Judge Asking County-Wide Youth Office

(From Page One) ... problems arising in the county, and when the matter becomes serious enough, it would be brought to the attention of the probate judge who has exclusive jurisdiction over juvenile matters under the state laws. In addition, Judge Mosher says, "The county juvenile officer would coordinate his activities with all law enforcement officials within the county, including the sheriff's office, the Twin Falls city police, Buhl, Kimberly, Filer, Murtaugh, Hansen and Castledale law enforcement officers, the prosecutor's office and the various schools." The juvenile officer would be supplied with a secretary who could also assist in dealing with minor girls. The juvenile officer would also handle other matters involving minors that come under the jurisdiction of the court, such as those concerning dependent or neglected children. "The juvenile officer would be directly responsible to and under the supervision of the probate judge," Judge Mosher notes. "I wish to point out that this step is not being taken because of any emergency that has arisen in the field of juvenile problems," Judge Mosher says. "We are not faced with a wave of major juvenile delinquency. In fact, the juvenile problem in this county is less serious than in any other part of the state." However, Judge Mosher says, "It is a matter of growing pains and an effort to keep control of the situation." Referring to what he regards as a controlled juvenile delinquency problem in the county, Judge Mosher says, "I feel that this can be directly attributed to the fine work of the Twin Falls police department and its juvenile division and the other law enforcement agencies of this county." Tentative approval has been given the proposal by county and city commissioners, the sheriff, prosecutor and police chiefs of Twin Falls, Kimberly and Buhl, Judge Mosher says. "No final plan has been established and the program will not be put into operation until final approval has been given by both the (county and city commissioners)," Judge Mosher says. Judge Mosher believes Marlow is ideally suited to become the county juvenile officer. It must be determined just what portion of Marlow's salary will be borne by the city and county, Judge Mosher says. Representatives of service clubs and other organizations interested in arranging for him to appear before their groups are urged to contact him.

McClellan Says Racketeering Must Be Ended or Great Inside Danger Faced

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—The senate labor-management committee's investigation of gangland penetration into the coin machine industry highlights a situation "that threatens the sovereignty of this country," Chairman John L. McClellan, D. Ark., said yesterday.

"The evidence clearly shows how far this racketeering has become entrenched," McClellan said in ending a series of hearings on the jukebox-coin machine industry in New York and Chicago.

"Unless this is successfully stopped, there is great danger to this country. We are threatened from within."

McClellan has contended the underworld has been busy working its way into various industries, with the help of some corrupt labor union officials. He took the position that the coin machine situation fits into that pattern.

The committee suspended its hearings until March 10 after fruitless questioning of a series of witnesses who previously have been named in testimony as playing key roles in alleged shakedowns of Chicago area coin machine operators.

power behind the Chicago Independent Amusement association, Inc. This organization allegedly hired strongarm men to terrorize amusement machine operators into joining and paying off.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Vogel is "one of the overlords of the underworld at the present time."

He invited Vogel to challenge the statement that "you are the key figure behind this whole operation, together with Sam (Mooney) Giancana." Kennedy previously said Giancana is chief gunman for successors of the old Al Capone mob.

2. Hyman Lerner, named as titular head of the association, Kennedy accused him of operating a "well-organized shakedown of all the game machine operators in the Chicago area."

Lerner refused, among other things to say how he has been able to afford a home in Florida, a Chicago apartment, six autos and two cabin cruisers—all on the $8,700-a-year income the committee said he refused to answer questions on fifth amendment grounds were:

1. Edward Vogel, described by a committee investigator as the real has-reported for tax purposes.

The committee contends Lerner's income from Chicago coin machine rackets came to $100,000 in 1957.

3. Fred Tom Smith, otherwise known as "Jukebox Smitty," Smith heads the coin machine division of

Cuban Officers' Horror Ideas Led to Destruction for Army

Unable to cope with the guerrilla strategists in the Sierra Maestra, the army's leaders tortured and killed guerrillas in efforts to extract information on the rebel army's movements.

One of these army leaders was Capt. Pedro Morejon, executed early this month. A Castro military tribunal convicted him on separate counts of assassination, homicide, theft, arson and damage.

He and two other officers, now dead, Firmin Cowley and Jesus Sosa Blanco, were the most dreaded operators of repression in Oriente province. Maj. Sosa Blanco—executed last week—was accused of 108 assassinations. Morejon of 33.

Col. Cowley, their superior, has been accused of personally machine-gunning the 15-man rebel crew of the yacht Comilla that made an ill-fated landing on Cuba's north shore near Holguin Nov. 7, 1957.

Eyewitness accounts say Cowley was furious at seeing the captured rebels, one of them wounded, being brought in alive. He took a Tommy-gun from a guard and shot the rebels.

This led to a wave of terrorism Holguin residents call "Black Christ-mas." It was about the time Fidel Castro's rebel incursions into the lowlands from the Sierra Maestra had been growing bolder and more frequent.

Army activity against civilians thickened. At dawn of Dec. 24 the bodies of 12 brutally beaten civilians were found in the streets of Holguin. A few days later Cowley was shot dead in a hardware store by a rebel band.

The arrest and grilling of some 200 citizens followed. Civic and fraternal organizations protested to Capt. Rafael Lavastida, who had been named to replace Cowley.

All but seven of those arrested were released. A few days later the tortured bodies of six of those were found on a highway. Author-ities said they had been killed in a rebel ambush.

None of the testimony at the military tribunals has linked Batista personally to an act of brutality. He has said in his Dominican exile that he knew nothing of them.

Castro leaders scorn this idea. In requesting his extradition from the Dominican Republic, as a "refugee from justice," Castro's foreign ministry said the deposed dictator was the "maximum author and instigator of numerous cases of assassination, theft and malversation of public funds."

Bohemia, a widely circulated pictorial news magazine, says Batista was present when flying squads of national police left the Presidential palace in quest of suspects in the attempt on Batista's life March 13, 1957.

Batista narrowly escaped death that day. A band of armed youths penetrated to the second floor of the palace before being mowed down by guards.

Forty-four persons, some not connected with the attack, reportedly paid with their lives in the national police roundup. Among them was former Sen. Pelayo Cuervo Navarro, an opponent of the administration. Bohemia says he had no connection with the assassination plot.

More than 300 former Batista regime officials—police and army officers—have been executed for "major war crimes." A large number have been absolved or given prison sentences.

Potential Political Storms in Canal Zone Leave No Marks

PANAMA CITY, Panama, Feb. 26 (Special) — A potentially violent anti-government storm has blown out to sea leaving this tiny banana republic essentially unchanged. The storm warnings—a two-day bus strike, barricaded streets and a mobbed city square—have disappeared.

Most observers, both inside and outside the American-controlled Canal Zone, now feel this particular junta was distinguished by the conspicuous absence of at least three features.

First, the trouble was not communist inspired.

Second, there was no connection between the two-day disturbance and the presence of a small band of visiting Fidelists from Cuba.

And third, the trouble was not anti-American.

The absence of these three features in Panama's small revolution, actually kicked off by public disaffection with Panama City's graft ridden councilors, are at least partially related. The missing elements also can serve as sign posts pointing the way toward the Caribbean's probable long-range future.

One possibility, rated here as having dim chances, is the establishment of a Federation of Caribbean states. A logical leader for such a Central American complex is Cuba's Fidel Castro.

A U.S. intelligence agent put it this way: "Most federations of independent states are at least in the beginning based primarily on fear. Castro, unlike Masser, who has built his organization on the threat of Israel, has no real enemy."

Asked why the United States might not be used as the whipping boy, the American explained, "The main complaint you hear about the United States in all these countries is that we are not generous enough with our foreign aid. How can that be used as a rallying flag?"

A second factor, working against any Caribbean federation, is the active nationalism of the separate countries. On the other side of the coin is the long-standing fear and distrust of their neighbors. The last active federation in existence in this area was established just before the turn of the century against despotism in Spain.

The threat of communism to Central American countries, according to observers, has also been greatly over-rated. An army official, talking about Panama, thought the 500-odd communists—while always a member of the opposition—to be too weak to cause any real danger.

He pointed to the Catholic church as a prime defense against communist domination. "The church is in most countries a powerful and progressive organization—even sometimes opposing local dictators."

Mrs. Ella Benscoter, Kendrick, Federated Women's clubs; Mrs. Owen Stalker, Grace, Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Albert Wilson, Emmett, Farm Bureau; Miss Alice McClain, Pocatello, American Association of University Women; Mrs. Ralph Goffe, Boise, Home Demonstration council; Mrs. Olive Bates, Meridian; State Orange; Mrs. Dorothy Plumlee, Bonners Ferry; Jay-C-Etter; Dean Watson, Buhl, state Junior Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Hester Davenport, Udon, American Association of School Librarians.

The committee was established to aid in programming throughout the state, evaluate the needs of libraries and point up accomplishments of libraries.

Electronic "Ghosts" Ready to Step Into American Factories

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 26—Electronic "ghosts" are ready to step into American factories, boss complicated machines, speed up—and expand—production.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology said so yesterday. The research engineers call it the automatic programmed tool system—APT. They hold it as a technological breakthrough in turning out complex, critically accurate parts for aircraft and for industry generally.

Two years of research in the MIT servomechanisms laboratory was sponsored by the air force, air material command. Nineteen aircraft plants around the country cooperated.

Some day, says Douglas T. Ross, MIT, every part of the vast industrial machinery of the United States will benefit from APT. He is head of the computer applications group of the servomechanisms laboratory. A giant machine tool stands in the MIT laboratory—incredibly working by itself. You won't see the "ghost" behind that operation, nor hear it muttering a strange language—like this:

"On kul, on spa, go rgt, tl left circle-ctr, plus 2, plus 3, radius, plus 5."

Nevertheless an electronic ghost, working with that strange APT language, formulated and prepared the complicated mathematical instructions which tell the machine just what to do. What is the "ghost" saying?

In relatively simple English it goes like this: "Turn on the coolant turn on the spindle, go right with the tool on the left side along the circle whose center is located at x equals 2, y equals e, with a radius of five."

The general idea is this: A quiet revolution has been going on for 10 years in factories making airplane-type parts. Production has been growing more and more automatic.

Now comes this APT's breakthrough. Digital computers have been married to automatically controlled machine tools.

The MIT engineers have found a way to write general directions, in the strange, but easily learned APT language of up to six-letter words, direct the machine when the digital computer can understand.

From these instructions the big computer takes over the job—actually working out the complicated mathematics. Recorded on tape, these instructions tell the small special-purpose computer controlling the machine tool just what to do. Intricate metal parts are then turned out with great accuracy.

Here's one example of the programming time saved. It takes 200 man-hours to program, manually, a typical wing rib shape. The same programming job takes five hours by the APT computer method.

FOUR TEAMS COP VICTORIES IN FIRST ROUND OF A TOURNEY

Hansen, Castleford, Bliss And Bellevue Come Through Unscathed in Opening Night

Hansen and Castleford on the Southside and Bliss and Bellevue on the Northside opened the class A district tournament Wednesday night with victories. The Huskies knocked Gooding State 52-24 and Castleford turned to the free throw line to pin a 44-34 loss on Declo. Bellevue pulled away in the final four minutes to dump Carey 50-40 while Bliss, after falling behind early in the game, moved steadily away in the last half to trip Camas 49-39. Second round action Thursday night finds Dietrich meeting Bliss at 7 p.m. at Richfield with Richfield taking on Bellevue in the nightcap.

At Hansen, Raft River will bow into tournament play by meeting Hansen at 7 p.m. with Murtaugh taking on Castleford in the second contest.

In the best game of the night, Bellevue used a spurge in the final half to knock off Carey. Carey dropped behind in the first quarter 19-11 but was back to within five points at halftime.

As the third quarter began, the Panthers moved to within two points of Bellevue and the teams saw-sawed to the three-quarter mark, Bellevue coming out on top 33-34. That margin remained nearly the same until four minutes remained. Then Bellevue pulled away slowly. The Bulldogs had three men in double scoring figures, led by Pat Barker. Don Rush had 15 to lead Carey.

Camas County opened up a big lead early in the first quarter only to have Bliss come back to within one point at the first rest period. By halftime the Bears, who defeated Camas twice in regular season play, owned a precarious two-point margin but they built that to 39-32 going into the final quarter. Gibbons poured through 18 points to lead the winning parade while Spackman's 12 points were high for the Musers.

Castleford built up a big lead, watched it melt away to nothing and then battled its way back into the victory over Declo.

The Wolves' big men, Kleih Barnes and Herschel Griggs, staked the Wolves to a 10-2 first quarter lead before Hornets started coming back.

Shoot and Duck

Castleford's Gary Schroeder gets off a shot just before being knocked aside by Dick Taylor, Declo, in the opening round of the class A district tournament at Hansen Wednesday night. Schroeder missed the shot but Castleford went on to cop a 44-34 decision. (Staff photo-entouring)

Double A, Triple A Meets Open Tonight

Minico Spartans and the Wendell Trojans were ruled favorites in the class AAA and double A tournaments, respectively, Thursday as the fourth district basketball tournament schedule gets under full steam. The single A meet began Wednesday night. The Spartans, who blew through seasonal play with a 15-2 record and in undefeated style in the Big Seven conference, will meet Burley in the second game at Burley tonight. Twin Falls will take on Oakley in the opener.

In the other prong of the triple A meet at Jerome, Gooding and Buhl will take the floor at 7:30 p.m. while two other highly-touted teams, Jerome and Filer, will tangle in the nightcap.

The double A tourney will feature three games today, the first contest slated for 6 p.m. Shoshone will meet Hagerman in the first game followed by Hagerman vs. Kimberly and Valley vs. Glenna Ferry.

First of Nine Week-End Idaho Bowling Tourney To Start Here Saturday

The first in a nine-week procession of bowling teams will invade Twin Falls Saturday morning when the 12th annual Idaho Bowling tournament begins at the Bowladrome. The tournament, which will run from Feb. 28 through April 26, will include 355 bowling teams from throughout Southern Idaho. The total is a new record for the event, being 70 teams higher than the record established last year in Nampa. Also expected are approximately 850 sets of doubles plus 1,600 singles entries.

Saturday action will begin at 10 p.m. with doubles and singles squads taking the line at 10 a.m. and noon. First squad of teams will begin competition at 2 p.m., followed by another set of doubles and singles at 4:30 p.m. Team play will take over again at 6:30 p.m. followed by two more sets of doubles and singles. An identical pattern will be followed every Saturday and Sunday during the meet.

Defending handicap champions include Thorne's IGA, Murtaugh, teams: L. Blakesell and J. Leonard, Boise, doubles; G. Klingler, Rexburg, singles, and M. Kamachi, St. Anthony, all events.

Last year's scratch winners were Bannock Motor, Pocatello, team; D. Gummersal and G. Wise, Boise, doubles; M. Harikovien, Boise, singles, and Mel Eby, Boise, all events.

Almost all the records are threatened. The records, handicap and scratch, respectively, include team, 3,145 and 2,816; doubles, 1,340 and 1,217; singles, 747 and 690, and all events, 2,022 and 1,866. Although some of these records were established as far back as 1949, many of them have been bettered several times in local tournament competition and league play this year.

With 11 games to go, Pettit has 1765 points and needs 237 more—well under his regular pace—to better the mark of 2,001 Yardley set with Detroit last season according to league statistics released today.

In the scoring race itself, Pettit has widened his lead to 172 points over Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors. Jack Twyman of Cincinnati is third, with Cliff Hagon of St. Louis and Minneapolis rookie Elgin Baylor rounding out the top five.

The leaders also are unchanged in other departments. Ken Sears of New York sets the pace in field goal percentage with .490, Bill Shamran of Boston in free throw percentage with .942, Bill Russell of Boston in rebounds and Bob Cousy of Boston, in assists with 459—an 82 pace.

Virginia Upsets Tar Heels 69-68

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Feb. 26 (AP)—Paul Adkins' field goal 1:04 left gave Virginia's late-starting Cavaliers a stunning 69-68 basketball victory Wednesday night over third-ranked North Carolina.

It was the Tar Heels' second successive defeat and knocked them out of first place in the Atlantic Coast conference standings.

Adkins, who had returned from Florida where he attended his grandfather's funeral Wednesday, arrived at the gymnasium after the game started. The game was 8:26 old before he got into action, but he scored 19 points and his driving layup proved decisive.

Dave Fix Named To All-Southern Idaho Loop Squad

Pocatello's league-winning Indians placed two men on the United Press International's all-Southern Idaho high school basketball conference team for 1958-59. Mike Bistline, sharpshooting Pocatello forward, was named to the first team on all ballots. On the basis of two points for a first team choice and one for a second, Bistline garnered 18 points.

Next came Jim Keller of Caldwell, the league's leading scorer, and Twin Falls center Dave Fix, both 18 points. Rounding out the "starting" five were center J. C. Hart of Idaho Falls with 12 points and guard Fred Walston of Boise and center Duane Sims of Pocatello, who tied for the fifth spot with 10 points each.

The Nampa Bulldogs, who finished second in the conference with an 8-4 record behind Pocatello's 10-2 mark, failed to place a man on the first unit, but came back solid on the second team with three representatives.

Members of the second team, also composed of six men, and points garnered were Guard Ron Dike of Nampa, seven; forward Ron Robertson, Nampa, six; guard Dick Caldwell, Caldwell, five; forward Roger Nelson, Nampa, five; guard Dick Darling of Caldwell, four; and guard Wanek Stein, Borah, four.

Bistline, an even six-footer, was credited by many for leading a late surge by the Indians which gave them the pennant. The slender youth possesses a pair of fast hands and a good scoring eye. He also set up many Indian baskets with his adept passing. He finished the season in fifth place in conference scoring with 141 points.

Keller practically made a run-away of the league scoring race. He tallied 188 points in 12 conference games for a 15.6 average. Keller utilized a deadly jump shot from in close to tab himself the most consistent scorer in the loop. He stands 6 feet, 2 inches.

Fix was the one bright spot on another just middlin' Twin Falls five, which finished the season with a 6-6 conference record. Dave proved a hard man to stop when he got the ball in the key and tallied 159 points in conference play to finish second in the scoring department behind Keller.

Webb Recovers From Early Jolt to Defeat Boyd on First Round TKO

CHICAGO, Feb. 26 (AP)—Spider Webb, No. 3 ranked middleweight, recovered from a jolting assault to blast a first-round 1:55 technical knockout of Bobby Boyd in the Chicago stadium Wednesday night. Referee Frank Sikora stopped Webb's onslaught against the seventh-rated Boyd 1 minute and 55 seconds after opening bell. The bout was as furious as it was brief, with Webb recovering from a whistling Boyd left hook which staggered him in the opening seconds.

Just when it seemed Boyd was measuring Webb for the kill, the fighter exploded a rousing two-fisted attack of his own.

A series of two powerful rights to the jaw sent Boyd down for a nine-count. He staggered to his feet, glassy-eyed. Webb followed with steaming lefts and rights to the head. Again Boyd went almost through the ropes for a cruel left-right combination.

Boyd again wobbled to his feet at the count of nine. Referee Sikora signaled for the fighters to resume, took another look at Boyd's glassy eyes and halted the bout.

In less than two minutes, at least a dozen explosive punches had hit the target for both fighters.

It was the second meeting for these two Chicago middleweights and a sudden ending victory for Webb. When both were preliminary boys in 1954, Webb scored a sixth-round knockout of Boyd in the same stadium ring.

Webb weighed 158 and Boyd 160. Boyd entered the ring without his trainer of six years, Sedgewick Harvey, who was killed Tuesday night in a family quarrel.

This was the first fight for the newly organized National Boxing Enterprises, Inc, formerly the Chicago branch of the dissolved International Boxing club.

Boyd refused to talk to sports writers after the fight, his only comment being: "I just got careless."

Webb said Boyd tagged him with a good left which made his head buzz. "After that, I figured the best way was to maneuver Boyd around until I could find my own punch," said Webb. "And I did it a little over anxious after knocking him down the first time."

Hansen's Art Jones Displaces Nebeker as Scoring Champion for Southside League

Art Jones, a third place finisher in last year's race, won the individual scoring championship for the Magic Valley (Southside) basketball conference.

Times-News statistics show the 6-foot, 11-inch sharpshooter wrested the crown from Murtaugh's Gary Nebeker, who dropped to second this year although he scored more points in the 1958-59 season. A senior at Hansen high school, Jones tied for the top individual scoring championship for fourth district class A players. His 320 overall total ties him with Richfield's Larry Stubbs but his 17.8 average is better.

Jones, who scored 20 points or better in eight of his 18 games this year, wound up with a total of 102 conference points for a 10.3 average. Nebeker, who took the 1957-58 championship with 149 points, pushed his total to 150 for the recent season. He ended the year with a 21-point effort against Raft River.

In all, 11 Southside players topped 100-point total for the year compared with six last year. Of the six men returning from last year's top 10, five repeated, one dropped out and another slid down the scale although his point total was up.

Hagerman's John Mason jumped from 82 points and 10th place to fifth with 137 while teammate Mike Preston, who also checked in with 82 points last year, rose to eighth with 119. Hansen's Dave Wilbourn dropped from ninth a year ago to 12th although he padded his 89-point 1957-58 total to 99 this year.

Herschel Griggs, Castleford, scored 107 against last year's 94, but still dropped from seventh to ninth.

Two big reasons for the shuffle in the lineups were Stan Bell and Wayne Adams. Raft River's tandem scoring punch, Adams took third place this year with 151 points followed closely by Bell with 145.

In sixth place was Declo's Claude Telfer with 134 while Olene Warr, Raft River, got 123. Keith Barnes, Castleford, had 103 for 10th place and George Urte, Hansen, sophomore, owned 11th with an even 100.

Urte also copped the individual free throw shooting crown with 46

Comparison

If Russia's Ivan wants meat for dinner, he has to work twice as long to buy a pound of it as an American worker does. The U.S. worker pays 76 cents — about one-third of his hourly take-home pay, while the Soviet worker pays almost five rubles, about three-quarters of his hour's pay.

Details Told Of Little Joe Rocket Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Details of a new rocket, the Little Joe, have been made public. It will be used in the early phase of the Mercury manned satellite project.

Little Joe is similar in name only to the army's Little John, a long-range artillery rocket familiar to many a GI. Little Joe's functions will be scientific, not military.

Makeup Told
The national aeronautics and space administration disclosed that Little Joe will be composed of:

- 1. A cluster of four army Sergeant 30 foot long, in its military version is the atomic-warhead successor to the 75-mile-range Corporal guided missile.
- It is produced by Sperry Gyroscope company, Salt Lake City. The army ballistic missile agency, Huntsville, Ala., has a $2,200,000 contract to produce the clustered rockets, known as TX3320 and TX3322, for NASA.

Other Parts
2. A casing, transport vehicles and launcher to be produced by the missile division of North American Aviation, Inc., Downey, Calif., under a $400,000 contract.
3. Small rockets, called XM19E1, attached to the side of Little Joe to provide assurance that the latter will attain the desired initial acceleration. Thiokol, Inc., Huntsville, has the $110,000 contract for these.

Meany Isn't Planning to Retire at 65

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 26 (AP)—George Meany has informed fellow AFL-CIO chiefs that although he will soon become 65 he has no intention of retiring as federation president.

Meany let this drop at the closing session of the AFL-CIO executive council's winter meeting. Meany will become 65 next August just before the federation's scheduled San Francisco convention in September when officers come up for election.

Retirement Permissible
It is permissible but not mandatory for top AFL-CIO officers to retire at 65.

The biggest story of the council session came on closing day with the disclosure that Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers union, prevailed to a major extent in a hot internal AFL-CIO fight over federation policies.

Meany Blows up
The fight started when council sessions got under way last week. Meany blew up in remarks to Reuther and James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The AFL-CIO president tried to banish Carey to the end of the council meeting table and bawled out Reuther for making economic policy decisions without consulting him.

Reuther threatened to resign as chairman of the AFL-CIO economic committee. Part of the argument concerned Reuther's plan for the AFL-CIO to sponsor a mass march of unemployed on Washington to spur job allocation by congress and the administration.

Ben Hecht Has Spent His Life Blowing up Hypocrisies of Era

BY HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—"I hate people who wake up in the morning and know what they'll think and say all day," said Ben Hecht.
 Hecht, who will be 65 this Saturday, has spent a prodigious creative lifetime lighting firecrackers under the hypocrisies and foibles of his time.
 Ben looks like an aging Kewpie doll, or a raffish Buddha. His blue eyes twinkle as he verbally skewers mankind's eternal follies. He still has the air of a small boy playing a secret prank on everybody.
 "I never achieved a real goal in life," he said cheerfully, "not even a haircut."

"My chief goal was to remain 18, never to grow up or grow old. I missed that goal."
 But this onetime Chicago newspaper reporter has managed to turn out 65 movies, 25 books, 20 plays, 250 short stories and at least 300 magazine articles.
 A one-man fiction factory, Ben has two books on the presses now. Ben, using a pencil and a lap board, writes every day and turns out about 5,000 words a week, as he has nearly every week for more than 40 years.
 Here is Hecht in his own words:
 "I hate effeness—it gives me a cold, it makes me hate ideas. Ideas turn them into scoundrels. If you spit ideas out of their heads, people are more human."
 "I'd like to see politics abolished. Politics is as bad for the spirit as war is for the body."
 "I like spirited people who dislike bosses. I've always figured that whoever hired me was my immediate enemy. That made me a fortune in Hollywood. The harder you hated a boss out there the more he paid you.

 "Everybody's a kibitzer. There is too much conformity. People are afraid to be individuals."
 "The future of the human race if it has one, should be good. Some tremendous leader will have to appear, but I don't see him anywhere. He may have to be a religious leader. It takes religion to relate a human being to himself, to God, and to life.
 "But the only religion I'll join is one which asks me to love myself and love my neighbor. That religion has gone sour, but it is the only one that can save the world."
 "Who is God? God is a human being, as far as I can see. We have forgotten that man has divinity in him."

Meat Specials Offer Variety On Week-End

By The Associated Press
 If variety is the spice of life, there should be plenty of spice in the meat specials offered at the nation's grocery stores this week-end.
 There's variety aplenty. Beef cuts and pork cuts are most numerous, as usual.
 Cheaper Cuts Plentiful
 In beef, there seem to be more offerings of chuck roast, ground beef, stew meat, short ribs and standing rib blade than steak and more expensive rib and round roasts. Pork bargains lean toward loins, smoked hams, sausage and the like.
 Veal chops are marked down four to 10 cents a pound in some areas. Prying chickens are up two to six cents a pound. Eggs and leg of lamb are also up a bit.
 A breakfast of frozen orange juice, bacon, eggs and coffee should cost a bit less than at this time last year.

Potatoes Best Bet
 Among the fresh vegetables, potatoes are easily the best bet.
 Other good buys are lettuce, celery, carrots, cooking greens, spinach, endive, escarole and radishes. Onions and cabbage are somewhat high this week.
 Snap beans, peppers, eggplant, cauliflower and broccoli are rated fairly good buys.
 Fruit counters still display specialties on apples; other good buys include oranges, grapefruit, bananas and a few pears and grapes.
 Britain's first medicinal patent was granted in 1698 to Dr. Nehemiah Crew for Broom.

Theory About Giant Animals Now Doubted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UPI)—A couple of scientists have teamed up to do a jack-the-giant-killer job on a couple of ancient man-apes (or maybe just apes), named Gigantopithecus and Meganthropus.

In so doing, anthropologists S. M. Garn and A. B. Lewis flew in the teeth-of-the-evidence—the evidence being gigantic fossil teeth found in the past quarter of a century in China's Kwangsi province and at Sangiran, Java.

Their findings, reported in the technical periodical "Science," take a big bite out of the notion that giant races existed hundreds of thousands of years ago in the family tree of man.

Believed Big Animals
The big teeth were judged by their finders to have belonged to creatures who lived in the pleistocene epoch which got under way about a million years ago.

The Chinese creature was named Gigantopithecus, the Javanese Meganthropus. Anthropologists have disagreed as to whether they belonged to the stem of the evolutionary tree which produced man.

But there was considerable agreement that G. and M., whatever else they may have been, were huge. One scholar concluded that China's Gigantopithecus must have been about 12 feet tall. Another said he was twice as big as a modern male gorilla.

Modern male gorillas get to weigh 600 pounds and more.

2 Men Dubious
Well, Garn and Lewis were dubious about the assumption of their colleagues that big teeth necessarily meant big bodies. So they made some comparisons of tooth and body size among several groups of living men, and some fossil human-like creatures whose stature was known.

They found no indication that tooth size is a clue to body size and no evidence to support the idea that the Chinese and Javanese "megadonts" were giants.

They suggested that G. and M. acquired their big teeth because they had to grind "nutrients and calories from tough and bulky vegetable material" which their digestive equipment couldn't handle unprocessed.

Instead of standing 12 feet high, the Chinese big-tooth probably was no more than five feet tall, the two anthropologists said.

Calf Crop up

BOISE, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Idaho calf crop for 1958 was reported yesterday at 563,000, the largest for any year since the U. S. department of agriculture began keeping records in 1924.

The total was up four per cent from that of 1957 and was 30 per cent larger than the yearly average for the past decade.

Youth Killed in Jungle of New York

The covered body of 17-year-old Tony LaBanchina, shot to death in a teen gang feud, is the centerpiece of a grim, movie-like drama on the sidewalk of downtown Brooklyn, N. Y. Police surround wounded Johnny Lombardi, 17, as the black-jacketed youth raises his bleeding hand and averts his eyes from the body of his dead friend. Four teen-agers were arrested in the rumble, started when a rival gang invaded the pinball amusement arcade at right where the victim and his friends were playing machines. (AP wirephoto)

Congress' Tuesday, Thursday Club Gets Useless Complaints

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Promptly at noon, Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, D., Tex., pounded his gavel, and the Thursday to Tuesday club was in recess again.

The Thursday to Tuesday club is one of the most hush-hush outfits in a secretive town.

Officially, it doesn't exist. Even unofficially, no one would admit membership.

Anyone who lurks around the house soon learns that important business rarely is scheduled either for Mondays or Fridays.

Unless he has committee meetings to keep him here, a congressman from, say, New York, Connecticut or New Jersey can get home in time for dinner Thursday night and not have to be back in Washington until the house meets at noon Tuesday.

Recently these T. to T. commuters were brought up by Rep. Glenn Cunningham, R., Omaha, Neb.

"It would be to the benefit of the taxpayers, it seems to me, if congress would meet for five or six days a week, get the necessary work done, and then adjourn," Cunningham said in a newsletter to his constituents.

Other congressmen also have complained, mostly in private, but four years ago Rep. H. R. Gross, R., Waterloo, Ia., fetched the subject up in a floor debate with the Democratic leader, Rep. John McCormack, Dorchester, Mass.

Their exchange included this: Gross—"Mr. Speaker, have we not progressed far enough in this session so that we can abandon the Thursday to Tuesday club and work once in a while on Friday, meeting at noon on each day? I hope the gentleman will give some consideration to those who live a thousand miles away from our homes and who are stuck here each week-end."

McCormack—"This talk about the Thursday to Tuesday club has no foundation, and there is no basis for any such statement, because when I draw up a program there is always legislation that is not controversial. I put that down on a Monday, rather than on a Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Any responsible leadership would do that."

Well, Gross didn't get far, and Cunningham doesn't expect to either. For congress is habit-forming, and a legislative addict is the worst addict there is.

The main problem, Cunningham thinks, is this: Nearby congressmen often leave their families at home, and hence are eager to hurry back every week-end.

Cunningham thinks legislation would be improved if the T. to T. club quietly passed away.

"This way we push our work back to the end of the session," he said. "And you know how grumpy everyone is in this town in July and August."

Small Degree Of Protection Helps in Blast

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Even a small degree of protection against a nuclear blast can spell the difference between life and death—even near ground zero.

According to Harry Lake, Bowman, dean of the faculty of Drexel consultant on weapon effects and protective construction for the atomic energy commission, there is a ring around ground zero where even a little protection would help reduce the effects of a nuclear explosion.

Bowman said a poor shelter would be better than none. "In a fallout field," he said, "a poor structure will cut the radiation dosage in half, and the below-ground basement of a good structure may reduce the dosage by a factor of a thousand."

The scientist said much of what we know today about shelter design, thermal effects, blast biology and decontamination was learned from nuclear tests in the Pacific and Nevada.

He added, "This knowledge, if heeded, may save more lives than ever will be lost as a result of the fallout from the tests currently being carried on."

Prisoners Record 'Books' for Blind

CHINO, Calif. (UPI)—A group of inmates at California's minimum security prison here are spending much of their spare time recording "books" for blind college students.

The 20 convicts working on the project already have completed one text and are working on a second.

Prisoners spend an average of 30 evenings and week-end hours a week recording the books. The inmates agreed that besides furnishing material for blind college students, the work placed them in contact with books which they might otherwise not have read.

The project is sponsored by Recordings for the Blind, a national organization supported by voluntary contributions.

SNOBOY....so good they're guaranteed in writing

Guaranteed for Crispness!

No mushy, mealy apples for SNOBOY! They're crisp as a fresh cracker. Washington State's soil, sun and temperature grow them that way. SNOBOY'S care keeps them that way, from twig to store.

Guaranteed for Flavor!

SNOBOY Apples are picked for flavor on the very day (almost to the hour) of supreme flavor and SNOBOY Apples are guaranteed to arrive at your home at their flavorful best—or your money back!

Guaranteed for Sweetness!

SNOBOY Apples are rushed (within the hour after picking) to cool, cool storage rooms. There, at a steady 31 degree temperature, starches change to natural fruit sugars and the complete sweet flavor blooms.

In bags and boxes at your grocery store.

Every single bag of SNOBOY Apples carries a written guarantee. Read it. It's your guarantee of highest apple quality—or your money back!

Why there is no apple like a SNOBOY

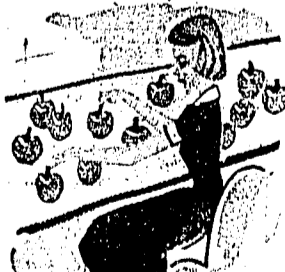

Soil, sun and temperature work in unique combination in the famed Yakima-Wenatchee Valley of Washington State to produce SNOBOY'S vivid coloring, extra juiciness, and superb flavor! These SNOBOYS are selected from the finest orchards.

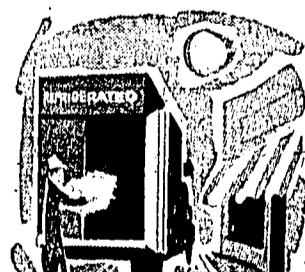

Every apple has its day—the day when its flavor peak is reached. On that exact day, SNOBOY field inspectors order the apples picked—and they specify the sun-drenched apples from the top and outside of the finest trees!

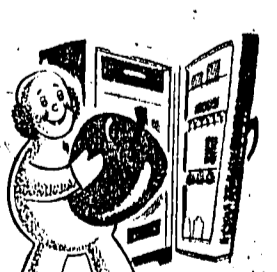

Within the hour after picking, SNOBOY apples are rushed to cool storage rooms. There, at a constant 31 degrees, the flavor "matures" . . . starches change to natural fruit sugars . . . and SNOBOY inspectors say "Ship!"

Once they're fully matured and ready to ship, SNOBOY apples are showered, sorted, wrapped and packed by hand to protect against bruising during shipment . . . to guard SNOBOY'S brilliant flavor!

SNOBOY'S tree-to-grocer control continues as the apples are rushed in cool, cool trucks to your grocer's. There you get famous SNOBOY quality . . . true picked for flavor quality!

To enjoy all the eating pleasure SNOBOY has worked so hard to protect, do your share! Always keep your SNOBOYS in the refrigerator until you eat them. They'll be full-flavored and crisp!
