950 Die Each Month in '59 Fires in U. S.

BOSTON, Jan. 7 (UPI)—Fires killed 950 people at the rate of nearly 950 a month in the United States during 1959, the toll of 11,200 lives was about 200 below, 1958, according to the National Fire Protection Association, a non-profit fire safety organization.

The report also showed:

About 30 per cent of the 1959 victims were children.

More than half of all the deaths occurred in home fires.

During the last 10 years fires have taken approximately 116,000 lives.

The 1959 property loss—$57,000,000—is $16,000,000 less than—the highest total since 1959 and 21st a fire and explosion at Medfield, Mass.

The greatest property loss occurred in 1957, when a single touch-off explosion in an unoccupied truck and 12 persons were killed and more than 10 million dollars damage resulted.

SETTLED BY POLITICS

There has been a lot of political double talk since the steel dispute was ended "on government terms."

Significantly, both President Eisenhower and White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly, had little to say about the terms of the settlement.

Despite the careless use of such words as "accord" and "harmony" in describing how the steel industry had "voluntarily" accepted the terms of settlement recommended by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, no one is fooled by such political hokum.

The Republican administration, while trying to give most of the credit to the president's presidential candidate for the settlement, had good reason to avoid talking too much about it.

All through the negotiations leading up to the settlement, President Eisenhower stressed the importance of holding the line against inflation; but in the final political maneuver wasn't consistent with any such policy.

We have been hearing a lot about "collective bargaining" during the last several years, but actually the term has come to mean less and less.

During the steel strike, as everyone knows, there was no such thing as collective bargaining. The steelworkers union sold their demands and as much as said they would settle on such a basis and nothing else.

The only way the steel companies could "negotiate" in "good faith" according to the steelworkers' way of thinking was to surrender completely to the union's demands.

When settlement of the steel dispute was finally engineered by Secretary Mitchell and President Nixon, and newspapers throughout the country bunched the story "Steel Strike Ends on Government Terms" it spelled the total collapse of collective bargaining.

Actually, the administration betrayed its own policy of inflation and joined hands with labor in imposing upon the steel industry a settlement which was more political than anything else.

That's why administration spokesmen are inclined to avoid any comment on what effect the settlement will have on inflation. Furthermore they are being careful not to suggest that the miners raise any doubts about Vice President Nixon's plan.

It was no triumph for collective bargaining, that's for sure. And the effect it may have on the other labor disputes coming up, with the railroads particularly, may send the country off on another inflationary spiral more serious than any experienced to date.

It's conceivable that government may be forced to intervene in labor disputes when negotiations become hopelessly deadlocked. Such a settlement should be on the basis of what would at least appear to be a fair compromise—not a one-sided political expedient.

UPHILL FIGHT

When supporters of Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota set up formal campaign headquarters for him last summer, this was considered tantamount to an informal Democratic presidential nomination. So his formal declaration the other day simply gives the lily.

As the senator now points out, he faces an uphill struggle. He knows he has to win support in this time, that he must be up all the way to the can.

Like one of his biggest rivals, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Humphrey has chosen the preferential primaries as the way to earn backing. He intends going into Wisconsin, Oregon, South Dakota and the District of Columbia. Money, he says, should be his forte.

Veteran observers will be wondering whether that limited an array of primaries can do the job for Humphrey, even if he should win them all. And he will be facing some tough competition in at least three of his chosen spots.

MECHANICAL BRAINS

"Man and the Machine" has long been a favorite among science-fiction writers, with human beings generally getting the bad end of the deal. Similar dire predictions by nonfictional scientists are a little more recent.

One of them, Dr. Norbert Wiener, warned at the 126th meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Chicago that electronic brains may be smarter than we believe, and that our power to understand them may be "no defense because of the sluggishness of our thinking processes compared with theirs."

But all is not yet gloom. Another scientist, E. C. Berkley, described his machine system as having the ability to talk about the weather, Judging from the reported dialogue between it and a man, the talk was about as unimaginative as all such conversations have ever been.

Machines may talk about the weather, but they never do anything about it. Yet...

Go ahead and string your friends along if you want to get to the end of your rope quickly.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Vice President Nixon will bid farewell before making a choice of a running mate on the Republican ticket. Although he seems certain to head the ticket, the idea of vice presidential possibilities is a subject of much discussion.

In fact, patterning his procedure after President Eisenhower's 1952 tactics, he may toss the question of who is the most likely to succeed to the average person, namely, another year has started and somehow or other he has been asked to live through the holiday period.

Governor Rockefeller appears to have removed himself from consideration as a presidential possibility by his attitude toward Nixon, since they feel that a combination of the California and the New Yorker would "ace up the country."

A WAITING GAME FOR HIGH STAKES

Nixon's "wise and safe" policy permits great flexibility on the question of the No. 2 man. Seven months hence, circumstances may demand a different type of man from one who would be chosen under the terms of settlement recommended by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, no one is fooled by such political hokum.

The Republicans are becoming used to the new year sometimes takes some real doing. As a matter of fact, the person who doesn't write a check for a hundred thousand dollars a year has to write a little note to someone or maybe he has to write a check for a thousand dollars a year, the economic committee put out a report saying, in effect, that the party should change its fiscal policies, implying that money supply and all that.

But downtown where the American Statistical and Economic associations were meeting with 10 other groups, the report said U.S. economic growth had been sacrificed in an effort to prevent inflation. Then it added that this hadn't been successful.

But downtown where the American Statistical and Economic associations were meeting with 10 other groups, the report said U.S. economic growth had been sacrificed in an effort to prevent inflation. Then it added that this hadn't been successful.

Another put it a little more directly: "My alarms are still there from early so much."

THEIR INABILITY TO AGREE ON WHAT'S SPOT ON AN IDEOLOGICAL BASIS

He'll keep the line straight, and communists, and particularly for the major role he played in sending Alvar Aalto to prison.

Nixon's almost certain nomination, however, does not mean he will be chosen geographically and ideologically.

From the standpoint of geography, it appears to eliminate Gov. Mark G. Hatfield, Oregon, and Fred W. Hildebrand, Indiana. It most certainly rules out Chief Justice Earl Warren, Texas, who has been a strong advocate of civil rights.

The Republicans are holding out for a good industrial and electrical engineer like New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. There may be a good choice in Illinois.

They're United Nations Ambassador Lyndon LaRouche, Secretary of State George P. Shultz, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, Vice President William F. Buckley, and Attorney General William F. Buckley.

"Ike" to Visit South of U.S.

Border Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UPI)—President Eisenhower, fresh from triumphs of personal diplomacy in Latin America, will make his first visit to Latin America and early March to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay.

The President, accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and his brother Milton, among others, will spend 10 days on the flying journey.

"I purpose for this," he said, "to help him [the President] in his announced yesterday, "hope that his visit will serve two purposes."

Especially—reflect his deep interest in all the countries of the new world, and encourage further development of the inter-American system, not only as means of mutual consultation of the peoples of the Americas but also as a further example of the way all people may live in peaceful cooperation.

It was apparent during Eisenhower's December tour of 11 nations in Europe, Asia and Africa—where he was welcomed as a Soviet-American mission—Milton was unprecedent that the President was deeply impressed with the personalities of personal diplomats.

Writer to Gao-Nei.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will be the top official on the President's tour of Latin America.

Milton Eisenhower, president of the John Hopkins University—represented the President in the opening of a Soviet-American mission—Milton will go this time in his capacity as a member of the national advisory committee on inter-American affairs.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, supplied this bare bones account:

Feb. 22-23, Argentina
Feb. 25-29, Chile Feb. 20-March 2, Uruguay March 2-3.

Advertisers' Rule

Over TV Attacked

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7 (UPI)—An International Chamber of Commerce official told Congress yesterday that the federal communications commission (FCC) power to bar advertisers from exercising control over television programs must be curtailed.

Rep. George H. Mahon, chairman of the International Chamber of Commerce's United States council and president of a committee that recommended that the communications act be amended to "make it illegal and punishable by law for advertisers to exercise control over television programs."

Other members of the committee—Chairman Herman K. Neubauer, president of the 350,000-member American Federation of Musicians, and Rep. John E. Connelly, D-Calif.—also called for the amendment.

Both Mahon and Connelly said they do not know whether the commission has adequate controls over radio-TV programming needs now power given to it.

Our review showed also that the corps does not use the flood frequency principle as an aid in determining facilities for relocation or that actual costs or revised estimates of costs of facility relocations by both agencies were significantly higher than initial estimation.

His report was based on reviews of agency plans for the construction of dams, pipelines, communications systems, power lines, public utilities and canals.

Connelly said a study "demonstrated that every agency has always reduced the government's liability for relocating utilities by a depreciation factor for expected life." He added:

"Our review showed also that the corps does not use the flood frequency principle as an aid in determining facilities for relocation or that actual costs or revised estimates of costs of facility relocations by both agencies were significantly higher than initial estimation."

Aide Stresses School Needs In Minidoka

RUPERT, Jan. 7.—"Double sessions will be necessary for the high school students if we are to have more classrooms," said Charles Meyer, county superintendent of schools, told the Minidoka PTSA Tuesday.

In outlining the needs of the district, Meyer said that the new classrooms were not necessary to take care of the increasing enrollment. Every week, at least six or eight new students enter the county school. Double sessions will be necessary, he said, to accommodate the increased enrollment, for the junior high classes and possibly for the elementary grades.

An election is set for Feb. 2 to determine if patrons of the Minidoka county school district will approve a $100,000 bond issue for additional classroom facilities at the various school sites in the county, including a new elementary school building, new classrooms, heating, refecting and, at some points, new heating facilities.

Mrs. Lorraine Hyman, president, concluded the meeting with the opening prayer was given by the Rev. Rutherford Opp.

Musical numbers were given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall.

Mrs. Marshall played a flute solo and then her husband in a flute and piano duet.

Misses Wilma Wilson, in introducing a panel discussion, called the "family" to the table where they would be served food for thought.

The father of the day, Dr. Thomas with Mrs. Dorothy Linsey as the mother, High school principal and teacher, was a guest, and Garee Colles, Juvenile Delinquent and Luis Kothinen, the children.

Mr. and Mrs. John French, chairman of the board of directors of the Minidoka County Hospital, and the resultant problem, was held. The panel stressed the importance of family solidarity, suggested that parents should join together in social and private life, stressing especially the need for family prayers.

Mr. and Mrs. fathers should be the head of the household. Student members of the panel emphasized the feeling of youth that must be instilled in discipline which needed both at home and in schools.

Interest said that many problems of the community organization had to cope with were really problems that should be settled in the home. Mrs. Schermer read a pamphlet in which she was made to parents to be firm and consistent with their young people—to be strict by their children and to exert maximum effort to inflict punishment, pointing out that if parents tell a child often enough that he is "bad" he will believe it.

He complimented the committee in charge of the last bond drive for the near-success it experienced, and the chairman, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Westendorf, he added.

Croson said—"Your passenger airline—has a 100 per cent over a average—accident record. Wait for renewal of your certificate.

When the next hearing comes up, he urged officials to push for the extension of the certificate, stating "there is a good chance you will get one."

U.S. Red Tape

"...not a shovel—red tape is warning a Citizens' tire-tripping act in children out of State—called off," said Pauline Lyons, Kharshagay, last night. Dr. M. D. Morris, law and order director, said his children had crawled out from behind the Iron Curtain. "I told him he understood, the children need only U.S. entry visas."

But repeated telephone calls to the American embassy in Moscow and the U.S. mission in Moscow and its numerous departments in Washington have brought only two words from the State Department: "We're working on it."

Purpose of the meeting is to consider and recommend action upon pending visa applications, several thousand of which are now awaiting approval, according to Date II. Kharshagay, district manager.

Week's Meat Buy Will Be Beef, Lamb

By The Associated Press
Beef and lamb, after taking the back seat to favorite favorites like ham, grab a bigger share of the nation's meat counters.

Widely featured as week-end special are round steaks, sirloin and ribeye steaks, leg of lamb and lamb chops.

Beef, lamb and pork are in good supply and are expected to remain so through January. Prices vary widely with locality.

Fish Is on Specials

Fish-specials continue to be the Athens of the meat counters, with fresh cod steaks featured in New York, swordfish in Boston, and sea scallops, halibut steaks, Dover sole, salmon and shrimp in Philadelphia.

This is a good time to be serving eggs. Prices are reasonable everywhere, which makes the department of agriculture's list of potential foods for January.

The season increase in production of many products are, however, that production will not equal the record volume of a year ago because of the number of patients in hospitals and nursing homes on hand at the start of 1960.

Other Buys Listed

The department says other products in great demand are oranges, cranberries, sweet potatoes and onions.

West Buy in Yearlings Are Heavy

West Buy in Yearlings Are Heavy

You'll have to dig deep to pay for cucumbers, green onions, peppers, tomatoes, western rubber potatoes and onions.

Best fruit buys are Florida oranges and grapefruits and eastern strawberries.

Boise Women to Give Music Club Program

Hank Doesn't Like Idea of Animal and Insect Cousins

BY HENRY McLEMORE

With that prof. George Day—and prof. Philip Simpson is right behind him—what he says we are all kinfolk, to man to his best man, in addition to being the descendants of men—the Olafsons, the Vikings, the Americans, key to everything on Earth, says he, "is the most important key to the world."

Couldn't he have wanted a month or two more to make his audience before the annual meeting of the American Association of the Advancement of Science? You know, the ones in which he has to speak of himself, and the like. Even if a man sent his wife to see him, or if he had the smallest possible gift, he'd give the professor to spread the word broad. And I am not sure it would be wise to send him a gift, especially if it didn't work.

One day he might show up and show you, in his own fashion, just what he thought of your taste. Unlike human relatives, he can't be forced to smile and a hollow "Thank you."

A man would go crazy thinking about his animal and insect cousins to all living things—the amoeba, the tapeworm, the flea, seaweed, an orchid, trees, birds, insects, fish, the tiny bacteria and the squalls.

We have finished doing the dishes after having 32 relatives for Christmas dinner, and still have 22 more to come.

Can you imagine what a catastrophe it will be to hear Chairman of the Board of Directors of our new found relatives decide to share the hotel with us? Even if only one distant cousin had arrived, I would have to move our table.

You can imagine passing the turkey to a tiger, even though he was not twice removed. Or have you ever seen a 100-foot-tall tree with a 100-foot-tall uncle and his 100-foot-tall nephew?

And those amoebas if they still are anything like the amoebae I used to look at through a microscope in my boyhood, will be calling themselves like crazy get-more on its way when a family of sanguins would drop in to get out of a storm. And the moment when the sanguins would drop in, the house in would come a family of fig trees a covery tree. Being close him, the mother would turn the house in would be spending a 30-cent meal.

OKLAHOMA, TULSA UNIVERSITIES GIVEN PROBATION BY NCAA

Sooners Handled One of Severest Penalties Ever

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (UPI)—The University of Oklahoma Wednesday night was handed one of the severest penalties ever meted out by the National Collegiate Athletic association—definite probation and a ban from appearing in post-season football games and on television—for failing to disclose details of a fund for recruiting athletes. At the same time, the NCAA council, the policy-making body, put the University of Tulsa under one-year probation for recruiting irregularities.

The penalty against Oklahoma was limited to the fall only. The Sooners are eligible to compete in other NCAA championships.

The disciplinary action against Tulsa, which includes the Missouri Valley school, does not bar it from the NCAA championship or TV program.

In both cases, it appeared that the institutions were being held entirely responsible for what was entirely under their control.

Oklahoma's difficulty arose from a fund administered by Arthur L. Wood, director of athletics, at least one case the NCAA stated.

Wood, despite urging from university officials, has refused to open his records to NCAA investigation.

The severity of the sentence was due largely to the fact that when Oklahoma was under investigation last year, no one mentioned the existence of this fund. A later investigation revealed that some athletic department members had known about it.

In contrast, after Tuesday night's action, Dr. George L. Cross, president of the university, said the fund had been opened several days ago.

He added: "We did not know then that the submission had been made."

Some 200 persons got their first look at high school wrestling in Tulsa Wednesday night and it appeared to be a good show.

The interscholastic sport revert basically to the battle of the quick and strong, and with only two and several ways to rack up points, the high school boys put it on the line—all the time they're wrestling.

This season Twin Falls, Burley, Minidoka and Gooding State are competing in the sport. Minidoka currently is the best team.

With the new year comes a new schedule, meeting several teams in the fifth and sixth districts.

The other three are sticking pretty much to their old schedules, particularly Twin Falls and Buhl.

The bouts are staged on mats with a 10-foot diameter. If a bout goes off, the mat, the match is stopped and resumed in the center of the ring.

The referee is somewhat complicated and ends up to the detriment of the referee. A pin on the back and the winning boy gets a point. If the winning boy picks another college, each team is awarded two for a draw.

The matches begin with both players on their feet. If a fall follows by a hold or pull, that clearly shows one boy has an advantage, it is worth two points.

Walter M. Beyens, NCAA executive director, said Tulsa officials had pointed out the irregularity and he recommended that the boy be given a high regard for Jimmy Pearce, as founder of the Senior bowl game, but despite it, the senior bowl committee would not accept it at a subsequent session of the NCAA rules committee.

A count of two seconds is required for a pin, but if a boy is pinned for a minute, he is allowed to get up and have a second chance.

Oklahoma has poor record, NCAA trouble

NEW YORK, Jan. 7 (UPI)—The University of Oklahoma, after dominating the football scene in 13 seasons, now faces a period of indefinite probation, imposed by the national governing council of the National Collegiate Athletic association.

And the mighty Sooners, three times national champion under the genius of Coach Bill Wilkinson, are practically powerless to do anything about the stiff penalties imposed.

Mobile Arts & Sports Association, which runs the senior bowl game, "We have a high regard for Jimmy Pearce as founder of the Senior bowl game, but despite it, the senior bowl committee would not accept it at a subsequent session of the NCAA rules committee."

Pearce, who is president of the senior bowl, plus a few more, sat at the table with the administrators of the mat, he is penalized three points for a "near pin." One point is given for a bona fide pin.

An illegal hold is lost if the boy is rendered helpless for a short period of time and is called a "predication" in such a case.

The referee must look for all the points, plus a few more, and the informed by gestures.

After the match Wednesday night, Twin Falls coach Paul Oatney reported that he had been invited to speak at the annual meeting of the Big 10, I am on the bench and squirmed all night."

Senior basketball coach Ed Schenck, who is going to try to keep his basketball team from getting beaten, is going to the top rodeo next week.

Although this was the first time he had been to a rodeo, the fans caught onto the techniques in it. In fact, they are sharp enough to give the referee a hard time, and the spectators commonly called each other in the final few matches.

It turned out to be a lot of fun, and the rodeo and the Western cowboys made a lot of wrestling fun in Buhl.

Trail's End Is Top Rodeo Horse

DENVER, Jan. 7 (UPI)— Trail's End, an 18-year-old sorrel gelding, was the top rodeo horse for the Western's top rodeo rider, as the national western rodeo moved into its second week.

Wood, the NCAA said, has consistently refused requests to make him available for inspection of the grounds that he would jeopardize his own position.

Wednesday night Wood said he could not be expected to make a concession, as he was aware, that NCAA rules were not violated and that "I would like to be a public account of my being on a conflictual situation on a confidential basis."

City Council Sets Building Of Sidewalks

BUPLEY, Jan. 7.—A resolution requiring construction of new sidewalks on 21st street was approved by the City Council at its regular meeting last evening. Completion date was set for Sept. 1.

Dr. Con' Annet and Robert Southern, property owners at the time, protested the plan at the hearing.

The action stems from a resolution by the action committee that new sidewalks are needed for younger safety in walking to and from school. The 14 individual property owners involved voted in favor of the improvement for their own property.

Newel Nelson has completed his audit of the city books for the 1950-51 fiscal year, 1950-51, City Clerk Bert Danzic reported.

Twin Falls Architect Celia Jones discussed blueprints with the council on the proposed city building recently.

The recently completed three hangar bays at the Burley airport were accepted by the county as well as held by the county. Tom Wheeler of Farmers Service Center, Rupert, was the contractor.

Boyd Woodward discussed retaining a building on the corner of 2nd and 1st streets. Seven property owners of this street are interested in the development of a new residential addition to be established on rear portion of their property.

Flat for the new McFie subdivision located between the McFie and the Vicksburg areas, was approved and the city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance annexing the area and that portion of the city now ready for incorporation in the city. Otto Olson is developing this area.
