Havana Is Left Without Water; Bombs Continue

HAVANA, April 8 (AP)—This virtually waterless capital felt new blows from the anti-Castro sabotage campaign today in defiance of a warning from Prime Minister Fidel Castro that "There may be shortages of counter-revolutionary water taps in most sections of Havana near dry after opposition saboteurs set off a time bomb and blasted a large water main leading from one of Havana's aqueducts. The government said it would order 100 more to restore service. Such attacks are a growing problem to the government already facing a shortage of the Cuban economy. Castro said even rationing may be necessary.

Remains of 3 Discovers in Wreckage, Accident Inquest to Mechanical Failure

GRANTS, N. M., April 8 (AP)—Remains of three crewmen of a B52 jet bomber, shot down accidentally by a national guard fighter plane, were discovered today. Two remaining crewmen were missing in the snowy wastes around Mt. Taylor in western New Mexico. The air force declined to identify those known dead. A mock aerial battle over the mountains yesterday ended with a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile, fired eight-mile-per-hour bomber. The plane crashed into the hillside, mechanical failure. Three men parachuted in safety and were recovered alive. They were kept incommunicado by the air force.

British Liner Lost, Most Aboard Saved

MANAMA, Bahrain, April 8 (AP)—Explosions rocked the crippled British liner Dura tonight after hundreds of passengers and crew jumped from the burning vessel and were plucked safely from the sea. A daring band of ship's officers tried and failed to take her in tow for salvage. A spokesman for the owners said the count of survivors rose steadily throughout the day—102—after the first SOS was sounded around dawn. Rescue craft scoured the Persian gulf after darkness fell, hunting about 300 people who were thought to be on the ship. A Royal air force search plane, with a rescue net, spotted six bodies floating near the liner. Three life-saving equipment were also spotted. There was no reaction, Fritch said.

Helpful Hints Are Given on Tax Returns

"The three most important things to remember when filing federal or state income tax returns are file 'em before the due date, make the forms legible and check the computations," emphasized Charles Olsen, senior revenue agent at the Twin Falls office of the internal revenue service.

He noted that all federal returns must be filed in Boise with the district director on Monday, April 17. "The date change is due to the fact that April 15 falls on Saturday."

"Penalties are provided in the law for late filing," Olsen stated. "However, if a good reason for late filing exists, the person may apply at the nearest internal revenue office for an extension."

This application, he continued, must be filed by the due date. He explained that if a return is fileable or if the computations are incorrect, it adds work and holds up refunds. "Be sure the W-2 statement is attached," Olsen added.

"Blank federal returns are available at the internal revenue office, postoffice and some banks. The main part of our program is to assist people to prepare their forms and to have them understood and what they are doing," Olsen emphasized. "We don't do the book work for the people." He added, "We are here to help you."

Office hours at the local office are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. There are no definite office hours Tuesday through Friday. Address of the office is 518 Blue Lakes boulevard north. Olsen concluded, "We will answer questions of the people. I suggest that for the answer to a simple question, a person call the office."

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy's forthcoming conferences with President Charles de Gaulle of France are an event of unusual international importance because of the French statesman's reputation as a leading American and British foreign policy adviser.

De Gaulle differs with President Kennedy on the latter's Premier Minister Harold Macmillan on almost every major question now confronting the United States. He feels that Washington and London are resigning France to a mixture of Russian and Chinese internationalism.

Mr. De Gaulle will need all his qualities of leadership in his talks with French and American leaders. It has been noted that de Gaulle's aim is to bring the West and the East together.

It should Moscow succeed in this effort, it could mean the breakup or the weakening of the North Atlantic Treaty organization. As the recent SALT conference on the Atlantic side suggested, these aspects are not as united and effective as they appear to be.

BIG THREE DISUNITY—The only solid organization for defense of the West and a deterrent to the Soviet Union, and the three friends needs considerable strengthening, according to Gen. Louis Stoltz, its commander. Stoltz de Gaulle feels that the United States should be in a leadership role.

It was French insistence, for instance, that led to a serious dilution of the language of the resolution on Latin America and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, as well as a British and American statement at Bandung, wanted a much stronger resolution.

De Gaulle refused to agree. He was undoubtedly influenced by the fact that the United States and Britain tried to support the French in their vain attempt to maintain their position in Indochina several years ago. There has been an unemployment among the big three since.

FRENCH GRANDUR, PRESTIGE—De Gaulle also criticizes the American attitude toward the difficulties in the Congo. Whereas the United States has been silent, de Gaulle has been very vocal.

De Gaulle has spoken contemptuously of the United States' refusal to support the French in their efforts to negotiate a satisfactory peace settlement.

He probably also recalls that Kennedy, as a result of the French position in the Congo, is a critic of the French position in the Congo.

LITTLE SUMMIT IN PARIS—De Gaulle's real criticism likewise damages the Geneva attempt to reach an agreement with Russia for banning nuclear tests. He insists on his right to continue nuclear tests.

He also insists on his right to continue nuclear tests equally with the United States and Great Britain in this field. He resents their failure to make his own nuclear tests.

Despite NATO's guarantees, De Gaulle doubts whether the United States and Great Britain would risk a nuclear war with the Soviet Union. He has said that he would not risk a nuclear war with the Soviet Union.

He has said that he would not risk a nuclear war with the Soviet Union. He has said that he would not risk a nuclear war with the Soviet Union.

IT'S JUST GOOD BUSINESS

Unanimous endorsement recently by the Bull Board in its endorsement of the proposal for expansion of the Bull Board highway district was the result of the fact that the highway district was in the right direction.

The area west of the Salmon Falls creek includes the Bull Board area. The Bull Board company is contributing to the financing of the highway district. It is more our responsibility to finance the highway district.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—This reporter recently met an official of the West German government who reported that the West German reports of America's radical right are pre-communist. He said that the radical right is a force to be reckoned with.

It is not news. Marquis Childs says to accept this analogy to be covered, as are the other, is available citizens with what is almost a vigorous spirit growing in certain parts of the country. This is associated with the "Operation Showdown" of the film, "Operation Showdown" by the house un-American activities committee from private industry and turned over to another private firm for commercial sale.

Recently when Roger Kent, Democratic state chairman for California, was in Washington he conferred with Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara on the effect the film is having in California in influencing the political climate. The defense department has ordered that 15,000 copies of the film at $100 each and encouraged its widespread showing to trainees and others.

McNamara told Kent that he had previously ordered that 15,000 copies of the film at $100 each and encouraged its widespread showing to trainees and others.

Jerome Area Cancer Workers Hear Crusade Plans Outlined

JEROME, April 8—Area chairmen and workers heard plans outlined for the American Cancer Society crusade by Mrs. Tom Ridinger, Jerome county chairman, at a meeting held Thursday afternoon at the Episcopal parish hall.

The three word imperative "Guard your family" will again be the theme of the crusade which opened Friday in Jerome.

For the third successive year who die of cancer in the U.S. each year, but who could have been saved by heeding the simple advice stressed in the society's educational program.

Officers of the county association include Mrs. Ridinger, Mrs. Sam Thornton, East End chairman; Mrs. Oscar Fort, home service; Mrs. Mary Marshall, treasurer; Mrs. L. W. Sanborn, publicity; and Dr. James E. Sims, medical adviser.

Others assisting the program include Mrs. Warren Kaye, display boards; Mrs. Everett Main, north-east city chairman; Mrs. Lynn Garner, southeast city; Mrs. William Block, south rural; Mrs. Paul

Program for New Citizens Set Thursday

SHOSHONE, April 8.—Seven persons will receive United States citizenship at the naturalization ceremony to be held at 11 a.m. Thursday in the courthouse. A special program is being scheduled under direction of the county clerk, Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey.

Those to receive citizenship are Felix Gonzalez, San Valley; Sebastian Gagliardi, Shoshone; Andres Brizuela, San Valley; Emma Sava, Shoshone; Ruby Brischana, Shoshone; Ruby Rose Brilow, Gooding; and William Edward Thompson, Shoshone.

Charles Scoggin, district judge, will hold court with matrimonial examiner Kiefer L. Gray presenting the candidates. Mrs. Kinsey will administer the oaths of allegiance.

The special program includes the posting of the colors by Scotty David Thomas and Steve Glisby with Robert Tamaka as bugler. The audience will participate in the pledge of allegiance and the Rev. John F. Turk, vicar of Christ Church Episcopal, Shoshone, will give the invocation.

The American's creed will be recited and the judge will address the new citizens after they take their oaths. Special musical selections will include a solo by Mrs. Nell Lucke, Gooding, and the high school music department will sing "This is My Country," under direction of Mrs. Valma Allen. Mrs. Marjorie Pines will be accompanist for the solo by Mrs. Lucke.

Weeks Yaden post will present films to the new citizens. The public is invited.

Stevens, north rural, and Mrs. Duane Heasler, chairman of the Women of the Moose, who will solicit the northwest section of town.

Kimberly School Vote Set Tuesday

KIMBERLY, April 8.—Two school trustees for districts four and five of the Kimberly class A district #14 will be elected Tuesday.

Haliph Scott has filed for the trustee post in district four, presently held by Richard Brown. Brown is not running for reelection. Art Walker is the incumbent in district five.

Voters must live in either district four or five. Boundaries for district four extend from one mile south of Kimberly to the top of the butte, four miles south of town. District five extends from four miles south to the southern boundary of the school district.

The election will be held in the Kimberly high school agriculture building with the polls open from 10 to 8 p.m.

Election returns will be a resident of the school district and their trustee district, either parents or guardians of a child attending under 21 or pay taxes within the school district and the trustee district.

Trustees are elected for three-year terms.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevy is doing—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. Chevy's clean-cut looks, for example. The tasteful interior of its finely crafted Body by Fisher. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. The precise way it steers. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turbocharge.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there, you see, is where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure it was a Chevy, you'd imagine you were

Buhl Jaycees Honor 2 at Dinner Meet

Buhl, April 8 — Lyle Evans, manager of the Idaho State Telephone and Telegraph company, received the outstanding citizen award and Chester Parker, Idaho Power sales representative, got the outstanding junior citizen award during the eighth annual Jaycee DSA banquet, Friday night at the R and R cafe.

Clay Smith received the plaque on behalf of Parker who was unable to attend. Evans is serving as vice president and is on the executive committee of the Buhl Jaycees Chamber of Commerce. He also belongs to the Rotary club, Royal Arch, Masons and served as master of ceremonies for the DSA banquet for the past two years.

He is active in the First Presbyterian church, serving as a member of the church choir and chairman of the music committee. Evans also sings in the church choir.

In addition he sings with "The Rookies." Buhl's barber shop quartered and has taken part in the PTA musicals here the past two years.

In presenting Parker's award, Dr. Garth Alford pointed out the recipient is active in Jaycees work and the local LDS church. Parker has served as Scoutmaster for troop 2 for the past two years and is an international scoutmaster.

Seeks Post In Civil Service

BURLEY, April 8—W. L. Keller filed a petition Friday with Ben Davis, registrar for the Burley city election, as a candidate for councilman of the first ward. There were 10 signatures on the petition and 25 are required.

Keller came to Burley in 1947 and has been in agriculture here since. He received his master's degree in agriculture from the University of Missouri. He has had more than 20 years' service with the army during World War II and in the active reserves. Keller has been engaged in the spraying business for the past six years.

Only Half of Junior High School Serviced by Adequate Heating System

A heating plant, completed in 1954, serves the Twin Falls junior high school "adequately," according to Ernest Ragland, school district superintendent. However, only half the building is heated by modern unit ventilators; the other half still is heated by a system of flue chimneys described as a fire hazard by authorities. This part of the improvement planned if school district voters approve a $1,235,000 bond issue next month. (Staff photo-Engraving)

About $50,000 Is Needed to Renovate Heating System in Junior High School

An estimated $50,000 is needed to complete renovation of the Twin Falls junior high school heating and ventilation system, according to Ernest Ragland, superintendent of the Twin Falls school district. Officials have criticized the present system, terming the building a fire hazard. Ragland explained the school acquired a modern heating plant in 1954. At that time the flue chimney system used to heat and ventilate the building was closed off on the southeast side of the building and a unit heating and ventilating system installed. However, the northwest side of the building lacks the "unit-vent" heating system and is honey-combed with flue-chimneys.

Other requirements to make the building more safe, Ragland explained, are two additional fire escapes, to give the building a total of four, and extension of fire doors in the sub-basement compartments that are in case of fire.

A similar fire hazard caused by a flue-chimney heating and ventilating system exists at Lincoln elementary school, the official notes. Again, additional money is required to close off this system and substitute unit ventilators in each classroom.

These projects will be financed if voters in the school district approve a $1,235,000 bond issue, which will be decided next month. The bond election was approved upon recommendation of the Citizens' School Planning Committee, which studied the present school system this winter.

Recommendations are based upon the Weitzin Report of 1956, a study of the Twin Falls school district prepared by Frederick Weitzin, dean of education at the University of Idaho. The Citizens' School Planning committee endorsed all recommendations made by Weitzin. These included a new junior high school on another site to relieve classroom pressure at the present junior high school, the largest in Idaho; the heating plant renovations at the junior high school and Lincoln school, and additional classrooms at the Twin Falls high school.

Fairfield Officer Goes to Bayview
FAIRFIELD, April 8—Conservation Officer Martin Luther who has served in this district for the past nine years is to be transferred to northern Idaho where he will be manager of a game refuge near Bayview.

His successor in this district has not been announced by the fish and game department yet. Luther is the son of Mrs. C. A. Luther, Gooding, and Mrs. Luther is the former Margaret Koonee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Koonee, Fairfield. They have two small sons.

Luther was presented with a token of appreciation by the Soldier Mountain Rifle and Pistol club at a recent meeting. He has been an instructor and organizer.

Shoshone Farmer Buys Area Hotel
BIOSHOPPE, April 8—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whiteland, North Shoshone farmers for many years, have traded their farm for the Wendell hotel and have moved there. New owners of the Whiteland farm are Mr. and Mrs. Delia, formerly of Dietrich and Shoshone.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Jones and daughters, Mrs. Louis Stalon and children, all of Medical Lake, Wash., visited this week with his mother, Mrs. Olive Jones, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Sullivan.

Mrs. Hazel Grenfell, Grace Valley, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith, Dep. 1, Mrs. Vioa Dreyer, village clerk, reports.

Heyburn Official Notes Leash Law
HEYBURN, April 8—All dog owners must comply with the village leash law, beginning May 1 until Sept. 1. Mrs. Vioa Dreyer, village clerk, reports.

The ordinance applies not only to dog owners but any person having a dog in his care or possession, she points out. It also applies to those owning a dog whether or not the animal is licensed.

Dog license fees are one and one-half dollars and one and one-half dollars for unspayed females. Licenses for males and spayed females are $1 and $2 for unspayed females.

Violation of the leash law constitutes a misdemeanor, Mrs. Dreyer stated.

at what age?
"When should my child begin piano lessons?" That's the question most asked of music teachers. Generally, they recommend starting at about 5 years old—earlier if the child shows a marked aptitude for music.

This 40-year-old fan and ventilation system still distributes heat to one-half of the Twin Falls junior high school. It has been described by authorities as a fire hazard and the system will be replaced with new unit ventilators in all classrooms if a $1,235,000 bond issue is approved by voters next month. Ernest Ragland, pointing to the out-of-date heating equipment, says if the ventilation system is replaced, it will be taken out, leaving space in the school basement for storage. The major portion of the bond issue will finance construction of another junior high school. (Staff photo-Engraving)

Two Mishaps Are Probed by Police

Twin Falls police investigated two minor auto accidents Saturday afternoon. No citations were issued and no injuries reported.

At 3:01 p.m. Saturday, officers reported two cars backed out of driveways on opposite sides of the 200 block of Madison street and collided. Drivers were identified as M. E. Barrus, 24, 254 Madison street, and Kenneth E. Wright, 24, 251 Madison street. Damage was estimated at $40 to the rear of the Barrus 1956 Chevrolet. No damage was reported to Wright's car.

An accident in the 300 block of Second avenue south at 1:30 p.m. caused $20 damage to both cars involved. A car driven by Oscar O. Rice, 71, Aurora, Colo., collided with a parked car owned by Virgil N. Price, 61, 1324 Kimberly road.

Car Overturns
RUPERT, April 8—Mrs. Ruth A. McClure, 28, Rupert, lost control of her 1953 Buick as she was making a right turn off Highway 300 four miles south of here at 2 p.m. Saturday. The vehicle went into the borrow pit and overturned.

Sheriff Theo Johnson set damages at $100. Mrs. McClure escaped injury.

Northview Group Eyes Fair Booth
BOULDER, April 8—Members of Northview Grange were urged to place their gardens according to needs for the Grange fair booth this year when they met in regular session Wednesday night.

Committee members selected for the fair booth included Leura Shriver, chairman; Eugene Ruth-erford, Leon Morris and Orin Freeman. It was announced a Northview 4-H livestock club had been organized and the first meeting was held Thursday.

Mrs. Dale Welch was received as a new member by dems from the Goodland Grange. The fitness committee reported Mrs. Leon Morris was ill at home, and James

$650 in Damages Listed in Mishap

Some $650 damage resulted when a driver averted to avoid an oncoming vehicle and rolled into a ditch one-quarter mile north of Boggs on Highway 20 at 1:30 a.m. Saturday, state police report. Carroll G. Jones, 16, 303 Casswell avenue, the driver, received a slight hip injury. State Patrolman John Wray reports. Jones was not hospitalized. He was driving north, estimated his speed at the time of the accident at 40 miles per hour. His car rolled over twice. Wray said. No citation was issued.

New Chairman Named for Library Unit

Dr. E. M. Wright was named chairman of the Twin Falls public library board of trustees at the board's meeting Wednesday afternoon at the library.

Other new officers are Mrs. Glen Travi, vice chairman; Mrs. Frank DeLuca, secretary, and Mrs. U. N. Terry, treasurer.

The balcony improvement project was postponed again by the board until further study can be made on its feasibility and cost.

Arthur I. DeVolder, city librarian, commented that the best time to build the balcony, if approval is granted, would be during the summer months.

He added that approximately 12,000 to 14,000 books will have to be moved before any work can be done.

The trustees approved the appointment of Shirley Hoskins to replace Mildred Stainmarr and also approved a two-week vacation for Edith Dyer.

In other business DeVolder reported that during March 102 adult, 72 juvenile and 16 youth books were purchased, and 30 adult, two juvenile and five youth books were received as gifts for a total accession listing of 237 titles.

Books worn out and withdrawn totaled 16, with 180 books being rebound and 10 magazines bound. Books, magazines and record covers repaired in the library totaled 271. Photograph records added were three juvenile and one adult with three adult records withdrawn.

New readers registered were 138 adult and 46 juvenile. With the end of the two-year registration period 700 adult and 604 juvenile cards were withdrawn.

Films added during the month were 95 mm. Process is still continuing on the 16mm. films and they should be completed within the next 30 days.

The total number of books issued during March were 10,446 with adult fiction circulation amounting to 2,220; non-fiction, 2,646; periodicals, 412, and pamphlets, 30 as well as two pictures from the art collection. Juvenile fiction was 2,727; non-fiction, 718; periodicals, 24, and pamphlets, 11; while the youth division books charged out were 431; fiction, 283; non-fiction, seven periodicals and 26 pamphlets.

The library was open 27 days for the issuance of books with an average daily circulation of 387 items; 446 for the high day and 261 for the low-daily-circulation. Non-fiction circulated was forty per cent of the total.

Phonograph records circulated were 49 adult and 123 juvenile for a total of 172. Overdue notifications were 246 adult, 102 juvenile, 71 youth totaling 419. Bills sent were 49 adult, 27 juvenile, and 10 youth for a total of 76. The library sent 59 attorneys letters for books delinquent more than 30 days.

Receipts totaled $3,000 from city appropriation, $218.01 in fines, $48 from the pay shelf and $40.50 for non-resident cards. Total income was $3,230.51 and expenditures totaled $2,549.37.

Other activities reported were story hour attendance of 68 persons and the winning of three books for prizes for honorable mention in the World Display contest held by the Oceana Publications of New York.

New Manager

Oren C. Fisher, who has been appointed by the Garrett Freightlines as new terminal manager at Twin Falls. He assumes a position previously held by J. C. Denning who will remain with the company in this area as sales representative. (Staff engraving.)

New Manager For Trucking Firm Named

Oren C. Fisher has been advanced to the position of terminal manager at Twin Falls, according to C. A. Garrett, president and general manager of Garrett Freightlines.

Fisher joined the Garrett organization in 1942 as an accountant, later advancing to company auditor and, in 1952, was promoted to director of personnel and safety.

This appointment as terminal manager at Twin Falls is in keeping with company policy to provide the shipping public with the best personnel available.

The company spokesman stated: "Fisher takes over the position previously held by J. C. Denning, who will remain with the company in Twin Falls as sales representative."

Fisher has been active in the Pocatello united campaign. He will assume his new duties around April 10. His wife, Betty, and their two children will join him in Twin Falls at the end of the present school term.

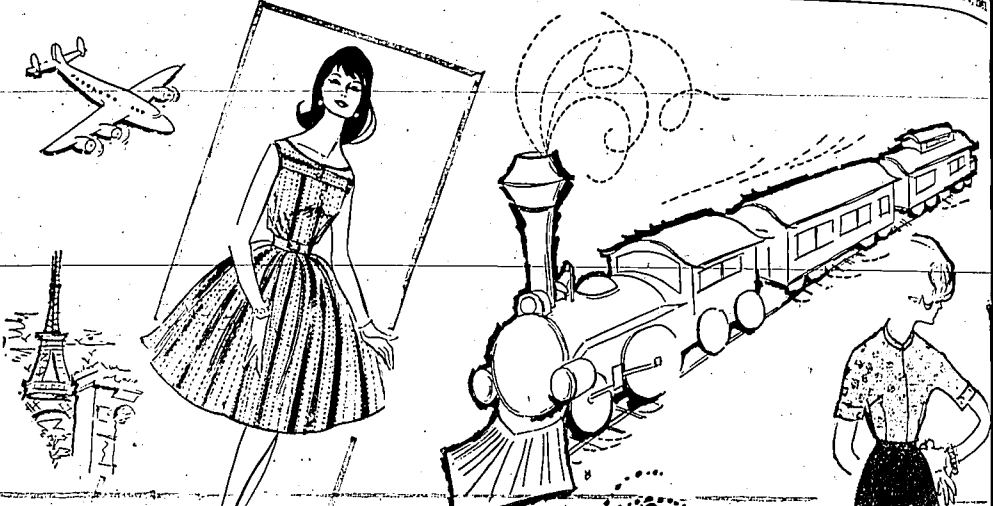

Hansen School to Present Concert

HANSEN, April 6.—The Hansen high school music department will present a pre-festival concert at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school gymnasium.

The chorus will sing "La Spagnola," by De Chiara; "The Snow," by Elgar, and "This is the Garden," by Berlichett. The band will perform the "Ballad for Young Americans," by Hermann; "The Klaxon," a march by Pilmore and "Two Opera Selections," by Gluck.

A trumpet trio, Terry Butler, Steve Radmall and Juleno Stearns, will be accompanied by the band.

Ray Timmerman will be installed as commander of the VFW post at ceremony to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the VFW hall.

Malta Merchants Call Protest Meeting Monday on Highway Location

A local hearing has been called by merchants of Malta for 8 p.m. Monday in the Barf River high school to discuss a plan of action to oppose the proposed routing of the interstate highway in the area.

John Lockhart, chairman of the Malta village board of trustees, said, "We don't like the decision of the state highway board this week." The board has decided to keep the location as shown on the map from Snowville on the Utah state line to Cotterell. At a hearing held in Malta March 22, Malta merchants proposed changing the route closer to Malta. They contend this route would save the state highway department more money than through the Juniper pass as the highway board proposes. (Staff engraving)

Work Group Reported for PTA in Area

HAGERMAN, April 8—The PTA committee for the Hagerman PTA was organized at a meeting Thursday. Members are L. G. Gilmore, Mrs. Rex McKinley, Mrs. Mrs. Bob Adolph.

Mrs. Frank Hirsch, president of the PTA, reported that the group will be held May 5 for all young girls who will start school next year. Mrs. Gilmore, Mrs. McKinley, Mrs. Adolph, Mrs. Hirsch are in charge of the group.

Waters Berry, representative of the PTA-sponsored Cub Scout pack, made the annual report on the pack activities.

Field day for the first through the sixth grades has been set for 1 p.m. May 18. Mrs. Alice Paxton, Mrs. Charles Gary, Jr., and Mrs. Hatcher are on the committee for that event.

Mrs. Adolph instructed the guest speaker, the Rev. Jack A. Jennings, Wendell Presbyterian minister, who showed a film and answered questions on mental health. Officers will be elected and gifts at the next meeting, May 4. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gilson and Mrs. H. N. Rosenbaum.

41 More U.S. Committees to Be Killed Off

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—President Kennedy killed off 41 more interagency committees today as part of a drive to rid the government of needless or outdated advisory and consultative boards.

Earlier he had ordered abolition of 17 such bodies which theretofore reported to the White House.

None of the committees eliminated today reported to the President, but a White House spokesman said their termination will save an undetermined amount of money.

On the list were bodies with titles ranging from the "committee on the negative sciences" to the "interdepartmental separation committee" and the "backlogging committee for the NATO planning board for European inland surface transportation."

The interdepartmental separation act setting was set up in the budget bureau, which has certain functions in coordinating interagency activities. Officials said negative act is map-making project.

Kennedy on March 9 directed all department heads to select committees which no longer are needed and recommend their abolition.

Buhl Citizens Group Assists With School Building Project

DULLE, April 8—Bill Roberts was elected chairman and George Likens, secretary, of the Buhl Citizens committee, a selected group which has been organized to assist the local school trustees with the various aspects of the forthcoming school building program which will cost about $400,707, officers said.

Members of the committee have been touring and inspecting school buildings in the district this week to gain first hand knowledge about existing problems which will enable them to evaluate the recommendations made by the board of trustees concerning the construction of a new elementary school building and remodeling of present school buildings.

The trustees and the committee will then formulate the final proposal for school construction to be presented to the voters in the district.

During a committee meeting this week at school board trustees Fred Branstetter, chairman, and Rex Engeling, superintendent, outlined the problems pertaining to school buildings of the district. William Adams, vice chairman, discussed recommendations for school construction and remodeling proposals and requested the committee to formulate these recommendations. Robert P. Penick, clerk, discussed cost estimates, bonding limits and other financial aspects.

He noted that the estimated cost of a new elementary building as proposed would be approximately $150,000 and an added $150,000 to be used for remodeling the P. H. Buhl school and the high school. The total figures include architect fees, a contingency fund and equipment costs.

It was pointed out that a $400,000 issue authorized over 20 years would result in an annual mill increase of about eight mills or 28 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation. The present bonding capacity of the district is set at 15 per cent of assessed value, less any outstanding bonds.

Burley Plans Skill-O-Rama For April 15

DULLE, April 8—Final plans are being formulated for the Snake River area council's Skill-O-Rama to be held April 15 at the Buhl-high school auditorium for Cub Scouts and Explorers of the Cassia and Minidoka districts, reports Art Haycock, Buhl, general chairman.

Several more units have been selected to demonstrate their scouting skills. Those of the Cassia district are troop 16, sponsored by Unity LDS ward, home repairs; troop 18, Pella LDS ward; troop 22, Oakley LDS first ward, woodwork; and troop 110, Buhl LDS eighth ward, farm layout.

Minidoka district groups are troop 46, Rupert First Methodist church, plaster casting; troop 48, Heyburn LDS second ward, physical fitness; troop 55, Acquia LDS ward, and stone pictures; and troop 78, Rupert LDS third ward, farm layout.

A total of 33 booths have been requested by the two districts to date. There still is room for two or three more units if applications are submitted to the council office in Twin Falls before April 10, Haycock said.

Incomplete returns on ticket sales show the following boys have earned special neckerchief sashes: Don Whitlie, troop 12; Merlin Sillip, Dennis James, Arin Anderson, David Cole and Joe Marley, Burley troop 121; Steven Darley, Monte Walter Smith, Lanny Jensen, Randy Welch and Raymond Newfoundland became a British colony in 1712 by the treaty of Utrecht.

No Tobacco After Spree in Lincoln

ROME, April 8 (AP)—The filter cigarette—putting—ones—of Italy's successful industries out of business.

Pickings are getting slim for the stooped little men with apple-tipped canes who pick up butts from the streets.

They used to be able to sell to tobacco and salt to the state cigarette monopoly.

But now, streets are "buttfilled," "filters"—there's no tobacco there.

McCombs, pack 48; Dennis Abot, Curtis Bair and Ferris Taylor; Heyburn troop 98; Donald McMillan, Duane Stapleton, Richard Carolina and Carl Reed, Rupert pack 46; Richard Parker and Dennis Lowder, Acquia troop 55; Ronald Mingo, Emerson troop 47, and Raymond Denton, Rennie Newcomb, both Rupert troop 65.

Boys who have won special gold neckerchief alphas for selling 50 tickets are Steven Darley, Heyburn pack 48, and Ronald Mingo, Emerson troop 47.

Police Nab Man After Spree in Train Mail Car

LINCOLN, Ill., April 8 (AP)—Wallace S. Huff, 21, had a comfortable berth although it inconvenienced a lot of people.

Authorities today were holding Huff without charge in Lincoln city jail, and truck-packing him with gunny sacks to recover hundreds of letters from mail sacks they said he tossed from a speeding Pullman and Ohio train between Bloomington and Lincoln.

Berry Harris, a railroad detective, said the southbound train was stopped about midnight at Lincoln, and its conductor noted that mail was being tossed out of supposedly sealed mail cars en route from Chicago to Peoria, Ill.

City police were summoned when they arrived, they said. Huff was snoring on a bed of mail sacks. The policeman said Huff was puffed when they crossed him and took him off to jail. He offered no intelligible comment. Officials said they did not know where Huff boarded the train.

Three Candidates File for Rupert

RUPERT, April 8—Three more files for city officers were filed today by Mrs. Loreta Klincenberg, city clerk.

Worshipful Master Glover Ackerman, mayor, who seeks reelection, and two incumbents, William J. Hollenbeck and Roy Cunningham, Jr.

Mrs. Klincenberg said that there were no other questions out. Filing deadline is Thursday.

Worshipful Master and Price Bussac have previously filed for the office of mayor. Mrs. Klincenberg said the office of mayor will be held from 7 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Wednesday from April 19 to 21 and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. on Thursday, in accordance to those wishing to register for the election. Dead line for registration is April 22, she said.

Moves Noted by Fairfield Vicinity

FAIRFIELD, April 8—Mr. and Mrs. Lylo Hupler, Tuttle, have moved to the Everett Center. Willow creek ranch where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Harness have moved back to their farm after spending the winter at their home in Chicago.

Minnie Shaw, Corral, has gone to Welser to attend the oldtime dance. She is the ceremonial chairman of the oldtime fiddlers.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hansen, Redmond, have moved to the Levard Hansen farm and will reside there until fall when he plans to move to Pocatello and attend ISG.

Fund Growing

BIOSHOP, April 8—Contributions are increasing for the swimming pool fund, according to Robert Powner, Junior Chamber of Commerce member in charge of the project.

The fund now has over $100, mostly as memorials for the late E. L. Bickney, caretaker of the city park for several years before his death, and the late Elsie Hall.

A great drought in the Colorado Welherli mesa put an end to fishing and hunting activities of the Pueblo Indians who were cliff dwellers in that region.

Filer Residents Report Deaths

FAIRFIELD, April 8—Mrs. Ronald Ray left this week for Oklahoma City, Okla., to be a bridesmaid in the wedding of a college friend.

Mrs. H. W. Lolley, Welser, was a recent house wife of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Meyer.

Paul McDonough returned this week from a two-week trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murrow, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Long and children, Doreen, Okla., are visiting the Glenn Stutzman and Art Trimmer families.

Mrs. J. H. Birdwell and daughters, Cambridge, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Zantz.

Migrant Laborer Problems Noted

HANSEN, April 8—The agricultural committee reported on an article in the Idaho Farmer about conditions migrant laborers have to face and misrepresentations of these conditions, at the Grange meeting-Thursday evening.

Members also reported that lettuce growers should not be used on alfalfa if the ground is to be used later for potatoes. Conditions affecting the bean market and price changes also were reported.

Kenneth Naylor showed colored maps of 120 trips to the Southern states and Florida and one to Guyana's lake.

Man Sentenced

BIOSHOP, April 8—Delmar Edwards, Shoshone, was sentenced to three years in the state penitentiary Thursday morning by District Judge Charles Boggs for violation of parole.

He had been placed on probation after having been convicted of grand larceny in connection with the Idaho Grange Wholesale store here.

State Reports of ESA Mark Meet

State reports were featured at the meeting of Alpha Xi Omega, Epistolian Sigma Alpha, Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Agnes Husted in Jerome.

A letter was read from Joyce Swift, state president, outlining requirements for the awards to be presented at the state convention. The state bylaws were read and discussed and changes approved. Other state reports also were received.

Mrs. Husted presented the program on religion. She discussed the 11 major religions of the world with a brief history of each one.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Husted and Mrs. Clifton Petersen.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

We expect children to reach the age of discretion and so free to act on their own initiative without getting into difficulties they cannot manage. But at what stage of their growth and development is a child at this desirable state? Certainly the number of years he has lived is not the standard.

Some young people are mature enough to make important decisions for themselves at age 16, some not at age 20. Yet how important it is to all concerned that each one reach the age of discretion as early in life as his ability permits.

Each child arrives in this world with certain inherent qualities. Some of these are strong and some not. It is the variation of these abilities that make the difference in the development of personal power in the children. Some seem to be born with what is known as common sense, although it is about as uncommon as anything can be. Others are years to acquire enough sound judgment ability to let them go to the market to buy a list of groceries.

Benefit Card Party Scheduled by T. F. Newcomers Club

Making plans for the Newcomers club benefit card party to be held at 8 p.m. Friday at the Elks hall are, from left, Mrs. Jerry Garrett, Mrs. John Christoffersen and Mrs. Stanley Bedner, chairman. Discretion (or common sense) can be developed in any normal-minded child if his parents will encourage him to exercise it. The child's allowance is one way to do this. After explaining to him how he is to use it, let him do so. Refrain from helping him out when he makes a mistake like spending it without thought of consequences. One experience of going without what seems to him absolutely necessary for his welfare will go a long way toward teaching him discretion in that field.

If parents will plan so that each child assumes some responsibility within his power, and keeps hands off when he fails in responsibility, his children in their care will enter the age of discretion sooner.

When a mistake goes to the rescue, saying, "Now, just this once I'll make good for you," her child will remain outside that desirable situation for some time to come. Personal responsibility within the child's understanding and ability is what creates common sense and brings the child to the age of discretion for which their parents pray.

Women Discuss Election Parleys Of DAV Groups

Meeting meetings were discussed by members of the Disabled American Veterans auxiliary Monday evening at the DAV hall. Officers will be elected at a meeting April 25 of district three at Burley and local auxiliary officers will be elected May 1. Local delegates also will be named for the department convention to be held June 8 and 9 at Rupert. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Carl Butterfield with Mrs. Lydia Graybill and Vera Blades pro tem officers. Reported on the sick list were LeRoy Rehnalt and children. A report of absent prayer was held by Mrs. Jennie McDonald, sister of DAV Commander Dewey H. H. who died Easter Sunday. Mrs. M. M. Knight were reported still visiting relatives in Oregon, Washington and California. Mrs. Murrel Blades reported on the social held at her home. A social dinner was served and the day was spent sewing and putting quilt blocks. The auxiliary will clean the hall April 25. Members are asked to come early in the morning and to bring a covered dish for a potluck luncheon and cleaning table. The flag was retired by Mrs. Gauda and Mrs. Rehnalt. Prayer was led by Mrs. Graybill. Hostess was Mrs. Doretta Atkinson, assisted by Mrs. Graybill in the absence of Mrs. Dorcy Williams. May hostesses will be Mrs. Rehnalt and Mrs. Clyde Koster.

Future Homemakers Note Banquet, Installation Rite

Dorothy Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Shepherd, was installed Thursday evening as president of the Twin Falls high school chapter of Future Homemakers of America during the chapter's second annual family-daughter banquet in the high school cafeteria. Others installed are Linda Yarborough, secretary, and Darlene Perry, treasurer. Dorothy Evans, outgoing president, was toastmaster and installing officer, Tamara Morgan, vice president, who was installed last year, gave the welcoming address, and Carol Anderson, outgoing secretary, introduced the guests. Miss Shepherd gave the invocation. The new officers will serve during the 1961-62 school year. Carrying out the banquet theme, "Home, the Hub of Good Citizenship," was a mural on one wall of the cafeteria depicting a home surrounded by various walks of life. Tables were decorated along the theme of family togetherness. Miss Perry explained the purposes of the FHA organization and how the purposes benefit the community. Miss Evans reported highlights of the chapter's activities during the school year. Marilyn Gail was presented the senior award for outstanding work done in the high school chapter. Girls who will receive their state degrees at the state FHA convention in Boise were introduced. They are Miss Evans, Miss Morgan, Kathy Herritt, Carol Anderson, Kathy Arrington, Gertrude Farnsworth, Lana Langston and Verna Shobe. Miss Perry and Nelda Taylor are delegates to the state convention, which began Saturday and concludes Monday. Miss Morgan has been nominated for state FHA historian. Members receiving junior chap-

Woman Is Favorite Project of Milner Clubs

Mrs. Elizabeth Webb is the favorite project of the Friendship circle and the WSP club in Milner. Mrs. Webb, who is 84 and almost blind, is the eldest resident of the community. The clubs sponsor a special birthday anniversary celebration each year for her and in other ways try to make her life a little happier. The two women's organizations provide social activities for the community in addition to the usual club projects. (Staff photo-enslaving)

Organizations for Women Provide Milner Activities

MILNER, April 8.—Two women's organizations provide the social activity for the community. Milner does not have a church or a school, and events usually associated with these are provided by the women along with usual club projects. With the arrival of a harvest of fruit jars from the children's home-in-Bols; members of the Friendship circle and the WSP club anticipate a busy year of activity. The Friendship circle has been a part of the Milner community since 1938. At that time it was known as the Springs club, but when World War II started the club converted its energies solely to Red Cross work. At that time members rolled bandages, made shirts, layettes, knitted and did any type of handwork that the Red Cross needed. Shortly after the war the club disbanded. In 1947 Mrs. Earl Gees and Mrs. J. E. Neumann thought it might be a social asset to the neighborhood to reactivate the club. The first meeting was held at her home. The WSP club was formed in 1949 and was given the name WSP which are the initials for "Women's Supportive Partners." All members' husbands were farmers at that time and the area was surrounded by agriculture. The original name is still used even though the immediate vicinity is all under cultivation. Half of the members of the WSP club have mothers who are in the Friendship club. Two of the members, Mrs. Edwin Brune and Mrs. Farmum Warr, are members of both clubs. The primary function of both clubs is strictly social. The WSP club sells "greeting cards to finance many of its projects. Part of this money is donated to the Red Cross, cancer, polio and heart funds when their annual fund raising drives are on. The secretary of the clubs distributes the funds and if she happens to have residence in Twin Falls county the money is given to its fund drive, or to Cassia county if the residence is across the county line. Both organizations present gifts to immediate members of their families or anyone that is confined for a long period of time in the neighborhood. One of the favorite undertakings of the Friendship circle is the observance of Mrs. Elizabeth Webb's birthday anniversary. Mrs. Webb is 84 years old and almost blind. She has been a resident of Milner for 29 years this August. She is the oldest person in the neighborhood at the present time. Members also bake food for her and in other ways try to make her life happier. She lives with her daughter, Eudora Webb, who is a member of the Friendship circle. They also have an ice cream social and a "merry" Christmas dinner and party once a year, while the WSP club holds a Mother's day tea. As the canning season draws near jars obtained by the harvest from the children's home in Bols are divided among members to fill. They are allowed to can any produce that they wish as there are no specifications to be met. A project undertaken by the joint efforts of the clubs is the sponsoring of the community's children's Christmas program. A donation is taken to defray the cost of the treats and each parent is responsible for a gift to be placed under the tree for each of their own youngsters. Robert Harnay, manager of Sunner Memorial park, was the Santa for a good many years, but when other civic organizations learned of his potentials as the perfect Santa, he became so busy with other commitments that he had to relinquish the position. This past year Les Ross took his place. All children in the neighborhood are encouraged to participate in this program. The club's outstanding project is the sponsoring of a "merry family" in one of the two counties. For the past several years, Mrs. Bevel Russell, welfare worker in the Burley area, has helped the clubs with the selection of a family. In this endeavor a few neighbors outside of the club participate in the donation of items. Food and clothing are collected and money is then given to finish the basket. The intentions of members is to have a basket that will have a value of at least $100 worth of articles. This family then has food, etc. taken to them two or three times during the remainder of the winter months. In addition to this family, club members try to help out any families in the vicinity in need, especially those people that move in for seasonal work.

John Briggs Scores Three Individual Firsts to Pace Carey to Track Meet Win

GOODING, April 8—Senior John Briggs, the Carey Comet, flashed familiarly here yesterday in leading the Carey Panthers to victory in the class B track meet at Gooding State's field. Briggs, running without the knee wrap he wore last year and sporting a crewcut, blazed unopposed to victory in the 100-yard dash in 10.2 seconds and ran away with the broadjump and high jump in brilliant early-season showing. The 6-foot, 1-inch senior ran down the broadjump runway only once and cleared out 21 feet, 6 inches.

Philadelphia Heavyweight Gets KO in Final Match of AAU Boxing Tourney

POCAATELLO, April 8 (AP)—Rudy Davis of Philadelphia, knocked out Oregon State's Gil Gilmore in the second round today to win the national AAU heavyweight boxing championship. Gilmore, fighting out of Corvallis, Ore., came out with a rush and had bravado on the line. But in the round, Davis connected with a right hook that sent Gilmore to the canvas. Gilmore tried his rushing tactics again in the second round, but Davis caught him with another right and Gilmore staggered into his own corner and went down.

Two defending champions repeated. Phil Baldwin, 147, Mustang, Mich., defeated Bob Saucedo, Jackson, Mich., to take his division crown for the second year in a row.

Leotis Martin, Toledo, O., outpointed Wally Marcher, Madison, Wis., for the 165-pound title. Martin also won the 1960 title.

Harry Knobel was the 115-pounder of the championships, although Woody Marcus, Pocatello, was awarded a technical knockout victory in the 125-pound division over Jodie Harris, Portland, Ore. Harris tried to cut over the left eye in the first round and the doctors would let him answer the bell the second round.

Ray Marcus a technical knockout Marcus, a native of Philadelphia, fought for Idaho state honors over Ralph Unglicht, Provo, Utah, won the 125-pound title by taking a split decision over Leroy Homers, Butte, Mont., in a free-swinging bout.

Peter Gonzalez, Portland, won the 112-pound title by outpointing another Pocatello boxer, Ray Gonzalez. He took all three rounds, but he finished strong. Both boys had bleeding noses at the end.

Oregon's AAU piled up the most team points by winning Madison Mountain AAU (Utah-Idaho) had 10, followed by Wisconsin 10, Ohio 10, Michigan 10, Pacific 6 and Montana 4.

Howard won the 112-pound title by outpointing Jerry Armstrong of Pocatello, a member of the U.S. Olympic team, and Johnny Caspovich of Randlett, Utah.

John Howard, 16-year-old from Portland, was named the outstanding boxer of the AAU boxing tournament.

Sportsmen Hear Condition of Snake River Pollution

JEROME, April 8 (AP)—Pollution of a city boasting 34,000 persons, Snake river by the Rupert-Barley and Twin Falls areas is comparable to the water of a city with a population of 1,500,000.

London Overton, Boise, official of the state health department, said today.

Speaking in the luncheon meeting of the fourth District Federated Sportsmen club, Jerome said the sewage and industrial wastes dumped into Snake creek by Twin Falls is equal to that of the pollution, the department said today. Since the situation became public in January, most of the plants have installed settling ponds—both—equal to a perfect answer.

Jerome said the state health department has contacted the industrial plants and told them to come up with a workable plan by July 1. He added cooperation to date has been good from all concerned.

But if nothing is done to curtail the pollution, the department said, people will have to quarter. Since the situation became public in January, most of the plants have installed settling ponds—both—equal to a perfect answer.

He added Rupert soon will have a sewage treatment plant which Twin Falls voters have approved a bond issue to build one. Early voters are expected to vote on one shortly. There will be a situation considerably, Jerome said.

Fish and game department chief Ross Leonard detailed two situations threatening the salmon run in Salmon river during the morning session.

Leonard said Stewart Udall, secretary of the interior, restrained wildlife service personnel from testifying in a public hearing on the high mountain Giver at Park Forest for 100 years around four land, Nez Perce dam. If allowed, Udall said, it would strangle Snake river below the mouth of the Salmon river.

"If Nez Perce is accepted, we have no problem," Leonard said. "We simply will have no fish."

The Mountain Sheep dam, located above the mouth of the Salmon, but would curtail the run in the Salmon river, a productive spawning stream in Oregon.

Udall's decision "left a big hole" in our wildlife resource program for his "crash program" in which he instructed the wildlife service to come up with an answer to the problem within three years.

"We are working with a living thing and must consider cycles," Leonard emphasized. "We need six to ten years to see the results of any experiment. That would have to be eight to 10 years at least, we'd like to have 20."

"If Udall holds to his three-year plan, he came assume the responsibility," Leonard blazed. "It appears we're in for another session, such as we had when Douglas McKay was secretary," he continued. "If that is the case, we must make sure things like wilderness bills to the way have our wildlife resources at the mercy of political pressure and political expediencies."

Switching to the Brownlee dam, constructed by Idaho Power company, Leonard said progress in aiding downstream escapement of young salmon has been good. However, he noted the department has found evidence the slack water is containing the young salmon, and they are staying in the reservoir. He said salmon of eight to 10 inches have been found in Brownlee reservoir a year after they should have been back in the ocean.

He added the department is well pleased with its attempts to reintroduce steelhead runs up the Clearwater river, and that every plan suggests the same for the chinook salmon project.

In other action, the sportsmen adopted resolutions calling for big game seasons similar to last year. They recommended no poisoning on Salmon reservoir until Magic reservoir has been established as a top fishery. They blasted a bill, introduced in congress by Henry Thornbush, that would allow Snake river should have first claim on lands owned by the government and bordering on the river. The sportsmen said recreational purposes along the stream should come first.

They also urged a resolution asking the department to open the general big game areas to 15-day archery hunt just prior to the regular season. Problem of enforcement was the big factor. The fall season will be conducted in Ketchikan.

Texas School Sets Mark in Relay Event

AUSTIN, Tex., April 8 (AP)—The Texas relay records have been broken by Texas colleges of Lake Austin during the night of the relay.

If allowed, Udall said, it would strangle Snake river below the mouth of the Salmon river.

Davey Moore Retains Crown by Stopping Valdez in First Round

LOS ANGELES, April 8 (AP)—Champion Davey Moore of Springfield, O., retained his world featherweight title tonight with a startling first-round knockout over the youthful Danny Valdez of Los Angeles. The 21-year-old champion stunned a crowd estimated at 8,000 as well as Valdez, by ending the scheduled 15-round contest in 2 minutes, 48 seconds at the Olympic stadium. Twenty-one-year-old Danny had never been knocked out of his feet, much less knocked out, in his relatively brief ring career.

Moore, flinging up his right arm in an "L" sign, sent Valdez to the canvas with a walloping right jab. Valdez obviously was badly hurt, but managed to get up to his feet as referee George LaRocca reached the count of seven.

Moore moved quickly in and threw another overhand bomb flush to the chin. It flipped Valdez over backward to the mat.

At about the count of 15, Valdez rolled over and managed to wobble along on both knees near the ropes, but he could not get up at the end of the 16-count.

Moore weighed 125 and Valdez 123 1/2.

Ghost Writer of President's Speeches Is Dedicated Man on Kennedy Staff

WASHINGTON, April 8 (AP)—The man who may be unique in the history of presidential history, slumped easily into his big chair in the White House.

Only 32, healthy, bespectacled, Ted Sorensen looked unharmed, untroubled and definitely unshakably.

Yet appearances deceived on all three counts.

For Sorensen not only is an important arm, he also is a mouthpiece of that bustling institution we call the presidency. As a speech writer and mental consultant for John F. Kennedy, he is one of the most industrious of those untiring, dedicated young men who scurry about in the President's interest.

Of them all, he may be the most dedicated.

"When Jack is wounded," a friend said, "Ted bleeds."

Of them all, this young lawyer, born and educated far from the Ivy League, in Lincoln, Neb., may be the one who is closest to Kennedy.

Indeed, he has been so close for so long—he signed on with Kennedy in 1952 and became a chief architect of his presidential campaign—that he can now say: "I know so well what he wants to say and how he would say it that he and I can't tell where he leaves off and I leave on."

Probably no other presidential ghost writer—and they go back to George Washington—could have made that statement about his boss.

Despite this easy interchange of words and ideas, that eloquent 45-minute inaugural speech, which has remained the dramatic highlight of these first two months of the new administration, apparently was Kennedy's.

Some polishing was done later, but Kennedy still keeps the yellow sheets that allow his original handwork.

The handwritten speech was dictated, with a few changes to his secretary, Evelyn Lincoln. Later he read the speech to a group that included Sorensen and a few other changes were made. That was it.

Probably no other presidential ghost writer could have made that statement about his boss.

Well, the material a president must turn out is tremendous. A message to congress on a subject as complicated as, say, the gold problem, a telegram to a labor conference, a note to the Air Force association, a few scribbled notes to be read before throwing his hat into a conference open for questions.

Then there are special anniversaries that must be remembered, and special citations that must be cited, so many that Frederick I. Hubbard—a Harvard professor naturally—has been employed to turn them out promptly and steadily.

Through all this a pleasant function is maintained.

Aulus Vitellius helped Julius Caesar write his commentaries.

George Washington's farewell address is much admired today, but the father of his country was self-conscious when he picked up his pen. So before he released it, he appealed to Alexander Hamilton for help.

Whatever Washington's shortcomings, most of the early presidents wrote well and prodigiously. Jefferson was superb. When his colleagues tampered with the way he wrote the Declaration of Independence, he cried out like any author being hacked by editors.

"Repeal that," Jefferson called the changes. "Nullification!"

Abraham Lincoln was the best writer ever to sit in the White House.

His everyday prose was lean, lively and exact. As the war raged, and his soul writhed in its awful fire, Lincoln's words reflected the heat and the agony, and oftentimes became poetry.

Other presidents, notably Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, wrote first, serviceable stuff. The old college professor at his best.

But too many presidential speeches remain the description William Gilbre McAdoo had for the formal offerings of Warren G. Harding. These Harding talks, McAdoo said, "left the impression of an army of pompous phrases moving over the landscape in search of an idea."

It's difficult to pin down when ghost writers became an accepted part of White House routine, but by Theodore Roosevelt's time they had already begun to show alarming tendencies. A state department ghost wrote a piece for Roosevelt to read at a White House reception for the Chinese ambassador.

The irrepressible Teddy blew sky high, not because the piece was so shabby but because it was so ghastly.

As late as Harding and Calvin Coolidge speech writers lurked discreetly in the background.

But Kennedy, Sorensen kept an exacting eye on the ghost writer. In separate statements, he said that Sorensen had written a Pulitzer prize winner in his speech, "Profiles of Courage," a book which Sorensen did much of the research, his inaugural address was a surprise to many of those who complained with him.

Speeches and statements since the inauguration have more than followed the customary presidential pattern.

Preparation of Kennedy's State of the Union speech, for instance, began with various officials presenting what they thought should be said about their problems.

Kennedy had his own ideas on what approach he should take. Sorensen helped shape the words and shape so that they would sound as if they were spoken by a man and not by a committee.

Casings Are Assembled in 60-Foot Lengths

This is a scene at the busy factory outside of Hagerman that is putting the four-foot incendiary bomb casings together into 60-foot lengths. They are then hauled to the construction site southeast of Hagerman. Emerson Pugmire, center, estimates that the new water main will save the citizens of Hagerman about $10,000. The machine that holds the long pipe was designed and made especially for the purpose by Cleave Linn, (left photo-engraving)

Most Unusual Murder Trial To Commence

By BELMAN MORIN Associated Press Staff Writer Next Tuesday morning, April 11, 1961, a bony, hawk-like man with gray-blue eyes, a high forehead, and thinning hair will be brought into a courtroom in Jerusalem. There, he will confront three Israeli judges, a battery of lawyers, more than 100 spectators—and a legion of ghosts. The most extraordinary murder trial in history is about to begin. It is the case of the State of Israel vs. Adolf Eichmann, former chief of the Jewish section of the Nazi Gestapo. The formal charge—"crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." The particulars complicity in destroying an estimated total of six million Jews, including one million children, during World War II, and causing "starvation, degradation, inhuman suffering and torture."

Never before in history has one man been charged with personal responsibility for crimes of such enormity. In the Nuremberg trials, a group of Nazis was tried jointly. Never before has a trial been fraught with greater moral, legal, and political implications. Few ever raised weightier questions. Should Eichmann have been tried over to West Germany for trial? Or to an international tribunal, perhaps under the aegis of the United Nations? By reminding the world of the hideous catastrophes visited on the Jews of the east, will it help to wipe out bigotry and bolt the door forever against the possibility of another such war? Or, on the contrary, trigger new outbreaks of anti-Semitism? The indictment contains 18 counts. They are detailed from 15 evidence.

Local Youth to Present Recital on Pipe Organ at Area Baptist Church

The first recital performed by a local musician at the Twin Falls First Baptist church's $20,000 120-rank pipe organ will be played this evening by Ralph Reinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bennett. The latest pipe organ, one of the largest in this area, was installed in 1959. The dedication recital was played by Melvin Dunn, Salt Lake City, and a first recital was played by Frank Aizer, also Salt Lake City.

Bennett is a junior at Twin Falls high school and has been the church organist for the last three years. Bennett will play both the pipe organ and piano.

The recital will begin at 8 p.m. at the church. The public is invited.

Bennett says he considers it a great honor to be the first local organist to play a recital on the pipe organ. He has studied piano for 13 years and the organ for six and one-half years. For the past three years he has studied with Mrs. Charles Allen.

Practices Daily For the past two years Bennett has practiced about two and one-half hours a day, preparing for the recital.

Bennett says he wants to spend his evenings with church music. He intends to enter Boor Junior College next fall and study with C. Griffith Blunt for two years. He plans to finish school at Hedlands college, Redlands, Calif. Eventually, he wants to direct a choir and play the organ for a large church.

Program Listed His program consists of "Gavotte" (from "Third English Suite") by Bach; Sonata, Op. 14, No. 1, by Beethoven; "Toccata and Fugue in D minor" by Bach; "Trio for a Notre-Dame" by Beethoven; "Sonata, Op. 68, No. 6" by Mendelssohn; "Opinion" by Alkan; "Claire de Lune" by Debussy; and "Polichinelle" by Chaminade.

The first and the last three selections will be played on the piano.

Twin Falls High School Students Win Many Prizes

The Twin Falls high school Future Farmers of America chapter has walked off with a raft of prizes in recent weeks in various types of statewide competition. Seated, from left, are Ralph Reinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Reinke; Alvin Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harris; and Neal Custer, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Custer. Many Awards Are Won by School's Future Farmers of America Group

The Twin Falls high school Future Farmers of America chapter recently placed first in state competition for FFA members and was elected to a state office. Alvin Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Harris, a senior, was named state star farmer and received a $10 award. Gerald Reinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Reinke, a sophomore, won the Idaho Agronomy club essay on April 4. He was awarded a $10 cash award and a two-year subscription to "Crops and Soils" magazine. The contest is sponsored by the Agronomy club at the University of Idaho.

The Twin Falls chapter was awarded a gold medal on its chapter scrapbook and was given a superior award. The book was dedicated to the late Roy Painter. This chapter will be one of 150 chapters in the state that will represent Idaho in the national competition at the convention in Kansas City, Mo., next fall. The chapter also had five state farmers, more than any other single chapter in the state.

Harris was selected as the state star farmer in competition with nine other district star farmers. Twin Falls is in the South Magic Valley district. There are 812 schools in the district—Oostford, Buhl, Piler, Twin Falls, Kimberly and Murfreesboro. Both the district and the state star farmers are named at the annual spring convention. They are

War's Historians Argue Over Fort Sumter Shot

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 8 (AP)—Drive out the old Ft. Johnson and past rows of graceful shade trees and run-down farms to the prime white buildings of the Colleton laboratory. Fight your way through branches and marsh grass and brush and sand dunes to the edge of the marker announces the fact, you will be standing on or near a memorial spot. Here the Civil war began. Out in the harbor narrow, across 1 1/2 miles of gray water, rises the low mass of Ft. Sumter, once the beleaguered symbol of national strength in the midst of a feasting crumbling Union. It was from Ft. Johnson, in the murky pre-dawn of April 12, 1861, that a Confederate mortar shell breached over the harbor and burst above Sumter's parapet to shatter in America's bloodiest war. Johnson has long since fallen to sand gnats and the biologists; Sumter's only assailants nowadays are the sport-shotted, cameratolling tourists who wander through its battered old casemates and examine the relics in its shiny new museum. A century ago, Charleston was a stronghold of rabid secessionists today it's a stronghold of equally rabid historians, many of them amateurs devoted to the task of preserving a niche in history for some otherwise forgotten ancestor. For instance: Who fired the first shot? Was it Capt. George S. James, commander of the beach battery? (Continued on Page 11, Column 1)

Lathe Used to Cut Ends Out of Bomb Casings

Cleave Lloyd works at the lathe he made to cut the ends out of the incendiary bomb casings Hagerman purchased to utilize in the new water main construction. Lloyd fashioned the machine out of scrap parts. The casing is clamped in the special collet and then the end is cut out. The operation takes only a few minutes. At the same time any debris in the casing is cleaned out so each length will match the next casing. The operation will save considerable money for the village. (Staff photo-engraving)

Old Shell Casings Are Being Used in Addition to Hagerman's Water System

The new spring is upstream. The new addition will carry water from the new spring site to the old water main east of town. The new spring is 20 feet higher than the old one and Pugmire says this will give the city about 50 pounds of pressure, compared to the present 40 pounds.
This will more than solve the water pressure problem. In fact, the new addition will carry enough water for a community of 1,000 persons, according to the bureau of reclamation. Hagerman has a population of 700.

Pugmire smiles and says the new addition should take care of the water problems of the community for some time.
Not only will it provide plenty of water, but it will save the community considerable money. Pugmire says a comparable pipeline of commercial water pipe would cost the community about $10,000. The war-surplus material will cost $2,000, including all the materials, labor and the cost of placing it in the ground. About half of the new addition will be buried because it crosses farm land. When it reaches the creek canyon, it will be placed above ground on treated posts and be painted regularly.
Pugmire says it will be financed partly by funds the community has in the treasury. And partly by an increased water assessment. Hagerman water users aren't metered but are charged a flat rate of $2.50 a month which is raised to $3.50 during irrigation season. This rate schedule will be raised one dollar per month.
He believes that the added revenue will pay for the new system in three years.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Clifford Thompson Utilizes Ranching, Business Background in Assessor's Job

CLIFFORD THOMPSON

Clifford Thompson is a man well-known in the Twin Falls community. He is the son of a well-known resident. He has lived in the area for at least his name as when followed by his father, county tax assessor.
He is in his 33th year as county assessor and has been re-elected seven times.
Thompson has an unusual background of experience in many business areas that has given him an insight into his job.
He was born in Bannock, Mont., a small, but thriving gold mining town.
His father was a miner. The town was a wild place, according to Thompson, and the environment was exciting for a young boy. He attended public school in Bannock until he was in the eighth grade.
"It was a rough and tumble town," Thompson says. "The miners were always seeking some sort of entertainment. One of the things they used to do was get a group of young children together and pay them each a nickel to fight in the streets."
Thompson laughs and says he earned plenty of nickels this way when he was young, but he adds that he did not win many fights.
The family left Bannock in 1917 and Thompson attended high school in Idaho Falls. He had to find a job to go to work but he chose to work on a ranch, in the outdoors.
He worked for the Cornell Livestock company, a large sheep operation near Dillon. He was a general ranch hand for about three years and then was placed in charge of about 3,000 of the finest sheep. Thompson worked as the herd foreman until 1922.
After that he moved to Twin Falls to be near his mother, who had moved to Twin Falls. He worked for the Diamond Hardware store as a clerk. He worked for the store until 1949. Eventually he became a vice president of the company.
Thompson says when he first came to Twin Falls he worked on a ranch and being accustomed to the outdoors, it was quite a contrast. He did not like it. But within a few years he got used to the hard floors and the four walls and grew to like indoor life.
"When I first came here it was unbelievable to me that the farms were so close together and that there were no mountains close by. This was quite a contrast to the life I was used to, where a man had to ride horseback for a half a day to visit his neighbors."
Thompson had maintained his old friendships in Dillon and frequently visits in that area.
In 1948 he decided to enter the well drilling business and bought a drilling rig. In a short time he decided that business wasn't for him.
This fall a group of Republicans were to close together and they were to elect a business-woman for their.

A bartender's license was approved for Mrs. William E. Swan and second quarter license for Swan at the Pleasant club.
Irrigation water problems were studied in relation to a possible water shortage. City sprinkling rates would be available at an earlier date, it was suggested, and irrigation rates based on average monthly winter use of consumers and additional charges made accordingly.
Street improvements were studied and motion made to require the highway 35-mile speed sign to be extended further east past the new L225 stake-out, approximately 200 yards west before motorists come to the 25 mile per hour restricted speed sign.

RICHFIELD, April 8—Three positions for three Richfield village trustee posts were filled at the April board meeting held this week. Nominations are Mont A. Johnson, present board chairman, Edman Schuler, incumbent, and Lyle Poper, a new nominee. Other petitions can be received from the village clerk, Fred B. Brash, until 5 p.m. Wednesday.
Three village trustees will be elected for four year terms April 25. Trustees whose terms expire are Johnson, Schuler and Edgar Stables. Holdover board members are Carl Paulson and Harold Williams.

Church Meet Is Conducted At Hagerman

HAGERMAN, April 8—An official board budget meeting preceded the fourth quarterly conference of the Methodist church Wednesday evening. The Rev. Charles Eastley, Boise, district superintendent, spoke and showed pictures of the churches in the district.
Trustees named are Virgil Norwood, Don Rea, Mrs. John W. Carson, Mr. John Sanborn, Ray Chivons, Albert Gorge and Alfred Sandoy.
Church school superintendent is Gerald Martin. Mrs. Ray Chivons is the lay member to attend the annual conference, with Mrs. V. W. Carson as the reserve member. Mrs. Eleanor McConkey is WCBP president; Don Rea, church treasurer; Mrs. Don Rea, financial secretary; and Fred Roberts, lay leader.
Secretary of stewardship is Hollis Phillips. Elective stewards named were Mrs. Virgil Norwood, Mrs. Arthur Justice, Mrs. Ernest Billiard, Wm. Calhoun, Don McAmilly, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Fred Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson.
Mrs. Gerald Martin is communion steward, with Mrs. George Lenter the assistant. Mrs. Billiard is the recording secretary.
The music combination includes Mrs. Warren Berry, Mrs. John W. Lopez, Mrs. Fred Roberts, Mrs. Henry LeRoy, and Mrs. Mary Erwin.
The memorial fund committee includes Mrs. Robert Claxton and Mrs. Norwood. The nominating committee, elected from the floor for the next year, are the Rev. Mr. McClister, chairman, Mrs. John Jones, Jr., Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Billiard, Don Rea, Albert Gorge and Mrs. Roberts.
The next year will be devoted to reviewing the assessments to make sure they are right.
"Then we plan to mail out form letters to those who will get increases in assessment. This will enable them to discuss the increase with the department personally before the assessments formally go on the tax rolls in 1963."

Thompson says "The purpose of the program is to create a uniform assessment, so each owner pays a just share of the tax."

Trunk Unpacked After Trip From Germany

Many, both are former residents of Twin Falls. They are visiting Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sineira. Residents of Germany for Eight Years Visiting Friends, Relatives in Area

Two former residents of Twin Falls, who have lived in Germany for the past eight years, have returned for a visit. They are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sineira, who live in Darmstadt. Mrs. Sineira is the former Vera Ahrens of Twin Falls. Until 1944 she was social editor of the "Times-News." At that time she worked in the Idaho Farmer until 1954. Hall then applied for a job with the Stars and Stripes newspaper in Germany. He got the job and has worked there since. Mrs. Sineira is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sineira. They arrived by jet airplane in New York after an eight-hour flight from Frankfurt. "The ride was all right," she says, "but next time we think we'll take the boat, so we will feel like we got our money's worth."

She explains the jet ride is so short that it is over before the travelers realize it. The ride took only eight hours, but they had to sit in the airplane for the next seven hours so they could make connections to New Orleans. They traveled in four editions. The Orleans and drove through the Southwest, visited her brother, and drove to Twin Falls. Hall works in the production department of the Stars and Stripes. The European edition of the newspaper has a circulation of about 12,000 and is divided into four editions. All of the editions are printed in Darmstadt, the printing capital of Germany, about 20 miles south of Frankfurt.

The newspaper is self-supporting and profits are turned over to the armed forces and are earmarked for recreation facilities. Hall is in charge of the newspaper's reading department. He oversees about 10 proofreaders working in three shifts.

Both Mrs. Sineira and her sister, who teaches kindergarten at the Rhine-Main air force school, returned from Darmstadt and Frankfurt. A full-time reading manager for American children.

Hall says he applied for the job with the Stars and Stripes because he always wanted to see the world. He was with the army air corps in Europe during the war. He was with the army air corps in Europe during the war. He was with the army air corps in Europe during the war. He was with the army air corps in Europe during the war.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall enjoy art and music and they say living in Darmstadt gives them the opportunity to enjoy the best of the world to offer.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hall are interested in art and painting. She has a B.F.A. from the University of Colorado and has studied in the Chicago Art Institute. Hall says his wife has been his only art teacher. Recently they have been studying the work of Edvard Munch. They showed about 70 paintings. Each of them sell paintings and are planning another show. Mrs. Hall notes that since she has been in Darmstadt she has already had commissions for two oil paintings for local residents. She revealed that she has done impressionistic paintings, using common household enamel. In addition to painting and traveling through Europe, both Mr. and Mrs. Hall collect antiques.

Truck Route Is Proposed At Shoshone

SHOSHONE, April 8—A proposal from the Chamber of Commerce to route the heavy truck traffic to Walnut street as it goes through the city is being considered by the city council. The proposal was introduced at the Tuesday night meeting by Mayor D. Schmitz. The council members were: Mayor D. Schmitz, William Van Dyke and city Police Chief Bill J. Anderson. The council members voted to purchase a new compressor for city use Joe Gonzalez was hired on a full-time basis as city park attendant. He will care for the park route was opened in the football field area. Other applicants were for part-time work.

The state aeronautics department paid $530 of the cost, the city paid $200 and furnished space of one pipe and equipment of the BLM assisted by providing equipment, APL labor also. The improvement will facilitate use of heavier equipment to crop dust and for range work. A new road was opened in the south of the former Dill property. The old road, to the north, was closed. This places the route closer to town.

Report on costs of the proposed tennis courts was given with an estimate of $3,000. Because construction felt this was too high, further investigation will be made before definite decision is reached. This would be for a double tennis court.

Authorization was given Robert Hindcock to spend $100 for base-line equipment for an assumed recreation program. Hindcock assists with the program. The $100 came from the city recreation fund.

There was further discussion on the proposed library. The property recently purchased by the city to make adequate library and city office quarters.

Future Farmers of America Chapter at High School in T.F. Wins Many Awards

James was named a state farmer when he was a junior. He also served as president of the Twin Falls chapter and the district. He was district fair farmer last year. Last summer he attended the Institute of Cooperatives, held in Berkeley, as the representative of the district. Flynn notes that James has an outstanding farming program. He has a herd of 40 registered Angus cows and calves and farms 160 acres of crops in partnership with his father.

During 1950 he was chairman of the auditing and budgeting committee for the state association. He will serve as secretary for the FFA unit next spring. He plans to enter the University of Wyoming next fall and major in animal husbandry.

Custer won his award because of the extensive classification program he carried out on his father's farm. Flynn explains the FFA work. Harris raised two one-half acre of sugar beets. Last summer he had four cows with calves, three heifers, four registered Hereford cows with calves, seven feeders he raised from grade and registered cows, and 83 head of feeders that he purchased. He also raised 28 acres of grain, 18 acres of corn, six and six-tenths acres of hay and six acres of pasture. All crops were grown on land he purchased.

This project this year will be about the same, except he plans to grow 18 acres of corn, 18 acres of grain, 18 acres of corn, 18 acres of grain, 18 acres of corn, 18 acres of grain.

Artificial Propagation of "Fighting" Fish Is Big Business at 14 Hatcheries

BY JIM HUMPHREY Idaho Fish and Game Department The average Idaho fisherman will have more than 50 trout in his creek again this season, judging from past performance, and at least four-fifths of these will be "wild" fish. Nevertheless, artificial propagation of trout is big business at 14 hatcheries of the fish and game department. It amounted last year to more than 700,000 pounds—300 tons of flashing, fighting fish—and current production is expected to equal or better that mark.

Most of it will be of the rainbow, cutthroat and brook species, with lesser number of brown trout, kokanee and mackinac. Some small- and large-mouth bass also are part of the year's quota. In round numbers, three million trout will be "catchable" over six inches long when released. Such planning is not intended to increase fish stocks permanently, whether in lakes, streams or reservoirs. It is aimed at existing trout populations to be caught as soon as possible.

The average cost of producing and distributing four-foot weighing one pound to 1 1/2-cent fish is about a dollar each. James C. Simpson, chief of fisheries management, says that creel surveys and related surveys provide information about the catch and rate of return of planted catches. This varies greatly on different waters with varying fishing pressures.

In general, catchables are planted in areas throughout the state where fishing pressures are greatest—where a sizeable number of them will be taken in two or three weeks. But even a 40 per cent return to the creel does not amount to more than eight per cent of the 11 million total fish harvest. And a 50 per cent return is only two per cent of the annual catch.

Broadly speaking, there are four main phases of the fisheries management program in Idaho other than the artificial propagation of fish. These are (1) habitat improvement, (2) investigation, (3) management and (4) regulation, all of which have been discussed previously in this column.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brown returned to Wendell recently from Arizona and Portland where they visited their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Eberhart and son, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Olden, returned home this week. They were house guests this week of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Orlan McCulloch.

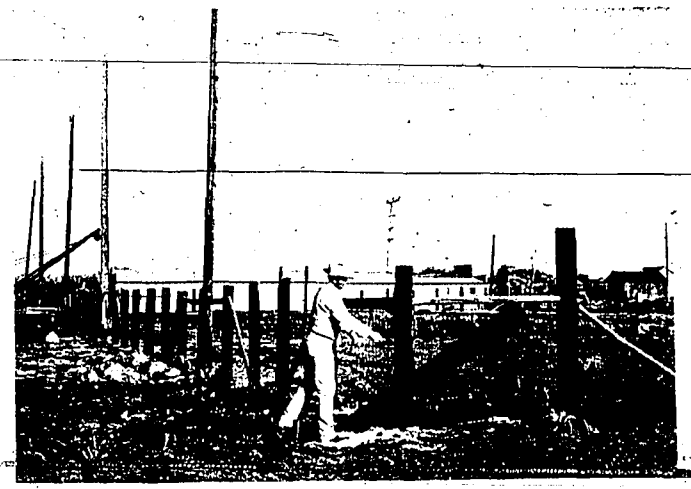

Mrs. Jeannette Chandler, who spent the winter in Mesa, Ariz., arrived home this week. While in Arizona she visited her brother-in-law, Ed Slater, Mr. and Mrs. George Gunnell.

Only poisonous mammals are the Australian platypus and the North American short-tailed shrew.

Hayrides and Preparations for Summer Activities Keep Riding Club Members Busy While Not Riding

Tim Qualls, one of the Twin Falls Junior riding club drill masters, works at the new ring at the Park ranch, northeast of Twin Falls. For the past few weeks club members have been working on a large riding and rodeo ring where they will practice. It will be 220 feet long and 150 feet wide and will have bucking horse and calf chutes. (Staff photo-Engraving)

Robert Hanny, member of the Twin Falls Junior riding club, gets ready to ride his horse for a modern-day hayrack ride in the back of a truck. This photograph was taken during one of the club's outings in January. Throughout the winter the club has many activities. (Staff photo-Engraving)

Toastmistress Meeting Held In Twin Falls

Mrs. Rudy Ashenbrenner won the "Miss Peach" title at the "Let's Use Time" at the meeting of the Magic Toastmistress club Thursday evening.

Karen Asendrup spoke on "The Spirit of Freedom—The Pursuit of Credit."

Members voted to have Mrs. Ross Frautner represent the club in the council speech contest to be held April 15 at the Rogerson hotel.

Mrs. Ed Bennett, table topics mistress, presented the traveling trophy to Mrs. Sterling Larson. Subject discussed was favorite civic improvements of members, including an indoor swimming pool, civic auditorium, improved sidewalks in residential district, walking paths in the county, improved rural interaction visibility, a planning organization to lower school building costs, tennis courts at the high school and use of city pavements to clean up vacant lots and other needed improvements.

Mrs. Lavern Stone served as toastmistress and Mrs. Howard Durward as chief evaluator, aided by Mrs. Bernard Martin and Mrs. Frautner. Mrs. Henry Powers was timer and Mrs. Marilyn gave the Jurorologist report.

Mrs. V. M. Patrick, president, stated the members have been asked to give talks for the civic defense program.

Judy Peterson, Mrs. Larry Kahn and Mrs. Arlene Smith were guests.

Riding Club's Off-Season Plans Keep Interests High for Summer Programs

Clubs whose activities are generally limited to outdoor programs sometimes incur a loss of interest during winter and early spring months, but the Twin Falls junior riding club, whose major activities are held during the summer, has an answer to this.

Each month the riding club has some sort of special gathering to keep the interest of members so they will not neglect summer activities with maximum interest.

This is just one of the functions the club has during the winter. In December they had a potluck dinner and a dance. In February they had a box social dance.

The meetings are family affairs. Children who belong to the club are accompanied by their parents. Each month two members of members are assigned to take charge of the program and prepare the meal.

One of the big activities during the spring months is planning the summer schedule for the drill team, one of the most popular teams in the state.

According to Tim Qualls, drill master, the first scheduled appearance will be at the Idaho State college rodeo May 12. It will be followed by the Rupert rodeo July 12; Magic Valley junior horse show; Snake River Stampede, Nampa, July 21 and 22 and the Twin Falls county fair in September.

Qualls adds there probably will be other events scheduled for the drill team and another schedule for the beginner group is being planned.

For the last few weeks members of the club have worked on a new riding ring at the Park ranch, northeast of Twin Falls. The work has been undertaken by special parties. The ranch is owned by the Qualls family and the space is being donated to the club. The club has to pay only the electric bill for outdoor lights.

The ring will be 220 feet long and 150 feet wide. It will be used for riding and for amateur rodeo activities. There will be four bucking chutes and a calf chute at the west end of the ring, with a catching pen at the opposite end. The ring will be lighted by 20 1,500-watt bulbs.

The club is one of the fastest growing in the community. It was formed in 1954 by Ed Parra, a former resident, and Dean Vickers. Originally, there were 15 members. Now there are 80.

The purpose was to start a precision drill team. Now they have a precision drill team that has performed all over the state, including the Nampa Stampede, rated third among American rodeos.

The club's drill team now has 30 members. The remaining members belong to the beginner's team.

During the summer months the drill teams practice frequently. Before a performance the performing team practices two times a week.

The members of the performing team have matching chaps and bridles. During the first year the team made enough money from public appearances and by sponsoring a horse show to pay for their chaps. Now each member of the club has a pair of chaps that the club has paid for.

During July, the club sponsors the Magic Valley Western Horse show.

In addition to performing at horse shows, rodeos and in parades in the state, the club members have weekly meetings—which include everything from swimming parties to trail rides.

Two members of the club have been named queen of the Nampa Stampede—Carolyn Wyllie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wyllie, and Karen Baumgardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Baumgardner. Miss Wyllie was also named Miss Rodeo Idaho.

Members of the club range in age from 5 to 18 years. Only youths in this age bracket belong to the club. But the club is actually a family affair, as the parents also attend all the meetings and hold positions on the board of directors.

The members of the board of directors are C. G. Gilbertson, chairman, Ivan Skinner; Mrs. Rodney Tegen, Robert Norris, Judy White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. White, president of the club; Joan Madsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Madsen, vice president; Christy Stowe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Stowe, secretary-treasurer of the club; and Gary Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams, club representative to the board.

The four drill masters also are members of the club. They are Qualls and Lee Sharp, drill masters of the performing group, and J. C. Williams and Dean Vickers, drill masters of the beginner group.

Civil War Historians Still Argue Over Who Fired First Shot at Fort Sumter of 10-inch mortars at Ft. Johnson, or was it Lieut. Henry B. Parry, James' subordinate, or was it Lieut. Wade Hampton Gibbs, commander of a nearby battery?

Another school of thought holds that James or Farley or Gibbs fired a signal shot and the real one was triggered by Gen. Edmund Ruffin, the first-riding Virginian who was spotted, long white hair streaming, riding a cannon into the battle of Bull Run—or "Manassas"—to Charlestonians.

Still another stubborn band of Civil war buffs insists that the historic shot was already in the record books when the first mortar fired in on Sumter. Their candidate is young George E. Haynsworth, a Citadel cadet, who fired the shot that whistled over the side-whether Star of the West, which was trying to bring supplies to the fort the preceding January.

A short while ago, Horace J. Steely Jr., then historian of the Ft. Sumter national monument, fired deeply into the rival claims and, at the risk of social ostracism, decided James did it.

Whoever did fire the first shot it at the time, James did it in Maryland, Md., a year and a day, after Parry and Gibbs' entry claims until nearly 100 years had passed.

On the other side of the water, however, the man who first fired back had no such qualms. Capt. Abner Doubleday, a New Yorker, was simply a content, confident, did it with a relish.

"It was simply a contest, politically speaking, as to whether virtue or force should rule," the captain had little doubt which side he was on.

Whoever else also was the man who either did or did not invent baseball—but that's another controversy, to be argued out in Cooperstown, N.Y., not Charleston.

The precise spot from which the first shot of the war was fired has never been determined to everyone's satisfaction either.

"It may be under water out there," says Dr. Elmer L. Purdy, head of the College of Charleston, indicating a spot just off the beach at Ft. Johnson, "but I'm not going to say for sure."

North Carolinian Puryer has been in Charleston about four years. His doesn't want to get mixed up in local history, which is the equivalent of local politics elsewhere.

Controversy or not, the Charleston Confederate Centennial Commission plans to raise this week a monument honoring the first shot of the war. It will be set on the grounds of the marine laboratory on the assumption that is no doubt a spot as any within a couple of hundred yards of the fort.
