

GOP's Lineup Shapes up for Meet With Ike

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (UPI)—A revised lineup shaped up today for the team of Republican congressional leaders who will hold legislative pow-wows with President Eisenhower this week.

When the President meets with his party's chief lieutenants in congress at the White House tomorrow, there will be three new faces at the conference table.

Absent will be the two men who guided GOP fortunes in the senate and house last year—Sen. William F. Knowland, who quit to make an unsuccessful bid for governor of California, and Rep. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Mass. deposed last week as house Republican leader.

Martin Refuses Invitation
It was understood that Martin was invited to sit in as an elder statesman, but he replied with a polite "no." Martin was reported to have said he'd be glad to see the President any time, but he didn't wish to sit in the council of the leaders.

Replacing Knowland will be Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., who took part in the regular meetings last year as GOP whip. With him from the senate will be Sens. Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., chairman of Republican conference; Styles Bridges, N. H., policy committee chairman, and Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., who succeeded Dirksen as whip and is the only new face among the senate leaders.

Halleck Attended Last Year
Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Ind., dons Martin's mantle as the No. 1 house Republican. Though he held the title, Halleck regularly attended the meetings last year, largely because he was party leader in two Republican congresses.

Rep. Leslie Arends, Ill., who supported Martin against Halleck, nevertheless is expected to go to the White House—a further indication Arends will succeed in holding his post as party whip.

The newcomers in the house GOP leadership are Reps. John W. Byrnes, Wis., and Charles B. Hoever, Ia. Byrnes was invited to the new chairman of the GOP house policy committee, a title Martin also formerly held.

Hoever is chairman of the house Republican caucus. It was decided to invite him because the senate includes his counterpart—the Republican conference chairman, Saltonstall.

Dishwasher Fascinates Russian

Report Given on Richfield Events

RICHFIELD, Jan. 12.—Mr. and Mrs. Val Jones and family have returned home to Smelterville, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Ross, Sr., and other relatives. Mont Johnson and L. T. Sanders spent two days in Boise last week.

Leslie Bushby has returned from Ft. Hall, Mont., where he visited his brother, Lloyd Bushby, and family for three weeks.

FORMER ARMY NURSE DIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Miss Mary M. Roberts, 82, chief nurse of the army nurse corps in World War I and longtime editor of the American Journal of Nursing, died yesterday of a stroke. She was born in Cheboygan, Mich.

Graham Plans Trips Despite Eye Troubles

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 12 (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

He was interviewed after making a zealous talk before the second Combined Texas Baptist World Missions and State Evangelistic conference in the packed 11,500-seat Memorial auditorium. Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester tomorrow for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is—a long technical name—but I think he's as confused as the Republicans are these days."

"I spent two days in doctors' offices and about midnight last night I got orders not to preach," he said of his canceled church appearance. "I don't have cancer, I've had no heart attack; I haven't had a stroke and I'm not blind."

A cable sent to Australia said the medical examination showed "argio spastic edema of the macula." The macula lutea is a small yellow spot on the human retina and is the most sensitive area of the retina. The description suggests a spastic congestion of blood vessels serving the macula.

Polio Movie, Talk Given for Grange

Members held a March of Dimes party Jan. 24. Charles Conrad, master, conducted the meeting which opened with a prayer and group singing. Melvin Moore, executive committee chairman, reported on work done on the year.

Other reports were given by committee chairmen on community service, agriculture, education, membership and insurance. Evalena Simpson received the grocery basket. Guests included Mrs. Carrel and Mrs. Bird, both Twin Falls, and Mrs. Fred Hoelze, Castleford March of Dimes chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Welch.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Republican congressmen who have conferred with President Eisenhower since their return to Washington report that he is a completely changed man. He has abandoned what he called "the great crusade" in the 1952 campaign. He is permitting the party to drift aimlessly.

Instead of responding to the voters' challenge on Nov. 4, when they seemed to repudiate a narrow and limited program at the capital, he appears to be saddened and depressed. It is not that he has not rallied for this "battle of the (political) bulge" as he bled in 1944.

In every test since the election, he has sided with the go-slow and take-it-easy faction on Capitol Hill. He has given no assistance or leadership to the men who rallied to his earlier and more liberal standards.

In a time of world ferment and domestic uneasiness, he is counting pennies as vigilantly as Calvin Coolidge ever did.

AT LONG LAST HALLECK SUCCEEDS MARTIN

In all arguments over controversial policies and personalities, he has stood with the more reactionary members of his cabinet and congress.

Despite an advertised attitude of neutrality, he backed Sen. Everett McKinley Dirksen of Illinois over senate liberals—"Modern Republicans"—in the leadership battle. He resisted suggestions from within his official family that he support Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky.

In the revolt against house Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts, the President refused to deny that he favored Rep. Charles W. Halleck of Indiana. Halleck had toyed with the thought of challenging the veteran Martin for years. Now, at long last, he is Martin's successor.

REACTIONARY LEGISLATORS

Complaining colleagues have emphasized at White House conferences, that Dirksen and Halleck are two of the most reactionary legislators on Capitol Hill.

They are typical of Midwest, regional and Chicago-Tribune sentiment in the farm belt, where the Republicans suffered so many setbacks last November. No two men fought harder against the New Deal's basic principles, which Eisenhower has embraced and expanded.

It is true that they have become less hideous since there seemed to be a chance for them to realize their leadership ambitions. But it is more pertinent to suggest that the White House has shifted to their viewpoint rather than vice versa.

EISENHOWER'S ATTITUDE EXPLAINED

In the bipartisan fight to liberalize house-senate rules, the President has again remained on the sidelines. He has also formulated a budget and legislative program that does not meet what Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson ominously calls "the challenge of an expanding America and the atomic age."

White House spokesmen explain the President's aloofness on the ground of his basic political philosophy. They say that he does not believe in interfering with the operations of an independent, legislative branch of the government. He does not want to be an FDR, a TR, or Truman.

GOP liberals, however, maintain that it must always be the President's responsibility to fix the party's fundamental principles. He must, in their opinion, manufacture a 1959-60 model, and make it a more appealing vehicle than the Republican party proved to be on Nov. 4 and in the previous two congressional contests.

ROCKEFELLER'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS ACCLAIMED

The nationwide acclaim which greeted Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's inaugural address sharpens this discontent. On both domestic and foreign issues, he reflected the GOP insurgents' belief fervently and more accurately than Eisenhower has done since his "Modern Republicanism" acceptance speech at the 1958 convention.

VIEW OF OTHERS

BIG CHALLENGE
There can be no doubt that this session of the Idaho legislature is the most important in the state's history.

"There are many problems. They call for decisions, not delay."

There is a Republican governor and a Democratic legislature. This is always a flammable situation and citizens might as well be prepared for plenty of political fireworks as the parties jockey for position for the big election battles of 1960 and 1962. But in turn, the politicians better be ready for angry reaction from the citizens if inter-party squabbling is allowed to stand in the way of the main business at hand.

To paraphrase a well-known saying: Now is the time for all good men to ignore party lines and come to the aid of the state.

First and foremost, something must be done to broaden and bolster the state's economy. There is no need to cite them here, but plenty of statistics have been presented in recent months to show that Idaho is not keeping pace with sister states as the nation's population and economy keep booming forward to new heights. This is due, many knowledgeable voices keep saying, to our "antiquated tax laws." Indeed, the economic development drives statewide and here in the foothills always seem to be running up against the fact of life along this line.

It's an involved problem and no specific remedy is proposed here. But the legislature will have at its command all the facilities, if it cares to use them, for a good hard study of the whole tax structure. And it will be in a position to make changes where needed. Foolish private notions or self-interest on the part of those already here should not stand in the way of doing those things needed to attract new and important payroll-makers.

Hand-in-glove with this problem is the one of general taxation: Where to get the money to meet our growing needs, particularly in the school systems, for instance.

Then there is the problem of traffic safety, which includes the question of how old a boy or girl should be before being granted the privilege of getting behind the wheel of an automobile. Present state law puts this at 14. But many feel, as we do, that this should be at least 16.

More realistic juvenile laws, improved labor laws, better public health laws and regulations, revised primary election laws, annual legislative sessions, flood control and home rule are some of the other important issues which will demand the most earnest attention of the lawmakers.—Idaho State Journal.

FAR MORE DRASTIC

Those Oregonians who consider the point system by which driver's licenses are suspended in this state too tough should consider the drastic anti-speeding laws in Connecticut since 1956 and which became effective in New Jersey the beginning of 1959.

In New Jersey the speed limits range from 25 to 50 miles an hour on streets and highways. Anyone caught going 60 miles an hour faces mandatory license suspension. First offense will cause a driver his license for 30 days, second offense 60 days and third offense calls for indefinite revocation. On the state's two toll freeways, where the speed limit is 60 miles, license suspension applies to anyone going 70 miles an hour or faster.

In Connecticut the law is similar. There, since the anti-speeding program was placed in effect in 1956, licenses of 27,000 persons have been suspended. New Jersey officials expect 50,000 drivers will lose their licenses each year. But they hope New Jersey will improve its highway death record, which in 1958 was the safest in the country in relation to miles traveled. Connecticut was in first place.

The New Jersey plan is criticized by some as an infringement on the authority of courts to punish offenders. This has been one of the criticisms of the Oregon point system. The New Jersey plan also has been called "hysterical" by some automobile clubs. One is inclined to agree with the latter. For excessive speed is only one factor in the traffic accident problem. Drivers can be as dangerous to themselves and others behind a set speed limit as above it. That is why the basic rule is a more sensible approach and why Oregon's point system for license suspensions, which takes into account other factors than speed, is preferable to the New Jersey-Connecticut plan.—Portland Oregonian.

POT SHOTS

TOUR OF INSPECTION
I'm not quite sure I like the way the top dog for the Russians is poking around the country. Maybe we should be a bit careful of what we allow to run loose.

At first, when one Anastas I. Mikoyan started to be mentioned in the news, I took it right in step along with the rest of the people who have been taking too many tranquilizers. But maybe it's time for us to start getting alarmed.

It looks to me like the guy is making an inspection-trip to see what he's going to be running. And he can't be bothered with the peasants (they're the ones who can't afford happy pills) who protest his visit everywhere he goes because they'll be liquidated anyway.

WAS IT WORTH IT?

I am happy to learn that our government has sent a monkey on a more or less guided tour through space. I call that a carefree excursion. The trip cost a few million, but what's money for a monkey?

I would have included a lady monkey. You know, a kind of "Baton" type of monkey? That's Washington for you, no imagination. (Pot Shots note: Boy, you had imagination on that word!)

I hear we, along with Russia, are shootin' at the moon now. I suppose the first one to score a bull's-eye will be tops with the Mooners. As Bob Hope says, "It's possible."

I think my own theory of interplanetary relationships is, to say the least, revolutionary. (And the least said the better.) Hear this!

To the rest of the inhabitants of the solar system, this planet is known as Insane Asylum. The expense of shooting all of these flying saucers here is terrific, but thinking of all of the fuss and muss for it is all and fight off the void at home. The violent ones are labeled, See America First.

I think this theory should be welcomed by most of those "Alice in Wonderland" characters in Washington and would save a lot of money spent in research. There is no point in trying to go home to Mars. They would shoot us back here anyway.

ABSOLUTELY NORMAL

I'm getting sick and tired of hearing such things as, "Did you ever see such marvelous weather for this time of year?"

Certainly, I have. We have it nine years out of ten. Funny thing, but folks can't seem to remember all the nice weather we have. Let one little windstorm come along and they talk about it for weeks. And as the months go by, they one little storm grows into a dozen!

The trouble is that people around here don't realize how lucky they are when it comes to weather. Some of them should move back to the Midwest where there are such things as floods, tornadoes, heat waves and cold waves. After a season of that sort of thing, maybe they'd be glad to come back to Magic Valley and brag about it.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

One-half of the population of Hollywood, Calif., believes that Gene Fowler is a grandson of the late Booker T. Washington. The other half never heard of either of them.

When we were young and gay, Fowler was nicknamed Booker T. by Damon Runyon, because he is swarthy. For a long time, Fowler did not exploit this, but since the integration decree he has been pressing things.

One night last August in Dave Chusen's restaurant, Hollywood, "Pat Brown," the Democratic candidate for governor, asked for his autograph on a menu. Fowler wrote "If you are elected, you better be nice to my people Booker T. Fowler." A race-dropper!

"Another night he entered a swank plush haunt for dinner and when the headwaiter steered him toward a quiet corner, he balked and bellowed, "No, you don't! Not in election year!"

In the old days this stuff was just good, clean fun. Like the night in Billy La Hiff's tavern during prohibition when Fowler was sport editor of the New York Mirror and ghosting articles on the body "beautiful" under the name of Rudolph Valentino under an old contract arranged by Moe Koenigsberg, of King Features.

This contract had been forgotten in an old file and the Mirror was hard up, so King Features sold it to the Mirror for $5.

Fowler spat on his hands and went to it.

On the third day of the series poor Valentino was sending around everybody he knew in Hollywood to beg the Mirror to "take it easy. Sex 'roll-and-tear' was beginning to creep into the articles.

Joe Schenck phoned Hearst. Louis B. Mayer took it up with President Harding. But Booker said, "I am the man!"

Party Marks 10th Year of Lions at Paul

PAUL, Jan. 12—The 10th anniversary of the Paul Lions was observed Thursday evening at a banquet in the Paul school auditorium with guests from Rupert, Burley, Twin Falls and Jerome.

Arthur S. Grove was master of ceremonies. Carl Worthington, deputy district governor, talked on Lionsism. Other guests included Jack Russell, Jerome, and Faren Faler, Twin Falls, both International councilors, and Robert Baker, Twin Falls, zone chairman.

Charter members introduced J. C. Merrill, Lloyd Merrill, Joe Bauer, Calvin Conn and Harper Hunsaker. Both J. C. Merrill and Lloyd Merrill have had 100 per cent attendance since the club was organized.

J. C. Merrill has been president twice and zone chairman. His son, Lloyd Merrill, was president one year.

Harvey Hollinger was in charge of the program. A trio was sung by Jon Hollinger, Wayne Ills and Russell Knopp and a guitar and solo number was presented by Rob Reed and Devan Hamilton.

Howard Schaeffer and Kenneth Stevens presented a hoola hoop number.

New members who have joined during the past year are Reuben Haun, Howard Formont, Leonard Trumbull, Robert Clark, Jack Jensen and Jay Maxwell.

Harold Wilson, president, welcomed guests and members. Each woman guest received a corsage. The banquet was served by the Paul PTA under chairmanship of Mrs. Leo Jarolimik and Mrs. Floyd Clark.

Henry Does Some Predicting About Society Sets in Space

BY HENRY McEMORE

Who will be the leader of the society set that is sure to come—the interplanetary set?

Will it be the Duchess of Windsor, who is rumored to have already ordered a new dress from Dior for the first charity gala on the moon. (The gala, by the way, will be for the benefit of the widows and children of monkey whose nose comes fell short.)

Will it be Elsa Maxwell, whose shape bears such a family resemblance to the moon?

Or will it be Conrad Hilton, gracious host of the Eclipse-Hilton, the design of which is said to be on the drawing board?

No matter who becomes the leader, the nucleus of the interplanetary set is certain to be formed by members of the present—international set.

Bored by years of sunning at Juan Les Pins and Cap d'Antibes, skiing at Davos and St. Moritz, gambling at Monaco, as well as loafing at all these places, the international set is eager to move its trunks, servants, poodles and yachts to new playgrounds.

Think of what it will mean to these jaded folk to give the first masked ball ever seen on Venus, to introduce chemin de fer to Mars, or to be the first ever to appear as Napoleon at a costume party on Jupiter.

Now, thanks to science, the international set won't be limited to following the sun—they'll be able to go to it.

But—and this worries me a great deal—will the interplanetary set immediately find amusement when they reach outer space? If they don't, they will be miserable, for they must be amused all the time, as you well know.

Miss Maxwell undoubtedly has been working on outer space games for quite a while, but in case she hasn't and needs a suggestion or two, perhaps she will take a few from me.

Perigee and apogee parties: This will be run much the same as a raffle, with each guest guessing how close the moon is to the Earth when in perigee and how far when in apogee.

The maker of the winning guess will be given a year's supply of oxygen, a wardrobe of solid lead dresses

La Hiff horned in and said, "Nix, nix; all the mixed drinks you want, but no mixed fights. It's against the law."

With the court decision, Booker really slipped his leash. At Romanoff's one night he hove up with a supercilious sniff and hollered, "Mike, if you have to let these people in, can't you pick some who are a credit to their race? That crude fellow over there looks like Pegler."

Mike said, "It is Pegler, but the bum is sticky. Give him the slightest excuse and he will sue me for discrimination."

Booker flounced out with Agnes on his arm, exclaiming loudly, "Come, Aunt Chloe, we will go over to the Hilton where they are more select."

"He calls Agnes Aunt Chloe now and a lot of chefs have been bothering her for her favorite recipe for corn pone and honey-fried chicken. But what would she know about such things? Her and her TV tray-dinners all the time!"

No wonder poor Booker is breaking out in pink patches. Not enough vitamins!

Another time, in a conversation with a bartender named Martin Brennan, he casually remarked, "I am a Catholic, you know."

Brennan said, "So what? So is millions of us!"

Booker was thrown a little off-balance, but he came back strong. "Touche!" he exclaimed, "But I will bet you aren't colored, too!"

Care of Your Children By ANGELO PATRI

A girl in the freshman class of the secondary school complains bitterly about being "left out of everything." "I don't like this school at all. In my old school (junior high), I was in everything. Here nobody even knows I'm in the school. I'm on no committees. I have not been asked to join a society or anything." This is childish, something one would not expect from a high school freshman in the first term. Place among one's fellows in any situation must be earned and it is not earned in a day. It is usually a girl who feels hurt when "left out" — boys lacking this sensitiveness make their presence felt sooner—but both must win their way to friendship and understanding by being friendly and understanding and helpful to others. All through life, people will be asking, by their attitudes, even their words, what have you got to give? What is worthwhile in you for us? All of us must be ready to show on challenge. We must "give."

A certain degree of humility must be present in each of us who want to count among our fellows. No one has any inherent right to be accepted but each can, if he will pay the price, be wanted, liked and used. There is something else to be considered and it is important in this difficult. All of us are not suited to all the associations that compose our society. There are groups to which we, as individuals, do not belong either by tastes, abilities, the peculiar gifts or handicaps that compose our individual characters. All of us are not happy in association with all of us. Each seeks his

Freeze, Snow, Floods Strike Europe Area

LONDON, Jan. 12 (UPI) - The worst freeze in 12 years coated Britain with ice and snow today. It left a trail of stranded motorists and mangled the Duke of Edinburgh's Prince Charles in a pub. Heavy snow fell in the interior of the continent, isolating several villages in Hungary and causing floods in French towns along the River Seine. The British ship Benbrackie hit a mine in the North Sea, but was making for a German port under its own power in heavy seas.

Drifts Are 20 Feet High Drifts up to 20 feet high clogged roads and isolated villages in northern Scotland. Two snowplows worked for two hours to take an expectant mother 10 miles to a hospital from the village of Coly in Aberdeenshire. A 10-year-old boy drowned in the flooded New river at Cheshire. The duke and his son, heir to the throne, were forced to spend the week-end at the Pleasure Boat Inn, a pub in Norfolk, when a lake flooded the tiny island where they had planned to hunt coot. Pub owners Mr. and Mrs. Albert Amis said the duke had a room of his own while the young prince shared a room with two other boys members of their party. They stayed over Friday and Saturday nights while the local villagers drank as usual at the bar.

No Fuss Is Made "We carried on as if they were ordinary guests," Amis said. His wife said the royal guests ordered from the ordinary menu. The Automobile association said traffic conditions were nearly as bad as they were during the severe winter of 1946-47. Weather forecasters predicted no relief with low temperatures and more snow is expected tomorrow. Budapest newspapers said the blizzard in Hungary was the worst in years. It uprooted telegraph poles, knocked down trees and disrupted rail and highway traffic. The Seine approached the high water danger mark in Paris, covering its low banks, fanned rendezvous for lovers and fishermen.

Florida Citrus Crop Growers Watch Frosts

By The Associated Press More frosty weather kept Florida citrus growers on the alert Monday after another all-night vigil to protect their crops. Strong winds fanned cold air from the southern Appalachians into the Southeast. Temperatures dropped to below freezing in northern parts of Florida. Generally warmer weather prevailed in most of the nation. Skies were mostly clear to partly cloudy except for rain areas in the Pacific Northwest and snow flurries across Northern sections. At Lakeland, Fla., Homer E. Hooks, Florida Citrus Commission manager, said he didn't believe the damage to crops thus far was too extensive. However, he said, another two or three nights of freezing weather could be dangerous. A warming trend was reported in New England and from the Great Lakes region through the lower Mississippi valley and eastward across the Appalachians into the middle Atlantic states. Texas also warmed considerably Sunday, with temperatures in the 70's in southern areas. Crowd Reported SHOSHONE, Jan. 12 - A large crowd of youngsters turned out for the first Chamber of Commerce-sponsored marshmallow roast Saturday afternoon. Discarded Christmas trees were collected for the fire by the president of the chamber, Burton Thorne. He was assisted by his son, Steven, and Harrell Thorne, chamber secretary.

Ike to Tell His View on Berlin To Red Visitor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP) - President Eisenhower is expected to impress upon Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan this week that the western allies have no intention of abandoning West Berlin or creating a neutralized Germany. Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputy will meet at the White House late this week, following further policy discussions between Mikoyan and Secretary of State Dulles. The Soviet visitor met with both Dulles and Vice President Nixon a week ago before starting his present tour around the country. Interest in the forthcoming discussions was sharpened over the week-end by two surprise Moscow moves. 1. In notes to the United States and 28 other countries that fought Nazi forces in World War II, the Soviet government proposed a 28-nation conference to meet at Warsaw, or Prague in two months to write a German peace treaty. The 12-page detailed outline for a treaty, including provision for withdrawal of Western and Soviet troops from Germany and a ban on German membership in any military alliance, West Germany is a member of NATO. 2. In a second note Saturday night, the Soviet Union called for resumption of East-West talks on the problem of preventing surprise attack in the nuclear missile age. The United States responded promptly with a statement saying it favors resuming the talks - which broke down at Geneva Dec. 18 - but wants an agreement with the Soviet Union on the range of problems that should deal with. Both notes were received at the state department yesterday. But even before the German peace treaty plan came in, officials said on the basis of a Moscow announcement Saturday that it was clearly unacceptable.

Late Break Gives Eastern Pro Stars 28-21 Triumph Over West in Bowl Battle

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Billy Wade, who missed the most valuable player award in the fourth quarter pass interception, today took the blame for the West's 21-28 loss in the annual Pro Bowl football game. But West Coach Webb Ewbank and his fellow players don't consider the lanky Los Angeles Ram quarterback the goat of Sunday's rough tumble battle before 72,250 Memorial Coliseum fans. "We beat ourselves through mistakes," said Ewbank, coach of the world champion Baltimore Colts.

"It was my fault," insisted Wade after the East turned the interception into a field goal and later a game-winning touchdown. "I threw it. I wanted to pick up my own 15, but I wanted to pass from the yardage and then stay on the field," said dejected Billy Wade, who said that pass right where he threw it. Wade said in the dressing room. "But Walt Michaels Cleveland backed into it and blocked it."

Wade had advanced the West 80 yards for a touchdown and a 21-16 lead in the second half and a 21-16 lead in the second half among the elite of the National Football League. "Forget it, Bill. You did everything I asked you to do," said Ewbank. "You moved the ball on the field."

After the interception, the East kicked for a 25-yard field goal by Cleveland's Lou Groza. Then, with less than three minutes to go, Philadelphia's Norm Van Brocklin kicked the East for a 25-yard touchdown drive. Frank Gifford of the New York Giants, who beat out Wade for the most valuable player, said, "I knew about the playing possession of the ball toward the finish. But our defense took it away from them and that's all we needed."

Lenny Moore of the Colts set up the first West touchdown by rushing 22 yards to the one. Two plays later, Colt fullback Alan Ameche kicked over. Later in the opening quarter, Gifford's 22-yard pass to Gene Zankert of the Giants put the Colts in position for Groza's first 25-yard field goal.

Just before the first quarter ended, Gifford passed to Gian-Alexis Robertson, who grabbed the ball on the wing and raced over for the score. The lead changed again when Wade directed the West 77 yards in 12 plays. The payoff was a pass to High McElhenry of the San Francisco 49ers, who wiggled 20 yards to the end zone.

But the East, led by Little Eddie LeBaron of Washington, bounced back for a touchdown and a 15-14 lead. The East went 74 yards with LeBaron passing the last yard to Gern Nagler of the Chicago Cardinals.

It was the fourth victory in the meetings for the East.

Top College Teams Clash On Hoop Card
By United Press International
Kentucky, nearing its 600th victory under coach Adolph Rupp, and one of the nation's other top 20 teams see action tonight in a college basketball schedule that also includes three important Big Ten games.

Kentucky's Wildcats, surprised by Kentucky last week, rebounded Saturday night with a 76-61 win over Louisiana State and will be trying to regain still more of their national prestige tonight against Duke. A victory would move Kentucky into a second-place tie with Georgia in the Southeastern conference provided Vanderbilt beats Mississippi State.

Eighth-ranked Cincinnati (8-6) defeated Missouri lead against North Texas State (4-8) and eighth-ranked Bradley (9-1) and unranked Houston (2-5) battle for undisputed position of second place in the same small while Illinois meets Iowa, Indiana plays Minnesota and Wisconsin takes on Michigan in the Big Ten. Victories by Illinois, Indiana and Michigan would create a three-way tie for first place in the already-tight circuit.

The week's action also includes a showdown battle Wednesday night between the Atlantic coast Conference's top teams—second-ranked North Carolina State (11-1) and fourth-ranked North Carolina (8-1). State is 5-0 in league play after Duke's 67-60 win over Duke State North Carolina is 4-0. Indiana's 76-69 victory over seventh-ranked Northwestern produced the only upset of a team among the top 10 Saturday as most of the national powers won with ease. Third-ranked Kansas State pulverized Colorado 80-58, fifth-ranked Michigan State edged out Illinois 97-90, Cincinnati whipped Houston 62-54, eighth-ranked Bradley routed North Texas State 70-58, ninth-ranked Auburn defeated Florida 63-54, and 10th-ranked St. John's of New York whipped George Washington 86-85.

Cal Teams Dominate Coast Loop Standings

By United Press International
California teams have grabbed an early lead in a topsy-turvy Pacific Coast conference cage race which finds pre-season favorite Washington mired in a tie for last place. The University of California belted the Huskies 55-44 Friday night and then rolled over Idaho 64-39 Saturday in a foul-filled contest which saw Vandal Coach Harlan Hodges throw a towel into the crowd in disgust. Bear veteran Bob Dalton flashed his best form of the season in leading the Bears both nights. Cal emerged from the twin win with a 3-1 loop mark and an overall 9-3 record.

Southern California split a pair to drop into a tie with the Bears at 3-1 and move to a season mark of 10-4. Oregon State hung a 61-53 upset on the Trojans Friday, but Troy came back for an overtime 73-67 win Saturday. Meanwhile, UCLA and Stanford swept their week-end contest to move into a tie for second at 3-2. The Cards followed a smooth 50-36 victory over Idaho with a stunning 51-49 upset over the toothless Huskies whose one-two punch of Bruno Bolin and Doug Smart were able to muster only 21 points thanks to tough guarding by the considerably shorter pair of Dick Hagan and John Hendry. The Cards' Paul Neumann moved into the league scoring lead by running his five-game point total to 88.

With California teams hogging the upper reaches, the rest of the conference race shapes up like this: Oregon State, 7-2; Oregon, which was idle last week-end, 1-1, and Washington State, Idaho and Washington, 1-3.

This week's battles will find California facing Stanford and USC meeting UCLA in series both traditional and crucial. Oregon faces Oregon State while Idaho meets Washington State. Washington, whose supporters are reported especially bitter at the collapse of this year's squad, will be idle.

The form book took less of a beating in the first week-end of west coast athletic conference play. St. Mary's is clearly the team to beat after invading two hostile gyms and bringing home the scalps of Loyola 50-41 and Pepperdine 74-64. Injured Tom Meschery returned in top form and the Gaels are rolling.

Santa Clara, probably the Gaels' top rival, won its lone week-end tussle with a 60-54 win over USP. It was the Don's tenth defeat of the year, equalling their combined loss output for the past four seasons. Nevertheless, if high-scoring Fred LaCour is declared eligible to return to play next month, the Dons may yet challenge the Gaels and Broncos.

Brennan Firing Is Defended by College's Head
CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (UPI)—The Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame university, was not surprised by the nationwide reaction to the dismissal of Terry Brennan as head football coach of the Irish.

"I expected that... anything that may seem startling produces such a reaction," the Rev. Father Hesburgh told a local audience last night. In discussing the surprise firing of Brennan, the Rev. Father Hesburgh also maintained that: "A school's athletics always should be subordinated to its academics. 'A university must live with its traditions. Otherwise it's like holding a finger to the wind.'"

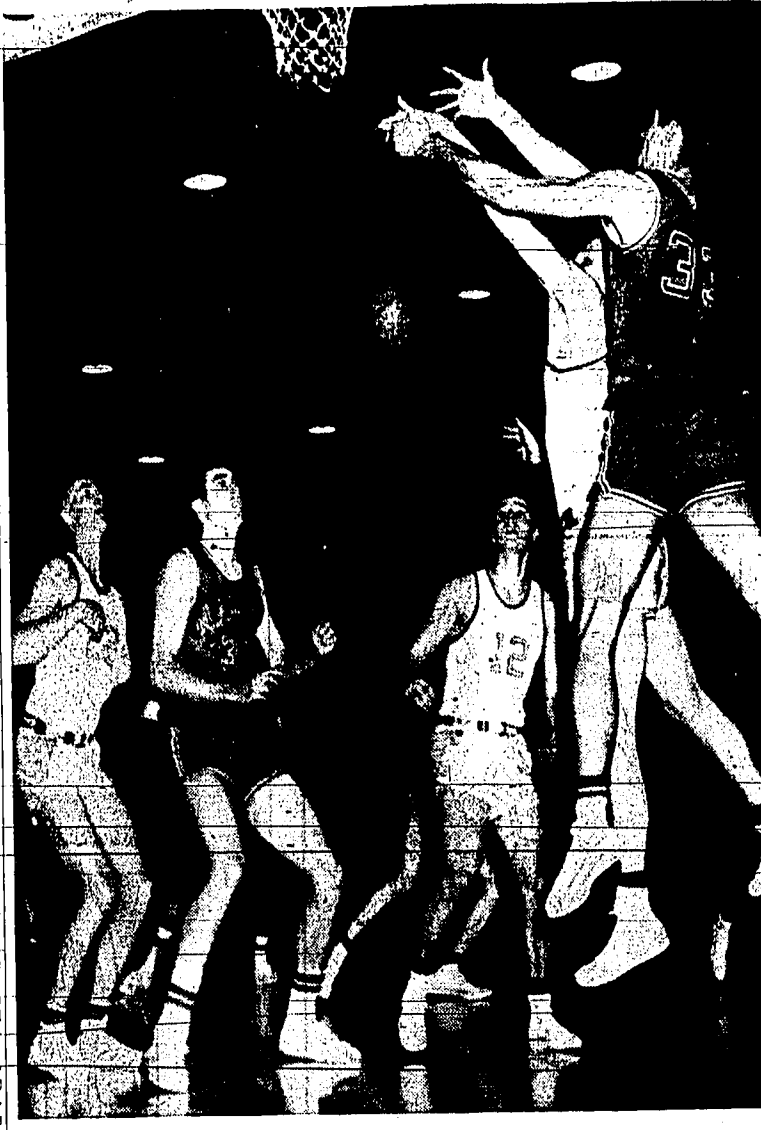

"If you want to judge a school's academics, go ahead; if you want to judge its athletics, go ahead. However, there is no relationship between the two and one should be subordinate to the other. 'Any school which thinks it can gain academic stature on the football field is badly mistaken,' he said.

The Rev. Father Hesburgh made his comments in a 15-minute interview which touched on subjects ranging from the philosophy of current-day students. "Education is about the only thing a person is willing to pay for and not get" to the Rev. Father Hesburgh's recent trip to Africa.

He would speak for only three minutes, however, on the Brennan incident. "My views will be clearly stated this week in a national publication (Sports Illustrated) for which I have written an article," the Rev. Father-Hesburgh said, "I would appreciate not discussing the matter any further."

Nampa Player Blocks Chance at Rebound

Speaker Hits Blocking Of Sports Area Access

MCCALL, Jan. 12 (AP)—Prompt action by federal agencies was urged Saturday to assure access to privately controlled but publicly owned hunting and fishing areas. L. C. Binford, Portland, Ore., a member of the national executive board of the Isaac Walton League of America, said that sportsmen often are barred from hunting and fishing areas because the only access to them is over privately owned land. Binford spoke at the annual convention of the Idaho Outdoor association.

"Let me point out," he said in his prepared address, "that most private land owners adjacent and near public lands do permit the public to pass over their private lands to reach the public domain. 'But many of these would prefer that there be definite roadways or a public access over which the public could travel. Instead of just wandering across their lands. 'There are those who just don't want the public around, and in some cases deliberately try to control the public domain for their own use.'"

Binford said there are two remedies. One is to provide access through privately owned lands by condemnation proceedings if necessary. The other is to require such access as a condition in leasing agreements for adjacent public land. "Lawyers differ on the legal right of the forest service to require a reciprocal use as a condition," Binford said. "But if the administrative heads were not 'mice' they would adopt such a policy and put it into effect by administrative order. 'If they lack the authority, the courts would very soon tell them. 'The public has a right to expect that agencies in charge of public lands will provide the access by which they and the public they serve can make all lawful use of the lands. If these agencies fail to provide access to public lands, they are guilty of mismanagement of the public resources.'"

Binford said more than hunting and fishing is involved. "Many very valuable stands of mature timber are now harvested," he said, "because a private owner controls the only access."

Binford was the featured speaker during the three-day convention which ends Sunday with election of officers. He spoke at a Saturday evening banquet session. Saturday's program otherwise was given over to committee meetings to consider proposed resolutions.

Bears Challenge Bengals for Hoop Conference Title

By The Associated Press
Back in familiar surroundings, the Colorado State college Bears have taken on the darkhorse role in the Rocky Mountain conference basketball race. The Bears surged past Colorado Mines 80-60 and 86-57 in a week-end doubleheader that tied them with Idaho State for the lead. I-State's six-time champions also won a pair from Colorado college, 63-47 and 68-60, and confirm early season estimates of their strength. The Bengals have won the best over-all record in the league, 11 triumphs in 13 games. Colorado State was luckier in losing only two of six pre-league season starts. But the Bears found the key in their conference opener. Three teams are sandwiched in the middle of the standings with two victories and two defeats each. They are Colorado college, Mines and Adams State.

Bolt, Vossler Deadlocked in Tijuana Open

TIJUANA, Mexico, Jan. 12 (UPI)—Tommy Bolt and Eric Vossler engaged in a torrid battle for the $2,800 pot of gold that goes to the winner of the $20,000 Tijuana Open golf tournament, head into the final round of competition today still tied for the leadership. With 54-hole scores of 205 leveling the pack, they still have strong competition to fear from at least 15 others, all of whom are no worse than four strokes back.

With the closely-bunched field it is possible that a sudden death playoff will be needed to decide the winner. Right on the heels of the leaders are Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., and the new sensation of the tourney trail, John McMullin, Alameda, Calif. They have 206 totals. Three men are deadlocked with 207's, Mike Souchnak, Grossinger, N. Y., Art Wall, Peconic Manor, Pa., and Mike Fetcheck, Yonkers, N. Y. Jack Fleck, former National Open champion, has 208.

Bolt and Vossler went into their deadlock at the end of 36 holes when they each had 134. Yesterday's round failed to break the deadlock. There were long and loud walls yesterday over the greens—not that they were bad, but because they had not been cut. This was due to a misunderstanding that came about in the translation of instructions from English to Spanish. As a result, even the "purist" of believers in the blade putters had to switch to the heavier mallet-head to get the ball up to the pin from any distance away. Wall made the change after the first day when he had a 72. He followed with rounds of 68 and 67.

Fighter Probed

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 12 (AP)—The sports editor who brought it up and the manager of the fighter involved say they think it's a good idea for the National Boxing association to investigate Lamar Clark's multiple fights. But it's about the only point on which they agree. "I don't see how he can condemn something he's never seen," said Manager Mary Jensen. "He's never attended a Clark fight." "I didn't cover them because I didn't acknowledge them as legitimate fights," answered Hack Miller, the sports editor.

U.S. Stand in Space Race With Russia to Get New 1959 Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—The question of where the United States stands in the space race with the Soviet Union will come under renewed Congressional inquiry this session.

Rep. Overton Brooks, D., La., prospective chairman of the new house space committee, said today he could not yet speak for the house group since it had not been officially organized nor his chairmanship confirmed.

However, Brooks said, "I personally would favor holding hearings." The Louisiana Democrat spoke in an interview against a background of conflict over whether this country is lagging in the space contest and whether it should step up its effort.

The temporary house space committee of the last congress, headed by Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., issued a final report over the week-end picturing the Soviets as perhaps 1 1/2 years or more ahead of the United States in space progress.

The space committee saw America's extinction as the likely cost of Soviet victory in the space race. Calling for the utmost national effort, it quoted estimates that even with a thoroughgoing program it will take the United States "at least five years to close the gap."

Vice-President Nixon holds a different view, according to information given newsmen yesterday.

Nixon, who sits in top strategy councils, says the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in developing military missiles and is catching up fast in other phases of the space race.

Nixon does not think more money can be spent wisely on satellites. He blames the previous Democratic administration for what he says is a lag of several years in a U. S. start on developing big rocket engines.

Under a massive effort now, he

New Try
COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Jan. 12 (AP)—A lonely, bitter Copenhagen carpenter, brooding over a broken marriage, says he has applied for a seat on the first manned Soviet space rocket because life on Earth has no promise for him.

"Why not try in space?" Boerge L. Jensen, 45, asked.

SAILOR PROMOTED
BURLLEY, Jan. 12—Promoted to storekeeper third class is George W. Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Baker, route 2, Burley. He is serving aboard the San Diego based destroyer tender USS Prairie.

Asthma Formula Prescribed Most By Doctors—Available Now Without Prescription
Stops Attacks in Minutes... Relief Lasts for Hours!
New York, N. Y. (Special)—The asthma formula prescribed more than any other by doctors for their private patients is now available to asthma sufferers without prescription.

Medical tests proved this formula stops asthma attacks in minutes and gives hours of freedom from recurrence of painful asthma spasms. This formula is so effective that it is the physicians' leading asthma prescription—so safe that now it can be sold without prescription—in tiny tablets called Primatone.
