

Observance Unit Elects New Leader

BURLEY, April 14—The Cassia County Territorial Centennial committee named Charles Goodwin as chairman, replacing Frank Sacks during a luncheon meeting held Tuesday at the Village Clubhouse.

Edward Cole, Boise, executive secretary of the state committee, met with the group to discuss plans for the 100th centennial celebration. He noted that the legislature did not appropriate money and that each county shall have to raise its own funds.

There is a possibility that a special session of the legislature may be called, and if this is done, it is very possible that action might be taken to appropriate funds, he said. He pointed out that a special session would not be called for this purpose.

Committee members said the present committee will be expanded to include specialists in other fields such as churches, service clubs, and Chamber of Commerce.

The group is on a five-week tour of the state pertaining to the centennial observance. He was in Burley Tuesday and from there went to American Falls and Pocatello.

Another meeting of the committee is planned later this month. It is planning to have Brownlow, Benny Ferguson, Ron Jones, Al Butley, and Wayne Lewis, Declo, observe. Committee members are Blaine Martinelli, Oakley, and Dick Anderson, Malba.

Careers in Medical Field Discussed at Day

Mrs. Eunice Wake, a nursing supervisor at Magic Valley Memorial Hospital, discusses careers in the medical field with Larry Mallock, a Buhl high school senior interested in medicine, and Gene Jacklin, Halley high school freshman, who hopes to become an X-ray technician. 130 Magic Valley Students Attend Health Career Event

More than 130 Magic Valley high school students attended Health Career day Wednesday at Magic Valley Memorial hospital. The meeting was sponsored by the hospital guild with Mrs. Jack Allred in charge of arrangements.

Participating students were from high schools at Buhl, Castleford, Piler, Kimberly, Starbuck, Twin Falls and Halley. Juniors and seniors interested in medical careers and members of the high school chapters of the Future Nurses of America attended.

The meeting began at 1:30 p.m. with brief addresses by Mrs. Claude DeWitt, president of the guild; Mrs. Irene Oliver, hospital administrator; and Raymond Raitt, assistant administrator.

Students attended interest groups for a 45-minute discussion of career opportunities. Lectures were given on dental hygiene, dentistry and dental assistants; hospital dietetics and nutrition; hospital administration; medical records; medicine; pharmacy; physical therapy; practical nursing; professional nursing; veterinary medicine and X-ray technology.

Hospital guild members conducted students on tours of the hospital. The meeting concluded with a refreshment hour at the hospital auditorium. Mrs. Cecil Jones was in charge of refreshments.

Office of Judge Gets New Look

The Twin Falls police headquarters office of Robert E. Penney, city police judge and a Twin Falls county justice of the peace, is getting a new look.

Penney explained he complained several times about dirty walls. Police Detective Richard Frazier decided to do something about the untidy judge and utilized a handy work force—city jail prisoners who are required to perform "hard labor" for the duration of their sentences.

Thursday, Frazier set two of them to work washing the walls of the judge's office. One of them attempted to clean the area ceiling of the courtroom.

Gray rapidly turned white, as an estimated 10-year coat of dirt and grime was removed with soapy water and elbow grease. The prisoners got the job about half-done Thursday and Frazier hopes it will be finished late Friday.

Washing the walls, although affective, was not so spectacular.

GRANGE TO MEET
MURTAUGH, April 14 — Murtagh Grange will meet at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the hall. The program will include a discussion on the National Farm organization (NFA). Those will be Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert High.

Grange Sets Workshop on Civil Defense

HAILEY, April 14—Upper Big Wood River Grange members are planning a civil defense and home preparedness workshop to be held the evening of May 8 and 9 at the Grange hall.

It is anticipated Mrs. Velma Dy, women's supervisor for home preparedness, will conduct the exercises. At a meeting Tuesday evening plans were discussed for preparing a banquet at the Grange hall for members of the Hailey volunteer fire department the evening of April 25.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hust became the organization's two newest members when they were given the application by Don Eggenfer.

A vote of appreciation was given Gracie Shirts for cleaning the Pullman Grange sashes free of charge.

After showing pictures of the Grange disaster team, members voted to send Earl Jessour, Kuna, state Grange master, and Mrs. Jerry from a copy of each picture.

John Drexler was presented with a past master's pin by Martin Young, present master. Drexler expected that the grounds to the north of the building will be cleared immediately and grass planted.

The matter of setting up a clinic at the Grange in June for the typing of blood was discussed. This would be carried out as a civil defense and home preparedness project and all who wish will be able to take advantage of it.

It will be participated in by local doctors and Mrs. Gertrude Thomas, Blaine county health nurse.

Mrs. Della Dunlap, program chairman, had as her theme "Poems." Mrs. John McManogue, Mrs. Joseph Wurst and Mrs. Glenn Oystert arrived refreshments.

GET RID OF WEEDS, roots and all!

EASY WAY TO WEED!
Attach the light weight ORTHO Lawn Sprayer to your garden hose and let water pressure do the work! As easy as watering, you spray! 5 gallons of properly diluted WEED-B-GON spray.

OXALIS tenuaceous taproot is "spiked" with small roots	PLANTAIN thick-stem has persistent side roots	DANDELION long branching root on ground-hugging plant	CHICKWEED tactacle-like roots spread quickly	DOCK deep-growing taproot, hard to dig out	THISTLE long branching root on prickly plant

SPRAY WITH WEED-B-GON
Kill a weed with Improved WEED-B-GON and that weed is gone for good! Roots, stems and foliage, blossoms and seeds on the plant, all die after one application. (Toughest weeds may take two.) The reason: WEED-B-GON's hormone ingredients (2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T) force weeds to grow so fast they actually "grow themselves to death."

WEED-B-GON works faster and more effectively than other leading weed killers because it contains a heavier concentration of hormones. Yet it doesn't cost one cent more. A quart of WEED-B-GON sprays the average (1200 sq. ft.) lawn 15 times. And the quart can costs only $2.98.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON—President Kennedy's reported plans to recommend the creation of a department of urban affairs will meet serious opposition in the Senate.

The most obvious reason for congressional reluctance to involve the executive branch in municipal matters is the fact that the prospective head of the proposed department is Robert C. Weaver, New York City, a Negro. It would be the highest office ever given to a member of his race.

Although he created a favorable impression by a recent visit to some sharp questioning when a Senate committee asked his views before recommending that he be confirmed as national housing administrator.

THE CRUCIAL NEGRO VOTE—Even members who favor full political and economic equality for the Negroes are hostile to the idea of degradation in the field of housing, especially two or three-family dwellings. They are especially hostile to the idea of a housing law which was passed by the New York legislature with the approval of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Politically-minded Democrats feel that the Kennedy administration and a heavily Democratic Congress must match the Rockefeller achievement in order to maintain their political base in New York. They regard the man at Albany as Kennedy's most likely opponent in 1964.

They note that the principal advocates of the new department are Sen. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, who are regarded as Rockefeller spokesmen at Washington.

Political opponents of the bill will be difficult for the Republicans to oppose the bill in connection with southern Democrats. Their alliance will undoubtedly fall apart at this season.

STATES RIGHTS OBJECTION—Under the chairmanship of Ray Blair, Ohio national committee, a GOP group now is expressing serious concern of the party's weakness in the nation's principal cities. Unless they can dent President Kennedy's program in these cities, they will have only an outside chance to defeat him for re-election.

A department of urban affairs, they maintain, tends to centralize power and to strip cities of the privileges of municipalities, as do rural-controlled legislatures today. New York is a striking example of this situation.

Inasmuch as many cities probably will welcome federal assistance, especially cash, in solving their problems, the Republicans cannot permit the Democrats to have demonstrated more interest in increasing their budgets than in devising better weapons and tactics.

But getting back to the missiles and rocket programs, this nation is making progress and sometime in the near future an American will sit in the driver's seat. However, it may take a longer period before an American will duplicate the Russian feat of orbiting the Earth.

The space program isn't one that can be dropped. Militarily, it is of utmost importance. For instance, if the Russians can shoot a man into space and bring him back, they can shoot a nuclear bomb off into space and bring it back whenever they wanted at a pre-determined time and location, Detroit, for instance?

That is the immediate question facing the United States. It is a matter of space racing, of the nations that may be hesitating over their position in the cold war. The long-range possibilities are not yet clear. No one yet has demonstrated that man actually can travel, from planet to planet, but there is no doubt efforts will continue in that direction.

Though the Russians have seized the lead in the so-called space race, their lead doesn't necessarily mean the United States has been left hopelessly behind. Nothing could be farther from the truth. If Americans have forgotten the facts of the capture of Francis Powers, you know the Russians haven't forgotten. American pilots flew U-2 jets over Russia for months before the Powers incident. And it is quite significant that the Russians had planes or missiles capable of destroying the U-2.

In such evidence, there is plenty of food for thought. If the United States has the ability demonstrated in the U-2 incident, what could this nation accomplish through a true service of the armed forces exists now?

GUN ACCIDENTS

Periodically, the Times-News has stories about gun accidents. They occur nearly any place ranging from the home to the car to the open field. Likewise, there is a good deal of variety in time and also in the sort of weapons involved. There are a few things common to virtually all so-called accidents involving firearms—carelessness.

Carelessness is involved when a spent bullet strikes someone beyond the vision of the rifleman. It's carelessness when the fast-draw fan wounds either himself or someone else. It's carelessness when a person is wounded or killed by a gun being handled in an auto. Carelessness also is responsible for the type of accident in which a person wounds himself while cleaning a gun. The sort of circumstances is long and tiresome.

These accidents result whenever a person handling a firearm either forgets or ignores some of the common rules of gun safety.

For instance, experienced hunters will never fire at a game animal disappearing over the top of a ridge, to they would have no idea of what would happen to the bullet if they miss. Likewise, the careful gun handler wouldn't have a loaded gun in a car and certainly not one involved in cleaning weapons. These are the things that are common to virtually all so-called accidents involving firearms—carelessness.

SAFER AND MORE SCIENTIFIC

President Kennedy has proposed a four-year extension of a program designed to regulate advertising billboards along interstate highways and a doubling of the program's incentives to encourage states to adopt the program. The program, which began in 1958 and scheduled to expire June 30, authorizes an annual payment of one-half of the cost of one percent of the cost of interstate highway projects in the state for states desiring to comply with federal laws which restrict billboards. The program is the only state which has adopted this kind of control program.

The program's highways system was intended, among other purposes, to enable more Americans to move easily across their country, said Mr. Kennedy. The program was not intended to provide a large and unimpaired measure of benefits to the billboard industry whose structure is being changed. The program is the only state which has adopted this kind of control program.

NOTICE THE RULE—Notice the rule omits reference to a "loaded gun" for the simple reason that firearms should be handled at all times just as if they were loaded and ready to fire.

POT SHOTS

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Political leaders are gradually being weaned from their dependence on new labor-management contracts. In general, they follow the old pattern of "if you can't get along with your union leader, you can't get along with the rest of the world."

More and more union leaders are coming around to the view that there is no use trying to stop progress. Management is recognizing increasingly that it has responsibilities to its employees as well as to its shareholders.

Viewed from both those angles, views are sought to make the new technologies in manufacturing and processing a blessing to both management and labor—not just money that cause strikes or destroy jobs.

A question was asked regarding the proper procedure of disposal of an Easter bunny, one of the people like to give to children for Easter.

Actually, the mechanics of disposing of an Easter bunny are relatively simple. Just give the information along with your address and/or phone number.

Unfortunately, there's a little more to it than that, as we explained to the poster. In the first place, the youngster has to be convinced that the bunny idea is not just a joke. The bunny idea is not just a joke. The bunny idea is not just a joke.

Who is that Idaho, with all its reputation as a good fishing place, doesn't have any northern blue fish? The blue fish is a popular recreational game fish in some parts of the nation and people fish for them to the exclusion of all other fish.

Wouldn't it be a good idea to plant some of them in some of our reservoirs and in Snake river? They're truly a magnificent scraper.

He couldn't afford to accept the job of vice president at the time he was available to do so. He had a large family of dependents to care for and he had a large family of dependents to care for and he had a large family of dependents to care for.

It wasn't until after the election that he was able to accept the job. He had a large family of dependents to care for and he had a large family of dependents to care for and he had a large family of dependents to care for.

The political gravity of such a comment on these two is exaggerated by the fact that the man who was vice president at the time he was available to do so was a member of the same party as the man who was vice president at the time he was available to do so.

FOOD FACTS From Leo Soran

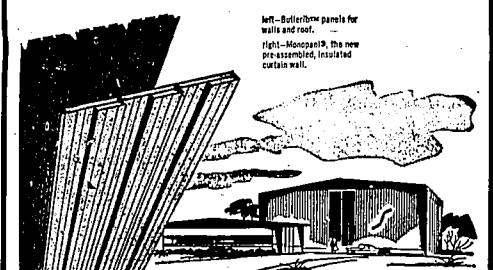

Have you ever wondered when the first fork was used? Well, it goes back in history to when Henry II was King of France. Until that time everyone ate with his fingers, using a knife (usually worn in the belt) to help with picking and cutting whenever it was necessary.

Good King Henry II decided he wanted something a "little more dignified" than the manner of eating with his fingers. He commissioned his goldsmith to fashion a three-pronged instrument that looked like the trident which had been used by gladiators in the Roman arena. His was made of gold.

The members of Henry's court were a little afraid to use this new "apparatus," but the temptation was too strong. Before long each nobleman carried his own fork—after first having practiced with the weapon—and now we take it for granted.

Plan Outlined For Trial of Food Stamps

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—A trial of a food stamp plan will get under way in eight areas and may cut upward of 50 million dollars the first year, an official said Thursday.

The figures and tentative details of the trial were outlined by food industry representatives by Howard P. Davis, deputy director of the agriculture and domestic food distribution division.

The current program of direct distribution of surplus foods, expanded under the Kennedy administration and operating in 20 states, is now at the rate of about 400 million dollars a year, Davis said.

The food stamp plan is designed to raise nutritional standards of low-income families. Results of the pilot plan test will determine whether it will be extended on a national scale. A decision may be made in six months, but the trial will continue at least one year.

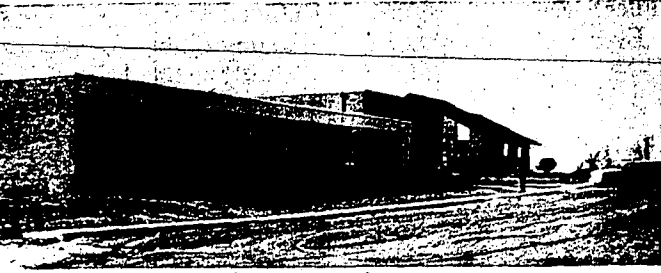

Davis said it is hoped to start the program early in June in the eight communities where it will be tested.

They are Franklin county, Ill.; Perry county, Ky.; Detroit, Mich.; Michigan; Madison, Wis.; and communities in northern Mississippi; Silver Bow county, Mont.; St. Vincent and the Grenadines, Guyana, F.A., and McDowell county, W. Va. All are planned by unemployment.

Under the tentative plan, the government will stamp food stamps on the purchase of staple food items by local welfare agencies and distribute them to recipients.

The stamps would be used to purchase food at regular grocery stores which agree to participate in the program.

Dedication Set Sunday for $225,000 Catholic Construction Project at Buhl

DUIH, April 14—Final touches on the $225,000 Catholic building program recently completed by the Buhl Catholic church and rectory, are being completed this week. The dedication ceremony will be held Sunday, according to the Rev. James J. Byrne, pastor.

The new school building, a two-story structure, will be held from 7 to 4 p.m. with parabanders from the Church of Immaculate Conception extending an invitation to members of the community for other interested persons to attend. Parishioners will conduct group tours of the buildings to explain the various rooms and point out their features. Refreshments also will be served.

The school building is a modern, contemporary styled building and the construction work was done by the Ultrama Construction company, Twin Falls.

Space has been reserved on the site for a new church which is to be built at a future date. At the present time the school auditorium is being used as a church sanctuary and has a seating capacity for 350 persons.

The new oak pews in the church, made by the Osterman Munk, La. Lyle, Ore. are of modern design and style. The altar is also modern, designed of Philippine mahogany and walnut wood centered with the home tabernacle. The pulpit is of wrought iron, which also along with the pews, altar and tabernacle all have been made.

An outstanding feature is the overhead natural light created by the use of a recent innovation called skylight. These skylights are placed in the roof construction to allow natural light to filter into the room, creating a very pleasant atmosphere, the pastor points out.

The Catholic school which consists of four classrooms, library, large activity or multi-purpose room, kitchen and office facilities will be ready for operation in September, according to the Rev. Father O'Connor. He points out that the number of grades for the year has not yet been decided, but the school will accommodate any child regardless of religious beliefs, if enough space is available.

The school which is all of masonry construction includes all the latest developments in school design and is modern in every respect.

Lighting fixtures are an incomplete feature of the new building. The lighting fixtures are a modern design and style. The altar is also modern, designed of Philippine mahogany and walnut wood centered with the home tabernacle. The pulpit is of wrought iron, which also along with the pews, altar and tabernacle all have been made.

Change Made In Speech of U.S. Admiral

HOUSTON, Tex., April 14 (AP)—Admiral Samuel B. Frankel said last night changes ordered by the defense department in a speech he is to make today will only revise the content of his opinions on the communist threat.

"Military men with the background of it have the privilege, if not the obligation to speak up," said the deputy director of naval intelligence after his arrival from Washington.

Frankel, who spent nearly four years in the Soviet Union, addressed the Houston Navy League, Arthur Bylvestor, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs in Washington, yesterday confirmed his point parts of an advance copy of the speech unacceptable. Bylvestor said the unacceptable material involved a suggestion that "anyone who thought he could negotiate with the Russians was deluded, was obviously mistaken, was being taken in."

Bylvestor said he understood the matter was taken up with White House officials who, he said, upheld his view "without question."

Local FFA Team Is Winner Of Farm Mechanic Contest

The Twin Falls high school FFA team took top honors in the district FFA farm mechanic contest held Thursday afternoon at the high school here.

Buhl was runner-up, Filer third and Marsburg fourth.

Each team was judged in arc welding, acetylene welding, soldering and the third tool identification and tool reconditioning.

There were three students on each team. One boy performed the arc welding and the other two acetylene welding and soldering and the third tool identification and reconditioning.

The basic purpose of the contest is to stimulate increased proficiency in the use of tools, related Richard D. Flynn, Twin Falls instructor.

Each contestant is judged on his workmanship, tool handling ability and how well he fills contest specifications. Flynn explained. Winning the district contest qualifies the Twin Falls group to compete in the state contest.

Storm Causes Five-Vehicle Road Mishap

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—A severe storm is blamed for an accident on U. S. highway 40 near Mountain Home Tuesday, resulting in five vehicles involved four cars and a truck and injured three people.

The storm which was accompanied by heavy rain and strong winds caused the accident.

A car driven by 38-year-old Phillip Francisco, 40, was rammed from behind by a car driven by John Tate, 50, whose Phillips car was overturned by the impact.

A truck driven by Marvin Howe, 22, Caldwell, stopped when he approached the accident scene. Following the truck was a car driven by Fay Young, 48, who was taking his wife home from a "bottle hospital." The Young car, a 1958 Ford, was behind the Phillips car, pushing it into the truck. All three vehicles were damaged.

Phillips and his father, 61-year-old Louis Carpenter of Orem, Utah, and Mrs. Young were taken to the Mountain Home hospital in Mountain Home where they were listed in satisfactory condition.

Investigating officers claimed the "damaging" fog obstructing vision.

New England Catches Last Of Nor'easter

Whiplash winds of a dying nor'easter scaped New England today and forced 45 men aboard an American freighter to abandon ship in 14-foot waves off the coast of Maine.

A rescue craft that anchored their BOB stood by to pick up the crewmen of the freighter, the Marine Merchant. In addition to the heavy seas, the vessel had been buffeted by rain, snow and hail. The snow had amounted to 10 inches in the northern Appalachian area by late yesterday.

South along the coast, gales diminished after heavy rain smashed chimneys and tilting utility poles. In New York, the spring storm sent water pouring over the belt parkway in Brooklyn and flooded some Staten Island homes with four feet of water.

At least five deaths were attributed to the storm. Waves swept two ship captains to sea when their barges capsized in the Hudson river. Three men were found dead of apparent exposure in their 14-foot boat off the south shore of Long Island.

The U. S. weather bureau predicted high pressure calm, generally fair skies today for the south Atlantic coast states and a gradual warming with scattered drizzle in the central and lower Mississippi valley.

Man Sings Leader Liking Hat More

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Kennedy is beginning to like wearing a hat, an official reported last night after talking with him, at the White House. The union official was pleased.

He is Alex Rose of the United Hat Makers, Cap and Millinery Workers.

"I told him that a hat on the head is worth 100 in the hand," Rose told reporters. He said Kennedy replied he is growing to like more and more the idea of wearing a hat.

O'Connor, who came here from St. Charles parish at Hallett in April 1960.

The local parish now has a working unit of the Catholic Women's League, Debates club, Gabriel club and the chapter of the Knights of Columbus including fourth degree Knights assembly.

"Visible Defeat"

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Communist party newspaper Hoy said yesterday President Kennedy's statement that the United States will not intervene in Cuba reflected a "visible defeat for his Cuban policy in Latin America."

Kennedy told his news conference in Washington Wednesday the United States would not intervene in Cuba under any circumstances. The statement followed declarations by Presidents John F. Kennedy and John F. Kennedy's brother-in-law, Joseph P. Kennedy Jr., that their governments opposed intervention in Cuba.

Indian Maiden Missing

This beautiful Indian maiden, Sharon Hagan, is missing from the reservation and all the young braves believe Bart Maverick (Jack Kelly) has her. She will be seen in a two-part "Maverick" story, "The Devil's Deal," to be telecast originally on the next two Sunday evenings on ABC-TV. (Staff engraving)

Happy Future Is Promised; Star Weds on Series

For most characters on daytime television series, life on-camera is one crisis after another. But this is no longer true for pretty Patsy Banner of NBC-TV's "Young Doctor Malone." Her future promises to be a happy one, and she deserves it.

Patsy—portrayed by petite, blond Lenita Peterson—during the past year has had her share of misfortune. She was in a serious auto accident, was involved by her teenage daughter (whose father died before she was born), and had been harassed by a self-centered doctor who cheated Patsy of her inheritance when her millionaire father died.

However, Patsy was married on a recent program, and the event has opened a wonderful new life for her.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

They called him "The Splendid Splinter." He had come out of the service to murder American League pitcher Ted Williams, long, enjoying one of his best years. This was Ted Williams, one of the greatest hitters. It looked as if all a pitcher could do was throw and pray.

Then came a July afternoon with a double-header between Boston and Cleveland. In the first game, Williams' could not be stopped. He collected three towering home runs.

In the second game Lou Boudreau, then the young manager of the Indians, tried a desperate measure. He shifted his entire outfield and infield over toward the right, presenting a solid wall of fielders to the rightfielder—hitting Williams.

Thus was born the "head-on shift" that has plagued Williams ever since . . . although it hasn't kept him from being one of the game's greatest hitters.

An AC Triple-Trapper Oil Filter is one of the best assurances you have of retaining your engine's power, performance and "high-flying action." AC Triple-Trapper Oil Filters catch the grit and metal particles that cause engine wear. They trap the contaminants that form engine-damaging sludge. They do both of these jobs better because of their triple protection design—highest quality filtering material, greater usable filtering area and a unique fold design that catches and holds a maximum of harmful particles. Your engine oil stays clean and your engine runs with minimum wear when you change your AC Triple-Trapper Oil Filter element at recommended intervals. Ask for one next time you make a filter change.

Spring Branding Operations Started on Ranch South of Twin Falls

On a windy, dusty day last week about 170 calves were cut away from their dams for branding operations on the desert near William T. Williams' Cottonwood ranch, south of Twin Falls. The cows were cut out of this new corral, with Robert Hamby, left, and William (Dink) J. Williams on horseback and Rex Senner, right, in coveralls.

Other helpers were Thomas Williams, Walter Hamby, James Hamby and John Hamby. The calves were then brought into a small corral, thrown by the boys so that Williams could brand cleanly and without pain his Double Cross brand on the hide of these spring calves. (Staff photo-engraving)

Spring Farming, Ranching Activity Going Full Blast for Magic Valley

Spring operations are going full blast at farms and ranches these days.

The work of almost 5,000 head of cattle owned by members of the Salmon River Cattlemen's association is taking place across Twin Falls county ditches to San Jacinto, Nev.

Farmers are planting spruce near Coaledford, while at the same time the USDA is warning all farmers not to plant many spruce.

The winds are blowing but the farmers and ranchers are riding tractors and horses and despite snow or rain, irrigation water is turning into headgates and out on pastures, hay fields and sugar beets.

Last week an unusual spring-bull and heifer calves was tried on the herd owned by William T. Williams on brushland near his Cottonwood ranch.

The method was to count the ear notches saved from each calf, with those from the bull calves put on one shelf built into the fence and those from heifer calves put on the other shelf. When the 170 small calves had been branded, vaccinated, castrated and ear-marked the "markings" were counted on each shelf. There was no doubt about a recount, as happens often during the almost frantic bustle and wrestling that goes on.

Williams also built a corral out on the brush for this kind of operation. His two sons, William J. Williams and Thomas Williams, and Robert Hamby and his three teen-age sons built this sorting and catch-corral where they can separate calves from dams and run the small hawing calves into a small pen to await branding operations.

The teen-age boys threw the calves, no horse and rope being needed. Williams, sr., did the branding. Hamby did the ear-markings and what goes with it, and one of the others injected Clostridium chauvoei-spiritus pasteuris bacteria.

The system worked so well that the crew went through branding operations for 170 calves in about three hours.

Quarantines for Mint, Pine Trees Placed by Idaho

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—State Agricultural Commissioner Stanley I. Trenthale has placed quarantines on mint coming into Idaho and pine trees being imported from various other states.

He said the quarantine was necessary to prevent introduction of mint into Idaho.

Trenthale explained that growing of mint in other states has been seriously damaged by the disease, in the past as the causative or anism builds up in the soil to where mint production cannot be economical, he said, the industry moves to new lands, bringing their disease problems with them by transplanting the infected root stocks.

The commissioner said the quarantine of pine trees stemmed from infestation in various states by the European pine shoot moth.

He said the moth was known to exist in areas of Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Trenthale said that shipments of regulated pine articles into Idaho would be routed through Blackfoot, Burley, Idaho Falls, Pocatello, Boise, Caldwell, Parma, Lewiston, Nampa, Payette, Rexburg, Sandpoint and Twin Falls for inspection.

Average of 996 Pounds of Milk Per Cow Produced in March, Tests Show

With less than the usual percentage of cows dry in the 60 herds on test, the Twin Falls County Dairy Herd Improvement Association produced an average of 996 pounds of milk and 364 pounds of butterfat per cow in March.

The total number of cows in the 60 herds was 2,277 of which 308 or a little over 13 per cent were dry. Normally, dairymen try to keep their cows in condition so they will freshen once a year, milking 10 months and dry 2 months.

The percentage of dry cows affects the production of individual herds. For example the high herd in milk production had no dry cows and the low herd had 65 per cent of 15 dry or 40 per cent of the herd not milking.

During March the three top herds in butterfat and milk production were all about the same also herds of registered and grade Holsteins, Redpolls and Bay 27-erson, Buhl, had an average of 997 pounds of butterfat from 40 cows all milking and was second in milk production at 1,393 pounds.

Smully Brothers dairy, Twin Falls, was second in butterfat production at 485 and third in milk production with 1,359 from 49 cows, with three dry. Irvin Ehlers, Twin Falls, with 48 cows, three dry made first in milk production at 1,477 pounds and third in butterfat production with 413.

The Hazelholt and Graybeal herd, Castelford, with 63 grade Holsteins, seven dry, had an average of 468 pounds of butterfat. Below this herd, at 453 pounds, were 37 registered and grade Holsteins, with three dry, owned by Jean Garzaud, Twin Falls. Twelve cows of mixed breeds, with one dry, made 454 for J. F. McCullum, Twin Falls. James Lantz, Buhl, had 451 pounds from 16 grade Holsteins, all milking. The E. J. Morgan herd, Hansen, with 24 grade Holsteins, two dry, made 418, and the Russell Riggs herd, Mortough, with 27 Holsteins and Guernseys, with seven dry, made 416.

Erving Tervey, Buhl, had 14 cows of mixed breeds, one dry, that made 434, and just two months of a pound lower at 432 were 31 grade Holsteins, with six dry, owned by Leonard Albee, Twin Falls. This herd was fourth in milk production with 1,263 pounds.

Roger Blafford, Kimberly, had an average of 418 from 28 grade Holsteins, two dry. Jim LaGrone, Castelford, with 18 registered and grade Holsteins, two dry, averaged 422.

Grain is beginning to come up in various areas in the valley, and just low stands are it too early to say. However, many farmers were concerned in mid-week about the drying effect of the winds on their lands, and some grain need to be planted early spots. The corn fields probably will be pre-irrigated. At this time the demands went back to riding their tractors, canal systems will be increased.

Minimum Loss Reported for Idaho's Winter Wheat Crop

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—Idaho's winter wheat crop "appears to have wintered with a minimum of loss" and production is estimated at 19,448,000 bushels, the department of agriculture reports.

A crop of that size would be 12 1/2 per cent larger than last year's crop in production, but would be about the same as the average crop in the state, normal.

Spud Seed Cutter Is Only One in Idaho

A new spud seed cutter installed recently by John Bliker, left front, and George Bliker, right, is the only one of its kind in Idaho. The spuds are applied by a "feeder" into the conveyor and carried up to the setting table. Small rubber rollers bounce the spuds toward the round disc knives in the back under the lamp shade. Wets Levech, left, and Vera Sample, both Castelford, have the job of picking out the single drops on the rollers before they get to the knives. Then they drop the single drops into a chute that falls toward the dipping vat behind the machine. (Staff photo-entouring)

New Spud Seed Cutter Used by Firm Is Capable of Cutting 70 Sacks an Hour

CASTLEFORD, April 14 — A new spud seed cutter, capable of cutting about 70 sacks of seed an hour, is operating day and night at the Bliker and Recce Produce company warehouse. George Bliker says it is the only one operating in Idaho and was made by a Blackfoot firm. The firm intends to make another 30 machines. The seed cutter needs only three people to work with it, and two of these have the job of separating the single-drop spuds so they won't be cut by the large discs.

Potatoes Conveyed From Cutting Machine

Cut seed spuds, after falling into the dipping solution of semen, are covered up the dipping machine and into another drop toward the loader being up to the truck and into the hopper. Dan Sample, foreman at Bliker and Recce Produce company, left, and John Bliker, far right, are operating the machine. The cut seed in this case are one and one-half-ounce sizes. Since the first of the week the machine and crew are working day and night to keep up with demand. The machine turns out about 70 sacks an hour. (Staff photo-entouring)

First Lamb Pool In Rupert Area Draws 825 Head

RUPERT, April 14 — LaMont Smith, county agent, reports that the first lamb pool of the year had this week, brought out 825 head with some 40 owners represented. Price paid was $17.25 per hundredweight, with a four per cent shrinkage. Smith said, "This reflects the nation-wide slump in lamb prices. He said that eight car loads came out of the area this week for the price of $17, as better than the local price. Buyer of the Miraflores lot was Guy Ogden, represented by their local buyer, Oscar Arsteln, Paul. There were four other bidders. Sales are planned by the Miraflores County Lamb Pool directors, Steve Uocila is president, Joe Arsteln, secretary, and Jim Harner, Guy Bains and Jimmie Carter, directors. Smith said the next pool is scheduled for April 25 at the Valley Livestock commission company.

Idaho Fieldwork Ahead of Normal

BOISE, April 14 — Above normal precipitation in North Idaho delayed fieldwork in that section last month, the U.S. agriculture department reports. It also reports that farm land work ahead of normal.

In higher elevations of southeastern Idaho had been snow covered or was too wet to work but that last month, the U.S. agriculture department reports. The Snake river were starting their spring fieldwork by April 1. Progress of fieldwork over the state this year, the department said, is considered to be about a week ahead of normal.

Population "Explosion" on Coast Has Effect on Magic Valley, Official Says

The tie-in between electric power, agriculture and the population explosion in the coastal states was made clear by the U.S. agriculture department, Boise, president of Idaho Power company. "In all the interview, Roach said Idaho may be much better off having the population explosion take place in California cities, while this state grows the basic agricultural commodities to help feed those people."

Roach said that one with too fast an expansion. "I'm not the least bit discouraged that they have over 1,000 new people move into their areas on the coast while we don't," Roach said. "Our population growth has been much slower than theirs, of course, and we have our industrial growth, while this state grows the basic agricultural commodities to help feed those people."

Roach stated that Idaho's "explosion" has been in agriculture. "Over one-half million acres of new farmlands in Idaho have gone into production during the last 10 years," he said. "This of course couldn't have happened if there wasn't an adequate supply of economical electric power. The reason is that these new lands are all being irrigated with underground water, requiring pumps, power lines and the transmission of electric power. Our company has kept pace with the demands for power and we are in position to maintain this pace."

A few years ago, the company's peak load was in the winter. The reason is that ground water irrigation has taken such a leap in the last decade, and agricultural developments have been as explosive here as some population developments have been in California.

ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER PAID FOR THIS CAR

This is not an exaggeration. By the proper and effective use of Elephant Brand fertilizer thousands of farmers have been able to make the money for something they wanted, such as a new car or new farm machinery.

With Elephant Brand fertilizer you grow bigger crops. Your cost of growing the crop is spread over more crop units (more bushels, bales, tons or pounds) so you grow each unit for less. Lower production cost per unit means you increase the difference between cost price and selling price — that difference is your profit.

Using Elephant Brand will mean more money for you in three ways: first, your better-grade crops bring higher prices; second, your bigger yields give you more to sell and third, you get a greater profit on each crop unit of whatever you grow.

Farmer Seeking Bride

Farmer Arthur Birnstengel opens mail from some of the 8,000 women answering bride request.

Farmer, 58, Facing One Problem, Finding Wife

GRANTSBURG, Wis., April 14 (AP)—Arthur Birnstengel, a hard-working farmer of 58, has no bad habits — but he does have one problem: finding a wife.

Since 1945, he has received more than 8,000 letters from women interested in marrying him. The mail started coming when Birnstengel wrote a letter to his congressman, asking help.

He had been married twice but was left alone with a 3-year-old son, Arnie, in 1945. He needed a wife to help rear the boy.

His congressman, Alvin E. O'Koniski, gave the letter to the news services and Birnstengel's plight was described around the world.

Letters came airmail, special delivery and postage due. He read every letter and answered about 1,000. Some correspondences lasted for three or four letters.

"Many of the first letters looked good but things usually changed on the second or third letter," he says. Birnstengel claims he can detect the phony letters sent by pranksters "trying to get me in hot water with old maids."

The sincere women usually send a picture with their first or second letter. Birnstengel has sent his picture on a few occasions. He always demands references on the third letter. He added:

"You have to find out plenty about them. You can't leave any stones unturned in this game."

What type of women write to Birnstengel?

Many of the letters are from lonely widows but the 8,000 letters include women from every walk of life. Some are apparently uneducated, others have college degrees.

"I'm just as interested today as when I wrote to my congressman," says Birnstengel. "A good wife is the best property you can get. I'd

Kennedy's Plan for Farmers to Carry Price Support Ceiling of 90 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's new plan to let farmers help write government marketing-control and price support programs for their crops will carry a built-in price ceiling of 90 per cent of the commodity's market value.

The bill on supports has been written into the omnibus farm bill which the administration is expected to send to congress next week. The full parity price for any farm crop is designed to give the commodity a "fair" purchasing power in relation to the things farmers have to buy. Supports for most major 1951 crops will be 80 per cent of parity.

The administration's 67-page draft bill is currently being circulated among congressional farm leaders for last-minute advice. Generally, it follows the outline be limited, like other price support operations, to 90 per cent of market value.

Congress now writes detailed provisions for new farm programs. It would be left only with power to veto proposed marketing orders, sales quotas, and support programs developed under the Kennedy plan.

The Kennedy bill provides that if a proposed program is approved by two-thirds of affected growers voting in a referendum, it would go into effect unless vetoed by either house of congress within a 60-day period.

Congress would surrender even the veto power under a special provision in the bill designed to rush a new wheat control program into effect for the 1951 crop.

The special wheat section, applying to the 1952 crop only, would select a wheat farmer committee to help draft a new surplus-curtailing plan. If farmers approved this program in a referendum, it would go into effect without further congressional review.

If congress approves this section, the program could include a wide range of control and support methods including new nationwide controls over milk production.

For some crops, direct "Brannan plan" income-boosting payments to farmers could be used. The bill provides, however, that direct payments can be made only where farmers accept marketing controls. The payments also would

The center is a joint venture of the Idaho and Washington employment agencies and is located in its current location to help migrant laborers in determining the areas of the three northwestern states where agricultural employment is available. With economic conditions that concern many areas of Idaho, more and more people are leaving their homes and migrating to new areas in search of work. The increase in sugar beet acreage in Idaho will result in an increase in the need for agricultural labor. This will be evidenced by the numbers of Americans of Mexican descent in the area. The consideration of the many migratory laborers from the state of Texas that the center will help information signs are placed in King Hill because the vast majority of the migratory laborers from the southwest will have to pass through here because of the nature of the highway system. Tractor Uses Fuel Cells

Fuel cells in this experimental Allis-Chalmers tractor developed enough pull to draw a multiple-bottom plow.

Research in Fuel Cells Use Has Huge Potential

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—There's an unspoken U. S. Russian race in a somewhat under-mapped area of science that could lead out to the cosmos in the East-West arms and space context.

Ornamental Trees, Shrubs Need Thorough Watering

BHOSHONE, April 14—Ornamental trees and shrubs require a thorough watering in early spring, says Howard Manning, Lincoln

Farm Program Given Tentative Okay by Group

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The president of the Washington Association of Wheat Growers said yesterday that grain growers have approved in principle the administration proposal to let agricultural groups try to write their own farm program.

Salt Is Used as Simple Test for Checking Hay

A simple test was offered last week to test farmers if their hay is safe for haying. It may or may not work, but it sounds good and only one-half teaspoon of dry salt.

Here's how it's done: Cut a small sample of your hay when it is in the wind-row and fit it loosely into a quart-sized container. Then add one-half teaspoon of dry salt.

March Figure of Farm Workers Is Same as for 1960

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The Bureau of Economic Analysis reported today that farm workers totaled six million workers, about the same as a year earlier.

Damage Claims Received For Winter Wheat Crops

Four damage claims on winter wheat with the federal crop insurance corporation have been filed this month, says Douglas Beroch, Twin Falls district director for southern Idaho.

Warning on Use of Chemical To Kill Alfalfa Weevil Made

Farmers are warned not to use heptachlor to kill alfalfa weevil if they intend to put the alfalfa into sprouts in a few years.

Profitable Harvest

The pressure of the cost-price squeeze on farm and ranch operations today necessitates efficiency, hard work and long-range planning.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

"I'm a boy, 14 years old. I'm careless about many things, but I love sports. My mother is the best in the world and I worry her because I'm careless, she says. I don't mind lessons but I don't enjoy them. That's why maybe I don't get that good mark. I'd like you to tell me how to do better."

Favorites for Oscars Noted Next Monday

HOLLYWOOD, April 14 (AP)—Zimbalist, Taylor, Lerner and "The Apartment" are favorites to win Oscars Monday night in the 32nd annual Academy Awards derby.

In the warm-up races Sal Mineo and Shirley Jones are preferred for best supporting awards. Billy Wilder is expected to trot off with best directing award.

Liz Taylor ("Eastwick") appears to be the best bet of all. Her recent dramatic entry with Academy members. This is her fourth consecutive nomination. A three-time loser, Liz should win for her performance as a fallen woman.

Best actress competition comes from Greer Garson for her role as Eleanor Roosevelt in "Eleanor at Campobello." She has had seven nominations, winning an Oscar in 1947 for "Mrs. Miniver."

The rest of the field, Shirley Maclaine ("The Apartment"), Deborah Kerr ("The Sandlot") and Melina Mercouri ("Never on Sunday") are long shots. Deborah is a six-time loser. Shirley had one previous losing start, and Melina is running her maiden race.

If Laurence Olivier ("Great Expectations") doesn't take it all then Jack ("The Apartment") Lemmon will, say the odds.

The second nomination for tough guy Laurence Olivier lost to Bill Holden in 1953. Lemmon is in his third race. If he upsets Burt he will become the first actor to win an Oscar in both acting categories, having topped the supporting award in 1955 for "Mr. Roberts."

Tevor Howard ("Sons and Lovers") Laurence Olivier ("The English Patient") and Spencer Tracy ("Inherit the Wind") are outsiders. Tracy already has two Oscars and Olivier one.

Almost everybody in Hollywood liked "The Apartment," which proved to be a critical success or "art" picture as well as a box-office bonanza.

It is favored to win. However, "The Sandlotners" of "Elmer Gantry" could sneak by to pick up all the marbles. "The Alamo" is a long shot, while "Sons and Lovers" might be considered a dark horse.

Little Billy Wilder seems a shoo-in for directing "The Apartment." Formerly lost Alfred Hitchcock (psycho) has been in the race four times previously and came up empty. Fred Zinnemann ("The Sandlotners") is making his fifth run for the Oscar. He won in 1953 for "From Here to Eternity."

Two newcomers, Jack ("Sons and Lovers") Cardiff and Julia ("Never on Sunday") Dean, would surprise everyone by winning.

Youthful Sal Mineo will be pushed by Peter Aalk ("Marty"), and Jack Krutchen ("The Apartment") in the closest race of all. Mineo, nominated for his role in "Exodus" also was in the 1953 race for "Rebel Without a Cause," but lost out to Jack Lemmon that year.

Peter O'Toole ("Paper Moon") and Chaz Wala ("The Alamo") have an outside chance. If the betting gentry know what's going on.

All five nominees for best performance by an actress in a supporting role are in the running for the line.

The stretch run among the quintet of pretty fillies should be close with Shirley Jones ("Elmer Gantry") and Janet Leigh ("Psycho") running neck and neck. Liz is a fraction with Shirley ahead by a fraction.

Also may include Glynis Johns ("The Sandlotners"), Shirley Knight ("The Dark at the Top of the Stairs") and Mary Ure ("Sons and Lovers").

Most of the nominees will be on hand Monday night when Oscar is passed around. Television cameras will be there, too, when the gallant losers applaud through tears for the smiling winners.

Paper's Report Called 'Untrue'

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Dr. Hugh L. Dryden of the national aeronautics and space administration yesterday denounced as untrue a London Communist Daily Worker report that the Soviet Union sent a man through space last Friday.

The report was filed Tuesday night by the Daily Worker's Moscow correspondent, and it said the Soviet Union would announce Wednesday that an astronaut was sent up last Friday, orbited the earth three times, returned and was placed under medical observation.

Dryden, deputy director of NASA, said the house space committee had not been told. He said he would have known if they had put up a satellite, and they did not, before this week's launching.

Nab Plot Closed, 'Not Forgotten'

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—The secret service yesterday declared the reported kidnap plot against Caroline Kennedy "closed" but "not forgotten."

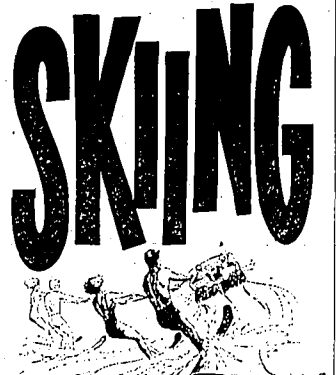

Possibly, it said, the whole thing was a result of official gossip. U. E. Baughman, chief of the secret service, who ordered extra protection for President Kennedy and his family during the kidnap-plot scare in Palm Beach, Fla., over the Easter holiday, said four Cuban suspects may have been the victims of the plot.

Baughman said the four, one reportedly a woman, had been questioned "somewhere near Miami" about a week ago and "they denied everything."
