More Areas Added Onto Jobless List

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The labor department today added 25 major industrial centers to its list of substantial unemployment areas. A spokesman called the idle situation the worst since early World War II. The new areas reported with an idle rate of six per cent or more of their work force included Philadelphia, Cleveland, Baltimore, Los Angeles, Newark, St. Louis and Kansas City. At the same time, it was announced that Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg will make a five-state inspection of unemployment areas beginning tomorrow. He is making, at President Kennedy's direction, a series of on-the-spot tours of areas where unemployment is considered a major problem.

Sun Is Help For Stormy East States

By The Associated Press
Sunny weather and rising temperatures lent a hand today as Virginia, Maryland and West Virginia dug out from a record snowfall that all but paralyzed the hardest hit areas. Schools were closed in hundreds of localities in the three states, and Virginia highway deaths were attributed to the storm. The arrival of sunny skies and higher temperatures—expected to reach into the mid-40's—were helping some, but highway crews faced the enormous task of clearing roads. Main highways were opening and traffic moving, but secondary routes were yet to get attention. Even as the weather bureau reported the coastal low which brought so much snow, sleet and rain to the three-state area had moved well out to sea, it predicted increasing cloudiness and more snow for the mountain sections Saturday night. Depths up to 18 inches fell across the Shenandoah valley and into northern Virginia, adding a fresh layer to last week's storm. Combined depths in some places measured 29 inches, and winds pushed drifts of four and five feet across roads.

2 FPC Men Won't Testify In Dam Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Federal Power Commission Examiner William C. Levy today denied a request that two FPC officials subpoenaed to answer charges of possible prejudice in the Nez Perce-High Mountain Sheep dam hearings. Attorneys for the Washington Public Power Supply system had asked that Francis L. Adams, chief of the FPC's bureau of power, and Lester S. Wing, San Francisco regional engineer, be called to testify. The attorneys for Washington Public Power contended that FPC staff witnesses were "plainly biased" against their clients' application to construct the Nez Perce dam on the Snake river. They also alleged "bias" could only be originated at policy levels within the commission and filtered "downward" through Wing and Adams. Levy denied the request as being "unfounded" and as having "no merit." He termed the Public Power group's charges as "highly scandalous, frivolous and impertinent."

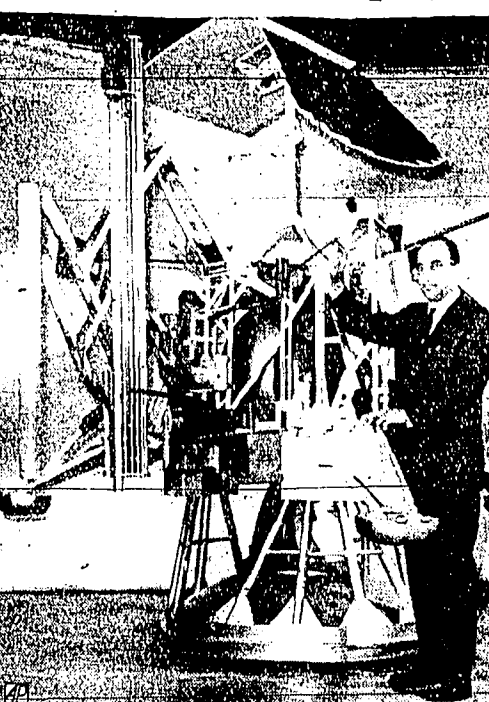

Driver Fined By Judge for Drug Charge

Stanley S. Pitchford, 50, 136 Sixth avenue east, was fined $100 and costs and his driver's license was suspended for one year in Twin Falls justice court Thursday for driving while under the influence of drugs. Pitchford had been charged with drunken driving but an amended complaint was filed later on the drug charge. E. L. Rayborn, Pitchford's attorney, said Pitchford has arthritis and takes the drug to ease the pain. The day of his arrest he apparently took a triple dose and reacted much as though under the influence of alcohol, Rayborn said. He added that Pitchford was taking the drug under the direction of a doctor. Pitchford was arrested Feb. 1 on a charge of a mile north of Buhl on a county road by State Patrolman Richard Burned. He appeared before Buhl Justice of the Peace William L. Nungesser who transferred the case to Twin Falls justice court for the convenience of a witness. J. D. Spencer, Rupert, was fined $100 and costs and given 20 demerits Wednesday afternoon by Rupert Police Judge George Redford for drunk driving. Spencer is serving out the fine in jail. He was arrested in Rupert Jan. 30 by Rupert Policeman John Green. Leonard E. Hankins, 18, Burley, was fined $25 by acting Burley Police Judge James Annett Wednesday afternoon for running a stop light. Welton Osterhout, 25, Declo, was fined $25 Wednesday by Judge Annett.

Skiing Good

One and a half inches of new powder snow was reported Wednesday at Sun Valley with snow flurries Thursday. Skiing conditions are good, officials stated. There are 35 inches on Baldy mountain, 24 at the Roundhouse, 17 on Dollar and 14 on the valley floor. Four inches of new snow were reported at Magic Mountain ski area, according to Claude Jones, operator of the resort. Total depth of snow at the Magic Mountain area was estimated about 40 inches.

NEWS BULLETINS

HAVANA, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Anti-Castro rebels stepped up their terror campaign against the government today amid reports from the interior of a steady strengthening of mountain guerrilla forces.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Southern Democrats and a Republican attacked Robert C. Weaver today for his views on integrated housing, and his past associations with groups later labeled as subversive. They opened the attack after the senate agreed by unanimous consent to vote on the nomination of the controversial Negro as administrator of the housing and home finance agency. This waived the usual one-day waiting period.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Wall street and Broadway circles buzzed with rumors today that the securities and exchange commission was looking into a sudden jump in activity in two stocks following a comedian's market "tip" on a television show. The activity came after Lou Holtz, an old-time vaudeville and musical comedy star, mentioned on the Jack Parr show that he had a $10 stock on the American Stock Exchange that would go to $1,000 in 10 years. Holtz reportedly did not name the issue aloud, but was said to have whispered the name to Parr and others on the show.

U.S. Electric Firms Facing Suit Threats

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP and UPI)—Governmental agencies and private utilities, stirred by the bust-up of electrical firm price-fixing and bid-rigging, today studied prospects of recovering millions of dollars in alleged overcharges through antitrust civil suits. The threat of massive legal actions, made by officials from coast to coast, came in the wake of the successful federal prosecution of antitrust charges of 29 of America's biggest electrical manufacturers and 45 of their top executives.

Republicans Fan "Missile Gap" Studies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—GOP congressional leaders fanned the "missile gap" controversy today with jibes at President Kennedy and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck, Indiana, told a news conference he wished Kennedy had applied the same test of "prematurity" to his 1960 campaign statements on missiles that he now applies to a Pentagon study on the subject. And senate GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, said he has drafted a letter to McNamara asking him flatly whether he held a press briefing in which he told newsmen no missile gap now exists. Dirksen maintains published reports of such a finding show "the way is right."

Sales Tax Backed

BOISE, Feb. 9 (UPI)—A special meeting of the Unified Education Council has voted unanimous approval of a bill which would levy a three per cent sales tax. The council, composed of representatives of the Idaho Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Idaho School Trustees Association and the Idaho Education Association, said money from such a tax was needed for the schools.

House Ends Stalling Bid; Senate OK's Farm Labor 'Right-to-Work' Measure

BOISE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The so-called farm labor "right-to-work" bill was headed for the house today after a heated exchange in the senate in which the charge was made it covered other employment by a "sleeper clause." The measure passed the senate by a narrow 23 to 21 vote in which four Democrats joined 19 Republicans in voting for the bill and four Republicans joined 17 Democrats in opposing it. No notice of reconsideration was given. Proponents of the bill, including Sen. R. H. Young, Jr., R., Canyon, said the bill differed from broad "right to work" legislation in that it protected the farmer in harvesting, care and storage of perishable crops. Opponents referred to the clause which extended coverage to those workers engaged in transportation

Save Water!

ARIMO, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Idaho's snow survey supervisor suggested yesterday that farmers in the state begin saving water. Morlan Nelson, who is also supervisor for the Columbia River basin snow survey, said there is a good possibility of a water shortage this year. He said it will probably be below four million acre-feet for the first time in 20 years in Idaho. He said he based his figures on water flow from the Snake river and on the sub-normal snow fall so far this year.

Roll Call

BOISE, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Here is the roll call vote by which the Idaho senate approved 23 to 21 the so-called "right to work" bill affecting farm employment: For the bill: Republicans for, 19—Barlow, Barron, Black, Bottolfsen, Campbell, Cook, Cooper, Hansen, Heath, McClure, Murphy of Lincoln, Nally, Poole, Rasmussen, Seeley, Smith, Wallington, Yensen, Young of Canyon. Planning Unit Hears Report On Buildings

The Twin Falls county planning board heard a report on county buildings at its monthly meeting Wednesday night. John Hayes, county surveyor and ex-officio board member, gave a preliminary report on all county buildings, valued at approximately four million dollars. Hayes said that most buildings were good to fair condition. The study will be continued and a utilization report on each building is expected at future meetings. The group heard R. O. Severson read proposed bylaws. It was agreed to postpone adoption of the rules until the next meeting, so members would have additional time to consider the bylaws. County Commissioner Russell C. (Bud) Larsen, ex-officio board member, urged the board to endorse house bill 118. This bill would give county commissions authority to lease county property for up to 50 years. The planners took no action on this suggestion. Larsen explained it has been suggested that the top floors of the old county hospital building be leased to private enterprise to serve as a nursing home. He said such a nursing home might provide housing for juveniles and mental patients who come under the purview of county authorities and the probate court.

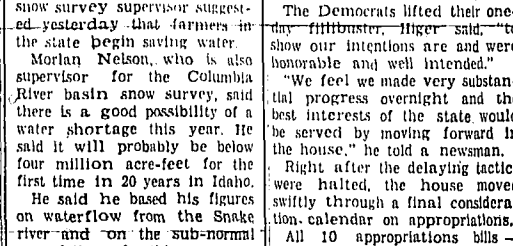

Allies 'Open' To Sky Spy, Expert Says

LONDON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—A leading British space expert said today western confusion in trying to track Russia's seven-ton satellite shows the allies are "wide open" to Soviet spies-in-the-sky because their tracking facilities are outdated. The Soviet satellite was seen over Edinburgh early today after Russian scientists told Scottish scientists when and where to look for it. But it was "missing" for several days before that and there was speculation it had reentered the atmosphere. L. F. Carter, secretary of the British Interplanetary society, said in an interview there are three major western vulnerabilities in trying to defend against "orbital espionage." —It now is possible for a satellite to go almost undetected. —Once detected, it is impossible to know the exact purpose of the Sputnik if the Soviets choose to keep it a secret. —Unless detection methods are improved, military interception of a satellite in time of war would be very difficult.

4 Musicians Arrested on Dope Counts

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 9 (UPI)—Four members of Duke Ellington's famed jazz band were arrested today on narcotics charges and sheriff's detectives said they found heroin in their living quarters. Taken into custody as they were walking to a rehearsal at a strip hotel were John Willie Cook, 36, Pittsburgh, Pa., Andrew Wilcox, 30, and Willis Raymond Nance, 47, all trumpet players; and Paul Consoles, 40, New York, a saxophone player. Nance and Wilcox gave local addresses. Also arrested were William Henry Black, 37, an arranger for the band, and Joan Williams, 27, who was with the musicians. Black was booked for carrying a concealed weapon—a straight-edge razor. Miss Williams was booked for vagrancy. Lloyd Bell, chief of sheriff's detectives, said the arrests culminated an investigation of two weeks. He said small amounts of heroin were found in the musicians' apartments. The band has been appearing in the lounge of the Riviera hotel.

Trial Ordered For 5 Accused Russian Spies

LONDON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Five members of an alleged Soviet spy ring accused of stealing western naval secrets, including details of Britain's first atomic submarine built with American help, were ordered today to stand trial for espionage. A magistrate handed down the order at the end of a three-day preliminary hearing for the three men and two women. All have pleaded innocent. Expert testimony at the hearing linked them to the theft of secret details of the British submarine Dreadnought, which was built here and powered by an American nuclear reactor. The five alleged Soviet spies include Henry F. Houghton, 55, and his fiancée Ethel E. Gee, 46, civilian employees at the Portland Naval base; Peter J. Kroger, 50, and his wife Helen, 47, booksellers alleged to be connected to the communications experts and paymasters for the ring, and Gordon Lonsdale, 38, whom the crown says is a Russian. The Krogers entered Britain on Canadian passports, but their real origins are obscure. (In New York, the Journal-American said in a copyright dispatch that Kroger actually is a native New Yorker named Morris Cohen, a one-time star football player in a New York City high school. The newspaper said the FBI had been on Cohen's trail for about five years, and he last was seen in New York in 1951 or 1952. It said he was graduated from New York's James Monroe high school in 1928 and in the mid-1930s joined the Lincoln brigade to fight against Francisco Franco in the Spanish civil war.)

Mayor Blasts Late Arrests

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 9 (UPI)—Mayor James W. Kelly Jr. summoned Police Chief John McGinty to a meeting today to discuss the "shocking" arrests in the middle of the night of delinquent library book borrowers. "I cannot condone people being arrested at that hour of the night for an offense of this kind," Kelly told United Press International. "I think it most unfortunate and I issued an order that no more arrests be made at this hour for offenses of this nature." McGinty said he would tell Kelly that "under certain circumstances late-hour arrests might be necessary." But he emphasized these probably would involve only extreme cases. Kelly scored the searching of suspects and their falling in cases where they could not put up $100 bail.

"Mick" Has Adjusted to Life With Youngsters, Other Dogs

"Old Mick," saved from "execution" by a Times-News story last October, apparently has adjusted to living with other dogs and youngsters more readily than one might have expected. "Mick" was slated for death when his master, Nick Williams, 72, a former sheepherder died in his sleep and left orders for Mick's death. When the story appeared in the Times-News, Twin Falls dogcatcher William Deyne received more than 100 telephone calls from persons asking to "adopt" the dog. Clarence Schindler, 676 Jackson street, got him on the jobbound when the first one to claim him couldn't put up with the dog's barking. "Old Mick" moved in with Mr. and Mrs. Schindler, their 13-year-old son, Gene, and two other dogs. Gene said Wednesday that the old dog appears to be more friendly with children and more retrained with adults than when he first moved in. Mick avails Schindler and Gene's homecoming, announcing each with loud barking, the youth said. He's sensitive too, according to Gene. Once, shortly after they adopted him, he had a rough and tumble time with a pukebug owned by the Schindlers. A hard

Kennedy Launches Program to Safeguard U.S. Health

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—President Kennedy asked congress today to safeguard the health of Americans from childhood to old age through a vast program topped with social security financing of hospital and nursing care for persons aged 65.

The controversial plan highlights Kennedy's message in which he proposed federal doctors and dentists; grants to assist community nursing and hospital services; aid to medical care for the health of children and the aged; and stepped-up medical research.

Administration officials said the proposal on health care for the aged—certain to touch off a big congressional battle—would cover 14.3 million persons past their 65th birthday anniversaries as of Jan. 1, 1963.

These officials said it would cost 1.1 billion dollars in its first year of full operation, and would mean a 1.5 billion dollars a year increase in social security payroll taxes.

Anyone with any earnings under social security would have to pay higher taxes to finance the program. So would employers.

The first stage of the two-step tax increase, effective Jan. 1, 1962, would hit only those earning more than $4,800 a year. For that year, the existing $4,800 limit of earnings which can be taxed under social security would be raised to $5,000. This would cost every employee earning as much as $5,000 an additional $6 a year and self-employed persons at that level $9 a year extra.

The second tax increase, effective Jan. 1, 1963, would be applied to everyone covered by social security. An extra one-fourth of one per cent tax would be levied on earnings up to $6,000. This would mean tax boosts of up to $12.50 a year for employees and $18.75 for self-employed.

Kennedy insisted "this program is not a program of socialized medicine." "It is a program of prepayment of health costs with absolute freedom of choice guaranteed," he said. "Every person will choose his own doctor and hospital."

The program is a modified version of one which congress refused to enact last year, approving instead a program of federal-state health care grants for needy old people not on relief. The AFL-CIO backs the social security approach and the American Medical Association is a prime opponent.

"The health of our nation is a key to its future," Kennedy said. "It is to the unfinished business in health—which affects every person and home and community in this land—that we must now direct our best efforts."

Highlights of President Kennedy's health and hospital care: Medical care for the aged—"In essence, I am recommending enactment of a health insurance program under the social security system." For each single illness, it would provide hospital costs up to 90 days paying all costs over $10 daily for the first nine days (minimum, $20) and full costs for the remainder; up to 100 days of nursing home services after release from the hospital; payment of all out-patient diagnostic costs over $20; and community visiting nurse services.

Farm Labor Bill OK'd by Idaho Senate

consider what is happening on the West coast and in California." He said it is union strategy to hit the farmers where it hurts most. He said agriculture and livestock comprise 52 percent of the economy and the state should not be subjected to this type of abuse.

He said "We do not want bludgeoning type tactics used on our people," without recourse to the courts.

The motion for referral of the bill to committee was defeated 20 to 24. Specifically the bill prohibits labor contracts requiring membership of agricultural workers.

Sen. K. O. Barlow, R., Cassia, said the tactics of unions were to "strike fields, field by field in California." He said they did this in the fruit crops last summer and are doing it now.

He said, "We do not want joining a union as a requirement to work in the fields."

Speaking against the measure, Sen. William J. Doe, D., Idaho, said a section of the bill defining agricultural labor as those engaged in handling, processing, freezing and transportation of agricultural goods to market "makes this bill cover other types of work," by a "sleeper clause."

In other action the senate approved 32 to 18 a measure which Gov. Robert E. Smylie, in his biennial message, said was intended to stimulate the construction industry. It would provide that newly built single-family residences would be exempt from the property tax for one year.

chairman, replaced last month by Crow, a Republican.

The current weed program director, Jack Thietten, was fired in 1958 by the commission, which at that time had a 2-1 Democratic majority. He was rehired when the present Republican-dominated commission took office last month.

Larsen, however, assured the board, "All of us place the county ahead of politics." Morris Carlson, Flier, a board member, said he felt the planning board would serve no useful function if the county commission ignored its recommendations, "as was done in the case of the weed advisory board." (This group recommended in January that Lowrey be retained as county weed program director.)

The group passed a motion, made by James YaGrove, Castleford, that a committee be appointed to study highways and arterial roads throughout the county in preparation for a study, scheduled for this summer, of transportation problems of the Twin Falls metropolitan area. The survey will be made by the state highway department.

Board chairman Lyle Schnitker said he would appoint this committee after giving "serious consideration" to the members who would be on the group.

Two new members attended the meeting Wednesday. They are Thomas Crain, Murtaugh, appointed to replace Edward Uhlig, who resigned, and Oren Boone, Twin Falls, appointed to replace Chester Larsen, who has moved to California.

Gem Chamber Head Reports Work Group
BURLEY, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Idaho Chamber of Commerce announced today appointment of a committee on natural resources "qualified to speak with unity and authority on behalf of the many Idaho interests involved."

Appointment of the committee was announced by I. W. Harris, Burley, chamber president.

C. E. Schwab, Kellogg, president of the Bunker Hill company, was named chairman of the seven-man committee.

Other members are P. G. Batt, Caldwell, representing business and industry; Arthur L. Barnes, Lewiston, representing chambers of commerce; John Broekneridge, Twin Falls, agriculture; Alex Coleman, St. Anthony, water users; Emerson Pugmire, Hagerman, recreation, and Arthur M. Roberts, McCall, forest products.

Harris said the committee will be concerned immediately with two matters, proposed creation of a Selway-Bitterroot wilderness area in north Idaho and consideration by congress of the so-called wilderness bill.

Hearings on the latter measure are scheduled for Feb. 27-28 in Washington, D. C.

At first the dog was kept in the house to attempt calming him. That didn't appear to work. Gene Schneider then built him a doghouse in a shed back of the house and he lives there.

True to Gene's remarks regarding shyness toward adults, Mick walked away from a visitor Wednesday and stretched out in Wednesday's rain until his quarters were vacated.

When Mick moved in with the Schneiders he needed a bath. He hadn't had it. Gene said it is coming, but only when a weather warms a little.

Until that time Old Mick got by with brushings of his coat.

Even with these, he appeared far cleaner than when first served several months ago.

Water Source Is Viewed by City Manager

H. L. Derrick, Twin Falls city manager, said Thursday he hopes the city "will be quite a ways along in obtaining a new source of domestic water supply before next winter."

Because of heavy pollution of Snake river, Twin Falls is receiving its domestic water supply temporarily from Rock creek through the irrigation water pumping system of W. T. Williams, route two, Twin Falls.

Derrick noted that it is "wonderful that Williams made his pumping system available to us. Not many people would undertake such a burden."

This temporary system has "worked out fine," Derrick commented, adding that all problems encountered were small and due mostly to weather conditions.

"We have had to carry slightly more chlorine residue in the water than we anticipated because of the two water main breaks," Derrick explained that the residue was necessary to kill any bacteria in the new sections of pipe.

"I think that everyone in Twin Falls has noticed the difference in the water since we began using water from Rock creek," Derrick stated. The city anticipates using the temporary source of supply until the Twin Falls Canal company turns Snake river water in the canals again.

Alfred Peters, manager of the canal company, said that the company's directors are slated to decide Tuesday when Snake river water will be turned through the canal.

The company previously planned to turn the water into the canals March 1, but dry weather possibly will force the company to store more water for the summer months, Peters noted.

Kelth Anderson, Boise, consulting engineer and water expert, is making a water study for the city, listing all possible sources of water, quality and quantity of the water and the economical feasibility of the city's using the water. Derrick expects the report to be finished by late March.

Boost Shown In Claims by Local Jobless

Unemployment in Twin Falls is running slightly above normal for this season of the year with about a 10 per cent increase in the number of claimants in January, 1961, over January 1960, according to R. S. Cutler, manager of the Twin Falls office of the employment security agency.

However, the January, 1961, figure of placements for unemployed persons obtained through the agency is compared to the January, 1960, figure, Cutler said.

In comparing unemployment figures for the past week and the same time a year ago, Cutler commented that for the week ending Feb. 4, 1961, 27,355 claims for unemployment insurance benefits were filed throughout the state. In 1960, for the same time there were 11,600 claims filed.

Despite the rise in unemployment, Cutler said, Twin Falls is better off than most other areas of the state. He noted that areas such as Boise and Coeur d'Alene have more than twice as many claims filed as last year.

Cutler attributes the increase in unemployment to economic conditions throughout the nation. "The winter season is always a low season with many persons, such as farm workers, construction workers, seed house workers and some retail persons being laid off because of lack of work," he noted.

"Business usually picks up in later February and by the end of March is nearly normal," Cutler said.

East Paper Lists Persons Fighting House Committee

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—A petition with the names of more than 400 citizens urging the house of representatives to abolish its un-American activities committee was published last night in the New York Times.

The list of names, published with the petition in a paid advertisement, includes leaders of business and labor, churchmen, educators, writers, actors, civic leaders and public officials.

Among them are Dr. Reinhold Niebuhr, theologian; publisher Alfred A. Knopf; California longshoremen's leader, Harry Bridges; retired Judge J. Waties Waring; scientists Harold Urey, Luis Pauling and Harlow Shapley; Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt; writers Elmer Rice, Louis Untermeyer, Thornton Wilder, and Lewis Mumford; and Dr. Martin Luther King, southern Negro leader.

The petition charges that the committee has "condemned individual Americans, wrecked the lives of some, and has denied them the due process of law that English and American courts have solemnly evolved over many centuries."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—President John Fitzgerald Kennedy benefits from an asset which was not possessed by his distinguished predecessor, Dwight D. Eisenhower, or even by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

He does not share the affection, personal as well as political, which the nation and the non-communist world showered upon them. FDR and "Ike" could do no wrong in majority opinion, and they profited from that fact, although the results were not always beneficial for the nation's welfare and progress.

Even former President Truman, despite the scandals that hovered over the White House during his regime, won over a respectable segment of public opinion, largely because he was so earthy and cozy. Mingled with this friendly feeling was a tinge of sympathy for the underdog he was supposed to be in the 1948 election.

BEWARE SHOALS

Often when political leaders decide the opposition party has "pre-empted" a certain part of the political spectrum they conclude that they must move somewhere else if they are to win the next election.

Years back this was the problem the Democrats faced in California and Oregon, where Republicans were winning top offices with moderate to progressive candidates. The Democrats felt compelled to inch toward the left to establish a distinct position.

Yet the effort was never really productive. When the Democrats finally regained some of the top spots, they managed it for the most part by putting up candidates who simply reestablished themselves in those areas previously pre-empted by the Republicans.

SATED WITH HERO WORSHIP—Thus, lacking these artificial assets, President Kennedy will have to succeed by performance rather than by publicity, propaganda or personal appeal. And he must achieve that status for his international prestige as well as for his political future in American politics.

Moreover, the American people do not seem to be in a hero-worshipping mood these days. The times are too grim for the luxury of such an emotion, as President Kennedy constantly reminds the congress and their constituents.

President Kennedy has indicated that he appreciates his peculiar position and personal problem in these respects.

DIGNITY AND PESSIMISM—There has been more dignity and formality in his several public appearances, including his televised press conferences, than there was in Eisenhower's. Indeed, his resort to live TV is an obvious attempt to make more definite and dramatic imprint on the national mind.

As a matter of fact, even sympathetic observers have asked themselves whether he has not been "too solemn" and, indeed, "too pessimistic" in his analysis of the state of the nation and the world.

So far, he has been a startling contrast to FDR in every way, despite Democratic propaganda efforts to depict him as a "younger Roosevelt."

Even in the depression's darkest days, the architect of the new deal could generally manage a smile, a jest or a wisecrack at the expense of his cabinet members.

And there is no song associated with John Fitzgerald Kennedy, such as "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Home on the Range."

TRADING STAMPS FAIL TO HELP CONSUMER

"Can you afford trading stamps?" the neatly printed folder asks. "Yes! If you can afford an additional 3 to 4 per cent of doing business," it answers.

The brochure, printed by a group calling itself the Consumers' Protective Council, thus launches into a sound attack on the evils of trading stamps, and defends Washington's present stamp law.

The information is a counter-attack on the volumes of propaganda being circulated by rich trading-stamp companies eager to open up the state to its parasitic profiteering. Stamp companies are striving mightily to convince the state legislature to abolish the present law which permits redemption in cash only. To redeem stamps in merchandise the retailer must buy a $6,000 annual license. The large license fee virtually precludes participation by small stores and makes the stamp business an extremely costly endeavor for chain stores. A company with 10 retail outlets will need to spend $60,000 annually just to participate.

Views of Others

Among the Protective Council's main contentions:

- The consumer does not benefit. In fact, he pays the bill. Surveys show that trading stamps result in higher shelf prices.
- Trading stamps are costly. Purchase and handling of stamps cost retail stores 3 to 4 per cent of gross sales, a greater percentage than most retailers' net profit.
- Stamps do not increase sales. If only one store in an area had stamps they might increase business. However, because there are several hundred stamp companies, when one store introduces a stamp plan all competitors do—there is no advantage.
- Trading stamp companies are the only ones who profit. They not only sell the stamps, but have a big margin on many over-priced premiums and unredeemed stamps.
- While it is true that most other states permit trading stamps to be redeemed for merchandise, it also is true that many are becoming irritated with the plan.
- In Oregon, for example, a survey showed that more than 85 per cent of the independent grocers using trading stamps would favor adoption of a law patterned after that of Washington. Merchants in Oregon pay $3 million dollars annually to stamp companies.
- In New Jersey the state has a suit against one of the stamp companies in which it is claimed that the value of unredeemed stamps has totaled 7.6 million dollars.
- In Wyoming, where the state supreme court upheld a law banning trading stamps, Chief Justice Fred H. Blume said "The lure of trading stamps is an evil... and the legislature has the right to suppress them."
- In Michigan a special house committee contended that one stamp company redeemed stamp books worth about $2.50 for only $1 and even required the consumer to go to its main office.
- The entire philosophy of trading stamps is, in essence, one of obtaining something for nothing. The wise consumer knows that this simply can't be done.—Columbia Basin News, Pasco.

FINE, PLUS DEMERITS

There's a rather unusual twist in the Twin Falls newspaper's report on a police court judgment in the case of a motorist involved in an accident at a street intersection and cited thereafter for failure to yield the right of way.

This report notes that the offending motorist was fined $10—and assessed 25 demerits.

A demerit is something that counts against a motorist, and if he's so negligent or so unlucky as to collect a certain number of demerits, he must forfeit his driver's license and he's put on foot for a while.

That's according to provisions of a state law that has been in effect the past two years.

It may very well be that it's regular practice for courts and magistrates to assess these demerits. But it's not often that mention of such assessment is carried in a news report. And it ought to be noted in every instance.

It would serve as a constant reminder of the penalties for negligent or reckless driving and could have a wholesome influence upon the conduct of most of us.—Idaho Daily Statesman.

POT SHOTS

GET 'EM TOGETHER

A critical local problem could be solved with a new drive—drive us to the reservoir.

"Us" includes the man who fears his wife will leave and the one who is afraid his wife won't. The chafed ladies who won't be able to explain a purchase with "I used my trading stamps."

The disgusted dieters who gained weight and the small-headed residents required to pay a standard size "head" tax. Also the Twin Falls water drinkers who must use medicine for a chaser, plus the worried writers and discouraged accepters of uncashable checks.

Special invitation should be extended to the shedders of crocodile tears. One day's sweating and crying would surely produce enough moisture for our farmers' irrigation needs.

BUT THEY'RE STAYING

Dear Pot Shots:

After living in cities where shy-sters supposedly abound we moved here under the illusion that Twin Falls would be a fine place to raise our family.

Never have we encountered so many half-truths, falsehoods, and downright lies.

From the man who pretended he wanted to sell his house, (he backed out three times).

The landlord we finally rented from.

The salesman who assured us an appliance was beyond repair, (a competitor fixed it for $3).

The man who sold us a stove (with new burners) which burned out in two weeks.

The fellow employe whose vicious lie cost my husband his job, (he had a friend).

To the employe whose quoted rate of pay diminished to net $10 for three days work.

Even in view of all this, we intend to make Twin Falls our home. We think we have found the greatest potential market for the item we expect to start producing soon—truth serum.

RARIN' TO GO

Dear Pot Shots:

I am a tractor girl none too old for the 38-year-old farmer—would like very much to exchange a picture of the tractor I own for one of his best-looking jackasses or did he say what kind of a farm he had?

Hope to be the first in line for the "Lazy S Rancheroo."

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—James M. Landis, special assistant to President Kennedy on government regulatory agencies, has hit "em again, from another angle. He now accuses these commissions of partial responsibility for the failure of the industries they regulate to contribute their share of the nation's growth.

At the end of December, Landis gave Kennedy a report recommending sweeping changes in the organization, and procedure of agencies like federal communications, power trade, interstate commerce, securities and exchange commissions, civil aeronautics board and food and drug administration.

Harvard Law Professor Landis has served as a member of FTC and SEC and been chairman of CAB, so he knows his way around their legal mazes. But his recommendations stirred up the animals in all these cages.

In a talk before the Federal Bar association in Washington to answer some of his critics, Landis denies that he wants to become czar over these agencies.

But he gives them another round of criticism for inadequate personnel, lack of courage and imagination, "delays" in handling cases brought before them and failure in cases involving overlapping jurisdiction of two agencies working in the same field.

This latter criticism has drawn strenuous objection from Federal Trade Commissioner William C. Kern, a Democrat. He opposes the Landis recommendation that FTC antitrust law enforcement powers be turned over to the department of justice.

Landis notes some improvements already. ICC has upgraded its hearing examiners. SEC commissioners have begun to write some of their own opinions instead of letting the professional staff do them all.

But the White House adviser still maintains that a complete reorganization of government machinery in this field should be made by presidential and congressional action.

Landis expresses some surprise that his criticisms—meant to be constructive—raised so much clamor. He explains it as a public realization of the power these agencies hold over business and recognition of the fact that greater development of industries under regulation is necessary to promote a more rapid growth rate in the national economy.

Though an increase in gross national product should be accompanied by increased demand for

Hank Is Variety of Tourist Who Misses Other Tourists

By HENRY McEMORE

ROME—I am one of those tourists who misses tourists.

To me, a foreign city is at its best when it is alive with people from Cleveland, Buffalo, Sioux Falls, Tuscaloosa, Bowling Green, West Palm Beach and Waco.

Also Allentown, Chicago, Roanoke, Carson City and Ohlmaney Rock.

The absence of these tourists is the only fault Europe has in the winter. I like the restlessness they give to Rome, London, Paris or Madrid. You can't keep a city still that has thousands of American men, women and children roaming about by day and by night. Something is happening all the time.

I like the way touring Americans look, too, and turn a deaf ear and an appreciative eye toward sports shirts, two-toned shoes, comfortable jackets and hats worn at an angle. Our casual dress enlivens the scene, just as a flock of jays or robins would a field of somber crows.

Missed, too, in Europe in winter is the sound of voices that seem wonderfully natural. It would be good to have someone walk up right now and say, "Gotta light?" or, "Where can I find some coffee in this town I can drink?" (I could provide the light but I'd have to take the man to my house to satisfy him about the coffee.)

There isn't as much laughter with Americans missing, either. The gay European is somewhat of a myth. At home, anyway, in the summer, when Rome is jammed from the Tiber to the hills with Americans, the sound of laughter is everywhere. Some critics say the laughter is a little on the boisterous side, but not for me. It sounds like people having a good time, and what's wrong with that?

The so-called advantages of a touristless Europe are for people less fussy than I am. An empty shop isn't half as much fun to buy in as one that is loaded with customers picking and choosing and bargaining. There's faster service but little charm.

There are more tables to choose from in restaurants and more waiters hovering around. But there's no noise, no action, no bustle, no heated discussions as to what European dish to choose, what to tip, and there are few wandering musicians with their hats out.

There's no scrambling for taxis in the winter, and there are few happy parties ambling about in horse-drawn carriages. Europe takes on an air of business in win-

THIS DESERVES APPROVAL

Probably only a relatively small share of the American people realize that the country is voting, in slow stages, whether or not to allow the long disenfranchised citizens of the District of Columbia to vote for president and vice president in future national elections.

The proposal is in the form of an amendment to the U. S. constitution, which of course had first to be approved by congress. It cleared that hurdle and is now, according to the law, going the rounds of the 50 state legislatures.

To become the law it must win approval of three-fourths of the states, which in the present instance means 38 of the 50. So far it has been endorsed by five and rejected by just one, Arkansas. That leaves 33 to go, with a good many states scheduling action in their early 1961 sessions.

The chances seem to be strong that presidential voting for the district will gain the necessary national support, though inevitably it will take time to get the needed state action.

Most Americans, were they to attend to the matter, likely would find sense in the argument that the old bars against D. C. voting are no longer valid.

The original idea was that since most citizens of the district would be employees of the federal government, they would be pre-disposed always to vote to retain the party in power.

Time and events have outmoded this notion. A high percentage of the government's employees living in the district are civil service workers unaffected by changes of regime.

More important even than this, Washington's growth has meant that each year a higher and higher proportion of federal workers are finding places to live in the city's suburbs beyond the district. There they are quite free to vote not only in national but in state and local elections.

The net effect of the present bar, therefore, would seem to be to disenfranchise only part of the federal working establishment and by that fact to discriminate against it.

Common sense and fair play suggest there should be an early end to a situation not at all envisioned by the constitution framers when they imposed the original ban on District of Columbia voting.

Officials Not Guessing on Space Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Officials won't even conjecture when a human astronaut will take the space trail blazed by Ham the chimp...

down the Atlantic missile range. It also is possible that a Russian will be the first human being in space.

But as President Kennedy noted in yesterday's news conference, the United States is not going to risk a man's life in a premature bid for further space prestige.

Ham, a three-year-old chimp, weighing 37 pounds, checked out the 2,700-pound Mercury spacecraft in a 5,139-mile-an-hour rocket ride on Jan. 31 from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

He soared 137 miles up and 422 miles out over the Atlantic in a 16-minute trip during which he was subjected to stresses 17 times the force of gravity and to 6.6 minutes of weightlessness.

This was part of the "Mercury bulldup" in which a chimp also would precede a human astronaut into orbit. If everything worked perfectly during the bulldup, Mercury pilots would begin suborbital missile range training hops this spring with the first manned orbital flight in the cards by the year's end.

Now no one can say when any of the manned trips will take place. Ham did his bit almost perfectly, and the Mercury spacecraft and emergency escape systems proved they can sustain life under rigorous conditions of rocket flight.

But the Redstone booster performed erratically, and the spacecraft on plummeting into the ocean sprang a leak. Until all the information produced during Ham's flight is carefully analyzed, and indicated corrections are made in the booster and spacecraft, officials won't send a man even to the fringe of space visited by the chimp.

Halle Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia, also is his nation's minister of education.

Buhl to Pay Expenses for Street Work

Buhl, Feb. 9.—Members of the Buhl city council Tuesday evening adopted an ordinance which provides that the costs and expenses within street intersections of local improvements district No. 13 will be paid by the city. It was reported that the notice for assessments for the local improvement district No. 13, which is the oiling and curbing of various scattered blocks within the city, will be published. Payments can be made in full by residents within 30 days after the second notice appears, with no interest added, or up until March 18. After that date individual property owners will be sent notices for 10 annual payments with interest added.

Rupert Votes Improvement To City Park

Rupert, Feb. 9.—A plat containing 80 lots was accepted for addition to the city, and a budget of $5,000 for park improvement was set up Tuesday night by the Rupert city council. Other action included approval of leases with the Minidoka fire protection district and the state highway department concerning use of city buildings and two vacancies on the public housing authority were filled. Larry Wright, of Wright Brothers Construction company, submitted the plat for approval. The 80-lot addition lies north of 15th street, and will be improved and developed over a five-year period. The council set a connection fee of $180 for the sewer and $70 for water for each home in the new addition.

Appearing before the council was a delegation from the parks committee including Grant Catmull, Clarence Birrer, Mrs. Earl Goode and Lloyd Krol. Proposed park work discussed by this group with the council included proper pruning of shrubs in the parks, design of a center piece for the park center, installation of sprinkling systems and recessing city pumps in the city square. After a discussion with the parks committee, a budget of $5,000 was voted by the council for the project.

A lease signed by the city with the fire district covered the housing of the district fire truck and calls for a sum of $4,500 to be paid at the rate of $75 per month. The lease with the highway department concerns the use of department buildings located on A street.

Named to the PHA board were H. H. Judd and Emil Oeck, replacing Wendell Johnson and Bud Henry. Building permits approved by the council were for a $14,000 house to be built by Wright brothers on 14th street, and remodeling of the First Security bank building for $24,000 by Reynolds Construction company, Twin Falls.

Ike Starts His Golf Vacation; Drive Hits Tree

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 9.— Dwight D. Eisenhower began a long golfing vacation at his desert resort yesterday by hooking his first drive into a grapefruit tree. A welcoming crowd cheered anyway. The former president teed up another ball and whacked it about 220 yards down the middle of the first fairway at the Eldorado country club. Another cheer. Then Eisenhower climbed into his electric golf cart and headed happily out of public view for the first long, relaxed vacation since he assumed the presidency eight years ago.

Farmers Unit Aide Is Given U. S. Position

PAUL, Feb. 9—John Baker, former legislative director of the Farmer's Union, has been appointed to an under-secretary post in the department of agriculture, Carl Nelsen, president of the Tri-County Farmer's Union, reported during a meeting at the Paul Grange hall.

Baker is in charge of the farmers' home administration and all government farm lending agencies, Nelsen said.

"We, as members of this organization, now have a direct pipeline to John's office. The Farmer's Union national office has asked us to do some field research work on the adequacy of FHA funds and procedure in the area, since the area receives much of this type of financing," Nelsen reported.

A committee was appointed to undertake the task. Members are Phil Bare, chairman, Carl Nelsen, Merrill Paslay and Harry Pflughoel.

The committee will try to determine what measures should be taken immediately to help depressed farm areas. The committee wants to determine what steps can be taken to improve the FHA borrowing procedure, it was reported.

The past administration took 35 million dollars out of circulation so far as the FHA borrower is concerned. The money was allocated but was never put to use. The Washington, D. C. office has stated that from information it has received from various locals across the country, it will take at least 100 million dollars to get farmers back on their feet, a spokesman reported.

"The financial assistance must be made available immediately, Nelsen said, and he made an urgent appeal to all persons interested in making recommendations or constructive proposals to do so.

Rupert Area Group Hears Legion Chief

RUPERT, Feb. 9—Bernard Gratton, state commander of the American Legion, told members of the Northside association Monday of the efforts being made by the Legion to bolster the strength of the United States and to keep the nation free.

He urged the group to work for the best interests of the country, and warned that the responsibility for the increase in juvenile delinquency lies with the parents and the home environment.

Gratton was the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the association. Attending with him were Lou Babb, state Legion adjutant, and J. L. Wagnall, national field representative.

During the business meeting, members elected six new directors, including Bill Paul, Norman Ralsch, Russell Merrigan, Eldon Duffeck, Eldo Gregory and Richard Westendorf. Holdover directors are Ed Smith, Frank Snyder, Kenneth King and George Garborg.

Reports on the status of the Northside project and future problems were given by Merle Tillery, Terrance Gulley and Dick Grey, bureau of reclamation officials who met with the group.

Russell Mohlman, chairman of the A and B irrigation district formed last summer, reported on payment provision negotiations with the bureau.

Westendorf, president of the group, reported more than 200 persons attended the family dinner and dance held Saturday evening. Both meetings were held at the Elks building.

Ham, Turkey Are Some of Special Buys

By The Associated Press
It's ham, lamb and turkey, meat, at your supermarket and neighborhood grocery this week-end.

Specials on ham are not especially cheap. Prices are four cents a pound higher than a year ago at one New York metropolitan area chain, but they're less than recent levels. Meat department experts at the chains like to have an occasional special for every variety just to keep the customers interested.

Lamb, Turkey Cheaper
Lamb and turkey are generally less expensive. The former is down two to six cents a pound this week in some places, up four cents in others. Prices are unchanged to slightly lower than a year ago in the New York area, while turkeys are six to 10 cents a pound cheaper than in the same week of 1960.

Pork chops and frying chickens are somewhat cheaper in some areas this week, but butter and veal chops are higher. Eggs are off one to two cents a dozen.

Lettuce Is Buy
Lettuce remains an outstanding buy among vegetables. Other best buys are beets, broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, endive, escarole, green onions, peppers, eastern potatoes, radishes, rhubarb, spinach, tomatoes, turnips and rutabagas.

Good buys include parsley, celery, assorted greens, eggplant, onions, corn, peas, sweet potatoes, artichokes, western and Florida potatoes, brussels sprouts, mushrooms and green squash.

Outstanding buys among fruits are oranges, chestnuts and apples. Good buys are avocados, grapes, bananas, lemons, small western pears and pineapples.

Magic Valley Demo Leaders Hold Meeting

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 8—Democratic representatives from seven of the nine counties comprising Magic Valley met at the Legion hall to organize district meetings for the next biennium.

It was decided that the group would meet monthly in the various counties with the Democratic central committee of the host county being responsible for the date and the county chairmen to compose the program committee.

Gooding county will be the next host, followed by Mindoka county.

Max Hanson, chairman of the Camas county Democratic central committee, reported on his recent trip to the national farm policy council, Des Moines, Ia.

Each county chairman or state committeeman reported on his own county organization regarding attendance, programs and financial arrangements. Other mutual problems were discussed.

Vincent Smazal, Twin Falls state Democratic coordinator, expressed his opinion that he would like to see continued meetings such as this as it makes the Democrats stronger and "helps attract those whose minds aren't definitely made up regarding politics."

County officers included in the 70 persons attending were: Letellier, state committeeman, and Mrs. Smazal, state committeewoman from Twin Falls county; Mrs. Phil Bare, chairman; Mrs. Andy Biehl, state committeewoman, and Andy Biehl, state committeeman from Mindoka; Merrill Summers, chairman; Paul Stevens, state committeeman, and Mrs. J. Emmett Smith, state committeewoman; Jerome; Floyd Goss, chairman; Mrs. Goss, state committeewoman, Gooding, and Clyde Sowersby, chairman, Blaine county.

Former Senators Holger Albrethsen, Blaine county, and Elmo Patterson, Lincoln county, also attended. Hanson, Leslie Ruby, state committeeman, and Mrs. Olga Nazer, state committeewoman, represented Camas county.

Bitter War Waged by West Firms Over Western Pacific

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—A bitter railroad war has broken out among the western rail giants for control of a relatively small carrier, but the stakes are big.

The Western Pacific Railroad company has only 1,200 miles of mainline track, but its strategic location in California provides a lucrative rail link eastward.

The two major contenders for control of Western Pacific are the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway company, Chicago, and the Southern Pacific company, San Francisco. Meanwhile, other interested roads are lining up behind one or the other of these two carriers in an effort to tip the balance in the struggle.

Western Pacific, headquartered in San Francisco, forms an important part of a through route from the Pacific coast to Chicago. The Santa Fe, which has no such central route eastward, connects up with the Western Pacific in California.

The Southern Pacific has main trackage eastward via Ogden, Utah. Though shorter than the competing WP's route which terminates at Salt Lake City, the right of way is steeper and therefore less efficient.

Consequently the Southern Pacific is fearful that if Santa Fe gains control of Western Pacific it will cut deeply into its California traffic to and from the east.

The Santa Fe, at the moment, appears to have the edge in the battle. It owns 20 per cent of WP's stock and also has the support of the Great Northern which owns about 8.6 per cent of the WP's outstanding stock. In addition the WP management is supporting the Santa Fe's bid.

Southern Pacific owns 10 per cent of WP shares and the Union Pacific, which is supporting SP, recently said it has bought about 9.9 per cent of the carrier's stock.

This week the ICC held preliminary hearings on the conflicting claims and is expected to fix a date sometime in the spring or summer for a full ICC hearing on the complicated matter.

Bus Strike in Italy Causes Bloody Riots

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 8 (AP)—A frenzied mob of commuters stranded by a sudden bus strike turned the streets of old Naples into a fiery, bloody battleground last night. Police had to call in soldiers and armored cars to stop them.

The angry throng of 4,000 set fire to a bus terminal and a dozen vehicles, hurled stones at buildings, police and firemen and left the area a shambles.

Police said 68 persons were injured—47 of them policemen—and 107 rioters arrested. Damage ran into the thousands of dollars.

The trouble started at dusk when workers preparing to return to their suburban villages found themselves without transportation because of a sudden bus strike.

As lines of waiting workers grew longer, tempers grew shorter. Suddenly the violence exploded.

The mob rushed on a nearby bus terminal and started throwing stones. It raged up and down the busy Porta Capuana district, setting fire to five buses, three trolleybuses, three street cars and a police van.

A flaming gasoline bottle flew through the air and set the terminal afire. When fire trucks arrived, the crowd stoned them.

Marilyn Smith Is Bride of Knigge In Church Rites

FILER, Feb. 9 — The Twin Falls Immanuel Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding of Marilyn Smith and Lawrence Knigge at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 5.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Delbert W. Smith, Filer, and Knigge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Knigge, Twin Falls.

The Rev. C. A. Rathjen performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with tall baskets of white chrysanthemums and red carnations and lighted candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, James Smith, wore a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace over a bouffant nylon tulle skirt. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline, tiny satin covered buttons and a large bow in the back.

Her fingertip veil was fashioned of layers of pleated tulle fashioned to a sequin and pearl crown adorned with pearl drops. She wore a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of red carnations.

Judy Smith, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a ballerina-length gown of brocade red taffeta. Mrs. Harold Peterson was matron of honor, with Mrs. James Armitage, Caldwell; Patricia Stevens, Paul, and Patricia Flery serving as bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned in the same style and color as that of the maid of honor. They all wore tiny white hats covered with red lace, made by the bride's mother, and carried crescent-shaped bouquets of white carnations with satin ribbon streamers.

Karl Sharp, flower girl, was dressed like the other attendants.

She wore a halo of red carnations in her hair and carried a lace basket filled with rose petals.

Marty Sharp and Danny Thleme were ringbearers, carrying heart-shaped pillows of satin and lace.

Rodney Ehlers, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ronald Ehlers, Richard Ehlers, Duane Sharp and Harold Peterson served as ushers. The candles were lighted by the ushers who also laid the white aisle runner.

"Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Roger Thleme, accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Lindemann, organist, who also played the prelude and the wedding marches.

Mrs. Smith chose a beige sheath afternoon dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Knigge chose a pink lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony a reception for 450 guests was held in the Memorial Lutheran school reception hall.

The bride's table was covered with a nylon-floated skirt over red. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with red flowers, white bells and topped with the traditional bridal couple. The figurine bride was dressed identically to the bride. The mirror on which the cake was set was surrounded by red and white flowers and ferns with red candles in crystal holders on each side. Heart-shaped cakes with the names "Marilyn" and "Lawrence" were on each side of the wedding cake, which was made and decorated by Mrs. Reuben Lierman.

Mrs. Dorothy Brann and Mrs. Irvin Ehlers cut and served the cake with Mrs. Edgar Ehlers and Mrs. Roy Richmond presiding at the punch bowl and coffee service.

Mrs. Carlton Daniels was in charge of the guest book with gifts being displayed by Mrs. Ronald Alger, Catherine Montgomery, Yvonne Peay and Betty Thier.

For a honeymoon to San Francisco and Carmel the bride chose a two-piece lavender suit with matching accessories and a white orohid corsage. On return the couple will be at home on route 1, Filer.

Out-of-town guests were from Caldwell, Salt Lake City, Paul, Eden, Buhl, Jerome, Moscow, Butte, Mont. and Nyssa, Ore.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Filer high school. She was graduated from the College of Idaho in January with a degree in elementary education. The bridegroom was graduated from Filer high school in 1952 and from the University of Idaho in 1956 with a degree in agriculture.

Miscellaneous showers were given for the bride by Mrs. Harold Peterson, Mrs. Dorothy Brann and Mrs. Carlton Daniels at the Peterson home, and at the Herbert Bamesberger home in Jerome. The bride's mother entertained with a wedding rehearsal supper Saturday evening.

Yank Manager Expects Team To Be Tough

Naturally, I realize my own job is not going to be easy. After all, I'm taking over from Casey Stengel, one of the best managers of them all. We lost some fine talent to the new Washington and Los Angeles clubs, guys like Bob Cerv, Bobby Shantz, Eli Grba and Duke Maas.

Kennedy Will Take Lead in World Issues

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP) — President Kennedy has decided to take the initiative in negotiating some U. S. differences with Russia over Laos, the Congo and other areas.

Kennedy indicated this yesterday when he called a top-level White House conference on Laos and told his news conference he hoped a concrete "proposal" might result from the meeting.

After the conference, attended by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other top officials, White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said that any conclusions reached would be announced only after consultation with other governments.

U. S. Ambassador to Moscow Llewellyn Thompson returned to Washington last night and was scheduled to meet with Kennedy several times this week for policy talks.

Kennedy again made clear at his news conference that he still considered some understanding on Laos and the Congo a prerequisite to better relations with Russia.

Day's formal statement was in reply to criticism by Rep. August E. Johansen, R., Mich. Johansen told the house Tuesday that Day's department was putting pressure on the 15 regional directors to resign or retire and otherwise engaging in "schemanigans" with the civil service system.

Hal Boyle Answers Writers' Queries as Pavement Plato

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Dear Pavement Plato: I have a valued employee who sits at his desk all day snoring. This is very distracting to the rest of the office staff. What should I do?

Dear Executive: Tell him—if the union has no objection he must be down and sleep on top of the desk. If the snoring persists, assign an office boy to turn him over every 15 minutes.

Dear Plato: Today I received a letter from my dear old aunt's attorney, saying she had passed away and left me $769,843 1/2.

What is the first thing I should do with all this money?

Dear Lucky: Lucky

Dear Plato: My present wife and I are very happy except for a disturbing ailment that has been coming on for years.

I promise my first wife I would be buried by her side, but she would be buried by her side, but I would want to be buried next to her family plot.

To tell the honest truth, I'm the only one in the family who is not buried next to my dear old aunt's attorney.

to either of them. What do you think is the best all-around solution to any problem?

Dear Plato: I would have a monthly income of about $125. Do you think a good career law program can give a comparative comfort on that kind of money?

Hopetal

Dear Hopetal: I have a question for you. I am a member of the PIA and next week I will attend the first meeting of the PIA. I am wondering if you will be there and if you will be able to answer my questions.

Dear Plato: I am a member of the PIA and next week I will attend the first meeting of the PIA. I am wondering if you will be there and if you will be able to answer my questions.

TO YOUR HEALTH!

This is much more than a popular toast to your pharmacist. Like your physician, he is dedicated to a single major cause — to keep you well and healthy.

The "ounce of prevention" adage is all important in preventive medicine. Annual physical examinations and prompt diagnosis of illness enable your doctor to save you precious time and money.

More and more people recognize the wisdom of a regular medical check-up. It is the best way to put that "ounce of prevention" to practical use.

If a prescription is necessary, we are prepared to give you immediate service.

Tuberculosis Problem for Idaho Noted

BOISE, Feb. 9—Despite our attention in visualizing the eradication of tuberculosis in Idaho, we must not overlook the fact that tuberculosis today is an immediate health problem in the Gem state.

Dr. Terrell O. Carver, Idaho administrator of health, stated in a report published by the state health department. He said that Idaho department of health's recently announced tuberculosis eradication program is expected to increase cooperation in case-finding and diagnostic work between practicing physicians, public health personnel and volunteer workers.

But even these anti-tuberculosis drugs themselves present problems in tuberculosis treatment and control, Dr. Carver added.

This means that we must make every effort to find tuberculosis cases and get them under adequate treatment as soon as possible. Dr. Carver said, "The time may soon arrive when these drugs will no longer be effective. There can be no half-way measures on tuberculosis hospitalization and treatment or we may end up in the same situation we were in 10 or 15 years ago before there were anti-tuberculosis drugs."
