Rayburn Urges GOP Support to End Roadblock

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (UPI)—Speaker Sam Rayburn today said President Kennedy has given new hope to the United States and the world and urged that his legislative program be given a fair chance. Rayburn appealed to Republican house members to join northern Democrats, and some southerners, in supporting his plan to break a conservative roadblock in the house rules committee by enlarging and adding new liberal members.

Strike Ended By Belgians; Toll Hits Five

BRUSSELS, Jan. 23 (UPI)—Belgium's month-long, crippling strike ended today when 150,000 hard workers went back to their jobs. The strike against the government's austerity program formally ended shortly after dawn as thousands of former strikers trooped into heavy industry and mechanical plants in southern Belgium's Liege and Charleroi regions. But the memory—and the bitterness—of the strike lingered on. Leaders feared the five weeks of idleness—which left five persons dead and at least 100 million dollars in damage—would topple the Christian government of center-Gaston Eyskens. The death toll rose to five to include a 25-year-old father of four, who was fatally injured in the 8th floor in Liege, although he was only running an errand when a bullet pierced his neck. Although the workers were back to work, some plants reported a shortage of raw materials and warned they may have to lay off personnel until supplies build up.

Kennedy and Aides Launch Arms Review

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—President Kennedy and his new administration's top defense and diplomatic officials today started a far-reaching review of the national security program. Seeking a safeguarded peace with the communist bloc, Kennedy began talks with key aides at midmorning and arranged to resume the discussions after a recess for lunch. Rush, McNamara Attend at the conference in the cabinet room at the White House were Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. Also on hand were McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's personal aide on national security matters; Undersecretary of State-Designate Chester Bowles, and Paul H. Nitze, designated as assistant secretary of defense in charge of international affairs, including disarmament planning. Others join in Also present was Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of staff. Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said several other officials were joining in the discussions. He did not immediately name them. The conference started at 10 a.m., an hour and 15 minutes after Kennedy turned up in his office. Salinger said the White House would have nothing to say regarding the talks until their conclusion late in the afternoon. He added that there might not be any official comment even then.

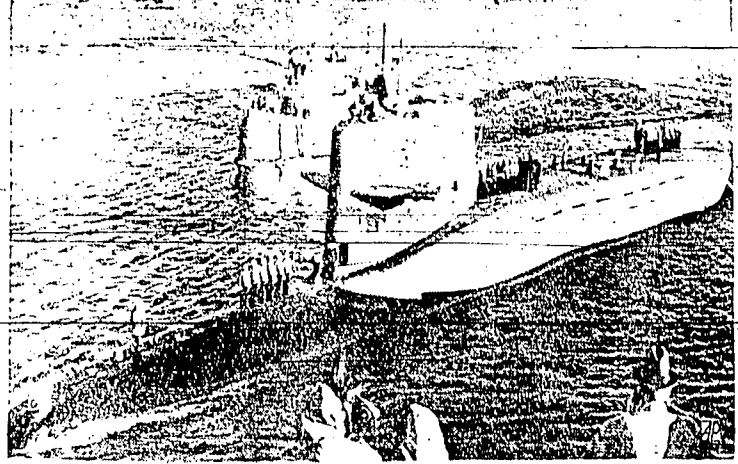

Hoffa Launches Kennedy Attack

DETROIT, Jan. 23 (UPI)—Teamster union President James R. Hoffa has launched a "give 'em hell" campaign against the nation's new chief executive. The tough, thin union chief told a local meeting in Detroit's Cobo hall last night, his official attitude toward the Kennedy administration is "wait and see." Hoffa added that some Teamsters' officials have asked him to moderate his criticism of President Kennedy, but Hoffa snorted defiance. "Personally, I'll continue to give 'em hell." President Kennedy was not the only object of Hoffa's wrath. Other targets included the Lamm-Griffith labor law, the AFL-CIO and "fat cats" in his own union.

Federal agents arrested Harold Eugene Kistner, jr., 35, Saturday night at his home. He was taken to Woodbury county jail in Sioux City, where Burnice Geiger, 58, has been held for a week. She has admitted the embezzlement that closed the bank, police said.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 23 (AP)—Officials said about 50 Negroes enrolled for mixed classes in a dozen Davidson county schools today, as desegregation started under federal court orders.

Potato Group May Get Seat on Committee

BOISE, Jan. 23 (UPI)—The house agriculture committee today introduced a bill to give potato processors a voice on the potato and onion advertising commission. The bill would raise the number of appointed members on the commission to nine from seven and would make the agriculture commissioner an ex-officio, non-voting member. It would increase the number of growers on the commission to five, reduce the number of shippers to two and allow processors of potatoes and/or onions two representatives.

American Caught By Reds in Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos, Jan. 23 (UPI)—An American contractor who disappeared while on a hunting trip 10 days ago has been captured by communist Pathet Lao rebels, informed sources reported today. The American, Charles Duffy, 42, Watkins Glen, N. Y., was said to have been captured near the tiny village of Ban Tha-Ding, 18 miles north of here on the Nam Ngum river. Two Laotian and two Thai companions also were believed taken. The present whereabouts of the party was not known. Duffy has run a private contracting firm in Vientiane for several years. The U.S. embassy denied a report that two other Americans had disappeared with Duffy.

Sheepmen Study Import Problem

DENVER, Jan. 23 (AP)—Possible solutions to economic problems plaguing sheepmen were studied today at the 96th annual convention of the National Wool Growers association. "Wool imports, particularly from Japan and Italy, have depressed our sheep growers' income greatly," Harold Joesdahl, association president, said last night. "Almost 50 per cent of the wool products sold in America are foreign-made," Joesdahl said. "Low wages and moderate tariff regulations on wool imports have enabled competition overseas to undercut our people." Joesdahl said he hopes the convention will rally behind a program to promote and market domestic sheep products.

Grand Exalted Ruler's Talk Prevented by Travel Problem

Because of transportation difficulties, Judge John E. Fenton, culture, Mass., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, was unable to give his address Sunday morning to conclude the three-day mid-winter meeting of the Idaho State Elks association in Twin Falls. Plane schedules enabled Judge Fenton to spend 20 minutes at the local lodge during which time he urged the convention delegates to work to get top men in the community to join Elks lodge. He asked lodge members to continually

Tired

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Duplicate year-end dividend checks have been sent out to about 20 clients of a New York brokerage firm as the result of a computer machine going whacky. "These machines get tired just like everybody else," said a spokesman for Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc., in explaining the mistake. He said part of a steel tape feeding information to the machine had run through twice, causing each stockholder involved to be sent two checks instead of one.

If convicted, they could face the firing squad.

Porpoise Navy Trains May Some Day Hold Conversations With Its Trainer

CHINA LAKE, Calif., Jan. 23 (AP)—That porpoise the navy started training a year ago has turned out to be unpredictable and talkative. It is expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots and talking is the best trick she's learned so far. Expected to swim at speeds of 30 to 40 knots—and this show scientists how to build faster submarines—she still hasn't gone faster than 16. Scientists hope to overcome her aversion to speed by giving her more room, perhaps an inlet fenced off with antisubmarine netting. Her speed runs so far have been made in a narrow, 316-foot-long tank. Her ability to talk delights navy scientists. They're building complicated electronic gear in the hopes that, by duplicating her sounds, they can actually hold conversations. The porpoise, called Notty after the initials of the naval ordnance test station here, has learned another trick. She can count out her age, which is four. She does this by nudging a lever in her private pool. Her trainer, psychologist Ron Turner, says there's no chance that this is just luck. She's been trained to push another lever when she's through counting. Notty's talking to human ears sounds like a cat in anguish. She also makes noises humans can't hear. "Our first step," says Engel, "will be to determine what sounds Notty reacts to. Then we will observe what she does after each type of sound. If we can learn to give orders, maybe she can learn to talk back." This seven-foot, 200-pound porpoise, she probably will grow to weigh this size—also has been taught to wear a collar. Unless she's smarter than scientists think she is, Notty doesn't know that this collar would be built to contain explosives which could be detonated whenever she approached an enemy vessel. The collar also could house submarine-detection instruments, but why bother? If she can be taught to talk and count, the day may come when deep-diving Notty will swim alongside an American picket boat and yell: "Hey, skipper, I just spotted four enemy subs off Kodiak Island at 100 fathoms."

State Demos Offer Plans for Solving Of Building Needs

BOISE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Democrats in Idaho's house of representatives tossed into the hopper today bills to meet both emergency and long-range building needs at state institutions. The two measures were offered as the Democratic party's answer to conflicting problems of financing building needs at Idaho's institutions. One bill would transfer the sum of $7,365,000 from the general fund to meet emergency needs. The companion measure would provide for revenues from the $10 "head tax" to be deposited directly into the building fund. Rep. Don Pieper, D. Bonneville, and Rep. J. W. Moore, D. Nez Perce, sponsors of the bills, said the measures had the support of a majority of the Democrats in the house. Gov. Robert E. Smylie had proposed that the general fund surplus be used to balance the budget for the next biennium and that the building program be financed by certain tax increases. Pieper said it is "more reasonable to use the free balance for emergency building needs and ad-

White House Official Ends Eastern Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (UPI)—White House intervention ended today a strike over the jobs of 62 men that closed down the nation's second biggest railroad, threatened the economy of the nation's industrial heartland, and dislocated life of the country's biggest city. The 13-day strike cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars in wages and freight and passenger revenues of rail lines stretching from St. Louis and Chicago to Boston and New York. The first feather in the cap of President Kennedy and his new labor secretary, Arthur J. Goldberg, was the settlement this morning of the strike of 600 harbor tugboat and ferryman against 11 railroads that use barges to get cargo onto Manhattan Island. Goldberg flew here yesterday at the behest of Kennedy and announced a settlement 14 hours later. The membership of the tugmen's unions voted 263 to 2 in favor of accepting the settlement. Claude Simmons and John J. Caherin, chief negotiators for the tug unions and the railroads respectively, both termed the settlement "satisfactory." But the main issue in the contract dispute—the desire of the railroads to trim approximately 62 men from the tug crews for the sake of economy—has been left up to a White House commission studying alleged featherbedding. William G. Chase, director of labor relations for the closed-down New York Central railroad, said the turning point in the negotiations came when the principle that the railroads "should be able to operate efficiently and economically" was recognized by the unions. President Paul Hall of the Seafarers' union, one of three unions involved in the strike, praised Goldberg for his professionalism and said there was no question that the strike would have dragged on "if he hadn't entered the picture." The Central began to get its inter-state operations started again this morning by scheduling a run from Boston to Long Distance. Other commuter and long distance trains will be put into operation as soon as snow removal, special inspection and equipment distribution problems are worked out. Service in and out of Chicago should be restored tomorrow morning, the road said.

Plan Killed

BOISE, Jan. 23 (UPI)—The Idaho senate sounded the death knell today for approval at this session of the legislature of Gov. Robert E. Smylie's controversial plan for governmental reorganization. Senators failed to give two-thirds support to the first of two measures that would let the people at the next general election decide if the state public instruction superintendent should be appointed rather than elected. The proposal would require a constitutional amendment. Senators voted 26 to 18 in favor of the measure to abolish the office, but that was four votes short of the necessary two-third majority required for passage of such a referendum. However, Sen. Howard Hechtner, D. Nez Perce, saved notice he may ask for reconsideration of the measure.

Movie Censor Power Given Okay by 5-4

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (UPI)—The supreme court, in a significant speech case, refused today to strike down all state and city movie censorship powers. By a vote of 5 to 4, the high tribunal rejected a challenge to a Chicago censorship requirement on grounds it amounted to a "broadside attack" on the city statute. In recent years, the court has ruled against state and local censorship actions but essentially the cases have dealt with specific movies. At present, four states—Kansas, Maryland, New York and Virginia—and 15 cities censor or license movies. Movie industry representatives have been urging that all censorship be eliminated. In another action today, the court ruled unanimously that a Florida Negro serving a 20-year sentence on assault must be given a hearing on his claim that his trial was unfair. The Negro, described by the court opinion as "indigent, ignorant and mentally ill," is Elijah McNeal, jr., Lake Wales, Fla. Dissenters in the movie censorship case were the court's so-called "liberal bloc"—Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan, jr. Justice Tom C. Clark wrote the majority opinion.

Records Fall In East Area Wave of Cold

By United Press International Easterners shivered today in a record-breaking cold spell. Light snow was falling on the eastern seaboard and forecasts said it would continue into the evening. The cold weather moved up from West Virginia and the Ohio valley taking almost the same route as the storm last week and the severe snowfall in December. Road conditions remained bad. Albany, N. Y., reported a temperature of minus 12 degrees, breaking a record set in 1888. In upstate New York the temperature fell as low as 20 degrees below zero. Ice blocks 20 inches thick filled the Hudson river from New York to Albany and icebreakers were used to clear a channel. Steamship schedules suffered from stiff winds in the Atlantic. The proud liner United States, originally scheduled to arrive at New York tomorrow, reported choppy seas and a day's delay. Schools Open But New York schoolchildren who frolicked on weather-caused holidays last week were told to be on time today as New York major arteries were cleared and classes resumed. Manhattan's temperature hit 11 degrees above zero early today. Across the river, New Jersey shivered through its fifth straight day of sub-freezing temperatures, with no break in sight. The state has counted at least 13 deaths blamed on the cold spell and last week's near-blizzard that dumped up to 14 inches.

California Spud Producers Visit In Magic Valley

Twenty-one persons involved in potato production from Montana, Vista, Calif., will visit Twin Falls Thursday afternoon to look at potato processing storage facilities and potato manufacturing equipment. William Grange, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, said the men are scheduled to tour Carl Manufacturing company during the afternoon. PAYETTE, Jan. 23 (UPI)—Idaho's traffic death toll for the year rose to 12 over the week-end with the death of Douglas Neal, 18, Ontario, Ore., in an accident near Payette.

7 Men Killed By Blaze on U. S. Carrier

ATHENS, Greece, Jan. 23 (UPI)—Seven men were killed when the giant U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga caught fire in the Aegean sea off Athens early today. The carrier sailed into Piraeus, Port of Athens, at noon. It was escorted by 15 destroyers and showed no visible signs of damage. A navy spokesman said the 60,000-ton Saratoga, "had a serious fire in one of her engineering spaces." The blaze raged for two hours in the super-carrier before it was brought under control. The Saratoga is a sister-ship of the USS Constellation which caught fire and burned while being completed at the Brooklyn navy yard on Dec. 10, with a loss of 55 lives and damage of 46 million dollars. The navy said the 60,000-ton ship was proceeding to Athens shortly after midnight when the fire broke out in one of the main machinery spaces. It was believed to have been caused by a ruptured fuel oil line and blazed for just over two hours. The navy said four officers and three enlisted men died.

GOODING, Jan. 23 — Arraignment of Roger Hall, 23, Crescent City, Calif., charged with armed robbery, was continued until 10 a.m. Wednesday when he appeared before Probate Judge James Gossett Monday morning. Judge Gossett granted the delay so Hall could obtain an attorney. He was remanded to the custody of the Gooding county sheriff in lieu of the $5,000 bond set by Judge Gossett. He is charged with the armed robbery of Dr. John Hunt, Portland, Ore. pathologist. Hall was brought back to Gooding from Eureka, Calif., by Deputy Sheriff Vern Royce Saturday evening.

Neighbors of Ike Welcome Couple Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Jan. 23 (AP)—Their Gettysburg neighbors poured out their affection for Dwight and Mamie Eisenhower. About 1,500 of them stood in snow in 15-degree temperature to cheer the Eisenhowers' arrival at the Hotel Gettysburg, where they were honored at a dinner.

"We are at last home," the former president told the cheering crowd.

He said he and Mrs. Eisenhower decided in 1959 to establish their permanent residence here "so that we could vote properly — that is, Republican."

He said it was the first time since the Eisenhowers have been going to their farm home near Gettysburg that no one could call him on the telephone and say, "You are to come home this evening."

Circuit Judge W. C. Sheely, who made the welcoming address, mentioned Eisenhower's various Gettysburg connections, including the fact that he was stationed in Adams county as a tank corps commander in World War I.

Eisenhower said the Judge didn't go back far enough. He recalled that he came to Gettysburg in 1914 as a West Point cadet to study the historic battlefield.

And, he added, Judge Sheely was the first to refer to him as "Ike" since then.

Those who waited in the snow and cold to greet the Eisenhowers were among hundreds who wanted tickets for the dinner but could not get them because only 216 were available.

Tickets were in so great demand that they were allocated to some 60 service, fraternal, civic and church organizations. They, in turn, decided who was to get them. In some cases lots were drawn.

President Is Keeping U.S. Agents Busy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—The White House apparently isn't going to be a very quiet place for President Kennedy as he goes.

The 43-year-old Kennedy already has surprised those charged with keeping tabs on him by continuing his unpredictable flair for popping up where isn't expected and generally acting more like a senator, which he was, than the President, which he is.

Secret service agents whose duty it is to protect the chief executive, newsman and cameramen, have been kept hopping to keep up with the pace of activities the President has maintained in his first days on the job.

On inauguration day, in spite of having had only four hours of sleep, Kennedy staved through the entire inaugural parade, dropping in on a friend's dinner party and visited all five inaugural balls, one of them twice, and stopped off at a columnist's home before finally retiring to the White House at 3:20 a.m. Saturday.

But he was in his office by 9 o'clock Saturday morning and put in another long work day. Kennedy met with his personal staff, lunched with the Democratic national committee, took part in the swearing-in ceremonies for his cabinet and went to a dinner in his honor at the Alitalia club.

Kennedy continued the page yesterday with only a slight let-up. He was driven from the White House in a big black limousine, every inch a President on the way to church. But going through Georgetown he decided to stop at his house. He jumped out, grabbed a newspaper off the steps and went calling on a magazine correspondent who lives two doors

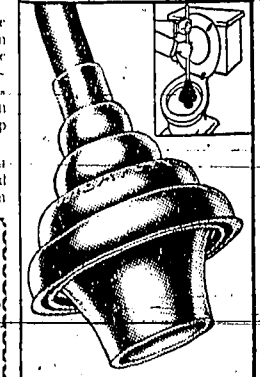

After a 10-minute visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Bradlee, he walked the rest of the way to Holy Trinity Roman Catholic church with agents and reporters huffing and puffing in the snow and cold to keep up with his brisk stride.

Typical of Kennedy's impromptu appearances was when he showed up in the White House press room late yesterday afternoon. He looked around the crowded room, apparently trying to determine whether the newsmen had enough working space.

This kind of impulse seldom was displayed by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Dwight D. Eisenhower has no only embarrassed President Kennedy in his several farewell and financial messages to congress and the American people on the nation's present economic state and its future course, but the former president has also chartered an ultraconservative program for the Republican party at a time when there is a stronger liberal trend within the GOP than in many years, perhaps since the days of Theodore Roosevelt.

It will undoubtedly furnish fresh fuel for the feud now shaping up for control of the organization. The Eisenhower platform for the 60s, as it is so regarded at Washington, seems designed to advance the cause of the Gold-water conservatives rather than that of the Rockefeller liberals. Indeed, it leans farther to the right than the position which Richard M. Nixon is expected to occupy during the next four years.

All three men are generally regarded as the outstanding candidates for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. And all three, of course, would appreciate the endorsement of the former president, assuming that he retains his admitted personal popularity.

KE'S PARTING WORD—ECONOMY—In his messages, former president Eisenhower turned both thumbs down on any expansion of the so-called "welfare state" in such fields as education, medical insurance, unemployment compensation increases and federal aid to depressed areas and industries. He called for greater contributions by the states.

He implemented this rejection by submitting such a tight budget for fiscal 1962, as he did for 1961, that President Kennedy must incur heavy deficits in both years in order to finance platform and campaign pledges for these social and economic projects. Nor did Eisenhower provide sufficient funds in the military budget, although it is the largest in peacetime, to underwrite President Kennedy's promise to "make America strong" and to narrow the alleged missile gap with Russia.

STRANGE REVERSAL—Finally, in order to justify his own economic conservatism and his opposition to huge federal spending, Eisenhower forecast a fairly prompt emergence from the 1960-61 recession. In fact, he rejected the idea that we are suffering from a decline—only a few experts, private or public, agree with this viewpoint.

In short, the former president set out resolutely and deliberately to resist and possibly check the Republican party's progressive shift to a politico-economic philosophy not too different from the principles and policies of Roosevelt and Truman, and now, President Kennedy.

GOP DISUNITED IN DEFEAT—Eisenhower's present attitude virtually amounts to a repudiation of the national Republican position of the last 20 years, when, after Alf Landon's crushing defeat in 1936, liberal Republicans sought to oust the old guard conservatives from their policymaking posts. In 1940, 1944 and 1948, Wendell Willkie and Thomas E. Dewey, respectively, embraced almost every new deal-fair deal "reform." Their main argument was that they could manage them more efficiently and economically. In 1948, Dewey was charged with contributing to Truman's unexpected victory by running as a "Me, too," contestant.

Whereas the Republican representation on capitol hill once presented a solid front against any extension of the Roosevelt-Truman program, such as liberalization of social security provisions, they now tumble over themselves to climb aboard what appears to be a vote-getting bandwagon.

In 1952, Eisenhower defeated the late Robert A. Taft for the nomination because the leaders felt that the Ohio senator's conservatism would insure his defeat.

In retrospect—and by comparison with the present-day Eisenhower—"Bob" Taft was a flaming liberal!

VIEW OF OTHERS
 SO JUDGMENT IS WITHHELD
 When any citizen of Idaho is elevated to a position of eminence in the federal government, it's a matter of gratification for Idahoans generally. And so it is in the case of John A. Carver, 42-year-old Idaho lawyer, whose appointment to be an assistant to the interior secretary in the Kennedy administration has just been announced.

The announcement says Mr. Carver has been chosen for a "key" post which is expected to combine the functions of the assistant secretaries for land management and mineral resources.

POT SHOTS

REGULAR NEWS CATS
 Dear Pot Shots:
 I want these "news cats" to gain their due. Two kittens spent most of the time playing and when at a moment of peace would perch and snooze in the T-N box. Nowhere else did they sleep at midday!

The kittens would run and jump until they made their way to the box. If someone attempted to assist them, they were a little hurt and they would jump down and gain altitude on their own. Then they were happy.

 An "unhappy" Siamese cat, complete with harness, is available for free after showing up at a Twin Falls home. You can get the critter by phoning REDWOOD 3-6156 or pick him up at 323 Eighth avenue east.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

Toward evening, I go out for my old daddy's house and absorb a little toddy with daddy-o and read him the pick of the fanmail and talk a little shop.

Although he worked in many shops from 1890 to 1936 or so, the nights that entertain him most in memory now are the New York Mirror. He was a marvelous rewrite man. He could still go out and get a story that others could not get. He wrote high-minded editorials damning Westbrook Pegler (and God bless communism, too). And, in emergencies, could pinch-hit for anyone. I was circulating around to that when I asked: "Do you remember Mark Hellinger?"

"Remember him? He is immortal. He was nine of the 10 worst writers in the world. I ghosted him all the way from Vienna down through Turkey and the Caucasus, with side trips to Madagascar and Raigson, for $5 a week when he was getting $1,500. It isn't easy to write that badly, but I was a versatile fellow. I could be Winston Churchill today if I had to and Primo Carnera tomorrow. My name wasn't over this garbage so my self-respect wasn't at stake.

"I don't know the provocation but the Mirror decided to send Mark around the world writing columns about Broadway in many lands. So he got up some columns in advance and was laid away in a voluptuous suite on some carnival boat for Paris. Our promotion department gave him a wild send-off and papers across the country were holding their breath for his dispatches.

"But he never quite came out of the ether after his bon voyage party. We did get a couple of postcards from Zells in Paris and an expense account to date that would have met the payroll of our city-side for two weeks. Then there was a final quavering contribution in pencil on the stationery of some hotel in Vienna, a watery warble as of a ship's whistle going under.

"It was Hellinger. He had been home two weeks and was sending a batch of columns about Texas Guinan."

"Yes, I knew Mark! How those morons loved him!"

30 Years Late
 PITTSBURGH, Jan. 23 (AP)—Officials at Montefiore hospital, Pittsburgh, received $5 last week in an envelope postmarked Cleveland.

"Dear sir: This is compensation for the time I went to your clinic at Center, avenue 30 years ago. Thank you for your kindness to me."

Pilots Tire of Talk Such as "Driver, Please Fly Lower"

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Remarks an airplane pilot gets tired of hearing:
 "Young man, are you the driver?"

"Remember, this is my first flight—so take it easy. I don't want any speeding."
 "Let me out of here. I've changed my mind."
 "The hostesses are busy, captain. Would you mind holding the baby while I fix this diaper?"

"Would you mind flying a little lower? My wife and I would like to see more of the countryside."
 "I hear he and the copilot just sit up in that little room playing gin rummy. The automatic pilot does all the work."
 "No, I'm not sure just what those stripes on his sleeve mean. I think he gets a stripe each time he brings the plane back."
 "Hey, boy, isn't there something wrong with this plane? It doesn't have any propellers on it."

"Sir, would you mind sitting down here and explaining all about airplanes to my little grandson? I'm trying to talk him out of becoming a fireman."
 "They say he studied flying in correspondence school and graduated 29th in a class of 30."
 "Listen, if Kansas City is fogged in and we have to fly on to Los Angeles, you're the one who's going to phone my wife. She'll never believe me."
 "Have you tried your meal yet? The pilots must do the cooking on this airline."
 "Sure, they're away from home a lot of the time—but what's wrong with that? And they've paid more than a U. S. senator. Yeah, he's the boss aloft, right, but he doesn't have as much authority as a ship's captain. Can't marry people."
 "You call this real flying? When man, when I was flying a B-17 in the war, I used to let down the wheels and roll home on the flat. When they get these planes fully automatic, what'll you boys drive—trucks?"

"That was a nice ride, young man. Now, if you'll just help me get my bags into a taxi, I'll give you a quarter for yourself."

Awards at Meet Go to Meridian, Payette Papers
 BOISE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Publishers from Payette and Meridian headed the list of winners at the Idaho Press association's two-day convention which wound up here over the week-end.

Earl Sample, copublisher of the Payette Independent-Enterprise, received the master editor-publisher award. A plaque signifying the honor was presented him by Lyle A. Young, secretary-manager of the association.

Ralph W. Hunter, editor and publisher of the Meridian News-Times, was awarded the association's better newspapers contest award for the fourth straight year. The News-Times picked up three first-place plaques and three second-place certificates.

Gov. Robert E. Smylie told the group at the Saturday night banquet that the United States must "convince the people of Latin America that there is a Monroe doctrine of the heart as well as of a Monroe doctrine of the law books."

ZIONS LEAGUE MEETS

RESOURCE TO TREASURE

The social scientists have been telling us for a long time that ours is an aging population, that even as our total numbers boom upward the proportion of elderly people among them is rising more sharply.

As has been well and often noted, this trend has many important effects on current and future American life, not the least being its impact on the make-up of the country's work force.

With the gradual coming of age of the persons born in the great baby boom of World War II and its aftermath, the expectation is there will be a veritable flood of job demands.

Young people entering the labor market want not only jobs, but opportunities for advancement. For the most talented, the prospect of going all the way to the top must be held out. Without that, many companies and other enterprises could not hope to attract the needed people of ability.

To hold-out that prospect, however, businesses often are compelled to institute automatic retirement plans for older workers, otherwise there would be no room for the rising new generation of employees.

Yet, while this has obvious fairness from the viewpoint of the younger people, it frequently works hardship on the older workers. To the extent that they must thereafter be supported by private or public pension, they are also an increasing burden on the economy and the national treasury.

In many instances there is no escape from this, nor perhaps should there be. But it is tragic that in all too many cases the greatest cost is not in money but in the loss of a man's talent and experience.

All kinds of enterprises—and the country taken as a whole—build vast investments, in the broad sense of that term, in the individuals who comprise the work force. As they advance through life, many become virtual storehouses of skill and knowledge.

To cast them aside, to end their working days automatically and arbitrarily, is to create great waste both economically and spiritually.

For all its growing numbers, this nation is not so heavily endowed for the colossal struggle with communism that it can afford to toss away its investment in trained, able people.

We should be trying to do everything imaginable to enlarge, not diminish, our reservoir of skills and knowledge. We may need every drop in the great pool.

In 1901 we need business and government policies which conserve and enrich the national stockpile of talent. To waste it could be fatal to freedom.

MAN TO WATCH

A while back Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York announced for reelection in 1962. Now new signs appear that he is following a quicker political pace than he did in 1960. The governor is getting around the country some on speechmaking forays. Even Los Angeles has not been too far, though his state legislature is currently in session.

More than this, he has already offered his services as a 1962 campaigner to fellow Republicans everywhere, despite the fact he will then be engaged in his own battle for another term.

This kind of activity, begun early and continued long, was just exactly what Rockefeller did not do in the 1960 presidential campaign.

It is interesting to note that a good many GOP professionals, including some top men in the Nixon camp, felt that Rockefeller gave up too easily last year. Many of these were happy that he did. But their expert judgment was that he could have made a good fight of it had he chosen.

They felt, among other things, that he was very badly advised politically. Many were thoroughly convinced that he did not have a single aide qualified to counsel him on the intricacies of national politics.

As one GOP veteran put it tersely if somewhat cryptically: "Rocky never knew where the bodies were buried."

Perhaps the sharpest signal on Rockefeller's 1964 intentions will come if and when he chooses a really well versed political assistant between now and 1962. It would be clear evidence that next time he will be prepared to master the political-infighting he turned away from in 1960.

Plainly, no matter what he does, there will be plenty of Republican opposition to Rockefeller as a 1964 candidate, and possibly not the least of it from Richard M. Nixon himself.

Yet even Nixon's own advisers did not underestimate a green Rockefeller in 1960. Neither they nor any other party leaders worth their keep are likely to underrate a more seasoned Rockefeller playing the game hard for 1964.

THEY SURE DID

Here's an item few taxpayers will question: The Federal government took in more money in taxes during the fiscal year that ended last June 30 than any year in history—$91,775,000,000. That averaged out to slightly over $508 for every person in the country.

140 Minidoka Area Persons Finish Course

BURLET, Jan. 23—Certificates for the completion of the standard Red Cross first aid course will be awarded at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Washington school auditorium in 140 residents of Minidoka county who have completed the course.

The courses, beginning in November, were sponsored by the women's division, civil defense for women's county, and were taught by Minidoka Red Cross instructors. Richard Beeson, water safety and first aid chairman for the Minidoka chapter, was in charge of the classes, assisted by Mrs. Alice Jones, Dean Anderson, John Wise and Ralph Marsh. Two classes and one instructor were taught in each of the following areas: Acquia, Ruch, each were taught with one each by Pioneer and Paul Beeson and Anderson each taught two classes a week.

Speaker Thursday will be Velma Dye, Boise, director of women's activities with the state office of disaster relief and civil defense. She will outline the importance of the first aid program in the preparedness plan being taught by the civil defense. Beeson will outline the Red Cross program in the county.

It is planned that graduates of these first courses will go into the advanced course with the same teachers. Later in the spring, those who wish to take instructor training will have the opportunity, with an instructor sent from Salt Lake City.

Civil defense officials hope to have at least one member of each family take the first aid training. In the event of a disaster, members of each family would have to be able to care for themselves.

The public is invited to attend the meeting. All those interested in taking first aid training should contact area chairmen in the Acquia area, Mrs. K. D. Burke; Paul, Mrs. Lynn Mannings; Pioneer, Mrs. Elsie Bolt; Heyburn, Mrs. Ivan Elson; and Rupert, Mrs. Russell Elson. Other standard course classes will be started soon if the demand warrants it, Beeson said.

Installation Features Parley Of T.F. Chapter for Writers

Members of the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Writer's league installed new officers Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ross Prather.

Installed were Mrs. Harry LeMoine, sr., Hagerman, president, Mrs. Olive Kelley, Twin Falls, vice president, and Mrs. Bryan Harris, Hansen, secretary-treasurer.

Probably got that from the football coach, retorted Spens, and issued an SOS. "Are" is correct, spelled Northwestern university.

"Is" it is, said Harvard. "Are" it is, said the Literary Digest. And so, in 1926, the grammarian battle was joined—to the delight of headline writers everywhere: "Are" versus "is" splits five colleges, dictionary and railroad heads," headlined one newspaper.

"Is it 'are' or are it 'is'?" asked another. And even, "Am he want or would he came? How can it was?"

In all, 22 schools and magazines were queried. The result: 12 votes for "are," six for "is" one for either and three abstentions.

The Universities of Chicago, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard and Temple switched their "is" votes to "are." None reversed from "are" to "is," but Boston university maintained its earlier "is" vote, declaring, "technically speaking, any grammarian would say 'is' is the correct vote."

Eustis and Spens, the original combatants, settled their argument with a flip of the coin. It turned up "is."

But Holy Cross in Worcester, Mass., which in the survey amended its original "are" to "either," suggested another solution: Rewrite the sentence.

Cubans Warned To Be on Alert

HAVANA, Jan. 23 (AP)—M. A. Ernesto Guevara warned Cuban soldiers last night to remain alert so that if the new Kennedy administration threatens us we will all be ready to go back to the trenches.

Cuba's pro-communist economic chief sounded the warning at a rally of demobilized militiamen at a seacoast town 40 miles west of Havana. He urged the men to go back to work now that the three-week "invasion" alert was over, but cautioned them to be prepared.

Fidel Castro told provincial delegates of the agrarian reform institute that his government would give 80,000 small farmers in Oriente province credits to spur cultivation of coffee and cacao.

Old "Is Versus Are" Feud Is Renewed; Rewrite Suggested

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—"The grammar of the passenger department is a deplorably weak," asserted Vice President C. E. Spens of the Burlington railroad, surveying a sentence for an institutional advertisement.

It began: "For within this tremendous area is produced: Two-thirds the oats, more than half the corn, more than half the barley, half the wheat..."

"Are produced" is the correct form," declared Spens. Not so, said P. S. Eustis, passenger traffic manager who had submitted the layout. He quickly produced a University of Chicago opinion—"is."

Spens and Eustis and the Literary Digest are dead but the controversy still is not settled.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad recently came across a booklet chronicling the word puzzle and decided to resurvey.

The results, released today: 14 for "are" one for "is" and one for "either." Six didn't answer.

The Universities of Chicago, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Harvard and Temple switched their "is" votes to "are." None reversed from "are" to "is," but Boston university maintained its earlier "is" vote, declaring, "technically speaking, any grammarian would say 'is' is the correct vote."

Kennedy "Likely To Be Cautious"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—President Kennedy will be "deliberate and cautious" in trying to seize the initiative in world affairs, an authorized biographer of the chief executive predicted today.

"Mr. Kennedy may well feel that, on the international side, he will have to start out with a great deal of sounding out of foreign capitals, especially allied capitals," Prof. James MacGregor Burns said in an interview with U. S. News and World Report.

Burns, author of "John Kennedy: A Political Profile," was interviewed by the magazine by telephone in Salzburg, Austria, while attending a seminar.

Small Salmon Runs Hurting Coast Group

BOISE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Rep. C. H. Higer, D. Gen., who voluntarily attended a meeting over the week-end with five Oregon legislators on the salmon problem, says depletion of the salmon has affected the livelihood of thousands of Oregonians.

Higer, minority leader of the Idaho house of representatives, said not only is the loss of salmon hurting sports fishing in Oregon but canning and commercial fishing also are being affected.

Death Rate High
He said the death rate of the salmon using the Brownie salmon run was "calamitous" with the death rate as high as 97 per cent and in the five-month period between July and November, 1959, it averaged 78 per cent.

Oregonians readily realize that the salmon depletion affects the sports world but they hope Idahoans are also thinking commercial enterprises as well as fishing in Oregon," Higer said.

Meeting Scheduled
The Gen county Democrat met with five Oregon legislators at Portland Saturday. They included Sen. Dan Thiel, Astoria; Rep. Carl Back, Fort Orford; Rep. Frank Weatherford, Olex; Rep. Bill Bradley, Prisham, and Sen. Andrew Naterlin, Newport. All are Democrats.

A Feb. 6 "summit meeting" is scheduled in Boise for discussion of the salmon problem by the governors of Idaho, Oregon and Washington. A letter Higer had written to an Oregon newspaper concerning salmon losses had prompted Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield to suggest such a meeting.

Idaho Gov. Robert E. Smylie recommended that it be held in Boise.

Writer's Friend Jailed in Russia

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Soviet authorities have finally confirmed persistent reports they have jailed Olga Ivinskaya, close friend and collaborator of the late Boris Pasternak.

Moscow radio said this week-end that Mrs. Ivinskaya and her daughter, Irina, 23, had been convicted of taking $800,000 rubles ($80,000) in royalties from Pasternak's disputed novel "Dr. Zhivago." The book was banned in the Soviet Union, apparently because of its anti-Marxist overtones. It was a best seller abroad.

The Moscow broadcast did not mention the prison terms, but it had been reported in the West that Mrs. Ivinskaya got eight years and her daughter three.

Shriner From Burley Named High Delegate

BURLEY, Jan. 23—Fred Williams, past president and treasurer of the Burley-Rupert Shrine club, is one of four Idaho Shriners who will represent the El Korah temple, Boise, at the 87th annual Imperial Shrine council at Miami, Fla., June 20 to 22.

Williams has been in Masonic work for 40 years, and a Shriner for about 15 years. He is past high priest of the Royal Arch Masons, member of all York Rite bodies, and a life member of the Blue Lodge. He is a charter member and one of the organizers of the Shrine oriental band and is past president of the El Korah Shrine Oriental band. He is a correspondent of the Nakhbar, official publication of the national association of the Shrine Oriental bands.

Williams holds membership in the Boulder, Colo., lodge, No. 45, AF and AM. He had a grocery business there for 20 years before coming to Idaho 21 years ago where he operated another grocery store for another 20 years. Williams retired last June and sold his "Pik 'N Pak" store.

Williams and his wife have two children. Their son, a retired naval commander, lives at Broomfield, Colo., and their daughter lives at Lancaster, Calif.

The Shriner is past chairman of the Magle Valley Shrine food caravan to the Shrine's Crippled Children's hospital, Salt Lake City. He is a member of the Burley city council.

Breakthroughs Reported in Extracting Water From Sea

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Water is a pressing need in many fast-growing parts of this country and the world. And both industry and government are reporting breakthroughs in methods of extracting usable water from the two great remaining sources, sea water and brackish water.

A home unit for desalting water is being test marketed in the Southwest. Big-scale sea-water operations are in use or about to be installed in such widely separated points as the West Indies and Israel.

Costs have been the big stumbling block. The goal is to get them below 50 cents per thousand gallons, which would make a conversion competitive with natural water in many areas. Research efforts in both government and private industry laboratories are reported showing great promise today.

The search for more water also goes on in the older fields of conserving rainfall and controlling runoff in rivers. Congress is expected to be asked for more funds for such developments and also for preventing pollution of streams and for purifying them.

Industry's stake is high since industrial use of water is growing at a faster rate than is the domestic use by the world's zooming population. Mining, plastics, chemicals and pharmaceutical industries are especially heavy users.

A home unit using thin membranes and electric current to dissolve and remove salts is being tested in Texas by the American Machine and Foundry company. AMS has a big electro-dialysis membrane unit in use in a plant of the Libyan public development and stabilization agency at Tobruk which converts 20,000 gallons of brackish water a day into drinking water.

Distillation is a traditional method but too expensive in the past for most areas. AMP now has a small heat evaporator unit supplying fresh water from sea water on pleasure and work boats and for use in homes.

Another method is to freeze the salts out. Blaw-Knox suggests using butane as both refrigerator and melting agent, which is said to bring the cost way down. Struthers Wells and Scientific Design corporation have teamed in a freezing process, they say cuts costs sharply.

Fairbanks Whitney is building for the Israeli government desalting units aimed at purifying 250,000 gallons a day for that thirsty

Top Red Boosts World Disarming

MOSCOW, Jan. 23 (AP)—Mikhail Suslov, one of the Soviet Communist party's top theoreticians, has called again for adoption of Premier Khrushchev's plan for universal disarmament to "abolish the very possibility of waging wars."

The Soviet news agency Tass gave no indication that Suslov, in his speech to the party's central committee on Jan. 18, proposed any system of checks or inspections such as the West demands.

Suslov reported to the central committee on last November's summit meeting in Moscow of world communist leaders. He reiterated the position taken at that conference by Khrushchev—that war is not inevitable.

Smylie Signs Legislation to Help Jobless

BOISE, Jan. 23 (AP)—Emergency legislation to aid in coping with the rising unemployment—already beyond last season's peak—has been signed into law, Gov. E. Smylie announced today.

At the same time he called for prompt enactment of two laws he has proposed, one providing for a $4 million dollar construction program at state institutions and the other exempting new residences from the property tax for one year.

Both, he said, are needed, as a stimulant for the construction industry so that the unemployment increase can be stemmed.

The unemployment bill had an emergency clause, making it effective as soon as Smylie signed it.

H. F. Garrett, director of the employment security agency, said offices throughout the state are prepared to handle claims under the new legislation promptly.

The bill provides for monthly, rather than quarterly, comparisons of unemployment to determine when economic conditions justify extension of the benefit period, normally a maximum of 26 weeks.

Under the new law the benefit period would be increased 50 per cent, to a maximum of 39 weeks, during periods of severe unemployment.

Integrity Is Prime Need, PTA Is Told

BURLEY, Jan. 23 — "Instead of our children being taught integrity in the homes, society is having to do the teaching in too many cases," Norman Nielson said when he addressed members of the Southwest PTA Thursday evening.

"Not too many years ago psychiatrists thought that children's personalities would be hurt if children were disciplined. Many of our teen-agers have grown up not knowing there was such a thing as discipline, and now they are rebellious when they meet it," he continued.

"In our society we now have an ill commandment, 'thou shalt not get caught,' he charged and then referred to little things parents do such as running a stop sign or violating the speed law.

"What kind of example is this for our children?" he asked.

Cars are the worst thing we can give our youngsters and many times parents don't have the fortitude to say no, Nielson said.

Nielson also introduced a panel of three persons.

Mrs. Joe Lambert, who spoke on, "Are our youngsters growing up too fast?" said in her opinion "we are pushing our children into adulthood before they are mature."

She read a 10-year-old's bill of rights which ended by saying that she should be given free ice cream, indicating their immaturity.

James Roper spoke on "How far should we go in directing our children?" He stated that a child needs guidance in his home and school, and in his religious and social life.

Mrs. Marvin W. Pearson's subject was "How many hours a week should our child watch TV?" She stated that their time should be limited and programs chosen carefully. They see so much violence that it becomes common place to them and is accepted as a normal pattern of life.

An open discussion followed the brief talks made by the panel.

Ferry Stephenson in a report on his findings concerning the covering of an irrigation ditch near the playground at the school, stated that the PTA must consider the right of the people who are supplied water by this ditch.

"This is a difficult problem to solve for all the persons I asked about this ditch had different answers," he stated. "The problem will cost a lot of money regardless of how it is accomplished."

He suggested that the PTA retain a lawyer to represent them and find out who is legally responsible, have an acceptable engineering report and present these to a public agency responsible to see if the ditch can be covered.

Stephenson said there were other dangers to our children besides this ditch and he mentioned the cars. He stated that screens had been placed over the culvert opening, but this could be removed by the irrigation district.

During a discussion it was noted that the city has covered an irrigation ditch that ran underneath the sidewalk beside the high school.

Mrs. Mary Curl, principal of Southwest school, noted the ditch is one of the teachers' "biggest headaches."

Mrs. Norman Nielson was named chairman of the Southwest skit to be presented on the annual skit night Feb. 11.

Projects for the year were discussed. A microphone for the stage, light for the front of the building, filing cases for the rooms and a basketball court were suggested.

The group will vote on a project at the next meeting, which will be Founders day program.

President Kennedy's Cabinet Distinguished by Its Diversity

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's cabinet is distinguished by its diversity.

It contains wealthy men and those of humble origin. It has seven Protestants, two Jews and one Catholic, Kennedy's brother. It is drawn from the world of business, of scholarship and of government.

Some of the cabinet members are longtime political associates of the president. Others he knew only by reputation.

All of them will make $25,000 a year as cabinet officers; for some it is quite a pay cut.

Here are sketches of the 10 men in the Kennedy cabinet:

Secretary of state—Dean Rusk, 51, was president of the Rockefeller foundation. Born on a farm in Georgia's Cherokee county, he won a Phi Beta Kappa key at Davidson college, then a Rhodes scholarship, became dean of faculty at Mills college at 25.

Entered the state department after World War II, rose to assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, was a chief architect of U.S. Far Eastern policy. Joined Rockefeller foundation in 1952. Married, two children. Presbyterian.

Secretary of treasury — Douglas Dillon, 51, a wealthy man who believes in hard work. A Republican, moved to Kennedy cabinet from position as undersecretary of state for President Eisenhower. Banking family background, was chairman of the board of Dillon, Read and company, Wall street brokers while still in his 30's. Has always advocated large-scale foreign economic aid.

He was ambassador to France early in the Eisenhower administration, and moved up in the state department to become a top policy maker. He is an accomplished linguist, ardent art lover and gourmet, owns one of the finest vineyards in France. Married, two children. Episcopalian.

Secretary of defense—Robert E. McNamara, 44, who had become president of the Ford Motor company just a month before he was tapped by Kennedy. By divesting himself of his holdings to take the cabinet post, he lost an estimated three million dollars, says personal considerations must be subordinated to public service. Joined Ford in 1946 after pioneering statistical controls for the air force. Married, three children. Republican. Presbyterian.

Attorney general — Robert F. Kennedy, 35, unique in being the frat brother of a president named to his cabinet. Managed the president's campaign with tireless fervor. Was reported reluctant to accept the post because it might bring criticism on his brother.

Made a name for himself as chief counsel of the senate rackets investigating committee, which probed wrongdoing in labor unions and other matters. Says he is divorcing himself from politics in his new job. Married, seven children. Catholic.

Secretary of the interior—Stewart L. Udall, 40, a member of the house since 1955. He comes from a family prominent in Arizona politics and law. He attended Arizona schools and colleges, got a thorough grounding in farm work from his father.

A lawyer, he is expected to strongly favor more reclamation projects in the West. Served as an enlisted air force gunner on a

Hay Is Destroyed In Burley Blaze

BURLEY, Jan. 23 — Ten tons of hay were burned at the William Beck ranch seven miles south and one and a half miles west of Burley at 1:30 pm. Thursday, according to Otis Williams, Burley fire chief.

Beck's son, Wayne, had been burning some beet pulp sacks and thought all the sacks had burned when he walked away to fix a fence. Mrs. Beck said a wind came up suddenly, blew some of the embers and caused the hay to ignite.

The fire department saved a large portion of hay, straw and silage as well as corns nearby.

Cubans End Invasion Scare, Eye Education, Farm Issues

HAVANA, Jan. 23 (AP)—The end of the "Yankee invasion" scare permitted Premier Fidel Castro to turn his attention today to education and farm problems and the continuing major rebel resistance in the Escambray mountains of central Cuba.

The regime and the Cuban press adopted a wait-and-see policy toward the new Kennedy administration in regard to possible improvement of Cuban-U.S. relations. Castro made friendly overtures to the new president over the week-end, and called off the nation-wide alert against a threatened U.S. "invasion" which the regime had said would come by Jan. 20.

During the week-end, Castro met with leaders of the land reform institute (INRA) and set production goals for 1961. The name of the agriculture cooperatives was changed to a Russian-style title of "peoples farms."

It was decided that each farm will have a special 300-acre plot, where all children over 10 years of age "may learn agricultural techniques." An exchange of 1,000 youths with Russia for farm work also was announced.

INRA Director Antonio Nunez Jimenez, addressing the "association of young rebels" Saturday night, said 1.5 million acres of new land will be cultivated this year to "give work to all farmers."

Ernesto (Che) Guevara, the national bank president, exhorted workers at the former U.S. government-owned Ncaro nickel plant to produce more. He told them, "only through work and sacrifice can you produce more. It is easier to die in the trenches fighting than to work 365 days a year."

The regime's campaign for more food, industrial output and education was hampered, however, by continued rebel fighting in the Escambray mountains. It was reported that many militiamen leaving "invasion" alert duty were being sent into the operations against the rebels in Las Villas province.

Castro's lifting of the alert apparently was the signal for Cuban newspapers to ease their attacks on the United States. Papers which have been filling their front pages with invective against "Yankee imperialism" scarcely mentioned the United States during the week-end.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

The cold winter days are here, and mothers have brought out the sweaters and ski pants for the school children. Sometimes it looks so cold outside that two sweaters are ordered. "Just so you don't catch cold."

School rooms are usually heated to 70 degrees. A sweater intended for wearing outdoors in a temperature of 40 degrees or lower, is too warm for wearing in a classroom filled with pupils. The teacher asks that sweaters be taken off. Immediately someone says, "My mother told me not to take it off."

The child who makes that triumphant speech is the sort who delights in putting one over on the teacher. The teacher knows that and says, "Well, tell your mother that the classroom is too warm for a sweater and that all the other children know that and take theirs off." That makes all the others feel very good, warm and superior. And, by mail, a polite note goes home.

This is the season for ski suits for the kindergartners and first graders. These suits are not easy to put on and take off and the teacher must lend a hand to many of the struggling youngsters. If mother has, in the guise of economy, pushed, tucked and squeezed Tommy into last year's suit the struggle is prolonged and irritating.

Then the rubbers. Trying to put last year's rubbers on this year's feet is really something. Schools have fire drills. An alarm bell rings. Every child must have his coat, cap, rubbers, full outdoor clothing on when he starts out. Can you picture the teacher of the kindergartners trying to get that roomful of youngsters into their outdoor clothes? "We always gave the teachers of the kindergartners and first graders help at such times and even then—"

If mothers would look at the outdoor thermometer and let it decide about the weight and number of sweaters; if they would please not send the children to school wearing ski suits a size too small, rubbers that are far too small, they would be helping their children and the teachers to a happier and healthier day.

Also, if all coats, sweaters, rubbers and the like were labeled, that would save time and arguments and insure the return of stray sweaters, caps, lost mittens and gloves. Labels cost less than these useful bits of clothing and they would save a lot of school time and the irritation that lost articles of clothing makes for all concerned.
