6,000 Persons Pay Way to T.F. Fair; Rodeo Has Crowd

FILER, Sept. 3.—Approximately 6,000 persons paid admission to the first day of the Twin Falls county fair Wednesday. Attendance in the general admission section of the rodeo grossed $1,000 more than last year, according to fair officials. An even larger crowd at both the fair gate and rodeo was expected today, the second day of Maple Valley's largest fair. Linda Williams, Twin Falls, reigns as queen. Wednesday night three cowboys were injured in rodeo events, none seriously. Bob Robinson on the bucking bronco "Powerhouse" was injured when he went into the stands and cut his arm, scattering spectators. The horse also was injured. Robinson was back at the chutes before the rodeo was over.

Dunbar Williams, 18, of Salt Lake City, was cut over the eye when a steer stepped on his face. Spikes in the manes of two other steers also caused gashes. The 10-year-old bull, which brayed at the gate, cut the right ear of a cowboy. The eye was sutured and the ear was stitched.

The rise in attendance at the rodeo was attributed to the amount to 20 per cent over last year reported Secretary-Manager Thomas Parks. An even larger crowd—perhaps as many as 10,000—is expected for the remaining nights of the fair. Help- ing draw the crowds are top-notch cowboys like Dunbar and his brother, Bob.

The Hollywood star and the "Men of the West" western style band received a big ovation when they appeared Saturday night. And hundreds of youngsters crowded around him seeking autographs. Allen accommodated the young.

A majority of Twin Falls businesses, as well as offices in the smaller towns in the End

House Group Won't Concede Defeat in Fight on Water Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (UPI)—An intra-house appropriations committee refused to concede defeat today in the fight with President Eisenhower over the public works appropriations bill. Despite the fact an Eisenhower veto of a previous bill was upheld yesterday, the committee rejected a substitute tailored to meet his objections. The rejection came on a 19 to 19 tie vote. Defeated was a bill which would have eliminated 100 new projects which prompted Eisenhower to veto the first measure. The committee then voted 23 to 19 to have a subcommittee begin drafting a new bill. The vetoed measure would have appropriated $1,206,748,448 for public works such as rivers and harbors projects. Idaho's Burns creek project was included in the measure. Behind today's action was the concern of some members over Republican solidarity in upholding the President's veto by a one-vote margin. They were eager to know if known Senate proponents of the Republican committee.

BODY FOUND (CONTINUED, Sept. 3 (UPI))—Today, after trying to identify a woman whose decomposed body was found near Boise yesterday by a 16-year-old boy, police said the woman was identified as Mrs. Henry Bohlman, 50, of Malta, south of Malta highway 303.

Joe Calzadilla, driver of the 1952 Oldsmobile which was demolished, also was hospitalized but was not seriously ill.

He received treatment at the State Patrolmen's office, Ray Thomas, investigating officer, reported.

He was received at St. Luke's Hospital and has a complete recovery, a doctor said. The car, owned by Mr. Burns, traveled 700 feet from the time it went out of control until it stopped.

He had gone to sleep. Patrolman Thomas said, noting the car was traveling at an excessive rate of speed when it hit the bridge, the car had been driven by a 16-year-old boy.

It then went off the road and into the road where it overturned again, the patrolman said. The car was driven by a 16-year-old boy.

Make Holiday Safe, Drivers, Lawmen Told

ROBIE, Sept. 3 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie yesterday asked law enforcement officers throughout Idaho to make extra effort to be able to keep the state highway safe during the Labor day weekend.

But he added, "Even though every law enforcement officer will be hard at work in an effort to make your Labor day weekend a safe and pleasant one, the real responsibility lies with you, the residents of the Gem state."

"I am appealing to you to do your share in keeping Labor day 1959 free from accidents," he said.

State police records show that nine persons died in the Labor day week-end in Idaho last year.

He said he has instructed E. H. Hooper, state law enforcement supervisor, and A. E. Perkins, state highway patrolman, available over the week-end,

Aggression of Reds Uniting Indian States

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

International communism now shows some signs of replacing British imperialism as the unifying force of the Indian subcontinent.

During the first half of the century, Hindus and Moslems rallied to a single cause, independence from Britain.

Bombs Traded

Since then they have been divided into separate states. India and Pakistan have exchanged some 200 bombs since 1947, according over possession of the great north-south river system.

Both maintain considerable armed forces poised against each other.

The world has considered it a pity what has happened to the two people who put up such remarkable fight for their freedom and whose poor economic status cries out for cooperation.

Under a program devised by the World Bank some hope has arisen that the two countries may be reconciled and eventually lead to a compromise over Kashmir, a largely Moslem state formerly ruled by a Hindu prince who fled to the code to India after independence.

Aggression Noted

Now come the communists with their aggressive actions, their border violations, their infiltration of Indian towns, their building roads along the ancient West-East Invasion route by which the Moors first invaded Europe.

Relations between India and Pakistan seems to be cooling somewhat under the pressure.

Prime Minister Nehru, India's most popular leader, is due to stop briefly at an airport this week in an atmosphere of friendliness such had not occurred before in many years, and talked of co-operation.

Soviet Chief Has Hard Words For West Germans and Allies

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev, words for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany to force him to convert it into an ally.

The article appears in the current issue of the Soviet magazine quarterly review of the Council on Foreign Relations.

The article was arranged before the actual invitation to Khrushchev that the West Germans had a policy of peaceful coexistence of communism and capitalism if it wants to avoid the most destructive war in history.

The article says that the West Germans' policy of peaceful coexistence is being gradually converted into an instrument of the world arms race, not alone, but within the military North Atlantic bloc, Khrushchev wrote.

Speaking a parliamentary role in the Soviet Union, he said that the world has shown that the North Atlantic alliance is being gradually converted into an instrument of the world arms race.

Counties' Tax Levy Can Be Less in 1959

BOISE, Sept. 3 (AP)—Idaho's counties will be required to pay a slightly smaller property tax for state purposes this year than was levied last year, $4,000,000 less.

Harold Johnson, executive director, said the levy needed to produce the two million dollars in state aid and revenue required by the 1959 budget was $21,250,000 compared with last year's $21,500,000.

Fund Increases Needed

But an increase is needed in the state general property tax to meet the $22 cents in 1958.

The boost is necessary because the fund is set aside at $20,000,000 compared with $19,000,000 last year.

Johnson said certification of the state levy was mailed today to all 44 Idaho counties, the county commissioners and the state commission by Sept. 21.

Valuation Boosted

The reduction in the state tax is to be offset by a larger tax on assessed valuation. The total this year is $65,800,000,667 compared with $65,354,530 last year. The total to be paid to the state property tax—150 million dollars is unchanged from 1958 so the tax levy can go down, Johnson explained.

Johnson said certification of the county's share of the total assessed valuation, including the new valuation, and the listing of various special taxes, primarily for the livestock and honey industries.

Each county must contribute to the amount it must contribute to the Teachers' Retirement fund.

IT MUST BE TRIED

In a land of free speech like ours, it is inevitable of course that the pros and cons of a visit like Khrushchev's visit here will be debated over and over. Nothing is certain in this discussion. It is the heart and substance of democratic freedom.

Nevertheless, in some of the comments critical of the visit there runs a vein of worry which is uncharacteristic of risk-taking America at its best.

On the one hand, it's suggested the trip will elevate Khrushchev's prestige, help him consolidate his satellite gains, and lead us into "some kind of a bear trap."

On the other, the notions are heard that we may sit fates hopes of peace, may give our friends a feeling of being left out of negotiations vital to their future, may end by casting them all down in disappointment and leaving our own position and prestige sorely damaged.

Admittedly, these are risks we take. In the nature of things, we cannot foresee what will emerge from the Khrushchev-Eisenhower exchange soon to come.

But other means of approach to the problems of peace have failed. Not once, but again and again. Many experts say that Russia and the United States are in military stalemate. So, evidently, are they in diplomatic and political stalemate.

President Eisenhower has determined upon this new course as an exploratory effort. In World War II personal diplomacy at the top level was highly regarded. Thereafter it tended to fall in the discard, particularly as some of the free nations regarded their strength and self-assertiveness.

Now it is being tried again because the alternatives have shown nothing but discomfiture.

The President has long been assailed for "doing nothing" to break the big East-West logjam. The new leap into personal diplomacy certainly amounts to "going somewhere."

None of us knows whether it will pay off at all; or hurt us. But when the stakes are peace in a world menaced by nuclear war, shouldn't we be willing to undertake some pretty substantial risks?

"EDUCATION" IN DOUBT

The constitutional guarantee of the "right of petition" was subjected to a tremendous and possibly illegal strain by the lobby which all the great unions, especially the AFL-CIO and the Teamsters, mobilized during the battle over a reform measure in the house.

There's some doubt on court decisions which have stayed union activities and extended the place that they fall under the category of "education." Not many members of congress feel that they stand in need of this kind of instruction.

Teamster spokesmen admit that they brought on more than 300 of their officials from all sections of the country to "work over" members from their respective regions. The AFL-CIO hauled in at least 100 of their especially trained lobbyists from various state capitals.

In view of hotel, restaurant and taxi prices at Washington, not to mention such items as "incidents," it is impossible to stay here at less than $25 a day. Nor would this figure include money spent on entertainment of the legislators, and there was plenty of that during the last two weeks.

These lobbyists were here for about 10 days each. Thus, even a conservative estimate would place the bill for this lobbying at $100,000. And none of this money, of course, will be reported to the clerk of the house or representatives.

Incidentally, it is reported AFL-CIO officials like President McNamara and Vice President Reuther are furious at Carey and Hoffa for their hammer-and-tongs strategy. It should destroy both the public and the judicial belief that they confine their political and legislative efforts to "education."

THE PRESIDENT'S SAFETY

Both in West Germany and in Britain there has been some resentment, occasionally showing itself in disparaging comment, over the strict security measures taken by the U.S. secret service to protect President Eisenhower.

This display comes with poor grace and reflects a shallow understanding of the facts.

To begin with, three American presidents were assassinated and attempts made on the lives of at least two others both in fairly recent times. How many British prime ministers and German chancellors were shot in this or any other century?

An alarmed congress long ago charged the secret service with the responsibility of safeguarding the President. It is an immensely difficult task since his public exposure is constant and occurs under widely varying conditions that cannot always be precisely controlled.

These dedicated men do their job magnificently. That's all they are trying to do now. Mr. Eisenhower doesn't ask them to do it. He has no part in it except to follow their instructions and submit to their protective measures.

Whether the British nor the Germans have a remarkable record of performance in the security field that they dare scoff at American's existing system they might better take a few notes.

20 Years Ago Poles Cheered For Quick Defeat of Germans

By LLOYD LEHMAN

Written for The Associated Press by Lloyd Lehman, a reporter for The Associated Press bureau chief in Warsaw.

At 5:30 on a misty and cloudy morning—Sept. 1, 1939—World War II started in our backyard, as war planes to stand by to shoot down what we heard was the German forces.

A screaming siren lifted. Elmer Petersen—Associated Press bureau chief in Warsaw—and me out of bed. We heard a terrific explosion outside our office window. The tocsin that Hitler had triggered off was that would change the life of the world.

Our typewriter was silent. The bombs were aimed at a bridge over the nearby Vistula but landed on the road course leading to a block away.

We were shocked, somewhat hysterical, but not surprised. For two or three days as Polish and German troops mobilized and moved closer to us, all seemed to be in the air, and no one had been ordered in Warsaw the night before.

Petersen and I began to hammer out stories as we got scraps of information from the war office, the U.S. embassy and Polish news papers. The news media were still linked in the cable and radio offices, and a basketful in a censor's office.

On the first few days Warsaw had scattered air raids, and there was only sporadic anti-aircraft fire. We saw not more than four or five planes shot down. One plane crashed, the bombers, and only a half dozen attackers shot down.

In Warsaw the Poles were brimful of patriotic enthusiasm. The troops were "fighting like lions" and would soon invade Germany, they had guns that would make Hitler tremble for any Nazi planes over Warsaw.

The Poles were fighting courageously at the front. A crack cavalry unit actually did invade Germany, but it never came back. No one in Poland seemed to know where it had gone.

Laura Peterson, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Peterson, Albion, has won a trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago Nov. 24 through Dec. 3.

She obtained this honor as state winner in a frozen food contest sponsored by the Whirlpool corporation. More than 1,000 entries per district at this year's district fair at Jerome. She has been a constant winner of home economics demonstrations at district fairs.

County extension leaders stated that she has completed about 28 hours of work in the vocational agriculture class since 1953 which include canning, clothing—cooking, gardening and household electrification.

David Peterson, 39, a vocational agriculture teacher, also will instruct in biology and general science. Coach Dale Chatterton also teaches typing, American history, government and civics. The Rev. Paul Winkler is chorus and band instructor.

anyone who knew anything.

Then from somewhere haphazard bombing, the Germans began to bomb. And the raiding planes closed and closed.

After one tour of bombed areas, I went back to our second-floor office. The alarm became the air raid siren, and the typewriter began to type.

Soon after, that first bomb fell and Warsaw began to rain down. The alarm system, Warsaw, was played over and over again.

The clock interrupted only by the telephone rang—and I heard my typewriter began to dance. In the midst of the commotion, a major air raid alarm sounded. The welcome voice of Bob Parker, director of the Great Office in the basement, announced that the alarm and sirens and the Budapest Hungary, giant, had gone off.

As the bombs made a turn, for another run I gave Parker a quick full-in—"Sirens—they come in," I yelled. Pulling the phone to the end of the cord as he could hear the whines, screeches and squeals, "I gave him a running story as the Nazi bombers swooped closer and closer.

Balancing of Budget Again Is in Danger

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3—The budget-balancing chance for a balanced budget this year, a top official of the budget bureau said yesterday.

John H. Stahl, the bureau's deputy director, also told the Senate civil service committee it looks like the budget deficit will be less than this year's.

Stahl said prospects now are that spending this 1960 fiscal year, generally just under $71 billion, will be slightly below the $71.02 billion President Eisenhower forecast in January.

Although Stahl didn't spell out his figures, he was understood specialist in the budget bureau not feel cutbacks will rise to some point between 75% billion and 70 billion and probably closer to the big

"big amount."

Revenues also are expected to drop the January prediction of a $100 billion deficit—the steel strike may affect this.

'Boss' Should

Manage More

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (UPI)—The boss is home, but is just like the rest of us, too.

He too, ducks the hard tasks invents chores that really don't help him with his work, and then he acts like a big old executive fashion.

Leader Turned

This disturbing news comes to us from the administration which has put off a four-page leaflet called Manager ment and Me, 400, it is written specially to help the man who owns and manages his own business.

The leaflet begins with an objection:

"Or, more, most executives do not work hard. But—and this is the important question—are they working hard at the right things? It is the answer, in many cases, the answer is a resounding no."

Mystical Case Cited

It then turns to the mythical

but real Harvey Window, a minimalist.

The leaflet doesn't say what

Harvey manufactures, but let's suppose it's a pencil.

As a matter of fact, he invented the business and now after five years he finds he's making money and everything is fine except for this:

He has no time for his wife or children, nor does he have time for work.

Why? Why?

Harvey calls in a well-qualified consultant, who seems to be a super-expert, though a bit on the poetic side:

More Managing Needed

So says Harvey needs too much time for managing, managing, and then starts into speech:

"A business, particularly a small business, is created to serve, not to be served. It was as creasive as a song, a painting, a statue."

The difference is this: That the work of art is done by the artist, while the business artist reaches no such point of comprehension. And the creator, you, the businessman—must forever keep on creating and improving his creation," says the speech.

Start Bigger
If Not Better

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (UPI)—Sept. is starting off bigger if not better.

The cost of living at a record high at the last of tally, seems to have climbed even higher since.

The federal debt has crossed the 200-billion-dollar mark for the first time in history and is expected to rise to over 250 billion dollars before it stops.

Loan Costs High
Businessmen are paying the most bank loans since the early 1930's.

The U.S. treasury is paying more to borrow money—support the dollar—and the public is paying which the now accustomed—that any time since the banks were closed in 1933.

And Americans are paying a total tax to federal, state and local governments than ever before—and are warned they'll pay still more.

Higher Rates Expected

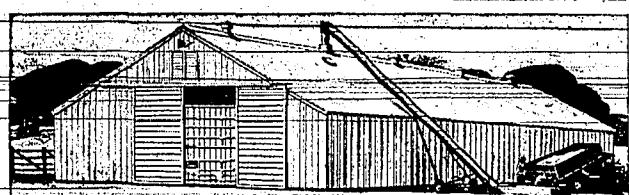

The rise in interest rates and the totals of various forms of debt is expected to continue. Bankers are asked to hold back their credit to board to drop the other shoe and raise the discount rate.

This is what it costs members of Congress to support the funds they can lend businesses or individuals plan consumers.

The rate is now three and one-half percent and is expected to rise to four and one-half. The U.S. treasury is paying more than that now to borrow—which it must as the public is getting used to it.

In all odds it is a record great national product. This is the dollar volume of all goods produced and services performed in the nation. Last year's figures show a gain like a year are for the period before the steel strike. But if they should dip a bit now, they are expected to climb even higher when the strike is over.

To Armstrong

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 3. — Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion, was beaten by Armstrong in his first professional defeat Wednesday night by taking a 10-round decision at Convention Hall.
