House Refuses to Override Veto on Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (UPI)—The house refused by one vote today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the $1,206,748,549 public works bill to give him a stunning legislative victory. The vote upset all advance predictions and kept intact Eisenhower's record of never having lost a veto showdown with congress. In a stunning setback to Democrats, the house voted 274 to 198 to override. This was one vote short of the required two-thirds margin. The narrow margin was achieved when several Republicans who had voted to override the veto changed their vote after the bill had been completed. They did so after some Democrats had voted to sustain the veto and others had voted to override.

The switches in votes were announced there were bursts of applause—first from the Democratic and then from Republican members.

The margin was so close that Speaker Sam Rayburn, Tex., ordered a recount before announcing the result.

Seventeen house members crossed the aisle to vote against the veto. They were 23 Democrats and 11 Republicans. Those voting to sustain the veto were 123 Republicans and 85 Democrats.

It was the 143rd time Eisenhower had vetoed a bill since entering the White House in 1953. Some key Republicans had conceded in advance of the show-up vote today that they had no hope of winning this time.

The President vetoed the bill because it cost more than $1,000,000,000 for starting flood control and navigational projects in 21 states. He had told congress in his budget message last January he wanted no new projects started this year.

He vetoed the public works appropriation bill, the President complained that 97 projects ultimately would cost more than 800 million dollars. The bill carries only initial funds to start the projects and "finances them in the current fiscal year."

The displaced projects include the Burns creek reclamation project.

Crews Repair Break in Eden Area Canal

EDEN, Sept. 2—Farmers on the first segregation were without irrigation water today when a 20-foot break in the "C" canal occurred early today near the No. 3 pumping station three miles south and one-half mile east of Eden. Canal company officials estimated between 45 and 50 feet of water from the 300-foot capacity canal were lost before crews had the water under control by 10:30 a.m. The break was discovered by BEINHARD Schwarz as he was going out to cut beans at 3:30 a.m. He notified canal company employees who turned the water out of the canal, but it soon started again. The break, including area farmers, as well as employees of both the Eden Canal and North Side Pumping Company assisted in repairs. The canal, which is on the Eden side of the Eden Canal, was broken in the area of a pump station. Damage to crops in the area was negligible, according to a Pink Shoberg manager of the company at Hazelton. The water flooded the country road and then ran through the Eden Canal for about one-half mile. Water also overflowed the concrete about 100 feet in the north side of a dump pond on the Eden Wells farm was washed out. Much of the land flooded was potato fields, where grain that already been harvested, the manager said.

The section of the bank which gave way had given trouble early in the season. Pink Shoberg said, and water had seeped through the bank causing the washout.

Repairs are being done Wednesday noon and officials said they expected to have the water turned back into the canal by evening.

Area Murder Suspect Will Face Queries

WHITFIELD, Mont., Sept. 2 (UPI)—A County Sheriff's Office investigator today questioned a suspect in the slaying of Dr. John Hunt, Jr., Portland, Ore. forensic pathologist.

Anderson took some samples of blood stains found in the rooming house by the suspect, Sheriff McCuffee, 40, local Calif., and said the tests were proving "very interesting."

Anderson and Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn, also Gooding county, for a one-hour interview in the rooming house in Boulder last afternoon. McCuffee was arrested near Whitfield on a drunk driving charge. Montana officers became suspicious of him because of non-resident status in his car, and because the vehicle was the same model as the one seen trailing Hunt's across a local desert road near Bliss, Idaho, Aug. 24, the night before Hunt's body was found.

"We had a lot of real leads but none of them panned out," Anderson said. "Maybe McCuffee won't let us anything, if he doesn't we'll probably have to wait for laboratory tests from Washington."

He said no weapon has been found but the pistol used to shoot Hunt is reported to be a .44 or .45 caliber. Anderson also said he brought along a .44 caliber pistol which he doesn't want to have to wait for laboratory tests from Washington.

Halt of Highway Fund Would Hit Idaho Economy

BOISE, Sept. 2 (UPI)—Costly delays and the loss of millions to the Idaho economy could hit the state if congress goes home without reviving the superhighway construction program. Idaho officials said today. Idaho's 30-million-dollar highway contracting program for 1959 has been suspended at least a month because of a financing crisis in the highway trust funds. If congress does not act within a month it could be nine to 10 months before Idaho could re-start highway contracting, says State Highway Engineer G. Bryce Bennett.

"This could lead to a heavy loss to contractors who had anticipated a heavy construction year in 1959. Contractors would be left with too much work to keep busy the economic impact could be 'devastating,'" says Bennett.

The state highway board ordered contracting halted July 30 when it became apparent that the federal government would not continue to pay its share of the road bill.

Meanwhile congress tried to find revenue for the highway trust funds—pool set up in 1956 to finance what became a 33-billion-dollar national interstate program.

President Is Facing Real Test in Paris

PARIS, Sept. 2 (UPI)—President Eisenhower's new crusade in Europe for western unity appears to be a big test for the President. It is about every count, but the real test faces him in France.

Europe's political situation is affected by Eisenhower's meeting with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The two old soldiers have known each other from the days of World War I, and the tough road to victory and the road to peace. Now new problems beset them.

On his visit to West Germany and Britain, Eisenhower faced no major disagreements or misunderstandings. He made his points and the questions at issue are delicate and far-reaching.

They include: (1) U.S. support for France in the Algerian war; (2) France's part in shaping western policy; (3) Eisenhower's role in NATO; (4) France's atomic role; (5) the meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Failure to ease those problems could lead to a dangerous situation for both France and the allies.

Ike's Dinner With Friends Called Happy

LONDON, Sept. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower had a happy reunion in a restaurant atmosphere last night with British comrades of World War II.

The president was laughing, joking and quizzing his old army buddies as they gathered for the first time since they were criticized by his strategy in their memoirs.

By coincidence, the stag dinner was held on the 20th anniversary of the German invasion of Poland, which set off World War II.

Montgomery, Eisenhower cordially greeted Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, whose critical comments net Eisenhower so much that he snubbed a card from Montgomery last Christmas.

When the evening was over, Montgomery—jet-beaming and waving enthusiastically to a cheering crowd outside Whitehall house—the restaurant.

John Hay Whitney gave the dinner toast.

At dinner Montgomery sat with his wife, the range of Eisenhower, but five feet across the table. What was said during the meal was not disclosed.

SEATTLE, Sept. 2 (AP)—The impending visit of Nikita Khrushchev to the United States will be good in that it will let the Soviet premier see and feel the spirit of America, Gov. Robert E. Smylie, Idaho, said yesterday.

Speaking with newsmen, Smylie, who recently completed a tour of Russia with a group of other American governors, said Khrushchev has many misconceptions about the United States, "as a result of believing his own Marxist dialectic."

During a four-hour talk he and other governors had with the Russian leader, Smylie said, "Khrushchev kept bringing up our five million unemployed."

"Russian officials can't seem to understand how we can have that many jobless and still be a vigorous, powerful nation."

"In Russia, if somebody doesn't have a job, they make a job and put him to work at it. So they have total employment."

$1,650 Fine

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 2 (AP)—When police arrested Edward Taylor, 28, after an auto accident, they found he had five warrants outstanding for driving without an operator's permit and orders for surrender, including a red light and negligent collision.

In the latest accident he was charged with failure to give advance information, reckless collision and operating without a license.

For that Judge Abe Levy fined him $600 plus $1,050 for the previous offenses.

Ike Is in Good Spirit

But Eisenhower was in high spirits and in no mood to raise past antagonisms.

He placed an honored seat at his left Field Marshal Viscount Almonrope, who also has had a few criticisms of his wartime conduct. Almonrope was Britain's top commander during the war, Field Marshal Earl Alexander, commander of allied ground forces in North Africa and later in Italy during the war, sat at Eisenhower's right.

Wearing dinner jacket and black tie, the president greeted each of Churchill's elbow and led the party into a large foyer for a group picture.

Oklahoma Is Quiet at End Of 'Dry' Era

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 2 (AP)—Oklahomans took their legal liquor sobriety yesterday.

Curiously silent in jubilation as almost 500 liquor stores opened their doors, motorists bought their first jugs in public for the first time since statehood in 1907.

There was no singing, no dancing in the streets.

A state tax commission official reported sale of liquor stamps in August netted Oklahoma close to four million dollars.

A Women's Christian Temperance union leader said "we don't need the taxes. Nobody needs anything that comes from the devil."

In Tulsa operators said business was so brisk the first hour it was hard to handle. Then it tapered off. Some persons merely strolled through-looking at the bottles.

Prices were relatively high, thanks to the state's 42-1/2 per cent tax. But they compared favorably with what bootleggers had charged. A fifth of a popular bourbon brought $4.75 to $4.85 here.

In Oklahoma City a bottle of olive "dozen pints" of whiskey sold to old customers "who stuck with me through thick and thin."

Baseball Song Writer Dead At Age of 80

LAQUA BEACH, Calif., Sept. 2 (AP)—The man who wrote baseball's own song—"Take Me Out to the Ball Game"—died last night.

He was Jack Norworth, 80, songwriter, actor and sports fan—also known as "the king of wishbone City." He died of a heart attack at his home in this seaside resort.

Norworth wrote "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" in 1908. He liked to recall that he had never seen a baseball game then and got his inspiration from an advertisement about baseball.

While riding the New York subway, a baseball executive named said that Norworth's song did more to popularize and sentimentalize baseball than any other single factor in the game's history with the possible exception of Babe Ruth's famous bat.

Another of his famous songs was "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

It was singing it in his dressing room in a New York hotel in 1907 when the musical comedy star, Norm Bayes, stuck her head in the door and said "I like that song. Will you let me use it in my act?"

Norworth replied "If you'll take me along with it, we'll sing it together."

Within a week they were married. They became the highest paid show business team in the world. They were divorced in 1913.

He is survived by his wife, Amy, with whom he recently wrote the song "Let's Veggie" and a sister, Mrs. Loren Bodgett, Philadelphia.

Boy, 12 Survives Journey in Pipe

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 2 (AP)—Bobby Leitch, 12, chased a ball into a storm drain here yesterday and thus embarked on a wild, half-mile journey.

Water from days of heavy rains swept him through a drain pipe varying in width from 6 to six feet. The pipe was about 80 per cent full of water and Bobby had scant air space.

He shot along like a cork through the roaring tube. Companion who had been playing ball with him tried in vain to follow his underground course.

A half-mile away from the spot where Bobby entered the drain, Alan Burke, 11, heard a weak cry for help, issuing from a patch of weeds. He found an iron grating in the ground and could see Bobby clinging to it. He was rescued.

Rulers Changed

CHARLOTTE TOWN, P. E. I., Sept. 2 (AP)—The Conservatives yesterday broke the 24-year-long Liberal party rule of Prince Edward Island.

Final Canadian general election (allies showed the Conservatives won 72 of the 30 contests for the provincial parliament seats.

Residents of the county raise to meet the 150 pint quota during the last visit of the bloodmobile in April.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG... WASHINGTON—Without his or fanfare, President Eisenhower and a Democratic Congress have dominated capital hill for a generation at heavy cost to consumers and taxpayers.

NO BIG RESULTS EXPECTED... The word is now being passed out to expect big results from Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the United States.

As a result of the Russian visits by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other Americans, plus the longer range observations made by U. S. ambassadors to Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson and Charles E. Bohlen are really sharp analysts of the chairman of Soviet Russia's council of ministers are being made here.

Khrushchev has given no one any ideas he will come here with new plans for settling the cold war.

It is believed to be coming more in the form of a "hot" peace. He is seen as wanting to impress President Eisenhower with the fact that he is a responsible world leader, with whom agreements can be made and carried out.

The Russian chairman is sized up as a man, a professional, who has handled his affairs in a really sharp, practical way. He is an amazing memory, thinks fast, but is not impulsive. He is a cold-blooded communist. When it comes to making decisions, he is a law unto himself, like Stalin.

It is not believed that he will be respectful of President Eisenhower, whom he admires as a great general and as head of a great nation and government.

The issues that Chairman Khrushchev will take up with President Eisenhower are: the question of private conversations, known and unknown subjects as suspension of nuclear tests, limitation of armaments, lessening of tensions, increase of trade. The last is something of a phony as Russia has nothing to sell the United States, as seen here.

It is not likely that the trade talks are bargaining point something in exchange for what it wants.

President Eisenhower is offered by a Louisiana state of a match for Khrushchev. He is not going to sell any allies down the river or sign any new Yalpas, as some alarmists have feared.

President Eisenhower will not sit down with Chairman Khrushchev at the White House, Camp David, the Kremlin or Siberia to present a detailed American plan for settling all outstanding differences—either.

The President views the talks as complete exploration. But in the end, some little avenue yet unexplored through which we can move to a better situation, as the President puts it, the opening up of the Soviet Union and satellite countries to a major objective. On this, Chairman Khrushchev may be running the greater risk.

It is not likely for the United States to open up and show the Russians everything it has. But for the Russians to let President Eisenhower visit their country, have jobs speeches made in the United States, and be broadcast directly to the Russian people is a new development.

No one expects it to start any revolution. But if these contacts continue, and as more Russian people learn more about the outside world, as they have in the American expedition at Moscow this summer, the pressure on Khrushchev and the Kremlin brain trust to loosen up and lift the lid on their blacked-out and secret country may increase.

This is now analyzed to admit at the most that can come out of the Eisenhower-Khrushchev visits.

EXPECTED TO MOCK BASES... Although Khrushchev has complained bitterly about the bases which the Western allies have established on his borders, state department experts fully expect him to mock at them in his conferences with Eisenhower.

Staged deliberately for this purpose. The fact was that the President's gain in power. Communist successes in Southeastern Asia will tend to make other neutrals wary of hitching their security to the American "chancellor" war.

Burns Creek Dam Hearings Are Suspend by Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2. (Special)—Short advisory hearings on the proposed Burns Creek re-regulation and power dam were abandoned here this week, after two days of what one congressional member of the house interior committee called unprepared testimony on both.

Rep. Walter Rogers D. Tex., chairman of the interior subcommittee, hearing the testimony of Idaho and Utah power company officials, Wyoming, coal, oil, and the United States workers union.

Idaho lawmakers and public power interests have backed the Burns Creek bill, which would control the flow of water from the dam in southeastern Idaho.

A 4000-acre planning appropriation of the house bill is controversial. It would be used to purchase the Burns Creek dam site.

Opponents of the 45 million dollar dam have charged that it is primarily a public power bill. The bill's proponents admitted last week that it is for the 45 million dollar dam.

School Won't Change Fees

MOSCOW, Sept. 2. (AP)—The Soviet government has announced that it will not change its policy of tuition fees for students from other countries.

Both sides agreed that the dollar amount of the fee would be the same as in 1952. The fee would be $100 for students from the United States and $150 for students from other countries.

Special Meet-Of Congress Is Possibility

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (AP)—President Eisenhower has told Republican leaders he may call Congress back to a special session this fall if it fails to lift the interest rate on government bonds.

The President also has made it clear to the party chieftains he will consider such a session call if "Congress cuts foreign aid funds below what he regards as a minimum level of national security."

The possibility of presidential both parties gave up hope of winding up the current session this week.

Democratic strategists were active Sept. 12 as the critical point in the campaign for the November election was being fought without any action on the interest rate issue.

Without any action on the interest rate issue, Republicans were saying that Congress may still be in session when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives Sept. 15.

Official Proposes Churches End Some Tax Exemptions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 (UPI)—Should U. S. churches voluntarily give up some of the tax exemptions they now enjoy?

The very idea may sound like heresy to hard-headed church members "struggling with red-tape budgets. But the question has been raised by a man who can hardly be charged with irreverence or unsympathetic.

He is the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the United Presbyterian church and past president of the National Council of Churches.

Writing in the Protestant Journal of Christianity, Doctor Blake says that American churches will jeopardize their future effectiveness if they cling indefinitely to their present tax exemptions.

He does not argue—as some people do—that any speculative treatment of churches is a violation of the constitutional principle which forbids an establishment of religion. On the contrary, he points out that the courts have often upheld the government's legal right to "encourage" socially desirable undertakings through tax policies favorable to such institutions as hospitals, schools and churches.

It is the degree of tax exemption now accorded to churches that bothers Doctor Blake.

Tax exemptions which are proper when churches are small, poor and weak may have highly unfortunate results to the churches and to society when the churches have grown large and rich," he says.

U. S. churches are now exempt from all property and income taxes. A recent act of congress exempted them from paying federal excise taxes on packages. Moreover—and this is of particular concern to Doctor Blake—churches may own and operate profit-making businesses without paying 50 per cent of the 28 per cent corporate income tax levied on private firms.

If churches exploit all of these tax advantages to the full, Doctor Blake says, "it is not unreasonable to prophesy that a large portion of the national wealth will be concentrated under ecclesiastical control within the next century.

Let any churchman feel complacent about this prospect, Doctor Blake cites the clear lesson of history:

"It may be that one of the reasons for the rapid growth of the recent sects is the unconscious self-identification of the common man with the 'have not' poor, and his perhaps unconscious identification of the 'old-line' churches, Protestant and Roman Catholic, with the rich managers of society.

Doctor Blake does not offer a detailed program for modifying the present tax exemptions of churches. But he asks two "partly rhetorical" questions which he urges churches to ponder seriously:

"Should not all of the churches attempt at once to secure the repeal of the section of the internal revenue code which allows churches and church organizations exemption from the corporate tax on income from business enterprises 'inured to the purpose or activity of the church'?

"Should the churches take the initiative in approaching local tax authorities with a view to developing a system whereby the churches would begin to make contributions to the municipal governments of

Why Olympia is brewed only at Tumwater

Since 1896, light Olympia-Beer has been brewed at the little town of Tumwater, near Olympia, in Washington State. For it is here that Olympia's famed brewing water was discovered flowing cold and pure from deep artesian wells. At various times in the past, Olympia's founding family established other breweries along the Pacific Coast. Identical equipment and methods were employed. The same premium quality hops and grains were used. The best water supply available in each region was utilized. Yet, at none of these other locations was it possible to brew a beer of the character and quality which the name Olympia had come to represent. Without the one priceless ingredient—the naturally perfect brewing water—Olympia's refreshing flavor could not be duplicated elsewhere. That is why Olympia Beer is brewed only at Tumwater—and why Olympia's good taste remains refreshingly different yet always just the same.

Woman Tells Of How Mate Died in Blast

ROSEBURG, Ore., Sept. 2 (U.P.)—Roseburg widow Jodi yesterday told how her husband died in the explosion which blew up the Roseburg explosion Aug. 27. The fire-riddled explosive laden truck and the blast killed 12 persons, devastating a critical portion of the city.

Mrs. Dennis Tandy told an investigator on the commission that she and her husband were driving home early in the morning when she saw fire in two of the three trash cans outside the wooden Oversten Building Supply company building in downtown Roseburg.

Fire Department Called
He jumped from the car to try to put out the flames and told her to call the fire department.

She said she drove three blocks to a service station, where she attempted to call firemen and returned to the scene while her husband had called the burning trash barrels into the street and was attempting to tip sliding off the flaming wooden building.

Mrs. Tandy said she noticed two trucks parked in the street but did not see either name or warning sign on either truck.

One of the trucks held the explosives. It had been parked there by a driver who intended to make a warehouse delivery in that block the next morning.

Husband Helped
Mrs. Tandy said a fire truck arrived within a minute or two and the driver told her to get back in the car. The last she saw of him, he had acquired a fireman's coat and hat and was heading back toward the fire, she said.

The shattering explosion came seconds later. Several windows in the building leaped from the building across the sidewalk to the truck.

Mrs. Tandy said she was still near the scene, but was not in-

Pretty

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 2 (U.P.)—Bob Brummett, 25, thought the most precious piece of jewelry in the alloy were real pretty. His pal, Mel Hall, 11, thought so too.

So did a starved jeweler yesterday when the boys brought in $1,000 worth of "junk" diamonds and asked him what they were.

"You're taking this from a poor kid who lost it," said the jeweler. "I'm sure the boys will have some diamonds."

Booster Night Set

RICHFIELD, Sept. 2—Booster night for the Richfield Grange will be held Sept. 23. It will be held at a meeting of the group last week. New officers will be elected Sept. 9.

Birthday anniversary of Norman Mills was celebrated during the social hour. Hosts were bachelor members of the Grange.

Although an eight-block area of downtown Roseburg was wrecked and windows were broken as far as two miles away, Mrs. Tandy has filed a $101,000 damage suit against Pacific-Roader company, Tenino, Wash., the owner of the truck.

First woman visitor to Hawaii arrived in 1791. She was the wife of a ship captain.

Boyle Spends More and More Time High and Dry on Wagon

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—The old-timers look their last on the road, and the road never-lid-back.

The era of social drinking came in—and the trouble with social drinking is that it isn't really drinking—and it isn't really drinking.

But one by one—in this city, in that city—the old-timers look their last on the road, and the road never-lid-back.

A vocational barber shop, it is an anachronism, it has no place in an ordered world.
