Demo Sure U.S. Secure; Missile Gap Issue Eyed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (UPI)—President Kennedy expressed hope today that the U. S. military position is "fully secure" but said he would have to await completion of a study to determine if there is a missile gap with Russia. Kennedy made the statement at a news conference as Republican demands arose for a congressional investigation of the missile situation. The President said his top military aides had not yet given him a final answer on whether the United States lags behind Russia in missiles. He said he hoped a preliminary study would be completed by Feb. 20, but today, "We are not prepared to make a judgment."

Wet

A fine snow began falling in Idaho about 10:40 a.m. Wednesday but it was melting as it fell. Similar conditions were reported at the North Fork store north of Ketchum. General rain was reported throughout the rest of Magic Valley. It was raining hard at Gooding shortly before noon and rain with low overhanging clouds was reported in the Burley-Rupert area.

Large Crowd Attends Tour For Feedlots

Some 150 farmers and ranchers attended the annual Twin Falls county feedlot tour in the Hansen area Tuesday morning despite cold weather. Interest on the five farms toured was high throughout the morning. The afternoon session was held in the American Legion hall in Twin Falls, after a noon luncheon sponsored by 17 business firms. First stop in the morning was the Mayor brothers' feedlot where new concrete manglers and aprons have been installed at an approximate cost of $1.75 per foot. The second stop was at the farm managed and owned by Bryan Harris, Jr., and where feed capacities for 500 head of cattle were displayed. An elaborate home-made mixing mill was being constructed by Harris.

Otto Florence, Jr., manager of the Independent Meat company, told the group at this stop that more than 10,000 head of helters are slaughtered in Magic Valley each year. This figure excludes helters shipped out of the valley. At the Mark Pomeroy farm, south of Hansen, corn silage, corn and cob, and the use of horses for hauling feed to the manglers were on display for the large crowd. The last morning stop was at the John Feldhusen farm on the Sugar Factory road west of Kimberly. Helters were being fattened there. The afternoon session, with speakers introduced by Eugene Campbell, Twin Falls, and Morris Carlsson, Piler, covered a wide range of feedlot practices. (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

New Storm Is Making Life Miserable in East; Some Schools Closed

By United Press International
A Carolina-born disturbance headed toward southern New York and New England with a fresh load of rain, snow and sleet today. New snow in southern Ohio closed schools in some areas and drifted roads. Weathermen said the new disturbance which developed off the South Carolina coast during the night had spread a mixture of moisture in different forms, mostly miserable to residents, from North Carolina into Pennsylvania.

Snow Hampers Firemen

Firemen stand by in frustration waiting for hand-carried hoses as flames devour a home in a New York suburb. Engines responding to the fire were halted by snow two blocks away. By the time hoses were bucked through on firemen's shoulders, the home and another adjacent to it were burned out. (NEA telephoto)

Valley School Bond Issue Fails to Pass

EDEN, Feb. 8—Taxpayers in class A school district 262, Eden-Hazleton area, turned down a $250,000 bond issue Tuesday. Of the 310 votes cast, 229 voted against the issue and 81 voted for it. If passed, the money would have been used for a proposed building program, provide a wider curriculum and improve facilities at Valley high school and the Eden elementary school. Mrs. Charles Webb, Hazleton, was clerk for the bond election, and judges were Mrs. E. A. Brune, Hazleton, and Mrs. Willard Lattimer, Eden. School board members are Clyde Montgomery, Danny Rogerson, Herman Huettig, Ralph McClain and Frank Honnhorst.

Burley Plans Sewage Vote On April 25

BURLEY, Feb. 8—Burley city voters will go to the polls April 25 to decide on a $750,000 bond election to provide a lagoon-type sewage treatment system. Mayor J. Leonard Salmon announced today after a city council meeting Tuesday night. The date coincides with the municipal election and polling places will be the same as for the voting to elect city officials. The ordinance authorizing the election was given final reading Tuesday night after members voted to suspend the rules which call for three readings. The project will be financed by revenue-type bonds, the mayor said, and the city will charge users of the sewage system a monthly fee if the measure is approved. A two-thirds majority of those voting is required to pass the bond issue. Kenneth Newman, from the W. L. Burton Bonding company, Salt Lake City, attended the council meeting and was directing publicity plans here Wednesday.

Mardi Gras Has Bad First Parade

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 8 (UPI)—The usually gay New Orleans Mardi Gras wore a sad mask today. Its first night parade turned into a pitiful flop. There was no music because no one made arrangements for bands. There was no light because the young Negro Flambeaux Carriers who bear the torches and bright sparklers went on strike for higher pay. There was only a sparse crowd in the chilly weather. And there were only eight floats instead of 12 because of financial difficulties.

Water Frozen

SYLVAN BEACH, N. Y., Feb. 8 (UPI)—Residents of this upstate New York community were melting snow in their bathtubs today because of a serious water shortage caused by frozen water pipes. Firemen chopped through the ice of Onondaga lake for a ready supply of water in case of fire.

Plan to Tag Road Funds for School Uses Given House

BOISE, Feb. 8 (AP)—Efforts to pigeonhole in committee a measure which would permit expenditures of highway funds for public schools failed today in Idaho's house of representatives. The resolution proposes an amendment to the state's constitution which would allow public schools a share of gasoline taxes and motor vehicle registration fees. Such funds are now earmarked for highway construction and maintenance. The highway committee reported the measure out today without recommendation. Rep. G. M. Brown, R., Canyon, moved immediately that it be recommitted to the committee.

Late Books Net Knock At Midnight, $25 Fines

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 8 (UPI)—Came the knock on the door, the flash of authority, the midnight rick to headquarters—and 14 persons faced the desk sergeant on charges of falling to return overdue library books. William Ansel and James Washington were two of seven persons fined $25 each yesterday under a new East Orange ordinance providing penalties up to $200 for failure to return library books. One person was fined $15, two others were acquitted and four more will get hearings later. The 14 were arrested on warrants signed by Harold Roth, director of the East Orange library. Roth said ample overdue notices and certified letters had been sent out, but that none of the offenders replied. He said books were four months to a year overdue. Magistrate William P. Wilkins said the fines were imposed not because the books were overdue, but because authority had been defied. Washington said it was midnight when a man came to his door. "He told me he was a policeman, showed me the summons and said I was under arrest," Washington said. "I asked couldn't he take the books. He told me he didn't work for the library." "We went over to another fellow's house, picked him up and went down to headquarters," Washington said. "They slammed us in a cell, allowed us one phone call and told us bail was $100. The book (an auto repair manual) was worth only about $7. About 3 a.m. they put another fellow in jail for assault and battery and his bail was only $25."

2 Hearings

BOISE, Feb. 8 (AP)—Two hearings on the controversial bill to ban trading stamps in Idaho have been scheduled by the house insurance, public utilities and banking committee of the state legislature. Rep. William J. Lanting, R., Twin Falls, committee chairman, said the first hearing would be held Friday and the second on the following Monday. He said both supporters of the legislation and opponents would be invited to appear before the committee. He hoped would end a week-long slowdown. Sen. K. C. Barlow, R., Cassia, who last week shouted "that's a lie" at a statement made on the senate floor, was himself called "a liar" yesterday in a bitter exchange. Sen. J. Ray Cox, Jr., D., Kootenai, the Democratic leader, made the accusation. Barlow, criticizing the Democratic slowdown tactics, said they were "being engineered by a man who says 'I'm a candidate for governor.'" Cox leaped to his feet and asked Barlow to say to whom he was referring. "I hear you say," Barlow replied, "if you did a good job here you were going to run for governor." "I would say to the senator from Cassia," Cox retorted, "that if he says he heard me say that if I did a good job here I was going to run for governor that you, sir, are a liar." Lieut. Gov. William E. Drevlow, the senate president, banged his gavel, as he did during last Saturday's exchange, and ordered the remarks stricken from the record. The senate state affairs committee introduced the bill which Republican leaders said was intended to meet the Democrats' demand for a measure repealing the "head tax."

Burley Youth Hurt In Hit, Run Mishap

BURLEY, Feb. 8—A hit-and-run driver struck a Burley junior high school student this morning, knocking him off his bicycle at the crosswalk on Overland avenue and 15th street and another driver was cited for failure to yield the right of way to an emergency vehicle after a police car was damaged en route to the site. Hal Stocks, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Stocks, received a concussion, according to his attending physician, and will have to stay in bed at home for several days. Investigation to learn the driver of a dark green station wagon is under way by city police, sheriff's officers and State Patrolman Marvin J. Snyder. The Stocks youth told officers the windshield of the car was frosted but he believed two persons were in the vehicle. The boy was struck about 7:50 a.m. Wednesday as he was bicycling east on 15th street en route to school. The vehicle came north on Overland and made a left turn onto 15th street. The boy was thrown over the hood of the car. Helge O. Holten, 43, San Mateo, Calif., posted a $25 bond in Burley police court this morning after being cited for failure to yield the right of way to an emergency vehicle.

Police Hold Two Youths In Burglary

Two Twin Falls youths arrested late Tuesday night will be charged with first degree burglary, Twin Falls Police Chief Howard Gillette said Wednesday. They are charged with entering the car lot of the Wills Motor company the theft of keys to two pickup trucks and the theft of two candy machines valued at $100. Both trucks damaged were later when the thieves attempted to smash open the machines. Damages were estimated at $550 to both vehicles. Gillette said the youths, Charles W. McBride, Twin Falls, and Thomas Stockton, 418 Third street west, both 19, admitted the entry and thefts under interrogation. They were arrested at 10:55 p.m. Tuesday hiding in a restroom at the Bob Reese used car lot on Second avenue south. Both youths failed to post $2,500 bonds set by Police Judge Robert E. Pence. Stockton is being held in the county jail, McBride at the city jail. The youths began their night by drag racing on Main avenue, Gillette said. The car they were using broke down and they parked it and walked to the Wills lot where they attempted to start a car by wiring it. Failing, they broke into the lot office and took the keys and candy machines. Each took a pickup truck and drove to a gravel pit, a half mile west of South Park where they opened the machines. Both trucks were damaged at this time, police said. The boys took the least damaged vehicle and drove to the Reese lot where they were arrested. Gillette said the pair could face four felony charges. He listed these as two for burglary and two for grand larceny.

Man Fined by Rupert Judge Over License

Pablo Espinoza, 25, Rupert, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to five days in jail by Minidoka Probate Judge Jake Wall Tuesday for driving with a revoked driver's license. The full sentence was suspended upon payment of the fine. He was cited Feb. 1 as the result of a one-car mishap east of Rupert. The license was revoked in January, 1958, for reckless driving and he has failed to comply with the financial responsibility law. George A. Steilmetz, Hazelton, was fined $25 and costs and given 25 demerits Wednesday by Jerome Justice of the Peace Leo Terrill for crossing over a double white line. Franklin O. MacKley, Rupert, was fined $10 and costs and given 20 demerits Wednesday by Judge Terrill for driving on the wrong side of the road. Karl C. Allen, Pocatello, was fined $10 and costs by Judge Terrill Wednesday and given 25 demerits for a stop sign violation. All three drivers were cited by State Patrolman Marvin S. Wright. LaMont C. Anderson, 18, Burley, was fined $25 by acting Burley Police James Amnest Tuesday after (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Russ Silence Still Tighter

MOSCOW, Feb. 8 (UPI)—The Soviet Union drew its official curtain of silence even tighter today around its strange, big-as-a-bus Sputnik. The silence left unanswered two tantalizing questions about the T-10 satellite launched Saturday: —Where is it? —Just what is it doing up there? Scientists in Western Europe were full of theories—that it has returned to Earth, that it has changed orbit, that it failed, that it burned up in the atmosphere, that it is carrying a man.

Blick Thinks Building Plan Will Be OK'd

BOISE, Feb. 8 (Special)—Twin Falls county Sen. George Blick predicted Wednesday that Gov. Robert E. Smylie's package plan to finance a $4 million dollar state building program will pass both houses and be signed by the governor "within the next 10 days." Senator Blick said the governor's proposal has passed the senate Thursday or Friday. Speaking of the proposal, House Speaker Blick said, "Many legislators have considerable reservations as to its appeal. I am certain the governor has probably put it in this package because it has been a consistent practice in the past for some legislators to look good in appropriation, but they were generally on the other side of the fence. I will predict that this bill will pass the senate, and after its signature by the governor, there will be many bills introduced at this session to repeal some parts of this huge building program. Personally, I think there should be an expiration date of not more than four years. Blick said everyone is "well aware that we must get on with the building program in the state in the very near future. As legislator as this bill seems to be to many legislators and much of the general public, I predict its passage." The house passed the package building plan Jan. 26 by a margin of eight votes, 33 to 25. Governor Smylie's plan would be financed by retention of the 10 "head tax" and increases in cigarette and beer taxes.

Cuban Students Striking Schools

HAVANA, Feb. 8 (UPI)—Students stayed away from parochial and other private schools today in an anti-government "strike" which triggered a bitter new attack on the Roman Catholic church by Defense Minister Haul Castro. Premier Fidel Castro's younger brother told a pro-government student rally last night that Cuban priests had been guilty of counter-revolutionary activities. He charged they planted or transported bombs, concealed dynamite and conspired against the revolutionary regime. The premier did not attend the rally, nor has he appeared at other public events this week, stirring speculation he has been directing anti-rebel operations in the Escambray mountains of central Cuba.

Chaos in Industry Is Blamed for Conspiracy

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8 (UPI)—How did the big antitrust conspiracy among most of the nation's makers of electrical equipment start? How did it spread? How did it work? In corporate circles many claim it just grew naturally—in an attempt to bring order out of a chaotic situation. The industry was plagued by frequent ups and downs, by price cutting in which only the big could survive, by inability of small companies to enter new fields. So it turned to what similar companies often do in Europe; to what was done here during the depression under the NIRA. Once started, price fixing and market dividing kept on growing. The federal government says operations became almost perfect in the industry which averages two billion dollars sales a year. Some executives borrowed methods they probably had read in wholedunks. The Justice department scoffs at company pleas that the deals actually were good for both the makers of the big gadgets and the public and customers because market stability benefits all. The government says the customers—public and private—were faced with rigged bids to maintain or raise prices and give all hands a predetermined percentage of the business. Good for business maybe, but against the law. Getting started was relatively simple, as shown in the statements by government and defense attorneys before Chief Judge J. Cullen Gandy in U. S. district court. In this specialized industry most executives know each other and meet frequently at conventions such as the completely aboveboard ones of the National Electrical Manufacturers association. Once it was decided to do something about it, more or less regular meetings were held. Here's how it was done, as set forth by the government in charges to which companies and individuals pleaded guilty or no contention. Prices were agreed upon and often business apportioned by see-

College Fund Trimmed but Others Hiked

BOISE, Feb. 8 (AP)—Trimming of $463,428 from the operating budget of Idaho State college and $377,572 from funds of the University of Idaho provided the major reductions made by the joint finance appropriations committee to permit a one million dollar boost in state school funds, it was disclosed today.

Copies of a chart showing the breakdown of the 87.9 million dollar budget proposed by the committee were distributed to members of the Idaho legislature.

Reductions Shown
They showed a reduction from $10,117,423 to $9,779,851 in the University of Idaho budget and from $6,090,237 to $5,827,809 in that for Idaho State college, as compared with recommendations by Gov. Robert E. Smylie.

There was no disclosure, however, of where the reductions were made in the individual appropriations to the two schools. The public school fund was increased from the 32 million dollars recommended by Smylie to $33 million dollars.

Amounts Still High
Appropriations recommended by the joint committee for the University of Idaho and Idaho State college still were substantially above those for the current biennium. The current appropriation for the university is $8,562,307 and for the college, $4,927,208.

The committee reduced the appropriation for the territorial centennial commission from the $400,000 recommended by Smylie to $200,000.

In addition to the one million dollar boost for public schools, the committee recommended increases beyond Smylie's proposals for only six agencies.

They were the land department, up from $231,187 to $242,187; tax commission $277,441 to $286,441; central postal system, from $34,049 to $35,270; western interstate commission for higher education, $251,700 to $267,600 and vocational education, $1,287,812 to $1,320,812, 812.

20 Funds Released
Reductions were proposed in 20 items. In addition to those for the university and college and centennial commission they included:

Agriculture department, from $621,117 to $592,130; public utilities commission, $58,935 to $54,021; Hoysora state park, $70,812 to $70,842; forestry administration, $1,101,971 to $1,091,651; state historical society, $126,626 to $126,825; adjutant general's office, $558,337 to $538,537; state library board, $119,171 to $125,000; governor's emergency fund, $150,000 to $125,000.

Agricultural research, $1,011,016 to $1,006,016; Lewis Clark Normal school, $530,880 to $488,880; department of commerce and development, $237,850 to $212,650; public health department, $1,437,000 to $1,287,000; Nampa state school, $2,814,697 to $2,714,697; State Hospital South, $2,397,411 to $2,497,411; State Hospital North, $1,871,657 to $1,621,657; state auditor of public accounts, $370,000 to $340,000; bureau of public accounts, $54,500 to $30,000.

Short Water Supplies Kill Soviet Sheep

MOSCOW, Feb. 8 (AP)—Severe winter weather has been disclosed as the cause of death of nearly 25,000 sheep in Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's pet Kazakh republic during 1960.

The Moscow press said details of livestock problems in Kazakhstan republic were reported at a recent official meeting of the republic's Communist party central committee in Alma Ata.

The meeting was summoned to discuss problems reported at the January conference of top party leaders and farm experts on Russia's livestock production.

At the conference, Khrushchev said that more than a million animals had died of cold and thirst in Kazakhstan.

Kazakhstan's Central Committee Secretary I. Yegorov admitted at the Alma Ata meeting that most of the sheep had died from thirst.

The official report also said that "a lot of cattle are being lost due to the water shortage," only about one-third of the 1167,000 pigs raised in Kazakhstan lived to be sold to the state, and only three million out of 28 million chickens were delivered to the state.

U. S. Citizens Still Moving As Pioneers

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (AP)—Americans are as venturesome today as they were in the early days of our country.

To change homes, jobs, occupations and ways of living is a common occurrence, and is one of the key elements in the rapid and continuous transformation of the United States.

33 Million Move

The residential-mobility of Americans is something to behold. The Chase Manhattan bank noted that in one year some 33 million Americans move from one home to another, or one person in every five.

Most of these people move a relatively short distance, but 11 million go to a different county and half of these cross state lines, the bank reported in its latest publication of "business in brief."

These proportions seem to have held relatively constant over the years, but in prosperous times local moving appears to be somewhat more frequent, according to the report.

People Interchange

A substantial part of this mobility consists of an interchange of people; a stream of people into an area usually is counter-balanced in large part by a movement in the opposite direction.

The sum of this residential mobility is so great, according to the bank, that it involves the majority of the population within a few years, and nearly everyone in a lifetime. No more than three per cent spend their whole life in one dwelling, and not over 15 per cent always live in one county.

$125 Raised

Hank Thinks Duke's Ready For More Dangerous Sport

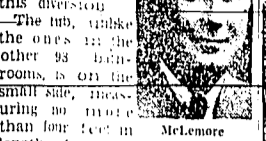

BY HENRY McLEMORE

ROME—Now that he has bagged a tiger in India, the Duke of Edinburgh is ready for more adventures and a hazardous sport—shooting fish in a bathtub.

This is a favorite pastime of the Maharajah of Udaipur in northern India and he has a bathroom especially designed for this diversion.

The tub, unlike the ones in the other 98 bathrooms, is only 30 inches long and 18 inches wide, but was shortened when the Maharajah's aim was impaired by an accident suffered while shooting caged birds, another sport of which he is very fond.

The fish perch are usually used, although goldfish are sometimes substituted for VIP guests—are placed in the tub several hours before the shoot is to begin by bearers wearing platinum gauntlets for protection against flies. The water in the tub is very shallow. Deep water was ruled out years ago when a fierce perch cleared the soap dish in one gallant leap and savagely attacked the belted earl with his thrashing tail.

The lavatory in the bathroom is exceptionally large, for it is on its sides that the sportsmen stand for safety and an unobstructed view of their target. There are safety-strips for the unsteady and occasionally a timid shooter is suspended high in the air, just above the medicine chest.

When he has guests, the Maharajah of Udaipur does not engage in the shoot himself, but acts as master of ceremonies. It is he who gives the signal to fire. The signal is normally the simultaneous sounding of the horns on his Rolls-Royce and a blast from the whistle atop the tower where the Maharajah's jewels are stored.

The shoot is quite a sight, as those who have viewed it can testify. Guns blaze. Perch and mammals of perch are blown clear to the ceiling. Crystal chandeliers sway and tinkle. Smoke fills the room faster than it can be fanned away by liveried beaters.

As fast as the fish are killed they are replaced and the shooting goes on until the gun barrels are too hot to handle. On one occasion when the lavatory sides were packed with 10 sportsmen, and three swung above the medicine chest in safety belts, 47,765 fish were killed.

This is much more hazardous than a tiger hunt, especially the hunts of several hundred years ago when the moguls stacked out goats to feed on. Loaded with opium-flavored goat, the tigers would hunt up for a nap, offering easy prey for the moguls as they pade by on elephants.

Tiger hunts today are not entirely safe. The tree in which the hunters perch might be struck by lightning, and a tiger might sprout wings and fly into the tree to maul the gunners.

But it is much safer than shooting fish in a bathtub. Think of what it must be like to stand on the edge of a lavatory and look down into the eyes of a 10-inch perch no more than eight feet away. It gives me the shudders.

Cold Bothers? Chance Is You Fit One of These Types

By Hal Boyle. NEW YORK, Feb. 8 — The chances are better than ever that if you live in a city and work in an office, you have had a cold this winter — and perhaps have one right now. There are two types of cold: The common cold. This is the kind everyone else gets. The uncommon cold. This is the kind you get. Few hospitals, however, can match in pure human drama the antics of the creatures in the office zoo when the sneezing season gets under way. Here are a few familiar victims you can probably spot in your own firm: The panic button pusher—At the first sign of a sniffle, he screams, "It's probably another flu epidemic like the one in 1918. I think the Russians are spreading it secretly." He tries to get everyone to sign a petition demanding that the whole place be disinfected. Camille at the typewriter—The pretty secretary figures that if she can make her cough sound properly hollow and racking, the boss will give her the day off—which will give her a chance to see an afternoon movie, or catch up on her shopping. The braggart—"You got a little cold," he says. "What are you complaining about? I've got sinus trouble, grippe, bronchitis, and swollen tonsils—to say nothing about my ulcers. They're kicking up again, too." The hypochondriac—Whenever anyone in the office comes in with a new cold, he gets a new one, too. The money tight curmudgeon—If half the money this company spends on tobacco was spent on scientific research, they could lick the problem of the common cold in a year," he yelps, then adds as an after thought, "By the way, could you lend me a cigarette? I'm fresh out!" The fatalist—"What's the use of buying medicine?" he growls. He makes out his will—and waits to see if he'll die or get better. The glutton—"Feed a cold and starve a fever" is his motto. "The hairy-chested chieftain—"It's all in the imagination," he growls. "I never had a cold in my life." Then word spreads that he must be a virus carrier, and behind his back everyone calls him "Typhoid Harry." The boss—The thoughtful company physician taps him on the chest and says, "Chief, it might be just a simple cold, but it could turn into a case of walking pneumonia. I think you'd better take a month off in Florida—and maybe I'd better go along to check you. We wouldn't want this to get any worse, would we?" That's the kind of common cold to get—if you can afford it.

Park, 129 Austin street, Twin Falls, was fined $12 and costs for transporting a 1,255 pound overweight load. He was cited by State Patrolman James Gerke on Third avenue north, Twin Falls.

A pleasure voyage aboard Portugal's second largest vessel was interrupted one day short of a scheduled arrival at Port Everglades, Fla. Capt. Henrique Galvao and a small band of armed rebels, took control of the ship in a brief but bloody middle-of-the-night battle. For 12 days and nights they steered the Santa Maria on an aimless voyage through Atlantic waters. Galvao's floating revolution succeeded to the extent of focusing world-wide attention on the Portuguese regime of Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar. The Santa Maria was finally sailed into Recife, Brazil, where the passengers departed and the rebels sought political asylum.

1,600 Attend Stake Confab In Minidoka

RUPERT, Feb. 8—Sixteen hundred members of the Minidoka LDS stake were urged by Stake President Rodney A. Hansen to study the gospel teachings and to incorporate them into their lives, in the opening address of the quarterly conference held Sunday at Rupert.

President Hansen told members that it was important to learn and to make the right decisions in their lives. He said that many people miss great opportunities in their lives because they lack the faith to break away from their old way of life and strike out when the chance is given.

Each person, he said, should learn his appointed task and then see to it that he does his very best to carry it out. He applied this especially to work in the church, adding that no one should be unwilling to put forth his best efforts in whatever duty is assigned to him.

Other speakers at the morning session were Elder John Burch who has recently returned from a mission for the church to the central states; Kenneth Durfee, who reported on his mission to Australia; Marjean Anderson, Ronald Bailey, Joe Allen, Ronald Firth, and Elder Glenn L. Rudd, who was representing the church authorities in Salt Lake City.

Elder Rudd outlined the church welfare program and gave a history of its growth during the 85 years it has been in operation, pointing out that the plan must be lived to be effective.

Music for both the morning and afternoon sessions was furnished by the Rupert second ward choir under the direction of Gene Larson, with Karlene Garner as organist. Congregational singing was directed by Lund Christensen, stake chorister, and organist was Gloria Thompson.

Herschel Barnes gave the invocation and Dale Garner the benediction.

President Jay Merrill presented the names of church authorities for the sustaining vote of the members. The names of John L. Bader and Gordon Nelson were presented and approved for advancement to the Melchizedek priesthood, and Glenn McBride was released from the position as assistant stake clerk, making it possible for him to accept an appointment as regional coordinator for the church welfare plan.

John P. Barnes was released from the position as first counselor in the presidency of the sixth quorum of elders; Don Ballantyne from the ninth quorum of elders; John A. Stevenson from the position of second counselor in the stake mission presidency, and Mrs. Maybelle Stevenson from the position of stake relief society secretary.

At the afternoon session, President Roldo V. Dutton spoke, emphasizing the need for keeping the commandments of the Lord and the importance of learning the gospel and of teaching it to the world.

President Dutton outlined the phenomenal growth in church membership, pointing out that from a membership of six in 1830, it had grown to more than 1,700,000 in 1960. He reported 39,000 converts in foreign missions last year and 19,000 in the stake missions.

He encouraged the youth of the church to study and prepare themselves for the challenge they face of taking over the leadership of the church in a few years.

Others who spoke were Margaret Hansen who told of her experiences as a page in the house of representatives in Boise, and of her appreciation for the teachings of the church as a guide in her life.

President Merrill directed his remarks to those not members of the church, outlining the background of the church teachings from the New Testament, and pointing out the "importance of following the teachings of the Savior as He taught them." He drew an analogy between the restored church and the primitive church, showing the LDS church to be the "only church at the present time to embody all of the characteristics of the primitive organization."

Carey Notes Future Plans For Students

CAREY, Feb. 8—A panel discussion "After high school what?" was featured last week during the PTA Founders day meeting attended by approximately 90 people.

The new school building program was presented by members of the county school board who answered questions concerning its possibilities.

Special guests on the panel were Sgt. Frank Kasper, army recruiting officer, Twin Falls; Hugh Nelson, employment counselor, Jerome; and Jean Mizer, Blaine county high school guidance counselor. Mrs. Emily Olsen was moderator.

Sergeant Kasper stated there are many opportunities in the armed services. There are exceptionally good educational facilities available to everyone at little or no cost to the individual, such as the University of Maryland, he said.

There the army slogan "The student who fails to learn, the instructor has failed to teach," is carried out.

For those who expect to take a position and begin earning immediately after graduation, Nelson reported that job openings are plentiful. The demand is for skilled and semi-skilled workers.

These skills can be obtained through two main sources, apprenticeship or on the job training and attending a trade school. The cost of a person going to trade school, he stated, was mainly in living expenses for the young person.

Miss Mizer emphasized that young people have a right to know about their own possibilities and capabilities and thus receive help in developing their talents and occupational abilities. She warned the parents against having too intense a desire for the child to accomplish something of which he may not be capable. A realistic picture of careers and their rights should be given each person, she said.

After the panel, past PTA presidents were honored in a short candlelighting ceremony. Honored were Clifford Orchard, Mrs. Laurel Judy, Mrs. Miles Ray, Mrs. Lynn Adamson, Mrs. Everett Twombly, Mrs. John Briggs, L. B. Carlson and Ronald Hunt.

Presentation of the new plan for a school building program was directed by Garth Cook who had for display a new blueprint for county buildings which could pay building costs from $1,100,000 to $300,000.

School board members said the school bond election failures in the county during the past several years may have been because of the high cost. After a short discussion concerning the plan, it was decided to call a special meeting in which the plan could be discussed fully and films would be shown illustrating actual use of the proposed building.

School board members present included Mac Barton, Carey; Ray Williams, Bellevue; and Bill Malver, Hailey.

During the refreshment period a PTA life membership pin was presented to Ronda Hunt by Kay Thatcher.

Two songs were sung by the high school girls' chorus as part of the program. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Veri Simpson, Mrs. Don Dismuth, Mrs. DeWayne Eadsforth, Mrs. Wallace Stocking and Mrs. Carl Tomlin, seventh and eighth grade room mothers.

Parking Fines

for the leaders. He urged parents to encourage their boys to participate fully in the program offered by the church.

James Christiansen offered the invocation, and the benediction was given by Stephen Green. Organist was Mrs. Jess Hymas and Mrs. LaVere Jones directed the congregational singing. Richard Wilcox, accompanied by Arlene Wilcox, sang a solo.

Richard Wilcox, Jerry McCombs and Gale Harding served as color guard.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRIZI

"Oh, he just imagined it." Maybe he did but why the note of scorn in the statement? Children, especially those under 10, are endowed with a high degree of imagination. The younger they are the richer the field of fancy. When the world of adults is too much for them, they create one for themselves where things are right for their needs.

This sometimes is made plain to their elders by the stories the little ones want to tell. They tend to make them big, strong and victorious and their elders, long since aware of the world as it is, are shocked by what they call exaggeration, or downright lying.

We ought to step carefully here. All children want the approval of their elders and if their tall stories meet with stern orders to stop lying and tell the truth, they will soon stop bringing their stories to such an audience. That may not be as good as it appears. Imagination is a valuable asset to its possessor. It is the creative writer's main source of power; the artist's great source of strength; the inventor's sole stimulant to adventurous performance.

Of course children must be taught to see the difference between what "is" and what "is not." They must be taught that there is a standard of truth that has to be recognized and dealt with if they are to live happily with themselves and others. But at the same time, they must be allowed freedom of imagination for their creative abilities.

When a child tells a tall story, listen to the end and then say something to the effect that it was a good story and how can he tell what really happened? Perhaps a few well worded questions help here. But always behave without a show of anger or dismay. Time usually discloses the facts if one is careful and patient under these conditions.

Praise any show of creative effort, i.e., the story a child writes, the extemporaneous melody he plays instead of running the practice scale, the new design for a sweater or a dress. Do so even if the product distresses your conventional sense. Accept it as it is offered and later on, if necessary, make the correct suggestion.

What is important is the cultivation of children's imagination and not its suppression.

Minico Defeats Bobcats 49-36 to Regain Top Spot In Big Seven Conference

BURLEY, Feb. 8—The Minico Spartans, sparked by the early scoring effort of young Bill Manning, whipped the Burley Bobcats 49-36 Tuesday night and regained first place in the Big Seven conference basketball chase. The victory, the second this year over their arch-rivals, gave the Spartans a 6-2 record while Burley fell out of a share of the lead and into a 5-3 tie with Buhl.

Stubborn Senators Bow to Tigers 59-57

GOODING, Feb. 8—Sounding a warning note to all fourth-district, triple-A basketball teams, the Gooding Senators played their best game of the year Tuesday night but finally had to bow 59-57 to the highly-regarded Mountain Home Tigers.

Durocher Is Back in Form; Gives Opinion

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8—Leo Durocher was doing what he does better than managing baseball teams: Giving flat opinions.

He said Alvin Dark, new skipper of the San Francisco Giants, "seems quiet and doesn't look aggressive. But the Giants will find out they can't loaf on him. I've seen him so hot you could light a cigarette on him."

Dark was Leo's shortstop and captain when the Giants won National league pennants for New York in 1951 and 1954.

As for his role behind Manager Walter Alton with the Dodgers, a secondary position totally unfamiliar to him, Durocher declared: "If I didn't think I could subordinate myself to another manager, I'd never have taken the job. While I'm wearing any uniform, my manager is the best manager in the world. What he thinks, I think."

Then Leo said Willie Mays is still baseball's greatest center-fielder and the Dodgers with Mays' bat would win "from here to the ballpark."

Mays broke into the majors under Leo.

Of the Giants' new Candlestick Park, Leo said, "I think the park has hurt Willie, hurt the whole club, although the trouble is mostly mental. They'll just have to get used to it and the wind and remember that everybody else in the league has to play there too."

Duke Upset By Carolina State 61-59

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 8—Substitute Terry Litchfield hit on a long jump shot with two seconds remaining to give North Carolina State a 61-59 upset victory over third-ranked Duke Tuesday night in an Atlantic Coast conference basketball game.

The defeat knocked Duke out of first place in the conference and enabled Wake Forest to move ahead. Wake Forest is 9-1 and Duke 8-1.

A crowd of 3,000 saw Duke's Doug Kistler miss a shot with six seconds remaining. State's Ken Rohloff got the ball and called time. When play was resumed, Anton Muehlbauer fed the ball to Rohloff at mid court. He passed to Litchfield who sank the dramatic shot.

It was State's 12th victory against seven losses for the season. Duke is 16-2.

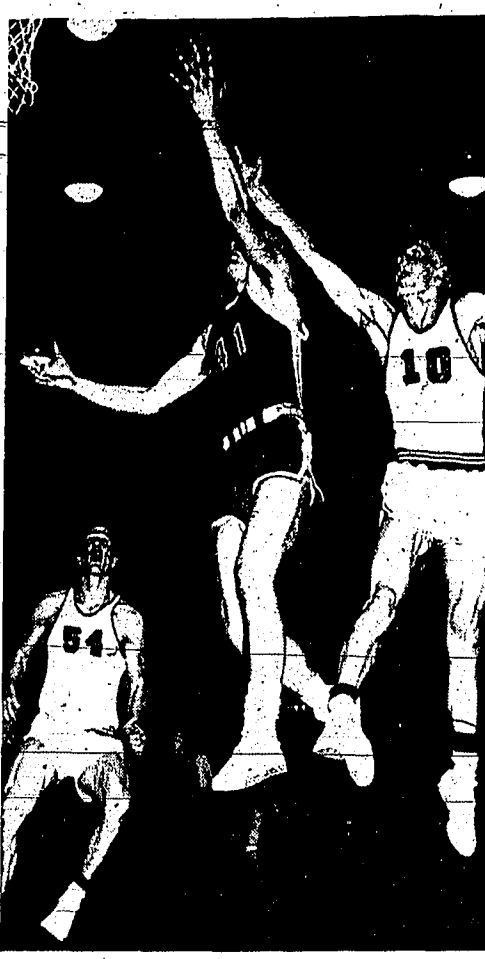

The Wolfpack, strong in rebounds, had a 38-25 halftime lead. Duke came back to tie it up at 41-all with 11:59 remaining on the shooting of Heyman. The game was nip and tuck the rest of the way.

WHIP'S BOBCATS

CHENEY, Wash., Feb. 8—Eastern Washington, a shorter crew but showing plenty of pep, ran over the visiting Montana State college Bobcats 77-51 in a non-conference game here Tuesday night.

Vilhauer Scores for Minico

Merlin Vilhauer, Minico's high-scoring guard, sweeps in for a bucket during the Spartans' game with the Burley Bobcats Tuesday night. Trying to defend is Burley's Glenn Church while Grant Martinson pulls up short for a possible rebound. The Spartans took the game 49-36 and regained first place in the Big Seven conference. Bulldogs Drop Panthers With Closing Surge

CAREY, Feb. 8—The Bellevue Bulldogs exploded for 29 points in the final quarter Tuesday night to drop the stubborn Carey Panthers 60-50 and maintain their first place tie with the Richfield Tigers.

The Panthers, hovering around the break even mark in conference standings, battled the favored Bulldogs on even terms through the first three quarters. Then they hit only 11 points while Bellevue was having its point explosion.

Carey took the preliminary 50-36 with Lee Juding leading the way with 12 points. The win gave the jayvees a 10-3 mark.

Patterson Wasn't Hurt by Punch

SPRING VALLEY, N. Y., Feb. 8—Floyd Patterson said Tuesday it was strategy, not the punch, that made him stagger after being tagged by Ingemar Johansson's right in the early rounds of their second title fight.

"We figured Johansson would charge in to finish me off, as he did in the first fight, after he landed a solid right. So when I got hit, I staggered, hoping to lure him in. Instead," said the champion who defends his world heavyweight title against the Swede again in Miami Beach on March 13, "Johansson backed away."

St. Bonaventure, St. John's Eye Shot at Buckeyes

Potent St. Bonaventure and strong St. John's, a couple of college basketball teams that put the heat on Ohio State's unbeaten Buckeyes last Christmas, may get another crack at the nation's top-ranked quintet, St. Bonaventure bowed to Ohio State by two points in the finale of the holiday festival last December. St. John's Redmen put on a good show before losing to Coach Fred Taylor's powerhouse, 79-65, in the tournament's semifinal round.

Johnson Stops Bowdry in Ninth Round to Cop Light Heavy Crown

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP)—Harold Johnson of Philadelphia won the National Boxing association light heavyweight championship Tuesday night by stopping Jesse Bowdry of St. Louis in 45 seconds of the ninth round. Johnson, who came in at 172 to 173 for Bowdry, paved the way for the finish by scoring knockdowns in the sixth and eighth rounds, and when the bull-shouldered St. Louis battler went down under a vicious barrage of punches in the ninth, and arose groggy and helpless when the count reached seven, referee Cy Gottfried mercifully stopped the slaughter.

New Housing Plan Pushed By Vets Unit

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (AP) — Chairman Olin E. Teague, D., Tex., of the house veterans committee is pushing a new housing plan which he said could pump hundreds of millions of dollars from pension funds into homes for ex-servicemen.

Teague made the proposal the first order of business for his committee when it organizes, probably next week. He hoped to shove it through the house promptly. The Teague bill is designed to make it possible for the first time, for pension funds operated by unions, management and public employe groups to invest heavily in home mortgages.

The veterans administration would guarantee 100 per cent repayment. Interest of 4 1/2 per cent would be paid. And, to make the plan more palatable to the pension operators, the veterans administration would handle all paper work. The agency would pass the money along to veteran home buyers at 5 1/4 per cent interest, with no downpayment required and repayment stretched over 30 years. A one-point discount would be charged as insurance. The plan would operate wherever private GI financing was not available.
