Idaho's Senate Amends Driver Training Project To Make Motorists Pay

BOISE, Feb. 27 (UPI)—The senate today amended a house proposed teen-age driver training program to make those who drive foot the bill. Incorporated into the house measure were portions of a senate proposal which would finance the program from the motor vehicle fund by increasing fees for driver's and chauffeur's licenses instead of from a $250,000 appropriation from the highway fund. Senate action on bills on third reading was delayed so that the upper house could go into committee of the whole to act on the amendments. Immediately after, Republicans and Democrats went into party caucuses.

Communism Probes Of Committee OK'd

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (UPI)—By a 5 to 4 split, the supreme court today reaffirmed the authority of the house committee on un-American activities to investigate communism. It did so by affirming contempt convictions of two witnesses who refused to answer questions during committee inquiries. The two—Frank Wilkinson, Los Angeles, and Carl Braden, Louisville, Ky.—appeared before a subcommittee in Atlanta on July 30, 1958, during an investigation of communist propaganda in the South and infiltration into the textile industry.

Water Released

The polluted water of Milner dam reservoir was released Monday morning when the reservoir's headgates were opened to let out about 2,000 second feet of water, according to Alfred Peters, manager of Twin Falls Canal company. He added that the lake is being filled up again with fresh water in preparation for the summer's irrigation. The flow from the reservoir has returned to 200 to 400 second feet, which flows in the Snake river to supply the Shoshone falls and Twin falls power plants, Peters noted.

"Hungry"

FAIR LAWN, N. J., Feb. 27 (UPI)—Residents of a normally pleasant neighborhood in this suburban community are being kept up late nights by a frightful sound—the roaring of 11 aged and full-grown lions. The lions are being kept in a warehouse until their appearance on a television program in New York City this week. They were brought here from California by their trainer, Chet Juszyk, who got permission from the local board of health to keep the lions here. "These roars mean they're hungry—and that's what worries me," said one neighbor of the lions.

MUGAULI SHOOTING CAMP, Nepal, Feb. 27 (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip were watching a spectacular tiger hunt, Nepal style, in which hundreds of elephants flushed a tiger and drove the beast in for the kill. MIAMI, Feb. 27 (UPI)—"Flying grandfather" Max Conrad, bolstered by a rosary and two thermos jugs full of hot water, took off today in a bid to set an around-the-world record for a piston-powered airplane. The 70-year-old Conrad was blessed by the Pope in a personal audience granted Conrad after he flew nonstop from Chicago to Rome three years ago. The hot water was to make drinks out of the 100 packets of instant coffee, 48 tea bags and 60 soup packets that Conrad carried as his only nourishment while in the air. Conrad hopes to be back in Miami in nine days to a 25,467-mile flight around the Earth in his twin-engine Piper Astor.

Upturn Needed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (UPI)—President Kennedy has told leading congressional Democrats he is banking on an upturn in the economy to hold next year's budget deficit to 15 billion dollars. The President has been told by his economic advisers that that deficit in the current year ending June 30 now is expected to reach 15 billion dollars instead of the 70 million dollar surplus former President Dwight D. Eisenhower predicted in January. Eisenhower's estimates were based, among other things, on a proposed boost of around 600 million dollars in postal rates. While Kennedy is requesting a similar increase, he is said to have little hope that congress will act on the matter this year.

Morocco Has New Leader; King Is Dead

RABAT, Morocco, Feb. 27 (UPI)—Morocco's new king posted heavy security forces around strategic points today to keep a firm hand on the potentially explosive political situation created by the unexpected death of his father, King Mohammed V. The popular 51-year-old monarch's health failed yesterday after a minor operation, a team of 10 doctors announced. The crown prince, Moulay Hassan, 31, was proclaimed king. An energetic, forceful young man educated in France, he was named in advance by his father as his successor in 1957. Together they had run the government of this North African nation of 10 million since last May, trying to head off leftist challenges by outdoing their opponents in friendly overtures to Moscow and increasing estrangement from the United States. As preparations went ahead for the funeral in the royal palace tomorrow, police and troops were posted around nerve centers in Rabat and other major cities.

Weapons Aid For Congo Is Under Probe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (UPI)—U. S. officials are attempting to verify reports that communist arms were airdropped to the anti-government Congolese troops now reported marching on the main province of Leopoldville, it was learned today. Diplomatic reports have persisted for the past three weeks that cargo planes were airlifting Soviet and Czech small arms, including grenades, to the Congo's Orient province. This is the stronghold of Soviet-backed Antoine Gizenga, who has proclaimed himself successor to the slain ex-premier Patrice Lumumba. A column of 500 Lumumbist troops was reported to be marching toward Leopoldville. There also were reports that a half dozen trucks, loaded with arms, entered the Congo a little over a week ago at Aba, in the extreme southwest corner of the Sudan border. U. S. officials have never been able to confirm the airlift information to the point where they could make a formal charge.

Troops in Cuba Awaiting Signal

HAVANA, Feb. 27 (UPI)—Troops surrounding rebels in the Escambray mountains of central Cuba were reported awaiting a signal from Prime Minister Fidel Castro today to begin a cleanup drive on the insurgents. ## Ike Disavows Mundt's Statement That Former President Critical of Kennedy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last night disavowed as inaccurate and regrettable a fellow Republican's statement that Eisenhower's criticism of the administration President Kennedy's administration is taking. Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R., S. D., talked with Eisenhower for an hour recently at his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation spot. In a news letter he sends to constituents, Mundt yesterday gave his impression of Eisenhower's views. "He is critical of the tendencies thus far evidenced by the JFK administration—too much left of center; too partisan; too slanted toward programs supported by union bosses," Mundt wrote. Mincing no words, Eisenhower issued this disavowal through a secretary: "Senator Mundt's statement as reported to me Sunday evening does not accurately describe either my views on public affairs or my personal plans, and I very much regret its issuance. The senator evidently intended to repeat in detail our private and purely social conversation, but his recollection of the many subjects mentioned and his interpretations differ markedly from my own. Especially I regret the association attributed to me of the personality of my successor and his administration, on which subject I have formed no judgment. Moreover, I have always directed my public criticism to ideas and programs—never to individuals. While in that conversation and on prior occasions I have expressed opposition to certain of the pledges in the platform adopted in Los Angeles, I have likewise expressed the earnest hope of every loyal American that the future actions of the new administration will promote the overall welfare of the United States." The Mundt news letter also said Eisenhower was disturbed by Kennedy's statements that the economy is in trouble.

Congolese Soldiers Turn Against U.N. Beat up Canadians

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo, Feb. 27 (UPI)—Unruly Congolese soldiers turned against the United Nations command in a wave of violence, beating four Canadian U. N. soldiers today and raping a white U. N. secretary last night. The United Nations protested bitterly against the outbreaks of "brutal assault, arbitrary arrest and bestial behavior," and threatened to use force to stop them. In a new effort to rescue the Congo from near chaos, Congolese Premier Joseph Ileo and South Kasai "President" Albert Kalonji were reported planning to fly to Elisabethville for top level talks with Katanga President Moise Tshombe. They were expected to lay the groundwork for a Congolese roundtable conference and a bigger leadership meeting in Geneva suggested by Tshombe.

Storms and Floods Continue Over U.S.

A Texas-born storm dumped snow in New Mexico, Texas and Kansas today and threatened to pile up heavy snow in Illinois and Indiana and rain in the flood-plagued South tonight or tomorrow. President Kennedy declared flooded parts of Mississippi a disaster area and tendered federal funds to supplement state and local efforts to aid the state's 10,000 homeless. "As the storm develops," the U. S. weather bureau said, "a band of snow is expected to spread from southeastern Kansas eastward through eastern Kansas and northern Missouri to central sections of Illinois and Indiana."

Storm Front Dumps Snow, Rain in State

A storm front moved into Idaho from the West coast today, dumping new snow and rain on the western portion of the state and leaving roads slick. The weather bureau said the storm would dwindle in the West to a few snow flurries by tomorrow but that occasional rain or snow could be expected in southeastern Idaho by tonight or early tomorrow. Bonners Ferry and Sandpoint were covered with snow and ice. In the Coeur d'Alene area they were bare and wet but new snow was falling. More snow fell on Fourth of July canyon which already was slushy and on Lookout pass which had a layer of compact snow and ice which required tire chains. Highways in the Moscow area were snow-covered and slick and more snow was falling. In the Lewiston and Grangeville areas roads were bare and dry but Whitebird hill had well sanded ice in shaded areas. Snow began to fall in the Boise area at daybreak.

New Orleans Schools Will Get Finances

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 27 (UPI)—The state administration, in a compromise move, today turned over two million dollars to help pay all New Orleans school teachers, including those at two integrated schools. State Treasurer A. P. Tugwell said he advanced that much in homestead exemption refunds. Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' administration last week had reported Tugwell was expected to provide the funds. The fiscal step marked the end of the fifth straight special session Davis had called to fight the inroads of integration at the William Frantz and McDonough No. 19 elementary schools in New Orleans.

Teachers Advised They Must Learn

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27 (UPI)—The people who run the nation's schools were told today they still have much to learn about the products with which they are dealing, children, education, and the process of learning. Dr. L. D. Haskew, vice chancellor of the University of Texas, said the schools must search for new ways to foster and encourage variation. "The process involved in learning to read English by a 6-year-old from a Spanish-speaking home," he said, "is sharply different from that involved when the learner is the son of a college professor of American literature."

Annual Meet Opened Here By Egg Unit

P. Petersen, professor and poultryman, University of Idaho, Janet Orr, Dietrich, 4-H club member, told of their trip last August to the American Institute of Cooperation, Berkeley, Calif. She was sponsored by the organization.

William G. Stacey, auditor, Salem, Ore., reported a total sales volume of $1,973,910.21 which was a slight decrease from the previous year. The net margin for the year 1960 was $46,835.15 of which $39,497.09 has been allocated to members in the form of patronage refunds and the balance of $7,338.06 was realized from non-member business.

General Manager L. R. Davis said sales volume of feed totaled 355,350 cubic weight which is down slightly from 1959, but was still the second highest volume of feed in the 37 years. Egg receipts were down again for the third consecutive year, Davis noted.

He explained that the egg marketing picture has changed during the past 10 years and that more and more large producers are going direct to the retail markets and to other retailers.

He reported that allocations of members' capital reserve for 1960 totaled $39,497.09, as indicated in the auditor's report, and each individual share was determined on a basis of 3.0 per cent of feed purchased at retail.

Senate Alters State's Driver Training Bill

Through the amendments to the driver training program for youths 14 to 18 years of age, the fees for instruction and chauffeur permits would be increased to $3 and for a driver's license $4.

The house bill also made no mention of a minimum driving age, so incorporated from the senate bill was the provision fixing the age at 16, except that 14 and 15-year-olds who had properly completed a driving training course could obtain restrictive licenses.

The senate today also received introduction of three bills prescribing formulas for distribution of 33 million dollars as the state's share to public education.

Already both houses have passed the measure appropriating $3 million dollars, which is six million dollars above the amount allocated in the present biennium.

One of the bills received by the senate adjusts the current education formula to allow distribution of the additional appropriation for the next two years.

Another is a new formula devised by the state education department at the direction of the 1959 legislature which would change the "minimum educational program" to a "foundation program." It would be based on a "weighted classroom" factor, but included all six factors of the present formula in different forms.

In the third bill, the weighted classroom formula is revised to eliminate the teacher salary factors and also provides separate allocation to districts of the county school fund.

The house today shouted approval without dissent of a concurrent resolution fixing Thursday at noon for adjournment sine die of the 36th Idaho legislature.

Last Meet on New Acts Is Held in Area

SHOSHONE, Feb. 27—Last of the series of legislative study meetings sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce here was held Friday night at the courthouse.

Sen. Jack M. Murphy explained various bills and Rep. Floyd O. Kislring sent information on bills he wished brought to the attention of the group.

Donald Sand conducted the discussion. Current senate bills were reviewed.

SB 182, regarding penalty for careless use of firearms, was strongly favored, as was SB 205, which calls for raising the out-of-state fish and game license fee to $15.

Approval was given to SB 213 which emphasizes that all county and civic meetings within a community are public, that committee decisions may be made on definite decisions may be made. Opposition was voiced to SB 213, which calls for more control of waste waters, qualification licenses for drilling ground holes, etc.

Considerable discussion was held regarding HB 146, pertaining to study of income tax returns to compute tax assessments.

The group felt that decision on public bonded indebtedness should be decided by the people at election time. This will be governed by SB 5.

Senator Murphy explained that SB 186, pertaining to voting clerks and judges for a runoff election, is supplemental to the present law and it will no doubt be replaced by other action of the legislature.

Speaking openly on the Benson-Smythe feud, Senator Murphy stated that regardless of who is right in the matter, the feud has hurt Idaho to some extent. He questioned the budget request of the attorney general.

The senator also gave further information regarding HB 90 pertaining to ratio theory, utilities and other taxation, stating that untold damage will result if the measure becomes law.

Regarding driving training in the state, he said that the house and senate cannot agree on the matter and he expects nothing concrete to develop during this term of the legislature.

Question has arisen with the dispute as to whether any sufficient evidence has been produced to show that driver training would and does cut the accident rate within the state, measured by the cost of the program. There also is the continued problem of whether the department of law enforcement or the public school system should administer the course.

In evaluating legislative meetings in the county, Senator Murphy felt they had been of great value to himself and Rep. Floyd O. Kislring. Those present also stated they felt their valuable as a means to inform the public.

EVERYONE'S WRONG

When the endless battle between Attorney General Frank Benson and Gov. Robert E. Smylie was taken to the legislature, it was just another of those cases where no one could be right. It was not good taste on the part of the governor to take his political fight before the legislature. Governor Smylie asked for a bill that would permit department heads to select their own legal counsel, with approval of the governor.

Obviously, the bill was asked because of the running battle of the past two years between Attorney General Benson on the one hand and Governor Smylie on the other. The general result would be to circumvent the attorney general.

There's a question here if such action would be legal, but certainly legislative action to weaken or restrict a duly elected state official would set a dangerous precedent. This is something the legislature should avoid.

If Governor Smylie believes Attorney General Benson has misused the authority of his office or has not done the job for which he was elected, then he might want to initiate action to remove the attorney general from office. If the governor does not believe such drastic action is indicated, then he should wait until the next election when Idaho voters would have a chance to decide the case of Frank Benson, should he seek reelection.

Certainly Benson could not be cleared of responsibility in the present row. Few citizens, including staunch members of his own Democratic party, have given support to the various stands taken by Benson. Nor has the Idaho supreme court found much merit in arguments advanced by the attorney general in a number of cases taken to the state's highest court. All of the decisions have gone against Benson.

In addition, Benson has made no particular attempt to conceal his poor opinion of all Republicans in general and Governor Smylie in particular during his two years in office. It's been politics from the beginning. So it would seem that Benson would have little reason to expect the state legislature to "set aside petty politics" as he urged in asking approval for nearly four times more funds than appropriated for his office in the last biennium.

He also told the legislature, "The animosity which Governor Smylie, Senator Barlow and Representative Shepard bear toward me personally is no reason for hamstringing the orderly operation of state government for the next two years."

There would be little reason to think the attorney-general's office would be "hamstrung" with the proposed appropriation of $180,000. His office had $155,550 in the last biennium and there is little to support his request for almost four times that amount during the next two years.

Airing the Benson-Smylie squabble in the legislature isn't likely to change the situation except for the worse. Undoubtedly there will be another round in the fight before long and no one—particularly the principals—is likely to gain in stature.

ENOUGH'S ENOUGH

Idaho's senators deserve a pat on the back for defeating the proposed constitutional amendment to provide a session of the state legislature every year instead of every two years as at present. Senators voted 24 to 18 against the proposed amendment which had cleared the house earlier. In order to be submitted to voters for approval, the proposed amendment had to pass both houses by two-thirds majorities. And the senate failed to give it even a bare majority.

With all the politics and horse-trading that go with a session of the state legislature, it's a wonder legislators finally come up with anything that's workable. They usually manage to invite plenty of criticism with the type of laws that result.

It's not exactly rare for one session of the legislature to pass a law which is promptly amended or revoked by the next session.

It would be nice sometime if our lawmakers went to Boise with their minds made up to consider and approve only those laws which would benefit the citizens of Idaho. It also would be nice if some session of the legislature managed to reduce taxes instead of raise them. Naturally, these are only dreams.

At any rate, the governor already has the power to call a special session of the legislature whenever necessary to deal with an emergency situation. This authority should suffice.

Could anyone expect anything from an annual session of the legislature except such items as more confusion and higher taxes? Once every two years is plenty!

A BILLION IS BIG

We talk so casually about billions of dollars, ever consider what a billion looks like? The Bell system mused over it since its earnings are over the billion mark. A penny stack, it discovered, would reach 230,000 miles high.

Counting out in dollar bills would take 50 years on a 40-hour week basis.

It couldn't be counted or stacked in thousand dollar bills. Only 600,000 of these have been printed.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—Pleas for drastic legislation requiring more detailed labeling of dangerous drugs have poured in on the Kefauver antipoison subcommittee as a result of the deaths of children, after careless or unsupervised administration.

The drug now under study and suspicion is chloroquine, which is manufactured by Parke Davis and company. In addition to suits for damages against this firm, legal action has been directed in several cases against the physicians who prescribed and the pharmacists who sold it.

As a result of numerous deaths in California—some estimate them at 405 since the drug was placed on the market—a measure requiring clearer labeling has been introduced in the state legislature. Most of the deaths have shocked the communities and certain medical authorities because they occurred among young and attractive children.

NEED FOR CONTROLS—The need for such legislation on a national rather than a state level is set forth in many of the letters reaching Senator Kefauver's subcommittee. An extremely impressive communication came from Edgar F. Elstrom, owner of the Fullerton, Calif., Daily News Tribune.

His daughter, Brenda, a young and brilliant college student, died after an unsupervised administration of chloroquine, which sometimes causes fatal anemia unless checked by periodical blood tests.

In forwarding a copy of the proposed California bill to Senator Kefauver, Editor Elstrom wrote: "This public warning is essential in order to prevent further tragedies. If the cost and drug administration will not limit the drug's use to hospitals (where it can be kept under strict control), and confine its use to a few serious infections, then the public should have this warning protection. You will note that the warning in this bill follows closely the new warning (with a few exceptions) now required by FDA to be given to pharmacists."

INHERENTLY DANGEROUS—Some months ago, Fleming, then secretary of health, education and welfare, advised us that FDA could not require warning labels to patients, without further legislation by congress which FDA would oppose.

In this connection, it has been testified to that some physicians prescribe chloroquine for minor ailments and over the telephone. It has also been charged that food and drug is too friendly with medical manufacturers and salesmen.

"Our observation," continues Editor Elstrom, "after reading testimony on drugs given before your subcommittee, and from the correspondence we have had with FDA, is that the FDA is more interested in protecting the prerogatives of the medical profession and the drug companies than they are in protecting the public health and safety."

"We sincerely hope that in the legislation you are planning to introduce you will include a provision for requiring a similar warning on the prescriptions to patients—nation-wide."

HUMAN ERROR—Warning only pharmacists, according to medical experts and investigators on Senator Kefauver's staff, does not provide protection.

Either through carelessness, forgetfulness or because they are too busy, drug clerks might fail to pass the warning on to the purchaser. And the same observation might apply to the prescribing physician.

There is also the possibility that a person, especially a child, might take this difficult drug by mistake. For all these reasons, many experts believe that the need for the same sort of warnings that appear on a "poison" is imperative.

EVERYTHING'S RUINED

Pot Shots: There's a fellow in Twin Falls who has his own personal filing system that gets back a good many years. Actually, it's no system at all but rather a phenomenal memory which enables him to remember where he's hidden everything for the past 10 years.

So a new girl came into the office and started busting around with a good deal of efficiency. No, it's not jealousy and she was good.

Everything went fine until she started straightening up the (ha, ha) filing system. She was interrupted right in the middle by the exclamation: "Now you've ruined everything—I'll never be able to find anything again!"

WORKABLE PLAN FOR SCHOOL MERIT PAY

After six years of careful study, the Utah school merit committee is recommending gradual implementation of a program of teacher evaluation and merit pay in the public schools of the state.

A permissive plan has been submitted with legislative council approval under which Utah school districts may adopt merit systems with state supervision and state financing. House bill 81 would implement the plan.

Following a legislative mandate, merit evaluation pilot projects have been under way since 1954 in the Jordan, Provo and Sevier districts. The experiments were extended to the Logan and Weber districts two years ago.

The merit committee concludes from the mass of data collected that merit salary programs are feasible under "proper conditions." These conditions include a favorable psychological climate in the district, careful preparation and training of supervisory personnel, and meaningful merit pay bonuses.

"Quality teaching is not adequately recognized in present salary programs," the committee said. "Merit pay above the basic salary schedule is desirable to reward superior teaching."

"The committee is convinced a merit program would lead to better all-around teaching, better and fairer administrative decisions, higher status for the teaching profession and better pay for excellent teaching performance."

School children would benefit from an improved education program.

In its report the committee says it "recognized that complete answers are not available for all facets involved in merit appraisal. However, enough is now known to warrant the establishment of merit programs in some school districts." The committee therefore proposes to initiate a state-supported merit program in a few districts to begin with, adding not more than five additional districts per year for the next three years.

Responsibility for merit programs would be placed in the state board of education, with a merit committee appointed by the board to serve in an advisory capacity.

A merit program director would be named to help local districts establish programs and to supervise administration. The state would provide at the outset all funds for additional administrative costs and merit salary increases.

About a half a million dollars has been expended in pilot projects thus far. To continue the program, and begin actual merit pay, the committee suggests an appropriation of $991,617 for the next two years. This would amount to half of one per cent of present school costs.

Costs would, of course, increase in ensuing bienniums as more districts embarked on the program. The committee suggests that merit pay initially be $500 a year over regular pay schedules, with the possibility that in succeeding years another $500 could be added to the bonus.

Superior teaching has been recognized in teachers' pay envelopes in a substantial number of school districts in the nation, although the practice is by no means general.

Experience proves that a number of technical and emotional problems are involved. The committee recognizes the prime importance of utmost care in evaluation of teachers to avoid favoritism and take into consideration the complex and dynamic nature of teaching.

The committee recognizes that past failures have usually resulted from schools rushing prematurely into unsound and overambitious programs—hence its recommendation of a slow and carefully supervised approach.

Workable school merit programs depend on the cooperation and confidence of teachers involved.

This can be obtained only if there is an objective and meaningful evaluation by skilled personnel, plus really significant merit pay.

Four of the nine members of the study committee are professional educators and some others have had teaching experience. The committee has had the advice of a variety of consultants and specialists and has studied other school merit programs.

The Tribune is confident that, if the proper climate prevails, the school merit program can be expanded and made practically universal in Utah. All concerned should contribute to this good climate by retaining an open mind. Since it is possible to uncover poor teaching and mediocre teaching, it should be possible to also recognize superior teaching.

Recognition and reward of superior teaching would help the "master" teacher get off the automatic-increment treadmill and it should help upgrade public education generally.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Dear Pot Shots: I was visiting a friend and her three small children the other day when she sighed, "Sometimes I wish it were possible to have my babies just stay babies!"

HOW THINGS APPEAR FROM PEGLER'S ANGLE

The worst professional handicap an American politician can suffer is a "sense of honor, the quality that is gropingly called decency." Few successful manipulators of the public emotions have been seriously burdened in this way. In our time, P. D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman were so little burdened that one might say they were innocent except of an unweighable taint of goodness no more intentional than original sin.

Born into a conventional, West Coast family, Roosevelt was a devoted, preposterous, society which abhors war and aggressors but venerates Abe Lincoln, they were prepared so to behave in public office that the ignorant soul of the people idolized them.

At the other extreme were Robert Taft and the late John Rankin, the Mississippi congressman who maintained his native bigotries against the counter-bligots of New York and never lowered his voice or his standards.

Taft died a morning, so to speak, for he was just coming into being when Eisenhower's high jacks jumped him in the convention of 1952. He expired of cancer within a year. We will never know how he would have borne himself in the White House but he made an exclamation of shock at Ike's choice of a boss of the Plumbers union for his first secretary of labor.

Rankin was gerrymandered out of a district which would have elected him for eternity. Otherwise—he might have carried his banners to the summit of a knee-high hillcock down South. He never showed respect to persons whom he angrily abhorred as a matter of morals.

His landsmen were periodical teetotalers, ardently religious and flaunting an unaffected ignorance and high-octane patriotism. Rankin was as truly representative of his people as Manny Celler is of the eleventh New York. Whoever hated Hitler but neither Lenin nor Stalin was a communist to him.

It should be absurd and funny to a people so lavishly fond of comedians that our country has worked itself into many frothy sweats, often flecked with blood, over the right to vote for Kennedy, Adam Clayton Powell, Ike, Rockefeller, Lehman, Chief Justice Warren and Congressman James

Slave Labor Camp Survivor's Talk Planned Here March 5

John Noble, author, lecturer and one of the few Americans ever to return from a Russian slave labor camp, will speak at the Twin Falls high school auditorium at 2:30 p. m. Sunday.

Noble's visit is sponsored by evangelical churches of the area and the National Association of Evangelicals. He will be accompanied by the Rev. Wilmer N. Brown, NAE's regional director. Born in Detroit, Mich., in 1923, Noble accompanied his parents to Germany in 1938 to study in one of his fathers' photo-industry factories.

When World War II broke out the Noble family was interned by the Soviet forces. In 1945, after the Soviet army moved into East Germany, the Nobles, as U. S. citizens, expected to be liberated. Instead they were imprisoned by the Russians.

His parents were released but he was held in Dresden prison for 14 months without accusation or explanation. Late in 1946 Noble was sent to the Muehlberg concentration camp and then on to notorious Buchenwald.

In 1950, he was sentenced without trial to 15 years imprisonment and transported to the Arctic slave camp Vorkuta in Russia where he was forced to work in the coal mines.

His weight dropped below 100 pounds. He was one of 100,000 of the 500,000 prisoners held at Vorkuta who participated in the first uprising against the Russians.

Finally, after smuggling a postcard out of Russia to his parents in Detroit, he was liberated through the personal intervention of President Eisenhower.

Noble was presented the 1959 Freedom Book award for his book, "Four Years in Soviet Russia." He also wrote, "I Was a Slave in Russia," contained in the February, 1956, edition of "Reader's Digest." "Armstrong Circle Theater" televised the story in April, 1958.

JEROME, Feb. 27—Damage to a 1960 Ford Falcon driven by Thomas Olson, 31, Jerome, was estimated at $57, as the result of an accident Thursday in an alley at the rear of Rice Chevrolet firm.

A 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck, driven by Harold C. Burgess, 28, Jerome, collided with the Ford. The truck was not damaged.

Jerome police said both drivers' vision was partially obscured by a parked wrecker. Olson turned from the alley beside the L'Hersson building and Burgess was coming from the alley behind the garage.

Potato Costs, Contracts and Surplus Discussed at Parley

RUPERT, Feb. 27—Cost of production, contract negotiations, surplus production and new land development were discussed by directors of the Idaho Potato Bargaining association Friday afternoon.

Albert Longhurst, Blackfoot, state president, conducted the meeting. Others present included Emory Lent, George Skarr and Lagrande Wadsworth of the Upper Snake River association; Elmer Funk and Rex Frandsen, Eastern Idaho; Keith Thomas, L. A. Gillette, Joe Houska, Dale Miller and Phillip Bare, Magic Valley association, and Harold Blankensma and Jess Lowe, Treasure Valley district.

Keith Thomas pointed out per acre cost of production had increased about seven per cent over last year throughout the state. In Magic Valley, this cost has risen from $267 in 1960 to approximately $285 in 1961. He said this increase came from increased costs of seed, fertilizer, taxes and water.

Thomas quoted figures showing the average acre yield in this area to be about 150 sacks and the average contract price was $1.34 per hundred, giving a gross return of $201 per acre, or a net loss of $66. He pointed out two things could be done to gain the cost of production; one, increase the average yield to at least 200 hundredweight per acre, or increase the price by 25 cents per hundred, adding that this would not allow for any profit, but would cover production costs.

Dale Miller, chairman and member of the local negotiating committee, said the contract now offered by various processors would not meet production costs without exceptional yields. He added a bargaining association must work with average crops and average growers, noting it would be ridiculous to accept such a contract. He felt the contract price being asked by the association was fair, and would pay the grower about $150 per hundred, field-run, based on the average grades from past years, yet would encourage quality and increased yields.

Miller pointed out all contracted potatoes from last year's crop either had been moved to market, or would be soon. He notes considerable uncontracted potatoes are still in storage with owners facing the possibility of finding no sale for their product, or, at best, selling much below top market price.

Harold Blankensma, chairman of the Treasure Valley association and state secretary, expressed the opinion that no contract was better than the one now being offered. He felt such an offer to be a planned program to create a regulated surplus of potatoes. He asserted when there is even a small surplus, the entire crop is sold at the surplus price, not just the surplus amount. He further stated that contract growers in his area lost money last year since their average return per hundred was $1.12 and their production costs more than $300 per acre. Growers who sold early on the open market made money on their crops.

Emory Lent, state board member from Upper Snake district, reported since most of the potatoes grown in his area were produced for the fresh market, it was imperative that the contract potatoes bring the average growers a fair profit, especially in light of several thousand acres of new irrigated land going into production in the Upper Snake district. The majority of new land is planted to potatoes.

Lent pointed out that the contract processor potatoes had a direct influence on the fresh market price, especially since Idaho produces more than 20 per cent of the nation's supply.

Joe Houska, state board member from Magic Valley, reported a distinct movement among potato producing states in the nation to create a national marketing order which would control the movement and the quality of all potato crops. He said this could be the answer for an over-supply of potatoes in the future, and could be used to maintain an equitable cost-price balance.

Progress on the legislative efforts of the group was reported by L. A. Gillette, state vice president. He reported HB 233, the advertising commission bill, is in good position to become a law, but that the other two laws being sponsored by the association have run into trouble and are likely to be lost in the melee.

One of the bills was designed to protect the rights of a bargaining group and the other to control the shipment of potatoes into the state. At present, it is possible for processors and packers to ship ungraded potatoes into the state, package them and ship them out under Idaho labels. The bill was designed to protect the Idaho grower, Gillette said.

Hike in Steel Production in March Likely

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 27 (UPI)—Steel magazine predicted today that steel production and shipments will be stepped up 10 per cent in March even if automakers fail to increase buying.

The upturn was said to be inevitable because inventory liquidation is tapering off and steel consumption is trending upward seasonally.

The metalworking trades magazine estimated March output will be close to seven billion tons, compared to 6.2 billion in February. With a little help from the automotive industry, production may exceed seven billion tons for the first time since last June. First quarter production was forecast at 19.6 billion tons, up four per cent from the 18.9 billion in last year's fourth quarter.

Production now is at the highest level since last June and is expected to hold close to the current weekly output of about 1,500,000 tons the next few weeks.

Creating New Jobs Termed Top Problem

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—President Kennedy's top labor adviser says finding jobs for 26 million entrants in the work force during the next decade is the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, gave that figure in addressing a banquet in his honor last night by AFL-CIO union officials whom he formerly served as chief counsel.

Aides of Goldberg explained that while jobs must be found for 26 million workers in the next 10 years, vacancies for about half that number will open up due to death and retirement among present workers. Thus, they said, an estimated 13 million additional jobs are needed.

Goldberg said that widespread unemployment and dwindling job opportunities are high on the list of "unfinished business inherited by the present administration."

"All the things that have been swept under the rug during the past eight years are rapidly coming to light," he said.

Goldberg agreed with George Meany, AFL-CIO president, that finding jobs for the rapidly increasing work force and for workers displaced by new production techniques is a problem of major proportions.

India Leader Rejects Russ Plans in U.N.

NEW DELHI, Feb. 27 (AP)—Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that Dag Hammarskjold be replaced immediately as U.N. secretary-general by a three-man committee.
Nehru said that raising the question of Hammarskjold's continuance in office or reorganization of the U.N. secretariat "at present would be unfortunate."
"The Soviet Union has taken up a certain attitude in regard to the U.N. and the secretary-general," Nehru said in parliament. "We do not wish to go into that question."
Nehru made his statements in reply to a question in the upper house regarding a letter Nehru received from Khrushchev last week. Blaming Hammarskjold for the trouble in the Congo, Khrushchev said the secretary-general must be replaced by the three-man committee proposed by Russia at the last session of the general assembly.
The West rejected the Soviet reorganization plan.
Khrushchev also called for the establishment of a commission of African states empowered to restore peace in the Congo.
Commenting on Khrushchev's demand for Hammarskjold's ouster, Nehru said, "If any country wishes to raise this issue, let it be raised separately and not at this stage when it will come in the way of all effective attitudes of the United Nations."

Government's Expense Tops Cost of Living

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 (AP)—The cost of governing is rising even faster than the cost of living.
Tax Foundation, Inc., a private tax study group, reported yesterday that federal, state and local government spending more than doubled between 1950 and 1960.
"Ten years ago, governmental spending totaled $70.34 billion dollars. Last year, the figure was 153 billion dollars. And in fiscal 1961, it will be almost 181 billion dollars, the foundation said in its 11th biennial publication "Facts and Figures on Government Finance, 1960-61."

The federal government laid out 63 per cent of the total, Tax foundation said.
"If legislators give in to current pressures for huge spending increases at all levels of government, the resulting tax and expenditure totals will dwarf even the startling figures in this book," said Robert W. French, Tax foundation president.

The book, which covers tax rates, revenues, expenditures and debt at all levels of government, also said that total tax receipts in 1960 reached a new high of 127 billion dollars.
Gross debt at all government levels at the end of fiscal 1960—356 billion dollars—was 75 billion dollars higher than 10 years before.
Tax foundation said total government spending amounted to nearly 30 per cent of the gross national product, which it said reached 500 billion dollars a year in the first half of 1960 for the first time in history.

GOP Committee Opens Campaign On Vote Frauds

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Republican national committee is seeking to acquaint U.S. voters with a subject which some party leaders claim cost the GOP the presidency last November—election frauds.
In a 13-page booklet released yesterday, the committee's women's division offered suggestions on how citizens can prevent vote-stealing. The booklet—"Are you a shadow voter?"—also described a number of ways votes can be stolen.

"Over three million votes are stolen or lost in every national election," the booklet said. "The number of vote frauds, moreover, seems to be on the increase."
Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R., Ky., GOP national committee chairman, called the pamphlet "a pioneering document." He said he was proud that Republican women were seeking "clean elections on behalf of all Americans."
"Action is long overdue," he said.

Bureau's Idaho Spending Listed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—The U.S. bureau of reclamation will require an expenditure of $4,380,019 in Idaho during the next fiscal year, Idaho Sen. Frank Church announces.
The President's budget includes funds to start the Burns creek dam and reregulating reservoir, a 45 million dollar project which Church and other members of the Idaho congressional delegation hope to see authorized during this congressional session. Current appropriations requests include $487,500 to begin this project.
Of the total, the senator said, $2,030,819 is budgeted for expenditure entirely within Idaho and $2,349,200 partly within the state.

Marry in Coast Ceremony

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH W. MORRISON (Staff engraving)

Pair Married in Recent Rites at Home in Seattle

BUHL, Feb. 27 — Making their home at Centralia, Wash., are newly-married Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Morrison.

The bride is the former Annalouise Shape, daughter of Mrs. John M. Shape and the late Mr. Shape, Seattle, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ervin W. Morrison, Buhl.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows in Dec. 18 rites solemnized at the Rainier Beach United Presbyterian church at Seattle. The Rev. Elbert E. Sullivan officiated at the double ring ceremony before a picturesque window overlooking Lake Washington flanked by white chrysantheums.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ralph M. Shape, was escorted down a bridal aisle marked with white satin bows centered with a yellow cluster ribbon arrangement.

For her wedding the bride selected a white tulle floor-length gown fashioned with fitted bodice and lily point sleeves. Lace and iridescent sequins accented the scooped neckline. The hooped skirt was enhanced with soft pleats at the waist and ended in a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of bride's illusion featured a scalloped edge and inserts of Chantilly lace and was released from a crown of Chantilly lace adorned with seed pearls. She carried a white Rainbow Bible topped with a cascading bouquet of yellow and white roses.

Kathleen Gaskin, Seattle, maid of honor, was attired in dark brown tulle street-length gown accented with a scoop neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt. She wore matching brocade shoes and a net and chenille crown headdress and carried a nosegay of yellow carnations entwined with yellow and brown ribbon bows.

The bride's other attendants, Mary Ann Chevron, Camas, Wash., and Gretchen Everson, cousin of the bride, and Phyllis DeMarco, both Seattle, were gowned in identical toast brown tulle street-length dresses fashioned after the maid of honor. Each wore matching headdresses and brocade shoes and carried a white Bible topped with a single yellow carnation nestled in yellow and brown satin bows trimmed with cascading yellow satin streamers.

Patrick Boyle, Vancouver, Wash., cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Sidney Carter, Vancouver, Gan Martin, Coos Bay, Ore., a former Buhl resident, and David Smith, Chehalis, Wash.

Patricia Ann Mullin, Seattle, sang "Oh, Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Shape selected a beige lace over tulle street-length dinner dress. Her corsage was of white carnations encircled by copper and beige ribbons. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a fur and wool blend brown sheath afternoon dress, accented with a corsage of white carnations encircled with green and beige ribbon.

A reception for the 160 wedding guests followed the ceremony. The bride's lace covered table was centered with a three-tiered yellow and white wedding cake. It was served by Mrs. Elizabeth Dahl and Mrs. Pearl Grant, both Seattle, and Mrs. Gary Burke, Pullman, Wash., and Mrs. David Anderson, Spokane, presided over the coffee and tea service. Claudia Brown and Sherry Stevens poured punch. Jennie Gaskin, Seattle, registered guests and Mary Terdina, Seattle, was in charge of the gift table.

For the wedding trip the new Mrs. Morrison changed to a black walking suit accented with a fur collar, white blouse, white hat and black accessories. She also wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple is at home at 406 West Locust, apartment 3, Centralia, Wash.

The couple spent the holidays with the bridegroom's parents and were feted with a reception here by her parents.

Out-of-town guests were present from Spokane, Tacoma, Centralia, Pullman, Renton, Camas, Chehalis and Vancouver, Ore., Texas, Buhl, and Coos Bay, Ore.

The bride is a graduate of a Seattle high school and attended the University of Washington, Seattle, and Clark college, Vancouver.

The bridegroom was graduated from Buhl high school and attended the University of Idaho, Moscow, for two years.

He is taking an engineering course at Centralia Junior college, Centralia, Wash.

Care of Your Children
By ANGELO PATRI

Boys and girls—you who have a deep wish to be and do something that seems out of your reach, and who feel deprived of your life's desire, let me tell you that there is always a way to fulfill your wish, provided it is honest and that you are sincere about achieving it.

The first thing must be your own attitude. If you give up and sit down to weep by the willows of Babylon, there you will sit and nobody will care. But if you get on your feet, flex your muscles and look the situation in the face, searching for a way to your goal, you'll find it sooner or later.

Don't plan for a year or a month or a week ahead, plan for the present. What can you do at the moment that will lead to your wish? Maybe reading a book? That's always a good start. You can't know too much about your subject, so investigate every source of knowledge about it.

Tell people about what you want to do. There is always someone who knows about your field and can offer a suggestion, maybe open a door for you. Keeping your object a secret is no way to achieve it. Seek the acquaintance of masters in the field of your interest through the library and by personal introduction if possible. Masters are usually kind to beginners of any promise.

Keep thinking and planning.

FROM ALL ANGLES

By LARRY HOVEY

The new look in baseball has grown the word m-n-o-r and only the word professional covers what 146 cities in this country, Canada and Mexico will have this summer.

Warren LeTarte, field representative for the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, LeTarte, who met Sunday afternoon with Magic Valley Cowboy baseball club directors, said the by each parent club in their farm systems over the past 10 years has antiquated professional baseball in the terms thought of by the average fan.

Seven years ago, the parent clubs in Boston, Chicago and New York, were willing to wait six and one-half years to seven years for the young high school player or and letter to make the parent club. That timetable has now been moved up to three years now," LeTarte said. "By that I mean three years not counting time for a broken leg or some other injury or military service.

"With that timetable, it is hard to call a player a 'minor league' player. Because he's only in Twin Falls to pick up confidence. Under the policies that now exist under the 20 main clubs, a boy has to be three years to make it or be traded," LeTarte said. "I don't mean by that that Twin Falls fans won't see one of these boys about a grounder. Let's face it, though, if you took the line up of the world series last fall, you'd find that few of the games out here at Jaycee park would be that bad. And that was supposed to be the world's greatest baseball league," LeTarte said. "The major aim of the national association is re-introducing baseball to persons from the 16 to 45-year-old age group.

"There are fans falling within this age category but per capita they are very few," maintains LeTarte.

"Part of the reason is that word m-n-o-r," he mused. "They have been told the Pioneer league is class C ball and in the minor leagues. The new look has changed it's very similar to our education system. We have grades one through eight and then high school. No one says the sixth grade isn't as important as the senior year. Or the sixth grade teacher isn't as valuable to the system as the dean of men at a college," he said.

"There is nothing minor about professional baseball anymore. Under the old system, the parent clubs expected their prospects to come up from D, C, B, A, double A and triple A. It was the same as grade school going into high school or college.

"A fair percentage of the boys who will play in the Pioneer league this summer will get double A and triple A contracts. Next year others will go to the home training camps—most of them probably would stick but they'll still have that top contract," LeTarte said, fidgeting with his glasses.

"Baseball owners won't want the boy who is content with being a minor league player. The boys being signed now figure they can go to the major leagues or else they would stay in college or get a good paying job. The new look in baseball has changed most of play and 18.7 for the year. However, championships are awarded on total points.

The first top 12 men scored more than 700 points in the 12 league games.

The conference saw 11 conference records broken or tied during the year.

Bellevue's 687 points in conference play bettered by one the total racked up four years ago by the same school. The Bulldogs also scored the most points in a game—80—against Bliss, which scored 65. That combined total of 145 broke the mark set between Richfield and Carey in 1958-59.

Camas County scored 19 free throws against Hagerman for one mark while Gooding's Jayves and Dietrich hit 33 for the night for another. Richfield hit 743 of its free throws against opponent fouls to better a two-year record and Camas County hit 750 per cent for the year to ease Carey's 1958-59 team-out-of-its-old-mark-of-745.

Turning to individual statistics, Blanger, Gooding State, tied the record of 89 league fouls set by Gooding State's Shinkle two years ago. Elliott, Bliss, had 67 for the year, missing the record by six.

Gary Butler, Bliss, won free throw championships, hitting 55 for the league (two of the record) and 77 for the season (four behind the standard).

Richfield won the defensive title with a 39.7 average, two percentage points better than Camas County.

Bellevue Has Northside League's Top Scorer for Third Time in Four Years

The Bellevue Bulldogs, winners of the Northside conference hoop championship, boasted their third conference scoring champion in four years and third runner-up in four years also. With that type of individual effort, it is little wonder the Bulldogs also have set two team scoring records in those years.

Fai Barker, the little hotshot of 1959, put his name at the top of the list this season, according to Times-News statistics. Barker joins Dick Barker, 1957-58, and Ray McClure, last year's scoring champ, on the list. In addition, Jim O'Donnell topped the runner-up spot, a position held by his brother behind Dick Barker four years ago.

Fai took the scoring title with 86 points this year, behind the 81 record of McClure's and third to Mickey Barker's 210 total. O'Donnell had 101 points.

However, Tom Armstrong, Richfield, took the season record with 224 points. And further clouding the issue is John Briggs, Carey, who missed two games, had the best conference and seasonal average. Briggs was 19 even in hoop championship, hitting 55 for the league (two of the record) and 77 for the season (four behind the standard).
