Livestock Group Names Five Men To Hall of Fame

Five prominent Magic Valley residents, T. C. Bacon, O. Butler, H. E. Gantefinger, James Laidlaw (deceased) and F. V. Morrison have been elected to the Southern Idaho Livestock hall of fame announced by J. L. Eaton, hall of fame president. These men will be honored at the organization's third annual banquet March 10 in the Turf club by receiving plaques with their names inscribed. In addition to receiving individual plaques, their names will be inscribed on a permanent plaque that bears the names of all persons elected to the hall of fame.

ONE DEAD

KIMBERLY, Feb. 4 (Sunday)—At least one person was reported killed early Sunday morning in an automobile collision near Red Cap corner on highway 20. The Twin Falls police said the coroner has been called, but there were no details available on the accident. State police reported a car and truck collided.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—African chief Kwame Nkrumah is expected to talk with U.N. delegate Van Nuys today. Nkrumah is expected to discuss the situation in Ghana and the role of the United Nations in Africa.

Senator Asks Showdown in Defense Case

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Sen. Frank Church, R., Idaho, today called for a showdown in a case between Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara and a Senate investigating subcommittee. Church said he would like to see the two sides face each other in a public hearing.

Five prominent Magic Valley residents, T. C. Bacon, O. Butler, H. E. Gantefinger, James Laidlaw (deceased) and F. V. Morrison have been elected to the Southern Idaho Livestock hall of fame.

Terrified Indians Shiver Awaiting "Doomsday," but First Day Is Quiet

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 3 (AP)—Thousands of terrified Indians shivered through a wintry night under the stars tonight awaiting doomsday calamities they feared would be unleashed by a group of planets. But as the first day of the three-day doomsday period passed quietly, an increasing number of stargazers began finding mitigating influences in the heavens.

Filer Pianist Takes Tempe Music Honor

Karen Kirkman, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Kirkman, Filer, won first place in the Tempe finals of the Twin Falls music festival Saturday at Twin Falls junior high school. Miss Kirkman was selected by a panel of four judges for her performance on the piano. She will compete in the state Tempe scholarship contest here in April.

Bill Is Signed Easing Taxes For Du Pont

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Kennedy signed into law today a bill to ease the tax impact of an antitrust decision against the DuPont company. The bill, H.R. 10000, was signed by the President at 10:30 a.m. today.

Core to Resume Sit-ins at Chicago

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (AP)—Core of Racial Equality Action demonstrators said today they will resume a full-scale all-night sit-in at the University of Chicago today. The demonstrators are protesting the university's handling of the case of James Ray, a white supremacist who was charged with the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Niagara Falls Ice Jam Eases

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—A shore-to-shore ice jam in the Great Lakes region of the Niagara River has eased today as the temperature reached the 30-degree mark. The ice jam had been causing significant problems for shipping and power generation in the area.

News Bulletins

PHILADELPHIA, N.Y., Feb. 3 (AP)—The outcome of a conference by Western Hemisphere nations at Punta del Este was important but the United States should have been more prepared. The conference was held to discuss the situation in Cuba and the role of the United Nations in the Americas.

Importing From Cuba Banned

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Kennedy tightened the U.S. economic squeeze on Cuba today, ordering a complete ban on imports of Cuban products. The action will cost Cuba 35 million dollars a year. Administration officials said the embargo is effective next Wednesday, will be a severe blow to the ability of Prime Minister Fidel Castro to export communist subversion to other Latin-American countries.

Confab Eyes Ways to Help Deter Castro

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Military means to help Latin American nations ward off Cuban Communism are being given high priority in the Panama Canal zone conference today between Pentagon officials and the Caribbean area. The intensive, one-day conference is being held in the Panama Canal zone and is being attended by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Deputy Secretary of State Philip Canine, and other officials.

Too Close

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 3 (AP)—Lai Lih-shan, 76, was jailed three days for his attentions to a woman judge who had found him innocent of embezzlement charges two years ago. The judge, Miss Yang Yung-hui, 28, complained that Lai kept following her around, proposing marriage.

Kennedy to Stress Value Of Learning

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—President Kennedy reportedly stressed the importance of education to the nation's survival, without unveiling any new proposals. Kennedy said that the special education message will spell out in more detail the need as Kennedy sees it for progress already outlined in the state of the union and budget messages.

Paris Is Poised for Expected Uprising

PARIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Tanks were poised outside Paris tonight and more than 25,000 riotous police stood ready in the city to repel the uprising which a great many Frenchmen think will be attempted by the right-wing secret army to break up prospective independence for Algeria. In Algiers and Oran, where the terrorist European underground has gunners in the streets, the army is lined up in an effort to keep Algeria French.

County Aide Resigns Job

RUBERT, Feb. 3 (AP)—The resignation of Anna Grace, Minidoka county treasurer for the past 13 years, was announced Friday by County Clerk Willard Haysward. Her resignation will be effective March 1, when Miss Grace goes to Los Angeles, Calif., to enter private business. She was elected to the office in 1949 and has served continuously since.

Sales of U.S. Goods Urged By Virginian

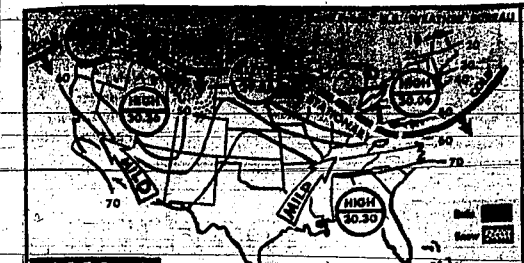

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D., Va., proposed today that Congress direct President Kennedy to sell 20 billion dollars in surplus U.S. goods to the Soviet Union. Byrd said that the sale of surplus goods would help to reduce the U.S. trade deficit and would provide a source of income for the Soviet Union.

Smylee Releases Exchange of Letters With Harding Over Spud Control Plan

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylee sharply rebuked a member of Idaho's congressional delegation today for saying he will not give up the fight against proposed federal controls on the spud industry. Smylee said that the proposed controls would be a disaster for the Idaho potato industry.

Former Army Aide Seeking Texan Office

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 3 (U) Former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker said today his race for governor of Texas is part of his fight against international communism.

"The reason I am running and my platform are the same," he said in a news conference in a committee room off the state house of representatives. "That is the need to defend the United States under God in a struggle for survival against international communism. With nine million others, I want Texas to lead this fight."

Walker surprised state Democratic officials yesterday afternoon by walking into state Democratic headquarters and presenting a $1,000 check in his name on the Democratic ballot at the May 6 primary.

"In answer to questions why he chose to run on the Democratic ticket instead of Republican and about his voting record, Walker said he thought he voted for a Democratic presidential candidate once — Franklin D. Roosevelt — and he remembered voting twice for Republican candidates — Richard M. Nixon in 1950 and Dwight D. Eisenhower either in 1950 or in 1952.

As to why he chose to run on the Democratic ticket instead of the Republican, Walker said: "I entered a race where there was national interest." He said "Well see when the time comes," when asked if he would support other Democratic candidates.

Most of Crop Pay Schedule Set for 1962

Twin Falls county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee Chairman Carl Boyd, announces that producers who participate in the 1962 feed grain program are entitled to payments for diverting acreage from production of corn, barley and grain sorghum.

About half of the payments may be paid in advance when the producer signs up under the program.

The payment provision in the program will be of benefit to growers who are in need of ready cash during spring planting, said Boyd. Program signup runs from Feb. 5 through March 30.

The producer can choose under the program either a cash payment, or a feed grain certificate. Each county will have two county average rates of payment: one for corn, two for grain sorghum and two for barley.

One rate will be based on 59 percent of the county normal yield per acre times the county support rates—respectively, 70 percent for corn and 80 percent for grain sorghum and two for barley.

The second rate will be based on 60 percent of the county normal yield per acre times the applicable county support rates.

Farm payment rates will vary with the farms' productivity in the county average and number of acres diverted.

Minimum acreage for diversion from corn or grain sorghum will be figured from "farm base" determined from average acreage in 1959-60.

Minimum reduction is 20 percent of base. Maximum is based on size of "farm base."

Interested farmers should contact the county AGCS office. The program is voluntary.

Launching of Fourth Tiro Satellite Is Set

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (AP)—The space agency plans to launch the fourth Tiro weather satellite this week.

The national aeronautics and space administration said the launching was scheduled "in the near future."

Tiro IV will be almost identical to its predecessors except for a considerably improved lens system for one of its two television cameras.

The lens should reduce distortion and provide a considerably clearer picture image, while preserving the relatively large coverage of the earlier satellites.

The weather bureau announced that the fourth Tiro IV goes into orbit, information from it would be on the way to weather bureau stations around the world.

The bureau said that cloud photographs sent to Earth by the first three Tiro satellites on many occasions have revealed information that led to significant improvement in current weather analyses.

Rupert Area Spud Grower Program Set

RUPERT, Feb. 3—A three-day potato crop schedule for Feb. 6-8 with problems pertinent to the area.

These will include irrigation, cultivation, weed control, pest control, storage and marketing.

A program on certification will be held Friday afternoon, Feb. 15, by the Idaho Crop Improvement association, with personnel from the Aberdeen experiment station and extension service specialists teaching the session.

Sponsoring groups for the clinic include the Potato Association committees from Blaine and Cassia counties, the Idaho Potato Producers and Marketing association and the University of Idaho extension service.

Virgil S. Cross, potato extension specialist for the two counties, installed the two committees to selling up the seasons.

More than 100,000 pounds of beets were grown in the Mini-Cassia area this year, he said, showing an increase of some 9,000 acres. A new process, that of dehydrating the pulp for cattle feed, was added to the work of the Mini-Cassia.

Dr. Milne said, with Branchville, said, with more than 20,000 tons expected to be packed before the run ends.

Some 242 employees worked at the plant during the run, he said. The year-round maintenance crew consists of 10 persons including office help.

Idaho Court Raps Benson Over Action

BOISE, Feb. 3 (AP)—Att. Gen. Frank L. Benson has again been reprimanded by the Idaho supreme court for his actions in a case involving the state insurance fund.

The supreme court denied Benson's request for a rehearing in the case and told Benson he was guilty of unprofessional conduct.

The court reaffirmed its earlier decision which upheld the third district court in ruling against Benson's contention that the insurance fund could not pay for legal services of Glenn A. Coughlan, a Boise attorney.

"The attorney general's brief on petitions for rehearing," the high court said, "contains derogatory charges and insinuations against Mr. Coughlan."

"These improper effusions are not supported by anything in the record. Such use of the brief as a vehicle for heaping calumny upon the character of a fellow attorney we condemn as unprofessional."

Benson was rebuked earlier by the court as a result of a brief he filed to support his petition for a rehearing. In that brief, Benson said that if the court's decision in an earlier case involving the power of the state board of examiners was not reversed, "Our constitutional form of government will ultimately be destroyed and a dictatorship established."

The brief was stricken by the court from its records. The court said it was "in tone generally unprofessional, undignified and unworthy as a document to be issued over the signature of the attorney general of the state of Idaho."

Detective Is Not Pleased At 'Coverup'

The opinion from the office of the Idaho attorney general's office quoted by the Associated Press concerning the release by an Ada county justice of the Peace of a man wanted by Twin Falls authorities on a felony charge was biased since no cover-up attempt by Richard Prater, city detective.

Prater said the opinion quoted was given in a case two months ago, adding that it dealt with "an entirely different situation."

"Everyone has the right to bail unless he is accused of a capital crime punishable by death and I have no argument with that particular point," Prater said.

"The question in this particular case is whether the Ada county judge had the right to change bail already granted by another justice of the peace," he asserted.

Prater admitted that bond could be changed by a magistrate in the case of a misdemeanor but "not in the case of a felony."

The case in question concerns Carl Exater, Boise, who is charged with grand larceny. Exater is accused of killing a hat-dryer, valued at $300, from R. H. Matthews, a Twin Falls beauty shop operator, on Dec. 13.

Twin Falls Justice of the Peace Robert E. Penno issued a warrant for his arrest and set bond at $1,000. His office arrested Exater and he appeared before Ada county Justice of the Peace Frank V. Chaffin Monday.

Judge Chaffin released Exater on his own recognizance to appear in Twin Falls on the charge of "Twin Falls authorities want to know why you let loose Exater into custody when they received word of his release."

"This judge had no right to disregard the bond set by Judge Penno and release Exater on his own recognizance," Prater maintains.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN, Dr. Donald Milne, discusses plans for the 1962 Red Cross fund and membership drive in March with Mrs. Albert Lulloff, secretary of the campaign.

Red Cross Fund Drive Here Being Planned by Leaders

Optimism is voiced for the past year the Red Cross blood program has saved the community $45,000. He explained this amount was the difference between the cost and expenses of the Red Cross and blood sold by commercial blood banks.

Dr. Milne stated that the drive will begin the first of March and will continue throughout the month.

Chairman of the local chapter is Robert King who has furnished space in the Magic Valley drugstore for the fund campaign. Organizational work will be done in February in preparation for the drive.

King said members throughout the community level the Red Cross hasn't been able to provide in past years because of lack of funds are caring for aged persons in the home and Junior Red Cross courses.

King pointed out that in the past year the Red Cross blood program has saved the community $45,000. He explained this amount was the difference between the cost and expenses of the Red Cross and blood sold by commercial blood banks.

Dr. Albert Lulloff, secretary of the Red Cross said, "The Red Cross isn't necessarily a disaster organization as a lot of people think, but it does many things on a day to day basis."

"Dr. Milne, serving as chairman of the campaign for the first time, is married and has two children. He moved here in November, 1961, from Forest Grove, Ore., where he was graduated from Pacific university college of optometry."

Dr. Milne met with Mrs. Lulloff Saturday at the campaign headquarters in the Magic Valley drugstore to begin organizational work on the month-long drive.

Meeting Held by Toastmistresses

Mrs. William J. Lanning and Mrs. Carl Orbert were introduced as guests when the Twin Falls Toastmistresses club met Friday afternoon in the Bitterroot hotel.

Table topics, "American traditions and customs," were chosen by Mrs. Norman Herzinger, and Mrs. W. R. HARRIS presided at the meeting.

Members and guests participated in the parliamentary lesson conducted by Mrs. Garnet Tobin and Mrs. Hugh Call was in charge of the lexicology feature.

Mrs. B. B. Isley, toastmistress, introduced the speakers, Mrs. Kenneth Shaw and Mrs. C. H. Mitchell. Mrs. Jenny Stewart was welcomed as a new member.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 16 in the Bitterroot hotel.

The Horse Club, Jackson, Nev., was awarded $1,610 plus $64 interest and $400 to cover attorney fees from Ralph C. Stewart in a judgment filed Friday by District Judge Theron Ward.

The judgment was for a $1,610 promissory note Stewart signed with the club March 10, 1961, and had failed to pay.

H. N. Jewell, Twin Falls attorney, represented the Horse Club.

REPRESENTATIVES MEET SHONONE, Feb. 3—Room representatives for the PFA will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Lincoln school cafeteria.

John Severson will be in charge of the study group lesson. Plans will be made for helping teachers with valentine parties.

Plea Issued to Group Seeking Aid for Youths

BOISE, Feb. 3—In a letter to members of the Idaho State Parents and Teachers association, teacher and parent organizations were asked to use their moral force to help stores curb shoplifting by juveniles.

The appeal was made by Mrs. Afton Falter, Pocatello, president of the state organization.

J. Tim Brinman, director of the Idaho Retailers association, commented on "the letter," said "Shopping by juveniles has reached proportions which make it a serious social problem which the stores cannot solve without help."

Today more than 35 percent of those apprehended as shoplifters in Idaho stores are juveniles.

"This number will grow unless those responsible for the moral instruction of youngsters take a more serious view of theft and the effect which arrest can have on the entire course of a juvenile's life," said Brinman.

Check Urged For Support On '62 Crop

Producers of matting-barley who want price support on the 1962 crop are urged to file check with the agricultural stabilization and conservation county committee before signing the card. Carl Boyd, Twin Falls county ASOS chairman.

Under certain conditions, such producers will be able to qualify for price support without reducing crop acreage under the 1962 program. Signing up for the program is from Feb. through March 30.

Boyd emphasized today that producers must file an application to participate form with the local ASOS office to be eligible for the exemption. The exemption applies to a 14 state area. Idaho included.

Some conditions governing the exemptions are: producers must have planted matting barley for commercial purposes during one of the five years in the 14 state area; they must plant only the acceptable varieties in 1962; the 1962 barley acreage must not exceed the 1961 acreage; the 1962 base acreage; and the 1962 corn and grain sorghum acreage may not exceed the 1959-60 base acreage.

Acceptable barley varieties under the program include Atlas, Barberry, Breeze, Breeze II, Nalza II, Hammond, Hines Ham, Idaho Club, Kindred, Larker, Manchuria, Montcalm, Moravian, OAC, Odebarber, Odebarber Parkland, Trull, Trophy, White Winter, Winter Club, and Winter Tennessee.

Barley producers not qualifying under the matting barley provisions, must cooperate in the 1962 program and divert a minimum of 20 per cent of their barley acreage to conserving uses to be eligible for price support on normal yields in 1962. They will receive a diversion payment on the basis of normal production in their area times the county support price.

Bliss Grange Votes Couple To Fill Posts

BURLY, Feb. 3 — Mrs. Ealo Butler and Donald Butler, executive committee member for two years at the Grange meeting Thursday night. They will replace Mr. and Mrs. John Ayres, who have moved.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Bob Butler, master. A communication from the Cancer Society regarding a fund raising available was noted and the group decided to ask for one to show at future meetings whenever the file was needed to extend an invitation to the Gooding Grange to meet with the Bliss Grange at its meeting on Thursday, March 1. A special program will be held.

The program, under direction of Mrs. Blaine Steie, lecturer, consisted of a debate between Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Steie on the theme of the debate was "Who was the most important American during the administration of Abraham Lincoln?"

Butler and Harold Haltnine spoke on the prospective school building program.

A social will be held at the Feb. 10 meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jay Cloutier.

Gem Voters Face Clear Choice in Senate Hopfulness

BOISE, Feb. 3 — Idaho voters face the prospect next fall of a clear cut battle between conservative and liberal philosophies in the effort by Republican John T. Hawley to oust Democratic Sen. Frank Church.

Church is an avowed liberal and Hawley, a Boise attorney, left little doubt of his conservative views in his candidacy during the past week.

Republican leaders believe that Idahoans, if offered a specific choice, will repudiate the liberal program of the Kennedy administration.

Church has given strong support to the President's program, including medical care for the aged under social security and federal aid to education.

Hawley has described himself as a conservative, strongly opposed to what he said is the trend toward increasing reliance on the federal government to solve state and local problems.

In his announcement of candidacy the 41-year-old Hawley voiced sharp criticism of Church for advocating what Hawley termed "every gadget spending plan and every bureaucratic power-grab measure that has come along."

Hawley's attacks on Church will no doubt thoroughly delight the right-wing element of Idaho's Republican party. But it is whether that support is sufficient to carry him to victory is doubtful.

The 37-year-old Church is a vigorous campaigner and, like Hawley, he is young and ardent. But he has shown, by his action in defending the controversial wilderness bill, that he is not a simple conservative.

Church Picks 3 Members to Assume Jobs

SHOSHONE, Feb. 3 — At the annual meeting of the Episcopal church parish Mrs. Ella Vredenburg was elected to the position of secretary on the bishop's committee, and James Wallace and James Campbell were selected for the position of treasurer.

Jack Miles was named delegate to the annual convention of the Episcopal church in Idaho, which meets in Twin Falls next month. William Heux was elected alternate.

The congregation planned a preaching and teaching mission during the week of March 11-16. Preaching throughout the state will conduct the mission and the public is invited.

Very Rev. Melchior Stuedemann of the Episcopal-theological seminary in Mexico City will preach at the mission rally at 8 p.m. Feb. 21.

Reports were heard from church officers and a budget for 1962 was adopted. It was noted that the church membership had doubled in the past five years.

Citrus Crop Not Hurt by Freeze

WESLACO, Tex., Feb. 3 (AP) — A citrus expert estimated Saturday that 85 per cent of the Lower Rio Grande valley citrus trees escaped damage during the early January freeze.

The estimate is by Dr. P. W. Rohrbach, director of the Texas A. and M. Citrus center here, who is the first expert opinion given on tree damage since the freezing temperatures hit the area Jan. 8.

An official estimate is to be made by a special committee now making surveys of valley orchards was not expected for another two weeks.

Attorney Named To Defend Girls

BURLY, Feb. 3 — Idaho's Gov. Robert E. Smylie will be featured speaker at the annual Lincoln day dinner here Feb. 14, according to J. H. May, chairman of the Republican central committee.

The dinner is to be a fund-raising event, May said, at 7 p.m. at St. Nicholas' parish hall.

Turnout Is Pleasing to Evangelists

"All we pastors, all the campaign committee chairmen, have been delighted at the size of the crowds and the distances from which they have continued to come," said the Rev. Robert Schrockenberg, general chairman of the Appelman, Maglo Valley campaign.

The campaign, sponsored by area churches of 14 different denominations, moves into its second week.

Monday and Tuesday evening the Appelman campaign moves into the Twin Falls junior high school auditorium.

The message Monday evening will be "The atomic bomb and the end of the world." Tuesday evening the evangelist will speak on "Two voices from beyond the stars."

Beginning Wednesday evening and through Sunday the meetings will be held again in the national square armory.

Wednesday's topic will be "Recreation is God's ultimate answer." Thursday Appelman will speak on "The invasions from heaven." Friday the talk will be "God has no grandchildren." Saturday will be "The second coming of Christ, the Jew, the Gentile." Meetings begin at 7 p.m.

On Sunday Appelman will speak twice, at 3 p.m. he will be giving his story speaking on "From a lawyer to a gospel preacher, Russia, America, the world." First lesson will be "When the saints go marching in."

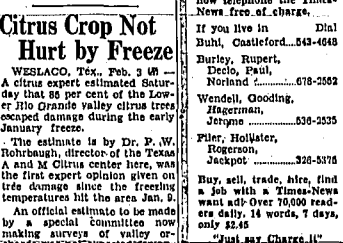

Special groups will be featured on Feb. 27 and 28 — during the week. Monday evening will honor all church members. Tuesday evening will honor women of Maglo Valley.

Wednesday evening is labeled "Fashions for all families" and neighbor night. Thursday evening Maglo Valley men will be honored. Friday evening is a national rally all Sunday school prize contest luncheon. Saturday night will honor high school and junior high school students of the area and principals and teachers.

Ellis Zehr will show pictures Wednesday evening of "Real Mexico," and Saturday evening Appelman will show pictures of "Russian People and Cities." Today behind the Iron Curtain." The show will be in charge for the showing.

Magic-Valley Y-Wives Unite Groups in T.F. YWCA

Program on child care, civil defense, flower arranging, book reviews and jewelry making are but a few that have been presented at meetings of the Magic Valley Young Wives, a YWCA sponsored group in Twin Falls. The organization for young married women was formed when the YWCA saw the need for such a club. Women who were occupied with small children and who had little chance for social activities were provided an opportunity for them. They could meet and talk with other mothers with the same interests and problems.

Scientist Notes "Penalties" of Living 90 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—One of the "penalties" of reaching 90 years, says Dr. Eugene C. Sullivan, is having to "get toned up" to take her for a family celebration of a birthday. But the return far outweighs that small loss to family plans, said Dr. Sullivan, a scientist whose work in glass for more than a century has meant progress in the kitchen sink, commerce, and in man's race into space. The returns he listed included: Friends — "I find I have a lot of them," good health, "as important as anything in life." Yet from the laboratory he supervised came in 1915 the heat-resistant glass ovenware which millions of housewives use daily; later the 20-ton glass dist for the telescope mounted in the Mt. Palomar, Calif., observatory; and more recently, another heat-resistant material developed first for use in rocket nose cones and now made into cookware. All told, he said, the laboratorian through the years have developed some 65,000 formulas, many of them now in use in the government-defense program. Dr. Sullivan, a native of Elgin, Ill., is honorary chairman of the board of the Corning Glass Works, Corning, N.Y., was president from 1928 to 1930 but resigned to return to the lab, and although he no longer is in direct charge of the company's research program still "will but in when I think I can help. He still drives to his office daily. When Dr. Sullivan started, he had one assistant. Today, a staff of more than 400 works in the 12,000 square feet of the research center bearing his name.

House of Dior Features Short Skirts, Checks

PARIS, Feb. 3 (AP)—Extra short skirts and low waists with blouse-like tops and sculptured shapes highlight the spring and summer collection presented by the house of Dior. Designer Marc Bohan in a striking presentation also showed suits of heavy tweed with masculine checks and pinstripes with loose blouses reaching just below the waist, and straight skirts. Early day wear was almost exclusively with black and white checks and white-striped greys. The suits recalled the 1930s in mood, and dresses were definitely from the 1920s. Suits had straight skirts that looked like well-folded oblong paper bags, with ridge stitching hanging out like pressed seams on men's trousers. There were some ultra-low necklines and several dresses had

Food for Americans

By GAYNOR MADDOX

PECAN PIE MUST
Pecans are on the list of plentiful foods for February, according to the U.S. department of agriculture. Furthermore, Mrs. Sophie Douglas, head baker of the department's cafeteria, is a wizard with her pecan pies. Her recipe has been used for 25 years. It makes enough filling for a 10-inch pie or two 7-inch pies. Mrs. Douglas has found that using shallow pans for these sizes produces best results. A deep filling makes the pie too rich. If you use the 9-inch pie pan, pour in a shallow layer of filling and use the rest for tarts.

Pecan Pie
4 eggs
1 cup granulated sugar
Pinch of salt
2 tablespoons plus 1-teaspoon melted butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups dark corn syrup
1 cup pecan halves or pieces
Unbaked pastry shell

One 10-inch OR two 9-inch OR one 9-inch and tarts
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Beat eggs just until blended but not frothy. Add sugar, salt and corn syrup. Last add cooled melted butter and vanilla. Mix just enough to blend. Spread nuts in bottom of pie shell. Pour in filling. Place filled pie in oven. Then turn temperature setting back to 325 degrees F. and bake 50 to 60 minutes until set. Chill. Garnish with half pecans and chilled whipped cream, if desired, or vanilla ice cream.

T.F. SWEEPS GAMES AT CALDWELL, BOISE

Driscoll's Shot in Last Six Seconds Lets Bruins Slip Past Cougars 54-53

CALDWELL, Feb. 3 (AP)—Dave Driscoll leaped from behind a tight screen to send a jump shot through the hoop with six seconds remaining tonight and Twin Falls won its third straight in Southern Idaho conference play 54-53 over Caldwell. The loss was Caldwell's third in 16 games. The Cougars are 5-3 in SIC play. Big Ray McDonald, who was outbounded by Doug Schow and Larry Hawkins, sent

Burley Climbs Past Gooding For 46-34 Win

BURLEY, Feb. 3—The Burley Bobcats spotted their first three quarters and then their stride in the last period to climb past the Gooding Seniors 46-34 tonight. Although the Bobcats led throughout the game, Gooding stayed close and was within three points as the last quarter opened. The victory kept Burley atop the Big Seven conference. Gooding won the preliminary in a thriller.

Glenns Ferry Cops Victory Over Hailey

HAILEY, Feb. 3—The Glenns Ferry Pilots kept their Little Six conference hopes burning tonight as they belted 49-34 the winless Hailey Wolverines. Putting three men in double scoring figures, the Pilots had little trouble with the Hailey Bears 66-57.

Mushers Stay Unbeaten by Nipping Bliss

FAIRFIELD, Feb. 3—The undefeated Camas County Mushers racked up their sixth straight Northwest conference victory tonight by handling the young Bears 66-57.

Shoshone Is Upset Winner Over Bulldozers

KIMBERLY, Feb. 3—The Shoshone Indians continued their late season hot tonight as they stunned the Kimberly Bulldozers 47-41.

Hornets Cop 39-32 Win From Hansen

HANSEN, Feb. 3—Decko's Hornets maintained a consistent offense through the second half to break away from a halftime deadlock and beat the Hansen Vikings 39-32.

Littler Cops Lead in Palm Springs Meet

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 3 (UPI)—Gentleman Gene Littler took over the lead after four rounds of the $100,000 Palm Springs golf marathon today—but had to share the headlines with handsome Dick Mayer, who collected $50,000 for hitting a hole in one. Littler, 37, took a 270 total.

Vikings Dump Wendell by 52-39 Score

WENDELL, Feb. 3—Valley's Vikings cut their "magic number" to one game in the Little Six conference tonight by dumping the Wendell Trojans 52-39. The Vikings had only one more win to clinch at least a tie for the title.

Jerome Beats Frigid Filer In 39-27 Tilt

JEROME, Feb. 3—The Jerome Tigers warmed up toward the end of the game and defeated the still frigid Filer Wildcats 39-27 tonight. The victory set up a crucial meeting for Jerome with Burley next Friday with the Big Seven conference lead hanging in the balance. Burley holds a one-game edge over the second-place Tigers.

UIESES TOPS 16-FOOT POLE VAULT TWICE

Marine Clears 16 feet, 3/4 Inch to Break Mark Set Friday in New York

BOSTON, Feb. 3 (AP) — John Uelses, the marine in orbit, crashed the 16-foot pole vault barrier again tonight and in the process shattered his own day-old record with a fantastic vault of 16 feet, 3/4 inch. A crowd of 13,417 on hand for the Boston A. A. games in Boston garden sat glued to their seats as the 24-year-old leatherneck corporal went over with perhaps a half inch to spare on his first try.

Only last night in the Millrose Games in New York, the handsome crew-cut from the Quantico base became the first vaulter in history to get over 16 feet. In that one he cleared 16 feet, 4 inches. He almost was eliminated when the crossbar was 15 feet 6 inches. After going over 14, 14-6 and 15 with ease, Uelses missed twice at 15 feet, 4 inches. But he made it on his third try.

Then it went up to 15 feet, 9 1/2 inches and he hit it the first time again. The bar was raised to 16 feet 3/4 inches. At first, the officials said it was 16-1 and it was announced that way when he made it. But a measurement showed it to be a quarter-inch higher of the 16 feet, 1 inch.

Last night, when Uelses cleared 16 feet, 4 inches the crossbar was knocked down by a rush of bystanders to congratulate him in the pit. AAI chief Dan Ferris at the time said there was some question of recognition because it was not remeasured as required in the rules.

They took no chances this time. No one was allowed near the pit until AAI officials climbed the ladder and spent three minutes with a tape measure.

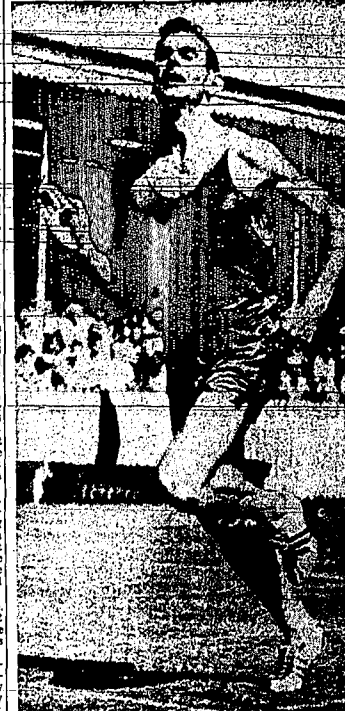

"I was very tired," said Berlin-born Uelses, "and I almost stopped on my way down the runway because I felt something in my leg."

"But then I decided to go on because I already had slopped once."

Last year, in this same meet, Uelses managed to clear just 14 feet for a tie fourth. He has been a 15-footer for only one year.

A week ago in Washington, he soared over 15 feet, 10 inches, which broke Don Bragg's indoor record of 15 feet, 9 1/2 inches. That also equaled George Davics' pending world outdoor record. But indoor records are not recognized by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

"Well, do 17 feet some day," said his coach, Aubrey Dooley, himself a 15-foot, 8-inch vaulter from Oklahoma State.

TWO WORLD RECORDS WERE BROKEN Saturday by Peter Snell, 22-year-old New Zealander, who hit the tape in one minute, 45.1 seconds in the half-mile run at Lancaster Park, Christchurch, New Zealand. He bettered by 37 seconds the world mark set by Tom Courtney of the United States in 1957. Snell, 17, is left. He also topped the world record for the 800 meters held by Roger Moens, Belgium. He covered the distance in 1:44.3, clipping 1.4 seconds off Moens' mark. (AP wirephoto via radio from Wellington, New Zealand)

Open Net Meets Are Sidestepped

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (AP) — The U. S. Lawn Tennis association sidestepped a decision today on open competition between amateurs and professionals.

Instead, the 70 delegates passed a resolution favoring "the principle of national self-determination in the matter of open competition."

George Barnes, president, said this would give the U.S.T.A. delegate a free hand in dealing with the question at the International Lawn Tennis Federation meeting in Paris in July. Some nations are expected to insist upon open competition.

Denver Youth Takes National Skate Title

BOSTON, Feb. 3 (UPI) — Monty Hoyt, a Denver teenager, was crowned prince of the nations figure skaters today, winning a title vacated by a tragic plane crash just one year ago. The 17-year-old Hoyt captured the senior men's 1952 championship in a leaping, whirling free skating flourish that at least temporarily stilled the title hope of the youngest skater in the history of national senior competition.

Hoyt, representing the Broadmoor Skating Club, was the first major champion skater to win the four-day competition that ends Sunday with selection of the nation's new figure skating queen.

Schoolboy Hoyt won the crown taken last year by Denver's third national title in four years. He was national novice champion last year and won the junior championship in Bratislava last February.

New Zealander Tops Half-Mile Record

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand, Feb. 3 (AP) — Powell Peter Snell, a 22-year-old New Zealander with a tremendous finishing kick, bettered the listed world records for the 800 meters and half mile today — the second and third he has broken in eight days.

His graceful rhythmic stride carried him to a time of 1:44.3 in the half mile and 1:44.3 for the shorter 800 meters bettering the old marks by more than a second. Only a week ago the curly-haired speedy surfer, a Christchurch resident, had won a 1952 Olympic title in the 800 meters, clipping one-fourth of a second off Herb Elliott's world mile record.

TAX QUESTIONS are answered throughout the year, but now is the time the agents at the bureau of internal revenue get a flood of them. Charles Olsen, right, answers questions concerning taxes for Claude Hissalo. Each year at this time the citizens flood the office with questions about tax-getting ready to make out their final forms. (Staff photo-engraving)

Internal Revenue Agents Asked Similar Questions Every Year

Each year at this time the rush begins. Taxpayers, clutching scribbled notes and government instruction pamphlets, stream into the bureau of internal revenue office, located in the Sierra Life building in Laywood shopping center, and ask many questions concerning income tax that puzzle them.

The bureau's employees are prepared for the flood of questions and patiently answer them from year to year, but Charles Olsen, senior internal revenue agent, has pointed out to the Times-News that many of the questions asked throughout the years follow a certain pattern.

To save both taxpayers and the service office employees time and effort, Olsen prepared a list of the 12 most common questions the confused taxpayer asks when he gets ready to make out his tax form.

Olsen says the most common question asked at the office is, "Who must file an income tax return?" It's a basic question and Olsen says most persons could figure it out by reading the instructions. Nevertheless, it puzzles many.

"As a general rule," he says, "anyone who made a gross income of $600 or more, and is under 65 years of age, must file a return. If the person is over 65, he is allowed an exemption of $1,200. Another exception concerns self-employment. If a person is self-employed and makes a net income of $600 or more, he must file a return."

FUMBLING WITH NEW LOCKS at the new postoffice is a favorite pastime for local patrons. The new combination locks have confused many persons since they were installed. Connie Ferrater, employee of the Frye, Robertson and Smith law firm, is in an effort to get the mail from the firm's postoffice box. (Staff photo-engraving)

Box Combination Locks Confuse Local Patrons

During the past week the lobby of the new Twin Falls postoffice has seen the site of considerable confusion. The room has always served as a sort of informal town meeting hall, where businessmen would exchange greetings for the mail, but recently they have been preoccupied with the task at hand—the simple job of getting their mail.

It was the fault of the postoffice clerks, but, rather, those little dials that admit the boxes to their mail—the combination locks. Last week workers, fingers numb with cold and eyes watering from the chills, tackled the knotty problem of spinning the little knobs through a complex combination and opening their doors.

It sounds easy, but hands long trained to opening the boxes with the simple turn of a key often found the task insurmountable in the early morning. The first day the boxes were transferred from the old building was the worst. Then the patrons gradually caught on.

Now they have things pretty well in hand, according to the postoffice employees. About 70 per cent of the box numbers were changed and some patrons stumbled at their former number before they moved on to the new box number, sometimes with greater success.

Combination locks aren't new to postoffice. Some of them have been equipped with them for years. The new postoffice has 1,200 boxes, compared to 700 at the old building. Most of the new boxes are equipped with combination locks, except for the ones situated close to the floor, which are equipped with keys because combination locks located close to the floor are next to impossible to open.

Ironworker Daredevils Work On New TV Transmitter Tower

Since Dec. 11, six men at Jerome built what have been quickly erected—without weather permits, what is probably the tallest man-made structure in the intermountain area—a 1,800-foot-tall TV transmitter tower.

The 610-foot tower, about the height of a 33-story building, will about double the service area of the station.

Working on the tower construction is a special crew of iron workers from different parts of the country. The crew is headed by Tom Kirkman, West Branch, Ia., who has been constructing skyscraper towers for the past 22 years.

To the man who women who get dizzy—explaining the lightning in the kitchen ceiling outlet, the work there may do is nothing short of worrisome. They are highly trained men who have a sort of contempt for heights. They work under conditions that would chill the blood of a layman, who normally gets no higher than a second-story bedroom.

But the conditions of their work are old hat to them, and Kirkman laughs and says one of the workers who work at these heights would probably fall down if they had to work on the ground.

But Kirkman does admit that they have special ability, which he calls a "gift."

"They must be able to do a day's work at great heights. This means they must have experience in building and be in top physical condition, at good condition as well-trained athletes."

He says the workers are members of the Iron Workers union, and he estimates only about 50 per cent of the union members can work under the conditions required of tower builders.

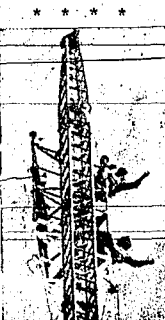

"You don't do this job unless you have the talent I have mentioned," he says, "but they must have a respect for technology, for they are erecting some of the most expensive and critical equipment there is."

For example, when the giant tower is finished, it must be perfectly vertical. It can't vary from the perpendicular more than one-eighth of an inch in zero wind conditions.

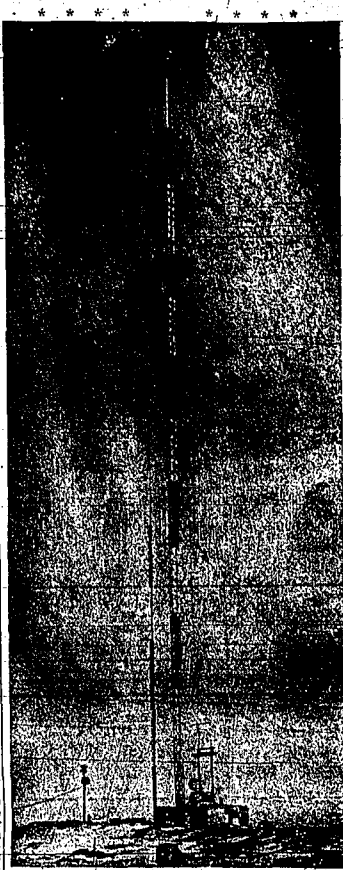

"That is a pretty big order, but the tower has been precision engineered and is constructed with the same precision."

It sounds like dangerous work, but Kirkman points out that in 22 years of constructing towers he has never had a man fall on the job. Teamwork averts mishaps. All the men on the tower have to be the very best.

Clayton Glassman, station manager, points out that the crew can be compared to the navy's underwater demolition

THESE MEN are working about 55 stories above the top of Jerome butte. Such heights would bother the average worker, but it's all in a day's work for these men. They bolt the 1,800-pound tower sections in place as they are hoisted to them. (Staff photo-engraving)

55-STORY TOWER looms above the desert on Jerome butte. The tower is being constructed for KLLX-TV by a special crew of ironworkers. The dark "spots" on top of the tower are men. The photograph at left is a telephoto view of these same men. The working conditions are hardly those the normal man would choose, but working in the clouds is all to a day's work for these men. teams, another situation where every team member is dependent on fellow members. If there is a weak link, there is a weak chain.

One thing that makes the job difficult is that they are working with tower sections that are extremely heavy. The 20-foot sections that compose the tower weigh 1,800 pounds each. And putting towers together is all difficult work.

"It's a man's size," he really doesn't make any difference whether the tower is 100 or 1,000 feet high."

When a tower is started, construction of the lower portions is done on the ground. This part is put in place with a derrick from the ground, most of the work is done at the top of the tower, adding section after section until the job is done.

Usually there are three men on the top of the tower and three on the ground. The men on top work the intricate shippers and hoists into place as they are hoisted to them.

Kirkman operates the intricate shippers and the other men on the ground ready the sections for hoisting. He designed his own shippers for the work. It is a great job with 5,500 feet of spindly steel cable, regularly replaced after it is hoisted a specified time on a ton-mile chart, kept by Kirkman.

"The giant which is so critical that Kirkman can raise and lower the 1,800-pound sections."

Wartime Desert Combat Vehicle Clears Road for Valley Skiers

For the past 15 years Claude Jones, operator of the Maglio Mountain ski area, has utilized a piece of World War II desert combat equipment in a most unlikely manner, as a snow plow.

But the many skiers in the area can give thanks each weekend to that 11-ton veteran of the war—the half-track that Jones uses to clear snow from Rock creek road. For the past 16 years an armored vehicle has served him faithfully. The thing actually was opened in 1946, but was stopped development and was closed until the war ended. Since then Jones has battled skies that hinder or stop travel on the road each winter. Since actually use the road from about early December to late March, Jones' battle with the snow starts much earlier. He starts clearing up the half-track when the first snow falls, usually sometime in late October. From then until late March, he spends a good share of his time battling drifts on the upper stretches of the road.

He points out that he can't wait to clear the road when good skiing snow is available. If he waited that long the snow would get ahead of him, pack into hard ice and he would never be able to remove it.

Consequently, he is at the back and call of the fickle weather in the mountains. He estimates he has to plow out the road about twice a week during the October to March period. If it snows on a Monday, he has to take off for the mountains and clear the snow from the road immediately. He can't wait until Friday, for then the job could become too great for his machine.

He explains that after 500 years battling the snow in the mountains he has an intuition regarding weather in the high

Wall Street Is Home for Hugh Harley

BY SID MOODY
 NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (AP)—When the last bar of gold has been tucked in for the night in the big vaults deep below ground, when the last of the day's litter from the bulls and the bears has been swept from the stock exchange floors when the last light in the last skyscraper has winked out, when the last charwoman has hurried off to home, leaving the last office-door behind her; then, at last, does Hugh Harley have Wall Street, U.S.A., to himself.

"Harley's home is there. No one else's."

Most mornings you might see him amid the thousands that pass the street and the windows of the house at 108 Wall. They're rushing to work in the great stone towers up the street. Wall Street is the half-track that Jones uses to clear snow from Rock creek road. For the past 16 years an armored vehicle has served him faithfully. AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

BY EUGENE STARKS
Pastor, American Lutheran Church

Any boy who has dug himself a hole in the ground knows what "hard as a rock" means. Many people have been forced to change their plans about building a house with basement because the ground is not only hard as a rock, but it is hard as a rock. Even though this is a hard choice, it is a choice that is necessary for a permanent structure.

Rev. Starks

"Foundation of Rock" of salvation which He proclaimed. According to certain people today is to be the end of the world, except for a very small place. If this is true, you may not be able to read this article. But if you are reading it, the end has not yet come. Not that God must wait Feb. 4 as the day for the destruction of the world. God can choose any day from this moment on. To this one who puts his confidence in Jesus Christ, it does not matter which day God selects for the destruction of the world. This choice, which is strictly in the hands of God, requires preparation on the part of people. How do we prepare? God has set the day, no amount of protection in the physical realm will be sufficient. Here is Jesus' own formula for preparation: recorded in Luke 6:47-49: "Whoever cometh to Me, and heareth My sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like. He is like a man which built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock. And when the flood arose, the stream beat sorely on the house, but it fell not, because it was founded upon a rock. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that built a house upon the earth, against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that house was great." No matter in his right mind would construct a house of concrete on an ordinary foundation. Yet many people build their lives on the earth. Jesus calls our attention to the foolishness of such things — as foolish as building a good house without proper foundation. How is one to build on a lasting foundation? Jesus gives the formula. "Whoever cometh to my riches will go to ruin, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, he will build upon the rock, and shall not be moved. Whosoever buildeth upon the sand, shall fall, and the rain shall wash him away, the flood shall carry him off, and the wind shall blow him down, and he shall fall." Many will say this is asking for enough of our time that we can come to Him, hear His words, and do what He says. "Many will say this is asking for too much. When you build a house, is the cost of the foundation too high? Because of the cost, and the time involved in its pouring and drying, do we do without the foundation? We find both time and money for that which is important. There is nothing as important as laying a foundation in Jesus Christ, and building upon that faith in Him. Today is not the end of the world, at least not for you. But tomorrow may be your end. You are given the opportunity now to come to Jesus, to hear His words, and to do them. If His cost in time, effort and money is too great, your house will crumble. Then you may not have the time, nor the strength, and

Two-Car Mishap Is Checked Here

Twin Falls police investigated an accident Friday morning at the intersection of Fifth avenue east and the entrance to the Twin Falls high school parking lot. A 1947 Ford driven by Robert Garmand, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Garmand, route three, collided with a 1960 Pontiac driven by Mrs. Dorothy Heidemann, 31, 174 1/2th avenue east. Garmand told police he was blinded by the sun as he drove out of the parking lot. His car struck the rear fender of Mrs. Heidemann's car. Damage was estimated at $5 to the Pontiac and $35 to the Ford.

LOOKING AT BIRTHDAY CARDS she received for her 80th birthday anniversary is Mrs. Malinda Blake, Twin Falls. She was 90 years old Jan. 23 and came to Twin Falls in 1911, living at 260 Addison avenue west since then. She came from Illinois and has been tracing family trees as a hobby for about 18 years. She has not been doing any genealogy work for the past two years since a stroke in 1950. (Staff photo-engraving)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Mrs. Malinda (Ma) Blake, 303 Addison avenue west, TWIN FALLS, celebrated her 80th birthday anniversary Jan. 23. A descendant of John Howard, a pilgrim on the Mayflower, Mrs. Blake was active in genealogy work as a hobby from the time she was about 20 years old until about three years ago. She is also of the same family line as Benjamin Franklin and a member of the Mayflower society, Nantucket Historical society and the Pilgrim John Howard society. Mrs. Blake was born Jan. 23, 1872, in Jasper county, Ind. Her father, the Rev. Albert G. W. Farmer, was a Methodist minister and circuit rider for many years in Indiana and Illinois, and during the 1890's, "when hats were flowing from the factory," she worked in a hat factory in Chicago. She was married to Joseph Blake on "the eve of the new century," Dec. 31, 1899, and in 1911 they moved to a five-acre tract near the Twin Falls city limit. The Memorial Lutheran school stands on part of the property formerly farmed by Mr. Blake.

According to State Patrolman Willard Baker, a former TWIN FALLS woman, Mrs. Helen Clapper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clapper, former local residents, now of Moorpark, Calif., has authored a book, "Too Soon Tomorrow" under the name of Chris Pendleton. Mrs. Pendleton wrote high school news for the Times-News and after her marriage to Floyd Pendleton worked for a local radio station. She was graduated in 1942 from the Twin Falls high school. Her book was published this month and she and a companion are collaborating on another book, "Edge of Doubt," to be published soon. Now a resident of Palo Alto, Calif., the former Twin Falls resident has been instrumental in helping form a social club for unmarried persons in the Bay area.

The present house, which stands on the original homestead, was built in 1910. A previous house built in 1909, moved to Falls avenue east, where it still stands. One of Mrs. Blake's daughters, Dr. Evelyn Blake, married, Orem, Utah, has practiced medicine for 33 years and now cares for her mother, who has been bedridden. "Her mother, who resembles a hospital," says Dr. Blake, as she is officially known. Another daughter, Mrs. Ralph Day, GOODING, is listed in "Who's Who of American Women" and "Who's Who in the West." Mrs. Blake is "past president of the Dan McCook circle of Grand Army of the Republic, an organization of descendants of Civil war soldiers. She was recording secretary of the Women's Gleaners' League for 13 years, and served as district and local WOTU president for many years. Mrs. Blake has a five-volume hardbound set of books, "American Quaker Genealogy" which were compiled by William C. Hinshaw. She frequently used the volumes in her own genealogy work and has often helped friends trace their genealogy. The books were recently copied on microfilm and made available on film at the Idaho State genealogical library, Boise. Her books were loaned to the library for copying.

Coach Elected Alumni Leader

Paul Ostyn, Twin Falls high school coach, was elected president of the Magic Valley Whitman college alumni group at its annual meeting Wednesday night at the Regerson hotel. Other officers elected are Mrs. B. R. Tillery, vice president, and James Kinney, secretary. Some 40 alumni and interested high school students attended the meeting, reports Kenneth Gibson, retiring president of the local group. Gibson gave special tribute to Ostyn, who received the Twin Falls Jaycee Junior citizen distinguished service award Saturday night. Ostyn is a 1954 graduate of Whitman college. A memorial tribute was given in memory of Robert E. White, who had been an active Whitman alumni for many years.

Report Given on Lincoln Licenses

SHOSHONE, Feb. 3 — There have been 1,063 passenger car licenses plates sold by the county assessor's office thus far this year. Last year, for the entire year, there were 1,106 passenger plates sold. This year 814 truck plates have been sold, compared to 816 last year and 16 horse trailers this year compared to 106 last year. License minor accidents were while only 14 were sold last year for the entire year. All of the plates sold this year, to this date, total 1,886, Assessor Ray E. Oyer said.

Chamber's Fete Tickets on Sale

Tickets for the annual Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce dinner meeting at 7:30 p. m., Feb. 13 in the Turf club are now available at the chamber office. Mrs. Ross Prather, chamber office secretary, says that "judging from the requests for tickets it appears that they will go rapidly." Guest speaker for the meeting will be Gov. Grant Sawyer, governor of Nevada, who will discuss changes in Nevada's tax structure and how the changes have benefited the state.

HUGE SIGNAL LIGHT that marks the top of the tower is inspected by Donald Cedarstrom, left, station engineer, and Tom Kirkman. Although the light will look like a mere flashlight sign, the tower, actually is about the size of a small barrel. The 1,000-watt bulb in the glass enclosure will mark the tower for aircraft. DISTANT WORKERS on top of the huge tower are watched by Tom Kirkman, who is building the new transmitter tower for KLIQ-TV on Jerome bluff. After the workers get the tower a few stories above the ground, the progress of the work is hard to see without binoculars. Kirkman has been building towers for 22 years. (Staff photo-engraving) precaution is taken to make sure mere fraction of an inch to aid the workers along the tower. Once a tower gets a few feet above the ground there always is a problem of communication. Kirkman solves this with a two-way communications system, and he can watch construction progress with a pair of binoculars. The fact that the men on the tower are rather unconcerned about their work is evident to anyone standing near the loudspeaker of the communications system. They chat, much as any workers do, and one man regularly hums the strains of "My Bonnie Lies Over the Ocean." Although the working conditions could be dangerous, every

BIG CHINOOK SALMON are loaded in a cylindrical, water-filled bank car for short trip from Dager fish trap to tanker truck...

Cost Factors Are Noted to Prepare Punch-Card System for Salmon Run

BY JIM HUMBIRD
Idaho Fish and Game Department
The central theme of many thoughtful letters and telephone calls to this office these days is concern over what is being done and should be done to perpetuate chinook salmon spawning runs from the ocean to Idaho headwater streams...

at sea must be estimated from total landings and entirely inadequate data on the portion of these landings that they constitute... In addition to commercial and sports fishing harvests and natural mortalities peculiar to their kind, migrant fishes also suffer losses...

Chinook salmon in the ocean are hard to separate into spring and fall runs. It is estimated that the average number of chinook at sea between 1958 and 1959 and needed for the Columbia river was 1,688,000.

Comparative steelhead figures are available for more than 150 miles of spawning stream... Steelhead problems already have been mentioned in a previous article...

Commercial landings of both steelhead and chinook have been established for many years. These statistics provide the most complete information on the runs now available with the exception of the dam country...

Live-trapping and handling a small part of last summer's salmon run to temporary holding ponds where they were spawned artificially was one phase of the fisheries management program...

For the punch cards in the same way sportmen now must buy game tags.

The production costs of the current steelhead punch cards, along with the cost of mailing to vendors, will be absorbed by other programs...

Three-in-One Golf Game Is Typical Trait of Michigan's Man in Motion

DETROIT, Feb. 3 (AP)—Between 6 and 8 a.m. on summer days, George Wilken Romney dashes through the streets of Detroit...

His base salary is $150,000 a year, plus stock options and bonuses in good years which have boosted his earnings as high as $250,000.

The LDS church has no paid clergy, Romney like others, gives his full-time to the church...

At 12:30 p.m. he arrived at a luncheon meeting of AMC's zone members in a Manhattan hotel.

The general convention session lasted until 11:00 p.m. When Romney left for the trip home...

Last May he told a gathering of gathering statistics in the town of three states. This is the reason a uniform punch-card system for steelhead runs is in effect throughout the drainage.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Fred Abrams, Jerome Police Chief, Also Heads Peace Officers Group

JEROME, Feb. 3 (AP)—Fred Abrams, Jerome police chief and president of the Idaho State Peace Officers Association, says his goal as president this year is to establish an annual program of selecting an outstanding police officer in the state for presentation of a special award.

Abrams, working through the peace officers association, has for several years tried to stimulate cooperation of all branches of law enforcement. He says the state is building a group of peace officers working for the mutual betterment of the profession and other fields.

He also is in favor of anything which would bring about a higher standard of efficiency in police work.

"I would like to see the police force under civil service," he says.

Abrams pointed out that the average police officer's wage is $44.50 a month in the nation.

He would like to see the time when police officers are more dedicated to their jobs.

"The people then would be better notified and so would the officers."

Abrams noted that many good officers are lost through either politics or some other cause.

He is also the president of the Magic Valley Peace Officers Association.

Abrams was born April 24, 1911, in Provo, Utah, a suburb of Logan and attended school in the college ward nearby.

He attended Utah State University, where he received a degree in education in 1934.

He was in the military for seven years. He then worked in the dry farm area east of Snowflake for seven years.

In 1935 he came to Twin Falls and worked in the sugar industry for two years.

Romney was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, July 6, 1900. Five years later his family was revolution forced his family and other Mormon colonists back to the United States.

As a young man of 20 Romney went to England for two years as a Mormon missionary, paying his way with his own earnings.

His mission completed, Romney returned to the United States and got a job in the Washington office of Sen. David I. Walsh, a Massachusetts Democrat.

He moved to Aluminum Company of America, got a $5 a month raise and got married.

His final job with Alcoa was Washington representative. In 1930 he became head of the company office of the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

After the war he went to work for the American Motors was formed in 1934 by the merger of Hudson Motor Car company and Nash-Kellogg.

At 11:10 Romney left for the trip home. His driver had the right rear seat of his Rambler — an asset Romney likes very well — folded back into a bed.

Minutes later he was in a state of mind when he was in a state of mind when he was in a state of mind.

FRED ABRAMS

In 1942 he got his first taste of police when he defeated two experienced politicians for the job as Minidoka county sheriff.

Abrams pointed out that the 300 employees of the sugar factory worked to help him get elected.

Abrams later resigned as sheriff and joined the liquor law enforcement force.

The duties were different then. Liquor law enforcement officers even ran traffic," he explained.

Abrams then entered the navy where he trained recruits at San Diego for 18 months.

TELEPHONE QUESTIONS concerning tax matters are answered by Richard Gregory, Internal Revenue agent. During the last two weeks before deadline, the office receives about 50 telephone calls a day asking questions about taxes. Each year many of the same questions are asked. (Staff photo-engraving)

Internal Revenue Service Employees Asked Similar Questions Each Year

(Continued from Page 19) The joint return deals with the combined income, and taxes are paid on the total gross income. The community property return, which is used under special conditions, is based on the combined income of the man and wife. They split the income and each pays taxes on one-half.

The matter of deductions puzzles many persons, Olsen says. "A very common question is, 'Should I itemize my deductions, use the tax table or take the standard deduction?' Basically, this depends on the amount of deductions. They can lawfully make.

"If their deductions will exceed the amount allowed by law to everyone, which is 10 per cent of their adjusted gross income, with a maximum of $500 to a married person filing separately and $1,000 to all others, they should itemize their deductions.

"The answer is primarily, which is the cheapest? A person should itemize if it is to his advantage, but to the contrary, the taxpayers the 10 per cent that is allowed by law is to their advantage.

Unless a taxpayer donates large sums to churches, charities or educational foundations, or pays an inordinate amount of money for interest on loans or mortgages or for medical expenses, the 10 per cent allowed by law is to the taxpayer's advantage.

Olsen notes the tax table must be used if the adjusted gross income is under $1,000 and the standard deduction is claimed. And he adds that form 1040 must be used if a person decides to itemize deductions.

"When should I file?" is another common question, probably prompted because this is a farming community. This year most of the taxpayers must file by midnight, April 15. But farmers are affected differently by the law, and Olsen says he believes many persons are confused about the filing deadline.

"People overhear farmers discussing the February deadline," Olsen says, "and they think it applies to them."

But, concerning the filing date, he adds that the scanner returns are filed, the better.

Another common question concerns the sale or exchange of property. Olsen says most transactions are taxable.

"Some persons have the mistaken idea that, if they sell a farm and buy another the transaction isn't taxable. They figure they have simply reinvested their money. But this is wrong, for a sale is a closed transaction and it makes no difference what is done with the proceeds.

Wartime Combat Equipment Aids Snow Removal in Area

(Continued from Page 19) purpose. It has traction, which is almost too much. He says the first time he put the plow in it the plow frame buckled, due to the power of the machine. After that experience, he reinforced it.

But the machine has its drawbacks—usually in making the car, or other axle—for the economy isn't anything to brag about. It costs about two miles per gallon.

Jones notes that although the averages plowing put the road back to work, there are times when he will plow it out every day for a week or more. One of the particularly tough winters was the winter of 1948-49. Jones had been installing the constant lift device in the fall months. Then, in January, he managed to get the road cleared for skiing on two Sundays. Olsen says it was impossible to clear the roads. Some of the drifts that winter were 35 feet deep.

Jones says in recent years he has been assisted in his efforts when the snow got particularly deep by Twin Falls highway district personnel.

"The highway district definitely is more sympathetic to the skiers now than it was in the past," he says.

As he goes about his work on normally clear roads he never knows what he might encounter. Several times he has battled his way on foot through the snow to get his half-truck and found motorists stranded in the snow.

Another time he was plowing out the road early in the morning and came across a sheep that had been left in the mountains in the fall. As he plowed out the road the sheep took advantage of the good road and beat a hasty retreat out of the mountains.

The last time he saw the sheep it was hurrying past Idaho fish and game department checking station towards a warmer climate.

Another time his animal friend nearly so helped. As he made his way on foot past the Rick-enbacker spring area, he noticed a cougar track in the snow.

He followed them with his eye. The tracks went up the side of the hill on the far side of Rock creek. There, perched on a rock, was the cougar, coldly eyeing him.

"I had in the line of equipment a key chain," he laughs. "That cougar was as un-canny as I but it still made my scalp tingle."

Skiers appreciate the fact that the keys, the road, open during the winter, and most of them are glad he is the one battling the cold and the snow.

That's usually the case, but last week Jones discovered a tropical slide in Magic Valley. It was at the ski area. The temperature was only 20 degrees. Sunday cold, but the valley residents were shivering in -15 degree wind at that time.

Wall Street Means Money to World, But to Hugh Harley It Means Home at the East river just below Harley's house, five-story home built in the 1780's, crowds in among a lunch counter, camera shop, gas station and a sugar company.

A friendly man with the chop-pecs, Harley's neighborliness stops a few doors up where the offices of what he calls the "fast buck boys" begin. In the credit capital of the nation, Harley prides himself on "all my damned bills" every Friday in cash.

He breaks his uneasy truce with the moguls occasionally to drop in up the street to do his banking on the way back from shopping.

In split sleeves Harley patters about his third-floor office behind brick walls and two dusty windows.

He runs an export-import business, autos, films, books, plans and ship models he has made for his grandchildren and vice versa, an ancient Saracen helmet some long dead Harley brought back from a crusade, a not very long ivory tusk, a thermos, right- and lefty baseball gloves to be mailed to two grandchildren, a huge model of a galleon, enough swords and assorted cutlery to outfit an opera, and books, books, books.

Many of them are piled on a stout oak table in the middle of the room. Harley says the table was the first one used by the board of directors of the New York Life insurance company. Each of several chairs around the table has a sulked, draped over it. Harley prefers chairs to hangars.

The whole building, in fact, is a vast attic of the Harley family who trace their lineage to the days of William the Conqueror and who evidently never threw anything away.

"There's a packet in every generation," said Harley. "I guess I'm this one."

The dim shadows of the dusty walls come alive with gusts "collected from my various wars" (Harley was a naval officer in both wars and traveled the world as a foreign correspondent) and as he puts it, "confidential adviser to the U.S. government"; a Renaissance Madonna, an official painting by Turner, tassels; Tiffany lamps, brass Oriental dragons peering frowningly into a gloom, Polynesian carvings, ancient maps, more models of fighter planes, and scores of portraits of dead-but-not forgotten Harleys.

There are portraits of Harleys who were viceroys under the East India Company, and a Harley who was lord mayor of London as well as some grim-faced Harley women.

"Harleys have always had an eye for beauty but not so much that they overlooked money," said Harley. Harley is married to a quiet blonde in New York on week-ends. And no palace outside Ft. Knox has more police protection.

He started his career as a newspaper copy boy on the Philadelphia Eagle, getting the job with a brazen letter from Oxford and who probably had a million of youngsters crowded the paper's front office in answer to an ad. Harley dabbled up a book club to apply for.

Two years later the city desk veterans who had been shouting "boy" at him found Harley had become assistant city editor. "I grew this moustache so they would think I was older," Harley hopes to call it a "career" at 70 and perhaps puller around the ruins of the family castle in England or his own manner in northern Ireland. Meanwhile Wall Street—the lower end—suits him fine.

"It's the quietest place in New York on week-ends. And no palace outside Ft. Knox has more police protection."

Cards Played

PILER Feb. 3—Pinochle was played after the potluck dinner held by the Piler Grange this week at the hall.

—High score prizes were awarded to Raymond Thomas and Mrs. Claude Oliver, with Loren Drake and Mrs. Minnie Jackson receiving low. J. R. Bennett received the traveling prize and Charles Hart and Warren Stroud were given special prizes.

—SERVES IN ARMY—KIMBERLY, Feb. 3—Pfc. Donald D. Broner, son of Mrs. Flora Broner, is participating in the third annual division's month-long winter training exercises in Grafenwohr, Germany, which will end Tuesday.

Mrs. Reeder Is '61 Best Loser

HAILEY, Feb. 3 — Mrs. Roy Reeder lost the most pounds for 1961 of any of the members of the "Have Pounds, Will Lose" club. It was announced at a meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Owen Bradford. Mrs. Reeder was also best loser in January and Mrs. Bert Shirts was best loser in December.

Members voted to hold another "pounds-losing" contest to start immediately and 20 of the members were divided into two teams.

—Mrs. A. D. Granden, Mrs. Ray Wetrick, Mrs. Reeder and Mrs. Wade Gutchee will compete in a team against Mrs. Amy Lanning, Mrs. Stapleton, Mrs. Otis Smith and Mrs. Shirts.

SUPPER SLATED

DEULO, Feb. 3—Hal Noyes Deelo, who has been receiving treatment at the veterans hospital, Salt Lake city, has been transferred to Bailey university hospital, Houston, Tex. where he will undergo a major heart operation. He was accompanied to Texas by Mrs. Noyes. Their three sons are serving with the army. Mrs. Paul Bowers, Morgan Utah.

FIDDLING AWAY IDLE MOMENTS in his barber shop, Clifford Bauer demonstrates how he takes his hobby to work with him. He has played the violin since 1920 and always finds time to practice a few minutes every day. (Staff photo-engraving)

Barber Fiddles While People Roam Past His Shop on Shoshone Street

Passers-by in the second block of Shoshone street west sometimes are puzzled when they look through the large glass window in Cliff's Barber Shop and see a man standing there, busily playing a violin.

It would not be a shock to see such a sight in the window of a music store, but it does look a little out of place in a barber shop. The musician is the proprietor of the shop, Clifford Bauer, a man who takes his hobby to work with him.

Theme Noted For Cub Pack

GOODING, Feb. 3 — "When Knighthood Was in Flower" was the theme of the pack meeting of Cub Scout pack 93 of the Christian church in Gooding. The theme was "The Reluctant Knight" and "The Magic Herb" were presented by all the dens and den boys.

—Officers of the pack are: Kenneth Strickland, Cubmaster; Bruce Glauner, pack committee chairman; Strickland, and Glaunder, pack committee members.

Bauer has played the violin since 1920. He has always played for his own pleasure, and he has always found enough time during the average work day to spend a few minutes practicing.

—He keeps one or two violins in the shop, and whenever he is alone he picks up one of the instruments and spends a few minutes relaxing and playing.

—Bauer says for many years he made a hobby out of violin repair. In recent years he has dropped it because he found it too time consuming.

—He first started bringing the instruments to the shop when he was repairing them. Some minor adjustments could be done in the shop. This habit has remained, and he regularly plays during the day. He admits days pass when he won't play at all, but he makes up for those days when the work load is light.

—In addition to being a violinist, Bauer is a collector. He has about 12 violins at home—mostly damaged violins he has purchased and put in new condition.

—Bauer has lived in Twin Falls since 1957, but worked as a barber since 1932 and has worked in his shop on Shoshone street since 1958.

—In all that time no customer has ever commented he thought it odd that Bauer stands in the window and plays.

—"Maybe they take it for granted," he says.

Valentine Party Set by Rangers

HAILEY, Feb. 3 — Members of the Sawtooth Rangers riding club will celebrate Valentine's day by holding a box social. Guests are invited. The boxes will be auctioned and proceeds will go into the club treasury.

On Feb. 22 they will hold their annual slough ride. The ride will terminate at the Vaughn Potter ranch home on Deer creek gulch. Named on the slough-ride committee in addition to the Potters are Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCoy and Mrs. Louise Fritsch.

—Sawtooth Rangers are waiting for a report from the central committee on the date of the annual Fourth of July celebration before making any decision as to the party they will take in a celebration.

SON APPOINTED

SHOSHONE, Feb. 3 — Elder Conrad H. Thorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrell A. Thorne, who is serving a mission for the LDS church in northern California, has been appointed branch president of the Indian mission at Gwyhee, Nev.

DRIVE HELD

PILER, Feb. 3—Members of the Lutheran Laymen's league of Clover canvassed their congregation this week in the annual membership drive. The losing team entertained the winning team at a potluck dinner after the drive.

WELL HALF GRAPEFRUIT!

OH SWEET ANGEL, I GOT EVERYTHING!

LAND OF THE LIVING DEAD!

WHY YOU YOUNGSTERS DON'T SHOW MUCH IMAGINATION!

IF I WAS RUNNING THE SHINDIG I'D ADD AN OLD BRASS BUTTON TO THE SUIT! SUIT MATES! A RUSTY KEY—PIECE OF CHALK!

NO HOPPING?

WELL I LIVED UP PART SCAVENGER HUNTY!

AND SO... HEY! THE NEW SUIT OF PANTS BRINGS A WANG! WANG!

WHEN NIT WALK!

YOU'LL NEVER GUESS! IT'S AN ANCIENT RECIPE!

ROH!

GO FRY A HALIBUT, SYLVESTER! THEM RAGS AIN'T GOT ANY PRESTIGE!

MY CUSTOMER HAS ARRIVED! I SHALL PURSUE THE MATTER LATER!

Would this be the home of Ahab Mc Dab?

No, but come in, casual! He's either cold, I'll make some tea!

MS Dab? Ahab Mc Dab? No, but best a bit... have a cookie!

None! Can't say—crunch—I even headed off—crunch—Ahab! These apples—crunch—are good! Try one!

walk, scott

Yep! I knew a Mc Dab—but his first name was Scott! C'mon, and say that Raspberry Diet! I'm low some!

Mc Dab? No Mc Dabs in these parts! Saw 'em wandering up some 'saw—there's plenty if you'd care to stay!

Oh, indeed, I would!

Good old Ahab Mc Dab—always good for a few hot lunches!

WHEE-BERRY

The folkie club is music, see the miss is one the piece!

While fagole floc clamps is a roof—what is this awful word-mish mash?

Not mid-mash, what word rhythm!

Rhythm my foot! No one could possibly——understand your stupid poetry!

BUGS BUNNY

GREETINGS, SALLICITATIONS, AN' STUFF, SYLVESTER!

MAY I ASK WHAT YOU ARE PREPARING TO DO, SIRE?

I'M SETTIN' UP MY PITCH 'N' SELLIN' LITTLE GEM POTATER PEELERS!

YOUNDS!

I WOULD HAVE WORDS WITH YOU!

STEP RIGHT UP, FOLKS! GET YER 'LIL GEM' POTATER PEELERS!

I PROTEST! YOUR RAUCOUS SALESMANSHIP DETRACTS FROM THE PRESTIGE OF MY MERCHANDISE... AND I'M EXPECTING A CUSTOMER!

GO FRY A HALIBUT, SYLVESTER! THEM RAGS AIN'T GOT ANY PRESTIGE!

MY CUSTOMER HAS ARRIVED! I SHALL PURSUE THE MATTER LATER!

STEP UP CLOSER, FOLKS! IT'S THY MARVEL O' TH' AGE! FLIP... ZIP AN' TH' PEELS IS GONE!

STOP IT, I SAY! CEASE AND DESIST!

YOU ARE PELTING BOTH MY CUSTOMER AND ME WITH YOUR REFUSE!

BRRACK!

IF YA DON'T LIKE IT... MOVE... AN' TAKE THAT 'LIL SQUIRT WITH YA... ULP!

VIPE AN' DOUBLE URK!

PERHAPS INTRODUCTIONS ARE IN ORDER...

MEET THE 'BANTAM BASHER' WORLD'S FLYWEIGHT WRESTLING CHAMPION!

NOW HE TELLS ME!

The FLINT

THERE WASN'T TIME TO DRAW ANY GUN BEFORE THE MUGS CLOSED IN ON ME.

BOOTS

WANT A BEST DENT AND COO'S BOOTS? AGO! SHE'S PLAYING SOMEWHERE!

WHEN I FIND THAT LITTLE BOY, I DIDN'T TELL YOU!

WHARR! YOU LOST MY PENNIN'!

OOOPS!

LOL! BELIEVE ME! I'M NOT LON. MY GOODNESS!

RIP!

WILFRED! CAN'T LEAVE YOU ALONE A WHILTE! WHAT'S GOING ON HERE?

WHAT HAPPENED?

THAT WOMAN FLIRTED WITH MY HUSBAND!

SHE STOLE MY PENNIN'!

SHE TORE MY CORNY!

MERCY GRACES!

GEE WHIZ, DORY, THERE WAS A LOT OF EXCITEMENT OUTSIDE, AND BECAUSE YOU SENT ME FOR GOODIES, I MISSED IT ALL!

THERE'S GONNA BE MORE INSIDE, SONNY BOY, AND YOU RAIN A GOODNASS ANY OF IT!

YOU DID!

DID YOU?

YOU DID, TOO—YOU KNOW YOU DID!

I DISTINCTLY REMEMBER—I DID NOT!

DON'T ARGUE—I SAW YOU DO IT!

OH, ALL RIGHT, HAVE IT YOUR WAY! I DID! (AND I'LL GOVERN)

UH, DORIS—WHAT WAS IT I DID?

Boots CUT-OUTS

THANKS TO REBECCA MCKAY (AGE 11) ASHTABULA, OHIO

THANKS TO JOANNE TOTE RAHWAY, N.J.

OUT OUT OUT WILLIAMS

WELL, NOW GENERALLY THE CANDY HAPPENS TO BE THE SMALLEST PIECE OF CANDY IN THE BOX.

A VERY FRIEND!

MY DORN, YOU SMELLED THIS AT THE KITCHEN! THAT BINGE ME!

GO ON, SHINER, OUT TO THE KITCHEN! AND STAY THERE TILL I HIDE THIS LITTLE PIECE OF CANDY ALL SAME ME!

COME ON, BOY! INTO THE FRONT ROOM—ANY START SMELLIN' I WANNA SEE HOW MUCH YOU GOT IN YOUR NOSE!

SMART DOG! YOU FOUND THE PIECE OF CANDY I WAS HUNTING! THE DAVEN PORT CUSHION! NOW I'LL GET YOU UPSTAIRS!

I'M WASHING MY HAIR, WILLIS—I'LL BE OUT IN ABOUT TWENTY MINUTES!

OKAY, SHINER, WE GOT A CHANCE TO FIND LIL'S BOX OF CANDY!

KITA BOY!

BEST! BEST! YOU DOPE!

WHAT'S GOING ON IN MY ROOM?

SMART DOG, HUNT ALSO TRAINED BY THAT SAFF BROTHERS OF ANNE, NO DOUBT I'LL JUST LOCK MY CANDY IN A DRESSER DRAWER!

WAIN DUMBS! THAT'S WHAT I CALL IT! YOUR ASS FEELS HIS SCARS, THING AND YOUR DOGS ARE YAPPING TAKING IT AWAY FROM US!

GIVE ME THE DATE OF QUEEN ANNE'S WAR—HISTORY CAN BE SO PULL!

CLASS! WHAT HISTORICAL EVENT OCCURRED ON JULY THE 14TH, 1492?

THIS IS AWFL!

GIVE ME THE DATE OF GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY!

I'M SO BORED! HO HUM!!

BLACHIE BEAR! HOW DARE YOU YAWN WHILE I'M CONDUCTING MY HISTORY LESSON?

TEACHER, I APOLOGEE!

YO YAWN WAS ILL-MANNERED AND BRUDE—
