Crash Listed Contributory Death Cause

BURLEY, Oct. 20—The Henry Dahlquist was being plagued with accidents the past few days.

Mrs. Dahlquist was severely burned when boiling water spilled down her front when her husband was moving a sheet of heavy metal when it slipped and came down on his left foot, breaking a toe.

The same fact the mishap occurred on Columbus day and their 30th wedding anniversary. Dahlquist was able to continue working during his young stock as planned last week-end. Mrs. Dahlquist is reported recovering satisfactorily, too.

Hopworth is representing Mary Koneck, Kacalik, Buhl, and Alvin Koneck, Murtaugh, who filed a $25,000 damage suit Wednesday in district court against Bernard C. Huffman, Piler.

Huffman was driving the pickup truck which hit the car in which Mrs. Koneck was a passenger.

Hopworth said injuries Mrs. Koneck received in the accident "set in motion events" which led to her death, adding that she had a physical impairment which was aggravated by the injuries.

Mrs. Koneck was not believed to have been injured in the accident at first, he explained, but the physical impairment complicated several pains and was taken to the Twin Falls Clinic hospital where it was discussed and received some broken ribs.

"She gradually grew worse," he said. "The death certificate lists the physical impairment as the primary cause of death and injuries received in the traffic accident as the secondary cause," Hopworth asserted.

Fitness Plan Started for U. S. Leader

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—President Kennedy has begun an unusual fitness program by getting in shape for golf and other strenuous activities he has avoided since straining his back last May.

White House officials said that Dr. Hiana Kraus of New York spent 16 minutes yesterday with Kennedy and will work with him three times a week.

The treatment is principally exercises to be taken under the doctor's supervision.

Officials said the President's back is in good condition now but some muscle strengthening is necessary.

The President was golf balls in the White House yesterday, but he has not played since he injured his back during a tree-planting ceremony in Ottawa, Canada, last spring.

The chief executive was on cruises for a time after the injury, although he went through a rigorous trip to Europe immediately following the visit to Ottawa.

He used the crutches after his return from overseas.

Ever since, he has been getting in and out of chairs and getting gingerly, obviously favoring his back.

Kennedy's personal physician, Dr. Janet Travell, was reported to have advised that Dr. Kraus be brought to Washington. Kraus was a member of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's committee on physical fitness.

Retarded Children Council Hears Report of Research

A report on research experiments and an outline of camps and workshops for the entire community" was added to the evening meeting of the Twin Falls county council for Retarded Children.

The experiments, headed by Dr. Karl Tribam of Stanford University, are being conducted in connection with the recent discovery of glial cells, brain cells believed to play a role in memory, call formation and growth development.

It is believed that mental retardation may result from inefficiency which leads to a lack of consolidation of the glial cells. Experiments are being conducted on the functioning of these cells in monkeys.

Plans were discussed for National Retarded Children's Week, Nov. 12 to 23. The theme for the week is "Retarded children can be helped."

The campaign will be used to promote interest of civic clubs in the Maglo Valley in the establishing of a "sheltered workshop," a "school" to train older retarded children in occupational skills. At present there is only one such workshop in the state.

The campaign will be used to promote interest of civic clubs in the Maglo Valley in the establishing of a "sheltered workshop," a "school" to train older retarded children in occupational skills. At present there is only one such workshop in the state.

Mrs. Gladys Cozen, director of rehabilitation classes for retarded children in the Twin Falls area, stated in an address that retarded children receive a "social" promotion during grade and high school years, even though they have not mastered the basic skills of reading and writing. Young persons of grade age may be sent either to the Nampa State school for rehabilitation or, as in most cases, remain at home.

"Each person needs occupational training; the kind of training available only through such programs," she said.

"The government has not decided using wiretap information in the indictments," said Jacob Keasman of Philadelphia. "We contend this is illegal."

Hoffa and Robert S. McCarty, Jr., a Detroit banking official, were called before Judge Potter A. DeVane in U.S. district court to answer a 16-count indictment. They are accused of misusing more than $500,000 of Teamsters union money to promote Sun Valley, Inc., which was supposed to be a retirement haven for union members.

The new arrests raised to about 14,000 the total number of Algerian demonstrators apprehended since mass action started Tuesday night. At least 1,500 are scheduled for deportation to Algeria.

The Tunis-based rebel government made plans to stage mass demonstrations in France and Algeria Nov. 1, seventh anniversary of the launching of the Algerian revolt against France.

Peach Tree Used for Diseases Experiment

Kenyon Green, who recently sold his Greenridge orchards to Mr. and Mrs. Elliott R. Seabaugh, Long Beach, Calif., inspects one of the orchard's peach trees which were "guinea pigs" for an experiment by the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station. Dr. Walter J. Kochan recently used the tree to study the effect of a soil injection method to curb lime-induced chlorosis, a fruit and shade tree disease. Trees which formerly were yellow and dying, were green six weeks later. Complex chemicals in a water solution were forced into the soil around the affected trees. (Staff photo-enslaving)

Peach Trees in Area Orchard Used as "Guinea Pigs" in Disease Experiment

Peach trees in Greenridge orchards, southwest of Twin Falls, have been "guinea pigs" for an experiment by the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station to study the effect of soil injections on lime-induced chlorosis, a fruit and shade tree disease. Chlorosis was largely responsible for discontinuance of commercial fruit industry in the Twin Falls area, where the disorder has been especially severe and widespread. Lime-induced chlorosis, a nutritional disorder due to inability of the plant to absorb or to utilize iron, was the subject of investigation by the station at the turn of the century. Chlorosis results in yellowing of leaves, reduced growth, reduced fruit production and sometimes death of the plant. Only in the last two years, as a result of experiments by Dr. Walter J. Kochan, associate horticulturist at the Parma branch experiment station, has a practical and effective treatment of this troublesome disorder been developed. For some 50 years the disease was periodically investigated by various members of experiment station staffs in Idaho and other western states. However, chlorosis presently defied a practical solution. Dr. Kochan, working with complex chemicals known as chelates (pronounced "chee-lates") that serve as carriers of iron, found that severe chlorosis

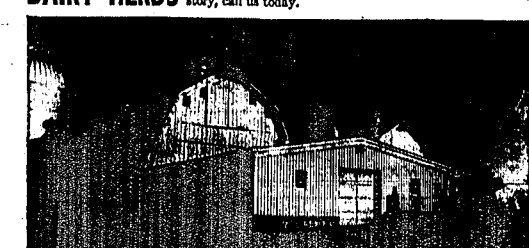

North Side Project Getting Large Share of FHA Money

RUPERT, Oct. 20.—The north-side pumping project in Mindoksa county represents the largest expenditure of state funds here in administration money in Idaho. It was pointed out during a two-day meeting of the state FHA committee here last week. Sen. Frank Church and Rep. Ralph Harding, both D. Ids., were guests of the state FHA officials on a tour of the project during the confab. Loan statistics concerning each farm operation were outlined to guests on the tour. Participating were Alvin McCormack, Lewiston, chairman of the state committee; Mrs. Percy Kent, Mackay housewife; Robert Montgomery, Pocatello; Peter Shawver, Eden, and Ambrose Johnson, Boise, all members of the committee. Max Hansen, state director and formerly of Fairfield, also was included in the group. Since the workload is so large in the area, offices are maintained in both Rupert and Paul more than $2,600,000 in money is represented in the district, officials report. The tour was timed to coincide with the visit of the legislators in the state. Sen. Henry Dworshak, R. Id., also was invited but had a previous commitment in the northern part of the state. Hansen said. Willard Steven, district manager, was in charge of the tour. Robert J. Harrison, manager of the Rupert office and Lynn Bradshaw manages the Paul office.

Hansen explained that in the future at least three meetings a year will be held by the committee in various parts of the state to enable members to better evaluate cases from throughout the state. IF YOU PLANT IT OR FEED IT GLOBE SEED WILL HAVE IT

RUPERT, Oct. 20.—Final plans for the National Farm Forum, scheduled for Oct. 27 at the Mindoksa county high school, are being made this week, according to committee members. A group met Monday night at the office of Vance Smith, county agent, to work out final details for the meet, which will feature leaders from three national farm groups, including the National Farmers Organization, and Kenneth Hood, assistant secretary and director of the commodity division of the American Farm Bureau. The National Farmers Union headquarters notified committee members this week that a report from their group also would be present. With this announcement, only the National Farm Forum, which has not been heard from, according to Ted Aston, Mindoksa county farmer who organized the idea of the forum. He said that he felt the best way to solve farm problems was to have a forum where farmers could meet and formulate solutions together and formulate solutions to them. Moderator for the forum will be W. E. Foltz, head of the Agriculture economics department of the University of Idaho, Moscow. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and all area farmers are invited to attend. Aston said. Members of the committee working out plans are Aston, County Agent Vance Smith, residents All Rupp, Thomas A. Potato Harvesting in Area Is 75 Per Cent Completed

Reports from two Twin Falls area produce companies indicate potato harvesting in Magic Valley will be about 75 per cent completed Saturday, with potatoes varying throughout the valley from above average to well below average. James Henry, owner of J. H. Henry Produce company, Kimberly, notes that harvesting in some localities is about 70 per cent completed and about 80 per cent finished in other areas. He expects the harvest to be 75 per cent finished throughout the southern half of the state by Saturday. He explained that the coming a down last year because of poorer quality potatoes. He related that they were "poor quality" he has seen since they are large potatoes, but that they are rougher with lots of cracks and growth cracks on the head. Ed Harper, owner of the E. B. Harper Produce company, reports that growers are trying to get their potatoes under cover, but that there is a shortage of combines to get them harvested. He estimated that by the end of the week about 70 per cent of the crops would be harvested in this area. The market has dropped to a point where the farmers aren't interested in selling and consequently they are interested in getting potatoes in storage and will sit and wait to see what the market does, he said. He indicated that the quality of potatoes in the Jerome area appears to be generally good and above average, while Twin Falls area crops are below average. The quality in the Mini-Cassia area is spotted, he said, with some good and some poor produce. He explained that Harper Produce company grows and contracts some 50,000 to 60,000 acres of potatoes per year and purchases another estimated 300,000 from farmers throughout the valley. Henry Produce buys about 95 per cent of its potatoes from farmers, and contracts and grows the remainder.

Loan Volume Triples to Farmers in 4 Counties

SHOSHONE, Oct. 20.—Loan volume to farmers in Blaine, Camas, Gooding and Lincoln counties has tripled over the last three-month period, according to Roy N. Gipson, Lincoln county supervisor at the Shoshone office of the farmers home administration. The large increase in credit needs has been caused by a great extent by the decrease in crop acre and yields because of the water shortage this past year in "much" of the area, Gipson points out. Since July 1, farmers in the four counties have received a total of 57 new loans totaling $19,850 from the Shoshone office and an additional 27 loans are in process, including one as an irrigation company, the supervisor says. The 57 loans have been secured by either real estate mortgages or by first crop and chattel mortgages. Part of the funds for the loans has been supplied by private lenders investing in the program where FHA makes "aid services" the loan—Gipson explains—the majority of the funds come from direct appropriations by Congress. The funds are used to purchase land to enlarge farms, build and repair homes and farm service buildings, drill wells and install irrigation pipelines and structures, purchase livestock and machinery as well as finance debts and annual operating expenses. APPOINTED TO BOARD BOISE, Oct. 20.—Bill Smith, Boise, has been appointed by Gov. Robert E. Smylie to the state cooperative board of forestry, replacing D. Sid Smith, Shoshone, who resigned, he will serve at the pleasure of the governor.

Company's Unloading System Unusual in State

Potatoes are being unloaded from a truck onto a conveyor at Henry's Produce company in Kimberly. This unloading system is the only one like it in the state of Idaho. The potatoes are dumped onto this conveyor and then belt conveyed to a "cold" table where rocks, clods and stems are removed. Then the potatoes are dumped into bins. Each of the four bins has a 2,000 bag total capacity. From the bins they are floated down a flume with water to wire conveyor which takes them to the sorting table. From left, Larry Baughman, Twin Falls, unloading operator, and Louis Pressnell, Hansen. (Staff photo engraving)

New Potato Processing Warehouse Is Finished for Kimberly Spud Concern

KIMBERLY, Oct. 20.—Henry's Produce company, Kimberly, has completed building a 180 by 100-foot cinderblock and steel girder potato processing warehouse. The warehouse is operated by Jim Henry and his son-in-law, Bill Henry, in assistance from field manager Wayne Parrish. The firm will increase its fresh potato output by 20 per cent, with almost half of the total volume to move in five and 10-pound bags.

The warehouse has three rail loading doors from the packing room and one truck dock, which also can be used for loading rail cars.

One of the biggest changes in the industry in the last few years is the emphasis placed on care in handling of potatoes. The potatoes at the warehouse are unloaded on a conveyor, which passes a "cold" table, where clods, rocks and stems are removed. The potatoes then go into one of four holding bins which have a 2,000-bag total capacity. The bins are so constructed that the drops are mild to prevent bruising and internal injury.

Weather damage of different types is well known to any handler of potatoes. The warehouse solves this problem with a double-headed, bulk unloading system, which allows one truck to back in under a roof (rather than suffer outdoor exposure), while waiting to start unloading. Each of the bins opens at the bottom into a flume operated by a centrifugal pump system with a slight assist from gravity. This literally floats the potatoes into another conveyor where a fine spray mist gives them a final wash before they go into the sorting, grading and packing room. This pressure behind the spray nozzles can be regulated, but is kept low at this time of year when a frost is particularly tender, Floyd said.

Potatoes which do not meet fresh market specifications go on another belt-conveyor system to huge, steel overheat bins for processing grade seed or culls. There are four of these bins, with a total capacity of 4,000-10,000-pound bags.

Winners put up in bags or cartons, all potatoes are handled with lift trucks. There is ample holding space in the packing room for potatoes not immediately loaded.

The entire packing room is insulated and heated with five large overhead gas units. There is another heater of the same type in the adjacent cafeteria and two more in the unloading area.

Two vital pieces of new equipment in the warehouse are the 14-head Baker Weigh-O-Matic

T.F. Youth Participates in Tractor Driving Contests

Bill Loughmiller, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Heber J. Loughmiller, route two, Twin Falls, will represent the T.F. youth operators' contest. One representative each from 20 states participated in the contest, which was held in Dallas, Tex., where Loughmiller, who has been active in 4-H work for seven years, left Twin Falls by plane Sunday.

Examinations on tractor operation and maintenance were given Monday, followed by a practice period during which the contestants used the tractor to drive a 1952 model furnished by various companies.

Monday evening the youth visited "Big Bend Over Texas," an amusement park which depicts the history of Texas.

The driving tests were conducted on Tuesday. The contestants drove tractors pulling two and four-wheel trailers. The top three winners came from Kentucky, New Mexico and Texas.

Loughmiller was chosen to represent Idaho at the contest after his entry in application to the 4-H office at Moscow. Winners from district 4-H falls throughout the state were eligible to attend.

Service Will Add to Snow Data in State

BOISE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The U. S. soil conservation service is planning to intensify its snow survey in Idaho this winter to obtain a more accurate forecast of next season's water supplies.

Morian W. Nelson of Boise, snow survey supervisor for Idaho and the Columbia Basin, announced a 25 per cent increase in the number of Jan. 1 snow pack measures.

The increase is being made, he said, to detect any snow pack trend change as early as possible.

Nelson said that if the 1962 water supplies were even slightly below normal, there would be many farms affected by short water for the first time since the 1931-35 period.

Snowmats last week were a big hope, Nelson said. However, he added, it will take a lot more of the same to make up the deficit of water in Idaho's soils and reservoirs resulting from the past few dry years.

2 Area Men Are Going to Credit Meet

Jay H. Felt, manager of the Federal Land Bank association of Twin Falls, announced Wednesday that Walter Reed, Buhl, and Elmer Doestl, Twin Falls, will attend a four-state farm credit conference Oct. 24-25 in Spokane, Wash.

Speakers at the conference will be Don H. Buschell, deputy governor and director of land bank service, farm credit administration, Washington, D. C.; Roy Garff, professor of marketing and speech, University of Utah; Robert T. Lister, Pringle, Ore., member of the federal farm credit board; and William J. Holman, Boise, a national farm credit board member.

Most members of the district farm credit board, and Fred A. Knutson, president, will report on operations of the Federal Land bank of Spokane, the bank which the local association makes and services loans.

Comparison of Uruguay to Magic Valley Made by Girl

KIMBERLY, Oct. 20.—Uruguay is a little smaller than Idaho and has a population of 2,700,000 live in the capital city of Montevideo.

Since she is living with non-English speaking families, Miss Carey notes she is learning Spanish, reading, and writing the Spanish as just opposite to those in the U.S. and is now much like our months of March and April.

The Kimberly girl has not seen much of the country but she knows that the area around the home where she is now staying is very similar to the Kimberly area. She says there are no high mountains, but there are small hills, in view, similar to the South hills, she recalls.

Miss Carey has just arrived at her first home in Uruguay and says the way people here speak their language is so different that she feels at home.

Turkey Growers Take First Step in Federal Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—A committee of turkey producers has taken the first step toward adoption of a federal marketing order. The program could involve controls on handling of turkeys and turkey products.

It is not likely, however, to take effect before sometime in early 1962, even assuming that a marketing program is approved by the agricultural department and by turkey producers.

In the meantime, government economists believe that turkey prices will be lower, perhaps 10 to 15 per cent, next year.

Board Named

FAIRFIELD, Oct. 20.—Thomas Speckman was elected to the board of conservation supervisors for the Fairfield district.

Burke Neely was re-elected to the board of conservation supervisors for the Owyhee district.

Conservation supervisors are W. D. Blum, Blaine district, and Joe McCarter, Boulder district.

Coyotes

HAILEY, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. William Aiken didn't think when they put three lambs and three ewes in their corral on the O. W. Gardner ranch in the silver creek area recently that the coyotes would come right into their back yard after them. But they did.

Mr. Aiken states a coyote came into the corral in daylight not long ago.

Wheat Acreage Shown on Notices Is 1962 Allotment

The wheat acreage indicated on the allotment notice sent to producers before the August 1962 marketing referendum is the 1962 allotment for all purposes, Carl Boyd, chairman of the Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, announced.

The allotment figure reflects the 10 per cent minimum idling required by law to participate in the 1962 wheat stabilization program, the chairman explained.

Also, it is the figure used to determine whether there will be marketing quota "excess" on the farm. If wheat acreage exceeds this allotment—or "permitted acreage"—in the case of small farms, the excess 1962 production from the farm will be subject to marketing quota penalties, the ABO official notes.

Boyd says there has been some confusion about the wheat acreage allotment. There is only one allotment figure for each farm under the 1962 wheat program, the official explains. This figure—which represents a 10 per cent reduction for all purposes under previous legislation—applies under all phases of the program: marketing quotas, price support and stabilization pay.

Producers who do not comply with the allotment will be subject to marketing quota penalties. Recent legislation provides marketing quota penalties on the 1962 crop of 10 per cent, instead of the former 25 per cent, in the case of the former 25 per cent.

Producers who exceed more than the minimum 10 per cent of acreage to conservation uses under the 1962 wheat stabilization program will not lose wheat acreage history by such action, Boyd said. He said this statement is issued to clear up any possible misunderstanding of program provisions by farmers.

The chairman explained that the wheat stabilization program

The couple came to Magic Valley in 1927.

An open house was held after the luncheon at the American Legion hall in Jerome. A mock wedding ceremony was given by Mrs. Sexton wearing a lace dress and an orchid corsage. She was attended by her youngest daughter, Mrs. Fred E. Alberts, Jr., San Francisco.

Russ Blamed For Race of Nuclear Arms

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said yesterday the Soviet Union is "one of the great tragedies of history," has brought about a thermonuclear arms race imperiling world peace.

In a letter to President Kennedy, Rusk reviewed the fruitless Geneva negotiations for a treaty to stop atomic tests. The letter accompanied state department publications of a white paper on the atomic conference.

Rusk said the original Baruch plan advanced by the United States in 1946, when it was the only atomic power, was endorsed by United Nations majority then and "could have controlled the nuclear threat in its infancy."

The plan, named after U. S. financier Bernard Baruch, would have set up a "Permanent Atomic Energy Control Commission."

"It is one of the great tragedies of history that the Soviet Union chose to reject it and to adopt a policy that has led to a thermonuclear arms race imperiling the peace of the world," Rusk said.

"Today, 15 years later, when the power of nuclear weapons has increased many times over, we are still confronted with a situation in which the Soviet Union appears to prefer to leave 'this potential destructive power untrammled,'" he added.

Lack of Money, Leadership Are Current U.N. Problems

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The United Nations is plagued by two ailments: a lack of funds and the absence of clearcut leadership.

A month after the death of Dag Hammarskjöld, the world's top diplomat, the U.N. secretary-general and badly split over how to replace him.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson warned this week that the wrong move in settling the dispute over a secretary-general "will be the first step on the slippery downhill path to a debating society without operating responsibilities or competence."

The financial prospects are that the United Nations will be millions in the red by the end of the year. Earlier this week it was disclosed that the United Nations has only enough money for two more weeks of operation in the Congo.

The disparity is mirrored in big power dispute over how to choose Hammarskjöld's successor.

U.N. Controller Bruce Turner told the budgetary committee recently that, on the basis of anticipated expenditures and income the United Nations could expect a cash deficit of about 30 million dollars by the end of 1961.

Turner announced this week that unless 20 million dollars is appropriated by the end of October the U.N. Congo operation will collapse.

A financial report dated Sept. 30 showed arrears of $116,106,139 in assessments upon the member countries.

Fiscal experts said that figure was somewhat exaggerated, but the arrears of $122 million dollars still was due on the regular 1961 budget end, on past

Study Acid Bomb Predicted

BURLEY, Oct. 20—A study of scorched acid in raw and mashed potatoes and recomstituted dehydrated granules that most of it—including three million dollars still due from the United States—would be paid.

The United States owes six million dollars for its share of this year's operational costs of the U.N. emergency force (UNEP) on duty in the Middle East and there is two million dollars due from Britain for the Congo operation. There is confidence these will be paid.

But Russia owes 20 million dollars for the Congo operation and 12.7 million dollars for UNEP—which will not be paid. The Soviet Union has insisted it will contribute "no a kopeck" to such operations, arguing that they should be paid for by countries responsible for causing the crisis.

France owes $4 million dollars for the Congo operation and has served notice it will not pay. Recently, South Africa told its assembly it would renounce on its $28,500 share for the Congo, an operation for which some 70 countries are understood to be in arrears.

In the face of this, new African countries—Nigeria was one—are demanding that money be added to funds such as the U.N. technical assistance program, for which the basic appropriation is only one million dollars.

There is no way of judging what operations such as the Congo will cost.

"Good" Shot

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Officials of the civilian space agency say the firing of a Scout rocket 4,281 miles into the ionosphere to study its electrical air was "a damned good success."

But it will be several weeks, agency spokesmen said, before the scientific information radioed back during yesterday's probe could be analyzed and evaluated.

It'll Never Wear Out up There

Her floor is here, but Mrs. Melba Mitchell can always gaze up and admire her wall-to-wall carpeting—the ceiling. She had always wanted wall-to-wall carpeting and when she finally got some she had it put on the ceiling so it wouldn't get soiled by the children. Mrs. Mitchell says many Bonner Springs residents refuse to believe the carpet is really up there, so she invites doubters to see for themselves. (AP wirephoto-star engraving)

Bomb Shelter Is Discussed At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH, Oct. 20.—The Murtaugh Lions club board of directors met this week to discuss the possibility of organizing a program for the development of a community bomb shelter.

General opinion indicated a need for a complete community survey as to the people of the area who have their own facilities and those who would participate in a community bomb shelter project.

The local high school was suggested as the most practical potential shelter. The basement of the school could be easily utilized for that purpose and sanitary, cooking and dining facilities would be available as a standby generator is available which would furnish the necessary electricity and heat.

Discussion also was held on the time available for students to return home in the event of a fallout and their retention at school if desired by parents.

Further discussion will determine the advisability of running buses. The problem of food contribution and group policing also was given considerable thought.

Another board of directors meeting of the Murtaugh Lions club was slated at the high school to continue with more advanced planning and discussion. Representatives from other organizations will be asked to help on this project.

BONNER SPRINGS, Kans., Oct. 20 (AP)—Traffic through the new home of Mrs. Melba Mitchell hasn't worn out her wall-to-wall carpeting.

The rug is on the living room ceiling.

It doesn't get soiled there, Mrs. Mitchell can sit in her chair, look up and enjoy it.

Mrs. Mitchell says she always has wanted wall-to-wall carpeting but with five sons and a daughter the traffic in and out of the house would wreck a good rug in no time.

Workmen applied a heavy adhesive to the ceiling and rolled the carpet in place in three-foot widths.

Jerome Eyes Sewage Plant Project Plan

JEROME, Oct. 20.—The Jerome city council, consisting of Hamilton and Voelter, Pocatello engineering firm, authorization to draw up plans and specifications for improving the city sewage disposal plant at a meeting this week.

It would cost approximately $9,000 for the project, 30 per cent, or $2,700, would be financed by the federal government.

The engineers recommended that a $5,500 grit removal mechanism be installed. It would handle a flow of one million gallons per day and would handle the needs of a community of 8,000. They also recommended a recirculating pump be installed at a cost of about $1,600. The engineers fees would be $700.

Tom Mahan, city auditor, presented the audit of Jerome Improvement district No. nine. Mahan said the audit was not complete at this time because many of the original owners have sold or have moved from this area.

The report shows $41,770 received on the $82,000 in bonds floated in 1931 to finance curb and gutter work in part of the northeast section of Jerome.

The delinquent payments are $5,574. The city treasurer was authorized to issue a delinquent certificate to 78 taxpayers whose names are on the delinquent roll. The total amount due is $12,550 for the Los Angeles, Calif., publishing firm for $2,550 for recodification of Jerome city ordinances. The ordinances were last recodified in 1943.

The council discussed fall shelter buildings built in Jerome. It was noted that all shelters built inside the city limits must have a building permit.

Building permits were issued to John Dreyer, $300, new home and roof; Calvin Neal, $3,000, addition to his home, and Elmer Craig, $100, new home entrance.

The council also authorized placing $10,000 in the water department reserve fund, improvement and contingency fund. At the present time, there is $20,000 in this fund.

When a reserve of $50,000 has been placed in this debt service fund for reserve, the city automatically acquires more flexibility in the maintenance of the water system, as provided by the stipulations in the revenue bonds, it was noted.

Pioneers to Meet

HAZLETON, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Nelle Cochran, president of the First Segregation Pioneer association, announces the semi-annual meeting of the organization will be held at 1 p.m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church recreation parlors.

There will be special program number and a potluck dinner will be served. All interested persons are invited to attend. Officers will be elected and votes, attending, are invited to restate pioneer experiences.

Savings Bond Given for Carrier's Service

James Pharris, 14, center, receives a $25 savings bond from Harold Stiles, right, Times-News circulation manager, for his exceptional service during his 27 months as a newspaper carrier on route No. 5, Jerome. James' mother, Mrs. Henry Pharris, right, notes that the route was one of the largest in the area, with about 135 subscribers. The circulation department issues a $25 savings bond twice yearly to the top carrier on the 125-member force. Pharris resigned from his job Sept. 1, to work with father at Tinswall. Stiles points out that Saturday is National Newspaper day. Pharris' replacement on the route is Bill Petrus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peters, Jerome. (Staff photo-Gravins)

Robert Eggleston, 528 North Broadway, Buhl, and David Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis, 512 Sixth avenue east, Jerome.

Each of the awards includes a certificate, jacket emblem and lapel pin.

At Westelgren, Times-News circulation manager, explains that the awards will be issued annually in conjunction with National Newspaper day, which is Saturday. Newspapers throughout the nation will pay tribute to the boys, who are the final link in connecting the newspaper with the reader.

Of the six carriers selected for 1934 awards, Lydia has had the longest continuous service—34 months. Ratcliffe has 33 months;

Pharris' route, one of the largest in the Times-News circulation area, has about 135 subscribers. In addition to the savings bond, three carriers have been presented "outstanding newspaperboy awards." Three were selected from the city routes and three were chosen from surrounding areas.

Carriers receiving the awards were James Ratcliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ratcliffe, 226 Hillman street; Steven Thorson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Thorson, 277 Pierce street; Michael Lyda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lyda, 168 Highway avenue west; Robert Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turner, 290 Third avenue east; Wendell Melvin Eggleston, son of Mr. and Mrs.

RETURN HOME CASTLEFORD, Oct. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. John Darrow, Curt and Bernice and Mrs. Grace Darrow have returned home from a trip to Calgary and Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada.

Bob Hope Special Features Leading Women

Rock Hudson's Making Big Money

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20 (AP)—Rock Hudson is making the first big money of his career—but he does not want to talk about it. Rock hit paydirt with the first film for his own company, "Come September." A sexy, sultry comedy laced with striking Italian scenery, including Gina Lollobrigida, it has been the No. 1 box office film in the United States for four weeks.

The movie has been outstanding Rock's previous smash, "Pillow Talk"—domestic gross alone: 7.5 million dollars. Because of the foreign angles, including

Easiest Way to Crash Filmland Also Simplest

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20 (AP)—Sometimes the best way to crash Hollywood is the simplest.

Only two and a half years ago, Mark Goddard was a young actor who couldn't get past the studio gate at Paramount. Now he is co-starring with Robert Taylor as the young detective on "The Detectives."

"I left Holy Cross college to study acting in New York. Then I decided to come to Hollywood. I wanted to see how a movie is made, but I couldn't get inside the gate. I found out that director Joseph Anthony was shooting a picture inside. So I wrote a letter, giving all my background and expressing a desire to see a movie being made. I handed the letter to the cop on the gate. Somehow it got to Mr. Anthony. He got in touch with me and invited me in and even arranged an appointment with the William Morris agency."

Largest single group of holy trees in the U. S. is in McCurtain county, Okla.

Mitzi Tries Night Clubbing

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Oct. 20 (AP)—Twelve years and 18 films have not landed Mitzi Gaynor in Hollywood's topmost echelons, so she's trying another route.

She's been bumping around, getting less than full candiepopper of the bright lights.

To beat the scene have turned to Broadway, then come back in triumph. Others made it through television.

Mitzi hopes her first fling as a nightclub entertainer will do the trick. The audiences loved her. So too, apparently, the movie producers.

Her film roles to date have been fair—usually the pretty little girl with the bouncy personality who danced and sang well.

"I've wanted her for heavy-weight parts. 'South Pacific' was her closest brush with real fame. Mitzi tried her feet, tired herself out six weeks on stage at the Flamingo hotel, and reappraised her position."

"I have much more respect in the industry now," she said.

Crewcut Jack Ryan, her husband and manager, was more blunt: "We're hearing from producers. We didn't even know before."

Music Revue Set On Thanksgiving
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20—Charlton Heston, Eddie Foy, Jr., Dick Buton, Betty Johnson, Richard Kiley, comedians Bob and Ray, with Gene Barry—TV's "The Masterplan"—as host, will celebrate "An Old Fashioned Thanksgiving." In the hour-long musical revue to be presented by the Westinghouse Electric company, Tuesday, Nov. 21 on ABC-TV.

With the Thanksgiving spirit as leitmotif of the program, Americana in music, dance and literature reflecting the festival mood at various stages of the country's history will provide the material for "An Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving."

With the exception of the string-taped sequence featuring Charlton Heston—he will be abroad making a film—the program will be presented live from New York.

Imaginative gifts of beauty will answer the Christmas wishes of many women this year. For the girl who cares how she looks at all times, there are pretty checked caps, aprons, slippers, rollers and matching hair to hold rollers. Giant washdown puff, left, is a long-lasting, washable luxury. This Christmas, right, wears pretty cloth cardigan as the eyes she pretty sweater cap trimmed with a flower. Both are practical gifts.

Christmas Nears; Have List Prepared

It may come as a shock, but Christmas is not really far off. And it's time to start your gift list, particularly if it's to be a long one.

Very often, the small gift or stocking stuffer, is the most difficult to choose. But for the woman on your list, the task should be simple this year.

Why not choose accessories for bath and beauty time? You need not worry about size or age, for they are suitable for elderly aunts as they are for teen-age cousins.

Soft fluffy swan-down powder puffs, for example, come in many luscious colors and make luxurious gifts. The large ones, perfect for dusting on fragrant powder after a bath, come boxed in clear plastic. They are pretty enough to present even without gift wrappings.

For the girl who wears the popular modified bouffant hairstyle, there is a shower cap, hair curler cap or as a small traveling bag to hold soap and other bath accessories—and the slippers can even be washed in it. This would be ideal for the lucky girl who will soon be resort-bound or off on a cruise.

A bathrub vanity tray would also make an attractive and useful gift.

Bed Isn't Snap For Young Child

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Going to bed isn't always a snap for tots, says the National Baby Care Council. Small children rarely know when they're tired.

Even when obviously exhausted, many do not recognize that sleep will make them feel better. To them, going to bed means being separated from grownups and fun.

Parents who understand this, the council said, are better able to help baby accept a snooze as a "must."

Does This Home Qualify As "Out of Your Dreams"?

If the average woman designed a dream house what would it look like?

"She'd fair guess that she might dream along the lines of a house at Franklin Lakes, N.J., just planned by architect Gladriel Woodard Smith of Washington, D.C."

Mrs. Smith denies that she has designed the almost-perfect house because she is a woman.

"There's no reason to think women architects are any smarter than men when it comes to planning a house that pleases a woman," she says modestly.

"Or vice versa."

But it takes a woman to think of the romance of a balcony, and to plan one for every member of the family to give each inhabitant a private entrance; to put the boy's room next to the laundry where he can dump his ball-masters, insects and pests, to give a teen-age girl a little garden with a fountain pool.

"It's a house where everyone can live as an individual and not step on another's toes," she says, "and when the women go off to college the lower half of the house may be closed off to ease maintenance costs and the parents can use their own floor. People don't want to move away from a house they love. Just because they are left alone with it."

"The house is an upside down house," she explains. Living room, master bedroom, dining room and kitchen are upstairs. The children live below.

"There is an arrangement so that groceries can be taken out of the car and put directly into the kitchen; an enormous closet 'warehouse' for cumbersome storage and paraphernalia. The architect adds, 'The house is functional although that's a nasty word in these traditionally minded times.'"

The house was planned for an imaginary family of five—a college boy who brings his friends home to the guest room at vacation time, a 16-year-old high school girl and a 12-year-old boy who raises hamsters, designs bird houses and builds model cars. The house plan would not be good if the children were younger, Mrs. Smith points out.

There are no conventional windows. Window walls are of insulated glass.

The living and dining room become one for a large party by removing a divider of transparent case screens.

A vacuum cleaning system sucks dirt through wall outlets to a central disposal in the garage.

Smaller Families Become Popular

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Smaller families have become more popular as 20 of 22 women reaching child-bearing age, a population research team reports.

The team from the Scripps foundation for research in population problems said married women age 20-34 in 1965 expected to have an average of 2.1 children.

But by 1980, women in the same age group are expected to have an average of only 2.0 children.

Electric Marvels Given Discussion

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Refrigerators without moving parts, baby bottle refrigerators, better home movies on television.

These are among the electronic marvels discussed by 8,000 electronics experts who attended the Western Electronic show and convention. Electrical Merchandising Week, a trade publication reported that the products will be on the market in from five to six years.

Men Suit Favoring 3-Button Suits

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—The men's clothing industry estimates that 65 per cent of the suits being sold this fall are still the conservative three-button type.

The rest are the two-button suit made popular by President Kennedy and the so-called "English look."

The English look is confined mostly to tweedy sports jackets and gets their name from a nip-and-tuck waist, flared and slanted lapels, and a double-breasted jacket. The English look isn't especially new. That tweedy, lived-in look has been around for a couple of centuries, especially in Scotland. For that matter, the two-button suit isn't really new either although it may not have been around as long as hacking jackets.

Some of the top tailors in New York have been making two-button suits for years, though on such a conservative line you would have to look twice to realize it wasn't the same conservative three-button suit that has been around the better shops for several decades.

The lock extends into business suits, too, and if the suit has a couple of vents in the back and flared and slanted pockets it's called the English look no matter what the English think of it.

As for the English, some reports say they are toying with the idea of going back into double-breasted suits.

Freezer Tip

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—Every time you clean the freezer, wash the gasket around the lid or door with soap or detergent. Rinse and wipe dry.

The Cleanliness Bureau, making this suggestion, explained that the lid or door seal must be clean in order to remain airtight.

If cords on travel rods are coated with a thin layer of petroleum jelly, they will work smoothly. The jelly reduces the friction where cords travel over pulleys and onto wear.

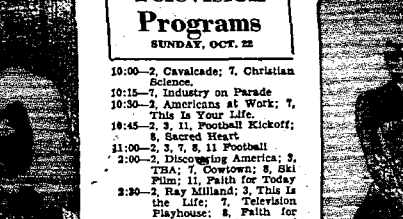

Wigs Are Things For Future Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 26 (UP)—Beauty authority Mark Traynor predicts that wigs in every color and description will be used by almost every woman 30 years and over.

Traynor said other revolutionary trends are afoot in the beauty world.

"A beauty world right now is finally coming out of a slumber that has lasted over 100 years," he said. "Nothing creative has been done with beauty since the day of Marie Antoinette."

19th Century Hunt for Loot

Patricia Breidin is a captive in this scene from the swashbuckling action filler adventure drama, "The Secret of Monte Cristo," now showing at the Idaho theater. Rory Calhoun plays the swordsman in the film about a quest of 19th century adventurers. (Staff engraving.)

U. S. Sending Wrong Films Price Claims

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (UP)—Vint Price is back from six months of European film making with an alarming view of how foreign judges view our movies.

Price: "Whatever good we Americans have engendered over the years is virtually wiped out by the kind of pictures we are sending to those now-a-days. We use the same entertainment. Now, we spend these problems."

"The don't need problems; they've got enough of their own. We are giving them a sort of Tennessee Williams view of America. This is not America as all of us know it."

"But Europeans don't know it, because they judge us by our movies. They have decided to come here if the United States was undergoing a bad depression. They had gathered up a collection of our downbeat pictures. It was all I could do to try to convince them that we are more prosperous than ever."

"What has happened to the glamorous movies Hollywood used to really turn out? They were closer to reality than today's downbeat films."

"And they did a better job for us. In those days, every American wanted to come here. Now they don't."

Price says he is not alone. "I've always been the Mexican spitfire or the Indian girl. Period."

Those days may be gone forever, thanks to her performance in "West Side Story." Of course, she's still a Latin-blooded spitfire ("Puerto Rican, this time") but she doesn't mind that. In "West Side Story," as Anita, she was a chance to show that she's an actress, not just a beautiful girl with black hair, blue eyes and a flashing figure.

"I'm realistic," she says. "I know I'm not Mary Collette. But I'd still like to have some parts which say something."

Television shows simply have never given her the chance. And she's somewhat bitter about this. While many actors are grateful to television, Rita Moreno thinks the TV brass has heads to match.

Patterns for Ceilings Are Coming Back

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 (UP)—Patterned ceilings are coming back into vogue. The trend grows from decorative ceiling designers call "totalism."

This is the theory that good decorating involves the elements of the room—the ceiling as well as walls and floor.

There's nothing new about decorating the ceiling. It's been done in churches and public buildings, particularly domed buildings, for centuries, but the ceiling as a decorative element in the home, went into oblivion years ago.

Contributing to the revival are the more than 200 designs, colors and patterns now available in fiberoptic acoustical ceiling.

Paint, wallpaper, paneling and other materials are being used to decorate the ceiling. In the home, the arrangement of the acoustical openings contributes to the patterned effect. The openings, which may be drilled, punched, slotted, flared or grooved, for example, can be made up to 75 per cent of the area in a room.

Gene Autry No Less for Wear After Ball Season

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (UP)—Gene Autry rode to fame with his recording of "That Silver-Haired Daddy of Mine." Some expected him to look like the song after a year in big league baseball.

"I'm not hurting," he said calmly.

Numerous experts predicted he would be after his ball season with the Los Angeles Angels and associates put up 2.5 million dollars—others invested a like amount—to found the new American league team. What they got was a grab-bag of players from other teams and an underdog—

Gene Autry No Less for Wear After Ball Season

30,000 capacity — ball park to play in—Wrigley field.

"But we'll show a profit on our first season," Autry reported. "I think we did pretty good, considering."

"Lots of folks were predicting we'd only win 40 or 50 games. We won 70. I think we would have done even better except for some bad luck."

"The team went east early in the season and got rained out several days. That meant they weren't getting enough exercise and then they had to play a lot of doubleheaders, which is hard on the pitching staff. By the time they got back here, they practically had to have spring training all over again."

Home attendance was a disappointment, he admitted — about 600,000 while 800,000 or a million was hoped for. The location of the park was the principal cause, he said.

But wait until next year, Autry said, echoing a familiar phrase. In 1952 the Angels become stadium mates with the National league Dodgers in Walter O'Malley's Chavez Ravine stadium, capacity 85,000.

"I think we should draw a million next year," the cowboy star said.

Type-Casting Has 2 Sides, Stars Reveal

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (UP)—Hollywood type-casting harmful to a career, yes, says a beauty. No, says the screen's most famous monster.

Let's listen to red-haired Patricia Owens and Boris Karloff. The lady is first.

"In my first two American movies I was in the Sun and 'Geyonara,' I was cast as the reserved, proper lady."

"From then on, producers saw me only as the proper wife, usually a little on the frigid side."

Mix Owens, trained in British theater for any type of role, fought for years to break the mold. Finally she did, in "Hell to Eternity" as a gutsy dame who even did a strip-tease.

"That broke the lady type-casting," she says. Her recent pictures cast her as a good wife in "X-15," and as an escaped convict in "Women from Hell."

Karloff, who became the Frankenstein monster in 1931, says the part was the biggest break in his career. Even though it typed him in horror roles.

"I came to Hollywood in 1920," says Boris. "I was unknown until the monster. It gave me an international name. In the movies, typecasting is the best break that can happen to an actor."

Escapade Has Role In "Hitler" Film

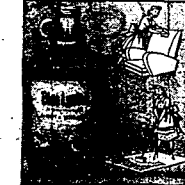

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (UP)—John Slegfried, an East German escapee, has been signed by Allied Artists for a dramatic role in "Hitler."

Slegfried was featured with Danny Kaye in "On the Double." Slegfried and three companions were probably bitter about this, swimming the Elbe river. Two of his companions were shot by communist guns.

ONLY ONE REASON

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26 (UP)—Actor John Newton, now starring in a pre-Broadway stage production of "Hi Fidelity" in Philadelphia, flew to Hollywood for 24 hours for just one purpose—to hire a press agent.

So you want to play games. Here's one that's "hot" in some eastern cities, one that's "hot" in some western cities. He says that if you watch closely during the Perry Mason episodes the guilty person will appear on the witness stand exactly 41 minutes after the program starts. Wanting to disseminate some time the other night, we timed this game. After the program had been on for 41 minutes a most unlikely murder suspect was on the witness stand. We laughed. Some 45 minutes later he was released as the murderer. What bothers us is who has time to think of these wonderful "games?"

Want to get that woman in your something endearing for Christmas? Here's a suggestion from the list of one firm. It says the logical present is a small clock she can wear around her neck. It measures radioactive fallout. Don't laugh, I'll tell you.

Best viewing bets for next week: Sunday, NBC, "Merrily We Roll Along." Groucho Marx narrates the American love affair with the automobile on "Show of the Week," Tuesday, ABC, "The Petticoats." Lloyd Bridges, underwear fame, stars in the story of bootstrapping in red China; Tuesday, CBS, "The Dispossessed." This is a story based on a REAL battle for Indian rights in 1819.

Repp March tells us that the Grand-Va is closing up for the winter season Saturday. This means that the Motor-Va will start its seasonal policy of first-run pictures mixed with "better second runs." March advises. He adds that remodeling at the Motor-Va was interfered with by the winter. He says that first-run movies will be common at the Motor-Va; we point out that "Back Street," Fannie Hurst's successful novel, starts next week.

Check up, there may be some interesting future changes in television programming. An advertising executive has predicted that TV is on its way to a "magazine plan" format. Basically, this means that programs will be aimed at the majority of viewers, not the majority of people, as has been the policy. The first of two remaining steps before this concept arrives is balancing weekly fare between regular and special entertainment features and regular and special features in the field of controversy and ideas. There are a number of groups fighting this trend, which would indicate they are either satisfied with present programming or antipathetic with the money they make from present programming. After seeing new fare of shows the past few weeks it seems imperative that television change its programming and do it soon. There should be a limit to the number of outers and flat feet we must watch.

National magazines appear to be in an all-out circulation war. And it offers us a chance to pick up some good bargains. For instance, with the few women's magazines looking for the distinctions of having the highest advertising income, they are offering out rates to get readers. Other magazines are following suit as the fight to survive becomes more intense. It might be worthwhile reviewing your subscription list for additions and subtractions at bargain prices.

Toy manufacturers know a good thing when they see it and as a result they all have pumped more than 45 million dollars this year into advertising the gadgets and gimmicks that lure us to the toy counters. We can expect a steady diet of toy advertising from now through the Christmas season as the bulk of that 45 million is budgeted for Christmas buying.

Through Eyes Of Your Child

Even though you know your home is safe, inspect it once more through the eyes of a child. Dr. Albert H. Domm advises parents.

Dr. Domm, leading child safety spokesman and medical director for the Prudential Insurance Company in the 13 western states, suggested that local parents thoroughly re-examine their homes and eliminate danger points this month.

In calling for a fall safety check-up, the doctor cited several unusual accidents reported in "safe" homes in one western community in one week's time.

1. A 15-month-old boy drank a bottle of chin lotion. He died of poisoning.
2. A 5-year-old somehow managed to take a revolver and cartridges from a high closet shelf. He loaded the weapon and pulled the trigger, killing his 2-year-old brother.
3. A 16-month-old girl tried to take a cup of water from a five-gallon wash bucket. She fell in and drowned.
4. Two children, 8 and 7,

"Yeh—and I'll stay this way until barber shop prices come down" climbed into an empty, newly-connected refrigerator. Their father discovered their hidden bodies.

Self-Polish Wax Harmful To Hardwood

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Self-polishing waxes can damage hardwood floors irreparably. They should be used only for asphalt tile, rubber tile vinyl and linoleum, advises Henry M. Tobey, research director for the E. I. du Pont company, manufacturer of hardwood flooring. Tobey, a research chemist, recommends using only solvent type waxes, including paste and the various types of cleaning waxes for wood, cork and concrete floors. These waxes must be buffed, but generally are easy to apply because most types clean and wax at the same time and do the job with one coat. It usually takes two coats of self-polishing wax for a good shine. Tobey said solvent waxes also were easier to maintain on wood. Buffing brings back the original shine even breaks after the first application, he said. "Not so with the so-called self-polishing waxes which depend on a hard plastic-like surface that is prone to scratches and cannot, under most circumstances, be restored without re-sanding and re-staining."

Tobey warned against the use of self-polishing waxes on hardwood floors because these substances are actually synthetic plastics emulsified in water, he said. "They are ideal for resilient-type kitchen floors because the synthetics—actually plastic resins—spread easily and smoothly."

Only United Nations representatives, church leaders and diplomats can cross freely between the Jordan and Israel sectors of Jerusalem.
