Allies Propose Wide-Open Talks On German Issue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—The United States, Britain and France proposed to Russia today a wide-open big four conference on Germany, with East and West German leaders present. A preference was expressed for late April or early May as the meeting time. This is the first time the western powers have called for inclusion within the conference of representatives from communist East Germany and allied West Germany. The proposal was made in notes delivered in Moscow and scheduled for release in the western capitals in a few days.

School's Plea To Halt Race Plans Denied

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 16 (UPI)—A federal appeals judge today turned down a request by Warren county, Va., to delay the integration of the county's only high school scheduled to take effect Wednesday. Chief Judge Simon E. Sobeloff, U.S. fourth circuit court of appeals, upheld the ruling of District Judge John Paul, Harrisonburg, Va., who said the county was in an "intolerable" position because it has no secondary educational facilities for Negroes.

Sobeloff said he had heard "nothing to justify interfering" with Paul's order reopening the school at Front Royal and admitting 22 Negroes. "I'd like to be flexible," Sobeloff said, "and if a plan were offered I would be glad to entertain it." Warren county Attorney William J. Phillips appealed to Sobeloff to delay Paul's order until next September. He argued that reopening of the school Wednesday would create "tremendous" administrative problems. White parents of the county have voted to continue their children in private segregated classes which were opened when the school was shut down last September under Virginia's now-defunct anti-integration laws.

Real Young Senators Differ In Battles on U.S. Budgets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Senators like to kid their youngest colleagues. Sen. Frank Church, D., Idaho, about his age. "Recently Church, 34, was discussing the surgery of another senator. 'I'm sure he'll recover,' Church said. 'In fact, I had the same operation 10 years ago.' 'You're confused, Frank,' said Norris Cotton, R., N. H. 'That was no operation 10 years ago—that was the severance of your umbilical cord.'"

Dirksen asserted that the last congress voted $3,788,000,000 more than proposed in President Eisenhower's budget estimates. Johnson told the senate a week ago that the last congress cut appropriations $5,600,000,000 below the President's budget estimates.

Ailing Dulles Has Served Both Parties

Secretary of State Dulles, whose diplomatic career appears threatened with the announcement that he has cancer, was foreign affairs adviser for presidents of both parties. He undertook diplomatic missions for President Truman in 1949 and was close to the then President-elect Eisenhower in 1952 before being appointed to the high cabinet post. Today Dulles was able to sit up following his operation. Treatment of his cancer will begin next week. (AP wirephoto)

Legal Ruling Upsets Plan on Revaluation

Efforts by Twin Falls county's commissioners and assessor to hire a professional assessing firm to carry out a three-year property revaluation program have met with opposition from the prosecuting attorney. Prosecuting Attorney Edward Babcock believes that "the authority, duty and responsibility for the assessment and valuation of property" is one of the "integral parts" of the county assessor's duty and that such power cannot be delegated by contract or otherwise to other persons.

Italians Have New Leader; Future Gray

ROME, Feb. 16 (AP)—Antonio Segni was sworn in today as head of Italy's government. His cabinet was made up entirely of members of his own Christian Democrat party, which has less than a majority in Parliament. Prominent right-wing support from Liberals and Monarchists made Segni virtually sure of winning at least his first vote of confidence, probably within a week.

President Giovanni Gronchi swore Segni into office after approving his cabinet lineup. Segni needed no parliamentary vote of confidence to assume office. But late this week or early next both the chamber of deputies and the senate must approve the cabinet.

Before action could be taken on this motion, however, the senate recessed to permit caucuses by both the Democrats and Republicans.

Soviets Flatly Deny U.S. Fliers Are Held

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (UPI)—Russia today flatly denied that 11 Americans, missing since a U. S. transport plane went down in Soviet Armenia Sept. 2, were in the Soviet Union. A statement issued by the Soviet news agency Tass also branded as a "fantastic invention" a statement by President Eisenhower last week that false Soviet radio signals may have "lured" U. S. planes over Russian territory. The Tass statement also repeated its claim that a tape recording produced by U. S. authorities of a conversation between Soviet pilots shooting down the U. S. transport plane was a "fabrication."

testimony under oath, and such other powers as may be necessary for the committee to secure the information necessary for a report and recommendation.
An array of suggestions for changing the Idaho primary election laws confronted the legislature.
Debate and a vote were scheduled on one bill in the senate. It would provide a runoff election in close races where there are many candidates.
But other measures were being developed. In the house, parliamentary maneuvering sprang loose a measure that would provide preliminary conventions by each party.
Another measure toward a vote would provide a preferential primary.

County Plans Are Upset by Legal Ruling

be paid for through one-mill levies in each of the next three years.
In his opinion, Babcock states that the 1955 state law places the responsibility for the revaluation program on the county assessor. He points out that the law authorizes the state tax commission to "provide any such county assessor with the necessary supervision and technical assistance for said county assessor to continue to complete such revaluation."
Babcock believes that, particularly since the law refers to the supervisor and assistance available to county assessors from the state tax commission, it rules out the possibility of hiring a professional assessment firm to do the work.
Babcock also states that the commissioners are prohibited from letting a contract for the work. He acknowledges that commissioners are empowered to act as a board of equalization on property valuations, but feels that they are not authorized to initiate a valuation program.
Thompson, however, feels that the law gives sufficient authority to assessors to allow them to contract with an assessment firm.
In fact, Thompson says, Caribou county hired the same firm he and the commissioners have negotiated with, the Haynes company, and that Caribou county's revaluation program is now completed. He says no objections were raised in Caribou county to hiring a professional firm.
Thompson believes that to obtain an equitable revaluation of property within the county it is necessary to hire men well-trained and experienced as assessors. He feels that trying to train local men to do the job is inadequate.
"I regret very much the opinion given by the prosecuting attorney's office," Thompson said Monday.
"With a professional firm like the Haynes company, you can obtain the services of specialists instead of relying on local people without the necessary experience," Thompson says.
"I have discussed the proposal to hire a professional firm with business men, Farm Bureau people and Grange members and to a man they favor having the job done by specialists," Thompson says.
Asked what steps might now be taken, Thompson said, "That's a good question. There's a possibility that the state tax commission will discuss this problem late in March or early in April."
Thompson states that officials of the tax commission are in favor of counties hiring professional assessors to carry out the revaluation program.

vetted by the President. His summary also took into account the failure of congress to raise revenues as requested by the President—for example the refusal to boost postal rates in 1957.
In another development, house Republicans challenged the price tag put on a housing bill by its Democratic sponsors. GOP spokesmen charged that the cost will amount to $5,800,000,000 rather than the $2,100,000,000 claimed by the Democrats.
Democrats conceded that their figure did not include the cost of 190,000 units of federally-subsidized public housing for low-income families which the bill would authorize at the rate of 35,000 a year.
Republicans said budget bureau figures indicated the long-range cost of these units would be $3,700,000,000 over the next 45 years.

Senate Solons To Cooperate On Aid Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (UPI)—Senate Democrats promised today a full measure of cooperation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign aid policies during Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' illness.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, said after a conference with Chairman J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., foreign relations committee member, that Democrats will do everything they can to help keep administration aid policies intact.

Sen. John Sparkman, D. Ala., and Mike Mansfield, D. Mont., other members of the committee, made similar pledges in separate interviews.

Yesterday the secretary talked for about 15 minutes with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

Herter, returning Saturday night from a South Carolina vacation, told newsmen he would accept appointment as secretary of state if President Eisenhower asked him to.

Eisenhower said Saturday that Dulles would continue on the leave of absence he obtained to undergo the operation and said "I will, of course, be in close touch with him constantly."

Solon Disagrees With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington, D. Mo., says the United States could make a great many more missiles if it wanted to.

Disagreeing with President Eisenhower's view that the nation is going forward with missiles as rapidly as possible under the present setup, Symington said:

"He (Eisenhower) may say that we are going forward as rapidly as possible, because he believes we are spending as much money as we should in the missile field. That is his opinion. I do not agree."

Symington, who has been mentioned by some as a possibility for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said he would favor more taxes if that meant greater security.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The contrast between the professional Democrats' 1960 presidential preference and the choice of the generally nonpolitical Democrats forecast the difficult problem which the party will face at the next national convention, now only 18 months distant.

Ray Tucker

The Democrats on capitol hill, according to recent soundings, seem to prefer Sen. Stuart Symington, Missouri, although at the moment he is an extremely "dark horse." But the latest Gallup poll of Democrats throughout the country shows Adlai E. Stevenson, Illinois, and Sen. John F. Kennedy, Massachusetts, to be running neck and neck, separated by only a few percentage points.

In these same tests of public sentiment, Senator Symington lands near the bottom of the list along with several colleagues—Senators Johnson, Texas; Humphrey, Minnesota; and Gore, Tennessee—and with the gubernatorial bloc of Meyer, New Jersey; Williams, Michigan; and Brown, California.

PROS PREFER TO "PLAY IT SAFE"—The congressional preference for Symington is understandable. It reflects the pros' belief that 1960 will be a Democratic year and that they must "play it safe." They want no repetition of the Madison Square Garden donnybrook of 1924, which also seemed to be a cinch for their nominee.

The Missouri senator has managed to keep aloof from controversies that offend large and influential blocs of voters—the farm, labor, business and racial elements.

Although he generally votes with the liberals, he does not make an act of it. He was re-elected by a tremendous majority last November in "show me Missouri." He rarely engages in debate over controversial or emotional questions. He merely votes on them.

He is sufficiently liberal, according to many reports, to have the backing of former President Truman. Yet, he was an eminently successful industrialist before he ran for public office.

SYMINGTON CRITICAL OF BUDGETARY ECONOMIES—As former secretary of air, Symington's principal interest and activity have centered on the question of national defense. He has been the chief critic of budgetary economies which, in his opinion, have handed military superiority to Russia, especially in rocketry.

Despite Eisenhower-McElroy denials, capitol hill mail and newspaper editorials suggest that Symington has stirred public concern and directed attention to him. Depending on the next 18 months' developments in the "cold war" such as a solution or no settlement of the nuclear disarmament problem, the crisis over Germany, the Formosa Strait war, he may be riding a dark but winning horse in the presidential derby.

In short, assuming that 1960 appears to be a "snoot-in" for the Democrats, and their congressional leaders so believe, the smart and cautious boys in the back room may consider Symington to be an ideal selection. With apologies to the Missourian, the times may require the nomination of an "honest Harding."

KENNEDY BURDENED BY HANDICAPS—In contrast, the popular favorites—Stevenson and Senator Kennedy—are provocative figures through no fault of their own.

The attractive and articulate Illinois lawyer has been defeated twice, and, as he ruefully concedes, "twice is enough." Even such a Stevenson worshipper as Eleanor Roosevelt agrees. She prefers Senator Humphrey, Minnesota, turns thumbs down on Senator Kennedy.

In the opinion of the pros, and especially if 1960 supports their hope and belief, Senator Kennedy has too many handicaps to chance a defeat. They cite his youthful appearance, his religion and all his eager-beaver activities—his many speeches throughout the country (he has appeared in all but two states), his books, his magazine articles, his TV showings.

Even his friends feel that he is too far out in front too soon, making him vulnerable. Headed by Mrs. Roosevelt, certain elements have begun to shoot at him. His prominence, his activities and his abilities make him an obvious target for rivals and enemies.

VIEW OF OTHERS

The December issue of the National Business Woman carried an article on the commendable work of Crossroads Home, in San Diego, to help women alcoholics. The article characterizes alcoholism as "our greatest national killer," and states: "The ratio of women alcoholics is more than one out of three."

Statistics showing that more than one-third of America's 5,000,000 alcoholics are women point to the need for a remedy far more drastic than places where the victims can be helped to recover—communities as these institutions are. Prevention is the prima necessity—getting at the root of the evil. No woman would become a victim to the "disease of alcoholism" if she did not in the first place indulge in alcohol.

Is there any other menace to public health and welfare that can boast of its victims as brazenly without arousing public indignation so vigorous that it will root out the evil? Is there any other "disease" to which people may expose themselves freely and with society's apparent acquiescence although it is branded as the nation's "greatest killer"?

Homes for the victims indicate a compassionate purpose, but they correspond to a demolition squad after the destruction has swept over a city. Why not work at preventing the "disease" and through promoting abstinence from alcoholic drinks save those who would be "exposed" through even moderate indulgence? Why expose the "one out of three"—to say nothing of the other two?

It is time something more effective be done than taking remedial measures after the victims are counted. Millions are being spent by the liquor interests to promote drinking—to make it appear the only socially acceptable thing to do. Women are the special targets of a new campaign to increase the use of intoxicants—and the need for homes to care for the victims. Women might well launch a counteroffensive. A new temperance drive is the need of the hour—Christian Science Monitor.

HE'S GOT A NAME FOR 'EM

The kids cannot be expected to care much, but Dr. Gary S. Becker of Columbia university has a word for them. American children, Dr. Becker told a recent conference sponsored by the National Bureau of Economic Research, have become "consumer durables." I.e., they are investments that cost their parents more than they return.

A generation or two ago it was different. Then a baby could be considered in Dr. Becker's words, a "producer durable" meaning that the net cost of raising him would be less than could be expected of returning from work around the farm or from support of the parents in old age. Now, a parent can count on the credit side little more than the pleasure of having children, Dr. Becker says. He calls this "psychic income."

If Dr. Becker is a father, he should know there is also a certain amount of what he might call "psychic outgo." And, whatever the state of the psychic balance sheet, he can bet his dictionary that American parents will go right on having "consumer durables" to the consternation of the school boards.—Portland Oregonian.

PENICILLIN AND DDT

Penicillin, the "miracle drug" which a decade ago was considered the first of a life-saving line of antibiotics, is currently in the doghouse.

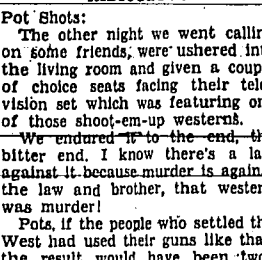

Like DDT in combating flies, penicillin has lost some of its punch. Many germs have developed a resistance to it and infections have persisted in spite of its use.

Some doctors are calling for abolition of the use of penicillin or at least for a moratorium. Dr. Michael L. Mason of Northwestern university points out, however, that the antibiotic remains a useful agent. Used more sparingly, inpatient employing other protective measures, it will remain effective in many cases.

Patients can help by not insisting on being given "shots" for minor infections.—Salt Lake Tribune.

POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON—The contrast between the professional Democrats' 1960 presidential preference and the choice of the generally nonpolitical Democrats forecast the difficult problem which the party will face at the next national convention, now only 18 months distant.

Pot Shots

The other night we went calling on some friends, were ushered into the living room and given a couple of choice seats facing their television set which was featuring one of those shoot-em-up westerns.

We endured it to the end, the bitter end. I know there's a law against it because murder is against the law and brother, that western was murder!

Pots, if the people who settled the West had used their guns like that, the result would have been twofold: They would have used up all the available lead in this country and there wouldn't have been any of them left to settle the West.

It's ridiculous!

I Watched Westbrock Pegler editorial or ecle. Westbrock Pegler neglected to state that the late John J. Dempsey was a spectacular scoundrel and traitor to his responsibility as cop and citizen. Such material would have lent aroma, not to say stench, to Dempsey's biography, and the lack is here adjoined out of reference for the peoples' right to know.

Brother Dempsey was chosen general secretary-treasurer by another conscientious criminal, the late Paddy Morrin, or Morin, believed to have been originally Paddy Moran. Brother Morrin went to Leavenworth from St. Louis, the grand headquarters of the union, in 1914 for transporting dynamite across state lines.

This was one of the echoes of the historic destruction of the Los Angeles Times by the McNamara brothers of Indianapolis in 1910. James B. McNamara was sent to San Quentin for the Times affair

Paddy's pension and others, including later the pension of brother Dempsey, provoked sullen discontent among the horny-handed toilers in the folds. Dempsey was awarded a pension of $12,000 against the possibility of his retirement plus $25 a day for hypothetical expenses.

This was deemed insufficient by his brethren of the official roster, so by resolution they raised it to $15,000 plus $25 a day or $24,125. In the same generous mood, brother

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

J. H. Lyons, the august general president of the Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers' union, has composed a lamentation of the death of his organization's general secretary-treasurer, an old-time Cincinnati bootlegger and renegade cop of the city police force, who was adjudged guilty in the federal court and fined $1,000, and went on to a richer and finer life as a defender of labor's gains.

Writing ex cathedra under the seal of his great office, in a slick paper journal, Lyons recounted much interesting, though humdrum data from the conspect career of this dedicated hoodlum, who was called to his reward last Dec. 20.

But by some editorial or ecle. Westbrock Pegler neglected to state that the late John J. Dempsey was a spectacular scoundrel and traitor to his responsibility as cop and citizen. The way children go to sleep at night varies from child to child. Some angels ones say their prayers, kiss goodnight, turn over and sleep. Some do not. There are those who lie awake singing to themselves, talking to their dolls until sleep overtakes them. Some keep calling for a drink, complain they are cold or hot, or the one who must keep running back and forth until merciful sleep descends upon the sleep-fighter.

Catholic Solon Is Against U.S. Vatican Envoy

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy, D. Mass., a Roman Catholic, says he firmly believes in the constitutional separation of church and state.

And he adds that he does not favor an American ambassador to the Vatican.

The 41-year-old senator is considered a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, despite the fact that no Catholic has ever been elected to the White House.

Senator Quoted
Quoting his views as a senator on religion and the constitution, Kennedy is quoted in Look magazine today as saying, "Whatever one's religion in his private life may be, for the office holder nothing takes precedence over his oath to uphold the constitution and all its parts."

On the question of school aid, Kennedy said, "The first amendment to the constitution is an infinitely wise one. There can be no question of federal funds being used for support of parochial or private schools."

Opposes Church Aid
"It's unconstitutional under the first amendment as interpreted by the supreme court. I'm opposed to the federal government's extending support to sustain any church or its schools."

"As for such fringe matters as buses, lunches and other services, the issue is primarily social and economic and not religious. Each case must be judged on its merits within the law as interpreted by the courts," he said.

Cypriots Show Balking Signs For New Plan

LONDON, Feb. 16 (UPI)—Greek Cypriot leaders showed signs of balking at quick acceptance of the proposed Cyprus independence plan today on the eve of a tri-partite conference to set the island free.

Sir Hugh Foot, governor of Cyprus, conferred for 40 minutes with Archbishop Makarios today to establish official British contact with the exiled Cypriot religious leader.

Foot visited the archbishop shortly after he met with the Greek, Turkish and British foreign ministers in their final round of preliminary talks.

Greek Cypriots complain
Greek Cypriot leaders, meanwhile, went to Makarios' hotel suite to complain that they had not been consulted on the plan drawn up by the Greek and Turkish prime ministers.

They told newsmen they were distressed at Britain's demand for sovereignty over British bases on Cyprus.

"That would not be independence," Dr. Themistocles Dervas, mayor of Nicosia and leader of the Greek Cypriot delegation, told newsmen later.

Lease Possibility Hinted
He said Britain might be able to lease their bases from an independent Cyprus, but that the question would be studied in further conferences with Makarios.

"We have come to London to look over the Greek-Turkish agreement from the point of view of the Cypriot people," he said, "not the Greek and Turkish people. We have not been consulted before this."

Makarios, who has been mentioned as the first president of an independent Cyprus, was to join the foreign ministers talks tomorrow.

Littler Wins Second Major Purse in Row

TUCSON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A 250-yard approach that stopped eight feet from the 18th pin clinched the $15,000 Tucson Open and his second tournament in a row for Gene Littler Sunday.

It didn't matter that his putt left a single stopped an inch short. Littler tapped in a birdie and won 2-0.

"That wood shot was the key to my tourney," he grinned.

The San Diego, Calif., pro trailed Eddie Joe Campbell by six strokes and Art Wall, Jr., by three going into the final round.

Both leaders faltered, soaring over Littler's second shot was pin high. Campbell needed a 40-foot putt for an eagle and a tie. He missed by a foot but got a birdie.

Littler's 14-under-par 65-68-66-68 was two strokes better than his finishing total at Phoenix the week before.

Campbell and Wall tied with 287s. Campbell's 66-64-65-73 was good for 130. So was Wall's 66-64-67-70.

Wall remains the big money winner of the tour with $14,950. Littler moved into second place with $7,063.

Matter's champion Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., Bill Johnston, Irvine, Utah, and Doug Sanders, Miami Beach, closed with sub-par rounds and 12-under-par 268s. They shared their $900 each.

Bengals Rated Cinch For Seventh Crown

By The Associated Press
It's little more than 400 miles from Pocatello, Ida., to Golden, Colo., but flying that distance will be the hardest part of Idaho State's quest for a seventh straight Rocky Mountain conference basketball crown. The first-place Bengals make the journey for a Feb. 27-28 series against Colorado Mines, which has lost 10 straight league games. I-State all but clinched the title last week-end in gaining a split in a pair of games at stubborn Colorado State college. The Bears went into overtime to hand the Bengals their first league loss Friday night 84-81, then fell to the Invaders 73-61 Saturday night.

Baker to Test Young Hunter In Heavy Bout

By The Associated Press
Bob Baker, once the No. 1 challenger but now an unranked heavy, will test newcomer Billy Hunter of Detroit in the Monday night boxing feature at St. Nicholas arena in New York.

Baker has fought them all, building up a 51-14-1 record, but he has faltered at the last hurdle time after time. Now he is back among the also-rans.

Third place Colorado college salvaged a split in its week-end series with Western State Mountaineers. After bowing 80-72 Friday night, the Tigers came back for a 71-53 triumph behind the one-two scoring punch of 6-5 Art Ackerman and Ron McCarty.

The Adams State Indians swept past the Miners 89-77 and 78-68 for their fourth and fifth league victories against seven losses.

Five league games are scheduled this week, with Idaho State stepping out of the conference to meet perennially tough Seattle. That game will be played Saturday night at Pocatello.

Colorado's college invades Mines Tuesday night. Western State is at Mines and Colorado State college goes to Adams State Friday night, with repeat performances scheduled Saturday night.

The Bengals had a 40-42 advantage with 12 minutes remaining in the CSC game. But the Bears pulled up to 51-47 before their rally died.

I-State then went into a ball control style of play and slipped away easily. C-State trailed the entire distance. The Bengals, with a 28-20 margin on field shots, were less powerful "at the free throw mark, where they made only 17 of 24 while C-State was sinking 21 of 29.

Jumping Star Predicts New World Record
NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—John Thomas calmly predicted today he will high jump 7 feet, 1 1/2 inches in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field championships Saturday.

No one in history ever has propelled himself that high—indoors or outdoors.

The world outdoor record is 7-1 by the Soviet union's Yuri (Elevator Shoe) Stepanov.

The amazing 17-year-old Boston university freshman cleared an even seven-feet for the second time in "three weeks" in the New York Athletic club games in Madison Square Garden last Saturday and just did miss at 7-1 1/2.

"But I think I'll do it at the AAU championships," said the 6-4 1/2 Thomas. "I was disappointed that I didn't do it in the New York AC meet. I don't know what happened to me."

After clearing seven feet he's still the only man alive to make the height indoors. Thomas tried for 7-1 1/2. He missed all three tries, but barely touched the crossbar on the second effort.

"I feel a lot better now that I've done seven feet twice," he observed. "I don't feel so nervous about it."

Even if he never does beat seven feet, Thomas' mark is certain to be recognized by the AAU. When he jumped seven feet for the first time in the Milwaukee meet, officials forgot to measure the cross bar as required by the rules in the confusion.

This time, a whole horde of them raced to the bar as soon as John went over. Tape measures appeared from all over. It definitely was official.

Rigney and his wife were injured in a car crash one week ago in Berkeley. The Giants' manager, who has a broken jaw, is expected to join his National league baseball team in Phoenix about March 1.

His face contorted by strain, Don Bragg clears the bar at 15 feet, 9 1/2 inches to set a new world record for the indoor pole vault. Bragg, a former Villanova university vaulter and now with the U. Unbeaten Auburn Set For Big Kentucky Go

By The Associated Press
What happens when college basketball's only unbeaten team plays a road game against a school that has lost only six of 118 home games in the last 16 years? The answer comes when Auburn, the invincible, plays Kentucky, the mighty, in the Wildcats' lair at Lexington Saturday night.

With the cooperation of much-whipped Tulane tonight, Auburn will take a 30-game unbeaten string into the Adolph down of night against Sholow Rupp's precision-coached gang. By way of warming up for it, Kentucky has nulled its last 23 home games dating back to a loss in the Kentucky Invitational to West Virginia Dec. 20, 1957.

Within a week, there ought to be a pretty good indication of how the ball seems to be bouncing for the two big tournaments—the NCAA and the National Invitation—next month.

Auburn, at home against Tulane tonight and at its peak after thrashing LSU in a school record 115-67 turkey-shoot, figures to carry an 11-0 Southeastern conference slate against Kentucky. It Kentucky hurdles its Wednesday date with Vanderbilt, the Cats will be 9-2. With those two losses, Kentucky may wind up no better than third in the SEC behind Auburn and once-beaten Mississippi State.

But because of Auburn's NCAA probation and the custom that prohibits Mississippi universities from competing against teams with Negroes, Kentucky may still get the nod to represent the conference in the NCAA tournament Rupp and company bagged for the fourth time last year.

St. Louis is at Bradley tonight in the second part of their home-and-home duel to decide the challenger to Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley conference. St. Louis, riding a 14-game winning streak with its 16-2 record, took the first one last week but still trails Cincinnati by a game.

Kansas State can clinch at least a tie for the Big Eight title and another NCAA appearance with victories over Oklahoma tonight and over Oklahoma State Saturday afternoon.

Bobby Kearns, Penn basketball player, is a younger brother of Mike Kearns, former Princeton captain.

U.S. Bobsled Champ Leader Plans to Quit

ST. MORTIZ, Switzerland, Feb. 16 (UPI)—Bobsled champion Art Tyler retired on advice from Art "the boss" today but left himself an "out" just in case his wife changes her mind.

The 43-year-old physicist from Weston, Mass., piloted his home-made sled to the world bobsledding championship yesterday, and then, after a hurried conference with his wife, Agnes, announced he was retiring from the dangerous sport.

Tyler and his crew of Gary Sheffield of Lake Placid, N. Y., Parker Vooris of Bellmore, N. Y., and Marine Lieut. Tom Butler of Saranac Lake, N. Y., captured the title with an aggregate of five minutes, 10.82 seconds for four runs down the twisting, one-mile St. Moritz Olympic chute.

An Italian sled captained by Sergio Zardini was second and a German sled skippered by Franz Schelle was third. The other U.S. sled, piloted by Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N. Y., was eighth in the field of 13 sleds from eight countries.

After the race Tyler said that he was ready to sign a written promise to his wife not to race any more, but the manner in which he said it indicated that it wouldn't take much persuasion to get him out again.

"Yes, it means that I'm retiring," Tyler said after the race, "although you never can tell whether the bobsledding bug won't bite you again. My crew will surely try to get me back next winter, especially that Butler, if I don't miss my guess."

Olmedo to Compete In Outdoor Event
NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—Alejandro Olmedo will try to show Americans this week that his spectacular tennis triumphs in Australia were no fluke.

In his first competitive venture since he almost singlehandedly won the Davis Cup and then added the Australian national title, the 22-year-old Peruvian will face a class international field in the U. S. indoor championships starting Thursday.

Weber Clings To Lead; Race Remains Close
By The Associated Press
The big difference as the Intermountain conference heads into the final two weeks of play is that league-leading Weber (8-1) has three home games remaining while second-place Dixie (7-2) has three on the road.

Boise (4-8) visits Weber Monday and the Wildcats entertain Southern Utah (5-3) Friday before winding up the season with Snow (5-5) in the Ogden gym Feb. 27. Dixie visits Snow Friday, Carbon (3-9) Saturday and winds up at Southern Utah on the 27th.

Weber jeopardized its title hopes briefly in Price Saturday night by letting the Carbon quint take a 98-time margin. But the Ogdenites scrambled back behind the shooting of league-leader Allen Holmes in the second half for a 61-48 victory. Holmes got 21 points.

In Cedar City, Southern Utah pounded Reks (5-6) for an 80-65 win as Joe Costella sank 23 and Paul Rasmussen added 19. Wade Anderson collected 13 for the Vikings. The score was 31-all at the half.

A smooth Snow offense proved the undoing of Boise JC in Ephraim and the Badgers collected a 74-46 triumph from the Broncos.

High Games Mark Bowling Congress
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 16 (AP)—Games of 280 and 279 provided the excitement in the second day of the 56th annual American Bowling Congress tournament.

The 280 game was turned in by John Parsons, a 29-year-old painter from Louisville, Ky. The score helped put Parsons and his partner, Jacques Curwen, in first place in the doubles division.

Parsons' 682 series and Curwen's 590 also gave them 1252 total.

The 279 game was ruled by Harvey Barnhill of East St. Louis, Ill. Metropolitan Clothing of Dayton kept its grip on first place in the open division with 2955, although it received a minor threat of 2910 by Ode's Television and Radio of Detroit.

Bears Retain Top In Coast Race on Pair of Victories

By The Associated Press
To no one's surprise, the California Bears are still on top in the Pacific Coast conference basketball race after another full round of action. The Bears, aiming at their third straight conference title, bowled over hapless Oregon Friday, 83-55, and once-formidable UCLA on Saturday, 64-51. The two victories put them a full game in front of Washington and the only way the Huskies can catch California is with the help of some other teams. Washington has already met the Bears twice this season and lost on both occasions.

Stanford, coming on with a late season spurt, kept itself in mathematical contention, one and a half games off the pace by repeating California victories over UCLA and Oregon. UCLA fell to the Indians, 69-61, and Oregon lost, 64-53.

Washington easily beat Oregon State 75-59 in its only week-end game with Doug Smart's 20 points leading the way.

Southern California split a week-end pair in the north. The Trojans clipped Idaho 69-65 Friday, but dropped a close 77-75 contest to Washington State when Jim Ross tossed in a 25-foot jump shot in the last eight seconds.

California's victory over UCLA gave the Bears an 8-2 record in PCC play. The Bruins salvaged some consolation from the performance of their ace guard, Walk Torrence. He got 23 points and leads the PCC individual scoring races with 227 points.

Washington State had a 40-37 halftime edge on Southern Cal and the Trojans kept up the pressure until the final gun.

Ross with deadeye shooting and sparkling floor play provided the spur the Cougars needed to keep rolling against the coast squad.

John Maras stuffed in 24 points for the Cougars and John Werhas bucketed the same number for the Trojans. Frank Reed of WSC had 17 and Ross collected 14-10 in the second half.

The Cougars had the margin on field shots, 31-27, but Southern Cal sank 21 of 28 free shots and W-State hit 15 of 26.

Upset Boosts Utes' Chances In Title Race
By The Associated Press
The first major upset of the Skyline conference basketball war may have opened the door to the throne room for Utah's Redskins.

But the fact that an upset dethroned their nearest rival is reason enough in itself for the Utes to fear their important Thursday night invasion of Denver University.

Denver fell 60-52 to resurgent Colorado State university Saturday night while Utah was idle.

The loss knocked the Pioneers further off the pace in their quest of their first Skyline crown. They now have won seven, lost two, while Utah is unbeaten in eight games. That Thursday night affair is a must for Denver if it is to remain in the chase.

With the campaign more than half over, only Utah State figures in the race for the title, barring a reversal of form for Utah.

The Uags took over undisputed third place with a 74-67 conquest of Brigham Young that gave the victors a record of five wins, three losses. Colorado State's Rams are next with a five-four mark.

Defending champion Wyoming came alive in the only other game Saturday night. With reserves carrying the scoring chores, the Cowboys halied a 10-game losing streak and pulled New Mexico into a tie for the cellar with a 51-64 triumph at Laramie.

The Lobos now have lost eight straight. Denver's loss was its first in seven games.

Two players were ejected for fighting in the wild defense scrap at Fort Collins, where Denver went without a basket for 12 minutes. The Pioneers led 43-42 with 10 minutes left, but CSU scored eight straight points to take charge.

Sophomore Toby Richards and 6-5 senior Chuck Newcomb rained in 36 points between them for the winners.

Russ Writer Wants to Be "Left Alone"

MOSCOW, Feb. 16 (UPI)—Russian poet-writer Boris Pasternak, perturbed by the undesirable publicity stirred up by his poem "The Nobel Prize" asked last night to be left alone and to concentrate on his work and seek reinstatement in the Soviet Writers Union.

The 60-year-old Pasternak was ousted from the union because he was the author of a controversial novel "Dr. Zhivago" for which he was awarded the 1958 Nobel prize for literature. Pasternak rejected the award and the $40,000 prize that went with it after coming under heavy fire from his countrymen.

Indignation Repeated
Pasternak reiterated his indignation with a British reporter when he said he betrayed his trust by publishing the poem, interpreted in the West of indicating Pasternak's determination to continue his fight for freedom of expression.

Pasternak said he gave the reporter the poem to deliver to a friend in Paris, did not authorize its publication.

"I just want to be left alone and do my work," Pasternak said last night, with considerable annoyance.

No More Interviews Due
It was the second time in three days that he said he would grant no more interviews to foreign correspondents.

In a signed statement given to this reporter, Pasternak said: "I wish to concentrate and work for some time, perhaps for a long time. This partly explains my refusal to see foreign journalists. My poem 'Nobel Prize' was composed at the height of a difficult anxious period at the end of October. (The award was announced Oct. 23.)"

The concluding lines of the poem were harmless in conception but since they were vaguely worded they permitted false interpretation.

In the last stanza, Pasternak wrote that he is "near my grave" but that the time will come "when the spirit of good will conquer wickedness and infamy."

Records Given Of T. F. Herds During Month

Sixty-four dairy herd owners, two more than in December, were keeping official records in the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement association for January. There was a total of 1,880 cows in the 64 herds of which 1,520 were milking and 360 were dry.

Average production of the 1,880 was 870 pounds of milk and 24.4 pounds of butterfat. There were 29 herds above this butterfat average. The 35 herds below this average had 277 of the 360 dry cows, or about 77 per cent.

Two of the herds averaged more than 50 pounds. Three cows of mixed breeds owned by Gary Custer, Twin Falls, all milking averaged 55.7. Custer is a student at the University of Idaho. He milked six cows in his vocational agriculture program in high school but culled down to three. The three produce as much butterfat as the average herd of five.

A herd of 36 grade Holsteins owned by Walter Kaes of Buhl all milking had an average of 53.9. The Kaes herd also had the highest average of milk 1448 pounds per cow.

While there were 779 individual cows that produced more than 40 pounds of butterfat there were only 18 herds above that figure. In third place was the Schaer brothers herd, Castletford, 19 grade Holsteins, all milking, that averaged 48.9; and 47 registered and grade Holsteins, with eight dry, owned by T. W. Richmond of Buhl, that averaged 48. Ray Melsner, Buhl, had an average of 45.8 from 16 grade Holsteins, with one dry.

In sixth place was the nine registered and grade Holsteins, all milking, owned by Jonathan Aldritt of Kimberly that averaged 45.5. James Lauda, Buhl, had an average of 45.2 from 15 grade Holsteins with one dry. The Soren Hesselholt herd of Castletford, with 85 cows of mixed breeds, eight dry, averaged 44.7. Everett Aldritt, Kimberly with 13 registered and grade Holsteins, one dry, averaged 43.3; and Lammers Dairy herd, Buhl, with 67 grade Holsteins, 12 dry, averaged 43.1.

Other herd owners with average butterfat production above 40 pounds include Roger Vincent, Filer, herd number one; Dan Kauffman, Filer; Tom Walker, Twin Falls; J. J. Kauffman, Twin Falls; Joe Gorman, Buhl; L. D. Major, Buhl; Dean Smith, Buhl, and Roger Vincent's herd number two.

The high milk-producing cow in unit number one, under the testing supervision of Harley King, is owned by Soren Hesselholt, Castletford. "Liza," a grade Holstein, produced 2,780 pounds of milk. The high cow for butterfat in this unit was "Number 21," a grade Holstein owned by Lammers Dairy, Buhl, that averaged 86.8. In unit number two, under the testing supervision of Virgil Worcester, Twin Falls, Young's Dairy farm had the high milk producer in "Number 73," a grade Holstein that made 2,460 pounds. The high butterfat cow in this unit was "Loretta," a registered Holstein that had a yield of 101.9 pounds, owned by J. J. Kauffman of Twin Falls.

Two new members were added during the month, Walter Kaes and Frank Farn, Buhl. Alvin Smutny has moved from Buhl to Kimberly and Roger Vincent with his herd number two makes an addition of two herds in that unit.

Claim That 'Ike' Is Best Cook Of White House Is Questioned

By HENRY McLEMORE
There can be little doubt that President Eisenhower is a handy man with a skillet, but claims by those who have eaten his dishes that he is the best cook ever to occupy the White House are open to question.

Without trying to take anything from Ike's proficiency in the kitchen, those of us who have made a serious study of presidents as cooks are forced to ask "On what is this reputation based?"

The answer must be "broiled trout and broiled quail."

These are the only two dishes, as far as the public records show, that President Eisenhower has cooked since he took office. He might have back through state papers and you will discover that Van Buren liked nothing better than to slip away from a cabinet meeting and whip up a soufflé or ragout. Tasty ones, too, or so I have been given to understand.

Some culinary historians believe that Calvin Coolidge had the makings of a blue ribbon chef, and was held back only by his thrift. It is said that he couldn't bear to use more than one egg in an omelet, one tomato in a salad, and one dumpling in a stew.

If George Washington was much of a cook, proof is hidden in the years. There is no mention of food in any of his addresses, and he crossed the Delaware without even so much as a sandwich in his pocket or a thermos of coffee to warm him.

Theodore Roosevelt was a good cook, but was strictly a barbecue man. He loved the out-of-doors and a campfire, and something like cut of lion steak or an elephant foot was his idea of good fare. There was little or no subtlety in his dishes.

Historians are unable to agree on either Millard Fillmore or James K. Polk. Some say that Fillmore had no equal on strawberry shortcake, and others are equally firm in their belief that even a simple waffle was beyond him.

The same is true of Polk. For every student who vouches for his skill at the range, there is one who scoffs at his even trying his hand at milk toast.

Debates like these only add to the pliancy of the study of presidential cooking.
