Warning Given on Danger of Fire Tragedy at Home For Old Folks Near Here

Danger of a fire disaster at the county-subsidized Horton's Nursing home was reported by Russell C. (Bud) Larsen, county commission chairman, Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the board of commissioners in the courthouse. Larsen, commenting on a suggestion by Dr. Willard Clark, county physician, that the county nursing home be moved nearer to the Magic Valley Memorial hospital, said he believes that if Horton's Nursing home should burn, 60 to 70 per cent of the persons living there would be burned to death. The commission chairman said he believes the possibility of locating the nursing home in the old hospital building should be investigated. Dr. Clark said he also would like to see the county out-patient office located at the hospital.

Korea Declares Halt In Talks With Japan

TOKYO, Feb. 13 (UPI)—The republic of Korea broke off negotiations aimed at establishing normal relations with Japan in a rapid-fire reaction today to Japanese cabinet endorsement of a plan to repatriate Korean residents in Japan to communist North Korea. Yiu Tai Hai, ROK minister to Tokyo, informed Japanese Vice Foreign Minister Hisanari Yamada that the Seoul government considered the talks "ruptured." The Japanese cabinet endorsement of Foreign Minister Aichiro Fujiyama's repatriation plans came in spite of stiff warnings of possible consequences by the republic of South Korea.

Galena Stays Closed After Slides Occur

Galena summit on highway 93 above Ketchum was still closed Friday, state highway officials reported. Crews plowed the route Thursday but a slide occurred on the Wood river side of the summit just after they finished. While the snow slide was not reported deep, it covers a large area, officials said. They hope to have the summit open in another 24 hours, but it will depend on what condition the road lies in on the Stanley side of the summit. Slides are found often just below the summit on that side, officials pointed out. The road has been widened almost to the slide area on the south side of the summit. Alternating 93 between Arco and Carey was opened Thursday afternoon after being closed earlier in the day for removal of a wrecked truck. The stretch from Arco to Carey has been sanded.

Bucket's Fall Ends Lives of Pair at Mine

VERBENUM, Mo., Feb. 13 (AP)—A cable splice started and dropped heavy hot bucket containing four or five feet of cable from the bottom of a lead mine shaft late Thursday. Two miners were killed. The two others survived, although gravely injured. They are in critical condition. Junior Gilliam of Poston and Don All of Fredricktown were killed. Gilliam was thrown out of the bucket. The bucket was lifted out an hour later with Hall and the survivors still in it. All four were from 30- to 35-year-old married, mine officials said. Roy Bennett of Fredricktown, whose right arm was severed, and George E. Dillard, who suffered multiple fractures, were conscious when brought up. It happened in a flash, Bennett said. Almost incoherent, Bennett said that a moment after the explosive impact of the heavy bucket on the shaft's bottom 175 feet of the heavy wire cable rained down on them. Officials of the St. Joseph Lead company mine explained a three-quarter-inch cable attached to the bucket had been spliced to the main and one-eighth-inch cable from the hoist. Francis P. Redfield, division mine superintendent, said the bucket fell 175 feet with its human cargo. George Harry M. Jonas, who lived at a distance of the plunge at 175 to 200 feet, said he had never heard of anyone surviving such a fall.

Tipsy Driver in 1954 Car Death Held Here

James F. Hamilton, 54, who was fined $300 in 1954 for drunken driving following an accident in which a man was killed, was being held under $1,000 bond Friday in the Twin Falls county jail on a second offense drunken driving charge. He was arrested here Thursday night after his 1952 Cadillac crashed into a parked car in the 200 block of Washington street. Judge J. O. Pumphrey set the $1,000 bond when Hamilton was arraigned Friday morning and asked for a preliminary hearing. Hamilton was driver of a car in which John Arthur Mayes, Gooding, was killed March 14, 1954. He was charged with drunken driving at that time and paid a fine of $300 in Gooding probate court in October, 1954. Hamilton was injured critically in the 1954 accident, including chest injuries and shock. City police reported Hamilton was observed by a witness when he backed his car from the Military Inn parking lot. The witness said he was driving in an erratic manner. Police reported he drove south on Washington street for about one-half block and veered off the road to the right, broke off a speed limit sign, went about 13 feet forward and rammed into a parked 1951 Pontiac, owned by Ann Cole, No. 29, Washington courts. The Pontiac was pushed about 15 feet and came to rest in a ditch in front of 202 Washington street. Cooter pleaded guilty Friday to being drunk in an automobile and was fined $35 and costs by Judge Pumphrey. Hamilton submitted to a blood test. A passenger in the car, Joe G. Cooter, 29, was arrested for being drunk in an automobile. Gene E. Gasto, route 2, Jerome, was cited Wednesday night by State Patrolman R. E. Young for speeding 90 miles an hour at night about four miles west of Twin Falls on highway 30. Patrolman Young reported Gasto was racing with another car at Curry crossing. The other vehicle turned off and was not apprehended. Gasto has until Feb. 16, to appear before Justice of the Peace George E. Spott, Twin Falls.

Gains Posted In Farm Jobs In This State

BOISE, Feb. 13 (UPI)—Idaho's farm employment was up in January, contrary to a downward trend nationally. The federal crop reporting service estimated farm employment in the Gem state during the week of Jan. 18-24 to be 41,000. This compared with 39,000 in a comparable week last year. It was 1,000 higher than the 1954-58 January average. Nationally, the agency reported, there was one per cent drop in farm employment in the same week. Farm workers including farm operators in Idaho totaled 36,000, compared with 34,000 a year ago and the 35,000 average for the years 1954-58. The number of hired workers was reported the same as last year. Farm activities were confined largely to the usual winter-type chores, including general repair of buildings, fences and machinery. Calving and lambing were in progress in all parts of the state and potato sorting and shipping activities continued in Southern Idaho.

Insurance Firm's Appeal Sustained

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Idaho supreme court ruled in favor of the State Mutual Fire Insurance company Thursday in its suit to recover $100 in franchise tax payments. The company asked the refund on grounds it was a mutual fire insurance company and consequently exempt from the tax. State Tax Collector P. G. Nelson said the company waived its immunity by keeping a surplus of more than $300,000.

NEWS BULLETINS

BARNIA, Ont., Feb. 13 (AP)—A former Royal Canadian air force ferry pilot said today his Sabrejet and three others were almost diverted into a North Atlantic grave two and one-half years ago by a radio signal apparently coming from a Soviet ship.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Feb. 13 (UPI)—Ryan Aeronautical company's radically new vertical takeoff and landing airplane, the vertiplane, was damaged extensively today during a test landing at Moffett field. The company said chief engineering test pilot Peter F. Girard had fractured bones in his right foot and was taken to a nearby Palo Alto hospital.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 13 (UPI)—At least five of the seven crew members aboard the American tug, Henry Foss, died today after the 90-ton vessel sank in the stormy waters off Vancouver Island. Only one crew member was picked up. Eight vessels and one airplane were searching in vain for the missing tug.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The president of a New York city association of jukebox operators told today of receiving death threats in battling the music operator's gangster-backed unions. Albert E. Denver, president of the Music Operators of New York, Inc., testifying before the Senate subcommittee, did not say when he received the threats.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (UPI)—The state department announced today that "it developments warrant" that it may be a meeting of western foreign ministers in Paris sometime before April 1.

Dulles Has Surgery, Cancer Tests Taken

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles today underwent a hernia operation which was pronounced successful, but doctors delayed a public report on whether they found a recurrence of cancer. Walter Reed Army hospital, where the surgery was performed, has elaborate arrangements for quick findings on an examination of tissue for malignancy. At least preliminary results often are provided to the surgeon before he finishes operating. In Dulles' case an announcement was put off until noon Saturday. Dulles had an operation in 1956 for removal of a cancerous portion of his lower intestine. Doctors said in advance of today's surgery they had found no sign of a recurrence. Word of the success of the operation itself was relayed quickly to President Eisenhower by his personal physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who was one of those in the operating room. About the time of the report to the White House, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty again emphatically denied reports that Eisenhower is sounding out members of congress regarding a possible successor to Dulles.

Convicts Help Fight Against Flood Threats

WEST TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 13 (UPI)—Inmates of a federal penitentiary joined national guardsmen and volunteers today in strengthening a leaking levee holding the Wabash river from West Terre Haute, latest crisis area in Indiana's second round of 1959 floods. Upstream, a gigantic ice jam piled up behind a bridge and showed no signs of breaking loose while experts debated whether to try to dynamite it apart in small chunks. The gorge is above Lafayette. Locally-heavy rains were forecast for the state.

Potato Firm Acts to Stop Foreclosure

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—An Idaho processing firm asked U. S. district court today to prevent a Texas man from foreclosing a mortgage he holds on the company's property near Burley. The action was brought against Paul H. Hewitt of Mt. Pleasant, Texas, by the Idaho State Potato Processors, Inc., of Burley. The complaint said the company obtained a $350,000 loan from Hewitt in 1957 under an arrangement whereby the Texas man was to get a premium of $25,000 but agreed to buy 4,000 shares of company stock at $100 a share. The complaint said the company received only the $350,000 from Hewitt although it gave him 10 notes, each for $50,000, secured by a mortgage. Hewitt now is threatening to foreclose the mortgage, the complaint said, and it said such an action "would destroy the credit" of the company.

Church Denounces Road Funds Slash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, D. Ida., described today as "false economy" a six million dollar cutback in timber access road funds for the year beginning July 1. He said the reduction was made in funds available for the forest service. He said the administration has failed to provide an adequate timber sale and access road program and the failure cost Idaho counties an estimated $1,000,000 for 1958. That money would have been received from sales of timber and the revenue would have gone to road and school funds, Church said.

South School Solves Mystery Of Lost Student—He's Canine

MONROE, La., Feb. 13 (AP)—Fritz Hans Fredericks, Jr., was enrolled two weeks ago as a general business student at Northeast State college here. A number of things tripped up his continued enrollment. The most obvious was that his registration forms were not in proper order, his admission fee was not paid and the certificate from a high school principal required under Louisiana's segregation statutes could not be found. Dr. Clint Hanna, director of admissions, examined the registration card further. Under special talents and hobbies were listed: "Bone burying, flea-scratching, sleeping, swimming, bayou." Club affiliations: "Member Northeast Student Center four years, honorary member Feline Chasers of America, president of Dog Lovers society." The head of the Journalism department, Annie Lee West Stahl, remembered the name from a local feature story about three weeks earlier. The story told how Fritz swam Bayou Destard each day and generally had the run of the campus as unofficial school mascot. —Prof. Wilbur Lee Perkins, head of the commerce department, called Fritz' name in class the first day and was told Fritz was hit by a car and couldn't attend. It was true that he had been bumped by a car, but he wasn't hurt. Willie Taft Smith, accounting instructor, complaining of excessive absences, dropped Fritz from his class roll and sent his class card back to the registration office. Fritz still has the run of the campus, excepting the cafeteria, and he is somewhat better known. School officials hadn't solved the mystery of who enrolled him. Fritz is a boxer dog, owned by O. N. McNeil.

Money for State's Spud-Onion Board Blocked in Senate

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—Immediate action on an emergency appropriation for the potato and onion commission was blocked in the state legislature today by an eastern Idaho senator who said the entire advertising program might be abandoned. Sen. Howard C. Hechtner, D., Nez Perce, chairman of the senate finance committee, asked emergency consideration of the bill appropriating funds to the commission. The appropriation includes $1,845,000 for the two-year period beginning next July 1 plus $148,320 in deficiency funds for the current period. Hechtner said the commission has signed a contract for additional advertising but without an additional allotment will not have the money to pay for it. He said that to take advantage of a discount for prompt payment the commission must have the extra funds by Feb. 15. Sen. Cy Young, D., Fremont, blocked immediate action. He said he felt the commission's budget should be given "considerable scrutiny."

Senate Seeks to Cut Road Board's Power

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—A move to undercut the power of the Idaho highway board has started in the state senate. A bill brought into the senate Thursday would diminish the independence of the board and set its policies by legislation. It also would make the board responsible to the state land board. Members would be increased from three to five and would serve at the pleasure of the governor with consent of the land board. But the bill was given little chance of success by most legislative observers. Even if it passed both houses, the Democrats do not have the votes to overcome a certain gubernatorial veto. The board's first duty under the bill would be to "interconnect all portions of the state." Roads for tourism were listed next, and federal road building was third. The senate also received another bill proposing amendment of Idaho's primary election law. The plan provides for county assemblies to endorse candidates. It was proposed by Sen. Claude Burtenshaw, D., Madision.

House Passes Bill on Solon Drink Selling

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—A bill arising out of a retail liquor license formerly held by Rep. Bill Webster, D., Kootenai, passed the house Thursday. The bill now goes to the senate. It would permit members of the legislature to hold liquor licenses. The house vote was 48-7. Webster had resigned after the last legislative session because he operates a bar. He later put the license in the name of a corporation and successfully sought reelection. Rep. Gregg Edwin, D., Fower, said the law was "foolish." Rep. Barton Brassy, R., Boise, said it made "second class citizens" out of the holders of retail liquor licenses. Leader of the opposition was Rep. W. Dean Palmer, R., Franklin. "We would be requiring of every other employe of the state, counties or municipalities something which we don't require of ourselves," Palmer said. He also raised a question whether it would be constitutional and argued that the "liquor lobby" might be able to pack the legislature.

Record Stock of Beef On U.S. Farms Seen

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (UPI)—The agriculture department reported today that a record beef supply is building up on cattle ranches, pointing to cheaper steaks and roasts in the future. Hog supplies also are up, the department said in a report of its Jan. 1 national inventory of livestock and poultry. The bigger hog numbers already are beginning to move to market. Officials have said this is likely to send retail pork prices down substantially during the coming month. The big buildup of beef supplies could send consumer prices down when they eventually reach market in a year or more. Total meat animal numbers, including cattle, hogs and sheep, were up five per cent from a year earlier, the department said. The department said beef cattle numbers Jan. 1 reached 84,025,000 head, up seven per cent from one year earlier. The department's annual livestock and poultry inventory today noted there had been a sharp decline last year in slaughter of cows, an indication—that ranchers were building up their herds. The department said its index of all livestock and poultry numbers on farms Jan. 1 increased five per cent over the previous year, but was seven per cent below the all-time peak established Jan. 1, 1944, during World War II. Compared with a year earlier, the report showed poultry numbers up four per cent and milk cattle numbers down two per cent. Hog numbers increased 12 per cent and sheep and lambs were up four per cent. Relatively good farm prices for many classes of livestock helped push the total value of all livestock and poultry on farms and ranches Jan. 1 up to $1,111,364,000, an increase of 29 per cent over the value one year earlier.

U.S. Declines Comments on 'Plan' Rumors

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—The state department declined comment Thursday on a published report that the United States has developed a plan for forcing a showdown with East German communists over access to Berlin next May 27. State department press officer Lincoln White said the department has decided not to comment on any reports or speculation regarding Allied planning about German policy and problems. Other officials said privately that planning on what to do if the Allies are confronted with a new Berlin blockade in May is still not far advanced and that no firm or detailed plans yet exist. May 27 will end a six-month period which Soviet Premier Khrushchev set for the Western powers to agree to get out of Berlin. If they have not acted by that time, Khrushchev has said, the Soviet government will feel free to turn over its occupation responsibility on East Berlin to the East German regime. Since the Western powers do not recognize that regime they fear the East Germans may try to interrupt the flow of Allied traffic to West Berlin across Eastern German territory. The Chicago Sun-Times said Wednesday the United States has prepared a secret showdown plan, with approval of its allies. "This plan, the newspaper said in a dispatch from Washington, would involve sending a convoy of U.S., British and French trucks from West Germany to Berlin May 27, the deadline day.

INAUGURATION HELD CARACAS, Venezuela, Feb. 13

—Romulo Betancourt was inaugurated today as the first freely elected president of Venezuela in a decade. He pledged a government dedicated to honesty, democracy and economic development. Steel-helmeted troops were deployed to put down any demonstrations.

$1 Minimum Pay Passed by Senate

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—The minimum wage for most Idaho workers was boosted from 75 cents to $1 per hour by the state senate Thursday, but the action has yet to be ratified by the house. The house previously passed the bill. The senate amended it, however, to retain the 75-cent wage for workers under 17. The senate also removed a portion of the bill which would have repealed the so-called enforcement section of the present law. Sponsors of the bill said that section is cumbersome and actually interferes with enforcement. It requires the commissioner of labor to give notice in writing to employers accused of violating minimum wage standards.

Idaho's Sen. Frank Church Has Moved Up Fast During Two Years in Senate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (Special)—For a young liberal Democrat who came to the U. S. senate only two years ago, Idaho's Frank Church has moved up rapidly in a body controlled by southern conservatives, where seniority has been the most sacred of traditions. Assignment to the foreign relations committee this year was his fondest desire. Last week Senator Church promised a close scrutiny of the administration's foreign policy. Strengthened by the accession of J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., to the chairmanship, replacing Sen. Theodore Francis Green, D. R. I., and the senate's oldest member, the committee will hold the state department "to strict account," Church said. Freely admitting that he had "a lot of homework to do," Church declined to make any specific criticisms of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, but he went on to make a number of general observations, largely critical. "The committee will not rely entirely upon the state department to keep itself properly informed," he emphasized. He called the U. S. "myopic—let's take the blinders off." He attacked the failure of America to see red China, "We simply act as though it wasn't there," he said. Hitting at U. S. complacency, Church said, "We have too much faith that we can rely on soft living to beat the Russians. The Visigoths," he said, "were eastern barbarians too, when they demolished Rome." Senator Church is the second Idahoan to serve on the foreign relations committee. His predecessor was William E. Borah, conservative Republican, and an isolationist who opposed amending the neutrality act in 1939. Borah fought the treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations, and led the U. S. into the 1921 Washington naval treaty, the naval armament "holiday," and the Kellogg-Briand peace pact. As chairman of the foreign relations committee from 1923 to 1933, Borah also advocated that the U. S. collect its World War I war debts. "The world has shrunk," Senator Church said. "Weapons have developed tremendously. It is no longer possible to find shelter behind our oceans. I doubt if Borah would be an isolationist today. You have got to remember that the world was very different in his lifetime." Borah entered the senate in 1907, at the age of 42. He was named to foreign relations three years later and served until his death in 1940. Where Church advocates recognition of Communist China, he can cite Borah's precedent in backing the recognition of Soviet Russia after the Bolshevik revolution. Church said the U. S. suffered from a new kind of insularity, a "psychological isolationism." "It could prove more dangerous to the safety of the country than old-fashioned isolationism, ever was," he said. High on his list of dangers is the ban on U. S. newspapermen covering red China. Church said the U. S. saw "far too little of the tremendous changes going on there." He added that he was doubtful of the efficiency of the central intelligence agency. "Are we getting our money's worth?" he asked. "Did we know what we should have known about trouble in Venezuela and Iraq last year?" Senator Church also said the U. S. lacked the courage of its convictions, and, in fact, any clear picture of these convictions. "The Russians jockeyed when President Eisenhower confessed in his state of the union message that the U. S. needed to redefine its goals. Russia knows exactly where it's going at every moment, and that's one of its greatest strengths. "Our policy vacillates from crisis to crisis," he said. "We are constantly on the defensive." He charged that American policies were inflexible. The Marshall plan and NATO, he said, were successful. So Dulles carried the same ideas to the Near and Far East, across that great barrier Europe, and for which similar policies will not work. Senator Church admitted that the senate committee probably not provide leadership for the country. "Congress has too many voices," he said. "We can only advise, accept, or reject policy."

lowed senate tradition of allowing a member to talk as long as he can stand. Thus assured of the young man's good judgment, Johnson gave him the foreign relations assignment. In legislation for his home state, Senator Church has co-sponsored Burns creek dam with Sen. Henry Dworshak, R. Ida.; introduced a bill to extend boundaries of the Boise and Payette national forests, in cooperation with Rep. Grace Frost, D. Ida., and co-sponsored a sugar act extension, sought also by the White House.

Varied Group of Magic Valley People To Gather Sunday for Play Rehearsal

A group of Magic Valley men and women representing farmers, housewives, students, merchants, teachers, salesmen and others will gather at Bickel school Sunday afternoon for a rehearsing project. The group is rehearsing a production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" to be presented March 6, 8 and 7 at the Twin Falls Junior high school auditorium. Sponsored by the Dillekaute Group of Magic Valley, formed late last year to present amateur stage productions, "Carousel" has drawn talent from the entire area. Men and women of varied ages and interests are taking part in the production. Roger Vincent, for example, who plays Billy Bigelow, the musical's leading role, is a 33-year-old Piler farmer and the father of four daughters. Vincent, who has had 15 years of private voice training, also has taken part in other area musical projects, including Handel's "Messiah." Vincent was a soloist with the army's 7th Infantry division in Japan following World War II. He has directed the Piler Methodist church choir for 10 years. Playing "Julie Jordan," the production's leading feminine role, is Mrs. David Mead, Twin Falls, mother of three children. She studied at the American and De Young studios in Chicago and appeared in musical presentations at Purdue University. For two years she has been a soloist in the Twin Falls Music club presentation of "Messiah." Mrs. Henry Westendorf, Piler, mother of a daughter and twin sons, plays "Carrie Pipperidge," good friend of "Julie Jordan." Mrs. Westendorf, a Piler high school graduate, attended Idaho State college and was president of the music sorority, Sigma Beta Mu. She soloed with the school's touring choir and in the "Messiah" production. Principal of Bickel school, Jay Anderson, 28, plays "Mr. Snow," "Carrie Pipperidge's" fiancé. Born in Salt Lake City, Anderson attended school at the University of Utah and Washington State college. He was a soloist with the University of Utah's combined choruses and the Salt Lake City Symphony choir. At Washington State college, he sang with the Madrigal vocalists. Unlike his stage counterpart who is merely considering marriage, Anderson has been married since 1935. The villain of the musical, "Jigger Crutchen," is played by Vernon Hedner, local businessman. A speech and drama graduate of the University of North Dakota, Hedner is married and has appeared in productions at the Pasadena Playhouse and in Hollywood. During three years in the navy, Hedner was active in the service's entertainment group. The mother of three daughters and two sons, including a twin girl and boy, Mrs. Robert Blastock, Jr., Piler, appears in "Carousel" as "Nettie," a beachside restaurant owner. A Piler high school graduate, Mrs. Blastock attended college in Oregon, appearing as a vocalist with college orchestral groups. She has participated in Piler Community Players projects. An English and literature teacher at Jerome high school, Corinne Wodtke portrays "Mrs. Mullin," a tough-minded carnival woman with a soft spot in her heart for "Bigelow." An Idaho State college graduate, Miss Wodtke worked in both dramatic and musical college productions and also tried her hand on the school's television channel. "The Heavenly Friend," is played by Gene Bickley, a native of Magic Valley who lives in Twin Falls now with his wife. During a stint in the air force, Bickley was stationed at Mountain Home. He has worked in Cleveland in television and in summer stock in other parts of Ohio. Robert Vernon, the father of four children and a Presbyterian Men's chorus member, will play "Mr. Bascombe," the owner of the mill employing "Julie Jordan" and "Carrie Pipperidge." Vernon sang in the Boise Junior college quartet and school and was a member of the choir at the University of Oregon.

Altrusa Awards Given Two Girls

Two Twin Falls high school girls of the month were presented certificates at the Altrusa club Tuesday at the Rogerson hotel. The girls, Judy Jewell, chosen for December, and Trudy Bailey, January honoree, and their mothers, Mrs. Ben Jewell and Mrs. Norval Bailey, were guests. Mrs. R. O. McCall is chairman of the vocational guidance committee. During the business meeting, Mrs. Fred Duke, president, read the nominees for office and appointed an election committee. Mrs. J. Hill reported on the recent Employ the Physically Handicapped committee meeting she attended. The club approved a $5 donation to the committee. The Feb. 26 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wilson.

VFW's Post at Buhl Receives National Prize

BUHL, Feb. 13—A 1959 victory streamer was received by Buhl Thurnston Post No. 3604, Veterans of Foreign Wars, it was announced when members met this week at the American Legion hall. The streamer was sent the Buhl post from national headquarters, Kansas City, Mo., for signing up 75 per cent of continuous membership by Jan. 31. A report was read from Warren Clifford, adjutant quartermaster of the department of Idaho, stating the Buhl post is the third largest and ranks fourth highest in percentage membership in the state. The two larger posts named were Pocatello and Orofino. Commander J. E. Nejeschleba presided at the meeting. Final plans were made for the annual stag party at 8 p. m. Feb. 23 at the American Legion hall to raise funds for community services. It is for members only. The group also laid plans for a ticket sale for a movie, "The Last Blitzkrieg," which will be shown at the Ramona theater here on March 10, 11 and 12. The movie will serve as a fund-raising project for the Buhl post and also will be used as a means for recruiting new members for the VFW. The Buhl post hopes to have a recruiting booth in the theater and also plans to have war souvenirs on display.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Democratic liberals in the house have exhorted a thank-you letter from Sherman Adams which they regard as refutation of the Eisenhower-Nixon-Halleck attacks on them as "wild-eyed radicals, spenders and socialists."

Here is the background of the commendation which the former White House chief of staff bestowed on the so-called "Roosevelt bloc" in the lower chamber.

In the 1957 session, Rep. Frank Thompson, New Jersey, the able and likable leader of this group, raked the Republicans in a floor speech for not supporting the President's legislative program.

The Trenton Democrat recalled that 54 house Republicans, headed by Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen, New Jersey, had begged Eisenhower to run again even after his serious 1956 illness. Then, according to Thompson, whose figures appear to be correct, only one-third of the second-term chorus supported the President in voting on controversial legislation.

MCCORMACK BACKED IKE—Thompson also claimed that his "liberal Roosevelt bloc," as he wrote to the President, had backed the White House to the extent of 77.3 per cent. He maintained that Rep. John W. McCormack, the vocal and aggressive Democratic floor leader from Boston, had been a more fervent Eisenhower loyalist than the three Republican leaders of the house.

Thompson gave McCormack a 95 per cent White House score against his estimate of 56 for the then Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., Massachusetts, 59 for Rep. Charles A. Halleck, who recently dethroned Martin, and only 50 per cent for Leo Arends, Illinois, who was recently renamed as Republican whip.

MARTIN'S TEAMWORK HELP—The Martin-Halleck percentages, as presented to the house by Representative Thompson, are extremely deceptive, in view of the replacement of Martin by the House speaker through the votes of reactionary-Republicans.

Although Halleck is recorded as leading Martin by three per cent in support of the President, these figures do not reflect or measure the deposed Bay state's contribution to an 80-per-cent endorsement of the Eisenhower program for the last six years.

It was only because of the Rayburn-Martin friendship and their understanding of parliamentary politics, based on 33 years of close association in the house, that the "liberal Roosevelt bloc" voted for 77.3 per cent of the President's legislative proposals and appropriation requests.

Another White House asset was the friendly relationship between the two Bay state Yankees—Martin and McCormack.

JOHNSON-KNOWLAND WORKED TOGETHER—There was, although to a less degree, the same sort of compromise partnership between senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, and former Sen. William F. Knowland, California, then Johnson's opposite number. They jammed through the senate the Eisenhower bills which the Rayburn-Martin combine sent over from the house.

There is no expectation that the Dirksen-Halleck leadership will be able to match their predecessors' legislative achievements. As senate votes on housing, slum clearance and airport expansion measures have already demonstrated, Eisenhower will be lucky if he gets 50 per cent of his program.

ADAMS' NOTE HAS IRONIC TWIST—Adams' thank-you note to Thompson reads ironically today, in view of the Eisenhower-Nixon-Halleck denunciation of "Democratic spenders."

"The President," wrote Adams, "Thanks you for your assurance that you and others in your party will help to advance the administration's program . . . and that you will do your best, as he has been doing and will continue to do, to keep the congress from crippling cuts in the budget."

VIEW OF OTHERS

A TRAITOR COMES HOME

The return of Richard G. Corden, once a leader and spokesman for the small group of American prisoners who deserted to the enemy after the Korean war, raises some peculiar problems for the nation and for this state, which happens to be his home.

It should not be forgotten, first of all, that Corden proved himself something far worse than a mere befuddled or morose GI. A boy of at least average intelligence, he served his Communist captors while he was in prison camp in ways that may very well have led to the deaths of other American soldiers. If he can be legally freed for this, he most certainly should be.

But the indications are that, because he has been dishonorably discharged from the army, this cannot happen. Yet Corden is coming home. What, then, can this nation as a whole and Rhode Island in particular stand to gain from the event?

For one thing, the mere fact that Corden can come home without fear of retribution despite his treason and his continued vocal devotion to communist dogma, ought to be a demonstration of the vast difference between a democratic country's humanity and devotion to due process, and the well-known readiness of totalitarian nations to destroy their enemies with complete ruthlessness.

For another, there is always the chance that coming home may yet convince Corden of his own errors. And that is where Rhode Island, especially, comes in. If he cannot be tried by proper judicial process, but is to live as a free man among us, he should be given at least the opportunity to integrate himself normally into the community. Then and only then, would there be some hope that the experience might lead him to recant the Communist line he still follows. Since the Chinese-Communists probably turned him loose in the hope that he would serve as their propagandist here, rejecting their doctrine after he has had a fair chance to compare their system with ours would be one way Richard Corden still could serve his country and atone at least in part for his misdeeds.

WHY ANY RESTRICTION?

Social Security often has the effect of putting the recipient on the shelf. That is, if he earns more than $1,200 a year, he forfeits his benefits.

Representative Hiestand, R., Calif., has introduced legislation raising the figure to $2,400.

That is a more realistic approach. But why not go further and do away with restrictions?

Under the present law, there is no restriction on earnings once the recipient reaches the age of 72, and by that time, of course, the chances of getting a job are greatly diminished. Moreover, there is no restriction on income from investments, pensions or other sources with the exception of certain businesses in which the recipient can be classified as self-employed.

Social Security payments, which looked so wonderful back in the 1930s, are skimpy in today's world. Recipients should not be discouraged from doing what they can to make their lives more pleasant. Extra income would be fine, but even better would be the escape from enforced idleness.—Salt Lake Tribune.

ON DOING NOTHING

Our "Today's Chuckle" man has swallowed the old bromide about the therapeutic value of doing nothing. As a prescription for ulcers, says he, "Take one shaded creek bank, a fishing pole, and forget the bait."

This is a lot of malarkey. Nothing is more conducive to ulcers than to sit on one's lunny and worry about what is wrong with the world and one's self. Without the bait, hence without the application of the limited amount of skill involved in still fishing, and with no anticipation of catching anything, what else is there to do but think?

Activity directed toward some accomplishment, we hold, is a far better prescription for ulcers—or to prevent ulcers. There is not only the healthful physical activity. There is the engagement of the mind—as in fly fishing for trout, or casting for steelhead and salmon—in a field quite removed from daily concerns. An ulcer count on anglers along the Deschutes river, one hazard, would be pretty negative. What would contribute to ulcers among that group would be to forget to bring the bait or fly box.—Portland Oregonian.

Pot Shots: It was awfully late in arriving and when it started, there was just no shutting it off. I suppose the snow-makers will take credit for it, but I have it on fairly good authority they didn't have anything to do with it. ANY GIVEN AMOUNT

Dear Shooter: Saw the little reference the other day to some sort of scheme to set up the Pot Shots retirement fund. Isn't our benevolent Uncle Sam taking care of you just like the rest of us? It's called social security, but danged if I can figure out where they got the name for it because there's nothing social about it and the security it offers, well!

So more power to you in your campaign for the Pot Shots retirement fund. Do you have any particular goal or are you going to accept any given amount in the true spirit of virtually everyone in this country who figures everybody else owes 'em something or other.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

More blood will flow before Fidel Castro takes off his whiskers and permits the world, and particularly the Cuban people, to look him in the face.

This hysterical, womanish Fuchrer-Duce has had a season of gory exultation at the expense of Cuban patriots who, in time to come, will be heroes in the hearts of men.

The films of those terrible lynchings will never be expunged and future generations of Cuban men and boys may salute exemplars of patriotic bravery and uncompromising manhood whom other nations may respect as great Cubans.

Far from degrading the chief of police of Santa Clara who walked to the wall and stood with his hat on, glaring with contempt at tremulous musketeers, Castro enshrined a man whose eyes looked past the firing squad straight into the eyes of Castro.

It is written that the men who were lynched by Castro's rabble had been guilty of "war crimes." Not to delve into the terrible precedents of Nuremberg, be it observed that such brutality in Cuba was not confined to Batista's side.

It never is. We saw tumult and terror in our own country in the years under Roosevelt's goons and it goes without saying that guilt was on bad on the rebel's side as on Batista's. Such armies always attract riff-raff motivated by lust and the personal hatred of the low-lived for superior people.

We eagerly believed this of Mussolini's black shirts and Hitler's brown shirts.

In Cuba, Batista's army unlike the Duce's and Hitler's, was basically the army of the republic. Of course, the soldiers shot rebels and dug them out at night. They shot even women.

Paul Church Has "Pioneer Night"

PAUL, Feb. 13—The First Baptist church observed pioneer night to honor long time resident families.

Mrs. Regina Vollmer told of her parents' experiences in homesteading in North Dakota. Fred Renz told of his parents' struggle in homesteading in South Dakota. The Rev. John Broeder, minister of the church, recalled his own parents' pioneering days in North Dakota. Three new homesteaders told of their experiences here. They are Mrs. Henry Reslief, Mrs. Merrill Pasley and Sheldon Erickson.

Mrs. W. W. Dawson read a poem and the Rev. Mr. Broeder chose for his sermon the story of Abraham when sent to pioneer in a new land.

Doubt Columbus

LONDON, Feb. 13 (UPI)—A Russian historian said today unknown European navigators beat Christopher Columbus to the new world and even charted the course which he followed, radio Moscow reported.

A lecturer at the Alma Ata pedagogical institute said his research established that Columbus used navigation charts prepared by the unknowns in organizing his expedition, the broadcast said.

Report on New York's Betting Issues Lacks in Authenticity

BY HENRY McLEMORE

It's a beautifully written slice of prose, and may even win its authors the Nobel prize for literature, but it lacks the ring-of-authenticity.

I'm talking about the report of the special citizen's committee recommending the legalization of off-track betting on the horses in New York City.

The four men who did the report are gifted authors, and there are parts of it which are as exciting as a page from "War and Peace," but it is evident that none of the authors is an honest-to-goodness horse player.

If they were, then you'd never find such paragraphs as these in their report:

"In order to maintain a respectable and orderly atmosphere, payments to a winner shall be made on the first business day following the race."

"Looting in and within the vicinity of betting stations shall be prohibited."

"Betting stations shall be located reasonably distant from funeral homes."

Not to pay a winner the moment the prices are known is to break the heart of 99 per cent. of horse players.

What's a man to get home on if, say, he puts his last-dime on a winner in the closing race of the day? It pays $10.80 but he can't get his money until the following day.

The man who thought up that clause never has been hungry, nor has he ever had to reach way down in his watch pocket for his last two bills.

With pay-off time the following day, most horse players will want to stay in and about the shop until it opens for business the next morning.

But this is out. The no loitering rule takes care of that. An absurd rule, by the way. How does a man pick a winner if not by loitering?

Reading the racing form is not a job that can be done while walking briskly along the street or driving a car in traffic.

It requires hours of checking and rechecking, and weighing and reweighing all the written evidence. And it is while loitering that one gathers his best tips. How is one to know what the bettors at the $10 window are playing unless one loiters near enough to hear their requests for tickets?

And what is wrong, I ask you, in having a betting station near a funeral home? Seems to me the front porch of such an establishment would be an ideal location.

Truck Bed, Hoist Bought by Haile

The bed and hoist will be used as a truck purchased from Savelber Motor to move snow and gravel.

A representative of the Haile volunteer fire department presented Robert W. Thompson, fire chief, William T. Savelber, first assistant, Frank Scharrf, second assistant, J. E. Leichter, secretary-treasurer. The council appointed Mrs. P. Jones and Mrs. Paul Dempsey to succeed themselves as members of the library board. Holdovers on the board are Mrs. Marjorie Jensen, Mrs. L. F. Heagle, with Theodor Broyles the council member.

Open House Planned Sunday at Wendell for New Fire Station

Open house is slated from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the new station for the Wendell city and rural fire departments, located on Avenue A and Idaho streets. It was purchased last fall and living quarters have been added for the station attendants. Shown in front of the station are the department trucks and tank. (Staff engraving)

This 1939 model American LaFrance truck with a 95 horsepower engine purchased 20 years ago by the Wendell fire department, is still in use. It was added to the department equipment early in 1939 before two additional rooms and living quarters were added to the old building on West Avenue A. Open house is set from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the new fire station located at 76 South Idaho street. (Staff engraving)

Wendell Rural, City Fire Departments Plan Inspection at Open House Sunday

WENDELL, Feb. 13—Residents of the Wendell area are invited to open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Sunday at the new location of the Wendell city and rural fire department, at 76 South Idaho street, one block south of Main street.

The new fire station building was purchased late in 1958 by the city of Wendell and the rural fire district. Since then a modern four-room apartment has been constructed for Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolford, station attendants. The 50- by 70-foot cinderblock structure, built in 1950 by Boise Payette company for Leo Rice Gooding, housed the Hub City Motor company for several years.

Present officers for the fire department include E. E. (Bus) Barr, fire chief; Ed Comstock, assistant fire chief; Bill Von Weller, captain; Garland McCulloch, Keith Hamilton, Ray Turner, Ralph Fink, Melvin Weinberg, N. J. Mason, Lee Miles, Herman Mason, Denton Adams, Al Meislad, Roy Irons, Leslie Wallace, Grant Zollinger, Bill Brown, George Benson, Tom Rich, Leslie Lawton and Marvin Johnson.

Organization of a rural fire district was spurred into action in 1943 when the West Point school house was destroyed by fire. The school was outside the jurisdiction of the fire department.

Merlin Jamison, fire chief at that time, and A. J. Dykstra made plans to form fire protection for the surrounding area.

The rural department was organized June 12, 1944, under state-law. Board of directors for the three district departments were A. J. Dykstra, M. A. McCloud and Clair King. Present board of directors include Dykstra, Farren Chandler and Emer Johnson.

In April, 1953, the Tuttle district petitioned to become a part of the Wendell fire district. The rural fire district of approximately 112 square miles now extends east to the Jerome county line; follows the Snake river west to the fish hatchery, north to the Vader grade, skips two sections (which are included in the Hagerman district), extends two miles north and one and one-half miles west of Tuttle including all farms between Wendell and Tuttle to the east border of highway 25 and all territory directly north of Wendell to sagebrush.

Equipment includes a 1939 LaFrance, 500-gallon pumper fully equipped; a 1940 Buffalo, 500-gallon pumper, fully equipped; a 1955 tank truck 1,000-gallon capacity, with pump; a resuscitator, purchased in 1947; two air-packed resuscitators along with other modern equipment for efficient operation.

Wendell's first fire department was organized Nov. 14, 1913, with a Eureka hose and cart purchased for $481. The new equipment was housed in a small structure immediately behind the city hall. The fire alarm was a large iron ring with a sledge hammer for the alarm in case of fire. It was located at the rear of Fullerton-Watson department store on east Idaho street. Four fireplugs were installed to service the entire town.

In 1916 records show women of the town planned a fireman's dance to raise funds to equip the newly created fire department with boots, helmets and apparatus for fire protection.

The old fashioned grand fireman's ball was held at the Odeon Feb. 25, 1916. The department then authorized the purchase of 200 feet of additional hose.

Another fire disaster for Wendell occurred Jan. 31, 1918, when the oldest landmark of the town was razed. This time the building owned by E. J. Parr on the corner of Idaho and Avenue A was burned. The building housed the Parr meat market, the F. W. Chapman real estate office and Glen Jenkin's barber shop.

With the hose frozen and the chemical tank failing to work, it was only by heroic work on the part of firemen and other residents of the town that adjoining buildings were saved.

A Cadillac was purchased in 1930 by the department from R. D. Bradshaw. The car was remodeled into a fire truck and equipped with a pump. Late in 1930 the station site on West Avenue A was purchased and the fire equipment building was moved to the location. Extra lots

CARL HUBBELL was famed for his scrawll — a curve that broke the wrong way for a left-handed hurler. It made him one of the National League's greatest pitchers, for years the "meal ticket" of the New York Giants. His biggest moment, and one of the greatest pitching exhibitions of all times, came in one of the annual All Star games . . . a year when he faced the most murderous collection of power hitters ever assembled.

Carl didn't start out very hot. The first two men to face him got on base. Charley Gehringer singled and Heinie Manush walked. Two men on . . . and the hitter was Babe Ruth. That's when Hubbell earned the nickname "King." In succession, he struck out Ruth, Lou Gehrig and Jimmy Fox . . . on 12 pitches. Next inning, Hubbell added Al Simmons and Joe Cronin to his strikeout string before it was broken. After that Hubbell could do no wrong . . . he was King. Remember the year?

That was a depression year . . . and a man who bought a new car had economy in mind. He looked for real savings . . . and shopped around till he got the best deal.

The year was 1934.

Seaton Sees Hope Of Tax Reduction

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (UPI)—Fred A. Seaton, secretary of the interior, believes a tax reduction can be made eventually if the government lives within its means.

Seaton said yesterday on his arrival to attend a Lincoln day function that he favored a tax increase if the Democratic-controlled congress exceeds President Eisenhower's 77 billion dollar budget.

"I would vastly prefer an increase in taxes to deficit financing if the budget is broken," he said.

Seaton said he believed the American people would bring pressure on congress to keep spending within the budget limit if they were informed of all the facts. He said unlimited spending could result in inflation that would seriously shake and possibly wreck the nation's economy.

OPPORTUNITY!

For man now employed, but not satisfied with present salary and advancement. Must have retail experience, start as Assistant Manager.

Washington is 6-3 for the season and Oregon State, which shared the conference flag with California last year, is 6-4. UCLA, which lost a hair raiser to Cal last Friday and then fell apart the following night to a Husling Idaho five, is weakened by the loss of Ron Wallace, a sometime starter at both center and forward. Wallace was dropped from the university for academic reasons. Coupled with this was word that center Kent Miller is sidelined with a sprained ankle. He is a doubtful starter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13 (AP)—Cal Ramsey sank three pressure free throws in the last 30 seconds Thursday night as unheralded NYU snatched West Virginia's 11-game winning streak 72-70 in an overtime basketball thriller at Madison Square Garden.

Riots Opposed To Weapons For Germany

BRNO, Feb. 13 (UPI)—Soviet diplomats here hint that their price for dropping threats of a new Berlin blockade might be cancellation of western plans to provide atomic weapons for West Germany's growth.

In talks with West German news-writers, the diplomats profess wholehearted agreement with the western position that there shall be "no concessions without counter-concessions."

Kremlin Concerned They say plans to supply West German troops with American-made atomic weapons "cause the people much more concern than the presence of American troops," British diplomats said.

The diplomats say privately that these eastern promises to be abandoned by a Soviet "counter-concession"—a promise to drop the idea of handing over control of West Berlin to local communists on May 12.

Troop Withdrawal Hinted "After all," they shrug, "the western troops will have to leave Berlin in two or three years, anyway." They do not amplify this statement.

The Russians indicate that they will propose this bargain to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan when he visits Moscow next week, and present it formally at the expected big four conference on Berlin.

They have high hopes that Macmillan, faced with the prospect of an early election at a time when opinion polls indicate that the popularity of his party is waning, can be won over to their side.

Neuberger Given Solons' Welcome

Neuberger's often-criticized colleague, Sen. Wayne Morse, D. Ore. led the senate in its expression of welcome.

"I am sure he knows all members of the senate join me in expressing a very warm welcome and sincere pleasure over the fact that my colleague has returned to the senate in such apparent good health," Morse said.

"He has our best wishes for a complete recovery, and I'm sure he knows he has our prayers. It is very good to have him back."

In the months preceding Neuberger's recent operation for cancer, Morse and his junior colleague had engaged in a bitter exchange of letters.

300 Escape Hurt In Train Mishap

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 13. (AP)—About 300 men, women and children got the bouncing around of their lives when a speeding Pennsylvania railroad passenger train went screeching off the tracks in a shower of rails, ties and stone ballast Thursday.

But none of the passengers on the New York-bound 11-car train—the Potomac—suffered more than minor injuries.

A steel plate about eight feet long, 15 inches wide and less than an inch thick caused the wreck, the railroad said.

The plate fell from a freight train and knocked the rails out of line.

A STATEMENT TO THE PUBLIC

During the past 90 days, two Chrysler corporation dealers in Twin Falls, for reasons of their own, have discontinued the retailing of new Chrysler corporation cars. This action has left us as the only remaining Chrysler corporation automobile dealer in Twin Falls. Subsequently, many questions have arisen among owners of Chrysler corporation cars. We have been asked if we will carry the full line of Chrysler products. Our answer to that is "No." We don't know what the future will bring, but for the time being we will continue as we have for the past many years as Dodge, Plymouth and Dodge Truck dealers (along with our foreign cars).

The question of servicing new Chrysler corporation products arises. We would like to explain the factory service policy on all new Chrysler corporation cars. Every major manufacturer guarantees his product for 4,000 miles or 90 days, whichever is reached first, against defective parts. Door adjustments, body rattles, engine adjustments, etc., are the responsibility of the selling dealer. Service inspections at 1,000 or 2,000 miles also are the responsibility of the selling dealer. This work may be done by another dealer provided his place of business is outside a radius of 50 miles of the selling dealer. The outside dealer performs the service work, bills the factory, who in turn issues payment to him and then charges the cost back to the selling dealer. (For any deviation of this policy, factory approval must be secured first.)

We have just been authorized by Chrysler Corporation to perform 1,000 or 2,000 mile service inspections on all new Chrysler products free of charge to the owner. Minor adjustments will also be made free of charge, if within the warranty period, plus any needed parts replacements. This is our way of saying "Thanks" to you for driving in. Chrysler products are excellent products and we want to help justify your confidence in them by keeping your automobile in tip-top condition.

We welcome all Chrysler corporation automobile owners to our Service Department. We have the finest staff of mechanics and parts men we have ever had. Under the able leadership of Frank Hames, our Service Manager, we conduct monthly technical schools for all shop personnel. Training films on latest product knowledge are supplied us by the manufacturer at nominal cost. We have a sizeable investment in specialized tools and equipment to service your car properly. We keep and maintain an adequate parts stock to keep your car in serviceable condition and we have the most modern plant in the Intermountain West.

While we do everything in our power to give you the best possible service, we realize that when the human element is involved, mistakes are bound to happen. Yet we try to rectify any errors and continually strive to give the best service and workmanship possible. Many of our men have been honored by the Chrysler corporation by being awarded Master Technician Service certificates. These are awarded after many years of study and competitive examinations. We are proud of every one of our employees and consider them not only personal friends but top workmen as well. To properly pay them a decent wage, it is necessary that we sell our merchandise and services at a profit. We cannot sell our cars or services at "cost" and stay in business. You couldn't either.

True, we hold periodic sales to balance out an overstocked inventory or to clear the decks for new models. But to consistently sell merchandise at "just above cost" is pure folly. Ours is a competitive business and we realize we have to be competitive to survive, but we'll never give our merchandise away or sell at "cost." So to you good people who have taken the time to read this article, we say in all sincerity, if given the opportunity to serve you, we will do our level best to merit your confidence. Thanks.
