Week-End's Death Toll in Idaho Hits 7

By The Associated Press

Three auto accidents and a drowning brought death to seven persons in Idaho during the week-end.

The total included the four who died in a collision near Gooding, and two others perished in accidents in south central and northern Idaho. The seventh—an 11-year-old boy—drowned in a Boise swimming pool.

Alan Patton drowned after he slipped on a bridge and fell into the Idaho Falls canal in Boise.

The boy was playing with a group of young companions and attempting to jump over a high concrete fire escape. He could not swim and slipped while running from a fire escape.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barbara DuVal, 29, Spokane, Wash., who was killed Saturday when the apparently lost control of her car on a gravel road near Worley in northern Idaho. State police said she was thrown from the auto as it overturned.

The other accident Saturday in south central Idaho was the killing of Charles William Evans, 30, Foster, Ore.

He is reported to have fled Tegucigalpa since early last night. This morning, he was reported to have fled to the area around police headquarters in Tegucigalpa.

Argentina's Money Boss Once Fired

BUENOS AIRES, July 13 (AP)—Argentina's first economic boss once was fired as president of the state-owned airlines because he refused free tickets to Eva Peron, wife of dictator Juan D. Peron.

But that's the way 46-year-old Avaro C. Alzogaray reasons. What's good for the little man is good for the big one—even if the big one is a dictator.

Now Peron is in exile. Eva Peron is dead. But Alzogaray is still here, trying to pick up the financial pieces left after Peron's regime.

Alzogaray is Argentine minister of economics and acting labor minister. He came to these posts on June 23 in the heat of a military crisis which threatened to bring down the government of President Arturo Frondizi.

This short, stocky, bespectacled man has a tough road ahead.

Alzogaray says he must win the confidence of Argentina's 21 million people in "his program for economic recovery; convince labor that it must not seek his wage increases until production and business expand; convince the people that hard work with little return now will bring the beginning of better conditions in October or November.

One Killed, One Injured in Crash Near Rupert

Charles William Evans, 55, Foster, Ore., died when his car rolled over him east of Rupert Saturday. His brother, Willard Evans, 49, Sweet Home, Ore., is reported in "improved" condition at Blithiska county hospital and may be moved soon to the veterans hospital in either Boise or Portland. The injured man touched off a search of a nearby "mudhole" more than 500 yards long and some four feet deep when he asked, "Did you get the other two out?" However, Rupert officers now believe no one else was in the car, although they are still checking the remote possibility a cousin was a passenger. (Staff photo-engraving)

Goals Missed

TOKYO, July 13 (AP)—China's Communist party has made plain the country did not reach the 525-million-ton grain production goal Premier Chou En-lai fixed for 1959.

It hinted that Chou had set the mark too high. Severe floods in vast agricultural areas of south China have cut further into the prospective crop.

Cycle Mishap Injures Youth

RICHFIELD, July 13 — Martin Whitsell, 17, 18, son of Richard Whitsell, town marshal Martin Whitsell, injured his leg and hand in a motorcycle-car accident at 22 o'clock Sunday one block east of highway 50 intersection.

Whitsell, who was driving the motorcycle, apparently started a race car driven by Harold Kern, Mount Prospect, Ill., which had stopped at the intersection before turning toward a cafe across the street.

Kern told investigating State Patrolman Von Dyke the looked back for traffic and not seeing any returned and struck the motorcycle.

Dwaine Striton, 18, a passenger in the car, was not injured.

Whitsell was taken to St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, where 35 stitches were required to close the wound on his right leg. He was released late Sunday.

Patrolman Dyke estimated $400 damage to the motorcycle and $200 to the car.

THE BURMA ROAD

For many months seasoned observers have been bringing back reports of a friendlier attitude toward the United States among the Burmese. In the past few months, however, we have concrete evidence of a change.

After refusing for six straight years, the government of Burma has agreed to accept $3 million dollars in economic aid over the next four years. Most of the help will go for highway and school construction.

It is important that the initiative for the renewal of aid came from Burma itself. That would seem to be the best proof of an altered attitude.

Burma turned U. S. aid back in 1953, when charges were made that American support was given Chinese Nationalist guerrillas operating in northern Burma.

The change in Asian thinking, in and beyond Burma, is a result of the Red Chinese's fresh assaults on the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. But it is credited its greatest spur from Peiping's brutal crushing of last winter's rebellion in Lufu.

Not long after that stunning event, Burma let it be known it was once more willing to have American assistance.

Burma is, of course, careful to refrain from saying that any definite change has occurred in its neutralist policy. It must still live with the Red Chinese at its back door. But the facts speak plainly.

When Peiping pounced on Tibet, the lesson was lost on no one. The Asians, seemingly for the first time, began to understand that tyranny is tyranny, no matter what dress it wears. The wishful talk of the "New China" was heard less often.

Asian hatred of Western colonialism is so deep rooted that Asian leaders have for many years stamped "good" on anything which appeared in opposition to it, including communism. It took Peiping itself to make the point that the West seemed barred from any such aid. You don't save yourself from one form of imperialism by embracing another, far worse brand.

Burma's decision to partake again of American efforts to help struggling Asian nations is a most timely and welcome sign. Communists who thought to engulf all Asia, it could prove a kind of graveestone.

ONE BRIGHT HOPE

This might go down as the year with no Billy Season. No such Newsmen making the headlines, no diabolical sitters of note, no spectacular fakings plying their arts on village green or city sidewalks.

World problems and domestic issues such as the steel talks seem to have made us go all-over serious, and there's precious little in the way of emollient for the sizzle of summer.

The one bright hope is a gentleman who shall be named, but who bears the managerial White Sox of a ball club in Chicago.

His flair for the dramatic has brought little men dressed in spate suits, and a milking contest, complete with prize money, to the stadium for pregame justification of the devotees. And others will no doubt follow.

Seems to be the one bright hope of an otherwise sober side summer.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The most intensive and detailed study ever conducted by the Federal Reserve Board is now being conducted by congressional committees holding hearings on the Morse-Forand bill providing program for people over 65.

The plan would resemble the so-called "welfare" plan which the employer, employer and federal government contribute to finance life with some variation. As far as possible, it would be self-sustaining.

Under the plan, the financial condition of the social, financial and medical status of the nation's older people would be studied in a program every year. The study would be greatly enlarged, however, for the study is extremely valuable.

NUMBER OF AGED GROWING—The Senate subcommittee on the problems of the aged and aging has been developing new data on this question from economists, physicians and welfare workers.

As the aged population is expected to rise to 15,400,000 by 1970, and there will be twenty million beyond that age in 1970, or about one-tenth of the population, the study is of great importance.

The life expectancy of men at 65 is about 13 years and 10 for women. This difference diminishes with age. For men, it is 12.2 years. At 80, the years ahead are 6 for men and 6.2 for women.

INCOME, LIVING PATTERN STUDIED—Three-fourth of all aged people, according to this survey, live in their own homes. About 15 per cent live in institutions, hotels and rooming houses.

The total income of all America's aged in 1958 was $1.7 billion. About 15 per cent of the aged live on public assistance, and 22 billion dollars from civil service and other government sources. The total income and pension coverage for the balance of approximately 15 billion dollars.

STUDY—MOST CONCLUSIVE YET—Here are some of the committee's other discoveries about the old people of this country.

Most are working. Most are over 70. Some are between 65 and 70. Most are over 70. Some are in good health. Most are not. Some live in institutions. Most are living with their spouses. Most are not. Some live alone. Most do not. Some have adequate financial resources. Most do not. Some do not receive social security benefits. Most do not. Some receive private pensions. Most do not. Some have hospital insurance. Most do not. Some have comprehensive medical insurance. Most do not.

VIEW OF OTHERS

THE INK WAS NOT RED—The Democrats' long and wearying and relying on the part of Democrats in Idaho throughout the last biennium that the state of Idaho was "in the red," the final report shows a surplus of $1,121,100. The extent that surplus may be planning to the taxpayer who was overcharged. Idahoans may take appropriate action.

LOUISIANA PUZZLE—The antics and conflicting statements of Louisiana's Governor Earl Long, who has lost 40 pounds in the last few weeks, are puzzling, to put it mildly. More puzzling, however, are the conflicting statements of psychiatrists and other doctors on the state of Mr. Long's mind and general health.

TREES DOWNTOWN—Planting shade trees in the business area of a developing town is a commendable project. One town beautification which is catching on rapidly among progressive cities. New York has undertaken a long range planting program which has resulted in a number of streets. And word recently received from the city of Salt Lake, Utah, that a beautification program in Portland, Ore., which has placed 100,000 shade trees along the streets of its downtown section, filling them with trees and greenery.

DRUG—One doesn't emphasize the benefits which flow from the use of town beautification; but it is a more and more business activity. Desirable people prefer to live in a progressive community just as they prefer to work in such a place. Asbury Park, N. J., is a town which has become a model for other towns. It is a town where people like to live. Others are reduced to walking by the price of new cars.

POT SHOTS

BOUNDS REASONABLE—When Ham is advertised for sale usually specifies the price by the pound. Price specifies the price for a whole or half ham.

Now in the absence of a pound price, the price of a ham may be assumed that the whole or half, it is reasonable to assume the customary cost of one pound or even half a pound if he is desired.

RUMOR DEPT.—It is true that the fish and game department is going to poison all the fish in Magic reservoir this fall. The poison is being cleared out from Standing Magic reservoir.

FISHERMAN (GOODING)—Pot shots note: Offhand, we'd say the fish and game department hasn't made any decision like that yet. The experts will wait until they see how much water will be left in the reservoir at the end of the irrigation season.

IT'S RISKY BUSINESS—As you know, your good connections may have passed before now. This business of forecasting the future has ended in (probably) these many years and the future of the weather to cooperate.

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT.—Two kittens are available to the first people who call. REDFORD 3-2969 (Twin Falls)

OLD IDEAS ARE GOOD—If you do you go tracing a family tree? I suspect my husband's ancestors may have been present at the time Mayflower arrived, but if so, they were greeting the new arrivals to the land.

FAMOUS LAST LIFE—What she can't put off until tomorrow, she should do today. GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

"How about one of those wonder drugs?"—"I've got a cold," the man said, and he went on to ask for a "wonder drug." The pharmacist told him some aspirin and advised him to see his physician. As he happened the aspirin fixed him up fine, but he pointed to that pharmacist is not a physician. We work with doctors, providing the drug and medicines they prescribe. We have a professional knowledge of the powerful "wonder drug," so we know how important it is to use them correctly. HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Relations with Soviet Russia have been friendly to our side and it is not for American reporters to say whether the future course of the world in the recent years, thanks to a relaxation of the Soviet restrictions on students and artists of reciprocal travel, have led to and from and, on past performance, have led to and from. One may assume that most of their reports have been written, but they are not.

Care of Your Children
 By ANGELO PATRI

Summer days bring more leisure to mothers and children. Cooking time is lighter because the meats and vegetables help out with the menu on these hot days. It is a good job to do not only for the children, but for the mother. Even the children are willing to sit quietly under a sun lamp in a shaded room, as they can be convenient, and listen to music, or to a radio.

This is the time when a mother can read to the children (or have the children read to her) interesting and worthwhile stories. This will not only pass an idle hour pleasantly, it will be profitable. Reading and listening to a good story adds to the children's language ability and to their taste in reading matter.

One book that I find particularly good for the purpose is "Sidney Greenberg's Favorite Stories Old and New." This is a big fat book full of delightful stories that all children like. From the youngest to the oldest, they will love to read about stories—the ten-age ones—the stories are well suited. Fairy tales are taken from the past. They will find it most useful all year long.

Summer is the time for poetry. Nature is so to fit them. Anthologies are fine for the quiet hour because they have so many varied and good things.

"Favorite Poems Old and New," compiled by Helen Merrill, is just the right one for our purpose. Here, we find poems all children like, poems that grandmothers recited at school celebrations, poems just warm from the press, suited to all ages.

Children of all ages love rhythm and love the music of words long before they understand the meaning of the words, long before they can hear the overtones and the music they hear or recite. They need this touch of beauty in their thinking.

Children toward life in general and they are not giving them enough of it.

It is no longer the custom to teach children poems to be recited in class and at celebrations and the children are the losers. Grandmother-can-recite-Paul Revere.

Bored Youths Caught After Theft in Bank

SAN DIEGO, Calif., July 13 (UPI)—Youths caught trying to fire into Mexico with $12,329 taken from an Ottawa bank where one of them worked as a teller told police today they stole the money because they were "bored and wanted some adventure."

Richard Boudreau, 25, and Gerald Le Clerc, 19, both of Ottawa, were arrested yesterday by a young border patrolman who thought they looked like young to be on their own.

Cash stolen Friday Boudreau, recently promoted to a teller's job at the Toronto Dominion Bank of Ottawa, said he stole the cash from the bank Friday. He doubted the theft would have been discovered until opening the vaults today.

The youths, wearing cowboy hats and carrying their loot in a suitcase, were stopped by Patrolman Richard Wolfe, 25, only recently out of the rookie class. They said later that they had crossed the border several hours before on a trial run to see if they would be stopped.

Wolfe said Le Clerc looked as though he were only 16 years old. He asked the youths for their identification cards and, when they were unable to produce any, for their draft registration cards.

The patrolman said Boudreau became pale during the questioning and seemed so upset that he was unable to speak.

Wolfe said something was wrong. One of the youths attempted to give the last driver who brought them to the border a $10 bill to take the suitcases back to the motel where they had stayed but another patrolman, Alberto Pimentel, took the two suitcases and opened them.

Then they found the one stuffed with Canadian and U. S. currency, he said. "Okay, where did you steal the money?"

"At a bank," chorused the youths.

Kozlov Is in Spot to Tell Boss of U.S.

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Foreign News Analyst

Pro-Romanovich Kozlov can turn the results of his two-week tour of the United States to a useful purpose. He is now in a position to advise his boss, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, against any fatal miscalculation regarding the strength and intentions of this country.

It was the Soviet first deputy premier's first venture in his totally indoctrinated adult life outside the communist orbit. It would have been difficult for him not to be impressed by what he saw in the United States. He left today for Russia.

To a news conference on the eve of his departure for Moscow he insisted his trip did not change his mind about one thing: That the United States someday will live under a Soviet-like system. But Khrushchev will be interested in his notions about the timetable for this.

Khrushchev's translator will want as factual a report as possible, to compare it with the findings of First Deputy Premier A. I. Mikoyan, who made the same trip early this year.

The two men probably will differ in interpretation of the things they have seen. Mikoyan is an old Bolshevik revolutionary with a highly cynical outlook toward things as they seem to be. Kozlov is a born bureaucrat, representative of the new generation of Soviet functionaries who know nothing of revolution first hand.

Air Crash Kills Pilot, 4 Others

DURANGO, Colo., July 13 (UPI)—A plane crash killed Chicago pilot-industrialist Kenneth B. Ross and four passengers last night, but a 100-acre brush and forest fire has prevented search parties from bringing out their bodies.

Ross' plane, a twin-engine Deerecraft, smashed into an 800-foot mountain near Ignacio, in southwestern Colorado.

La Plata county Sheriff Herbert McKelvey said Ross' passengers were identified as Mrs. Betty Mink, Washington, la., her son Daniel, 17, and her two younger daughters. Mrs. Mink was thought to be employed at Ross' plant in Washington.

Officials at La Plata field, Durango, said Ross did not file a flight plan with them as he intended to do that in Farmington, N. M. He never arrived in Farmington.

Drevlow Starts Backs Air Unit

BOISE, July 13 (AP)—Lieut. Gov. William E. Drevlow is responsible for the formation of a unique organization which has functioned as the Idaho legislature for 12 years—the Idaho Flying Legislators.

Drevlow promoted the idea when he first came to the capitol as a state representative in 1947.

"As far as I know," he said, "it is the only organization of its kind in the country."

The function of such a group, Drevlow said, has been good for the aviation industry and has helped promote beneficial legislation.
