

2 Women Killed as Cars Collide Near Rupert; 3 Injured

RUPERT, June 25—Mrs. Gertrude Sewell, about 50, Redding, Calif., and Mrs. Dolores Witherspoon, 75, Rupert, were killed Saturday in a two-car collision at an intersection of Highway 20N and a county road one mile east of Rupert. The fatalities are among the 18th and 19th traffic fatalities this year. This brings the 1960 total for Idaho to 14 deaths, more than this time last year. The two women were Minidoka county's third and fourth fatalities for the year. The fatal traffic death in Minidoka county occurred June 11 when 16-year-old Jose Fuentes of the Rupert camp was killed in a one-car accident in Rupert.

The last major vehicle fatality occurred June 15 when Wayne Thoreson, 55, Blackfoot, died from injuries received in a one-car accident. Mrs. Sewell was killed instantly at 4:30 p.m. when the two cars collided. Mrs. Witherspoon died approximately six hours later at the Minidoka County hospital. An unidentified 18-month-old girl is in "very critical" condition at the hospital at this time, according to attendants.

Mrs. Witherspoon, driver of one car, was alone. Driver of other car, identified from papers on his car, was driving a 1958 Chevrolet, 55, Redding, Calif.; driver, Scott G. ...

Scouts Practicing for Jamboree

Mike Davis, left, assembles a barbed grill, and Carl Harris, right, has driven a stake into the ground as he pitches a tent during the training program for about 165 Boy Scouts and Scout leaders in the Snake River council Friday through Sunday at Jaycees park. Both boys are from Colorado Springs. The purpose of the event is to give each Scout a jamboree in July at Colorado Springs a chance to live under the same conditions as at the national jamboree. (Staff photo engraving)

Some 160 Boy Scouts and Scout leaders are participating in a pre-jamboree training program for Friday through Sunday at Jaycees park. The boys are going equipment work and camp training at the national jamboree July 22 through 29 at Colorado Springs. The training program gives leaders an opportunity to check out their equipment and see if the boys have exactly what they need for a successful trip. There will be enough boys at the national jamboree to more than double the population of Twin Falls, according to Richard Best, Snake River council Scout executive. The Snake River council group will have Twin Falls for Colorado at 10:30 a.m. on July 22 and return the evening of July 31.

NEWS BULLETINS

GRANTSVILLE, Utah, June 25 (AP)—Two people were killed and two others injured in a collision late tonight on U. S. 89 near here. Deaths were announced at a drive-in theater. The victim was Jamie Lee Sachs, daughter of Mrs. Alma Sachs.

SAULT LAKE CITY, June 25 (AP)—A 7-year-old boy was dead on arrival at the Sault Lake county hospital tonight and officials said he apparently had been electrocuted while playing on a pole used to support a power line in a residential area. The victim was Jamie Lee Sachs, daughter of Mrs. Alma Sachs.

HAVANA, June 25 (AP)—Paradise's new attacks on the United States seem to follow a similar line by the critical words of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. The Soviet Cuban Prime Minister said he will take into history the President to reduce sugar quotas in the United States. He said he will take into history the United States of war. He said he will take into history the United States of war. He said he will take into history the United States of war.

Red China Hits Existence Plan of Russ Leader

TOKYO, June 25 (AP)—Red China today scathingly denounced communist comrades. Via implication Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for his doctrine. It said they were so afraid of their own existence they "begged imperialists for peace at any cost." But Khrushchev, in a brief speech in Bucharest at the closing of the 12th Communist party congress, declared he would not retreat a single inch from his policy of peaceful coexistence with capitalist states and elimination of nuclear war. The ideological struggle between Khrushchev and Moscow appeared to sharpen with this rebuffing.

Peking's attack labeled "insulting revisions" those who think revisionism is inevitable war between communism and capitalism no longer applies in the world situation. In the communist dictionary, revisionism is a word reserved for those who stray from the true road of Leninism. It is the word used in the Kremlin camp for Yugoslav President Marshal Tito.

The Chinese attack was in the form of an article by Gen. Li Chih-min in the official Peoples Paper, Daily. It was broadcast by Peking radio. A senior officer of the Chinese army, who had volunteered to fight in the Korean war, declared that fighting proved that only an eye-for-eye, tooth-for-tooth struggle against U.S. imperialism can bring about a peace. He said the Chinese attack was a criticism of Khrushchev's declaration in a long speech in Bucharest that the Soviet Union would continue to be based on coexistence with the West. Lenin's theory, he said, was written in the Communist Manifesto. He said the existence of a strong communist camp of nations was not necessary for the existence of peace. He said to consider the facts of the world situation.

Red Marchers Note Start of 'Korean War'

TOKYO, June 25 (AP)—Chang of "make us more respectful in Tokyo tonight a demonstration organized by the communists to mark the anniversary of the start of the Korean war and denounce the presence of American troops in the Far East. Ike Accused of Mishandling U2 Spy Plane Case

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee tonight accused the Eisenhower administration of mishandling the U2 spy plane case. It said that at least the affair had given Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev a handy excuse for wrecking the Paris summit conference. The committee suggested that the spy flight which occurred in the Soviet Union, may have been undertaken. It said that when the failure did occur, the administration's handling seems to have made matters worse.

Burley German Band to Go to National Elks Meet in Texas

BURLEY, June 25 — The Elks' well known German band was organized since that time the lodge No. 1234 will represent Idaho at the national Elks convention in Dallas, Tex., beginning July 11. The 11-member band plans to leave Burley July 10 via a charter plane from the Johnson Flying service from Missoula, Mont. They will return on July 14. The band specialty is German folk music. Dottie hand and popular songs. Dr. D. V. Holcomb, the director, tried to organize a regular Elks band about three years ago. The band that turned out was one-third but small, so after that, Diane Broadhead, band manager, came across some German band music written for a small group and Gaylen Erickson, trombone; Bill Martin, snare; Bertie Horn; Gerald Doggett, clarinet; Manager Broadhead plays the trumpet and the director, Dr. Holcomb, plays the clarinet. Two members who have been with the band will be unable to go. They are Seth Corlies and Jimmie Slaten. Slaten has been transferred to a job in Washington, D. C. Six of the wives of the band players will attend the convention. They are Mrs. Kirchner, Mrs. Hollinger, Mrs. Thaxton, Mrs. Broadhead, Mrs. Bigham and Mrs. Holland. They call themselves the "Austrians" which is named from the German word meaning "worst of players." White clover, a three-leaf plant that is good food for cattle, grows all winter.

Spraying for Insects Is Set In Shoshone

SHOSHONE, June 25 — Spraying for insects is set here sometime during the week by the Ocm Spray company, Twin Falls. The firm will use DDT for the first spraying of flies and mosquitoes, and in about three weeks will follow up with a spray for earwigs. Hearing is held July 5. A blower is mounted on a Jeep for the work and it travels down alleys and streets in the evening when there is no wind. Residents are asked to close their windows on nights they hear the machine in their area to prevent spray dust in homes. A public hearing on the city budget has been set for 8 p.m. July 4. The proposed total is $74,041.56. Anticipated revenue from taxes includes $24,618.83 from the total 37-1/2 mill levy—23 mills for the general fund, three mills for the library fund, 1/2 mill for the fire department fund, two mills for the recreation fund and six mills for the street lighting fund. Other anticipated revenue from such things as water collectors, state liquor appointment, dog and bicycle license, liquor license, miscellaneous permits, highway district No. 2 tax and water tax, as well as other miscellaneous receipts, should net $77,195, officials estimate.

Problems, Joys of Fathers Traced by Woman Writer

Editor, Times-News:—The first human act in the world was as Adam opened his eyes and looked into the face of his maker, and Adam stood tall, straight and noble, and he felt the dust of heaven in his eyes. His eyes were dark and full of life, and he looked at the face of his maker with the same intensity as the sun looks at the face of the first father on earth. Adam lived 930 years and fathered many sons and daughters, and his name was written in the book of life.

Agriculture Unit Thanks Paper for Noting Activities

Editor, Times-News:—We appreciate very much the cooperation which you have given the federal crop insurance cooperation in the past week. It is this kind of cooperation which permits the business world and the general public to know the value of the federal government's support of the agricultural area. We are of the opinion that we have this type of program since it does underline the investment in agriculture against all hazards.

Jerome Will Use Complete Staff in Vote

JEROME, June 25—Mrs. Charles Robertson, Jerome county auditor, reports Jerome will use a full board of election judges and clerks in the Tuesday runoff election.

County commissioners and county attorney Richard Selby made the decision after an informal meeting Thursday. Mrs. Robertson said 74 Democratic ballots were cast in the June 7 primary.

The judges and clerks will be the same as those in the general election. Precincts and polling places are: Bluffton, city hall; Canyonide, Canyonide Grange hall; courthouse, Jerome Grange hall; Eden, Eden city hall; Falls city, Falls city school house; Grandview, Pleasant Plains school; Hildale, Hildale city hall; Hunt, American Legion hall; northeast, American Legion hall; northwest, senior high school; southeast, Washington school; and southwest, M and M Equipment company.

Fined $10

BURLEY, June 25—Phyllis Holt, Burley, was fined $5 on each of two violations of the dog leash law. Complaints were signed by Ronald Weighall and Marie Stewart. Burley Police Judge Henry Tucker levied the fines. On June 23, Holt, appeared before Judge Tucker for violation of the dog leash law, but his case was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Three Kimberly Scouts to Receive Church Awards

From left, Donald Sudweeks, Leann Urie and Doyle Merrill admire "Duty to God" awards which will be presented to them by Bishop Floyd Olsen during sacrament services this evening at the Kimberly LDS church. All three boys have served four years in the LDS church and in scouting. At the time they earned the awards, all were Explorer Scouts and members of troop 4, sponsored by the LDS church. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sudweeks, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urie and Mr. and Mrs. Gust Merrill, all Kimberly. (Staff photo-entouraging)

Burley Man's Services Held

BURLEY, June 25—Funeral services for Chester Ray Thompson were held yesterday afternoon at the Burley LDS tabernacle with Bishop Allen Carter officiating. Family prayer was given by C. Ray Thompson, jr., invocation by James M. Holyoak and the obituary by Samuel Bulkeley. Speakers were Francis Carter, and J. D. Hogan. The benediction was given by Hiram S. Evans.

Prude and postlude music was played by Linda Manning and two duets were sung by Alma Cline and Beth Clark accompanied by Rachel Han.

Funeral arrangements were under direction of the eighth ward Relief society with Gladys Carter, Beata Kelly, Orabella Haycock, Lydia E. Bar, Nelda Montgomery, Edger Jensen, Roba Evans, Emma Malloy, Harriet Woodard and Hildn Holyoak and granddaughters Carolyn Evans, Gladys Robinson and Joyce Thompson.

Last rites were held at the Pleasant View cemetery with Milton Blair officiating the grave.

Nearly two-thirds of the increase in commercial exports from the United States during the latter half of 1949 was in agricultural commodities.

Jerome's Rotary Secretary Named

JEROME, June 25—Tom Larson, newly-elected president of the Jerome Rotary club, announces Guy Simons has been selected secretary.

He replaces Guy (Rustay) Stanton who died recently. Larson said Mr. Stanton had been Rotary secretary for 20 years.

Other new officers who will be installed July 12 include Dr. John Williams, vice president, and Jack Kennedy, treasurer.

Directors will include Tom Mahan, Paul Smith, Carroll Wilcox and Frank Titus, who is president.

Bail Bond Posted

BURLEY, June 25—Delos Cunningham, 68, Burley, posted a $100 bond when he appeared before Burley Police Judge Henry Tucker yesterday and pleaded innocent of having a dwelling without a sewer.

He also posted a $10 bond when he pleaded innocent of alley parking. She was cited by a Burley police officer.

Bid Opening for Pump Slated for Meet on Monday

Bids will be opened for a pump to be placed at the Lynnwood well when the city commission meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

An ordinance will be discussed to set the date for the sewer bond election, and members will discuss approving Police Officer Wayne Williams to attend the Idaho Peace Officers' meeting at Coeur d'Alene.

Reports will be made on progress of Rock creek. Letters will be read from attorneys regarding irrigation water on Kimberly road and a report from the city attorney. The June payroll will be discussed.

Items to be read for approval include minutes of the previous meeting, building permit approved by the building inspector, license applications previously approved by the department heads and monthly departmental reports.

The June payroll will be discussed.

Rupert People Will Vote on Proposal for Sewage Plant

RUPERT, June 25—Rupert voters will go to the polls Tuesday to decide whether to authorize the city to issue up to $100,000 in general obligation bonds for a sewage disposal plant. Officials pointed out that only registered taxpayers of the city are eligible to vote. Ward one will vote at the Lincoln school and ward two at the courthouse. The street is the dividing line between the wards, with ward one on the east side. The bond issue is being presented after a study of the present facilities over a period of several months. One of the worst features of the present system is that the main city sewer is used for disposal. This has presented a problem to residents of the area. Officials said that with the new system, the collection line would discharge treated sewage into the Snake river just south of the Doward bridge. With increased use of the present system in recent months, the need for enlarging the facilities has become a crucial issue. The proposed construction would increase substantially the treatment and amount of water to be handled. The new plant facilities are planned to handle the expected growth of the city over the next 20 years, officials report. City Attorney William T. Goodman said the city will issue bonds to be sold will depend upon the contract price of construction. Hamilton and Voelker, Postville.

Burley Event Changed for Pioneer Day

BURLEY, June 25—A workable agreement was reached Thursday morning at Nelson's cafe when the business and civic leaders of Oakley met with the Burley Merchants' committee concerning the conflict of dollar days with the Pioneer day celebration in Oakley. It was agreed that dollar days would be changed from July 22 and 23 to July 15 and 16 in order not to interfere with Oakley's celebration. Merchants always close their stores on Pioneer day, July 24, but this year they will close their stores on Monday, the day the holiday is usually celebrated.

Oakley representatives asked Burley merchants to close on Saturday, July 23, and it was unanimously agreed that stores would close at 1 p.m. Oakley agreed to change the time of its parade from 10 a.m. until around 4 p.m. John A. Clark, spokesman for the Oakley group, stated that the parade group would be invited to sit in on the meetings for planning the holiday. Mayor Leonard Salmon said, "I think we should support you this one important day in your community. We should be willing to make one sacrifice a year for our good neighbors."

I NEED WORK

—Excellent References—

I do my job and finest of all, my millions of references will tell you so.

My upkeep is far less, my days off are next to nothing. Over the years, if I do need anything special, such as a watch, (let's say) an athletic shoe, you will find I need only as much as one-third the cost. Some of my distant relations play out fast and cost you as much in severance pay. But I won't play out, I will always be worth something, a great deal more.

Difference in policies and my employment service is what makes me really great. Thousands of my brothers and sisters, regardless of age, are working today because of better service.

I can come into your boss' office August 1st at no expense to you.

My complete salary for up to twenty years work (proven) is from $128.00 up, depending on what you want of me. $128.00 a month for two years is all you need. I ask...

My name is Miss Westinghouse Landmark and I live at Greenleaf, W.Va.

You can order me in minutes. They have control of my work for years and years. I have a five-year warranty (guaranteed) and a one-year warranty.

You can tell where my duties are working by looking at the clothes lines—THERE IS A DIFFERENCE.

I have many years' schooling for your type of work. You can see me at your Westinghouse headquarters—GREEN-AWAY'S.

Fence Construction Is Work for Youth Ranch Boys

Summer Schedule at Youth Ranch Prepares Boys for Early Bedtime

RUPERT, June 25—When 9:30 p.m. rolls around they are ready to go to sleep. I certainly don't have to rock them to sleep," says the Rev. James Crowe, superintendent of the Idaho Ranch for Youth, speaking of the summer program at the ranch.

The summertime—or vacation-time—activities at the ranch differ greatly from the winter schedule at the ranch. And this is easy to understand for there is plenty to keep the boys busy during the summer. The dairy and beef cattle bands occupy their time enough during the winter, but in the summer the work load increases as the boys tend the cultivated crops. Planted this year are 100 acres of potatoes, 100 acres of grain, 100 acres of hay, 100 acres of irrigated pasture and 200 acres of dry pasture.

The Rev. Mr. Crowe says, "I have a closer relationship with the boys during the summer than when they are in public school. We get more work done on the ranch and I get more work done with the boys. In the winter they leave home early and don't get home until 4 or 5 p.m. Then they do their chores, study for a while and are ready for bed."

"Now I can spend most of the day with them. I try to spend a total of at least a day or so during the week with each boy."

The day is long and packed with work at the ranch during the summer. The boys are just finishing three miles of four-strand barbed wire fence and intend to add another mile before summer is finished. This fencing separates the fields. Between then and now they are assigned different jobs that must be done.

Lunch is served at the ranch house between noon and 1 p.m. Then it's back to the fields or down to the corral. By 5 p.m. they are once again working with the dairy herd and the horses and beef cattle. Supper is at 7 p.m., but first they all shower and put on clean clothes.

"They're all cleaned up by supper time," says the Rev. Mr. Crowe. "After supper they have their free time. During that time they work with their 4-H projects, such as horses or steers. One boy is

T.F. Man Makes Own Instrument as He Decides to Learn Guitar Music

If every guitarist were like George Johnson, Twin Falls, the guitar industry would collapse overnight. Johnson wanted to learn how to play a guitar, so he retired to his workshop, constructed one and then learned how to play it.

He has been doing this for 10 years and in the meantime he has produced a group of more than 100 instruments, including banjos, mandolins, guitars, ukuleles and even violins. Most of his instruments have been of the electrical variety, but now he is working on acoustic types.

Explaining his hobby, Johnson says, "I'm one of those kind people who can't let a thing go unless they've made it." He explains his strange inclination is probably just an outgrowth of his desire to work in the shop and make things. In addition to an interest in instruments he is also a ham radio operator and has built a telescope to help him in his astronomy hobby.

He first became interested in guitars when he was working at the lower Salmon power plant. Johnson is an electronics technician for the Idaho Power company. While he was at the plant a friend started his interest in guitars.

He has been busy ever since, turning out all shapes and forms of stringed instruments. He does it for them and he has given away several.

Johnson usually has one in the making. It takes him about two or three months to construct one, working in his spare time. It would take about one to two weeks to make one if he worked on it steadily.

He has made several combination instruments. The guitar and mandolin combination instrument works out rather well. They utilize the same base board, but different necks.

His instruments are made from such woods as myrtlewood, poplar, mahogany and walnut. Some are made from laminated woods, combining two or more of those woods. He has had good luck with poplar. It is plentiful, sometimes has a beautiful grain and he finds it very stable wood.

Johnson has so many stringed instruments around the house that he has never become proficient in any of them.

"I play them all pretty roughly," he says. "I'm not a musician. Don't say that I am, because that

George Johnson shows a guitar-mandolin combination instrument he has started. The long neck is for the guitar strings and the shorter neck is for the mandolin. The instrument is made from poplar and mahogany, but he has laminated. Johnson says the most difficult job in making such an instrument is getting the neck perfectly straight so the strings won't rattle on high frets and winding the electric pickup with the fine, .025 of an inch, copper wire. Magic Valley Amateur Radio Fans Competing in National Field Day

Thirty-five members of the Magic Valley Radio Amateurs are competing with about 13,000 other "ham" operators throughout the USA and Canada this week-end.

The event, known as "Field Day," is sponsored annually by the American Radio Relay League and provides an opportunity for local amateurs to set up their radio receivers and transmitters under emergency conditions outdoors.

The local club set up its emergency transmitter and receiver station just south of Joyce park. Members started operation Friday night and were broadcasting by 2 p.m. Saturday. The purpose of the field day is to operate the contest under simulated emergency conditions that could prevail after the occurrence of various disasters. This is a 24-hour operation and they will continue to operate the station until 2 p.m. today.

Richard Stowell, vice president of the club, notes that visitors are welcome at the station.

The members of the club, working in shifts throughout the night, have been exchanging contacts and reports and emergency-type messages with club groups throughout Canada and the USA.

The league event is in the form of a contest to see which amateur group can score the greater number of radio contacts with fellow amateurs in groups throughout the Richard Stowell says club members don't necessarily have to own equipment to join the club. They can attend the meetings and learn about electronics and then apply the new knowledge when they assemble their own equipment.

He says the two things that appeal to most of the members is the equipment they receive from assembling their own equipment and from the many friendships they make throughout the United States and the world by radio contact.

The club meets two times monthly, on the first and the third of the month.

At the local club set up, the members had their shortwave equipment in preparation for the annual field day, sponsored by the American Radio Relay League. The members

State Highway Department Has Trouble Spelling Hamit on Signs for Roads

HAMMETT, June 25—The Idaho state highway department can't spell a sign. It is a sign in Wyoming would, theoretically, say "Hammett." But this time it is impractical, says a sign painter. The effect of the signs is not so much that it confuses the fact, but it makes one doubt his vision. At first light the misspelled message is marked off as a result of highway speed. At second light the driver begins to lose confidence in his vision. A growing lack of confidence sets in. He might wonder if that is a herd of cattle near the fence or simply a lonely sign.

By the time the third sign is sighted, the driver is driven to stop. The only post it is in, he says, back up.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

It's difficult to recall just when the ideas and ideals of business partnership first took hold in the magic valley. One of the first to construct was of Burley. The first to plant potatoes in the valley was of Burley. The first to plant potatoes in the valley was of Burley. The first to plant potatoes in the valley was of Burley.

As the idea they used to grow their own few rows of vegetables, pick them in sacks by night. The project grew larger the family friends were so called by day. They used to pack their produce in the fields and finally into their first trucks and finally into their first plant in Ontario, Ore.

Partnership business, like marriage, calls for individual adjustment. "We desire perfect individuals, but must work with the imperfect," says the brothers say.

One justification for business life, of course, to make profit. Even so, the people involved, rather than the sole accumulation of assets.

The brothers observed their 10th anniversary of the Ore-Ida operation in Ontario, Ore. They celebrated the month before the ground breaking ceremony in the morning. They were joined by a large number of guests.

"We have always felt that the Snake River valley was one of great opportunity. The processing, shipping and marketing of agricultural products have been our main business in this direction for the past 30 years. All of our business here."

Small processing runs of season-able produce are being handled in Ontario, and, although successful, the volume was small. In 1927 they started developing large fields of deep-soil potatoes in Ontario, Ore. Last February they had ground breaking ceremonies were held for the new Burley plant. A business quickly evolved, starting with the potato processing, quick freezing which is original, and on to the national market. The brothers have been producing and new products which have become national leaders in the industry. They are now operating in all 30 states and part of Canada.

The brothers proudly say, "There has been no tendency of government to take away from us. None is wanted—none is needed." They feel they have a sound investment in the land to the consumer's table and in the future. The land grows and is of continued benefit as an economic factor in the community. MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Mrs. Stradley Is Closing Records of Education Board; To Resume New Duty

Mrs. Doris Stradley, a woman who has played an important role in Twin Falls public education for many years, left Twin Falls today after her task of closing the Twin Falls county board of education office closed. She will be full-time teaching again this fall in Idaho.

In December, 1936, she assumed the duties of secretary of the Twin Falls county board of public instruction. She held this office until 1947, when the school reorganization program was put into effect by the legislature.

In 1947 she became the secretary of the Twin Falls county board of education, and has continued to hold this position ever since. She has been a member of the board for one year, 1951, when she was assigned to teach school for a year. When Roosevelt High School district No. 51 and Bryn Mawr school district No. 15 joined in reorganization on June 14, the county reorganization work was completed.

Mrs. Stradley started teaching at the home of Mrs. Stradley in 1917. She moved to this area because her father, who was a teacher here at the time.

She attended school at the University of Idaho and the University of California. She has a B.A. degree from the University of Idaho. She has been a member of the National Education Association since 1917.

In 1935 she resigned from the job and taught one year at Blakes school. Most of the work was completed, she says, and there wasn't enough to keep busy."

But the following year she was asked to return to the job, the job with which she had so well acquainted, and finish the task for the county. She did this and worked part-time. She continued to teach in the Twin Falls elementary schools.

By July 16, the Twin Falls county board of education office will close and all the books and records will be split among the various schools and the county clerk's office. Mrs. Stradley stresses throughout her work in county education she has had "the finest cooperation with the teachers and trustees and superintendents of the various schools."

"But no matter where you go," she says, "you will find nice people and I'm looking forward to going to keep her property in Twin Falls and some day will retire here."

"But in the meantime I'm going to enjoy moving; it's kind of an adventure." With her professional work she was able to maintain an active interest in several organizations. She is a member of the Eastern Star, Filer chapter No. 46; Disabled American Veterans auxiliary, Stradley chapter (named after her husband); DAR; Morningglades PTA elected her a lifetime member of the PTA, and she has been a member of the Delta Kappa Gamma, an honorary teaching society, for over 20 years.

In line with her work she served four years on the state textbook committee for the state board of education and was on the state social studies committee for five years—revising the curriculum for special study classes in Idaho.

MRS. DORIS STRADLEY

It is just ending. Since then she has been hard at work planning reorganization and working with the reorganization committee.

This work entailed making maps of the school areas, determining routes and working with the varied problems that arose with the reorganization.

"That's what I stopped living at home and started living at the office," she says. In 1955 she resigned from the job and taught one year at Blakes school.

Foxtail-Like Weed Considered Worst on Idaho Range

At first glance medushead appears to resemble foxtail. Considered one of the worst weeds on Idaho, the seed head appears as the small white and purple flowers from the soil to five inches in height. The heads are bared to the touch and they measure of the rule from two to five inches. As the seed matures, the heads get larger. The plants themselves are extremely aggressive and grow sometimes over 1,800 to the square foot. Seed production has been reported at more than 500 pounds to the acre. It takes a five 232 degree Fahrenheit, held for seven minutes, to kill the seed, a feat impossible to accomplish on the range. It has spread to more than 100,000 acres of rangeland in Idaho, and can spread more as the bared heads attach themselves to the flanks or jaws of livestock, thus transporting the seeds.

Medushead Given Public Enemy No. 1 Ranking as It Spreads on Rangelands

Medushead, an annual weed, is now public range enemy No. 1 in Idaho, according to information presented by Paul (Jim) Torrell, Twin Falls, agronomist for the University of Idaho.

There are no reward posters out against this weed but it is here. The bounty would run into the millions, conservative estimates by ranchers and bureau of land management officials, place the potential loss of forage to the livestock industry at about 3 million dollars each year.

prevent seedlings of wheatgrass from establishing even in highest rainfall areas.

It is a prolific seed producer and each year it sheds 500 pounds of seed on each acre of land on which it is established. The seeds are extremely viable, and as many as 1,855 plants per square foot have been counted. It also has a high survival rate, with germination reported at 90 to 98 per cent. Unfortunately, it is incredibly unpalatable.

Medushead-infested ranges occur in 11 Idaho counties and are now as far south as the Mayfield Junction between Boise and Mountain Home, says Torrell.

It has warped the spotlight from halcyon in these counties, and is a matter of grave concern to ranchers everywhere.

Medushead was first described by Linnaeus in 1753 after it was found in Spain and Portugal. In 1897 it was identified in Rouseburg, N. C., and then in the state of Washington in 1901. In 1920 ranchers in Cam county identified this weed as cattle wolf eat. In 1944 the University of Idaho found some 500,000 acres since then it has been found in nine other counties.

None has been found yet in Magic Valley.

Others said that feel the pinch of Medushead are California, it will crowd out cheatgrass and

Each year it leaves a heavy litter of grass on the ground, and the seed won't germinate until it makes its way to the soil through that mass of litter. When a field is burned, the seed in the litter will come in contact with the mineral elements and germinate.

"The control of medushead is easier said than done," says Torrell. "It has been running so fast that it has ranges where it is found.

He has tried disjunct, burning, plowing and then combinations of these measures to control the weed. He has found that the operations of any measure is inadequate for control.

Where he has combined some of these practices for two years on successive medushead seed crops he has found some encouraging signs that will take additional years to test and prove.

One burner he had enough, says Torrell, to get all the seed. The thermal death rate for all the seed is 232 degree Fahrenheit, and then the heat has to be maintained for seven minutes, which is practically impossible under range

Early Pioneer in Raft River Country Notes Dry Cycle Worst He Can Recall

MALITA, June 25—Scott Gamble, 84, one of the earliest pioneers in the Raft River country, says the dry weather cycle in southern Idaho is about the worst he can recall.

Born in the Raft river area in 1876, Gamble recalled for ranchers and other visitors to the recent East-Columbia field day tour, what was like in those early days.

"Sometimes we used to ride our horses over the fence at Sublett, Gamble said.

Week Started Out With Frost, Closed With Perfect Valley Growing Weather

Last week the weather started cold and ended up hot and perfect. It was a week of contrasts. Unfortunately some farmers had to plow up their young bean crops. Others aren't sure of the damage.

Fieldmen of contract bean companies say frost damage won't be evaluated for some time yet. Some fields look worse days after the frost, but again other look better.

Some fields were hit so bad there was no stub in and farmers had to plow the beans up and try to plant some other crop, late in the season.

Some farmers are aware of the danger and have planted winter wheat in place of other varieties and hoping the summer and fall weather patterns are favorable. In the past, some fourth of July plantings have done well. In the past, some fourth of July plantings have done well. In the past, some fourth of July plantings have done well.

The worst bean damage seems to be in the Paul-Rupert vicinity, but other areas are being reported near Hazelton, south of Kimberly and Wagon and where Burley-Deer area. South of Burley there was hardly any damage, as in the Paul-Rupert area.

Wherever beans had been damaged they seemed to have been hit the hardest. Some fieldmen said these fields not cultivated yet, were not troubled more than beans. Early varieties seemed to have been hit the hardest, although the damage occurred whether the pods were setting on or the plants were in full bloom. In the Paul-Rupert area, some whole vines were down. Corn also was hit in places that have never been frosted before, but corn is expected to come out of it and grow from the inside.

In the Fairfield area, the extent of damage to winter wheat hasn't been reported yet. Some wheat where only parts of the heads are left. The remaining wheat was left heavier and matted up by size which is lacking in the number of kernels.

Hay in the Fairfield area has generally come out of the frost set-back and with harvest under way, it looks as though only the tips of the alfalfa were damaged enough to limit hay production.

Only the week before, fieldmen for bean companies were enthusiastic about excellent stands everywhere.

About Half of Farms for T.F. County Reappraised

About half the farms in Twin Falls county have been reappraised so far under the Idaho tax equalization program, says Joe Hackney, county appraiser.

The other half should be reappraised by the end of the year, Hackney added.

The new appraisals are based on actual crop yields and actual production, with irrigated agricultural lands classified higher than non-irrigated lands for dry grazing, or that sets dry for lack of water.

Unique features for which their mortgage companies nor tax assessors had any previous experience was on how to appraise lands irrigated with pump water. A table was developed by Hackney and county appraisers, which is being used by the Idaho tax commission, that seems to be working out very satisfactorily and has the endorsement of many pumpplum farmers, added Hackney.

The table is devised so that farmers pumping water from greater depths than others, or pulling fewer inches of water, will receive higher appraisals at smaller values. The size of the pump and the land capabilities also are factors.

Hackney said all residential property in Twin Falls county, except small part of Twin Falls itself and its commercial sites, has already been reappraised. According to Idaho law, the tax equalization program had to be completed by the end of 1950. Hackney said he and his crew of men will attempt to have the entire reappraisal completed by the end of the next year, after which time the county assessor's office will have the job of entering all the data on their record books.

Hackney said the cooperation he has received from farmers and fourpeople has been overwhelming.

Harvesting of Cannery Peas To Begin Soon Despite Frost

MURTAUGH, June 25—Despite frost that touched cannery peas on approximately 300 acres south of the Murtaugh-Helmans area, Paul Wood, fieldman for Calloway Packing company, said the harvesting of the crop will begin next Friday afternoon.

"and we'll be harvesting every field of peas grown for us," said Wood, who lives in Burley. "Unless the frost damage is worse than we anticipated."

He said those peas that had not been setting on pods were the worst damaged, but it was hard to estimate to what extent the frost had cut into the yields of the 300 acres damaged to varying degrees. About 1,200 acres have been planted in this area and Burley.

The district plant facilities for handling the green peas are in Franklin, and 23 trucks are expected to roll on with loads to the district plant, both day and night.

The cannery peas are harvested at the district about a month ahead of dry peas, and they were plagger-harvested last spring so that the planting operation will be continuous throughout July.

The crop is cut by small swathers mounted on the rear end of the combine tractors which in turn are driven backwards.

Presently, about $50,000 in equipment is located south of Murtaugh lake, being prepared to harvest the crop that is new to Twin Falls county.

Payment, said Wood last spring, is made before Sept. 21 for the green peas. The peas are packed in California Packing company is commonly known as CalPac, and sells its products under the brand name of Doi-Monte.

Making Musical Instruments Taxes Storage for Twin Falls Man

George Johnson, Twin Falls, displays portion of the many stringed instruments he has made in the past 19 years. He holds a laminated banjo he is finishing currently. It is a sound box instrument, the first of such type he has made. Most of his instruments are the electric variety that utilize an amplifier. He has made everything from violins to banjos and is rapidly running out of storage room. He plays them all but stresses he is not an accomplished musician. (Staff photo-writing)

Nevertheless, Johnson and his group of friends meet regularly during the winter months for a kind of western and oldtime religious song jam session. There are four to seven persons in the group. Johnson is putting finishing touches on a soundbox banjo, made of laminated mahogany and poplar.

White Settlers Go Armed in Kenya as Tension Rises Over Africa Self-Rule

BY SAUL PATT NAIROBI, Kenya, June 25 (U.P.)—Big game rifles were pointed toward the beautiful white highlands of Kenya, where white settlers and their families are taking up arms and making a stand. A rifle and more above sea level, we drove in bright clean sunlight, saying, 'Elephants, rhino and lion in the forest. Please drive carefully.' A mile later, we passed a sign announcing an exclusive hunting area.

and they'd live under an African overlordship. Big game introduced us to his club, then down by the hundreds—not attractive, white and blue. Let us to my farm boys but Tom Mboya and Kenya, where white settlers and their families are taking up arms and making a stand. A rifle and more above sea level, we drove in bright clean sunlight, saying, 'Elephants, rhino and lion in the forest. Please drive carefully.'

Program Concentrates on Carp

Idaho fish and game department's experimental rough fish control program concentrated on carp during spawning weeks each spring. Thousands of fish congregate in the shallows and are vulnerable to chemical treatment. Biologist James F. Keating holds a big spawner killed on one of three projects in the Idaho fish and game department. The fish and game department is concentrating on carp in the Idaho fish and game department. Europe and Asia by a Californian in 1872. He reared his thousands of pond-reared fish throughout the nation, and shipped them as far as Central America and the Hawaiian Islands because of their value as "Queen of the Rivers" in those days. (Fish and game department photo—staff engraving)

Carp Are Among 30 Different Species Introduced in State Since Early Days

Idaho Fish and Game Department. Early summer every year brings a flood of carp to the Idaho fish and game department to introduce exotic fish species into Idaho waters. The fish and game department is concentrating on carp in the Idaho fish and game department. Europe and Asia by a Californian in 1872. He reared his thousands of pond-reared fish throughout the nation, and shipped them as far as Central America and the Hawaiian Islands because of their value as "Queen of the Rivers" in those days. world species of honest reputation. The qualities attributed to it by the U. S. fish commission, as warranting its introduction, were, fecundity and adaptability to the process of artificial propagation; living largely on a vegetable diet; hardiness in all stages of growth; adaptability to conditions unfavorable to any equally palatable American fish; and various climates; rapid growth; hardiness in its relations to other fishes; ability to populate waters to their greatest extent; and its value as a food fish. But most Idaho fishermen are trout anglers, and the major portion of the state's waters are devoted to trout production. This makes the introduction of exotic species of fish a matter of some concern to the trouterman, who is continually asked to be left as certain for the trout.

At any rate, the planting of carp into Idaho waters remains the policy of the Idaho fish and game department. This is the introduction of exotic species of fish.
