Airport View Is Sought by Board in T. F.

are opposed to a tax to benefit the airport.

"We didn't find anybody who was for it in the outlying districts," Crow said. He added that he and his GOP colleagues contacted "key men" in the county on the tax proposition, but he declined to name any names.

Crow pointed out that the budget will come up for consideration again next fall and that if the taxpayers want reduced taxes to pay for airport improvements, they can make their views known at that time.

Crow said West Coast Airlines has not sold anything to the commission about discontinuing service to Twin Falls, but added WCA said it would not accept a contract to provide jet service by 1965. The present air service is not adequate to handle jet aircraft.

Their statement in full reads: In view of recent news articles and editorials intimating that the Twin Falls county commissioners' refusal to levy a county-wide tax of approximately $45,000 in 1962 for the airport, the Twin Falls airport has doomed local air travel facilities to a slow death from want of funds, the understanding of the board is that the public's attention a number of factors that have been overlooked or minimized.

West Coast Airlines has indicated that it plans to initiate the use of jet aircraft on a number of routes in the Twin Falls airport unless the current contract is renewed. However, these particular aircraft are not in production at the present time and according to the airline's best estimates, they will not be available for use until 1965 at the earliest. In the meantime, jet airport authority must make plans for acquisition of additional land, engineering and surveying, and cost estimates and, of course, financing.

The first and basic question concerning the Twin Falls county commissioners in the preparation of the 1962 budget was whether or not the need for additional runways at the airport would be so critical in 1962 as to justify the imposition of an additional new tax on the order of approximately $45,000 without first receiving the expressions of approval of a large number of our citizens who would be obliged to pay the tax. The question is further emphasized when we consider that there will be an increase in 1962 taxes of approximately $21,000 for Twin Falls schools, $14,000 for the county, and approximately $45,000 for the Magic Valley Memorial hospital, and in 1961, Buhl school district has added $60,000 to its new bonded debt, which will continue for some time.

It is the opinion that the urgency of the airport problem is not so immediate that a final decision to impose new and additional taxes should be made in 1962 or the airport will be lost.

In this regard we thank the various members of the Twin Falls chamber of commerce for expressing their views on the matter, most of which were in favor of the proposed tax. It should be borne in mind, however, that no part of the new and additional tax would be paid by Twin Falls city residents. The additional $45,000 would come entirely from Twin Falls county taxpayers outside the Twin Falls city limits. Of the relatively few opinions received from the taxpayers who would be required to pay the new and additional tax, nearly all opposed it. This is not to say that these few opinions represent the views of a majority of those required to pay the tax, but we feel that the power given to tax Twin Falls county residents should be used with extreme caution when the only expressions received from those particular taxpayers are negative, even though the number of expressions are limited.

We feel that this problem should continue to receive publicity and that during the year 1962 all interested taxpayers should be kept informed of the situation as it develops. It is hoped that those interested will conduct a wide sampling of opinion of those expected to bear the cost as well as those who have need for the airport facilities. From such a sampling of opinion, those officials entrusted with the duty of controlling our tax assessments can act according to the dictates of the taxpayers of the county.

Elks Lodge Awards Bonds To Four Youths in Contest

Four Magic Valley youths were awarded savings bonds for being selected local winners in the annual Elks national youth leadership contest Thursday night.

Receiving $50 bonds for placing first in the contest were Jana Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, Twin Falls, and William Hollifield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hollifield, Hamilton.

Awarded $25 bonds for second place were Carolyn Naverscroft, daughter of Vernon Naverscroft, Tuite, and Raymond Stroberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stroberg, Hansen.

Winners were selected by a panel of three judges on the merit of scholarship, initiative, individualism, diligence, accomplishments and church and community affairs.

Both winners have been entered in the state contest, and if they are selected winners in that division will be eligible to compete in the national contest.

First place winners in the national contest will appear before the Elks national convention in Chicago, Ill., next July to receive their awards. National awards, identical for boys and girls, are first place, a $1,000 savings bond; second place, a $500 bond; and third place, a $300 bond.

Henry Willis, Elks scholarship committee chairman, said, "These Magic Valley schools were asked to nominate individuals for the state contest."

He added, "Although we didn't hear from all the schools, I feel we have some fine representations for the state contest."

The three judges were Mrs. Marshall Lebronn, Judge Vernon Ward and William Grange.

Rupert OK's Mill Levy on Airport Plan

RUPERT, Jan. 12—Minkoka county commissioners passed a two-mill levy earlier this week in order to create a fund for the leasing of property and the possible construction of a Minkoka airport.

According to Willard Hayward, Minkoka county clerk, the Rupert Chamber of Commerce has urged the measure because of an increase in commercial, business and private planes.

Members of a committee favoring plans for a county airport met with the county commissioners earlier in the week and presented views on the proposed airport.

A member of the committee when contacted, explained that passage of the "mill" levy does not mean the Chamber of Commerce has no further interest in the proposed joint Mini-Casita airport. He added that it was just a measure to insure the city of Rupert future airport facilities.

Hayward reported the mill levy would raise about $25,000 in 1962 and would be sufficient to lease a suitable site and to begin construction.

Truck Crash Suit Is Filed

An $11,250 civil suit was filed Thursday in district court by Garrett Freightlines, Inc., plaintiff, Keith G. Onnen and Zero Refrigerated Lines, Inc., San Antonio, Tex., over a two-truck accident Oct. 1 on Highway 27, eight miles east of Jerome.

The petition states a Garrett truck-tractor-pulling two-trailers and a zero-trailer, partially blocking the highway.

Onnen, driving a 1957 Freightline truck-tractor owned by the Zero Refrigerated Lines, Inc., "negligently drove the truck into the equipment," Garrett freightlines claims.

Onnen failed to avoid the collision "as a direct result of negligence," the petition claims.

Garrett freightlines, represented by Perry, Robertson and Daly, Twin Falls law firm, is asking $11,250 for damages to its two trailers.

Called to the witness stand was FAA Administrator Stephen H. Halaby, whose agency charged with making sure that all commercial planes and their pilots follow the rules of the sky.

Alan S. Boyd, chairman of the civil aeronautics board (CAB), testified yesterday on an investigation of Imperial Airways by chance on the very day that the company had filed "false statements" with the board over a "considerable period of time."

Along Fences, Canals

At the Ralph Faulkner ranch in Gooding, Jambo will start the first of January and the first of February. They expect to lamb about 6,000 ewes this year. They were trawled into the home back from the desert before the holidays.

Many Magic Valley farmers have found their front yards, fields or pastures are occasionally the stopping place of wayward cars whose drivers were unable to negotiate a curve. One of the most popular spots seems to be the C. J. Boss farm, two miles north of 100-500-Pan on McManis flats. Boss is getting weary of replacing his fence several times each month. Last Sunday a car coming from the east knocked out two posts and had to be pulled back onto the road with a tractor.

Lambing and calving operations are well under way at the Shely Williams ranch southeast of Buhl. The Williams have 250 ewes which graze on the ranch year round.

Over Jones, Almo, made a trip to the Bekke ranch on Goose creek in the Oakley area last week to retrieve one of his cows which had strayed from his herd.

Jerome County Farm Income Decreases for Second Year

BOISE, Jan. 12 — W. G. Priest, Jerome county extension agent, reports that for the second consecutive year, the Jerome county farm income showed a decrease.

"This decrease in gross sales was despite an increase in the number of acres under cultivation. Several factors contributed to this lack of income, including water shortage, less feed, and the decline in farm prices," he commented. "The total crop gross value in 1961 was $13,270,423 and total gross income including crops and animals was $16,533,922."

In his report on crops, Priest pointed out that growing conditions for beans were favorable during the season. The crop averaged above normal in yield. Some injury from the western bean cutworm showed up in the harvest in the Eden area and this indicates that control methods may be needed next year. Even with this reduced yield, ample feed supplies were produced to take care of the stock being fed," the agent said.

"Commenting on the water situation in 1961, Priest said that nearly all the farmers took extra care of their water and the overall results were better than anticipated. The canal company did a lot of extra work in regulating the water supply and this was taken of two unseasonal rains.

"The pasture, the alfalfa and the corn fields were used as shock absorbers on the water supply," Priest said. "These crops were left wanting while the water was used on the row crops. The overall production of forage crops was consequently lowered and the biggest yield losses were on irrigated pastures, alfalfa corn and third crop hay. Even with this reduced yield, ample feed supplies were produced to take care of the stock being fed," the agent said.

"The picture has changed from one of being potato rich to one of being potato poor. Priest pointed out that the increased acreage of sugar beets during the past year improved the balance of the row crops and gross income in the county. Mechanization also is improving

Reports Due Jan. 31 for '61 Workers

Wesley F. Watson, manager of the social security office here, reminds farmers that Jan. 31 is the deadline for farmers to file tax form No. 943 for the purpose of reporting farm employees who worked for them during 1961.

He explains—completed tax form No. 943 should list the name, social security account number and the total cash wages of each farm worker and be filed with the district director of Internal Revenue.

Farm workers to be reported are those who were paid $150 or more in cash during the year, or those who have worked on a time basis for at least 20 days during the year beginning with January 1, 1962. A slight increase will increase the rate of tax to three and one-eighth per cent—compared to three per cent in 1960. Watson stated.

Idaho Potato Seed Crop in 1961 Is Good

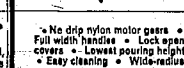

BOISE, Jan. 12 — Production of certified seed potatoes in Idaho harvested 1960 output by 37 per cent at 4,154,813 hundredweight, the U.S. agriculture department reports.

The 1961 production also was 77 per cent greater than the 1958-59 average. Yields per acre during 1961 were 15 per cent better than in 1960. The 1961 production certification standards consisted of five varieties with Russet Burbank (Netted Gem) making up nearly 67 per cent of the total. A small quantity of red Pontiac seed was produced under certification in Idaho last year for the first time.

The 1962 conference will be co-sponsored by the Idaho Angus association, Montana Angus association, Inland Empire Angus association, Western States Angus association, Oregon Angus association and the Washington Angus association.

Representatives from each of the associations and the University of Idaho will meet Feb. 16-17 in Twin Falls during the Idaho Angus utility show and sale to complete final conference plans.

Food for Americans

CHICKEN POT PIE—Cook, glutinous and cornmeal. A new book by Betty Watson, an experienced writer on food and good living. You'll have fun reading about recipes in ancient Greece, feasts in imperial Rome, gay cooking schools in the Nineteenth and other interesting bits of history from one end of the world to another. Good fun. Some good recipes, too.

Here's an example, a Pennsylvania Dutch pot pie. But never on Sunday! Oh yes, definitely. There's nothing more time to relax and enjoy it.

Chicken Pot Pie
1 stewing chicken (4 pounds), cut up
3 cups water
1/2 cup minced onion
1/2 cup minced celery
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Place chicken in water with onion, celery, salt and pepper; cover, simmer 1 1/2 to 2 hours. When tender, add dumplings ("pot pie") a few at a time; keep broth boiling and avoid sticking. Stir with a large fork occasionally. Cook—loosely covered, 10 minutes altogether; then sprinkle with 2 tablespoons chopped parsley, cook 5 minutes more.

Dumplings
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
2 tablespoons milk
Combine flour and salt, add eggs and milk, mix with a fork until stiff, then knead with fingers into smooth dough. Roll out on lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness, cut into 2-inch squares with sharp knife or pastry wheel. Let stand on board to dry out somewhat.

Remove the chicken in a strainer of butter and shortenings or bacon drippings. Potatoes are then added to the broth to cook until tender and the dumplings added during the 15-minute to 20-minute period. Then potatoes and dumplings are served beside the fried chicken on the plates.

Yankees Chosen as 1961 Team of the Year: Green Bay Packers Are Runners-up

By The Associated Press
 It's baseball's New York Yankees over pro football's Green Bay Packers for the 1961 team of the year. The results of the voting by 156 sportswriters and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll showed Thursday that the Yankees and Packers, crushed all opposition.

All-Star Tilt May Look Like Rematch

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—The National Football League's best players—minus the No. 1 among them—square off Sunday in what almost looks like a rematch of the NFL title game. Eight Green Bay Packers and eight New York Giants—nearly 25 per cent of each squad—will be in the Eastern and Western divisions.

But neither division lineup is particularly lopsided. The Packers have NFL's most valuable player, Paul Hornung, who is still doing leaps at P. Riley, Kansas City. The Giants have a rotation-by-rotation battle in which annual all-star game will in many cases pit men who opposed each other in the title game.

Easterner, of course, hope for a different result than the 31-0 rout of New York took from the Packers. One element is certain to be different: The weather. Fans expect a 21 degree temperature Sunday as in Green Bay. The weather here looks for clear mild-50 to support the Packers.

The Green Bay Packers' offense is available to spell Brown and the title game atmosphere. The primary fullback battle in the lineup—D. Shiner from the Giants and MacGee from the Packers.

Each will have a favorite end in the lineup—D. Shiner from the Giants and MacGee from the Packers. The primary fullback battle in the lineup—D. Shiner from the Giants and MacGee from the Packers.

BIG BILL SCORES again in game Thursday night in which Utah defeated Denver 55-7. There seemed to be no adequate defense against Bill (The Hill) McGill, and he scored virtually every time he got his hands on the ball in the first half. He wound up with a 24-point performance for the night. (AP wirephoto.)

Miss Hard Hopes For Triple Slam
 SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 12 (AP)—Darlene Hard, Montpelier, Vt., scored a triple in the first round of the Australian National tennis championships Thursday and kept alive her hopes for a triple slam in the Australian National tennis championships.

The 26-year-old American Australian National tennis champion's double final, with a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Lesley Turner and a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Lesley Turner and a 6-4, 6-4 victory over Lesley Turner.

Kept too Busy

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP)—Cleveland's Jim Brown, Cleveland, the National Football League's leading rusher, says he may not play next week.

Brown, here for the Pro Bowl game Sunday, told Los Angeles writer Melvin Dirks that he was examined in 1961 and that he may have business opportunities too good to neglect.

He said his present contract with the Browns has expired and chances are at least even he will not play in 1962.

Owner Can't Get Players To Write Him

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, wants to foster a togetherness feeling among his league players through a personal letter writing plan.

"I have been trying to get our players to write me," said Wrigley in an interview today. "I want them to take up anything they like and write me what they like, and what ideas they have for improvement of our club."

"I wrote personal letters to 30 of them who were in our spring training camp last year. I want them to feel they are part of the organization. But I didn't get a letter from any of them."

"You can't change tradition overnight but it has been going on for years. They just can't bring themselves to sit their desks and write me. Either that, or they don't know how to write."

Wrigley, who said he was well pleased with his year-old program of a rotating coaching staff for the Cubs instead of having a manager, received hundreds of Christmas cards. But one of his most cherished ones came from Jim Hanson, a pitcher from Illinois, who had a 9-3 record for the Cubs' Wenatchee, Wash., affiliate last season after leaving military service. Wrigley said:

"On the back of the card, this boy wrote: 'You don't know me, but you will because I am a ball player.'"

"I'm going to answer him personally. That boy has some 'buns.'"

NCAA Punishes Utah, 3 Others For Violations

CHICAGO, Jan. 12 (AP)—The NCAA's powerful council shipped punishment Thursday on four colleges for violations of the athletic code—New Mexico State, Utah, Humboldt State (Calif.) and Whitworth college (Wash.).

The action came on the fourth day of the annual meeting of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's 60th convention. New Mexico State was placed on probation for three years, mainly for football irregularities.

The University of Utah drew a one-year basketball suspension. Humboldt State and Whitworth were placed under restrictions for one year.

The council also approved the recommendation of the NCAA executive committee calling for national federations in track and field and swimming.

This action, subject to full membership vote Saturday, further widened the split between the NCAA and Amateur Athletic Union over control of international sports teams.

The council, besides placing New Mexico State on probation for three years, also banned the school from the NCAA-TV membership for three years and barred all Aggie teams in all sports for two years from participating in NCAA championship competition and NCAA-AP sports events.

Basketball-bound Utah was charged mainly with illegal handling of a basketball player no longer in school. The charge included a $10,000 fine, one-year probation and payment for part time work not actually earned. The penalty was a one-year probation and one-year ban from the 1962 NCAA basketball championship tournament.

Humboldt State college of Arcata, Calif., was cited for participating in two post-season football games, uncredited by the NCAA—one in Burk, Calif., Dec. 3, 1960, and another a week later at St. Petersburg, Fla., in the NAIA Holiday Bowl.

Whitworth college of Spokane, Wash., lost to Humboldt in the game at Burk, and Humboldt advanced to sustain a loss to Lenoir Rhyne at St. Petersburg. Both colleges hold membership in the NAIA as well as the NCAA.

But the NAIA events are not NCAA certified, and the council penalized both Humboldt State and Whitworth.

Lincoln Uses Microfilm in Office Work

SHOSHONE, Jan. 12—Lincoln county commissioners have signed a contract with Mrs. Meru Latta of the Lincoln county security-film company, Gooding, whereby the Lincoln county auditor will handle records by microfilm.

The contract calls for taking film and services provided by the Lattas, while Lincoln county will purchase film. Cost will not be prohibitive, the county officials state, with the only immediate expense being the purchase of a Thermo-fax Microfilm-Reader-Printer machine in December in preparation for the new installation.

Filing will be done by security-film once or twice a week, as needed, with the prints returned to the county within three days. Commissioners set the tentative budget and appointed registrars for the coming fiscal year. They also acted on claims, received quarterly reports from officers and made the usual new year appointments to county boards and offices.

Though the exact amount of the budget has not been calculated at this time, the current expense fund appears to be about $88,000. This amount may be reduced at the February commission meeting, but it cannot be reduced until the next commission meeting this week for the various offices.

Last year the approved budget for current expense was $98,897, according to Mrs. Lucila L. Kinsey, clerk. Other parts of the budget remain about the same as a year ago.

With an additional budget of $120 for the election this year and $120 for employment security, the remainder of expenditures proposed were cut over last year.

A change made in the budget this year the setting up of all budgets from the various offices into one budget under direct management of the commissioners.

The quarterly reports were $187 from the probate judge, $3270 from the sheriff, $905.60 from the auditor and $44 from the justice of the Peace W. L. Austin.

Beer licenses were granted to McFall club, Palace pool hall, Columbia lounge, Farmers market, Nebraska bar, Shook's service, Larsen's service, Dietrich mercantile, the Cactus service, Piper's service, Phoenix club, Palmer's service and Mike's Cold storage.

Commissioner Elmer Williams was named to the county hospital board, replacing W. E. Bolton. Other hospital board members are John Thomas, Donald Wiley.

Named to the fair board again are Elmer Silva, Elmer Williams, Murdo Cange, Mrs. Eldon Guthrie, Glen Ross and Mrs. Howard Campbell.

Named as registrars for the election are Bill Fauson, Shoshone, county one; Mike Granger, Shoshone two; Mrs. Ada Sandy, north Shoshone three; Mrs. Ada Lemmon, Richfield four; Mrs. H. O. Anderson, Dietrich five, and Mrs. Roy Shurum, Klamath six.

Aide Named By Chamber At Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Jan. 12—Kimberly Chamber of Commerce members selected Robert Bradley to represent the chamber on the citizen's committee to work with the school board on the proposed school consolidation when they meet in the Legion hall Tuesday noon.

The group decided to donate $50 to help hire a driver for the bus to transport Kimberly school children to the ski area.

Dr. Knight announced a 10-hour evening course will be offered in the vocational agriculture building for interested persons. Further details will be announced next week.

President Don Taylor announced that the Kimberly Chamber is sponsoring a first aid course for anyone in the area. The classes will be held on Wednesday and Friday evenings from 7:30 to 10 p.m. in the Grange hall.

Beef Roasts Topping List Of Bargains

By The Associated Press
Supermarket meat experts, always trying to keep up with the household and one jump ahead of the competition, apparently are guessing this week that she is ready for some good, red meat.

They are offering bargain rates on roasts of beef—in many cases, it's pot roast, with prices for the New York metropolitan area as low as 55 cents a pound for chuck pot roast. Chuck is a favorite among bargain-hunting households, especially at this time of year, what with budgets still recuperating from the holidays.

Pork also is the special item at many supermarkets, especially in the southeast, where chops, steaks and hams are prominently displayed. Pork loin continues to be a popular item at prices as much as 10 cents a pound below a year ago in the east.

Broilers and fryers remain on the best buy list in some sections of the southeast, especially in the east. Market experts report, however, that wholesale prices are slightly higher in the midwest, and that at-tie farm prices are up three to four cents a pound in the southwest.

Egg prices are reflecting lower in the midwest, unchanged lower wholesale costs, and eastern prices unchanged on the week but two to eight cents a dozen less than a year ago.

As usual, fish features generally reflect regional tastes. Best buys among vegetables are potatoes, lettuce, sweet potatoes, carrots, onions and cabbage. Most of those are expected to remain best sellers in the weeks ahead. Oranges, grapefruit, apples, tangerines and bananas are best fruit buys.

Meeting Is Held By Knoll Grange

Mrs. Dale Hellewell was elected lecturer of Knoll Grange during a meeting of the group Tuesday evening in the Grange hall.

Elmer Dossett reported on recent canal board meetings and told of plans to improve canals during a winter. Members of the Grange voted to start the National Orange monthly magazine to each family.

The Knoll Grange committee reported that $107 was made recently on two sales. Members here indicated that the monthly Grange will meet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for a potluck dinner at the Murtough Grange hall.

The club members honored Elmer Dossett, who observed a birthday anniversary Tuesday by presenting him a cake. It was announced that each family is to bring a pie to the next Grange meeting, Jan. 21.

Expert on Far East to Talk At Rotary Club Lunch Here

Kilsoo Hahn, an authority on Far Eastern Affairs who predicted the attacks on Pearl Harbor and South Korea, will speak at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday in the American Legion hall.

Kilsoo is head of the Sino-Korean Peoples' League, a non-government group organized in 1932 to aid U. S. intelligence in the Orient. As an authority on Far Eastern affairs, he supplies the state department with reports Far East.

Kilsoo warns, "Within three years, red China will become a full-fledged military power to the Soviet Russia, equipped with atomic weapons ready for nuclear warfare. Between 1964-65, the Sino-Soviet alliance will demand a 'showdown with America.'"

The subject of his talk before the Rotary is "Will America Face Another Pearl Harbor?"

Last year Kilsoo submitted an underground report to the secretary of national defense and the secretary of state on eight Chinese nuclear strategists who visited Russia.

Attention to Idle Worker Is Suggested

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Leading industrialists and labor union leaders have jointly advised President Kennedy that while modernizing American industry must continue, the new take care of workers made idle. The report—the first one issued by Kennedy's 21-man labor-management advisory committee—called for a "course of action" which will encourage careful progress in the form of automation and technological change.

The recommendations, representing a remarkable meeting of the minds in a nationally contentious group, were received by Kennedy at the White House Thursday in an hour-long conference with his advisers.

Praising the report, Kennedy said: "We must take advantage of every opportunity for technological development. But we cannot disregard the human value involved. Your recommendations—properly recognized—both sides of this problem."

The automation report, originally drafted by President Clark Kerr of the University of California, one of the public members of the group, called for a whole series of measures by the government and employers to ease the plight of workers and their families hard hit by automation.

Nobody quarreled with the need for making industry steadily more efficient; instead it was urged that this process continue in order to improve economic growth and the U. S. position in world markets.

Cooper Keeps In Shape for All His Roles

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Jackie Cooper, who has been a show business star since he was three years old, keeps in performing his duties as carefully as he keeps in physical shape.

When he appears Saturday night in CBS' adaptation of "The Four-Poster," it will be a combination holiday from Hollywood and an exercise in acting for the busy performer.

Cooper, who will be 40 in September, is owner, star and director of the successful comedy series, "Hennessey," now in its second season.

"I've been working with my own crew since 1955—I decided direct my shows so I could get them the way I wanted them to be," he explained during a break in "Four-Poster" rehearsal.

Cooper is among the stars of the oldest re-runs in television: those starring silent "Our Gang" comedies, currently syndicated among TV stations re-titled "The Three Stooges." Cooper has made when he was almost a toddler.

Cooper says he hopes to continue with "Hennessey" for another season or two, and then turn to something else "that interests me."

Musical Star Gets Crowds Despite TV

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Jackie Cooper appears that he is a television star—no free television—is keeping fans avid from movie houses.

"People are hungry for solid entertainment," says the big actor who returned from playing Broadway musicals as "The Music Man" on the civic auditorium circuit.

Cooper, who was born in St. Louis and other cities, in California, said he was surprised they weren't watching movies or television.

"Invariably, they would answer that they wanted to spend a night in the theater," he said.

Cooper feels that Hollywood has profited in gauging the public's taste.

"We'd better get back to the old-fashioned theater," he said, "entertain rather than 'Do it shock'."

Niven and Caron Filming Picture

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—David Niven and Leslie Caron are in Malibu, Calif., for the shooting of "Warner Brothers' The Picture is Based on a Novel by Francis Clifton. Interior scenes will be shot in London.

New Actress Is Beauty With Brains

Honey-haired Christine Kaufmann, manager of combs, a sweet winsome quality with frank provocative sex... and all at the age of 16. She will be making for the first time by American audiences in "Town Without Pity," through United Artists release.

Christine has the leading feminine role in the drama which stars Kirk Douglas. She is cast as a lovely teen-age German girl who is assaulted by four American G.I.s.

It is an acting "plum" that many disappointed girls tried hard to get. Christine understands only too well how she feels, for not too long ago she tested for the part in "Kavara" in "Kavara" and didn't get it.

However, it was this test which producer-director Gottfried Reinhardt saw almost a year later that convinced him Christine should be Karin after all—in "Town Without Pity."

Christine was born in Lansdorf, Graz, Austria, on Jan. 11, 1945, and attended school in Munich, Germany, where she began acting.

When she was 4 she played a princess, at 5 she was the wicked stepmother in "Snow White" and found the role more to her liking. It had dramatic depth. At 7 she played the role of circus dancer and barbecue rider in her first film and went on to more important parts in succeeding films.

Francoisa Heads Toward Theater

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Anthony Francoisa is rebarbering with Geraldine Page for "The Umbrella" which is scheduled for Broadway opening in February.

The stage venture makes his first Broadway role since "Hustler of Rain."

SLIGHTLY HIGHER PRICES
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Consumers may look forward to only slightly higher prices for housing and household equipment in the new year than in 1961, according to Laura Mae Webb, chief of the U.S. department of agriculture.

Television Notebook

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Recommended without having seen and heard it on TV, but with a for the second time are "The Defenders," "Ben Casey," "Dr. Kildare," "The Dick Powell Show," "The Untouchables," and "Car 54, Where Are You?"

Max Liebman, the "father" of the spectacle on NBC when that descriptive meant something, has signed with CBS to create a one-hour comedy series of satiric and varied nature that the network hopes to present next fall. Liebman, of course, is one of the real TV pioneers going back to production of the "Admiral Broadway Revue" in 1948 that later turned into the long successful "Your Show of Shows" with Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca.

Among the new series of this season that promise to go around for the second time are "The Defenders," "Ben Casey," "Dr. Kildare," "The Dick Powell Show," "The Untouchables," and "Car 54, Where Are You?"

Outstanding dramatic personalities of the season's new programs are Vincent Edwards of "Ben Casey" and Richard Chamberlain of "Dr. Kildare," both, oddly enough, medical series. Comedy series standouts are Joe E. Ross and Fred Gwynne of "Car 54."

There is no more appealing on actor in the new shows than Norman Fell, who plays Detective Meyer Meyer for "7th Precinct," although my favorite city detective on TV is still Paul Burke, the Adam Flint of "Naked City." And I hope no one talks either into starting in a series of his own. That's TV suicide more often than not.

Group Offers Hand to Homemakers

If you're planning a major decorating project and aren't sure of your own taste, don't overlook the help you can get from the varied color co-ordinating efforts in the home furnishings industry. Here's valuable advice from top-level professional color stylists to aid for the looking.

The hitch to making any major decorative change is that you're going to want to make other changes, too.

Specific fabric in different weights are made by a leading manufacturer, should one want them. A fern green, goose-down, dining table-represent velvet might be used for upholstery, a sunflower antique satin for the curtains and a nylon-rayon gold-and-green striped for upholstery, slip covers or drapery. The color comes in 10 color blends in a simple textured design and is in the moderate price range. Fabrics last, too.

The large mail order houses have carefully selected color lines which they coordinate throughout their home furnishings from bath to bedroom to upholstery fabrics. In a store with an alert home-furnishing section, this color co-ordinating program will be spelled out in displays and sales help.

Many of the leading fabric wallpaper and paint makers have extensive color and pattern co-ordinating efforts, but in the work of highly paid specialists. But you sometimes have to wrest this information from the local store. One store in our town leaves the little lady on her own to browse through a bewildering array of sample books.

A more progressive local store has a typewriter who coordinates the customer's dilemma and groups the samples according to what she is looking for.

FRESH CRISP COLORS and a decorative brick or two make this dining room-kitchen a cheerful place. The drop-leaf dining table and decker's bench are placed to overlook a garden through the window. Curtains with an exciting pattern are in the iron hand of Diapers and set-ton. Mottis cut from curtain fabric scraps are applied on placemats and framed pictures on wall.

Double-Duty Furnishings in Home Can Save Floor Space, Keep Things Neat

"If a piece of furniture costs a bit more than another, yet serves two or three purposes, the price be halved," writes a 17th Century New Englander in his London journal.

This shrewd ordering of furniture to be shipped from England, because typical American habits. Today the top skills of designers and manufacturers designers can render themselves "the price be halved!"

Wall stretchers are a longed for invention for bedrooms, furniture is more flexible than

In every style, there are dozens of double-duty furniture pieces to save valuable floor space. They not only organize family possessions neatly, but actually give a dividend in floor area.

A critical, impersonal study, room by room, may show several pieces of furniture not earning their way, either in appearance or function. Instead of dreaming about a wall stretcher or larger rooms, investigate the possibilities of one or two new pieces of furniture designed to use minimum floor area and give extra room to the room.

If you're a reading family, storage lamp tables may be your answer. Padded doors under table tops conceal spacious storage units. Long coffee tables, too, are designed with closed bases, a whole wall of storage space being less than two feet of floor area is the modern answer.

Units of storage space, such as open book shelves, stacked side by side and stop one another side miles of storage and work space. Desk and bar units, special cabinets for recorded music and the TV set are included in the assortments.

You can choose just the ones for your family needs. Wall units are available in every furniture style and in a wide range of prices.

"Room divider" is a furniture design idea of our age. Created to stand firm between a dining and living area, it has several functions. Placed near a front door in a living room where no entrance hall exists it establishes one.

When the family has left for office and school set it on large, light rollers and finish it with the dryer. Shampoo the rollers brush out your hair and face both callers and the crowd in the supermarket with confidence.

A word about pants: Few women can wear them and look well. The fact that your friends wear them should have nothing to do with your decision about them. Take a long, critical glance at yours in full-length mirror. Be honest and realistic. If you haven't a light, flat derriere and good legs, invest in a pair of the far more flattering skirt.

Sloppy Home Appearance Can Be Most Embarrassing

The way you look around the house is important. Many women feel that it isn't and they are in baggy pants, an old shirt and a head full of rollers. And then they're embarrassed when the doorbell rings.

You should have an adequate wardrobe for your job, life as a working girl does. The year appearance has a strong psychological effect on the way you feel, the experts say.

In choosing clothes for housework, pick machine-washable cottons, synthetic blends and synthetics that need no ironing. The cost: dress in an ideal style, easy to put on and take off. You bend and move with ease and a sleeker style will not hamper your activities. Invest in rollers in the hair, invest in a

6 Billions Spent On Health Plans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Federal, state and local government will spend some $6 billion dollars annually for health and medical programs, not counting the cost of medical facilities construction.

In a review of health services provided or paid for by tax funds, the social security administration reported such expenditures exceeded $4 billion dollars in 1960. Ten years earlier, the tax outlay for health purposes was $1 billion dollars.

Nice Girl Gets Nice Girl's Role

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Lee Remick, who is a very nice girl in person—one of the nicest in town—had to turn to television to play her first major role.

In recapturing the role that won a movie Oscar for Loretta Young, she will play a nice Minnesota Swedish girl in "The Pagan's Daughter" on NBC-TV Sunday.

"I've done my first movie. A Face in the Crowd. I've been cast naughtily and sexy. I guess I shouldn't complain because actresses always say that bad girls make the best roles."

Lavish Five-Volume Set Contains Bible Comment

The Illustrated World of the Bible Library (McGraw-Hill) is the most lavishly illustrated five-volume set, contains 1,500 pages of pictures and historical commentary on the people, places and events of the Bible.

The first four volumes cover the Old Testament and are offered as an official set for $70. The fifth volume deals with the New Testament. The set was selected by an editorial board of scholars from the Hebrew University of Jerusalem. It generally avoids theological and doctrinal questions, and concentrates on an exposition of history, geography, language, customs, climate and other features of the Bible texts which are chosen for illustration. This model will find through beautiful books a rich source of background data on a myriad of questions ranging from Noah and Mount Sinai to Who were the money-changers that Jesus drove from the temple? Many of the words, stories and events found in the Bible will take on new and more meaningful meaning to the modern reader.

The Judea Tree by A. J. Cronin (Dial, Brown): The tree of the life dominates the garden of Dr. David's scientific mine in Switzerland to which he had retired at 55 with his porcelain his paintings and the other precious treasures of life. Moray made a lot of money by abandoning a medical career to go into commercial research for a drug firm. To get the job he had also to abandon his shy charming Scottish sweetheart and the boss's erratic, erotic daughter.

It was a barren, double-happy marriage. The trouble started when Moray, plagued by conscience, tried to make amends to his first love and found himself involved with her daughter (no relation here), who was heart wrenchingly like her mother. The stage was set for them for tragedy.

The Caribbean Rose, by Itha Chase (Doubleday): This delightful book covers a decade of travel wandering through the British Isles, the Isles of Greece, through France, Spain, and Italy, Bangkok and Bali, Hong Kong and Japan. Itha Chase and her husband, Dr. Norman Brown, traveled mainly for pleasure but whether for business or pleasure, the reader delights in the sparkling, candid descriptions of the native dress, food, types of lodging, mode of land travel, etc. The author's descriptions of the which particularly pleased them is followed by the recipe. To Itha, travel is a simple delight: anticipation, performance and recollection. And when one trip is ended, she is already plotting the next.

NATURAL WAISTLINE is apparent in these fashions for resort or cruise wear now and summer later on. Apricot pink dress, left, has double peaked skirt and tasseled belt. Fuchsia dress in carnation pink and white has gently flared skirt outlined in bows of solid pink. All designs are by Ben Barack.

Moving Tip

NEW YORK, Jan. 13 (NEA)—If your family is planning to move to another area, ask your doctor and dentist to recommend a doctor in the new neighborhood.

The Health Insurance Institute also suggested that you drop in on your ophthalmologist's office or the optician's and pick up current prescriptions for eyeglasses in the family.

HENRY GRACE has been chosen for the part of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a film based on the 1944 D-day invasion of France. Grace, 55, has never acted before cameras. He will go to Paris for filming of his role in "The Longest Day." (AP Wirephoto)

Actor Claims It's No Snap Playing Ike

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will be portrayed in a new movie by an actor who looks so much like Ike he could stampee a Democratic convention.

His speaking voice also closely resembles that of Eisenhower's enough to make moviegoers rub their eyes when they see him on the screen.

Ike's double is Henry Grace, who will portray the former president in Dwight D. Zanuck's "The Longest Day."

Grace who is 15 years younger than our 34th President, will play the role in a D-day sequence of the Normandy invasion. He is somewhat unnerved by the prospect of such a big screen. Grace has never acted before in his life, nor has he ever met Ike.

Ike's had enough making your acting debut at my age," he said at 20th Century-Fox. "But playing Ike is a real challenge. I won't say I'm scared, but I don't feel at ease either."

Though he's no actor, Grace has been affiliated with movies since 1933 as a set decorator at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. For the past eight years he has been supervising decorator in charge of all MGM movies and television series.

Tony Curtis Doesn't Care For Planes

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—As far as Tony Curtis is concerned, the Wright brothers could have skipped the whole thing.

Curtis recently returned from locations of "Crossed Borders" in Salta, Argentina. He came back the hard way, via train to Buenos Aires, boat to New York, train to Hollywood. Travel time: Two weeks versus one day by air.

Tony doesn't fly. Ordinarily when a person doesn't fly, nobody makes much of it. But Curtis is probably the most famous non-flyer in the world, the reason being that he is married to a flying type, a beautiful chick named Janet Leigh.

"Janet flies. I don't. It's as simple as that," says Tony. "Except that it isn't that simple. Whenever we go on a trip separately—whooosh! The rumors start. We had a fight. We separated. We're getting a divorce. Janet usually arrives before I do because she flies. So maybe it's New York and she wants to see some shows, so she calls up a friend of mine to take her out. Whooosh! The tongues start wagging."

Sinatra and Juliet Prowse Plan to Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Frank Sinatra and the long-limbed South African beauty Juliet Prowse will marry in the near future, a spokesman for both has announced.

The word followed recurring rumors. No statement was forthcoming from either, but they allowed the spokesman to issue a bare confirmation.

Sinatra met the red-haired Miss Prowse two years ago when both were appearing in "Can Can." They began dating immediately, but not on a steady basis.

She was also seen with Elvis Presley, with whom she courted in "G. I. Blues."

Sinatra's previous wives were Nancy, his childhood sweetheart, and actress Ava Gardner.

Sympathetic?
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—An octopus usually is a bad guy in motion pictures. But Walt Disney created a sympathetic role for one in the new subject, "Aquarium." The octopus plays a comic role opposite the Disney favorite, "Goofy."

Edwards Sets TV Show for 1962 Season

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Ralph Edwards can neither be seen nor heard on radio or television this season—for the first time in 32 years.

Since 1930 Edwards has been a patented part of broadcasting from an announcer to emcee to host. And during those years he chalked up two of the most successful shows in history—"Truth or Consequences" and "This Is Your Life."

In addition to remaining on the air 32 years, "T or C" has had a town named in his honor, "Truth or Consequences, N.M." The show still is going strong.

Edwards left the air last spring ("T or C" had another 13 months but still is owned and produced by Ralph) when "This Is Your Life" closed shop after nine years.

But his absence will be brief. "Ralph has no fewer than nine shows cooking for next season, and all of them are better than even money bets for the grade.

"The trend seems to be toward 'live' shows, or, at least, to shows which is in my favor," Edwards said confidently.

"Television is an idea business, and if we can come up with the right ideas we'll be in business. We have opened two frontiers with audience participation on "T or C" and biographical entertainment with "This Is Your Life."

"One of my new shows is based on a series of war dramas," he said.

Newman Likes Nasty Type Role in Film

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Actor Robert Newman says he is "invented and fascinated" by the role he often plays in the "nasty" type of films.

"I'm a morally rotten to the core," Newman said cheerfully. "and although it could be construed as being a little much more fascinating than the good guys. They present a fine chance to study (horror) the disease (that infects an awful lot of people).

Newman lately has specialized in "nasty" roles. He is one of the traditional concept of upright, selfless American manhood.

"Recently he was the self-serving pool shark in "The Hustler" and soon he'll be seen in "Sweet Bird of Youth," in which he recreates his Broadway stage role as Chance Wayne, the unsavory chap who, to put it as nicely as possible, lives off the wits of his kind."

"I take men like Chance seriously," Newman said. "He's not just there as a witness to the role. By showing what he is—rotten and thoroughly human—I feel I can do a lot more to focus in the minds of those who see him their own, need for class."

"In other words, if people are made aware of corruption in the film, that's the honor the conception sets off, maybe I'm persuading them not to go and do likewise. Maybe I sound like a hypocrite, but in a sense, that's what an actor wants to be when he plays this type of role."

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—European-made films are being shown at the 11th and 12th streets of Hollywood.

Father-Son Act

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP)—Alan Ladd and his son David will star in the film "Barletta," a production of the "The Sons of the Leopard," the story of an espionage agent.

Actress Tames West in "Second Time Around"

Debbie Reynolds stars as a two-fisted, un-brella swinging western sheriff in the 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Second Time Around," co-starring Steve Forrest, Andy Griffith, Julie Adams, and Ken Scott.

Life and love are taken for "Second Time Around" by Debbie Reynolds as the portly Lu Rogers, a young widow who comes West to start a new life for her children. In Charleville, Ariz. in 1911, Debbie finds herself jobless and friendless. Her charming personality and willingness to work gain the respect and the affection of Sheriff Ken Scott, Debbie is front and center as the fastest gal with an umbrella. The West is tame in a new and riotous fashion with Debbie at the reins.

Debbie feels that unless an actress is willing to go along with the "gags" and "stunts" herself, she should never undertake a film of this kind.

"Comedy is many things," says Debbie, "but the one thing it is not is the kind of film making that can be done in long shots of a stand-in performing the action. Jerry Lewis does his own stunts. The West is tame in a new and riotous fashion with Debbie at the reins.

Known in Hollywood as a practical artist without peer, Miss Reynolds outdoes herself in "Second Time Around." Her first fall is down a long flight of steps from a hay loft.

When Boss Thelma Ritter enters her to put one of the calves in the barn, Debbie grabs the first handle—the tail. Calves don't like their tails pulled, so Bossy takes off with Debbie hanging on for dear life. Debbie is finally thrown clear—into a puddle of mud.

Newman Seeking Broadway Show

T. F. Library Reveals New List of Books

Several books have been added to the Twin Falls public library, reports Arthur DeVolder, library director.

Heading the list is a wonder book by the American Heritage publishing company entitled "Horizon Book of the Renaissance." It shows many of the achievements of that time from 1550 to the 1600's. Another book is "The Golden Encyclopedia of Art" a reference book which discusses painting, sculpture, architecture and objects d'art made by man from the prehistoric times to the present century.

For persons interested in all types of birds is "Birds of the World," by Oliver Luther Austin, Jr., and Arthur Singer. It makes a survey of the 27 orders and 155 families of birds.

Another reference item for the family concerned with world affairs is "The Life Pictorial Atlas." A collaboration between the editors of Life magazine and Rand McNally company, it is a colorful book with pictures and maps. The smallest print in the many exploration, weather, sea-level and other charts.

Several sketches of people that are interesting are "Babur, the subject of the first great Mogul emperor descendant of Tamerlane, by Harold Lamb, and "Pleasure by the Boudoir," another travel tale and biographical sketch by Emily Kimbrough about Lisbon, musicians, conductors and Portugal.

For the hobbyist "The Complete Book of Kaiting," by Dick Day, tells all you need to know about the world of kaiting, or if you prefer sailing, "Sew for Your Children," by Mary Johnson is informative.

Adventure can be found in the personal story of a man who is dangerous and loves it. The book is "Jim Thorpe and his Book," by "Companions' Adventure." The new sport of parachuting re-

Youths' Need For Charging Is Questioned

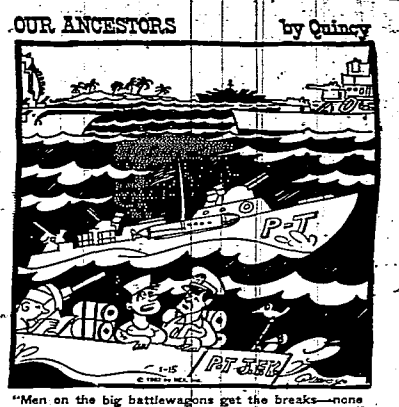

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (AP)—Even some teen-agers aren't sure that their own charge accounts are the thing to have.

University of Massachusetts extension people recently interviewed 52 girls and their parents in nine cities. These researchers found that only one out of three girls felt that a charge account would be a valuable experience in learning to handle money. Another third said "it depends on an individual's judgment and on her willingness to accept the responsibility.

The rest thought parental concern should be necessary. Parents, apparently, thinking of bills they might have to pay, were even more cautious. Their reasons were several.

A teen-ager lacks the ability to decide what she needs and what's a luxury. Credit doesn't teach a child to save before buying. It's bad to start the credit habit too early and parents should take care of teenagers' needs.

Take It From Kathy

By KATHY PETERSON

Dear Kathy: I read your column about wearing bright nail polish. You said red is most for the lights, wearing bright and signs that carry messages involving danger. You said that red screams "Look at me, please look." Do you think that anyone who wears a red dress, red shoes, etc. is screaming "Look at me, please look." I'm dangerous?

You also said that 13-year-olds do not usually have well-groomed nails and hands. I disagree with both. I have perfect nails and smooth, clean hands.

Dear 16-Year-Old: Slow down! Don't confuse the issue by misinterpreting the case.

Red is used for important signs and danger signals because it stands out and demands attention.

A girl whose ankles were her poorest feature would be foolish to spotlight them with red shoes, because she was trying to distract attention from her feet. Red shoes would not normally choose a red dress. Bright nail polish shouldn't be worn unless you have manicured nails and smooth, clean hands.

If you invite attention by using a brilliant color, make sure you are emphasizing an attractive feature.

R. S.: Applaud for your well-groomed hands.

Sport Coats Have Become Must For Children and Businessmen

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Stanley Blacker doesn't claim to have invented sports jackets since he's only about 60 years old and the British have been wearing them since 1858 when the New-England discovered that Albin could be both cold and damp.

But he does believe his reworked and improved industry version took over the family business eight years ago with a new coatcept in merchandising that made boys want to wear sports jackets to school and men want to wear them to work.

What he did was to step into a field where a man bought a sports jacket every 20 years or so and turn out so many new models in so many shapes, sizes and colors that a man developed an inferiority complex if he didn't have the proper jacket for the proper occasion.

When back-to-school buying started in the Fall Blacker was ready with a new line of medium-weight jackets. When Christmas rolled around there he was again. For winter vacations there was a line of cruise wear.

In the spring there were lightweight quibblers.

In the old days a man might buy two sports jackets, one light, the other heavy for days when the snow was drifting. The painless way to get him to buy more, Blacker decided, was to present a complete set of new jackets to arouse the possessive instinct.

During a year Blacker will present as many as 1,500 different jackets ranging all the way from lightweight linen to Shetland. The Fall line alone will run from 50 to 80 selections in what can only be described as a wide variety of sizes and colors.

Once in a while a particular item will be such a standout it will run away with the market and Blacker will call it a "winner." One of these was the English coat, a blend of washed stripes of red, blue and green. It sold 7,000 before Blacker realized it.

Blacker combes the world for the new ideas and is off to Europe shortly to see what's new there. The clothing market being "black" it, these ideas will appear in the 1963 spring line.

Use of Party Space Is Important

Just as party foods strain the caloric limits of the modern diet, so do elaborate parties strain the limits of the modern home. The trick is to plan the best use of the space, according to the type of party.

If you are giving a cocktail party, for example, lack of space is no hindrance. In fact, the sure road to success is to invite three guests for each square foot of floor space. On the other hand, this same formula spells disaster at a buffet supper, especially if you include growing children.

When planning a buffet for a sizable group, successful hostesses anticipate the traffic pattern as a key to placement of serving tables.

They can safely predict that at least one guest will bottleneck another guest for a long conversation spout in front of the table.

If a table is set at one end of a small room, two or three talkative guests can effectively block the others from dining into the goodies. For this reason, some hostesses prefer to place the serving table against a long wall between dining and living rooms. Another party-giver points to the advantages of dividing the serving of edibles where a floor plan is chopped into small rooms (see page 10).

At her annual amorgaboard, guests pick up a plate, napkin and fork and the hot tidbits at a table in the dining room; at another table in the parlor, other varieties of tempting open sandwiches.

Potables are dispensed in a third place, a dry den.

This arrangement keeps people circulating and avoids a traffic jam in any one room, she says.

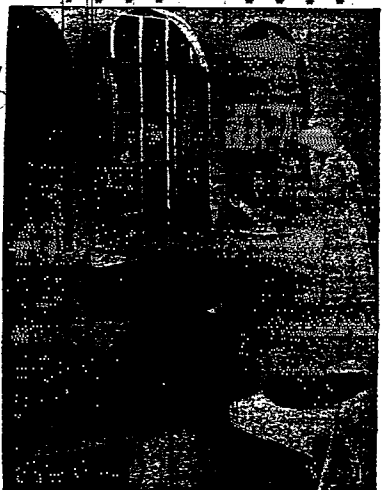

Where people can sit down to dinner more comfortably if the table is not crowded with serving dishes set by the food on an adjacent table or buffet and serve from here, letting guests carry their plates to the dinner table.

For many the most satisfactory solution is to entertain small groups of two or four at more frequent intervals. Even the thickest dining area looks gay and inviting when you set out the best jackets ranging all the way from lightweight linen to Shetland.

Handyman Gets Little Rest

There's no rest for the handyman who owns an old house. It may have colonial charm. It could be a house that Washington had slept in or a house that has been owned by farmers. If the house is old it needs upkeep, repairs or remodeling, or all three.

A man adept with crowbar and hammer would do well to find out what the little rooms meant when they are buying an old house. He may find a lot of things that he can't do without. These things will echo in his ears for a long time to come, especially during winter when the family hibernates indoors.

It's the little beginning with hammer and chisel that can lead to mallet and axe. A man who dug out a corner cupboard at his wife's suggestion could find that she visualizes a fireplace in that area. Women can dream bigger than Blending.

A wife who urges the purchase of a house with the idea of making a few changes should remember that major structural changes require a plan, and a few more gallons than she'll find in the tool belt she gave her husband for Christmas. A big project requires:

Miss Helen McCully

Former Food Editor Of McCall's Magazine

Food Consultant

Food serving today is a complex, challenging field. It's a business—and an art. It is one of the nation's largest industries . . . yet every transaction is a personal matter. Few things interest people as much as what they eat.

The housewife today must be chef . . . merchant . . . nutritionist . . . executive, and all-around "doctor of food."

This series of messages by the Independent Meat company, producers of "Falls Brand" meats, will be brought to you by Miss Helen McCully, president of McCully and Associates, Food Consultants. Miss McCully was food editor of McCall's Magazine for thirteen years and is recognized as one of America's leading food authorities on meal planning, recipe creation and testing. She is an author of many widely accepted cook books and, at present, is advisor to a great many of the nation's largest food packers.

Most everyone likes to keep up with modern trends and this applies to foods as well as other areas of today's living. New ways to show off old favorites, easy methods of preparation, foods that make ahead and keep well . . . all these are goals of busy homemakers.

In the series that follows, Miss McCully will present a great many pointers and profitable serving ideas. It is our sincere belief that you will enjoy reading and clipping every one of them for future reference.

Pot Roast

- 3- to 4-pound Falls Brand pot roast
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 garlic clove
- 1 carrot
- 1 onion
- 1/4 cup water or beef consomme
- 3/4 cup commercial sour cream
- 3 tablespoons flour
- Juice from 1/2 lemon

Season the beef with salt and pepper. Get out a heavy skillet, add meat, and brown all sides over a high heat. Add finely-chopped garlic, sliced carrot, coarsely-chopped onion to skillet. Cook about 3 minutes.

Turn the heat low and add water or consomme (the latter makes a richer tasting dish). Stir in sour cream, cover tightly, and cook very, very slowly for 2 to 2 1/2 hours of until beef is tender.

Lift meat out of the skillet onto a hot platter. Mix flour with 1/4 cup water smoothly. Stir into skillet mixture and cook about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Last of all, add lemon juice. Serve hot with slices of the pot roast to 4, even 6.

Julia Meade Trying Movies

NEW YORK, Jan. 12 (AP)—Television's Julia Meade, mistress of the smiling soliloquy in parades, carousels and Colgate's, is building an acting career for herself far removed from the world of TV commercials.

The ravishing redhead has been an adornment of the Ed Sullivan show for nearly nine years but has never been satisfied just to be a pretty come-on for sponsor's products. She has handed out her talents in Broadway plays, summer stock and film work to rule a starting role in a new Columbia picture, "Zoltz."

Miss Meade plays opposite Tom Poston in "Zoltz," which is ex-

"It's amazing what TV has done to make names for people like me," said Miss Meade. "I think my audiences come to see me not out of curiosity but out of real affection. I have a sweet, lovely contact with my audiences that not every actor or actress has."

Before going to Hollywood to make "Zoltz," Miss Meade had a very successful run in the role of "The Bells are Ringing" at a restaurant-theater in Cedar Grove, N.J. Her varied experience in summer theaters and tent productions of "The Palama Game" has proved that her name has strong audience appeal.

New Furniture Shows Greater Variety

Somewhere between orthodox and college tuition, there should come a setup in the pressure on family finances that frustrate our dreams of renovating the living room.

If you have reached that enviable state where you can back up a dream with action, you're in rare luck this year. New collections at the International Home Furnishings market in Chicago which will be in stores by spring show's greater variety than ever.

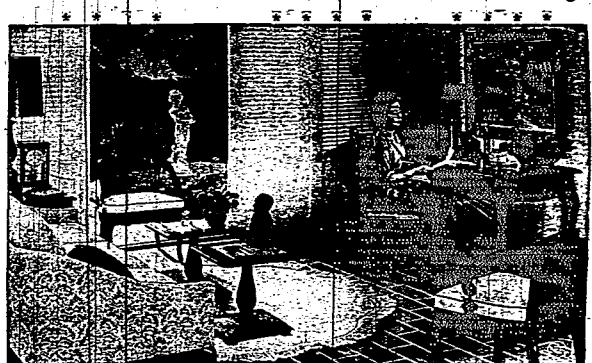

For one thing, styling is considerably rooted in the past so that additions might be made to an existing interior without looking like mismatched. Finish, too, often distressed or antiqued, are warm and have a "homey" quality.

The greater number of interesting individual pieces is heartening news to the homeowner who wants just a piece or two to fresh-up a room.

Other examples are decorative hanging shelves, mirrors framed to team with a bedroom dresser or a hall console, hand-painted occasional chairs that might pull up to a dining table, a conversational group of arm chairs, and plenty of the small "bunching" tables smoothly styled with inlaid or parquetry tops and frequently with slanted, pedestal bases. Useful in many locations, two or three of these tables join together to form a new-looking replacement for the old coffee table.

More curio cabinets and table stands to choose from hark back to an earlier era but are proportioned and finished with today's home in mind.

One of the frustrations of furniture shopping is finding just the piece you've read or heard about. It's a pleasure to add now that some of the nicest furniture is made by a large manufacturer with national distribution. If a store doesn't carry a sampling of all the designs, it should at least have pictures and be able to order what you want.

ROMANTIC NEW FURNITURE with a French accent features interesting variety in design. The writing table-desk, pedestal tables and cane-backed pull-up chairs would fit into many backgrounds. Designed by Henry and David Warren, the pieces borrow motifs from 18th century France.

Margaret O'Brien Is Back at MGM for First Time in Decade

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP) — Margaret O'Brien is back at MGM for the first time in a decade, but she wasn't little Maggie any more. She was Margaret O'Brien, a stunning actress of 23 years. "I'll never be able to lie about my age; too many people know it. Married two years to advertising man Robert Allen, she has successfully escaped the sweet little moppet category.

But her return to MGM had her leaving a misjudged nurse who tried to seduce Dr. Kildare, Richard Chamberlain. What makes the event notable is that her second movie after the tear-jerking "Journey for Margaret" was "Dr. Quinn, the Criminal Case." Dr. Kildare, then Lew Ayres, was away during the war, and the elder moppet was carrying on the series.

"That was when I first met Lionel Barrymore," Margaret recalled. "He was very nice to me — even made me rag dolls. We got along very well together."

She followed with such films as "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Jane Eyre," "Big City," "Music for Millions," "Our Vines Have Ten-

TV Actress Makes Capri Pants 'Live'

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP) — It isn't enough that women figuratively wear the pants in TV families. Now they are wearing them literally.

One slip of a girl, Mary Tyler Moore, has become a national heroine to feminine viewers by wearing capri pants each week on "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

She is hailed by distaff fans as a latter day Carrie Nation—all because of her proclivity for queering her slippers into those confounded capri pants.

To the uninitiated, capris are snug, trouser-like garments which cling to their wearer like a second coat of skin. This is fine if the girl has a figure like Mary's. But as many a disenchanted husband can attest, not all females are so happily endowed.

"My capri pants are a trademark," the pretty brunette explained.

"Most television wives greet their husbands on the air in a cocktail dress, high heels, jewelry, nylons and a beautiful hairdo. "Husbands watch these shows and then complain to their wives, suggesting that they should get all gussied up too."

"I get lots of mail from women thanking me for showing what housewives really wear at home. They love to see me walking around in capris, a sweater and had befallen her in the MGM days. She never quite succeeded until a couple of years ago when she did a Playhouse 90 with Tony Randall.

Since then she has kept busy with TV dramas and summer stock. Last summer she toured with James MacArthur in the sexy farce "Under the Yum-Yum Trees." Recently did an "Adventures in Paradise" in which she played a hard-drinking heiress. Yes, our Maggie has come a long way.

"I'll probably keep it," Miss Taylor said with a smile. "I've learned to love it. But it better stop itching. It itches under makeup and without. Why? My doctor tells me because the skin is contracting as the old wound is healing. It has taken a long, long time, though."

"Mary wears the same ensemble at home," she says.

She owns more than 40 pairs of capri pants; 20 summer weight, 20 winter weight and a few suitable for both seasons.

Teen-Ager: If You're Overweight Now, Steps Must Be Taken to Reduce Sensibly

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 12 (AP) — Teen-age marriage is the greatest threat to the family in the United States today, a recognized marriage counselor says.

Dr. David R. Mace, executive director of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, believes marriage in this country is becoming repetitive and teen-age marriages are largely the cause.

Dr. Mace finds nothing in favor of teen-age marriage because a teen-ager is not sufficiently mature.

"When he finds himself unhappy in his marriage, he simply terminates it and forms the habit of changing marriage partners throughout his life," Dr. Mace says.

He is worried about the trend toward early and multiple marriages because "when you sabotage the family unit, you sabotage the culture."

U.S. children are bulldozed into early maturity by parents eager for them to be "advanced" and by commercial interests eager to sell their products, says Dr. Mace, who believes children should be allowed to develop at their own rate.

"Thus we find the child, at a time when he needs to be left alone to figure out his own values and build up his confidence, forced into situations which bring strains and anxiety he should not have to endure."

Dr. Mace criticizes parents for granting too much freedom too soon.

"Elders ultimately respect you when you have a mind of your own," he said.

EMOTIONAL PROBLEMS sometimes drive teen-agers to over-indulge in fat-rich foods. Youth is advised to keep weight down during teen-age years to prevent overweight tendencies later.

Expensive Home Is Natural

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 12 (AP) — When 'teen-age singing stars build homes they don't cut corners.

Take Fabian last name: Forbe.

To protect his parents and two younger brothers from the elements he has had constructed a modest little 15-room colonial-style shanty on more than three acres of Berlin, N. J., real estate.

Because Fabie baby, as he is known in certain circles, also plans to make his permanent home in New Jersey, there has been some duplication in the house that Fabie built.

For instance, there are two recreation rooms, two dens and two kitchens. In addition the 18-year-old Fabian has provided the family with a wine cellar and four bathrooms.

It is this no evidence enough that he is a considerable son, been in mind he also has made accommodations for separate game rooms.

"There is a gymnasium for his own exercise, and a bar for his father. Sons like these are not easy to come by.

While Fabian's ideas of housing may be construed as flamboyant, the boy himself has not changed. Three years ago he was a quiet, well-mannered youngster on his arrival in Hollywood, not given to flights of egotism.

He hasn't changed a bit after six movies, 18 records and five albums.

On the set of his new movie, "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation," in which he costars with Jimmy Stewart and Maureen O'Hara of 20th Century-Fox, Fabian was self-effacing and reluctant to discuss his private life.

"Goah," he said, "I read about all my romance and engagements in magazines and can't believe my eyes."
