Britain's Prime Minister Challenges Statesman of World to Cut War Danger

MOSCOW, Feb. 21 (AP)—As a guest of the Kremlin, British Prime Minister Macmillan might challenge the statesmen of the world to reduce the danger of war that might arise through "miscalculation or muddle." The first British prime minister to visit Moscow since the war, Macmillan arrived wearing a light gray fur hat that delighted the Russians. He and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd

Jaycee Award Event Set Here Wednesday

Three distinguished service awards will be presented by the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce at the annual awards banquet planned for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the club. The awards will go to a senior citizen, junior citizen and the outstanding young farmer of the Twin Falls area, says Henry Wills, chairman for the annual event. Roy Arnold, Boise, will be guest speaker. He received the Boise Junior Chamber of Commerce award in 1954 and was one of who will be the featured speaker at the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award banquet here Wednesday night. The event starts at 7:30 p.m. at the Turf club. Arnold, who has been an active member of the Boise Jaycees, also has served in national offices. Three distinguished awards will be given at the banquet, says Henry Wills, chairman. ## Wheat Group Chooses New Leaders Here

The newly-organized Twin Falls county wheatgrowers association elected David Chadwick president and the board of directors met yesterday afternoon. Ervud Kunkel was named vice president and was endorsed by the group as a member of the state wheat commission. Rex Reed, Pifer, Harold Savage, Murtaugh, was named a director to replace Les Peterson, and Murtaugh, who does not wish to raise wheat.

State Couple Is Missing on Trip to Area

Magie Valley peace officers were alerted Saturday night to watch for a missing Nampa business college operator and his wife who left home Wednesday for a business trip to Gooding. Gooding County Deputy Sheriff Guy Coles said H. R. Gardner, 72, and his wife, 65, left their Nampa home about 2 p.m. Wednesday for a 5 p.m. appointment in Gooding with Marvel Edholm to discuss the possibility of Edholm's daughter attending the Nampa school.

Yanama Municipal 'Revolt' Collapses

PANAMA, Feb. 21 (AP)—A municipal revolt in this capital apparently collapsed today under vigorous attacks by the national government. The government named a city council to supplant a rebel council and sent armed troops to city hall in a show of force. The revolutionary municipal junta selected council, including Chairman Carlos Ennoch Adames, and about 80 supporters, filed out of city hall under the watchful eyes of the troops. The junta had held out in city since seizing it Wednesday. The junta demanded the ouster of the 15-man council elected in 1956, charging it of mishandling city funds. The uprising won a partial victory because the elected council opposed pending investigation.

LAW REPEALED

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—The legislature has repealed the state's law on interracial marriage. The measure has gone to Gov. Robert Fisher for his signature. An old law prohibited marriage of whites with mongolians, Negroes and mulattoes.

17 KILLED

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia, Feb. 21 (AP)—Three Europeans and 14 Africans were killed Friday-night when they fell 200 feet.

$13,960 Paid for 29 Angus at Filer Sale

FILER, Feb. 21—A total of $13,960 was paid here today for 29 bulls and heifers in the third annual Idaho Aberdeen Angus Breeders association sale. A top price of $1,000 was paid by the Idaho Livestock company, Challis, for a bull owned by J. D. Remsburg, Rupert. Top heifer price of $600 was paid by W. O. Henry and sons, Gooding, for an animal consigned by I-Del Angus farm, Twin Falls. The average price for 29 head was $485. Thirteen heifers brought $4,725, an average of $363. A total of $9,235 was paid for 16 bulls, an average of $577.

Permit Taken Here 30-Days For Speeding

Donald L. Ledbetter, 16, Kimberly, appeared in Twin Falls police court Saturday on a charge of speeding. His driver's license was suspended for 30 days and he was assessed $3 in court costs. Ledbetter was cited by city police Friday for driving 63 in a 50-mile zone in the 300 block of Addison avenue west.

Attack Aimed At Ending of Nixon Group

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—An attack aimed at scuttling an anti-discrimination committee headed by Vice President Nixon appears to be shaping up in congress. The group, called the committee on government contracts, has the assignment of trying to prevent racial discrimination in the hiring policies of government contractors. It works mostly through persuasion. Established by Ike President Eisenhower established the committee several years ago by executive order. As part of his civil rights program, he asked congress to give it legal status. The senate Republican leader, Everett Dirksen of Illinois, said today such opposition has developed he now doubts the senate judiciary committee will approve Eisenhower's request.

FBI to Probe Area Incident

BURLEY, Feb. 21—The FBI has been called in to assist in investigating destruction of property last week-end at the bureau of land management fire lookout tower at Kimama butte, 12 miles northeast of Paul. The district grazing office of the bureau here reported that vandals shot up and broke into the tower, cabin and radio shelter, causing scattered damage and tampering with a radio transmitter and causing it to go off the air. A high-powered rifle, a 22 caliber rifle and a .38 caliber pistol were used by the vandals, Mindkoda county Sheriff Theo A. Johnson reported. The shots broke windows and one bullet narrowly missed hitting the $7,000 transmitter. A haap was broken from the radio shelter door to enter the building. Radio equipment was not damaged, however.

Senate and House Differ on Splitting Funds for Schools

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Senators and representatives of the Idaho legislature differed sharply today about how to split up 27 million dollars in state aid to school districts. One senator said a house bill introduced Friday "will make the rich districts richer and the poor districts poorer." At issue in the dispute were two bills. The house measure and one introduced today in the senate, setting up formulas for distribution of the school money. Both are tailored to 27 million dollars, the amount recommended by the joint finance-education committee. This amount is 5 million dollars more than the current appropriation, but $5,500,000 less than educators are seeking.

Two Senators Shout Over Beer Tax Curb

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Two senators shouted at each other and a representative read a prepared protest today over the decapitation in the Idaho legislature of a bill to double the tax on beer. The bill would have hiked the tax from $3.10 to $6.20 a barrel. It was killed in the house Friday when opponents succeeded in striking out its enacting clause. Lieut. Gov. W. E. Drevlow had to pound his gavel repeatedly to hammer down today's shouting match between Sen. Carl Burt, R., Ada, and Arthur Murphy, D., Shoshone.

No Inquest Is Planned Into Traffic Death

SHOSHONE, Feb. 21—No inquest will be held in the traffic death of Melvin Turner, Sun Valley employe, according to Lincoln county's coroner, Dr. R. G. Neher. Mr. Turner was driving an auto that sidestepped a 1955 Mack truck on highway 26 west of Shoshone late Thursday night. The 20-year-old youth died at 12:15 a.m. in Gooding Memorial hospital where he was taken following the accident. Fatality No. 9 for Magie Valley, and was the second highway death in three days for Lincoln county. Tuesday morning, Frank R. Shepard, 56, Hatley, was killed in a lone car accident on highway 63 north of Shoshone. Three other passengers in the Turner car were only slightly injured. They are Betty Davis, 18, and Edward Cutler, 18, both Hatley, and Linda Johnson, 18, Ketchikan.

Fisherman Is Rescued, but Gear Is Gone

BUHL, Feb. 21—A wet Buhl fisherman went home from a Snake river angling trip Saturday afternoon with no fish, no boat and no fishing equipment after being rescued from the river by law enforcement officers. Sheriff James H. Benham reported Guy Terrill went fishing about two miles below Clear Lake bridge north of Buhl Saturday afternoon and attempted to get to some rocks in the middle of the stream. As he started to step from his rubber boat, the boat lunged backwards and left Terrill clinging to the peak in the middle of the swift current. Fishing a buoy, distance away were Dr. Richard Smith, Twin Falls, and his wife. At first Dr. Smith thought he was hearing some youngsters whistling nearby, but later spotted the stranded Terrill waving a white handkerchief. Dr. Smith called for help and Deputy Sheriff Curtis Fryor went to the scene. Fryor radioed the Twin Falls sheriff's office for equipment. Sheriff Benham took rope and an inner tube to the rescue. Benham waded out into the stream above the stranded man, and let the tube attached to a rope float downstream. After several attempts, the tube found its mark and Terrill crawled aboard. He was pulled to safety by officers who arrived to assist. They included Fryor, Benham, Wayne Hankins, Buhl Chief of Police T. M. Kendrick and State Patrolman Richard Brown. Sheriff Benham said the wet fisherman showed no ill effects other than disappointment over losing his boat and fishing gear.

Win Awards

RUPERT, Feb. 21—Ronald Brown and Wendell Johnson were given special awards Friday night by the Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce for outstanding community service. Brown's award was given for his work on the merchant's committee of the organization and other community activities. Johnson's award was for work with youth, including the development of a recreational park. He is chairman of the hospital board and past president of the Lions club and the Chamber of Commerce. Awards were presented by Hugh Short.

Chief of Staff Asking Force Mobilizations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The army chief of staff says the United States has all the strength necessary to resist force in Berlin "if we are willing to mobilize it and do so in time." "Mobilize the entire nation?" asked Sen. Russell B. Long, D., La. Can't Play Around. "Yes," replied Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor at a secret hearing Feb. 2. "You cannot play around in this business unless you have a lot of blue chips in your pocket. This is unlimited poker." The exchange was included in testimony made public tonight by the senate disarmament subcommittee. Long questioning Taylor about Western ability to maintain its position in Western Berlin referred to earlier testimony that Soviet bloc conventional forces greatly outnumber those of the West. No Blue Chips. "But I heard you make that statement a moment ago that as it stands now, you do not have any blue chips to give away," Long said. Taylor replied that "we do not have standing forces," but "we have a mobilization base, in proved reserve forces, and so on." This was an apparent reference to reserve and national guard forces in addition to the army's own regular divisions. TANKER TO BE GLUED LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Moscow radio reports an experimental 100-ton oil tanker made of plastic sections glued together will be built soon in Leningrad.

Firm Ruled Out; T.F. County Revaluation Handed to Tax Commission

Apparently convinced that a professional assessing firm cannot be used to revalue the county rural, urban and industrial property, Twin Falls county commissioners urged Friday that a revaluation program required by state law be carried out by the assessor in cooperation with the state tax commission. Clifford Thompson, county assessor, stated the revaluation program was proposed under the tax commission can come in and conduct the job. A week ago, Thompson, and commissioners Russell C. (Bud) Hensley, Henry Crow and Harold Hensley, believed that the county had the right to contract with a professional assessing firm to undertake a three-year program of county property revaluation. A 1955 state law requires all Idaho counties to complete a revaluation program by 1961. No steps were taken in Twin Falls county to comply with the law until Larsen and Lancaster became commissioners in January. Thompson has favored for some time hiring the Justin H. Haynes and company, Denver, to undertake the program at a cost of $127,500, believing that experienced, trained assessors could revalue the county's property more equitably than local men quickly schooled for the job. A tentative agreement between the county and the Denver firm was already prepared when County Processing Attorney Edward Babcock, in answer to a query from Thompson about whether he or the commissioners could contract for the professional assessing, wrote Thompson that "the authority, duty and responsibility for the assessment and valuation of property are 'integral parts' of the assessor's duties and cannot be delegated to contract or otherwise to other persons." Babcock noted that the 1955 law authorizes the state tax commission to provide county assessors with supervision and technical assistance to carry out a revaluation program. Particularly since the law refers to the supervision and assistance available to assessors from the state tax commission, Babcock believes that the law rules out the possibility of hiring a professional assessment firm to do the work. The commissioners stated Friday that the only alternative remaining for the county is to have the assessor initiate a program of revaluation with the assistance of the state tax commission as provided for under the laws of the state. Stating that they have studied Babcock's opinion, the commissioners continued "we are convinced... that neither the board of county commissioners nor the county assessor can legally enter into a contract with a private appraisal firm for the revaluation under the present laws. Since receiving Babcock's opinion, the commissioners stated, further investigation of the entire revaluation question has been made. A representative of the county held a conference with the attorney general's office and personnel of the state tax commission and found that, since the enactment of the revaluation program by the legislature, 30 counties of the 44 in the state have initiated revaluation programs with the assistance of the state tax commission. The commissioners have been informed that the only county which contracted with a private firm to carry out its program, Caribou, has not yet completed its revaluation and "the method by which the same has been done has not been accepted or approved by the state tax commission or sustained by the courts." When the commissioners met Friday morning, several county residents were on hand to discuss the revaluation program with them. The visitors formally approved hiring a professional firm. When asked about the prosecuting attorney's opinion Monday, Thompson said, "I regret it very much." He made it clear Friday, however, that he felt Babcock's opinion was aimed at protecting the county citizens involved by preventing them from taking illegal steps.

Solons Differ Over Split for School Funds

The dispute is shaping up as one between large and small districts, with the small ones favoring the house version because they tend to have more assessed valuation per child.
The house approved today by a vote of 36-13 a bill raising salaries of supreme court justices from $10,500 to $12,500 per year and district judges from $9,500 to $10,500. All but two of those voting against the increase were Democrats. The measure replaced one killed by the house earlier in the session which would have given judges an increase of 3 per cent of their base pay for each year's experience up to 15 years.
The house also passed a bill authorizing issuance of new building bonds, providing some of the two million dollars in bonds now outstanding are liquidated, which the administration says it expects to do. Two million is the present bonded limit.
Sen. F. W. Bergeson, R., Bingham, led the attack on the house version of the school aid formula.
He said the joint senate and house educational committee had asked the state department of education for a bill to provide hardship factor money, but "the house has reversed itself and is paying no attention to the hardship factor."
The formula supplied by the state department of education was incorporated in the senate bill introduced today.
Bergeson said the house bill "would only add to the inequality with the rich districts getting richer and the poor districts poorer."
"I am not going to support a single additional dime for education under this kind of formula," he said. "If we can't help the counties in need of help we are wasting our time, and I don't care if we stay with the $24,000,000."
The $24,000,000 has been established as the minimum appropriation that can be made to public schools under the present formula, provided current enrollment is used.
Bergeson said a resolution would be introduced in the senate, probably Monday, asking for a further study by the state department of education and aimed at producing a formula "more equitable for all public school districts."
Sen. Nelle Cline Steenson, D., Bannock, chairman of the senate education committee, said the joint senate and house education committee had unanimously agreed to introduction of the senate bill.
"Now she said, 'we got the house doesn't want the hardship factor. We can't afford to quarrel about this.'" Sen. Jack Murphy, R., Lincoln, defended the house bill. He said he pleaded with the senate in 1957 to change the hardship factor.
"We in the small districts stood still and allowed you to do this," he said. "We are not going to stand still this time for humping the hardship factor onto our schools."
The chairman of the house education committee is from a county with small schools, and he is letting the small schools speak.
"Sen. George Clark, R., Twin Falls, proposed that the state pay half of public school costs. He said this would make an equalizing factor unnecessary.
The legislature has less than two weeks to go of its prescribed 60-day session. Among measures up for consideration Monday is one in the senate placing the state highway board under the supervision of the state land board.

Korean Chief Resigns After Slayings Case

SEOUL, Feb. 21 (AP)—South Korea's minister of defense and its army chief of staff resigned today because of the slaying of a brigadier general by a lieutenant colonel.
The minister and the army chief said they assumed moral responsibility for the case.
"I sincerely regret the incident and apologize to the nation as the man responsible for military affairs," Defense Minister Kim Chung Yul said in a statement.
"I feel responsible for lack of sufficient proper discipline among my subordinates."
Spokesmen for Kim and Army Chief of Staff Gen. Paal Sun Yup said they were assuming "moral responsibility" for the incident.
It was not immediately known whether President Syngman Rhee had accepted the resignations.
The South Korean defense ministry announced earlier that Brig. Gen. Park Jung Chul, 40, was shot and killed Wednesday by Lieut. Col. Chung Koo Sun, 34, in a "fitful burst of emotion."
The ministry said General Suh was inspecting the colonel's battalion and criticized its training program. Colonel Chung "reacted in a disobedient manner," the statement said, and the general struck him across the face with a swagger stick.
Chung drew his revolver and fired seven times at his superior, hitting him with four bullets, the ministry said. The colonel was arrested on the spot. No charges have been filed.

Solon Proposing Records Boycott

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. John L. McClelland, D., Ark., said today phonograph record manufacturers would be justified in refusing to sell to outlets that supply gangster-ridden jukebox operations.
McClelland, chairman of the senate labor-management committee, told newsmen that if such action could be termed a boycott, he thinks it would be a legitimate one.
McClelland's comments were prompted by testimony about the operations of the Lormar Distributing company of Chicago, described by committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy as gangster-run.

Macmillan Visit To U.S. Pending

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—U.S. officials look forward to a Washington visit by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan about mid-March to report on his 10-day visit to Moscow which started today.
No special arrangements have been made in Washington, and no specific date has been set, officials said. But they added they expect Macmillan to come to Washington after visiting Paris and London.
His account of what he learned on the Moscow reconnaissance trip to the Kremlin would be made to President Eisenhower by President Charles de Gaulle of France, said Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Neighbors Sue For Court Ban On Mink Farm

A suit charging that the raising of 1200 mink just west of Twin Falls by Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Roberts endangers the health of neighbors was filed in Twin Falls district court Saturday.
Bringing the suit are Mrs. Crystal Rosendahl, Mr. and Mrs. Elver Tell, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Tallett and the Aslett Construction company.
The Roberts' neighbors "charge that the mink-raising creates 'offensive and vile odors' and 'attracts vast swarms of flies,' endangering the health of those living nearby."
The court is asked to issue a permanent injunction prohibiting the Roberts from maintaining the mink of erecting more cages.
It is charged that the mink are fed uncooked meat, partially decayed and "in a condition of putrefaction" and that the uncooked portions of the meat give off an "offensive and vile odor."
In addition, it is charged, the mink themselves give off an "offensive feral and stench-like odor" and that droppings and fecal material and body wastes also add to the "vile, offensive odor."
Attorney for the neighbors is Tom F. Alworth.

House Leader States Missiles Plan Hearing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Chairman Overton Brooks, D., La., today summoned the pentagon's military and civilian chiefs for a March 2 appearance before his house space committee to let why the army was rebuffed on its cherished antimissile missile project.
Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, were asked to take the witness stand.
Brooks said there is a "split within the administration" and "it is the intention of the committee to get to the bottom of this matter, so vital to the nation's security."
The Democratic-controlled committee has shown sympathy for the army viewpoint and may press McElroy to grant the $30 million dollars extra that the army wants for the job.
At issue is the army's Nike-Zeus, an atomic-warhead missile designed to destroy any missiles fired at this country. The Zeus is still under development but army men figure for defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles.
The committee heard Maj. Gen. W. W. Dick, the army's special weapons director, and Maj. Gen. D. E. Bach, chief of air defense, testify on Feb. 9 that the army wanted to go ahead with production of the Nike-Zeus.
The generals said McElroy turned them down, not because of the extra cost but on technical advice. They said they do not know who gave this advice.

Solon Proposing Records Boycott

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. John L. McClelland, D., Ark., said today phonograph record manufacturers would be justified in refusing to sell to outlets that supply gangster-ridden jukebox operations.
McClelland, chairman of the senate labor-management committee, told newsmen that if such action could be termed a boycott, he thinks it would be a legitimate one.
McClelland's comments were prompted by testimony about the operations of the Lormar Distributing company of Chicago, described by committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy as gangster-run.

Macmillan Visit To U.S. Pending

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—U.S. officials look forward to a Washington visit by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan about mid-March to report on his 10-day visit to Moscow which started today.
No special arrangements have been made in Washington, and no specific date has been set, officials said. But they added they expect Macmillan to come to Washington after visiting Paris and London.
His account of what he learned on the Moscow reconnaissance trip to the Kremlin would be made to President Eisenhower by President Charles de Gaulle of France, said Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany.

Dickson, 42, 601 Second avenue south, was fined $10 and costs in Twin Falls police court Saturday on a charge of failing to stop at a traffic sign. She was cited by State Patrolman D. L. Cain Feb. 13 at the intersection of Shoshone street and Second avenue north. William H. Hilton, 18, 125 McCreland street, was fined $30 and $3 costs Friday by Justice of the Peace George E. Scott for speeding 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone. Hilton was cited by State Patrolman D. L. Cain on Second avenue west, Twin Falls. He had been convicted within the past year for speeding. His fine was double the normal fine for such an offense.
Robert C. Hewlett, 31, 828 Filer avenue west, was fined $24 and $3 costs Friday for speeding 68 miles an hour in a 55-mile an hour right-of-way zone. He was cited by State Patrolman Richard Burns west of Twin Falls after being clocked by radar. He appeared before Justice of the Peace George E. Scott.
Frank J. Begley, 58, Pocastello, was fined $30 and $3 costs Friday by Justice of the Peace George E. Scott for running a stop sign. Begley was cited by State Patrolman D. L. Cain after the Pocastello man failed to stop for the stop sign at the intersection of the airport road and highway 74. Begley said he didn't see the sign.

Playwright Gives Criticism of U.S.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Playwright William Saroyan, whose characters often see the bright side of life, sailed for Yugoslavia today with some dark words concerning Hollywood actors, play backers and tax collectors.
"I don't like Hollywood actors," Saroyan told newsmen on boarding the Italian liner Saturnia.
"They're tired. They don't know how to act. They're phonies."
"I don't like backers. I don't like money to dictate to me how I should write or direct a play."
He reported earlier this week he owes $30,000 in back income taxes. Internal revenue service personnel, he said, had told him "not to write and produce and they'll make a settlement."
"I don't want a settlement," he said. "I'm a writer."

Known Dead In Paris Fights

PARIS, Feb. 21 (AP)—Police tallying the African quarters of the city turned up 96 more bodies today, making 96 to date, as the Congo city returned to normal after days of political riots. A few shops began to reopen but underlying nervous tension remained and violence could erupt at any moment. The French news agency said the count of the riot's toll came to 96 dead, 186 seriously injured, 150 rifles and shotguns seized and more than three dozen spears, knives and clubs. Police barricades remained manned and heavy troop reinforcements were still present. The riots broke out between rival groups supporting different factions of the government of the newly autonomous Republic of the Congo, which is a member of the French Community. No Europeans were involved.

Sentencing Set; Beck Leaves Jail

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 21 (AP)—Former Teamsters Union President Elmer Beck, sr., who will appear for sentencing as an income tax evader Friday, left city jail here Friday. Released on $25,000 appeal bond, Beck returned to Seattle where he has a luxurious home on the shores of Lake Washington. He was untried by 20 hours in jail. Beck, 64, often described during trial as a millionaire, was convicted of evading $240,607 in income taxes for the years 1950-53. Beck estimated earlier the trial had cost him about $250,000 for lawyers and accountants. He said he had sent out letters appealing for financial aid because he didn't want to liquidate assets, but instead he is far from broke. His attorneys said the conviction could be appealed "all the way."

Jackass of Demo Renown Is Dead

COEUR D'ALENE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Harry Truman, a jackass who was the darling of many Democratic parades and rallies in northern Idaho, was gored to death today by an enraged bull buffalo on a ranch near here. Mark Richeson, Spokane, owner of the ranch, said he had owned the jackass for about 10 years and considered it a "real good pet." He said the animal's chief claim to fame was that it once bit the wife of Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., on the finger as she tried to feed it a lump of sugar while the two posed for a picture.

Exit Visas From Haiti Are Halted

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Feb. 21 (AP)—Exit visas have been canceled for all Haitians. The interior ministry gave no reason in announcing this decree today. The prohibition on the departure of Haitians from Haiti seems to reflect "invasion" nerves on the part of President Francois Duvalier. The Haitian chief executive has charged that opponents of his regime are getting military training in Cuba, "probably" in preparation for armed invasion of Haiti. By cutting off exit visas, Duvalier may be attempting to prevent political enemies still in Haiti from joining the so-called "Haitian Revolutionary Front" in Havana.

Judo Helps Woman Handle Assailant

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 21 (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Mrs. Billy Chatterton was stroking home alone when a young man grabbed her by the shoulder. "Come here, baby," he said roughly. Without a word, the trim wife of a navy judo instructor twisted free, seized his left arm in a judo hold and threw him over her back. He landed flat on his back, 170 pounds of him. Exasperated by the tear in her blouse, Mrs. Chatterton poked a finger at her assailant and warned: "Quit following me." "Don't worry, lady," said the bruised male. Mrs. Chatterton reported the incident to the police.

HAILEY, Feb. 21—Snow depth on Bald mountain was more than a foot deeper Wednesday than on the same date a year ago. Robert Diehl, soil conservation service and Jack Lavin, forest service ranger, took the measurements Wednesday. Depth this year is 67.3 compared to 52.3 in 1958. On the same date in 1957, snow depth was 41.8. Water content of the snow this year is 14.1 as compared to 13.3 in 1958 and 9.6 in 1957.

Barlow Fails on Timber Bill Try

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. K. C. Barlow, R., Cassia, failed today in an effort to get out of committee a bill which would require the recording in county auditor's office of the value and volume of timber sales. Barlow asked the forestry committee to report the bill immediately to the senate floor. Sen. Harry Nock, R., Valley, the chairman, replied that the committee had had the bill for only three days because it was sent originally to the agriculture committee. "This bill affects every timberman in Idaho," Nock said. "I don't want to let it go through without proper study. I think it is a poor bill but I will report it out as soon as I find out more about it." The senate voted 24-13 to excuse the committee from reporting the bill.

Symington Urges Dulles Successor

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. Stuart Symington, D. Mo., called on President Eisenhower today to appoint a successor to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer. "I don't think Dulles can run the state department from a hospital," said Symington, mentioned as a possible presidential candidate in 1960. Symington told a St. Louis Post-Dispatch reporter. "I would hope that the President would appoint a successor promptly."

32 1/2 Million Asked Potato Industry

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Despite recommendations for lower amounts, the Idaho legislature has been urged by the United Education Council to appropriate 32 1/2 million dollars for state public school aid. The highest legislative recommendation has been 27 million dollars, but the council of teachers, parents and trustees groups reaffirmed the request for a higher amount Friday to continue such delicate negotiations as those over Berlin and the current Geneva conference.

Potato Industry Hearing Is Set

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—The house agriculture committee will hear views of three segments of the potato industry Monday night regarding a proposed law under which the agriculture commissioner could set up state marketing orders. Chairman George Brocke, D., Latah, said today one representative each from the shippers, processors and growers has been invited to a closed hearing. Brocke said another potato bill, on which the committee had heard

Converts Officer

SOLO, Java, Feb. 21 (UPI)—Bavillage (Christian Darsosuwarno) has received a 20-month jail sentence for converting a policeman into a robber. Authorities said Darsosuwarno, while chief, paid $33 to a constable to break into his house to steal the village funds and return them to Darsosuwarno secretly to cover up a shortage. Darsosuwarno will be sent to the floor during the coming week. The bill would require potato products made from culls to be labeled as such.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Every Sunday Ray Tucker answers readers' questions of general interest on political and international policies and personalities. Questions may be sent to him at 7008 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Md.

Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON—Mrs. T. M. F. McCormick, S. C. delivers herself of a commanding analysis of an attack on President Eisenhower's request for a 1.5-cent increase in the federal gasoline tax.

These taxes have reached such a high point that the tax collector makes more on every gasoline sale than the wholesaler and retailer combined.

Every cost-cutting gain they make for the motorist is wiped out by a federal, state or local tax. Right now, these taxes amount to almost a third of the total price of gasoline.

Answer: Perhaps it should be listed as "refrain." The opposition to the President's proposed increase is so general that it is extremely doubtful of favorable action.

A week ago, 28 governors had wired or written Price Daniel, Texas governor, that they gladly joined him in opposition to the suggested hike.

SEVERE EFFECTS OF GASOLINE TAXES—It is not generally realized, but these high gasoline taxes have serious economic effects in addition to the cost to the motorist.

To that extent, the constant increases in the gasoline tax are self-defeating. Europeans drive small cars, scooters and light bicycles because of the frightful cost of gasoline.

AN AMSTERDAM, Paris and Rome, a pedestrian's life is in constant danger because of the number of small, motorized scooters and bikes.

COLD RECEPTION FOR PRESIDENT FRONZDI—R. A. B. Hoboken, N. J., offers this acute observation on the contrasting treatment accorded Anastas Mikoyan, general generalissimo of the communists.

AN EXPLANATION FOR COLD-SHOULDERING AND KOWTOWING—They feel that we neglect them in favor of our European allies.

THE FINAL STRETCH—It should be significant to the people of Idaho that the Democratic-controlled legislature has passed the parimutuel betting bill.

Although it is likely Governor Smylie will veto the legislature's action on parimutuel betting, as he has before, it is unfortunate the state's general assembly would spend so much of its valuable time on a measure so relatively unimportant.

It is significant also that while the legislature was failing to recognize fully the serious need for drastic action to curb the record-breaking toll of death and destruction on our highways, this tragic toll was soaring to even greater totals so far this year!

Although the legislature does seem inclined to do something about changing our inefficient primary election system, we can only hope that any real solution will be forthcoming, judging from all the political bickering.

Meantime the most serious threat of all is hanging fire—a determined attempt to emasculate our present system of state highway administration.

All those who feel the state highway board has been doing a job far superior to that under the old political spoils system should make their feelings known to their representatives in the legislature without fail.

Unless strong support is demonstrated to offset the activities of those trying to destroy the present highway board for obvious reasons, there is a real danger these opposition forces, working with those with a political axe to grind, will accomplish their purpose.

With the legislature now on its home stretch, it remains to be seen just how much effective action will be taken for the state's actual good. Right now the outlook is anything but encouraging.

A COURAGEOUS JURY—Millions of Americans will have nothing but praise for the jury which convicted Dave Beck, ex-leader of the defunct and graft-ridden Teamsters union.

This latest development serves to emphasize that the labor issue is bound to be one of the most provocative and difficult problems before congress, industry and the country generally, despite all the concern over such questions as national defense, the budget, civil rights and inflation.

In view of their general support of Democratic candidates last November, spokesmen for the unions are cracking down hard on senators and representatives of that party.

The Democrats want to maintain their hold on the labor vote. But they also want to enact legislation agreeable to the millions who have been offended by the McClellan revelations of corruption and bossism in certain labor organizations.

Many GOP-ers are letting the opposition carry the ball, hoping that they will wind up by pleasing nobody—the unions, management or the bystander public.

POT SHOTS

I was at the circus in Twin Falls the day the little Roosevelt girl was killed by the tiger.

I did not see the actual shooting of the tiger but was asked by a prominent Twin Falls lady to join her. Upon looking around I found she was on top of one of the animal cages.

I asked her how in the world she ever got up there and she said she didn't know except that she must have jumped up there. As she was a fairly large person and the top of the cage was at least 10 feet high, that seemed as good an answer as any.

One Who Was There (Twin Falls)

PUPS FOR KIDS DEPT. Because of the dog leash law in Home, we want to find a permanent flier in the country for our 4-year-old spayed Brittany spaniel. Good hunting dog.

Those two female pups will be small dogs and they're already for new homes. You can get them a mile south and three-fourths of a mile west of Hansen or phone Garfield 3-5973.

FINE OBSTACLE COURSE—Dear Pot Shots: I don't like to start arguments but this is too good to pass up.

This person who calls himself or herself Dis-Gusted surely must be mad at himself, people, and/or the world in general.

I think the Hansen bridge should be the base for all driver tests. Any driver who could not cross the bridge straight and in perfect safety should have his license revoked, not temporarily, but permanently.

Any driver who cannot do a U-turn in the traveling public. I think if this was done, our highway accident rate would drop to near nothing.

Pot Shots note: Pot Shots would recommend that the side rails be removed from the bridge and anyone who cannot drive across it would lose his driver's license permanently!

OUR BULLETIN BOARD—Kimberly Krumh, Kimberly—Nope, we're going to sit that one out. You see, Twin Falls has been all through this once before, but memories are short, particularly where there appears a chance to make a fast buck. Don't forget to watch this one! Thanks, anyway.

ANENT GRADUATION—Cleaning house today, I came across my long-packed-away high school graduation dress.

It was before so much "youth worship" too, but I believe there was more genuine love of youth then than now.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

NEW YORK—The politico-social activities of wives of elected officers hitherto have been granted privacy on a naive assumption, ludicrous to wise Europeans.

A public man's private life is none of our business. Mrs. Roosevelt prepared us for a change of attitude.

Recent conduct of the wife of Governor Rockefeller of New York has made an issue of the matter.

This lady took part in mechanized political demonstrations in favor of David Dubinsky, an old-time Socialist, who operates, rather fitfully now, a Socialist party in New York.

Called the Liberal party, and a Socialist political machine in Europe, North Africa and elsewhere overseas, under the general management of an old Trotsky communist known as Jay Lovestone.

Lovestone, himself, says that he has apostatized but offers no proof and Lovestone, himself, sayeth naught.

Mrs. Rockefeller was photographed sewing union labels in garments for the benefit of Dubinsky's union, the Garment Workers. This union notoriously deserves the official attention of the McClellan committee but, for political reasons, has been exempt.

The type of hallyhoo to which Mrs. Rockefeller and Mrs. Meyner, the wife-of-the-Jersey governor, lend themselves and the prestige of the husbands' offices is not spontaneous but organized.

All newspaper people and all politicians know that it is a product of a sinister phenomenon called public relations.

Mrs. Rockefeller's impudence here is rather important. Her husband purports to be a Republican.

Therefore, there is a careless public belief that she is a Republican, too. Mrs. Meyner's husband is a partisan Democrat and so, apparently is she.

In view of the intermingling of the Democratic party and various socialist fronts, when Mrs. Meyner pays respect to Dubinsky's union, itself, a political force, her conduct is not surprising.

However, there are upstanding, anti-Socialist Democrats who reject Dubinsky and his union and its works.

We come now to a sensible understanding of a fact of life known to all persons who have been married. The wife often is the deciding member and this plainly implies that a socialist or communist wife of a hypothetical Republican or a loyalist, Jeffersonian Democrat, will make decisions for him contrary to the legitimate expectations of the public!

In Europe, the influence of women in great, often tragic developments is well-known and there is none of the boyish reticence that handicaps us in our belated recognition of the power of a soft, sweet voice on a pillow in the dead of night.

There was a lady named Pompadour, whose career reminds us that some American statesmen have had mistresses, in particular one who, in recent years, revoked his declared position and fought for the United

Boyle Would Like New Life if He Could Be Dumber, Richer

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—A popular parlor game today is, "If you had it all to do again, what would you do differently?"

For years I have noted that not one communist who was sentenced to prison for contempt or any of the sly disloyalties which the supreme court has found amiable, was sent to Alcatraz and that some of the most malignant were quietly transferred to Danbury where one of them was given facilities to write a book.

Danbury is relatively so pleasant that it is called the country club. One such red was transferred from Los Angeles to Connecticut, so that he could be near his mother. He had put her to agony by his conduct but that was beside the point when the bureau of prisons decided on the transfer.

On the other hand, offenders who no less deserved the favor of proximity to their loved ones were transferred to Atlanta, Leavenworth and the Rock on the caprice of persons unknown who may have been officials with decisive authority but spouses thereof. One such wife is known to be, in a quiet way, a devotee of Mrs. Roosevelt and sympathetic with her designs and projects.

So the time is here to make candidates qualify their wives at the nominating conventions and for the wives to submit information on their own politics and associations. To err is human but to refuse to profit by experience is nobody's fault but our own.

We would start wearing bigger shoes and looser collars earlier in life. Most of our mistakes in judgment come from a cramped mind—the result of wearing shoes half a size too tight.

We would go into business for ourselves instead of working for others. A series of sharp quick bankruptcies is better than life-long serfdom.

We would marry at 17. A man who waits until 27 to marry does not have enough time left to repent.

We would have more children—odds of them. It is more comfortable to be old than young, and nothing ages you faster than children.

We would learn to ride a horse.

New Members

BUHL, Feb. 21—Mr. and Mrs. Orin Freeman were elected to membership in the Northview Grange last week. Harold Harrison, acting master, presided.

Mrs. Gordon Young had charge of the program and conducted a spelling bee contest between the women and men. Other contests also were included in the entertainment. Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hart. The next meeting is slated for March 4.

ATTEND RECLAMATION MEET

SPRINGDALE, Feb. 21—James Bronson, Earl Stanger, Cliff Sutton, Joe Cline, Lovell Holyoak, Clifford Darrington and Wayman Walker, reclamation officers and directors from Cassia county, returned Thursday from Boise where they attended a reclamation operators' conference.

The trustee receiving the votes will have a three-year term and the next will be in office in two years. The election will be held March 16.

There will be a special meeting held at the Moose home Monday vote on the change of by-laws. Change would do away with the general benefit and set up a reclamation committee.

Committee for the Easter egg was appointed with Eddie Beitz, chairman, assisted by Roy Stan, Floyd McKee, Ed Smith, M. Woolan, Ralph Clark and M. Thompson.

The hunt is sponsored annually by the lodge.

The Loyal Order of Moose will start a beginners square dance instruction class, which will be open to persons not members of the lodge. The first class will be at 8 p.m. March 11, with Myron Blass as instructor.

Hope Given to Recovery for Gen. Marshall

FT. BRAGG, N. C., Feb. 21 (AP)—An army surgeon visited Gen. George G. Marshall today in his fight against a second stroke complicated by mild pneumonia.

Col. George M. Powell said unless the 76-year-old retired soldier-statenman has another stroke "the chance of a better than 50-50 chance of recovery through this. Before, I didn't feel this way."

Colonel Powell said General Marshall spent a restful night Friday. Previously, the surgeon reported an improvement in General Marshall's condition and reported "the pneumonia appears to be clearing."

However, he emphasized that General Marshall's condition remained serious "and the prognosis remains guarded."

Marshall had a stroke at his winter home in Pinehurst Jan. 15. He has been hospitalized here since Tuesday night. He had the second stroke which was complicated by pneumonia.

Baptist Meet Speakers Named

REV. W. B. PHIPPS      REV. FRED HIGGENBOTHAM

... are two of the scheduled speakers for the "Baptist jubilee advance meetings" which will begin March 1 at the Shoshone Baptist church. The meetings are a part of a five-year evangelistic effort of the Baptist churches in North America. The Rev. Mr. Phipps, Hagerman Baptist church, will speak every night of the first week of meetings and the Rev. Mr. Higgenbotham will speak every night of the second week of meetings. Three other speakers are scheduled as well as special music. The programs will begin daily at 7:15 p.m. and end at 9:15 p.m. Members of the audiences will be permitted to question the speakers about religion. (Staff engraving)

Shoshone Baptist Church Is Planning Series of Meetings

SHOSHONE, Feb. 21—Two weeks of special meetings, called the "Baptist jubilee advance meetings," are scheduled to begin March 1 and continue through March 15 at the Shoshone Baptist church.

The meetings will feature special speakers, visiting choirs and other musical talent.

The jubilee is a five-year evangelistic effort in which more than 18 million Baptists in North America are taking part.

Special speakers for the meetings in Shoshone will include Dr. Harry E. Coulter, executive secretary of the Idaho, Utah and Montana Baptist state conventions, who will talk at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 1.

The Rev. Frank Harris, Castleford First Baptist church, will speak every night of the two-week period and the Rev. W. B. Phipps, Hagerman Baptist church, will speak every night of the first week of meetings.

The Rev. Fred Higgenbotham, Southern Baptist church, will talk every night of the second week of the meetings and the Rev. Chester Northrup, associate executive secretary of the Idaho Baptist convention, is scheduled to speak at 11 a.m. Sunday, March 8.

During the two weeks of meetings, people in the audience will be allowed to ask any of the leaders questions about religion.

The programs will begin at 7:15 p.m. daily and end at 9:15 p.m.

The Rev. Paul Winkler, pastor of the Shoshone Baptist church, will be song leader for the meet series. Mrs. Garland Blair, Shoshone, will be pianist and John Adkins, Shoshone, will be the featured gospel soloist.

Jerome Unit Told About School Bills

JEROME, Feb. 21—Wall Olds, Jerome school supervisor, spoke to the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Wednesday at the Woods cafe. Olds discussed the minimum education bills and presented a table showing the local county and state share of the program.

He also explained the "Carlson plan" and told the chamber that he recommended passing of the Carlson plan when it comes up in the legislature.

W. B. Churchman, secretary, reported on the annual dinner to be held March 18. Louise Shadduck will be the guest speaker. The meeting will be held in Woods cafe.

Wet Blanket

SAN MATEO, Calif., Feb. 21 (AP)—Mark Busch, only 19 months old, playfully threw a blanket over his mother's head as she was driving on the San Mateo-Hayward bridge approach.

Temporarily blinded, Mrs. Pauline Busch swerved the car to the right—and tore loose eight large fence posts. She, Mark and Lorie, just six months, all escaped without injury.

Engineer Strike In Region Ends

PORTLAND, Feb. 21 (AP)—Locomotive engineers today ended a brief strike that tied up every Union Pacific freight train in the Northwest.

The announcement of the settlement was made here this afternoon by the railroad and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A joint announcement said only that the issues in dispute had been "compromised. The road crews are going back to work at once."

Details of the agreement were not disclosed.

Nasser Notes Russ Promise Of Hands Off

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 21 (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser said today Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has promised to stay out of the internal affairs of the United Arab Republic.

Addressing thousands assembled here to celebrate the first anniversary of the union of Egypt and Syria, Nasser said he sent a letter to Khrushchev outlining his position on Dec. 23. In that speech he denounced communist activity in the United Arab Republic.

In his speech today, Nasser said Khrushchev had repeated this communication with a message assuring him the Soviet Union understood his anti-communist position was an internal affair and promising that Moscow would not interfere in UAR internal affairs.

Expensive Jerk

BERLIN, Feb. 21 (AP)—Information Bureau West, a private West Berlin intelligence agency, reports a communist East German court has sentenced a warehouse worker to a year in jail for calling party chief Walter Ulbricht a jerk.

The defendant was identified as Herbert Baumann of Zwickau.

Threat Is Given Over Power Bill

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Sen. Vernon Daniel R. Payette, threatened Friday to "see that this senate move at a snail's pace" if a power plant assessment bill is not reported out of the economic development committee.

The senate voted to keep the bill in committee for another day despite Daniel's objections. The measure would equalize the assessment of electric power plants among the counties of the state.

Approval of Mrs. Luce as Brazil's Diplomat Sought

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Feb. 21 (AP)—A Brazilian official said today the U. S. government has asked for approval of Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce as ambassador to Brazil. She formerly was ambassador to Italy.

Augusto Frederico Schmidt, an adviser to President Juscelino Kubitschek, said the request had come this morning. Washington had informed immediately that Mrs. Luce is acceptable, he added.

No officials of the Brazilian foreign office were available for comment. But Schmidt, who is Brazil's delegate to the Committee of 21 American Nations, works closely with the government and Kubitschek.

White House officials in Washington would not discuss the prospects of a Luce appointment. But there was no denial that the United States had asked Brazil's approval of her as ambassador.

Experts Hear X-Ray Speech

Dr. George T. Davis, urologist, spoke at a meeting of Magic Valley X-ray Technicians Thursday in the office of Dr. Dean H. Affleck.

Davis spoke on the history, preparation and advantages of the intravenous pyelogram. He also covered cystoscopy and the value of X-ray as a diagnostic in the field of urology.

Mrs. Selmer Thompson, moderator, read a letter from Ira Howard, Boise, state X-ray technician president, announcing the refresher course which will begin May 22 in Boise with the instructor, John Calhoun, Duke university, North Carolina. It was announced that a state business meeting would be held along with the refresher course.

Discussion was held on tentative plans to attend the National X-Ray Technicians' convention at Denver in July.

Cork Hanlon, technical representative,

Infant Passes

Frank Lee Parker, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker, 312 Third avenue west, died Friday evening at Magic Valley Memorial hospital.

Surviving are his parents and a brother, Harold Parker.

Funeral arrangements are pending at White-mortuary.

Relative of Westinghouse X-ray division, Salt Lake City, was a guest.

The next meeting will be held in March at the office of Dr. Ivan Anderson, Filer, with Mrs. Selmer Thompson and Mrs. Velma Henderson as hostesses.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Harold Stearley, hostess.

Jury Decides Cleric Rights Not Violated

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 21 (AP)—The civil rights of three Negro ministers were not violated when they were arrested while helping plan a bus boycott, a federal grand jury said Friday.

The ministers were arrested last October on orders of Eugene Connor, commissioner of public safety. Who has said repeatedly that "anyone attempting to boycott buses in Birmingham will be jailed."

The grand jury had been instructed by U.S. Atty. Gen. William Rogers to investigate the arrests of the three ministers from Montgomery, where they had been active in a year-long bus boycott in 1956.

The Rev. S. S. Seay, the Rev. H. H. Hubbard and the Rev. A. W. Wilson were arrested at the home of the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Birmingham integration leader.

The Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery Negro integration leader, said the three had come to Birmingham to see if they could assist in a bus boycott here.

The ministers were held about two hours on vagrancy charges after their arrest. Then the charges were dismissed and they were released.

British Chief Asks Cuts in War Dangers

(From Page One)

In a Comet jet TV airliner. In addition to Khrushchev, First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko were on hand to greet the Britons. A crowd of about 500 Russians watched silently at first.

After the usual welcoming routine, he walked over and greeted them. They applauded politely. Macmillan took off his fur hat in response. His gray hair was ruffled by the wind. The applause turned into laughter. The crowd loved the hat. Macmillan grinned with pleasure, then put it back on.

Later the two premiers clinked glasses to a toast to mutual friendship in the great St. Catherine's banquet hall of the Kremlin.

Still fighting the after-effects of a heavy cold, Macmillan told the diners in an off-the-cuff addition to his prepared speech that Britain and the Soviet Union achieve a lot working together.

"We can concentrate on things that unite us rather than divide us," he said. "At least don't let us add to mankind's burdens by becoming victims of our own propaganda."

"Peace can be preserved while our great systems, working in parallel but not in conflict, contribute to the general well-being of mankind."

Macmillan's remarks were applauded warmly.

Khrushchev's speech was described as thoroughly friendly by his British guests.

He recalled the World War II cooperation of "countries with different social systems" and added: "It is best we put our heads together and decide what should be done to melt the resulting cold war ice."

Shah Reports Iran Will Sign U.S. Contract

TEHRAN, Iran, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Shah of Iran told a news conference today Iran will go ahead and sign a bilateral agreement with the United States.

The Shah added that Iran will not change its policy towards the West and will sign a military pact agreement with the United States for precautionary measures.

He added that Iran will not invoke this military agreement unless attacked.

The Shah emphasized that Iran will not give any missile base to any foreign country. Besides, he added, no one has asked Iran for such a base.

Referring to Moscow radio's anti-Iran propaganda, the Shah said that in spite of Soviet claims that his Iranian regime is not popular with the Iranian people, "I am sure our regime will survive to attend the funeral of many other regimes."

Commenting on Iran-Soviet relations, the Shah told newsmen Iran will still continue a peace-loving policy and is willing to continue its friendly relations with all neighbors.

He did not mention the recent Iran-Soviet negotiations for the conclusion of a nonaggression pact, which failed in mid-February.

Valley's Farmers Protest Highway

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Farmers representing the First Segregation Association of the Eden-Hazelton area of southeastern Idaho voiced here today their objections to the proposed routing of the interstate highway through their section.

They conferred with state legislators and outlined their views also in statements. They contend the route approved by the state highway board would slice up valuable farm land.

New Diplomat Presents Card

HAVANA, Feb. 21 (AP) — Philip W. Bonsal presented copies of his credentials as the new U. S. ambassador to Cuba at the foreign ministry today, to the accompaniment of praise from the Cuban press. The Spanish-speaking veteran of Latin American diplomacy has the blessings of Premier Fidel Castro. Castro had accused U. S. Ambassador Earl E. T. Smith, Bonsal's predecessor, of being too friendly with ex-President Fulgencio Batista. Revolutionary government officials consider Bonsal a good friend of Latin Americans, citing his work as ambassador to Colombia and Bolivia.

Statehood Asked

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP) — Statehood for Hawaii was urged in a memorial introduced today in the Idaho senate. Statehood is necessary, the memorial said, to "demonstrate to the world that our published ideals of liberty, fraternity and equality are in truth a living creed to which we adhere."

Russ General Pays Tribute To War Allies

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP) — A Russian general paid tribute today to the efforts of the American, British and French armies in World War II. In a Tass news agency interview broadcast by Moscow radio, General of the Army Alexei Antonov praised the World War II record of Chinese, Korean and Mongolian forces, then added: "We also give due credit to the contribution made to the defeat of fascism by the peoples and armies of Britain, France and the United States." The tribute, rarely heard from Soviet leaders, coincided with the start of Prime Minister Macmillan's visit to Moscow. Antonov is chief of staff to the commander of the Warsaw Treaty forces.

State Hearing Set for Truck Rate Changes

The Idaho public utilities commission has scheduled for public hearing at 9:30 a. m. March 4 at the council chambers, city hall, Boise, its motor carrier rate docket No. 6 which includes some 52 proposed increases and reductions in rates and charges of motor carriers throughout the state. Interested parties may appear at the hearing and be heard on any of the proposed rate changes, many of which are available upon request to the PUC.

Included are proposals to apply contract rates on potatoes to and from various points throughout southern Idaho; to revise package rates of the Boise Valley Parcel service applicable between Boise and various Boise Valley points; to reduce class and commodity rates between the principal points of Boise, Caldwell, Nampa, Pocatello and Idaho Falls on the one hand and various other points in Magic Valley. Also to publish rates on cull potatoes applicable from various points to Jerome and Heyburn; and to make changes in rates on candy and confectionery, petroleum and petroleum products, condensed milk and buttermilk, liquor, sugar, cement, lime, plaster, feed, grains, stone and other commodities as well as passenger fares.

Grain Profits Watch Urged

With maturity dates approaching for a number of grains which are under price support in the area, Twin Falls agricultural stabilization and conservation committee chairman Carl Boyd reminds farmers that they should be alert to market prices that will enable them to redeem these loans at a profit.

"Farmers who redeem their price support loans and take advantage of price increases on local markets are using the support program as it was intended to be used," Boyd said. "The price support rate tends to set floor under local prices. It also protects farmers from the low market prices that usually exist at the height of the harvest season. If the market rises to a point where farmers can sell on the open market and still repay their loans plus interest with a profit, it is better for them to do so than deliver their grain to the government in settlement of the loan."

Boyd urged farmers to check with their local ACO office if they have loans that might be redeemed profitably. Grain loan maturity dates in this county are wheat, March 31, and barley, April 30.

Success

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When the Washington Disarmament conference of 1922 called for deep cuts in the naval strength of the U.S. and other nations, 111 Annapolis graduates immediately resigned their commissions rather than face an uncertain fate in a sea career.

One of them was John F. Gordon, who managed to succeed elsewhere. He is now president of General Motors.

Air Cadets Interviewed for Advanced Training

Air Cadets Are Interviewed Here for Advanced Training

Three Idaho civil air patrol cadets were interviewed here Saturday by the board of the Idaho wing for additional training programs.

Bruce J. Garner, Rexburg, submitted application for the international air cadet exchange. If accepted, he will be one of 140 civil air patrol cadets to take part in the exchange program this summer. The cadets visit many countries in Europe and Central and South America. Twenty-one countries participate in the exchange program. Last year the Idaho wing was host to 11 CAP members from Chile.

To qualify for the program, the cadets must have been in the CAP at least 18 months, have attended a summer encampment and be 17 years of age.

Miss Billie L. Brown, Caldwell, a senior at Caldwell high school, is applying for the jet age orientation course offered to cadets. Her school will be in either Florida or Texas. She has been in the cadet program for three years and last year

Sewage Engineer Tells of Loan Act

Harlan Formo, state sanitation engineer, and Keith Harvey, acting director of the southcentral district health unit, visited Burley and Heyburn city councils this week to explain the federal grant authorized by public health law 660 for assisting with the development and construction of municipal sewage disposal treatment plants.

They explained the progress made in the state in constructing plants to reduce pollution of surface waters.

A decision was made by the Heyburn council to hire an engineer for preliminary studies, and similar action is under consideration by the Burley council.

Seventy-eight per cent of the towns in Idaho now have or are constructing sewage treatment plants, Formo said. All cities in the state over 10,000 in population have voted bonds for construction of such plants, with the exception of Twin Falls, he added.

Much Grass Goes Into Each Steak

CHICAGO, (UPI)—It takes 500 square feet of grass to make enough steak to cover an ordinary dinner plate. Or 200 pounds of grass to make one pound of beefsteak.

Researchers at the University of Illinois said the first impression might be that the steer is a wasteful converter of grass to beef. But they point out that grass is 80 per cent water. So 160 of the 200 pounds in the stack of grass is water.

Area Employment Report Submitted

Studies of the Idaho labor market show that employment during January declined to the mid-winter low in many areas of the state. Unemployment climbed from the December figures but leveled off early in the month and did not increase as much as is normal during January.

The local employment security office reports that 46 initial claims were filed for the week ending Feb. 7, bringing the total to 652. In Jerome, 29 new claims brought the total to 217, while in Rupert, total reached 136 with eight claims.

Form of Nampa Given Burley's Hospital Work

BURLEY, Feb. 21—County Auditor Frank Kearns reported to the officials from the Idaho department of public health, Boise, with the board of county commissioners and the hospital advisory committee at 8 p.m. Thursday in the auditor's office of the court-house for further discussion concerning the proposed Cassia Memorial hospital. The contract was awarded to L. H. Krieger, Nampa.

This action is pending approval by the state department of health, the regional office at Denver and final approval in Washington, D. C. Decisions are expected in about two weeks.

Goal Not Reached

The commission is still a few thousand dollars short of its goal. This amount will be more fully determined when it is known how much of the equipment and inventory of the present hospital will be accepted by the department of health.

Cassia's commissioners and Attorney Norman Nielson were in Salt Lake City last week-end conferring with LDS church officials. An operating agreement between the church and county was drawn up, at that time.

Those representing the department of health from Boise were Dr. Charles Terhune, Read Bryant, Paul Zillner, Dr. L. M. Kelly, Kenneth Warr and others.

Hospital Unit Represented

Representing the hospital advisory committee were Dr. Charles Terhune, Read Bryant, Paul Zillner, Dr. L. M. Kelly, Kenneth Warr and others.

Others present were county Attorney Wilson, auditor of the county, Orlando Bateman; L. H. Krieger, the contractor; Keith and C. A. Sundberg, the architects; Kales C. A. Sundberg and Bruce Young from the Cassia National bank.

The bank will underwrite the written pledges and it is necessary to find out what will be required in order to obtain federal funds for the hospital through the Hill-Burley act.

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—A group of high school students say they are shocked at the Idaho legislature. "We were rather shocked to find that during the four days we were at the legislature there wasn't one major bill passed," the government class of Caldwell high school wrote.

Rep. Ernest Allen, R., Canyon, read their letter to the house Friday.

Man-Made Noises Called Dangerous

PARIS (UPI)—A leading French physician maintains that man-made noises have replaced germs as the main threat to human health.

"Noise has become a real social danger" to the present and future generations, said Prof. Fernand Tremolieres, a member of the French Academy of Medicine.

He said that noise cannot only cause psychic troubles but also inflict organic damage leading to such chronic ailments as hardening of the arteries, ulcers and even goiter.

No Money Down! FULL YEAR TO PAY!

Keeps you ACTIVE! Keeps you SLENDER! Keeps you FIT! Keeps you YOUTHFUL!

Exercycle (AUTOMATIC EXERCISER)

There's no easier way to keep fit, trim and active!

MILLIONS CAN NOW ENJOY THE BLESSINGS OF DAILY EXERCISE AT HOME

There's a world of difference between exercising yourself, and letting EXERCYCLE do it. That's why tens of thousands of men and women have chosen this easier, simpler and more convenient way of keeping themselves fit, trim and active. For EXERCYCLE is the only fully-automatic, motor-driven exercising instrument that can give you a complete physiological workout from head to foot while you just sit and relax.

There's no form of indoor or outdoor activity designed to keep you slender, youthful and active that can compare with an EXERCYCLE ride. You can do yourself more good in a few minutes with this amazing EXERCYCLE than you can with hours of ordinary exercising. That's why thousands of doctors keep physically fit the EXERCYCLE way.

EXERCYCLE is a complete home gymnasium in itself. No form of artificial stimulation such as massages, baths, vibrations, stenderizing or reducing techniques can match its overall efficiency. Once you own an EXERCYCLE, you have solved your exercising problems for a lifetime. Start now to turn back the clock. Step out tomorrow feeling like a million!

RELAXED OR ACTIVE EXERCISES!

EXERCYCLE is fully adjustable to your present and future physiological needs. There's no limit to how easily or actively you can exercise with it. It builds you up gradually, allowing you to expand your activities as your muscles become stronger and more flexible, without ever exceeding your limitations.

TERRIFIC FOR HEAVYWEIGHTS!

Good muscle tone is but one of the many rewards that accrue to the system from daily exercise. Only good muscle tone can keep your figure from sagging, your stomach from protruding and fat from hanging in rolls. Muscles in motion gradually become stronger, firmer and more flexible. This is what beautifies the figure, pulls in the waistline, and gives you power to endure physical strain and stress. Good muscle tone in the legs, arms, shoulders and back is essential to everyone regardless of age. Exercycle, by exercising all major body muscles in unison, does a wonderful job of muscle toning, thus helping you to live as actively as possible.

WONDERFUL FOR OLDER FOLKS!

Improves Circulation... Doctors tell you that increased action of the main body muscles will instantly step up your circulation. If your circulation is sluggish, increasing the rate of flow through your arteries and veins will make you feel and stay more youthful and you'll look better. Where blood circulation is poor, Exercycle helps the vital organs to function more efficiently, helps the process of elimination and the removal of wastes. The normal heart, lungs and brain all benefit from stepped up blood circulation.

SMALL, SILENT AND ECONOMICAL!

Exercycle is so small, compact and silent, most users keep it in their bedrooms. Fits into any small nook or corner. You can ride it while others sleep. Plugs into any wall socket. Uses less electricity than a TV set. Buy it on easy terms.

TIMES-NEWS PUBLIC FORUM—VOICE OF THE READER

Burley Resident Urges Action To Increase Teacher Salaries

Editor, Times-News: Several years ago while conversing with school teachers I suggested unionization if they expected pay to attain a decent and sustaining wage. My suggestion was in very bad taste. School teaching was a profession not to be sullied with anything which smacked of unionism. Poor dumb dears, in a way I feel sorry for them. They stop to think, I wonder what for? Anybody with such a deficiency of intellectual fortitude shouldn't be teaching school, shouldn't be instructing the little brats in their ABCs or the three Rs. Not a thousand times no! They should be running for some public or judicial office where they could realize an equitable wage with a raise when the legislature met!

Of course, I wouldn't blame them for not wanting to become a judicial member of the state or county on account of the high ideals with which they are endowed. Imagine a school teacher sentencing a financially embarrassed unfortunate to a long term in prison! All on account of a bad or insufficient check! Murder—yes! Manslaughter—yes! Serious crime they could punish to the full extent of the law! But, they know only too well what it means to be financially embarrassed. They have experienced lack of funds throughout their careers and unless something is done to right this condition, unionization will be their only recourse for preservation!

Laws? Statutes? Limitation? "Bure and Segorrah," as my Irish grandmother used to say, "What are we sitting around and waiting for?" Action? Yes! Action is what we need! What the school teachers need to my way of thinking, it is time for teachers to quit being fuddy-duddies with their ingrained and twisted conception of ethics! But, no! Ethics come to the fore and must be considered above all! And certainly it would be unethical for teachers to join unions and then strike for higher wages! Sure it would be unethical as it would be unethical for judges, sheriffs and other state dignitaries to unionize and then strike for higher wages! There is an unequalled parallel here that few people probably ever considered! If we have state legislation furthering, fostering and condoning advances and better salaries for our state dignitaries, such as judges, sheriffs, law enforcement officers, etc., then I demand to know: Why not for the lowly and underpaid school teachers? They are public servants, too!

To a lot of people, school teachers are something which our fathers had to endure and their fathers before them and on back through literature times! They are not a blessing but a lawfully decreed necessity! Someone with a white-collar said to "countless thousands school teachers and school men that their children must go to school until they attain a certain age, regardless of whether they become presidential ladder or not! To other countless thousands teachers mean everything in the world—to their children! Mainly, the difference between literacy and illiteracy, but not quite all—Oh, no! To them, teachers and school-mean the difference between prominence and obscurity, success and failure or pride and shame! Any person with an ounce of brains knows that the conscientious teacher does everything in his or her power to teach each and every child fundamentals, concepts, facts and precepts as prescribed by course of study and endeavor at all times to instill in the hearts and minds of their pupils the desire to attain the maximum in learning, morals, good fellowship and citizenship, growth and the understanding of life plus the will-power to tackle any obstacle which they may meet in future life!

Does a judge do more? A sheriff? Anybody? Edison said "There is no substitute for hard work!" Likewise, there is no substitute for teaching! In conclusion, I leave it up to you! One might say "What price law?" "What price education?" We reap what we sow! Or to refer to a Biblical quotation: "Cast your bread upon the waters..." Anyway, as Tennessee Ernie Ford would say, "Bless their little pickin' hearts!"

S. V. HIGLEY (Burley)

No Flags Found Here to Denote Lincoln Holiday

Editor, Times-News: On Feb. 12 at noon I stood in the 100 block of Main avenue south and looked all ways up and down the street of the business section of Twin Falls and, to my surprise, not one American flag was in sight. Not one American flag to honor one of the greatest Presidents the United States ever had!

Why? By two young businessmen's own statements—"I forgot all about it being Lincoln's birthday." Both of these young men are members of the Chamber of Commerce and one is a veteran.

Do you think on April 9 that Russia will "forget" that it is Lenin's birthday or do you think it will "forget" Stalin's birthday?

If you really believe that the Russians will forget these dates then I say to you, you are tarting back in your smug little caves than any American should be and almost as far as Russia hopes you are.

Five miles east of Twin Falls, Kimberly had her flags very much on display.

Wake up, Twin Falls, throw off your blanket of apathy, and do that for which your ancestors fought and died, the right to show the flag of freedom, the flag of our own United States of America; the right to honor our American heroes.

He Says Citizens "Cover up" Ignorance by School Queries

Editor, Times-News: Often when a man is confronted by his own error or negligence he finds a welcome escape in attacking another person or in casting the blame on somebody else. The use of this escape has been demonstrated in the recent hysteria about public education.

Many citizens, embarrassed by their ignorance of the work and needs of the public schools, found it more convenient to cry "what have our schools been doing" and "where has all our money for education gone?" than to admit they have not shown proper concern about the welfare of public education. Some now even suggest that the public schools will bankrupt the state. Let's examine the facts.

1. What is Idaho's educational load? A state's educational load is determined by the percentage of its total population enrolled in the public schools. According to the NEA research division, Idaho has 22.9 per cent of its total population enrolled in the public schools. (This is almost one out of every four people.) The percentage for the United States is 18 per cent.

2. Does Idaho have the ability to adequately finance education for boys and girls? Governor Smylie, in presenting his budget message to the 1959 legislature said: "Our average personal income has climbed from $1,486 in 1955, to $1,631 in 1957, the last reported year; our average per capita tax burden is the lowest in the West—$83.25 per person; retail trade and banking statistics have risen in the last months to unprecedented levels."

Idaho's per capita retail sales are among the highest in the nation. In 1956-57 Idaho ranked 20th among the 48 states in personal income levels for each child enrolled in the public schools.

It should also be noted that Idaho still spends more for liquor than the state appropriates for the public schools and provides far more money for highways than it spends for all public education.

3. What effort has Idaho made to support education? Idaho ranks well above Utah and New Mexico in both retail sales and the personal income back of each child enrolled; and yet New Mexico is second highest in the nation—in percentage of income spent for public education and Utah is sixth from the top. Idaho is 16th in New Mexico and Utah rank far above Idaho in expenditures per pupil in average daily attendance although both are rated below Idaho in financial ability.

4. What is the state's obligation? Our Idaho constitution charges the legislature of Idaho with the responsibility of establishing and maintaining "a general, uniform and thorough system of public free common schools."

Governor Smylie, in his message to the legislature, said, "There is no debating one sign and indisputable fact. We have a Constitutional obligation as a state government to maintain a uniform and adequate system of public schools. In this time of rocketing scientific advance, when the ramparts of our freedom must be manned tomorrow by the youngsters we are educating today that constitutional obligation may become one of the measurements of our survival as a nation."

Although Idaho is not the wealthiest state in the nation, neither is it the poorest. Our problem is not lack of financial ability. It is a matter of willingness to apply enough of our resources to do the job. The destiny of our children and our state demands that we use more of our resources for education. The public schools cannot and will not bankrupt the state!

HARVEY PITMAN (Boise)

I understand that there is or are some strikers (or could they be commies?) down legislature way who would like to pass a law prohibiting a loaded gun in your car! Well, I would like to serve notice on them right now that my guns will be loaded always! Whether in my car or in my home! Regardless of what law they might hatch up and put across! Can't they think of anything more constructive for the benefit of mankind?

My guns have been loaded, even in the barrel, since I first owned any! Why? Simply because it is always the empty gun that kills! Everyone who knows me knows that my guns are always loaded! And they treat them accordingly!

I have witnessed a couple of accidents where the gun was not loaded! How much better would it have been for those unfortunate victims to have adopted a loaded gun principle? It couldn't have been worse! So what, maybe a few pheasant hunters might get the drop a mite quicker with a loaded gun, but they still have to obey the laws governing shooting from vehicles, from roads or access roads or pay the penalty if caught. And I hope such hunters are caught!

Most of my hunting is for deer, as by state jurisdiction goes, and I think my methods are not too much different from the average hunter. I usually empty a handful of shells into my pocket, make sure

Local Woman Unable to Find What Is Meant by Education

Editor, Times-News: First may I say that I am not an educated person in the academic sense, but the governor and some of the educated groups have become so frenzied over more money for education that I want to ask—"What is education?"

If I were the parent of a teenager and wondering what the future would deal him, I wouldn't get excited about his education. I would tell him that he need have no fear of a competitive market for his accomplishments, talents or services, because there is a law whereby he cannot be paid less than a dollar an hour. And I would tell him that he need not strive to hold his job because there is also a law, whereby whereas any employer who does not conform can be legally "killed." If he chooses to go through a scientific and educationless college, I would tell him that he can always join the group of "Dead End Kids" in the government's missile and space age program as a biochemist, radiologist, sanitary engineer, astro-botanist, anthropometrist, psychologist, celestial botanist, an infintum.

Why tell him that it is ridiculous to think that we will ever be foolish enough to send explosives and equipment to the moon, 240,000 miles away and shoot them back 240,000 miles just to hit a target 5,000 miles away? Or, I would tell him, you can join Governor Smylie's labor commissioner's forces beating the bushes for a stray cowboy, farmer, miner or sheepherder, to tell them that the old saying: "The Lord takes care of those who help themselves" has been amended to read: "Uncle Sam and the government want to give you a number so they can take care of you. Just sign this form and we will take care of the rest." But being very careful not to tell them that they are losing their freedom and identity as individuals, thereby making them defenseless and their education worthless.

MRS. KAREN DAWSON (Twin Falls)

Jerome Man Has Solution for U.S. School Problems

Editor, Times-News: The superintendent of the Twin Falls schools tells a hard luck story, his struggle for funds with 189 teachers and 5,124 scholars. If the school directors would only run the schools instead of the teachers and put 10 more scholars in each room over the U. S. we would have only so many schoolhouses and teachers that we could pay more money.

I have memories of attending country school with 34 scholars and the teacher taught 10 grades and just as large a percentage of the students made "Who's Who" as now.

If our directors would run the schools and teachers it would be a lot easier on the taxpayers. As it is with only 25 scholars in a room and teachers handling only one grade, it's pretty soft.

Crowds Near Graham In Melbourne

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 21 (AP)—A jammed traffic jam in Melbourne tonight as thousands of people poured into the city to hear evangelist Billy Graham.

Some 40,000 persons who got into Melbourne tonight to hear Billy Graham. The total of the first week here. The thousands of people who arrived by the thousands in buses, streetcars, and cars all through this warm, sunny night. After it was over, police had to cope with a major traffic jam as the crowds unwound.

Obviously delighted at the news, his hearers it was during the first week he ever has had in Melbourne.

In addition, the first week of his Melbourne visit.

Doctors have advised him to rest following a recent eye operation. Although the American evangelist looks fit, he has limited his speaking to 35 minutes a night for the customary hour.

Officials have estimated that the total cost of the local crusade at 66,000 pounds. The Australian pound is worth $2.25.

"Seas" on Moon Are Puzzlers

There's a lot astronomers have not yet found out about the moon. Particularly puzzling are the huge dark "seas" they have observed through telescopes. Drawings depict three possible answers the first space-men might discover when their ships touch down. The first school of thought, left, suggests that the "seas" are a thin layer of dust over a solid surface. There are those who say that the dust, as fine as baby powder, is perhaps two miles deep, center. Finally, some adhere to the belief that the areas are covered with hardened lava and will make excellent landing spots.

Chief Strikes Indifference Over Budget

CINCINNATI, Feb. 21 (AP)—Budget Director Maurice H. Stans complained tonight that Americans show general indifference to the federal budget.

"It is hard to find many average persons who have a working knowledge of the government's budget, or enough average citizens who are willing to take sides vocally on how it should come out," Stans said.

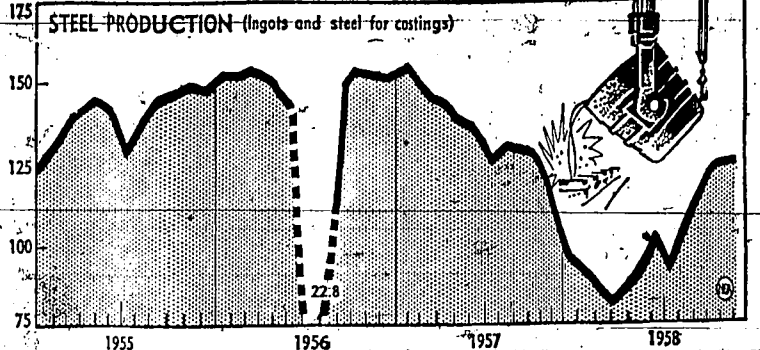

Appealing for support of the administration's efforts to balance the budget in the fiscal year beginning July 1, he said in a speech prepared for the Commercial Club of Cincinnati.

"If we can sharpen the issues, I believe public opinion will make itself felt."

Stans said so many established ideas and practices have been overthrown in recent years that "people may be losing sight of basic values." Complex and sometimes conflicting developments, he said, "have a tendency to confuse rather than sharpen our thinking."

Stans said one reason for mass indifference to the budget may be the very magnitude of the figures involved.

Steel Related to Recession

Pattern of the 1957-1958 recession, with steel production as the barometer is traced in chart. (Big dip in 1958 was caused by nationwide strike.) Production tumbled throughout 1957, bottoming about March of 1958. Since then, except for brief downturn at mid-year, steel production has begun the long climb back, spurred by new model year orders from the auto makers.

Actions in Court Filed by Bureau

Professional Adjustment Bureau filed a suit in Twin Falls court Friday against Mrs. Fay Perkins to collect $90.80 plus interest on an account allegedly owed by the Westcott Oil corporation.

The bureau claims that between Feb. 12, 1955, and Feb. 20, 1956, the corporation sold and delivered goods and services and performed other services, totaling $907.80, in value, which has been paid on the account.

The bureau seeks the entire amount of the account plus six per cent interest from May 20, 1956.

In another bureau action filed Friday, it seeks $100 and interest from Harold R. Billings for an account allegedly owed to Dr. O. A. Palmer and Dr. A. F. Dalley, Russell.

The bureau's attorney is H. N. Powell.

Demos Will Hold Price Line; Charge Just $100 Per Plate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Democratic national committee, with tongue in cheek, said today it will do its bit to hold the price line by charging just $100 a plate for its victory dinner Feb. 28.

The committee said the price of tickets will be the same as that in 1952 and since then, even though it said the cost of living has risen 9.2 per cent since President Eisenhower took office.

Democratic national chairman, Paul M. Butler, said in a statement: "We have resisted the temptation to follow the policy of administered price rises which has become so widespread during the Eisenhower administration. We are holding the line at $100 with no increase."

"We are relying on low overhead and big volume to make our 1959 fund-raising dinner a success. The committee hopes to net better than $150,000 from the dinner to help pay a $750,000 deficit.

Shoshone Legion Gets New Funds

SHOSHONE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Funds raised at the Legion auxiliary party Thursday night will go to the projects of the organization.

The event was held at the Memorial hall where the Legion supervised games and the auxiliary sold refreshments.

The community service projects of the organization include summer baseball for boys, Boys' state, education awards to the school and the oratorical contest.

Robert Haddock, Clyde Rapp, M. C. Pethick and Hal Ross were committee members in charge of the entertainment.

Jaycees to Name Contest's Winner

Byron Wright, chairman of the Jaycees outstanding young farmer contest, announced that the winner will be presented at the annual Distinguished Service award banquet Wednesday night at the Turf club.

Judging was based on community activities, religious activities, farm improvement activities and family life. Helping with the judging were the Farm Bureau, Pler Legion and Filer Community Booster club.

The March 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walker.

Richfield Bureau Elects New Slate

RICHFIELD, Feb. 21 (AP)—Richfield officers were elected for the National Farm Bureau organization unit started here this month.

Kenneth Johnson was named president; Donald Walker, vice chairman; Charles Maestas, secretary-treasurer; Jim Rutherford, director of policy disposition and policy execution; Reuben Bradshaw, organizational director, and Mrs. Donald Walker and Robert Myers, women's and men's directors and delegates to the county meeting.

Officials present for the organization meeting at the IOOF hall Tuesday night were Orval Thompson, Rupert, state Farm Bureau staff; Ward Mills, county unit president; E. F. Braun, organizational director, and Mrs. Braun, all Shoshone.

The March 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walker.

Visiting Here

Magie Valley had some unusual visitors Saturday in the form of a large flight of Bohemian waxwings.

The birds were spotted feeding on berries along Falls avenue east and in other areas.

The waxwings are seen in this region once or twice a year.

Official Talks to Gooding Rotary

GOODING, Feb. 21—Sybil Stevens spoke to Rotary members of her duties as county clerk, auditor and recorder at their weekly meeting Friday noon.

Harold Butler was program chairman. John Gainsley, Fairfield, was a guest.

Candidates for office were nominated. They are R. L. Van Houten, president; Howard Christiansen, vice president; Allen McCombs and George Carrizo, treasurer, and Adam Schubert, Jr., secretary.

It was announced to the 43 members present that every member has donated $10 to the Rotary foundation to be used as a scholarship for sending students abroad.

of new dams which are needed in the interests of the people of the state of Idaho and the entire Pacific Northwest will be impeded.

Honor Unit Gets 8 New Members

HAILEY, Feb. 21—Eight new members were initiated into the National Honor society and presented with their pins at a meeting held at the high school Thursday afternoon.

Betty Jo Golcochea, president of the class, introduced Charles Scoggin, judge of the fourth judicial district of Idaho, who spoke to the group.

Richard Stephens, president of the rotary club, presented pins to Nancy Sweet, Linda Worthington, Jackie Jacobson, Jane Murray, Karen Kitzinger, Arlene Stapleton, Kris Purdy and Dean Board.

The other five members of the society in addition to Miss Golcochea are Harold Ridgway, Frank Jones, David Inchausti and Louise Smith.

Only high school juniors and seniors are eligible for membership and it is based on scholarship, leadership and service.

Refugee Youth to Try for Academy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—An Idaho youth who came to this country as a refugee from Yugoslavia will have an opportunity March 14 to qualify for the U.S. merchant marine academy.

Sen. Henry Dworshak, R., Ida., said the boy, Jack Backes, Sandpoint, left a Yugoslav concentration camp six years ago and made his way to this country. He became a citizen last year.

He is one of four Idahoans nominated by Dworshak for the merchant marine test. The others are Gary Weed, New Meadows, Melvin D. Reader and Terence H. Wolfley, both Blackfoot.

New Pump Placed Over Well at Paul

PAUL, Feb. 21—Replacing of the old well pump with a new one was carried out Thursday as scheduled.

The work was done by the Electric Pump and Equipment company, Twin Falls, under the direction of Paul Gerhart. The roof on the pump building had to be removed for the operation.

While water pressure was low, hook-ups were completed for the Henry Manning addition, west part of Paul, and the Paul American Legion building, south of the highway.

Most residents had plenty of water all day. The only places without were those in the area where the water was being connected.

REYNOLDS FUNERAL CHAPEL
J. S. REYNOLDS, ARCHITECT, TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

To Serve You and Your Family Better

Pictured above is the artist's conception of the new Reynolds Funeral Chapel now under construction on Addison avenue East. It is located just east of the city limits. This new funeral home is designed for the complete comfort of the family and those attending the services. Facilities will include the newest in modern architecture, furnishings and equipment as well as a spacious and comforting chapel. Included also is a large, convenient parking area providing ample space for more than 100 automobiles. Jensen and Ullman are the general contractors.

We wish to take this opportunity to thank those families we have served in the past. We are looking forward to being of still further service to our community in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Reynolds

SPEAKING OF Furniture

LIGHT-AND-AIRY ILLUSION

When they are given special decorative treatments, small inside rooms are apt to give occupants a feeling of claustrophobia. The best way to avoid this is in the early planning stages. Color scheme to be used in these rooms should be composed largely of pale receding colors to give a room-stretching effect. There are a number of ways to produce a feeling of "openness" to an inside room. One is with wallpaper which produces a dimensional effect. A pattern of open shutters, for example, seems to open up the walls. A scenic mural will often create the feeling of an out-door room. There are many, many wall-paper murals available in a wide variety of designs. The light and airy feeling in the dining room sketched above is all an illusion. A long window of natural wood finish has been attached to an inside wall because a mock window frame. Cafe-type curtains in a pale lime color match the upholstery on the dining room chairs.

Foliage is artificial, yet looks and feels real—requires no great thumb or care except occasional dusting. Ice-blue patterned wallpaper on mock-window wall is cool and sophisticated—provides a perfect foil for the imposing yet simple styling of the table and chairs.

Problem rooms can be transformed into areas of sheer enchantment with imagination and ingenuity. Have you a problem room in your home? If so, we cordially invite you to come in and consult with one of our trained decorators. Whenever you can.

Scouts Award Meet Is Noted At Shoshone

SHOSHONE, Feb. 21—The annual Blue and Gold banquet for the Cub Scouts of this community was held Thursday night at the Lincoln school cafeteria.

Featured speaker was Myron Dossett, Twin Falls, Scout executive. He stressed the need for recreation and fun included in the Cub Scout program.

E. I. Shaw was master of ceremonies. The 49th anniversary cake was made by Mrs. Omer Shook.

Following the birthday anniversary song, the colors were posted by cubs from the den of Mrs. Ralph Villers, Harrell Thorne, a Scoutmaster, and Naomi Ineas were in charge of the music.

Program Given
Other program numbers included piano solos by Kevin Terry and Richard Neher, an accordion solo by Bill Villers, an original poem "My Den Mother" by Chris Mabbutt and a tap dance by Carl Pendleton. Mrs. Mickie Shortt was accompanist for the dance.

Introductions were made for den mothers and Scout officials present. They included Mrs. Ralph Villers, Mrs. A. V. Nelson, Mrs. Hal Ross, Mrs. Stanley Larson, den mothers; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Shook, from the Rotary club sponsoring organization; Henry Gabica, cubmaster; M. J. Dille, Harley Handy, Roy Gipson, Shaw and Ralph Smith, committee members.

Guests introduced were Harrell Thorne, Naomi Ineas, Floyd Silva and past den mothers Mrs. Robert Parkhurst, Mrs. James Baralica and Mrs. Leo Knowles.

Awards Listed
Awards were presented to the boys by M. J. Dille. Kenneth Glasby received a den chief chord; Craig Smith, a den chief sash; Kevin Terry, a bear badge; Ronald Croft, Dennis Knowles and Bruce Nelson, denner stripes. Nelson also received a gold arrow.

U.S. Credits Almost Equal Debts

Uncle Sam, it turns out, isn't too far in the red after all. True, the national debt is a whopping 278 billion dollars but, as of last June, federal agencies owned land, buildings and other items worth 262 billion. Map, top, illustrates how much real estate the government owns throughout the world. Put together, it would total all land east of the Mississippi river plus Arizona, California and Oregon. The debt comes out to $1572 for each man, woman and child in the country compared to $1493 credit (see drawing, lower right). Graph, lower left, shows how the government's assets have grown in the last few years. They include some 67 billion in real estate and 195 billion in personal property.

Dolly, 'Old Gray Mare,' Is Useful

CHICAGO (UP)—Dolly, an old gray mare, is worth more than her weight in gold at the University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine. The 24-year-old mare has donated 1½ times her weight in blood since 1947. She's given 264 gallons for scientific research. Dolly's blood is used at the university's bacteriology and chemistry laboratories, at the state health laboratory, Chanute air force base, local hospitals and the university's medical college, as well as at its college of veterinary and medicine.

'Wheat Rebel' Ends Holdout To Sell Farm

DOWAGIAC, Mich., Feb. 21 (AP)—Wheat controls rebel Stanley Yankus put up a "for sale" sign on his poultry farm Friday and said he is headed for a new start in Australia.

The 39-year-old Cass county farmer has attracted national attention since 1953 for his fight against the government wheat acreage allotment program. He still owes an estimated $2,600 in fines and penalties for growing more than the allotted wheat quota on his 100-acre farm.

"I'm tired of beating my head against a stone wall," Yankus said in explaining his latest move.

He said he has been accepted by the Australian government as an immigrant and will leave the United States with his wife and their three children, as soon as his fines are paid up through proceeds from the sale of his farm.

The government seized about $1,700 of his bank account last year to settle part of the penalties. Yankus said he has written U.S. Atty. Wendell A. Miles at Grand Rapids and asked to be billed for the remainder.

Yankus has contended since 1953 that wheat grown on his farm was used in feeding his poultry, not for commercial use. He markets about 53,000 dozen eggs a year. Yankus claimed the wheat controls program was unconstitutional. He said his move to Australia was primarily on account of his children. "They will have more freedom there," he said, "and I think the controls here will get worse instead of better."

Mrs. Cantrell's attorney is H. N. Jewell.

Paratroopers "Defend" Panama Canal

The sky is dotted with floating paratroopers in a mass drop to battle a theoretical aggressor force menacing the Panama canal. Approximately 1,300 paratroopers took part in the jump from planes flying 2,000 miles from a U.S. base in Exercise Banyan Tree. All of the paratroopers are from the second airborne group, 501st Infantry, flown from Ft. Bragg, N.C. Six of the men were injured and another presumably leaped prematurely and fell into the sea. ### Infants May Be Destined for Disorders While Still Unborn

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—An infant may be destined for disorders such as cerebral palsy, epilepsy, or mental deficiency while still in his mother's womb, a psychiatrist suggested today.

The mother's insufficient diet or other pregnancy problems, such as disease while she is carrying her baby may do the harm.

In some cases it means death to the newborn. In others it may mean disability.

The evidence is strong enough to suggest the need for preventive programs during pregnancy and preferably before conception, said Dr. Benjamin Pasamanick of Ohio State university.

His studies are not complete, he explained, but already they indicate a forerunner to mental problems exists in the complications of pregnancy and premature birth.

There are five disorders which studies have closely associated with those complications: cerebral palsy, epilepsy, mental deficiency, behavior disorders and reading disability.

The study is based on close surveys of population groups in Baltimore, Pasamanick told a meeting of the American Psychopathological society.

Only three of this year's members on Columbia's basketball team reside outside New York state.

New Case Worker

HAILEY, Feb. 21—William Grant, acting director of the department of public assistance for Blaine and Lincoln counties, took over his new duties this week.

Grant, after graduating from Western school, served four years in the armed forces and returned to attend the College of Idaho from which he graduated. Previous to coming here he was a case worker for the department of public assistance at Nampa.

BUHL, Feb. 21—An election of new district officers and a debate on consolidation of the Buhl district of Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts of America with the Twin Falls district, will be featured at the annual meeting slated for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Buhl high school.

Dr. George Marshall, president of the Snake River council, and Ralph Harris, commissioner of the council, will discuss the consolidation with the leaders.

Howard Pariah, Delbert Alexander and Bud McNeely, nominating committee members, named Vance Butler for chairman; Kenneth McNew, vice chairman; Bob Lappay, advancement; Elwood Wing, organization and extension; Jim Hart, camping; Leonard Howard, leadership training; and Mack Turner, public relations.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor at the meeting. A vote also will be taken on the proposed consolidation. This meeting also includes Cub Scouts and all leaders in packs five, three and 100 are invited to attend this reorganizational meeting.

All den mothers, cubmasters, committee members and institutional representatives as well as the Scout leaders are urged to be present.

Awards Told At Cub Scout Dinner Event

The annual Blue and Gold banquet for Cub Scout pack 99 was held in the Fellowship hall of the First Baptist church this week.

Tumbleweeds of blue and gold with streamers served as decorations with place cards made by the Cub Scouts and den mothers, carrying out the scouting by the Rev. Ernest Hoeschele and Joe McCollum was master of ceremonies.

The new charter was presented by Dale Rouse, representing the Twin Falls district. Charles Wright gave a reading and Ricky Renich played two guitar selections.

Scoutmaster Archie Brown spoke on the value of scouting to boys, stressing the need for parents and boys to work closely in training the leaders of tomorrow.

Special awards for the four den chiefs, Orville Wilson, Erwin Peck, Alan Brown and Jimmy Cox, were presented by Brown.

Joe Dodson, cub Scoutmaster, presented membership cards to committee members and den mothers. Under direction of Clarence Scherbinske, awards chairman, each den chief presented awards to the cubs from his den.

Those receiving awards were Ricky Sheen, David Spencer, David McCollum, den 1; Douglas Brownfield, Robbie Sloan, Robert Sheen, Mitchell Campbell, Gerald Webster, den 3; Scott Williams, Jack Cox, Russell Johnson, Tommy Helwig, den 4, and Eldon Peck, den 6.

The Rev. Keith Brininstool led group singing after retirement of the flag by the den chiefs.

Club to Conduct All-Day Session

An all-day meeting and potluck dinner is scheduled next Saturday for the Sew or Serve 4-H club. The group will tour the Idaho Department store at 9 a.m. with the meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Marvin Sheridan, leader.

The plans were made at a recent meeting conducted by Susan Summerville, president. Demonstrations were given by Lea Egbert and Carol Egbert. Mrs. Paul McCollum is assistant leader.

Cougar Bagged in Hills South of Oakley

Valley Hunters Shoot Cougar In Hill Area South of Oakley

A male cougar measuring seven feet, four inches from nose to tip of tail was bagged Thursday afternoon in the hills south of Oakley by three hunters, Ben Eldredge, Twin Falls; Jack Mason, Burley, and William Bruesch, Elmo.

According to Eldredge, the three men have been hunting partners for about seven years. This is the first cat they have gotten this winter. They usually get about three each winter.

Eldredge notes they found the "cold" track of the cat in the snow about noon Thursday. He estimates the track was about a day old.

They found the track in a steep-sided, wooded canyon that serves as a game trail for deer wintering in the area.

Eldredge says they followed the track for several hours and then put their four dogs on the trail when it became fresh. The dogs jumped the cat in rough, boulder-strewn country.

The cougar tread in about 100 yards. Eldredge shot it with a .22-caliber pistol and the cat jumped to the ground, had a minor fracas with the dogs and ran about 100 yards before collapsing.

The men had been hunting on horseback. They packed the lion out of the rough country about 5 p.m.

Speakers' Clubs To Hold Contest

Experts Outline Various Aids To Extend Forage Production

The staff of the Aberdeen plant materials center has offered some pointers to ranchers in the area to aid them in visualizing and analyzing their individual forage problems and to apply conservation practices to help them maintain operations at present levels for many years.

Mountain meadows in the 11 Western states comprise between three and one-half and four million acres of valuable forage producing land. These meadows are found under a wide variety of soil and climatic conditions but all have a common use. That is to provide feed for livestock in the form of hay and pasture.

Stockmen have depended on these areas in mountain valleys for early spring pasture, some summer pasture, hay production and fall pasture for 75 years or longer. This intensive use has been accompanied in many instances by rather poor cultural management such as over-irrigation, early spring and late fall use and lack of fertilizer.

Ranchers report that forage production has declined and continues to decline as the better quality higher producing forage species are eliminated and the poor quality, low producing sedges and rushes take over. Reliable reports indicate that per acre production has declined to less than half the original.

This loss in forage production from areas that produced a maximum of only two to two and one-half tons per acre is serious. Ranchers until recently have compensated for the reduced yields by increasing their acreage through land purchase. Now, the scarcity of land and the high prices of such land has drastically restricted further use of this practice.

Alternatives that present themselves to the rancher are increased production from present lands or a reduction in livestock numbers. Most ranches need to keep their stock numbers at or near present levels to maintain an economic unit so the only feasible alternative is to maintain or increase forage production on current land holdings.

Some of the answers have been found by research, but there is still much to be learned. Use of improved plant materials, sound conservation practices, and improved management techniques for both grass and cattle will be a big step toward good forage production and long time use of these valuable forage producing areas. Clarence Hedrick of the soil conservation department states.

Rules Explained On Lamb Grant

Lamb producers should keep in mind that only unshorn lambs are eligible for lamb payments under the wool program, Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, advised today.

The program, which was set up under the national wool act, provides incentive payments on unshorn lambs made on per-hundredweight basis. The payment is calculated on the basis of the shorn wool incentive payment, the average weight of wool per hundred pounds of lamb, and the value of lamb wool in relation to shorn wool.

Payments on lambs sold between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1960, will be made this summer when the average yearly prices received by growers can be determined. Lambs sold after March 31 will be eligible for payment under the 1959 program which runs from April 1 through March 31, 1960.

 He was Kimberly jubilee chairman in 1955. In 1950 and 1951, he was vice president of the Idaho Association of Chiropractic Physicians.
 Dr. Vostka plans to begin practice in Garden Grove March 1. Other members of his family will remain in Kimberly until school closes in May.

Charge Is Denied In Damage Action
 Two local store owners deny in answer filed in Twin Falls district court Friday that negligence of an employee resulted in injury to Mrs. Robert R. Martin.
 Mrs. Martin and her husband, charged in a suit that an employee of the Drive-Way market negligently closed a car door on her hand, causing permanent injury to a finger.
 Owners of the store, Jack C. Carson and Artel C. Kelly, answer that if Mrs. Martin sustained any injury or suffered any damages it was her own fault.
 They deny that any act or omission of one of their employees caused her to seek medical attention.
 Represented by Parry, Robertson and Daly, Carson and Kelly ask for the dismissal of the suit and recovery of costs.

Nuclear Won't Replace Older Style Weapons

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—Nuclear-powered engines apparently will not replace chemical thrust for missiles for several years, a space expert says.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the national aeronautics and space administration, told congress Friday the atomic energy commission believes it will be 5 to 10 years before nuclear rockets in the first stages because of the present dangers of radiation.

Future nuclear thrust, he said, probably will be needed chiefly for very large payloads and "most distant goals."

His predictions came after some senators questioned the wisdom of spending hundreds of millions or billions of dollars developing and expanding chemical fuel space engines if nuclear power may be available within a few years.

D. D. Wyatt, assistant to the director of NASA's office of space flight development, stressed in his testimony the importance of space guidance.

He said that without perfect guidance, the future spaceman may get lost in outer space and just float around.

Wyatt said NASA now has plans for a permanent space laboratory and flights to the moon and other planets and back. These will follow the first man in space flight for which definite designs and contracts have been let, he said.

NASA officials concluded two days of public testimony before a senate space subcommittee with a secret session. They seek approval for spending an additional $48,254,000 on civilian space efforts before July 1 and $485,300,000 in the following 12 months.

Nepotism on Capitol Hill In Spotlight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP)—As it does almost every year, nepotism today attracted a spotlight on capitol hill.

The ancient political practice of giving government jobs to relatives receives attention annually when the house of representatives reveals its office payroll.

This year's records show that at least six of the 82 new house members have their wives on the payrolls. The wives' salaries range from $4,047 to $13,344 a year.

In addition, Rep. Steven V. Carter, D. Ia., a freshman congressman, hired his 19-year-old son, a freshman college student, as an $11,000-a-year assistant.

The senate refuses to open its payroll records to public scrutiny. Any nepotism there usually is a secret.

The congressmen's justification for the practice is that the relatives do important work and fully earn their pay.

"We have always been a team," Rep. Leonard G. Wolf, D. Ia., said, explaining why his wife, Marilyn, is on the payroll for $1,037.91 a month.

The five other new congressmen with wives on the payroll were Rep. Robert W. Levering, D. O., wife, Eileen, $12,527; Rep. Denver D. Hargis, D. Kans., wife, Charlee, $8,192; Rep. Ralph Rivers, D., Alaska, wife, Martha, $4,800; Rep. Randall S. Harmond, D. Ind., wife, Mary, $4,424; Rep. William H. Meyer, D., Va., wife, Bertha, $4,047.

Crowd Beats 600 For PTA's Event

More than 600 persons attended the Harrison school PTA smorgasbord Thursday at the school.

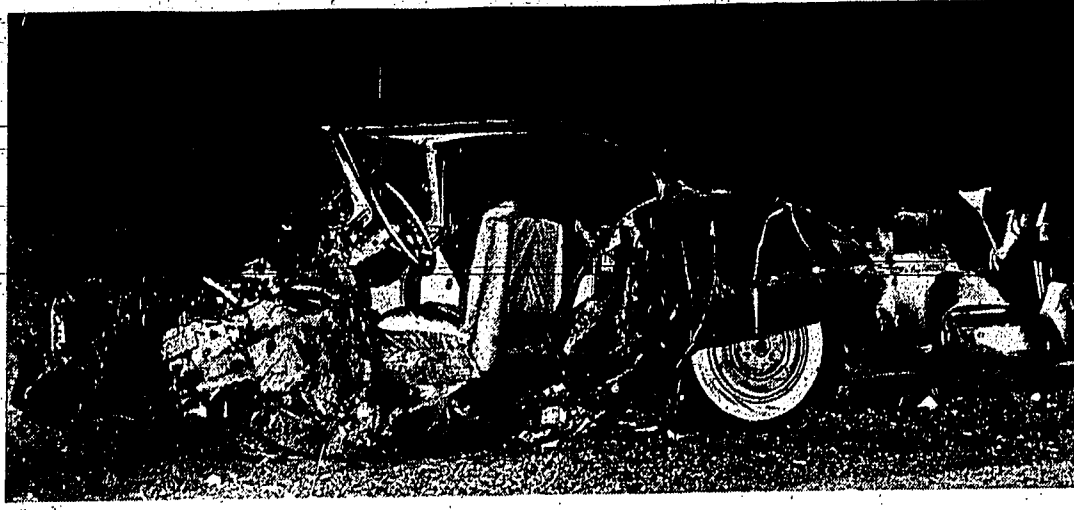

A total of 631 tickets were sold and approximately 50 pre-school children were admitted free. Proceeds will be used by the organization for future PTA projects.

This was the second of such events sponsored by the PTA. Because of the success of the event during the past two years, the dinner probably will be made an annual event, according to Mrs. Bob Eastman, publicity chairman for the organization.

Food for the smorgasbord was prepared by mothers of children attending the school. Games and a movie were held in conjunction with the dinner. Proceeds, from last year's dinner were used to buy a new stove for the school and new uniforms for the school patrol.

There are approximately 600 members in the Harrison school PTA. Mr. and Mrs. David Barry are co-presidents of the group.

Young Driver Killed in Shoshone Auto. Wreck

Magie Valley's mounting traffic death toll jumped to nine early Friday when Melvin Eugene Turner, Ketchum, died when his car collided with a 1955 Mack truck on highway 26 west of Shoshone. Turner, who was 20 years old Thursday, was driving the auto which officials said sideswiped the truck, demolishing the left side of the auto. Car passengers, Betty Davis, 18, Halley; Linda Johnson, Ketchum, and Edward Cutler, 19, Halley, had only minor injuries. The fatality was Lincoln county's second in 1959. (Staff engraving)

Mystery Still Surrounds Man Who Said He Saw Plane Crash

CEDAR CITY, Utah, Feb. 21 (AP)—It was still a mystery today as to what happened to a 24-year-old Idaho serviceman and what happened to that plane crash he thought he saw.

The serviceman, Pfc. Bernard G. Erwin, Ft. Bliss, Tex., whose home town is Nampa, was found unconscious Friday night.

He was still unconscious today. A hospital spokesman said doctors reported Erwin mumbled a few words which sounded like "Jacket on bush."

Erwin was found about one mile off Utah highway 20 near this southern Utah community.

Some motorists saw a sign on his car on the road. It was painted with shoe polish and said: "Stop." So they did.

Inside was a note. It said: "Have gone to investigate what looks like a plane crash about one-quarter mile to my right. Notify state police immediately."

The motorists followed Erwin's trail. They found him face down in the mud. No plane crash was visible.

No crash nor any missing plane could be determined today.

Iron county Sheriff Otto Fife said he would notify Ft. Bliss about Erwin.

The sheriff said there were no marks of violence or any indication of foul play.

Erwin was hospitalized here. The hospital said he appeared in reasonable health, with normal heart-beat, except for his unconsciousness. No diagnosis of his condition could be determined immediately.

Budge Says Tools Lack Responsible In Plant Decline

POCATELLO, Feb. 21 (AP)—A lack of proper tooling caused a reduction in the work force at Pocatello naval ordnance depot, reports Rep. Hamer Budge, R., Ida.

Rear Adm. Miles H. Hubbard, acting chief of the bureau of naval ordnance, told Budge a difference in equipment accounted for increased employment at Louisville, Ky., at the expense of Pocatello.

"The Pocatello plant was not tooled to manufacture missile launchers," Hubbard said. "This requires the same type of tools as are required for the manufacture of gun mounts and which are available at Louisville."

Hubbard said that bureau of ordnance records show that average civilian employment in 1954 was 579 at Pocatello and 1,459 at Louisville. At the end of 1958 the average was 446 at Pocatello and 1,772 at Louisville.

Gov. Rockefeller Has Boos, Cheers

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was greeted by a mixture of catcalls, boos, applause and cheers Friday night as he delivered a brief address before some 5,000 visitors to the New York coliseum.

Rockefeller welcomed the throng to the National Outdoor Exposition. The boos and catcalls apparently stemmed from Rockefeller's call for more state income taxes, preferably on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Asked later about the unfavorable aspect of the two-minute demonstration, Rockefeller replied: "I think this is perfectly natural. Who's going to dance in the streets when they have to pay more taxes?"

Appeal Action Opens Here in Suit by Clinic

Transcripts and records of a dispute between the Twin Falls Clinic and Dr. Pen H. Covington are being prepared to accompany an appeal of the court's decision to the state supreme court.

The clinic brought partners in the clinic last year against Dr. Covington and charged that he violated an employment agreement which prohibited him from practicing medicine within a 25-mile radius of Twin Falls until June, 1958.

District Judge Sherman J. Bell upheld the legality of the agreement. In a judgment filed yesterday, Judge Bellwood's final decision did not differ from a memorandum of decision circulated several weeks ago.

Covington's attorneys, Benoit and Benoit, Twin Falls, stated at the time the memorandum of decision was circulating that Judge Bellwood's decision would be appealed.

Transcripts of the trial reporter's notes already have been completed. Clerk T. W. Stivers said yesterday that transcripts of the court clerk's notes still must be prepared. He said the work probably will be finished within a week.

In agreement, reached between Covington's attorneys and attorneys for the clinic, Stephan, Stephan and Heap, Twin Falls, proposed that even if the supreme court upholds the legality of the employment agreement, Dr. Covington will be allowed to practice medicine in the clinic, Stephan said before June, 1961.

According to Edward L. Benoit, the agreement provides that Dr. Covington will be allowed to practice during the appeal. In fact, Benoit says Dr. Covington will be permitted from practicing only during the appeal, which will be held in June, July and August if the supreme court upholds Judge Bellwood's decision.

The clinic partners, Dr. Joseph W. Marshall, Dr. Edwood T. Rees, Dr. David A. McClusky, Dr. George W. Ward and Dr. Royal S. Cutler, charged in their suit that Dr. Covington, employed at the clinic from 1955 to June, 1958, violated the terms of an employment agreement when he began practicing medicine in Twin Falls soon after leaving the clinic. The employment agreement provided that Dr. Covington would not practice medicine within a 25-mile radius of the clinic until June, 1961.

Denial Is Lodged In Divorce Action

Lauren Heldemann, charged with neglecting mental and physical health on his wife in a divorce action filed Jan. 30, denied the charges set forth in the complaint of the suit, an answer filed in Twin Falls district court Saturday.

Heldemann denies that his wife fit to have custody of the couple's child. She is engaged in operating a saloon, Heldemann alleges, and works late.

He denies that community property held by the couple is worth $10,000.

His attorneys are Rayborn and Sporn. Mrs. Heldemann is represented by Kramer and Walker.

Flight to Mexico Set for Idahoans

BOISE, Feb. 21 (AP)—Plans were being completed today for the fifth annual flight to Mexico by the owners of small planes. The flight was arranged under the sponsorship of the Idaho department of aeronautics.

Clay Mouton, director, said the planes will meet at St. George, Utah, March 13. They will leave the next day for Mexico and return to this country March 23.

Karen Gunning, right, 16, of Mulberry, Ind., hugs her chaperone, Mrs. Fred Relehart, of Lafayette, Ind., at Chicago after she won the 27th National Cherry Pie baking contest Feb. 19. Karen said she baked 390 pies in the last four years to try out five or six recipes. Asked if she thought the judges were going to choose her entry as the best, Karen said: "No, I didn't think so. My pie ran, I saw it." (AP wirephoto)

Chinese Communists Succeed In Food Project; None Starve

BY DR. SRIPATI CHANDRASEKHAR Copyright, 1959 By The Associated Press

It is natural that in any underdeveloped country the problem of agriculture and food supply should assume paramount importance. This is particularly true in China where famine has stalked the land from time immemorial and grain has been imported since 1721.

During the last 100 years, what with a series of wars with western nations, continuous Japanese aggression after 1931, a 30-year civil war and a six-year World War II, there has been a constant state of political unrest, economic dislocation and recurring famine.

About 25 years ago, when China, in the throes of widespread famine, appealed to the International Red Cross, the Red Cross declined help on the ground that it was designed to meet national emergencies but that famine in China was not an emergency but a chronic state of affairs.

What have the communists done to solve the food problem? While there was some shortage today from the quantitative point of view.

No one starves in China now. Though the common man does not have meat or fruit, everybody gets at least a bowl of rice and some cabbage.

This is saying a great deal when you remember that China's population today is about 650 millions.

Any satisfactory solution of the food problem in Asian countries implies revolutionary changes in land ownership and methods of cultivation.

The Chinese communists have effected, by and large successfully, such drastic changes. Their agrarian reforms have passed through four distinct changes between 1949 and 1958.

The first stage witnessed the public trials of landlords. And when the long-suffering peasantry knew that the new regime meant business, they accused the landlords of all the crimes known to man—from harsh treatment, withholding grain from a starving peasant's family, raping the peasant's daughter or taking his women as concubines, down to brutal murder.

It is possible that some landlords were guilty of these crimes, but there were no lawyers to defend them.

Communist justice is of a different kind. Most landlords pleaded guilty for the simple reason that they knew their end was near no matter what their defense.

It was estimated about two million landlords were executed. Now the land was available.

The second stage involves the distribution of land to landless peasants. A very complicated machinery was set in motion to distribute the land on the basis of numerous criteria.

The average peasant received a few mou of land. A mou equals about a sixth of an acre. There was jubilation among 600 million peasants, but it did not last long.

Within two years, the third stage was launched. It was said that private ownership of land was neither socialism nor communism, that it was both a serious economic barrier to greater production, so desperately needed, and a theoretical obstacle to socialist reconstruction.

It is true that the peasants now had the land, but they were "helped to discover" that collective and large-scale cultivation alone could solve the problem of China's agrarian poverty and hunger. Thus collectivization was ushered in.

One can only imagine the reprimand and effort involved in this reorganization. With this collectivization the state took away the land which it had so ceremoniously distributed to the peasants only a few years earlier.

While collective ownership and cooperative farming increased the yield, China was not yet out of the woods from the point of view of food supply. China's population had been increasing by a net annual addition of 13 to 15 million during these years.

There the fourth and present stage came—the people's communes, which were causing such heart-searching during the last few days that I was in China.

Mormons Buy up Site Where Temple Stood 100 Years Ago

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Mormons have purchased land occupied by their temple in Nauvoo, Ill., more than a century ago.

They plan to construct there a building that will follow the architectural pattern of the 1830s.

The announcement was made today by Richard C. Stratford, president of the Northern States mission of the LDS church.

The Mormons came to Nauvoo in 1838 but headed west later. The old temple was destroyed by fire. Stratford said the church last week bought a strip of land on the old temple square.

The purchase, added to what they previously owned, gives them about 75 per cent of the old square.

Stratford said the Mormons plan to start work this fall on a one-story building with some 3,500 square feet of space. The structure, he said, will serve as a bureau of information to provide a guide service for visitors and will contain an auditorium for showing historic films.

The ground just purchased was owned by the Mississippi Valley Telephone company.

Engineer Is Charged for Train Delay

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—A spokesman for the New Haven railroad says an engineer showed "lack of spirit" in holding up a train carrying 1,000 home bound commuters while a workman was found to clean the dirty window of the locomotive cab.

The train was held up for 23 minutes here Friday until a workman did the proper classification was found to do the job.

The engineer was within his rights, said the railroad spokesman, but when it was evident the train, bound for fashionable Westchester county, would be delayed, he added, the engineer should have cleaned the window himself. No action was planned against the engineer.

Panama Canal Is Now Without Any Type of Missile Defense

PANAMA, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Panama canal, once ringed by the most modern of weapons, now has no missile defenses.

Moreover, there seems little air of urgency in establishing missile defenses for the United States' canal zone, in an era when rocket weapons are becoming of major importance.

Why is the primary defense of the canal zone still based on anti-aircraft guns not much different from those of World War II? Military commanders stationed here or visiting the area for recently concluded exercises point to some of the factors back of the policy. And there are other obvious ones which they do not mention.

1. The assumption is that an enemy would aim at seizure rather than destruction of the canal. For a conquering nation it would have high economic value. Its military value to the United States is lessened in these days by the fact that the U. S. Navy now is a two-ocean fleet. Destruction of the canal could be more probable through sabotage of dams and locks than through air or missile attack.

Scouts Quit

CANTON, Ill., Feb. 21 (UPI)—Canton's Girl Scouts quit en masse yesterday to join the Camp Fire Girls.

A spokesman said the girls switched forces for a "number of reasons," among them that the professional staff of the local Scouts' council had been "very rude" to Scout leaders.

Plight of Cities Decaying in Mid-Section Noted in Report

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP)—America's older cities were reported today to be decaying in the midsections, with business and population fleeing to the open spaces.

The trend was reported in a lengthy study published by the committee for economic development.

It said a gray belt of deterioration has settled over leading metropolitan areas between the business districts and surrounding suburbs.

No remedies were seen on the horizon to stop what it called the "growing obsolescence" of this central urban sector.

A decline in population, jobs, property values and economic activities was reported under way, with only the downtown business districts and suburbs still on stable footing.

The study was prepared by Dr. Raymond Vernon, director of the New York metropolitan region study for the area development committee of the CED, a business-supported economic research and education organization.

Although the 82-page printed report included detailed data only for New York City, it said the "same conditions prevail in 12 other cities: Baltimore, Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland—Detroit, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and San Francisco.

So far, the report said, the "central cities" of these big towns still "dominate the metropolitan complexes of which they form a part," but they're gradually losing ground.

"By almost any objective standard," the report added, "the major central cities of our nation over the past 50 years or more, have been developing more slowly than the suburban areas that surround them."

"By many such standards, this relative decline has lately begun to appear as an absolute decline as well."

Along with the flight of its better-income residents have gone—retailers, wholesalers, manufacturers and many office operations, the report said.

"Specifically, there is little about the comparative level of costs in the nation's principal central cities to commend them as a place for doing business as compared with their suburban hinterlands."

Cars Collide

Approximately $20 in damages were estimated Saturday afternoon as result of an accident in the 100 block of Third avenue south.

Police reported the accident involved a Lincoln automobile driven by Juanita Guerry, 50, Castledale, and a Volvo driven by Mildred Suran, 42, 340 Blue Lakes boulevard north.

Damage to the right rear door and fender of the Lincoln was estimated at $15. Damage to the left front fender of the Volvo was about $5. The Volvo was pulling from the curb when the accident occurred.

Navy to Take Union Chiefs On Sea Cruise

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 21 (AP)—The U. S. navy arranged to take AFL-CIO leaders on a cruise off Puerto Rico today aboard the missile-firing cruiser Boston.

The labor chiefs are in recess for the week-end, their winter meeting is due to resume Monday.

The AFL-CIO council postponed action Friday on a proposal to suspend Maurice Hutcheson, president of the 850,000-member Carpenters' union, from the council.

The council decided to let Hutcheson, now under indictment in an Indian highway land scandal, continue a self-imposed exile from the AFL-CIO council.

James M. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, presented a motion to suspend Hutcheson immediately as an

Lands Safely

Swiss Slide Still Clings to Slope

HERBRIGGEN, Switzerland, Feb. 21 (AP)—The tons of rock and ice suspended precariously high above Herbriggen remained motionless today. Local experts said there might be no chance for many weeks.

Officials of the Valais cantonal government said they would investigate next week whether it is considered possible to build a concrete barrier near the lower part of the slide to hold it back.

Local mountaineers familiar with the area said building such a barrier would present enormous technical difficulties.

Most of the residents of this little village of 250 have moved out because of the general expectation that Herbriggen is doomed when warmer weather loosens the massive slide.

Darlyn Vogt and J. C. Winn Marry In Rupert Ritual

RUPERT, Feb. 21—Vogts were exchanged by Darlyn V. Vogt, daughter of Alvin F. Vogt and Mrs. Val Lynda Vogt, and J. C. Winn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Winn, Anchorage, Alaska, in candlelight rites at Valentine's day at the Trinity Lutheran church.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Alfred Eichmann at 7:30 p. m. before the altar which was decorated with arrangements of red carnations and greenery and flanked by candelabra and baskets of red and white carnations tied with white satin bows.

Claud H. Bowman sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Betty Schoen, organist.

The bride's gown was fashioned from white crystalline and satin. The bodice of crystalline was designed with traditional long sleeves and high scalloped neckline with a V in the back. The full, floor-length skirt of brocade satin was accented with a panel of crystalline in the front. It was made by Mrs. Verlan Hess, aunt of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip veil was doubled to form points and gathered to a circle of white apple blossoms and white roses with touches of silver glitter. She carried red roses and white hyacinth bouquets tied with white satin ribbon on a background of French illusion net centered with a white orchid on a white Bible, a gift from her mother.

Maid of honor, Cheryl Vogt, sister of the bride, wore a bouffant gown of yellow net, and bridesmaids Mary Tracy and Linda Hasky both wore bouffant gowns of blue net. All carried heart-shaped bouquets of red carnations and bows of red satin ribbon sprinkled with silver glitter. The bridesmaids also lighted the candles.

Carl Schorzman attended the bridegroom as best man. Dallas Carotta, Lynn Schodde, Jerry Aldridge and Ed Vaughn were ushers. The rings were carried by Duane Bean, cousin of the bridegroom.

Flower girl, Linda Hess, also a cousin of the bridegroom, was frocked in pink and carried a bouquet matching those of the bride's attendants.

A light gray suit with white accessories was worn by the bride's mother. A rose-beige suit with navy blue accessories was selected by the bridegroom's mother. Red roses formed their corsages.

A reception in the Civic auditorium followed the ceremony. Guests were registered by Marilyn Hunsaker. Gifts were arranged by Donna Kelly, Sherry Sillen, Karen Miller and Gayla Hayden.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom, and decorated with pink and white roses, was served by Mrs. Lou Freeman and Mrs. Fred Biering. Coffee was poured by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klunkenberg and punch was served by Mrs. Henry Dockter and Mrs. Alfred Packham.

For a wedding trip the bride chose a white lace two-piece suit dress with complementing accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple left Thursday for Anchorage where they will make their home.

Out-of-state guests included Mrs. Winn, Anchorage, and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lane, Lakewood, Calif., sister of the bridegroom. Other guests attended from Pocatello, Jerome and Burley.

Miss Bronson Is Bride of Garrett In Temple Rites

VIEW, Feb. 21—Rites solemnized recently at the Logan LDS temple united in marriage Del Jean Bronson and Samuel Garrett, Jr. The double ring ceremony was performed by President George A. Raymond.

Accompanying the couple through the temple were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Garrett, Jr., parents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Leta Bronson, mother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bronson, and Mrs. Taylor Nelson, and Mrs. Clifford, Melvin Clayton and G. Peterson.

For the wedding and the reception held in the View LDS recreation hall, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over nylon crepe. A lace and rhinestone tiara held her elbow-length tulle veil of illusion sheer and she carried a bouquet of red roses surrounded with split white carnations.

Mrs. Thomas Crandall, Burley, matron of honor, wore a princess style gown of green taffeta. Junior bridesmaids were Sherry and Shariene Bronson, twin sisters of the bride, in princess styled dresses of pink taffeta.

Gary Robins was best man, and Ray and Ruben Bronson stood with their mother in the receiving line. For her daughter's reception Mrs. Bronson wore a beige knit two-piece dress. Mrs. Garrett selected a green afternoon dress.

During the program, the View women's chorus sang "Temple of the Father" and "The Wedding Prayer"; the bride sang "You'll Never Walk Alone"; Ray and Ruben Bronson sang "Have I Told You Lately That I Love You?" Sherry and Shariene Bronson sang "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and Mrs. Edith M. Corless, "I Love Thee and 'One Alone.' Merlene Woodbury recited "A Bride and Bridegroom's Prayer."

Prayers were given by Bishop Payne and Bishop Woodbury. Nieces and cousins of the couple carried the gifts which were arranged by Joan Croft, Darlene Erickson and DeAnn Dunford. Mrs. Nephi Anderson attended the guest book.

Minico Spartans Register 14th Consecutive Win by Defeating Jerome 66-55

RUPERT, Feb. 21—The Minico Spartans completed an undefeated season in the Big Seven conference here tonight as they dumped the Tigers of Jerome 66-55. The win was the 14th straight in conference for the Spartans' 14th consecutive overall. Their record for the year is 15 wins against two losses, the last defeat coming early in December at Twin Falls. Coach Bill Matthews' charges commanded the contest all the way but didn't get a comfortable margin until the third quarter. Minico opened up by drawing first blood and Jerome trailed the entire evening.

Charles Morris canned a long shot from the corner just before the end of the first half to make it 31-27 at intermission. Then at the third canter, Jerome cut the margin to two points.

Gary Anderson and Pat O'Donnell lighted the powerful Spartan offensive machine and they hurried away.

It was the final game of the season for both teams, Jerome winding up with a 7-5 conference record. The Spartans had a strong night from the field, canning 42 per cent of their shots but fell down at the free throw line with 48 per cent. Jerome was slightly cooler from the field, posting a 38 per cent mark but the Tigers hit 64 per cent from the free throw line. The Tigers also were assisted when a scramble under the Jerome basket resulted in a Minico man accidentally tapping in two for the Tigers.

Utah Fresh Come From Behind to Beat Magic Valley Christian 87-62

LOGAN, Feb. 21—Utah State freshmen, trailing throughout the first half, turned to its numerical superiority and pulled away in the closing minutes of the game to wallop Magic Valley Christian college 87-62 here Saturday night. It marked the second win for the Utah frosh over Magic Valley's Panthers. Led by Roger Williams, the visitors jumped off to an early lead and held the favored frosh at bay during the first 20 minutes. After fashioning an early lead, Magic Valley nursed it slowly but steadily to a 38-29 cushion at intermission. But as the second half opened, the Utah Staters began finding the range and behind steady substitution started wearing the undermanned Panthers down.

They pulled up into challenging position with about six minutes gone in the second half and for the next several minutes the teams played a see-saw battle.

Utah's frosh team turned on a strong finishing kick and in the last eight minutes were unstoppable. Williams ended the night with 23 points, nine on free throws to pace the losing attack while Langford led the winners with a total of 21 points.

Werner Almost Cinches Slalom Championship

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., Feb. 21—Power-skier Buddy Werner whipped down Squaw Valley's Olympic slalom course today in the two fastest times to virtually wrap up the North American slalom championship.

Only the technicality of a warning shot before times because of official stood between the 23-year-old from Steamboat Springs, Colo., and the title. His runs were 67.1-66.8 for and unofficial total of 2 minutes, 33.9 seconds.

No one in the international field testing the 1960 Olympic winter games course appeared in any position to beat the 154-pound skier who's considered the best U.S. skier yet for the Olympics.

Werner beat out defending champion Christian Pravda, former world champion from Austria, who now teaches at Sun Valley, Ida. Pravda had a 2:15.9 total. In third place was Marvin Melville, 1956 Olympian from Salt-Lake-City, with a 2:15.4 total.

Osamu Tada of Japan, who ranked second at the end of the first run, was demoted to the course during his second try but landed on his ski to post a time of 67.6-68.8-2:16.4.

The course had been rutted by earlier races.

Frequent spills spoiled the day for many of the 63 men racers on the 2,000-foot-long course.

The North American competition with its warmup of Olympic runs continues Sunday with both the men's and women's giant slalom.

Wildcats Snap Auburn's Win Streak 75-56

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 21—Kentucky, the nation's No. 3 team, shattered second-ranked Auburn's 30-game winning streak with a balanced attack and defensive prowess tonight 75-56 in a prestige-packed Southeastern conference basketball game.

Auburn, the SEC leader, had its only advantage in the opening minutes, going ahead once by three points and holding its last lead at 11-9 with 14:12 remaining in the half.

Coffman hit a free throw and Cox added a fielder to put Kentucky on top by one, and the Wildcats went on to extend their edge twice to 21 points before intermission.

One spurt in which Kentucky outscored Auburn 12-3 applied the clincher.

Doc Frederick, Auburn's leading scorer, had five points.

Auburn took only 45 shots and obviously concentrated on getting the wide-open attempts. The Tigers hit 19 of 42 for 45.2 per cent. Kentucky hit 29 for 69.5 per cent. Kentucky hit 29 for 69.5 per cent. Kentucky hit 29 for 69.5 per cent.

A hot-shooting first half wrapped up the decision for the Kentucky Wildcats that snapped Auburn's winning streak—the nation's longest.

Kentucky raced to a 46-28 lead at halftime and was content to play it cautious the final half, staying in front by 16 to 19 points all period.

Johnny Cox and Billy Ray Lickert each tallied 18 points, Bennie Coffman added 16 and Dickie Parsons added 14 in the well-balanced Wildcat attack.

For Auburn, Jimmy Lee and Henry Hart had 12 apiece.

Kansas State Wins Berth in NCAA Basketball Tourney

STILLWATER, Okla., Feb. 21—Kansas State gained an NCAA playoff berth and at least a tie for the Big Eight conference basketball championship today by beating Oklahoma State 62-50.

Bob Hooper, Kansas State's All-American candidate, scored 26 points in leading the Wildcats to their 21st triumph against one loss.

Oklahoma State tried hard to upset the free-wheeling Kansans but the visitors' height and uncanny marksmanship proved decisive in the final stages.

It was the 11th straight conference victory for Kansas State, the No. 4 team in the Associated Press basketball poll.

Oklahoma State got a 9-5 lead and stayed in front until Ced Prince ahead 14-13 midway in the first half. Kansas State regained its poise and forged a halting edge of 30-28. The Wildcats were never behind after that.

GOLDEN GLOVES DATES SET
CHICAGO, Feb. 21—With the completion of eliminations at the widely scattered centers next week, the field of 32 teams will be set for the Golden Gloves tournament of champions March 2-3-4 in Chicago.

Mathews Wins 200-Mile Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 21—Edwin (Banjo) Mathews of Asheville, N. C., driving a 1956 Ford, powered by a 1959 Lincoln engine, sped to victory today in the 200-mile modified-sportman race featuring the second day of the three-day carnival at the new Daytona International Speedway.

Mathews averaged 134.65 miles an hour for his 80 laps over the 2 1/2-mile course. Perk Brown of Leakeville, N. C., driving a 1954 Ford, was second.

The carnival will be climaxed by a 500-mile race for all models Sunday.

Jack Smith of Atlanta, driving a 1950 Chevrolet hardtop, won a 25-mile supplementary race in which the first 30 finishers were to qualify for Sunday's race. Only 18 started, so all qualified. Second to Smith was Curtis Turner of Charlotte, N. C., in a 1959 Thunderbolt. Average speed was 141.26.

California Erupts In Second Half To Defeat Idaho

MOSCOW, Feb. 21—Little Denny Fitzpatrick directed California's Golden Bears to a 65-46 victory tonight over Idaho in a Pacific Coast conference basketball game. Fitzpatrick hit a steady stream of jump shots for 10 points to pace the Bears to a 27-23 halftime lead, then canned nine more after intermission for game-scoring honors with 19.

The little senior guard received major support from two Bear reserves who took full control of the backboards in the second half.

Big Dick Doughty, junior center, scored 11 points in 11 minutes and joined with sophomore forward Bill McCintock to provide the board strength.

The Wildcats made an effort to stay with the Bears in the second half and managed to knot the score at 32-31 with five minutes gone.

But a jumper from the side by Fitzpatrick set the Bears in motion again. They hit 56 per cent of their field shots in the last 15 minutes to win by going away.

Darrall Imhoff, a 6-foot-10-inch junior who has been the Bears' second leading scorer, was ineffective against the defensive work of Idaho center Jim Prestel. Imhoff netted only four points. He gave way to Doughty midway through the second half.

Doughty, a 6-foot, 8-inch junior, pushed in two critical rebounds during the stretch drive for the Bears.

Forward John Livelous paced the Wildcats with 14 points. Idaho connected on only 30 per cent of its floor shots.

Cal had an overall percentage of 44 from the field.

ISC-Idaho Financial Controversy Gets Hot

MOSCOW, Feb. 21—The question of aid to athletes developed into a hot little controversy Friday between the University of Idaho and Idaho State college. The university said Wednesday it will start giving outright financial help to athletes, and the announcement raised "where-do-they-get-the-money" eyebrows all over the ISC campus. ISC officials said they would like to give free rides, too, and that the legislature should give Idaho State enough money to do so.

"They should make the same resources available to Idaho State," said burser Bill Barts, a member of ISC's athletic committee.

The kick sent Idaho running with the ball.

"Mr. Barts' statement inferred that Idaho was receiving legislative aid in its athletic program," said Ernest Wohletz, chairman of the university's athletic board of control.

"The major portion of our athletic funds come from student fees, income from games and contributions from individuals and Vandal Booster clubs.

"We are hard pressed for money, but we'd be harder pressed if there hadn't been a 31 per cent increase in enrollment in the last six years and if we hadn't continued to receive fine support from many university friends."

Wohletz issued a statement after reading Barts' from Postello to the effect that the Vandal gets more state help than the Bengal.

"I am utterly amazed," he said, "to read statements attributed to some athletic officials and the burser of ISO that seem to imply that the governing boards of ISO and the university, consisting of the same persons, have not given reasonable treatment to the two institutions in accordance with the institutions' responsibilities.

"It is my firm belief that the basic policy of reasonable treatment has been conscientiously followed by the boards."

BYU Trounces Colorado Team By 88-63 Count

PROVO, Utah, Feb. 21—Brigham Young university beat Colorado State university 88-63 tonight.

It was the Cougars' sixth skyline conference victory, against four defeats. CSU is now 5-4.

Cougar style, which crystallized late in the season, produced a smooth fast break to feed BYU sharpshooters.

BYU never trailed, and scoring a series of 10 and eight straight points midway through the first half built up a strong margin.

Coach Stan Watts ran in five reserves with five minutes left, and the subs kept BYU's 25-point lead intact.

The Cougars scored a scorching 52 per cent on field goals and CSU had a presentable 38. But the Rams were outclassed by the Cougar scoring machine.

Gary Earnest and Mac Madsen operated the fast break. Dave Eastis led all scorers with 23 points.

No. 1 Team in Nation Loses To Maryland

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Feb. 21—Jerry Bechtie engineered Maryland's unpredictable basketball team to a surprisingly easy 69-51 victory tonight over North Carolina, the nation's top-ranked team.

The 6-foot, 2-inch Bechtie took over his team's scoring midway through the second half and reeled off Maryland's next 18 points. He finished with a total of 28.

With 50 of his hometown fans, including his parents, among the crowd of 11,800 in Cole Fieldhouse, Bechtie started his hot streak with Maryland ahead 41-30.

Hitting on driving layups and one-hand push shots over North Carolina's zone defense, he outscored the Tar Heels by two points during his 10-point scoring spree. Maryland led 59-46 after Bechtie's last field goal of the streak.

The loss was the first in 12 Atlantic Coast conference games for the Tar Heels, who had their 11-game winning streak—against all competition—broken. North Carolina is 17-2 for the season, Maryland 8-2.

Maryland hit nine of its first 13 shots from the floor to roll up a 23-16 lead in the first 11 minutes and never was headed.

17-Year Old Sets New World High Jumping Record With Leap of 7 Feet, 1 1/4 Inches

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—John Thomas, a 17-year-old Boston university freshman, got off a 7-foot, 1 1/4-inch high jump—better than any human being in history—and Delaney shattered the world indoor-mile mark in a wholesale assault on world records tonight in the National AAU track and field championships. Delaney ran the mile in fantastic 4:02.5. The capacity crowd of 15,789 in Madison Square garden cheered.

"Can't Find Him!"

Rozsavolgyi finished about five yards behind Delaney in 4:03.9.

The world outdoor high jump record is held by Yuri (Elevator Shoe) Stepanov of Russia who went up 7 feet, 11 inches during the summer of 1958.

Young Thomas, who won't be 18 until next week, made his great jump on his third attempt at the night.

A few minutes earlier he had cleared seven feet for the third time.

"This is my last indoor meet," he said later. "And I'm glad the season is over for me. Personally, I prefer to jump outdoors because the landing on sawdust is a little softer."

John intended to try for 7 feet, 2 inches, and the officials raised the bar to that height, but he decided against it.

Besides Thomas and Delaney, the following records (making five world standards in 11) were set:

1. Lieut. Bill Dellinger of the U.S. Air Force smashed the three-mile mark with a time of 13:37.
2. Parry O'Brien, the Los Angeles banker, got off a tremendous heave of 62 feet, 1 1/4 inch to break his own world indoor standard in the shotput.
3. Bob Backus of the New York A. C. flipped the 35-pound weight for 66 feet, 2 1/4 inches, breaking his own world mark of 65 feet, 4 1/4 inches.

Filer Beats Gooding; Ties For Runner-up

FILER, Feb. 21—The Filer Wildcat, rebounding after a poor start, climaxed their season tonight by deciding ice cold Gooding 48-31 and gaining a tie for second place in the Big Seven conference.

Again the Wildcats relied on free throws to turn the game into a rout. They scored only two more field goals than the losers.

Filer also took the preliminary by a 40-30 count.

Seattle Edges ISC 75-69 in Last Minute

POCATELLO, Feb. 21 (AP)—Seattle university roared back in the last minute and a half to beat determined Idaho State 75-69 tonight. The Chiefs jumped to an early 10-2 lead, trailing by as many as 10 points, whittled the margin to 42-36 at the half. Seattle's Sweet Charlie Brown rallied in game midway through the second period to overcome the Bengals' biggest lead, 69-54. Brown kept his team within range of ISC with 18 points in the second half.

Without less than two minutes left, Seattle trailed 69-68. Brown hit a turning shot and two free ones for a 73-69 overtime advantage. Jerry Frizzell led the game with another four shot.

Idaho State tried desperately to nab the ball, but Frizzell shook loose for a layup with about three seconds left.

Seattle netted a scorching 27 field goals on only 38 attempts. ISC hit only 26 out of 64.

Bengal guard Jim Rodgers led all scorers with 29 points. Brown paced the invaders with 27.

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 21—The Harvard girls took an easy 52-26 slalom over Camas county tonight to cap the Fourth district girls' basketball championship.

In consolation play, Belle knocked off Gooding State 59-Hagerman, which tied for first place with Richfield in season play, in a 23-point effort from Joan Johnson in winning their second title. Donna Bauscher got 15 for the loser. Janice Shoemaker came up with 27 points in pacing Bellevue to consolation championship. Don Henderson tanked 22 in the consolation game.

Utah Ekes Out 68-65 Victory Over Lobos

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 21—Utah staved off an inspired New Mexico in the final minutes to squeak by for a 68-65 Skyline conference basketball victory tonight.

At halftime, Utah had a comfortable 39-30 lead but most of the second half New Mexico's lovely Lobos came on like champions. They managed to take the lead from the sky-line's front runners, 58-57 with five minutes left in the ball game.

It was sophomore guard Gig Brummell, whose 20-point total was high for the night, who fired the New Mexico rush. Brummell hit four straight field goals within three minutes after the second half opened.

With three minutes and 32 seconds left, the score was tied at 61-61 and both teams were playing cautious, controlled ball.

Utah's Richard Ruffell hit a free throw, missed one and big Pearl Pollard tipped in a field goal to put Utah ahead 64-61 with two minutes left.

With 37 seconds left, Gary Chestang hit two free-throw and Ruffell followed with a layup to give the winners their final 68-61 total.

With only 14 seconds left, New Mexico still refused to quit and guard Vic Kline hit two quick jump shots and closed the scoring for the game.

The win gave Utah a 9-1 record in its drive for the Skyline title and left New Mexico with a 1-10 league mark.

Hagerman Is 52-40 Winner Over Vikings

HAZELTON, Feb. 21—The Hagerman Pirates spotted the Valley Vikings an early lead and then scored into life and took a 52-40 victory here tonight.

The Vikings jumped off to a 9-1 lead but fell behind before halftime. A recent ceiling of the gymnasium floor ruined chances of fast breaks and driving.

Valley won the preliminary.

Cougars Hire Two Grid Assistants

PROVO, Utah, Feb. 21—Brigham Young university today picked high school coaches from Sheridan, Wyo., and Ogden, Utah, to fill out its varsity football coaching staff under head coach Terry Stevens.

Cher Rollins Sheridan will pilot the Cougar backfield drills and Chris Apostol of Ogden will oversee the offensive line work.

Their selections were announced by BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson, who called them "lenders in their own rights." It did not give their salaries.

Girls' Hoop Crown Is Won By Hagerman

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 21—The Harvard girls took an easy 52-26 slalom over Camas county tonight to cap the Fourth district girls' basketball championship.

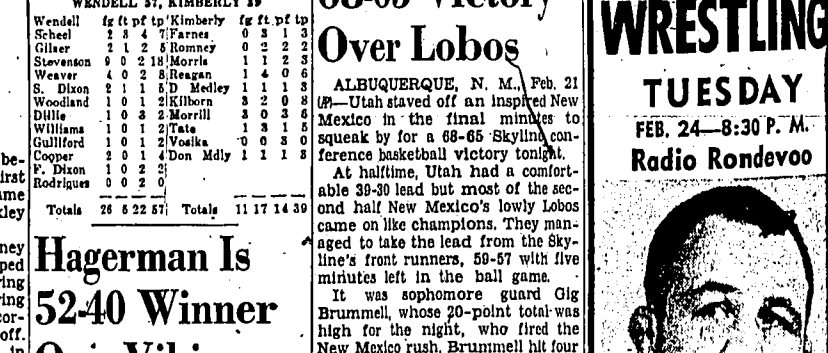

In consolation play, Belle knocked off Gooding State 59-Hagerman, which tied for first place with Richfield in season play, in a 23-point effort from Joan Johnson in winning their second title. Donna Bauscher got 15 for the loser. Janice Shoemaker came up with 27 points in pacing Bellevue to consolation championship. Don Henderson tanked 22 in the consolation game.

Holland Phillips really believes in carrying the fight to his opponent—or is he carrying his opponent to the fight? Phillips' determined look won him the decision over Kenneth Pennington (top) in Southern Golden Gloves bout at Nashville, Tenn. (NEA telephoto)

They Enjoy Free-Lance Writing

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woods hold magazines that have published articles the couple has written in the past years. All of their free-lance work has been for either outdoor magazines or an outdoor topics. Woods principal at Richfield high school and Mrs. Woods teaches in the school. Both enjoy the outdoors and actually hope to make their living by doing free-lance writing and photography. (Staff photo-engraving)

Richfield Teachers Writing Articles During Spare Time

RICHFIELD, Feb. 21 — A Richfield husband and wife teamed together to pursue a rather different profession — free lance writing, and they have been rather successful. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Woods have been free-lancing since 1954. Woods principal at Richfield high school and Mrs. Woods teaches home economics, chemistry and biology in the school. On the course of their work, Mrs. Woods usually does the photographing and Mr. Woods does the writing, although this is not an iron-clad procedure. Woods' latest article appears in the latest issue of American Rifleman, an official magazine of the National Rifle Association. The article shows how a person can make his stock trays with liquid plaster. Woods also has an article on antelope hunting in the April issue of Outdoor Life. The article explains some of the finer points of antelope hunting and gives technical advice in choosing equipment. A series of pictures of whitetail bucks battling in the woods, taken by Woods in the Black Hills of South Dakota, appeared in the December issue of Outdoor Life. He says he heard the bucks just as he returned from a long hike one evening. He walked up to the pre-occupied animals and took several flash pictures before they broke up the fight and fled. So far most of their magazine sales have been explanatory articles on how to build or care for outdoor equipment. They hope to become better known among the outdoor editors throughout the nation through the sale of shorter articles and then begin selling longer articles on the outdoors and travel. Both are ardent outdoors people and hope eventually to make their living by photographing and writing about the outdoors and the American West.

"Idaho Travelers" Have Logged 45,000 Miles Since Formation in 1952, Plan Spring Jaunt

Since 1952 the Idaho Travelers have traveled about 45,000 miles and this spring they will add several thousand miles to the impressive total. The Idaho Travelers are a group of 140 persons who banded together in 1952 to pursue a common interest — travel. The group was organized by Mrs. Ina Schreiber and Myrtle Anderson, both Twin Falls. According to Miss Anderson they believed if they could get six to eight persons together they could plan a trip that would be cheaper and more fun for all concerned. Both Miss Anderson and Mrs. Schreiber were interested in going to Hawaii and they began asking friends and acquaintances if they would be interested in such a trip. Before they were through, there were 24 members on that original tour. That's how the Idaho Travelers got started. It was a strong start and the members have never slowed their pace. Since then they have averaged more than a trip a year, taking tours as far away as the New England states and as near as the Teton mountain region in Wyoming. This spring, history repeats itself as the group returns to Hawaii. They will travel to San Francisco by bus and train and then by boat to Hawaii. The trip will last from April 7 to May 3. They will visit all five major islands. Miss Anderson estimates 50 per cent of the membership are working women, many of them widows. There are a few men members. "Some of them are retired and like to travel, but they don't like to travel by themselves," Miss Anderson says. She explains when persons travel in a large group many of the nagging details of travel can be eliminated. Miss Anderson and Mrs. Schreiber work out the details of the trip and arrange with the various tour agencies and transportation companies. They eliminate each member attending to petty details that sometimes make travel disconcerting. Speaking of the tour agencies she says, "We simply tell them where we want to go, what we want to see, and when we want to go, and they work it out for us." Miss Anderson notes this form of travel encourages many people to travel who wouldn't have the urge otherwise. And she adds it has been especially good for the morale of some individuals. For instance, more than once the trips have helped lift the morale of despondent widows and older persons. She reports the persons on the trips invariably get along well, with a noticeable lack of friction. The trips are comparatively cheap, too. She explains that large groups often get special rates on their meals, lodging and transportation. Since the original Hawaii trip, the Travelers have taken several trips of note and gained membership in such faraway places as Iowa, Colorado, and California. But about 50 per cent of the current membership is from Magic Valley. In 1953 the group chartered the Alcan and 24 women took off over the Alcan highway for Fairbanks, Alaska. Ten thousand miles and a flat tire later the group arrived back in Twin Falls. They had circled east and north (Continued on Page 23, Column 4)

Special Precautions Aren't Enough To Protect Curious From Explosive

Firms selling explosives recognize the danger in the product to the extent that the explosives are stored quite some distance from any dwellings, in special concrete-type buildings and the area is well-posted to inform everyone of the dangerous contents of the buildings. Yet even with all these precautions, many people — apparently refuse to recognize that playing with dynamite is dangerous and has no particular future. But some people abandon logic when they tamper with dynamite, in the opinion of Donald Baty, Kregel's Hardware store employe. Kregel's is the only commercial outlet for dynamite in Twin Falls. The store's dynamite magazine has been looted several times in the past years. Baty tells of the time a single teen-ager broke into the magazine north of Snake river canyon, took about 300 pounds of dynamite and caps and drove back into Twin Falls. The situation was rather like grabbing a tiger by the tail. When he got the dynamite he didn't know what to do with it. For an entire day he drove around the city with some of the dynamite in his car trunk, while some of it was hidden at home. For three hours he parked near the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company building, debating whether he should turn himself in. He finally did, but it seems a few of the detonating caps — the smaller explosive charge that is detonated by an electrical charge that in turn sets off the dynamite — were damaged slightly when he stole them. A portion of the electrical lead was exposed. According to Baty, static electricity could easily set off the caps which in turn would have set off the entire trunkful of dynamite. Baty says the explosion would have wrecked the bank and surrounding area. It was sheer good fortune that this didn't happen because Baty points out that the police cars park in that area throughout the day. Static electricity from their two-way radios could have charged the caps. "I don't know what keeps some (Continued on Page 29, Column 1)

Donald Baty peels back the waxed paper wrapping on a stick of dynamite exposing the soft, pliable explosive material underneath. Baty says that dynamite is not difficult to store, but the biggest problem is to place it in a place where it can't be stolen, endangering lives. (Staff photo-engraving)

Social Security Office Here Issuing 5 Millions Annually to 7,500 People

Twin Falls office of the social security administration this year will issue checks amounting to nearly $5 million dollars to approximately 7,500 residents of the eight-county area served by the office. The office is kept busy five days a week answering questions about the benefits and aiding persons who are confused by the myriad rules governing social security. The member staff at the office, 138 Second avenue west, Twin Falls, Magic Valley counties, include Mr. Jerome, Cassia, Minidoka, Gooding, Camas and Blaine. The beneficiaries reside in all eight counties, where more than 2,000 persons receive nearly $200,000 monthly. Camas county is the largest with only 85 beneficiaries, receiving slightly over $50,000 monthly. The office sees scores of questions and answers their questions. Mr. Young, district office manager, estimates that nearly 50 per cent of the office on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. He estimates that number is doubled on Fridays. He says it is difficult to estimate why people surge into the office on Mondays and Fridays, but he would be eager on the personnel and office visitors receive faster service if they call the office on the other days.

Lloyd G. Young, office manager of the Twin Falls district social security office, displays a chart explaining social security payments. The chart explains how social security payments are based on former earnings and other variable factors. Young says the office will issue checks this year totaling nearly five million dollars to residents of the seven-county area covered by the Twin Falls office. (Staff photo-engraving)

More Laboratory and Library Time Looms for Future College Students

PONTIAC, Mich., Feb. 21 (AP)—The college student of the future may spend less time in the classroom and more in the library and laboratory. He may take fewer courses but they will be broader ones. He may touch on more subjects but will delve deeply into fewer. He may set his own pace and, consequently, he may forge ahead of his classmates. If he is exceptional, he will become a member of an elite group of students who will get more attention and do more work. That is the picture drawn by prominent educators and laymen who came together to help lay the groundwork for a new university with a new look in learning.

Michigan State university, seeking new ideas in education for a branch campus to open next fall, asked the educators to answer this question: If you were starting from scratch and had the money you needed, how would you set up a great university? John A. Hannah, president of MSU, wanted to know if educational methods of today will meet the needs of tomorrow. He said he wanted to take full advantage of "the rare opportunity of starting with nothing at the new branch. The educators met in four seminars — liberal arts, engineering, teacher education and business administration — from August to December. Guest panelists included such authorities as President Milton Eisenhower of Johns Hopkins university, Harvard's Henry Steele Commager of Amherst and Columbia university, and Henry T. Heald of the Ford foundation. The answers which emerged from the sessions amount to something like revolution in higher education. Dubious that education is doing the best possible job, much less than being ready to meet future needs, the educators unanimously call for unleashing the brighter students to soar as high as fast as they can. In engineering, the educators would take a long, cold look at the departmental structure. Today's engineering program is divided into such fields as civil, chemical, and electrical. In liberal arts they would overturn the course system. Today's standard Monday-Wednesday-Friday cycle of classes they would put broader courses with fewer hours in the classroom. They would tailor the requirements to meet the needs of the student. For example, a student in political theory would need some knowledge of the classical world, but not necessarily all-purposes general courses in Latin and Greek.

Humor Carved Into Wooden Figures

O. L. Kime, Carey, holds one of the figures he whittled. The cowboy is poised and ready for action, with his hand on his gun. On the table is another pair of figures showing a survey team at work, only they have no tripod for the transit, so the one responsible for bringing that piece of equipment has to serve in its place. Kime's portraits humorous situations in many of his carvings. (Staff photo-engraving)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

For a long winter evening's pastime, whittling can't be beat—at least it can't if it produces the interesting and beautiful results achieved by O. L. Kime, CAREY. Whittling has been enjoyed practically ever since knives were invented. Much of it has been aimless, resulting only in long, thin shavings sliced off a piece of wood. But it managed to keep the old wood-box full of shavings ready to kindle a fire on a cold, blustery, winter morning. Occasionally a whittler came along who was able to turn out unusual and artistic pieces, objects which could occupy places of prominence in homes, art galleries and museums. When this happens the results are given a more cultured name of wood sculpturing.

Kime took up wood sculpturing—he calls it whittling—about two years ago to fill his long winter evenings after his day's work is done and when he needs something to relieve tension.

His work is exacting, brings many problems and is often quite complicated. At present he is resident engineer in charge of the "Little Wood" dam project for the pattern he begins to remove the excess wood. For this he often uses a fine saw.

But when he hears the pattern markings he uses his pocketknife. The hard part of shaping the figure, says Kime, is where the parts of the body are at an angle, such as elbows, or one knee crossed over the other, or the head tilted to one side.

When the general shape of the figure is reached and he is ready for the details a moto-tool is used to gouge out the facial lines and shape the features in the body and clothing. It is this which gives expression to the face and lends character and distinction to each figure.

Final touches are achieved by expert and careful use of the paint brush. Because balsa wood is porous, and his paints are water colors, this phase of the work requires much patience to keep colors clear and from running into each other.

He has solved this problem partially by covering his figures with a thin coating of paste which helps fill the pores of the wood.

toothpicks are used to fasten the finished figures to a plaster of paris base. They are placed in the desired position while the base is still wet. The entire product is then given a coating of varnish or lacquer which brings out the colors and accents the features.

During the past two years since he began this hobby, Kime has completed about 25 scenes. It takes about a week or 10 days for each one. During the summer he pulls this hobby aside in favor of fishing and hunting.

Almost all the figures Kime has made represent a humorous situation. Some illustrate events he has experienced, and would make unusually good conversation pieces in a home. One such scene shows his idea of what could happen to a deep-sea fisherman. This was done to tease a cousin who is always telling him how much more exciting deep-sea fishing is than trout fishing.

A miniature boat is complete with trawling line and winch to help bring in the big ones, and Kime's figure has caught a big one, a sea-serpent which is rearing its head over the edge of the boat. With one hand on the winch and a gun ready to shoot in the other, the fisherman's face shows a look of incredulity and horror.

Among other interesting figures he has made are a hunter trimming a deer carcass which is strung up on the branches of a tree; a hill-billy flat on his back, gulped and held in his hand with the barrel propped up by his toes; an over-confident sheriff at the telephone; a fisherman caught by the seat of his pants by his own hook; a cowboy serenader; a politician, and many others. Kime likes a variety of figures and incidents.

He has been associated with the bureau of reclamation for many years. In 1949 he went to RUPERT where he has been working in connection with the north side pumping development at MINIDOKA. Prior to that he worked on the HUNT project. While on the job here in the Carey and Little Wood River vicinity he and his wife are living in PICAGO.

The Rev. E. J. Helseth, BURLEY, one of the 607 persons who registered at the Christian churches state convention held in Boise this past week, received an unusual gift. He delivered a message, after which he and Mrs. Helseth were presented a gift from the Burley church. John Drew made the presentation as she expressed the esteem and love of the Burley congregation for the Helseths. The gift was a framed picture of the British isles, with a check from the Burley church also under the glass.

The significance attached to this gift is that the Helseths have a son ministering to a church in Birmingham, England, and he is anxious to have his parents attend the world convention of Christian churches in Edinburgh, Scotland in August, 1960, together with the younger minister and family.

They hope to make a short tour of European countries and return home together, inasmuch as the Rev. Donald Helseth will have completed his term of service in England by that time.

Mrs. Casilda Steelsmith, former Burley resident and Times-News correspondent, was in charge of a skit depicting some of the historical developments of the church. The Rev. Mr. Helseth said she was as clever as ever in leading the skit, and created much laughter in her clever references to various incidents of the past.

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

"The Mission of Jesus"
He might save us and mold us and make us a vessel to His glory.
The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give His life a ransom for many.
The prevailing philosophy of the world today is that we must do something for God, and that these works determine our blessings in the present life and our destiny in the future. But what can we do as finite people for an infinite, all-sufficient, all-mighty God? Can we add anything to Him who has no need of the ministry of God for us?

Our very breath and life are in His hands, "for in Him we live and move and have our being" (Acts 17:28). Do our activities and efforts add anything to God, who is the sum total of perfection already? We can but give Him glory by acknowledging that it is we who have the need, and then come to Him through His Son, yielding ourselves by faith, as clay in the Master's hands, that we may be used as vessels of honor.

Carey Man Whittles Figures to Pass Time in Winter

The figure in center represents O. L. Kime's work as a surveyor with the bureau of reclamation. The Carey man whittled figures for years as a winter hobby. The regalia of the figure includes hat, coat, notebook, pencils, stakes of wood in pack on the surveyor's back, pocket filled with pencils and ruler, cigarette in mouth, all complete to the last detail. His tripod sits over sprigs of sagebrush and not too far away is a colled rattler. The figure at right represents Kime's fall hobby of hunting. (Staff photo-engraving)

Leather Manufacturer in T. F. Merges With Oklahoma Firm, Boosts Business

On Jan. 1, Mrs. Christine B. Petersen merged the manufacturing portion of her Twin Falls leather manufacturing business with an Oklahoma manufacturer of leather goods, forming Clifton's Inc. The corporation manufactures the Chris Line Originals Mrs. Petersen developed and she will continue to operate her retail store at 340 Main avenue south as Petersen's Western Apparel.

Clifton Wood, Ardmore, Okla., is president of the corporation and Mrs. Petersen is vice president. Wood owns the Western Supply company, manufacturer of hand-tooled purses and shoes.

By pooling their salesmen throughout the nation Chris Line Original coats will be sold through vastly more outlets than presently. Mrs. Petersen estimates accounts will be tripled.

The merger marks a beginning of expansion for the Twin Falls business. Since Jan. 1 Mrs. Petersen has hired five additional employees to cope with the business expansion and moved into a new building at 683 Main avenue east.

Mrs. Petersen's thriving business is another example of a part-time job that matured into a full-scale business, selling coats from coast to coast and in Alaska and Hawaii.

In 1946 Mrs. Petersen was night clerk at the Park hotel. During her working hours she had plenty of time to experiment on working with leather, making purses and billfolds.

People admired her work and as she says, "Pretty soon I got so many orders that I had to go into business for myself."

In the fall of 1946 she started the business on a part-time basis, but by 1947 she found herself so busy that she started a full time leather-craft business. At that time she was making shirts and jackets from deer skins people brought to her for custom tailoring.

Mrs. Petersen had some tailoring courses at Montana State university and at one time she had worked for A. C. Frazier, Twin Falls tailor, so tailoring wasn't entirely new to her.

Her first shop was one room over the Roxy theater and then she moved to a shop in the basement of the building next door to Idaho Power company office.

It was at that time that the business began to grow and she hired a part-time helper. She was starting to get considerable business from rodeo cowboys.

It seems a few of the local cowboys wore her leather clothing while they were on the rodeo circuit and it was admired by cowboys throughout the West. Soon she began to receive orders from cowboys as they passed through this area.

She had worked for a time for the Pass Manufacturing company and knew many cowboys and was aware

Social Security Beneficiaries Advised

ment income, and the canceled check, money order stub, or bank receipt which shows they paid the tax. On the question of working after filing and paying social security taxes, Young says, "Any person who received social security benefits who continues to work, will still be required to pay the appropriate social security tax. If such a person is under 72 and earns more than $1,200 in a year he must report that fact and will not be entitled one or more months of the year, depending on how much over $1,200 he earns."

Young says checks can be forwarded. However, if the move is permanent a change of address should be filed with us as well as the postoffice.

"Although you have received checks on the same date for months, or years don't be surprised if one is late sometime. In that case you should wait a week before claiming it as lost, misplaced, or stolen."

He adds, "Of course if you know that something happened to it, you should report that immediately."

This is the first month that the increased benefit amounts for old age, survivors and disability insurance will take effect. The general increase in benefit amounts is about seven per cent and was provided by the 1958 amendments to the social security law.

Before 1959, monthly payments to a retired worker ranged from $30 to $108.50. The January checks to workers who retired at 65 or over will range from $33 to $116. The maximum monthly payment to a family, which was $200 in December, was $254 on last month's checks.

Nationally, about seven million of the beneficiaries are aged retired workers. Two million are wives or dependent aged husbands of retired workers, over 1.3 million are widows, dependent-widowers and dependent aged parents of deceased workers, and over two million are widowed mothers and minor children.

The Twin Falls office answers many questions but the office also sends out office representatives to the outlying counties.

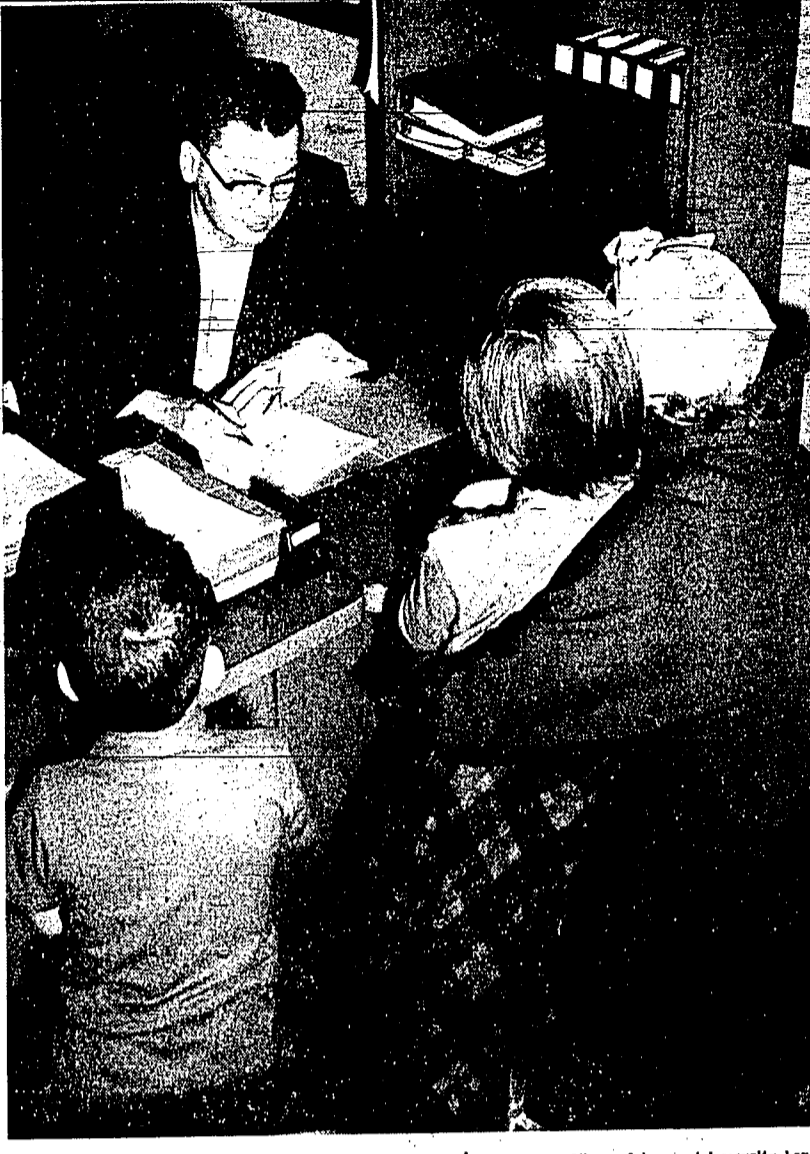

James Burgess, a field representative, covers the east end of Twin Falls and Cassia and Minidoka counties.

He visits Burley on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. He has an office in room 12 of the post-office that is open on those days from 1 to 4:30 p. m. On the second and fourth Tuesday he opens an office in the Rupert courthouse from 10 a. m. to noon.

The other field representative is Ivan Squires, who covers the west end of Twin Falls county and Gooding, Jerome, and Lincoln counties.

Squires opens an office at the Gooding courthouse on the first and third Wednesdays of each month from 1 to 4:30 p. m. He is at the Wendell city hall on the third Wednesday from 9:30 until noon, Shoshone courthouse at that same time on the first Wednesday, and Jerome courthouse on the third Thursday of the month at that time.

Camas and Blaine county residents are served at an office at the Hallett courthouse on the second Thursday of each month from 1 to 4:30 p. m.

James Burgess, field representative for the Twin Falls social security office, advises social security beneficiaries on their rights and explains complicated social security rulings. The office is open five days a week answering questions about the rulings and aiding residents of this area on matters concerning social security. (Staff photo-engraving) must they have proof of their age, can they work after they file, can the checks be forwarded, do they pay social security taxes after filing and many become distressed when their check is late.

For the benefit of readers interested in the social security rules, Young commented on these basic questions.

Regarding the question on when to file, Young says, "Retirement claims can be filed as early as the month before reaching retirement age, which is 62 for women and 65 for men. Survivors claims should be filed as soon as practical."

How much a beneficiary receives depends upon a worker's average monthly earnings averaged over the period of his working life beginning generally on January, 1951, and ending with his attainment of retirement or death."

Age proof is sometimes a problem for older persons. He says, "A birth certificate for older people is generally impossible to obtain. However, many other proofs are acceptable."

According to Young, every claimant for monthly benefits must usually prove age or date of birth. A birth certificate is best, but other items will do.

Any formal document or record at least 10 years old can be considered, such as church, school, emigration, or hospital record, an old insurance policy, or the entry by some older relative in a family Bible.

Those claiming as a dependent or surviving spouse must prove marriage, for which a certificate from the public record, usually available

Parks Deserted, but Recreation Crew Keeps Busy on Winter Program, Work

Even though there are no picnickers to clutter the parks, no grass to mow, sprinklers to move, baseball teams or swimmers to supervise or instruct, the parks and recreation department keeps busy during the winter.

In the first place, the recreation program doesn't stop. It just changes some of the equipment and locations and keeps right on humming. Knothole baseball enthusiasts turn to Knothole basketball. Under supervision of Harold Brown, about 235 boys play every Saturday morning. Four high school boys assist, as do some of the fathers of players. Members of winning teams in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade leagues will receive trophies at the end of the season.

Nor are the youngsters the only basketball players to take advantage of the program. Darrell Surber, junior high school coach, supervises an adult basketball league of 16 teams. Divided into two leagues, seven teams play in the "A" league and eight in the "B." Ages of these players range from 18 to 40, with additional players who do not enter league play using the lower gymnasium at the junior high school. Individual trophies will go to league winning players in the adult play, also.

About 30 boys participate in judo classes on Monday and Wednesday nights in the junior high school tumbling room with Wesley Dobbs and D. L. Cain, city and state police officers, respectively, instructing.

Keith Bird supervises a boxing program at the dressing rooms of the swimming pool five nights a week. About 25 boys turn out each night for fundamentals of boxing and muscle development.

Bird likes to start with boys about 10 years of age. Equipment includes a ring, speed bags, heavy bags and barbells, as well as three medicine balls. The boxing facilities are also open to adults, and many fathers take advantage of the equipment to keep up with their sons' progress.

The superintendent of parks and recreation, Ernest Craner, has been disappointed with the lack of cooperation from the weather department, canceling out plans for ski and skating classes this winter. Arrangements had been completed for these activities, but without consulting the weather man.

Girls have a share in the winter recreation program. Any Saturday morning they may be seen bouncing about like corn in the junior high tumbling room of the Poplar high school. Beverly Browning supervises classes of fourth, fifth and sixth grades, assisted by Charlotte Sherbinsky. Top tumblers in this winter's classes are RaNaë Worthington and Kathy Wells, sixth grade; Cynthia Hauber and Mary Dale Goodrich, fifth grade, and Delliha Morgan and Patty Barry, fourth grade.

Miss Browning will conduct a three-week drill marching class for the girls later this spring.

Some of the girls were interested in a twirling class, but since this is part of the school physical education program, the city recreation department did not want to duplicate services. Craner noted that the two units work closely, "trading" facilities to bring the greatest service to the community from all of the recreational equipment and personnel.

Other spring activities in the planning stage are a city-wide ping-pong tournament, with all interested persons asked to contact Craner; an all-day kite-flying contest in late March or early April; and an inter-city track meet in cooperation with the school physical education program.

Awards will be given the best kites in various divisions, and Craner anticipates a good deal of interest in the program. The intermediate school track meets also are new to Twin Falls.

Nor have the adults been ignored in the program. Hobbycrafters meet at the Harry Barry park building for instruction and demonstrations of various crafts and hobbies. Meeting on second and fourth Wednesdays, the club has learned about jewelry making, copper work, textile painting, paper flower construction, winter bouquets, silk screen painting, metal crafts and many others.

Mrs. George Mitchell, acting president, says "average persons who feel they have no artistic talents can learn these crafts. They may be as expensive or as inexpensive as the crafter desires, she points out.

A chess club uses the building every Tuesday night, and the Art Guild meets there for painting and criticism on Mondays and Thursdays.

A workshop in recreation leadership was conducted by the department in the fall, with Helen Dauncey, field worker of the National Recreation association, leading classes for juvenile and adult recreation.

The biggest job in the whole winter parks and recreation department, however, is just plain maintenance. It may sound like drudgery, but neither the parks nor equipment could demand the comfortable, cool havens in summer's heat, without the efforts of a tireless crew to mend the ravages of summer use.

A long-range project of removal of diseased trees and replacement with new trees is under way, along with the routine trimming of trees and shrubs. Worm sod has been replaced in the parks and golf course, and additional fencing installed at Harmon park to prevent spectators from invading the playing area.

A new backstop has been installed at Harry Barry park and barbed wire on angle arms has been put up around the top of the swimming pool fence.

Craner pointed out that this has been done for protection of the youngsters, as some have tried to climb the former fence and use the pool after life guards have gone off duty.

City crews have completed installation of a complete sprinkling system at South park. Since pipe is less costly than hose, and no man hours will be required for moving sprinklers, this will be a money-saving project.

Diseased trees removed at Drury park will add to available play area and enlarge the parking area. Improvements being carried on at the golf course include construction of a new fence on the east side, leveling the driving range, installation of a pipeline for the sprinkling system and redecoration of the club house.

The crews also are improving the road to Shoshone falls, enlarging the picnic area, trimming trees and hope to add another boat dock before summer.

Then just to be sure the crews don't have time to loaf, there are irrigation headgates to be installed; buildings to be repaired and painted; mowers to sharpen, tear down, repair and paint; picnic tables to rejuvenate for another summer, over 1,000 trees to be given a coat of dormant oil spray, and trimming for many of them.

The crews spend about two weeks on Christmas decorations, repairing, hanging and taking down the ornaments. They black-top play areas in the parks and are installing new leather ball equipment in each park this spring.

W. A. Farris, who has been parks and recreation department maintenance supervisor for some time, will leave next week to accept a position in New Plymouth. Craner says Farris has done an excellent job with the department, and regrets his decision to leave.

Other workers who contribute to the beauty and enjoyment of Twin Falls city parks include Charles Burgoyne, greenskeeper, Howard Johnson, who has served as machine operator, and who will replace Farris. Harold Oall, Clyde Biggers, Howard Kleinkopf, William Pawson and John Ellis.

Students Will Step up Work In Laboratory

aeronautical engineering. Too narrow and too vocational, they say. Instead, they suggest a combination of engineering with science and three fields of study—math, materials and energy—with more emphasis on basic principles and less on application of the rules.

In all fields, the educators say they want to put more of a load on the employer who takes over the student after graduation.

Engineering firms already are coming around to the idea of maintaining their own technical centers for a sort of post-graduate program. This way the engineers not only learn the way the company wants it done, but they are able to keep in touch with the rapid developments in their field.

MSU officials are assessing the results of their unusual experiment. The next step will be a series of meetings of deans and faculty members to line up a curriculum, which MSU says "will be entirely consistent with the tenor of the seminars."

The new university will be known as Michigan State university—Oakland, located in Oakland county two miles west of Pontiac and 60 miles east of the East Lansing home of MSU.

The branch got its start in January, 1951, when Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson offered to give MSU most of their 1,400-acre estate and two million dollars for the establishment of a university.

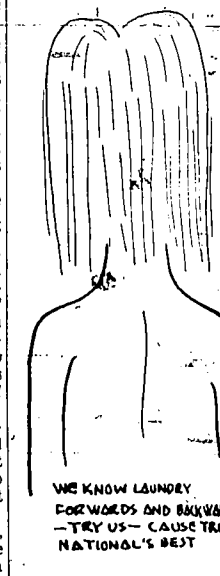

Wilson is a lumberman. His wife, the widow of John Dodge of the automobile family, formerly was a member of MSU's governing board.

Fishing Success Of Cat Report

STANWOOD, Wash. (UPI)—A big black Persian cat living nearby Camano island has not the feline hatred of water. In Biddy is quite a fisherman.

Biddy came home three consecutive nights recently, dripping and with a good-sized fish in his jaws.

The cat always fishes after so no one knows how far into the water he goes, but Biddy is almost soaked when he arrives home.

One of City's Mowers Prepared for Summer of Work

Flag Grew to 15 Stripes One Time

SALEM, Mass. (UPI) — Did you ever see an American flag with 15 stripes instead of the usual 13?

There is such a flag at the Peabody museum, the nation's oldest museum, dating from 1825.

The original flag, as made by Betsy Ross, had 13 stripes as does the one today. But as the nation started to grow and added Kentucky and Vermont to the original 13 states, both a star and a stripe were added for each state.

Samuel S. Reid, a naval captain during the war of 1812, felt that a continuance of this custom would result in a poorly balanced flag. He suggested to congress that the number of stripes be reduced to the original 13 and maintained at that number, and that only an additional star be added for each new state.

This idea was adopted, but from 1794 to 1818 the flag did have 15 stars and 15 stripes.

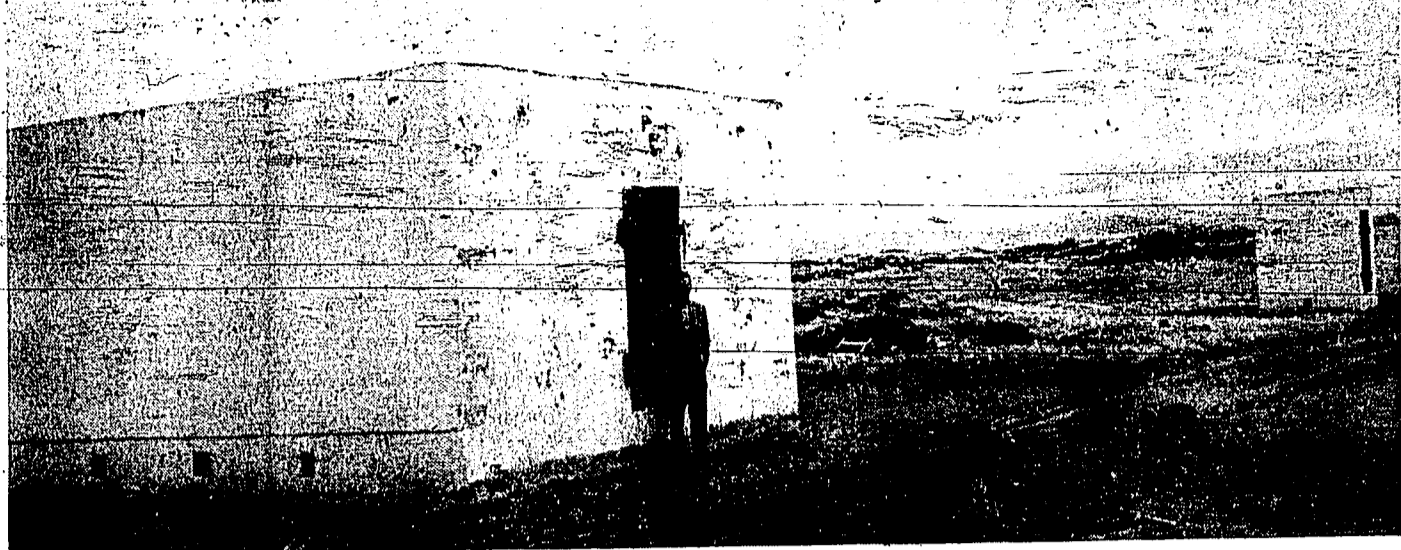

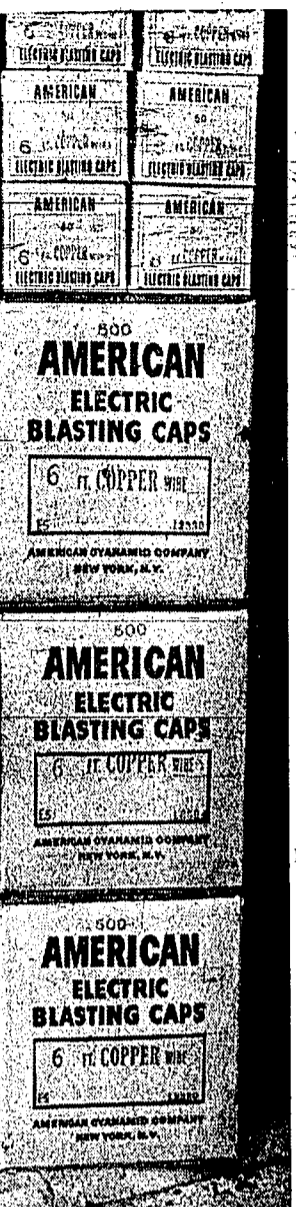

The 15-stripe flag on display at the local museum is the flag of Cleopatra's Barge, America's first ocean-going yacht.

Dangerous Explosives Aren't Playthings; They're Stored in Special Concrete Buildings in Isolated Area

One of the biggest problems facing firms selling explosives is the safe storage of the material. These two concrete buildings house the explosives handled by Krengel's. The big building at the left is for dynamite. The smaller building is for the detonating caps. It is a safety precaution to store the two materials in different places to prevent their falling into hands of inexperienced persons. Standing in front of the big building is Donald Baty, Krengel's employe. (Staff photo-engraving)

Teaching Couple at Richfield Writing Magazine Articles During Spare Time

(Continued From Page 25) Both believe the college instructor's schedule, with a three-month vacation, will allow them more time for writing and wildlife photography. Woods will get his Ph.D. degree in education after more summer schooling and Mrs. Woods is working on her master's degree. Both graduated from the University of Idaho. She has a BS degree in both home economics and natural science and Woods has a master's degree in business education. They have been teaching at Richfield high school since the fall of 1957.

He averages about four hours a day on Saturday and Sunday. The hunting season disrupts this spartan schedule. Last fall Woods, who has been hunting "ever since I could sneak out of the house with a rifle," did considerable bird hunting, and also hunted elk and mountain sheep. Last year he took a color photograph of his hunting partner, Don Peterson, Richfield, while they were hunting in the White Cloud peak area, southeast of Stanley basin. The photograph has been purchased by American Rifleman to be used as a cover photograph. But he doesn't know when the photograph will be used. "The photograph shows Peterson 'glassing' for sheep in a particularly scenic region. From their first sale in 1954 down to the current issue of American Rifleman, the Woods have progressed from short filler articles to full-length explanatory articles and cover photographs. They like the work because it keeps them outdoors.

Special Precautions Aren't Enough to Protect Some People From Explosives

(Continued From Page 25) But every few months someone manages to devise a new method of breaking into the buildings. One common stunt is to back off from the building a few yards and fire rifles at the steel door. There are ventilating holes in the door. Baty explains that if a bullet should happen to pass through the hole and strike a carton of dynamite everything within a wide area would be killed by concussion. The entire magazine would blow up. The buildings are constructed of concrete brick, coated with an outer layer of concrete and the concrete bricks are filled with insulation to maintain relatively constant temperature. The store has two buildings, one for the dynamite and one for the caps. The two items are always separated when stored or shipped to lessen the hazard. Aside from finding an uninhabited area to store the material and keeping thieves out, Baty says there is little problem in storing dynamite, fuse and caps.

Deep Snow Doesn't Stop Caribou Found in North Idaho Wilderness

Original snow shoe champions, these beautiful north Idaho caribou have feet made to carry them over any depth of snow without difficulty. Each foot is topped with a ring of long bristly hair which also grows quite heavily between dew claws and hoofs. Feet are large and often will measure more than five by seven inches including dew claws.

Although once numerous, caribou now is Idaho's rarest big game animal. If there is a walking champion among game animals it is the caribou, for they wander extensively and often cover more than 10 miles a day in deep snow during winter months. (Idaho fish and game department photo—staff preparing)

Idaho's Rarest Big Game Animals Are Found Tucked Away in Northwest Area

By PAUL FLINN
Idaho Fish and Game Department

In the far northwestern corner of Idaho ranges the rarest of this state's big game animals, beautiful animals that time tucked away and brought in a wilderness forest high in the Selkirk mountains. These are the caribou whose presence is remembered by few, forgotten by many and sometimes referred to as "ghost talk" to color tales of the north woods.

First explorers in the land of Kootenai Indians found the red men with caribou skins to offer in trade. Later years found fur trappers and miners depending on the animals for fresh meat. In high spruce forests, where trappers ran long strings of marten lines, caribou meat was the main bill of fare after deep snows had driven deer to lower regions. Thrilled before civilization pushed remaining and dwindling numbers into mountain wilderness.

Among lesser known tales of early days in northern Idaho is one which has to do with a mine. Packing goods and equipment from Priest Lake to this mine high in the Selkirk range on Continental mountain were long strings of pack animals. Down through the years the names of packers pulling these pack strings have been forgotten with exception of one who well remembers the trail to Continental mine and caribou of the mountains. In 1956, Colon Smith wrote: "Along in the '30s there were hundreds of caribou around Priest Lake and Priest river when I was packing to the Continental mine."

Still living in northern Idaho are many residents who remember Fred Fisher's "White Caribou" story. The season, first in Bonners Ferry and then Porterville was so named for the white caribou in full body moult on display in the grog shop. And the best information has it the animal was killed in either 1905 or 1906 near the Canadian boundary.

In the first National bank of Bonners Ferry are two mounted heads from bull caribou killed in the vicinity. Both heads were taken in the summer of 1892 by a Dave Davis who was a professional packer for the old Bonner Mercantile.

Without exception each bit of information points toward the fact caribou were once numerous in northern Idaho. People took them for granted much as they do deer today. The animals are native to north Idaho.

Although observations in recent years may lead to the conclusion that Idaho had and still has a monopoly on caribou range there could be nothing further from the truth. Information leads to the conclusion that Idaho had, and still has, the major range of this "southernmost herd of caribou."

In the northwestern corner of Montana, caribou were hunted successfully in past days and there is no fiction connected with caribou being killed along the Yaak river near the turn of the century. Northwestern Washington is also known to have caribou and forest service employes reported sighting a small herd in the Salmon river region last fall.

With passage of time so went the caribou until they were once thought to have vanished from Idaho. Only in recent years has it been determined there are still a few caribou where once there hundreds or more.

In the relatively short span of 60 some-odd years Idaho's caribou all but vanished. Only in the rugged Selkirk range have the animals managed to survive. These mountains have remained untouched by modern civilization until recent years when logging of virgin forests got under way. Here is where the remnants of north Idaho's once numerous caribou have made their last stand.

I believe that Idaho's caribou are mountain caribou—traigrifor mountain caribou of the barren North and the car known woodland caribou of the East. Stunner range of these mountain caribou extends along high peaks of the Selkirk range north and into British Columbia. Haunts consist of alpine meadows near or above timber line which are more commonly associated with mountain caribou. Swampy areas of deep woods, "lake" shores also are preferred. Summer foods consist of

Hailey Planning New Brochures

HAILEY, Feb. 21—Members of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce have voted to print new brochures of the town and will start gathering material immediately.

Members also voted to renew their membership with the fourth district at a Sportsman's club meeting this week. They will assist in keeping the road to Rotarum open.

William Buhler, winner of the recent Blaine county oratorical contest, gave a short talk. He was introduced by Lawrence Johnson, Legion commander.

Purchase Motel

KETCHUM, Feb. 21—Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Brown, Idaho Falls, took over the management of the Warren motel Friday.

They recently purchased the 10-unit motel from Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Warren, who constructed and opened the business in June, 1952.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren will move to Missoula, Mont., where their daughter resides. The Browns have three children.

HAILEY, Feb. 21—The cancer film, "Time and Two Women," will be shown at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Catholic parish hall. All women are invited.

Idaho Travelers Have Logged 45,000 Miles Since 1952, Plan Spring Jaunt

through Alberta, toured Alaska, and returned to the U. S. by boat through the inland passage.

On this trip the oldest member was 85 years old.

In 1954 the Teton region was the target area for the travelers. This trip was one of the cheapest. It cost each member only $30. It was taken over the Labor day week-end that year.

Miss Anderson points out that the trips occur during no specific time of the year. The decision of when to travel depends on the area to be visited.

For an example she cites the 1955 New England trip that was planned during the fall of the year, the traditionally beautiful time of the year in that area.

There were 53 persons on this trip. According to Miss Anderson, the average age of the travelers on this trip was 67 years. The oldest was 85 and the youngest 32.

During the 30-day trip the travelers passed through Chicago, where they attended Don McNeil's Breakfast Club program in Detroit, Montreal, portions of Quebec, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Boston and New York, where they toured extensively. Washington, D. C., Virginia, Tennessee, through the Midwest on their way home.

The entire trip cost $340 and everything went off as planned. Nothing now congenial to the group is Miss Anderson says the group as a whole has frequently been paid compliments by four escorts who were impressed with the group's high spirits.

In Nashville, a tour escort said: "Most of these people coming in here on tours won't even speak to each other."

In 1956 the group took two tours. In late June and early July they traveled to the Black Hills in South Dakota, visited Mt. Rushmore and saw the Passion Play and returned to Twin Falls. This was a short trip utilizing the Fourth of July week-end.

Later that same year they toured Oregon, Washington, Vancouver Island, the western provinces of Canada, ending in Alberta and touring the Lake Louise and Banff regions. They returned by way of Glacier national park in Montana.

One of the most ambitious trips taken was in the fall of 1957. In 30 days the group traveled through the northern portions of the Deep South, passed down the Florida peninsula, and crossed to Cuba by boat.

In Cuba they went to both ends of the island and in Santiago, Oriente province, the birthplace of the revolution, they were asked by the hotel administration not to venture out of the hotel after 6 p. m.

On the return trip they passed through the southern portions of the Deep South and continued into the Southwest and then to Twin Falls.

Last fall they toured the Southwestern states national parks, Bryce, Zion, Grand Canyon and Death Valley. They also visited Southern California and some of the old Spanish missions in that area.

The trip this spring will cost the travelers about $900. Miss Anderson says that cost will exclude the meals, except for aboard ship and the outer islands of Hawaii. On board ship single passengers will be able to conserve money by sharing cabins. Miss Anderson notes that final arrangements for the Hawaiian trip have not been made. A meeting will be called soon to make final plans. Anyone interested in the trip should call her.

Qualifications for members, Miss Anderson says, "All we ask is that they have good character, and so far we've always had them."

"We like them to be in good health and we suggest that they have a medical checkup before they leave."

She says in many cases doctors say such a trip would be the best thing for them.

During the tours the evening are kept relatively free to give the travelers time to see or visit relatives or friends in New York the people do such varied things as attend Broadway shows, television programs and the world series.

There is no membership fee for the organization except a token five-cent charge for a membership card. Although most of the members are elderly persons in years, Miss Anderson declares they are young in spirit.

To prove this she points out a poem printed in the song book compiled by the Idaho Travelers:

"I realize full well my youth has been,
"That my get up and go has
"got up and went.
"But I really don't mind when
"I think with a grin,
"Of all the grand places my
"et up has been."

It Won't Just Go Away Don't Delay Exam When Cancer Symptom Present

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Nearly everyone now knows that the chances of cure are better when cancer is found early. Unfortunately, there are still far too many people who delay in the presence of warning symptoms until the disease has passed the stage when it can be attacked successfully.

One reason for this is that some people seem to be terribly afraid of having the doctor tell them they have cancer and, therefore, postpone the visit, the diagnosis and the treatment until too late.

Unexplained bleeding from any of the body openings is a warning symptom. It does not necessarily mean cancer, but it certainly should not be ignored and a diagnosis should not be delayed any longer than necessary.

Pain of unknown origin which persists, loss of weight which cannot be explained by diet, any lump, and anemia are other signs which should suggest an immediate and careful examination to be sure that cancer is not present.

There is more cancer in the digestive system (stomach and intestines) than in any other one part of the body. The next most common locations for cancer are in the breasts and in the uterus or womb. Any lump in the breast is reason for examination. Any change in the nature of bleeding from the womb or any discharge also require investigation.

Cancerous growths can develop in other places, such as the lungs, bladder, kidney or the mouth. Sores in the mouth or on the tongue or

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Texan Failed to Take Root in Alaska, But in 10 Days, She's Valley Booster

Mrs. Samuel D. Griese, a Texan who was transplanted in Alaska 21 years ago and failed to take root, arrived in Magic Valley Feb. 12 from Seward, Alaska, and is already boasting more about this area than a lot of natives.

She's living on their 40-acre farm northwest of Piper on the canyon rim after a long series of events and much planning by Mr. and Mrs. Griese.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Griese are originally from Texas, but 21 years ago they tired of that part of the country and struck out for Alaska. Griese operated a small gold mine for several years and now works as a longshoreman in Seward. He will drive here in the spring.

Several years ago they became tired of Alaska, its cold winters and unusual living conditions and decided to leave. But they did their moving systematically. They began reading everything they could about all sections of the U.S.

In a short time they narrowed the area to southern Idaho. They liked what they read about this area and its lush irrigated farming.

The next step in their research was to subscribe to the Times-News. According to Mrs. Griese, they read everything from the front page to the "good things to eat" column in the classified ads. She says Alaskans are preoccupied with food, especially fresh food, because so little fresh food is grown or shipped there.

In a short time they decided Twin Falls and the surrounding area was the place for them.

"We had the idea that Twin Falls, rather than a city, was a nice farming town where the chief industry was farming. We thought it would be a friendly place. And we have found that it is, in fact, it is one of the friendliest places I've ever seen."

When the Grieses were studying the Times-News they were particularly interested in the region's weather, school and church activities, stock market, grocery advertisements, and last fall they were interested in this region's reaction to the right-to-work issue.

But the Grieses aren't people to make hasty decisions. In the summer of 1957, Mrs. Griese and her daughter, Bernice, now a junior at Filer high school, drove to Twin Falls over the Alcan highway and spent the summer here to see if they liked it. They did.

In the fall of 1957 Griese drove down the Alcan highway to take his wife and daughter back to Seward. He liked it, too, and they bought a farm before returning to Seward. That made Mrs. Griese's seventh trip over the Alcan highway.

Back in Seward they reported on Magic Valley to all their friends and neighbors. Soon Mrs. Griese says everyone wanted to read the Times-News. The issues were "shredbare" before everyone had read them.

"They wore them out," she says, "I never got to use them for anything else."

Once they were back in Alaska with the deed to a Twin Falls county farm, preparations for the move continued. They had been away from farming so long they thought they had better brush up on their farming techniques, especially irrigation farming. So they began taking correspondence courses in horticulture from the University of Idaho.

"We realized the farming here was considerably different from farming in southern Texas, so we decided we had better do some studying."

"They have taken three courses apiece and plan to take more. Griese will take some courses in livestock care, and Mrs. Griese plans to take courses in psychology.

Asked if she regrets leaving Alaska, Mrs. Griese nods at her grandsons playing in the room and declares, "I should say not! Those boys see the sunshine and they think someone turned on a light!" It seems the long nights, cold winters, short summers, and the constant rain in the Seward area grew tiresome.

Mrs. Griese reports some of the "flavor" of territorial Alaska is fading. It has gotten bigger and society lacks the frontier friendliness it had for so many years.

"Individuals aren't dependent upon each other there anymore," she explains. In earlier days the communities were more isolated and everyone knew everyone, and Alaska was a more friendly region.

"The old-time Alaskan was pretty self-sufficient," she notes. Living expenses are high in Alaska, but she adds that wages are proportionately high.

"The basic reason they wanted to leave was the weather. 'The snow and the blow are awful.' But she adds that the southern coastal towns, such as Seward, receiving the warm Japanese currents, seldom experience really cold winters, like interior regions.

"The coldest I've seen it get in Seward is 14 below zero," she says. But Fairbanks can experience weather throughout the year from 70 degrees below zero to 100 degrees. "Alaska is like Texas, it's big enough that the weather conditions vary."

Mrs. Griese reports many people are leaving Alaska. She explains many of the older people are leaving because they are "getting tired of battling the snow." Job opportunities are less than during the boom war years and there are few industries to keep or attract people.

On the credit side of the ledger she notes that the scenery in Alaska can be equalled nowhere in the world. "There is nothing in the U. S. to compete with it," she says. "The Rockies are majestic and beautiful, but they really don't compare."

She adds that fishing and hunting offered by Alaska are big attractions for men.

According to Mrs. Griese one of the present problems facing Alaskans is overcrowded schools. Many schools, even high schools, are so crowded that they schedule half-day sessions.

In some remote areas children must take their schooling by correspondence because there is a lack of school buses.

So far everything she wanted in a new home she has found in Magic Valley. She is looking forward to working in school and church activities, something she missed in Alaska, and plans to settle down here and become a real Magic Valley booster.

She and her husband aren't the only Alaskans who have chosen Magic Valley for their new home. She says George Venne, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Ina Twitshell and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Smith, all Filer, are former residents of Seward.

"And another family or two are planning on coming down in the spring," she says.

Declo Pupil Wins First in Contest

DECLO, Feb. 21—John Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adams, took top honors as representative of Declo high school in the annual East Magic Valley District Future Farmers of America public speaking contest at Raft River high school this week.

Minico, Oakley and Burley high schools also were represented. Jay Morgan, Minico, placed second; Sherril Wells, Oakley, was third; Darrell Cheney, Minico, fourth and Larry Edgar, Burley, was fifth.

A junior at Declo high school, Adams has been active in speech, and FFA the last three years. He is president of the Decloians, vice president of junior class and treasurer of the FFA.

He will represent this district in the state FFA public speaking contest to be held in Idaho Falls, March 28.
