Action Urged on Fire Hazard for School Building

Immediate action to safeguard junior high school students in a building that has been declared a fire hazard was urged strongly Monday night by Trustee Henry Coier at the monthly meeting of the Twin Falls school board. "If we've got the money, let's do it now," he declared. "I don't care what fund is involved, but if the money is available from any source, let's do it." Earlier in the meeting, E. R. Budge, Burley, demonstrated the Notifier system which warns of fires. Also under consideration is an entire sprinkler system for the building which would cost some $48,000. Budge estimated the Notifier system at the junior high school, with a direct line to the fire station, would cost about $9,000 and $29 a month for maintenance.

In action to lessen the fire hazard at the building, board members voted to have Building Supervisor Owen Kinney close off immediately old hot air flues that run from the basement to the attic.

Supt. Ernest H. Ragland told the board the plant facilities fund will have sufficient funds by the end of the month to finance either of the fire protection systems. However, he said he didn't know if such use of the funds was legal.

Building Supervisor Kinney, present at the meeting, suggested that some sort of fire warning system should be installed in Lincoln school where some stairways are wood. During discussion, board members agreed some such system is needed at both Lincoln and Bickel schools, in addition to the junior high school building.

During discussion of the junior high school problem, Superintendent Ragland mentioned that the district's bonding ability as of next June 30 would be in excess of $1,400,000. Construction of a second junior high school is being studied now by the Citizens' School Planning committee. The present junior high school has an enrollment of 495, the largest of any junior high school in Idaho.

Chairman J. T. Anderson, Jr., pointed out some additional financial help will have to be made available to the school district to operate another building. He noted the district is levying the maximum permitted by law now.

Trustee Coier estimated the district would have to raise another $25,000 annually to operate another building.

At the end of the meeting, Trustee William S. Fowl submitted his resignation because he is moving from the trustee zone from which he was elected. The board will appoint a successor to serve that trustee zone until the next election.

Superintendent Ragland announced the Citizens' School Planning committee will meet again at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 17. He also reported all PTA's in Twin Falls will meet at 8 p.m. Jan. 10 to hear Dr. Harvon Snyder, professor of the department of student teaching at the University of Idaho.

Below Normal Water Runoff Is Predicted

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—The weather bureau predicted today water runoff ranging from 75 per cent of normal to slightly below normal in central Idaho. Runoff in the north is expected to be about 90 per cent of normal.

The bureau said runoff in the upper Snake river basin is expected to be only slightly below average but will be only 75 per cent of average in the Snake River plain and in the southwest.

These runoff predictions were made:

Snake river, at Moran, Wyo., 94 per cent; at Hesse, 86; at Weiser, 78; at Clarkston, Wash., 78.

Big Wood river, near Richfield, 60 per cent; Owyhee reservoir net inflow, 88; Boise river near Boise, 75; south fork of Boise at Anderson Ranch dam, 83.

Malheur river near Horesey, 80; Payette river near Browes Bend, 72; north fork of Payette at Cascade, 81; Weiser river near Weiser, 81; Salmon river at Whitfield, 75; and Clearwater river at Spalding, 88.

City Plan of Accounting Under Fire

Twin Falls' cost accounting system came under sharp fire from city commissioners and the accountant in charge of the program, during the weekly city commission meeting Monday evening.

Otto Koontz, Twin Falls accountant who is employed as the auditor, told the commission his report was inadequate because of lack of cooperation from city employees. "We did not have the necessary information," he said.

The system's first report covers the period between Nov. 1, 1959, and Oct. 30, 1960.

Reports from various city departments supplying cost data were inadequate, except for the water department, Koontz told the group.

He noted a variance in street lighting costs between five cents and 24 cents per square yard, and the utilization of two 1852 dump trucks of 30 cents and 22 cents in curvy fuel costs.

The commissioners and H. L. Derrick, city manager, agreed that the report did not supply the precise information desired. Derrick promised to set up monthly conferences between himself and department heads to rectify the situation.

Derrick, although he expressed satisfaction with the information supplied, said some of the inadequacies could be explained because the system is new. Commissioned on Page 2, Column 1.

Hemingway's Confined for "Treatments"

ROCHESTER, Minn., Jan. 10 (AP)—Nobel prize-winning novelist Ernest Hemingway is confined to a Rochester hospital under the care of doctors from the famed Mayo clinic, it was revealed today.

A spokesman for the clinic would report only that the 61-year-old author was at St. Mary's hospital for "medical treatment."

The nature of Hemingway's ailment was not revealed, but it was unofficially reported to be not serious.

Unofficial sources also reported that Hemingway had been in Rochester for about a month. The 61-year-old author had dropped out of public sight since a hunting trip about two months ago in Idaho.

Hemingway's wife, Mary, was also in Rochester, it was reported.

The Mayo spokesman said Mrs. Hemingway and the writer's physician had refused permission for any interviews with the famed patient. The wife and doctor will decide when an interview will be permitted. The spokesman said.

2 Are Killed in Belgium Rioting

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Jan. 10 (AP)—Two people have been fatally wounded during demonstrations in the three-week-old Belgian strike, and there also has been several traffic fatalities as a result of highway closures by strikers.

The two men shot were an unemployed painter, who was killed by a passerby trying to rescue a gendarme from the crowd during a Brussels demonstration, and a Liege worker, who was wounded during a strikers' attack on a Liege railroad station last Friday.

"Cleaned"

DARI, Italy, Jan. 10 (AP)—Saverio de Macario sat down and cried yesterday when he came home and learned his old mattress had been thrown away by him on during housecleaning.

The elderly beggar had neglected to tell his son he had hidden his life's savings of more than $1,500 inside the mattress, which was carried away by an unknown person.

Leaders Deplore Feud On Medical Care Plan At Washington Parley

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (UPI)—Presidents of two groups attending the White House conference on aging deplored today the conflict at the conference over financing medical care for the aged. But the statements by the president of the American Nursing Home Association (ANHA) and the president of the American Dental Association (ADA) failed to halt discussion of the issue in some workshops. A resolution favoring payment for basic medical and hospital costs of older people by raising the social security payroll tax was adopted unanimously at one subsection on job security and retirement.

Raymond M. Hilliard, director of the Cook county (Chicago) department of public health, chaired the session at which the resolution was adopted. It still must be ratified by the full section and the conference.

In the meantime, President-Elect John F. Kennedy received a report recommending a federal medical care program involving an additional social security tax of one-fourth of one per cent on wages of all Americans not covered by the system. The plan was outlined by Prof. Wilber Cohen of the University of Michigan, head of a special "task force" recruited by Kennedy.

Dr. Charles H. Patton, Philadelphia, ADA president, said in a statement at the White House conference that the dentists at the conference were pledged to give impartial study to all proposals to assist the nation's elderly.

The dentists' group opposes the social security approach to provide medical care for the elderly, Patton said, adding, "We don't, however, question from us and we believe our views are entitled to the same consideration."

"If everyone remains open-minded, the conference will have the success it deserves," Dr. Patton said.

Indirectly, the ADA president's statement criticized both the American Medical Association and the leadership of organized labor for making attacks on each other's motives.

ANHA President Alton E. Barlow said the conference was becoming "bogged down in harangue and bitterness" over the controversy.

"Remember that this conference has required more than two years of preparation, has involved literally hundreds of thousands of persons in every community throughout the country and covers the complete field of problems of our aging population," Barlow said.

Dr. Morton Leeds, a delegate from Indianapolis, proposed changing conference rules to allow all delegates to vote on the medical care issue. Under present rules, only representatives of the profession are permitted to vote.

U.S. Justice Stops University Closing

ATLANTA, Jan. 10 (AP)—A federal judge restrained Gov. Ernest Vandiver today from closing the University of Georgia by cutting off funds for the institution. Judge W. A. Bootle issued a temporary injunction ordering the governor and State Auditor B. E. Thrasher not to cut off or withhold operating funds. Bootle, who last Friday issued an order that the university must admit two Negroes, set a hearing for Thursday morning on whether the injunction should be made permanent. Bootle acted on a petition by attorneys for Charlayne A. Hunter, 18, and Hamilton E. Holmes, 19, the Negroes who want to pursue their education at ancient and historic Georgia.

Vandiver was ready to sign an order cutting off funds and closing the university if the Negroes enter classes. The federal injunction, however, stayed his hand or placed him in contempt if he proceeded.

Vandiver's administration leaders prepared for introduction later today bills to repeal a section of the present appropriation law that no state funds may be used for operation of an integrated school.

Attendance was reduced at the university classes, many students having departed for their homes after hearing after midnight news that Vandiver planned to close it and order a holiday the rest of the week.

Liaison Unit On Planning Is Discussed

Members of the Twin Falls city planning and zoning commission discussed the practicability of a liaison committee composed of members from the planning and zoning commission and the city commission during their meeting Tuesday morning at the city hall.

J. L. Donnanville, chairman of the planning and zoning commission, and Vernon Riddle, chairman of the city commission, will meet sometime this week to work out arrangements for the committee, which will function as a liaison committee between the two commissions.

The group felt that this combined committee would be able to accomplish more reasonable planning and zoning. This way members of both commissions would always know what the other commission is working on, it was noted.

Present were five members of the city commission, James Norfleet, Max Brown, John Wolfe, Howard Reynolds and Riddle. Planning and zoning commissioners at the meeting included Mel Carr, the Rev. Robert Keim, John Peterson, David Mead and Donnanville.

Members of both commissions agreed that the city should be working on a master plan, a desirable program of planning and zoning for the city. Riddle added that a subdivision ordinance should be formulated soon.

Measles Puts Local Pupils Out of Class

Harrison school has been hit hardest by an outbreak of measles, reporting 87 students of an enrollment of 600 absent Monday.

Beulah Way, principal of the school, said the disease seemed to hit the last Thursday before Christmas vacation and centered on children in the lower grades. She added the high rate of absenteeism is mostly in the upper grades now.

She commented that most of the absences were attributed to measles, but chickenpox, scarletina, mumps and strep throat also contributed.

In the other grade schools, Washington reported sickness—just beginning, Bickel and Lincoln noted the absenteeism rate is decreasing, and Morningside adds that the number of absences has been high for the last couple of weeks.

Figures reported from Washington school included 45 absent Monday, 50 Friday and 49 Thursday. The school has an enrollment of 594 students.

Lincoln school reported 61 students absent Monday from an enrollment of 669. The epidemic hit at Lincoln school before the Christmas vacation with the absence rate hovering around 80 to 90 and hitting 105 one day.

The rate of absences has been about the same for several weeks at Bickel school and Morningside school. Bickel, with an enrollment of 497 students, reported absences in the 40's and Morningside, with an enrollment of 695, notes about 50 absences.

New Congo State Being Developed

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo, Jan. 10 (AP)—A cousin of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba was reported setting up a new tribal state in the north Katanga province area occupied by Lumumba's troops from Stanleyville over the week-end.

Reports said Rene Mwamba, Lumumba's former minister of justice, led the movement into northern Katanga and proclaimed a regime independent of both the Leopoldville government headed by President Joseph Kasavubu and Col. Joseph Mobutu, and the secessionist Katanga government of Moïse Tshombe.

Study Seeking Otter Massacre Site and Date

There was an Otter massacre on the Old Oregon Trail the latter part of August, 1860, or early in September of that year. But just where did it take place and was it in 1860?

That's the research job undertaken by Mrs. Hugh O. Boone, corresponding secretary of the Twin Falls County Historical society, on behalf of the organization.

And why is the county society so interested in the Otter massacre? Last summer more than 150 members spent a long, hot day in an area south of Snake, river and south of King Hill, at what they were sure was the massacre site.

And then someone remembered—a marker near Murphy, (miles downstream below King Hill) states the massacre took place near there and the date is given as 1864.

So could there have been two massacre sites? Could there have been two trains jumped by Indians in two different locations? And why the discrepancy in years?

Either the Otter massacre occurred in 1860 or in 1864. There could not have been two performances of the same show.

So that is the task undertaken by Mrs. Boone. It is her plan to determine to her satisfaction—and to the satisfaction of the local society members—just where the Otter massacre took place and when.

Especially important is where, because it is a long way between King Hill and Murphy. Most of her research is being done by means of microfilm of old newspapers. The film is now in the Idaho State Historical society museum at Boise.

Two papers—the Portland, Oregonian and the Olympia Pioneer-Democrat, are producing the most detailed information. And these stories were written shortly after the affair occurred, so they should be relied upon—over more so than stories circulated years later.

Idaho Democrats Challenge Smylie To Disclose Plans

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Democrats challenged Gov. Robert E. Smylie today to present promptly to the Idaho legislature the details of his proposed building program and explain how he plans to finance it. Until they receive the information, said Sen. James Donart, D., Washington, the assistant minority leader in the senate, legislators cannot determine their attitude on the spending program already proposed. Smylie told the legislature at the outset of its 1961 session a week ago that he will propose general fund spending of $8.1 million dollars, with an additional unspecified amount for construction at state institutions.

In his budget message last Friday Smylie said again he will have a supplemental message on the construction program, and how it can be financed.

The demand for information on the building program came as senate Republicans prepared to caucus in an effort to determine how they stand regarding Smylie's proposals.

In the house, a bill was introduced to increase the state's minimum wage from 75 cents to $1. A companion measure would apply the same minimum to the pay of state and local governmental employees.

A similar minimum wage measure failed of enactment in the last session.

The $1 rate is the same as the present federal minimum wage.

Another bill introduced would eliminate provisions of the minimum wage law which require the commissioner of labor to notify an employer of violations of the law.

Under present law the employer is notified of violations by registered mail and ordered to comply with the minimum wage regulations. If the employer fails to heed the order the law instructs the prosecuting attorney to institute criminal action on notification of the commissioner of labor or a signed complaint.

The bill introduced today eliminates the notification provision and puts primary reliance for enforcement on another section of the Idaho code which provides for a fine of from $25 to $500 for any employer convicted of violation of the law.

Introduced in the senate was a resolution asking the governor to call the legislature into special session on Dec. 11, 1960, to take care of the organization work of the 1963 session. It was discussed (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Snow Depths For Area Are Reported Low

Snow depths in all drainage areas covered by the forest service office in Twin Falls are below those of a year ago, according to the weekly snow report issued Monday.

Halley has only three inches, compared to 19 in 1960 while Ketchum reports 11, with 21 inches a year ago. Galena's measurement, 32 inches, is the same as last year.

No report was given for Old Baldy station No. 1, with 20 inches reported at station No. 2. Station No. 3 has 27 inches, compared to 28 a year ago.

On the Malad drainage, Soldier Ranger station reports 17 inches, compared to 30 a year ago. Fairfield has seven, with 18 in 1960. Fleming ranch on the Salmon river reports 10, while a year ago there were 28 inches.

Black Ice, Fog Bother Drivers

By United Press International

Black ice and fog were the big problems for motorists driving through north and southwestern Idaho today while fog, black ice and some snow harassed travelers in the south and east.

State police said there were slick spots on roads in the Coeur d'Alene area and through Fourth of July canyon. Lookout pass was snow covered on top.

There were fog and black ice in the Boise area and spots of black ice near King Hill, Bliss and along highway 30 to the east.

The Twin Falls area had spots of black ice while from Strevell south there were both fog and black ice.

Cancer Repeats

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—Dr. Thomas A. Dooley, the famed "jungle doctor of Laos," has had a recurrence of the cancer in his chest that nearly took his life in 1959, his brother revealed today.

Malcolm W. Dooley said that during the past two weeks Dr. Dooley has been undergoing intensive analytical examinations at the memorial center for cancer and allied diseases.

Driver Fined By Judge on Topsy Count

Jose P. Archuleta, 38, Rupert, was fined $100 and his driver's license was suspended for one year by Acting Burley Police Judge James Amnest for drunk driving. He was arrested Saturday night at the intersection of Main street and Albion avenue in Burley by State Patrolman M. J. Snyder.

Mrs. Dale Kidd, Declo, was cited for passing at an intersection after a two-car mishap two miles west and two miles south of Rupert on highway 30 at 9:15 a. m. Tuesday.

The 1956 Plymouth Mrs. Kidd was driving sideswiped a 1956 Fordline truck owned by the Rural Electric company and driven by Darrell Miller, Rupert, while passing the truck.

Officers said Miller had slowed and was signaling to make a left turn. Damage was estimated at $75 to the Plymouth and $50 to the trucked.

Mrs. Kidd received minor head injuries, Deputy Sheriff Howard Platt, investigating officer, reported.

Sidney Bloomquist, 54, Twin Falls, was fined $5 and costs and assigned 20 demerits by Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey Tuesday morning for making an improper left turn.

Bloomquist was cited Friday by Twin Falls police when he made a left hand turn from the wrong lane. He was driving on Second avenue west and made a left turn onto Sixth street west.

Charles F. Stunberg, 77, Jerome, was fined $5 and given 20 demerits Tuesday by Jerome Police Judge Fred Eberhardt for a "stop sign violation." His driver's license was suspended for 60 days.

Sara L. Lee, 17, Jerome, was fined $10 and given 25 demerits by Judge Eberhardt Tuesday for a stop sign violation. Her driver's license was suspended for 60 days, but the judge said it would be returned on her 18th birthday anniversary which is Wednesday.

Laurence Sackett, Boise, was fined $2 and costs by Police Judge J. C. Miller Monday for making an illegal turn on West Main (Continued on Page 2, Column 7)

10 Arraigned On Counts as Court Opens

Ten persons were arraigned on criminal complaints before Twin Falls District Judge Theron Ward at the opening of the January term of district court Tuesday.

Appearing were Edwin A. Warner, Filer, on a charge of drunken driving, repeat offense. He was bound over to district court Nov. 28.

Charles D. Binning appeared on a charge of driving a vehicle while his driver's license was revoked. He was bound over Jan. 3, 1961.

Joe Bowles faced forgery charges. He was bound over Dec. 14, after waiving a preliminary hearing.

Hal Wood appeared on a forgery charge. He was bound over Sept. 9 by Probate Judge J. Dean Mosher.

Jean L. Robey, charged with burglary of the Union Motor Service station, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to district court Dec. 1 by Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey.

Joseph G. Sharp appeared on charges of grand larceny. He is accused of stealing a saddle valued at $80 from the Sears, Roebuck and company store, Twin Falls. He was bound over Dec. 15 by Judge Pumphrey after he waived preliminary hearing.

James Tate, charged with forgery, was bound over to district court Dec. 15.

Carl Yoder and Jimmie Lee Hendrix appeared on first degree burglary charges. They were bound over Dec. 27 after being caught with stolen goods in their car after a chase by state police.

Clinton L. Miller, charged with negligent homicide, was bound over Oct. 27. The charge is the result of a fatal shooting that occurred at the intersection of Falls avenue and the Sheehoe falls road Oct. 29.

Tentative Budget Is Prepared for County Spending

Twin Falls county commissioners met Tuesday to prepare and adopt a tentative county budget for the coming year.

"We anticipate very little change from last year's budget," said Henry Crow, commission chairman. "As now foreseen, any changes will be minor."

The commissioners expected to approve the tentative budget late Tuesday afternoon.

Once approved, the tentative budget will be used in the operation of county affairs until the second Monday in February when the permanent budget will be adopted. Crow related.

The permanent budget can be approved earlier than the tentative budget, Crow explained, but it cannot be any larger.

Russell C. Larsen was unable to attend the budget meeting because of illness. He has flu, Crow reported.

Only Five Days

License plate sales slacked off Tuesday with only five days remaining before the deadline. The line varied during the morning, sometimes as high as 10 persons waiting.

A clerk reported sales were "nearly neck and neck" with sales at the same period last year. By 11 a. m. 8,168 car plates and 2,721 truck license plates had been sold.

Hours at the county assessor's office are from 9:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. with no break at noon. The office is closed Saturday.

NEWS BULLETINS

HAVANA, Jan. 10 (AP)—A military tribunal today sentenced three Americans to 10 years in prison and ordered a fourth deported on charges of spying on Red China's New China news agency.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Gangs of extreme rightists attacked the homes of Socialist strikers near Liege today, smashing windows with stones and smearing walls with tar and paint.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield advised all senators to stand by for a possible vote today on the senate's week-long fight over changing its filibuster rule.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Republican leaders said today President Eisenhower will send congress a balanced, nonpolitical budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. They also said the budget for the current year will end up in the black. Eisenhower's budget message is to be to the Capitol Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—A New York automobile dealer told state investigators today he paid a Teamsters union official $3,000 for three years to keep labor peace in his shop, Wesley Pace, secretary-treasurer of Pace Motors, Inc., an Elmhurst, Long Island, Oldsmobile agency, revealed. from Butte, Mont., should be asked as soon as possible when he is coming to Twin Falls. It was noted that Thompson has not come to the city since he was hired by the city commission three or four months ago.

Planning and zoning commissioners indicated that most forthcoming zoning requests will be delayed until further city planning is done.

The group discussed the advisability of an off-street parking clause and a clause setting a minimum distance a business must be set back from a road.

It was noted that Twin Falls is "nearly forced" to develop itself as a shopping center for the area, especially since indications show the interstate highway will be on the north side of Snake river.

H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager, reported that a planning consultant made a report for the city in 1956. He added that he thought persons applying for a building permit, including every type of building from a single family dwelling to an industrial building, should show how they plan to account for off-street parking.

Dondanville noted that the main arterial roads will have an effect on planning and zoning, therefore planning and zoning commission members should examine the area's roads.

elon Chairman Vernon Riddle noted Derrick was hired after the first year's audit was scheduled to end, and was therefore not responsible for any inadequacies in the current report.

In other action, the commission named Twin Falls Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey acting judge, the appointment to be renewed on a month-to-month basis. Pumphrey comes under the purview of the mandatory retirement provision of city personnel policies for persons reaching 65. However, no replacement has been found yet, Riddle said.

Authorized temporary transfer of $5,000 from the general fund to a sewer bond construction fund account, to meet expenses already incurred in the city's $1,700,000 sewer treatment plant project. The $5,000 will be returned to the general fund after the bonds are sold and this money made available to the city.

Authorized publication of the city treasurer's quarterly report. Authorized payment of bills for December, 1960.

Death Claims Dr. C. F. Bath

WENDELL, Jan. 10—Dr. Charles F. Bath, 65, retired physician, died late Monday afternoon of a heart attack. He was found slumped at the wheel of his car near Berger south of Twin Falls.

Dr. Bath was born Oct. 23, 1895, at San Francisco and was educated there. He practiced in Filer from 1954 to 1957. Dr. Bath was a veteran of World War I, World War II and also of the Korean conflict.

Quick Actions Predicted for Algeria Crisis

PARIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle is expected to move quickly to break the stalemate with the Algerian rebels while the psychological effect of his referendum victory in still fresh.

De Gaulle also is expected to announce soon his timetable—and detailed plans for the first part of the Algerian program in France and the rebellion-torn North African territory.

Algeria's Muslim majority, De Gaulle has promised, will have at much greater voice in a self-governing regime that will rule until peace is restored and the Algerians vote whether they want to be independent or linked with France.

Just how the new government will work has not been disclosed, and only De Gaulle knew the timetable for spelling out the details.

Event Held

SHOSHONE, Jan. 10—At the Christmas tree bonfire Saturday, children of the community were treated to a marshmallow roast by the Chamber of Commerce. The children brought their wieners and buns.

Harrell Thorne was in charge of the project, assisted by Francis Bergin, Mike Babala, city employee, assisted in gathering up Christmas trees. The event took place at the city's parking lot.

OPPOSITION PAPER CLOSED
JACKHART, Jan. 10 (AP)—The government has eliminated Indone's last major opposition newspaper by closing down the outlawed Socialist party's Daily Pedoman and four related publications.

"Sewerola"

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 10 (AP)—County Commissioner Albert Penn, Jr., is unhappy today because another commissioner paid what he terms his "sewerola" and had his water turned back on.

The city shut Penn's water off last Friday because he refused to pay his bill for the past six months. He said he wouldn't pay it because of the extra charge for sewer system expenses that was added without a vote of approval by San Antonio residents.

So Commissioner Sam Jorrie wrote out a check for $40.04, the amount of the bill, and paid it for Penn yesterday.

8 Farmers Sue In Water Case

SPOKANE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Eight South Columbia Basin project farmers have filed suits totaling $120,184 against the government for alleged failure to provide irrigation water.

The farmers contend they were supposed to receive the water at their farms last April but didn't get it until mid-June. They blame defective government siphons for the delay.

The plaintiffs and the specific sum each seeks for crop loss are: Jack A. Ghannon, $39,171; W. J. Beus, $21,075; Harry Kawabuchi, $17,217; Glen Woodward, $15,283; Maurice Koester, $14,804; Wayne Farley, $9,443; L. W. Baile, $8,760; and O. B. Baile, $9,202.

Idaho Demos Press Smylie For His Plan

briefly, then sent to the senate state affairs committee.

The senate passed 44 to 0 a house-approved memorial asking congress to extend the sugar control act from March 31 to Dec. 31.

The chairman of the powerful house revenue and taxation committee in Idaho's 1961 legislature said yesterday his group would consider a sales tax only as a last resort.

Rep. George L. Crookham, Jr., R-Canyon, was an avowed backer of a statewide sales and use tax in the 1957 and 1959 legislatures. But he said that "at the present time there is no impetus" for sales tax legislation.

"The committee will exhaust all other approaches before turning to a sales tax," Crookham said.

He announced at the same time that his committee had decided not to hold hearings outside of Boise on tax matters.

Two years ago when Democrats controlled the legislature, the committee held a series of hearings throughout the state.

"The committee will concentrate this session," Crookham said, on statewide publicity and hearings in Boise on revenue measures.

He said that hearings in Boise on the bills will provide detailed information to the public and "the people of Idaho will contact their representatives and express their views."

He said that the hearings in 1959 "showed marked support in favor of a sales and use tax, but it was only with great reluctance that the bill was ever printed."

Crookham said that "no single tax can do the job" of financing the operations of government. "It takes a combination of taxes to achieve the goal for tax equity."

Rep. Ralph Litton, D-Fremont, said he believes the state will "be backed into a sales tax" if it approves the financing method suggested by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

Smylie proposes to use a portion of the surplus remaining in the general fund at the end of the current biennium to balance his budget for the next.

"With the present tax program," said Litton, "it appears that by the end of the coming biennium—after using six million dollars of our surplus—we'll be backed into a sales tax and I'm unconditionally opposed to a sales tax. We don't need it."

The house met briefly and only one bill was introduced yesterday.

Rep. Vern Brassey, R-Boise, introduced a measure which would change age restrictions of Idaho's adoption laws.

Present law requires that a person adopting a child be at least 15 years older than the child adopted. Brassey's bill would eliminate the restriction where the adopting parent is a spouse of a natural parent.

The bill to repeal the $10 "head tax," introduced last week by the house Republican leadership, was referred yesterday to the revenue and taxation committee.

The senate approved yesterday the first bill enacted by either branch in the 1961 session. Given senate approval 39 to 0 was the measure appropriating $393,500 to finance the legislature's operations.

Also passed 39 to 0 was a bill providing $4,792 as a deficiency appropriation to complete payment of the costs of the 1959 session.

Both measures were passed under suspension of the rules and will go to the house.

Although he said he did not wish to vote against the measure, Sen. O. J. Buxton, D-Teton, voiced complaint regarding the $4,792 deficiency bill. He said it would not have been necessary if "we had not denied these funds two years ago." Buxton was president pro tem of the 1959 session.

Naegle replied that the appropriation for the 1959 session was $17,000 larger than for the 1961 session.

Among the other bills introduced were measures changing the time of municipal elections from April to November, in odd-numbered years, and clarifying residence requirements for city officials.

Two Leaders Deplore Feud On Aged Plan

only about 260 persons in one section will vote on the question.

There was virtually no hope of agreement on the issue in sight.

Representatives of the American Medical Association (AMA) and the AFL-CIO, major contenders in the battle over how the government should help older persons pay doctor and hospital bills, dug in for a fight to the finish.

The controversy overshadowed conference discussions of housing, jobs, education and family life for the nation's 50 million persons over 45 years of age.

A leading AMA spokesman last night accused George Meany, AFL-CIO president, of trying to sabotage the meeting by using steamroller tactics on the 2,700 delegates.

Many who ridiculed AMA opposition to President-Elect John F. Kennedy's proposal for tying medical care for the aged to social security, labeled the attack "vicious nonsense."

The AMA has endorsed the present federal-state program to provide benefits to persons over 65 who are not on relief rolls but still cannot afford needed medical care.

Meany dubbed this plan "inadequate, unwieldy and unrealistic" in urging conference support for the program that Kennedy already has asked congress to approve swiftly.

The union chiefs got support from some leading Republicans yesterday on the opening day of the four-day conference.

Marion B. Folsom, former cabinet official under President Eisenhower, endorsed the social security approach. The ex-secretary of health, education and welfare called it the "logical" way to deal with health needs of the elderly.

Arthur Larson, an Eisenhower Republican who once served as undersecretary of labor, also approved the Kennedy plan. So did New Jersey Gov. Robert B. Meyner, a Democrat.

But Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., cautioned against what he called an "attempt to place the aged under the care of the federal government. It is, he said, "an extremely grave danger."

Coupling the medical care proposals with what he called "clarification" for federal aid to education, Goldwater cautioned that, in a generation or two, it would be possible to destroy "both ends of the line of responsibility in the family, the responsibility of the parent to the child and the child to the parent."

President Eisenhower, who addressed the opening session, urged the delegates to compose their differences and agree on a recommendation that would help solve problems of the elderly.

Ship Reports Fire While at Polar Station

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 10 (AP)—A fire aboard the navy ice-breaker Eastwind at the South Pole threatened to explode piles of ammunition stored in a compartment with its steel walls turned red hot by the flames, radioed reports picked up here today disclosed.

But the worst damage appeared today to be that you can't tell some of the officers from the enlisted men.

The fire broke out late Sunday, and for a tense three hours, the crew aboard the ship battled the vicious fire. The ship, out of Boston, was anchored at McMurdo sound.

Capt. J. W. Nabb, Jr., commanding officer, said the fire started from a short in an electrical box in the compartment where wardrobe supplies for officers aboard the ship are stored.

This is located, he said, next to the compartment where the ammunition for the ship's guns are stored.

Automatic Home Windows Made

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Push-button windows in automobiles are old stuff with M. D. Orlin, Suburban Shaker heights. He has the same thing in his home.

Orlin, who holds several patents on window mechanisms, has produced a double hung window whose top sash lowers or rises with a flick of a switch.

A one-sixth horsepower motor is boxed into the top of the frame. A chain runs across the top of the window to threaded rods, one in each side of the frame. Throw the switch and the rods turn the window down. Throw it again, and it goes up.

Exchange Club's Dues Considered

NORVAL Wildman, Exchange club president, explained the dues structure of the club at its regular Tuesday noon meeting at the Rogerson hotel.

After outlining the present system and its deficiencies, Wildman asked the club members for their opinions on changing dues. The matter will be considered by the board of control at its next meeting.

Mack Dodson reported the club's charter party will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 21, at the Turf club.

Herbert Richards, Twin Falls, was a guest.

Hagerty Will Accept ABC News Office

NEW YORK, Jan. 10—James C. Hagerty, press secretary who leaves the White House with President Eisenhower Jan. 20, said yesterday he is taking John Daly's old job at the American Broadcasting company (ABC).

Hagerty and Leonard H. Goldenson, president of American Broadcasting - Paramount Theaters, Inc. announced the long-tumored appointment at a joint news conference.

The White House press chief will become vice president in charge of news, special events and public affairs at ABC at an undisclosed salary which he described as a very handsome sum.

Hagerty said, however, that the rumor his salary would be $100,000 a year was not very accurate. His White House job paid $21,000 a year.

He will take over on Jan. 23 the network job which Daly resigned in November in a dispute with ABC executives whom he described as newcomers to news broadcasting.

Treaty Draft for River Plan OK'd

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (AP)—Canada and the United States have agreed on a treaty draft covering the 10-year 458 million-dollar joint program for power development and flood control on the Columbia river.

Speedy signing of the 60-year treaty was predicted by U. S. Undersecretary of Interior Elmer Bennett and Canadian Justice Minister Edmund Byrne. Details of the pact will be made public after it is signed.

Negotiators met sporadically for 15 years to discuss joint efforts to develop the river which loops through British Columbia and enters the United States in northwest Washington.

The treaty after signing will go to the Canadian parliament and the U. S. congress for ratification. There is a possibility work could start this year.

Topic Slated

BURLEY, Jan. 10—What is success? will be the topic for discussion led by Robert Francis, county guidance counselor, Burley, during the Dworshak elementary PTA meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, states Kendall Dayle, president.

Special musical numbers will be presented by the "Music Wreckers" of Murtaugh. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 until 8 p.m.

Official Says New Judges Bill to Pass

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Chairman Emanuel Celler of the House Judiciary committee has predicted congress will pass his bill to provide 63 new federal court judgeships in the United States and Puerto Rico.

In introducing the measure, the New York Republican said it would boost the number of federal judges by 35 per cent. He termed it the largest single increase in judicial manpower in the history of the federal court system.

There now are 178 federal judgeships, about evenly divided between Democrats and Republicans.

The Eisenhower administration has urged congress for the last few years to provide more judges to trim the backlog of cases in the federal courts.

But the Democratic-controlled congress failed to do so, even after a promise last year from Attorney General William P. Rogers that the GOP administration would appoint Democrats to half the new judgeships.

The last omnibus judgeship bill was passed in 1954. Since then Celler's judiciary committee has approved three such proposals, but none as large as his new measure. The 1960 committee bill called for 35 new judicial posts.

Four Committees Are Authorized

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—Appointment of four special committees was authorized yesterday by the senate.

Sen. Nellie Cline Steenson, D., Bannock, was named to a one-member committee on "tremendous" She will send sympathy cards and the like as developments warrant.

Other committees:

Lincoln day observances—Sen. R. H. Young, Jr., R., Canyon; Sen. Art Murphy, D., Shoshone, and Sen. Walt E. Prather, R., Boundary.

Memorial service—Sen. K. C. Barlow, R., Cassia; Sen. C. A. Bortolosen, R., Blaine; and Sen. James Donah, D., Washington.

Photography committee—Sen. J. E. Yensen, R., Boise; Sen. Vincent A. Nally, R., Gem, and Sen. William J. Dee, D., Idaho.

Buhl Church Names Aides

BUHL, Jan. 10—Church officers were elected and the proposed budget for 1961 was reviewed and approved at the annual congregational meeting of the First Presbyterian church here Sunday evening.

Lloyd Byrne, Ted Dehl, Thomas Perkins and Richard Robinson were elected elders and Robert Holloway, Mrs. Lee Henderson, Mrs. Robert Holloway, Mrs. Margaret Rodgers and Mrs. George Atkins were elected deacons. Thomas Perkins was elected trustee.

Retiring elders are Leonard Leth, Raymond Bennett, George Ahlquist, and Edward Anderson. Retiring deacons include Mrs. Leo Turner, Mrs. Willard Dowd, Mrs. John Conover, Mrs. Harry Stewart and Thomas Perkins.

It was noted that pain was reported in all departments of the church and John MacKay was given a vote of thanks for his success in heading the 1960 every-member canvass.

Committees for the year were appointed with Thomas Perkins to serve on the grounds committee; Richard Robinson, plant maintenance; Ted Dehl, pulpit supply and youth; and Lloyd Byrne, finance. Other committees will continue as in 1960.

DRIVER FINED

BUHL, Jan. 10—Fred P. Puschel, Castleford, was fined $5 plus costs when he appeared Friday before Buhl Justice of the Peace C. E. Rudy for driving with an expired license. He was cited by State Patrolman Charles Peugh.

New Moisturizing Colonaid Stops CONSTIPATION DUE TO DEHYDRATION

without gag, bloot or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thirsty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-R-E-C-U-R-E stimulate colon to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only new COLONOID possesses its great moisturizing capacity plus its strength-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital-proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation overnight. So, for positive relief from constipation, get amazing, moisturizing new COLONOID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Meet With Board
HAGERMAN, Jan. 10—A meeting with the state highway board in Boise at 3 p.m. Thursday will be held for all interested persons to discuss the routing of the highway past the Hagerman school.

Persons interested in attending or can furnish transportation should call Noy Brackett, Vernon Ravenscroft, Ray Alexander or Alan Erwin. This includes residents of the Hagerman-Tuttle area.

Circular Hotel

LONDON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Britain's first circular hotel, stylish modern structure costing more than 2.5 million dollars, opened for business yesterday on the doorstep of London airport, 18 miles from the center of the city.

Shaped like a drum, the hotel has a host of up-to-date features, such as walkie-talkie staff communications, doors that swing open automatically as guests approach, double windows to muffle aircraft noises, TV and radio in every one of the 188 bedrooms and air conditioning throughout.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—The Hyde-park Roosevelts have finally won out over the Oyster-Bay Roosevelts in the 20-year struggle for the choicest site at Washington on which to erect a memorial to their distinguished direct.

According to present plans, FDR will be honored with the erection of a stonehenge-like row of monumental slabs on the only remaining spot which, from its location, ranks him with George Washington, Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Jefferson.

When TR's family decides upon the kind of tribute they want for their father and grandfather, it will be placed on a tiny and inaccessible island in the midst of the polluted Potomac river, with Washington's grimy industrial waterfront as an unsightly background.

STONEHENGE ON POTOMAC—The quiet but stubborn battle for memorial superiority began 20 years ago, when FDR's admirers negotiated the purchase of land on the ridge across the Potomac river, where Arlington cemetery lies in the Virginia sunlight.

There were strenuous objections to the proposed purchase—FDR was then an extremely controversial figure—and it was finally blocked. The land has since been purchased by the government for an extension of the graveyard for the heroic dead of World War I and the Korean conflict.

FDR's friends persisted, however, and to the surprise of everybody except the insiders, they have purchased a 27-acre plot near West Potomac park. The design selected consists of eight huge tablets, the highest being 165 feet. Pertinent quotations from FDR's speeches such as the "Four Freedoms" will be inscribed on each marble tablet.

STATUESQUE SHADOWS AHEAD—The important feature of this site, provided pending negotiations are concluded successfully, is its physical relationship to the Lincoln, Washington and Jefferson memorials.

FDR's tablets will rise at the fourth corner of the rectangular area on whose other three corners stand the tributes to his three historic predecessors—Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson.

Memorials to any future President, no matter how great his stature in American or world history, must be erected in a relatively obscure and out-of-the-way place. Tourists will need a guide to find them, as they do now to gaze upon Andrew Jackson's rocking horse statue in Lafayette park across from the White House.

Such Presidents as Madison, Monroe, Grant, Cleveland and Woodrow Wilson also linger in statue shadows. The Robert A. Taft carillon on the capitol hill grounds surpasses their insignificant memorials.

JET AGE GARGOYLE—However, as with the proposed design for TR on his lonely island, there is still some controversy over the slab-like arrangement for FDR. Alice Roosevelt Longworth criticized the original memorial to her father as a "jet age gargoyle," and congress has provided that TR's family must approve any new model.

It was John Roosevelt who described the design for FDR as a Stonehenge. Others consider it far too modern.

It offers a sharp and clashing contrast with the Greek lines of the Lincoln memorial, which resembles the Parthenon on the Acropolis at Athens, to the stark simplicity of the Washington shaft; and to the classic beauty of the Jefferson shrine, which is modeled upon the architectural pattern he designed for his beloved University of Virginia at Charlottesville.

Thus, the nation's most famous and hallowed hall of historic fame is now—or soon will be—filled.

LIFE IS RUGGED
Dear Gent:
If you look back through the years and think things were a bit rougher for you when you were in high school, you're all wrong. You didn't know what it meant to lead a rugged life. Yes, you may have had some "chores" and other things to do around the house, but that was mere child's play. And anyway, such things are far beneath the dignity of anyone except a child.

Things are really rugged for the high school youngster of today. First off, he has to get up in the morning in time to get to school. It's not a matter of waking, but there is such a thing as the car falling. Walk? You kiddin'? Only a square walk, even if it's just a block!

And living today is far more expensive. Why it takes $50 a month just to buy gas! And you certainly had no high expenses like that in high school. On top of that, milk shakes and hamburgers cost plenty.

Already I can hear you suggesting work as a means of using up spare time and financing these high expenses. Boy, you're sure a square! Who's got time to work? A. Parent (Twin Falls)

In 274 years you will have your million, if you can get some friend or relative to provide all the necessities and amenities of life for you so that you can be a light-wad and not spend only $100 in those years.

Second plan: Get 3,650 people to work for you and take $274 from each one for the privilege of you giving them a job so in one year you have your million.

I am not trying either plan on account of inflation. A. Spendthrift (Jerome)

WASHINGTON

BY WARREN WEAVER
Former President of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

(One of a series of easy-to-read condensations from chapters written by eminent American authorities for book publication by Prentice-Hall with the Report from President Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals, Edited by Ray Cronley for Newspaper Enterprise Association, Copyright 1960, the American Assembly.)

An energetic development of science is absolutely essential to the continuing flow of new knowledge which leads to new inventions, new materials, new procedures, new industries, new opportunities for employment, and, in total, to a sound and vigorous economy.

The requirements of defense make imperative a vigorous and large scientific effort. The more fundamental and imaginative are the activities, the more likely is it that defense will be well served.

The age, structure of our population is shifting. There is new and growing importance to studies of the degenerative and other diseases manifested in later life.

The prospect of ever-increasing developments in nuclear power and in other nuclear experimentation makes it imperative that we increase our knowledge in the whole field of radiation biology, with special emphasis on the genetic effects of long-continued exposure to small amounts of high energy radiation.

The beneficial relation of science to the control and elimination of disease, to the assurance of an adequate and proper food supply, to the prevention of accidents and to the maintenance of sanitary conditions, are obvious and recognized.

There has occurred a clear increase in our responsibilities, as a powerful and rich nation, for the welfare of less favored parts of the world. We must bring all aspects of science into a more effective relation with these global responsibilities.

Some parts of the world are striving to become, in crash schedules, modern industrialized nations. We must help these people not only to build factories and power plants; we must help them to reorient themselves to the thinking of the modern scientific world.

The goals which can usefully be set for our national scientific development are directions in which we should move and keep moving, not fixed points which we can attain and then relax.

The following list of goals starts out with the most important item and then slowly decreases in priority.

Since science and all other fields that depend on educated manpower must compete within our national supply of talent, it is essential every young person of intellectual promise be given opportunity to develop to the full.

We must assure that students even in the elementary grades be exposed to the interest, imporance, beauty and excitement of science.

We must assure that every young person who has the desire and capacity to become a scientist be exposed to the best science education our leading scholars can provide.

We must recognize the importance of teaching and reward the teacher at all levels of the educational system.

We should develop science in our country energetically and broadly, not to be ahead of someone else, but to be worthy of ourselves.

We should vastly increase and improve all ways of giving every citizen a better understanding of science.

We should make every effort to absorb science into the whole of life, bringing it to understanding collaboration with the humane arts.

We should bring science—in its more applied aspects, in its basic aspects and as a mode of thinking about the world—to the more effective service of the less-favored countries and peoples.

We should avoid like the plague the enticing danger of too much and too concentrated planning of our national scientific development. The great majority of scientists agree that the supposed benefits of centralized planning are an illusion. But we must nevertheless devise some more effective mechanism for over-all comparative judgments about national priorities.

We must recognize the new and emerging role of the science administrator. We must give these positions the organizational, intellectual and financial recognition which will make it possible to attract and hold first-rate men in these critically important jobs.

Hank Goes Through Ritual to Open Account in Italian Bank

BY HENRY McLEMORE
ROME, Italy—Not since I was initiated into a college fraternity have I been the center of so much ritual as when I opened a modest checking account in a Rome bank recently.

A mysterious rite from start to finish, it required four solid hours from presentation of application to the warm hand-clasp that signified my acceptance and belonging.

During the four hours, many things took place. At first, I was left alone in a settee in a reception room, as if being given time to review my life and to decide if I were worthy. This solitary period of meditation was unbroken by so much as a glance my way by a member of the bank staff.

Summoned at last, I was interviewed by a frock-coated official who wanted to know if I were sure his was the bank of my choice. Why I had chosen it, and why I was happy in my choice.

I was then given a mass of papers to sign while members of the staff studied my passport, my car registration, and made numerous phone calls, to whom I have no idea.

This done, I was handed a large square of handsome paper, bearing a red seal, many signatures and a number a foot long.

A runner in somber blue, enlivened only at the cuffs with gold braid, led me once more to the reception room settee and I was given another half hour to think things over and, I suppose, change my mind about joining.

When the bank saw that my mind was made up, that I determined to stick it through, I was called before another set of authorities and asked to sign another sheet of papers.

Whispered talks took place. I was led from wicket to wicket, showing at each a sheet of paper I had signed. The runner appeared at my side and I was led to a counter behind which stood a battery of typists.

Each typed madly on one of the sets of papers I had signed, occasionally asking me for bits of information about my family, my background, my occupation, my health, and future intentions as to habitat and work.

When the typists finished their work, I was handed a sheet of paper by each. I now had a mighty wad of onion skin paper in my hands.

The gentleman I had first spoken to when entering the bank now approached me.

"MOBOCRACY" IN ACTION

Democracy may be at a juncture in history where it needs protection from its friends as well as its enemies.

The disorders in Belgium are a painful case in point.

The sequence of events was simple. When the Belgians cut the Congo drift, they were faced with inevitable economic difficulties at home. To meet them, the present government under Premier Eyskens proposed an "austerity" legislative program.

The Belgian Socialists disapproved of the program. In protest they called a series of strikes which have added up to a near general strike in many parts of Belgium. To reinforce their complaints, they have marched in the streets and indulged in riotous disorders.

Now it is clear that this is a political strike—aimed at the very least at defeating the austerity program, and at the most at unseating the Eyskens government.

But is this really the way to accomplish such ends in a democracy?

The political strike, the riot, the overturning of cars and the stoning of shops, are these the processes of democracy?

Of course they are not. They are the tactics and strategy of internal warfare. They represent the substitution of violence for the human intelligence. They are as reprehensible in the domestic sphere as war is on the international scene.

What is truly stunning is that such weapons should be so quickly resorted to, and that they should find so many ready hands in tiny Belgium, a nation long seen in the world's eyes as one of its most orderly democracies.

The Socialists in Belgium may think of themselves as democrats. But they have not been living and acting as democrats. They have been trying to legislate in the streets, with rock and muscle.

They have been a bad example to the supporters of democracy everywhere. They have done no service to themselves, to their country, or to the cause of freedom. Democracy is not mobocracy.

Every time a "democratic" rioter throws a stone through glass, he breaks a window in democracy's threatened house. And the wind which then wafts in is an evil current generated in Communist Russia.

Are the peoples in the democracies thus to do the work of their enemies? In too many instances it would seem so—unless they can awake to realize that democracy is served only by democratic processes, not by self-destructive internal warfare such as has plagued the Belgians.

CASTRO ASKED FOR IT

In breaking off diplomatic relations with Cuba, we have taken an action which most Americans will regard as reasonable in the light of Fidel Castro's persistent provocations.

There is no doubt that we have also served Castro's own twisted political purposes.

As President Eisenhower has properly pointed out, there is a limit to the harassment one nation can endure at the hands of another. Though we cannot take punitive steps against tiny Cuba, we do not have to pretend to be on friendly terms with a government which has made hating America its stated policy.

There is no need to catalogue again the many Castro provocations. The final straw, of course, was his order to reduce our Cuban embassy staff from near 100 to 11—the exact number in Cuba's American embassy. Our obvious conclusion was that this would make our Havana embassy virtually inoperative.

From Castro's viewpoint, the gains in this move were clear. Much of the U. S. staff in Cuba was engaged constantly in processing visas for Cubans eager to escape to America from the wonders of the Castro regime.

The backlog of Cubans seeking U. S. entry is said to be at least 50,000 right now. They, plus the thousands already landed in Florida, constitute an intense embarrassment to Castro. For they advertise in loud tones that his revolution is not universally accepted as the blessing of the century.

Besides this, Castro undoubtedly found a kind of warped satisfaction in the mere act of our breaking off. In his petty dictator's world, even such a negative act can be hailed as a triumph, for he will offer it as proof his "hate America" campaign is justified.

In actual fact it is not justified. We may indeed have had our shortcomings in our relations with the Cuban people. But a strong, basic friendship existed, and as far as we are concerned, still does. Thus the severing of diplomatic ties must be taken with deep regret.

Whatever Castro's quick advantage in this break, his people are the long-range losers for, all aside from the now frustrated would-be refugees, they stood to gain much from a developing friendship with an America more alert today than before to the needs and problems of its Latin-American neighbors to the south.

We cannot deal with Castro. We must hope that the shock of this break hastens the day when the Cuban people decide they cannot do so either.

VIEW OF OTHERS

FOUR DAYS OF TRAGEDIES
The Constellation fire, following close on the heels of the airplane crashes, has brought tragedy and human suffering to the city that stagger comprehension. The hundreds of millions of dollars in property losses are a minor matter compared with the human losses involved. And there is bitter irony in the way the events came about. Both the fire and the crashes were occurrences that one would have thought beforehand could not possibly occur.

Take the Constellation fire. An airplane carrier would seem to be the least likely structure in the world to burn. As a matter of fact, the navy department released a statement about the Constellation while the fire was still raging which said: "Fire-proof and fire-resistant materials had been used throughout... this included deck covering and all fabrics used in furnishings."

But it wasn't the carrier's structure that burned. It was the fantastic amount of wood for temporary scaffolding and other flammable materials stored and lying around, such as wooden crates, paint cans and plywood. Then, too, the insulation on the electrical cables and wires fed the flames and gave off deadly smoke and fumes. And ironical is the fact that, although the carrier was in the last stages of construction, its interior fire-fighting equipment and the manpower program for its use had not yet been put into operation—just when the peace-time risks were the greatest.

It is unbelievable that the fire which destroyed the Normandie in 1942 has not brought about drastic measures both to prevent and extinguish such fires. In that case too the flames fed on temporary flammable materials. Action both by Navy and city authorities to cope with this situation is now urgently called for.

In welcome contrast to the tragedies themselves has been the superb performance of the fire, police and hospital forces—and also the Navy Yard workers in meeting these emergencies. But the Fire Department bore their full brunt—not only in fighting the flames but in rescue work and in the terrible task of exhuming the dead.

Never before in the city's history have the department's members been called on to tackle such a prodigious job in so short a period of time. From Commissioner Cavanagh and Chief of Department David down to the fourth-grade firemen, and even the "probies," worked valiantly and long under almost unbearable strains. They deserve in full measure the appreciation and respect of the people of New York.

In addition, the way the department's forces were deployed—by pre-determined procedures supplemented by the actions of the dispatchers in fire alarm headquarters—should give the public an added sense of security. This was well illustrated by the sizable Frost Street fire in Brooklyn on Monday night. The companies which would ordinarily have responded were still at the Navy Yard fire. But those which had been "allocated" from other parts of the city handled the fire so promptly and effectively as the neighborhood's contingent would have done under ordinary circumstances. — New York Times

FASHION NOTE
The new Plymouth cars are appearing on the streets, their rear ends a vision in nicely flattened and rounded forms. Not a suggestion of a tailfin in any one of the new models.

We hope that this will please Professor Galbraith and the rest of the "liberal" economists who have carried on so against the tailfin as a prime symbol of "waste." We hope, too, that it will not be lost upon Professor Galbraith that the change has come about in a purely natural fashion, without any compulsion from Washington, D. C.—Wall Street Journal.

NARROWED DOWN
The Democrats won the presidency. They also elected a governor for the state of Washington and retained control of both houses of congress and of the state legislature.

These victories may also prove embarrassing. What will our state Democratic officials do now without a Republican administration in the nation's capital to blame for all their failures and shortcomings?—Yakima Republic

"We are very happy with our new all-electric home..."

After using electric heat just one winter, we are very happy with our new all-electric home. I find wood-work and walls have no smoke discoloration or greasy film, and feel confident our redecorating costs are going to be much lower. We also are enjoying the noise-free operation of this heating system, the individual room control temperature. My house plants have never been so healthy and I can't help feeling what is better for them must be better for us."

Excited Cadet Fires Cannon To Start Fete

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 10 (AP)—A Citadel cadet, his face flushed with excitement, pulled the lanyard of a 100-year-old cannon yesterday to begin a five-year national Civil War centennial commemoration.

The shot boomed out across Charleston harbor in a re-enactment of the Confederate attack 100 years ago yesterday on the Union vessel Star of the West.

The real firing took place at little Morris Island, an oversized sandbar a mile or so off Ft. Sumter. The re-enactment was moved to the Battery, the main street fronting Charleston harbor, to accommodate a police-estimated crowd of some 20,000.

Spectators lined the Battery for blocks, perched on the rooftops and atop a nearby hotel to watch the ceremonies.

In the original attack, the Star of the West, bearing 200 troops and supplies for Ft. Sumter, was driven away by young cadets of the Citadel.

Men Wear Sideburns
Their counterparts manned a four-gun battery and wore authentic gray Citadel uniforms of 100 years ago. Long sideburns in the fashion of the 1860's curled beneath the rims of their caps.

The old cannons, lent by a collector, performed well, firing 17 times in an accurate replay of the skirmish that preceded actual hostilities by only three months. The "target" of the guns was the navy minesweeper USS Orleans Parish. It was rigged with a stack, mast, sails and sidewheel to resemble the old Star of the West. As the vessel passed the cannonading cadets, grenades were tossed aboard to give the appearance of shot landing nearby.

First Twins Born in New Cassia Hospital

The first twins to be born in the new Cassia Memorial hospital since its opening last summer were the identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Reed, Albion. The tiny girls were born at 1:30 and 1:33 a.m. Monday. The first was 17 1/2 inches long and weighed five pounds, seven ounces and the second was 18 inches long and weighed five pounds, three ounces. They have dark hair and blue eyes. Mrs. Reed said "I surprised everyone, including the doctor." The Reeds have three other children, Lynn, 12; Paul, 9; and Diane, 6. The babies' maternal grandmother is Mrs. Rhoda Humphreys, Logan, Utah, and their paternal grandmother is Mrs. Lenora Braid, Denver. The Reed family has lived in Albion for the past five years, coming from Utah. The father is a welder and machinist at Simplot's in Heyburn. (Staff photo-engraving)

Woman Historian to Address Area Knife, Fork Club Jan. 16

BURLEY, Jan. 10—Religion, not oil, is the big problem in the Middle East, insists Catherine McKinney Butler, Oklahoma City, Okla., historian, student and a recent visitor to the Bible lands which make up a large part of the Middle East. She will be the speaker for the Burley-Rupert Knife and Fork meeting to be held at the Elks dining room at 7 p.m. Monday.

According to Mrs. Butler, it is the Bible lands, centuries old, that are the key to peace in the Middle East. Her Muslim, Jew and Christian have been biting chunks out of each other for years. The Russians, without a religion and recognizing no God, have been keeping the religious people of this area fighting against each other, and hatred in places is at the boiling point.

"The oil problem is merely a physical one," explains Mrs. Butler.

Russia doesn't need the oil and merely wants to keep the Western democracies, who do need it to keep their industries moving, from getting it. "The situation is tough and go because atheistic Russia ironically is influencing countries with deep-rooted religions against the Western democracies, she says.

She is a student of the Bible land history and a longtime resident of Oklahoma. She was graduated from the University of Oklahoma and then took graduate work at Northwestern university and the Columbia college of education. She is active in civic work in her home city and state.

Nixon Draws Ike's Praise At GOP Fete

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower said last night that Vice President Richard M. Nixon not only had been "invaluable to government but a warm friend" in the eight years they have served together.

"The President" praised Nixon's "devoted service" at a party given by congressional Republicans for the retiring vice president on his 48th birthday anniversary.

Nixon, responding after he had cut a birthday cake, said it had been his privilege to sit down in the government with a man who led the crusade of 1952. He added that Eisenhower had given him a "pleasant surprise" in the form of the table in administration consultations for the last eight years.

The outgoing President and vice president were welcomed to the party by more than 1,000 Republicans who paid $12.50 per seat for a party given by the Republican Capitol Hill club in a downtown hotel.

Three Students Eye Elks Award

BUHL, Jan. 10—Three Buhl high school students will compete for the annual Twin Falls Elks club leadership and scholarship awards, reports George Goodner, guidance director of the local high school.

Garry Matlock will compete for the leadership award. Alan Bruffey, most valuable student scholarship award in the boys' division, and Linda Van Zante, for the most valuable student scholarship award in the girls' division.

Local first place winner will receive $50 and second place, $25. The event will take place in February at Twin Falls. John F. Linsen, youth activities chairman, is in charge of the project.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower has accepted the resignation of Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton with a tribute to the secretary's "vigor, wisdom and imagination." Seaton's resignation will be effective Jan. 20 when President-elect John F. Kennedy moves into the White House.

Minimum Pay Boost Sought

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, the senate Republican leader, has introduced a $1.10-an-hour minimum wage bill which will stand as a rival to the broader proposal President-elect John F. Kennedy is expected to submit.

Federal law now sets $1 an hour as the minimum wage for many businesses and industries in interstate commerce. Dirksen said his proposal to boost the minimum by 10 cents an hour would have an "impact which will not be too great on the economy" in the current business slump.

Kennedy, as a senator, sponsored a $1.25 minimum wage bill which the senate passed. A senate-house conference committee deadlocked over this measure and a less liberal house version, however, and both versions were left stranded when congress adjourned last year.

Too Pretty

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—A 5.617-pound cake being whipped up for the inaugural ball literally will be too pretty to eat.

The $10,000 rum cake, complete with a three-foot long replica of the White House and a working model of a fountain, will be cut to give token pieces to President-elect John F. Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson and their wives.

The rest will be put on display for guests at the Jan. 20 inaugural ball at the National Guard armory here, the inaugural committee announced today.

Winners for Chariot Race Are Reported

RICHFIELD, Jan. 10—The fast chariot race teams of Jack Funk, Burley, and Ron Nielson, Paul, chucked up wins at the Magic Valley Racing association's first contest meet at Cactus-Pots in Nevada Sunday afternoon.

Two Fined

BURLEY, Jan. 10—Lawrence W. Warr, Muriel, was fined $14 and costs by Justice of the Peace Alfred Crane Monday for an overload on registration. He was cited by State Patrolman Frank Mogensen.

Chamber for Burley Notes State's Issues

BURLEY, Jan. 10—A general discussion meeting on items likely to come up before the Idaho legislature was held during the Monday luncheon meeting of the Burley Chamber of Commerce at Cousin Roy's.

William Parsons, newly appointed legislative committee chairman, was in charge of the program and summarized highlights of Gov. Robert E. Smylie's message to the legislature last week.

Mack Crouch suggested that the chamber make a recommendation to legislators on the state sales tax. He said he believed a bill pertaining to the tax would come up during the session and there are certain groups such as the PTA supporting it. Other members expressed belief that a sales tax bill would never be passed.

The pro-and-cons-of-the "head tax" were discussed in length as well as taxes to aid the schools.

The Idaho Retailers association has drawn up a proposed "bid check" law and James Roper stated that he would like this discussed at one of the coming meetings.

Ralph Anderson, Salt Lake City, Utah, was a guest of Ezra Moore and Mrs. Giff Strom was a guest. Several meetings are planned on legislative subjects and the chamber plans to take a secret ballot on different issues. Results will be mailed to legislators.

Minidoka Aides Are Given Oaths

RUPERT, Jan. 10—The oath of office for newly-elected Minidoka county officials was administered by County Clerk Willard Hayward at 1:30 p.m. Monday at the courthouse.

Those taking office for the first time were Alex Roemer who replaces Ron Hawkes as commissioner in the first district, and Jake Wall who replaces George Redford as probate judge. Redford, elected prosecuting attorney succeeding William T. Goodman, will continue to serve as Rupert police judge.

Others re-elected to office were Theo Johnson who is beginning his fourth term as sheriff; Anna Grace, treasurer, who took the oath of office for her seventh term; and Claude Bowman who was sworn in for his ninth year, having served continuously since his appointment to the office of assessor in 1952.

Officials not present for the ceremony were R. D. Armstrong, surveyor, and Robert Walk, coroner.

Two Fined

BURLEY, Jan. 10—Lawrence W. Warr, Muriel, was fined $14 and costs by Justice of the Peace Alfred Crane Monday for an overload on registration. He was cited by State Patrolman Frank Mogensen.

Gale H. Chamber, Burley, was fined $2 and costs by Justice Crane for an expired driver's license. He was cited by State Patrolman John Wray.

Demo "Is Not Mortgaged to Any Groups"

BOSTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy, cheered by the lawmakers of his home state, promised last night his administration will not be mortgaged to any group—economic, racial or even political.

In his first formal speech since his election, Kennedy gave a Massachusetts joint session of the legislature a brief but solemn pledge of high purpose: "Of those to whom much is given, much is required."

His warmly received talk climaxed a homecoming day blended of nostalgia and work. Midway in it he and President Eisenhower simultaneously announced they will meet once more—Jan. 12—just a day before Kennedy becomes president.

Top officials of both administrations will take part.

Kennedy received an ovation as he entered the Massachusetts house chamber, packed to its ornate walls with the 277 representatives and senators and a cluster of state officials.

At Cambridge, Mass., Kennedy was mobbed by a couple of thousand friendly, cheering students in the university's famed yard.

Kennedy took the rough and tumble buffeting in smiling good humor and obviously enjoyed the exuberant tribute—even though it forced him to take refuge in Massachusetts hall at the edge of the old campus.

New Jersey Man Is Defense Aide

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy selected Arthur Sylvester, veteran Washington correspondent for the Newark, N. J., Evening News as assistant secretary of defense for public affairs in the new administration.

The appointment of Sylvester was made in consultation with Defense Secretary-designate Robert S. McNamara.

Sylvester, 59, was named to a post now held by Murray Snyder, former New York Herald Tribune reporter who served as assistant White House press secretary under James C. Hagerly before going to the defense department.

As an assistant secretary of defense, Sylvester will have overall responsibility for the vast information program and public relations of the Pentagon and the

Five Courses To Be Taught In Local Area

Five extension courses from the University of Idaho will be held in Magic Valley.

In Twin Falls, Kenneth E. Kall is teaching a course on occupational information and guidance at the employment security agency, 404 Third avenue north. The course will carry two semester hours credit. Anyone desiring further information should contact Kall.

Two classes will be taught at the Wendell high school. Arlin C. Dennis will teach methods and materials in science and social studies at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wayne Pagg will teach school administration at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Both courses will carry three semester hours credit.

In Bliss, Orville Reddington is teaching a course on curriculum construction, which carries three semester hours credit. The second meeting of this class will be at 7 p.m. Saturday at Bliss high school.

The first meeting of the art methods workshop class will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 19, at Filer Junior high school. Wayne B. Kious is instructor of the class which carries three semester hours credit.

Arrangements for a sixth class, methods and materials in health education, are pending.

Workshop Hears Churchman Talk

Erwin H. Schwiebert, Caldwell, chairman of the Idaho Methodist conference board of Christian Social Concerns, spoke Sunday at a sub-district workshop in Twin Falls for members of the local church commissions.

He said that "despite increasing church memberships, some problem areas in social relations have continued to grow in scope and depth, indicating that church member performance hasn't kept pace with profession."

"Three reasons may be responsible," he noted. "First, a lack of spiritual sensitivity that prompts a concern for others and the desire to serve; second, a lack of knowledge of the truly complicated social problems of our day; and third, a lack of organization through which an impact can be made on community and society."

The new Board of Christian Concerns includes committees on peace and world order, temperance and general welfare and human relations and economic affairs.

Shakeup?

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 10 (AP)—A sweeping shakeup of the federal tax structure has been recommended to the incoming national administration.

President-elect John F. Kennedy received a report from a task force on taxation headed by Harvard law Prof. Stanley S. Surrey. Details of the report were not disclosed.

Just enough of the scope was disclosed to hint strongly that it recommends selective cuts in both corporate and individual income taxes but compensating by tightening up in some areas which now get special treatment.

Canada Asked to Quit Defense Unit

OTTAWA, Jan. 10 (AP)—Canada's Liberal opposition party today cheered a demand by party leader Lester B. Pearson that Canada quit the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) in a step toward nuclear neutrality.

The Nobel peace prize winner told a plenary session of the party's convention last night that Canada should confine itself to cooperating with the United States through such continental defense functions as detection, identification and warning—but not through NORAD.

Canadian Defense Minister Douglas Harkness, in Colorado Springs, Colo., to confer with NORAD Commander Gen. Lawrence S. Kuter, said NORAD was necessary to the defense of North America.

Girl Gets Minor Injury in Crash

A 19-year-old girl was cut on her hand and had minor bruises in a two-car collision at Freightways street and Floral avenue at 4:40 p.m. Monday. She was not hospitalized.

The girl was identified by Twin Falls police as Deluna K. Hill, route 2, Twin Falls. Driver of the other car involved in the mishap was Verne L. Breedlove, 42, 1774 Fourth avenue east.

Damage to both cars was estimated at $550. Miss Hill was driving north on Freightways street and Breedlove was driving east on Floral avenue when the crash occurred. No citation was issued.

A collision at Five Points east at 5:40 p.m. Monday caused $20 damage to both cars involved, officers reported. Drivers were identified as Arnold J. Eacker, 48, 338 Diamond street, and Lloyd Libert, 32, Box 386, Twin Falls. No citation was issued.

Second Meet Of Kennedy, Ike Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10 (AP)—The day before President-elect John F. Kennedy takes over the reins of government from President Eisenhower they will sit down at the White House for their second private meeting since the election.

The troubled international picture—including the crisis in Laos,

Cuba and elsewhere—was believed to be the reason for the conference.

One report said the president-elect had sought the Jan. 19 meeting with Eisenhower. Kennedy was described as wanting to demonstrate to the world American unity in the face of international problems despite the changeover from a Republican to a Democratic administration.

Eisenhower and Kennedy held a cordial three-hour meeting on Dec. 6, four weeks after the Democrat defeated Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the President's election choice. After the session, Eisenhower was described as impressed with the incoming president.

For the second conference, the President-elect will take along his top policymakers: Dean Rusk, the new secretary of state; Robert McNamara, incoming defense secretary; Douglas Dillon, treasury secretary-designate, and Clark Clifford, who represented Kennedy in planning the transition.

Hester, Gates and Anderson again will be with Eisenhower.

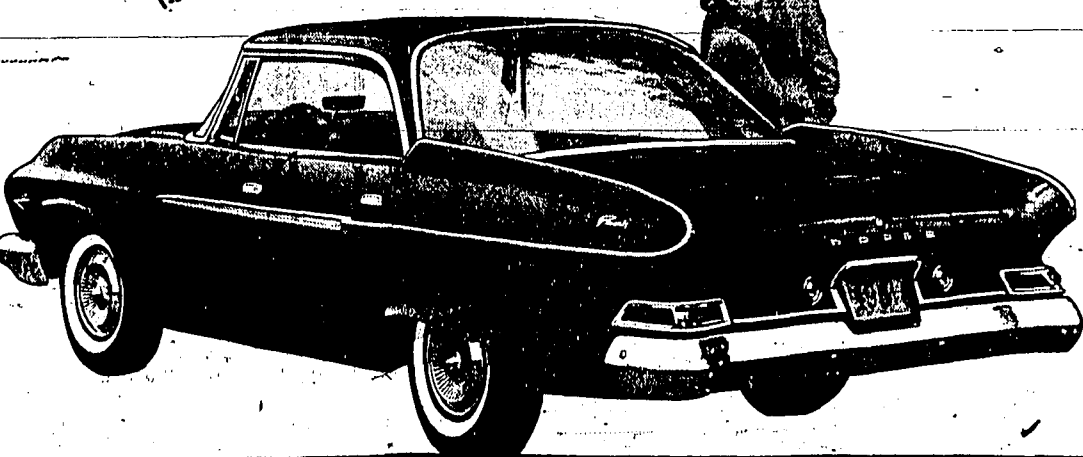

CARD PARTY SET
HAGERMAN, Jan. 10 — There will be a card party at the IOOF hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday. The public is invited.

Full-size or compact? Your Dodge Dealer's got them both!

This year, for the first time, Dodge Dealers are selling two different types of automobiles. One is a compact. The other—a standard size car. Both are built by Dodge. Both offer many of the same advantages. The main differences between them are style, size and price. Our standard-size car is the Dodge Dart. It's a full-size Dodge priced model for model with Ford and Chevrolet. Here the comparison ends. Dart offers you features its major competition cannot. To point out just a few: A unitized, rust-proofed body. A superb ride (Torsion-Aire). And, as standard equipment in every '61 Dodge Dart, an alternator. This new device will generate electricity while the engine is idling. (Conventional generators cannot.) As a result the battery will last far longer than usual. There are 23 Dart models. To power yours you may choose the Economy Slant Six or one of five optional V8 engines. Now, if you would like to know something of our new low-price compact, Lancer, continue below. Then visit your Dodge Dealer. Remember, either way, standard or compact, you get a great deal with Dodge.

Dodge Dart!!
(A full-size Dodge priced model with Ford and Chevrolet)

The new Dodge compact, Lancer, (shown at the right) is priced right down the line with Comet, Corvair and Falcon. However, Lancer has certain advantages. The most noticeable being its performance. Lancer has a brand of seat that lifts it "way above the compact class. As a matter of fact, this is one compact that will give the big boys a hard time. The power behind all this muscle is the Lancer-6 inclined engine. It's a sizzler, but it's also a saver. The mileage is excellent. Some other things you'll like about Lancer include a fully unitized, rust-proofed body, Torsion-Aire ride, a battery saving alternator-generator, and plenty of room for six people and their luggage. If you're looking for a lot in a low-price compact, Lancer's your answer. See your dependable Dodge Dealer.

Marlene Greene And Byrnes Say Vows in Rupert

RUPERT, Jan. 10—Wedding vows were exchanged by Marlene Greene and James Byrnes in an evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Kale King Dec. 27 at the Trinity Memorial Episcopal church.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Greene, Rupert, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Byrnes, Twin Falls.

The bride, escorted by her father, was wearing a full-length gown of nylon organza over taffeta fashioned for her by Mrs. Anna Dunn. The fitted bodice featured an oval neckline edged with satin lace medallions and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented by bands of the satin lace ending in a chapel-train.

Her elbow-length veil was caught to a net covered chapel cap. Her bouquet was a crescent arrangement of stephanotis and white orchids tied with white satin streamers.

Wilma Greene served as maid of honor for her sister. Her dress was a red moire sheath and she carried a red net muff. Bridesmaids were Noni Norman, Ann Hansen and Frances Regadera. Their costumes were identical to that worn by the maid of honor with the exception that her red bandeau was accented by a small veil.

Ringbearer was Lori Kim Greene, sister of the bride. She was wearing a full skirted red dress with a white hat and carried the rings on a white muff.

Pat Byrnes, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. William Fisher were Brent Bannister, Bill Hamsher and Terry Bandolph.

The wedding march by Valenti was played by Mrs. Roy Cunningham. She also accompanied Kathy Billington who sang "O Perfect Love" and Colleen Custer who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Greene chose a blue lace dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a black lace dress with black accessories. Mrs. W. F. Winniford, grandmother of the bride, wore a gold lace dress and a corsage of white roses. The mothers wore red roses.

The church was decorated in the Christmas theme with garlands of greens, poinsettias and red and white candles. White chrysanthemums were used on the altar.

At the reception after the wedding ceremony the same motif was used in decorations for the Guild hall. Guests were registered by Shirley Schroeder with Beth Carlson and Wanda Smith caring for the gifts.

Barbara Fowler served punch; Darlene Matheny, coffee, and Shaunna Gygil, the cake. For her wedding trip to Sun Valley the new Mrs. Byrnes chose a dark green wool sheath dress with gold accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Minico high school, is a junior at the University of Idaho. The bridegroom was graduated from Twin Falls high school and also is a junior at the university. They will make their home in Moscow.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Winniford, Mrs. Van Smith and Wanda Smith, all Corvallis, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Buck Martindale, Salt Lake City; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Meyer and family, Gooding; Mrs. Charlene Blue, Castletford; Shaunna Gygil and Shaunna Gygil, both Idaho Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Standley and Jerry Bacon, all Twin Falls; Doris Hatfield, Freddie Unicker and Eleanor Unicker, all Buhl; Darlene Matheny, Eden, and Dona Andrews, Hazelton.

Vera Olson and Young Marry in Burley Services

BURLEY, Jan. 10—A white arch entwined with greenery tied with three large pink satin bows flanked by candelabras holding green cathedral tapers and tied with pink satin, formed the setting for the Dec. 30 marriage of Vera Olson, daughter of Mrs. Victor Olson, to Carl Young, son of Mrs. Bernice Young.

The 8 o'clock candlelight double ring nuptial rites were performed by the Rev. Emil J. Helseth in the Burley First Christian church. The altar was flanked by tall white baskets of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations tied with matching satin bows. Pink and green tapers were placed in windows of the sanctuary.

Carrying a cascade bouquet of feathered chrysanthemums surrounding pink rosebuds with matching streamers and wearing a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta, the bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Clain Stuart. Her gown was fashioned with a bouffant skirt with a large lace panel in front and several smaller panels of inserted lace around the skirt.

The lace bodice, forming a V in front and fastened in back by a row of tiny covered buttons, featured lily point sleeves and a Sabrina neckline etched with sequins. Her elbow-length veil of illusion fell from a small rhinestone crown.

Mrs. Clain Stuart, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and donned a shell pink net ballerina-length dress fashioned with a full skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of green feathered carnations tied with white satin.

The bridesmaids, Carol Elma Young, sister of the bridegroom, and LeEtta Downings, were frocked in similar soft green ballerina-length net over taffeta gowns. They were fashioned with full skirts and fitted bodices.

Candlelighters were Martha Bandy and Maureen Jennings. Each wore a white ballerina-length over taffeta gown fashioned similar to the other attendants. They wore green split carnation corsages.

Kenneth Young, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Dean Young, brother of the bridegroom, and Richard Tiley were ushers.

Traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Kenneth Easton, organist. She also accompanied Mrs. Donovan Webster who sang "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue plaid dress while the bridegroom's mother selected a blue figured dress. Each wore matching accessories and a pink feathered carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the church parlor after the ceremony. Mrs. Richard L. Jones was in charge of the guest book.

The gifts were placed on a lace covered table and Mrs. Duane Halverson, Mrs. Jim Borchardt, sisters of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Oscar Olson, sister-in-law of the bride, were in charge. Gift carriers were LaVern Young, brother of the bridegroom, and Diana Olson, niece of the bride.

A three tiered wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds and topped with a miniature bridal pair standing under an arch of tulle and wedding bells rested on a mirror on the white linen covered bride's table. The cake was flanked by pink and green tapers in crystal holders.

Those presiding at the serving table were Mrs. Dean Young, sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Mrs. Ellen Clark, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Richard Spurgeon. They were assisted by Mrs. Clara Crismon, Mrs. Clarence Barney and Mrs. Willard Steelman.

Mrs. Floyd Young was mistress of ceremonies for the program which consisted of a piano solo, "Wedding Bells," by Mike Chesley; trumpet solo, Kent Young, brother of the bridegroom, and "Summer Place" sung by Darlene Wall, Sharon Easton and Susan Goodwin, accompanied by Mrs. Kenneth Easton.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"The pediatrician says I should see that my 3-year-old gets at least one pint of milk a day. If he won't drink it, give it to him in other forms." My neighbor who has a boy the same age says that he stopped taking his milk about a year ago and he gets on very well. Of course, he gets plenty of other food to make up. My mother says, "Give the child his milk and be done with it." But how can I if he won't take it?"

I think the first thing to do would be to stop shopping around for advice, and do what the pediatrician said to do in the first place. Asking everybody in sight for advice concerning a child's rearing is one sure way of not rearing him to any standard at all. The pediatrician has served a long apprenticeship before undertaking the responsibilities of his profession. He has had years of experience in treating children, all kinds of children. If the results are not satisfactory he should be given a careful report on the situation. Then he will know what to do. But asking this one and that one can only make trouble.

The basic fact here is the differences in children. What nourishes one, will not help another. Training which one child accepts easily is exactly what another, maybe his brother, is unready for, perhaps will always be unready for because of his inherent physical, mental and spiritual differences.

That is why one pediatrician should be in charge of children of a family. After he has been selected and charged with the responsibility, he is the sole advisor. Otherwise, why engage him? If a neighbor, or a relative is equal in knowledge and authority, why trouble him?

This sort of thing plagues many a professional worker, especially the teacher and physician. Teachers today are subjected to more advice from people unqualified to give it than ever before. Everybody feels free to tell the teacher what to do and how to do it, until he wonders what ever made him take on the job at all.

Parents would be well advised to select one physician, one good book on child care, one teacher at a time, work with that one as long as needed and avoid the confusion of voices and ideas. Experience, accompanied by an open mind, will do the rest.

Gourmets cry for it!

Folks who really love good food, won't have any pop corn but Jolly Time. Why? Because Jolly Time is the tender "easy-eating" pop corn.

Oklahoma Returns to Good Graces of NCAA; Arizona, Tar Heels Await Decision

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 10 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma Monday night was restored to the good graces of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Sooners can again compete in bowl games and NCAA-controlled football telecasts. There was no announcement in the cases of North Carolina and Arizona. Oklahoma was the third school removed from probation Monday. Earlier, Tulsa and Southern California also were restored to full rights and privileges of the NCAA. The NCAA council, which lifted the year-old, indefinite probation from Oklahoma, planned another brief meeting Monday night and an early session Tuesday before disposing of the suspension into basketball recruiting at North Carolina and football recruiting at Arizona.

Oakley Leads Big 7 In Five Departments

Oakley, smallest triple A school in the state, leads the Big Seven conference in five team categories and has an individual leader in another. According to unofficial Times-News statistics, the Hornets lead the league in offense and for the complete non-conference and conference season are tops in offense and defense. In addition, the Hornets spread eagle the entire district in free throw shooting. The individual leader is Cranney, who has the dubious distinction of being charged with the most fouls.

Applications For BYU Job Are Accepted

PROVO, Utah, Jan. 10 (AP)—Applications for the head football coaching position at Brigham Young University are being accepted and probably will continue to be taken for about 10 days, school president Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson said today.

"We hope to have a new coach in time to take over for spring training in April," Dr. Wilkinson said. "Exactly how long we take applications depends upon what the applicants look like."

He said so far he knows Max Spilsbury, coach at Arizona State college at Flagstaff, has not applied. "His application may be with the athletic department, but I think I'd know if it were," Wilkinson said.

Spilsbury has been mentioned as a likely prospect to fill the position left open by the dismissal of Tally Stevens, head BYU coach for the past two years. Stevens worked on a year-to-year contract. It was disclosed last week that the school is not renewing Stevens' contract for a third year. Stevens' teams won six of 21 games.

Late last week Dr. Wilkinson said the answer was a "flat no" when asked specifically if the job had been offered to Spilsbury.

League Receives Big Settlement

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—The American association Monday accepted a settlement in excess of a half million dollars for the Minnesota Twins for rights to the Minneapolis-St. Paul territory.

The indemnity agreement ended a wrangle of nearly two months and averted what would have been major league baseball's first recourse to arbitration in settling a territorial damage dispute.

Schloredt Signs With Canada Club

YANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 10 (AP)—Quarterback Bob Schloredt, who led the University of Washington to two straight Rose bowl championships, has signed to play with the British Columbia Lions in the 1961 Western Interprovincial Football Union season, the Lions announced Monday.

The signing was announced through the football club's office here, which received word from general manager Herb Coppola in Honolulu where Schloredt played in the annual Ithaca bowl.

T.F. Matmen Wallop Buhl Indians 37-15

Buhl, Jan. 10—The Twin Falls Matmen wrestlers stomped past the Buhl Indians for a surprisingly easy 37-15 decision Monday night.

The big surprise of the night came when the Bruins' Bill Guffey pinned Buhl's Ace Lallis in the 120-pound plus class. Lallis, who had won all his matches by pins this season, went into the final two minutes of the match with a 5-2 edge. Guffey polished him off with a leg snatch and pin.

Buhl coach Jim Creed said he was very displeased with his charges' showing. Buhl will travel to Mountain Home Saturday night while Twin Falls goes to Minico Thursday.

Results of Monday night's match (Twin Falls wrestlers listed first) include sub-95 pounds, Jerry Michener drew with Dave Schmitt; 95 pounds, Larry Flinn was pinned by Ken Runyon; 103 pounds, Doug Harper decisively won over Freeman; 112 pounds, Neil Satterwhite pinned Bert Middleton; 120 pounds, Bill Guffey pinned Ace Lallis; 127 pounds, Keith Robinson decisively won over Dean Hammad; 133 pounds, Dave King pinned Jim Francis; 136 pounds, Roger Michener pinned Jerry Atkins; 145 pounds, Larry Maupin pinned Dave Miller; 145 pounds, Dave Royer drew with Ray Peterson; 155 pounds, Dale Willis pinned Duane Araman, heavyweight Duane Rasmussen decisively won over Rod Rutherford.

Iowa Wins Second Big Ten Contest

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 10 (AP)—The Iowa Hawkeyes staved off a Wisconsin challenge Monday night to win their second Big Ten basketball game 76-68.

It was the 10th victory for the Hawkeyes in 11 starts this season. Iowa had to pull out the victory while backing the services of its top scorers, Bob Nelson and Frank Allen, in the closing minutes of the contest. Allen, 6-foot-10-inch center, pumped in 11 field goals and two free throws for a total of 24 points before he fouled out with 4 1/2 minutes left. Nelson, the second high point man, got four with eight field goals and two free throws for a total of 20.

Denver Drops Football as Too Costly

DENVER, Jan. 10 (AP)—The University of Denver decided Monday to drop intercollegiate football, a sport that has cost the school $100,000 a year more than it took at the gate.

The Methodist-operated university played its first football game in 1885—against Colorado college—and except for three years in the late 1890s hasn't missed a season since.

But attendance at the university stadium built in 1925 has dropped steadily in recent years. Although the student body numbers 5,500, an average of only 1,300 students attended home games last season when DU won three and lost eight.

Chancellor Chester M. Alter said football "has become prohibitively expensive."

"It is not feasible to continue a single intercollegiate athletic activity which produces an annual deficit of about $100,000," he said in a statement.

Alter said the university "expects to continue as a member" of the Skyline conference, a circuit of eight schools in Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah and New Mexico.

Football coach John Roning who came here in 1955 from Utah State was out of the city and no definite word was available as to his plans. He holds a full professorship and Chancellor Alter said Roning would remain as a faculty member.

Blocks Tying Extra Point Try

Sam Baker of the Cleveland Browns kicked for the extra point after a fourth period touchdown in the runnerup playoff game at Miami but the kick was blocked by Detroit's Dick Lane, right, who deflected it outside the goal posts. The blocked point gave Detroit a 17-16 victory. Holding for the Browns was Bobby Franklin (24). (AP wirephoto)

Moore Comes Off Canvas to Beat Lamperti

PARIS, Jan. 10 (AP)—Davey Moore, world featherweight champion from Springfield, Ohio, came off the floor to outpoint European titleholder Gralecus Lamperli of France in a non-title 10-rounder at the Palais des Sports Monday night. Moore weighed 127 1/2 pounds, Lamperti 129 1/2.

It was in a wild sixth round that the champion got the business from Lamperti. Lamperti moved in and decked Moore with a smashing left hook.

In the third round, Davey poured in three lefts and a right put Lamperti on the canvas. The Frenchman took an eight count standing.

In his dressing room, Moore was disappointed. "He is a good boy and I don't want to take anything away from him," Moore said. "But I just couldn't get warmed up. I couldn't get moving."

Although Lamperti fought a surprisingly good fight the champion seemed always more powerful and in better command. Moore had Lamperti in the third round but he let him get away.

Boston's Yastrzemski May Replace Williams

NEW YORK, Jan. 10 (AP)—A 20-year-old bonus boy, only three years out of high school, may be patrolling the mighty Ted Williams' left field sector for the Boston Red Sox this season. The youngster, now attending Notre Dame, is Carl Yastrzemski (pronounced yas-strem-skee) who has what Philadelphia Phillies' manager Gene Saugha calls "as sweet a swing as there is in baseball."

Goalby Wins Tourney With 40-Foot Putt

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—Young Bob Goalby broke up a golf battle on the 12th hole with a spectacular 40-foot putt and stroked on in Monday to win the biggest plum of his brief professional career, the $45,000 Los Angeles Open. The dramatic shot, a strong putt that hit into the cup, bounced up and then straight down, wrecked his duel with Paul Harney and Goalby went on to finish with a 4-under-par 67 and a 72-hole total of 275, nine strokes under par for the four rounds.

Durocher Is Signed to Coach L.A.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers Monday hired Leo Durocher, controversial former manager of the Dodgers and New York Giants, as third base coach.

"I couldn't be happier," Durocher told a news conference. Asked whether he considered the job a possible stepping stone back to a manager's spot, the 54-year-old baseball veteran replied: "I'm not looking for anything. I'm happy to be with the Los Angeles Dodgers and that's it."

Manager Walter Alton announced Leo's new job. "As just about everybody knows now, we've got Leo on our side," Alton said. "I think Leo will help us a long way. We've got a young ball club and need lots of instruction. I think Leo will do a fine job, both coaching on third base and on instructing players generally."

Durocher said salary had not been discussed. "I'm leaving that entirely up to Mr. (Buzzie) Bavasi."

E. J. Bavasi is the Dodger vice president. Durocher donned his old No. 2 Jersey—the only number he ever had as a player or manager. As he slipped on the jersey over his red vest for pictures, it was the first time he had donned a Dodger uniform since he left the then Brooklyn Dodgers in mid-July 1948 to step across the river as manager of the crosstown New York Giants.

Durocher has been out of baseball since 1955 when he left the Giants for a television career. He made it plain, however, his continued absence from the diamond was not entirely of his own choosing. Recently he complained publicly that he apparently was on some kind of a black list because he was being passed up when management jobs cropped up.

Heyburn Sets 'Open House' At Postoffice

HEYBURN, Jan. 10—Heyburn's new postoffice will hold open house at 2 p.m. Saturday, according to Mrs. Grace Bixler, postmaster.

"Our new beautiful postal facility is symbolic of the modern business like approach now being applied to postal improvements throughout the entire nation," the postmaster said. "Under the leadership of Postmaster General Summerfield, the United States postal service has undergone the most far-reaching reorganization in the long history of the department."

The new facility is part of the postoffice department's commercial leasing plan to the federal government.

The new postoffice is built to postal specifications and designed for efficiency as a mail handling facility. The department has built, or placed under contract for construction, approximately 4,500 buildings since 1953.

Paul Brynildsen, field service officer, Boise, representing the postoffice department, will attend the open house event.

Aides Seated For Gooding

GOODING, Jan. 10—Gooding county officials and deputies were sworn into office Monday by Sibyl Stevens, county clerk.

Taking the oath of office were Ben F. Glauner, commissioner, first district, four-year term; Keith Anderson, sheriff, two-year term; Catherine Stone Roberts, treasurer, two-year term; Wes Trounson, assessor, two-year term; and Andrew F. James, prosecuting attorney, two-year term replacing Cecil Hobday.

Deputies sworn in were Verne Roysse, deputy sheriff; Bill Bunn, deputy sheriff; Mildred Wallace, deputy sheriff; Floyd McCool, deputy sheriff; Janet Gorrell, deputy assessor; Lois Nielson, deputy assessor; and Mary Fern Enyard, deputy treasurer.

Justices of the peace appointed for Gooding county are John C. Miller, Wendell; Ellis B. Allen, Hagerman; Mrs. Leslie Parsons, Bliss; and Adam J. Schubert, Gooding.

New Hostess

BOISE, Jan. 10 (AP)—The senate added a hostess to its payroll yesterday. Chosen for the assignment was Mrs. Caryle Smith, Boise, who served in a similar capacity in 1955, when Republicans also were in control of the senate.

Sen. A. W. Naegle, R., Bonneville, senate president pro-tem, explains that the hostess serves as a guide to visitors to the senate gallery.

PRACTICES SLATED

SHOSHONE, Jan. 10—Choir practices are held at 7:30 p. m. each Tuesday at the Methodist church with interested persons of the church and community invited to participate. Mrs. Woodrow Harris is director. Accompanists are Mrs. George Kennaston and Mrs. Mary Pethick.

Career Day in Nursing Being Planned at Burley

Ellen Gierisch, left, president of the Burley chapter of the Future Nurses of America, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gierisch, looks over plans for a "Career day in nursing and related fields" program with Ann Child, center, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Child, club secretary, and Beth McBride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy McColl Hobday.

Blide, vice president. The club will be host for a meeting to begin at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Burley high school to which students from 18 different schools of Magic Valley have been invited. Films will be shown and 45-minute discussions are slated on seven different fields. (Staff photo-engraving)

Burley Future Nurses to Host Magic Valley Career Day Fete

BURLEY, Jan. 10—The Burley chapter of the Future Nurses of America will be hosts at 1 p.m. Thursday for a "Club career day" program to which 18 different schools in Magic Valley have been invited, states Mrs. Marvin Badger, sponsor and faculty adviser.

Invitations have been sent to students in all the high schools in Magic Valley who are interested in nursing careers whether or not they have an organized nurses club, Mrs. Badger adds.

After registration, a general session will be held in the auditorium beginning at 1:30 p. m. A welcome address will be given by Dr. James Kirchner and a film, "Future Nurse" narrated by Pat Boone, will be shown. Another film pertaining to disaster and civil defense probably will be shown.

There will be three 45-minute periods for discussion sessions on nursing and related fields. Seven different subjects will be discussed and each girl may choose three.

Subjects to be discussed will be dental, assistant, by Dr. George Nelson; general duty—nursing, Emma Bowen, state executive secretary of registration and nursing education; pharmacy, Bjll Toolson, pharmacist; physical therapy, Marlow Undjhem, physical therapist; public health nursing, Mrs. Sidney Knight, south central health nursing supervisor; speech and mental therapy, Merle Steedard, physical therapist, and X-ray technician, Dr. Paul Heuston, radiologist.

Those interested in nursing have been invited from the high schools of American Falls, Aberdeen, Buhl, Declo, Filer, Gooding, Hagerman, Jerome, Kimberly, Malta, Minidoka, Murtaugh, Oakley, Pocatello, Rockland, Twin Falls, Valley and Wendell.

Officers of the Burley chapter are Ellen Gierisch, president; Beth McBride, vice president; Ann Child, secretary; Linda King, treasurer; Sharon Easton, reporter, and Ruth Goetsche, historian.

Other girls of the local group are Tauna Anderson, Arlene Babcock, Martha Bandy, Peggy Bellon, Lynda Bertio, Thayona Birch, Diane Blackburn, Danis Blei, Marilyn Clark, Sharon Easton, Margaret Etherington, Shirley Etherington, Marsha Friederich, Renee Gillette, Ruth Goetsch, Karen Howard, Barbara Hines, Carol Moore, Jean O'Bryan, Margaret Redd, Kathy Schrozman, Jeanne Sutton, Karen Wahlstrom, Janet Warren, Trina Wilkinson, Judi Witter and Kiny Woolstenhulme.

They take turns and work as "volunteers" at the Cassia Memorial hospital two hours in the evenings. The girls wear a light blue uniform.

Firesides Held

HEYBURN, Jan. 10—Firesides were held Sunday evening for the Mia Malda and Explorers and Eustangs of the first and second LDS wards at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Durfee, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mix.

After listening to a recording by Apostle Harold B. Lee, discussions were led by Louis Stimpson, Eugene Jenks, LaMar Olsen and Desmond Welch.

Awards Event Scheduled by Area Jaycees

JEROME, Jan. 10—Joe Anderson, past Idaho State Jaycee president, will be the featured speaker at the annual distinguished service award banquet to be held at 7 p.m. Monday at Woods cafe. Anderson is an Idaho Falls attorney.

The distinguished service award will be presented to a young man between the age of 21 and 35 who contributed most to the community last year. Candidates are nominated by the various civic groups and past award winners are the judges.

The annual "outstanding boss" award and the outstanding young farmer award also will be presented. Bosses might be an annual feature of Jaycees throughout the nation. It is dedicated to the bosses who support the Jaycees. The outstanding young farmer award also is given to a man between 21 and 35 who has done an outstanding job on the farm.

Tom Prescott, past state Jaycee president and past state distinguished service award winner, will be the toastmaster.

The public is invited.

Canal Group Sets Confab

JEROME, Jan. 10—The annual meeting of the North Side Canal company will be held Monday, according to Carroll Wilcomb, general manager.

The business meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the courtrooms at the courthouse.

Wilcomb will give his annual progress report. Theima Thompson will give the treasurer's report and R. P. Perry, Twin Falls, will discuss legal matters.

Three new directors will be elected. Lee Saunders, district one; Hazelton; R. B. Fletcher, district five; Bliss, and R. O. Ward, director-at-large, Wendell, are directors whose terms will expire. Holdover board members are Clarence Orth, Wendell, Robert Bacon, J. C. Marshall, Russell Wooley, J. H. Silbaugh and F. N. Trappen.

The directors of the North Side Pumping company will meet at the courthouse Tuesday. Directors from district two and four will be named. ### Hansen Church Accepts Teacher HANSEN, Jan. 10—At the commission of education meeting last week at the Hansen Community Methodist church, it was announced that Mrs. James Ater has been accepted as teacher for the junior and senior high school Sunday school class.

Plans were made for a party for the fifth and sixth grade groups. The date will be announced later. Material for the vacation church school will be ordered so that a decision can be made and personnel chosen before spring. The Rev. John Cross asked that names of youngsters who are 10 years old or over be given to him so that he can make plans for a pastor's class for a church membership school.

First Bond Payment Level Reached As Metropolitan Sales Increase

34,324

U.S. SAVINGS BONDS ARE ON THE WAY TO DECEMBER RAMBLER BUYERS

39th Straight Record-Breaking Month Means Bonds for December Buyers of Ramblers and "Mets".

Now January Buyers Can Share, Too. Bonds are already on the way to the 34,324 customers who took delivery of new Ramblers in December (the 39th straight month in which Ramblers sales set an all-time high over corresponding previous months). Metropolitan buyers also receive bonds. Both can share in future bond payments up to a cumulative total of $125 (maturity value), as sales increase.

January Buyers Can Receive Bonds, Too. American Motors' Customer Progress Sharing Program is retroactive and cumulative. If you take delivery of a new Rambler or Metropolitan this month, you can receive U.S. Savings Bonds, Series E, with maturity value of $25 to $125, as Rambler sales reach 39th straight month.

Join us in putting the spotlight on the necessity for sharing progress with ALL consumers if the whole nation is to prosper. Ask your neighbor about his Rambler. Then see your Rambler dealer for the best car buy and full details on how you can share Rambler's success.
