Amazing Variety of Offers Made for Khrushchev Visit

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (UPI)—The hundreds of invitations pouring in here for Nikita Khrushchev's forthcoming visit, it's hard to say whether the plan is to honor him to death, scare him to death, or just wear him out.

His presence is being sought for elite club luncheons, local fairs and meetings of county commissions. It has been suggested he would enjoy visiting a Glamis, N. J. Girl Scout troop and the Junior Women's club of Elk Grove Village, Ill. He also has been urged to attend a turkey day fete in Washington, Minn., and to address the Brooklyn Ocean Front Men's Civic and Social club.

Defense officials are offering him a guided tour of secret missile and bomber bases. It is said that watching an Atlas missile blast off its pad, or a B-52 jet leap from the runway, is an experience to shake anybody, even one of our natives if we could get security clearance to see it.

President Eisenhower said he wants Khrushchev to see ordinary homes, maybe those at Levittown. As a view of the Washington area from Ike's helicopter, farm country and Ike's boyhood home of Hanlin, Kans., where he said he can prove how hard he worked as a youth.

Nothing much is firm yet on which invitations Khrushchev will accept. Meanwhile they arrive in such mail. Ambassador Mikhailov-Menshikov says the Russian embassy is considering "hundreds" already in hand. Some 150 invitations have reached the state department, for consideration and may if desired.

Khrushchev has expressed an interest in Washington, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, a corn farm at Coon Rapids, Ia., Florida; a plastics plant. He also wants to go on television, but no decision has been reached on who ought to get equal time.

Moscow, U.S.A., wants in on the schedule. So do a whole batch of cities with not near so good an excuse. All Los Angeles wants is the Democratic national convention next year.

The National Coal association wants an old miner like Khrushchev may want to go underground while he's here. It is offering a choice of mines for his visit. A Detroit salt mine has been made available by the International Salt company, in case he would feel more at home there.

Tyler, Tex., has asked the state department to invite Khrushchev to visit the Van Giltner, the plant who would make toys in Moscow, at Tyler, "the epitome of small town America." Well, not quite the Children Are Evaluated by Psychologist — Ten children from Bull, Twin Falls and Kimberly schools are being evaluated by William W. Smith, psychologist at St. Mary's school, Wednesday and Thursday at the Twin Falls junior high school.

AROUND FOR AWHILE — The public opinion polls have had their ups and downs, but they go on. They continue because it is widely recognized today that a free and fair election is the only real means of putting any gauge at all on popular sentiment.

Time was when the best measure was taken by the politicians themselves. In the 'good old days' of boosterism, when the press was not so free, when the neighbors reported more than rough guides to sentiment, most often they were accurate predictions of the vote.

But they were dealing with relatively small numbers, frequently with heavy foreign-born populations. Those they canvassed were in many instances greatly indebted to the bosses for favors rendered. Their votes could be had for the asking.

Even as the machines were crumbling, the polls came into prominence as a new and more scientific method of measuring attitudes and intentions. Now they stand alone.

They have their pitfalls. If questions are carelessly worded or sampling is less than precise in execution, results can be off. In close races the 'margin of error' may cover the whole range of difference between the two candidates.

Nevertheless they are respected — and feared. So much so that candidates themselves and outside forces are spending such, resort increasingly to the use of gauge their strength in particular areas — and in general.

Some say they dislike this trend. They see in a surrender to business machine cards, and profess to be ready to fight the technical impersonality settling over the election process in its early stages.

Probably their fears are not well grounded. There is nothing quite as human — and as unpredictable — as the human mind. He is starting at a business machine card or putting smoke at you in a tight little room.

NEWCOMERS TO DOMINION — Despite the welcome which Queen Elizabeth extended to the candidates, the candidates' earlier sentiments for the throne. The influx of invited immigrants—Germans, Dutch, Italians and others—continues to this day. In fact, there are probably more non-Canadians than natives in the once French province of Quebec.

GREAT ACHIEVEMENTS IN CANADA — Many engineering projects mark the first achievements in this country, such as our oil and natural gas, the Tennessee valley authority, the Bonneville power administration, Boulder dam, and in industry generally.

The Canadians have other grievances against the United States, including their attitude toward investment and industrial interests. They jump all these groups under the general heading of "yankee imperialism."

NEIGHBOR-HAD NO VOICE AT GENEVA — Despite Canada's great importance to the defense of western hemisphere, including our early warning walls in her arctic regions, Ottawa has enjoyed no voice in Geneva discussions on atomic or conventional disarmament.

ANYONE HOT NONT? — That Friday afternoon breeze that blows from the south and which it is so nice to have, we could have some more good old fashioned "hot nonts" who complained about the heat.

KITTENS FOR KIDS DEPT? — Five little kittens came to our house one day. Five little kittens are too many to stay.

PEPPER RECIPE — In answer to Peppercorn's request, I don't have a recipe for the stuffed peppered pepper, but there is one for just plain pickled peppers.

THE NIGHT BEFORE GETAWAY, at the postmaster counter in the Ukraine hotel, a big female hand kept me waiting a half hour for air mail stamps for a male story while she entertained a red Chinaman. The hand fixed the manager with a mad

It was stuffy with no nozzles for ventilation. The upholstery was frayed and dingy. Seats were five abreast. It was the noisiest ride I can remember. The stewardess, as big as a hippo, came down the narrow aisle serving trays of garbage. I kept peering down. As last I saw a faint wisp of hair of the Baltic Russia was behind us.

And this morning a note came from Mrs. Schmitt in London reporting that her American girl, such a lovely type, I had picked her out before the incident, had got her dollar and made it to the stadium.

VITAL DIFFERENCE — It is hard for Americans to get excited over events in Latin America, even as close as Cuba. Yet, with the ever-present threat of communism, it would be foolish to pretend that the re-establishment of peace and calm in that area is unimportant to us.

The Caribbean nations promised the committee full cooperation. If this is actually forthcoming, a substantial step may have been made toward reducing the unrest in this region.

The toughest nut to crack is the bitter hatred between Fidel Castro's Cuban regime and the dictatorial government of Trujillo in the Dominican Republic.

A HEAR O' LIVEN' — The passing of Edgar A. Guest, probably America's most widely known and beloved minor poet, leaves a void in his field that is likely to be filled.

VISIONS OF OTHERS — Millions of Americans have been thinking lately about things that they would like to see. Nikita Khrushchev to be exposed. They would like him to see and feel the force of their country, freedom, its opportunity, its strength. Many watched the TV programs marking Herbert Hoover's eighty-fifth anniversary must have said to themselves, "I wish I were up in the air with a representative man is much of America. Let Mr. K see the full impact of Mr. H."

A MATTER OF PANTS — The question of who wears the pants in the average American home has long been the subject of debate. We doubt it will ever be settled, considering the subtle manner of womanizing in giving males the appearance of decision with often mighty little reality.

TOOTH MARKET CORNERED — One of a child's first lessons in business and finance is that when he puts a baby tooth under his pillow and the glow of water in the tooth fairy will creep in silently during the night and swap a coin for it. The going rate of exchange for many years has been a dime, but with the war on prices and all, we understand a number of transactions have been made lately at two bits.

Teen-Ager Urges Revoking License Regardless of Ages

Editor, Times-News:
I am 18 and therefore classified as a teen-ager driver. This group is the one that causes the most traffic accidents, a fact that has already been well publicized.
I have heard the phrase "Let's crack down on these teen-ager drivers." I have heard it from law enforcement officers, state legislators and recently from Probate Judge J. Dean Mosher. Judge Mosher in his interpretation of the law has stated that "Let's crack down on these teen-ager drivers." I have heard it from the head of the Times-News.
Let's not criticize solely the teen-ager. Why should we restrict ourselves to a certain group when we find speed-crazed fools in the adult as well as the younger group? A car going 85 miles per hour will hit just as many people if it is driven by someone 61 as it will if

All Who Aided in Watercade Given Leader's Thanks

Editor, Times-News:
On behalf of the Civic Auditorium association, I would like to thank all those persons and organizations that helped present the Holiday Watercade during the past week. I have never witnessed a community project that was supported more enthusiastically by those persons who assisted in the staging of this presentation to the people of Magic Valley.
There was a lot of labor connected with the show in setting up the equipment because it didn't. All of this labor was donated. The men that assisted came from a local cross-section of our community. They labored long hours and late into the night, Wednesday evening after the show closed to get the show on the road to their next engagement in Boise.

I would also like to thank those who helped promote the show by selling tickets, and the other people that handled concessions, sold tickets, ushered, and the many other small details to make the show a success.
Despite the fact that we did not make a lot of money, I am sure that the enthusiasm shown by those who helped promote the show will have a civic auditorium of which we may all be justly proud.

Hog Grower Is in Sympathy With Other Poor Hog Raisers

Editor, Times-News:
I am writing you today in order to subsidize the poor hog grower. I sympathize with the poor hog raiser as I happen to be one. Last year I could show a $10 or $12 profit on a fattened pig. Now I am planning to quit because of a $2 profit.
I may be critical or sarcastic as I relate my thoughts on subsidizing the pork raiser. My illustration follows: A Midwestern farmer has inherited a 640-acre farm that his father and grandfather had been 60 years accumulating. He sold banks 160 acres of the hilly land and grows 400 acres of corn, and 200 brood sows on the place.
He collects the soil-bank money and maybe a $2 profit on the hog. That is good business as it buys gas for the Cadillac and he is happy and satisfied. One brother is a colonel in the army and the other is in the air force.
But now the joker to the plan: He would be paid to market his hogs at 200 pounds, although he has put them to a 240-pound weight all summer at a reduced price and knowing that there was a surplus in view all the way. That is the man who needs the subsidy. The small grower can go to work for the airplane production while the larger grower is featherbedded.

In the past, I have differed in opinion with Secretary Brewer's policies but maybe he is right. However, I am prone to exclude the Iowa hog grower from the taxpayer's melon as our airlines, merchant marines, congressional representatives, etc. are in no way bailable, so why resist?

Writer Answers Max Yost for Claims on Federal Tax "Help"

Editor, Times-News:
I happen to answer Max Yost, executive manager of Associated Taxpayers of Idaho, in his last charitable statements about Gen. Frank Church relative to the money spent on the grants-in-aid program in Idaho as against federal tax money collected in Idaho.
I think that most people think of federal tax money collected as going to the internal revenue office. True, we pay much more in other ways. However, one can get beyond the point made by Yost by asking how much do Idahoans pay in the products they buy?
It is common in those days of administered prices by the big corporations to see prices so as to yield no returns after taxes. In other words the federal tax is figured in like an expense and it often think big business is taking a markup on that.
I surely don't think Senator Church was boasting that Idaho receives more than its pays. It is just an economic fact and it is the job of all senators of low income states to get a full share of grants-in-aid money for their state. Low income states must get federal income tax money back if we are to keep our economy balanced.
Our mass production system demands that all states contribute adequately to consumption. The federal tax simply takes from the more fortunate states with extra bargaining power, a tax based on the ability to pay. In the case of paid-in-aid, it is simply a plug-in back operation to areas of bargaining power.
All of this does not mean that

Idahoans receive gifts, or something for nothing. Far from it. We work just as hard in Idaho as anyone else. We fully contribute to the real wealth that is the gross national product of our country. We just don't receive the real worth of our product for the lack of bargaining power. Others receive more than their share via the extra bargaining power. The grants just tend in the direction of evening things a bit, so all wouldn't border on the ridiculous.
R. M. SCHAEFFEL

Rupert's City Council OK's Sewage Fees

RUPERT, Aug. 22—A new ordinance to go into effect Sept. 1, was passed at the Tuesday night meeting of the Rupert city council.

This ordinance will place a fee on city sewage use for all users and will be based on the amount of water used. Funds from the collection of the fee will go into a separate account to be held for use of the sewer system the city is planning to build.

City Clerk Price Sears pointed out that this fund would set down on the amount for a bond issue for the new disposal plant planned by the city, and would also replace a tax levy to pay possible bonds.

Facilities Overloaded Overload of the present facilities make a enlargement imperative. Land for a site south of town has already been purchased, and negotiations are under way for the construction of the new plant.

Hamilton and Hoeller, the Pocatello firm which is preparing a feasibility report for the city, said that it would probably be about eight months before the question could be brought up for vote.

Also meeting with the council was Peck McGloy, director of the Rupert Knit Hols baseball program for the summer. In his report he said that a total of 200 boys had signed up for the program and that only 17 became inactive.

McGloy indicated that he would be interested in returning to direct the program in the next summer, and would like to enlarge the program to include softball for girls, and other sports and activities.

He was requested to submit a written outline of his proposed program sometime during the coming month for study by the council.

In other action, the site of the new Minidoka County jail was voted into the city. This will open the way for installation of water and sewer service to the site. At present the city is furnishing water to the contractor on a temporary set up.

Rotary Chief Pays Visit to Unit in Area

BIOSHOP, Aug. 22—Dr. Joseph I. Gulick, Idaho Falls, district Rotary governor, visited the local club Tuesday night and Wednesday. He met with committee chairman Tuesday evening and addressed the group at the regular Wednesday noon meeting.

President Douglas Hansen introduced the guests.

The governor said there are now 10,200 Rotary clubs in the world. Almost 400 new clubs were formed in the past year in 53 countries.

He said Rotary International has awarded grants of more than three million dollars in the past 12 years which enable students to study in another country. Since 1941, 1,022 fellowships have been awarded to students in 67 countries.

Speaking on the theme "Dynamic Rotary," the governor emphasized the quality, the universality and the effect on individuality of the Rotary philosophy of "service above self."

Report on local club projects were given by the president and Roy Glover, in which note was made of sponsoring the Cub Scout program, sending a high school student to Boys' State, furnishing six pairs of glasses to needy children, a 4-H short course scholarship and cooperation with other community projects.

Guests were Malcolm C. Brown, Kellie; Don Bailey and Zane Harrison, both Twin Falls; Guy Maxcy and sons, from Florida; Ray McOndrick, Hatley, and Robinson Perabauer, Shoshone.

Extra Taxes Not Wanted, Demos Averted

BOISE, Aug. 22 (AP) — The Democratic state legislature has decided to avoid extra taxes and demonstrations with party members by passing a special session bill that would allow the state to collect any unneeded taxes.

But at the same time, Democratic state Chairman John G. Walters said there is no agreement as yet on whether Idaho is now in that position.

Two Democratic state office holders, Secretary of State Arnold Williams and Atty. Gen. Frank L. Benson, have been outgunned in their demand for a special session that would increase taxes voted by the Democratic-controlled legislature are not now needed.

At the same time the Democratic chairman of the committee on the legislature with financial in the legislature contended that any action now would be premature and that some time will be needed before it can be determined for certain that there will be a surplus in the state treasury at the end of the fiscal year.

Regulation Gov. Robert E. Smylie indicated he will ask the legislature to act at any time he can get a surplus in the state treasury, but he said he is not sure of the results of a surplus resulting from a surplus brought by Benson.

Walters said his survey shows an approximate equal division between those for and against a special session.

"Almost everybody accompanies his opinion with a few 'ifs' and 'buts,'" Walters said. "I think almost everyone feels that the state should not build up a surplus at the expense of the taxpayer. If the surplus is higher than they need to be to bring in enough money to meet the appropriations which the legislature made, then I think they ought to be lowered. Most people seem to agree with me."

As the question is, do we really have a surplus? My survey indicates there's a wide difference of opinion on that."

Salvation Army Band Assists in Fund Drive for $3,000 Needed in T.F. Area

A Salvation Army band from Boise played at several locations in Twin Falls Saturday to aid in publicizing the fund drive of the local unit here. A goal of $3,000 has been set to carry on work of the Twin Falls corps. Lieut. H. H. Hearne, commander, reported an additional amount would facilitate expansion of present services and facilities, but the $3,000 amount is an absolute "must" for continuation of the program in Twin Falls.

Lieut. Hearne reports that in his first complete month as commander of the local corps in July, lodging was provided for 40 men and meals for 60. Seven families were given assistance with groceries or meals and 74 garments including ## smoothest ride!

One of the 7 big bests Chevrolet gives you over any other car in its field

Anyone who's ever taken a Chevy over a choppy country road can tell you how lightly Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension handles rough riding — and coil springs never bounce, never need greasing. They let you get going for yourself. Once you do, you'll find your own way of saying what MOTOR TRENDS magazine puts this way: "The smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price range." But the biggest part of it all is that this Full Coil ride is just one of seven big bests — all cemented by on-the-record facts and figures.

BEST ROOM—Official dimensions reported to A.M.A. show that Chevrolet sedans offer more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars—more front seat hip room (by up to 6.9 inches) than the "other two" of the leading low-priced three.

BEST ENGINE—Chevrolet engines have long won expert praise from virtually every automobile magazine, and just recently they were named the "NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award for the eration and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines."

BEST ECONOMY—A pair of Chevrolet slices with Powerglide won their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run, topping every other full-sized car. And the winning mileage was a whopping 23.38 m.p.g.

BEST BRAKES—Chevy's bonded-leaf brakes are the biggest in their field, built for up to 66% longer life. In a direct competition conducted by NASCAR, Chevy outstayed both of the other leading low-priced cars in a test of repeated stops from highway speeds.

BEST STYLE—It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

BEST TRADE-IN—Any N.A.D.A. Guide Book can give you the figures on Chevy's extra value. You'll find that Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." Your Chevrolet dealer will be happy to tell you about a whole host of other advantages besides these seven. Why not drop by his showroom?

Miss Thorson Is Wed to Chandler In Church Ritual

Conie Lu Thorson, daughter of Mrs. A. A. Thorson, Twin Falls, and Theodore William Chandler, son of J. J. Chandler, Chandler, Idaho, exchanged vows in a 6 o'clock candlelight ceremony Sunday.

The ceremony was a splendid arrangement of huge white gladiolus accents, pink chrysanthemums, and white flowers in brass vases, flanked by brass candelabra against a background of palm trees.

The pews were decorated with tall fall wreaths wrought from apple candelabra, twined with Italian garlands and topped with large white cathedral candles.

Mrs. Thelma Allen, organist, presided over the traditional wedding marches. She accompanied the soloist, Roger Schmitt, who sang "Sweet Young Man's Through the Years" and "Hallelujah, the Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full length gown of imported white chantilly lace over net and satin. It was styled with a portrait neckline, sleeves tapering to a point at the wrist, and a modified bodice.

Carolyn Wyllie Sets Record for Winning Crowns as Rodeo Queen

Carolyn Wyllie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wyllie, Twin Falls, is Miss Rodeo Idaho queen and will compete for the Miss Rodeo America title at Las Vegas. Miss Wyllie has been competing in rodeo queen contests since 1956 and in that time she has been named queen eight times. (Staff photo-gravings)

Carolyn Wyllie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wyllie, Twin Falls, probably holds some kind of a record for being named queen of various rodeos. Since 1956 she has reigned as queen for eight different rodeos and events in southern Idaho. Now she is Miss Rodeo Idaho, and sometime this fall she will compete with other queens for the title of Miss Rodeo America.

The exact date hasn't been set yet, but the contest will be sometime in November or December in Las Vegas. Miss Wyllie was named Miss Rodeo Idaho at Caldwell on Aug. 2.

New Contest The Miss Rodeo America contest is a comparatively new contest that is somewhat like the Miss America contest, except the girls must also prove their horsemanship during the contest.

But Miss Wyllie enters the contest armed with poise, beauty and an admirable record that certainly proves her a number of rodeo royalty. Since 1956 she has been a busy girl, serving as queen for eight rodeos.

In 1956 she was named queen of the Twin Falls County Mounted Sheriff's Page, in 1957 and 1958 she was queen of the Twin Falls Junior Riders, in 1958 she was also queen of the Snake River Stampede at Naupa, and she was a runner-up in 1957. In 1958 she served as queen of the state high school championship rodeo, and this summer she will compete as Miss Rodeo Idaho at the Twin Falls county fair rodeo.

At Caldwell she was named Miss Rodeo Idaho and also queen of the Caldwell night rodeo.

The Miss Rodeo America contest is a particularly demanding contest and requires more than beauty and the ability to sit on a horse to be a contestant. The whole idea of the contest is to select a girl who rides a horse like a lady, not just a cowgirl.

Same Rules Used The Miss Rodeo Idaho contest in early August was held under the same rules that will govern the national contest and serve to illustrate how the girls are put through the mill.

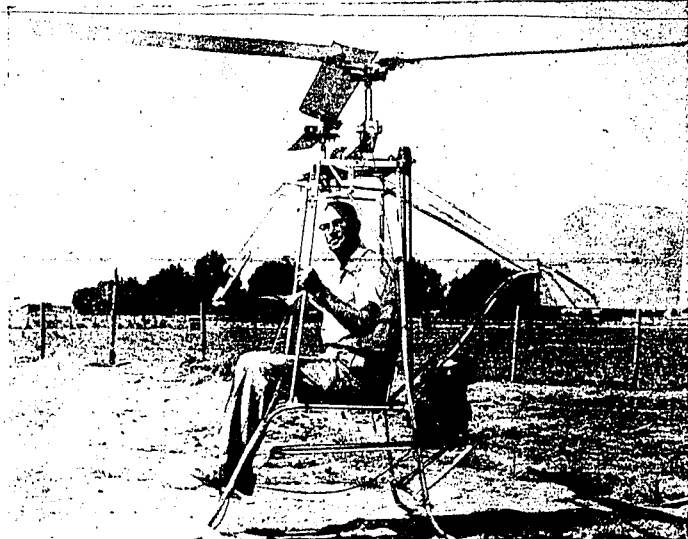

The girls are scored several different ways as a group and individuals, and horsemanship, personality and appearance are considered.

In the horsemanship division they are scored on mounting, walk, trot and lope. They must do figure "8's" and come to a sliding stop, dismount and lead the horse. After they ride they must remove their saddle from the horse and answer questions on horsemanship and rodeo.

The personality division is divided into three sections, personality, intelligence and value expressed. Their personality is judged for poise, disposition and general culture and their expressiveness is judged for enunciation, projection, inflection and quality.

The girls also are asked various questions that serve to illustrate their intelligence and value expressed. For instance, at the (Continued on Page 11, Column 1)

Gooding Man Tries Homemade Helicopter for Size

Troy Cox, Gooding, sits in his dream-and-do-it-yourself one-man helicopter. The helicopter is finished, except for the motor. The motor he has on the helicopter is an experimental one and will be replaced with a more powerful unit. Cox, a rockhound, designed the helicopter so it can be folded and placed in the trunk of a car. When he comes to the crest of a road while hunting rocks he will be able to take the helicopter out of the trunk and continue the hunt. (Staff photo-gravings)

Helicopter Dream Bothered Area Man Until He Built One of Them

GOODING, Aug. 15—Last winter, when common visions of sun-brown seas to work and fabricated tubular steel and aluminum bladed propellers danced in the head of Troy Cox, Gooding, he was a man who literally dreamed a helicopter.

For months he lay awake at night thinking of a helicopter. Cox, an industrious man, decided the only way to rid himself of the sleep-robbing dream was to build a helicopter. So he did.

Dreamed About It Cox says, "I dreamed about it in the night. I tried getting up and reading to forget about it, but I couldn't get it off my mind. I got so darned mad I went to work on the design. I couldn't do any thing about it, I had to."

Except for some last minute additions, his dream has finally materialized in the form of a one-man helicopter that now sits in his back yard.

The dream experience is unusual enough, but Cox set about and designed the apparatus without benefit of aeronautical experience or technical manuals. He just put his imagination and common sense to work and fabricated the tubular steel and aluminum helicopter.

Now the helicopter is complete except for the motor. Cox is searching for a light 30-horsepower motor that will weigh no more than 30 pounds. He computes that this size motor will fly the helicopter at 40 miles per hour and lift about 300 pounds. The blades will revolve about 400 revolutions per minute.

Cox didn't read any technical material on helicopters until the final stages of construction. Then he had to find out just how much blade area he needed to lift the helicopter.

Unusual Design His design is somewhat unusual. He designed his helicopter with four synchronized blades. Each blade is four feet long and this gives him a total of 12 square feet of blade surface.

He figures the helicopter will carry him, a 150-pounder, and about 40 pounds of rocks. Why rocks? Cox is an ardent rockhound and he figures the helicopter will outlast even the four-wheel drive vehicles.

In some respects it is much handier. He has designed the helicopter so it is collapsible. It can be folded and placed in the average car trunk or station wagon.

When the rock hunter gets to the end of the trail, he can assemble the helicopter and continue on his way. The entire unit will weigh only about 135 pounds.

Used Own Shop Cox has done virtually all the work on the machine in his own shop. He is not a formally trained engineer, but has worked with machinery for many years. A resident of Gooding since 1959, he worked for the city from 1925 to 1948, serving as waterworks superintendent, street commissioner, police chief and airport manager.

Until he retired a few years ago he was manager of the Evergreen Motel.

Asked if he isn't a little apprehensive about flying the machine, Cox replies that his dream helicopter has proved theoretically correct, in every respect. He says he isn't afraid of it, but adds his wife has certain reservations.

He explains height doesn't bother him. He doesn't fly an airplane, but enjoys flying with others.

Cox explains that he doesn't need a helicopter pilot's license to fly the machine. He can fly it with an experimental license, a license granted to inventors. After he puts in enough hours in his helicopter, he can apply for a regular license.

Engine Needed He doesn't intend to fly very high the first few times he goes aloft. Cox says that if something should go awry the machine will windmill to the ground and settle no harder than a parachute.

Engine Needed Right now he is having trouble finding the proper engine for the helicopter. He says a chain saw, motorcycle or other light horizontal motor could be adapted to the helicopter.

Now that the helicopter is nearly finished he notes that he doesn't dream about it any more. But he adds, "I guess I'll have to dream myself a motor now."

650 Members of County 4-H Clubs Prepare for Climax of Year at Fair

About 650 4-H club members will gather at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds Aug. 28 to prepare for the fair, Sept. 2, 3, 4 and 5. This is the culmination of a vast amount of work on the part of club members and is really just a small portion of the work they undertake during the year.

Some observers at the fair may think the members simply pick up their projects and haul them en masse to the fairgrounds at fair time and that is all there is to it. But a tremendous amount of preparatory work goes into the fair and the projects, and it illustrates the unflagging interest they have in the club's activities.

Much Time Spent Some of the members have spent literally hundreds of hours getting their projects in order and fitting and training their livestock. It is no simple chore for a girl member to completely redecorate her room or make a formal gown. Nor is it an easy matter to take a half-wild steer and turn him into a docile, well-mannered, well-fed and beautiful animal. There are just two of the many projects undertaken by members during the year.

There are 65 4-H clubs, with 125 volunteer adult leaders and 20 junior leaders in the county, with a membership of 650 boys and girls. At the fair this year they will demonstrate about 1,100 projects that have taken every bit of their spare time for several months.

Youth Program This total will include the animal projects, cooking and home economics projects and many miscellaneous projects outlined for the members.

The 4-H clubs are the youth educational program of the University of Idaho extension service, in cooperation with Twin Falls county. The members are helped to plan their projects by C. W. Deitch, extension agricultural agent; Florence Schultz, extension home agent, and Donald Youth, assistant extension agricultural agent.

At the fair this fall, according to Youth, about three-fourths of the exhibits will be offered by the 4-H club members. He says there will be about 1,100 projects on display over the last year's fair. There will be about 125 beef (Continued on Page 11, Column 1)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

All summer there has been a keen interest in Wilson lake, located one mile west and one mile north of Hazelton, for boating, water skiing, swimming, fishing and just watching others have fun. It's an interesting spot and safe as there are no dikes, no deep banks of deep holes breaking up on either near the edge. It has a gradual slope into the water, making it safe for the small fry. There are participants of all ages there each day, but especially on Sunday.

Seldom do you see a boat without an outboard motor or two firing along behind. In winter Wilson lake provides a fine skating area. Earlier this year the Jerome county waterways commission, headed by Grant Turner, took over the project of making a floodplain boat dock and other facilities to open the spot for public use. Plans are to make a complete recreation area where rights can be established. This will include planting trees and grass, building a dam and reservoir years ago to back up the water for approximately three miles, so that enthusiasts point out the size of the lake is quite ample for home boating. There have been reports of carp two feet long caught in the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hoshaw, TULLE, became grandparents three times within a week last month. In addition, two of the babies—all grandsons—were born on July 18 which is Mrs. Hoshaw's birthday anniversary.

The young generation of Hoshaws include Thomas Eugene, born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoshaw, Tulle; Lon Hoshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoshaw, Milder, Neb.; and Daniel Hoshaw, born to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hoshaw, TWIN FALLS. Daniel was born July 25 and his cousins on July 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wessack, HAZLETON, now residents of Orangeville, visited friends in Wood river valley during Wagon days.

The Wessacks lived here until eight years ago, when they moved to a small farm on the Clearwater river. He was a saddle-maker in Hazelton for more than 60 years and has been known as one of the best in the West.

His hobby is playing the violin and he played for many a barn dance in this part of the country in the early days. He still entertains on occasion with his violin, which itself has a history. It was in 1820-24 he hunted for the

Dr. Spock's Mother Tells of Child Expert's Early Years

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 22 (AP)—If you want to know how the foremost expert on child care got that way, ask the mother who brought him up.

Benjamin Spock has become a household name among parents and parents-to-be. If baby squirms out of turn, mom and dad more often than not race for the book-shelf to consult Dr. Spock.

But to his mother, Mrs. Benjamin Spock, he's just "Benjamin," the eldest of her six children, whom she remembers as "the happiest child you ever saw—say as a lark's respecter of persons. And again in Acts 10:34-35 we read, 'Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, 'I perceive that God is no respecter of persons.' But in every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with Him.' We are not to judge anyone other than ourselves, and this we are to do in the light of God's word.

"When a child thinks he can run the world, he needs a little reminder that he isn't the king bee," Mrs. Spock says with a grin.

"I have this modern bringing up," she says. "First of all, the child isn't happy doing whatever it wants and not being reprimanded. I think the child wants to know where it stands."

"How do you expect a child to be a good citizen if you never teach him when he's doing something wrong?"

Dr. Spock now lives in Cleveland, where his mother says he spends a lot of time giving lectures to students.

What's motherly concern. Mrs. Spock says his work with children has taken its toll on her son.

"He was born May 2, 1903. That makes him only 30 and he looks 70. Why, his wife looks more like his daughter."

Club's Members Work on Records

Members of the Double 3-4-11 club worked on their record books Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross Ward.

Afterwards Karen Hiral and Mrs. Art Wiley took club members to the Cassia county fair in Burley to see 4-H exhibits.

The next meeting will be at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Ward home.

Deadline Is Set On 4-H Projects

Members of the Nees Neelies club were asked to have all their projects and their record books completed by the next meeting of the club leader, Mrs. Ella Fuller, Thursday afternoon at the home of Linda Young.

Karen Castner reported on a 4-H slumber party held at her home Monday evening. Carol Fuller, junior leader, read several of her 4-H stories and helped the girls cut out their 4-H blouse.

Mrs. Young served refreshments. The next meeting is set for next Thursday at the home of Sharon Anderson.

When children shot some firecrackers directly in front of the jury, it frightened her and she backed. Mrs. came quickly and kept the team from backing the hack into the side of a parked new car.

When all failed to make the horse go, two cowboys took a lasso and roped and placed it around the animal's head and tried to pull her back. As soon as she felt the rope pull a full fledged rodeo performance started. The animal kicked until she fell. Fortunately her team partner was an older, more stable animal. The horse's leg was cut and the hack was damaged.
