cents per plate. Fifty inmates are kept busy in this plant. (Staff photo-engraving)

Auto License Plate Industry of Prison Well Established; Sign Business Going

Although every car carries a sample of the state prison's work—license plates—the state penitentiary has developed a related but less-known industry. Almost three years ago, inmates started turning out highway and street signs.

The relatively new venture for the prison is a 12-month industry and turns out some 4,500 road and street signs annually. But the signs are sold only to tax-supported governmental agencies in Idaho.

Warden L. E. Clapp says the road and street signs save cities and counties approximately 25 per cent.

"This is a direct savings to them," he notes. "They are sold for approximately 25 per cent above actual cost."

"The money is used for maintenance and expense of running the prison industry department and can be used to help defray the cost of running the institution, thereby cutting down the expense to the taxpayer," he adds.

"We have been manufacturing road and street signs since March, 1956. The orders are gradually increasing each month as more cities and counties are taking advantage of this savings to them."

According to Clapp, "All the prices are set on a cost-plus basis and this is not in competition with privately owned business as we sell only to tax-supported governments. These items are sold only within the state of Idaho."

The warden says the sign shop, with the present staff, can produce about 20 signs per day and can be increased to a capacity of 50 signs per day.

The sign plant constructs road signs to standard requirements and special signs also are made upon request.

According to the prison's biennial report, one of the special features of the sign shop is its ability to make any type of sign required, regardless of its nature or size.

The prospective purchaser submits his request, stating his requirements, and then the layout department of the sign shop follows instructions and begins designing the sign.

An inmate employee, with experience in drafting, designs the sign pattern.

The sign shop stocks such standard signs as "stop," "caution" and other common signs.

The report notes that there has been a considerable demand for road block and school blinker signs.

The sign shop is growing rapidly and in the single year from May, 1957, to May 1958, the number of inmates employed there jumped from three to eight.

Not only are new signs made in the plant, but old street signs are reconditioned, saving cities and counties considerable money.

To a limited extent there is a connection between the auto license plant and the sign shop. Signs requiring baking of paint are baked in the tag plant's industrial oven. The tag plant clerk also maintains records for the sign shop.

"We have one permanent superintendent for license plate manufacturing and one assistant superintendent for making street and road signs. The rest of the workmen are inmates and seem to take an interest in their work. This is considered a good vocation for them," Clapp notes.

According to Clapp, this industry brings in about $100,000 per year to the income of the penitentiary. He adds that the cost for materials and running of the prison industry is about $80,000 each year.

"We hope to be able to continue the present program as it keeps many men employed and is a useful vocation," the warden says.

With only five days left to display 1959 automobile license tags, attention is focused on the $100,000 industry for the penitentiary which saves the state about $55,000 yearly and also gives valuable vocational training to nearly 85 prison inmates.

Warden Clapp points out in a letter to the Times-News, "We have manufactured the license plates for the state of Idaho since 1947. The amount charged for making license plates is approximately 50 per cent of what they would cost if purchased from a manufacturing firm in the East and has saved the state $55,000 each year.

"It has also been helpful in the training of inmates, keeping 50 inmates busy. These plates are made at a cost of 10 cents per plate. Approximately 850,000 plates are made each year."

The penitentiary's 34th biennial report states that the machines used by the inmates include such items

Two Residents of Magic Valley Prove Muscle in Basque Weight-Lifting Meet

can lift the light stone 22 times in one minute," Maruri says. He adds that is what the current Spanish champion can do.

Maruri and Idoeta explained that rock lifting has been a popular sport in the Basque provinces for centuries.

The contests are held throughout the year, usually on Sundays, but more often when the spirit moves them. Sometimes the contests are simply planned to coincide with festivals and sometimes they are grudge matches.

They say the most common way a match occurs is when a group of men have a disagreement concerning what man is the strongest. This leads to betting and the only way to collect the bets is to get the men and stage a match.

But according to Maruri and Idoeta the men who lift the rocks and settle the arguments of the betters get more than a strained back out of the event. There is a fat cash pot for the winner.

They say there are four major events in the larger rock toting matches, rock pulling, lifting, throwing and walking with a heavy rock.

In the rock pull the contestant fastens a chain to a heavy rock and then fastens the chain around his waist and pulls the rock as far as he can.

Maruri says Juan Uriarte, Shoshone, an employe of Frank Onelda, was a champion rock puller in Spain. He once pulled a rock weighing one ton 300 feet.

Asked how they train for such feats, Maruri says the people in Spain work at manual labor constantly so training isn't necessary.

The day to day work on a sheep ranch serves to put the two men in pretty good shape.

Mrs. Astorquia says the two men, when they are working with the sheep, handle them, when necessary, by the scruff of the neck like they were rabbits.

In Spain the men say contestants must be at least 20 years old before they can enter the contests. They say most men reach their peak—so far as both weight and endurance are concerned—when they are 20 to 25 years old. But they can generally lift more weight when they are in their early thirties.

Judging from what Maruri says, the women can hold their own—at least in one case. He says there was a woman in his village who once lifted a 225-pound rock to her shoulder.

Who started that rumor about "the weaker sex?"

Three Church Schools Here Educating Total of 670 Pupils in Lower Grades

Spelling begins in the fourth week of school. The students are assigned two words per day and then progress to two words before school is out. In arithmetic students are taught combinations of numerals up to 10 and taught to add and subtract up to 10. They count to 100.

In music they are taught to sing simple songs, in preparation for the production of music theory in the second grade.

During the second semester English grammar is introduced and the students are taught to recognize complete sentence and are familiarized with certain minor rules of punctuation.

Religion is taught to all classes in the first class period in the afternoon. It is taught by the sisters and the Rev. Father Koelisch, who teaches for each room for one-half hour once a week. Non-Catholic students who attend St. Edward's on a per month tuition basis attend a study period if they choose.

In the second grade the general subject matter is continued with certain advancements. The spelling assignment jumps to 10 words a week and the work in phonics continues. Studies progress from the city foundation in the first two grades.

Letter writing and geography are introduced in the third grade, and history is introduced in the fourth grade. Particular attention is paid to the history between the 1500's and the pre-Civil war period.

In the fourth grade, the geography class studies world geography in general.

Sixth grade students study ancient history. They are instructed in the contributions of the Greek and Roman civilizations and how they have influenced modern life. The architecture, mythology, poetry, and political science of the ancients are stressed.

The seventh and eighth grades are combined at present but will be separated in the near future.

English is especially stressed in the eighth grade. Formal themes are required once a month. They range in length from 500 to 1,000 words and are correlated to other subjects. Speeches are required every two weeks and a written book report is required once a month.

Discipline, a problem with some schools, is no problem at St. Edward's, according to the Rev. Morse Aker. "An incorrigible child is an uncommon child here," he says.

"We have no discipline problem. With such large classrooms we have no maintain absolute discipline or no one would learn anything.

"If someone doesn't work we can send them to transfer to other schools," he adds.

The Memorial Lutheran school on Group avenue west was first organized in 1945 by the Immanuel Lutheran church of Twin Falls. The first school sessions were held in the basement of the church. The first building of the present school was built in 1948 and the present school with eight classrooms, library, health rooms and auditorium was completed in 1954.

The school has a total of 246 students in eight grades. There are 12 teachers, including Herbert Aufdenkamp, principal.

Classes are rather small with class

Mrs. Hugh Caldwell, Gooding county women's chairman and in charge of TAP's activities, has announced TAP's chairmen, advisers and sponsoring organizations for the mother's march.

Verluis Miles and Paula Ydraga, Wendell, will serve as co-chairmen for Gooding county TAP's. Local chairmen and advisers include Rita Dixon, Wendell, Mrs. Gary Cruikshank, adviser; Janie Silman and Karen Lemke, co-chairmen for Gooding, with Mrs. Jean Stuart as adviser; Virginia Norwood and Mike Preston, co-chairmen for Hagerman with Clement Prince, adviser; Dixie Bray, chairman for Bliss with Orville Reddington as adviser.

Ninety per cent of the students graduating from the Magic Valley Academy follow the tenth grade transfer to the Gem State Academy, while the remainder continue in the public schools.

Kaufmann says the teachers have virtually no discipline problem because the parents of the students give full support to the teaching staff.

Mackinaw, Found in Four Idaho Lakes, Grows Huge, Provides Exciting Sport

BY MARSHALL EDSON

IDAHO-FISH and Game Department officials say that time and fishermen eagerly troll Priest lake each year trying to beat the old record.

The four bodies of water known to contain Mackinaw in Idaho are Bear lake, which lies partly in Utah, Pend Oreille, Priest and Payette lakes.

Payette lake is a recent addition to the clan although lake trout were introduced to this lake as early as 1941. Apparently the results failed as none was reported taken by fishermen. Then in 1955, nearly 10,000 five to eight-inch Mackinaws were released into Payette lake. Late this fall several were landed and it may be that the species will be established.

Old fish planting records show little in the way of introduction of Mackinaw trout and it is apparent that releases were few and far between. One report shows a release at Pend Oreille lake in 1922. Another shows that "macks" were taken in Priest lake in 1923.

They must have grown and certainly reproduced through the intervening years and no doubt some were caught by fishermen who thought they were Dolly Varden. Finally about 1950, several large ones were caught and properly identified as lake trout.

These trout generally stay deep in the lake. They sometimes swim to the surface when feeding, but this is rare. They grow big and fast when there is an abundance of available food such as the Kokanee in Priest lake. They have the appetite of an elephant and the stomach of a goat for they seem to try anything. Stomach examination has shown rocks, sticks, spinners, plugs, small birds and once a jackknife!

Everyone who has caught or eaten a Mackinaw, has definite opinions regarding their palatability. The large ones are extremely fat with layers along the inside cavity and between each muscle. Small fish do not have this high fat content.

Oldtimers tell us the best way to cook lake trout is to place the fish in a cloth sack and boil for 30 minutes to an hour. This boils out the fat and leaves a white flaky meat that is tasty. They are good when smoked, but require at least twice the usual smoking time to render out the oil content.

May and November seem to be the best fishing time at Priest lake and much the same results are experienced at Bear lake. The season is open year around at Bear lake so fishermen have fair to good results during December. Fall months were paying off at Payette lake also.

All sorts of bait are on the menu. Large salmon plugs seem to do best at Priest lake. Large spoons and minnows have done well at Bear lake. All fishermen agree on one thing, however—the closer you can fish to the bottom, the better. Lake trout seem to stay within inches of the lake bottom.

Wins Contest

WENDELL, Jan. 10 — Diane Hutton, high school senior and home-making student, was named winner of the 1959 Betty Crocker "Home-maker of Tomorrow" award, by scoring best in class in the annual homemaking contest.

She is eligible to compete with winners from other Idaho high schools in state competition. State winner will then compete for the title of "All-American Home-Maker of Tomorrow" to be announced April 10.

ATOM SUB LAUNCHED

VALLEJO, Calif., Jan. 10 (AP)—The Hallbut, first atomic-powered submarine capable of firing a guided missile, was launched at the Mare Island naval shipyard today.

Lake trout are fall spawners and this probably accounts for the increased activity and good fishing results during November and December. Females have a fairly large number of eggs for their size, but mortality may be rather high among youngsters after the hatch. A 25-pound female will average about 15,000 eggs, but the young that survive to reach a year old is probably only a fraction of this number.

Proper management of these trout calls for rather close checks of brood stock, or adult spawning age group, is being depleted or properly harvested. Creel checks of weight and size of Mackinaws taken during late summer and fall months also help to provide information regarding age classes in a lake.

These Trout Found in Only Four Bodies of Idaho Water

Five happy Priest lake anglers display more than 100 pounds of Mackinaw trout landed on the north Idaho lake. The largest trout caught in Idaho, 51 pounds, came from Priest lake. Other Mackinaw waters include Bear, Payette and Pend Oreille lakes and a few have been taken from the south fork of the Snake river at Palisades reservoir. # Generator Used by Water Department to Thaw Pipes

The city water department uses this generator to thaw out frozen water pipes. Workers attach electrical leads to a pipe and run current through it. Henry Swick, left, and Cris Fetzer, water department em-

Short, Cold Snap Serves Warning for Homes Where Pipes Likely to Freeze

The short cold snap last week-end revived that old winter bugaboo, frozen water pipes, for a few Twin Falls residents. Just a few frozen water meters are reported to the water department—but it should serve to remind householders that an ounce of prevention in extremely cold weather can prevent costly plumbing bills. H. H. Ballenger, superintendent of water and sanitation, noted that persons living in homes that are plumbed tending to freeze when the mercury dips can prevent such annoyances by simply keeping the water running slowly throughout the night. Ballenger points out that one inch of sub-zero weather could freeze pipes leading into some ones.

Although some persons object to saving water run all night, Ballenger says this is considerably cheaper than having the pipes re-thawed out by a plumber. He says if the water is kept bare-running from the time the homeowner retires until morning the instant, but slight, water flow will prevent freezing. He added that this probably won't cost more than 10 to 15 cents per night. However, homeowners pay a minimum fee and few persons use the minimum amount of water during the winter anyway.

"Water usage usually doesn't equal the required $2.50 minimum fee, so people might as well let the water run and get their money's worth when it is cold enough to be in danger of freezing," he says. Ballenger notes the critical temperature is about -15 degrees, but adds that this depends greatly upon plumbing leading into the home and the extent of the cold snap. He explains that in some areas of

Twin Falls service lines leading into homes from the main water line are more shallow than in other areas. This is because rocky soil of some areas of town, such as near the canyon rim, prevents burying lines below the frost line. In such areas meters are removed to prevent them from freezing. They are replaced with a straight pipe until the cold weather passes. This occurs mostly in South Park, West Park, on Blue Lakes boulevard south and in Buena Vista. In these areas where the meter has been removed home owners are charged the minimum rate only. "It would certainly be to their advantage to let the water run during the sub-zero nights," Ballenger says. So far the department hasn't had to remove many meters.

When water lines freeze between the water main and the meter, the only area the department is responsible for, the department has an efficient method of thawing. Workers simply attach the electrical leads from an arc welding unit to the frozen pipe, run an electrical current through the frozen portion and the water is running in a short time. It takes from five to 30 minutes depending upon the size of the pipe and the length of the frozen portion.

Ballenger says water mains have never frozen since he joined the department in 1949. He explains that the service line that leads to the house is the pipe which freezes most often. This is because the water often is stationary in the small pipe. Ballenger says the worst winter he recalls is the winter of 1950. "We have had comparatively mild winters since then, but for about two months, in January and February, we were forced to keep a crew going night and day thawing out water pipes throughout the critical period," he says. "We are supposed to work only an 8-hour shift, but we can't worry about it in times like that," he adds. He recalls that in February, 1957, there was one week of extremely cold weather when the department had to thaw 400 pipes. Ballenger says the city bought the arc welder following the winter of 1949, another bad winter. Before the city bought the welder, which is used primarily for welding, not for thawing, it was forced to hire private contractors to do the thawing work. This was an extremely expensive proposition, according to Ballenger. He says the welder has saved the city considerable money.

Megan, McLemore's Daughter, Has Suddenly Written Poetry

By HENRY MCLEMORE
As soon as I learn to talk
I'm going to thank Dr. Jones
Salk
I wonder if all the other tots
Have had quite so many shots.
Nothing makes my temper mount
Heater
Than to misplace my pacifier.
I like talcum powder
Better'n New Englanders like clam chowder.
If you like grown-ups to hover,
Try kicking off all your cover.
I often lose a toy or rattle,
But I have yet to lose a battle.
I know someone who is going to be married.
If my first word isn't "daddy."
If they think I now am bawky,
Wait'll I become a walkie-talkie
I can't wait to learn to creep,
So I can cause heart failure on stairs that are steep.
I just hope and pray that fame and fortune won't go to Megan's head.
