French Slating Probe of Attack On Soviet Plane

PARIS, Feb. 10 (AP) — The government today termed French air force interception of Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev's plane a regrettable incident and promised an investigation. Lower level officials in Algiers charged a jet fighter fired warning shots at the plane over the Mediterranean yesterday because the Soviets violated flight plans. The Soviet embassy in Rabat, Morocco, replied hotly that the French charges were pure invention. The foreign ministry issued a statement saying an investigation of the "regrettable incident" had been ordered.

Leaders Hope To Talk With Soviets Soon

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP) — Kennedy administration leaders now estimate they can be ready to undertake major negotiations with the Soviet Union within six months. Soviet officials have been warned quietly against triggering new crises at Berlin or elsewhere during this formative period in the hope of exploiting any lack of experience and decisiveness in Washington.

Though President Kennedy hopes for better East-West relations, Moscow has been informed any fresh Soviet challenge will bring a swift, tough U. S. response. This administration intends to leave no doubt in the minds of the American people or other peoples, it is said, of its determination to react vigorously to any threat—and not to be bluffed or blackmailed.

Administration leaders reportedly feel that Soviet Premier Khrushchev understands their bluntly stated position and is acting with restraint. One reason, as seen here, may be his desire for an early, informal meeting with Kennedy as well as a later summit session; another may be serious interest on his part in doing something to bring the arms race under control.

At a minimum, Kennedy and his advisers believe Khrushchev wants to avoid a major military clash and to concentrate his main effort on opening up negotiations on such matters as the future of Berlin and disarmament problems.

In preparation for these negotiations, Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk are starting country by country and area by area re-examinations of U. S. foreign policies, parallel with their efforts to quiet the current crises in Laos and the Congo.

A White House meeting Saturday is scheduled to initiate a top level review of U. S.-Soviet relations.

Panel Expects Tough Future For Economy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP) — Experts painted for congress yesterday a picture of even tougher months ahead for the nation's economy. They predicted things will get better later this year, but complete recovery may not come before 1962.

And there was applause for President Kennedy's go-slow approach in trying to provide government cures for the country's economic aches and pains.

These were the over-all views of a panel of top economists in industry and government—in testimony before the senate-house economic committee.

Meanwhile, Republican leaders congress removed any lingering doubt that Kennedy's economic proposals will have tough sledding. Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said some of Kennedy's proposals might "dampen down the recovery process."

They referred specifically to Kennedy's request for raising the present $1-an-hour minimum wage to $1.15 in 1963, $1.20 next year and $1.25 in 1964. Halleck said the Republicans would go along only with a boost to $1.15, as the Eisenhower administration did last year.

Halleck said the Republicans would be willing to add about 1.4 million workers to the minimum wage coverage, but would not agree to the 4.3 million Kennedy proposed.

Dirksen and Halleck also criticized Kennedy's plan for increasing temporarily unemployment compensation for jobless workers. They objected to the proposed permanent increase in the tax paid by employers to help finance it.

Men Held for Theft Charge In Junk Sales

BURLEY, Feb. 10 — Two DeClo men are facing court charges in both Cassia and Minidoka counties for taking highway equipment and cutting it up into scrap metal they resold as junk.

Larry Bell, 20, and Pot J. Novsel, 22, both DeClo waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to district court on $1,000 bond when they appeared before Probate Judge Vern Carter on charges of grand larceny.

They are charged with taking a road grader belonging to the Burley Irrigation district seven miles south of Burley and cutting it up into scrap metal. It is alleged the men used a cutting torch to dismantle the machinery and have a stockpile of scrap metal one-half mile east of DeClo in the backyard of the Novsel residence. Other dismantled machinery is also in the stockpile, according to Cassia Sheriff H. O. Warrell.

The sheriff said he had advised for persons missing machinery to contact him. One farmer reported a scraper, and side delivery rake missing.

Bell was arrested Wednesday by the sheriff and Novsel was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ray G. Mitchell Tuesday.

Bonds were set at $2,500 each when the two men appeared Thursday before Probate Judge Jake Wall at Rupert on charges of stealing a gravel loading crane from the McGill gravel pit on Snake river east of Arco.

Bell posted bond and Novsel is being held in the Minidoka county jail awaiting arraignment. Both young men are married, officers said.

Negro Confirmed In Housing Post

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP) — Robert C. Weaver has won senate confirmation as the government's top housing administrator.

The senate cleared the nomination last night by a voice vote after five hours of argument, putting Weaver in the highest position ever held by a Negro in the federal executive branch.

The vote had not been expected to come for about 10 days, but the senate stayed in session late to approve Weaver under pressure from President Kennedy.

The New Yorker is expected to take the oath promptly so that he can assume command of the housing and home finance agency next week. This agency is down for about a billion dollars in new funds from the budget now before congress.

NEWS BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP) — The price of Westinghouse Electric company common stock broke $237 a share today on a delayed opening of $7,000 shares. The big electrical goods manufacturer (firmly) possible damage suits amounting to millions of dollars. Westinghouse stock is at $202 a share.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10 (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg today appealed for bipartisan support of President Kennedy's program for jobs and employment. Goldberg arrived in Chicago from Washington on the first stop of a five-day inspection mission.

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 10 (AP) — An eastbound Union Pacific mail-passenger train carrying more than 100 youths to a church meeting was struck by a rockslide in the Columbia river gorge today, but no fatalities were reported. Two locomotives were knocked into a track-side lake, about 20 miles east of here.

Librarian Is Surprised at All Fuss

Harold L. Roth, director of the East Orange, N. J., public library, stands behind lobby desk and expresses surprise "at the fuss that's been stirred up" over arrests of borrowers delinquent in returning books. He said arrests will continue until all scofflaws return their overdue books. Fourteen persons have been fined from $10 to $25 each and Roth is preparing complaints against 40 more who have kept overdue books out for from five months to a year. (AP wirephoto)

First Violence Flares Between Unions, Farmers in California

EL CENTRO, Calif., Feb. 10 (AP) — Both sides cried "foul" today after the first violence—and subsequent retaliatory action—in the long smoldering Imperial valley lettuce harvest dispute. Farmers were incensed because a crowd of men shouting "join our union" forced their way into a camp for Mexican field hands at nearby Brawley yesterday. Observers said the men wielded brooms and kicked and slugged their way into the labor camp.

Snow Becomes Rain In North Mountains

While Twin Falls was experiencing balmy weather with a low of 41 degrees recorded at the bureau of entomology Thursday night, rain in the Wood river valley was playing havoc with skiing conditions at Sun Valley. Residents at Hailey, where .69 of an inch of precipitation has fallen in the past three days, described the weather conditions there Friday noon as "a mess." Water up to 6 or 8 inches deep is standing on streets and alleys in Hailey over a coat of ice, since the ground is frozen, the water is not able to go into the ground.

At the North Fork store, seven miles north of Ketchum, Mrs. Jack Reinsch said a foot of snow fell from 5 p.m. Thursday until 4 a.m. Friday when it began to rain. Sun Valley reported seven inches of new snow on their higher elevations with 34 of an inch of precipitation. It was raining at the Roundhouse Friday noon and skiers were having difficulty because of the wet snow.

At Ketchum, the forest service office reported five inches of new snow Thursday night, but the moisture turned to rain Friday morning, settling the snow. It was 44 degrees at Hailey Friday noon and the clouds were breaking, but it was still storming from Ketchum on north.

Forest service personnel reported .53 of an inch of precipitation fell at Hailey from 5 p.m. Thursday until 8 a.m. Friday, 10 of an inch Thursday and .06 of an inch Wednesday.

The balmy 41 degree temperature reading recorded in Twin Falls Thursday night broke no records for spring-like temperatures experienced here during the month of February.

On Feb. 10, 1950, the lowest mercury dropped was to a mild 45 degree low and again on Feb. 23, 1958, it dipped only to the 43 degree mark. Last year on Feb. 9 the low was 33 with a high reading of 68.

Thursday's high reading of 55 degrees is 15 degrees shy of the all time recorded high for February of 70 degrees placed in the record books Feb. 26, 1950.

The month also has had some cold temperatures. The all time low is a frigid 24 degrees below zero recorded Feb. 9, 1933.

Areas Classified As Depressed Being Visited

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg left today on a three-day mission for President Kennedy to survey unemployment trouble spots in five states.

Goldberg, 52, had Chicago, Gary, South Bend, Lansing and Detroit on his first day schedule.

The labor secretary said that with half the nation's major industrial centers now classified as depressed, meaning a jobless rate of six per cent. or more, he wants to talk over the problem with state officials, businessmen and labor leaders, and idled workers and their families.

Before taking off to inspect key communities in an area containing about a third of the nation's total 5,385,000 idled workers, Goldberg said from all indications the situation is growing worse.

The labor secretary said he intends to explain Kennedy's 12 billion dollar emergency aid program for the unemployed, along with other administration plans designed to reverse the economic downturn and restore full employment.

A major purpose of the inspection tour, one of a planned series, is to show the degree of unemployment in large cities as contrasted with that in better-known chronic trouble spots such as West Virginia and eastern Pennsylvania.

Support for this view came in new data released by the labor department yesterday. It showed an employment decline of nearly 600,000 from a year ago in the nation's factories, most of them located in or near metropolitan areas.

400 Students In Area Will Tour Station

Approximately 400 Magic Valley high school senior science students will be among 2,200 youths from 62 high schools in Idaho, Montana, Utah and Wyoming who are registered for the fifth science youth day tour Saturday at the national reactor testing station, Arco.

The tour, sponsored by the atomic energy commission in observance of the birthday anniversary of Thomas A. Edison, who was born Feb. 11, 1847, is held in conjunction with similar events throughout the nation.

Magic Valley schools and the number of students registered include Raft River-DeLo, 51; Dietrich, nine; Bellevue, 17; Fairfield, 22; Buhl, 54; Hansen, 15; Twin Falls, 62; Carey, 27; Hailey, 32; Glenns Ferry, 33; Murtaugh, 49 and Burley-Oakley, 64.

13 Swiss Pupils Buried In Slide

LENZERHEIDE, Switzerland, Feb. 10 (AP) — A snow slide buried 13 vacationing Swiss pupils and their master on 7,600-foot Schottas mountain in eastern Switzerland today.

First police reports said six boys had been dug from the snow, three of them dead and one seriously injured.

The students had started up the Schottas on skis this morning and were buried by the avalanche while crossing a steep slope not far from their staking point.

Almost 100 persons were frantically digging into the 1,000-foot-wide, 150-foot-deep mass of snow which crashed down off the normal ski trail.

Man Arrested After Offering To Trade Teeth for Gasoline

A man who offered to pay for gasoline with his gold-filled dentures was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner J. O. Pumphrey in Twin Falls Friday charged with the interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle. His bond set at $2,500 was not posted and he is in the city jail awaiting transportation to Boise for trial.

Earl Bookaloin, 44, no address, was arrested by Twin Falls police on highway 30 near Sunset Memorial park at gunpoint at 3:35 a.m. Friday. In his car police found two loaded revolvers.

City police were alerted to look for Bookaloin shortly after midnight when state police at the Strevell port of entry reported he had been seen about 8 p.m. Thursday driving toward Wells, Nev.

He was driving a 1960 Pontiac allegedly stolen about three weeks ago in Sacramento, Calif.

FBI Agent Jack Newell, Twin Falls, said groceries allegedly obtained with worthless checks also were found in the car. Bookaloin admitted passing checks across the country, Newell said.

Just before his arrest Bookaloin had attempted to purchase eight gallons of gas from a Kimberly road service station with a check. The attendant refused to accept it and the man then offered his gold-filled dentures in payment. The attendant accepted the check.

Later Friday morning, the eight gallons were siphoned from the Pontiac by a service station employee and taken back to the station.

Meeting Opened

PARIS, Feb. 10 (AP) — The "little summit" meeting got off to a smooth start today when six nations of western Europe agreed to try to form a unified front in dealing with common problems including their relationship with the Kennedy administration.

Optimism was in the air after the first session and another meeting of heads of states was set for later today.

Okay for Building Programs Fails to Halt Demo "Stall"

BOISE, Feb. 10 (AP and UPI) — Approval of a 7.4 million dollar construction program at state institutions, financed partly by retention of the $10 "head tax," failed immediately today to end a Democratic slowdown in the senate of the Idaho legislature. Democrats for the fourth successive day called a morning caucus to discuss strategy. Sen. Howard Sims, D., Lemhi, renewed previous demands that the state affairs committee release the bill he introduced early in the session which repeals the "head tax."

Bill to Ban Stamps Backed by Chamber

A spokesman for the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce appeared before the house insurance, public utilities and banking committee today to speak out in support of the bill to ban trading stamps. The committee, headed by Chairman William J. Lanting, representative from Twin Falls county, is holding controlled hearings on the controversial trading stamp bill Friday and Monday. William Grange, secretary-manager of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, submitted a written statement voicing the chamber's support of the bill.

Sources Say Lumumba Is Free of Jail

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, The Congo, Feb. 10 (AP) — Katangese government sources said today depose Premier Patrice Lumumba escaped from prison and had been seen from the air as he fled by car with two of his lieutenants.

The reports said a helicopter had spotted the three men near the town of Kasali, 40 miles from the farmhouse-prison where the government said he overpowered his guards during the night and fled in a stolen police car.

The Katanga government announced his escape only hours after Congo President Joseph Kasavubu and Leopoldville dissolved the military regime which had jailed Lumumba.

The government reports said Lumumba was sighted slightly north of Mutshasha, where he had been held prisoner, with two former members of his government. Mutshasha is 380 miles northwest of Elisabethville, capital of anti-Lumumba Katanga province.

(Moscow radio already was hinting that reports of his escape from jail may be only a preparation for an announcement he had been shot while trying to escape. It hinted there had been rumors that he died in prison of savage beatings inflicted by Congolese troops.)

Katanga authorities said Lumumba was within 40 miles of the Portuguese colony of Angola. But he hesitated to flee there because he would run the risk of immediate arrest by Portuguese authorities. He was reported to have enough gasoline for only 80 miles.

The reports here said the helicopter was trying to keep the car in view and that the Katanga air force hoped to join the search quickly with a Heron search plane, in hopes of running him to ground before darkness fell.

Woman Files Candidacy for Burley Mayor

BURLEY, Feb. 10 — Mrs. Anne M. Williams announced Thursday she will be a candidate for Burley mayor in the April 25 municipal election.

Mrs. Williams, who operates the Anne shops in Burley and Rupert, stated Thursday it was her intention in running for the office to try to establish a city manager type of government in Burley. She said a million-dollar business, like the Burley city government, can best be operated effectively and efficiently with the city manager type government.

She is the first candidate to announce intentions of seeking the office for the coming term. Mrs. Williams is the widow of the late W. W. Williams, who was Burley police chief for many years. She came to Burley in 1903 and has operated the ladies' apparel store in Burley for 10 years.

Mrs. Williams said she has plans at the present time for his "political future." He has been in office since 1953, when he defeated Joe Peters, and has been unopposed during the past three elections.

Councilmen whose terms expire in April include Veril Chesley, Bert Jackson and Garis Robertson.

Drunk Driver Trial of Area Mayor Slated

Rice pleaded innocent Jan. 20, before Judge Gossett. The complaint was signed by State Patrolman Walter J. Kirtley, as the result of a two-car collision Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 17, six and one-half miles east of Bliss on state highway 25 on the Malad bridge.

Rice posted a $300 bond after he was arrested the morning of Jan. 20, when he appeared voluntarily at the courthouse.

John Davies, 44, Boise, was injured in the crash and later was transferred from Gooding Memorial hospital to St. Alphonsus hospital, Boise.

Rice, driving a 1960 Cadillac, apparently attempted to pass a car and met Davies' 1960 Chevrolet head on. Both men were alone in their cars and Rice was not injured.

President to Want Billion For Schools

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UPI) — President Kennedy will ask congress for a one billion dollar-a-year program of government aid for the nation's schools and colleges which would let the states decide whether to spend federal grants for classrooms, teachers' salaries or both.

It was learned today that the package of requests also will include grants and loans for building college classrooms and fellowships to increase the supply of college teachers.

The president will outline his aid-to-education proposals in a special message to congress Tuesday.

It was learned that Kennedy would recommend about 600 million dollars a year in grants for elementary and secondary schools, leaving it up to the states to decide whether to spend the money for classrooms, teachers' salaries or both.

Deficit Predicted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (UPI) — The Kennedy administration has predicted a one billion dollar deficit for this year in its first public revision of Eisenhower budget estimates.

STILL UP TO PARENTS

Regardless of what Idaho's legislature finally comes up with in the way of minimum age laws for drivers, responsible parents will realize that the final decision is still up to them, just where it has been all along. Many parents will continue to duck behind the law with the explanation that "the law says they may drive." But it certainly doesn't say youngsters MUST drive.

Idahoans are used to halfway measures from the state legislature and apparently there is little reason to expect more than another halfway measure where the minimum driver's age is concerned. The legislature just doesn't have enough fortitude to raise the minimum driver's age to something realistic, 16 or even 18 years of age. However, organizations from one end of Idaho to the other have voted resolutions in favor of increasing the minimum age to 16.

The minimum age of 16 would keep parents off the hook for another two years, but they would still have to go through all the pressure, pleading, tantrums and explanations of "simply everyone" drives a car. Here is where the minimum age law offers absolutely no help to parents, particularly those inclined to follow the course of least resistance. Obviously, the generalization that "simply everyone" drives in the younger age group is just that, a generalization. Reduced to bare facts, it probably means a mere handful. This small group may include those youngsters who actually are capable, mentally and physically, of driving a car at an early age.

On the other hand, on the sense of responsibility alone, most youngsters are not ready to drive a car at 14. Some aren't ready at 16 and others at 18 are still a definite risk. There are those people who should never be permitted to drive a car, but the law doesn't recognize this possibility.

In Idaho, if you can pass a reasonably simple written test and an even easier driving test, you're a driver—if you can pay the fee. If you flunk the written test, you can keep taking it until you do pass.

On the matter of youngsters driving the family car, parents will still have to make their own decisions. If they decide their youngsters are ready to drive and permit them to use the family car, then they automatically accept the responsibilities. These include substantially higher insurance rates because insurance companies have found youngsters to be greater risks, particularly male drivers under the age of 25.

Let's not pin all the blame on the legislature.

PRECARIOUS DESPITE VICTORY

President Kennedy's position in the house of representatives is far more precarious than his five-vote margin in the struggle over liberalization of the rules committee indicates. Personal and political prejudices and rivalries alone accounted for his victory.

Former Speaker "Joe" Martin of Massachusetts got revenge on the man who deposed him, House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck, Indiana.

One of the reasons for demoting the veteran Bay Stater was that he was too friendly with Speaker Sam Rayburn from their long acquaintance, and not sufficiently aggressive for Republican ideas.

Although absent, Representative Martin was paired for the Rayburn-Kennedy plan. More important than his action, however, was the fact that seven New England Republicans and three Massachusetts members, good friends of the former speaker, lined up against the formally adopted position of the Republican leadership in the house, as represented by Halleck. They did the job for Speaker Rayburn and President Kennedy.

Every member who backed Halleck against Martin, and who now head the GOP's legislative and policymaking units, voted against Speaker Rayburn.

The four most prominent are Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, John R. Rhodes of Arizona and Bob Wilson of California.

But many of the 22 Republicans who sided with Rayburn are inately conservative. They may not, probably will not, support the President's detailed legislative program. And the lack of a spirit of urgency and crisis will be a determining factor.

HEARTS AND NUMBERS

If you don't receive 2.9 valentines this year, you may have grounds for feeling slighted. That's the number that come up by dividing 180 million Americans into the 525 million valentines expected to be sold this year.

If you're a mother, you're special. According to one card manufacturer, mothers get three times as many valentines as do sweethearts.

NEW LEASE ON LIFE

Razing of a more than a century-old burlesque house in Norfolk, Va., will stab to the quick many old sailors. But all good will not lie interred with the bones. The theater's seats have been sold to two small churches.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Several items on the financial pages recently provide an ironic and illuminating comment on the gold-dollar problem now plaguing the Kennedy administration. The loss of these assets to foreign nations, the gold drain and the troubles surrounding the balance of payment funds indicate that there is an "economic cold war" among the western allies.

Ray Tucker

Although these reports apply to American and British competition for the important automobile markets and the motor firms' sale of accessories, the disadvantages suffered by Michigan interests apply to almost every key industry in the United States.

One item of great importance read: "Auto firms to furlough 20,000 men." Although the layoffs by Ford, General Motors and American Motors were scheduled to last only a week, a continued lag in sales and the existence of one million unsold cars on dealers' floors and at the plants suggests that there will be more periods of enforced unemployment during the next few months.

TAINT CRICKET, CHAPS—On the same day, the financial sections carried the news that Rootes Motors, Ltd., England, would reduce the American price of one of its best-selling models by as much as $250, making the price far less than the cheapest American compact.

The French Renault firm had cut its prices several months ago. Although about 600,000 foreign cars were sold here in 1959, it is estimated that sales for last year fell to 475,000 due to increased competition from American compacts. The new price reductions represent an attempt to expand their market in the United States.

A Rootes official virtually declared economic war on our automobile manufacturers. In commenting on the price cuts, he said, "At Rootes we know that the United States auto market is not the playing field at Eton, and we are prepared to slug it out on whatever terms we must."

FLOODING AMERICAN MARKETS—The seriousness in this challenge is reflected in the fact that he was paraphrasing a comment attributed to the Duke of Wellington: "The battle of Waterloo was won on the playing fields of Eton."

With the demand for steel, aluminum, rubber, glass, fabrics, oil, gasoline and many smaller gadgets, the automobile industry is a key pillar in the foundation of a sound American economy. It ranks with residential and industrial construction in providing a market for men and materials.

In contrast to our low duties on these imports, every European country now flooding our market imposes high tariffs and harsh quotas on the import of American automobiles.

HOLES IN THE ECONOMIC DIKE—For these reasons, we sell less than 200 million dollars abroad annually, and import about 600 million dollars worth. The difference amounts to almost 1/8 of the balance of payments deficit of three billion dollars anticipated for 1961. The 80,000 automobile workers to be laid off amount to 1/7 of the number of jobs in this country.

Nevertheless, in all the present planning at Washington for reducing the trade deficit, which has amounted to 11 billion dollars over a three-year period, and for preserving the value of the dollar abroad, there is no serious talk of plugging this and similar holes in our leaky economic dike.

Congress, however, may have its say in the matter when it gets around to considering President Kennedy's proposed solutions.

VIEW OF OTHERS

SALMON RIVER SET APART

The Salmon river is really one set apart. Because it drains this nation's most spectacular and untrammeled tumult of mountains a bill to temporarily ban dams on this compelling stretch of river makes sense.

Idaho's Sen. Frank Church has introduced such a bill. It prohibits building a dam on the Salmon river until there is a satisfactory solution to the problem of getting fish up and downstream around dams. For this one distinctive river for its many distinctive reasons, the move has merit. The Salmon river drainage is one of the last belts of primitive area where the great solitudes rinse the soul. And the forest service keeps it that way.

To get to the Salmon, however, the fish have to come up the Snake river. Just below the mouth of the Salmon on the Snake, the Washington public power system propose to build the towering Nez Perce dam. While the system claims adequate fish passage facilities, the fish specialists are not in entire agreement on this score. There is real question about the fish passage on such a high dam.

Judging from the wording of Senator Church's bill, it appears that the senator himself has definite suspicion over the worth of present fish facilities. The words "... until there is a satisfactory solution..." certainly questions the status quo.

If it is logical for the Salmon, it is logical for the Snake river, too. Most of the salmon run up the Salmon from the Snake although the Innaha takes a decidedly lesser amount. Dams above the Salmon are a minimal problem. The Nez Perce stands square in the path of the fish on their last run to the river of their beginning, the Salmon.

The Nez Perce application is in favor of the Washington public power system at Nez Perce or for the Pacific Northwest power combine above the Salmon at Mountain Sheep will be forthcoming this year. That decision will bear heavily on the future of the Salmon. Regardless of the decision, there is still wisdom in preserving the Salmon... maybe even beyond "a satisfactory solution" to the fish problem.—Idaho Falls Post Register.

WE NEED TO SETTLE IT

In Charlottesville, Va., a Nigerian diplomat, on a journey from Washington, is handed his breakfast in a paper bag and told to "get out" of a white restaurant.

In Delaware, another African diplomat is refused a cup of coffee at a lunch counter. Elsewhere in the South, a Nigerian student is beaten up by police. These are painful, embarrassing—and exceptional—cases. But even one of them is too many. In a world in which hundreds of millions of non-white peoples are emerging into political and economic maturity such incidents are positively harmful to the international well being of this country.

We can rest assured that these cases have been picked up, embellished and magnified by the Communist press. The whole non-white world watches with sensitive, curious, and often indignant eyes at what happens in race relations in the United States. This is one compelling practical reason—quite apart from the simple, clearcut moral imperative—for settling the Negroes' right to all public conveniences promptly and without equivocation.—Minneapolis Morning Tribune.

CONSEQUENCES

Thirty women, wives of striking employes of Portland daily newspaper, met with Gov. Hatfield to solicit his aid in effecting a settlement. The governor explained his powerlessness to act unless there were agreement by both sides for his intervention.

At this season one does have sympathy for the families of those who have been out of work for a year. But it looks to us as if that sympathy strike was already settled. The dailies are publishing and the longer they continue to publish the more obligated they are to retain the help they have employed.

The unions made their own decisions. The stereotypes struck and the other unions walked out in sympathy. The results did not conform to their expectations. In short, they lost the strike but are unwilling to accept the verdict. Now they suffer the consequences, harsh though they are.—Salem Statesman.

POT SHOTS

WE GOT SOME SMART!

Dear Pot Shots:
I know it isn't popular to think we're any good these days, but after reading a score of space shots Sunday, it occurs to me that instead of being afraid of communist Russia status quo it would be much worse for us if that country were made up of free men.

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

I have had uncommonly angry letters since election tending to corroborate Lord Macaulay's analysis of our constitution and his prophecy of our doom written 74 years ago. Democracy is stifling freedom through the income tax and conscription, and the rabble are plundering the rich and themselves.

Much of the press truckles to masses of "consumers" with prattle of democracy and the Kennedy program is like Roosevelt's with its CCC and its expansions of "security." "Education" has left the constitution in a whooping stampede to socialism, the most athletic nation that ever lived is Westbank Pegler not athletic enough by the Kennedy standards.

A man writes from West Memphis, Ark., "I have read your editorial in today's Times and I am shocked. You state that practically all Democrats are thieves, thugs, cowards, etc. (This seems to be an interpretation.)"

"You'll have to go a long way to make me believe that President Roosevelt was characterized with this information? In the gutter?"

"I am a Democrat. Why? Because of what I see today, read in history books and the deeds performed during their terms of office. I am 30. In Roosevelt's administration, I was still a child. To me, this man was my ideal—someone I admired and respected. I cried when his death came. Now you come along distorting this great feeling. I challenge you and any other persons to answer me and to America these cruel, mean charges. I hope you have enough courage and backbone to answer. As long as these thoughts are in my mind I have America in my heart."

A postcard from New York says, "Continue to defame both the living and the dead. We Democrats, the little people, have done it again. More new deal. Fair deal. And spending on the needy. Cry in your beer and save one for Nixon. Contented Democrat."

There are about 20 and I have produced a form letter in reply beginning, "The answer to your letter lies in Lord Macaulay's famous prediction that this republic would go down because we would entrust supreme authority to the majority of citizens counted by the head; to the most ignorant part of society. You have greed instead of ideal and responsibility and you grovel before the memory of our constitution and dodged the draft in the war of his own generation and sold out your country to Soviet Russia. Quit slouching along. Try to walk tall—like a mah."

Many men and women who lived through the first war and the "Republican" prosperity which ensued until Europe collapsed, ensued in a melancholy verdict that we are over the dam and can't swim back up.

Roosevelt adopted the schema of Col. E. M. House, Texas, expressed in a ridiculous little novel, to junk the constitution, turn the government over to an "administrator" and start over. A civil war intervened, a fiction so silly by the military standards of any acting buck that for a long time House would not admit that he wrote it. We did not have that form of civil war, but the civil insurrections of the CIO in Roosevelt's second term, protected by his power in return for more votes and countless millions for Democratic campaign funds, were the actual historic substitute for House's fictional war.

Roosevelt called on House in a pilgrimage after his nomination. There was bloodshed; government officials in their mansions (Murphy, Michigan, for example); mayors and sheriffs refused to protect citizens against murder, wounding, bombing and pillage by mobs; and Jim Farley, in Washington, refused to insist that the mails be allowed to pass picket lines although violent prevention was a criminal offense.

A householder who failed, to restrain a dog from nipping a letter carrier could be jailed for violation of the postal laws. But these crimes were not even reproved. The press just shrugged them off. This was "democracy."

Eisenhower, between his months of days on the golf course, lacked the courage even to uphold a martyr, Joe McCarthy, who died by torture for trying to gas the rats out of Ft. Monmouth and the Pentagon.

All this occurred amid luxury beyond imagining. The leading

U. S. Donates 19 Million to Fund in U. N.

Plan to Help Return Books Is Announced

EAST-ORANGE, N. J., Feb. 10 (AP)—Police were given a free hand today to continue arresting library scoundrels with midnight roundups of delinquent book borrowers again in the offing.

A detailed plan to speed the return of long overdue books to the East Orange public library was prepared yesterday.

The new three-step plan for replenishing the library's shelves came about after the 14 persons arrested earlier in the week let it be known they thought the police action was a bit drastic.

Twelve of them were fined from $10 to $25 and two were acquitted. Two others still face arraignment.

Most had been hailed to the police station late at night and some spent the night in jail when they failed to raise bail money.

The American Civil Liberties union (ACLU) cried foul and said the action smacked of the police state.

The new plan was devised at a city hall meeting between Mayor James W. Kelly, Jr., Police Chief John McGinty, City Counsel William Brach and Police Commissioner Lloyd Atkins.

Under the plan police must first telephone the delinquent book borrower and give him two days to get to court. If that fails, police must visit the offender's home "between the reasonable hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m.," and give him verbal warning to get to court within three days.

"If both warnings have been ignored, police must wait 72 hours and then they are permitted to take any steps necessary to make arrests at any time," Kelly said.

House Solos Get Action on State's Parks

BOISE, Feb. 10 (AP)— Bills to create a state department of natural resources and to take the administration of state parks and recreation areas out of politics were introduced Thursday in Idaho's house of representatives.

The two measures would carry out two of Gov. Robert E. Smylie's recommendations to the legislature.

A department of natural resources would embrace the land department, the cooperative board of forestry, the department of reclamation, the soil conservation commission and the bureau of state parks and recreation areas.

The companion measure calls for the formation of a bureau of state parks and recreation areas and provides that "the director and the personnel of the bureau shall be chosen on the non-political and non-partisan basis of merit and for special training and skill in park and recreational matters."

Earlier in the session, the house approved a resolution calling for appointment of an interim committee to study the feasibility of a department of natural resources for Idaho.

Court Decides Goldfine Has To Face Trial

BOSTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—Bernard Goldfine, 70, Boston industrialist, was ruled mentally competent yesterday to stand trial on federal indictments charging him with evasion of $800,000 in income taxes.

The indictments, it was disclosed by U.S. Atty. Elliot L. Richardson, cover only a small segment of Goldfine's possible liability for taxes and penalties, which he said exceed five million dollars.

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Sweeney made the ruling on Goldfine's competency to stand trial immediately on the conclusion of six days of hearings.

Judge Sweeney set March 20 as the date for start of Goldfine's trial on the tax evasion charges.

He ordered Goldfine released forthwith on the same personal bail of a nominal $5,000 set last fall, and further ordered that "no drastic psychiatric therapy" be used on Goldfine without notice to the court.

Goldfine, operator of textile and other industries in New England, came into national prominence in a series of congressional hearings which disclosed he collected friends in high places in both state and federal governments.

One of his friends, who received gifts of a vicuna coat, the loan of an expensive rug, and other favors from Goldfine, was Sherman Adams, former assistant to President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Adams resigned.

The judge noted there is disagreement among psychiatrists both as to the nature and severity of Goldfine's mental illness. But he said he found himself, from the mass of testimony, that "this defendant does not have any delusions or hallucinations during the past four months, and now, no suicidal tendencies."

Testimony in 'Subdivision' Action Heard

A suit testing the validity of a minimum cost restrictive covenant for a Twin Falls subdivision was heard by District Judge Theron W. Ward Thursday.

The judge, after the day's testimony was concluded, told attorneys for both plaintiff and defendant to submit briefs on facts and law in the case.

The suit was filed Jan. 27 by Dean Bradshaw, 806 Northview drive. He asks the court to issue an injunction preventing Wesley C. Sonius, a developer, from finishing a residence.

The building, across the street from the Bradshaw home, does not conform to a restrictive covenant requiring all homes to cost at least $12,000, at 1958 price level, the plaintiff asserts.

Thursday, Judge Ward heard testimony from Sonius and Amos Reed, as witnesses for the defendant, and Paul Victor and E. Van Houten, witnesses for the plaintiff. Bradshaw was cross-examined.

Bradshaw signed the original complaint as a representative of 12 property owners in this Fairbanks subdivision. They formed the Fairbanks Property Owners association last month to protect the neighborhood's real-estate values.

The group contends the residence built by Sonius is worth only approximately $9,000. In violation of the restrictive covenant, the plaintiffs filed July 13, 1958.

Death Notice Will Be Sent As 'Valentine'

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Feb. 10 One of California's record number of 33 condemned killers now awaiting execution will get an official valentine—notice of the date he is to die.

Valentine's day, Feb. 14, was chosen yesterday by San Mateo County Superior Court Judge Frank B. Blum to set the execution date of Alexander Robillard, XXV, one of seven men on San Quentin prison's death row for killing policemen.

Today only one of the 33 condemned persons knows when he is due to die—April 12. He is Ronald Ritter, 24, a life-long criminal who once begged for the gas chamber and later changed his mind.

More than 42,000 men between the ages of 15 and 64 are killed annually in accidents in the United States.

Service May Build Hangar At Area Field

BURLEY, Feb. 10—Permission was given the Garner Flying service to build a hangar at the Burley airport by the Burley city council during its meeting Tuesday night at the city hall.

The service is operated by LeRoy Garner and Dale Garner who spray crops. The hangar will be large enough to house four planes. At the present time, permission to sell gas and repair planes will be withheld from the service until such time as a set of regulations can be formulated for the operation of the airport, according to a spokesman of the council.

Phil Payne has a lease of the airport facilities from the city and operates the Skyways flying service. He handles the sale of gas, repair work, and handles charter service. It was noted, Payne attended the meeting with his attorney, Richard Smith, and Norman Nielson, attorney, represented the Garner Flying service.

A petition was presented to the council for the improvement of streets within the city. It was signed by a majority of property owners from the area affected where streets are not paved at the present time.

The engineering department was instructed to start preliminary work to set up a local improvement district so the streets can be paved.

The Magic Valley Racing association was granted permission by the council to sand a strip of property at the airport for cutter races.

Building permits were issued to G. M. McCintock, new home in the Green Acres division for $7,500; Merlin Dudley, new home in the Mountain View division, $11,000, and Wright brothers, Rupert, new home in the Overland subdivision, $11,000.

A claim was presented against the city for some gravel that had been used on city property at the Go-Kart race track at the Burley airport. The gravel had belonged to Johnny McGill, Request for the gravel had been made by the Go-Kart association, but there had been no understanding as to whom was to pay for it.

Inactivity, Boredom Harmful for Retired

Three of our elders are waiting for something to happen. Doctors say that inactivity and boredom cause physical and mental decline in the retired.

Doctors Find That Signs of Old Age Actually Are Not Inevitable at All

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Americans are more befuddled about old age than they have reason to be. Many "signs of old age"—forgetfulness, disinterest—which seem inevitable because of the changes in our body, aren't inevitable at all.

Doctors at the National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., and at the Chestnut Lodge sanitarium in nearby Rockville say that, more often than not, the "signs of old age" are emotionally produced rather than the results of organic brain damage.

One answer for preserving the mental alertness of our elders—some 16 million over 65 years old—is to keep them active, eliminating boredom.

The "signs of old age" generally are attributed to the natural process of aging or the results of cerebral arteriosclerosis (hardening of the brain's arteries).

Dr. Robert N. Butler, a NIH research psychiatrist, says: "With the exception of severe arteriosclerosis which can cause signs of mental disorder, there's nothing to prove that the 'dismental' signs in its milder forms hamper mental alertness."

"Also, the degree to which chronological age per se is the overriding factor in disorders of the aged now is subject to serious question."

Dr. Butler and others have found that many personality traits often attributed to organic disorders stem from mental depression.

He says: "Many people forget that old people worry about their problems like everyone else." When the problems seem overwhelming to young and old alike, they can "seem preoccupied, acting as if they were living in a world of their own."

It is true that the old people may have unique problems—enforced retirements, the deaths of spouses, relatives or friends and overriding fears of death.

Old people also have come to regard themselves as a special class because they have been

Just Squeeze

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—The latest fad in bootlegging is "moonshine by the squirt"—the sale of untaxed whiskey in plastic squeeze bottles.

"This bow to modernity was not made by choice," the internal revenue service said yesterday. "It is a measure of desperation resulting from the intensive drive to dry up sources of containers that can be used in packaging illicit liquor."

French African A-Tests to Halt

PARIS, Feb. 10 (AP)—France has decided not to carry out any further nuclear tests at the present French test site in the Sahara desert, authoritative sources said today.

Strong protests against the tests from other countries, particularly the African nations bordering the region, was believed to have been the main reason for the French decision.

Several friendly African countries were reported to have told President Charles de Gaulle they could not limit their protests to merely formal communications if France continued testing there.

Record Business Is Done Abroad

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10 (AP)—The commerce department report that American businessmen sold a record dollar volume of goods to foreign buyers in 1960.

The sales boosted the U. S. export surplus to a three-year high and helped offset the flow of gold and dollars out of the country—a problem which has concerned both Kennedy and Eisenhower administrations.

Despite the export surplus, the United States still had a net balance of payments deficit of $3 billion dollars last year, largely because of private investments, government aid, shifts of capital funds and other transactions abroad.

Dr. Bruce, who is the state Americanism chairman, played a recording of a talk by Paul Harvey which included some government problems. Theme of the talk was the American people's lack of responsibility in expanding their knowledge and abilities and their willingness to accept security instead of opportunities.

Dr. Bruce also spoke briefly on the subject. He then challenged the Jaycees to take this positive Americanism theme to as many of the service clubs, PTA organizations and church groups as possible. Lars Arland and Chris Hernandez, both Caldwell, accompanied Dr. Bruce.

Other guests were Tom Miller of the North Side News; B. Leonard of the Union 76 station; Gordon Weigt, Western Auto and Harold Hollibaugh, Jerome Auto Supply.

A trap shoot is scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 19. William Wolfinger will be chairman.

LeRoy Craig reported Richard Everson and Don Crisp have been nominated for president. A membership drive was inaugurated with the membership being split into two groups which will be headed by Crisp and Everson. The drive will continue until the installation of new officers.

Hal Boyle Would Hibernate Some of Winter Characters

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Feb. 10 (AP)—Blow, wind, blow!
Let it rain, let it hail, let it snow!
Let mother nature go on the wildest winter rampage she wants to. We can take it. But we could take it a lot better if some of the characters cold weather brings out would just hibernate until spring—and let us endure winter's woes without them.

We nominate for hibernation:
The man who greets you every morning from the first of November until the 31st of March with the remark, "Cold enough for you?"

His elfin counterpart, whose invariable daily greeting during the same period is, "Warm enough for you?"

The poetic secretary. She gazes out the window at miles of pallid city slush and asks soulfully, "Isn't it a veritable winter wonderland?"

The fellow who sees good in everything. His initial reaction to a 17-inch snowfall that cripples 12 eastern states, "Well, anyway, it's a million-dollar blessing to the farmers."

The tiresome veteran of even-more-awful weather. "You call this a storm?" he demands. "Why I remember a storm when I was a boy and it steered so hard the wind blew holes right through the tree trunks. The next morning every tree in our yard looked like it had been drilled by 10,000 woodpeckers."

Little runny-nosed neighbor children who say, "Our daddy says he is going to stay out and help us make three more snowmen and a fort. What are you going back inside for? Are you a sissy?"

Stalled motorists who plead to a passing pedestrian, "Give us a little push, will you?" and when you step behind their cars, they spin their rear tires and cover you with muddy slush from toe to eyebrows.

The cowardly apartment house dog. He paws frantically at the door to let you know he needs an airing. You spend half an hour wrapping up in heavy clothes. Then, once outside, the dog sticks one foot in the snow, shivers—and races yelping back for home and warmth.

The hardy suburbanite. After a one-inch snowfall, he stayed home for three days while you do his work at the office. The fourth day, bundled up as if he had munched a bargain in a rib roast at a distant supermarket, and then announces, "We'd better not buy it. It looks good, but the regular butcher is off today—and I don't trust this one."

There is also . . .
But the list of cold weather characters who ought to hibernate is endless. Can't you name a dozen yourself?

Youth Fined

BUHL, Feb. 10 — Charles Wells, Buhl, was fined $25 plus costs and sentenced to five days in jail Tuesday by Police Judge Bernard Starr for procuring beer for a person under 20 years of age.

Duke Outlasts Deacons for 100-90 Win

DURHAM, N. C., Feb. 10 (AP)—Duke pulled up a 26-point lead, fought off a dangerous Wake Forest comeback in the second half, and notched a 100-90 victory to grab first place in the Atlantic Coast conference Thursday night.

The luckless Flier crew, battling through its first complete season in the sport, lost all its entries. However, the Wildcats' Walt Mc Cabe teamed with Burley LeCoe Johnson to stage the tightest bout of the night.

The two grapplers wrestled through the regulation three rounds in a 4-4 tie. The extra two, one-minute rounds saw everything remain even until two seconds were left before it went to the referee's decision.

One other overtime match saw Buhl's Herral gain a reversal in the first extra round and nip Piler's sophomore 165-pound entry, Gary Pedrow, by one point.

A third thriller saw Gooding State's Caron, no newcomer to district and state tournaments, gain an escape in the third round and pile up enough riding time to nip Larry Maupt, Twin Falls, 2-0.

The 28 bouts saw Minico gain 10 points in advancement and pin points while Buhl was second with six, Twin Falls and Burley each got five, Gooding State three and Flier none.

Results of the first round include: Sub 65 pounds, Stimpson, Minico, pinned Gartner, Flier, and Burch, Burley, dethroned Schmidt, Buhl, 7-1; 103 pounds, Lonnie Jensen, Gooding State, pinned Larry Flynn, Twin Falls; Praegler, Minico, dethroned Martindale, Burley, 6-4; Freeman, Buhl, dethroned Antip, Flier, 9-0; 112 pounds, Satterwhite, Twin Falls, dethroned Schwanz, Buhl, 12-3; 120 pounds, Sparks, Minico, dethroned Acel Lallis, Buhl, 5-0, and Guffey, Twin Falls, dethroned Nice, Flier, 4-1; 127 pounds, Jones, Minico, dethroned Lee Robinson, Gooding State, 5-1; Haumont, Buhl, dethroned Keith Robinson, Twin Falls, 3-0, and Johnson, Burley, dethroned McCabe, Flier, 5-4.

The two teams had been deadlocked at 23-23 at the half. Wiesenbahn led the Cincinnati scoring with 19 points and Thacker had 18. Tom Kieffer was top for St. Louis with 14 and Glen Mankowski had 12.

LeRoy Dick, Tabor college, Hillsboro, Kans., scored 71 points in those two games through last week, giving him an average of 35.5. He dethroned John Bradley, Lawrence (Mich.) Tech., who has an average of 32.6.

Top individual field goal shooter is Norman Gehr, Martin branch of the University of Tennessee, who racked up a percentage of .647, runner-up is Fruit Weldon, Northwest Louisiana, with .632. Cleveland Buckner, Jackson (Miss.) State, the previous week's leader, was third with .630.

The leading rebounder is Zelmo Beatty, Prairie View (Tex.) college with a 23.6 average.

Chilton's 52 points against Austin Peay matched the season single game high set by Burgess earlier this month against the California Aggies.

Mistaken Identity?

Alan Nass, left, Georgia Tech center, appears to be playing rough with teammate Stan Gher (24). This unusual action was witnessed in the first half of Tuesday night's basketball game between Tech and Auburn university as both players went after a rebound. Auburn won the Southeastern conference affair, 38-35. (AP wirephoto)

Bellevue-Richfield Game Due To Settle Northside Loop Title

The game that probably will settle the Northside conference basketball championship Friday night will pit the top offensive team in the league against the best defensive unit. The Bellevue Bulldogs meet the Richfield Tigers at Bellevue with the winner having the inside track to the title.

Bellevue leads the league offensively with a 51.9 average. Richfield is best on defense with a slingshot 36.7. Richfield seconds Bellevue with a 46-point-per-game average while Bellevue is second on defense at 39.6.

The Bulldogs will have the second and third top scorers in the district ready to level at Richfield but the Tigers can counter with two men averaging better than 10 points and rating in the top eight in the individual scoring race.

Carey's John Briggs, a senior, continues to be the leading gun with a 20.2 conference average and 18.5 overall. In second place is Bellevue's Pat Parker at 15.2 while teammate O'Donnell is 14.9.

Phillie Boss Sure of Winning More Games

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 10 (AP)—I'm not usually in the habit of going out on a limb. But I will predict one thing right here and now: The Phillies will win more games than the 59 they won last season.

One of the things going for us will be added experience, my own and the team's. Last year, I did not take over at the beginning of the season, so I missed valuable time getting to know the strength and weaknesses of the players.

We had about 10 first-year players in 1960. They included Pancho Herrera, Jim Coker, Chris Short, Art Mahaffey, Dallas Green and Tony Gonzalez. With that one season under their belts, I'm looking for them and the others to show marked improvement.

Sunday Afternoon Drive Is Back in Hank's Life Again

BY HENRY McLEMORE
ROME, Italy—The Sunday afternoon drive, in which the whole family piled in the car and took a ride in the country, has come back into my life after, well—let's say a good spell and let it go at that.

It's the thing to do here in Rome, just as it once was in America. After dinner, and a short riposo, the Italian family packs itself in the car and heads out of Rome. Ten or 15 minutes later, thanks to the way the countryside encroaches on Rome, the city dwellers are out with the cows, birds, shepherds and rolling hills.

The highways are crowded on Sunday afternoons, as are the byways, for Italians, more than any other people I have ever been among, are Mew fanciers. They never tire of looking at familiar views and are forever on the lookout for new ones. They'll push their flats up a muddy lane, or bounce up a rock-strewn path on their motor scooters. If there is a promise of a "panoramica" at the end.

We, too, have become eager viewers, and I must say that the environs of Rome are a happy hunting ground. Most of the time we start out without knowing where we are going, and just follow our noses.

We did that last Sunday afternoon and ran into an enchanting spot that isn't even on the map. We followed the ancient Via Aurelia northwest and about 35 miles out risked a turning to the left, and lo and behold came to Santo di Severa.

The entire population of Santo di Severa couldn't be more than 125, and every last one of them lives inside a 10th century wall which surrounds a 10th century fortress-castle.

The castle, modest for those days, stands on a promontory jutting into the Mediterranean, and appears to be as sound as the day it was built.

The castle is occupied by a doctor and his family. We discovered this when we wandered into whatever the back door of a castle is called and were greeted by a cook who, I am sure, told us to get out, but not until she had explained that the family didn't welcome tourists.

But we were free to wander about inside the walls, and talk with the citizens, all of whom lived in ancient buildings in various states of repair. From the appearance of the dwellings and the people, life in Santo di Severa must be little changed from the 10th century.

Tourists must never go inside the walls, for we and our car were curiosities. Most of the men were in boots, and nets were drying everywhere, so fishing must be the chief occupation of the little tucked-away town.

Pigs, chickens, cows and turkeys strolled about, and a herd of goats stared at us when we went into the small but lovely church.

The doctor and his family must live in the keep, because its window-like openings had curtains, and smoke was curling from the top. Maybe the doctor had started a fire to boil some pitch to pour down on the intruders.

There was a big garden inside the walls, complete with wooden plow, and a few oxen were standing about. When we drove out through the gates a villager shut them behind us—there are four in all—as if Santo di Severa had had enough of the outside world for the day.

"The Fabulous Commodores"

"We Love the COMMODORES." This slogan has been the gathering word on the lips of almost everyone who has even seen and heard the Fabulous COMMODORES of Arthur Godfrey television fame. Formerly known as the Imperial Quartette, the COMMODORES have been together for over four years.

As the Imperial Quartette, they gained national fame as one of the finest spiritual singing groups in the world.

With the addition of Eddie Seals four years ago, the group found a new sound, and the people loved it. The boys then changed the name of the group to the COMMODORES and divided their act into seven different types of music: Pop - Rock and Roll - Western - Spirituals - Comedy - Progressive - and Operetta. This makes the fantastic COMMODORES one of the most versatile singing groups in the country today.

Since moving on the Night Club and Casino circuit the COMMODORES have been acclaimed all over America as one of the finest vocal acts in show business today.
