Senate Unit Hears Pilot Of U-2 Plane

WASHINGTON, March 6 (UPI)—U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers got a clean bill of health from the central intelligence agency today and then made a dramatic appearance before the senate armed services committee to tell his own story of being downed over Russia. In a summary statement made public through the house committee, the CIA said Powers had been instructed to "surrender without resistance and adopt a cooperative attitude" if escape was impossible.

It said Powers was not expected automatically to take his own life if his plane went down or "he was captured."

The CIA said Powers lived up to his instructions and "looked at an American" when his plane was downed and during the events which followed. In his subsequent testimony, Powers said he was "sure" his CIA reconnaissance plane was knocked down by an explosion from the pilot's story.

"I had never seen anything like this before," told the committee.

Powers testified in the jam-packed senate caucus room, seen of many historic congressional sessions over the years.

He displayed a model of his ill-fated U-2 plane, designated as a point near Sverdlovsk after he felt a blast which enveloped the craft in an orange light.

"I had never seen anything like this before," told the committee.

French Send Fleet To Sea; Pact Near

PARIS, March 6 (UPI)—The French Mediterranean fleet sailed out of Toulon today amid unofficial reports said some of its ships would put into Algerian ports before a cease-fire is proclaimed in the guerrilla war. There was no confirmation for the reports that the fleet would be used to safeguard order in Algeria. Officials said the anti-aircraft cruiser Colbert, flagship of vice admiral Andre Jubelin, the aircraft carrier Lafayette,

Planes Score Against Reds For Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, March 6 (UPI)—South Vietnamese forces using active airpower scored two major victories over the communist Viet Cong in the past two days, killing more than 100 Viet Cong and wounding or capturing hundreds more, officials of the Diem government said today.

U. S. army helicopters with American crews supported the follow-up of one operation, and U. S.-supplied fighter bombers provided the knockout punch for the other, the officials said.

The reported military successes are understood to be South Viet Nam's biggest of the year. They followed closely on three straight days of Viet Cong attacks on Diem's pro-Western government.

Government ground forces followed up a strike by the South Vietnamese army on the night of March 4, when South Vietnamese forces found they had captured 200 Viet Cong. They estimated that 300 more Viet Cong guerrillas were wounded in the attack by the single-engine propeller planes Sunday.

T.F. Lynwood Well Pump Breaks Down

Breakdown of the Lynwood well pump has thrown an added load on the remainder of the city wells, reports Paul Newton, Twin Falls city engineer. For the past two weeks, supply has just kept up with demand.

The result—all pumps are working at near capacity, Newton explained. The "creeper" water that has been coming from water taps for the past two weeks is caused by constant pumping and lack of any reserve water, he said. The Lynwood well pump was pulled two weeks ago to replace repeller blades in an effort to cut down the amount of sand being pumped into the well. When the pump was pulled, a section of screen on the bottom, used to pump water, was damaged and is stuck in the casing.

After studying the situation, Newton has decided to leave the broken screen in the well and replace the pump.

Due to corrosive action of the sand on pump parts, damage to the pump shaft, the pump bowls and shaft must be repaired, he explained.

Newton expects to have the well back in operation in approximately two weeks.

Harding Hits Firms' Burns Creek Stand

WASHINGTON, March 6 (UPI)—Rep. Ralph R. Harding, D-Idaho, today criticized Utah Power and Light Co. for its stand on the Burns Creek project in Idaho.

Harding lashed out at E. A. Hunter, assistant to the company president, who is testifying before the house agriculture committee in opposition to rural electrification administration.

"The Idaho Democrat said the company's selfishness in opposing the reconstruction of the Burns Creek project is a disgrace to the people of southeastern Idaho."

The project was defeated in the house interior committee.

Harding facetiously congratulated the power company official for his "courage" in testifying before the committee as a lobbyist, and for having served his company well in helping to defeat the project.

Patrols Take Bodies From Plane Wreck

DUALA, Cameroon, March 6 (UPI)—Jungle patrols today completed the recovery of 111 bodies from the swamp surrounding the wreckage of the crashed British airliner that crashed there Sunday night.

Few of the 111 victims could be identified immediately. It was 24 years before many of the bodies could be found and pulled from the crocodile-infested swamp, said a British official.

The Europe-bound plane crashed less than two minutes after taking off from Douala, breaking up on impact. The 101 passengers and crew were killed almost instantly.

The four-engine DC-4, a propeller-driven plane, was en route from the Belgian airline, by Caledonian Airways of Antwerp, Belgium. It was on a low-altitude flight from South Africa to Europe and most of those aboard were vacationers. They included 42 Belgians, 40 South Africans and some Canadians, Danes, Dutch, Germans, Irish and Italians.

Reds Seeking Better Farms Output Mark

MOSCOW, March 6 (UPI)—Khrushchev has called for a sweeping overhaul of the Soviet Union's agricultural system before the expanding Soviet food for the expanding Soviet population.

Poor management of the Soviet Union's agriculture, he said, is "today jeopardized" this country's agricultural program, Khrushchev warned in a six-hour speech Monday before the meeting of a committee meeting called to improve the country's food supply.

Increasing the farm labor force with city youths, including army veterans, will be necessary, he said. The Soviet population, now at 200 million, will reach between 250 and 260 million in the near future.

"Failure to increase farm production accordingly will 'endanger the very life of the Soviet Union' and the cause of building communism will be seriously damaged," Khrushchev declared.

Film Shows Space Ride By Colonel

WASHINGTON, March 6 (UPI)—You watch astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., squeeze space foot into his mouth as he hurtles over Africa. You see his exultant smile as he enters into dawn. You see the light glow from the blinding intensity as he comes down in his fireball, right to the spot.

"It's all in a remarkable film which inside his Friendship 7 capsule while he made his historic orbit of the earth Feb. 20."

The movie got a sneak preview Monday in a darkened auditorium on an exhibit bill. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it "will be available for public viewing in the close-up circuit of Glenn's trip—from donning his space suit through recovery from the atmosphere. The film shows the astronaut's first view of the destroyer No. 6—gives new excitement and immediacy to the flight."

You watch as Glenn lifts his face and takes space food from a plastic bottle as he crosses Africa on the first orbit.

There is a remarkable bump or jerk as the radio rocks free in the capsule for his re-entry into the atmosphere. The film shows in almost blinding intensity as Glenn plunges to the sea, the most critical part of the journey.

Backing for Unit's Beets Plan Sought

KIMBERLY, March 6 (UPI)—For the second year, Idaho's acreage and quota amendment to the present law was solicited from Idaho growers to be taken to the state legislature.

Claborn, Jr., president of the Idaho Beet Growers association, said the plan is to ask growers for the industry plan instead of the department of agriculture's plan. Claborn said the industry agreed on basic quota, growth formula and other necessary amendments to the present law, but the department's proposal "completely changes the concept of the industry proposal."

Claborn said, "The present law allowed the sugar beet industry a marketing quota of 2,000,000 tons. This included a substantial amount of sugar of 242,000 tons in the form of deficits from other domestic sources. The industry produced a normal yield of sugar per acre, the above quota would have been at least 100,000 tons less than the production."

Water Twice That of 1961 In Reservoir

TOLLESTER, March 6 (UPI)—A dam on the Snake River today held 31,000 acre feet of water Tuesday morning, reports H. M. Griffith, manager of the Bureau of Reclamation company. This is nearly double the reading for this date last year when there was only one year's deficit in the reservoir.

"Flow into the reservoir has dropped off to normal or below this week because of the colder weather," Griffith said.

At approximately 12,000 acre feet of water, the reservoir is about 100,000 acre feet below normal. The flash floods a few weeks ago. 12 Inches of Snow in T.F. Mostly Gone

In two days of the end of last week, Twin Falls measured 12 inches of snow, but only one inch remained on the ground today.

High temperatures in the 40's and below-freezing temperatures at night have melted the snow. The snow that has accumulated, however, has gone through local storm sewers and alleys and other unimproved surfaces have been quite messy, Khrushchev proposed.

City Legally Can't Assist Sign Project

City commissioners informed Kenneth Poe and Charles Harris, members of a committee working to establish a rural residential building trust that the city can not legally build funds and erect street signs outside the city limits.

Poe explained that the system is similar to the city house numbering program, adding that the committee sought the city's opinion in the county-wide effort.

The committee is working with the county highway department in financing rural residential building trust that the city can not legally build funds and erect street signs outside the city limits.

Poe said, He and Harris asked the commission if the city would like to be involved in the project. He said that the city would like to be involved in the project.

In other action, commissioners approved a resolution to support the county highway department in financing rural residential building trust that the city can not legally build funds and erect street signs outside the city limits.

Tests Threatened By Red Leader in Blackmail Charge

MOSCOW, March 6 (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev today called the United States a "plutonium stage nuclear tests in the atmosphere 'atomic blackmail'" and threatened new Soviet testing. In a letter to President Kennedy made public today by the official Soviet Tass news agency, Khrushchev accepted the Anglo-American proposal for opening the 18-nation Geneva disarmament talks next week at the foreign ministers' level.

But he indicated that the U. S. test proposal put forward by the President was "virtually wreck" that conference before it started.

In a separate letter to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Khrushchev accepted the foreign ministers' level meeting with respect, but made no mention of the "atomic blackmail" nor of the Soviet threat to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

Khrushchev said Kennedy committed something that would look too much like atomic blackmail in offering to cancel the American tests if the Soviet Union tests with controls.

"Such methods, when used by the Soviet Union, have never brought any laurels to anyone in the past nor will they bring any laurels to anyone tomorrow," Khrushchev said.

President Kennedy said last Friday night that the United States would resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere unless an agreement could be reached that would limit tests with adequate controls.

The President said he would go to Geneva and sign such an agreement if the Soviet Union agreed to American testing arrangements at Christmas Island in the Pacific area.

WASHINGTON, March 6 (UPI)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles W. Freeman says there is room for sound reclamation and irrigation projects in the active program. A water resource, he said, "is the basic element of that program in sharper cutbacks in farm land reclamation."

Freeman's position was stated in a speech at a farm policy dinner at Browder, Calif., Saturday. The speaker was also publicly by the department today.

"The secretary said that to balance the national economy, the most needed by eliminating sound reclamation and irrigation projects would be disastrous to producing and increasing of agricultural resources."

Movie Shown For Rupert's C. of C. Meet

RUPERT, March 6—A film on the Sawtooth area highlighted the program of the Rupert Chapter of Commerce met at Curt and Marge's cafe.

An important meeting of the merchant's committee for 10 a.m. March 6 was held at the club. Members were urged to be present.

A report was given by President Fred Parks of an advertising trip to Boise by William Lott of the Rupert Development Corporation and officials of the Rocky Mountain Chemical company.

The need for workers to assist in handling the collection of the dues of stocks in the Rupert Development corporation was reported by C. R. Jones, general chairman. He said most of the area was organized and ready to go out March 13 when previously assigned areas will be covered in a motorcade.

According to Jones, money from the sale of stock will be invested in the 400-acre tract now under option to the corporation, with room for several industrial plants. The land is located about halfway between Rupert and Paul on the U. P. railroad.

Total amount needed for the development is estimated at $10,000. Jones said, which will be raised by the sale of some 4,000 shares at $25 per share. Stock can be purchased on the installment plan, he said, to be paid off within one year. Cost of the railroad siding will run about $10,000, he said.

Other directors are leading Rupert businessmen, and will be replaced at the end of the first year by an elected board. One director will be elected each year for a three-year term.

The group feels chances of attracting industry into the area are extremely good, Jones said, but pointed out that it is a long range program.

Other areas that have been successful in developing industrial sites and bringing in industry were cited by Jones, including Pocatello, Boise, Twin Falls, Nampa, Weiser, Caldwell, Buhl, Parma and others.

Sale of the stock is to be handled one day, March 12, Jones emphasized. Letters have been sent out to prospects and all will be contacted, plus any others who might be interested.

Area Window Displays Are Highlight For County 4-H Club Week Activities

Window displays in six Twin Falls county towns highlight activities for national 4-H club week, which ends Saturday.

Five displays are in Twin Falls stores, with other exhibits in Kimberly, Flin, Buhl, Hagerman and Castletford. The Twin Falls displays are located at Sears, Roebuck and company, on the parking lot, side, Idaho Department store, Idaho Power display window, Van Engelen's store and Roper's men's store.

The window displays feature projects completed by 4-H club members, such as sewing and handicrafts.

One project, on display in the Idaho Power window, resulted in 4-H club members being awarded a free trip to the national 4-H congress in November at Chicago.

It is an electric clothes hamper constructed by Nancy Norris, who also created the window display. Miss Norris' project, which was a fourth-year home electrification project, won first place on the state level.

"Another of her electric projects, a lamp made from a wooden crate, motor, club leaders here never wait to be coaxed as they often do in many places where I have lived."

"In fact," says Genn, "the leaders of long experience seem to be more concerned in helping me than asking for help. I have worked very closely with the extension service and 4-H clubs

The Sears-Roebuck and company window was decorated by Jean Baitzer and Jane Norris; Roper's display, Mrs. Marvin Custer; Van Engelen's display, Helen Cudde; Idaho Department store, Jeanne Owen, and Idaho Power, Nancy Norris.

Clan Genn, county agricultural agent in charge of 4-H clubs, notes the county 4-H clubs rank high, compared with national averages. There are 62 4-H clubs in the county, although the national average is 25 clubs per county. Members of clubs in the county completed 89 per cent of all projects started, while the national average of project completions is less than 75 per cent.

During the last year, Twin Falls county had the first state winner in tractor driving competition—Billy Lougmitler, who represented Idaho at the national tractor driving contests in Texas.

Genn, comparing local 4-H club leaders with those in other areas, notes "club leaders here never wait to be coaxed as they often do in many places where I have lived."

"In fact," says Genn, "the leaders of long experience seem to be more concerned in helping me than asking for help. I have worked very closely with the extension service and 4-H clubs

Satellite Will Come in View During Week

WASHINGTON, March 6—The Echo balloon satellite comes into view in the western hemisphere again this week, but it may be a bit harder to find than on earlier outings of this part of the world.

The national aeronautics and space administration said it is possible that the sphere—only 100 feet in diameter—may have strayed in half an hour or so from its original size.

Its shape, once symmetrical, also may have become so distorted as to give the impression that it offers more than a year and a half in orbit it is only 25 to 30 feet in diameter.

Even so, a NASA spokesman said, the aluminum-coated plastic spacecraft may remain in orbit for another 12 to 18 months.

When it was launched in folded form Aug. 12, 1960, ejected from its container and inflated high above the Earth, there were some guesses Echo might last only a week or two.

Its long life indicates there are considerable fewer interferences at Echo's orbiting altitudes than had been believed. The satellite also shed light on the ability of fragile structures to retain shape and form in space in spite of great temperature variations.

Cemetery Reveals Lacks In East Idaho

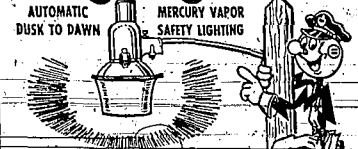

POCATELLO, March 6 (AP)—"Suitable" fallout shelters have been located in 15 eastern Idaho counties, but they can accommodate only about 130,000 of the estimated 160,000 population in the counties.

That was the report Monday of Robert Hamilton of Hamilton and Soeller consulting engineers and the firm was hired by the army corps of engineers to study shelter facilities in eastern Idaho.

Hamilton said his engineers found only 314 structures that met only the minimum protective requirements. He said some of these will be eliminated in the second phase of the survey which will probe deeper into the findings of the first survey.

He said his engineers inspected about 900 structures which might be used as shelters. The engineers immediately eliminated almost 600 as failing to meet fallout shelter requirements.

Major Bills Get Backing In Chambers

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders are pushing for final action this week on two Kennedy administration bills — a pension-welfare fund regulation measure and a jobless retraining program.

Different versions of both bills have appeared in the Senate and House.

Delegations from the two branches named to work out a compromise retraining measure are to hold their first session Tuesday.

The Senate and House versions of the retraining legislation would establish similar programs, but the Senate voted a four-year duration, the House two.

The house will debate Tuesday the first fiscal 1963 money bill of the session, a $4.6 billion dollar measure to finance the post-office and treasury departments.

Monday, it will consider a $2 billion State-federal aid program for education television stations. The Senate passed a $1 million dollar version of the legislation more than a year ago.

The next major legislation scheduled for Senate debate, probably next week, is the controversial bill to authorize U. S. purchase of 100 million dollars of foreign currencies.

The committee version gives business firms an important tax

College Men Get Cynical For Politics

CHICAGO, March 6 (AP) — College students are far more interested in political issues today than they were 10 years ago, but they have grown cynical about political parties, Rep. John Brademas, D. Ind., said today.

"The peace marchers in Washington and the Freedom Riders in the South symbolize the general concern many American college students feel about the incentive to modernize plants and equipment, and also close some tax loopholes but it falls short of what the President has asked," Brademas said the universities breeding issues of nuclear disarmament and civil rights, Brademas said.

"Yet, the sincere concern has not led to widespread commitment by these students to our two major political parties."

Brademas, in a talk prepared for delivery to the 17th National Conference on Higher Education, said there are two reasons why students are "cool" toward political organizations.

"In the first place, many students do not understand the crucial function of political parties in a democracy. They believe that any kind of adjustment of conflicting views on highly controversial issues is only cynical."

"Second many of the students who feel most deeply about political and social issues reject any solution but their own. They seek very simple answers to very complex questions."

Brademas said the universities

Tuesday, March 6, 1962
Twin Falls Times-News

"must do a far better job than they have done in leading young people the nature of the political process in the United States."

"The fact that young Americans regard politics with such cynicism is in part due to the failure of the universities to make clear that, with all its shortcomings, the two-party system has been an extraordinarily effective instrument for political change in our country."

WHAT PERCENTAGE of the advertising budget would you guess department stores invest in newspapers? 50%? 75%? More. The figure is actually 91%.*

Such an overwhelming endorsement of the daily newspaper is significant for all merchants because the department store sells just about every kind of merchandise and is in competition with every retailer who handles any of its merchandise lines.

So when department stores—with vast experience—invest such a large slice of the advertising budget in the daily newspaper, it can only mean that they know that no other medium can do a better selling job. So what's the percentage in taking chances? Invest in daily newspaper advertising.

Church Demands Protection Against False Spud Labeling

BOISE, March 6 (UP)—Idaho potato growers who fear that potato quality control will crush their industry, believe they also face a serious threat from dishonest competitors.

Bon Frank Church, D. Ida., noted the matter was as he appealed to two federal agencies to stop firms or individuals who are trying to pass off the reputation of Idaho's potatoes through false labeling and advertising.

The Idaho senator sought the aid of the federal trade commission and the food and drug administration in an effort to prevent producers in other states from selling their potatoes with Idaho labels.

The commissioner of food and drugs, George P. Larrick, told Church that "any representation in the labeling of potatoes that they are grown in Idaho when in fact, they are grown elsewhere is false and misleading and renders such potatoes adulterated under the federal food, drug and cosmetic act."

Idaho, which surpassed Maine in 1957 as the nation's largest spud producing state, has nearly tripled its production since 1954 to 52,424,000 hundred-pound sacks last year.

Because of this, producers in other states who are not responsible for flooding the market and must be controlled if the industry is to be saved.

Church is unwilling to let the U. S. government take over the potato market, but he is willing to let the state government take over the potato market.

Idaho growers contend that they produce the best potato in the world. They note that they made their product famous by taking themselves to finance re-education for a superior potato and for market promotion programs.

Train Wreck Probe Awaits Lake Finding

COBUR-DALENS, March 6 (UP)—Officials today were waiting for two locomotive units to be pulled from under a derailed train before probing further the cause of Friday night's steam-train derailment that claimed two lives and left scores injured.

We won't know the cause until we get both units up," J. J. Ayco, assistant superintendent of the Northern Pacific railroad at Spokane, said yesterday. "We'll have to look at the bottom of that lead unit."

Skidwheels yesterday found the lead unit in the mud at the bottom of the tike lake 25 miles north of here. The second unit, also submerged, was located Sunday.

Still missing were the bodies of engineer J. J. Pruitt, 63, and fireman G. G. Renner, 41, both Spokane, who rode the engine 200 feet down a mountainside and into the tike lake.

The derailment jarred all but one of the lead steam engine's passengers from the train as it derailed west through the mountains near the town of Cobur-Dalens, Idaho, to Seattle, carrying 125 persons.

Malpractices Laid Against U. S. Tycoon

MANILA, March 6 (AP)—The Philippine government said today it would oppose the granting of bail for an American businessman arrested on charges of widespread financial malpractices.

The justice department said it would ask a deportation court to hold financial tycoon Harry B. Stonehill, 44, for contempt hearings on grounds he conspired to carry out espionage and economic sabotage against the Philippines.

Stonehill, a U.S. army sergeant in the Philippines during World War II, remained here and answered one of the largest post-war American fortunes in the Far East.

He was arrested on a justice department warrant charging tax evasion, illegal foreign exchange transactions, corruption of public officials and physical assault against a former business partner.

Help Your Child in School—No. 12 Student Might Need Type of Goals Before Results Show up in Grades

BY DR. LESLIE J. NABON (Professor of Education, University of Southern California)

Picture a farmer in the early morning with his horses at the watering trough. He wants to get into the field and get on with the plowing. But the horses won't drink.

He coaxes them—he orders them. He uses his temper and rams their noses into the water. But they waver and pull back.

"You can lead a horse to water but you can't make him drink."

Parents sometimes have a similar experience with their children. They provide them with books and the opportunity to go to a good school but the youngsters won't study. At least, not enough.

Parents often ask: "What can I do to get my child to study?"

Students say: "I know that I should study but I just don't."

Perhaps the student needs a set of goals, a way to what and how he will study.

Students with specific vocational goals make better grades than students without goals. And they enjoy better mental health than those who drift.

In a study of highly successful high school students, I found they had five attributes in common.

They had determined on a specific career before age 13.

They knew their parents approved of that goal.

They planned to go to college. They knew their parents expected them to attend college.

They felt it was possible to attain their goals.

They knew all "A" students had three or four but not all five attributes. Students with lower grades lacked two or more.

Student-parent-counselor conferences have proved valuable in setting goals.

Some parents have arranged for conferences between their children and other adults. An outsider can often be more objective, and thus give sound advice.

I know two fathers who talk to each other's children. This seems natural and off-hand to the children and produces good results in both families.

Many students have reported to me that their life's plans were established after they had got a job, even though it might only be to earn spending money after school.

Whichever way the selection of goals is stimulated, parental approval is important and goals undisturbed is a desired pattern. Case histories of students show:

Why wait for the law to make these new brakes a "must"?

DRAMATIC SIDE-BY-SIDE TEST PROVES THAT RAMBLER'S DOUBLE-SAFETY BRAKES STOP WHEN OTHERS FAIL

HERE is the most severe test of braking safety ever performed.

Supervised by the Metropolitan Public Safety Dept., Dade County, Miami, Florida—it demonstrates what happens in case of brake damage.

First, paper barriers were set up a few feet beyond stop signs at the supervisors' observation point. Then, mechanics simulated brake damage by cutting one hydraulic line in each of two standard production-line cars—a 1962 Rambler and a 1962 competitor's car. Cars were then started up to their individual lanes, and the drivers slammed on the brakes on signal from the supervisors.

You can see the results for yourself: The Rambler stopped; the competitive car crashed through the barrier!

If one is damaged, the other works

You see, Rambler's new "Double-Safety Brake" System has tandem master cylinders, with one hydraulic system for front brakes, and one for rear brakes. They operate in union. But if one is damaged, the other still works! Without this new safety device, all four brakes in ordinary hydraulic systems will fail if even one line should be damaged and lose fluid.

What's it worth to have these new brakes in an emergency cannot be measured in dollars. Yet, they're standard equipment on all 1962 Ramblers—no other U.S. car at any price except Cadillac.

When other cars' single hydraulic line was cut, one of the tandem master cylinders still worked. The Rambler stopped.

When other cars' single hydraulic line was cut, all four brakes in our double-safety system were completely useless. Car crashed through.

Obviously a better value

Some day all cars may have this double measure of stopping safety. But, important as they are, Double-Safety Brakes are only one of the 100 advancements—for increased safety and reduced maintenance—that make Rambler an obviously better value in product and price.

Highest owner loyalty

Because quality is an obsession with Rambler... because Rambler doesn't make seasonal annual style changes but concentrates on basic improvements... because American Motors believes in sharing its progress... Rambler has the finest record of owner loyalty in the business.

As auto expert Tom McCall of Mechanix Illustrated magazine puts it: "If you never met a Rambler owner who wasn't satisfied—a statement I can't make about any other car."

The word gets around. And more and more people are switching to Rambler. In the four

Lighter, Brighter Swimsuits Are Years-Forecast

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., March 6 (AP) — California swimsuits this year will be lighter and brighter, with high-fashion style and a relaxed look.

Lightweight suits, made from fabric weighing more ounces, are the newest trend. Swim suits, Miraflores fibers Lycra and Lycra-fiber elastic fabrics are the latest. Stretch fabrics with no rubber, they get a superb figure controlling job.

The suits were paraded during the fashion show at the annual National Swim Week here at the Beverly Wilshire hotel.

The new suits are designed to be light and airy, construction — one-piece or two-piece — construction — enough to make a construction.

The result is beauty on the beach for all.

In a designer, it is a complete wardrobe of beach and poolside fashions. Virtually all the swimsuit designers augment their line with coordinated accessories that give a high-fashion look to the swimwear.

The white elephant gift was furnished by Mrs. Smith and won by Mrs. Richard Snow.

Walters Asks Funds Plans For Dam Site

BOISE, March 6 (AP)—Democratic gubernatorial candidate John C. Walters says Idaho revenue from the High Mountain Sheep dam could be used to develop the Mountain Home irrigation project.

Walters said the dam project for use in constructing the Fremont and Bird dam projects in eastern Idaho.

On the Mountain Home proposal, Walters said the near-300,000 acre desert could be turned into the "garden spot of the state."

He said, however, that he did not favor Idaho turning over the Snake River, where the proposed High Mountain Sheep dam will be constructed, to out-of-state interests, public or private, without receiving more than a "proportionate" sum in taxes.

"Gov. Robert E. Smylie is willing to turn over the High Mountain Sheep Dam site on the middle reaches of the Snake river to the Pacific-Northwest Power company," Walters said, "but I don't think a million dollars in tax benefits to Idaho."

"That appears to me to be a gross exaggeration," Walters said. Dam generation will not be located on the Idaho side of the river.

Work Starts on New Rupert Well

RUPERT, March 6—Mayor Oliver Acock announced today that work would start on a new city well within 30 days. The city recently had to ask Rocky Mountain Chemical processing plants to shut down for two days due to the drop in the water table.

The mayor emphasized there is no real problem now in the water supply, but that the city wanted to do something about the situation before it became critical.

The water table has dropped about 35 feet in the two wells now being used by the city. The larger well was pumping 1,000 gallons a minute, but the pump had to be lowered 20 feet and it is now pumping 800 gallons a minute. The other well is pumping about 500 gallons a minute. The new well will be located north of the city. This should enable the city to extend water service to areas north of the city limits.
