The other Pioneer League games were postponed Thursday night because of cold. These were Idaho Falls at Billings and Pocatello at Boise.

Adcock Belts Grandslam to Beat Dodgers

By The Associated Press
Joe Adcock hit a grand slam homer in the last of the 10th inning Thursday to give the Milwaukee Braves a 10-6 come-from-behind victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Braves tied the score in the ninth inning then led behind again in the 10th 6-6 before they landed the bomb to set the stage for Adcock's second homer of the season. The four-base hit came off rookie Jim Golden, ending a three-hour, 44-minute marathon.

Adcock wound up as the hero in the 10th with a grand slam which he had gone hitless in four previous times at bat, including three strikeouts with six men on base. He also committed an error that gave the Dodgers a lead.

Joe Jay's one-hit pitching and business-like hitting by the rest of the Cincinnati squad brought the Reds a 4-0 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies.

It was the Reds' first shut-out victory and the fifth win in a row. Jay gave up few runs in his previous game but the Reds failed to catch him up with a single run in the 18th inning on the mound.

Freddie Hutchinson, the Reds' manager, was banished from the game for protesting against a claim that Jay was throwing at Ruben Amaro's head. Amaro fanned.

Outfielder John Callison, the second man in the Philadelphia lineup, got the "balls" only hit in the first inning. It was a single.

The first-place San Francisco Giants popped their biggest inning of the season, a five-run sixth, and scored another come-from-behind victory, 9-3 over the Chicago Cubs.

The winners were Sam Jones, who pitched a rocky first in which the Cubs moved ahead 3-0. He scattered five hits and struck out eight for his third victory against one defeat. Jones allowed only two hits after the first inning.

Orlando Cepeda drove across three runs, two on a bases-loaded single in the sixth, to pace the Giants attack.

General Tells Story Behind Reply of Nuts

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—The story behind the famous "Nuts" surrender demand was told by its "speaker" recently during the centennial of an appearance for ABC-TV's "Winston Churchill - The Valiant Years."

The speaker was Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, now retired. In late 1944, he was acting commander of the 101st airborne division at Bastogne during the Battle of the Bulge.

"On Dec. 22," the general related, "we had three days of severe fighting around Bastogne in heavy fog and freezing weather. That morning of the 22nd, four German emissaries, with a white sheet on a pole, approached our outpost line in the southern part of the front. They were blindfolded and taken to the regimental command post, commanded by Colonel Harper. There, the German emissaries delivered an envelope which Colonel Harper brought to me as my command post inside the lines.

"Several of my staff were around when Col. Harper came in and I said, 'What is this?'

"Harper said, 'It's a surrender demand.'

"I sort of laughed and said: 'Nuts!'

"It seemed to me that a surrender demand was completely out of line with the military situation as it existed. The Germans had been repulsed, and courageously pushed time after time. I felt that the troops knew as well as I that we were going to be able to hold that position.

"I went out then and visited some of the troops and returned to the command post and had another call from Harper in which he said: 'The Germans say they brought in a formal official communication, and that they're entitled to a formal reply.'

"Well, I said to my staff, 'what shall we tell them?'

"Colonel Conrad, G-3, said: 'Well, that first crack of yours would be the best.'

"All right, I said. 'Write it out.'

"They wrote it up in the same formal manner in which the German commander had prepared his demand. Addressed to the German commander was the single word, 'Nuts!' and it was signed: 'The American Commander.'

"Colonel Harper delivered this written message to the still blindfolded German envoys. The envoys, when they took their blindfolds off, were unable to negotiate the word in that context. Colonel Harper explained it to them in more vigorous American language.

Fred Flintstone Is Something of Real Character

NEW YORK, May 5.—Fred Flintstone, the cartoon character who has become a household name, is more than a cartoon character to some viewers according to a survey conducted by producers of the series.

A letter from an eighth grade student in San Francisco, California, of the youngster's promotional program in running for president of the student body. In canvassing for votes, all of his posters feature pictures of Fred Flintstone backing his candidacy and urging students to follow his choice.

Bringing Fred a step closer to reality, a letter from Malibu, Calif., revealed that in the annual election for schoolman of the town, two votes were cast for Fred Flintstone.

Henry Morgan of "The Got a Secret" quips that some of the matches in Hollywood were lit when they were struck.

Movie Honors Volunteers Who Died at Alamo

"Texas now has a living shrine dedicated to the men of the Alamo. This is the replica, faithfully created, now open to the public as a tourist attraction just north of the town of Brackettville. The capstone is one actually used during the battle. The new Alamo was erected as the shooting site for John Wayne's epic motion picture, 'The Alamo,' a $5-million-dollar production. (Star engraving)"

Show Rating High, but Is Given 'Boo'

HOLLYWOOD, May 1.—Tom Ewell, television's "Tom Ewell Show" being dropped.

Ewell, an established Broadway star and a successful movie comedian, has been given the boot by CBS.

It happens to scores of programs every season, but Tom's little catastrophe differs from others. They bombed his show when it was running riot in the rating systems. Usually the networks will "bomb" away with the turkey, but it is unusual to kill off a highly rated show.

Ewell was surprised to hear the news. "Perhaps 'boo' would be a better word," he said, "because as an expensive home here, expecting to stick around. To let people know my feelings, I bought a 'booby' in Hollywood trade papers saying: 'If you're gonna go, it's always nice to have a little booby.'"

There followed a run-down of Nielsen ratings showing his major network approval as against his own ratings picture of Fred Flintstone backing his candidacy and urging students to follow his choice.

Bringing Fred a step closer to reality, a letter from Malibu, Calif., revealed that in the annual election for schoolman of the town, two votes were cast for Fred Flintstone.

Bit Parts

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—Newcomer Jim Franciscus buttoned down an unusual contract with CBS for his starring role in "The Investigators," a new hour long series. He will work only six months a year, leaving himself free to appear in movies the rest of the time.

Director George Cukor has returned to MGM to resume shooting on "Lady L" which has been delayed for more than two months. Looks as if Loretta Young may make her return to movies opposite Rossano Brazzi in "The Last Stradivarius."

Ben Gazzara stars in "Reprieve" the motion picture about a prison artist.

Actor George Hamilton is being coached in boxing by a former fighter for his role in "Thunder of Drums."

Paul Newman will receive an honorary doctor of letters degree from Kenyon College in June.

Walter Jack Lammont, last year's Oscar winner, will hold a week's rehearsal before the start of shooting of "The Notorious Landlady."

Miss Stevens 'Loves Show' Of Hawaiians

NEW YORK, May 5.—Countess Stevens, the blond 37-year-old who looks like Ginger Rogers and adds a sizzling touch to ABC's "Hawaii Five-O" series, casually smashed a dramatic illusion.

"The reason I love my show," Miss Stevens confessed, "is that I'm crazy about Hawaii and we get to go there every year to shoot backgrounds."

Miss Stevens explained that sometimes authentic Hawaiian accents are needed and they just can't be simulated on a California movie studio's back lot, where most of the programs are made.

"It's a pretty mad time we have," she said, "we have to cover 'up' about any situation which might pop up during the whole season's shooting."

"First they take a still shot of us for the files—so that later they can match our clothes for the rest of the program. Then they shoot all the action pictures."

"They'll take Bob or Tony and me in a car leaving the hotel. They'll take us leaving fast and looking happy. Then leaving slowly and looking serious. Then leaving fast and looking happy. The idea is to make sure we have the right shots for any reaction that's needed."

Bob and Tony are Robert Conrad and Anthony Esley, the detective heroes of the series. Countess's regular chore on the show is to sing one song per show during a pause in the windmill action.

HOLLYWOOD, May 5.—Tonight for Lawrence Welk will be celebrated by the San Francisco Press club Wednesday, May 10, when ABC-TV's Champagne music maestro will be presented with the resolution which was introduced in the California assembly April 7 by Assemblyman Charles H. Wilson. The resolution, in part, reads:

Hopefuls for Emmy Awards Are Selected

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (AP)—William Shakespeare, President Kennedy, Winston Churchill, Huckleberry Finn and Bob Hope are some names for television's Emmy awards.

The Bard's 350-year-old "Macbeth" won five places, making it top entry in the race that will be decided May 16 in a telecast from Hollywood.

All three networks got nominations for coverage of President Kennedy's news conferences.

The Nixon-Kennedy debates, which the President and many top Democrats believe played a key role in the election, were overlooked in the balloting.

"Macbeth," filmed in Scotland, got nominations for its stars, Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson, its director, George Schaefer, and also for best drama and program of the year.

Previous Emmy winners Fred Astaire, Ingrid Bergman and Harry Belafonte also were nominated.

Hope, in the humor division, finds himself opposed by Jack Benny, Andy Griffith, "Candid Camera" and "The Flintstones." "The Valiant Years," based on Churchill's writings, was nominated for best public affairs show, and best writing.

"Macbeth" will have tough competition in drama from three popular series — "Hacked City," "Twilight Zone" and "The Untouchables."

Huckleberry Finn will get its major fight from Shirley Temple and Captain Kangaroo.

Evans' "Macbeth" will be opposed by Cliff Robertson in "The Two Worlds of Charlie Gordon" and Ed Wynn in "The Man in the Funny Suit."

Lady Macbeth, Miss Anderson, is up against Bob Sherman's "24 Hours in the Life of a Woman" and Elizabeth Montgomery in an "Untouchables" episode.

Miss Montgomery is the daughter of actor Robert Montgomery.

Swedish Girl Is Successful In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (AP)—When blond and blue-eyed Eva Nozde announced to a gathering of friends that she was leaving Sweden to come to America for a try at Hollywood, the reaction could be likened to that reported by the men in the advertisements who sat down at the piano—everyone laughed.

But Eva was holding out on her friends. They didn't know that an American photographer, Earl List, had urged her to make the try and promised to open doors to production offices for her if she traveled to the U.S.

List wanted to open only one Hollywood door for the girl he had "photographed" in Sweden. That was at DeLia.

The talent people there, indeed, with Eva's poise and her ability to speak flawless English without a trace of accent, called her to the attention of Irving Pincus, producer-director of ABC-TV's "The Real McCoy." The fact that she had studied drama and mastered the basic-in-block-bloom was another plus factor.

Pincus, as impressed with Eva as the people at DeLia who said her over-eager offer for "The Swedish Girl," which was telecast on "McCoy" April 27. After agreeing that segment, Irving signed Eva for three more shows, the first on "The Sunday School Teacher," May 4.

So little less than nine weeks after Eva "made good" before List's camera and made the announcement that was so funny to her friends, she was "on camera" with Walter Brennan, Dick Cane and the other "McCoy" people.

Peggie Castle of "Lawman" observes that some fellows spend a lot of money getting engaged that they don't have enough left with which to get married!

Polly Is Missed

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—The "Truth"—the Monday night panel show on CBS-TV has received hundreds of letters since the death of Polly Bergen. It is so now they're trying to figure out if Polly's film schedule is working in "Cape Fear" with Gregory Peck—or if she arranged so that she can jet to New York and tape a few shows in advance.

Western Town Is Owned by Former Boxing Champion

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (AP)—A former champion of four divisions who fought and beat practically every champion fighter between 1920 and 1928—now owns a western town.

Located in North Hollywood, it's a replica of a frontier village complete with a blacksmith's shop, harness shop, livery stable, horse, mules, livestock and a large collection of stagecoaches. Many of TV's westerns use the town to film location scenes. Among them are "Lawman" and "Shotgun Sledge."

"Corrupters" to Premiere in Fall

HOLLYWOOD, May 7 (AP)—"The Corrupters," a new hard-hitting series which bases its hour-long dramas on the story of crime's pervasion of legitimate society, will premiere on the ABC television network Friday, Sept. 29.

Steve McNally and Robert Harland star in this series which dramatizes the role of the press in exposing criminal connections in high places and the operations of organized crime.

Draft Horse Is Gaining Favor Again, Assisted by Efforts of Area Breeder

MURTAUGH, May 5—The draft horse, almost as extinct as the buffalo in some places of the U.S. because of modern tractor farming, is coming back into demand if the letters of inquiry received lately by F. V. Morrison, Murtaugh farmer and Percheron breeder, are an indication.

Morrison, who has about 45 horses on his farm, mostly Percherons, has one of the largest registered herds in the United States, and has been receiving inquiries about his horses from 20 states, and as far East as New Jersey.

As compared to the upsurge in the light horse industry the draft horse industry is insignificant. For instance, there were 4000 draft horse registrations in 1950, but only 118 registrations for the Percherons.

However, the light horse is used primarily for pleasure and sport, and the draft horse has had to compete against tractors. But some work on the farms is still done better by the horse than by the tractor.

Wants Matched Pairs

The inquiries Morrison has received have come from cattlemen who want matched pairs to haul hay to cattle on the range in the snowy mountain areas who want teams to haul lumber; from farmers who want teams around the fields during muddy winters, and even from Rutgers university which wants to have a "single" to show to youthful 4-H members who have never seen a Percheron. The Percheron usually is colored

Number of Cattle on Feed in Major States Higher Than '60

WASHINGTON, May 5—A total of 7,018,000 head of cattle and calves were on feed for market in the 28 major feeding states on April 1, according to the crop reporting board.

Meat Production Reported Higher

BOISE, May 5—Red meat production at Idaho's commercial slaughter plants in March was well above a month earlier and slightly higher than March a year ago, the U. S. agriculture department reports.

This March's production was estimated at 12,448,000 pounds, which would be 28 per cent above February and 28 per cent above January.

The department said the accumulated January-March red meat production for 1961 at 31,297,000 pounds is two per cent below the same period in 1960.

The St. Lawrence sawmill project created 38,000-acre Lake St. Lawrence in Ontario.

PRICE AVERAGE UP

BOISE, May 5—Average price for butterfat in milk produced in Idaho gained slightly during March compared with prices a year earlier, the department of agriculture reports.

Wool Grader Faces Large Task at Gooding

Jack Hay, wool grader for the Caron Spinning company, Rochelle, Ill., is shown grading wool in the West, where their segregated wool is graded by Hay in Gooding before mid-summer. These bags of wool haven't been handled yet by Hay and his crew, and the markings on the bags are the standard brand markings. When the wool is graded, a company code number will be penciled on the sacks. (Staff photo-entourage)

Not All Wool Bought by Firm Is Used After Grading at Gooding Warehouse

GOODING, May 5—Not all the wool bought by the Caron Spinning company, Rochelle, Ill., is used by the firm, according to Jack Hay, traveling grader, who is grading wool in a Gooding warehouse. Hay says he has been grading wool since March and will be in Gooding until summer. About 2.5 million pounds of wool, mostly from Idaho, will have been purchased and graded by that time. Company purchasers are Lloyd James, Boise, and James Condon, Saratoga, Ill. Both men are well-known in Magic Valley. Hay, who is from Rochelle, says his company uses only one-fourth and three-eighths wool. The rest of the wool that comes into the warehouse goes to other companies that have contracted for other grades. Other kinds of wool sorted by Hay are half-blood, common white, fine French, medium clothing, low quarter, and black.

The Caron Spinning company uses the one-fourth and three-eighths for yarns. Most of the others are used for cloths. The smaller the number assigned to a grade of wool, the coarser it is. Hay can take a fleece, touch it, spread some fibres and assign it a grade. What his company doesn't want, other do. Buyers for the company, however, pay the wool producers for their entire clips, regardless of the grading. Hay says that while most of the 2.5 million pounds of wool he will grade are from Idaho bands and

Worker Uses Automatic Wool Sacker

Erwin McCammon, Shoshone, who works with Jack Hay, Caron Spinning company traveling wool grader, is shown operating an automatic wool sacker in Gooding. This is McCammon's fourth year at the job. The wool is compressed by the machine into a long gunny sack that extends out from the front. The wool, mostly from Idaho sheep, goes undecanted, but graded into the sacks. When washed and cleaned there is a 10 to 15 per cent shrink from the original weight at the time of purchase. (Staff photo-entourage)

Wool Brings 46.5 Cents Per Pound

SHOSHONE, May 5—The Lincoln County Marketing association sold 10,000 fleeces of wool Tuesday at the courthouse for 46.5 cents a pound. Buyers were the Portland Side and Wool company, represented by Farris Silman, Gooding. Some wool will be docked in price, however, according to the merit of the wool in the individual bags.

Farm Production of Meat Animals for 1960 Down From Record Year of '59

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP)—The agriculture department reported today farm production of meat animals in 1960 totaled 4.9 billion pounds, live weight, down four per cent from the record 5.13 billion pounds in 1959.

Cattle and calf production accounted for 38 per cent of the total farm production of meat animals in 1960. Hogs furnished 30 per cent and the remaining three per cent came from sheep and lambs. In 1959 cattle and calves represented 45 per cent of the total, hogs 22 per cent, and sheep and lambs three per cent.

The farm value of 1960 production at 49 billion was seven per cent below the 1959 total of $37 billion. Prices for hogs were higher in 1960 than in 1959, but prices were lower for cattle, calves, sheep, and lambs.

The gross income—cash receipts plus value of home consumption—from meat animals amounted to $10.9 billion in 1960, down three per cent from the $11.3 billion in 1959. Gross income from hogs was two per cent larger but sheep and calf income was six per cent smaller for cattle and calves and two per cent smaller for sheep and lambs. The aggregate live weight of meat animals marketed in 1960 was 4.9 billion, or 1.8 per cent smaller than in 1959. Cattle and calf marketings were up five per cent, sheep and lambs up five per cent, and hogs down six per cent.

In a companion report, the department said every market animal in 1960 totaled 28.2 billion pounds, up three per cent from 1959. Beef production in 1960 was 14.7 billion pounds, up eight per cent from 1959 production of 13.3 billion pounds. Total production totaled 1.1 billion pounds, 10 per cent above the 1959 production. Lamb and mutton production totaled 800 million pounds, up four per cent from the previous year.

Pork production totaled 11.6 billion pounds, down three per cent from the 12 billion pounds pro-

Livestock Developments To Be Topic of Parleys

Two universities have scheduled field days next week to bring farmers and ranchers up-to-date on recent livestock developments.

The University of Idaho is scheduled Tuesday through Thursday at the Caldwell experiment station for discussions and demonstrations about beef cattle, sheep and dairy cattle.

The University of Nevada has scheduled Thursday at the Knoll Creek experiment station, Contact, Nev., for discussions and demonstrations about range problems and the handling of beef cattle in desert areas.

Programs arranged by J. J. Bohner, Caldwell station superintendent, call for the beef day Tuesday—sheep—Wednesday—and dairy Thursday. At the end of beef day, the Idaho Cattlemen's association and the Idaho Cattle Feeders' association are sponsoring a dinner and dance at the Saratoga hotel.

Feeding performance will be highlighted the first day. On sheep day, subjects to be covered will include farm flock production, influence of other subjects on lambs and ways to intensify production.

On dairy day, subjects to be covered will include suggestions for raising veal calves profitably, mastitis and improving breeding efficiency in dairy herds. Price hay and pelleted hay and the ways these feeds affect milk production also will be discussed.

On Thursday at Knoll Creek, University of Nevada specialists will discuss the feeding of calves during the winter, beef performance testing, meadow production, composition of nutrients in desert grasses and other subjects pertaining to range management.

T. F. Farmers To Participate In Feed Plans

As of May 1, corn and grain sorghum producers on 14 farms in Twin Falls county had filed forms indicating their intentions to participate in the 1961 grain feed program, reports Carl Boyd, chairman of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee.

The program provides special payments to corn and grain sorghum producers who agree to divert between 20 and 40 per cent of the acreage formerly planted to these two crops. While the program is voluntary, very producers won't be eligible for price support on any other feed grain crops—oats, barley, or rye—unless they cooperate in the program.

Closing date for filing is June 1.

AMONG FINALISTS IDAHO STATE COLLEGE, May 5—Judith McClure Hickenbottom, Jerome, is one of the finalists in the annual May Queen selection. The winner will be crowned during the May fete Saturday.

Preservation of Wheat Acreages Allowed by Law

Twin Falls county farmers now may request that their wheat acreage be included in the historical acreage allotments be projected if they find they can't plant wheat on account of a water shortage or other unfavorable weather conditions.

Carl Boyd, chairman of the county ABC committee said preservation of wheat history acreage is allowed under public law 1501. Any farmer wanting this protection must make his request in writing to the ABO office before June 1.

Rates Noted for Reducing Acres

Average county rates in Twin Falls are 4th, but average for reducing corn acreage a minimum of 20 per cent below the base farm average for the two previous years, according to Carl Boyd, chairman of the county Agricultural Stabilization committee.

In Lincoln county, the average county rates are 33 per acre, according to Eugene Alexander, chairman of the ABO committee. However, rates on individual farms may be higher or lower than average county rates, depending on farm productivity records.

Well-Managed Pasture Could Be Profitable Part of Farm

JEROME, May 5—A well-managed pasture can be a profitable part of the farm, instead of being just an expense item, says W. G. Priest, Jerome county agent.

Irrigation practices, fertilization and grazing all play a part in making the difference in the value of a pasture.

Pasture grasses and legumes pull about 85 to 100 pounds of available moisture from the top foot of soil. This means that all soil will hold enough moisture for 14 days of good growth when the daily temperature is 59 to 70 degrees, and enough for six to eight days of growth when the temperature is between 80 to 95 degrees.

65 Per Cent Moisture Needed In Potato Seed Bed to Plant

JEROME, May 5—The potato seed bed should contain 65 per cent moisture at seed-planting level at planting time, says W. G. Priest, Jerome county agent.

Moisture content can be checked by digging down to the seed level and squeezing a handful of soil. If it forms a firm ball with only a small amount of crumbling, it contains about the right amount of moisture. Excess crumbling indicates less than 65 per cent moisture.

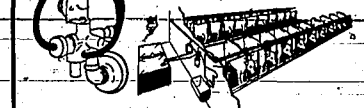

Priest said that planting in a dry seedbed doesn't allow the cut seed surface to heal and instead leaves an opening for rot organisms to enter. These organisms will destroy the seed piece before the plant gets a good start.

Pre-irrigating a field and delaying the planting is far better than planting in dry ground, Priest said.

After planting and necessary overhead or early-irrigation will increase the number of spuds in each hill and reduce the percentage of malformed tubers.

Twin Falls Co-op Supply

Along Fences And Canals

By SAM ROSEN
Ozell Jacobs, Kimberly trucker, has been hauling many loads of seed from eastern Idaho into Magic-Valley.

Fed and Supply, Twin Falls, was host to a group of hog raisers last week as a representative of a chemical company showed a Norwegian film on artificial insemination on hogs. Two FFA youths won some pigs and another won an automatic feeder.

Cattle at the Fields, Moolick, Gooding, all looked sick and well from the feed they've been getting. Those in the new feedyard didn't look any better than those in the old yards, but the feed that's mixed in this new feedmill is fed to all the cattle.

Harvey Krepf, Twin Falls veterinarian, is as busy as ever and he was bringing up a Jersey herd in the west end of the county.

Ralph Faulkner's hogs grazing on pasture just south of his house near Gooding had shiny spring coats, and one black glen-

Judge Named for Filler Horse Show

JEROME, May 5—Being co-winner of the quarter-horse-breeders' convention in California, has been selected as judge of the International Quarter Horse association's spring show at Piler, May 20-21, according to association officers.

The Idaho event, one of two quarter horse shows sponsored by the regional group, will feature a full program of halter classes, performance events and racing. Included in the performance classes will be western-pleasure, reining, cutting, roping, western riding horse, working cow horse, barrel racing, and cow cutting.

Thano Lancaster and P. G. Hodgen both fillers, will serve as show managers.

Austin Hayden, director of agriculture of the Green Giant company, Minnesota, was in Twin Falls recently. He says that mushrooms, a product being processed by the company, breathe in oxygen and exhale carbon dioxide, just like people and just the opposite of green growing plants.

Dry Bean Prices Reported Higher Than During '60

Dry bean price support prices in Idaho are considerably higher for 1961 as compared to the year previous.

Support rates, according to Cecil Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, apply to U.S. No. 1 grades, cleaned, bagged and delivered to the car. Varieties, 1961 support prices, and last year's support prices are: Pinto, $5.89, $4.78; great northern, $6.59, $5.46; pea and medium white, $6.40, $5.71; small white and flat small white, $7.21, $6.09; dark and light red kidney, $8.29, $7.27; and small red, $7.16, $6.04.

Supports also are higher for pink and lima beans. As under past programs, beans will be supported through loans available from harvest bins through Jan. 31, 1962. Loans will mature April 30, 1962.

SENTENCED AT BURLEY
BURLEY, May 5 — Charles W. McElmurray, Lakeland, Fla., and Paul Weirbach, Los Angeles, were fined $25 and sentenced to 10 days in the city jail by Police Judge James Annett for vagrancy.
