Hal Has Package Troubles And Passes on Information

By HAL MOYLE
 NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The pure muscular strength is no longer of real genius in America today's one ability to open a package. He will find he also needs dexterity—not a particular package, just bits, scientific ingenuity, logic, and common sense—and often all an old-timer is a man who can get help he can muster. Here are a few tips on how to open a package:
 1. Try to catch it by surprise. Call the name of the package and see what you can do with it. You may find it is a simple matter to open a package.

After it quits struggling and goes away with the hour, but in less than for the third time, let it than a week they'll not only look for two days and nights. Find the package, it will be sure to take the light out of anything else.
 But if people keep on busting open packages, they'll be sure to take the light out of anything else.
 If you have a pal who goes hunting, weaker, and packages can get into his air, tip and fire at any workable angle.

Judge Speaks On Discipline Lack at Meet

RUPERT, April 23—Lack of self-discipline was given as the cause for delinquency, whether in young people or adults by District Judge Byron Ward in a talk given Thursday night at a meeting of the Washington PTA.

Judge Ward noted that parents and home environment were the deciding factors in whether a child was taught self-discipline or not.

He outlined several different types of discipline which can lead to a lack of discipline in children including the threats parent—the one who makes threats which he or she both knows will not be carried out. Another type is the blind parent, the one who never sees what his child is doing. Judge Ward said this type could lead to a complete lack of regard for other people's rights and property.

Another type described by the speaker is the blustering parent or the one who never listens to his or her child could possibly commit some undecidable act, even when reliable evidence demonstrates otherwise. This child will be able, in his own mind, to transfer all blame for future acts to the shoulders of his parents, according to Judge Ward.

A special bronze medal was awarded John Lay, eighth grade student, for his entry in a creative writing contest sponsored earlier in the school year by the Hedd magazine. Mrs. Fred Hildebrandt, made the presentation.

The sixth grade chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Howard Drums, presented a program of choral music.

Howard Peck gave the invocation. Mrs. W. A. Douglas introduced the business meeting and election of officers.

Henry Meyer announced that Donald E. Walker, president of the state college, Pocatello, would be the featured speaker at the May meeting with the public being invited. Newly elected officers will be installed at the May meeting, he said.

Thoughts in Back of Adlai's Head Keeping Hank Puzzled

By HENRY McLEMORE

I spend a lot of time these days trying to figure out what goes on in the back of Adlai Stevenson's head.

If I know what goes on in the front part—thoughts of how to get to the presidential nomination. For the third time.

But that back action has me puzzled.

What makes him do it so much? What goes on in that back section? I keep on seeing him traveling all over the world like a footloose Atlemore.

And the letters aren't the usual tourist ones. He scarcely ever mentions the weather, the garbais and 1956, or have his television shows found or accepted. His is a nomination to get away from the white in a hard basket then, any.

Why does Stevenson make so many details about wanting the nomination? That isn't necessary, as you and I know. We don't want it either, but we don't say it more.

If he really doesn't want it, could make it impossible in 10 minutes. He could switch to the Italian party, and that would help him.

Foreigners aren't going to help him in Los Angeles. One baby blow over here worth a hundred kicked in Greece, Turkey, Russia or Ceylon. He may have the votes of all the pilots and stewardesses in his hip pocket, but that's not enough.

Some say that Stevenson has been traveling a mile a minute to prove he is not interested in the nomination, to get away from the white in a hard basket then, any.

Instead of making a speech, he could simply refer the public to the newspapers of November, 1952, and 1956, or have his television program—one based on the old saying that absence makes the detestable hearts grow fonder.

From what I can gather by reading the papers, the only two men who have any money are Senator Pauline Krass, Rupert, as arriving about the transport USS Mitchell with the first battalion, seventh marine regiment on a 14-month tour of duty on Okinawa.

That. Then, when the convention was over, he could do what Wayne Morse did and rejoin his old party.

I don't see why Stevenson would "sell" the nomination.

For one thing, campaigning wouldn't be half the job it was in 1952 and 1956. He could use all his old operators — wouldn't have to change them a lick. He said the country was going to you know where in a hard basket then, any.

Manhattan Cafe Eyes Reopening

SPOKANE, April 23—Owners of the Manhattan cafe here hope to re-open the business in the same location.

Owners of the building in which the cafe was housed, Bob Moore, Twin Falls, and Harry Baugh, Shoshone, have not discounted the insurance adjustments as yet and had no definite announcement to make, but Baugh stated he would like to see the cafe re-open.

The cafe itself was destroyed by fire early Monday morning when a fire blazed from an overcooked plate on the stove. The fire itself was caused by Mrs. Suzie Nakata, 11 (Chicken) Odehli, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ham. Loss in the cafe is estimated around $30,000.

Boise Man Writes Candidates But Only One Gives Answer

Editor, Times-News:

Prior to March 12, 1960, I wrote to the then announced candidates for the U. S. House and House of Representatives, asking them to make a public statement in the daily press as to just where they stood on a point for the aged veterans of World War I. I have not yet received a copy of a resolution to be approved at the Democratic state convention held in Twin Falls on March 12.

These letters and resolutions went out to Ralph Harding of Blackfoot, Compton J. White of Mountain Falls, A. W. Hill of Boise, Joseph H. Coors of Lapwai, The Honorable W. C. White of American Falls, Don McLaughlin of Boise, Joseph H. Coors of Lapwai, and the Honorable W. C. White of American Falls. He made the same statement to me in a letter. The balance here had plenty of time to answer my letters, or announce what action was taken at Twin Falls if any. Their silence seems to indicate they do not have the intellectual fortitude to face up to any vital question which concerns more than three million of our aged citizens, and the defenders of our country on many years ago.

This same resolution and letters were sent to John E. Martin, executive secretary of the Republican state central committee, John Walker, Boise, James Cummings of Twin Falls, and the Democratic state party, the Republicans also did not see fit to recognize the importance of the resolution, or my letters.

With the billions of dollars being thrown away on foreign aid, and the needless waste of the tax-payer's money on foolish projects in this country, then congress can find the money to pension the aged veterans of World War I. I am sure that you will pay close attention to whom you vote for in the coming election. Vote for the man who is not afraid to take a stand in public on any matter which is right.

All loyal Americans had better wake up at once to what is going on in Washington before it is too late, before we do wake up to find that we are under communist control, for we are too far entrenched with all foreign countries to be safe from their bombs, bullets, and would be one of the results, on a direct line from the mouth to the Manhattan House as they said the new missile base being built there.

Triple Murderer Begins Sentence

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 23—Edmond A. Gray, 20, convicted triple murderer, began serving three consecutive sentences of life imprisonment at Washington state prison today for the killings of three former Hume residents.

Gray was sentenced by Spokane superior court Judge Raymond P. Kelly, for the first degree murder of his 18-year-old wife, Donna, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Maier, in a farmhouse north of Spokane last Oct. 8.

Judge Kelly said he made the terms consecutive instead of concurrent because the state parole board has the power to release a first degree murder defendant under a single or concurrent term after 10 to 12 years in prison.

Mr. and Mrs. Maier farmed in Rupert for many years until moving to Spokane 10 years ago. Maier was born in Rupert.

Warren Dowd to Head Buhl Group

Buhl, April 23—Warren Dowd was elected president of the Buhl high school student body Thursday.

Other new officers elected for the coming year are Joe Hugard, vice president; Linda VanZante, secretary-treasurer; and Roy Peterson, sergeant-at-arms.

Senators elected from the various classes are Kelly Baxter, Dick Goff, Richard Morris, seniors; and Gerald Aklund, Walter Harper and Roger Newton, juniors.

Sophomore senators include Jim Griffith, Tom Kendrick and Peggy Reed. Sue Bonar, Alan Dowd and Craig Storti were elected senators from the freshmen class.

FRENCH DEATHS LISTED
 PARIS, April 23—Heart ailments, cancer and brain hemorrhages—in that order—were the main killers of half a million French last year.

Pennsylvania Race Betting Up for Vote

PHILADELPHIA, April 23 (AP)—The question of pari-mutuel gambling on harness races, a presidential preference vote, and two special congressional elections are the highlights of Pennsylvania's primary Tuesday.

This will be the state's first vote on legalization of gambling in any form. Actually, referenda will be held in only 14 counties but they include almost half of the state's population.

Clergymen Opposed
Clergymen have opposed the legalization. Proponents say the state now loses 10 to 20 million dollars a year in tax revenue from harness racing to adjoining states.

The referenda will be held under a new state law which permits four corporations — to be selected by a state harness race commission — to run 90 days of harness races with pari-mutuel betting, but only in counties which approve. Only the 14 counties which include Philadelphia and Allegheny with Pittsburgh—asked for a vote. A simple majority is needed to approve in any county.

Major Issue Alone
The presidential preference is complicated by the fact that only Vice President Richard M. Nixon is on the ballot. Writers are expected, however, and election boards plan to keep running tabulations of votes for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, New York, on the GOP side and for Adlai E. Stevenson and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas; John F. Kennedy, Massachusetts; Stuart Symington, Missouri; and Hubert H. Humphrey, Minnesota, on the Democratic side.

Legislation Discussed During Meeting of Engineers

Four representatives of the Society of Professional Engineers discuss legislation on the engineering law and changes in the law that would permit engineers to incorporate, which is not possible at present, during the quarterly conference Saturday at city hall. From left, seated, are L. R. Irvine, Salt Lake City, national director from Utah; Earl C. Reynolds, Jr., Boise, national state director, and L. R. Erickson, Boise, Idaho chapter president of the Idaho Society of Professional Engineers, and standing is Sherman Welteger, Boise, state secretary. Twenty-five new members were admitted to the society. (Staff photo—negative)

State Professional Engineer Group Concludes Meet Here

Wim Tammam, Bliss, exchange areas as soon as they graduate. A social hour preceded the banquet at 6:30 p.m. and wives of members were guests. Principal business was discussed at the general session at 2 p.m. Saturday at the city hall. Lett, Erickson, Boise, state president, conducted the meeting.

An amendment to the engineers law which would allow corporations to practice engineering in Idaho was discussed thoroughly. Also discussed was a proposal to enable engineers to take examinations to become professional engineers.

Retired Farmer Taken by Death

M. O. Kuykendall, 84, 221 Eighth avenue east, died at the Twin Falls hospital at 4:17 p.m. Saturday following a prolonged illness. Born April 28, 1875, in Galeburg-Neosho county, Kansas, he came to Twin Falls from Anthony, Kans., in 1910. He married Minnie E. Mullen April 9, 1899, in Anthony.

Mr. Kuykendall was a retired farmer and member of the First Baptist church in Twin Falls. Surviving besides his widow, are three sons, Charles Kuykendall, Chicago; Lawrence Kuykendall, Filer; and Lowell Kuykendall, Grand Forks, N.D.; three daughters, Mrs. Vida Campbell, Myrtle Creek, Ore.; Mrs. Helen Overstreet, Twin Falls; and a sister, Mrs. Nettie Laughlin, Victor. An infant son preceded him in death. Funeral services are pending at White mortuary.

MOTHER DIES
HAGERMAN, April 23—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dickerson have gone to Park Scott, Idaho, to visit his mother, Mrs. Margaret Dickerson, 82, died. They plan to visit relatives in the area for about a month.

Fire Warden Leaves Race; Unit Blamed

BOISE, April 23 (AP)—Gov. Robert L. Smith said today the decision of State Fire Warden Arthur Roberts, McCall, not to be a candidate for the state legislature was the result of "ill-advised and culpable action" by the state land board.

Smalley made public a letter from Roberts in which the warden for the Southern Idaho Timber Protective association, said he was "extremely disappointed at being placed in a position which makes this decision necessary."

The Democratic majority on the land board voted over Smalley's opposition to withhold approval of Roberts' appointment.

State Land Commissioner John C. Walters and Wednesday the Democratic board members felt that if Roberts was a candidate for the legislature "he should not be returned as a fire warden."

Walters, also state Democratic chairman, said the Democrats considered the protection of timber from the danger of fire "... more important than politics."

Smalley described the board's action today as an "outrageous administrative" denial of private rights.

Local Demos Make Strong Race Filings

WARRIENS, Wis., April 23—When the production of his daily herd began to drop Ben Nephew began to look for one.

But he had other problems. The production problem was solved when three operators for state legislative from Twin Falls county, including Nephew, were elected to the Idaho legislature in 1958. Nephew, Lawrence B. Quinn, and E. S. Smith, of Idaho Falls, and Gordon Gray, Mrs. Ada Pugh, and Nelson L. Knight, all of Twin Falls, and Warren A. T. ...

In a statement released after his election to the Idaho legislature, Nephew said that this service has been one of the most important in his life. He said that the legislature has been a most interesting and profitable experience for him. He said that he has been able to meet many of the people with whom he has been in contact in Twin Falls and has been able to do a great deal of good for the people of the state. He said, "I am most confident that the time has come for us to reorganize the Twin Falls county. There is an urgent need for our county to be represented by men who will act in the best interest of the county in everything concerning the county. We have been taken for granted too long."

Wheat Allotment Warnings Voiced

Any farmer who has seed wheat for harvest as grain next summer but who does not have a wheat allotment or feed exemption should notify the Twin Falls county agricultural establishment and conservation office of his estimated acreage, according to Carl Boyd, ASO committee chairman.

In this way, county records can be established and steps taken to make such a farmer eligible for a wheat marketing card if he decides to sell any of the grain, Boyd said.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, any grower who produces more than 15 acres of wheat is subject to a penalty on any "excess" wheat harvested. The penalty must be paid before the wheat is eligible for marketing.

Campaigners Prepare for Sunday Vote

VIETNAME. Laos, April 23 (AP)—Candidates accompanied by pipers playing shrill bamboo flutes visited villages and towns today in the last day of Laos general election campaign.

The fact that the army tightened its guard in isolated jungle districts against the menace of pro-communist Pathet Lao rebels failed to dampen the blithe spirits of the campaigners.

There is little to choose between the two major parties, leftists have no hope of victory in tomorrow's election, and so the campaign here is a sort of popularity contest. About 800,000 voters will elect 89 members of the national assembly, who will then choose the next government. For the many voters who cannot read, photographs of the 137 candidates will be provided.

The contest is mainly a contest between two major conservative groups that formed a national front against a handful of leftist candidates.

The big parties are the Rally of Lao People and the Committee for defense of National Interests.

Damage Noted in Accident at Buhl

BUHL, April 23 — No injuries were reported but $550 in damages resulted from a two-car accident at Thursday evening east of Buhl on highway 30, reports Deputy Sheriff Curtis Fryor, investigating officer.

The accident occurred just outside the Buhl city limits on highway 30. Billy Rhodes, 27, Buhl, driving a 1958 Chevrolet, failed to see Diana Dana, 18, Buhl, driving a 1953 Buick, ahead to make a left turn into a driveway. As Miss Dana turned, Rhodes started to pass her car and the two vehicles collided.

Damages were set at $350 to the 1958 Chevrolet and $550 to the Buick.

The first U.S. census, in 1790, showed a total of 2,923,211 persons living in the 13 original states.

Shannon Swan, John Anderson Wed in Temple

In a ceremony at the Idaho Falls LDS temple Thursday, April 21, Shannon Swan and John Anderson were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Swan, Twin Falls, became the bride of John H. Anderson, son of Mrs. Leslie Anderson, Kimberly. The double ring ceremony was performed by President William L. Kilpack.

Accompanying the couple to the temple in addition to the bridegroom's parents were about 23 friends. A wedding dinner at Jack's Inn was held after the ceremony. For a wedding trip to Blaine, the bride wore a turquoise blue flowered dress with royal blue accessories.

On Monday, April 18, a reception was held at the Twin Falls LDS met and third ward reception hall honoring the couple. The bridesmaids were, from left, a white suit entwined with lavender and later with pink, and flanked by baskets of pink and lavender carnations.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle and satin. Appliqued Chantilly lace formed the Peter Pan collar. The bodice featured scalloped lace over skirt and traditional long sleeves. Her fastidious French illusion was highlighted by a cap of lace embroidered with sequins and pearls.

She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from her parents, and carried a bouquet of lavender feathered carnations, pink roses and white lilies-of-the-valley on a white lace fan. Attendants of honor Mrs. Margaret Miller, sister of the bride, wore a lavender tulle and sequin dress finished with puffed sleeves and full skirt. Bridesmaids were Erna Tyler and Mrs. Dexter Wheeler. Flower girls, Dorothy and Mrs. George Doolittle, carried bouquets of pink Allia. Aired after the maid of honor, Alfred Anderson, Kimberly, officiated at the ceremony, served as best man.

For her daughter's reception, the bride's mother wore a navy blue chiffon with white-green accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose an aqua-blue dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of pink Allia roses and carnations.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length embroidered nylon cloth trimmed with lavender ribbons and net. Angel candelabras with pink and lavender candles flanked the four-tiered wedding cake trimmed with lavender and pink roses and white swans. It was topped with a white wedding bell and lilies-of-the-valley and surrounded with greens in which nestled pink and lavender carnations.

The punch table was covered with a floor-length orange cloth centered with a silver punch bowl with carnations and candies in crystal holders carrying out the color scheme of pink and lavender.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Levin Swope and Mrs. A. C. Martin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Mitzie Gage and Mrs. Walter Bowman, Detroit, aunts of the bridegroom. After the punch table were Darlene Martin and Mary Martin, cousins of the bride, and Lynda Sikas and Mrs. Tom Murray. Dorothy Swope was in charge of the flowers and Mrs. J. H. Bingharn was in charge of the refreshments. Steven Finley, Hagerman, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer.

The importance of a good compost heap was stressed. Concluding his remarks, a question and answer period followed his talk.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith. The next meeting will be held May 16 at the home of Mrs. Heuer Loughmiller.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

Women in industry, in the professions, are accepted as important to the production and to the economy of the nation. Few question their right to work or the nation's need for their contribution. Most young women expect to work a few years after they are through with school. They expect to be married and have a family. Then what? What about their career, their job?

Children need the care of their mothers. It is in those years that the children acquire the basic habits and behavior, their attitudes toward people and their ways.

But all mothers are not so fortunately situated as to be able to stay home with the children. Some must work to support them and that's the end of any question about it. The government is duty bound to provide adequate care for the children of such mothers in nursery schools.

Some mothers, trained for careers in industry or the professions, feel that they owe it to themselves and the country to make use of their talents and their education. They provide someone to care for the children in their stead.

This is a very hard thing to do and not too many mothers succeed when in doing it. If there is an affectionate, devoted aunt or relative, a fond grandmother, to take over that is ideal. Even then there are difficulties. The mother who becomes jealous of her substitute, the substitute may become grudgingly unpaid service, or just grow resentful of the situation. The child, however, needs the care of his mother. There are the costs of this solution—many of which are not factored into the government's plan. The child who does not learn about them by stern experience.

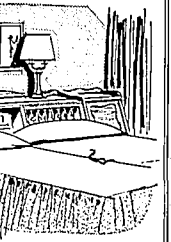

When the children are in school for the greater part of the day the working mother's difficulties lighten. Many of them work part time and manage to be home before the children go to school and before they get home from the institution. Some employers use mothers in that situation and find it works out well.

There are some mothers who cannot be happy doing housework and tending children. They are happy only when at work outside the home. They have a marriage problem and need the help of the counselor.

There are some who are those who prefer to give their children better homes and advantages. One must conclude that this is a matter for the individual's decision. Each must live his own life.

releasing. If you would like to have his lectures "Breaks With Number Talks" for your own use, write Angelo Patri, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 25, N. Y.

FREE TASTE

We are hearing the term "Free Taste" used more and more frequently these days... and with good reason. It is the new concept in home planning and decoration. What it means, specifically, is that quality home-planners are declining their independence from the dictates of what's right in home decor and finding new confidence in their own common sense and good taste, and using it to give individualism and personality in their homes.

"Free taste" is all that the words imply. It enables you to choose the furnishing you like regardless of period or style and combine them to make a home that is distinctly yours and yours alone. It also enables you to mix the best of the past with the best of what's new. Often you want to adopt old ideas to new settings... adapt them to the new ways of today. With taste, you can. Note how well this has been done in the bedroom sketched.

Provincial furniture has been arranged in a Modern manner. The color scheme is composed of low-contrast shades, rather than the high-contrast colors that are usually associated with Provincial. Heubrand, though Modern in concept, has been kept Provincial in spirit with delicate curving and turned spindles.

If you would like to have some professional advice on how to use this new freedom in planning your home, come in and have a chat with one of our trained decorators. You'll find it rewarding. We're sure. No appointment is necessary. Come in anytime.

"Shakespeare" in the modern world" was the program given at Mrs. Joe South and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hedner for the fine arts department meeting Tuesday of the Twentieth Century club. Mrs. North, who has visited the tomb of Shakespeare, related many facts about the famous writer. She noted he had two outstanding qualities, his gift of language and his command of 20,000 words, and his ability to put real life into his characters. As Mrs. South explained several Shakespeare's works, Mr. and Mrs. Hedner read portions of each. These included "Hamlet," "The Taming of the Shrew," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Merchant of Venice," "Macbeth," "Othello" and "The Tempest." Mrs. Kurt Moss, fine arts department chairman, was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Gail Brizan was a guest. The face-covered tea table was decorated with spring floral arrangements flanked with yellow papers with Mrs. O. C. Hall and Mrs. Marjorie Hayes presiding. Tea committee was Mrs. Ross Stevens, Mrs. Robert Soran and Mrs. Dean Kendrick.

Oregon Man Uses Gibson Defeats Harrison Finishing Kick to Defeat Cunniff

EGGENSE, Ore., April 23 (AP)—David Harrison of Oregon set a new world record for the mile in 3:58.6 today, the fastest ever run by an American. The slender 19-year-old trailed for most of the race but finished with a powerful kick to beat the world record of 3:59.5 set by a British runner in 1954.

Both referee Billy Perles and judge Gus Jacobson called the race a "box to draw" because of the close finish. Harrison, a 20-year-old from Eugene, finished in 3:58.6, while Cunniff, a 21-year-old from Eugene, finished in 3:59.5. Harrison's time was a new world record for the mile.

As an old-timer, "there are only so many boys who you know are sure things. Most of the boys you talk to ask what kind of a champion you will have to deal with them. How can you answer? If you have, say, only 20 schools to choose from, you have to pick 12 for the varsity in most years, and try for the freshmen with the others. This makes your selection more even before you start. Of course, some of the big schools will have many more boys than you, and they can gamble on the latent talent of some of the boys.

But each time, the lanky Cuban got out of trouble by chucking. He had a habit of hitting in the right place, and he kept away from Mathews's best spot.

Mathews lost only one fight in 24 as a professional. He had a record of 13 wins, 1 draw, and 10 losses.

Thomas Clears 7 Feet, 1/2 Inch In Track Meet

SPANOVER, N. H., April 23 (AP)—Jaceon John Thomas, 16-year-old Boston university freshman today bettered the NCAA high jump record and won the high jump event at a meet here. Thomas cleared 7 feet 1/2 inch, a new record for an American male. He had won the event at a meet in Boston on May 2, 1959. Dumas also set the American mark of 7 feet 7 inches.

When the temperature took a sudden dip to 49 degrees and the wind stirred, the high jump was delayed in the Boston university-Dartmouth dual track meet. The wind blew from the north and the 3,000 fans had anticipated. This had trembled—then held for the thrill which the 3,000 fans had anticipated. ### Life in MAGIC VALLEY

The story of a former TWIN FALLS man, Capt. Gall W. Poulton, son of James Wesley Poulton, BURLEY, has been chosen to portray the life of a typical air force officer in the primary issue of "The Falcon," a new magazine of the Air Force Academy, Denver, born in Twin Falls, Oct. 22, 1924. He was graduated from Twin Falls high school in 1942 and was drafted into the army in February, 1943. Not enjoying his life on the ground he soon volunteered for paratrooper training and later for aviation cadets.

When the Korean conflict began, Captain Poulton served as an instructor of new pilots and received the bronze star for extra work improving crew effectiveness of amphibian aircraft based out of Japan. This work included everything from pre-dawn briefings and flying safety to providing housing and food for the rotating amphibian crew.

He flew 64 combat missions in rescue aircraft and is credited, according to the article, with performing the longest and most successful helicopter rescue mission of the Korean operation. Considered one of the most experienced helicopter pilots in the air force, he has flown more than 2,700 hours.

While in Korea he assisted in the rescue of some Korean children who were injured when their school bus struck a land mine. He is credited with saving some 25 people in 17 rescue missions.

While in Texas during a flood, Captain Poulton was called to stretch an electric wire across a flood-swollen river to supply a hospital with electric power needed to complete a serious operation. With only a few minutes of battery power left and the operation far from complete the captain carried the cable across the river.

Two other members of his family also are associated with a different type of rescue work — a brother, Ted Poulton, and a brother-in-law, Frank Hore, both members of the Twin Falls fire department.

Captain Poulton has two "flashes" in rescue missions in Colorado. In June, 1953, he successfully landed an H-19B helicopter at 1,600 feet near a plane crash to rescue a family from Hanksville, Tex. This is considered an altitude record for actual rescue mission in an H-19.

In August of 1954 he was called to land an H-19 at night at a 12,000-foot level of Mt. Evans rescue. Dr. Green of the school of aviation medicine, again establishing an altitude record. Selected for assignment to the Air Force Academy in 1955 with the hospital cadre, the officer has flown many distinguished visitors over the academy site.

He is presently assigned as a special assistant to the superintendent for protocol and public relations and is concerned with arrangements for reception and care of official visitors at the academy. He is credited with being the only pilot at the academy who is qualified in all three classes of aircraft — conventional and military. In addition to his military career,

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

BY LLOYD OLIVER
Pastor, United Brethren in Christ Church
In 1918, the question is asked, "Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh will He find faith on the earth?" This is a burning question, "Have you paid your taxes?"

Why is faith so important? I answer that over centuries that overcame the world even our faith: Without faith one wanders about this life, aimlessly, as does the ship at sea without a rudder. One careens down life's highway as does a car without a driver. Faith is the steering apparatus of any life, and that person's life is only as strong as his faith.

Now, what kind of faith are we talking of? First, it is strong faith in God, with 15 ways to gain heaven. How precious is the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom. This strongly suggests that a person not fearing God is unwise.

There have been rash fellows say that having faith in God is to have many older with you forever. It is a victory in this world. In Hebrews, the Holy Spirit which comforts us chapter 11, many verses start out in life. It is the Holy Spirit that "by faith . . . and give a long walk and draws a person to God."

Secondly, that faith includes the Son of God, Jesus Christ. We've just come through the Easter season. The majority of churches have emphasized a resurrected Christ. Why? I think a resurrected Christ, the church would have nothing upon which to base its teachings.

The New Testament is founded upon the fact of Christ. He gave His life as a sacrifice suitable for our sins. He rose again that He might give us victory over death, and that He might become the door into the presence of a Holy and Righteous God. The Master said, "I am the Door . . . John 10:9. He also said in the 10th chapter, if any attempted to gain heaven by any other way, save through Himself, the same was a thief and a robber. There is only one way God has given, and that is the Lord Jesus Christ. "Whosoever believeth in Me shall not perish, but have everlasting life." "Whoever believeth in Me shall not come into condemnation, but shall have everlasting life through My name." "Whoever believeth in Me shall not come into condemnation, but shall have everlasting life through My name." "Whoever believeth in Me shall not come into condemnation, but shall have everlasting life through My name."

Thirdly, this faith, must, of necessity, include the Holy Spirit in this life is faithless, but let it be known that the wise person is pray the Father, and He shall give us one who has strong faith in you, another comforter, that He may have faith in God is to have many older with you forever. It is a victory in this world. In Hebrews, the Holy Spirit which comforts us chapter 11, many verses start out in life. It is the Holy Spirit that "by faith . . . and give a long walk and draws a person to God."

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Chief among the things Mrs. Culley makes are silk and velvet quilts, finished with wide embroidery along each seam on the "cray" pattern. These quilts she finishes with satin or halftan linings, and scalloped, ruffled borders. They are large enough to serve as spreads, and are ideal used with early American or period furnishings.

During the past 10 years, she has made seven of these masterpieces. Some she sells and some she just keeps to use herself.

Other work includes intricate crochet patterns, rugs, and fancy pillow tops. Mrs. Culley says she can't remember when she learned to sew, and that all the other work just came naturally.

When she was a girl, her mother was still using the old hand loom for blankets and rugs and all the other things. Mrs. Culley said that she and two boys had to be done by hand, and being the oldest girl, it was she who had to do a large share of the necessary sewing.

She came with her husband to Rupert, from southern Illinois in 1917 and they farmed near ACEQUIA until his retirement several years ago when they moved into Rupert. Mrs. Culley said that although they never raised a family, there were always some one charming their home, adding to their many duties.

She is active in her church and entertains guests frequently, since she loves to have people around. For exercise, she walks a lot, believing this to be one of the best ways to maintain good health.

Ditches Carrying Water as Irrigating Season Starting for Twin Falls Tract

Lock work many ditches were being water at what is approx- imately the start of the irrigat- ing season on the Twin Falls tract. Dret fields were being watered on nearly every mile, with some fields showing teeth marks of the water. The water is being carried by a tractor to ride over them. Watering the levels in alfalfa by willed and wind blowing for over a week has dried the top few inches and until mid-week water in bay fields should keep alfalfa growing. Now into late June, farmers could weather and another onslaught of pea aphids. No pea aphids have been reported yet, and none may be found for many 3 or 4 weeks. New stands of alfalfa, particularly those planted last fall, are looking quite sickly so far. Warm weather and water may help new stands that may have been damaged by late winter frost heaving. A few weeks are still needed to determine success of fall plantings. Bluegrass pastures seem to have stopped growing, and it may be that the top few inches will be extremely dry after irrigation or warm weather.

About 10 Per Cent of Camas Snow's Winter Wheat Is Killed by Snow Mold

FAIRFIELD, April 23—Approximately 10 per cent of an estimated 20,000 acres of winter wheat planted on Camas snow has been killed by snow mold this year, according to John Paulsen, county extension agent here. This amount of damage is normal in the area each year. In some years it has been as high as 25 per cent. The worst damage, said Paulsen, is in the area near the city. The large fields damaged by snow mold are usually replanted with a hard, red winter wheat. Paulsen said snow mold is caused by a spore, the same kind that grows in small black-dotted spots on grass in the early spring. These spores grow on roots and crowns near the soil line as the snow is melting and damages the wheat plant, particularly when the damp soil is at a temperature between 32 and 40 degrees. When the weather warms, the spores germinate and the plants sometimes die. A sign that snow-mold is a 'disaster' of the soil, said the county agent. He said the wheat is killed on fields that were taken out of alfalfa recently. Where the fields were taken out of grass the disease still shows up, because grass is a host plant for the spores. On Camas plots, many 40-year-old farmers follow a 10-year rotation that includes four years in alfalfa and six in wheat, with the wheat seasons.

New Record Looms for Supply of Feed Grains, Concentrates

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The agriculture department says that other feed concentrates in 1960-61 may rise to a new record high, if early spring prospects materialize. Farmers are planning a slightly smaller acreage of feed grains and with a normal growing season, production would be a little under last year's record crop of 166 million tons. But the carryover of feed grains in 1960-61 is expected to be some 10 million tons larger than the 8 1/2 million ton surplus a year ago. Based on these early prospects, the total feed concentrate supply would increase to around 270 million tons, three per cent over the record 253 million tons in 1959-60. First half of 1960.

New Record Expected for Sales of Dairy Products

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—since 1944, except in 1953. The agriculture department predicts a record this year, at prices about the same as in the past two years. The department said the dominant factor in the increase is the increase in the number of dairy cows. The number of dairy cows in the United States has declined in every year of course, the department said. The volume of milk sold by farmers in 1959 and on Jan. 1, 1960, was a record. This year's record is expected to be even higher. The department said the increase in the number of dairy cows is the result of a long-time trend. The rate of milk production per cow has been increasing for 20 years. The department noted that the long that a further increase each year in the number of dairy cows in the United States has declined in every year of course, the department said.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Valdo Benson Has Become Area Leader In 10 Years Since He Moved to Carey

CAREY, April 23—Jim just a few years Valdo Benson has established himself as one of the leading workers for the community and his church in the Carey area. Benson and his family moved to Carey from Logan in 1936. Since then he has been active in the LDS church and community and agricultural affairs. He has been president of the Blaine stake for the last eight years.

Benson, a younger brother of Earl Tait Benson, secretary of agriculture, was born in 1911 near Whitney, Ida. He was the seventh of 11 children. His father was a farmer in that region. He attended public schools at Whitney and then entered the University of Idaho in 1931.

Benson laudus when he recalls his college years during the depression. "They were (depression) he says, "When I told my father that I wanted to go to college, he said that I had his blessing, but that he couldn't give me a cent."

Giving the children college educations was a hard chore for the Bensons during the depression. When he was in high school he made an agreement with one of his older sisters. He would stay out of school one year while he was in high school and help put her through college, and she would do the same for him when he entered college. He did this, but by the time he could afford to enter college his sister was married.

This dairy sister, Benson, he and a friend from that part of the state struck out on their own farm in 1933. They pooled the parts from two Model Ts. They had no money, but their hopes of getting a job at the university were high. Their car broke down 10 miles out of town when it hit a connecting rod. They repaired it with parts they still had, but there was no money to buy a new one. They barely ran but they managed to get to Moscow, where they sold the car for $18, giving them $9 each for college expenses.

The first few days were a scramble, but the two boys managed to convince the university they should have jobs. Benson got a job with the poultry department of the school, and the other boy—LeGrand Dankly, now of Provo—got a job with the dairy division.

Neither could afford regular housing at the school, so they managed to convert a turkey brooder house that wasn't used into a livable apartment. Hearing that the determined students, faculty members and their wives turned up with enough furnishings to equip the converted and life-washed brooder house and the students lived there for the rest of the year. "We were paid 25 cents an hour for our work and that meant that we had to work many hours, but we had money to live on and we had a wonderful time that year."

Because of lack of funds, he was able to return to school the following fall. Until 1934 he worked for the state in the crop and livestock reporting office in Boise. Then he went on a mission for the LDS church to Brazil, Switzerland and He then returned to Carey in 1937. He headed the youth organization in a district that included all of Switzerland and the western half of Germany. During his mission years he had some trying times trying to cope with the youth movement. More than one member of the district in Germany was thrown out of the youth organization because he didn't feel the only youth organization that should be active in Germany was the Hitler Youth.

When he returned to the United States in 1937, he attended Utah State university and was graduated in 1939 with a major in agriculture economics and a minor in agronomy. At school he met and married the former Ruth Watkins. They now have five children, ranging in ages from 6 to 19 years.

Following graduation he worked for a short time with a clothing firm in South Bend, Ind. But the war came along in a short time and Benson was called to Washington and given a job with the treasury department. He was made area supervisor of 11 western states. It was his job to travel through the states and organize the sale of war bonds, particularly through agricultural agencies. He encouraged members to support the war effort and helped them organize the sale of bonds in their areas.

Following graduation he worked for a short time with a clothing firm in South Bend, Ind. But the war came along in a short time and Benson was called to Washington and given a job with the treasury department. He was made area supervisor of 11 western states. It was his job to travel through the states and organize the sale of war bonds, particularly through agricultural agencies. He encouraged members to support the war effort and helped them organize the sale of bonds in their areas.

He worked for the department until 1942, which time he returned to Utah and began raising turkeys near Logan. He lived there until he moved to Carey. While he was in Logan he served as bishop of the 10th LDS ward in Logan. He also served on the board of directors of the Cache Valley Turkey Growers association. While he was on the board, the association set up its own feed mill and processing plant.

Benson, always an ardent fisherman, was attracted by the good fishing waters when he first came to Carey to inspect the farm he eventually bought, a 320-acre farm two and one-half miles south of town. Benson laudus and recalls that when he and his family left Logan to move here, numbers of the 10th ward presented him an irrigating shovel with a fish line attached. They figured it would serve him in good stead on his new farm.

Shortly after he moved to Carey he was on the high council of the church. In 1952 he became president of the Blaine stake. Always interested in Boy Scouts of America, Benson was a scoutmaster when he first came to Carey and now is a member of the Snake River council executive board.

As president of the stake, Benson is in charge of the central Idaho region of the church's welfare council. Several stakes are included in the central Idaho region, including Blaindoka, Goodlin, Raft River, Blaine and Burley. They have a combined membership of more than 30,000.

"The church's welfare program is for the church's needy and to give help to the unemployed," he explains. "We have 33 farms in this area, with a total of 2,500 acres on which we raise produce for the stores." The farms are owned and farmed by the different wards and stakes. There is a regional man Elvin Albilton.

Stores at Burley in which food and various sorts of produce are stored for members who are unemployed and needy. The stores are in addition to a wide variety of commodities. The difference throughout the nation is that there are five stake stores in addition to the regional stores. As chairman of the regional council, he is in charge of coordinating the supervision of the different stores throughout the region.

He notes the stores can prove beneficial in times of disaster or economic stress. They were started in 1942. They are an asset to the members. Members give the price equivalent of the first two meals they eat on the first Sunday of each month to the church.

Benson was active in forming the Blaine county cooperative in 1950, and currently is chairman of the board of the farm's home administration for Blaine and Latah counties.

Although he holds no official post with the school board, Benson has been interested in individuals formed a study committee to determine the needs of schools in the area. It is Benson's belief that the curriculum for the schools should be broadened in the area. He is a selection of courses to help them determine their life work. He is not just for the school who wants to work with his hands, there should be more trade schools. "I think there is a definitely room for improvement and expansion in this area," he says.

fit in with the economy, also would prove beneficial to the valley. It was his job to travel through the states and organize the sale of war bonds, particularly through agricultural agencies. He encouraged members to support the war effort and helped them organize the sale of bonds in their areas.

Speaking of this area, Benson says, "When we first moved here from Logan we thought there was no place like Logan or the people here, but we've learned they are just as fine here. We've enjoyed the time we've lived in this area—in the Carey, Big Wood and Magic Valley areas. We've met many people here and we appreciate all the friends we have here."

To Benson the most important thing in his life are his family and the church. "Our lives are blessed in this area. It is difficult to appreciate all the friends we have here."

Expressing how he feels about his life here, he says, "I'd rather fall in a cause that I know some day will triumph, than triumph in a cause that I know someday will fail."

Veterans of Foreign Wars and Legion Loan Sickroom Appliances at No Cost

For the past several years the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion and their auxiliaries have played an important role in providing appliances needed by the sick and convalescing. The two organizations provide many different types of instruments to aid the convalescing. VFW post 2136 started the program in 1952 under the auxiliary presidency of Elizabeth Kelly. Auxiliary and post members realized there was a need for some organization to provide free appliances.

The VFW has an array of equipment that can be borrowed by any person in Twin Falls or Jerome counties, regardless of membership in the organization. The appliances can be borrowed, free of charge, for three-month periods. At the end of three months the "loan" can be renewed. The VFW prefers that a person buy his own equipment if he needs it for more than a year.

When the equipment is borrowed, the borrower signs a contract stating that he will return the equipment in the same condition in which he obtained it. The VFW has 18 wheelchairs, two child wheelchairs, six hospital beds, two back rests, two walkers, 12 pairs of crutches and an assortment of other hospital room items. The VFW pays for the equipment and maintenance by selling magazine subscriptions throughout the area. Anyone interested in borrowing such equipment can apply for it by phoning either Mrs. W. J. Hughes, REEwood 2-469, or Mrs. Owen Eckelman, REEwood 3-6872.

The American Legion's appliances are in charge of Mrs. Christina Petersen, REEwood 3-1910. She says the Legion's program has been under way about five years. Members also loan appliances, at no charge, to anyone in Twin Falls county who needs them. The project is managed by the American Legion auxiliary.

Mrs. Petersen says the appliances are purchased and maintained by selling magazine subscriptions. The Legion sponsors salesmen in this area and in turn the company pays the local post in appliances. Mrs. Petersen notes the salesmen are currently selling the

Rockhound Has Plans to Protect Gem Hunting Grounds for Future, Public

John W. Brown, local rockhound who has been searching for gem stones and jewelry for many years, has announced plans to protect the area for rockhounds and jewelry seekers. He says if a gem club takes it more than 15 years, public access to the area will be lost. Brown says that the area is a public trust and that the public has a right to use it. He says that the area is a public trust and that the public has a right to use it. He says that the area is a public trust and that the public has a right to use it.

Public Not Fair
This is not fair to the individual who found the area and the many rockhounds who have dug into the area. Brown says that the area is a public trust and that the public has a right to use it.

John Brown displays some of the gems and jewelry he makes as a hobby. Brown has been working at his rockhound hobby for many years and has developed some ideas about the hobby that should be of interest to anyone interested in preserving traditional rock hunting areas for amateur hunters. # New Reservoirs Likely to Taper Off After Good Fishing

Mackay reservoir in central Idaho illustrates that some large, newly-created reservoirs provide terrific fishing for years, then taper off because of population explosion of rough fish species that provide too much competition for trout. At least three basic physical changes take place when a river is blocked and a reservoir created. These are in water temperature, velocities and turbidities. Others include the wide fluctuation of water levels where seasonal draw-downs sometimes leave spawning fish eggs high and dry. Lake and reservoir waters circulate completely twice a year during spring and fall, acting much the same as a deep breath of fresh air does as living creatures, and having an important bearing on fishing. # More Than Water Necessary to Provide Good Fishing; Reservoirs Are Tricky

By JIM HUMBIRD
Mackay reservoir in central Idaho illustrates that some large, newly-created reservoirs provide terrific fishing for years, then taper off because of population explosion of rough fish species that provide too much competition for trout. At least three basic physical changes take place when a river is blocked and a reservoir created. These are in water temperature, velocities and turbidities. Lake and reservoir waters circulate completely twice a year during spring and fall, acting much the same as a deep breath of fresh air does as living creatures, and having an important bearing on fishing. (FISH and game department photo—staff engraving)

Long deep reservoirs that have low, shallow and stillwater trout. Flooded out relatively narrow canyons do not have much food. There is a strong belief that water levels that are shallow enough for strictly helps weaken their in-food production. Moreover, they attempt to migrate down stream. And if the nature of a river has been changed and a huge reservoir is built, the trout are believed to become confused. Where it took five miles to migrate 60 miles downstream with a current, the changing of the river and destruction of most of the velocity now compels the little fish to swim continuously about 20 days to cover the same distance—assuming they can tell which way the ocean lies. Turbidity, that opaque muddiness characteristic of some types of reservoirs, also is believed to influence fingerling migration. Their way for thousands of fatigued fish to swim through the air, into shallow temperature and velocity. This is not a characteristic of all reservoirs, but it is a characteristic of many. On the other side of the coin, water surface temperature, however, are equally big questions in the water. The circulation continues until all sea-going fingerlings of both chin- the water reaches 20 degrees.
