Senate Takes Break After Worst Winter Storm in U.S. Blamed For Havana Ship Mishap

125-Hour Nonstop Battle—Decade Strikes Out Power Lines, Strikes East U.S.

In Civil Rights Marathon—Lines, Strikes East U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—After more than 125 hours of a virtually nonstop battle off late today its marathon election-year session, the senate today took a 15-minute break in an effort to reach a vote. Neither advocates of broad new civil rights legislation nor opponents of the measure were able to secure enough support to block the measure.

For the time being, at least, the senate will adjourn until tomorrow morning. The senate recessed at 10:30 p.m. (EST) until noon Monday, when round-the-clock sessions are to start. The senate will meet again at 11 a.m. Monday.

At the 118 Southern senators fighting against them expressed any willingness to give ground.

It is not clear whether the senate will vote on the measure of a bill that would amend the constitution to block the measure.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The worst winter storm to jammer the Northeast in more than a decade struck today, knocking out power lines and disrupting traffic. The state, entering mainly on the eastern part of the province, was expected to dump up to 10 inches of snow. Hitting winds up to 65 miles an hour quickly piled up snowdrifts that clogged highways.

In the United States—from the Canadian border to Dixie—snow-blitzed residents still felt the storm's swathing lash. Up to a foot of snow fell in southwest Michigan and in Indiana. Temperatures plummeted to near zero in some Southern States. Snow plagues New York and parts of New England.

The weather death toll across the Northeast is still being tallied. The main concern for motorists is "operation—about"—closing roads and bridges and removing cars from under giant snow mounds.

Air and highway transportation returned slowly to normal schedules, but some delays and cancellations were reported, particularly in metropolitan areas.

Snowdrifts of eight and nine feet were common in parts of New England. Three feet of snow lay in parts of New York and New Jersey on Sunday.

An Army ambulance helicopter and national guardsmen were in the rescue of three ill persons in isolated mountains in Maryland.

HAVANA, March 5.—Prime Minister Fidel Castro angrily blamed the United States tonight for what he said was an act of sabotage that caused the explosion of a munitions shipment in Havana harbor. In his strongest attack on the United States, the bearded revolutionary leader declared those interested in blocking arms shipments to Cuba had caused the explosion aboard the French freighter La Coubre yesterday. And he said "United States officials" had blocked such shipments in the past.

The state department in Washington quickly denied "those implications." He blocked "unpleasantly denied." "The implications of an American line" were "unpleasantly denied." "The implications of an American line" were "unpleasantly denied."

Strike for Tea

DONCASTER, England, March 5.—The 2200 tea factory employees of an American firm are on strike today—demanding a 10 percent increase in pay and a 40-hour week.

The International Harvester company, the tea factory's host, if they return to work Monday the firm will negotiate with the union.

One complaint was that need of the firm were not allowed to sit down to drink their tea.

About 700 to Attend Church Confab Here

The First Christian church of Twin Falls will host an estimated 700 members of the faith at the 41st annual convention of the local church from March 10 through 13. The convention will feature a concert by the noted Negro singer, Mrs. Rosa-Page Welch, and speeches by outstanding members of the church. The concert will be held at 8:15 p.m. Saturday and is open to the public. Church notables who will talk during the four-day session include Rev. J. Warren Hastings, Dr. Spencer P. Austin, Mrs. Ralph T. Palmer, Mrs. Bluff-Osburn, Lloyd M. Balfour and Professor John W. Doolinger.

As he outlined this tactic, Keating and civil rights opponents could take time-spending from midnight until dawn, only to find that they could not have their sleep interrupted by a group of men.

The Southerners, who have been drumming out of the senate in an effort to save off a vote on the civil rights bill, have been routing their foes out of the Senate by insisting that the 100-hour, or a majority of the 100 hours, be in the Senate chamber.

Keating, however, said he never felt it was his duty to need so much sleep as they thought they did. He said he had not slept for 48 hours and that he had not slept for 48 hours and that he had not slept for 48 hours.

Court Calls Benson Absurd for Proposal

BOISE, March 5.—Idaho's supreme court has termed an absurdity the contention of Atty. Gen. Frank L. Benson that a controversial salary claim should be referred to the legislature. The court yesterday ordered immediate payment of the salary claim of William R. Padgett, high court auditor. Sixty-five minutes after the court's order within minutes after he received the writ of mandate yesterday afternoon. "I'm glad this is over," the auditor said. "I have a full-time job running my office and I don't want to be in a position where I will have to go to court any more."

Bridge Tournament To Conclude Today

The second day of the Magic Valley sectional duplicate bridge tournament began Sunday at the Hoggston hotel Roundup town, sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League. The tournament, which attracted about 200 bridge enthusiasts from Southern Idaho and several neighboring states, began Friday and will conclude Sunday evening. North and south winners are Mr. and Mrs. H. Burgess, Twin Falls, and east and west winners are Mrs. J. Towle, Jerome, and Mrs. E. W. Sinclair, Jerome. Parliament Is Suspended in Asian Nation

JAKARTA, Indonesia, March 5.—President Sukarno suspended parliament today in a move that was regarded as a step toward a new well-being of the country.

The act was interpreted here as a bid to force parliament to deal with the government's 1960 budget. Parliament was suspended after it failed to agree to approve the budget on amounts the president felt was higher than the chief of the cabinet, Dr. Djuanda, had broadcast over the state radio throughout the past week.

Before the suspension, parliament members claimed they had been instructed to vote on the budget until the hour of parliament's adjournment.

Elvis Resumes Career After Army Service

MT. DIX, N. J., March 5 (AP)—Presley became a civilian today. He picked up his final army pay of $102.54 and left a chauffeur-driven limousine to resume his big money rock 'n' roll music career.

Gov. John J. Hughes, a couple of army judges, shouted as Presley left Ft. Dix with his manager, Col. Tom Parker.

Presley appeared subdued and not very talkative. He told news men in reply to questions that he would be in the inactive reserve for the next six years, and that he would be in the active reserve as previously reported.

Presley declined to give his immediate destination, but he had earlier he planned to spend about two weeks at his Memphis, Tenn. home.

Parker headed for New York. Half a dozen teen-age fans and a score of photographers and newsmen were on hand to witness the departure—small stuff compared with the crowd that greeted him on his arrival from Germany two days ago and at the "farewell" type conference that followed.

His young fans crowded around Presley as he headed for the waiting car but MPs kept them away. Presley showed his autograph for a few dollars.

Democratic Presidential Race Track Becomes Busy Place During Past Week

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The race track in the Democratic presidential nomination became a busy place this week with the finish line in sight.

Little more than four months before the winner will be named, three Illinois delegates.

1. Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, and Stuart Symington, Missouri, became official candidates.

2. A first-ballot nomination victory is predicted for Sen. John F. Kennedy, Massachusetts, by his good friend Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, Connecticut.

3. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, Minnesota, who used to be a pharmacist, said the "cabin road" to the White House may be closed forever, "but I'd like to prove that a man can make it from a family drug store."

Johnson and Symington backed into the business of becoming candidates—they simply said they do nothing to get their names off the ballot of the presidential primary in Oregon May 20.

The favorite in that free-for-all primary is Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon.

Of immediate concern is the New Hampshire primary next Tuesday, the first in the nation.

Kennedy on the Democratic side and Vice President Richard M. Nixon on the Republican side are virtually without opposition there.

Just the name, they are spending money there and their backers are working hard to roll up an impressive vote.

Republicans normally outnumber Democrats in New Hampshire 2-1.

(That) Brown, California, for that state's six-vote delegation, one of the convention's three big prizes.

Gov. C. Glenn Williams, Michigan, an online boy wonder of Democratic politics, announced he would try for a seventh term as governor. He said he would be honored and pleased to accept a vice-presidential nomination.

SPEAKING OF Furniture

MADE FOR EACH OTHER

Which comes first in planning a room, the background or the furniture? We are asked this question very frequently. Our answer is, usually—the furniture.

Then green was chosen for the dominant background color to play up the burnished beauty of the maple pieces. The painted (dark green) was topped by a small-print provincial type wallpaper that repeats the richness of green and yellow in the background. Here is a room where the background and furnishings were literally made for each other.

Essentially, excellent reproduction and space-saving features—all want you here in our new collection of provincial pieces for every room in your home. Whether you're starting from scratch or looking for replacements, you'll find that we have just what you want. So do come in soon.

Burley PTA Urges More Youth Fetes

BURLEY, March 5.—A resolution was recommended by the Burley PTA which would urge that more social dancing should be provided for the youth in the junior high school. The resolution will be submitted to the school board.

Mrs. Betty Russell, probation officer, spoke on the proposed youth center for Burley. There are those who would rather be in a hot spot than a youth center. Youth who are not being supervised—and that's why our youth are in trouble.

The official said none of the youth who have been in trouble in their home had tried her yet.

The "stuffed man's" parents' excuses are that they are those who go in trouble are from 10 to 15 years of age and on.

Licenses will be sold for two years, $4 for each dog are subject to impounding, male or spayed female and $7 for a certificate of spaying must accompany each application for a license. Unlicensed dogs or dogs not licensed are subject to impounding. Licenses will be sold for two years, $4 for each dog are subject to impounding, male or spayed female and $7 for a certificate of spaying must accompany each application for a license. Unlicensed dogs or dogs not licensed are subject to impounding.

Dog owners must present evidence that each animal has been vaccinated by a licensed veterinarian with rabies vaccine. This requirement was in effect first during the 1953 licensing period. The 1953 licensing period was the first time that licensed this year must receive the vaccine before a license will be issued. If the vaccine used is of the chick embryo type, the inoculation is required every two years. Any dog 6 months old or over is required to wear a license on the collar. A floor plate will be included.

Fiction Book List Is Given By Librarian

Interesting new fiction titles have been received by the Twin Falls public library, says Arthur DeLore, librarian.

Among them is "The Lincoln Lord," written by Cameron Hawley. This book "Cash McGraw" was recently made into a movie. This item is also about big business. For those interested in cattle raising the novel by Hal Borland, "The Seventh Winter," is an exciting tale. Indian adventures are brought out in "Johnny Osage," by Justice Holt Giles in her book on the Arkansas river country and the tale of a white man leading an Indian war.

Wars on the African veldt form the background for John Harris' novel, "Dumet at Sheba." "All the Day Long" is the latest offering of the popular fiction writer Howard Spring. Two other fictional offerings are "Big Bill," by A. B. Guthrie, Jr., who writes so capably about the vista of western adventures and "Stone the Last Roman," by David Taylor, a thrilling tale of espionage and romance in the last crucial months of the war of independence.

Two non-fictional books of more than passing importance are "Abraham Lincoln," by Francis Pickens, by John J. Duff and "The Way It Was," by Eddie Cantor, one of America's best-loved comedians.

A gift presented by the National Association of Travel Organizations is "Travel USA," a pocket-size for 1959. The Goodwill club has presented copies of "The Intelligent Woman's Guide to A. P." by John Canaday, art editor and critic in the New York Times, for use in the Twin Falls city. He has married Sarah Jane Leigh in Salt Lake City in 1952.

Later they came to Idaho and home-stayed in Camas county. In 1953 he moved to Jerome to start the first blacksmith shop, retiring several years ago.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Ethel Shaper, Mrs. Ann Green and Mrs. Arthur Prum, all Jerome; four sons, James B. Kersey, Jr., Salt Lake City; Charles J. Kersey, Sacramento, Calif.; Hine Senator, California; and William A. Kersey, Fresno, Calif.; 22 grandchildren, 57 great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Kersey was preceded in death by his wife and one son.

Funeral services will be held for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the LDS second ward chapel with Bishop H. Thomas Newman officiating.

Friends may call at the Wiley funeral chapel from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday and until time of service Tuesday.

Recital Scheduled

At 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday at the Lincoln school auditorium, a recital will be held by a group of students from the Lincoln school. The program will include piano, voice, guitar, and other instruments. The public is invited. There is no charge.

Why J-301?

It seems impossible, but Easter is just a few short weeks away... and it's none too early to be thinking of your Easter outfit now. There's nothing a woman loves better than a complete new look for the Easter Parade. It's not always possible to have everything new, but everything can look like new!

If you're buying a new dress, better take a look at the color you might wear with it. With this season's unpredictable weather you may need it. A piece with soft spots of a faded look can dim the luster of your new flirty. And if you're going to settle for a gay new Easter hat instead of a new outfit, there's sure to bring in the spring dress or suit for cleaning. We'll have it ready in plenty of time for the holidays. Specially clean and freshly pressed to look as bright and new as anything you'll see on Easter Sunday!

Your fine clothes get a thorough cleaning in a series of solvents when we do them. To remove not only surface stains but deep-down soil. And they're handled with care. Bring them in... or call now for prompt pickup and delivery!

He Didn't See Growth of City As Land Bought 30 Years Ago

Editor, Times-News:
While the "boundaries" of Twin Falls about 30 years ago would be forced into the city limits, at that time the city limit was one block north and one block west of the Five Points intersection. We were at that time the successful bidders on the Shoshone town for about 30 buildings, which we bought for $60. We dismantled all the buildings and hauled the lumber and stumps back to Twin Falls and built the "Hotel" on the "corner" of the city limits. We had no other neighbors, no electricity and no water. We had to haul our water from the Snake River. We had to dig a well to get water. We had to dig a well to get water. We had to dig a well to get water.

Missing

Twin Falls county Sheriff James H. Benham said Saturday that officials of the county assessor's office reported last week that three complete sets of 1959 passenger license tags are missing from the office.

Sheriff Benham said there is no way of telling whether the license plates were stolen or whether they never were shipped from Boise. He commented that there is a possibility the plates never were made.

The missing numbers are 10294, 10295 and 10296. The loss was first noted by the assessor's office Jan. 15, Sheriff Benham said.

Singapore Bans Funeral Cymbals

SINGAPORE, March 5—Police have outlawed the noisy gongs and cymbals traditionally accompanying Chinese funeral processions.

Funeral processions from secret societies used to meet on route to the cemetery and try to out-pump gongs.

To prevent the deafening din, the bereaved families will have to use the shortest route to the cemetery, submit a list of mourners and play music only at graveside.

Population up

TAIPEI, Formosa, March 5—The civil population of this nation's Chinese island now totals 16,431,397.

This shows an increase of 391,900 in 1959 and does not include armed forces of about 600,000 men.

$1,500,000.00 Is A Lot of Money!

Jerome Co-operative Creamery pays out over $5½ million annually in new money to approximately 3,000 dairy-men in Gooding, Lincoln, Jerome, Twin Falls, Cassia and Minidoka counties. This is all new wealth being developed 365 days of each year. This is the kind of wealth that builds our communities.

Jerome Co-operative Creamery pays out over $1½ million dollars every year for labor and hauling. This payroll is paid to your friends who spend their money in Magic Valley. They, along with 3,000 producers, play a tremendous part in support of our businesses, our churches and our schools.

One of the big sources of income is through the local sale of Challenge Grade A Milk and other dairy products. Every sale of milk, ice cream, butter or cheese by an outside processor to Magic Valley Consumers simply reduces the remaining income available for our local economy.

Keep this money at home by supporting our own local industry... our own people and our own farmers.

Chief of Air Force Backs Titan Missile

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The air force chief of staff spoke out today in behalf of the Titan missile, a new type of missile which is in process of development.

Gen. Thomas D. White said the air force has encountered certain difficulties with the Titan as it is not as fast as a rocket with the first American ICBM, the Atlas.

White said that the Atlas will probably be the first ICBM to be put on railroad cars to "move at random from place to place throughout the country's vast rail network," he said.

Three Media Honored for Racial News

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 5.—Lincoln university announced today that it will present awards for fair coverage of racial news to the Associated Press, the Atlanta Monthly and the Columbia Broadcasting company.

The 1949 Curators' awards for "significant contributions to the human relations field" will be presented March 20 by the university's school of journalism.

Lincoln university, a Negro school until 1954, at that time became a coeducational school and now has more than 1,500 students.

Hailey Seeks Grounds for Grade School

HAILEY, March 5.—Finding sufficient land on which to place a new grade school is of primary interest to members of the PTA, the city council and all others interested in obtaining a new grade school for Hailey.

It has been pointed out that an ideal site for such a grade school would be on the block of ground just west of the Hailey high school.

Across Chestnut street to the south of this site is the land owned by the Hailey merchant, Leopold Wertheimer for a park area.

Jack Davies, Hailey's city manager, has invited members of the PTA to attend the March 14 meeting of the city council to discuss the matter of transferring this property to the city to the school.

WENDELL, March 5.—The local PTA will play the local firemen's basketball game in the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. Monday, March 6. There will be a trained dog and monkey acts as well as trick music acts.

Ground Broken for Proposed Church

World's Newest International Bank Being Organized in U.S.

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Actually the bank is run largely by Latin Americans, and six of its directors are Latin Americans.

The new institution did borrow some funds from the U.S. treasury to get started but three will be returned.

It is the Inter-American Development bank, established by 20 of the 21 American republics to help speed Latin America's economic development. Cuba, at first hesitant, then spurred, and finally agreed to join.

Plans Made for Hailey's Rodeo

HAILEY, March 5.—Ryan Malton, chairman of the Hailey rodeo, has been appointed as a committee by Oliver Adams, president of the local chamber of commerce, to assist the Sawtooth Ranges Riding Club in putting on a two-day rodeo in Hailey July 3 and 4.

Wayne Clark, Ray McCoy and Morris Dunham, a committee from the riding club, met with the Chamber this week to announce that they have signed a contract with Cotton Rowser of the Flying T ranch, Marsville, Calif., to hold the rodeo.

HAILEY, March 5.—The local Cattlemen's association will furnish beef, members of the Hailey club will furnish the salads and vegetables, and the Upper Hill Wood River Grange members the ham for the first of the Town and Country banquet to be held at the Grand hall at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 6.

Nasser Warns of Arms for Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria, March 5 (AP)—President Abdel Gamal Nasser of the United Arab Republic today warned Israel's Premier David Ben-Gurion as "the greatest war criminal of the 20th century" and warned the West against helping Israel.

Mr. Nasser said that France was sending arms to Israel and that Britain will send submarines, the Arab leader declared.

"This won't terrify us, because we already know who are our enemies," he said. "We already know that the United States is preparing ourselves to face this aggression."

Polke's Defense Policy Scored By Fulbright

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright, D. Ark., said today that if President Eisenhower's defense decisions are really the free world could be lost in an afternoon.

In a full-scale senate attack, Fulbright accused Eisenhower of grave error of ideas out of Washington and treating with contempt critics of his defense policy.

Idaho Solons "Bearing up" In Marathon

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—Idaho's senators appear to be bearing up well under the east-roping regimen imposed by the senate-marathon session on civil rights.

But Frank Church, D., admits he's looking forward to the present Sunday recess and hoping it goes through. "What'll he do then? Sleep, just sleep," he said yesterday.

Sen. Henry Dworshak, D., has been getting along mostly on a diet of sleep since the marathon started Monday. But his aide said he's keeping up with his committee work, after work and attending non-committee meetings.

It's sneaked home twice this week for a bath and quick change of clothes," said the aide "but he's been on the job all the rest of the time."

How about Dworshak's recent rail blunder operation — is that bothering him?

Long-range plans are for the lot to be built on the front part of the lot as soon as funds are available, according to the Rev. Mr. Horst.

The Rev. Mr. Horst said the church is being planned for 500 persons in the area without a church in the vicinity. The building will be the only Mennonite church in Twin Falls.

Church services will be held at the Day building, Harrison street, and Shoup avenue, until completion of the building.

End of a Decade of Speculation

Society Grapevine Indicates Margaret's Wedding for May

LONDON, March 5 (AP)—Whispered by the society grapevine living on the fringe of the royal court, Princess Margaret's wedding has been set for one day.

Nobody was giving the exact date, but the rumors put it toward the end of apple blossom time, before the London society season has swung into its elegant stride.

Queen when Margaret will marry on the 10th of May," she said.

Mrs. Rhodes was heard of in the news ahead behind palace walls, a Mrs. Dennis Rhodes, director of the 1949 census of population and housing for the survey.

And as plans for the marriage were being made, it was noted that the bride would be accompanied by a large party.

It is believed that the wedding will be held at the Royal Albert Hall.

De-Salting of Ocean Water Done Cheap

NEW YORK (NEA) — A new process developed in Israel for de-salting sea water cheaply may make the world's deserts bloom within the next 10 years.

This is the hope held out by Dr. Alexander Zarehin, a Russian refugee who has been working on the process in Israel since 1956, and David Karr, president of the Earthman's Winery corporation, which has the world rights for constructing the plants.

Two such plants are scheduled to be completed in Israel this fall. Each on the Gulf of Aquia. Just back from Eliah, Karr said each will produce 500,000 gallons a day at a cost of 40 cents per thousand. "The same cost for drawing fresh water from a well."

The Zarehin process in de-salting sea water involves the desalination, has been getting the cost down to equal the cost of natural water. All of the various methods currently use distillation, which is the electrical-consuming process, the electrical cost is from one dollar a thousand up.

Dr. Zarehin explained that the Zarehin process in which the sea water is frozen and the salt drops down into brine and is pumped out.

"Our goal by 1965 is to create enough plants to produce a million gallons a day of fresh water throughout the world."

All this cost, he said, and the process can produce water as cheaply as fresh water, it would be a boon to the world.

The water consumption in the U.S. alone is 100 billion gallons a day, and it is expected to reach 600 billion by 1980.

Cost Total The cost of building a million-gallon-a-day plant, running and maintaining, over a 20-year period would only be $600,000, Karr estimated.

Now in California, in December, 1959 agreement with the Israeli government, the company has received nearly two dozen inquiries from city and national governments. They include Mexico, Spain, Libya, Morocco, and a French firm representing a French company in the Sahara.

Company Formed Under the agreement signed with the Israeli government, a jointly owned company was established, registered in Israel, to develop and market the process, with 50 per cent of the stock owned by Patents Whitney and 50 per cent owned by Zarelin.

Patents Whitney, a subsidiary of Whitney and one of the top manufacturers of water and water-pumping equipment, would manufacture the needed materials in Detroit, Wis., and Kansas City, and assist in constructing the plants.

Since the publication of its December, 1959 agreement with the Israeli government, the company has received nearly two dozen inquiries from city and national governments. They include Mexico, Spain, Libya, Morocco, and a French firm representing a French company in the Sahara.

Later the Israeli learned Zarehin had registered another invention under the initials of a Zionist organization, and he was sentenced to the home of all Soviet fallen angels — Siberia. He was mobilized into the red army in World War II, but escaped with his wife to Israel when peace came near. "I had to test the new process. By September, 1959, the process had been judged successful."

Zarelin has no industry in the size that could turn out the plant, and equipment needed, and a hurried trip to Tel Aviv by P. W. Karr and an engineer, and

Testimonial for LDS Missionary Set Next Sunday

A farewell testimonial has been planned at 7 p. m. Sunday, March 13, at the Twin Falls second ward LDS chapel for John Edwin Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Snow, Twin Falls.

He will report to the Mission home in Salt Lake City on March 21 to prepare for a two-year mission to the southern States. Elder Snow was born Dec. 15, 1939, in Idaho Falls. He attended Twin Falls schools and served two years in the navy. He is employed at Tucker's appliance and furniture store.

Man Sentenced to One Year in Jail

SHOSHONE, March 5 — A one-year sentence in the Lincoln county jail was given William Levens when he appeared in district court Tuesday. He is charged with driving a car without a license.

Levens was arrested Dec. 18 for larceny. He was being held pending investigation after having appeared in probate court.

He was arrested after he broke into the Shoshone liquor store and settled down for the night in his sleeping bag. He had helped himself to a bottle of liquor. He has no previous criminal record.

Dinner Sated

HAGERMAN, March 5 — The anniversary of the National American Legion will be observed by the local post with a picnic dinner at 7 p. m. Thursday at the American Legion hall.

Members of the American Legion auxiliary also will take part. Grant Zollinger, Wendell Doherty, district commander, will be the speaker. Everyone in the community is welcome to attend and the special invitation is issued to all veterans.

Burley Group Hears About African Life

BURLEY, March 5 — Godde Ruth Wells, Salem, Ore., returned missionary to the Belgian Congo, addressed an African life group at the Christian church Fellowship hall Thursday evening.

Miss Wells, a sister of Mrs. Emil J. Hebert, whose husband is pastor of the church, served 28 years in missions in Africa and taught all of the first 20 graduating classes of the Congo Christian institute near Bolenge.

She was dressed in native costume and illustrated her talk with slides. She accompanied a missionary couple and helped open a new missionary station in an area where natives have been cannibals.

Miss Wells explained that in addressing an older person in the Congo one says, "Give me your proverb." When asking an older person this question, the reply is "I am a life." The missionary explained "I am a life" means "I am a life."

The former missionary told of the sunrise prayer services held every Sunday in the Congo and in the Congo on the equator, the sun rises at 6 a. m. and sets at 6 p. m. the year around.

She quoted a prayer of a native to show the change made in his life. "I have placed the book of life in your hands and taught us to use them. We have placed the book of life in your hands, teach us to use it."

Language developed The people with whom she worked had no written language. The missionaries helped them to develop their own language, wrote text books for them and trained them to assist doctors and nurses.

Many natives have become school teachers or learned trades. She told the story of a young man, one generation from being a primitive cannibal who is now serving in a high government position. He will go to Belgium this summer and attend an 18-day meeting to help him in his educational program in the Belgian Congo. She also told of those who are now trained in the ministry.

Dinner is African Style The dinner was made similar to a meal in the Congo. The whole Fellowship hall was decorated with maps, charts, miniature native villages and curios of the dark continent.

It was held in connection with the topic on the school of missions in Africa to be studied this year.

Miss Wells retired from her work because of ill health, but is now active in youth work activities, directing schools of missions and in filling speaking engagements.

Joins Air Force

Clive M. Meunier, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martel Meunier, Twin Falls, recently enlisted in the U.S. air force, according to Dr. Henry O. Person, recruiter here.

Meunier took the oath at Ft. Douglas, Utah, and has reported for eight weeks of basic training at Lackland air force base, Texas. Upon completion of basic training, he will be assigned in a technical career.

Meunier is a 1959 Twin Falls high school graduate.

First Sequences Are Filmed in Twin Falls for Movie to Promote Idaho's Bean Industry

Patrick (Pat) Welch, producer of business promotion movies, adjusts his 16 millimeter Arriflex camera for a shot at Northrup King and company Saturday where he filmed six sequences for incorporation in a film, "The Sun, the Soil and the Water," which will promote Idaho beans and bean seeds. Welch is a former Twin Falls commercial photographer who left here eight years ago to form Pat Welch Pictures in Boise. He will film scenes from other Magic Valley areas for the 25-minute film which will be released in September. He recently shot scenes at Sun Valley and other area bean companies. Welch, who operated Idaho State Studios here for six years until he moved to Boise in 1952, was at Northrup King and company Friday and Saturday filming six Jackson Hole area. Welch is responsible for the entire production, including film work and script. Welch has been in the movie picture production business for eight years and likes the work because it is "more real-life" than "making pictures of babies and families."

Welch said the cost of producing promotional films has risen from $15,000 to $35,000 in the past. He shows throughout the United States for the Idaho bean commission on the television and in several four corners area in southwest for clubs and other organizations.

"This film is designed to show the viewer the benefits derived from beans," the photographer said Saturday. "Only the phrases which have been used in the past are 'the Idaho bean will be seen.'"

He stressed that a variety of shots will be taken to show the protein values of beans and some health benefits of the crop. At Northrup King, Welch spent three hours Friday setting up the lights and electrical equipment necessary for the shooting. He started early Saturday with filming and finished the six sequences by noon. The Northrup King sequence will constitute about 20 percent of the film.

The shots at Northrup King were taken of the electric combine machine and of an employee harvesting the beans and sorting out hulls. It was necessary for Welch to make up "takes" before he was satisfied with his shooting.

Welch said the accident occurred while the Oldsmobile was being driven from a driveway. The Oldsmobile apparently collided with the Chevrolet which was traveling on Sixth avenue east.

"The best liked feature of our new home is electric heat"

THE MILO A. JENSEN'S GOLD MEDAL HOME IN EMMETT, IDAHO

A REPORT FROM ONE OF THE 500 SNAKE RIVER VALLEY FAMILIES NOW ENJOYING ELECTRIC HEAT

MILO A. JENSEN, Emmett, Idaho.

Electric heat is every bit as grand as owners say. And it's completely practical and economical when you have—

1. Sound planning including provision for double windows and storm doors, taking into account location and exposure studies.
2. Proper installation by qualified people. Quality throughout will pay its way in savings.
3. Thorough insulation... again first quality and meeting Idaho Power's volume and density recommendations.

To help you acquire wonderfully-convenient electric heat when you build or remodel, an Idaho Power representative will gladly advise you.

2 Twin Falls County Youths Selected to Attend 4-H Meet

Robert Carlson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Carlson, and Robert Jackson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Jackson, both route 3, Twin Falls, recently were selected to attend the National 4-H club conference in Washington, D. C., April 23 to 27.

This is one of the highest honors in 4-H and only two boys and two girls are selected annually from each state to attend the conference. The two Idaho youths who will attend the conference are Ellen Meach of Jerome county, and Billie Jean Maas of Boundary county.

Both boys have an outstanding 4-H record of achievement and attended the National 4-H club conference in Chicago in 1958. Carlson won the 1958 trip as state field crops winner, and Jackson as state winner for boys agricultural program.

Carlson is a senior at Twin Falls high school and plans to enter the University of Idaho next fall. He is a member and junior leader of the "Fiddle" 4-H club led by Thomas Hovenden and has been a 4-H member since 1959.

Jackson was graduated from Twin Falls high school last June and is studying engineering at Whitman college at Walla Walla, Wash. He has been a 4-H member since 1953 and is a member and junior leader of the Junior Stock Raisers 4-H club led by Ivan Garrison. He is former president of the Gen State 4-H club, the state 4-H organization.

The delegates to the conference will be accompanied to Washington, D. C., by Donald R. Mitchell, assistant state 4-H club leader. The trip is being financed by the Sears, Roebuck company foundation and the remainder by individuals. The conference delegates will have the opportunity to visit many of the national shrines and buildings of the national capital, including Lincoln's Memorial, Mount Vernon, the federal bureau of investigation, the Belleville Research center, the Capitol building, White House, supreme court, Pentagon, and other tours.

They will attend discussions with high governmental officials and leaders of industry and education. They will have an opportunity to visit Idaho's congressional delegation and to meet President Eisenhower.

Plans are already being made for the Idaho conference delegates to make a trip to New York City after the conference which probably includes a tour of the city. If time permits a Broadway play of musical will be included in the itinerary.

Red Cross Movie Shown Workers

Friday evening at the Idaho Power auditorium.

Robert Jaeger, Portland, representative of the American Red Cross, discussed soliciting problems with the captains Louis B. Moreschi and Capt. James H. Brown, who presided in the absence of Italian President in Twin Falls J. Schwendman, chairman of the residential area in Twin Falls. A preliminary training program for distribution to the captains for their terms. Residential soliciting in some sections of Twin Falls will begin Monday, and continue through March, which is American Red Cross month.

Mrs. Howard Burkhardt received the blue pencil for her extemporaneous speech, "Politics should be honest," at a meeting of the Twin Falls Toastmasters club Friday morning at the Rogerson hotel. Other speeches included the tax-collector lesson by Mrs. Ruth Boone; table topics, "Politics is serious," by Mrs. James Mills; lesson on parliamentary procedure by Mrs. Gordon Tobin; ice breaker speech by Mrs. Robert Carlson.

by Mrs. Earl Haroldson, and "Adventures are underground," by Mrs. C. H. Middleton. Mrs. Mills, president, conducted the business meeting. Invitation was given by Mrs. LeRoy Arthington. Mrs. Tobin was toastmaster. A district speech contest will be held April 2 at Buhl.

Lincoln Unit Checks Draft 'Delinquents'

SHOSHONE, March 5—Members of the Lincoln county collective service board met this week to order restaurants.

Mrs. Eleanor Velasquez, Goeing, who handles both Lincoln and Gooding counties, reported five young men who have been delinquent since the first of the year.

Eighteen-year-old youths who fail to register with the selective service board within 10 days after their birthday anniversary are classified as delinquents. They will be inducted upon their 19th birthday anniversary without regard to fees or post-fines unless ordered otherwise.

Ordinarily, a registrant is not due for induction until he is 22 or 23 years old, because older men are available in their turn.

Mrs. Velasquez's office, located at 102 Main street, Gooding, and her hours are 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays and from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Thursdays. The office is closed on Fridays and Saturdays.

Members of the board who met with her here this week are Herb Lane, chairman, and Leon Peterson, both Shoshone; Lloyd Lee, Blighfield, and Gerald Press, Dierfeldt, Rupert. Missing is the third member from Shoshone.

Several of the registrants classified are still in high school.

Three Complaints Filed on Breakins

RUPERT, March 5—Missouri county sheriff's officers have alleged three complaints of breaking, entering and gas stealing which occurred recently in the Aquila district.

Two juveniles apprehended in connection with one case have been released to the custody of their parents, pending action of the juvenile authorities here.

The parties admitted breaking into the home of Frank Mohlman on the northwest project, and taking two radios, a helmet, electric razor, phonograph records and 45 cash.

The Cecil Noble home, near Aquila, was entered and $109 of church funds, a portable radio, 22 caliber pellet gun and ammunition taken, said Sheriff Theo Johnson. Most of the stolen things have been recovered with the exception of the gas and money.

Deadline on Tree Orders Reported

BOULEVARD, March 5—The deadline for ordering seed trees from the University of Idaho is Thursday, County Agent Glen Boddy reminds.

Application blanks can be picked up at the agent's office. Free will be mailed out if ordered by phone, he added.

The smallest order is 100 trees, but it can be made up of different kinds of trees, Boddy said. Trees come in bundles of 25.

Russian olive, siberian pea, mulberry, new, black locust, green ash, honey locust, Siberian elm, golden willow and hybrid poplar, are the hardiest available.

Services Set

SHOSHONE, March 5—Spring evangelistic services will be held at the First Baptist church here Wednesday through Friday at 8 p.m. at the church.

The Rev. Paul Winkler will preach and special musical numbers will be presented.

To launch the services, visitors will be made Sunday through Tuesday. Members of the church will go out in pairs to visit church members and related families.

Memorial for Musician Set

A library memorial has been established in memory of Mrs. M. C. Benner, late Twin Falls musician through the efforts of the Twin Falls Music club, says Arthur L. DeVolder, Twin Falls public librarian.

The memorial will be confined to musical recordings and music books according to the plan of the organization. The club, through its library chairman, Mrs. W. D. Wilson, has awarded the library two checks for $20 for which two books and two records have been added to the Twin Falls library music and record collection.

The two records added are "Symphony No. 5, opus 47," by Shostakovich, directed by Leonard Bernstein and featuring the New York Philharmonic, and "Images," by Debussy, a complete orchestration by Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic. The two books are "Encyclopedia of Concert Music," by David Ewen, a family guide to the world's instrumental music and "The Cole Porter Song Book," the complete lyrics and music to 40 songs and illustrated by Hal A. Lee.

In addition the club donated a check for $12.23 for new records to enlarge the adult musical record collection. With the money, the library has been able to obtain four new records, "La Creation Du Monde" by Milhaud and "L'histoire Du Soldat," by Stravinsky with the London Symphony orchestra directed by John Coates; "Piano Concerto No. 1 and No. 2" by Liszt and played by Wilfrid Knapp with Pittsburgh and the London Symphony orchestra; "60 Years of Music America Celebrates Best," an RCA Victor recording of 30 best sellers, and "Songs of Hawaii," with Charles K. L. Davis.

Eden News and Visits Reported

EDEN, March 5—Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rodostool and family have moved from their farm which they own in the veterans' drawing on the "Hunt" project. They are moving to Pendleton, Ore., to make their home.

Mrs. Gary Henry Schleich left for Kinville, Tex., to be with her husband who is stationed there with the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayla Pickert returned after visiting at Silver City, N. M., with their son and daughter-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. George Pickert and family. They also visited Carbondale and returned during the past month.

27 Cars Compete In Pinewood Meet

Some 27 cars were entered in a Pinewood "Bony" meet—the structure of pack No. 100, located at the First Christian church, Friday evening in the church basement.

Awards for speed were presented to Michael Andrews, Hraz; Vaughn Sweet, second; and Don Barrett, third. Construction awards went to Barnes, Hraz; Andy Hodkins, second; and Sweet, third.

The cars were run down a 48-foot ramp built and donated by the Wilcox Pinewood mill, Twin Falls. Members of the Order of Arrows supervised. Refrainments were served by members of the contestants.

Mrs. Burkhardt Is Winner of Pencil

Mrs. Howard Burkhardt received the blue pencil for her extemporaneous speech, "Politics should be honest," at a meeting of the Twin Falls Toastmasters club Friday morning at the Rogerson hotel. Other speeches included the tax-collector lesson by Mrs. Ruth Boone; table topics, "Politics is serious," by Mrs. James Mills; lesson on parliamentary procedure by Mrs. Gordon Tobin; ice breaker speech by Mrs. Robert Carlson.

A district speech contest will be held April 2 at Buhl.

OUR ANNUAL TREASURE HUNT

STARTS MONDAY

Odd lots and broken sizes of merchandise picked at random from throughout the store. Each one a treasure in itself, plainly marked and placed where it can easily be found. For example: A ridiculously low priced dress in the rack or we might place a lovely pair of nylons on a table to sell for as little as 10¢; then again, we might place a famous name brand sweater among a group of other articles to sell for only 2.98 and so on. There'll be hundreds of these items . . . every one priced so low they'll be fun to shop for. The treasure hunt lasts all day. Throughout the day, the "treasures" will be periodically replaced. Come early . . . you'll have loads of fun.

AUSTRIAN OLYMPIC SKIERS DOMINATE HARRIMAN CUP RACES

Castleford Wolves Knock Off Murtaugh 48-41 in District A Tourney

Austria's Women Finish One-Two In Slalom; Men's Champion is Hias Leitner

SUN VALLEY, March 5 (AP)—Austria dominated the Harriman Cup slalom today but there was grumbling, especially from France. Austria's Hias Leitner won the men's slalom in 68.2 seconds. Peppi Steiner was second in 68.4 and Ernest Oberhaider third in 68.8. In the women's slalom, Austria's 16-year-old Franzl Hechler won, with times of 47 and 46.8 seconds—93.8 total—for two runs through the 38-gate course. Her countrywoman Marianno Jahn, was second with 94.8.

Beverly Anderson of Millard, Ida, made the best showing for the United States—third in the men's slalom. In the women's slalom, Beverly Sittler of North, Vt., was fourth in 116.5 even though she fell on both her runs.

For the U. S. men, Chuck Fetter of Houghton, Mich., and Dan Hunter of Kellogg, Mont., tied for 14th and 22d places. Frank Brown of McGill, Ida., was 23rd in 76.1. Max Marlet of Aspen, Colo., was 26th in 80 seconds but Marlet was disqualified for making two errors.

The men's race was handled with one run only due to the steep Trestle Road mountain course. It was snowing heavily all day and this made visibility poor and skiing dangerous. But there was not enough snow at the top of the run's run so race officials would not allow the customary second run.

France's coach, Honoré Bonnet, wanted two seconds for his team. He felt his men could have overcome the one-run advantage of the Austrians. Bonnet also complained of the timing of the race starting times.

"Some of the racers jumped the gun by at least a second," said Bonnet. Olympic director Bill Champion, Jean Vuarnet, said the "thing" was ridiculous especially in view of the fact that the skiers had just come from the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley, Calif., where all races were run without incident.

Switzerland's Willy Forrer did not like it, either. He wanted to pull out of tomorrow's downhill because the second run in the slalom cut out.

"But Bonnet finally said, 'Oh, well, we are on a holiday,'" said Forrer. The Harriman competitors are all Olympic skiers this year. Competitors from 14 nations are in the slalom.

Dr. Otto Lorenz, president of the Austrian Ski Federation, was not at all concerned about the second run. "We'll take that one, too," he said, had it been run.

Austria's Leitner was a silver medal slalom winner in the winter Olympics this year. He placed fifth in the slalom at the 1956 Winter Olympics in Cortina, Italy, where he won a bronze medal in the downhill at Squaw Valley.

Austrian girls also placed fourth and fifth in the Harriman slalom—Hilde Hoehner with a time of 1:00.1 and Franzl Hechler, last year's Harriman winner, with 1:01.8.

Ernst Gammeterman and Karl Schranz of Austria tied with France's Adrien Davignon for second in the men's slalom. All were finished in 69.2 seconds. Charles Hizon of France was fourth in 70.2 seconds flat.

Villanova Is LC4A Track Field Champ
NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—Villanova won the LC4A track and field championships tonight with 27 points in a neck-and-neck battle with Yale. Yale won the half-mile relay, the last event on the program.

A crowd of 11,320 in Madison Square Garden saw Villanova grab its final five points by winning the mile relay after a sustained, heart-breaking setback when anchor man Dave Bain fell on the first turn.

Until then, Yale's fortunes had been about four yards behind Villanova. Bain appeared to be gaining on Villanova anchor man Bob Hamerov. Suddenly, as he hit the first turn, Bain slipped and went down. He scrambled to his feet and took out after Hamerov again, but by this time, he didn't have a chance. "Joe finished fifth in the event and wound up with 21 1/2 points," Joe Marchiony, a Manhattan prep-school student, told-off a Sports Illustrated reporter. "The record of 100 feet, 6 inches set in the championships back in 1951 by Al Bibo, of Georgetown."

Villanova got a big assist from John Buckley when he ran the mile broad jump with a 23-foot, 0 1/2-inch leap.

Magic Valley Outlaw Tournament Will Begin at Filer on Monday

FILER, March 5 (AP)—The third annual Magic Valley Outlaw Tournament will begin at the Filer high school gymnasium at 5 p.m. Monday, announces Lee Bartlett, tournament chairman. The event is restricted to teams from Magic Valley only. Faux Cigar store, Buhl, is defending champion. Bartlett said 15 teams have entered the tournament but added there is an opening for the final game of the first round Wednesday night. He invited any team to enter by contacting him at Filer. The final berth will go to an in previous case, first served basis.

Carey, Hunt Agree to Yankee Terms

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 5 (AP)—Veteran infielder Andy Carey and rookie outfielder Ken Hunt agreed to contract terms with the New York Yankees today, but Mickey Mantle still is not in the picture.

Carey, out most of last season with a blood disease, cleared for about $150,000, a cut of $30,000. He hit .257 in 41 games. Hunt hit .327 for Cleveland.

Mantle continued to stand his ground at his winter home in Dallas. He refuses to come here to discuss terms with George Weiss, the club's general manager.

Mantle has adopted a four-year policy toward the shagging outfielder. "We've been pampering this boy for nine years and I think it's time he acted like a man," Weiss said.

Mantle is battling a pay cut of $150,000 in his $750,000 yearly salary. "Tony Kubek is another holdout."

Pro Grid Loop Blocks NFL's Expansion

OAKLAND, Calif., March 5 (AP)—The new American Football League would not be a three-day meeting today by throwing another block against possible expansion by the established National Football League into Texas.

The NFL voted to block the first for switching an American franchise to the National League from $200,000 to $400,000.

"That would jolt most people," said Commissioner Joe Fox. The motion to increase the transfer liability was made by Lamar Hunt, president of the Dallas Texans, and was seconded by K. S. Adams, Jr., president of the Houston Oilers.

Most of Saturday's session was spent in preliminary discussions over scheduling.

Harry Winter, president of the New York Titans, said, "We wish to avoid scheduling conflicts with the NFL as much as we can."

Fox said the complete schedule can be made without having another league meeting.

Eddie Arcaro May Retire as Jockey

ARCADIA, Calif., March 5 (AP)—Jockey Eddie Arcaro says he may retire if he and three associates purchase Golden Gate Fields at Albany, Calif. He is one of four men negotiating for the purchase of the San Francisco bay area Las Fairbanks, Jr., Carroll Rosenbly, and the president of the ranch, Baltimore Colts; and Louis Chesler, King's Point, L.I.

Baltimore's Orioles used eight different players at second base last year.

Wolves to Meet Hagerman in Finals Monday

HAGERMAN, March 5 (AP)—The lightly favored Castleford Wolves pulled off another upset here tonight, winning the Murtaugh Red Devils 48-41 and putting into the championship finals against Hagerman. The two teams, both from the Southside conference, will meet at 8 p.m. Monday to decide the issue.

Utah State Knocks Off Denver 76-71

DENVER, March 5 (AP)—Gallant Utah State, leading for the entire game, Colorado State university 76-71 tonight in the final leg game for both teams.

The Utes finished second in the Skyline to over-beaten Utah, which secured by its final opponent, Colorado State university 76-71.

Not until the final minute did Utah State push back the Pioneers and finish the season with its 12th victory in 14 games.

Trading O-Gal, State's little Max Perry hit a driving layup and teammate Jerry Schofield added two free throws to make it 72-60. Denver's Steve Drake drilled a layup with 32 seconds left.

Then the Utes ended it on Tyler Wilson's tip and a pair of free throws by Cornell Green.

It was at the free-throw line that the Utes won, hitting 24 of 31 to overcome a five-goal deficit from the floor.

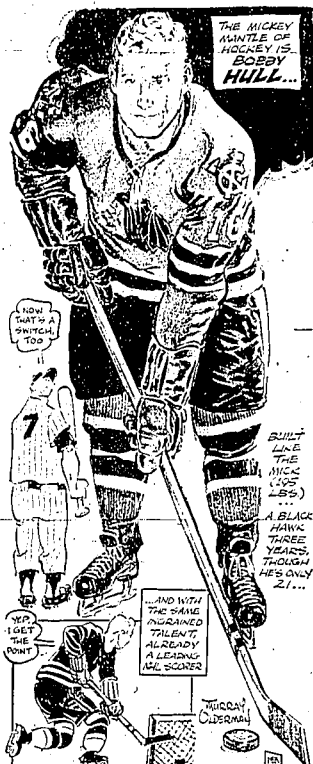

They trailed 40-36 at the half and were behind 53-42 and then at 56-45 with 11:47 remaining in the game.

Utah State hit 42.6 per cent of its field shots and 60.2 per cent of its free throws and Green for the Utes each had 16 rebounds.

Green had 25 points, 11 of them from free throws, and Denver's 6-5 Steve Drake scored 24.

The Washington Senators scored their 10th win in eight games, 5-1, in which pitcher Camilo Pascual pitched.

Census Taking to Include Counting More Than Heads

WASHINGTON, March 5 (AP)—The first census in 1960, the first to include more than heads, will take place in the United States. Census statistics also will be the basis for preparing out various federal aid funds and for planning new schools and highways. Businessmen will use them to adjust sales campaigns to changing markets. You'll probably have your first contact with the census late in March. At that time the government will send a copy of the preliminary statistics to every household on a mail route. The plan is for you to answer these questions before the arrival of the enumerator. He will transcribe the data to his own form. Questions to be asked of every one include name, relationship to head of household, sex, race, month and year of birth, and marital status. Similar data will be asked about any guest who may have stayed overnight at your home on March 31. Household Questions All householders will be asked about cooking facilities, water supply, flush toilets, bathtubs and showers, number of rooms in the dwelling and whether the quarters are owned or rented. At every fourth household, the enumerator will leave a more detailed questionnaire to be filled out and mailed to the nearest census office within three days. Among other things, Uncle Sam will want to know the size, age and value of the living quarters. He'll also ask whether the residents own an auto, TV set, radio, washing machine, clothes dryer, food freezer or air conditioner. Special Questions Every person in every fourth household will also be asked about his job, income, education, ancestry and commuting arrangements. Despite their best efforts, census takers won't reach everybody—some are sure to be missed. The states will be given credit for two million people in 1960, when 121 million were counted. Hoping for greater accuracy this year, the agency has adopted new census—the 18th since George Washington's first census in 1790. The second year began last fall with an enrollment of 174 students. The school is authorized to operate a grammar school, high school and college. It began by offering two years of college work. This year it added the junior level and next year it will add the fourth year.

Nine Magic Valley Residents Born Feb. 29 Attend Pot-Shots Party on Anniversary

These are the '29ers' who turned out for the Pot-Shots party Monday night to celebrate their important Leap Year birthday anniversaries. From left, seated, are Mrs. Arthur L. Reese, Castelford; Mrs. A. L. Wirsching, Twin Falls; Mrs. Lester Cooley, Wendell; Mrs. Ruth L. Bender, Twin Falls; and Mrs. James Brooks, Hazelton; standing, G. W. Daniels, Murtaugh; Angus A. Spence, Twin Falls; Lewis Dillon, Hazelton, and Frank Gellatly, Twin Falls. For nearly four hours they dined on steaks and discussed their lives and experiences. Most of them had never known another person born on Leap Year day. However, Mrs. Wirsching and Spence were neighbors for 12 years without being aware of the other's birthday. (See photo-coverage.)

Short Item in Pot Shots Leads to Feb. 29 Party

Because of three short paragraphs in the Times-News on Feb. 29, nine Magic Valley people born on Feb. 29 got together last Monday for a birthday party held by Pot Shots. The little item merely pointed out that folks born on Feb. 29 have only one great birthday anniversary every four years. It suggested readers send in names of those born on that date so they could be wished a "happy birthday." Suggests Party Appearing in the column Jan. 27 was a little note signed by Mrs. Irene Cooley, Wendell, noting that she would observe her 14th anniversary this year. Later, Mrs. Cooley wrote again to suggest that Pot Shots sponsor a birthday party for the "29ers" but so on the line "Up the idea." Finally, Pot Shots offered to sponsor the party and asked how many "29ers" observing at least their first birthday were willing to attend such a party. Nine readers answered and "it was prearranged" in the Pine room at the Rego-Croan hotel. They are Mrs. A. L. Wirsching, Mrs. Ruth L. Bender, Angus A. Spence and Frank Gellatly, all of Twin Falls; Mrs. James Brooks and Lewis Dillon, both Hazelton; O. W. Daniels, Murtaugh; Mrs. Arthur L. Reese, Castelford; and Mrs. Lester Cooley, Wendell. Old Acquaintances Mrs. Wirsching glanced around when she entered the room, then asked Spence, "Were you born on Feb. 29? Here we lived next door to each other about 12 years and I never knew that!" To her surprise, she learned that two "29ers" living in adjacent houses, Mrs. Wirsching noted only one of every 1,400 births occurs on Feb. 29. She has a daughter born March 1, but in the "around year." However, most of the "29ers" reported little or no contact with others born on that date. An exception was Dillon who reported a buddy in the first marine division during the Korean conflict was born on the same day. Except for the matter of observing birthday anniversaries, all agreed they had no special experiences because of the once-every-four-years anniversary. Concerning advantages of the birth date, Spence commented, "This first meal is the only one I've had to fast!" Most of them admitted they thought of the idea of a birthday party was "just another party" until Mrs. Wirsching's note. She was suspicious right up to the minute a Big New York cut steak was placed in front of him. Dates Discussed There was some discussion of expiration dates appearing on drivers' licenses because all specify the license expires on Feb. 29, regardless of the year. Spence, a Twin Falls policeman, explained the notion isn't illegal because of a special passage in the law on driver's licenses. Other than that, the problem of birthday parties when they are children and the matter of their own children having a greater number of birthday anniversaries provided most of the common experiences. Mrs. Cooley pointed out, "My son is three years older than I am, and Mrs. Reese said she and her husband were born on Feb. 29." Asked how he felt when he was informed of his birthday plight by his parents, Gellatly said, "It was like saying 'Hello, I had when they told me there wasn't any Santa Claus!'" Mrs. Wirsching reported she was the second baby born in San Francisco on Feb. 29, 1904, thus missed out on a host of prizes offered for the first Leap Year baby. Recalls Party Tragedy Mrs. Brooks recalled friends had difficulty identifying herself and a sister when they were girls, which led to a birthday party tragedy. Because of the Feb. 29 birth date, a neighbor decided to have a special party for her when she was about 12 years old. It was to be a surprise, but Mrs. Brooks missed her own party when the neighbor became confused and invited the wrong sister! "While visiting during the year," she recalled, "I had a party and I developed that Mrs. Cooley, Mrs. Wirsching and Daniels were observing their 14th anniversaries." Mrs. Cooley reported she has a daughter born on Feb. 29, 1958, and all agreed that would be much worse than being born on Feb. 29. Outline Their Lives After dinner, all of the guests outlined the high points in their lives, although each insisted there was nothing extraordinary to report. Mrs. Wirsching came to Idaho on a "make my way" when she was 18. She came to Twin Falls, married, has three children, and has been a nurse in Twin Falls since 1922 and now is a public health nurse. Daniels, born in Kansas, came to Idaho in 1922 and is a public health nurse. (Continued on Page 21, Column 1)

School at Albion Again Builds Staff, Student Rosters

ALBION, March 5—After a long and varied history, the school now called Magic Valley Christian college is once again building up its staff and student enrollment. The campus was built originally in 1941, the legislature changed the name to Southern Idaho College of Education. By the time the school was closed in 1951, some 6,000 teachers had been certified here to teach in Idaho schools. In 1957 the legislature passed a bill authorizing the state land office to sell or lease the campus to a state-owned campus has been leased to a private college. The college is under the control of a self-perpetuating board of trustees. The school is operated as a private, non-denominational school. According to the college president, Dr. George W. DeHoff, the school opened in September, 1958, with 114 students. The second year began last fall with an enrollment of 174 students. The school is authorized to operate a grammar school, high school and college. It began by offering two years of college work. 52 Per Cent of Nation's Securities Held by Women

NEW YORK, March 5 (AP)—The wheels, racing in the brain of the nation's stockholders, are turning. It's not the "29ers" who are the focus of attention, but the women who hold the majority of the nation's securities. "More than half the country's investment funds are controlled by women," says a report from the Investment Company Institute. "They range from the sentimental female who holds a single share of stock in an auto firm (she rode on her first date in one of its cars) to the businesswoman who builds up a $25,000 stake in two million dollars through shrewd investments keeping a hand in management." Securities men say basically there is no difference between men and women stockholders. But, says one broker, "when a woman makes a stock purchase, she's making an investment. It doesn't say to buy 'terrible' stocks." "But if it goes up, she's the one who is smart." "They listen to what they hear in social bars and at the bridge table," says an investment adviser. "Then they come in with a 'terrible' stock." "You're trouble," says a Wall Street veteran. "You don't talk to a woman like you can a man. If you're making money, fine, but they blame you personally if they are not doing well."

Short Item in Pot Shots Column Led To Party for Adults Born on Feb. 29

It is estimated that there are only one in 1,460 people born on Feb. 29. In Idaho, there are only three. One of them is Angus Spence, who was born on Feb. 29, 1956. He is a 40-year-old man who lives in Twin Falls. He is a member of the Pot Shots club, which is a group of people who were born on Feb. 29. They meet every year to celebrate their birthdays. This year, they had a party at the Hudson Hotel Pine room. Angus Spence was the guest of honor. He was presented with a large birthday cake. The cake had four candles on it, which represented the four years between his birthdays. Angus Spence is a successful businessman. He owns a large farm near Marsing, Idaho. He is also a member of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. He is a very active member of the community. He has been involved in many projects over the years. He is a very kind and generous man. He is always willing to help others in need. He is a true leader in his community. He is a man who is respected and admired by all who know him.

This home-made smoker was converted from an old icebox. A one-burner electric plate provides sufficient heat to generate abundance of smoke from three-inch pieces of apple wood. Wild ducks and venison round steaks are cured at same time in this operation by Vernon Rich, federal aid coordinator for the fish and game department. Before smoking meat or fowl, it should be dipped into boiling hot solution of three pounds of salt, one pound of brown sugar and six ounces of molasses in three gallons of water. Organization of Rock Creek Ranchers Nears Anniversary; Problems Recalled

On March 17, the Western Stockgrowers' association, organized by Rock Creek ranchers, will have been organized 40 years.

Throughout its history, the association has been confronted with a variety of problems, but among the most recurring has been rustling.

When the first meeting was held in 1919 in the town of Tarry, just near the Rock Creek postoffice, the Twin Falls tract was still sparsely settled. There were a few hard time and one source of meat was cattle that grazed the country.

At that time the cattle belonged to the Utah Construction company and individual ranchers who formed associations in response to forest service requests.

On Aug. 7, 1911, association records note that J. H. Rice, one of the Rock Creek ranchers, was appointed to assist in the capture of a band of horse thieves supposed to have stolen horses from the range near Rock Creek.

L. P. (Pet) Larsen, now 77, who was born at Rock Creek in 1862, explains this situation today in terms of 17 saddle horses by a Henry Workman.

Workman had led the 17 saddle horses through the mountain trails into Utah and taken them into Lemhi, Wyo., where he was caught. J. H. Rice and the local sheriff went ahead and then went to get the horses. The horses were brought back, but Workman got away, recalls Larsen.

On March 3, 1913, association records note the reward incentive was raised from $500 to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of rustlers. Larsen said some rustlers on the track were so "hung up" during this period they were killing association beef for food, and they had to be stopped.

Records Note Incidents
During the next two years, the records contain references to the rustling of several entire herds, some of whom were potential offenders.

Mention also was made again and again about rustling and books to members and other associations. Occasionally it was noted

Uses Old Iron

A branding iron owned by L. P. Larsen is perhaps the oldest in Twin Falls county.

It was made in 1860 by Robert Bruce, Rock Creek, and is still used to stamp the Two Circle brand on Larsen's cattle. The iron was made for his uncle, Neph Larsen.

Some members might be branding collection cases when they had no right to do so. The association passed a resolution that any member branding a "milk cow" would be fined $50 for the first offense and twice that amount for the second.

It seemed on a certain summer rancher who might have sent only steers out on the public range would end up with calves just like other ranchers who had sent out cows. The association insisted that all orphan calves should be reported to directors and sold to the highest bidder, with the money going into the association treasury.

A bizarre case of rustling occurred in 1911 which caused more than a little comment around the country. "Deceitful" of original ranchers still talk it up on occasion.

Case Is Recorded

The record notes a cattle detective was paid $228 in wages, plus $150 for extra reward in solving the Curtis case.

Larsen explains the case concerned a horse-stealer named Cottonwood rancher who had been suspected of stealing beef, although he and his partner, Curtis, still claim the beef belonged to H. Larsen, the first association president and also the late father of Russell C. (Bud) Larsen, present Twin Falls county commissioner.

Larsen "knew" Curtis had stolen his beef, but neither he nor the cattle detective was able to locate the hide to establish proof.

A thorough search was made of the Curtis homestead but the hide still didn't turn up. Finally, Larsen notified the pile of manure in the corral and he said, "Let's look that pile of manure apart and see if it is buried there."

Sure enough, the hide was buried in the manure, but it was cut into strips. The pieces had to be identified as the brand could be read. It had the Two Circle Circle brand registered to H. Larsen, as supposed.

Other Cases and other records

Other cases and other records are noted in the records. In the late 1920s the county sheriff's office assumed responsibility for brand inspections. Mention is made of Warren Lowery.

"Glamor" Didn't Govern Pay for Early Cowboys

Wages and glamor apparently don't go hand in hand apparently. History has been kind to cowboys, but ranch loggers show they were paid less than the cowboys.

In 1922, the Western Stockgrowers' association paid riders a monthly wage of $100 but the riders received $50. Three years later wages for a cook rose to $80, but the riders still were paid $50.

In 1925 it was resolved not to pay more than $100 for a cook. But that was a resolution made on the basis of riders didn't get too much money.

New Test for Milk Mastitis Will Be Used

A new test for determining mastitis in milk brought into area executives will be using the test in the near future.

Geodon Hopson, Jerome, Idaho bureau of dairy industry, said diagnosis of mastitis will be checked for mastitis by the Whitehead test within a month's time.

The Whitehead test does not determine the bacteria count in the milk, instead it determines the quantity of cell bodies in the milk, which increases when the udder is inflamed.

Hopson said the test is only 10 per cent effective because recent freshening cows and cows late in their lactation period also may deposit abnormal amounts of cell bodies in their milk.

He said the purpose of the test is to help the dairyman become alert to a potential outbreak in his herd and help him pinpoint which animals are infected even before the obvious symptoms appear.

There is no reason for any delay in the test because it is simple and a positive report, he added, then goes on and you have a box of penicillin tubes.

There is no penalty attached to the finding of a positive report, he noted.

Entomologist Plans for Insect Self-Destruction

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UPI)—Edward F. Knippling has developed a new method of insect control, eradication by self-destruction.

Knippling is the agriculture department entomologist whose plan is to release male screwworms, sexually sterilized by irradiation, to eliminate this pest of livestock in the southwestern states and on the island of Curacao.

Knippling now proposes (1) development of chemicals to produce sterility in male and female insects; (2) production and release of diseased insects to infect and kill their kind; and (3) production and release of insects having insecticidal properties which eventually would destroy an insect race.

Knippling said these methods might prove more effective than present methods of insect control.

Use of Wheat Per Capita in U.S. Is Down

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UPI)—The agriculture department reported today consumption of wheat in the United States averaged 166 pounds per person in 1959, down one pound from a year earlier.

Per capita consumption in 1958 held at the 1957 level of 167 pounds, the first year since 1949 that showed no decline. The per person rate in 1959 was 28 per cent below the 1929 pounds in 1925.

Because of the increase in population, total consumption of wheat for food declined by a smaller percentage from 1945 to 1959 than per person consumption.

The total consumption for 1959 was 481 million bushels, down only 3 per cent from the 495 million in 1958. However, in recent years, consumption rate was 315 pounds.

'59 Wool Clip In State Tops Output in '46

BOISE, March 5 (UPI)—Idaho's short wool production last year, estimated at 10,727,000 pounds, was the largest in the state since 1946, the USDA crop reporting service says.

The report said the 1959 production was about six per cent more than 1958.

The average price received for short wool during the period from 1957-1959 through January, 1959, was 45 cents per pound. That compares with 38 cents per pound received during the comparable marketing season a year earlier.

The USDA estimated the value of last year's clip at $483,000. In 1958, the value was $2,850,000. The 10-year average for 1948-57 was $5,561,000.

Prices and value figures quoted do not include government payments under the wool-incentive program.

There has been an increase in total consumption. The 481 million in 1959 represented a 3 per cent increase from the 468 million bushels in 1958.

Thirty years ago, the per person consumption rate was 315 pounds.

Utah Joins California Ban on Idaho's Cattle Over Scabies

Utah has joined California in placing a scabies embargo on Idaho cattle effective Feb. 23, but the notice just reached area stockyards.

The embargo notice also includes Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. Cattle ready for slaughter don't have to be dipped for scabies; a permit accompanies them at the unloading point.

But feeder cattle have to be dipped.

No additional cases of scabies have been reported in Idaho since the first outbreak was reported in eastern Idaho and in the Boise area in August, 1957. The state waived dipping requirements for Idaho cattle to be slaughtered within 30 days after arrival, providing they are cleared by a bill of health.

Agents for Bean Companies Begin Contract Signing

Fieldmen for at least four contracts bean companies visited farmers last week to sign them up for the approaching bean season.

Companies taking contracts are Rogers Brothers, Northrup-King, Cornwell and Agrow. The fieldmen reported that generally the overall prices will be the same as last year, except for a few varieties, which will be higher. The total acreage that will be planted under contract also is expected to be similar to last year's plantings.

Seven Per Cent Increase Listed For Meat Output

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UPI)—The crop reporting board says production of red meat in commercial plants in January totaled 2,292,000 pounds, up seven per cent from January, 1959.

Best production in January was six per cent above that of January a year ago, veal was up one per cent, pork up nine per cent, while lamb and mutton output showed a decline of nine per cent from a year earlier.

Poultry meat output for January totaled 400 million pounds, less than a year ago. This was two per cent above January, 1959, but 10 per cent below December, 1959.

Unwilted Mixture Not Conducive to Growing Heifers

WASHINGTON, March 5 (UPI)—The agriculture department says dairy heifers eat sparingly and grow slowly when fed silage made from freshly chopped, wilted grass-legume mixtures.

Department scientists said this slowdown presumably occurred because some unidentified organic compound which formed during fermentation of silage decreased the appetite of the animals.

owned school. It is free of political control. It can train young persons for church leadership - which is prohibited by law in most states - and a private school can specialize in training outstanding students in special subjects. "Here we can teach what we do well. A private school must be a specialty school, rather than a department school. Here at Magic Valley Christian College we intend to specialize in liberal arts and the BA and BS degrees and pre-professional training. Both types needed.

Spreading of private and state-owned schools, Dr. DeHoff says. "Both types are needed, they are supplementary rather than competitive." "Although most of the students are from Idaho, and the majority from Magic Valley, Dr. DeHoff notes that students are from 23 states. Idaho, California, Washington and Oregon lead the list in that order.

Dr. DeHoff says the students themselves are the best advertisement for the school. "They attend school for a year and then return home and convince other students to attend the new college. Dr. DeHoff believes one of the reasons for the big jump in enrollment this year is because many parents throughout the valley wanted to send their children to a college where they would be well educated. About half of the students work part-time while they are attending college. They work in Albion, Burley and Rupert. Dr. DeHoff says, "Many of the students are working their way through college. We believe in the principle of hard work as a solution to our problems." He says about 25 of the students are helping finance their college education with national peace student loans.

Expansion Planned "The school plans to add departments and degrees at a slow rate and keep within the school's budgetary limitations. The first proposals to offer degrees only in a limited number of fields such as Bible, English, social science, mathematics and science, education, physical education and home economics. The first degree will be granted in May, 1961.

A faculty report says, "It is impossible to have a college accredited either by the Northwest Association or by the state department of education until it has successfully operated for a certain period of time. If we wait for either of these organizations to tell us to add our two years, they would never be added at all. The proper procedure is to have our recommendations to be operated successfully and then apply for approval."

"Similar assurance has been given by Dr. J. P. Sanders, dean, Peppercorn college, Los Angeles. When these two colleges accept our work, there is no doubt that others will do the same." Magic Valley Christian college will be one of the first to fall approval by the state board of education and to entrance into the Northwest association.

"The school has adequate facilities for 400 to 500 students for a four-year college, according to Dr. DeHoff. There are 41 acres on the campus, containing 22 buildings. Some of the buildings are in disrepair, but the college has spent $27,000 already in various repairs on the buildings, according to Dr. DeHoff.

In addition to Dr. DeHoff, who teaches Bible in addition to his administrative duties, the school has a staff of 15. Next year, when senior classes begin, Dr. DeHoff says the school plans to add about ten or twelve more instructors, probable in the departments of social science, business administration, chemistry, education and art. The college doesn't plan to broaden its present offering. "Dr. DeHoff says the staff intends to strengthen present departments and add more courses in science and classes as the demand arises and when the college can afford them.

Each Family Urged to Aid Burley Drive

BURLEY, March 5 - Frank Buhl, chapter chairman of the Red Cross fund drive for 1959, says if every family in Cassia county would give a dollar, the chapter quota of $2,000 could be reached easily. The county fell short of $100 last year by collecting only $1,900.

Expenditures of the 1959 fiscal year included seven home service visits, $100.00 in postage, $100.00 in telephone calls, $100.00 in newspaper advertising, $100.00 in office supplies, $100.00 in printing, $100.00 in travel, $100.00 in miscellaneous expenses. $500.00 chapter reimbursements for water safety, $100.00 contributions to the national program, $120.00.

Donations passed the county for the fine response to the recent blood program. The county has gone over its quota the last two times the bloodmobile has been in Burley, he noted.

Robert Lynch is fund drive chairman. DeHoff Fenton will handle business collections and Jack Snow will direct residential calls.

Joe Preston, Declo, and Leon Street, Burley, are responsible for the fund drive in the rural areas. Chairman Named

Other area chairmen in the county are Farmington, Minner, Mrs. Auel Zollinger, Sublett; Milton Nelson, Malta; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Barker, Alma; Mrs. Don Clark, Oakley; Walter Amende, Gordon; Walter, Polka; Mrs. Lesma Bean, Starbuck; Mrs. and Mrs. Scott Loveland, View; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Garner, Umtah; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Remanson, Springdale, and Mrs. Winfield Hurst, Declo.

Collections have begun in the county.

Acquitted

LOS ANGELES, March 5 (P) - "But, your honor, my car went to 40 miles an hour. It was in a 25-mile zone. Made that plea yesterday. Judge Joseph Wagner decided to find me not guilty." With his ballist at the wheel, Judge Wagner took a ride on the freeway, 1954 auto.

Franklin was right. The car wouldn't do 40. Acquitted.

Billy, business manager with Charles Hammer as 1959 chapter chairman, was fined $25 and sentenced to 10 days in jail yesterday by Judge Fred Eberhardt for being drunk in a public place. Healy was unable to pay the fine and is serving the time in the city jail.

Yesno S. Torres, Jerome, was fined $40 and sentenced to 10 days in jail Thursday by Judge Eberhardt on the same charge.

Rites Held for Hagerman Man

HAGERMAN, March 5 - Funeral services were held Thursday for Albert W. Dunker at the Hagerman Methodist church. The Rev. A. E. Gilbert officiated.

Mrs. E. B. Thompson played prelude and postlude music and accompanied Mrs. Fred Robert, and Mrs. Robert Oatman who sang. Pallbearers were Dan O'Connor, Joe Gardner, Merle Oasley, G. P. Russell, Glenn Hendrickson and Frank Glauert.

Concluding rites were held at the Hagerman cemetery.

Handling Rifle Is Part of Gun Safety Course

Robert Pellygrove, Hansen, a member of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, instructs a student at Hansen Junior High school in the rudiments of handling a rifle. The student is David Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Crockett, Hansen. This is just one of the many things taught students in the course jointly sponsored by the Fish and Game department, the Idaho Fish and Game association, and the National Rifle Association. The state of California estimates it has lowered accidents 10 times with such a program. (Staff photo-Engraving)

Trio Has Much Experience Directing Gun, Hunting Safety Class at School

HANSEN, March 5—A class in gun and hunting safety just concluded at Hansen High school is representative of the many such programs carried out throughout the state each year under the sponsorship of the Idaho state fish and game department, various conservation clubs, and the National Rifle Association.

The Hansen high school program was sponsored by the department, the SIRA and the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association.

Classes were taught by Fred Edwards, conservation officer, and H. L. (Bud) Daily and Robert Pellygrove, both Hansen and members of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association. The same trio has conducted the course at Hansen, Kimberly and Starbuck for a number of years.

The purpose of the program is to teach youngsters the care and use of firearms and some of the reasons for the laws governing their use. It is the aim of the program to create a more knowing public concerning fish and wildlife, hunting and to reduce the number of accidental shootings.

This is a statewide program that has been entered out for several years. The Hansen high school course is a good example of the type of program.

The course is given to seventh or eighth graders. The course usually alternates years in the schools and unless a student wishes students will receive some firearms instruction by the time he is graduated.

The course lasts three days and required attendance is the policy of most schools. One hour is devoted each period and the classes usually are held on consecutive days. Both boys and girls attend.

Edwards says, "The reason we like to have girls in the class is that about 40 per cent of the accidents happen in the home. Through instruction, we feel the girls will learn something about firearms and this will cut down accidents in the home. And the reason we like to have all the students attend the course is that statistics show one out of two persons in Idaho acquire some time in the handling of firearms."

Between the three sponsoring organizations, personnel, textbooks, films, pamphlets, charts and pellets guns are supplied for class use.

Edwards notes that all the schools in this area have been cooperative in devoting time and classroom space for the program. Most of the schools schedule the classes during the students' physical education class time. This way the course fits into the school schedule and doesn't conflict with classwork.

Edwards explains the classes usually are given to seventh and eighth graders because that is the time students are most curious about such matters and it is the time that most of them are getting their first hunting license.

During the first hour, students are told of the importance of such training, and statistics are cited to show about such matters and it is pointed out that California studies reveal students who have had firearms training are 10 times less accident-prone than students lacking training.

Later in the first session the instructor gets into the actual demonstration of various types of firearms and certain characteristics of each arm are pointed out. For instance, students are taught it is dangerous to mix ammunition and that about 20-caliber shell placed in a 12-gauge shotgun can cause a serious explosion, that barrel obstructions can cause serious personal injury, and that one should always hunt with the safety on, but that once a safety isn't a sure defense against accident.

The nomenclature of firearms is an important part of the first class. The correct names—rifle, muzzle, trigger and safety are a few of the more important parts of a firearm and are explained.

And Edwards adds, "After we explain the parts of the firearms we have with us, we ask the students to go home and ask their parents to explain the various parts of the firearms at home so they will be acquainted with their own family firearms."

Another point stressed during the first class is importance of storing guns and ammunition separately. At the conclusion of the first day, the students are given primary rules of gun handling. The rules are to treat every gun as if it was loaded, always point the gun in a safe direction and be sure of your target.

On the second day of the course, the various shooting positions are explained and taught, prone, sitting, kneeling and standing positions. These positions are demonstrated and some of the student's shots are displayed and the students are taught proper sight alignment. They also are taught trigger squeeze and breath control. These points are taught with pellet guns and a pellet trap.

Edwards also asks the students to give law enforcement agencies all their cooperation in reporting violations and to refrain from breaking the laws themselves. The third day ends with a 10- to 20-minute film on hunting safety.

Edwards says, "We like our attention to what it is in some sections of Europe and Asia, where the average man doesn't have access to the wild game, even if he is present, and that the privilege to hunt and fish belongs to those who are rich or politically powerful."

Edwards also asks the students to give law enforcement agencies all their cooperation in reporting violations and to refrain from breaking the laws themselves. The third day ends with a 10- to 20-minute film on hunting safety.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Earl Haroldsen Has Contributed Good Deal of Energy to Community Service

Since 1954, when he first moved to Twin Falls, Earl Haroldsen, electrical manager of the Idaho Power company, has contributed a good deal of time and energy to community service.

Recently he completed a term as president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and currently serves as a director and will serve on this board for another year. He has been a member of the industrial development commission of the chamber since 1954.

He is also active in professional work. During 1959 he served as president of the Southwestern Society of Idaho Engineers, an educational and professional organization that draws its members from all engineers in the area.

When Haroldsen first came to Twin Falls he was division sales manager. Last September he was promoted to division manager. The division covers nine Magic Valley counties and has a staff of 15 employees. He is in charge of everything except electrical work which is under a different administration.

His first experience with industrial development commission began in Boise, where he served as chairman of the commission from 1951 to 1952. It was while he was chairman that the city was the first of many trailer house manufacturers to set up a factory there. There are now about 20 such factories with a combined business amounting to about 20 million dollars a year, according to Haroldsen.

A native of Idaho, Haroldsen was born on his father's farm near Idaho Falls high school town. He was just a boy he decided he wanted to work in some sort of electrical profession.

Haroldsen says the first time he became connected with electricity was when power was first installed on the farm. He was a freshman in Idaho Falls high school then.

One summer, he worked with an electrician installing wires in a house. This part of electrical work didn't impress him too much— one reason was because he and the electrician wired one house that was full of bees. "My process of elimination decided that electrical engineering was what I wanted to do," he says.

After graduating from Idaho Falls high school in 1930, he spent two years at what is now Idaho State college, and then two and one-half years more at the University of Idaho. He was graduated with a B.S. degree in electrical engineering in 1935.

While he was a student he decided he was most interested in power electricity engineering. Upon graduation he started work for the Idaho Power company. Except for a year with the Army during World War II, he has been with the company ever since.

He started working as an apprentice workman in Boise. This included everything from cleaning up to repairing appliances. Haroldsen believes this was excellent background work for posts he held later in the company.

Haroldsen became an apprentice engineer and worked on line crews. Then in 1937, he moved to Memphis and entered the sales department. He was a commercial industrial representative, who furnished customers with engineering advice. He was engaged in this work until 1942.

Immediately after taking the three-day exams for his Idaho engineering license, he received word from the government, he entered the service as a second lieutenant and was discharged as a captain in 1946. He was first in the army signal corps unit later transferred to intelligence. Haroldsen believes this was excellent background work for posts he held later in the company.

EARL HAROLDSEN

Haroldsen says that the average customer that the car salesmen find is shopping for a new car. This same selling technique is applied to selling industry on Twin Falls. On occasion, the commission has been accused of not being an industry, but Haroldsen explains that a certain amount of secrecy must accompany such work. The industry demand it, and it's a matter of good salesmanship.

You must first convince the customer that the car salesmen are not in it for the money. And one of the things to avoid is to let the competition see you. In shopping for a new car, this same selling technique is applied to selling industry on Twin Falls. On occasion, the commission has been accused of not being an industry, but Haroldsen explains that a certain amount of secrecy must accompany such work. The industry demand it, and it's a matter of good salesmanship.

It is the commission's job, to supply information to industries in search of a new location and help them find a building site. Haroldsen notes that the public can do much to further the work of the commission and help encourage industry to locate in Twin Falls. They can help, he says, "by being sold on the town and doing everything from fixing up the appearance of their own homes and businesses to working on community projects, such as a civic auditorium, sewage plant and better schools."

He adds that a friendly attitude towards strangers can do much for industry. "Visitors to a community are impressed with the people that live there," Haroldsen says. "And if the people are friendly, the word gets around."

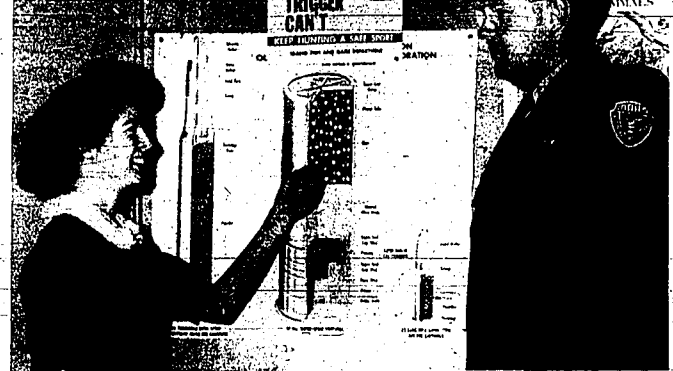

In addition to being active in industrial development and Chamber of Commerce work, Haroldsen also served as president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at high school, 1934, and in 1935.

Most of his service time was spent in Washington, D. C., at the Pentagon. There he worked in radio and radar countermeasures. The main mission was to intercept intelligence information received from operatives and plot the enemy's radio and radar work against it and try to second-guess the enemy in the many aspects of electronic warfare.

When he was discharged, he returned to the Idaho Power company and sales work. One of the biggest jobs he had was designing the electrical system for the new Idaho Falls power plant. He was discharged as a second lieutenant and was discharged as a captain in 1946. He was first in the army signal corps unit later transferred to intelligence. Haroldsen believes this was excellent background work for posts he held later in the company.

Standing below a sign that warns, "Think you trigger Earl?" a student and instructor had over the trigger of a regular shotgun. The student is Nancy Meinhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walton, Hansen, Fred Edwards, Idaho Fish and Game department conservation officer, is the instructor. It is the object of the course given at Hansen High school, and the state, to provide education in firearms safety so the accident rate can be lowered. (Staff photo-Engraving)

K-9 Club Elects Officers at Meeting

Jeanine Blades was elected president at the first meeting of the K-9 Club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. O. Skinner, leader. The club was formed after instruction by the time he is graduated.

Other officers are Larry Floy, vice president; Johnnie Light, secretary; and Patricia Light, reporter. Mrs. Blades led a discussion of the first two chapters of the club's book, "You and Your Dog." Mrs. Skinner discussed dog safety and told members to watch their dogs for signs of irritability because, even though dogs are wonderful pets, they can be dangerous if they don't get well. Mrs. Skinner displayed a show reel.

Men Fined

Clarence Mason, 22, and James Lee, 21, were fined by Probate Judge James G. Covert this week on "check" charges. Roy Stevens, 31, Boise, was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in the county jail for failing to check without sufficient funds. He was brought to Gooding last week by law-trigger squeeze and breath control. These points are taught with pellet guns and a pellet trap.

Edwards also asks the students to give law enforcement agencies all their cooperation in reporting violations and to refrain from breaking the laws themselves. The third day ends with a 10- to 20-minute film on hunting safety.

"Dress-Like a Million...
Not Like a Million Others"

Gala Grand Opening

The most exciting, new modern store in all of Idaho will formally open Tuesday, March 8th, at 9:30 a.m. You, the women of Magic Valley, who have shown your appreciation of quality merchandise at budget prices have helped make this move possible.

The beautiful front of our new store, located next door to our former location at 136 Main North

You'll enjoy the beauty and spaciousness inside, which permits us to offer you greater selections

To show our appreciation of your past patronage we have selected, at random, throughout the store,
FANTASTIC BARGAINS!
