Recognition, Finally

"The little boy who said ain't, fell in a bucket of paint." That might not be the exact words, but it conveys the idea of how much effort teachers have used to get children to believe in "ain't."

All to no avail. Ain't has finally won official recognition. Teachers can stop shuddering, if they haven't already, because they'll be able to find ain't in Webster's third New International dictionary, to be published Sept. 28.

Of the word, "contraction" or whatever it's considered, the dictionary will say that it's "not part of the U. S. as cultivated speakers."

Reaction likely to be varied to the new diary of efforts to pass the Burns-Creek public power bill. Indications are now that the bill has headed for senate and house bipartisanship until next January.

By comparison to those projects, the $5-million-dollar Burns Creek scheme is small potatoes. Efforts are concentrated on the big projects; Burns-Creek might be sacrificed for now.

That put Congressman Harding in the position of almost having to procure passage of the Burns-Creek bill before he faces voters next year.

Most communities will react with more than ordinary interest in innovation being carried out by a hospital in Winston-Salem, N. C. It is a "minimal care" building, an adjunct to the regular hospital, for patients who are convalescing or do not require complete hospital care.

It has been found that the minimal care unit requires only one employe for every three patients as against nearly three employes for every patient in the regular hospital.

As a result, patients pay, in some instances, only half as much for a room as they would ordinarily.

They administer their own medicines, eat in a cafeteria and have greater freedom from hospital routines.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

(On Sunday, Ray Tucker answers readers' questions of general interest on national and international politics in the "Whirligig" column, sent to him at 702 Hillcrest place, Chevy Chase, Md.)

WASHINGTON—"Is there any chance that congress will pass fair labor legislation this session?"

UP TO SUPREME COURT—I think this is an important question that for reasons I know not has never been brought to the supreme court.

JFK'S ABSENCE—"Is there an unwritten agreement in the press to avoid reference to Kennedy's continued week-end absences from Washington?"

There is no such agreement. The press has fully reported Mr. Kennedy's journeys to Palm Beach and Hyannis Port.

Some of our business is transacted in Washington. I do not believe it is correct to say that some government business must be transacted in Washington.

Twice each year there are occasions for directing special attention to the hazards of youngsters' traffic.

Once is at the close of school year when the small fry, released from appointed hours in the school rooms, are turned loose for a three-month vacation season in which they're at liberty to roam in bus, car, or on foot.

There's a special obligation then imposed upon all motorists to be particularly circumspect in the manner of their driving in the vicinity of schools.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg had several conflicts of interest in becoming arbitrator of the Metropolitan Opera's strike.

He's going to collect a fee for 100 to 150 orchestra tickets for the Metropolitan Opera's Golden Week on opening night.

Goldberg looked up the word "scale" in it, and found it had nothing to do with wages rates so the book was no help.

Goldberg's current work is to write a new civil defense plan for Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, visited U.S. Creek, Mich., where most U.S. civil defense work is done.

Yarmolinsky was shown the new "warning room" containing radar equipment which initially spots enemy planes and sounds the alert.

He assigned each man a different area. At the sound of a trumpet, they all sped off to their respective areas.

There's no time for coffee breaks any more, lamented one. "We're scared to death the President will call about an article our bosses haven't read."

It was India's Prime Minister Nehru who acknowledged the importance of the resolution to be more than one year. He said "we cannot afford about great troops, or even small ones, but we must have our own moral strength."

The Belgrade meeting was for disarmament. But it is a result of pressure from the 25 nations which got together in Belgrade.

It is possible that in years to come the ranks of the 25 nations will grow. They'll have more in common than they do now, and that they will be able to replace some of their national debts.

Now he had a diamond. West had a diamond and South had a diamond. When it had every diamond was "hunky-dory."

Safety Check on All Vehicles Is Suggested by Buhl Writer

Editor, Times-News: All people in the county of Twin Falls, and elsewhere, who are seriously safety minded should carefully consider and put into practice my suggestion for safety on the highways.

It is suggested that a safety check be made annually or bi-annually on all cars on the highway: that is, brakes, lights, horn, taillight, direction signals if applicable, mirror, wipers, etc. and a small sticker placed in the lower right hand corner of the windshield certifying same.

This is mandatory requirement for every vehicle prior to issuance of a sticker to drive on or off any military reservation, hence, a bare minimum of accidents occur.

While spending many hours in the hospital visiting my wife who was injured in an automobile accident, I have noted numerous cars coming in and out of the hospital driveway with one or two headlights and one or no taillights and having to use emergency brakes. Because the footbrakes did not work properly, etc. All these driving hazards could be eliminated by a periodic safety check of all vehicles on the highways everywhere.

This safety check could be obtained at any authorized service station for a minimum fee.

I feel it is food-for-thought and definitely could do no harm than a presently being done. Then, too, it could save lives.

I'm happy to say my car proudly displays aforementioned safety sticker.

Rupert Woman Wants Law Against Married Students

Editor, Times-News: I thought those sarcastic remarks made by the Idaho Daily Statesman in your issue of Oct. 2, 1961, regarding married teachers, etc. were stupid. I said in a letter I sent to them that their editorial was entitled "Why Go Back?"

If proper reasoning was applied regarding minors we would not need to tolerate the minor, married, pregnant and unwed parents in our schools where minors attend. Now, would you think it were wise to tolerate them?

There is a law against minors drinking and smoking. Why then the same reasoning applied to the four types of instructors I mentioned above. If we do not teach minors to be those four types of persons, we certainly should not allow that bad influence in their presence. School is all-important to them and the future of our nation.

It is important to provide education for those four types of persons, especially minors, and that should be the responsibility of the state. I would be happy to talk about this with anyone interested.

Schools for these four types will not influence the minor to place themselves in a position to attend the school, but the horror of being expelled from their regular school will influence them to be more cautious and wise.

Therefore, as a moral obligation, not to influence the minor to be expelled from schools should be enacted into law.

Cowboy Pitcher Says Magic Valley Fans Are "Greatest"

Editor, Times-News: I would like to congratulate everyone on your support of the Cowboys this year. I like to be rooted on.

The Magic Valley fans are the greatest. We are only sorry that we couldn't win the championship for you. With your attendance, you know it. We couldn't win at that level. We had the many trips & hitches, something for all of you to be proud of.

I heard many rumors near the end of season that made me feel bad. That the Cowboys didn't want to be in the Magic Valley.

That, I cannot believe. I can honestly say I do not know anyone on the team who didn't want to be champions. That is the greatest feeling an athlete can get to be a champion.

We played hard right down to the wire. We are to have a better team won this year. I'm not the judge.

Next year, we hope the Cowboys are champions, you, the fans, deserve it.

On behalf of all the 1961 Cowboys, I would like to thank the fans, press, radio, directors and sponsors. We have really appreciated everything you have done. I hope to see everyone in the near future.

Comment Made On Punishment Given Parents

Editor, Times-News: I read in your paper that two sets of parents have been sentenced to the days in jail each for leaving their young children alone and in unsupervised surroundings, while they were out spending the evening. Their children were taken care of by responsible people, but they themselves were no doubt well fed in the county jail, which left them free to spend their time without worry.

With all due respect to Judge Dale Anderson, would it not have had they been sentenced to jail with their homes, children and making things more sanitary?

City Work Done At Golf Course Lauded by Elks

Editor, Times-News: On behalf of the Twin Falls Elks lodge and the Men's Golf Association we wish to express our thanks and appreciation to Eric Cramer and his entire staff for the extra hours and labor that were involved in the cleanup of the municipal golf course after the windstorm last Friday, Sept. 8.

About 9,760 Persons Visit Historical Museum at Filer

Despite a dismal and wet final day, an estimated 9,760 individuals visited the historical museum at the Filer fairgrounds during the four-day Twin Falls county fair.

This estimate was made by Peter Goertzen, Twin Falls, curator of the museum. He said that each day of the fair he made 15 minute "spot" counts at various times then "averaged" them out for the complete total. His announcement was made as the crowd the door on the exhibit at 10 p.m. Saturday.

President O. A. (Gus) Keiker, head of the Twin Falls County Historical society, which sponsors the museum, expressed "complete satisfaction" with the way the exhibit was received. He said more than 3,000 articles were displayed. Some were loaned but most are the property of the society, having been donated by various individuals.

Keiker also highly praised the work of Goertzen in arranging the display. He plans to start of the fair, Goertzen parked his trailer at the rear of the exhibit building. His plans called for him to return to his home Sunday after nine days spent on the grounds at Filer. Like all society members, his services are donated.

I have always believed that the motion picture is for the family. Here's one that was made for the family — the entire family.

I'd like to add my two cents worth in advising families everywhere to see "RAYMIE". I don't care what kind of a family it is—they're going to feel a lot better after seeing this picture."

Special Squad of "Night Riders" Is Prepared to Donate Blood Hard Way

While approximately 130 to 150 persons will donate a pint of blood Monday at the regular visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile without any undue inconvenience, the "Night Riders" of the Red Cross chapter, Twin Falls, is one of a special squad of about 150 donors who do it the hard way. "Night Riders" are frequently called out of bed in any kind of weather, to provide an exchange transfusion for a newborn infant where sensitization has occurred due to the Rh blood factor. This strange Rh factor is a substance present in the blood cells of most people—known as Rh negative. Under certain conditions where the husband is Rh positive and the wife is Rh negative, antibodies may develop in the expectant mother which can affect the baby if he has inherited the father's Rh positive factor. Doctors report that this complication results in only a small percentage of the mothers with the Rh negative factor, as no 90 to 95 per cent have no problems. However, when the mother has the Rh negative factor, a severe anemia will result, requiring an immediate exchange of fresh whole blood.

Clubhouse Is Dedicated at Cassia Rites

SPRINGDALE, Sept. 9—The new Latin American clubhouse, located a half mile south of Springdale is now in use after dedication ceremonies were held this week by the Most Rev. Jare Byrne, bishop of Boise diocese of the Catholic church. The building was purchased last February, according to Joe Hernandez, club president. To date nearly $2,000 has been spent by the Latin American club in remodeling the structure which was formerly the Springdale LDS church. The club is unique in this part of the state, Hernandez notes. Purpose of the group is to provide a social gathering place for members of the Latin American race. Other officers include Earl Martinez, Burley, vice president; Mike Hernandez, Emerson, treasurer; Robert Rodriguez, Burley, secretary; and Gene Hernandez, Burley, judge advocate. Julio Rodriguez is sergeant-at-arms; Ralph Trullio is in charge of entertainment and Pete Rodriguez and Raul DeLaCruz are festivities chairman. The building includes a banquet and dancing area, snack bar, modern kitchen and other facilities. The club holds dances at the site each Sunday evening with business meetings scheduled periodically. The Rev. Francis O'Discoll, Burley, and the Rev. Malachy MacNeill, Rupert, also attended the dedication.

Food for Americans

By GAYNOR MADDOX

MAINE FOODS

If you are in Maine and hungry, stop off near Portland at Smith Farms in West Falmouth and eat your fill of old-fashioned turkey sandwiches and homemade apple pie piled high with rich homemade ice cream.

Mrs. Marguerite Smith who owns the rustic barn-turned restaurant, is a member of the Maine state legislature. Very budget-conscious with official funds she lavish when it comes to feeding travelers. She has a hearty laugh, a strong body, three sons, a husband, a turkey farm, and furious loyalty to her state. Her barn-restaurant, with boys and girls in overalls and straw hats to serve you, reflects Mrs. Smith's vigor.

For more good Maine food, plus beautiful trees, gardens, the Oxford hills and Longfellow mountains and nearby lakes, relax a while at Bethel Inn at Bethel. Guy P. Butler, the owner, will talk about good Maine food and golf by the hour. He gave us his potato biscuit recipe:

State of Maine Potato Biscuits
(Yield: approximately 15 small dough biscuits)

- 1 cup shortening, melted
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup hot riceed potatoes
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 cup milk
- 1 great cake dissolved in 1 cup lukewarm water
- 3 eggs, separated and beaten
- 85 cups "all-purpose" flour

Combine shortening, sugar, potatoes, salt, milk, 1 cup flour, cream and beaten egg yolks. Fold in egg whites gently. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until light in warm place. Stir in remaining flour and let rise again. Turn onto floured board. Pat or roll until 1/2-inch thick, cut with 1-inch cookie cutter. Spread with butter, and pat pairs together in sandwich-fashion.

GIRLS HOLD PARTY
SHOSHONE, Sept. 9 - A surprise birthday party was given for Sandra Haddock, and Betty Nielsen with a dinner at the Manhattan cafe. Friends of the girls arranged the event. The two girls were 15 years old. After the dinner, the group attended a football game.

Place on greased cookie sheet. Let rise again and bake in 425 F. oven for 12 to 15 minutes.

Note: Delicious served with homemade strawberry jam.

BRUINS NI-MINICO 3-0 IN LAST MINUTES

Field Goal by McClusky Shatters Scoreless Tie; Schow and Egbert Shine

RUPERT, Sept. 9—Dave McClusky, the "golden toe" of Twin Falls' Bruins, boot-ed a 20-yard field goal in the final two minutes to give the Bruins a 3-0 decision over the Minico Spartans last night. McClusky, who also quarterbacked the team, got his chance to vindicate himself just seconds after a Minico fumble set up a scoring opportunity. The senior had missed one by inches with four minutes left in the game. The decisive field goal came on the heels of the only Minico fumble of the night. Twin Falls, starting three juniors in backfield, gave the Spartans four scoring opportunities in the first half but Minico couldn't convert on the fumbles.

The Bruin defensive unit, the opener for both clubs, converted itself with glory as it turned back Minico with 10 yards in the second half and 14 for the night. The Spartans, picking of four fumbles in the first two periods, played most of the first half deep in Minico territory. Their deepest penetration carried them to the 11-yard line but the blue ball arose to throw them back on a fourth and one situation. The Little Ray Schnell, Minico's power-packed wingback, reeled off the longest run of the game when he scampered 37 yards. The Minico attack also was hurt when tailback Bill Manning injured his leg in the second half. Extent of the injury was known immediately, although his leg wasn't broken.

After missing the fitters and fumbles throughout the first half, the Bruin backfield jelled in the second half and moved for 106 yards on junior fullback Doug Schow and senior fullback Bob Egbert, packing most of the mail. After exchanging punts to open the last half, the Bruins rolled down into Minico territory between two 15-yard penalties, coming on game of 14 and 22 yards, stuffed the drive. Minico picked off the Bruin 22 yard punt and drove for 20 yards in two tries and 12 yard gainers.

At the end of the third period the Bruins were on the Minico 18-yard line but then Minico intercepted a Bruin pass and drove for five yards. McClusky then tried the first field goal which he kicked to the right by inches.

Minico kicked the ball on a fumble and the Bruins, after getting nothing in three plays, punted to Schow. He kicked a 22 yard field goal to give the Bruins a 3-0 lead. Three plays punched the Bruin into the end zone and McClusky sent the ball through the uprights.

The Tigers were ragged with both sides being called on frequently. The Senators saw a 60-yard touchdown run in the second quarter, nullified by a clipping penalty.

Jim Livingston scored the deciding touchdown for the Tigers, plunging for the last three yards of a sustained march. Livingston also plunged for the extra point.

The Tigers were accounted for by the brief appearance of junior fullback Tim Lavens, who participated in two plays and packed 42 yards into the game.

The young 6-foot 3-inch Tiger is expected to be ready for regular work within the next two days.

It was another length back to George D. Widener's Panty in third place, Darby Dan Farm's Prisma in fourth and the third place of nine class 7-year-old fillies.

Sent off the favorite by a score of 33,071, the winner returned $470, $330, and $240.

Cicada covered the three quarters of mile in the quick time of 1:10.34.

Tolman, Wright Lead Murtaugh To 26-6 Victory Over Kimberly

MURTAUGH, Sept. 9—Behind the running of Don Tolman and the passing of Ken Wright, the Murtaugh Red Devils pulled off a minor surprise yesterday by handing the Kimberly Bulldogs a 26-6 setback. The victory evened Murtaugh's record at 1-1 while it was Kimberly's opener. Kimberly opened strong, taking the first half and moving goalward in five- and 10-yard bites.

But a penalty struck at the 25-yard line and Murtaugh's sticky defense tightened to hurl that threat back. The Bulldogs never were able to muster a serious offensive move after that.

Kimberly's opening drive, Murtaugh marched 80 yards with Tolman capping the effort with a three-yard touchdown.

Richard Cook gave Kimberly its only highlight of the afternoon just before the first quarter ended. He took a 30-yard punt and threaded his way 80 yards down the sideline to fashion a 6-0 lead.

But Murtaugh bounced right back with another march. Tolman scored again on a quick drive from close in to make it 13-6 at halftime.

In the third period, Wright loosened his passing arm and hit Don Quisenberry to set up the touchdown. A strike from Wright to Carl Kintop got the six-point and Quisenberry converted.

Don Uphoff got the last one on a five-yard snarl play.

Shoshone went for the insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter, driving 65 yards in 16 plays. Pete Larsons, feeding to Perry, saw an opening and sprinted 40 yards for the touchdown.

This time Camas made a drive slick. Sophomore quarterback Frank Thresh threw a 21-yard pass to Krahn and followed with 12 yards and the touchdown. Krahn ran over the extra point.

Vic Gormley and Gayle Wolf were singled out for good defensive efforts by Camas Coach V. Behrens.

Bortz Scores 33 Points as Declo Blasts Rockland

DECLO, Sept. 9—The Declo Hornets, behind the 33-point scoring of Gene Bortz and solid all-round effort from its lineup, smothered Rockland 62-0 yesterday in their first outing of the season. Bortz, a senior half-back, romped for six touchdowns and added three extra points. The game ended with Declo playing an all-soph-fresh lineup.

Forrest Xav started the massacre when he went off tackle for 35 yards and scored. Then Bortz took a hand-off and scored from 15 yards out. David Graythorn got the third touchdown, bursting through the line and going 15 yards.

Bortz came back with touchdowns of 46 and 35 yards and converted both before Phil Hiltz entered the scoring parade on a 15-yard fullback power play. After Graythorn converted, Bortz romped 35 yards on a reverse and then skirted right end for 20 yards for his last two scores. Gary Wickel got the last conversions.

Hailey Claims 13-2 Decision Over Wildcats

FILED, Sept. 9—The tenacious Hailey Wolverines fell behind on a safety early in the game but came back with two touchdowns to defeat the Wildcats 13-2 last night. It was a Big Eight conference opener for both clubs.

The safety was set up in the first quarter when Ed Kelly intercepted a Wildcat pass and intercepted a Wildcat pass and intercepted a Wildcat pass.

Hailey went ahead in the second quarter when Lee Rice took a 35-yard punt and scored on an end run.

It rained until three minutes were left in the game. Three fumbles and a 22-yard scoring pass to Ron Minion and Revere Roper were the result.

MALTA, Sept. 9—The Valley Vikings got their second straight victory when they defeated the Trojans 14-0 yesterday.

Officers, Enlisted Men Train on Mortar

Capt. Wesley Dobbs, left, commander of the Twin Falls army reserve unit, elevates a 4.2 inch mortar and Sgt. Arthur Wetman, center, operates the fire adjustment at First Lt. Richard Shirell sights the weapon in the rear. The reservists study theory and drill with the equipment weekly during the two weeks of summer training. They put the theory and techniques learned from the weekly sessions into actual practice. The mortar has an effective range of 6,000 yards and fires five types of shells including high explosive, white phosphorus, smokes, delayed airburst and practice projectiles. An armored personnel carrier is used to transport the gun crew and the weapon. (Staff photo-enslaving)

Original plans for the choral group called for a three-part harmony group, composed of 15 voices. But Mrs. French says there is no reason for keeping it at just 15 voices and she says the chorus can be much larger if enough women show interest.

There are openings in the group for women who can sing first soprano, second soprano and alto. Although plans for the new group are somewhat indefinite, Mrs. French says it probably will meet three or four times a month from 7:30 to 8 p.m. at the Elks lodge. Except for the first week in the month, when regular Ladies of the Elks meet, the choral group will meet on Tuesday evenings. An alternate day will be determined later for rehearsal during the first week.

The director has not been chosen yet. Plans for the group will be Mrs. Albert E. Bailey.

The purpose of the group, other than to add a new activity to the program, will be to entertain at the regular meetings of the Ladies of the Elks, and Mrs. French says the group probably will have an annual concert in the spring of each year.

At the formal concert there will be a quartet soloist and it will probably be held at the lodge. The group also will be available to sing at various gatherings throughout the year, especially charity programs of all types.

Mrs. French says the group won't specialize in one particular kind of music, but will try to have a large selection of popular, standard, semi-classical, classical, spiritual and sacred songs. Two choral selections already have been ordered—"Tumbling Tumbleweeds" and "When Day Is Done."

Mrs. French says the idea has been met with enthusiasm by the members of the Ladies of the Elks. Within a few days after the plans were announced in a short story in the Times-News 12 members had volunteered for the chorus.

Total Mobilization Would Take About 400 From T.F.

Total mobilization in the event of war would almost immediately remove an estimated 400 men from the civilian workforce in the Twin Falls area. Nigerian Student Working Near Filer Says U.S. Know-How Needed

AGRICULTURE: "American people and ways—especially the way they can help my country in many ways. They can invest in my country and can work hand in hand with my government to the benefit of both our countries," states Bernard O. Amadi, a university student from Nigeria who is living in Magic Valley under the sponsorship of the Agrow Research seed company. He is studying the technical aspects of the fields of agriculture to learn more about America, especially the pollination of wheat, corn and development of hybrids, as corn is raised in his homeland. He also is interested in storage and other feeds for cattle. Cattle raising in his country is still in a primitive state, he notes. Mass production of cattle is unknown there, and cattle graze in the open fields. The meat is eaten immediately after slaughter. The well-known Nigerian student came to the attention of W. C. Hemingway of the Agrow center in a letter from Dr. W. A. Brown of the National Student Christian Federation, New York City, asking for the company's permission to send Mr. Amadi to open fields. Authority on Kilts

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

One of the interesting things about Magic Valley is that much of its history was relatively recent. Since the area emerged from the frontier within this generation, much of its history still is walking around in the minds of the men and women who served as midwives at the birth of development of the valley. Today's parade of electric lights, running water and autos are commonplace to those who know nothing else. But there are still many "old-time" homes—some walled across the mud at Shoshone street and Main avenue in TWIN FALLS. There are also those who remember when living next to a spring was like living in the lap of luxury.

Such an old-timer is Thomas T. Rutledge, who lived with a daughter, Mrs. Jack Gregory, Twin Falls, before moving to Boise. He celebrated his 63rd birthday anniversary Aug. 17. Mrs. Gregory is in Taylor county. Mrs. Rutledge first came to Idaho in 1888.

She was graduated in 1887 from some State Agricultural college and was a classmate of the father of the former vice president, Harry A. Wallace. Rutledge recalls he "knew" with the boys vice president more than 20 years when the parents were away.

interrupted the work and Rutledge fought with the 61st infantry, Iowa volunteers. After the war he returned to Idaho, stopping at HANSEN where he operated the Weller Lumber company and became the town's first assessor.

He met and married the late Anna MacFarlane, HEYBURN in 1901. The couple homesteaded at Arden City south of MURTAUGH but before moving to the site, they lived four years in Hanzen.

Later Rutledge sold the home in Hanzen and purchased dry land near the homestead. Ever since his work on the Maladokan, however, he has been a proponent of irrigation and some day hopes to see all the land in the valley under irrigation.

"When he left his homestead in 1919, Rutledge moved to Murtaugh and entered the hardware business with W. C. Hall. He retired a number of years ago and now resides at 414 S. Bakkan, Murtaugh home, Boise.

He is a member of General Lawton Camp No. 6, United Spanish War Veterans, Twin Falls. Rutledge also celebrates his 63rd anniversary were his three children, nine grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, including his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. (Tommy) Rutledge, and family, Twin Falls, and a niece, Mrs. Deane Lindsay, Murtaugh.

There have been many people from Scotland in Wood river valley because raising of sheep has been one of the principal industries of that section of Idaho. They are just naturally good sheepmen.

"Perhaps there has never been a Scot like hers however who has talked with the broad Scotch accent of Mrs. Janet Brown, KETCHIKAN.

Mrs. Brown, who celebrated her 61st birthday anniversary Aug. 21, did not come to the United States until she was in her 20's, and she still retains as broad an accent as she had when she left her native soil.

Those who happened to be within hearing distance of her as she watched a group of Highland ladies pass by in review at the recent wagon days parade, were fascinated to hear her explain the different kilts.

"There goes the Sussat plaid for the exact copy of the old Sandy Stewart when he sailed for Waterloo.

There's the Buchanan tartan, George Buchanan—was—was—was a Scot like hers however who was tutor to Mary, Queen of Scots, and James VI of Scotland, both of whom were most unfortunate.

"That red one coming—that's the MacDougal tartan. Douglas MacDougal made his name near as he marched with the 'Reds' on the road to 'Red Ocean'.

"And there's the Gordon kilt. The regiment was known as the 'gay and gallant Gordons' at Balaklava, where the Scottish lads were fighting one to two when the Muscovites came on them—and such a fight ye never saw," but the legend of the 'Caw' of Russia's 'rucky' few difference whether on a calm sea, or stormy sea, if a ship has a rudder.

"Too often we have come to feel that the thing that is out of sight makes no difference. Jesus didn't. He entered folk to go out-of-sight, into a closet, there to pray. He knew this would give direction and strength to life. He would be sure that it would a great deal of difference whether one has a secret place of prayer.

One cannot see motives, attitudes, spirit, tucked away out of sight in our hearts and minds. Yet Jesus indicated that it was out of such resources the real life issues turn in direction and purpose.

To discard faith makes as much or as little sense as the woman's words about the rudder of the ship. As the rudder is used to steer a ship so our faith, our religious disciplines, steer us. Without these we are ships without rudders.

At a loss to give the proper name of the clan which they represent, if they are authentic.

In her tiny home she keeps several tartans made by Hugh MacPherson, Ltd., of Scotland. "Word" famous maker of the Highland outfit, at all times. And if it is the Stewart clan tartan she has on hand and it is a descendant of the MacDougal clan who wants one, she has their own treasured outfit for them in short order.

After a visitor has embarked "Kilgoburn" and talked with Mrs. Brown, he realizes that the counts she makes with people from all parts of the world are her life, and that she is keeping young by expending her energy on doing the things dearest to her heart.

...for the draftboard to select his name.
...It is probable that regarding the pattern used to augment military forces the big shortage will be to individual filters, Dobb explains.
...These filters will be supplied by increased draft, holding men on duty for extended periods, and by recalling individuals for control groups of the reserve.
...Dobb adds that the reservists maintain "do not belong to a reserve unit such as a combat support company."
...Lieut. Col. Warren Tzuan, commander of the Fourth howitzer battalion, second artillery, 89th division of the army reserve, states his unit, consisting of 92 persons from the Twin Falls area, can be called up at any time.
...President Kennedy has the power to activate the unit without congressional action, he adds, adding that if a call is made he would divide the 89th division of the U.S. army reserve will probably be activated.

Skinner explains it would take action by congress before the group could be activated as a unit, adding that some of the individuals with ready reserve obligations could be called separately by the president.

"One of the most unusual reserve units in the area is special sub-detachment No. 7, 230th special forces—a guerrilla outfit. Commanded by Lieut. Larry Spargo, Burley, the group is a light unit outfit of hand-picked volunteers. To become a member of the unit each man must receive approval by the regular army.

At present there are seven enlisted men and one officer assigned to the group. Their mission in wartime is to harass the enemy—behind enemy lines. This unit has been assigned a particular task and destination in wartime, he reports.

Joseph Ryan, formerly commander of the outfit—

Rigid training is the foundation of the unit, Ryan advises, adding that nearly all of their training is done "way back in the hills."

Every man in the unit is a specialist and each is capable of taking over the other man's job. "Discipline is based on the buddy system. Their lives depend on their ability to get along with each other," Ryan explains.

The group is subject to be called to active duty at any time, he says.

Another special unit is the 639th marksmanship unit, US army reserve, commanded by Maj. M. F. Bays. "This unit is composed of 17 men who are all marksmanship experts. This unit will not be called up en masse in case of a national emergency," Bays asserts.

"Instead, we will be called up individually in accordance with our military occupational specialties.

If called, they will be assigned to other units.

In general, each of these reserve units has 48 authorized pay drills each year plus two weeks of active duty. Each reservist is paid one full day's pay for each meeting he attends at his home station.

During these drills he is instructed on code of conduct, military law, general military subjects and training in his special job assignment.

At these drills he is given specialized training to acquaint him with the fundamentals of his job and how it relates with the overall mission of his particular reserve organization.

As this reservation becomes prominent he receives promotions to the next higher pay grades.

"What impact does the reserve program have on Twin Falls financially? The U.S. army reserve alone brings into the area approximately $17,012.27 each year in pay, custodial services, lease and rentals, utilities, subsistence for drills and various supplies.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Clarence Hedrick Has Served Area for Ten Years in Soil Conservation Work

Since 1951, Clarence Hedrick has served as unit conservationist in this area as unit conservationist with the Twin Falls soil conservation district. Through his work soil conditions constantly improve.

Before he moved to Twin Falls he was stationed as unit conservationist with the Madison soil conservation district at Rexburg.

Hedrick was born and reared in Magic Valley. His father, the late Wallace Hedrick, homesteaded north of Rupert in 1906. There were three boys in the family. A brother, Elwood, lives in Rupert and the other brother, Floyd, lives in Salt Lake City.

Hedrick attended public schools in Rupert and was graduated from Rupert high school in 1933. For the next few years he completed work with schooling. He attended Albion State Normal and was graduated in 1938 with a degree in education. During his senior year he merited the former Beth Smith, Mad.

After graduation both taught at Elmwood for two years. He taught school until he entered the army, shortly after World War II started.

He served in the Asiatic-Pacific theater of operations, and most of the time was stationed on Attu Island. He worked in battalion headquarters there and laughs when he recalls how the wind sometimes blew at speeds of 130 miles per hour and how most of the buildings were cabled down.

While he was in the Alaska area, he also was stationed in Anchorage. While there he visited the government experiment station in the Matanuska valley, the famous area in Alaska where vegetables of outlandish size are grown. He was interested in the work and eventually volunteered for such work while he was in the service.

He was discharged from the army in 1946 and decided to get a degree in agronomy. He studied at Utah State Agricultural College for two and one-half years and then moved to Vale, Ore., where he taught vocational agriculture at Vale high school.

He entered the soil conservation service in November, 1949, and began working at St. Anthony. He was stationed with the West Yellowstone soil conservation district. He went through the soil conservationist training period and was assigned to the Madison soil conservation district as unit conservationist.

It is his job, and the job of the other men in the office, to give technical assistance to farmers and ranchers in this district on any problems regarding soil and conservation. And it is his responsibility to see that all permanent soil and water conservation practices are carried out properly in the district.

Pyramid Formed by Three Water Skiers

Three members of the Thousand Springs Water Sports club form a pyramid. This will be one of the events in the show. Riding atop the pyramid is Edward Holme. Below are Elcky Potvelli, Mr. and Doyle Pagnier, all Hagerman. There will be about 25 demonstrations of water skiing during the show. Proceeds will be used to build a clubhouse for the members at Thousand Springs. (Thayer photo-staff engraving)

First Annual Show to Be Presented by Thousand Springs Water Sports Club

Mrs. Lorraine Reed, Mrs. Dick Walls and Mrs. Sylvia Clark.

Keneth Kestner, Hagerman, will give a demonstration of floating on the water skis. He carries his skis by riding the small motor on a four-foot step ladder.

Don Hulme will demonstrate distance jumping, trying to pass the 100-foot mark. Myri Schroeder will display skis in sking form, followed by a clown act on how to ski by Leroy "Butch" Dodson, Twin Falls. Don Hulme will ski on shoe skis, skis slightly longer than a man's foot.

A five-man pyramid demonstration will be performed by Marion Pugmire, Myri Schroeder, Dean Veder, Kenneth Kestner and Durwin Pugmire.

One of the most unusual acts will be a display of sking on bare feet by Junior Switzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Switzer, Kimberly.

A clown act, featuring the "longest" skis in the world, will be the final act. This will star Leroy "Mike" Dean again. He will ski on special skis that are one foot wide and 12 feet long.

The show will close with another display of the flags.

The club has increased its membership by about 50 per cent this summer, and has members from Burley to Grandview. They meet every other Friday night at Thousand Springs for a business meeting and potluck dinner.

Except for the skiing show rehearsal, the members don't have any scheduled meetings where they ski together, although most of the members ski to the Thousand Springs and lower Salmon dam areas.

In addition to sking shows and working towards a clubhouse, the members also have several boat cruises a year. This summer they took two cruises — one from Bruneau to Grandview dam and another at Alturas lake.

During the winter they have potluck dinners and swimming parties at area heated pools. These activities keep interest in the club high during the off-season. There are members who even ski up the river during the winter months, but most of the club activity takes place from March to October.

Officers of the club are Don Hulme, commodore; Dean Veder, vice-commodore, and Mrs. Marion Pugmire, secretary-treasurer.

Ski Jumping Part of Program

Don Hulme, commodore, falls down into the water after passing over the jumping platform at Thousand Springs. The platform is six feet high and the jumpers pass over it about 35 miles per hour. On his jump he traveled between 98 and 109 feet. (Thayer photo-staff engraving)

Although English is the principal language spoken, the country has more than 300 different languages, he said. The three main languages are the Hausa and Yoruba. Anyone traveling through the country can speak English and generally be understood, however.
Nigeria became a responsible government in 1961, Amadi stated, with the people allowed to have a decision in their own hands and how it should be run.

14-Year-Old Paul Girl Begins Year's Stay in Hospital for Leg Treatment

PAUL, Sept. 9.—Cindy Wilson, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, Paul, faces a whole year's stay at the Shrine hospital, 545 Lake city.
When Cindy was born she had no left hip socket, and her leg was one and one-half inches shorter than the other, reports her parents. This didn't hinder her in her normal development as to sitting, and learning to walk, they add, other than it was hard for her to be graceful. Since this is a rather normal situation they still didn't realize her difficulty as a serious situation.
Two years ago they found her real trouble because of a serious accident. Cindy was playing in a tall tree and fell 20 feet onto a concrete-demented porch at her leg so badly that it stopped growing.
It was through this accident that her real trouble began for her leg gave her much trouble in walking, becoming stiff and awkward.
During her year's stay at the Shrine hospital she will undergo a series of operations both corrective and constructive. She already has had her first surgery and her father reports a pin was put in the ankle broken in her leg.
Later on a metal pin will be put through the length of the bone of her leg, and a silver plate will be inserted.
This operation will stiffen her leg. Though she will gain the use of her leg for many activities such as swimming and dancing, she will be unable to participate in her favorite sport of horseback riding.
Her father reports her morale has remained high and she's looking forward to the time she'll be out of the hospital. At present and for sometime to come her mode of her travel will be by wheelchair, but she hopes to be free of the leg trouble she's known all her life.
Cindy is utilizing her time in helping Uncle in the ward less fortunate than her by reading to them and assisting them in various ways, her parents state.
Cindy is a freshman this year and her regular schooling will continue. The hospital has 60 credentialed teachers with full curriculum studies on both elementary and high school level. Bonnor, who are from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. five days a week and the only time a student may miss school.

China Native Leads Burley Choir Group

BURLEY, Sept. 9.—Samuel Chen, a teacher of vocal music and physics in Burley High school, is the new director of the Burley Methodist church choir.
Chen is well qualified for the assignment since his education has centered around sacred music and physics in Burley High school. He received a B.S. degree from the Rev. Edward Dixon, pastor. When he first came to the United States in 1952 he entered a Bible school at the University Park, Okla., where he spent one year there, studying mostly English because he could speak only a few words.
If then went to Ashbury University, Wilmore, Ky., where he received a two-year studying religious education. He spent four years at the Bob Jones Bible College, Greenville, S. C., where he studied sacred music. He also attended the Appalachian State Teachers college, Boone, N. C., where he studied music and education.
Chen was born in Manchung, Kiangsi province, China. He received his elementary education there and then was graduated from National Chung Cheng University with a degree in chemical engineering.
He and his father succeeded in getting out of China. He was taken over by the Reds but his mother, brothers and sisters are still there. He has not heard from them for more than seven years. His father is a doctor, and is superintendent at a provincial government hospital colony in Formosa. His mother is a trained nurse.
Chen was surprised at the size of Burley as he had thought it but a very small town. He also thought that the country would be like Wyoming, with no desert, and not much farmland.

Idaho Youths Stand at Attention During Priest Lake Camp Rites

Some 45 Idaho youths from across the state stand at attention for the flag during a raising ceremony at Camp Pioneer on Priest lake. This state sponsored youth camp is thought to be the only one of its kind in the country. It was authorized by the last legislature. (Staff engraving)

Idaho's First State-Sponsored Youth Conservation Camp Ends in Success

PRIEST LAKE, Sept. 9—Camp Pioneer, Idaho's first state-sponsored youth conservation camp, was even more successful than was imagined possible, Roger L. Guernsey commented recently. The camp closed Aug. 30 after its first season, and 45 youths attending the camp returned home. The camp closed Aug. 30 after its first season, and 45 youths attending the camp returned home. Forest fire unaided and packed needed supplies to another large fire in a remote area. The main project was to clear two and a half miles of the East Shore road to remove fire hazards and beautify the recreation area. Guernsey reported the group did much to improve Priest Lake state forest. Four trails, totaling 11 miles, were cleared, trails which already have been used by lumber cruisers and fire fighters. Eleven acres of an old burn were reseeded to cedar, spruce and Douglas fir, and 10 acres of trees were thinned. Nearly a mile of stream channel was cleared to permit passage of spawning cutthroat trout. The boys built six campgrounds and cleared debris from the beach and base camp. The campers controlled a small sored youth camp to give boys 14 to 17, something to do. I believe this was the only camp of its kind in the United States and I'm very positive it did Idaho and boys a lot of good. "I can assure you," Guernsey said, "the boys made a tremendous effort and did very good work." Guernsey commended Ken Bushey, standpoint, camp director, and his staff for the work performed under the general supervision of Jack Gillette, Coeur d'Alene, deputy state forester. He also extended his thanks to Diamond National corporation for use of the old logging camp on Squaw bay. "Finally," the state forester said, "all Idahoans should be grateful to Probate Judge Frances Giesp, of Sandpoint, who championed this idea of a state-spon-

WHAT'S THE BIGGEST VALUE IN APPLIANCES?
That's easy—the electricity that runs them. In fact, while the price of almost everything else has been going up, the average price of your electricity per kilowatt-hour has been going down!
And what a willing worker it is, for your whole family... helping feed, clothe, entertain, clean, illuminate, inform. Not only making easier, but making possible many of the activities we've come to take for granted.
And when you need more help—just plug in a new appliance! You'll find that the more you use your electric service, the greater the value... the bigger the bargain.
