Reader Discusses Aspects Of Comments on Socialism

Editor, Times-News: When a noted liberal says to "while away the consciousness of national sovereignty" is favorable to socialism, and was recently from the air war college to lecture to our people, it is not time to sound the alarm for our country. This lecture from the Forum (Public Association) also says: "We must not allow ourselves to be distracted by the views of the socialists who are spreading their propaganda in Europe which are making us a nation. Let us realize the fact for socialism. When we understand that we shall know the socialists, whether Protestants or Catholics, or inspired by Marxism, are people who today are supporting the ideas of democracy."

Intentionally, socialism means no individual, no free man.

Local Man Dislikes Hiring Of Outsiders for City Jobs

Editor, Times-News: Why they should have the city council that they have selected. If they are not capable of running the city, they should not be in charge. If they are, why should we hire outsiders to do the job? I don't believe in out-of-town replacements. It makes the real feel kind of out of place. I think there are plenty of good men and women in every town to fill the jobs. Let's live and let live.

Contributor Thinks Towns Should Mind Own Business

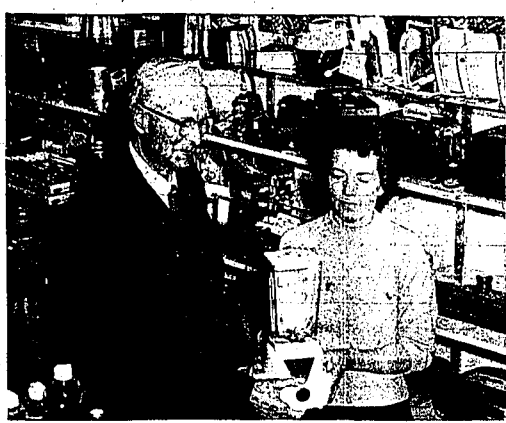

Editor, Times-News: I read Mr. J. O. Grundler's letter from Rupert. I don't know this man, but if I remember, a few years back, Rupert sent out a man for his police chief, and there was a man on the force at the same time with would have made a good chief of police. I also think that every town in town man was named first. Of course I know we are all put here to be judged and not to judge, but really don't you think we should keep our own doorstep clean? They would have plenty to do. I don't believe in out-of-town replacements. It makes the real feel kind of out of place. I think there are plenty of good men and women in every town to fill the jobs. Indian Gets Attention Now; Past Action Poor, He Says

Editor, Times-News: Under these conditions and rise to any great heights above them in any view of the obstacles that they are in their way. At least some while people are meeting the subject with understanding although I have never been sure that they are Christians in the accepted sense of the term. The problems of the American Indian vary from place to place hence there is no simple solution to their problems. It has been suggested that the matter be placed in the hands of anthropologists who would be able to approach the matter with an understanding of the Indian as people and a view to help them to help themselves. As matters stand the Indians have no chance to trust any of us and their attitude is one of fear.

Anniversary
Twenty-five years ago, Sun Valley started operations next door to Ketchum, which until then had been famed as one of the largest sheep-raising points in the nation. Now after a quarter century of operation, Sun valley has become a synonym for skiing and its fame has spread around the world to every place where skiers live.

In addition to being a mecca for skiers, Sun Valley is one of the leading tourist attractions in summer, autumn and winter. It is famous for its skiing, when its slopes are covered with snow. The resort also has achieved considerable fame as a site for conventions, an activity that keeps the place humming in early spring and summer. Every year several national conventions are held at Sun Valley.

During the war years when travel was limited and many people had something on their minds besides skiing, Sun Valley acquired a versatile background by serving as a natural playground for many residents of Magic Valley who have never set foot on Sun Valley's grounds. The resort was built primarily for skiers from all parts of the world and wasn't designed for the Idaho trade, but even today it is one of the major attractions in Sun Valley and counts it as one of southern Idaho's major attractions. It's a rare visitor who manages to leave the area without at least catching a glimpse of the famed resort.

In recent years Sun Valley has had difficult times because a niggardly nature failed to cooperate by providing necessary snow. Even widespread cloud seeding efforts didn't produce the desired results and the resort had a difficult time living up to its world-wide reputation.

Now the silver anniversary year is off to a flying start with promise of ample snow. And as the crowds of skiers descend on Sun Valley from all over the nation and many points abroad, skiers will continue to show their pride in a luxury skiing resort that has no equal.

SOLID VICTORY
Ever since the communists took over the mainland and the vast, overpopulated nation has been represented by what amounts to an absentee government in matters before the United Nations. Leading champion of the Nationalist Chinese government has been the U. S., which has taken great pains to make sure the Nationalist Chinese remain in the United Nations.

On the other hand, Russia has made every effort to gain world recognition for the Communist Chinese government. Success of the communists is due to trade agreements with many nations, including Great Britain. Yet every attempt to seat the red Chinese government in the United Nations has been defeated by the U. S. American success on the question of the communists is due to the simple expedient of proposing a resolution to postpone putting the question on the U. N. agenda.

This year U. S. tactics were changed and the question came to the point of debate in the United Nations general assembly. As daily followers of the news are well aware, some bitter words have been exchanged during the debate. Also, some communist support has come from a few strange places.

Finally, the Russians brought the question to a ballot. When communist China was denied a U. N. seat by a 48-30 vote, it could be interpreted by as a trumping victory for the American delegates.

So now the question of U. N. recognition of communist China has been taken care of for another year. No one should interpret the defeat as being an end to efforts to seat the red Chinese. The communists will never give up. Whether their efforts will succeed or not remains to be seen. For the present, the "official" Chinese government still maintains headquarters on Formosa.

FOREGONE CONCLUSION
Sentencing of Adolph-Eichmann to die on the gallows in Jerusalem came as no surprise to anyone, including Eichmann. From the moment the war-time nazi official felt his Jewish hands, his fate was a foregone conclusion. All that remained to be decided was how, when and where he would die.

Great care was taken to build a legal case against Eichmann. A formal trial never came to the aid of the accused of shunting to their deaths in the infamous nazi execution camps. Through the trial, Eichmann's insistence that he was only a small cog in a big machine in the effort to do his duty and avoid the death penalty or a belated conscience of some sort.

Eichmann will be hanged and in death, he will find some peace he could never find in life. His pending punishment would have been to spend his remaining years living among the people he worked so hard to exterminate and to see the hate and contempt in their eyes every day.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—How many Democrats and how many Republicans are there in the United States? The Washington Post asks in an editorial, "How many Democrats and how many Republicans are there in the United States? The Washington Post asks in an editorial, 'How many Democrats and how many Republicans are there in the United States?'"

The answer to those questions points to the fact that the Republicans face in their effort to cut into the Democratic majority, which now stands at 64 to 32.

For not only do fewer Democrats vote for reelection than in the past, but the Republicans face in their effort to cut into the Democratic majority, which now stands at 64 to 32.

SAFE IN SOUTH—One-third of those exposed Democratic seats are in the South, in states that are thought to elect Democrats in the event of the Democratic incumbent being defeated in the primaries. Those incumbents are Sam J. Ervin of N. C., John H. Tamm of Ala., C. C. Brannan of S. C., Russell B. Long of La., George A. Smathers of Fla., and Herman E. Tamm of Ala.

TALAFEROS—The late Speaker Samuel Talaferos Rayburn was asked once in a while about his alleged kinship to a person thought to be his brother, A. A. of Albuquerque, N. M., who is of Italian ancestry, asks this column if Mr. Rayburn "also had any Italian blood in him?"

Red Germans Attack Troop Moves by U.S.

BERLIN, Dec. 16 (AP) — The East Germans denigrated again today that the United States stop sending its troops along the autobahn linking Berlin with West Germany across 110 miles of East Germany. Previous protests along this line have been ignored by Washington.

The official East German news agency, ADP, said the new demand was included in a note sent to the United States through Czech diplomatic channels. The United States does not recognize the German communist regime and has no talks with it.

The new note, ADP said, called "illegal and provocative" recent movements in which two U. S. combat troops were exchanged in Berlin. It repeated charges persistently denied by American and NATO spokesmen, that American troops in Berlin were under command of the North Atlantic Treaty organization and thus part of the Atlantic defense system.

The battle group exchange involved moving 3,000 men in about 500 vehicles along the autobahn. The movement was completed Friday without communist interference. It was mistaken for relief of a battle group that had been on duty in Berlin since shortly after the communists erected their wall Aug. 13.

East Germany emphasized that it was not obliged to permit the movement of NATO troops along the highway. It added that American troop movements endangered the peace especially because the troops traveled in movements in which two U. S. combat

Dietrich School Has Open House

DIETRICH, Dec. 16 — Dietrich parents toured classrooms and visited their children's teachers at the December PTA meeting.

Mrs. Fred Olsen, vice president, conducted the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Leo Ballard, president. Mrs. Floyd Kisting read the PTA prayer.

Supt. Neil Thomas reported on the testing program held last month. He gave statistics showing how Dietrich students compared with students from larger schools.

Members decided to hold a dance after the holidays as a fund raising project. Seventh and eighth grade room won the attendance prize.

Refreshments were served by the mothers of sophomore students with Mrs. Alfred Heiken and Mrs. Leonard Rogers in charge.

Stock Trades Dominated by Tax-Business

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Tax transactions continued to dominate stock dealings this week as price changes were mostly strange convolutions which led nowhere.

Prices moved modestly higher in the first two sessions, closed on Wednesday although the Dow-Jones industrial average continued to be held down by a tumbled sharply on Thursday and steadied Friday to end up just about where they began.

It was the fourth straight week of sideways movement with the popular market indicators on fairly heavy volume, and it occurred during the period when many are telling clients for months to prepare for a vigorous December.

With only half the month remaining and with technical indicators actually weaker than the previously anticipated rally. Fundamental factors found the nation's industrial production to a record high last month, but was hampered by the early December business and economic activities which began with November performances.

If the business has advanced continues, it was reasoned that stock prices still at historical high levels in industrial activity in the first half of 1959, could be sold down to anticipated.

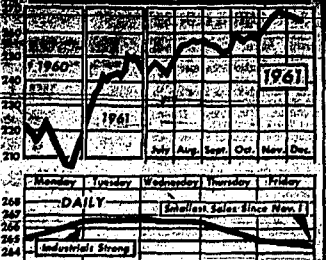

Auto sales in the first third of December were off from the first third of 1958, but rose 1 percent over last year, according to the industry.

On the other hand, steel orders are continuing to increase as the industry orders for steel are being held up and the week-to-week private industrial production index anticipated by Standard and Poor's and Moody's and Barron, held steady or continued to rise.

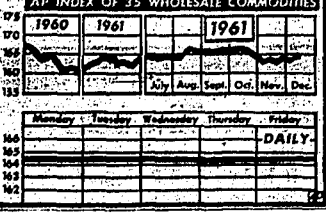

Standard and Poor's 500 stock index finished at 720.1 for the week-to-week loss, but was increasing almost no change in the paper value of all listed shares. The Dow-Jones industrial average of 30 industrial closed at 720.4 for a gain of 1.17, while the S&P 500 index ended at 182.13, and utilities at 152.23 of 6.91.

Trading for the week dropped slightly to 21,990,433 shares, a turnover of 21,010,850 a week earlier and 17,845,485 in the comparable period of 1958.

AP INDEX OF 35 WHOLESALE COMMODITIES

STOCKS WERE LOWER again for the fourth week in a row, as shown by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, which closed Friday at 260.8 from 265.1 a week ago. The commodity index moved ahead for the second consecutive week, ending Friday at 164.5 from 164.4 in the preceding period. (AP wirephoto chart)

2 Economic Arteries, Steel and Autos, Hike Output

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Two of the economy's main arteries, steel and automobile production, advanced vibrantly during the week.

The resurgence has made it clear that 1959 will end and 1960 open on a rising surge. The increasing output of these two industries will course down many veins of the business.

Steel production was expected to hold about even with, or rise a little from the previous week's level of 2,150,000 tons, which was the highest in 10 months.

An industry publication, Iron Age, said, steel ordering has reached "the fever pitch" with some mills receiving orders at a rate approaching 100 per cent of capacity.

With autos continuing to run strong, the automobile industry held to a high production schedule during the week, turning out an estimated 162,000 passenger cars, compared with 161,547 a week ago and 130,701 a year ago.

Christmas buying rolled along at what may be a record rate. The National Retail Merchants association, which had predicted a two per cent gain over the 1958 season, said reports from around the country are better than expected.

 Hapsett of all could be the part of new car sales is causing the makers to set high production schedules for next period. Some are talking quite confidently of another seven-million car year comparable to the record 1958 volume.

And being car-minded, Americans in general tend to shoot this confidence. When the auto industry is booming, the belief is, every other one should soon be, too.

DAMAGED HOUSE is shown after an Iowa air national guard jet plane, one of two unable to land because of foul weather, draped wreckage crazily over garage attached to home. Both pilots bailed out. (AP wirephoto)

Bad Weather Covers Wide Areas of U.S.

By The Associated Press
Rain and sleet covered wide sections of the South and central portions of the country today. Locally heavy rain, accompanied by thunder, flooded lowland sections of the South. More than one and a half inches of rain were reported at Memphis, Tenn., and the Columbus, Miss. air force base. One inch of rain fell at Little Rock, Ark., and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Northward and into the Midwest, the rain turned to sleet, glazing roadways and making travel hazardous. Extreme caution was urged by the Chicago weather bureau for drivers in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Illinois. The bureau also warned of locally heavy snow, ranging up to four inches in depth, for parts of South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa Saturday night.

In the Northeast, early morning temperatures dropped to 20 at Bovoille, N.Y., and around 10 in scores of other communities. Temperatures moderated to the high 20s.

Jets Crash in Foul Weather

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 16 (AP) — Two air national guard jet aircraft crashed today when, officials said, the pilots were unable to land in foul weather. There were no casualties. One plane crashed into a house in a west side residential street. The other came down in a field outside of the city.

Col. Junior F. Miller, Iowa adjutant general, said it was presumed that both planes ran out of fuel and couldn't land at Des Moines airport because of poor visibility.

He said it was a coincidence that both planes crashed at the same time. Earlier an air national guard spokesman said the planes had collided in flight.

A light rain fell over parts of the Southwest, and snow was reported through the Rocky Mountain region.

In the Pacific West, temperatures ranged in the 50s, and across Florida skies were clear with light clouds.

Art Contest Planned by Soil District

SHOOSHONE, Dec. 16—An art contest will be sponsored by the Wood River soil conservation district. It was decided at the supervisor's meeting Thursday night at the local office, reports Cecil Cope.

The contest is open to all Lincoln county amateur artists and the judging will be done in the fall, about the time of the Lincoln county fair. The paintings are to be on subjects of nature, soil or wildlife with combination of the subjects permitted. For suggestions on paintings, Cope points to the 1958 and 1959 agricultural yearbooks.

Solicitations are made to any interested organization or individual who wishes to contribute to the prizes.

Other business Thursday night included discussion of operations of the district and plans for next year's work.

Attending were Mont Johnson, Paul Bancroft, Orville Davis, J. Howard Manning and Cope.

Portugal Seeks Goa Crisis Talks

LISBON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Portuguese Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar has instructed the United Nations of his willingness to negotiate with India on the Goa crisis, it was announced tonight.

Salazar sent a message to acting U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Thank that said his government was prepared to seek joint talks with the Indian government but to all proposals arising from the adjacency of the Portuguese territories, including an international guarantee that Portuguese soil shall never be allowed to harbor any threat against its neighbor.

Salazar's message, made public by the Portuguese government, gave no indication whether Portugal would negotiate its continued sovereignty over Goa on the other two small enclaves in India.

Proceeds from the Lions Crackerjacks photo will go to the club's eyeglass fund, which is used for glasses for needy persons. (Staff photo-ten grating)

New Police Chief Arrives, Visits With Local Citizens

Roger Tucker, Boise, newly appointed Twin Falls police chief, visited Twin Falls police constable and businessmen Friday and Saturday.

Tucker said, "Many persons in Twin Falls think that I was appointed to do some head-chopping, but I'm not. When I take the office of chief of police, the hatchet will still be in Boise. I have no intention to use such a device here."

He will take over the position Jan. 1, which Howard Gillette will relinquish. Under city law all city employees are required to retire at the age of 65.

While walking through the business district Tucker stated, "This is still a Saturday town, noting the number of persons in town doing their Christmas shopping."

The main reason he was in Twin Falls, Tucker said, was to get acquainted with the citizens of Twin Falls and the personnel of the police department.

"When I fill in the shoes Gillette will leave, I will then make a statement as to what I will do or what I will not do," he noted.

U.N. Sets Check-Of Birth Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—A U.N. assembly committee has agreed to debate birth control in the next assembly session but knocked out proposals for giving it priority or making it an important item.

Denmark, Sweden, Pakistan, China, Greece, and Tunisia urged the issue be brought up at this session. They proposed Friday night that U.N. advisory services be given underdeveloped countries who want help in curbing their population.

Latin American nations and other countries with large Roman Catholic populations voted against either priority or making it an important question. The United States and Britain also voted against priority, and abstained on the question of importance.

Burley Plans Homecoming For Students

BURLEY, Dec. 16—Plans are being completed for the annual homecoming assembly to be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at the high school auditorium. Sandy Beck, secretary; Ken Allen, president, and Charles Wilson, vice president, of the student body, are in charge.

Music will be furnished by the dance band. Masters of ceremony will be Boyd Hammond and West Starlin, both former Burley high school students, who are now attending BYU.

A skit will be presented by last year graduates attending the school. The University of Idaho, Moscow, Carol and Marie Hanks will play a piano duet. Linda Larson will give a reading, a modern dance will be presented by Carol Hight and Gail Blauer and the theme song, "It's Home for Christmas," will be sung by Dorothy Norton.

A skit number will be sung by Ivan Carson, Marcia Hatch and Janet Lee. Dee Marden will do a comedy act. Linda Hoggan will play a piano solo and George Gray will give a reading.

Janene Delaney will be crowned queen during the event. Karen Hoffmeyer will be first attendant and Wendy McMurray, second attendant.

The homecoming basketball game will be Tuesday in Burley with Twin Falls. Homecoming dance will be Thursday night.

Ore-Ida Begins Work on Monday

BURLEY, Dec. 16—Full production will be resumed Monday at Ore-Ida Foods, Inc., plant here. Dale McLaner, public relations director, announced today.

Approximately 2,000 employees will be affected by the recall, he said. Operations were shut down Dec. 10 to adjust inventory with increased production.

"The inventory on some items is down to the point where continued processing is necessary," stated F. Nephri Origg, president of the firm.

BIBLE BEST SELLER

LONDON, Dec. 16 (AP)—The best-selling book this year was the new English Bible, the publishers report. They said world sales passed the 3.4 million mark in nine months. Nearly one million copies have been sold in the United States.

Henry Lee, 69, Taken by Death

BURLEY, Dec. 16—Henry P. Lee, 69, died Friday night at Magie Valley Memorial hospital in Twin Falls, after an extended illness.

He was born in Oklahoma March 1, 1892, and had worked as a farm-laborer most of his life. Mr. Lee was employed by the Stephens Redwood company, chairman of the board, where he was a watchman and fireman for approximately seven years before moving to Burley in 1968.

On Sept. 24, 1918, he married Ida Harris at McAlester, Okla. Mr. Lee was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors include his widow; two sons, Henry Malcolm Lee, Burley, and Douglas Lee, Boise; one brother, William P. Lee, and a sister, Mrs. Etta Rayburn, both McAlester, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be announced by the Albertson funeral home.

Yule Concert Presented by Burley Pupils

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Annual Christmas concert presented by the junior high school choruses, Del Cantos, and the high school and junior high school orchestras was held Thursday night at the high school.

The seventh grade chorus, accompanied by Dee Anna Merrill, sang three selections, "On Christmas Night," a Russian carol, "Very Merry Christmas," by Gilbert, and "Deck the Halls," an old Welsh air.

The eighth grade chorus sang "Let It Snow," arranged by William Slocum, music by Billy Styne and lyrics by Sammy Cahn; "In Silent Night," a Russian folk song, and "The Little Bell," music by Stefan Danisch, arranged by Helen Danisch. Sharon Johnson sang the soprano solo.

The ninth grade chorus sang "Wide River," a spiritual; "Christmas Greenings," by A. Adam, and "The Little Bell" arranged by Richard Wagner.

The Del Cantos sang "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light," from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio"; "Carol of the Bells," a Ukrainian carol by Leonovitch; "Willoway," an Appalachian carol by Miles and Horton; "O Tell It on the Mountain," a spiritual by Harry Simons; "What Child Is This?" English folk tune by Gandy, and "Carol of the Drum," a Czech carol.

Selections from "The Messiah" were presented with Billie Lou Schofield and Pam Beall as soloists.

The high school orchestra accompanied them. The selections were "And the Glory of the Lord" by the chorus; "Behold, A Virgin Shall Conceive" recitative by Miss Beall; also, "O, Those that Tellest Good Tidings" solo and chorus; "For Unto Us a Child is Born" chorus; "He Shall Feed His Flock" also air; "Come Unto Him," soprano air, and "Alleluia Chorus."

Directors were Ray Blatter and Samuel Chen.

Rotary Has Talk About Rural Loan

SHOSHONE, Dec. 16.—Roy Gispson, FSA supervisor for Lincoln, Chaska and Blaine counties, spoke Wednesday noon at the Rotary club, outlining the type of government loans now available.

There are 24 different types, he stated, and they are available only to those who cannot obtain credit elsewhere.

There are 24 districts and four supervisors in the state besides the state office in Boise. Private investors loan most of the money to the program, at four and one-half per cent interest. The government charges five per cent to borrowers. The interest gains pay for possible losses and overhead costs.

New emergency loans, he added, are so restrictive that they are applied mostly for new wells on farms.

On Dec. 23, the Rotary club will sponsor the annual dinner for students and servicemen home on leave, at the Lincoln auditorium. W. E. Ostrom and John Severson are contacting students. Students not contacted are asked to call either John Thomas or Burton Thorne, who are in charge of dinner arrangements.

President Charles Glasby announced that names would be drawn next week for boys and girls to be collected for needy

Farm Parley Notes Items For Concern

HANSEN, Dec. 16 — Robert Pettigrove, chairman of the Farm Bureau, suggested several items needing attention at a meeting Thursday evening at the Grange hall.

Items mentioned included a rough railroad crossing on Rock Creek road at Hansen, the Snake river pollution situation, potato storage conditions and the state highway commission.

A letter will be sent to the members of the Kimberly Farm Bureau to hold a joint meeting with the Hansen chapter to discuss a possible consolidation of the two groups. Kimberly group is meeting very irregularly or not at all, and Hansen, though meeting regularly, feels a larger membership would mean a more effective group.

It was decided to have temporary chairman and secretary each month, for the present, and Jack Long will preside at January's meeting and Mrs. Burton Hill will be secretary.

It also was decided to have programs each month featuring questions concerning subjects of pertinent interest to the members.

Exhibit Planned By Art Students

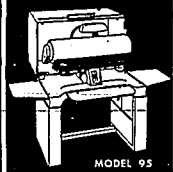

SUPPLY, Dec. 16 — Burley high school students will have an art exhibit at 2 p.m. Sunday at the high school outside the auditorium.

Donald Rankin, art instructor, invites the public to view this work. The art III class will show individual Christmas murals on masonite done in oil painting.

The crafts II class will show shattered glass mosaics cut in plaster. Art II class is showing Christmas centerpieces and early Old English scrolls illuminated with gold. The crafts III class will exhibit original Christmas card designs.

Farmers Ask For Changes In Spud Plan

RUPERT, Dec. 16 — A request to be made to Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman for liberalization and an extension of the current potato diversion program was approved at a meeting of the directors of the Magic Valley Potato Marketing association Thursday night at Paul.

The depressed potato price Idaho the crop is bringing less than 50 per cent of parity. Idaho is faced with an irremediable crop of potatoes, and it may be necessary to divert at least 10 million hundredweight to create a healthy market condition. Only 37,557 hundredweight of marketable potatoes had been diverted up to Dec. 8, West said, pointing out that such a small amount had an appreciable effect on the market. Officials stated that some starch plants had closed their doors because of the price situation and that the small livestock feeder who represents another outlet has practically been eliminated by rigid inspection and controls. A four point program was suggested by the directors as a means of alleviating the situation. Included was retention of the 60 per cent price level until March 1, with any drop in the present price immediately reflected in the price of marketable potatoes at destination points, consideration of a diversion program for livestock feed to be made available only at the producer's cellar, together with a sprout inhibitor to prevent violation of grade. Three points are elimination of the three foot maximum depth, which would provide for drying an entire bin or cellar for the producer. The first draft to be issued directly to the producer through the local county ASC office. Directors felt this to be a method of tying the diversion payment directly to the producer. A resolution was passed requesting the potato and onion commission to recognize the National Potato council as a vital part of the industry. Directors attending were West, Dale Miller, Joe Houssa, Clarence Parr, Edward Topfitt, Keith Thomas, Wilbur Butler, J. A. Gillette, Junius Duke, Mark Dayler and Phillip Bure.

Petition Filed
SHOSHONE, Dec. 16 — A petition for joining the estate of the late Mrs. Edna Kohl with that of her late husband, W. S. Kohl, has been filed for probate with Judge C. M. Wilson here. Mrs. Kohl died shortly after the petition she filed in the court was processed to probate her husband's estate. Sole heir of Mrs. Kohl, according to the petition, is Mrs. J. E. Kohl and Mrs. O. Kohl, sons.

Minister Notes Price of Peace At DAR Parley

Using excerpts from the Mayflower pact, the Rev. Jon Bullock spoke at a meeting of Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Rev. Mr. Bullock stated that to have peace, we must work for it and work for it. Spiritual disarmament must come before that of the military, he noted.

As a concluding statement, he remarked that so far all our efforts for peace have been on a "horizontal" level; nothing can be accomplished without an upward lift, the responsibility of everyone.

The guest speaker was introduced by Mrs. L. L. Breckenridge.

Mrs. Frank W. Brown read the national defense report, in which the society urged that the public write congressmen urging them to vote against the Peilly bill, H.R. 8547, which would prohibit shipment of oil and steel to iron curtain countries.

Shipments of these materials, according to the report, have increased 800 per cent during the past few months.

Luncheon was served in the State room of the Hodgson hotel.

Mrs. Karl Patrick was introduced as a new member. Mrs. Ed Pettigrove was a guest.

Carol Loggan, Sauer Exchange Nuptial Promise

JEROME, Dec. 16—Carol Loggan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Loggan, Burley, and Jerry Sauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Sauer, Jerome, were married at 8 p.m. Saturday Nov. 28.

The Rev. J. C. Werschler performed the ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran parsonage.

Ebelle Davis, Buhl, and Milton Evans, Richfield, were attendants. Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Sauer and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sauer.

The bride is attending Beauty Arts academy in Twin Falls. Sauer is employed at the Penny-Wise drugstore, Twin Falls.

Guitar Played At MIA Parley

HAGERMAN, Dec. 16—Several guitar solos were played by Joe Cline at the MIA meeting.

Wilda Cline was pianist and Devo Christian led the singing.

La Nona Shirley gave the invocation. Nidney Miller led the theme and the benediction was given by Ariene Zedler.

Miss Mildred made candles under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Ed Larson. Volleyball was played.

There will be no meeting Dec. 20 and 27. The regular meeting will be held Jan. 3. Members will meet at the church at 8:30 p.m. Monday for a caroling party and chili supper.

Fashion of '20s Earmarked by Long Skirts, 'Russian Influence'

"Smart" without ostentatious, the "homespun" cloth used for them marks the winter mode. Skirts are coming up just a bit, even more daring. "Dance and dinner gowns of unusual vogue and beauty." Daytime clothes destined for sophisticated well as flairs.

Sound familiar? It should. You, to your mother, perhaps even your grandmother. These gowns from the fashion world were taken from the "Editorial Review," a popular women's magazine in December, 1921.

Christmas clothing-making and holiday preparations were, in reality, not too different from those of 1919. Proper styles were just as all-important to the fashion-conscious matron and debutante as they were in the time or money to make long jaunty to the "big city" merrily searched in magazines for the dresses of their dream, not the yards and types of materials needed and then ordered both material and pattern.

Those desiring personal consultation and the thrill of buying high-fashion styles, made the trip to the city department stores of the early 20s, according to the "Review," were earnestly with three main features: long tunic waists, deep lapels and long, long skirts.

The average skirt length of the back, was some 35 inches. The general design of nearly all dresses considered to be "modest" (seldom called stylish or fashionable) had the look of an elongated Roman tunic with a waist line was almost non-existent and the entire ensemble seemed intent on hiding every last vestige of a woman's figure. (No knickerbockers here.)

Most jewelry was concentrated at the hip or near the center of the neckline. Large jeweled buttons with three main features: long tunic waists, deep lapels and long, long skirts. Fur trimming was used extensively on skirt panels, necklines, collars, sleeves and cuffs. Gloves were almost always worn and were usually elbow length.

The lapels, (to be found on just about anything) were deep and crossed in front near the waist. Evening wear was designed with a cummerbund effect at the hip and was not as "manly" as were daytime styles. The lapels had disappeared for "after six" wear and a softly rounded neckline had taken their place.

Accessories included deep cloche hats with an abundance of feathers; polka shoes with large tongues, and hair ribbons and bands worn over or near the forehead.

Spanish fans, fake grapes and clusters of beads and jewels completed the well-dressed woman's hair attire.

Ribbon was often used, especially to accent evening clothes which were usually made of soft, filmy materials; a contrast to

GRAPES

GLAZED TURKEY

This is the season of lots of leftover turkey and Emperor grapes. So let's combine them in this unusual and very delicious dish:

OURRED TURKEY & LEMON WHITE PRESSED GRAPES
(Yield: 6 servings)

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flour
1 cup turkey stock
1 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
2 cups diced leftover turkey, cooked
2 tablespoons diced pimiento
1/2 cup seedless Emperor grapes
1/2 patty shells
Melt butter or margarine in a saucpan. Blend in flour. Stir in turkey stock and milk. Cook until medium thickness, stirring constantly. Add seasonings, lemon juice and turkey. Heat. Just before serving, stir in pimiento and grapes. Serve in patty shells.

(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)

2 cups seeded Emperor grapes
2 cups shredded cabbage
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup lettuce
Whole grapes for garnish (optional)

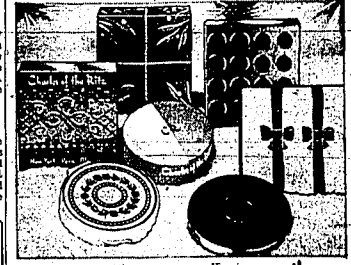

Place grapes, cabbage, salt, black pepper, lemon juice and mayonnaise in a bowl. Toss lightly. Serve on lettuce leaves. Garnish with additional whole fresh grapes, if desired.

Dimes Drive People Hold Kickoff Fete

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Dr. Eugene Holinger, chairman of the board of the March of Dimes campaign here, was the guest speaker at the kickoff dinner at Nelson's banquet room Thursday.

He spoke on how the funds raised through the annual campaign were distributed. About 31 per cent goes for research, eight per cent for education and 50 per cent goes for medical care. The rest is used for the expenses of administration and fund raising.

A film put out by the National foundation entitled "Billy and Bethoven" was narrated by Barbara Stanwyck. This film will be shown throughout the county during the Dec. 16-17, 1952 campaign director, and Denny Curtis, special emissary chairman. There is approximately $10,000 for the county. A thermometer will be put up on the corner of the March of Dimes building to show the progress of the campaign.

Maraden stated that the county is approximately $10,000 more than last year's figure but because it is planned to wage a progressive campaign with many more special events he feels this goal can be reached.

Cassia county led the class B counties last year and it is hoped to repeat this accomplishment this year.

An informal discussion followed the program in which each representative told how the campaign would be conducted in his area.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Patten, Mrs. and Mrs. Leonard King, Cassia county chapter chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Owen Thomas, vice chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rogers, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Hollinger and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Bolton, medical board; Mr. and Mrs. Judd Bodam and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Danie, board members; Janet Edgar, teens chairman; Barbara Hines, Co-Tens chairman; Mr. and Mrs. McMurphy, teens advisers; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Larson, Oakley chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lewis, Decio chairman.

Captains for the mothers' march are Mrs. A. Pauline Talbert, Mrs. Delano Yost, Mrs. Jim Roberts, Mrs. Carl Shibley, Mrs. Verma Nelson, Mrs. Clarence Barney, Mrs. Peggy Bailey and Mrs. Frank Provencher.

Idaho Educators Reviewing New Math Teaching Method

BOISE, Dec. 16 (AP)—A plan to facilitate adoption by Idaho educators of the new math teaching methods developed in the last decade has been received by an official of the Idaho department of education.

Development of what some call the "new mathematics" has come through the efforts of study groups and educators throughout the nation. Textbooks are only now becoming available.

William Smallwood of the state department of education said the only school in Idaho which has adopted the new methods is Wallace Junior high school.

Smallwood, supervisor of science and mathematics, said he believes the majority of Idaho school districts will be using the new methods within the next five years.

Progress of the incorporation of the new methods into Idaho schools, he said, depends a lot on participation of teachers in special training institutes.

The new techniques, which proponents say came about as a result of automation and other new materials are good, but don't want to think of them as teachers into children. Under the approach and can see the benefits themselves.

Under present procedures, said the state textbook committee, the state board has to approve the adoption of new math books for adoption for other three years.

To remedy this situation, he said, the state board has approved the appointment of a special committee to select and work out a program.

More emphasis is placed on the abstract nature of mathematics such as rational numbers, irrational numbers and the semantic difference between a number and a numeral.

The initial reaction of the student of traditional math, Smallwood said, is to be overwhelmed by the strangeness of it. But studies have revealed that students who have taken the new courses have a better understanding of math and greater ability in dealing with practical problems.

Smallwood said he thinks the $400 Damage Is Caused by Crash

RUPERT, Dec. 16—Nearly 500 damages resulted from a two-car collision at the F street and highway 24 intersection Thursday morning, according to police.

A 1959 Buick driven by Norman W. Bennett, Burley, collided with a 1958 Pontiac driven by Charles H. Bohlen, Rupert, when Bennett was attempting to make a left turn onto the highway. Bohlen was traveling south on the highway and officers reported that the icy condition of the road contributed to the accident. There were no citations.

Jets Salute KILL DEVIL HILLS N. C.

Dec. 16—Sixteen supersonic jets streaked over the Wright Brothers memorial today in ceremonies marking the 60th anniversary of the birth of aviation.

The fly-over salute to the first heavier-than-air flight came at 10:37 a. m.—the exact time of day on Dec. 17, 1903, that the Wrights achieved their first successful flight on wind-swept dunes here. The observance was held a day early because the anniversary falls on Sunday.

Judge Speaks On Jaunt for Lions Parley

HAGERMAN, Dec. 16—James P. Gossett, Wendell, showed pictures and narrated about his trip to Cambodia, Vietnam and Thailand, at the Lions club meeting Thursday. He traveled 74,000 miles in four months. Mrs. Gossett also was a guest.

Christmas songs were sung with Mrs. Ole Pinner at the piano and Mrs. Bob Adolph directed. Ronald Carlson gave the invocation. Reports were given by Dave Nicholson, on the light bulb sale, for the eye night fund, and Ronald Carlson reported on the proceeds of the dining room. There has been some seepage of water and more work has to be done on the pond, before it will be ready for use.

It was announced that charity night will be held at 8 p.m. Jan. 13, at the Hagerman hotel with wives as guests.

The Hagerman Lions will sponsor a basketball team to play in the Glenn Perry Lions club-sponsored basketball tournament during the Christmas holidays. Playing on the Hagerman team will be Bill McKinley, Lynn Wood, Dan Moore, Gerald Prince, Douglas Johnson, Mike Mason, John Mason, Ronnie Boyer and Charles Boyd.

The Dandy Lions held a short business meeting after the joint dinner. Two new members, Mrs. Art Gaster and Mrs. Roy Strawser, were voted into the club.

A new vice-president, Mrs. Joseph Howard was elected to fill the vacancy. Reports were given by the membership committee and the hospitality committee.

LAST-HALF SYRACUSE RALLY NIPS MIAMI

Davis Generates Spark That Wins In Liberty Bowl

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16 (UPI)—The Orange of Syracuse, down 14 points at halftime, scored back to victory over Miami in the game. Davis, checked in the first half when the hard-hitting Hurricane line threatened the Orange and guilty of one of the two fumbles which cost Syracuse the ball inside the Miami 10, was his shining star in the winning touchdown drive to complete a day on which he piled up a total of 100 yards in 20 carries.

Jackie Jensen Tells Red Sox He's Retiring

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 16 (UPI)—Jackie Jensen, Boston Red Sox's controversial athletic career, which included football, basketball and the one of baseball's highest awards, appears to be at an end.

The 34-year-old outfielder indicated to the Boston Red Sox team managers last night that he will retire from baseball and devote his time to business in Nevada and California.

The apparent decision follows by only a few days announcement by the Red Sox of a unique travel schedule, designed to fit around Jensen's much publicized fear of airplane travel.

The club also had notified him a contract.

The seeming decision to quit baseball was not much of a surprise. Jensen quit the club with one game left to play at the end of the 1955 season—only one year after he was named to the American League's most valuable player. But he came back after being out of the entire 1953 campaign and played most of the 1954 schedule.

Early last season he jumped the club again but returned several weeks later. He had little success at the plate, however, ending the season with a .233 batting average for 137 games.

Davis Won't Turn Pro for 2 Weeks

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16—All-American halfback Ernie Davis of Syracuse said today he won't make up his mind which pro-football contract to sign for at least two weeks.

Davis said he will probably will accept the biggest offer.

Draft rights to the Syracuse star are owned by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League and the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League.

Davis told reporters "I will not make a decision on which pro team I'll go to until at least two weeks. It may even wait until after the East-West game (Dec. 20)."

Davis grinned and said, "money is a big factor."

"I have to make a living," he said, "so it's whoever makes the best offer."

New York Giants Hope to Clinch NFL Eastern Loop Title Against Cleveland

The New York Giants, a team that wasn't figured to set the world on fire, can win the National Football league's Eastern conference championship tonight by overcoming certain obstacles — the Cleveland Browns in general and Jimmy Brown in particular, in particular. The teams square off in New York's Yankee stadium on this final Sunday of the NFL's regular season.

Mushers Drop Frigid Hagerman by 33-15

FAIRFIELD, Dec. 16 — Camas County's Mushers and the Hagerman Pirates battled through 32 minutes of weird basketball playing tonight with the Mushers pulling themselves together long enough for a 33-15 victory. Camas was cold but Hagerman was frigid. The Pirates scored only one field goal over the first three quarters but "got hot" and sank two field goals in the final eight minutes.

The Mushers could muster only 19 points over the first three quarters before Tom Combs and Ruddy Stockton warmed up. Combs scored 10 points and Stockton six as the Mushers finished in a rush. Hagerman held a 20-18 preliminary win.

BRUINS TAKE WINS OVER JEROME, BUHL

Twin Falls Nips Tigers 36-34 in Tight Game, Belts Indians 50-22

The surprising Twin Falls Bruins belted the luckless Buhl Indians 50-22 and nipped Jerome 36-34 in the first round of the week-end. An improved defense and better offense marked the Bruins' showing, game coming into the contest, showed strength for the season. Buhl had a good first quarter but after that was unable to score enough to keep winning chances. Coach Paul Oats continued his double platoon.

JUMP BALL is called by official Gordon (White) Price as two Twin Falls players and Tim Jerome—Jerome belts for possession during action Friday night. Fighting players in Ted Itenberg (19) and Larry Kuykendall (20). In back ground for Jerome are Ed Grider and Mark Taylor. Twin Falls won a thriller 36-34. (Staff photo-entgravings)

Buhl opened strong against the Bruins Saturday night and played to a 5-5 draw midway through the period. Then Doug Schow, who didn't play after the first period because of illness, began clicking and the Bruins took over the offensive rounds to shove missed shots back through the hoop. Schow left after eight minutes with 10 points and Twin Falls off to a 14-0 edge.

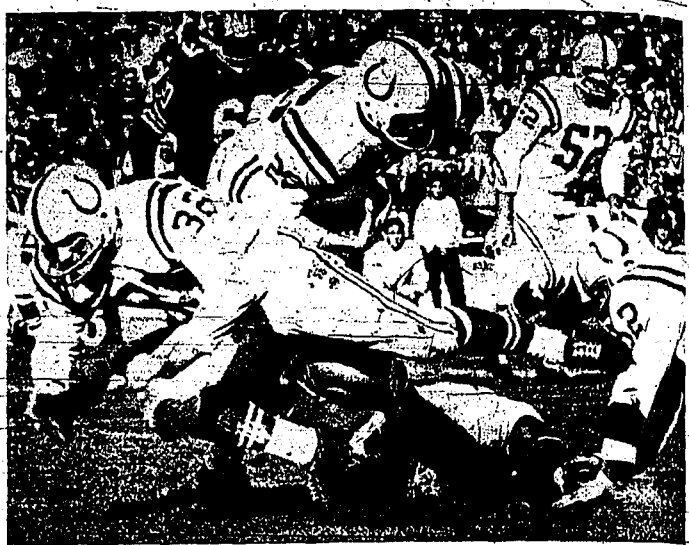

The second unit, getting some sharpshooters from Dave Dickson, pushed the count higher as Buhl went stoned cold and scored only three points per game. The Bruins were able to put a scoring flurry together.

The Bruins played their best game of the season Friday night when they nipped Jerome 36-34 in a fourth-quarter crumble by Doug Schow.

Schow's bucket proved the only scoring the Bruins could muster as the Tigers put on a desperate bid that almost paid off. Larry Kuykendall opened the door for victory in the third period as the Bruins got hot while Jerome went dead. Trailing 22-22, Twin Falls saw Kuykendall hit three quick jump shots. Ray Osen replied for Jerome before the Bruins' Schow, Ted Itenberg and Kuykendall hit again to make it 34-25 at the quarter end.

Two buckets by Mark Tiley and one each from Tim Lawrence and Ed Grider kept the Bruins before Buhl slipped in alone for the winning bucket. Both teams had chances for more comfortable wins but missed free throws consistently.

Kimberly Drops Disputed Game To Middleton, Beats Payette

The Kimberly Bulldogs dropped a decision in a game that never ended in Middleton Friday night but bounced back Saturday to overwhelm Payette 48-34. The Middleton game ended with Kimberly behind 39-38 and one and one-half minutes remaining. Coach Bob Good, who pulled his players after one was hurt and a hectic three and one-half quarter battle, appealed the decision to Ed Grider, secretary of the Idaho Inter-scholastic Activities Association Saturday but the decision was upheld.

Sam Willard, coach of the Middleton club, along with his principal, both told Grider they were dissatisfied with the officiating and joined coach Good in asking for a replay.

However, committees in scheduling will not permit a replay and the decision has to stand. Good said an official probably will be lodged over the officiating. Willard was called for four technical fouls while Good had none.

Kimberly had entered the last quarter with an 11-point margin before Willard went into a full-court press and the game became rough. Good said his decision to pull his boys came when Bruce Bulcher injured an arm. It appeared serious at the time although it responded to treatment Friday night.

Unitas Passes Baltimore Past San Francisco 27-24

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16—25 to veteran Jim Mutschelshausen to the Liberty Bell. In addition to the Unitas touchdown throw, Steve Myhra contributed three goals of 20 and 28 yards, plus three conversions.

Trailing by three points with the ball on the Baltimore 20, the home club decided against a field goal attempt and for a pass. As a crowd of 45,511 watched, the Colts battled down John Brodie's pass attempt to R. C. Owens in the end zone.

The Brodie-Owens combination had clicked for touchdowns twice previously in the final NFL game of the season at Kezar stadium.

The loss dropped the 49ers into fourth place in the Western division with Baltimore moving up to third.

The veteran Unitas hit scoring strikes of 16 yards to rookie Mark Smolinski from Wyoming.

Gooding Nips Glenns Ferry Win Streak

GOODING, Dec. 16—The Gooding Senators pulled away from a tie in the fourth quarter tonight to hand Glenns Ferry its first defeat of the season by 37.

Gooding held the lead most of the way until the Flats, who had won five straight, closed into a 33-32 tie at the end of the third period.

Glenns Ferry took the preliminary 30-21.

Hadl Directs Easy 33-7 Conquest of Rice After Denying He's Turned Pro

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 16 (UPI)—Quarterback John Hadl, with the help of two fine running-backs, guided the University of Kansas to a 33-7 rout of Rice University today in the third annual Bluebonnet bowl before 52,000 spectators. Sophomore fullback Ken Coleman and halfback Roger McFarland each scored twice and halfback Curtis McClinton bulled for another touchdown, as the visiting Jayhawks rattled the Rice line at will. Hadl, for whose services two professional teams are competing hotly, completed seven out of 10 passes and had two intercepted. He mixed a highly successful double reverse with a fullback trap up the center line and again to grind out yardage by Coleman and McFarland.

Rice had only one good series. In the first period, Quarterback Randy Kerbow directed the Jayhawks to a 7-0 lead. Kerbow completed a five-yard pass to end Johnny Burdett for the score.

Coleman, who smacked one yard in the first half for touchdowns, and gained 107 yards in 18 carries, was named the outstanding back of the game. Rice seemed to fall apart after the half—Hadl's nearly play-calling worked masterly every time during the third and fourth periods.

Hadl had to give Kansas coach Jack Mitchell a signed statement denying he had signed a professional contract with either the San Diego Chargers or the American Football league or the Detroit Lions of the NFL, he told NCAA executive director Wells Rizer would approve his appearance in the Bluebonnet bowl. Hadl had been accused by a sports official of having signed with the Chargers, which would have made him ineligible for postseason collegiate play. Hadl has a high draft choice of both pro teams.

Kansas had to punt only once in the second half against the disgruntled Owls. And end Jay Roberts recovered the punt for Kansas when it bounced off a Rice lineman.

Kansas' most successful play—the one Rice never figured out—was a double handoff—Hadl to Coleman to McFarland. McFarland scored twice on the play, both times from the 12-yard-line, in the second half. Both times he went through tackles and crossed the goal-line untouched.

Rice, a three-point favorite on its home field, managed only one more serious threat at the Kansas goal line.

Kerbow rushed hard by the Kansas line, completed a pass to halfback Bob Wayt inside the five. But the gun sounded to end the half just as Wayt caught the ball.

Ery Is New Grid Coach for SMU
DALLAS, Tex., Dec. 16 (UPI)—Glenn Perry, 32-year-old backfield coach at Arkansas, was named head football coach at Southern Methodist university today.

Ery replaces Bill Meek, who was fired by the SMU trustees after five years in which Meek had only two winning seasons and placed no team among the Southwest conference leaders.

Places Third
NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (UPI)—Utah State halfback Tommy Larscheid finished third in the nation in scoring among the major college players. He was seventh in the nation in rushing.

Jim Pilot of New Mexico State won both scoring (1,215 yards) and rushing (133 points). Larscheid scored 69 points and gained 773 yards on the ground.

On the doubt? A scene, Kimmick is making the big time. Jimmie Glenn's Ferry again is only step behind.

Valley could turn into a fair deal because, although the Vikings are big, they are rawboned. It can use that capital for good franchise under the boards.

The scoring punch of the Vikings isn't secreted itself. Wendell is fairly tall but slow. In the Trojans might be capable of giving might to surprise. Hasty is short, and speedy and has given two pretty good teams some good competition. Experience is a factor here, because is the shortest over-200-pounder. Tremendous strength to stay in most games.

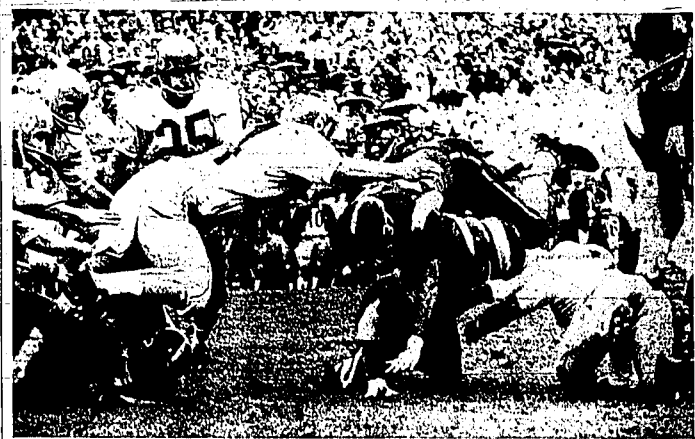

The big battle in the class A-1 come in the Northwest conference where Camas County and Astoria appear well above the rest of the competition. The Astoria has hit the skills and Diehl is a fast break clicking. The team is pretty much an unknown quantity but the Bulldogs could be in the upper division.

In the Southside, Hagerman is stamped as the team to watch. Castledorf, with the tallest in the league, is no conference opponent. Pushover. Hagerman and Diehl are experiencing some troubles and don't have a chance to hold position. Hagerman is not enough to give it.

War River, probably as always, is a heavy spoiler's role. The night and betting some by 10 the next. Murray falls toward the center. Coach DeVon Anderson can't match scoring punch to on consistently.

Cash Becomes Official Loop-Bat Champion

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 16 (UPI)—Norm Cash, Detroit, who increased his average to .310 points, won the American League batting championship in 1961 with a .301 mark, while Roger Maris of New York captured the homerun and runs-batted-in titles.

The records were confirmed today with the release of the official statistics by the American league service bureau.

Cash, a 286 batter in 1960, was runaway victor last season. He led the league with an average of .310.

Only four other players among those eligible for the title with a minimum of 502 total appearances over the 155-game schedule.

Maris, voted the loop's most valuable player for the second straight year, had 11 homers in one season, and collected 14 runs batted in. The Kansas right-hander also had the most total bases, 386, and shared the runs scored lead with Mantle.

Cash, a first baseman, had the most hits, 193, and Kaline, an outfielder, collected the most doubles, 27.

Three weeks later, Foldberg, who played freshman football as a A and M in 1961 and then was city football at West Point, after he finished his last season.

Foldberg, coach of Wichita, was named head coach and athletic director of Texas A and M today, thus returning to the school where he got his start in college football.

The 33-year-old Dallas native was picked to succeed Jim Myers, who spent four frustrating years as headman of the Aggies and who was fired the day after he finished his last season.

U.S. Skiers Fail In French Slalom

VAL D'ISERE, France, Dec. 16 (UPI)—American skiers failed to place among the leaders at a preliminary slalom run on the men's slalom at an international ski meet today.

Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., the United States' top hopeful, finished seventh in the first run, but his bindings came loose on the second run, forcing him to abandon the course.

Elorde Retains Fighting Crown

MANILA, Dec. 16 (UPI)—Gabriel (Flash) Elorde, fast-punching Filipino southpaw, stopped Bertie Cooper of Italy in 2:22 of the first round tonight and retained his world junior lightweight championship.

Cooper was flooded three times, first for a count of three. Elorde was after him immediately and kept a sharp exchange dropped the Italian for an eight-count.

Scout Camp Renamed as Memorial To Youth Who Was Killed in Italy

BOY SCOUT STATUETTE held by Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Bradley was presented to them by the Snake River council, Boy Scouts of America, in appreciation for what they have done for boys of Magic Valley. The couple recently donated enough money to the council to pay for Cape Horn Boy Scout camp. It has been renamed Camp Bradley, in honor of their late son, Robert Bradley, who was killed in a motor scooter accident in Italy last summer. (Staff photo-encaving)

Since 1956, when Cape Horn Boy Scout camp first was purchased by the Snake River council, the money to make payments on the camp always has been a problem.

But, thanks to Twin Falls couple, the balance that remained—$15,000 no longer remains a problem. Mrs. J. G. Bradley has paid the balance due and the camp is now paid for.

The camp has been renamed as a memorial in tribute to their late son, Robert Bradley, who was killed in a motor scooter accident in Italy July 20. Robert Bradley was a prominent Boy Scout in this area. The camp will be known as the Bradley Memorial Scout Camp.

Richard Best, Scout executive, noted that Robert Bradley was an Eagle Scout and was a member of Troop No. 66, sponsored by the Twin Falls Presbyterian church. He was a member of the first group of Boy Scouts ever to attend summer camp at Cape Horn for the first time in 1957.

The plaque reads, in part: "Dedicated to the beloved memory of Scout Bob Bradley, who was an outstanding Eagle Scout, and who was a vital part of the fun and adventure in this camp during the first two years of its existence."

The camp, located northwest of Teton, first was purchased under contract by the council in 1956. The council agreed to pay $5,000 a year until it was paid. It paid $5,000 down, leaving a balance of $3,000.

But money has been short in recent years and the council had fallen behind in its payments.

In the past few years, Dr. Joseph Marshall, council president, U. M. Terry, council vice president, and Best have been trying to get together enough money to pay off the sum owed on the property.

"Three or four attempts were made to get individuals to make large donations, but they all fell through. Then the Bradleys offered to pay off the balance of the mortgage."

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOSPITAL isn't quite what most people would choose. If they had a choice, but the staff at Magic Valley Memorial hospital is trying to make it as pleasant as possible for 4-year-old Roy Cuellar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cuellar. He received third-degree burns when a space heater leaked fuel and caught fire. He already has had one skin graft and will receive one more before he is released sometime after Christmas. Mrs. Floyd Miller, head nurse, is sure, talks with him. She is one of the staff members who visits him daily. (Staff photo-encaving)

Christmas Could Be Lonely Time For 4-Year-Old Boy at Hospital

Christmas can be a joy for a 4-year-old boy — or it can be a lonely time. And for such a boy who has to spend Christmas in the hospital, it could be a very lonely time.

But Christmas for 4-year-old Roy Cuellar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cuellar, may turn out to be nearly as joyful as if he were to spend the holidays at home with his five brothers and sisters. Roy, a happy youngster with big, brown eyes, recently sustained a third-degree burn on both legs when fuel leaking from the family's space heater caught fire.

He was admitted to Magic Valley Memorial hospital Oct. 25. He needed a skin graft and went through one operation, but he became ill and the graft was unsuccessful. Now he must have another operation. This means he will be in the pediatric ward throughout the holiday season.

The hospital staff gives the quiet little boy plenty of attention, and his parents visit him every day. But even this much attention is small for the young boy during the holidays.

An anonymous writer happened to see Roy and wrote the "Boys Show" column. The writer wrote, in part, "Did you know there is a sweet little boy, 4 years old at Magic Valley Memorial hospital? He has been there for several weeks being treated for severe burns and has had to have skin grafting. Can we make the time so-faster for him and give him some pleasure with cards, games, toys and other things to help make the time pass? We will be glad to help."

French Exchange Student Likes Area Despite Arrival Confusion

HEYBURN, Dec. 16—A little bit of France and a lot of personality landed aboard a commercial airliner at the Burley airport Aug. 27—all wrapped up in the person of Minnie foreign exchange student Ghislaine Metfeux.

Since she has been here she has been living with the Olds Orton family, Heyburn. Ghislaine, who prefers to be called "Gigi," arrived amid considerable confusion. She was supposed to arrive on an airliner at Pocatello, Aug. 22—the opening day of school at Minico.

It was planned to introduce her to the students during a special assembly that day. She is the fourth foreign exchange student who has attended Minico. All of them have been sponsored through the American foreign service program.

The Orton family drove to Pocatello to meet her. The airplane landed, the passengers disembarked, but there was no "Gigi." Janis Orton, a senior at Minico, explained that she had been told that she was aboard that airplane.

"I just knew she was aboard that airplane," she says, "but the crew members said there was no 'Gigi' left on it."

"The airplane immediately took off," she said. "I was told that the airplane had been missed. She had been aboard that airplane when it was going to Heyburn. No one knew where Heyburn was. She also became a little frantic by then."

Capital Has Strong Ties For Solons

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (UPI)—It happens almost every day in congress.

A legislator, seemingly burlesquely, landed aboard a commercial airliner at the Burley airport Aug. 27—all wrapped up in the person of Minnie foreign exchange student Ghislaine Metfeux.

Oh, the grass is greener, the folks are prettier, the corn is sweeter. They sack and spend more time there, kick him out of office.

Does our hero rush madly back to the spot he so loudly pinned for?

He may—but surprisingly often he does not.

What Las Vegas is to a gambler, Washington is to a politician.

For the nation's capital is lively, or, in some cases, barnyardic. It tends to grow on one.

Often those who stay here for years find themselves so pleasantly encumbered—with job opportunities, with friends, with love of excitement and power that place generates they can't get on, go home again.

For an example of this came during the casting of the motion picture, "Advice and Consent."

Area Banks Ready to Turn Over Forgotten Money for State Use

Early next year the banks of Twin Falls, Buhl and Burley will turn over nearly $20,000 to the state as a result of a new law—and what might be called the natural forgetfulness of man.

The law says that if there has been abandoned and now is the property of the state. The law is contained in the state legislative assembly.

Other Firms Affected Although the law affects banks, bookers, business trusts, partnerships or any association for business purposes of two or more individuals, savings and loan associations, building and loan associations, credit unions, cooperative banks, industrial loan organizations and investment companies.

Funds Are Payable The law also affects life insurance companies and utility companies. Unclaimed funds held by the insurance companies that are abandoned are payable to the state, as are abandoned deposits and refunds held by the utility companies.

There are other funds that can revert to the state under the new law, but the above covers most examples. Although this law is new to Idaho, it has been in effect in many states for decades.

Money collected—17-0 m. result of detective work, they managed to contact some depositors and inform them of the forgotten accounts.

sources goes into the general fund of the state.

In banks, most of the abandoned money falls into six categories—money left in checking and savings accounts, time certificates and certified checks and bank money orders that never have been cashed.

One might ask why someone wouldn't cash a check. One bank officer says that it is sometimes cheaper not to cash a check, rather than risk placement in a high-risk bracket.

Checks Also Included So these checks rest in banks for years and never are cashed. The money is there, but it never will be used. If the owner can't be found and if it has been there more than 15 years, it too, reverts to the state.

For the most part, bankers are glad to get rid of the money. It causes needless bookkeeping work and serves them in little purpose.

Out of the six major categories, the vast majority of the money is in checking and savings accounts. The amount varies from a few cents to the one account that totaled $2,658, which was a savings account that had grown over an interest in past years.

Most of the banks had many more inactive accounts than they will turn over to the state. As a result of detective work, they

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

The members of the JEROME First Christian church are planning a unique Christmas program. The story of the birth of Christ will be told to the children of the church who have been used, either in the scenes or in the group sing choruses, tonight. They will all be sitting with their parents during the service which will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the church. Several hundred man-hours, by 115 people, were required to prepare this program. Max Ambrose has taken colored narration and music has been taped over the last month.

LaVere Gosch, director, said the biggest problem was gathering the right people in right places. The music was taped in several sections, then re-taped in the order wanted. The choir of the singer and the shepherd were taken at the farm of Lee Bartholomew. The innkeeper scene was filmed behind the junior high school building and the shepherds were filmed at the church.

Of the 20 scenes, 23 were made in Jerome. The other three include an actual picture of Bethlehem and two distant scenes in the background.

The cast includes Jerry Keck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Keck, as baby prophesying the birth of Christ; Gary Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bush, as Mary; Oba Newlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Newlin, plays the part of Joseph; Robert O'Neil, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary O'Neil, takes the part of the Christ child.

Bob Atwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Atwood, inn keeper, and Terry McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Newlin, shepherd boy.

The shepherds are depicted by Jay Hartwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hartwell; Gary Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Harris; Curtis Halnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMillan; and Ernie Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Hancock.

The angels are played by Mrs. Daryl Keck, The wise men are Vic Halnes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. "No Hass"; Bob Keck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Keck; and Vernon McMillan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McMillan. Gary Snell is the voice of the wise man on the tape recording.

Special music is provided by the women's and men's trios including Mrs. Nancy Taylor, Mrs. Donald Lancaster and Mrs. LaVere Gosch; The Rev. Donald

"Bible Reading Values"

BY REV. ECHIL HERR, Pastor, Church of the Brethren

During this season of the year, Bible reading is encouraged in many of our churches. One of our most widely accepted interpretations of the Bible is that it is a book to be read, not a book to be studied. The regular reading of the scriptures has been in all ages a source of personal dynamism to those who practice it. The Rev. Herr might trouble with the practice of Bible reading, but he would not trouble with the practice of Bible reading. He would not trouble with the practice of Bible reading, but he would not trouble with the practice of Bible reading.

Christmas Event Held by Grange

KING HILL, Dec. 16.—Annual Christmas gift exchange party was held by members of the King Hill Grange this week with Mrs. C. E. Spence and Mrs. C. E. Hall in charge of arrangements.

Singing was led by Frank Jones, accompanied by Mrs. R. J. Barnes. Kim Rose sang two solos and members told highlights of the first Christmas they remember.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Clifford Callison, Mrs. Frank Jones and Mrs. Melvin Helwich who also was in charge of decorations.

Mrs. Kenneth Rose and sons were guests.

Lodge Elects

FILED, Dec. 16.—Edward Brown was elected worshipful master of the Masonic lodge this week.

Dale Williams was chosen sector warden; Elwood McCausley, junior warden; Merle Allison, treasurer; and one Miller, secretary. The other officers will be appointed.

All elected and appointed officers will be installed at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Masonic temple.

SON ENLISTS

MURTAUGH, Dec. 16.—Donald T. Kell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Kell, recently enlisted in the air force, according to Sgt. H. O. (Bud) Person, air force recruiter in Twin Falls. He was graduated from Murtaugh high school last spring and enlists in the air force mechanical career field. He will undergo eight weeks of basic military training before being posted into one of the air force operational units.

Wendell Legion Post Sees Film

WENDELL, Dec. 16.—"The Atomic Explosion at Hiroshima" was the title of a film shown by Wes Trounson, Legion commander, at the Wednesday meeting of the American Legion post No. 41 held at the Legion hall.

With a quota of 93 as a goal, members began their membership drive which is to be completed by Dec. 31.

Refreshments were served by Ed O'Connell, James Higgenbotham and William Higgenbotham.

Burley Exchange Club Sets Ballot

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Exchange club members nominated new officers at Wednesday meeting Thursday at Nelson's cafe. Officers will be elected next week.

Nominations were: Eugene Holzinger, Glen Bailey and Diane Jensen, vice preside; and Richard Garvin, secretary.

Nominated to be on the executive board were: Glen Bailey, Grace Filmer, Diane Jensen, Frank McCallin, Lyle Morton, Steve Otley and George Toner.

Five will be elected, three for six-month terms and two for one-year terms.

Officers will be installed at the Christmas party Dec. 27 at the American Legion hall. A cocktail hour from 7 to 8 p. m. will precede the dinner and there will be dancing later.

Guest speaker at the club was Fred Linton, Boy Scout executive who spoke to Exchange club members about receiving the Boy Scout charter in February.

State Students Sing to Grange

The students are under the direction of music instructor, Mrs. Detroit Chesley, who was introduced by departments of the blind program, John Best.

Next spoke to the Grange on the Idaho state school for the blind and blind. He explained the Braille system of reading and writing and William Carron presented writing with the Braille writer and with the stylus. Bob Carron demonstrated reading Braille.

Announcement was made of annual meeting of the Grange Credit union at the Wendell Grange hall Jan. 8.

Grange voted to have a Christmas party on the regular meeting night of Dec. 29 and will have a gift exchange. There will be no business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bumgarner, Mrs. Vella Quigley, Kenneth Carter, A. P. Smith and Roy Boyer served refreshments.

3 Youths Face Burglary Count

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Three Cassia county young men have been bound over to district court and one youth has been placed in custody of his parents on charge of first degree burglary resulting from the theft of about $200 worth of merchandise from the Grandview market on east 16th street.

Robert Egan, 19, and Ronald Dwyer and Clinton Hill, each 18, waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the district court by Judge Verna Carter. Bonds of $1,000 each were posted. Glenn Plunk, Jr., was released to the custody of his parents.

The stealing away of the divinely given wisdom of the scriptures in one's soul, as one reads, by reading retains much of the truth, in the sub-conscious helps adjust one's perspective of life, elevating the soul of the reader to a higher dimension. The digesting of the divine message through diligent reading of the scriptures removes the panic that often accompanies the fragility of life, and makes present burdens less devastating.

Life-as-made-larger-and-more-calm, as a wind that creates a tempest on a small lake, can hardly, if at all, effect a vast ocean, so the winds of life's changing circumstances are infirmities on a soul, made large by knowledge of the divine through the word. Reading of "The Word" assists in orienting man to God's Word.

A half hour each day, without fail, even with the slowest of readers, will result in consuming three or four average chapters per day, and no doubt the whole Bible in a year. The results will be an increase of spiritual and emotional dynamic in the inner spirit of one who is diligent.

To paraphrase a line on prayer one could say, "More things are wrought by daily reading than this world dreams of."

Louisiana Cotton Festival Event Has Flavor of Medieval Jousting Tournery

VILLE PLATTE, La., Dec. 16.—On a field such as this, in another time and place, the knight in Christian might have fought for their honor or the hand of a lovely princess.

The Louisiana Cotton Festival, this was not a medieval tournament where brave men on horseback fought and slayed their kings and queens or set a grudge.

This was "Le Tournoi de la Ville Platte" and far removed from the ancient battlegrounds of France, though it would be difficult to believe if you had an ear cocked for the gentle French accent that floated on the bayou breeze.

The brave men still ride and the muscular horses—if not brave—also swift.

They meet once a year in a horse show stadium to compete for the tournament, the golden links dangling from inverted L-shaped poles that compete for the tournament.

The small check and a kiss from a Cajun beauty in Ville Platte, as they have for 11 years, from all corners of Louisiana's Evangeline country. The game comes from such hamlets as Te Manou, Bayou Cholet, The Cove and Ansepoint, and 20 such riders well-designed to discourse plotting.

Each rider starts with 420 points. For each of the rings he spears with his five-foot lance, five points are deducted from his score. For each of the rings he spears to negotiate the course, one point is added to his score. The rider with the lowest score after the three passes is the champion.

The tournoi is something of a Mardi Gras for Ville Platte, which means "best city."

For 1000 inhabitants and visitors from all parts of the state lined Main street this year for the 21-foot parade, the parade and turnout tap the annual cotton festival each year.

Wendell Legion Post Sees Film

WENDELL, Dec. 16.—"The Atomic Explosion at Hiroshima" was the title of a film shown by Wes Trounson, Legion commander, at the Wednesday meeting of the American Legion post No. 41 held at the Legion hall.

With a quota of 93 as a goal, members began their membership drive which is to be completed by Dec. 31.

Refreshments were served by Ed O'Connell, James Higgenbotham and William Higgenbotham.

Burley Exchange Club Sets Ballot

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Exchange club members nominated new officers at Wednesday meeting Thursday at Nelson's cafe. Officers will be elected next week.

Nominations were: Eugene Holzinger, Glen Bailey and Diane Jensen, vice preside; and Richard Garvin, secretary.

Nominated to be on the executive board were: Glen Bailey, Grace Filmer, Diane Jensen, Frank McCallin, Lyle Morton, Steve Otley and George Toner.

Five will be elected, three for six-month terms and two for one-year terms.

Officers will be installed at the Christmas party Dec. 27 at the American Legion hall. A cocktail hour from 7 to 8 p. m. will precede the dinner and there will be dancing later.

Guest speaker at the club was Fred Linton, Boy Scout executive who spoke to Exchange club members about receiving the Boy Scout charter in February.

State Students Sing to Grange

The students are under the direction of music instructor, Mrs. Detroit Chesley, who was introduced by departments of the blind program, John Best.

Next spoke to the Grange on the Idaho state school for the blind and blind. He explained the Braille system of reading and writing and William Carron presented writing with the Braille writer and with the stylus. Bob Carron demonstrated reading Braille.

Announcement was made of annual meeting of the Grange Credit union at the Wendell Grange hall Jan. 8.

Grange voted to have a Christmas party on the regular meeting night of Dec. 29 and will have a gift exchange. There will be no business meeting.

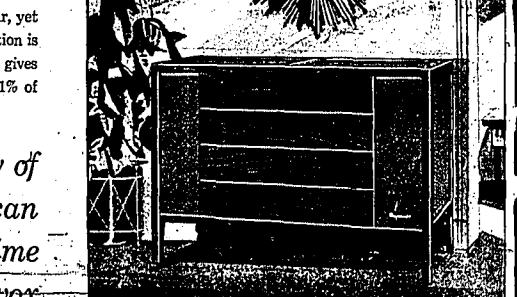

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bumgarner, Mrs. Vella Quigley, Kenneth Carter, A. P. Smith and Roy Boyer served refreshments.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Years of Training, Work Pay Off for Karen Lavens, 'Miss Rodeo America'

JEROME, Dec. 16—When Karen Lavens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lavens, was crowned "Miss Rodeo America" in 1957 in Las Vegas she was the most startled person there. By the time she was named the winner she already had collected other trophies for personality and appearance.

During the history of the seven-year-old contest the winner never has won a trophy other than the one presented to the winner.

"After I won the trophy for personality, I thought I would never make it," she says.

She had ridden her horse back to its place in the ring and was waiting it about when the announcer named the winner of the appearance trophy. Flabbergasted, she again rode up and collected her other award.

After winning the second trophy she was positive she would never win the contest.

"I was just sitting there, trying to hold the two trophies, and guessing who would win it when they called my name again and said I had won. All I could do was cry."

She says one of the things that made her cry was that Marie Max Flecken, Colorado, last year's "Miss Rodeo America" made such a perfect queen that she didn't want to lose it to another girl. But the title changed each year and this year the Judges chose the tall (five feet 10 inches) blond girl with the big smile from Jerome to represent the rodeo business throughout the United States.

"As 'Miss Rodeo Idaho for 1957' she traveled extensively representing the state, but now she will travel for the next year in practically every state. One of her basic jobs is to look the part of a queen on horseback, a difficult job for a girl of 19 years, but one for which she has trained and disciplined herself since she was 15 years old when she entered her first rodeo contest at the Jerome county fair and rodeo.

For the next year that first year, the second year, but she did win when she was 17 years old. Winner of the 1956 contest, she is now 19 and a sophomore in business administration at Idaho State college.

She was runner-up in the first contest in Jerome. Her major title was queen of the International Arabian Horse show at Sun Valley in 1956. In 1955 she was named queen of the Jerome Posse and in the Snake River Stampede, where she had many other titles.

In 1961 she again was named queen of the Jerome county fair and rodeo. Other titles she held this year are Idaho state college and Idaho rodeo queen. Miss Lavens notes she hasn't traveled too widely and is looking forward to the coming year. Most of the early months in 1962 will be spent in the southern and southwestern states, where warm weather permits outdoor rodeos. Later, most of her appearances will be in the Intermountain area. She will travel by automobile since she estimates she will average nearly three appearances a week during her reign.

"It will be strenuous, but I'm looking forward to it," she says and adds, "I still don't believe it."

The fact that she is 'Miss Rodeo America' might seem unbelievable to her, but there are few girls in the country who work harder to prepare themselves for the title.

She started competing in horse shows when she was 12 years old when she competed in western pleasure and horsemanship classes. She then competed in pleasure and rodeo and rodeo and horse show winners. And, it is as lucky as last year's queen, she may never choose a ship.

It will be an exhausting schedule, but she is looking forward to it. Her mother will travel with her at all times and help her with her appointments and her extensive wardrobe (which includes such lavish items as a $600 western riding suit).

Grange Fete Set Dec. 27 At Hollister

HOLLISTER, Dec. 16—The Christmas party which will be held Dec. 27 will include a fete given by the children.

Committees include Mrs. David Chadwick, Mrs. Homer Bowers, Mrs. Dale Kunkel, Mrs. Mary Schaefer, Mrs. M. J. Galloway, Mrs. Heber Quisenberry, Mrs. Glenn Nelson, Mrs. Ralph Roberts, Mrs. Mark Steen, Mrs. J. L. Lanning, Mrs. L. J. Dawson, Mrs. L. J. Dawson and Mrs. A. S. White, kitchen.

Grange Loughmiller announced that there would be a water meeting at the Krumholz Grange hall at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Plans include the usual water table decorations, and the Salmon train.

The program under the direction of Mrs. A. S. White, secretary, will be in the Intermountain area. She will travel by automobile since she estimates she will average nearly three appearances a week during her reign.

"It will be strenuous, but I'm looking forward to it," she says and adds, "I still don't believe it."

also learn from the foreign students.

Since "Olig" has lived with them, she says, she has learned much about the customs of people in the countries where "Olig" has lived.

"Olig" even after her confusing introduction to Idaho, she has entered into the school activities as if she had lived here all her life. She is a member of the Milaco Pep club, the dance team, an honorary member of PFA, a representative on the student council and secretary of the Debates club.

She is fond of swimming and all sports.

"And dancing I love," she says, "but they do a strange thing here. They cut in while you are dancing, and I don't like that. Why—in France, if a boy would do that they would throw him out of the dance."

She is fond of dancing here.

"I just love it here with the Ortons. They are so wonderful and they treat me just like the rest of the family. I have my work to do, and working around the other girls. And just around the house is a new experience for me, because I've always had servants to do this for me, and my bed to wash dishes or make my bed."

Although she isn't used to housework, Janis says "Olig" is an excellent cook and prepares delicious meals. Shortly after she got here she started concocting a salad.

She noticed that mushrooms grew in the Orton's front yard. She immediately picked the mushrooms and prepared to use them in a salad.

About this time Berkeley, the four-year-old Orton boy, discovered the mushrooms on the kitchen table and learned what "Olig" planned to do with them. He was horrified, for he suspected "Olig" didn't know the difference between a mushroom and a poisonous toadstool.

White "Olig" wasn't looking to accept them off the table and threw them away.

She speaks English rather well but does stumble sometimes. The first time she helped with supper she said she would make the salad if they would get her some cabbage (cabbage) and oil.

She will attend the entire school year here at Milaco and then go to the United States. When she returns to Europe she will attend college.

ENGLISH SEMINAR in the humanities and composition is conducted at Minico high school by Henry Larom, right. Another class is taught by A. Vance. Below: A new experiment in high school classes, the course was offered this fall for the first time. There are 28 students in the two classes and they must meet rigorous scholastic requirements before they are enrolled. They study writers from Plato to Hemingway. (Staff photo-encraving)

Senior Class Seminar Being Held as Experiment at Minico High School

RUPERT, Dec. 16—An interesting experiment in high school education is going on at Minico high school. The class, called senior seminar and involving 28 seniors, is an experiment in the humanities and composition at the high school level. It is taught by Henry Larom and A. Vance Beck.

The students are selected by interview, previous grades and teacher recommendation.

Divided into two groups of 14 students each, the classes are conducted along separate lines, reading, free discussion, and there is considerable work in writing composition.

According to Larom, the work so far has consisted of a detailed study of Oedipus Rex, a long examination into all of Plato, a short story unit ranging from Chaucer to Hemingway, and the study of poetry commencing with the ballad.

Work within the two sections varies, but writers such as Shakespeare, Donne, O'Neill, Faulkner, Cheever, Herriot and Lagerkvist have been studied.

Writing assignments include short papers, short stories, ballads, sonnets, and oral reports.

Larom explains that the course aims to teach each student the rudiments of good prose technique, to acquaint him with the course of world literature, to learn the forms of written art, to examine the nature and content of international theater and to stimulate independent study in various literary fields.

"It adds, 'Above all, the course deals with the great ideas of civilization and with the peculiar disciplines necessary for understanding those forms in which the ideas are rendered.'

Further study will include attendance at a number of plays to be presented at neighboring colleges, a long look at the novel form and a careful study of exploratory writing.

The class group projects include reading publications of interest, the publication of a magazine and a series of lectures by visiting professors.

Larom has attended the U. S. Naval Academy and Hamilton College and received his M.A. degree from the University of Montana. Beckwith attended both the University of Oregon, and Oregon State university. He did graduate work at the University of California and earned his M.A. degree at Claremont graduate school.

Plans were made to hold a Christmas party Dec. 25. Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Shiras and Mrs. A. D. Grauden, won game prizes.

Low calorie refreshments were served. Next Tuesday's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Letzke, 7414 E.

Heads-Drive
WENDELL, Dec. 16—Wes Drounson, Wendell will direct the 1962 March of Dimes campaign in Gooding and Camas counties. It is announced by Jane Petersen, chairman of the local chapter of the National foundation.

Other county campaign appointments will be announced soon by the new director. The director is Gooding county assessor.

HOME ON LEAVE
JEROME, Dec. 16—Lella E. Lannom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lannom, Jerome, is spending a 14-day leave with his parents here. He completed nine weeks of recruit training at the naval training center in San Diego and will report to the naval air station at Moffett field, Calif. for further training upon completion of his leave.

Blaine Area Seniors Take Career Tests

HAILLEY, Dec. 16—Senior students from the three high schools of class "A" school district No. 61 at Hailley, Bellevue and Carey, took aptitude tests Thursday to help them determine their trade and craft potentials.

The tests were administered by Hugh Nelson for the employment security agency. Students who are striving for scholarships or planning to go out of state to college are required to qualify for successful scores on the college entrance examination board tests.

These rigorous examinations designed to predict college success, are given at various testing centers throughout the United States on the students own time and at their expense.

The group from Blaine county hoping to qualify on the examinations in English, mathematics and science comprises the largest number of aspirants ever to take these tests from this area.

Traveling to the Twin Falls testing area either on the December or January date will be Margaret Fryah and Duane Murdoch, both Carey, and Rodney McClure, Bellevue. Hailley students taking the C.E.E.B. will be Williams Evans, Robert Jawka, Thomas Minton, Mike Currell, Rodney Reese, Ralph Lanning, Herbert Westcott, Ralph Rutter, Diana Stewart, Lee Rice, Kathy Jepsen, Thelma Scarborough, Thomas Campbell and Dale-Gilkey.

Scheduled to take the Boise Junior college and Ritck college American college, testing examination this spring are George Shiras, Hailley, and Millard Meyers, Karen Olsen, Walter Beck and Onie Roberts, from Carey.

Believe students who have signed for the ACT are Curtis Parker, Arty Lance, Bruce Martin, Roberta McKecher and Cheryl Pascoe.

Death Takes Ex-Resident Of Buhl Area

SHOSHONE, Dec. 16—Mrs. Pete Lewin, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lewin, Mrs. Iris Scott, all Shoshone, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Derrum, Bliss, were called to Vale, Ore., recently by the death of Clarence Elmer (Curly) Lewin, 68, former Rochester and Buhl resident.

Mr. Lewin was born Jan. 23, 1862 at Sea City, Ia., and married Hazel Buckley May 20, 1915, at De Moines, Ia. The next year they moved to Idaho, where they made their home for 32 years. He moved to Vale in 1948.

About six months ago, Mr. Lewin retired as a Union Pacific railroad station master, a post he had held for 32 years.

Coming from a family of railroad workers, in one time 11 male members of the Lewin family were employed by the railroad. He was succeeded as station master by his son, Jack, and his other sons are in the same employment elsewhere. Mr. Lewin was employed at every main line between Oranger, Wyo., and Huntington, Ore., except two.

He was active in community affairs and was generous with his musical talent. He served two terms as mayor of Vale, was active in the Kiwanis club—Vale Chamber of Commerce and was

Jerome Lists Dairy Herds Milk Record

JEROME, Dec. 16—Of the 58 herds on test in the Gooding-Lincoln-Jerome Dairy field improvement association testing unit No. 2, 29 herds averaged more than 20 pounds of butterfat for November, according to Ben Busaki, tester for the unit. The top herds included Ralph Martin, Hunt, with 10 registered Holsteins, which averaged 1,490 pounds of milk and 44.9 pounds of butterfat. Eabeo Myler, Hunt, with 15 grade Holsteins, averaged 1,278 pounds of milk and 48.9 pounds of butterfat. Reed Taylor and sons, Wendell, with 43 registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 1,175 pounds of milk and 42.7 pounds of butterfat.

Lyle P. Anderson, Jerome, with 23 registered Holsteins, averaged 208 pounds of milk and 40.7 pounds of butterfat, with three times milking daily. Dr. W. C. Sipple, Jerome, with 30 registered and grade Holsteins, averaged 1,123 pounds of milk and 40 pounds of butterfat.

Jack Nelson, Jerome, with 31 grade Holsteins, averaged 1,029 pounds of milk and 39.3 pounds of butterfat. Horace Meservy, Dietrich, with eight registered Holsteins, averaged 923 pounds of milk and 38.3 pounds of butterfat. Hugh Holstein, Jerome, with 48 grade Holsteins, averaged 971 pounds of milk and 36.9 pounds of butterfat.

"SADIE" GIVES A KISS to master, E. R. Harding. Harding has some revolutionary ideas concerning the little animal—"Sadie" is a guinea pig. He regards them as the best possible indoor pets. And to prove this, he took them on a 3,000-mile road tour with him last summer. (Staff photo—re-arranged.)

Guinea Pigs Are Enthralling Pets for Man Who Prefers Them to Dogs, Cats

There are those who would disagree with E. R. Harding about the relative merits of guinea pigs and cats as indoor pets. But few cat lovers, a sizeable and articulate group, could have the affection for their pets that Harding has for his.

To Harding, there are few animals in this world that possess the nobility and offer the affection that his guinea pigs do and anyone who watches them in action could believe this.

Harding and his little pets have a rapport usually found only between a man and a higher form of animal. Harding whistles and they run to him. He places them on their backs and tells them to stay there, and they stay there. And he keeps them away from their box too long and they tug at his shirt, trying to convince him they should be placed back in bed.

He will place one on the floor and it will run up his leg, across his chest and sit with its nose by his chin making queer little guinea pig noises all the time. Harding says his "Sadies" understand them, but the outlook still has the feeling he is being left out of an unusual conversation.

Harding lives in a house trailer. He is somewhat cramped for room, but the little animals take up little space in their wire cages. He believes they are better than cats or dogs, especially when the owner is limited for room. "And they are dainties," he says. "They don't shed."

Harding's affection for the little animals was illustrated last summer, when he and Mrs. Harding took a 3,000-mile trip throughout the Northwest. They rode in a pickup truck, equipped with a camper. Everywhere they went, the guinea pigs went. "They were perfect pets all the time," he says. And he adds that whenever they pulled into a public camping spot they were always surrounded by a group of young children, curious to see the little animals.

But even though he believes they are superior pets to dogs or cats, he admits they do have one fault—dogs and cats can eat guinea pigs, and do so many guinea pig owners give a chance. "Keep them in a strong cage," he advises.

BEAR RANKS HIGH as big game trophy animal in Idaho, especially with non-residents who come to safe primarily to hunt buffalo. John Goldwater, Redwood City, Calif., shows trophy bear and big buck bagged on the south fork of the Salmon river. Grizzly bears are protected in Idaho. (Staff re-arranged.)

Black Bear Ranks High Among Idaho Trophies; Many Hunters Seek Bruins

By JIM HUMPHREY
Idaho Fish and Game Department

About one-fifth as many black bears as elk are bagged in Idaho every year, and something like one-twentieth as many bruins as deer. Thus the value of this shaggy-coated animal, its ursus americanus, as a game animal ranks high. The figures for 1950 were 3,200 bear killed, 10,500 elk and 49,000 deer.

In Idaho the general consensus seems to be that bears are killed more or less incidentally with other big game animals. But the record shows otherwise, not only with respect to comparative harvest figures, but also to letters from hunters in other states wanting to come primarily to hunt the bear that walks like a man. Though odds are decidedly in favor of the bear, many sportsmen wintry gunner the energy and money year after year in the hope of bagging one of the cascading bruins that appeal to the imagination and sense of adventure.

Much the same interest is shown by hundreds of hunters in the far northern end of the state where a bear hunting season was established by the Idaho legislature in 1926. The hunting area today encompasses the four northern counties and the rest of the state is open to year-round bear shooting, with the exception of certain game preserves.

Several hundred black bears are harvested during the season in the panhandle. Because it appears to be threatened with extinction in the United States, except possibly Alaska, and at most only a few dozen still live in Idaho, the grizzly bear is protected at all times. The smaller black bear, with color patches of blond, brown and cinnamon, is prized not only for the sport it provides, but also for its hide and meat—in that order.

Because bear hunting often is exciting, it is not dangerous, the veteran hunter bears all the cost about brunt's habits, his choice of foods, type of country preferred and peculiarities of character.

Although the shuffling gait of bears in captivity often appears slow and clumsy, these animals are lightning-swift with their powerful forepaws and can outpace big game in a short sprint. Like man and other bipeds, bears are plantigrade, placing their feet solidly on the ground from toe to heel.

Most animals walk on their toes in much the same way as ballerinas dance. Which means that black joint halfway up the hind leg of a coyote or bull elk—commonly though mistakenly regarded as the equivalent of the human knee—really is the ankle. In bears and other bipeds, bears are plantigrade, placing their feet solidly on the ground from toe to heel.

Both "cold-blooded" (poikilothermic) and "warm-blooded" (homeothermic) animals feel the inherent need to hibernate. Cold-blooded creatures—snakes, frogs and insects—do not possess the proper physical mechanism to maintain a constant body temperature during extreme fluctuations between hot and cold. Hence they must spend cold months where they will not be frozen. During the early fall, they creep into holes, crevices and mud where they remain in a sluggish condition until reactivated by the warmth of spring. When hibernating, the body temperature of these normal warm-blooded sleepers is much lower than during the months of active living in summer and fall. Often their body heat is near the temperature of outside surroundings.

Ernest Thompson Seton, famous student of nature, regarded it as absurd "for any man to think he can escape from a bear by simply running." It was the only animal feared by explorers Lewis and Clark, who recorded that "for 50 or 100 yards a grizzly could go faster than a horse."

Contrary to popular opinion, bears enter into a state of semi-hibernation only when driven by severe cold or storm and disappear when milder weather prevails. For example, last winter in the rugged north fork country near Kellogg a bear was reported wandering about in the middle of January—an "unbelievable event" attributed to unseasonably mild weather "that apparently had some of the wildlife fooled into thinking spring was just around the corner."

No one is absolutely sure why some animals hibernate while others do not, and there is a mixed opinion as to the factors that induce hibernation in some species. Although cold is a contributing factor to hibernation, it is generally not the sole factor, for some animals disappear while about 25 years. Storing up fat is an instinctive preparation for winter among bears, and their choice of food appears to be limited to the sustenance at hand. In spring bears may chew or claw bark from trees, or gnaw them to get the jelly sapwood. They browse, graze and dig tubers, roots, wood, cheese, mice and chipmunks and they tear apart rotten stumps and logs in search of plants and other insects. When berries, fruits and nuts become available, they gorge on these. They also fish, and raid beehives for honey, garbage cans for scraps and grub boxes for bacon and other camp food. Conservation officers often live-trap bears causing damage and remove them to distant vendues.

Idaho fish and game department workers use a powerful new sedative, succinylcholine (succinylcholine chloride) on troublesome bears and other animals too big to handle. The drug completely immobilizes them into a deep sleep for enough time to allow tagging and other necessary handling. The drug is placed in a hypodermic syringe and fired at close range as a dart from a specially constructed "cap" gun.

Department personnel from Director Ross Leonard to all conservation officers over the state, urge more hunters to go after Idaho's famous, though neglected, black bear, adding that this resource could provide much more sport than it does. They conclude that it's much better for hunters to bag them than for people to kill them around garbage cans.

REMODELED ROOM of Twin Falls Public Library used for periodicals and audio-visual needs. All remodeling was done by Arthur DeVolder, librarian, working at the desk, and his building custodian, Raymond Kennedy. The room houses old magazines, films and records. (Staff photo-engraving)

Rural Group Organized in Cassia Areas

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Representatives from farm organizations, civic groups, and other community leaders voted this week to form a rural area development organization in Cassia county at a meeting in the Cassia county courthouse.

Represented were—Graceland Chamber of Commerce, Lions club, advisory council, forest service, employment office, Extension service, Exam Bureau, soil conservation and other interested persons.

The program was started in 1954 in 22 counties of the United States as pilot projects. It was set up on a five-year plan to improve economic well being of the people, expand employment opportunities, improve educational and social services and to develop community resources, it was noted.

The group listed the resources of this community and some of the industries that might come into the area in which the part-time farmer could find employment. The list included factory to use the sugar produced in this area, processing plants for cattle, swine and sheep, canneries, wool processing plants, clothing manufacturing, feed processing, crop development in the low income areas, a good trade school, recreational developments and mining.

Those agencies which can help are local committees and governmental agencies including farm, home administration, soil conservation service, forest service, agricultural stabilization and conservation, extension service, advisory council and REA, etc.

It was pointed out that there would be many advantages in the appointment of such a committee as well as some disadvantages. Some of the advantages pointed out are stimulation of ideas, coordination of all government agencies, better understanding between rural and urban people, more exploration of possibilities and better use of resources.

It was pointed out that there were some disadvantages to RAD in that it took time and would be hard to keep active. There may not be a need for this est-

Periodical and Audio-Visual Room Is Ready for Opening at Public Library

The newest room in the Twin Falls city library is the periodical and audio-visual room, located in the basement.

For the past few months, Arthur DeVolder, librarian, and Raymond Kennedy, custodian, have worked on the room, remodeling it and preparing it for the periodicals, records, and film library.

The work now has been completed and the room will be open to the public soon to 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. and to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and noon to 1 p.m. and 4 to 6 p.m. Fridays.

One of the major reasons for the remodeling was to provide space for the new film library. The film was donated to the library by G. A. (Opa) Keiker. In past months the film has been enlarged and readied for rental.

The subject matter of the films vary. There are cartoons, travelogue, national films, sports film and films that deal with music. DeVolder points out that they are of use to schools and clubs.

He has nearly 100 16 mm film and an equal amount of 8 mm films. The library doesn't have a projector to rent.

DeVolder points out that the films are on a rental basis because of the high cost of cleaning them and keeping them in good viewing condition.

The films are rented by the day, 25 cents for 8mm and 75 cents for 16mm.

DeVolder has built shelving for storing the film canisters, using materials he salvaged from obsolete book shelves.

The library's record collection of 300 popular, classical, opera and jazz records has been moved from the first floor to the new room.

All the periodicals are stored there, except for the current issues, which still are available on the first floor. The back issues of the magazines are available for research. There is a room for 25 persons to work at tables in the room.

Magazines stored there range from issues that are two years old to 1947 issues of "Orahama Magazine". The library has complete collections of many major magazines. Some of the collections cover a considerable period, such as the collection of "Century Magazine," with issues from 1887 to 1920.

"The library subscribes to 110 magazines that it keeps on hand for reference purposes. It actually subscribes to 170 magazines, but many aren't filed because they aren't indexed in the "Reader's Guide."

City Official for Wendell Resigns

WENDELL, Dec. 16.—Mrs. Lillian Comstock, who has served as city clerk, bookkeeper and librarian for more than 10 years, has resigned from her duties and will be semi-retired.

Mrs. Wendolyn Collett was sworn in as clerk and bookkeeper at the meeting of the city council this week. Duties of the librarian will be continued by Mrs. Comstock for the present time.

Mayor Carl Gelsler presented Mrs. Comstock a wrist watch in recognition of her long and faithful service.

Mrs. Comstock took over her duties as clerk, bookkeeper and librarian in August, 1945.

Dinner Held

BURLEY, Dec. 16.—Burley Soroptimist members held their annual Christmas dinner party and gift exchange at the Village Kitchen Wednesday evening.

Guests were Elm Mae Oberholzer, Mrs. George H. Scholer, Mrs. Tom Reynolds, Mrs. Olive Hogarty and Mrs. Dean Hartwell. Their next regular meeting is Dec. 27.

CHALLENGE sweet cream BUTTER... the extra-good in Holiday Baking

Challenge butter means the "extra good" in holiday baking. Nothing can make these Christmas cookies so flavorful... so delicious as the richness and fresh-from-the-farm flavor of Challenge Sweet Cream Butter. Use Challenge Butter for flakier, more delicate pie crusts... and basting your holiday turkey with Challenge Butter will give it a golden brown color and especially delicious flavor.

CHRISTMAS SUGAR FANCIES

3 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup Challenge Butter
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cream the shortening and sugar until light; beat in eggs and vanilla. Work flour into creamed mixture. Wrap dough in aluminum foil or saran and chill until firm. Roll dough on a floured board, a bit of a time, about 1/8" thick. Cut into desired shapes and bake in a hot oven, 400° F., for 5-8 minutes or until firm and golden at the edges. Cool slightly before removing to a wire rack. Makes about 6 dozen cookies. Decorate as desired.

There's Nothing Like Home to Solon In Congress, but They Don't Go Back

(Continued from Page 1) Illinois, he has spent an actor, and a superb one, all his life. Ashurst's vocabulary was extensive and so racy that he called himself "Five syllable Henry." I could throw 16-syllable words clear across the Grand canyon," Five Syllable Henry said.

As soon as Arizona became a state, in 1912, his admiring voters sent Ashurst to the congress in that state's first term. He served for 29 years, with grace, wit and courage.

After the vote booted him out in 1941, Ashurst spent a couple of years on the board of immigration appeals and then retired. He's still here, almost 80, in a century since he bounded in from Arizona.

This long has been his home; here he has scored his greatest triumphs.

Ashurst took pride in his inconspicuity. On one occasion when he was in the senate, four times, he voted six times, and no notice.

His explanation is a political classic.

"My faults are obvious, but my virtues have been superseded to these views of mine the whetting, embalmment of conscience came. In the public service is headcut and attacked by the vice of consistency when a man has no free to act as various questions come before him from time to time. He will be a statesman looked in a person whose keys to which are in the keeping of days and events that are dead. Never have I let what I said yesterday blind me today. No senator can change his mind quicker than I."

For the other senatorial role in "Advice and Consent," Guy M. Gillette, Cherokee, Jan. 1, was chosen.

Comparative youngster of 32, Gillette is the son of a prominent family, but in an informal poll 20 years ago he was picked as the capital's best-dressed man.

A Democrat in normally Republican town, Gillette was elected to the house in 1932, the senate in 1936, was beaten in 1944, named chairman of the surplus property board by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, elected again to the senate in 1946, defeated again in 1954.

Shortly before the movie-makers hired him, he was named for a judiciary subcommittee in the senate.

Another oldtimer is Tom Connolly of Texas who, in 1922, at the age of 74 and after 24 years as a senator, decided not to run again.

But he didn't run back to Texas. No, he stayed in retirement, a reminder of a time when the senate was a livelier place, thanks to the old-timers' mean tongue of Tom Connolly.

In his best Texas snarl, old Tom once rasped out at a colleague: "The senator should approach these matters with an open mind instead of an open mouth."

So the oldtimers stay on, but why?

Former Democratic representative from Alabama, Carter M. Overman, 89, asked: "Did you ever notice how old army officers tend to retire where other old army officers already are?"

Old lawmakers, like old army officers, may have lost their home life. Their friends, who helped them into office years ago, are dead or dying, and a pack of newcomers, with little use for a tired-old man, is now in full charge.

Or the politicians' wives may like the social life here better. Once a political plum, or at least a political grape, is available.

Knowing one's way about congress, and about congressmen, has little economic value in itself, Ala. where Mansau comes from. But it does here, and business willing to pay for it. Mansau works for the National Coal association.

Andrew J. Schuller, 55, one representative from Wisconsin, lobbies for the AFL-CIO. Frank Kard has just resigned as a representative from Texas to become executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute.

As senate Democratic leader, Scott Lucas of Illinois had a lot of business with lobbyists. He now works the other side of the street.

Lucas has put himself down as attempting to influence legislation in the American Finance conference, the Mobile Home Manufacturing association, the National Association of Chain Drug Stores, the Outdoor Advertising association, the Roadside Business association and the National Mental corporation.

Three former attorney generals have lingered on in Washington as Justice Department leaders.

J. Howard McGrath, 57, James Patrick McOrnery, 68, and William P. Rogers.

One local law firm, Arnold, Porter and Fortna, looks like a rerun of an old new deal firm. Its partners are the former U.S. district judge; Homer Ferguson, senator from Michigan, judge on court of military appeals; Paul J. Kilday, recently resigned as representative from Texas, also on the court of military appeals; J. Allen Fryer of Delaware, who used to startle the senate by answering each roll call with a loud shrill cry, member of the securities and exchange commission; Brooks Hays, former representative from Arkansas, assistant secretary of state for congressional relations.

Recent Successes in Nike-Zeus Test Changing Minds of Doubting Officials

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—For five years the U.S. army has been putting together the Nike-Zeus missile system designed to destroy intercontinental ballistic missiles in flight. The system will work.

The defense department has announced publicly, at least in part, on the grounds there are no more technical and operating problems still unsolved.

There are reports, however, that President Kennedy and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara have decided to accept progress next year for money to begin looking up for Nike-Zeus production in fiscal 1962.

The recent success produced a test launching of a series of test flights. There has been no official announcement of the test results.

Meanwhile, the United States cannot begin to have one in less than five years even if production began tomorrow.

The debate on the merits of the Nike-Zeus system has a long history of controversy. The Soviet Marshall Rodin Y. Malinovsky told the 22nd Communist party congress in Moscow on Oct. 23, "The problem of destroying rockets in flight has been solved."

If Malinovsky meant merely that the Russians have learned to intercept one low speed rocket with another, then there would be nothing worrisome in the statement. The United States has done this repeatedly.

If Malinovsky meant the Russians have developed a workable anti-missile missile and are now ready to begin production, then it was a lie. The truth—the Russians now would have an enormous military advantage.

The defense department has been cautious in publicly assessing the significance of the Malinovsky statement. Defense Secretary McNamara since has said that against our intercontinental missiles themselves, no effective countermeasures have yet been developed.

In all probability, the Nike-Zeus system, which the army says also has an anti-missile capability, is the only anti-missile missile system extant in the non-communist world in anything approaching the ready-to-use stage.

The Nike-Zeus is designed to operate independently of all other warning systems and is a public defense weapon that is its function is to destroy enemy missiles as they approach the target in much the same fashion as interceptors destroy bombers.

The Nike-Zeus reportedly has a vertical range of 10 miles and a horizontal reach of 75 miles.

In all probability, the Nike-Zeus has much greater operating capabilities. In referring to its anti-missile characteristics, the army will say only that it can be used against "vehicle in low orbit."

Japanese Military Academy Officers Taught Humanities

TSURUHAMA, Japan, Dec. 16 (AP)—High on the bluff overlooking the entrance to Tokyo bay is a military academy probably unlike any other in the world.

Spit and polish or the workings of a machine gun aren't important parts of the here. Study the humanities is: 20 to 30 percent of the curriculum.

This is where Japan trains officers for its 240,000-man self-defense force.

The academy represents a commitment between two armies—current to Japanese life—a voluntary change of young Japanese minds from II of anything military and an increasing awareness that Japan eventually might have to defend itself.

In 1950, with communist troops on the march in Korea, just 100 miles from Japanese soil, the government decided a small corps of professional soldiers would have to be trained.

But Japan's constitution prohibits raising mercenary forces so the government hit on this solution: A military academy that soft-pedals military training yet gives Japan's self-defense force a reservoir of officer material.

Picking the man to head such an academy was another ticklish problem. The academy was to stand for an old-line imperial militarist once again, but the change of young Japanese minds from II of anything military and an increasing awareness that the leadership of Dr. Tomoo Mabuchi, a genial little man who writes much and talks about the virtues of democracy.

"My job," he says, "is to make our cadets understand the worth of living in a free nation and what to have freedom and independence we must have security."

And do this and still meet the demands of Japanese public opinion he has fashioned an almost unmitigated success.

His curriculum allocates more classroom time—600 hours a year—to the humanities and social and natural sciences than it does to military subjects—323 hours.

ACCREDITED

SHIOGANE—Dec. 16—Sup-John Severson, who has returned home after attending a North—Accrediting—Association meeting in Seattle, reports the Shoshone school will be given to military subjects—323 hours, to humanities and social sciences—600 hours.

9 Drivers Fined By Area Justice

KING, Dec. 16—Nine drivers were fined by Justice of the Peace Lynn Sherman for violations of the motor-vehicle act.

Fines for over-weight citations were: Alfred R. Babbler, $10; John Warren, Burley, $10; Marion Spencer, Twin Falls, $10; Curtis Stoddard, Boise, $10; Donald Wais, Denver, $10; and Duane W. Freight, Buhl, $10.

Others include Christian W. Martenson and Karen Harrey, Mountain Home, $2 each, expired driver's license—Lonsdale—East R. Miller, Salt Lake City, $2, failure to have driver's license in possession.

New Well Is Planned for Hailey Area

HAILEY, Dec. 15.—A 14-inch well will be drilled by the city of Hailey to furnish additional water to the Indian Creek springs flow during summer months.

Mayor Jack Davies reports Wardell H. Smith, Preston, engineer, has been retained by the city as waterworks engineer for the project. Bids will be let within the next 30 days.

Davies stated that the city council has become concerned that a water shortage may develop here, because the water supply from the Indian Creek springs dropped considerably last fall.

The Idaho health department has condemned the water pumped from the present auxiliary pumping system for drinking purposes, as it is located on low, river-bottom land and is a shallow well. The new pumping system will be located on high land and will be approved by the department of public health.

John Bollinger, city water manager, advised that a new three-fourths horsepower pump has arrived to be installed at the Indian Creek springs to act as a booster pump to deliver water to the E. Dutton ranch from the main city water line.

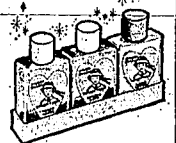

Lloyd E. Smith, Hailey-Shoshone manager of the Idaho Power company, and Earl S. Haroldsen, Twin Falls, district manager, met with the council to discuss the $1,500,000 new power line coming from the Snake river to Hailey and on to Ketchum and Elk Valley.

Smith and Haroldsen will meet with members of the Hailey Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club within the next two weeks to learn the feeling of the residents of Hailey in the matter.

Captain EASY

by BOB FARRER

BLAZES! SHE MUST BE THE SEMINOLE WHO OWNS HALF O' THIS FLORIDA KEY WITH HER BROTHER!

AH-HA! HE MUST BE CHARLEY POSSUM, THE SEMINOLE INDIAN DADDY WANTS ME TO BUY THIS ISLAND FROM!

MR. POSSUM, DADDY TOLD ME YOU WERE A HANDSOME SEMINOLE, BUT—WELL...

Y—YOU ARE CHARLEY POSSUM, THE SEMINOLE INDIAN WHO OWNS THIS FLORIDA KEY, AREN'T YOU?

AFRAID NOT, MESS! AS A MATTER OF FACT, I THOUGHT YOU WERE CHARLEY'S SISTER!

A MIGHTY ATTRACTIVE SISTER, I MIGHT ADD!

THAT'S VERY SWEET OF YOU, BUT—WHO ARE YOU?

CAPTAIN EASY, MA'AM! I'M HERE TO BUY THIS ISLAND FOR M'KEE INDUSTRIES!

AND YOU—?

VAL DUMPHREY! IT SO HAPPENS THAT MY FATHER, HUMPHREY DUMPHREY, HAS SENT ME HERE TO PURCHASE THIS ISLAND!

FOR DUMPHREY, INC.? WHY THEY'RE ONE O' M'KEE'S BITTEREST INDUSTRIAL RIVALS!

MR. CAPTAIN EASY... DAD KNOWS THE PENTAGON IS INTERESTED IN THIS ISLAND AS A SITE FOR A SMALL MISSILE BASE!

EXCUSE ME—I'VE GOT TO FIND CHARLEY POSSUM AND CONCLUDE THE DEAL!

YOU'LL HAVE TO OUTFIND ME TO DO IT! CAPTAIN EASY—LOOK OUT!
