TV in Space Proposed for Star Peeking

LOS ANGELES, April 28 (UPI)—A top space scientist today proposed a rocket-propelled camera to be used to take pictures of stars.

One advantage of such machines, he said, is that scientists could "see" other planets without having to leave Earth's atmosphere.

A rocket-propelled camera would get an "up-to-date" view of stars as they would appear in fact within the vehicle.

A. M. Mayo, chief equipment and safety research engineer at Douglas Aircraft Co., El Segundo (Calif.), said that about 2,000 space scientists and experts attending the annual Aeronautical Medical Convention.

Seat Capsules Proposed

At the opening of the three-day meeting yesterday, two scientists proposed that airplane seats be replaced by rocket-propelled seat capsules which would "shoot" a man to safety within two seconds from a doomed plane.

Bret Cooper, Republic Aviation Corporation, Farmdale, N. Y., and Arnold Beck, a human factor design specialist, said that during normal flight the capsule would act as a seat.

In an emergency, the capsule ejection system would form a protective cocoon at the touch of an ejection lever. The pilot's feet and seat would be automatically jettisoned back by restraining devices, his shoulders and body harnessed in place and his helmet firmly clamped on his head.

All this within two seconds. Then the capsule would be blasted away from the craft upwards at 65 to 70 feet per second.

Package Protection Suggested

Another safety suggestion made yesterday called for airplane passengers to be packaged like "cans" for protection against crashes.

Air Force Col. John P. Stapp, the rocket-seat riding "fastest man on earth" and Prof. James A. Ryan, University of Minnesota, said each individual seat with hydraulic absorbers to protect them against shock. The seats would slide on rails with the passenger held in "pockets" by seat belts.

Student Demonstrates Wrong Way to Park Auto

The wrong way to park a car in a parallel parking space is demonstrated by Arthur (Huff) Emerson, Twin Falls high school senior and president of the Road Larks Automobile club. Ability to handle a car profitably will be one test of area teen-agers Sunday during an annual National Junior Chamber of Commerce safe driving teenage road-co to be held at the Okay food store parking lot at the intersection of Filer avenue and Fillmore street. Participating teenagers will complete written examinations first, and then compete in actual driving conditions at the parking lot. Kuka is chairman of the event. (Staff photo-enlarging)

Ability, Knowledge of Rules Are Base of Road-co Judging

Area teen-agers competing in the local Junior Chamber of Commerce safe driving road-co Sunday will be judged on their ability to handle a car profitably and their knowledge of road courtesy and rules.

Judging of driving skills will begin at 10 a.m. at the parking lot at the Okay food store, Filer and Fillmore street. Prior to the actual driving tests, entrants will complete written examinations at the junior high school, Kimberly high school and Filer high school.

Monte Kuka, Twin Falls chairman for this year's event, explains that the program began nationally seven years ago is designed to help millions of teen-agers across the country become aware of the responsibility they share when licensed as operators of vehicles and to encourage community interest in safe driving.

Assisting Kuka are other local judges.

Jury to Air Condition of Utah Prison

SALT LAKE CITY, April 28 (AP)—The first in 11 years of a grand jury in the Salt Lake area was ordered to meet Monday.

The grand jury must meet under conditions at the Utah State Penitentiary. It may also take up conditions in city and county jails, or any other complaints on local government.

Judges Call Jury The seven judges of the Third judicial district called for the grand jury because, they said, the interest demands it. There have been numerous public calls for a grand jury in recent years, especially after testimony was given in the Utah prison murder trials and after a report on the conditions of the Utah State Penitentiary.

Attorney Asks Jury Attorney Phil Hansen who defended two of the three prisoners indicted yesterday for murdering a woman, made a special appeal to the judges to call a grand jury because of prison conditions.

Warden John Turner and other prison officials have said they would welcome a grand jury investigation of the institution so that many problems could be brought to light.

By CONRAD FINK Associated Press Writer State and county relief rolls, long a barometer for general economic conditions, are generally holding steady throughout the nation.

An Associated Press survey indicates that with a few exceptions there have been no large increases or decreases in recent months in the number of persons depending upon welfare agencies for existence.

Kentucky, with its chronic coal and unemployment, is an exception. Louisville alone dropped 3,000 families from relief rolls in April because funds ran out.

Michigan, a state with big financial as well as unemployment problems, shows signs of having difficulty meeting welfare obligations. Detroit, with 16,000 families on relief and an annual welfare budget of eight million dollars, ran out of money last January. The state has been picking up the tab.

Helen Smith, welfare director of rural Antrim county, 200 miles northwest of Detroit, characterizes the effort to reduce welfare rolls. She advised relief recipients: All relief money will be dropped; drinkers are barred. Every family is expected to grow a vegetable garden to supplement relief.

Texas with 101,500 unemployed in February reported no large change in relief rolls. However, more persons are receiving surplus commodities this year than had—143,283 in March, 1950, as compared to 111,283 in March 1949.

Report Notes
10-Year T. F. Improvement

Home Ballinger, superintendent of the city streets and sewer department, reported to the Twin Falls city council Monday night on work done on the water and sewerage systems during the past 10 years. Ballinger said the report showed the growth of the water and sewerage systems during the past 10 years. He said the water system installed in 1942-1952, and 27.2 miles installed from 1942-1952.

Commissioner W. A. Ostrander, inquired as to possibility of continuing the sewer system. Ballinger replied the pipe in the area is under extremely high pressure and there is no chance of pollution.

The water distribution system now has 356 fire hydrants, Ballinger states in the report. In 1942, there were 12 miles of seal coating was done on old and new pavements; 10 miles of new streets were paved; three and one-half miles of pavement was resurfaced and two and one-quarter miles of new streets and extensions were completed. A total of 5,735 feet of natural gas line was installed and 12 miles of street were resurfaced by city patching areas which was paid for by the gas company.

In the 10-year period, Ballinger reports, 16 miles of new streets and extensions were constructed. 32 miles of streets were paved with bituminous mix and 13 miles were resurfaced.

Five bridges were constructed at street crossings on the Perimeter highway. The water system supervision, Ballinger pointed out, widening has been done on 20 blocks of downtown streets and has provided 300 additional parking spaces.

City Attorney William Langley said he is working on an amendment to the city liquor ordinance, which is bringing the city into conformance with the state regulations which go into effect on May 1.

Two Mishaps Are Reported By Patrolman

RUPERT, April 22.—Two accidents were reported here over the week-end by State Highway Patrolman Roy Thomas. On Saturday, Rupert, Burley, escaped injury when the automobile he was driving rolled over in a borrow pit 12 miles east of Rupert.

Gerard told Thomas he was driving eastward in a heavy rain when he saw two trucks stopped on the right side of the road. One was a semi-trailer and the other a trailer on the left. Gerard said he wasn't sure there was enough room for him to go between them to get into the borrow pit to avoid a collision.

Thomas estimated damage to Gerard's car amounted to $50. At 11 a.m. Sunday, Frank Speckman, driving a 1953 Ford, side-swiped a truck he was trying to pass on highway 27, near Oakley, and drove into a borrow pit where his auto overturned.

Speckman told Thomas he was following a 1953 International truck loaded with beet pulp. The truck was driven by Rep. David S. King, Utah, who is a plan for paying off the national debt—simply budget payments for it, at the rate of almost three billion dollars a year. After 100 years, give or take a few—no debt.

The freshman Democrat introduced a bill to this effect yesterday, saying it would "balance the budget with a surplus."

Solon Voices Plans to End Indebtedness

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—Rep. David S. King, Utah, has a plan for paying off the national debt—simply budget payments for it, at the rate of almost three billion dollars a year. After 100 years, give or take a few—no debt.

The freshman Democrat introduced a bill to this effect yesterday, saying it would "balance the budget with a surplus."

Where is the money to come from? Spoken in King's office, it is contemplated that revenue will flow on the present tax base as the U. S. economy expands, and some of this should be applied to paying off the national debt.

Advice Given Area Church Stake Parley

PROBERT, April 23—The need for members of the church to have personal testimonies and live the teachings of the church all week, just on the Sabbath, was a part of the advice given those who attended the Minidoka LDS stake conference Sunday.

Elder Bruce E. McConkie, of the First Council of Seventy, was the visiting speaker, representing the general authorities of the church from Salt Lake City.

There were 180 attending the morning session under the direction of Elder McConkie. Stake President Rodney A. Hansen conducted the meetings.

The opening prayer was given by Arthur Hutham with President Hansen giving the opening talk. He pointed out the opportunities and blessings available to members through service in church positions to which they might be called.

He warned against taking on too much work or responsibility as a conferee with church work and attendance. The final choice is up to the individuals to choose what they have time for.

Other speakers for the morning session were David Cole, returned missionary, and Mrs. Oils Orton, who was recently called to serve as chaplain in the army primary.

Elder McConkie, concluding speaker for the morning session, pointed out the importance for each individual member to be converted to the teachings of the church.

The closing prayer was given by Walter Mackay. Afternoon speakers included Roldo V. Dutton, of the stake presidency. He spoke on the importance of making the right decisions.

President Newell Baker, Burley, spoke briefly on the importance of early training for children, by precept and example.

Elder Donald Merrill, Ricks College staff, spoke on the importance of education. He pointed out that the whole church system is based on education. He urged parents to take an interest in the choice of schools and courses chosen by their young people, encouraging them to choose schools maintained by the church which desired courses were available.

Other speakers during the afternoon were Don J. McCombs, member of the high council, and Dr. George E. Nielson, who was recently appointed stake president of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association.

Elder Nielson stressed the importance of parents associating with their children, pointing out that no one else has as much influence over a child as the parent. He urged parents to share their children to their meetings, not just send them.

Elder McConkie explained the necessity of repentance, baptism and right living. He urged clean living, pointing out that no unclean thing can enter into the kingdom, that church members should live the doctrines and teachings of the church and to do their utmost to live them.

Special music for both sessions was furnished by a 120-voice choir under the direction of Mrs. LaVerne Pines. Linda Smith was organist, both for the choir and for congregational singing directed by Desmond Welch.

Soloists with the choir were Janice Williams and Clarence Nielson. In the afternoon session, President Hansen gave the names of new workers to be sustained in their positions. These included Don J. McCombs as a member of the high council, and LaVerne Bingman as a member of the presidency of the council of seventy.

300 Trees Planted at Idaho Youth Ranch by Area Girls

RUPERT, April 23—Arbor day was observed on a grand scale at the Idaho Ranch for Youth Saturday when about 50 Camp Fire Girls from various parts of Big Lost planted 300 evergreens, including blue spruce, Norway spruce and Rocky Mountain juniper, and 100 golden willows. They were donated by the university extension service and were planted under the direction of W. O. Priest, Minidoka county agent.

Some of the girls came all the way from Twin Falls to help with the work. The groups from Rupert were taken to the ranch by bus. Taking their lunches, they walked back to a pond formed by the drainage water from the higher fields.

The Rev. James F. Crowe, superintendent of the ranch, said the ranch plans to use the area around for pasture with the planting serving for cover. It will also make a picnic spot later when the trees and shrubs are grown.

It also was announced a window contest will be sponsored jointly by Harley merchandise and the Burley Music club in connection with National Music week, May 3-10. The contest will begin next Monday, featuring the song titles from suggestions used in store window displays.

Four prizes of $50, $25, $15 and $10 will be given for the greatest number of correct titles offered by contestants.

Speaker was Haldis Hellum, high school exchange student from Halmjar, Norway. She was accompanied by her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Hanson, P.O. and State Rep. Leo Handy, Minidoka county.

Miss Hellum, who attends Minidoka high school under pavilion of the American High-Schooler, compared living conditions in this country and her native land. She explained that the biggest difference is the school system. There are no high schools in Norway, she said. Secondary schools follow the grade system in Norway, with rigid curriculums.

The young speaker, a sophomore, said she had learned a lot about this country in the eight months she has been here, but also learned a great deal about her native land.

Hank Hopes Russ Will Take Credit for Unpopular Things

BY HENRY McLEMORE

Lots of people get mad at the Russians for claiming to have invented things they didn't — the steamboat, the cotton gin, the telephone, croquet, the safety razor, the diesel engine and mashed potatoes.

I don't. I live in the hope that some day their enthusiasm for claiming will drive them to taking credit for such things as:

- Names like Sherwood Forest, Burbank Woods and Sylvan Glen for overnight subdivisions that boast three trees at most and none of them over five feet in height.
- TV vendicane and upset stomach commercials.
- The telephone busy signal, certainly one of the most unpleasant sounds in the world.
- Automobile clogs.
- Fluorescent lights which can't seem to make up their minds whether to go on or not.
- Processed cheese.
- Men's shoes with perforations.
- The liquid that filling station kiosk spray on windshields which leave them the windshield, not the attendants as greasy as a frying pan.
- Bureau drawers that warp and stick.
- Auto taxis not quite that tragic.
- Hand-painted ties.
- Restaurant tables that face the wrong way.
- Condensed soups.
- Skim milk.
- Men's watchbands.
- Printed prices that don't include the tax.
- Ozra, cooked or raw.
- Pepper shakers that don't shake.
- Continental cars.

Underhairs with no sleeves.

Middle-aged men in Ivy League trousers.

Child dancers and singers.

Paper plates and napkins.

"Clever" Christmas and Easter cards.

Handsome ice buckets that don't keep ice.

Tall, handsome, young men, especially on beaches and around pools.

Plastic knives and forks.

The word "brunch."

The Russians are welcome to these.

And, I almost forgot, dining room tables with legs where you are invariably placed.

Scouts Going To Campsite May Register

It is not too early for Scouts to be registering for summer camp at Cape Horn, William Scarth, district executive, advised this week.

A $2 fee must accompany registrations. The fee will apply on the total cost of the camp.

Scarth said two plans will be available to campers: One provides for all meals in the dining hall at $1.50 per week which includes cost of insurance. The second plan is for groups to do their own cooking, bringing their own food and equipment. The $5 fee for this plan includes all other costs. Only 150 may be accommodated in the dining hall.

Activities will include an overnight hike for each troop, canoeing, boating, swimming, lifeguarding, handicrafts and hikes.

First class Scouts who have attended Cape Horn at least one year may qualify for the Ma-I-Shu Golden Eagle trail 50 miles in the primitive area or the Toxaway trail hike. Registration fee for these is $3.

The Ma-I-Shu 50-mile trail will qualify units for the national "Golden Eagle" award and the local Gold-Eagle award. The base camp will be established at Sheepeater hot springs. Units planning this trip should contact Archie Brown well in advance, advises Scarth.

Dates for the Toxaway trail will be Aug. 2 through 8.

Applications are being received by the council office for the 1960 national jamboree to be held at Colorado Springs. The $10 registration fee will be refunded until three months prior to the jamboree if the Scout finds he will be unable to attend. The jamboree fee has not been set, but will be about $200. The Snake River council office has been advised.

Blaciglia isn't a race driver. And he doesn't own any race cars, work in a pit crew or even sell hot dogs to racing fans.

But Blaciglia, a 61-year-old semi-retired mechanic from Long Beach, Calif., has been first in line for race day tickets for the last 11 years.

He charged up to the gate Monday morning, prepared to sit it out until Friday when practice runs begin for the race.

Blaciglia was late this year. Last year he arrived on April 3.

Idaho Farmer Boosts Potato Yields with 'N'

"N" It takes N, men

Arliss Lee, successful farmer of Murtaugh, Ida., is one of many Idaho farmers who have found proper fertilization the key to added income.

"With our fertilizer, we could get only 200 bushels an acre from our potatoes. With fertilizer, we get 350 sacks — that's why we see that fertilizer is applied and that we use enough," Mr. Lee says.

"For nitrogen requirements, I like U.S.S. Nitrogen Fertilizers. That granular U.S.S. Ammonium Sulfate is easy to apply — no clogging the machinery," Mr. Lee says.

In addition to 130 acres of potatoes, Mr. Lee has 145 acres in wheat, which he sends to the mill. "We use 50 pounds of available N per acre, and our yields are 80 bushels an acre, and up. That's a real increase — we used to get about 60 bushels an acre without nitrogen," Mr. Lee reports.

Order U.S.S. Nitrogen Fertilizers from your dealer today for that added income at harvest time. U.S.S. Nitrogen Fertilizers, made by United States Steel, are easy to use and they help farmers achieve higher yields and higher profits.

Huge Spring Cattle Drive Riding Rails

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 28 (UPI)—The spring cattle drive is on again but if you're looking for a bit of the Old West, parking on the banks of the Arkansas River is the place to be. This is a stream of cattle that will take the animals and with top priority, to the north. There are part of 35,000 head of cattle in the area. They are going to Pennsylvania pastures for the summer.

Election of Liu in Red China May Spell Trouble for West

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO, April 28 (UPI)—The election of Liu Shao-chi as president of communist China may spell trouble for the West. It could create a new, tougher era of Chinese communism, both at home and abroad, particularly in Asia. The Chinese could have picked a figurehead, such as aging Marshal Chu Teh, for the presidency, held for a decade by Mao Tse-tung. Instead, they chose to give him new stature by reaching for one of the chaperon, albeit minds they could find in the communist hierarchy. The object is to make sure that China speaks with two strong voices—Liu's and Premier Chou En-lai's—after Mao has withdrawn from the public eye to work on the pressing problems of the party and the nation as chairman of the Chinese communist party. Liu, Mao and Chou form a renegade-youth, albeit team of Mao, Liu and Chou. In future international horse-trading, either on the foreign minister's desk or at the summit. Long a man of considerable personal mystery, Liu will emerge from the shadows of the Communist party headquarters to take a more prominent public place in China. This is in line with his non-sentimental position as heir-apparent to Mao, whose chairmanship of the party makes him still master of the world's most populous nation. As president, Liu will become the known face to the millions who only know him as a self-effacing quiet man. This writer first met Liu in December 1945, in the communist cave-capital of Yenan in north China with three other Communist newsmen after the end of World War II. Dressed in a wrinkled, cloth cap and padded blue cotton uniform, patched at the elbows, Liu at that time gave the impression that he bordered on furtiveness, he hardly spoke above a whisper. ### Life on Mars May Surprise Men on Earth

WASHINGTON, April 28 (UPI)—The life on Mars may turn out to be pretty surprising. For example, says Dr. Harold C. Urey, the first-space traveler from Earth may discover that Martian plants are able to thrive themselves. Urey, 65-year-old University of California chemist, made this suggestion in an interview on the subject of life on other planets. "For 2000 years, man has been here for the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences. He has become a student of the biochemical origins of life. Life Substance Described On Earth, the basic life substance is deoxyribonucleic acid (DNA). It is the vital stuff of viruses as well as ferns, the tiny units of heredity. But the supposed plant life on Mars, they said, may be built around some other basic material. Although recognizable as life, it may be fundamentally different from the life that has evolved on Earth. "The plants of Mars," he said, "are not covered up by the dust storms astronomers have seen. Air plants are able to shake the dust off themselves? "People laugh at Querey "I ask this question of people and they laugh, but I say, 'Why not?' The plants of Mars may be completely different from ours. "It may be, he said, that organisms dwelling on Mars could live on Earth and vice versa. "It also is possible, on the other hand, that Martian life instead of being basically different from Earth's is basically similar to it.

Canada May Set Tourists Record

OTTAWA, April 28 (UPI)—Canada may have a record tourist year in 1959. Good weather and continued economic recovery in the United States could do it, says Alan Pielke, director of the Canadian government's travel bureau. The royal tour of Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip, and the opening of the St. Lawrence seaway are the year's two major attractions. A record year would mean that more than 28,000,000 American tourists would visit Canada and that tourists from all countries

Russ Testing New Jet for Long Flights

WASHINGTON, April 22 (UPI)—The Soviet Union is testing a jet transport plane that will be able to fly non-stop from Moscow to New York with 120 passengers, a Russian aviation official said yesterday.

Gen. Mikhail Kostuk, air attaché at the Soviet embassy, told the Aero club, Washington, that the Soviets also have started a program to build 40 airports in their current seven-year economic plan. He described the new airplane as one of a fleet with which the Soviet Union intends to "speed economic and cultural relations" with other nations through rapid expansion of international aviation.

The new transport is the TU-114. Kostuk did not say when it would be ready for service. He said it could carry 170 to 220 passengers on shorter routes than the Moscow-New York run.

Russia and the United States do not at present have connecting civil air routes, and the general did not indicate whether Russia hoped to establish them.

USW Claims Productivity Study Wrong

PITTSBURGH, April 22 (UPI)—United States Steel Corp. President David J. McDonald said yesterday the federal government's report on steel productivity in the industry is "wrong."

"This country is an old-fashioned work" Claude said in an interview with the Washington Post. McDonald said the report is "an attempt to get credit for work" Claude said in an interview with the Washington Post.

McDonald said the report is "an attempt to get credit for work" Claude said in an interview with the Washington Post.

The Bureau of labor statistics reported April 16 that the industry's output per man hour declined nearly six per cent in the three-year 1955-58 period.

McDonald said the productivity decline was closer to three per cent than the nearly six per cent reported by the government to the public.

Figures on productivity are important to the USW, which operates contract negotiations May 3 with the basic steel industry. Some reports indicate labor gains should be tied to productivity increases.

"This Car I Didn't Buy Has Done More for Me Than All the Cars I've Owned"

No, I wasn't one of the 15,246 who bought this first of the present-day Ramblers when it came out in 1950. Instead, like a lot of others, I've bought other makes until this year, that is. But, not one of those other makes has done as much—for me—as this car—whose wheel I never touched.

THE SIZE-HORSEPOWER RACE WAS ON

Those other makes got longer and wider and lower, year by year. Each new model was more hopped up with excess gas-consuming horsepower that I couldn't begin to use, legally, anywhere. Did I want this? Not at all! But there's no telling how much longer the size-and-horsepower race would have continued if it hadn't been for Rambler. Slowly but surely, Rambler kept gaining with the belief that it's the customer, not the competition, that really counts.

THE CONSUMER BEGAN TO SPEAK

By 1955, Rambler sales moved up to nearly 75,000. By 1957, they were nearly 100,000... still a small total compared to the others. Then, in 1958, came the explosion that blew the lid off the automobile industry! We, the consumers, rebelled. While industry sales dived more than 20 per cent, Rambler sales zoomed more than 100 per cent! Rambler sold nearly 200,000 cars in 1958... shot from 12th to 7th place in the industry. And Rambler is still gaining in popularity. Currently, only five other makes sell more cars than Rambler.

Today, Rambler outsells not only most big cars, but all five of the largest-selling foreign cars combined. The experts have been predicting a market for 2,000,000 compact cars by 1961. And Rambler is the Compact Car.

RAMBLER GAVE US THE CHOICE

If it hadn't been for this first Rambler—and the Ramblers that have followed it with increasingly smart styling, fine engineering, quality construction and exclusive features—I feel sure the story wouldn't be what it is today. If it hadn't been for Rambler—taking a leaf from modern aircraft construction and building this car a different and better way by Single Unit Construction—we wouldn't have the choice we do today. That's why I say this Rambler I never bought has done more for me than all the makes I did buy. That's why I finally resigned from Detroit's six-and-horsepower race and got a 1959 Rambler of my own a few months back.

WHAT RAMBLER MEANS TO EVERY MOTORIST

Because Rambler gives me basic excellence, I have a greater and better choice of cars today. I have a car with an all-welded Single Unit body-and-frame-in-one. I have a car that's backed by 20 years of experience in building cars this better way. I enjoy an unequalled standard of quality and workmanship; low first cost; low maintenance; high resale. I stand to get my share of billions of dollars in savings that the smart Rambler makes possible for American motorists.
