Institute Solves Many Things Far From Source of Troubles

ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 28 (AP)—Here part of tomorrow's new submarine is being developed.

Here there is rarely any snow. This is the birthplace of electronic detectors warning of hidden crevasses. There are no rocket-launching pads. But scientists are learning how to prevent liquid fuels from boiling around in rocket engines and wobbling them off course.

Here is the Southwest Research Institute, one of the nation's half-dozen not-for-profit foundations, doing industry, solving problems, seeking new products or techniques, and running an 11-year-old, close-knit organization of chemists, physicists, geologists, mathematicians, biologists, geologists, engineers, and scientists of other disciplines. They tackle a dizzying variety of projects. Submarines can dive about 600 feet before water pressure threatens to crush their hulls. Because submarines want to go deeper, SRI scientists are designing hulls which ing improved fire-fighting and fire-prevention methods at missile launching sites.

About half of all contract work is for the government, the other for industry, explains Martin Goland, SRI director.

Institute scientists helped develop an air conditioner using gas as fuel, improving the efficiency of gas-air combinations by 30 per cent. This promises reduced fuel bills for home and industrial installations.

Geologist William Mather helps Texas industries develop native clays and materials for building materials and ceramics. He's also interested in microscopic studies of dusts sucked into jet plane intakes, or auto engines, or dusts and soils abrading the threads of army tanks.

No one in the staff of 450—including 150 scientists—is sure what tomorrow's assessments might be.

Currently, one product is an all-in-one fuel. That is, a fuel which can be used equally well by diesel or piston engines in trucks, tanks and airplanes.

That would mean that some distant military outpost need be supplied with only one type of fuel which would operate all equipment and provide light and heat for the camp, too.

Dulles Expresses His Doubts

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

In Moscow yesterday Premier Nikita Khrushchev promised all things to all people.

Dulles, however, is still trying to maintain the show of balance which has long been a part of Western policy.

In doing so, he became somewhat obscure.

He said the United States feels this spring is about the right time for a high-level East-West conference on Germany and European security since it is sometimes possible to reach peace-promoting agreements with the Soviets in tough bargaining.

He didn't mention any example of this sometimes thing he could hardly have been thinking of agreements reached at Yalta or Potsdam.

The Soviet Union did take some initiative in the Korean truce, but because of tough fighting, not tough bargaining, ended the 1948 Berlin blockade.

Khrushchev tries to make it appear that the East-West pattern of conflict is peaceful. He promises the Russians—and inferentially the underdeveloped countries he hopes to rule—that communism will eliminate taxes, raise wages, and provide better and more plentiful consumer goods.

American politicians worked out that formula for their campaigns long ago. They only talked about taxes, but if Khrushchev really means to fight the war with wages and production, he has handed America her choice of weapons.

If he really means it, he walks with "peaceful competition" in one hand and intercontinental missiles in the other.

PRAISE FOR GOV. SMYLLIE

While the Times-News has expressed criticism of Gov. Robert E. Smylie on many occasions in the past, this newspaper wishes to extend him sincere congratulations on the recommendations he has submitted to the state legislature for the improvement of highway safety.

The governor has made specific suggestions with which the Times-News agrees wholeheartedly, and we hope he continues to press for adoption of his recommendations.

- 1-That the law enforcement department's point system of rating drivers should be given statutory sanction and the penalty of license revocation should be imposed for those persistent traffic law violators who mass too high a point rating.
2-That the commissioner of law enforcement should be directed to invoke mandatory 30 day suspensions of the privilege of driving on all convictions of speeding—a provision requiring statutory approval.
3-That the driver's license law should be amended in order to prevent the licensing of persons who have not reached the age of 18 years.
4-That the youth rehabilitation act should be amended to permit traffic courts to treat juveniles the same as adults in traffic law offenses.
5-That mandatory fines should be provided for the offense of driving without a license or with a license which has been suspended, revoked, or has been expired.
6-That driver's license examinations be made by the state department of law enforcement instead of the county sheriffs.
7-That 20 traffic officers be added to the state highway patrol.
8-That steps should be taken to improve the performance of the traffic courts.

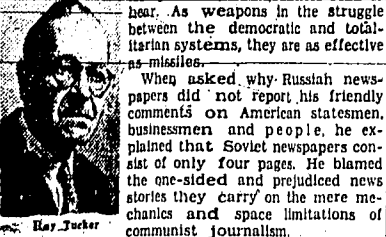

In support of several of these recommendations, the governor advanced good logic. As regards the present system of driver's examinations being made by the sheriff's offices, the governor pointed out that "we have nearly 44 different standards in our 44 counties. The examination now required by law will not mean much until it is subjected to statewide coordination."

His recommendation for a change in our traffic court set-up was cited by the governor as necessary because "so much of the real value of any enforcement program in the field of traffic safety is dependent on the quality of justice as it is administered in the traffic courts. The abolition of the fee system of compensation for justices of the peace and the placement of those officers on a salary basis for compensation will do much to improve performance in both civil and criminal matters."

No doubt the governor's recommendation for 20 more state highway patrolmen will meet some opposition, but we agree with him that it would be "unthinkable" for the legislature "to temporize when we experience 270 fatal accidents and an annual economic loss of 30 million dollars" in all the slaughter and destruction taking place on our highways.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Anastas Mikoyan noted a basic cause for Russo-American friction and misunderstanding that has not received the consideration it merits in the "cold war"—namely, the kind of newspaper dispatches and radio broadcasts which the mass citizenry of the two countries read or hear.

When asked why Russian newspapers did not report his friendly comments on American statesmen, businessmen and people, he explained that Soviet newspapers consist of only four pages. He blamed the one-sided and prejudiced stories they carry on the mere mechanics and space limitations of communist journalism.

The fact is that Russia is—or could be—the world's greatest source of newsprint. Her vast forests are treasuries of pulp, which she exports in large quantities to feed satellite propaganda agencies. Moscow could publish newspapers as large as our 60-100 page editions.

RUSSIAN NEWSPAPERS CONTROLLED BY GOVERNMENT—in Russia, however, newspapers are government propaganda organs. The Tas reporters at Washington, under Kremlin orders, select and send only twisted and sinister interpretations of American policy and society.

Despite the calculated shortage of newspaper space, they play up as foreign news crime, corruption, racial conflicts, strikes, labor-management differences, stock market booms, corporation earnings—anything that will discredit the United States.

On the other hand, the few American reporters permitted inside Russia are under strict censorship. Even so, they do an excellent job of factual reporting. They make no attempt to arouse or prejudice their millions of readers against Russia, although they are allowed to report Khrushchev's threat that "we will bury you!"

SOVIET JAMMING OF WEST RADIO BROADCASTS—As a further test of Mikoyan's sincerity—or insincerity—there is the jamming of Western radio broadcasts. He attributed it to the fact that our stations indulge only in "anti-Russian propaganda."

But he did not explain why the official Russian radio outlets constantly assail the United States policy, proposals and purposes. Even while he was enjoying official and unofficial hospitality in this country, his radio conspirators were attacking President Eisenhower as planning and preparing for war.

EXCEPT FROM MOSCOW AIR TALK—Here is a monitored excerpt from the "Soviet News American Service," as broadcast from Moscow on January 20 by one Rostovsky:

"Looking into President Eisenhower's budget message, we can judge the nature of United States policy not only for the near future, but for more distant times, too.

"It can be said without any reservations that the new budget is entirely subjected to a further race for armaments and to prolongation of the cold war.

"The Soviet people have launched a sweeping seven-year plan for economic development. A country with its hands full of peaceful construction cannot threaten anyone."

IMPRESSONABLE TOURISTS — Substantiating former President Truman's contention that "diplomatic tourists" frequently do more harm than good, the broadcast continues:

"Not only ordinary United States visitors in the USSR have pointed to the peaceful work we are busy with. Prominent statesmen, too, and businessmen from the United States say they are sorry after visiting this country and meeting with Soviet leaders.

"It is doubtful whether Washington fails to realize this. But nonetheless, they insist on prolonging the old arms race policy."

High officials here believe that it is impossible to exaggerate the importance of this one-sided journalistic "cold war," or Mikoyan's defense of Moscow's persistent and deliberate misrepresentations. They point out that peoples get to know and understand each other, not through diplomatic communications and conferences, but through the day-by-day exchange of honest and unbiased news.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THESE WHO ESCAPE

The best way to pay your taxes is to let someone else pay them. If you can, that is.

One thing being overlooked either through negligence or by intent, as the question on sales tax for Idaho is considered is that a sales tax collects a hefty contribution from people who do not live in Idaho.

These individuals fall into two classes: Casual visitors, or what we call in broad terms tourists; and people living in Idaho who make their living elsewhere.

Just what tourists contribute to Idaho's economy is a topic that has called for a lot of distorted thinking. Some put the figure far beyond any reasonable total. Perhaps Governor Smylie came nearest in presenting a fair figure when he said, in his message to the legislature, that it was "approaching" the 100 million dollar a year mark.

The state development department puts the figure of what tourists spend in Idaho as 78 million dollars a year for those who enter the state by automobile only. Coeur d'Alene estimates that tourists spend six million dollars a year in that city.

If we take a million certain a year as close to what tourists spent in Idaho last year, or will spend this year or next year, a two per cent sales tax would get Idaho close to two million dollars a year. The national average of what a man traveling spends a day is about $11. Some spend much more, some certainly less.

What out of state money means to Idaho can be judged by another criterion. Last year 67,000 people who live elsewhere bought fishing or hunting licenses in Idaho. Nearly one in every four licenses sold within the state went to an out-of-state resident.

Another group of people the sales tax would collect from are those people employed or who have businesses outside Idaho but live in Idaho and pay nothing toward state, county or municipal costs.

An estimated 400 people employed by the Kaiser aluminum industries of Spokane county live over the state line in Idaho, near Post Falls or Coeur d'Alene. They are not subject to Idaho income tax levies.

We have in Moscow certain residents who work across the state line in Washington and who likewise escape all direct contributions to government in Idaho. A sales tax would rick them for a little.

No tax can ever be absolutely equitable. There are inequities in all systems no matter how carefully they are designed or how broadly they are made to cover special cases. But it is true that Idaho is losing much revenue from people who enjoy the state's advantages for living and enjoy its schools and its governmental protections who pay absolutely nothing to the state.

POT SHOTS

BACKWARD, TURN BACKWARD Gentlemen: Your address has been furnished by the Idaho Cattlemen's Association...

Does anyone need dirt and rocks for a fill-in? It is located five and one-half miles east of the bughouse on Falls avenue east.

The rocks are quite large as a good deal of blasting has been done. Naturally, it's for free.

Pot Shots note: May we be permitted a guess on that signature? Our guess would be "Too Old, Lazy And Fat" to haul 'em away. How close did we come?

HERE WE GO AGAIN Dear Pot Shots: There is some talk in the state legislature about increasing the tax on cigarettes.

I say the tax on cigarettes should be increased to at least $1 a pack because smokers are a public nuisance, causing an eye-burning smog in all public buildings and burning up millions of dollars worth of timber every year because of their stupid habit.

The tax should be high enough to force smokers to quit and then let's ship the tobacco to Russia and let the reds smoke themselves to death! That would save the taxpayers 40 billion dollars a year now being spent trying to defend ourselves from the Russian threat.

OUR BULLETIN BOARD Well Water Drinker, Twin Falls—Come, now, you can do better than that! If you want to comment on the situation in this corner, you won't be able to take it quite so seriously. Relax, look at some of the runnier aspects and then let yourself go. Just as a tip, folks are more likely to remember something spoken in jest than in explosion.

E.B., Twin Falls—Thanks for the card, but we thought we'd made it rather plain we didn't want any guesses on those feet sent to Pot Shots. After all, we already know where the feet belong and we'd have to think twice before giving away something like that! Thanks, anyway.

LET US KNOW HOW IT GOES Pot Shots: A few years back, almost against my will, a new sidewalk, gutter and black-topped street were installed in front of my house.

No, I didn't ask for them. And, of course, you know who's been paying for them all along.

Now I have a problem. It is certain that the sidewalk, gutters and road will wear out, but I don't know if anyone has figured out how long it takes them to wear out.

My problem is how do I go about claiming depreciation on the sidewalk, gutter and road when I file my tax return. After all, doesn't it make just as much sense for me to treat these items like that as a farmer with a tractor, for instance?

FAMOUS LAST LINE He does his best when he has a captive audience.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

It is one thing to hold convictions, but many Americans hold convictions—of which they are proud—contrary to the convictions implied by their dull, dumb endorsements of the scripture and spirit of the constitution.

I have in mind the distortion of the first amendment which is widely believed to confer an uncertain political holiness on members of the several religions and on religion as such.

The direct contrary is the actual case. This article actually forbids the federal government to do as practically all of our protesters, our intelligentsia and all broadcasters want it to do.

They want the federal government and all the subordinate governments down to the very cops in the speed traps of the muggy Savannahs, whom they despise as ignorant hate-mongers, to maintain a fictitious right of the preponderant religions to a preferential immunity from controversy and from the fair wear and tear of disagreement.

Be it said, to their honor, superior clerics are embarrassed by the vehemence and stupidity of such zealots, and find it practically impossible to disown them without planting in the mass mind a wild idea that they, the very ministers of religion, of all people, are against freedom of religion. Some of them might be willing to say outside their confidential, professional circles that they do not favor exemption of "religious" contributions from the income taxes, federal and state.

This and other vagaries of the laws about taxes actually create a church subsidy from government, which, of course violates the intention of the first amendment as it concerns the establishment of state religions. They are obviously unconstitutional institutions and their accredited agents should oppose them for that reason. However, the damage that would result from such a correction of an important ignorance would be so drastic that the wise professor of morals takes counsel of his higher wisdom and decides, in a manner of speaking, "What the hell! The loss is too great to justify the risk and the small benefit!"

To be sure, this adjustment would shake up one of the most formidable fallacies of our credo and some loss of life might occur. Nevertheless, professing, as we do, to abhor the establishment of any and all state theologies, we should also be less than such establishment is dangerous to our beloved country.

It is obviously a terrible challenge to law and order, the worse because Doctors, like their patients, often put off being doctored too. A survey showed one out of four physicians with hypertension waited two years before seeking treatment, and 14 per cent with peptic ulcer postponed treatment for five years or more.

Did you know a mink coat made of female skins is preferable to one made of male skins? It is reportedly finer-haired and lighter in weight.

Beau Brummel, famous 19th century British dandy, is sometimes credited with being the first man in modern history to take a daily bath. But, alas for cleanliness—later in life he became dirty and slovenly, and died a scumie pauper.

Taking a bath, incidentally, is still something of a problem in some parts of the United States. Three million American homes still lack running water.

As men get scarcer, the girls are giving them less and less chance to get away. The average engagement period 30 years ago was a year or more. Now it's from five to seven months.

Girl Dies Trying To Save Mother Who Was Gone WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Jan. 28 (AP)—Little Judy Mabe didn't know her mother wasn't in the house and died trying to save her.

The 7-year-old girl awakened about midnight Monday. The new house was on fire. Her grandmother, Mrs. Lola Atwood, herded Judy and her brothers, Virgil, 6, and Johnny, 5, to the front door.

Judy screamed, "Mama, Come on!" Mrs. Atwood assured her that her mother wasn't in the house.

The little girl apparently didn't understand. She broke away and ran back into the burning house to find her mother.

Negro Boy in Chicago Gets Job in House

CHICAGO, Jan. 28 (AP)—A Chicago boy left for Washington last night to become the only Negro page boy in the U. S. house of representatives.

The youth, James A. Johnson, Jr., 14, was appointed a page under the sponsorship of Rep. Barratt O'Hara, a Chicago Democrat.

O'Hara, who said there was a slight mixup over approval of the boy's appointment by the house patronage committee, said he had been assured by Southern congressmen they would not oppose it.

"I inquired more than a year ago when the boy's name first was mentioned to me, if there ever had been Negro pages before in the house," O'Hara said. "I did not want to push the boy into an integration battle which might prove embarrassing."

"It was assured that there had been Negro pages before. Now they contend the house never had one, but my grandson, Barratt III, told me that when he was a page there were Negro pages."

O'Hara, in Chicago to address his grandson's high school commencement exercises, said confusion arose when members of the house patronage committee thought O'Hara and Rep. Thomas J. O'Brien, also a Chicago Democrat, were appointing the same boy, Martin J. Oberman.

O'Hara, 76 and serving his fifth term in the house, said the committee apparently was not aware he had submitted a separate nomination, which was approved.

Veteran capitol employees said they did not recall any Negro ever having served there as a page. There is one Negro page at the supreme court.

"That was that," agreed Mrs. Whitehead.

Both women registered as Democrats.

Attention Given to Foreign Policy Matters

Two members of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters look over a recent Times-News front page on which stories concerning foreign events are marked. In cooperation with the William L. Borah foundation and the Foreign Policy association and the Twin Falls county foreign policy discussion group, the local league is sponsoring a series of discussions on problems facing this country in 1959 in its conduct of foreign relations. Mrs. Robert Haas, left, chairman of the league's own foreign policy discussion program, looks over the paper held by Mrs. Richard Bruce. A public meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Walter Eager, 100 Polk street. (staff photo-encaving)

Young Senator Church Almost Confused With New Foreign Officers at Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (UPI)—who plays piccolo and flute and. Fortunately Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, was sitting on the other side of the big oval table. Observers, however, might have been misled by your handsome bright and bright eye and on their best behavior.

Church is 34, the youngest senator and lowest member of the foreign relations committee. The group was getting six youngsters nominated to their first jobs in the U. S. foreign service. The six were chosen by lot from a class of 50.

Chairman Theodore Francis Green, D., R. 1, who at 64 is the oldest man in congress, was inclined to be gentle. "It's no ordeal," he said. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D., Ark., they thought, enjoy showing it. They were, some did and some weren't so sure.

"Yet thank you understand our form of government and the way it works pretty well," Fulbright asked Louis E. Kahn, 29, Napa Calif. public discussion program with a similar league project adopted in 1957.

Discussion groups will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesdays and at 3 p.m. on Thursdays. Public participation in the discussions is urged. League officials point out they are not recruiting members, but merely attempting to give some local backing to the discussion program.

Foreign Policy Subjects Set For Meeting Here Thursday

Anyone who feels that United States foreign policy decisions have nothing to do with day-by-day life in Magic Valley is invited to attend a meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday at the home of Mrs. Walter Eager, 100 Polk street.

In order to demonstrate that national decisions regarding this country's relations with the rest of the world affect every citizen, members of the Twin Falls League of Women Voters are cooperating with the University of Idaho's William E. Borah foundation to hold a series of semi-monthly discussions of American foreign policy decisions in 1959. The discussions will begin early in February.

The program of discussions is sponsored across the country by the Foreign Policy association in New York. Working with state groups, like the Borah foundation, the association fosters local discussion groups to encourage the active, busy citizen to take time to plan for United States foreign policy problems.

The discussion program has been tried in Twin Falls before with notable success. Those interested in establishing the program point out that a similar series of discussions have been successful in Boise.

Although the league is spearheading this year's local program, factual material for the discussions and other aid comes from the national association and the foundation. League officials explain that they are integrating the national foreign

When the inquiry got around to John P. Silline, 28, Cleveland, you couldn't state for a fact that Fulbright was kidding. Silline's trouble, if any, was that he was honest. To Green's inquiry why he applied for the foreign service he answered: "To be frank so because I thought it would be a very good job."

Fulbright, solemnly, "It doesn't pay very well, does it?" "Better than some of my other alternatives," Fulbright said. "What were some of your other alternatives?" "Teaching—teaching."

Fulbright, "Well, nothing pays as poorly as teaching." Fulbright, a scholar and former university president couldn't understand why more of the neophytes didn't speak foreign languages. "Those who didn't said they were learning," he seemed disappointed also they didn't know more about music and art.

"Ever been to the National gallery? He had, once in 2 1/2 months Green," to Fulbright—"Do you get there once in 2 1/2 months?" Fulbright, happy at last—"I do. It's free and it's beautiful. You don't often get a combination like that." Nominations approved.

Idaho Teen-Ager Awarded Prize in National Contest

PORTLAND, Jan. 28—It is two weeks in Paris, London and Rome this coming summer for Amelia Beth Loomis, 17, Donnelly, and Millicent Robbins, 20, Walsh, Colo.

The trip is theirs as winners of the grand prize in the junior and senior divisions of the 12th annual "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest. The contest finals were held here last night at the Multnomah hotel.

Miss Loomis, a tall, blond 17-year-old senior at Donnelly, McColl high school, won the trip to Europe with a blue and green plaid wool suit in a blouson style featuring three-quarter length sleeves and a round collar. She accessorized her garment with a harmonizing blue and green hat, blue gloves and black shoes.

Miss Robbins took the prize with an electric blue suit of loopy textured wool styled with intricate tie detail at the bottom of the jacket. The young women led 36 other state finalists in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest to receive the two-week trip which they will make in July or August via Pan American World Airways.

Several thousand girls between the ages of 13 and 22 enter the contest each year in 19 western and midwestern states. The contest, which is designed to show young girls how easy it is to sew with wool, offers prizes totaling $45,000.

Following state-wide eliminations at which state champions are selected, the top home sewing experts appear in the national fashion show, which is a highlight of the annual convention of the National Wool Growers association, now in progress here. The association's Women's auxiliary co-sponsors the contest with the Wool bureau.

Other national award winners announced at the finals are: First prize, junior division; Mary Page Raymond, 17, Okanogan, Wash.—portable sewing machine by Singer Sewing Machine company. First prize, senior division; Joanne Hoffmann, 19, Lancaster, O.—$300 scholarship by Forstmann Woolen company and a console sewing machine by Singer Sewing Machine company.

The 36 finalists traveled to Portland as guests of the F. W. Woolworth company. Their five-day stay included special dinners and lunches, selected entertainment, and sightseeing tours of Mount Hood and Portland.

The 19 states in the 1958 contest were Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

DID SOMEBODY MENTION GASOLINE MILEAGE?

Although we deliberately engineered improved gas mileage into the '59 Buicks, we have not made much point of it in previous advertising for THE Car. People's driving habits can get very different results even from the same car. So we are now happy to report that our plans for greater economy of operation have been very successful indeed . . . in everyday owner experience.

Owners report excellent records
Most owners are naturally proud of their new cars, and may sometimes overstate a little. But even allowing for that, listen to these reports from owners! A Detroit man drove his Electra 9,000 miles around the country, and reports a little over 19 miles a gallon. A Louisiana LeSabre, with Twin Turbine Transmission, after 4,000 miles is giving its owner 17.6 miles per gallon. A St. Paul man reports 18.1. From Atlanta comes 17.5. From Pittsfield, Mass., 20. Some are even higher. Some lower. But these are typical.

Tests confirm new economy
Recently a very thorough set of tests was run, putting Buick LeSabre and another car of comparable size which is known for good economy, through identical tests under all sorts of driving conditions. The Buick came out best in every single test.

How Buick mileage was improved
It took a combination of several steps. New, more efficient Wildcat engines was one . . . compression up to 10.5, better carburetion. In the case of LeSabre there is also a new, twin-barrel economy carburetor as standard equipment. All this to get more power out of the fuel. In addition, new combinations of transmissions and rear axles put this power to work more efficiently.

Owners also report QUALITY outstanding
"Best-performing Buick ever!" . . . "My sixth Buick and the best I ever owned" . . . "Best operating car I've driven in thirty years" . . . "Much the best Buick yet!" . . . Learn for yourself why this year's Buick owners are so enthusiastic. Go to your Quality Buick Dealer and see why The Car is The Buy.

Farm Bureau Opposes Plan Set on Wheat

Members of the Twin Falls Farm Bureau went on record Monday night as opposing proposed legislation to form a wheat commission as it is presently written.

It was pointed out that the half cent per bushel tax would bring too much revenue, and too much power would be delegated to too few persons. Members also felt the district divisions were not equal. The mandatory check-off also is opposed.

MINICO SPURTS AWAY IN THIRD QUARTER TO TIP FILER 37-31

O'Donnell Scores 6 Points To Pave Way for Spartans' Seventh Big 7 League Win

FILER, Jan. 28 — Pat O'Donnell connected for six straight points in the closing minutes of the third quarter and early in the last period to send the Big Seven conference leading Minico Spartans to a 37-31 decision over the scrappy Filer Wildcats Tuesday night. The Wildcats were in contention throughout the first half and succeeded in taking the lead on Mel Hine's tip-in with four minutes and 16 seconds left in the third period. Then the Spartans put the clinching rally to work and after O'Donnell's score, were on top again to stay. The victory reduced Minico's "magic number" to three as they can clinch at least one game of the Big Seven championship with three more victories. The Spartans own a 7-0 record. Filer slipped into a tie with Gooding in fifth place, both having 2-4 records.

Little Six Conference Lead Taken by Wendell

The Wendell Trojans, who haven't been defeated in Little Six conference action for the past two years are back in their familiar spot as the top all-around squad in the league. In their four games thus far, the Trojans have averaged 56.2 points per game while holding opposition to 22.2. Kimberly's Bulldogs are the second high scoring team with a 3-1 average while the second place Valley Vikings are runners-up in the defensive department with 42.5.

Huskies Explode in Second Half To Defeat Pirates by 61-52 Count

HANSEN, Jan. 28 — The Hansen Huskies broke out in a rash of baskets in the second half and steered past the high-flying Hagerman Pirates 61-52 here Tuesday night. Little Elton Bailey and Art Jones did most of the damage as the Huskies, trailing throughout the first half, rallied into a 42-42 tie at the end of the third quarter and spurred home with the victory. The win boosted Hansen into a tie with Raft River for second place in the Southside conference while the Pirates, who have lost their last three conference outings, are in third place with a 2-3 record.

Borne Uses 'Blockbuster' To Beat Milo

Tony Borne settled his "grudge" with the Mighty Milo by dropping a "blockbuster" in his mid-section to take the main attraction of the VFW's weekly wrestling card.

The "grudge" match stemmed from an encounter the two men had as partners in a tag team match the previous week.

Borne settled the match with two straight falls. His blockbuster ended the first fall but he added another after the bell. That one put Milo out of action for the night and he'll lose when he couldn't answer the bell.

Bill Melby and Nelson Royal grappled to a crowd pleasing draw in an action-packed semi-final. Melby won the first fall with a leg breaker but Royal evened it with a flying body scissors. Time ran out before the third fall could be decided.

In the opener, promoter Cliff Thiede reached back into his years of experience as he beat Eric the Great with a flying toe hold.

Geoffrion Clings To Scoring Lead

MONTREAL, Que., Jan. 28 (AP)—Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's lost assist turned up Tuesday and the Montreal Canadiens' star officially has a two-point lead over Andy Bathgate of New York.

The National Hockey league's weekly statistics, released Tuesday, showed Geoffrion with 57 points and Bathgate with 56. But something apparently was wrong.

News reports from the Montreal-Detroit Sunday game in Detroit showed Geoffrion with two assists, plus a goal. The telegraphed report from the official score showed one assist. The NHL accepted the telegraphed report.

The official report arrived in the mail Tuesday and it showed "The Bomber" had two assists. So the NHL made the official change in the big book.

It could be a most important assist, come season's end. The scoring champ gets $1,000, the runner-up $500.

Devils Finish Strong to Beat Carey by 50-35

DIETRICH, Jan. 28 — Dietrich Blue Devils frisked away two good leads in the second and third quarters but finished with a strong kick to dump Carey's Panthers 50-35 Tuesday night. The Devils ran their Northside conference leading record to a 6-0 while Carey dropped to a 2-4 mark. The Devils started with a rush and were on top 14-7 at the end of the first period. But midway through the next eight minutes, Carey's sharpshooting paid off with a three-point lead that forced the Devils to stage a last-minute rally as they left the floor at halftime with a 27-27 edge.

Carey was back in the third quarter to assume a one-point lead but the Panthers again refused to sustain the attack. By the time the fourth quarter started Dietrich owned a 10-point buffer and added that with five extra points by the end of the game.

The preliminary went to Dietrich by a 42-29 count.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 28 (AP)—Bob Turley, fireballing pitching star of the world champion New York Yankees, Monday was named winner of the ninth annual R. C. Hickok "professional athlete of the year" award for 1958.

The 28-year-old hero of the world series received the $10,000 diamond-studded, gold-buckled belt that goes with his selection by a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

Turley finished far in front of Jimmy Brown, record-shattering back of the Cleveland Browns, and old Archie Moore, the light-heavyweight boxing king. Those two had a close battle for second and third with Johnny Unitas of the Baltimore Colts not too far behind in fourth place.

Bullet Bob collected 41 first place votes among the 107 ballots and a total of 206 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first place, two for second and one for third.

Brown took second with 16 firsts and 98 points. Moore got 20 first place votes and 93 points. Unitas garnered 12 firsts and 82 points.

During the season the 6-foot, 2-inch, 218-pound Turley posted a 21-7 won-loss record, the only American leaguer to win 20 or more games. In the series he was belted out in the second game, but then came back to shut out the Milwaukee Braves in the fifth game, preserved a 4-3 victory in the sixth game, and finally pitched three-hit ball in the last six and two-thirds innings of the decisive seventh game to win the series.

DUNNEDIN, Fla., Jan. 28 (AP)—Ock Willowit, a 53-year-old golf equipment salesman from Dayton, O., shot a two-under-par 70 to lead the field on the first day of competition in the PGA National Seniors championship Tuesday.

The opening day's play was confined to entries 55 and up. The field included defending champion Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., who shot a 73.

One stroke behind Willowit was Bill Goldbeck, 60, of Mount-Kisco, N.Y.

In the 72 bracket were Ed McEljiff of Lutherville, Md., and Bill Jelliffe of Denver.

Jelliffe, playing with Willowit, is 62 years old with long white hair and a white beard. He shot a hole-in-one on the 159-yard sixth hole.

Younger players take over Wednesday with men in the 50-54 age bracket playing their first round. Each group plays two rounds to determine class champions.

Browns Bench Yields Old Artifacts

Cleaning artifacts found in a new archaeological discovery in southern Idaho which proves that an early man lived in the area about 10,000 years ago is Dr. Alfred W. Bowers, associate professor of anthropology and sociology at the University of Idaho. Objects are obsidian (molten glass) pieces sharpened by the early man for use in obtaining food. They were found on Browns bench southwest of Twin Falls near the Nevada border. (University Press service photo—staff engraving)

Important Archeological Find Gives Evidence of 'Early Man' In This Area

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Jan. 28 — Theories that the state of Idaho abounds in evidences of early man have been bolstered with the announcement of an important archeological find by Dr. Alfred W. Bowers, associate professor of anthropology and sociology at the University of Idaho.

For the first time in the United States, evidences of a "chopper" culture—an early man who used sharp stone objects in a chopping fashion for digging and gathering food—have been found intact.

From the layers of refuse covering the site and artifacts found in the digging, archeologists will be able to determine with considerable accuracy the time when the early man lived in the area.

Prior to the new discovery, obsidian tools and weapons used by the early man had been found in the desert, but they did not give anthropologists enough information to estimate the time sequence of the culture.

"The culture predates any that have been previously found in the area," said Dr. Bowers. "It is at least 10,000 years old."

Site of the find, which is described as "phenomenally rich," is on Browns bench, a sage-covered area 8,500 feet high, southwest of Twin Falls on the Idaho-Nevada border.

Excavation directed by Dr. Bowers has uncovered more than 2,000 artifacts, mostly obsidian "choppers" ranging from five to eight inches in length. Although Dr. Bowers has found other promising sites in Idaho, the Browns bench find was worked first because of its proven riches and the fact that amateur diggers were working in the area and might destroy artifacts which would shed more archaeological light on early man in the basin area of the U. S.

Few bones have been found on the site, said Dr. Bowers. Acidity of water in the area caused bones to deteriorate rapidly.

Charcoal remains from fires serving a man 8,000 years before Christ have also been found. When extremely old charcoal is found, it will be subjected to a carbon 14 test to positively determine its date of use.

County Program For Farms Open

Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county ASC committee, announces the opening of the county agricultural conservation program.

Under this program farmers are assisted in the share of the cost for completing conservation practices to conserve soil and water.

Some of the available practices are seeding of grasses, installing irrigation pipelines and land-leveling. A complete list of the available practices is being mailed to farmers. Further information and specifications of the practices are available at the county ASC office.

Applications for cost sharing under the program must be made in the county ASC office in order to be eligible for the payment and the applications must be made before any of the projects contemplated are started, Boyd points out.
