Johnson Talk Rule OK'd; Civil Rights Hopes Slim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UPI)—Liberal senators today foresaw only a slim chance for civil rights legislation in the wake of the senate's refusal to make a major change in its anti-filibuster rule. The four-day filibuster fight ended last night when the senate approved 72 to 22 a compromise by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Tex., providing for a mild rule modification. But the liberal bloc, which sought tighter debate curbs, promised to renew the battle in the next congress. Sen. Clifford Case, R., N. J., a leader of the bipartisan group, said, "This is only a battle and not the war."

The Johnson provision provides that two-thirds of senators present and voting can limit debate. The old requirement was two-thirds (66) of the senate's 98 members.

Liberalists argued that the Johnson plan was hardly an improvement; most southerners opposed any change.

The liberals made their big drive for a proposal by Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D., Ill., to require only a

Court Rejects Topsy Driver's Plea of Probe

Neal Dotson, charged with second degree drunken driving, pleaded guilty Monday before Judge Theron Ward in Twin Falls district court and asked for a pre-sentencing investigation.

Judge Ward denied the request and ordered Dotson to appear in court Friday. In the meantime, he asked if counsel for Dotson or the prosecuting attorney presented any further information he would take into consideration.

In denying the request for a pre-sentencing investigation, the judge pointed out that Dotson had been convicted of drunken driving in January, 1958, and was arrested again for drunken driving in December. In view of the previous conviction, and the fact the man is driving while his license was automatically revoked for one year after the first offense, Judge Ward said he could see no reason for a pre-sentencing investigation of the man's character.

During the afternoon, Robert Vernon, Twin Falls, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of second degree burglary and a pre-sentencing investigation was ordered. Overton was charged by city police with entering a local oil company bulk tank.

Johnson Backed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Closing senate debate by a simple majority vote is the principle that underlies every-gag rule that ruffles other legislatures everywhere, says Sen. Frank Church, D., Ind.

Church explained his support of the compromise proposal of Senate Majority Leader Johnson, Tex., which requires a two-thirds vote to close out a filibuster.

The Idaho senate, said the senator, "has repeatedly guaranteed the right of extended debate."

majority (50) of the senate's membership to cut off debate after 15 days. They lost 67 to 28.

A follow-up move by Sens. Thurston B. Morton, R., Ky., Clinton P. Anderson, D., N. M., and John Sherman Cooper, R., Ky., also was beaten, 58 to 36. It would have let three-fifths of senators present and voting limit debate.

Johnson won his triumph with an avalanche of 44 Democratic votes and 28 Republican. Opposing him on the final vote were only three Republicans and 19 Democrats.

4 New Offices Set Up to Fight Crime

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The justice department has created four regional offices to assemble data in connection with a long-range nationwide program to combat syndicated crime and organized racketeering.

Reporting this today, department officials said their offices are now functioning in New York City, Chicago, Los Angeles and Miami.

It is understood that in some areas under the jurisdiction of these offices, grand juries have been convened or will be called shortly to assist investigators in assembling information.

Officials are not discussing what general results have been obtained.

Federal Building Planned in Boise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Construction of an eight-million dollar federal building in Boise is proposed by the general services administration for some future time, Sen. Henry C. Dworshak reported yesterday.

The Idaho Republican said there was no indication that construction is planned soon. But he said the project is listed on the future construction program of the agency.

The Boise structure would provide 170,000 square feet of floor space and would be intended to supplement the existing federal building.

Deadline Near

Deadline for displaying 1959 auto licenses in Idaho is midnight, Friday, County Assessor Clifford Thompson reminded car owners Tuesday.

State Patrolman R. E. Young added that car owners will be liable to citation after midnight Friday if plates are not attached to both the front and rear bumpers as prescribed by law. Car tags cannot be propped up in the back window or kept on the front seat beside the driver, it was pointed out.

At 12:30 p.m. Tuesday, only six drivers were buying license plates in the courthouse. Passenger plates numbered in the 9700's were being sold and truck plates were being 3000.

Case Transferred

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—A case involving an Eden man, that originated in another state, was transferred to U. S. district court here yesterday. The district court informed the defendant had pleaded guilty and only sentencing was involved.

The complaint named Cecil E. Patterson, Eden, and accused him of selling in Nebraska livestock on which the farmers home administration had a chattel mortgage to secure a loan.

Farms' Surplus Is Up Million Dollars

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UPI)—The agriculture department's total inventory in price-supported farm commodities rose to $8,201,106,000 on Nov. 30, up more than one billion dollars from the same date in 1957.

The increase was apparently caused by heavy movement of supported crops into government hands as a result of bumper 1958 harvests.

Governor Proposes $70,900,000 "Lean" Budget; More Income, Cigarette, Liquor Taxes Asked

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie proposed increases in income, cigarette and liquor taxes today to finance an Idaho budget he described as "lean—it comes as close to holding the line as possible." His proposal to the 1959 legislature was for a budget of $70,900,000 for the two-year period beginning next July 1. "I doubt," he said, "that it can be reduced without doing substantial damage, and perhaps permanent damage, to some of our governmental services and some of our institutions." The total compared with $61,700,000 appropriated in 1957 and with $67,300,000 recommended by the pre-legislative budget committee for the next two years.

Potato Groups Told to Agree On Legislation

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Potato marketing legislation should be suggested to the Idaho legislature jointly by growers, shippers and processors after they have straightened out their differences, says Sen. George Bлек, R., Twin Falls.

Black said differences of opinion about what is best for the future of the industry have existed among the three groups. Processors generally oppose legislation for a law preventing use of culls for human consumption.

Jerome Court Fines Two on Speed Charge

Thomas L. Hutchison, Gannett, was fined $12 plus costs by Jerome Justice of the Peace Glen Vining Monday for speeding 67 miles per hour in a 55-mile zone. He also was fined an additional $2 plus costs for failure to appear on his first citation issued Dec. 15. Citation was issued by State Patrolman M. J. Bays, Jr., during a recent radar check.

Mary Rupert, Jerome, was fined $10 and costs by Justice Vining for going 70 miles per hour in a 60-mile zone. He was cited by State Patrolman Marvin S. Wright.

State Plumber Code Adopted By Twin Falls

Adoption of the state plumbing code and approval of two more retail liquor licenses highlighted a short session of the Twin Falls city commissioners Monday night.

By adopting the state plumbing code, city plumbing standards will be the same as those in rural areas and at least 15 other Idaho towns. Plumbers who appeared at the meeting Monday night stated the state code is not as vague as the code previously used by the city, and in some instances is more strict. The city did not adopt the state inspector service, but will continue to maintain its own inspection service.

Illinois Mayor Gets Bounced Into Hospital

AURORA, Ill., Jan. 13 (AP)—Mayor Paul Egan, 58, lost a "one-round brawl to Aurora city council's 43-year-old burly sergeant-at-arms yesterday.

The usually voluble mayor, who spent the night in St. Charles hospital, refused to talk about the fight.

Cut Is Reported

Hospital officials declined to report on the condition of Egan, a stormy petrel in Aurora since his election as mayor in 1953. Earlier, however, Dr. J. D. Rossman said Egan had a cut on the right side of his jaw and some bruised swellings on his face. He said the mayor also complained that his back was injured.

Quiet Woman May Pioneer Space Travel

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—A passive, lonely woman may be the first space pioneer.

Col. John Stapp, director of the air force's aeromedical laboratory, Wright Field, Ohio, says research shows that men "start worrying about their families and become aggressive and irrational" too soon to stand a long and confining trip.

The longest a man has been able to stay in a test chamber has been 42 hours, the colonel told the Alameda-Contra Costa Counties Medical association yesterday.

"But a single woman who tried he continued, lasted five days and wanted out only after her food was used up.

"This particular woman was a passive personality and she had no family or close friends to bind her to vital, earthly concerns," he noted.

Big Saving

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 13 (AP)—Essex county officials are looking at the menu being offered guests at the county penitentiary and decided to let them eat bread.

Cake will no longer be available. Neither will any other kind of dessert.

The county told Warden Geoffrey Berrien yesterday that allowing off cake and things would save $11,000 a year.

Active Vote

An active vote was noted by officials of the Twin Falls Canal company at the annual meeting Tuesday.

Six men have filed for the five available posts. They are: Fay Frahm, Al Kramer, Albert Ellis, Dick Stafford, Ed Balabart and Tom Olmstead. Ballots will not be counted until after 8 p.m.

Elected tellers for the balloting were Glen Davis, Richard Anthony, Albert Lemming, Peter Labadie, Earl V. Johnson and Floyd Peterson.

Democratic Legislator Finds Smylie Talk 'One of His Best'

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie's budget message to the Idaho legislature was described by a Democratic leader today as "one of his better speeches." Sen. O. J. Buxton, D., Teton, the senate president pro-tem, said the governor outlined proposals "just as our people have expressed themselves all through the summer; they would prefer us to hold the line." The senate majority leader, Sen. Arthur Murphy, D., Shoshone, said the governor met the taxation issue "head-on." "I believe," he said, "that the governor's message emphasized the pressing need for an equitable broad-based tax under which business can enter Idaho and be assured of a continued program of fair taxation."

Search Continuing For Missing Plane

Search was continuing Tuesday across Lincoln, Blaine and Gooding counties as part of a statewide effort to find the missing Boise student pilot who was scheduled to arrive in Boise from Pocatello Sunday afternoon. Jack Farrar, Twin Falls, state civil air patrol commander, reported six flights had been sent out from Joslin field Tuesday morning and three mobile ground units are working out as far as Hailey and Fairfield. At Boise, the Associated Press reported Monday night that a Seattle truck driver, Jack Church, is missing with 34-year-old Ed Wilson, a Boise service station operator, who was making his first cross-country solo flight. The plane is described as a yellow Piper Tri-Pacer single-engine craft.

Board Grants Contracts for School Buses

The Twin Falls school bus transportation contract for three years, from September, 1959, to June, 1962, was awarded Monday night to Kirkman Brothers, present contractors, at the regular meeting of the board of education of class A school district No. 411.

Only one bid was submitted. The present contract specifies payment of $18.50 per day for each of 18 buses. The new contract calls for $18.50 daily for three small buses, $19.50 per day for nine 60-passenger buses and $20 per day for six buses of more than 60 capacity. Payment of 30 cents per mile for anything over 60 miles per day is specified, the same as the present contract.

Firm Challenges Gem Butter Rule

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—Idaho regulations on making and grading of butter were challenged in court yesterday by a Utah corporation which ships butter into Idaho.

A complaint filed by Mountain States Creamery company asks Third district court to enjoin State Agriculture Commissioner Stanley I. Trentham and State Dairy Director Duard Campbell from interfering with the company's rights.

The complaint said the regulations specify size of type used in marking cartons and placing of grade symbols within designs resembling the outline of Idaho's boundaries.

'They're Always Laughing at Me,' Says Tiny 15-Year-Old Runaway of Canada

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 13 (UPI)—"Do you know what it means to be tiny?"

"Fighting back tears, the youth asked the question in the waiting room of Hollywood police station.

Then, unable to contain his emotions, he buried his face in his dirty hands and sobbed.

"They're always laughing at me," he cried. "I'm almost 15, but they say I look like 10."

Truly, he did. And that was why a YMCA clerk tipped off police when the youth, who identified himself as Christopher Panter, Alberta, Can., tried to register last night.

Carrying a paper bag which contained blue jeans, some flannel shirts, a blanket and a guide map of Hollywood, the youth told officers he had run away from home in

Law Is Urged on Potato Marketing

BOISE, Jan. 13 (AP)—A farmer-legislator proposed yesterday that a committee of shippers, growers and processors be formed to recommend potato marketing legislation to the Idaho legislature.

"There are very divergent opinions among growers, shippers and processors as to what should be done to advance the cause of the industry," said Sen. George Bлек, R., Twin Falls.

There has been agitation in the potato industry for a law preventing use of culls for human consumption. Processors generally oppose this.

NEWS BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UPI)—Congressional leaders were told in a special briefing with President Eisenhower today that his new budget will show a surplus of about 100 million dollars. Afterwards, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck, Ind., predicted a possible tax cut within the "next two or three years" if the Democratic-controlled congress cooperates with Eisenhower.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus called on the Arkansas legislature today for more laws to continue the battle against racial integration in public schools.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (UPI)—Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton announced withdrawal today of about 123,646 acres of public land near Aro to be used by the atomic energy commission (AEC). Withdrawal of the lands will close the area to all forms of entry under the public land laws, including the mining and mineral leasing laws.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Unemployment jumped back above four million in December as employment declined seasonally with curtailment of outdoor work in winter weather. The government reported that employment fell by 600,000 in December, dropping from 64,643,000 to 63,973,000. Unemployment increased by 276,000 to 4,100,000 compared with 3,833,000 in November.

'Lean' Budget Presented by Smylie Today

...that this is as far as we can go unless we are willing to ask our people to pay new and much higher taxes.

To finance new construction at state institutions Smylie proposed two steps:
• An increase in the state's bonding limit from the present two million dollars "to a sum more closely approximating the current purchasing power of that same amount of money." A constitutional amendment would be required.

Authorization of an additional two million dollars in bonds, to be issued when the present two million dollars' worth is retired, possibly within the next two years.

Smylie noted that building requests submitted to the pre-legislative budget committee added up to $3 million dollars.

The $24,600,000 Smylie proposed as the state's share of public school costs compares with 22 million dollars in the current biennium. Of this increase, $1,600,000 would result from application of the present formula to increased enrollment. The additional one million dollars would be the cost of using enrollment figures for the current year instead of the preceding year.

Of the $3,000,000 increase recommended by the governor over spending proposed by the pre-legislative budget committee, nearly 2 1/2 million was for educational purposes.

Besides the one-million boost for public school enrollment, he suggested a boost of $693,000 for the University of Idaho and $564,000 for Idaho State college, primarily for salaries and wages. He increased appropriations for the university extension service and for agricultural research at the university by $100,000 each.

Other sizable increases over the budget committee recommendations were $200,000 for State Hospital South and $150,000 for State Hospital North; $100,000 for the state school, Nampa; $110,000 for the State Industrial Training school, St. Anthony, and $100,000 for the department of health.

Smylie suggested the legislature take at least preliminary steps toward revision of the state's tax structure and toward a change in the method of allocating state funds to the public schools. Neither problem might be solved completely, he said.

He suggested setting a percentage of the total public school operating costs as a goal toward which to work.

He said the state is paying about one-third of the total school costs this year, compared with 27 per cent in 1935 and only a very small portion in 1933, when state aid first was made available.

As for tax revision, Smylie said, "We might make some modest beginnings here which would guide the way at another time." He suggested these steps:

Revising the income tax law "to more closely follow the federal revenue code's definition of net income."
Doing away with the present method of applying the ad valorem tax to inventories. "I suggest," he said, "that you study the possibility of doing away with the old myth of accurate reporting of inventories and that an appropriate millage be applied to the gross volume of business done as a means of measuring the tax."

"I will insist," Smylie said, "if you embark on a big-scale revision of the tax structure that compensatory reductions be made in the already burdensome rates of income and property taxation and that we avoid burdening the necessities of life with added taxation."

Search Fails To Find Sign Of Lost Plane

When the plane made landings at Twin Falls, Burley and Pocatello. A spokesman for Bekins Transfer and Storage company, for whom church is employed, said Church could not be found Monday morning, though he was supposed to drive a tractor-trailer to Seattle from Boise.

Wilson's wife said the two men were close friends and had talked over the phone Saturday.

"It was illegal for Wilson to carry any passengers until after he had obtained his license," Moulton said. Farrar said local planes concentrated their search in missions along the Snake river eastward to Bliss, then north to Fairfield; back across Magic reservoir and to Richfield and north.

Promising clues to a low-flying craft fitting the description of Wilson's plane were reported from the Carey and Shoshone areas, Moulton said. But the searches were unable to fly over the lava foothills between Smith's Ferry and Anderson, Smith's Ferry and Anderson. This rugged area was along Wilson's return flight path.

The missing plane is supposed to have carried enough fuel for five hours of flying. The plane bore the numerals N7407K, and is registered to Max Berry, Boise.

Participating in the search were aircraft from Mountain Home air force base, the Idaho national guard, the civil air patrol and volunteer private pilots. The planes were from Boise, Idaho Falls, Blackfoot, Pocatello, American Falls, Burley, Twin Falls, Buhl, Gooding, Mountain Home, Caldwell, Nampa, Weiser, Halley, Carey and Fairfield, and from Ontario, Ore.

The area covered in the coordinated search includes the rugged, uninhabited lava beds in the Arco area and the mountainous country north of Fairfield. The search extends from Idaho Falls west to Boise.

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 13 (AP)—The government today promised the Belgian Congo, scene of recent riots, almost immediate voting rights and future independence.

A government statement on the future of the 13 million persons was read before both chambers of parliament by Premier Gaston Eyskens and Maurice Van Hemelryck, minister for the Congo.

Earlier, King Baudouin in a broadcast declared "our firm resolution today is to lead the Congolese population to independence with peace and prosperity, without damaging delays but also without undue haste."

Leopoldville, capital of the colony, was under tight military rule to prevent a recurrence of riots such as last week's in which 42 Africans were killed and more than 200 injured.

The disorders started from an unauthorized meeting of an African independence party. Unemployment was an acknowledged aggravation.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—In its broad and background implications, the spectacular victory of house Republican rebels in the leadership revolution has an adverse effect on the political fortunes of President Eisenhower and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Although the situation is still confused, it may work to the advantage of Vice President Nixon.

Unlike the revolt of Republican liberals in the senate, the anti-Martin movement was engineered by a hard core of house conservatives. It was inspired by Rep. John H. Ray, New York, former vice president and general counsel of the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

His group had become disenchanted with Eisenhower's "modern Republicanism," which they likened to Roosevelt's new deal, and with Representative Martin's cooperation with Speaker Rayburn in enacting the major portion of the White House legislative program.

Recognizing that he never had enough Republican votes to put over the administration's proposals, the deposed house minority leader worked closely with the amiable Texan. In return for a quiet Democratic vote to rally Eisenhower's measures, Martin had to accept Democratic amendments regarded as too liberal to satisfy the conservative dissenters.

"CONSERVATIONISTS" IN SPENDING—The principles which they expounded, and on which they differed from both the White House and Martin-Rayburn philosophy, were (1) federal spending (2) inflation (3) national defense appropriations, and (4) a check on expansion of the "welfare state."

They dislike the term "conservatives" as applied to them. They prefer to call themselves "conservationists" in the fields of taxes, spending and national security. They advocate smaller expenditures for social and economic projects, a cutback in foreign aid and far larger appropriations for national defense, especially in the scientific area, than Eisenhower has asked.

TOO LATE TO HALT "ANTI-MARTIN" MOVE—With their denunciations of northern Democrats as "socialists and spenders" in the closing days of the 1958 campaign, Eisenhower and Nixon appeared to have swung to their side. But it was then too late for a few desperate stump speeches to stop the anti-Martin movement, however they give Nixon "E" for effort and his influence on White House ghost writers.

The Ray dissenters had another and a more specific grievance against Representative Martin and Rep. Richard M. Simpson, Pennsylvania, chairman of the Republican congressional committee.

To offset Martin's lack of aggressiveness and his close association with Rayburn, they organized their own research and publicity bureau with $25,000 advanced by Simpson several years ago.

Partly because of the want of funds and also because of a want of sympathy, Simpson and Martin forced the Ray fundamentalists to disband this bureau on the eve of last year's disastrous congressional campaign.

WITHSTOOD DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDES—Strengthening the rebels in the 1959 house organization is the fact that every one of their members was re-elected last November, despite Democratic landslides all around them.

Another indication of their new power among house Republicans is the fact that one of their scrappiest and most dedicated conservatives—Rep. John W. Byrnes, Wisconsin—was elected chairman of the house policy committee, replacing Martin. Last year he refused to introduce the White House resolution for extension of the reciprocal trade program.

As a matter of fact, their preference for house minority leader was Rep. Gerald R. Ford, Jr., Michigan, and he could have been elected over Halleck, who is not personally popular, but Ford refused to be a candidate, preferring to remain as ranking Republican on the appropriations committee handling national defense money.

POT SHOTS

REAL SIMPLE

You can never be too sure what can be concealed by a language you don't understand. Take, for instance, the Northwest Orient airlines calendar hanging on the wall in the T-N newsroom.

It's pot an ordinary calendar, something you discover at a slight glance. Along with the usual month and day designations and the usual numerals are a bunch of Oriental characters. Naturally, you'd assume they say the same thing as the English that can be read easily and readily.

"Tain't so. One gent who obviously knows started translating some of the characters he said constitutes Chinese writing. He was telling all about the Year of the Boar and then came up with this startling explanation: "Jan. 1 comes on Nov. 22."

Dear Potshots:
How come when there is one of the biggest parking lots in town right inside the curb you have to squeeze through a bottleneck on Second street north every night there is some affair going on at the junior high school?

GET RID OF IT!
Potshots:
Because of a little criticism in your column from time to time, some of which I feel has been aimed directly at me, I'd like to explain why so many people apparently are living beyond their means.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—At midnight on Jan. 19 an important anniversary will have passed: That date marks the official end of the first half of President Eisenhower's second term in the White House.

Under the 22nd amendment to the constitution, adopted in reprisal for Franklin Roosevelt's fourth-term election, if the President had vacated the office prior to that date his successor could have been selected to only one full term.

While all lame-duck presidents under the American system of fixed terms of office have been under a serious handicap, few have found themselves in the situation confronting Eisenhower. As a result of the crushing defeat of last November his party has been reduced to a small fraction in the senate and the house.

These fractions are themselves divided and the President's support has dwindled among both conservative and liberal Republicans. The state of the union message was largely a reiteration of the budget-balance theme, with the addition of still another commission to tell us where we are to go.

With the budgetary deficit of 12 billion dollars in the current fiscal year the administration has proclaimed a balanced budget for next year. The likelihood, however, is for another deficit, perhaps as high as nine billion dollars. And while the political trick will be to put the blame on the Democrats, the party in power in the executive branch will have to take the consequences.

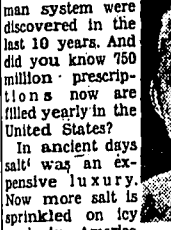

Despite the continuous barrage of high-powered publicity, sober and acknowledgeable critics of the administration's defense policy are saying that the "missile gap" will shortly leave the country in a precarious condition. The "delicate balance of terror" as it has been aptly called, will tip increasingly against the security of the United States.

WHAT DOES MIKOYAN WANT?

While Soviet Deputy Anastas Mikoyan is out gallivanting around the United States, the guesswork goes on as to what the real purposes of his trip are.

Certainly he did not come here to give away anything. His brief comments to newsmen on the Berlin situation suggest the Kremlin will not back off from its position—that the West get out—unless it gets some kind of face-saver in return.

The idea bobs up again and again that Mikoyan's visit somehow is designed to enhance Premier Khrushchev's prestige on the occasion of the Jan. 27 Communist party congress in the Soviet Union.

This has a good deal of plausibility, inasmuch as Khrushchev is known to be still deeply engaged in the struggle for supremacy within the Kremlin. Anything Khrushchev can do to "look big," even by proxy, may be figured to stand him in well for the party tests.

Naturally, any such purpose would be most fully advanced if Mikoyan were able to come away from America with some kind of concrete gain—some concession from President Eisenhower or Secretary of State Dulles. Perhaps the biggest hope is for the opening of U. S.-Soviet negotiations on Berlin and wider German and European issues.

Dulles has not indicated publicly whether Mikoyan, in their hour and a half talk, probed in this direction. When Mikoyan sees the President we may get a clearer notion what he is actually up to here.

It is always possible, of course, that one secondary purpose is to sample the American mood and temper, to see just how firm it is on matters like Berlin, a continuing strong western defense, broader trade relations with Russia and its satellites. Not many Russians of top rank have ventured to investigate the American climate. They have preferred to stay home and intoxicate themselves with their own distortion of the U.S.

Evidently the Russians have decided to try to make some incidental public relations hay out of Mikoyan's visit, though a man of his grim visage has a tough time being convincing as he hands candy to kids.

Still, this is obviously not just a good-will tour. And we have yet to learn whether any solid international good can come of it.

THE FOREIGN MARKET

As western Europe enters 1959, it is undertaking economic ventures that could alter sharply—for the better—the trading patterns on the continent.

The holdest step is the Common Market, embracing half a dozen European lands. Through gradual lowering of barriers and easing of restrictions, these countries expect to develop a large mutual flow of trade that could lift the living standards of all.

The recent currency developments, providing for a freer convertibility of various European currencies into dollars, are generally viewed as promising a still further boost to the commerce of the affected countries.

France's devaluation, though a special thing with many important domestic ramifications, is likewise seen as promoting additional foreign trade.

But with all this prospective gain there may also come big new problems. The countries participating in the Common Market will likely find themselves in heightened competition with those nations banded with Britain in the Commonwealth.

The two large groups were unable to get together, though they have many common purposes as free lands.

This competition, especially between Britain and France, could become pretty stiff. From time to time it may result in edgy relations.

The United States of course is not a party to either trade group. It must inevitably halt any development that seems likely to promote the trade, and hence the well-being and strength, of its European friends. Yet there will be handicaps from our viewpoint, too.

The Common Market and the currency changes are regarded by economic experts here as presaging greater competition for American products in European markets. We will have to be very much on our mettle to hold or increase our trade position in many places.

Yet even though a lot of trade may not hereafter be handed to us on a big platter, even though trade squabbles may develop between otherwise friendly nations, the economic promise for Europe in this unfolding era is immense.

"I RESOLVE . . ."

It is historic that at the beginning of every new year there should be much talk about "New Year resolutions." But we wonder if that isn't just a continuation of a comfortable old tradition that is taken for granted. Perhaps, for a long period in our history it was commonplace to make resolutions—to stop smoking, to stop drinking, to stop cussing and other habits inimical to health and happiness.

But somehow, we doubt that there's as much soul-searching and leaf-turning as we assume. How many people do you know who've actually made "resolutions" out loud—and of this diminishing company how many do you think remained on the straight-and-narrow for more than a week?

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

When six or seven letters asking about a particular situation come to me, I understand that it is time to say something about it. Lately, TV has been the subject of these letters. The questions seem to be about the influence viewing has on school-children.

I do not know that would have to be studied, and a careful review made of the effects on some of the children and, contrary to many opinions, they were not bad. A matter concerning an historical event came up in classroom discussion and a pupil rose and gave a very clear and informative contribution to the discussion—"I saw it on TV," she said.

Supreme Court Knocks Out IBC, Orders Boxing Club To Break up Its Empire

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—The supreme court Monday knocked out the International Boxing Club, by a 5-3 vote, the court upheld the decree of a U.S. district court Judge ordering the IBC organization of New York and Chicago to break up their giant prize-fighting empire. Speaking for the majority, Justice Clark said the IBC had gained a stranglehold on the fight business and "an odorous monopoly background which was known and still feared in the boxing world."

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY
The Big Seven conference this year, the team that can win away from home is the team that will become the champions. The early conference season is the Minico Spartans have been able to remain undefeated. While the Rupert school has a well balanced club that way, it hardly can be expected from the results of the first three or four games.

Just about all the teams have been able to make a contest out of the game. Jerome and Burley have had high scores of the season so far. But the other teams are far behind. Every team has at least one win, which is something the conference didn't see until the final week-end of action last year.

Couch Paul Ostyn of Piler said that his team's win over Oakley Saturday night "this is definitely the year to win away. Any one of these teams can get red hot. Nothing that happens in the conference this year will really surprise me. There isn't an upset because every team has two or three shooters who can get hot anytime."

Probably the team to fear most these days is Gooding. The Senators allowed Burley 57 points Saturday night, but won the game 60-57. Coach Lou Hirschman has three excellent shots in Gibbons, Jackson and Hill. Those three accounted for 56 of Gooding's 60 points against Burley. Loumis gets the other four on free throws.

Against Twin Falls the Senators started out rather cool and the points pulled away in the first half. But in the second half they showed they could get hot anytime. In fact, the Bruins, although they controlled the boards and threw up good defense, barely emerged with a four-point edge at the end of the game.

Still speaking of hot streaks, the Bruins ran into one of the most devastating shooting exhibitions we have seen in several years. We refer, naturally, to the terrific Bulldogs of Nampa, who fired a red-hot 61 per cent against Twin Falls last Saturday night. But that 61 per cent was for the entire game. The fourth quarter was dynamite.

Except for an attempted hip-in the two, we remember the Bulldogs in the first two quarters in the fourth quarter and include a last-second two-pointer from midcourt. Even this shot didn't miss much from bouncing in off the boards.

The Saturday game proved a team can become "unconscious" during a game. It doesn't have to be hot at the opening. Nampa scored only two field goals in the second quarter on a possibly 10 or 11 tries. Eleven free throws kept them in the game. It wasn't just two or three players who were doing the shooting in that half, either. Everyone was hot.

Coach George Kell used Nampa's bench. The Bruins kept pushing them out, but it made little difference. Nampa just scored its 44th on longer shots.

All great supporters of "giving the referees a break" we must heartily commend the attitude the Twin Falls high school administration has taken toward unspornsmenlike conduct at basketball games.

Things at Twin Falls high school have been building to a head all year, plus a little carryover from last year, and became worse Saturday night when Nampa was playing. It went from boozing the officials to riding the players of the Nampa team individually and by officials who have been in the game quite a while agree almost unanimously that Twin Falls is the place in the whole district to get along with the crowd. Officials go through the rest of the game elsewhere without running into such trouble.

Both coaches were off the bench during Saturday night which usually causes most of the turmoil among the spectators. But coach Ed Hilliard of Twin Falls balked at referee decisions than the crowd have thought. Nampa's coach, George Kell, spent most of his time on the bench yelling instructions to his players.

Parents must remember that a coach is lighter than the boys who are playing. His bread and butter comes from wins.

The ideal situation for playing basketball is having a "bad" or "two" team. Two officials plus a timer plus a scorekeeper enjoying the game at gymnasium without bleachers or crowds.

To train a little, Maglo Valley coaches seven members who didn't play varsity ball while in high school. Coach Leonard Hill's players played only jayvee prep ball last year and a year before his graduation. And he is only 17. In that light job Hill has done a magnificent job in building a team this year to meet such a demand.

Also—Cary Mal, Piler, and Roger Johnson scored two points they didn't receive credit for Saturday night.

Second High

Dave Fix, senior center for the Twin Falls Bruins, was in second place in Southern Idaho conference individual scoring race following a full week-end of action. Fix has 33 points in three games for a 17.3 average, second only to Caldwell's Jim Keller, who boasts 75-point total in four games or an 18.7 average.

Caldwell tops the lead with a 4-0 record with Nampa second at 3-0. Pocatello is 3-1 while Idaho Falls and Twin Falls share fourth with 1-2 marks. Borah (0-3) and Boise (0-4) are in the cellar.

Title Match Is Called off as 'Champ' Loses

A scheduled heavyweight championship wrestling match which was to have highlighted the PPV's weekly wrestling card was called off Monday night by promoter Cliff Thiede as a new champion has been crowned.

Originally Dick Hutton, who held the title through Friday night, was to have met the Mighty Milo here in a "Champion vs. New Zealand" product. Hutton Friday in product, beat Hutton Friday in product, and in the process Hutton's knee was injured.

"We tried to get the new champion but he had previous commitments in Florida. There is a good chance the new champion will wrestle in Twin Falls in early February," Thiede said.

In a last-minute shakeup, Milo will meet Bill Melby in the main event at Radio Rodeo tonight while the Blue Avenger takes on Tony Borne in the semi-finals. Lou Newman meets Nelson Royal in the special event.

Norris and Wirtz also control the indoor Chicago stadium. They were given five years in which to unload their Garden holdings. In the interim they would have put the stock in trust and thus exercise no control over Garden operations.

Norris has been idle for months because of a heart ailment. He resigned as IBC president last March. Gibson succeeded him.

Justice Harlan, for the minority, said competition for title matches would be handicapped as long as Norris and Wirtz retained control of the Garden's boxing ventures.

Clark was joined in the majority decision by Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Douglas and Brennan. Justices Frankfurter and Whitaker dissented with Harlan. Justice Stewart took no part.

Matches are conducted at 1 p.m. every Sunday and the facilities are open to all.

Cousy Boston Hero In Coast Victory

By United Press International
Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics is a tough man to stop—even when he's playing more than 3,000 miles from home.

The former Holy Cross college "magician" put on another of his patented clutch performances last night in leading the Celtics to a 109-106 overtime victory over the Minneapolis Lakers.

Both had the misfortune of tipping the ball through the opponent's basket in the mad melee of rebounding. A mistake easily committed if jostled or thrown off timing while trying to control the ball.

There's been very little sympathy locally for the two-year probation period slapped against University of Southern California by the NCAA recently.

It was a direct result of penalties inflicted against the California schools by the Pacific Coast conference that caused the breakup of that league.

It sort of ties in with California being stomped by Iowa in the Rose bowl game after the "poor" showing a northern division school, Oregon, made in 1958.

And it all brings back to mind the statement made by Skip Stahley, football coach at Idaho: "Who are you to talk? They've been beaten just as bad or worse as any northern division school."

Crowd Behavior Hit At T.F. Hoop Games

Vernon L. Lefebvre, Twin Falls high school principal conferred with the board of education Monday night on possible steps to end unspornsmenlike conduct at high school basketball games here. The action came as a direct result of behavior of the crowd—both students and adults—at the Nampa-Twin Falls game Saturday night. Lefebvre reported police ejected one spectator from the gymnasium. Board members who attended the game Saturday night agreed the attitude of the crowd was shameful. Lefebvre said one result of such displays will be to make it increasingly difficult to obtain officials to referee the games.

Kentucky Still Tops National Hoop Ratings

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (UPI)—Kentucky, North Carolina State and Kansas State remained 1-2-3 today in United Press International's college basketball ratings but only 27 points separated the three top teams. The Kentucky Wildcats (12-1) held the No. 1 spot but lost ground in the ratings in the wake of their first defeat of the season, a 75-66 loss to Vanderbilt. The Wildcats received 293 first-place votes and a total of 293 points.

North Carolina State (11-1) was only nine points behind with five first-place votes and 287 points. Kansas State (11-1) was third with 12 first-place votes and 269 points. North Carolina (9-1) remained fourth with four first-place votes and 236 points to give the South three of the first four berths in the ratings for the second straight week.

Cincinnati (8-2) advanced from sixth to fifth with 175 points after handling Bradley its first defeat of the season in a double overtime game. Michigan State, also 8-2, slipped from fifth to sixth after bowing to Iowa. Auburn, 10-0 this season and victorious in its last 21 starts, advanced from ninth to seventh with a first-place vote and 133 points.

Bradley (9-1) was eighth with 73 points. Northwestern (9-2) was ninth with 61 and St. John's (N.Y.) remained 10th with a 10-1 record and 58 points. Northwestern was the other team in the top 10 which lost last week, bowing 76-69 to Indiana.

Bearcats Eke Out Overtime Victory

DENTON, Tex., Jan. 13 (AP)—North Texas State forced seventh-ranked Cincinnati into overtime before succumbing 84-86 in a Missouri Valley conference basketball game Monday night.

The surprising North Texas Eagles came within inches of an upset of the year, but guard Rod Byrd's shot hit the rim and bounced away with six seconds left. That left the score 49-41 at the end of the regulation game.

Big Oscar Robertson of the visitors was held to 19 points until he added seven free throws and one field goal in the overtime period. Cincinnati led through the extra session.

WORLD MARK SET

Vossler Sets Record, Wins Tijuana Open

TIJUANA, Mexico, Jan. 13 (AP)—Ernie Vossler of Midland, Tex., cut loose with a blast of drives on the last nine holes Monday and won the $20,000 Tijuana open golf tournament.

The 30-year-old Texan finished with a 68 and a 72-hole score of 273, shattering the tournament record of 280 set a year ago by Dutch Harrison.

Vossler picked up a check for $2,800. He led the rest of the field by two or more strokes. Young John McMullin of Alameda, Calif., shot a 69 for 273 and the $1,000 second prize. Former United States open champion Jack Pleck of Northridge, Calif., had a 63 for 276 and third-place money of $1,400.

The tournament was played over the 7,400-yard, par 36-36-72 Tijuana country club course. McMullin, U. S. Open Champion Tommy Bolt and Jay Hebert were deduced as they turned into the final nine holes. Vossler and Bolt had started the round on even terms, with a one-stroke advantage over their nearest rivals. Bolt could not hold his game together and took a 75 and finished well down the list.

Robert, from Sanford, Fla., shot a 71 and finished tied at 277 with Mike Fetlick of Yonkers, N. Y., had a 70.

Cooper Takes British Boxing Championship

LONDON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Blond Henry Cooper, 24-year-old Cockney plasterer, won the British heavyweight championship and a possible world title shot Monday night by outpointing burlly Brian London, the defending titleholder, in 15 rounds.

Cooper, who had knocked out London in 1956, used a stinging left jab to pile up points against his ever-uncharging opponent in the gory 15-round battle witnessed by a sellout crowd of 18,000 at Earl's Court stadium.

Although London at 289½ pounds had a 164-pound advantage over Cooper at 192½, the challenger was able to stand off his wild rushes while scoring heavily with his left hand.

Both men were cut during the fight and their faces were painted with blood through the final rounds. The winner could be in line for great things in the muddled heavyweight situation. Floyd Patterson, the world champ, has been considering a defense against Ingemar Johansson of Sweden, the European king, or Cooper.

Twin Falls Hosts Burley Tonight; 7 Tilts Scheduled

The Burley Bobcats will invade Twin Falls in the top non-conference tilt Tuesday night while play in the Big Seven and Northside league provide local flavor in a seven-game slate. In the top two league games, the Piler Wildcats will travel to Minico to test the unbeaten Spartans while two undefeated teams—Richfield and Dietrich—will highlight play on the Northside. Both the Bruins and the Bobcats will be trying to get back into their winning ways as they were dumped in Saturday games. The Bobcats, after building up a 5-2 record, have fallen to 5-4 for the season, while the Bruins, who split a pair of league games last week-end, are an even 4-4 for the year.

Schoendienst Inks Contract With Braves

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13 (AP)—"Red told us what he wanted and we gave it to him." It was Birdie Tebbets talking. The National league pennant winning Milwaukee Brave had just signed their great second baseman, Red Schoendienst, now stricken with tuberculosis, for 1959.

Red, himself propped up in a hospital bed but hearty-looking for all of that, smiled as Tebbets, the club's executive vice president, said the Braves let the redhead name his own terms Monday.

"I think I'll be able to play this season," Red said optimistically as he swung a bat in small arcs from his propped position for the benefit of photographers.

But the doctors shook their heads. Even with his rapid progress since his illness was discovered a few months ago, they doubted he would be on the field this season.

Marchetti Is Named Best Pro Lineman

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (AP)—Gino Marchetti, plecturing defensive end of the Baltimore Colts, Monday was named best pro lineman of the year in the annual Associated Press poll of writers covering the National Football League.

The six-foot, four-inch, 240-pound blockbuster earned the honor in competition with 11 other outstanding linemen. He received 15 of the 41 votes, three times the total of lineback Sam Huff of the New York Giants, who was runnerup with five.

Baltimore tackles Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Jim Parker received four votes each, the same total as New York defensive end Andy Robustelli. Giant tackle Roosevelt Brown got three votes with one each going to his teammates, Dick Modzelewski and Fosse Orier. Ray Berry of the Colts, Bill George and Fred Williams of the Chicago Bears and Ernie Stautner of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bradley Wins

HOUSTON, Tex., Jan. 13 (AP)—Bradley scored 15 second-half points from the foul line and outlasted Houston 60-50 in a Missouri Valley conference basketball game Monday night.

The Braves broke out of a 38-39 tie in the last 20 minutes, went into a stall with eight minutes left and won going away. The victory gave Bradley a 3-1 league record. Houston is 2-2.

Legislative Log

By The Associated Press Introduced in the House H.R. 3888, Genarosa, Braxey, Potvin—Proposing that 15 per cent of federal tax collected in Idaho be returned to the state.

Recently, I overheard two men talking about cars. One said, "I'm just sick. I paid $5,000 for my car and in less than six months it rattles and squeaks like a milk wagon. And they can't seem to do anything about it!"

Unhappily, this is a remark that is heard far too often. A recent survey showed the greatest number of complaints about the big cars centered on gasoline consumption.

Next came complaints about squeaks, rattles, poor workmanship, "poor body construction."

Rambler Owners are Happier because of Rambler's Finer Quality. By contrast, all-round satisfaction of Rambler owners was far higher than that of owners of any other make surveyed, all of whose cars cost more than Rambler. That's because no car manufactured in America—regardless of price—is built to higher standards of engineering quality, of workmanship and of inspection than the 1959 Ramblers.

Now Even More Miles Per Gallon For 1959, Rambler has a new, costlier, gas-saving carburetor which delivers up to 2 more miles to the gallon.

"Deep-Dip" Rustproofing and Wide Use of Costly Aluminum Save You Money. No other low-priced car gives you rustproof aluminum window frames, nor "Deep-Dip" rustproofing. And for 1959, Rambler has added costlier aluminum mufflers and tailpipes to give years more service.

Stricter Inspection Standards. "Not how many, but how well built," is our motto. Our employees are conscientious participants in this program. They build cars carefully and inspect every one thoroughly before it goes to a Rambler dealer for delivery to a customer.

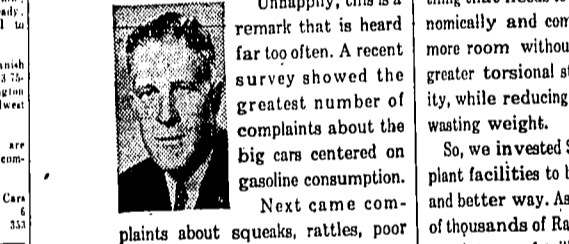

Highest Quality—Highest Resale. You can ask no better proof of the true quality of a product than the price it will bring as a used car on the open market. According to both nationwide authorities, the Red Book National Market Reports and the Official Used Car Guide of the National Automobile Dealers Association, Rambler has the highest resale value of any low-priced car.

The Rambler Star is Soaring. As other cars grow bigger, heavier and more costly (yet with less usable passenger room), Rambler sales go higher. 1958 Rambler model sales were 88.6% above 1957. And already, sales of 1959 Ramblers are 167.4% above 1958 sales for the same period.

Who Will Be the Boss—You or Your Automobile? In many families, the question is as simple as that. The expense of owning and operating a big, gas-hungry car can literally take control of the family finances and wreck the household budget. If you want to own your car instead of its owning you, you will be wise to see your Rambler dealer. See how the 1959 Ramblers, with their sleek styling and comfort, have been built to "last longer" rather than to "look longer." You will not only save a substantial sum of money, you will have a finer quality car that is more fun to drive.

U.S. Man Uses X-Ray to Grow Newer Peanut

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 13 (UPI)—A scientist who started with a bag of peanuts and nine times enough radiation to kill a man has introduced the "goober" into the atomic age.

Dr. Walton C. Gregory, North Carolina State college, planted his radioactive peanuts in North Carolina and Virginia and harvested one of the nation's most significant developments in the peaceful use of atomic energy.

New Peanut Is Superior

He developed a new variety of peanut, superior in many ways to those now being grown. But more than that, his experiments over a 10-year period, represented one of the first times that an improved strain of any living thing has been developed through atomic research in this country.

What happened to those original peanut seeds in a few minutes spent in an atomic laboratory at Oak Ridge, Tenn., wouldn't happen in thousands of years in the field, according to Gregory's calculations.

The powerful X-rays shot through 50 pounds of peanut seed produced, by the third or fourth generation, almost every conceivable type of peanut.

Many Varieties Made

There were dwarfs and steriles; high-yielders and low-yielders; erect plants and prostrate plants. Some of them curled; others were maimed. Some plants were highly disease-resistant; others were easy victims to the common peanut diseases.

It all came from the genes in the peanuts—the elements which determine heredity characteristics. The atomic rays had upset them.

Game Violators Fined $1,625.50

BOISE, Jan. 13 (UPI)—A total of 1,435 game code violators during 1958 paid a total of $41,825.50 to state and county funds, the Idaho fish and game department reports.

Director Ross Leonard said under present law one-half of all fine money for game violations is remitted by the judges to county treasurers. He added these monies are then equally divided between county school and general funds.

P. J. McDermott, Jr., chief of conservation enforcement, said only five jail sentences were imposed during the year, although he added several maximum of $300 fines were levied for major infractions.

No Room

TOPEKA, Kans., Jan. 13 (AP)—Gov. George Docking didn't get to dance at his inaugural ball last night.

There wasn't room. More than 2,000 persons jammed the ballroom so tightly that only part of the 300-member professional got inside behind the governor and Mrs. Docking.

The Dockings squeezed on through the crowd and went home.

Plane Is Found

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 13 (AP)—Rescuers reached the shattered hulk of an air force plane high on an Alaskan glacier yesterday and began the task of bringing out the bodies of nine crewmen.

The crippled C-124 failed to clear a 5,200-foot mountain range late Sunday as it came in, with two of four engines out, for an emergency landing at Homer, on the tip of the Kenai peninsula.

School Liked

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 13 (AP)—Carolyn Sue Haug likes school so much she has turned down a chance to attend inauguration ceremonies for Alaska's governor next Saturday.

The 16-year-old honor student, whose father works for an Alaskan company, received an official invitation to attend Gov. William A. Egan's inaugural in Juneau.

"I would like to go," Carolyn said. "But I think school is more important."

Carolyn, a junior, has not missed a day of high school.

Nixon Hint Is For Check of Ike's Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13 (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon has indirectly invited a sweeping inquiry into President Eisenhower's defense program.

The Democrats are ready to give it a thorough going-over.

Nixon, who has sat in on preparation of the budget, has told fellow Republicans he is satisfied Eisenhower's military proposals will stand up under the most minute examination by the Democratic-controlled congress.

Nixon Is Confident

It is Nixon's belief, as relayed by those with whom he has discussed the matter, that Eisenhower's planned program will keep over-all U. S. military power ahead of the Soviet Union, so that there will be no future "blackmail gap" in relative defense strength despite a current Soviet lead in missiles.

Eisenhower has said the new 77-billion-dollar budget he will send to congress next Monday will include seven billion dollars for all types of missiles and related armament.

Missile Power to Be Checked

Relative missile strength is one of the issues the senate preparedness subcommittee, headed by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, expects to investigate as soon as congress is fully organized.

The senate space committee, also headed by Johnson, already is surveying U. S. and Russian accomplishments in the space field. Eisenhower's budget is expected to call for a 700-million-dollar outlay to develop space craft.

Rebels Allow Much Testimony In Cuba Trials; Verdict Is Fast

COLON, Matanzas Province, Cuba, Jan. 13 (UPI)—Cuban revolutionary justice allows plenty of time for testimony but needs only minutes to reach a verdict.

This was the pattern in yesterday's trial of three former Batista soldiers on charges they were responsible for 20 to 30 deaths in this sugar town 45 miles east of the provincial capital of Matanzas.

A five-man tribunal headed by Capt. Julio Chaviano, local commander of the July 26th Movement, convened at 4 p.m. at a rural guard headquarters building.

In addition to Chaviano, a young Castro guerrilla veteran, the tribunal consisted of two other members of the rebel movement—a militiaman and a civilian member of the rebel underground.

The tribunal sat behind a bare wooden table holding documents relating to the alleged "war crimes" of the accused.

On trial were former army Capt. Isidoro Lopez, Sgt. Juan Leonard and a private soldier, Segundo Napoles, who sat on folding wooden chairs when not addressing the court.

The proceedings continued for four hours, with Chaviano reading the charge sheets accumulated during an investigation and with the accused rising to argue their defense.

At one point Leonard vigorously disputed his former commanding officer's assertions to the court.

The press and witnesses were permitted to attend the trial but residents of the area were excluded and could only peer in through the dusty windows.

Once the long testimony was finished Chaviano cleared the court and the accused men were returned to their cells. Five minutes later the verdict was ready and the men were brought again into the courtroom.

several minutes hearing the captain's confession.

The priest had been gone only a few minutes when shouting echoed throughout the jail. Rebel guards rushed to Lopez' cell and found him clutching his throat, gurgling and gasping.

He had tried strangling himself with a mattress string but it broke. The rebels conducted him to a hospital.

The execution must await approval of the tribunal's sentence by the provincial military commandant, William Galves, in Matanzas.

HONOR STUDENT

RUPERT, Jan. 13 — Midshipman Karl A. Moellmer, son of Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Moellmer, Rupert, class of 1959, has been appointed to the superintendent's list at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., for scholastic accomplishments during the first term of the academic year 1958-59.

Meeting Planned

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Twin Falls unit of the Cache Valley Breeders association will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Twin Falls Grange hall.

Ross Olson, Logan, Utah, association field man, will be the featured speaker. Olson recently returned from a trip to the East.
