Mr. Wirtlins, in the process of evading snow squalls, had taken a westerly course, he could have arrived in the Battle Mountain area about that time, according to Moulton.

Wirtlins felt that far west he would have had 20 minutes to an hour's supply of fuel left.

Yesterday, pilots from Arion, Wyo., where Wirtlins formerly lived, contacted the Battle Mountain area, from Ely, where he had searched. They landed at ranches nearby.

Moulton said the ranchers were "very positive about seeing a yellow and white airplane last Sunday afternoon."

Moulton has called officials in Nevada and radio stations asking them to try and pick up other clues about the plane's disappearance.

A public card party has been planned by the club for 7 p.m. Saturday, March 24, at the Elks club.

Next meeting of the club will be at 7:30 p.m. March 21 at the American Legion hall.

Larry Annis, Flier, FFA district president conducted the business meeting. Vern Frantz, Gooding, state FFA president, also attended the meeting.

Plan Studied For Bicycle Safety Class

Tentative plans for a bicycle safety program for students in elementary school grades through eighth were discussed during the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Exchange Club at the Regency hotel state room.

Andy Anderson, chairman of the bicycle safety program committee, said a meeting had been scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday at the Junior high school with principals of Twin Falls schools.

Members also discussed the possibility of sponsoring a one-week summer camp for delinquent youths.

William Denny, James Baker, Andy Anderson, James May, Al Jenkins, Robert Gillespie and the Rev. Les Carney were appointed as a committee to discuss the camp idea.

The program featured a color film taken during the 19th winter Olympic games at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Idaho Retailers President To Speak in T. F. Monday

R. E. Pasley, Boise, president of Idaho Retailers' association and president of Idaho Department Stores, Inc., will be featured speaker at a luncheon meeting for retailers from throughout Magic Valley Monday noon in the Regency hotel.

William Grange, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager, notes the meeting will be an "expanded" section of the chamber's Commercial division regular meeting.

Pasley will discuss a realistic approach toward an organizational effort for the repeal of inventory tax.

He has had 21 years of experience in department store business, working for J. C. C. C. Anderson stores company in Caldwell, Boise, and Denver, after he was graduated from the University of Washington with a bachelor of business administration degree. In 1937 he was one of a group which formed the Idaho Department store company.

He served as department manager, store manager, divisional merchandise manager and executive vice president of the company before assuming the presidency. The Idaho Department store chain operates 24 stores in five states.

C. E. Benson, chairman of the chamber Commercial division, reminds members there will not be a regular luncheon meeting Monday at Wray's cafe. The meeting with Pasley is being held in place of the regular meeting.

Grange notes "All retailers in Magic Valley are invited to attend. It will be Grange's only appearance in the valley."

Official Claims Salt Poisoning Killed 6 Babies

ALBANY, N.Y., March 16 (AP)—The state health commissioner confirmed today that the death of six babies in the Birmingham General hospital was caused by salt poisoning.

Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe said he would recommend to the state public health council that it amend the state sanitary code to insure against the delivery of extraneous materials, such as salt, to nurseries in hospitals.

The commissioner said the department's indictment on the cause of the deaths was based on preliminary findings of a department team that went to Birmingham to investigate after salt was discovered in a sugar can in the infants' formula room.

Permits Are Requested to Export Grain

WASHINGTON, March 16 (AP)—Applications for permits to export 1.6 million tons of wheat and barley to Red China and North Korea have been filed with the International Trading Company, Seattle, Wash., government officials reported Thursday.

The officials, who declined to be quoted by name, said the applications now are under study by the commerce department. There is presently no trade between the United States and North Korea and Red China.

"There is no information in the applications," officials said, "whether the Seattle company has had any direct dealings with the North Korean and Red Chinese governments."

The company may have filed the applications in the hope of entering into a commercial deal with the two governments if the permits were approved. There was no immediate comment from the company.

The amount of wheat covered by the applications would have a value of close to 400 million dollars, it was reported.

One application is for a permit to export 150,000 tons of wheat and the same quantity of barley to North Korea. Each of the next three years.

The other application is for permission to export 150,000 tons of wheat and the same quantity of barley to Red China in each of three years.

Death Takes Judge Healy In California

SAN MATEO, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Judge William Healy, 80, of the U. S. court of appeals in San Francisco, died today in a San Mateo rest home.

Judge Healy, Boise, Idaho, was appointed to the federal appeals court in 1951. He had served from active duty Dec. 1, 1958.

Healy practiced law in Boise from 1914 to 1933 when he was named general counsel of the farm credit administration in Spokane.

He was a past president of the Idaho State Bar association, served in the Idaho legislature and was a member of the board of regents of University of Idaho.

Born at Winham, Ia., Sept. 7, 1881, he was educated in that state. He came to Idaho fresh from law school and was admitted to the bar in 1907.

He held an honorary doctorate from the University of Idaho. Survivors include the widow, Mary, of San Mateo; three daughters, Mrs. C. R. Burt, San Luis Obispo, Calif.; Mrs. Paul Kelly, San Carlos, Calif.; and Mrs. Cecil Robert, Iowa City, Ia.; two nephews, Joseph Healy, Englewood, Calif., and Frank Healy, Iowa City, and seven grandchildren.

Regnum high mass will be celebrated in San Mateo at 10 a. m. Saturday. The body will be buried at Holy Cross at Colma, Calif.

Three Elected

IDaho STATE COLLEGE, Pocatello, March 16—Three Magic Valley students were named to students officers in Tuesday's election.

David Nelson, Twin Falls, is men's representative to the student body and Charlotte Kinnaman, Jerome, is women's representative. New treasurer of the women students is Madeline King, Buhl.

Area Youths Granted Elks Scholarships

Four Magic Valley-area high school students, winners of the most valuable student scholarship awards, were honored and ceremonies conducted by the Twin Falls Elks lodge Thursday evening.

The scholarships are divided equally between boys and girls. Girls honored are Dee Anne Baldwin, 17, first place, daughter of Mrs. Dore A. McCluskey, Twin Falls; and Gerald Aikland, 18, second place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Art M. Aikland, Buhl.

Decision for Election Suit Is Postponed

District Judge Theron W. Ward postponed a decision Thursday in a dispute over the Feb. 10 election of the Roti River Electric cooperative's board of directors.

The judge delayed action after attorneys for the defendant electric cooperative submitted a detailed brief. Both sides were given 15 days to file rebuttals.

The suit was filed by cooperative members who claimed cumulative voting was not permitted. They seek an injunction against the board.

Under the cumulative system, a voter may cast as many votes as there are candidates. The votes may be distributed on the ballot for one candidate.

Gem Schools Head Favors Federal Aid

BOISE, March 16 (AP)—Idaho's public school officials said Thursday they believe their state cannot finance with its own resources the educational facilities it needs.

"If the people of Idaho," said D. F. Englekirk, state superintendent of public instruction, "are willing to support a strong educational program, federal aid would not be needed."

"Idaho has never yet taken this position, but rather one of 'we can hold the line with this much money.'"

"It is my considered opinion that local sources of income and state aid are not adequate for the needs of public schools in this state. If federal aid must be the answer for financial support to public schools it should come in the form of general educational support."

"I believe that all federal funds appropriated for use of the several states should lose their identity as to their capacity for forming educational policy at the time of appropriation and should become subjected to the management and expenditure of the state and local board of education."

Englekirk expressed his views in remarks prepared for reading here of the Ads county Democratic Women's club. Now serving his first term as state superintendent, Englekirk is expected to seek reelection. He is a Democrat.

Englekirk said Idaho already is receiving a great deal of financial aid from the federal government. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1959, he said the total was nearly 49 million dollars, including 25 million dollars for highways.

Considerable money already is being received as aid to education, he said, including 2.8 million dollars in the 1959 fiscal year.

Winners compete for the national scholarship awards.

Burley Exchange Sponsors Circus

BURLEY, March 16—The Exchange club will sponsor the Ken Jensen circus again this year in Burley on May 25. It was announced Thursday noon.

Funds will be used to send a girls club to state and also toward the various other community projects of the club.

The business meeting was conducted by James Holbrook, president, and the bylaws of the club were reviewed. Guests at the luncheon meeting were Paul Hansen and Andrus Anderson.

More Stamps

W. W. Frantz, Twin Falls postmaster, reported that 10,000 stamps commemorating the orbital flight of Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., were sold out the first week they were offered for sale.

An additional 10,000 stamps now are available and may be purchased at the post-office.

Dr. Compton, Developer of Bomb, Passes

BERKELEY, Calif., March 16 (AP)—Dr. Arthur H. Compton, 83, was honored in death Thursday as a dedicated physicist who tried to promote a better understanding of science and its impact on man.

Stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage on March 3, the noted prize-winning physicist died Thursday at Alta Bates Community hospital here without regaining consciousness. His condition was complicated by pneumonia.

Dr. Compton's vision was instrumental in the development of America's nuclear weapons.

The former chancellor of Washington University in St. Louis came to the University of California last month as a professor-at-large, planning a series of seminars.

University of California Chancellor Edward W. Strong lauded Dr. Compton Thursday for his devotedness to science and his desire to promote a better understanding of science and its impact on man.

'Killer Instinct' May Be Bridge Player's Secret

NEW YORK, March 16.—More women than men play bridge in this country. In championship competition, the men are dealing the women out.

There was, for instance, no woman on any of the four teams competing in New York for the world contract bridge team championship. Teams representing Italy, Great Britain, Argentina and North America played for the title in the 11th international competition held in Rome last November.

Statistically, the North American team should have some woman on it. For according to the Association of American Playing Card Manufacturers, there are 22 million females among the estimated 40 million players in the United States.

Richard Frey of the American Contract Bridge League said the last time a woman was represented in the international tournament was in 1960 when Helen Sobel of the U. S. team playing in the World Olympiad in Turin, Italy.

The league, with 120,000 members, is bridge's non-profit governing body.

Frey, noting the decline of women's interest in the game, said that women just do not have the stamina necessary for long sessions at the bridge table. The current tournament is a 10-day, ten-nine-days-with-a-half-day rest—event.

Another woman champion disagreed with the stigma.

"I think women do have the endurance," she said. "But more of men don't know the strategy because they don't have the killer instinct men have. They don't have the concentration men have... men don't lose track."

Kimberly Group To Give Poetry Contest Prizes

Farm AND Ranch

SECTION

Magic Valley's Week-End Farm Paper

Friday, March 16, 1962 - Twin Falls Times-News - 9

Along Fences and Canals

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Clark have been riding daily near their herd of 250 head of white and black cattle which they are wintering on Silver creek. They don't expect to start calving until April 1 but they are keeping close watch because of temperatures down to zero or below each night. Mrs. Clark said they have seen several hilliders and the small birds give them hope as they usually precede the ushering in of spring.

Jack Allred is feeding 50 head of cattle on his ranch at Gannett and expects to start calving about April 15. He also has milk cows.

Many Gooding area farmers report that their spring work is far behind other springs. The ground is frozen and therefore they are unable to start the spring plowing. Ed Koester, county extension agent, says this is the latest spring he has seen in the 10 year he has been in Gooding.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Graves have moved to the ranch they recently purchased from J. A. Claiborne, one mile west and two miles south of Tuttle. The Graves have remodeled the house and built corrals for their cattle. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Marsh and son have purchased the ranch vacated by the Graves from Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lenker, Gooding, and will move there soon. The old Lenker ranch is three-quarters mile west of Tuttle. The Marsh family has been living at Hasty for the last several years but are former residents of Tuttle and Hagerman.

Dr. Charles Collins, Buhl physician, has bought a riding horse for his two youngsters. The horse is being stabled temporarily at the Reulepp Lierman ranch.

Leonard Winkler, Elter sheepman, heads the committee for the annual Kivwits lamb banquet again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gardner plan to move from their home in Hilley to their ranch near the state fish hatchery south of Gannett next week.

A small bull snake made an unwelcome appearance at the Arrow Bridge farm near Dietrich last week. About 1 p.m. Mrs. Bridge and a friend were visiting when the snake slithered out from under a bed. By the time they had found something to kill it with, the snake had disappeared. But the women, who were ill and afraid to retire, grimly waited for its return. Their patience was rewarded two hours later and when he reappeared he fell into the hands of the hunters. The snake was placed in a jar for evidence.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lehman have sold their 117-acre farm to Elton Kendrick and are now making their home at 401 Main street east in Buhl. The Lehmans have farmed their ranch, located one-fourth mile west of Buhl on the Deep Creek road, for the past 35 years.

Gall and Thurman Hansen have purchased 120 Holstein calves 5 weeks old to raise on their ranch in the Mackay area near Richfield. Mr. and Mrs. Gall Hansen took the purchasing trip to Los Angeles where the Hansens usually purchase calves for their feeder program.

The new machine shed and shop being built on the Howard Hill ranch north of Shoshone is getting a roof this week. The building, replacing one that burned down last summer, measures 100 by 56 feet. Work on the building is being done by Hill, his son, Gary, who works on the farm with him, and a hired man, Clarence Carpenter.

The H. R. Paulsons, Dietrich, are again in the chicken business. Magic Valley Farms, Inc., has delivered 6,400 newly hatched broilers to the Paulson farm. This is the first batch of chickens for the Paulsons since the flock that took 6,000 chickens last month. Their coop has dried out and necessary preparations made to handle the new flock.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Severa have rented the John Grodron 10-acre ranch, southwest of Buhl.

Walter Durck, Oakley, recently added five farrowing pens to his herd. The new pens in them produced 54 little pigs or over 10 pigs to the litter. He recently sold 150 large pigs.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Durk, well-known Kimberly farmers, have moved into their two-bedroom frame house they have built themselves—except for the electrical work, including an electric heating system. Many persons built part or all of their own homes, but Durk is his 70s and Mrs. Durk is in her late 60s. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Homstead, and family, will move into Durk's previous house. The Homsteads are now living in the original house on the farm, which was one of the first houses built on the tract. Durk plans to make a shop and calf shed out of the old house.

WELCOME HANDSHAKE is given Merrill D. Hill, president of J. I. Case company, to J. A. Williams (right), owner of the Williams Tractor company in Twin Falls. The executive, who took office March 8 after being a vice president of the Ford Motor company, was in Twin Falls for three days on a combined business and pleasure trip. He is well acquainted in Magic Valley and often visits this area to fish. At one time he made the trip down Idaho's famed Salmon river. (Times-News photo)

Among the (almost completely) mechanically operated farm sections in the country. For instance, there is a good diversification of crops. In fact there are very few places in the United States where it is this diversified.

In addition to farming, the executive declared that this immediate area is "most attractive" for tourists. "Take in my own case, I have fished for salmon many times in the Stanley fish area. One of the nicest trips I ever made was down the Salmon river, of my return with Capt. Don Smith, Salmon. On this particular trip some of the other passengers included the late Ken Sell, Twin Falls; Senator Dvorshak and his son, Henry; my son, Dick, and Mr. Heale of Hagerman.

"In all sincerity, I have always found Idaho people friendly and cooperative," he concluded. "He left Twin Falls by air Friday morning for the company headquarters at Racine, Wis. He and Mrs. Hill will make their home in Chicago under the new arrangements, moving from Birmingham, Mich."

Executive Says Valley Pacing U.S. as Market

By O. A. (GUS) KELKER, Farm and Ranch Editor

Magic Valley is the "greatest market for farm machinery and tractors" in the United States and is the garden spot of the nation.

"This is what Merrill D. Hill, new president of the J. I. Case company, a major tractor and implement manufacturer, said Thursday while visiting in the Twin Falls area.

He came here from Las Vegas on a combined business and pleasure trip before returning east to assume his new duties. He officially became Case president on March 8. His arrival in Twin Falls enabled him to visit the firm's area outlet, Williams Tractor company, and owner, Harley Williams.

"The Williams company is the first dealership visited since I became president of the Case concern," Hill said. "It was not by hit or miss, either, because the Twin Falls firm is one of the really big dealers in the United States."

"The new executive is no stranger in Magic Valley. He has many friends in this area including Ed Benoit, attorney; Dr. Frank Carpenter, and Mrs. Vivian Reed, widow of the late Duffy Reed, construction company head. At one time Hill's son, Richard B. Hill, headed the Magic Valley $400,000 Asked To Battle Birds SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 16—California's state department of agriculture has asked an additional $400,000 from the U. S. department of the interior in the fight against starlings in California. Starlings have become a menace in California feedlots, consuming thousands of dollars worth of feed and ruining even more with their droppings.

Water Flow of Streams Not Expected High This Season

BOISE, March 16 (AP)—Water flow in streams in Idaho and eastern Oregon during the current season will range from only 88 per cent of normal to 112 per cent, the U. S. weather bureau predicts.

The estimate was based on snow-melt conditions as of Feb. 1. The agency listed these percentage predictions of provable stream flow in the area:

- Snake river at Minidoka, 112 per cent of normal; Snake river near Heale, 108; near Weiser, 71; near Clarkston, Wash., 81.
- Big Wood river near Richfield, 88; Owyhee river, net inflow into Owyhee reservoir, 85; Boise river near Boise, 83; South-fork of Boise river near Anderson Ranch dam, 83; Malheur river near Brewster, Ore., 85.

Bull Grading Is Successful, Agent Notes

GOODING, March 15 — For many years grating associations and cattlemen's associations in the Gooding area have been grading their bulls in order to improve the quality of calves they produce. This grading out of the low grade bull that would produce a poorer quality of calf, according to Edward Knecht, county agent.

The Black Canyon association held a bull grading last recently. Results from most of the association members. This group has been grading their bulls for the past 10 years.

Other associations participating in bull grading are North Bliss, Shoshone (Thorne Creek), Gooding County cattlemen, Hagerman and Camas associations. Wendell will have grading the first time this year. The North Bliss association will conduct a tour March 28-29.

Two specialists on the extension service of the University of Idaho, Wade Wells and Morris French, along with the local agriculture agent, conducted the tour and do the grading. They are usually assisted by a committee from the cattlemen.

Approximately 20 cattlemen participated in Black Canyon tour. Bulls graded were from the ranches of Ted Wilson, K. T. Butler and sons, Roy Mink, John Varin, Forest Kinnear, J. C. Patterson, Cliff Toone, Jack Byram, George Bamrose, Rex Miller, Ermin Gold, Stanley Shupe and Leo Rice.

Carl Woolley of the Livestock Commission company says the bull grading has done a lot to raise the quality of the stock going through the sales ring.

Some associations place restrictions in that some allow only Hereford bulls in the open ranges and some allow only high grade bulls, nothing under a grade of A-, B+, B, B-, C+ or a C- grade.

Knecht says the next step is production testing, or gain testing of the cows. The calves are weighed at the time of weaning and again as a yearling. Adjustments must be made for the age of the calf and for the age of the dam.

This grading-out of the cow that will not produce good quality calves. Ernest Fields of the Idaho Herford ranch, Gooding, has been grading his cows for several years with good results.

Shorn Wool for Idaho Decreases

BOISE, March 15 — Idaho's shorn wool production for 1961 is estimated at 10.5 million pounds, down somewhat from 11.3 million pounds for 1960.

Average production per ewe listed at 10.3 pounds, which ranks third in the U. S.

Idaho's Potatoes Illustrate 'Revolution' in Marketing

CHICAGO, March 15 — Idaho's potatoes serve to illustrate a revolution in marketing accomplished by food technologists.

Less than 10 years ago, practically all of the potatoes raised in Idaho were shipped out as whole fresh potatoes. Today, well over half of Idaho's shipments are canned, frozen or dehydrated, and available in countless forms.

Back in 1860 the bulk of the house could make her selection from some 1,500 food products in the grocery stores of the time. Today she has a choice of four times as many items — 6,000 — which "cream" the shelves of the supermarkets to offer an ever-increasing variety of the convenience foods.

Today, authorities say, nearly one-third of every food dollar more than 50 cents is spent on food products that were not on store shelves 10 years ago!

To say that the food technologists have made modern-day living easier is an understatement. It is they who have developed the great variety of convenience foods — frozen foods, "instant" drinks, "soft-in-the-mouth" meals, ready to serve formulated canned foods and a whole host of others.

It is the food technologists who are the trained professionals who apply science and engineering to the manufacture of food products — who have helped provide the people of this country with the best and finest foods in history — as well as the safest.

Remember, when the butcher filled Mom's ham order by slicing pieces from a sometimes-mouldy slab, or the days when fluid peanut butter wouldn't spread — when it separated into one part oil and one part "butter"? Those days are gone forever.

Have you noticed how marshmallows retain their soft, moist texture on the procer's shelf or how cloudy vinegar is a thing of the past?

These and many other advances in the food processing have resulted from the skills of the food technologists who even now are developing that of the food products which will be in the supermarkets of 1970.

The food industry spends more than 100 million dollars annually on product and process development and each year sees that figure grow. The very growth of research, activity, however, is hampered by the shortage of qualified food technologists — a matter of deep concern not only to food industry management but to the Institute of Food Technologists seeking recruits for the

Test-Tube Calves Outgain Natural Calves; Carcass Data Accumulated

CHICAGO, March 15 — Calves sired artificially by critically-selected bulls outgained naturally-sired calves from regular ranch bulls and provided a vast amount of carcass data for use in choosing the "better" sire in choosing a sire for future efforts.

The goals are based on such complete of any known to exist. The same data as used in compiling the "ranking" index.

Among the goals are the following: At least 48 per cent of the carcass weight in the hindquarters; less area in the rib eye (at 12th rib) of at least two square inches per 100 pounds of dressed carcass weight; a 2.2 fat cover over the carcass no thicker than .10 inch (at 12th rib) per 100 pounds of dressed carcass weight; no less than 17% per cent for loin and 9% for rib; and a daily rate of gain from birth to slaughter of 2.25 pounds.

BCI researchers are encouraged over the number of goals that have been attained by offspring of the 47 bulls on test. Eight bulls have progeny which hit the target for 48 per cent or more of the carcass weight in hindquarters. The progeny of nine bulls made the rib-eye area goal, while nine attained the grade for thinness of fat cover and yield of loin, respectively.

It may be years before the progeny of any given sire reach all of the goals. In fact, the best bulls may be those which have a desirable balance of attainments rather than those which hit more goals but fall down in other respects.

Numerous correlations have been worked out through joint action of BCI and other Armour division known as operations research. A team of scientists, including statisticians and a geneticist, have found, for example, an absolute lack of correlation (.001) between marbling and tenderness. In other words, carcasses with the highest marbling scores were no more tender than those with the lowest scores for marbling. This determination strengthens the indications recently announced by several agricultural colleges.

Armour officials maintain, however, that the importance of marbling should not be

For fat cover, the lightest animals (700 to 750 pounds) had an index of 19.43 (at 12th rib) per 100 pounds of dressed carcass weight. The fat thickness increased to 31 for the 1,000 to 1,050-pound calves and 12 for the upper extreme, weighing from 1,250 to 1,400 pounds.

By retaining the top bulls on the index table and eliminating the bottom end, BCI is building a stud without peer. This will help "put" the beef industry on a sound and enduring basis.

In a new and broadened program, BCI semen is now being made available to farmers, ranchers and local bull studs. Further information may be secured by contacting Beef Cattle Improvement Research, Box 1026, Denver 16, Colo.

Research Seeks 'Starling Death'

CALDWELL, March 15 — Several organizations are cooperating on a research program here aimed at devising a means of eliminating starlings.

Study programs have been set up at feedlots of Johnny Bore, Martin Green and Bill Richardson, all Caldwell. Clay Crawford, U. S. fish and wildlife service, plans research farther east in Idaho. Other cooperating organizations are the Idaho Cattle Feeders association and U. S. department of agriculture.

Completion of this massive experiment requires the most complete go-around, from breeding through slaughter, for Armour and company's BCI beef cattle improvement research organization. BCI was established four years ago to conduct a long-range search for increasingly better sires which would produce beef more in line with consumer preferences and increase the rate of gain, weaning weight, feed conversion efficiency, grade and cut-out value.

An average daily gain of 2.40 pounds was recorded by the "artificial" calves, compared with 2.21 pounds for 245 "natural" ones. These calves were produced on 23 ranches in nine states.

BCI researchers believe that the difference in rate of gain should widen in the future because a rapidly-increasing proportion of the "artificial" calves come from bulls selected by means of a recently devised ranking index.

The system is designed to rate the sires on a scale built around wide range of growth and carcass cut-out determinations.

Using this index to rate the 47 bulls in the study from a carcass value standpoint was found to be a desirable balance of attainments rather than those which hit more goals but fall down in other respects.

Soil Nutrient Shortage Can Damage Crop

MADISON, Wis., March 16.—When your car falls, you can't always blame the weather. Chances are, it's either something wrong under the hood, or you've run out of gas.

Similarly, when farm production drops, or the plants appear to be diseased, very often the cause is under the soil or due to a shortage of some vital nutrient.

In recent years, more and more problems have been traced by research agronomists to the deficiencies of magnesium. But symptoms of the deficiencies have for years been blamed on other causes.

"Sand grown" is a good example. This "disease" of tobacco plants was commonly associated with acid sandy soils, but in 1922, scientists established the fact that the problem was actually due to a magnesium deficiency.

Potatoes are another example, where a number of maladies have been traced to magnesium deficiencies. Both firmness and texture of potatoes are affected by the amounts of magnesium available to the growing plants.

One important function of magnesium that has been illustrated in potatoes and other vegetables is that it makes phosphorus more readily available to the plant, says Dr. J. C. Englehouse, manager of agricultural services for International Minerals and Chemical Corporation.

Researchers at the University of Wisconsin found that magnesium was the only nutrient element that tended to influence the number of peas in a pod. They followed this with the explanation that insufficient magnesium was probably responsible for the increased yield, and that the magnesium made the phosphorus more readily available to the plant.

And sugar beet yields have been substantially increased by the application of water-soluble magnesium to sandy or sandy-loam soils in California, Colorado, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska and Ohio.

Importance of magnesium, particularly water-soluble magnesium in a form such as soluble potash magnesia, has been recognized by many state soil laboratories. Among them is the Michigan Department of Agriculture, State university, which has added a magnesium test to its standard soil analysis program. This laboratory tests more than 100,000 samples every year.

Apples, citrus, corn, alfalfa, wheat and grapes, and legumes such as soybeans have been benefited by increasing the supply of magnesium in experimental cultures and later in commercial orchards, gardens and on farms.

In many areas, dolomite limestone is used to sweeten the soils, but in this case, magnesium is in an insoluble form, and often takes a long time to get to the plant.

A more immediately available form—that can be applied directly or in a mixed fertilizer—is sulfate of potash magnesia.

Magnesium compounds to the oil or gasoline in automobiles because it is the central atom of chlorophyll—the green material that enables plants to grow.

Most important aspect of sulfate of potash magnesia is the fact that it offers an immediate cure for deficiencies, such as a quick trip to the repair shop or another gallon of gasoline will for a car.

SHORTENED LATERAL is pointed out by Alfred Peters, manager of the Twin Falls Canal company. The lateral, located about five miles northwest of Buhl, was originally six miles long and now it's about four and one-half miles long, he projects.

look about six weeks and cost about $4,000. Grass seed also was planted along the banks of this lateral. The expense to maintain the lateral was cut by 75 per cent by straightening it. (Times-News photo)

March Weather Holds Key to Date Water Will Flow in Canals Again

Weather holds the key to the date water will be turned back into the canal system, says Alfred Peters, manager of the Twin Falls Canal company.

Peters anticipates water will be back in the system about April 1, but he points out that spring weather will determine when a demand will build up for irrigation water. After water has been turned into the canal at Minidoka, the flow will be built up gradually as demand increases until a full head flows in the canal again. Full use will be reached about the middle of May, Peters says.

Maintenance expenses of the Twin Falls Canal company were higher last year than the year before, according to Peters. During 1961 he cost the canal company $171,682.04 for maintenance in Twin Falls, Buhl and Castleford, Peters said. Maintenance expenses for 1960 were $163,010.60 for the three areas.

Peters said the company has done many things this year to cut expenses. One major project was to straighten lateral No. 10, which is located about five miles northwest of Buhl.

Peters said the lateral was originally six miles long and was a winding drainage ditch. Now the lateral has been shortened to four and one-half miles by straightening it.

Straightening the lateral took about six weeks and cost about $4,000, Peters said. But with new banks and faster flow the expense to maintain it has been cut about 75 per cent. Previously, mowing crews had to remove moss about every eight days. Now they may have to mow it about three times during the season.

The canal company also has seeded the canal and lateral banks with grass seed. Peters stated. Along the inside banks of lateral No. 10, blue grass has been planted and on the outside and on top cropped wheat grass has been planted. "We hope the grass starts sooner than the weeds do," Peters said. The grass will hold the soil better than weeds, Peters added.

Peters stated the company has been "cleaning canals and improving the banks during the winter months. During the February thaw, there was little damage to canals, laterals or ditches," Peters said. A lot of the ditches and laterals had trash in them which had to be removed.

LAYERS INCREASE WASHINGTON, March 16.—The department of agriculture estimates the number of chicken egg layers on Jan. 1 was 347 million, compared with 342.7 million on Jan. 1, 1961.

Commercial Label for Chemical Is Approved

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—Stauffer Chemical company has issued a commercial label for Tiliam G-E (TM) for weed control in tomatoes and sugar beets, following "acceptance" of the label claims by the United States department of agriculture.

Recommendations call for application of two-thirds of a gallon of Tiliam G-E per acre (or four pounds actual material) in 40 to 100 gallons of water. The Tiliam should be applied with a standard low-pressure boom-type sprayer, operating at 20 to 30 pounds per square inch. The spray equipment should be calibrated carefully before use, and checked frequently during application to make sure nozzles are "free from clogging" and a "uniform spray pattern" is being delivered.

Application should be followed immediately—that is, within minutes—by thorough mixing or incorporation of Tiliam into the soil.

In the case of broadcast or overall application, incorporation should be done with a disc or with a hooded, power-driven rotary tiller with L-shaped teeth (the Bye-Hoe is an example). When Bye-Hoe is used, it should cover the field twice at right angles. It should be set to cut at a depth of five to six inches, except for nutgrass control, when it should be set deeper. The rotary tiller should be set for a depth of three to four inches for all weeds except nutgrass, and as deep as possible for nutgrass.

For band or row application, the rates of application given for broadcast treatment should be reduced proportionately, depending on the row spacing and width of the band to be treated. A rotary tiller like the Bye-Hoe is suitable for band incorporation in all soils. In organic or light, sandy soils, tillers like the Cultro and Chaffin (hooded) also may be used.

Sugar beets and tomatoes may be planted immediately after Tiliam treatment. Both direct-seeded and transplant tomatoes may be planted in treated soil. If pineapples are used, however, they should be vented. Annual grasses controlled include crabgrass, foxtails, millet, Setaria, pigweed, watergrass, broadleaf grass and wild oats. Annual broadleaf weeds controlled include dead nettle (Therapsis), hairy nightshade (ground cherry), lamb's-quarters, nutcracker, prostrate pigweed, purslane and redroot pigweed. These broadleaf weeds will be controlled only if conditions are favorable for germination at the time of application.

Yellow nutgrass also is controlled. Existing stands must be turned under and chopped up thoroughly before treatment.

Initial Bean Of Season Is "Harvested"

CASTLEFORD, March 16.—Ralph Conway, biology instructor at the local high school, was shocked.

Rita Blue, a student, started a project last December by planting a bean seed in a pot inside the school room. One stalk emerged, strong and healthy.

Today Miss Blue presented the instructor with the initial result of her project. She had picked a pod. More are still maturing on the vine.

Instructor Conway (for Miss Blue) claims the first bean of the "growing season."

16 Agricultural Movies Available From Union Pacific on Requests

OMAHA, March 16—Union Pacific railroad has 16 agricultural motion pictures, suitable for showing to all groups, that are available on request.

The agricultural films are available without charge and are shown on a regular basis at the exhibitor paying the return transportation charge. Requests for the film should be directed to the department of livestock and agriculture, Union Pacific railroad, 1418 Dodge street, Omaha, Neb. Or the nearest Union Pacific representative can be contacted, says Joe W. Jarvis, supervisor of livestock and agriculture.

In addition to the agricultural films, Union Pacific has 14 other films on western national parks, scenic attractions, "Valley and safety, plus several short subjects. The films are 16 millimeter in color and with sound. "Gift From the Clouds" is a 28-minute film featuring the importance of water and showing progressive irrigation methods with emphasis on delivery, control and application of water to different types of crops.

"Companion Film, 'It's Time to Irrigate'—runs for 10 minutes and with motion picture methods used to determine when a crop needs economical the elevator is.

The bucket elevator is a vertical endless belt with cups (or buckets) attached. The cups carry the feed or grain to the desired height in a dump. The empty cups, on the "down" side of the belt, help balance the loaded cups on the "up" side, drastically cutting the power required to operate the unit.

Capacity of the new line of farm bucket elevators ranges from 100 to 3,000 bushels an hour. The elevators are weather-tight and self-supporting. Two three or six bins can be loaded by optional ground-controlled valves or distributors.

water, how much to apply to a given crop and new methods of application.

"New Look in Potatoes" deals with the potato processing industry and has a companion film, "Potato Appeal," on preparation of potato films. "New Horizons Along the Milky Way" considers the dairy industry and its companion film, "Raising Dairy Cattle," gives recommended steps in herd replacements.

"Western Sheep" is a 20-minute film on new western methods of producing and handling sheep and the companion film, "Culling Sheep," deals with flock improvement for both meat and wool production.

"Hog Sense" covers modern swine breeding, raising and marketing. "Raising Little Pigs" covers care and preparation of the sow for confinement.

"Fresh From the West" covers the vegetable industry. "Fruits of a Lifetime" deals with western grown fruits and "Blades of Grass" is a 15-minute film on grass.

"Design for More Eggs" is a 13 1/2-minute on-the-farm training and teaching film, "Cattle Country"—runs for 25 minutes on the science of western beef production and "Wheat Soul Control" is a 10-minute teaching film with animations.

Other U.P. films are "Last of the Glanias," "Wild Shore," "Golden Gate Empire," "Northwest Empire," "Painted Canyons," "Days of Our Years," "Summer in Sun Valley," "Winter in Sun Valley," "Sun Valley Skiing," "Sun Valley Snowing," "Last Clear Chance," "That We Might Live," "The Long Way Home From School" and "Look, Listen and Live."

Filer Sheepman To Fete Kiwanis

PILER, March 16—Filer sheepman will entertain the Filer Kiwanis club at their annual lamb banquet at 7 p.m. Tuesday at the Methodist church here.

Each year, the Kiwanis club hosts the sheepman prior to the Filer ram sale; the banquet is then held for Kiwanis members.

Several prominent out-of-town guests interested in the sheep industry will be featured speakers.

A film, "The Lost Hunter," will be shown, sponsored by the Idaho state fish and game department.

Members of the committee in charge of the event are Leonard Winkler, Robert Blakely, Archie Coiner, A. B. McCoy, Paul Brown, Ralph Lierman, R. B. Beatty, Roy Lincoln and Thomas Parks.

Dairymen Go To School of Milking Firm

CHICAGO, March 16—Select dairymen from all parts of the U.S. and Canada are flocking to the 1962 dairy production conference held at the Surge Dairy school near St. Charles, Ill.

Leaders in their respective communities, these trailblazers form a nucleus of dairy farmers who are looking realistically to the future of the milk industry and to opportunities with the dairy cow. They are pulling no punches in tackling current problems in a down-to-earth manner. Some have attended already from the Magic Valley vicinity.

One of the main themes at these conferences, sponsored by Union-Pac, dairy-research serice, is "to get the very best from each cow."

The emphasis is on more efficient production of each cow plus more careful management of the entire operation which will result in a greater profit for each dedicated dairy farmer.

Since the way a cow is milked directly affects each dairyman's profit, the most efficient milking methods known are discussed. Individual attention to each cow is stressed.

Cow health is studied, including the utmost care of the delicate udder. An antiseptic from a real cow is examined closely. Each dairyman has the opportunity to watch milk being taken from the udder during careful milking by a breaker cup machine.

Butler farm bucket elevator, a Butler Manufacturing company, is elevated by cups, cups go over top of pulley, number of center legs.

From lifted this example: a five-horsepower motor (the largest permissible in many rural communities) a farmer can lift 450 bushels of grain an hour to a height of 100 feet. Using a bucket elevator with only a one-horsepower motor, he can lift more than 850 bushels an hour to a height of 100 feet. So for every dollar spent on power, a farmer can lift more than five times as many bushels with a bucket elevator.

With the five-horsepower motor, the bucket elevator will lift more than 1,250 bushels to a height of 100 feet, 40 feet over the sugar limit.

Because of the smaller motor and reduced power needs, the bucket elevator becomes competitive in price with the sugar. This point is especially reached when feed grain must be lifted more than 55 feet, Crom explained. The higher the lift, the more

Future for Idaho Fed Beef Termed Good by Area Buyer

The handling factor in the Idaho fed cattle industry is the supply of feed grain for the feedlot, noted Robert Kemp, representing King Packing company, Nampa, after the first annual Fat Stock and Feeder show held Tuesday in the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company yard.

Kemp, who was one of the judges for the show, commenting on the cattle industry, said that the beef industry has changed somewhat in the past few years. "The trend is to lighter leaner and trimmer beef. However, there will probably always be a market for heavier beef. The hotel and restaurant trade which consumes about 20 per cent of the marketable beef likes their beef finished to a higher degree," Kemp said.

Drug Firm's Treatment of Bloat Is New

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 18—A pharmaceutical for the treatment of bloat in cattle has been developed by Globe Laboratories, Fort Worth, a division of Chas. Pfizer and company.

The product is marketed under the trade name of Globe Bloat Remedy and contains 10 per cent polargolins and 30 per cent polyethylene glycol laurate, and 45 per cent isopropyl alcohol by volume.

Dr. Frank R. Jones, president of Globe Laboratories, said that bloat in cattle is the accumulation of an excessive amount of gas in the paunch, produced during normal digestion, but normally removed by belching or by absorption into the blood stream, and eliminated in the urine.

Dr. Jones said chronic bloat often is caused by mechanical factors, such as enlarged glands, but by obscure physiological abnormalities.

Dr. Jones pointed out that by far the majority of bloat cases are the result of sudden changes in feed or pasture, or in eating certain types of forage such as green clover or creep alfalfa.

Globe Bloat Remedy is designed as an effective treatment of bloat, foamy bloat, and other types of this particular condition. Dr. Jones outlined "clinical trials indicate that it is highly effective in treating nearly all varieties of bloat."

Globe Bloat Remedy may be diluted with a pint of water and given as a drench, or it may be injected directly into the paunch without diluting. Drench method is indicated, Dr. Jones said, when the severity of the condition demands immediate relief.

Additional treatment may be indicated, Dr. Jones said, and for this he recommended a purgative, rumen tablets, thiopyridazine, sterile glucose solution and dextrose, or terramycin in soluble powder form, according to the individual symptoms and history of the animal.

Little Wood Area Has Best Water Outlook in 7 Years

HAILLEY, March 18 — Snow depths and water content in the Little Wood creek and Fish creek areas are the best in seven years, William Woody, official soil conservation survey reporter, said this week after completion of the March 1 compilation of water predicitions.

This year's measurements at the Muldoon course on this drainage show 29.5 inches of snow with 7.8 inches of water. In 1958, depth on the course was 18.8 inches with six inches of water content. The water content last year was 4.8 inches.

Average water content for the 14-year period between 1943 and 1957 on this course is 8.4.

At the Gardfield course there is now 38.9 inches of snow with 9.8 inches of water, compared to 31.3 inches of snow with 8.2 inches of water in 1958. Last year the water content here as of March 1 was 8.4 inches. The average water content for the 1943-1957 period is 10.2 inches.

At Sweede's peak the snow depth is 41 inches with 10.4 inches of water. In 1958 it was 48 inches with 13 inches of water. On March 1, 1961, the water content here was 10 inches.

At the Porcupine course there is now 64 inches of snow with 18.4 inches of water. Figures for 1958 and the 14-year average are not available. March 1, 1961, the water content of the snow on this course was 11 inches.

On the Fish creek drainage, at the Tetter ranch course, there are now 33.3 inches of snow with 8.3 inches of water content. In 1958 there was 14.8 inches of snow with 4.8 inches of water. Last year the water content was 3.3 inches. The average 14-year water content for 1943 to 1957 on this course is 8.1 inches.

At the Iron mountain mine there are 39 inches of snow with 10.4 inches of water. In 1958 there were 27 inches of snow with 7.2 inches of water. Last year the water content here was 6.8 inches. The 14-year average for this course is unavailable.

On the Big Wood river drainage, at the snow packs at both the Macrot mine and Bald mountain courses, are the highest since 1950. Snow on the Dollard course, at the Horner area, the Springs-Smokey drainages is above the 1958 measurement. The Horse creek course near Galena, and Galena summit courses, both measure slightly below 1958.

Snow at the Macrot course at the head of the east fork of Big Wood river, now measures 61.2

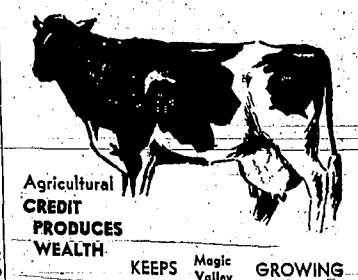

water for 1958; 6.7 inches of water for last year and 12.8 inches of water for the 14-year average.

On Bald mountain there are now 68 inches of snow with 18.4 inches of water compared to 60.8 inches of snow with 17.4 inches of water for 1958; 12.8 inches of water for last year and 8.8 inches of water for the 14-year average.

The newly installed precipitation measurement device installed in January at the Galena summit course, showed that 4.3 inches of precipitation fell here during February.

Accompanying Woody on his Snow-CO and data, and assisting him in taking the various measurements were Ralph Glavin, Hailley-Baviloff, forest ranger, Walter Arms, Eugene; Joe Rush, Fish creek area, and Harvey Bickel, Galena area.

Due to snow machine troubles and poor visibility the Dollard summit measurements were again made by aerial survey by Lawrence Johnson.

Session Is Held On Conservation

JEROME, March 18—Sixty soil conservation superintendents met for an all-day workshop in Jerome last week. In the morning session they presented their production and during the afternoon session these problems were discussed and questions were answered.

Robert McMillan, national representative of the soil conservation, told the supervisors that the national association can do for the local districts and states and what facilities are available to them.

McMillan spoke briefly at luncheon held by the Chamber of Commerce. He said the farming and industry must key themselves to the growing population and need for outdoor recreation.

Wide Variety Reported for California Cattle Operations

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16—Nowhere in the U. S., probably nowhere in the world, are there as wide a variety of cattle operations as in California.

For instance, there is a particular feedlot with a 1,000-head capacity that has no mill. The Vi-King Cattle company just out of Vanita has incorporated all the most modern ideas in layout, scales, working corrals and chutes but no feedmill. Vi-King has tied its feeding operations to Purina formulas and all feed is processed and mixed at the Vanita Checkered brand then delivered by truck to the Vi-King lot in two-day supplies. Then there is the old hand cattle people system that goes with civilization. Subdivisions take over farmland and what was once prairie is irrigated, graded, and turned to the production of high value crops in California. The cattlemen have two alternatives: retreat to the more rugged areas, or to learn how to compete on land of rapidly appreciating value. They are going both.

Of course, the advantages in considering the wide variations to the economic consequences of high-priced land in the city, and as yet, no one has started a real "historic site" operation, even in California. However, one shrewd rancher in the Imperial valley has taken on something close to it.

His land and the climate combine to turn out a high quality crop yield of great value, and this makes expensive land for cows and calves, so he keeps his herd of 125 Chianina and Charolais cows in drylot the year round, feeding them green chop and silage.

It works well and the herd has a nationwide reputation for the quality of its stock. The owner says this is simply a specialty.

Club Flying U.S. Control Over Dairies

COLUMBUS, O., March 16—Opposition to proposed national control over the dairy industry was officially voiced here by the American Jersey Cattle club and National All-Jersey, Inc.

The two organizations representing more than 80,000 breeders of Jersey cattle and All-Jersey milk distributors in 48 states throughout the United States took issue with the administration's proposed dairy program.

Clyde L. Bourque, president of the American Jersey Cattle club and head of the animal husbandry department of the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, La., spokesman for the two organizations, said the Kennedy program offers the American dairymen only two choices—national federalization of quotas, or withdrawal or reduction of support prices.

The organizations' official statement recommends that the dairy industry seek a solution to its problems outside of the proposed farm bill.

It contends the problem of over-supply of fluid milk is being presented to the industry and public as a national crisis, and a national solution can be administered by a national bureau of the federal government.

The two organizations point out the need for clear understanding of the "milk industry" as a segment of the total dairy industry, strongly opposing price supports for fluid milk in excess of market needs. The statement declares high price supports have stimulated over-production.

In the country's third largest issue of Farm Quarterly magazine in a special California section.

The state's total feedlot capacity is 1.2 million head and cattle of every breed, in all states of condition and grade, are all are fed for a profitable turn-around in almost every one of the 600 commercial yards in California. Choice Hereford, Angus or Shorthorn may be in a pen next to a nondescript bunch of crossbreeds of every description.

Big pens of Holstein steers or a scattering of Scotch Highland may be in another area across from well-fleshed cull cows from a purchased herd or a pen of top-line steers spending a few transitory weeks between the rodeo arena and slaughter house, yet all are fed for a profitable turn-around in almost every one of the 600 commercial yards in California. Choice Hereford, Angus or Shorthorn may be in a pen next to a nondescript bunch of crossbreeds of every description.

March Estimate Due Monday on Intent to Plant

WASHINGTON, March 16—The March report on farmers' intentions to plant crops will be released Monday by the department of agriculture.

For several decades, the March report has included only 16 crops: corn, spring wheat, oats, barley, flaxseed, rice, sorghum, potatoes, sweet potatoes, tobacco, beans, peas, soybeans, peanuts, hay and sugar beets. One crop, cotton, is being added this year.

The report, a regular part of the department's statistical service, is designed to be of value to growers, transportation and other business officials, and government agencies in exercising informed judgment relative to production and marketing plans, but also will strengthen the report by bringing into focus the impact of cotton acreage on other important crops. The department said the inclusion of cotton in the report will not only make the same type of information available for planning other important crops, but also will strengthen the report by bringing into focus the impact of cotton acreage on other important crops. The department said the inclusion of cotton in the report will not only make the same type of information available for planning other important crops, but also will strengthen the report by bringing into focus the impact of cotton acreage on other important crops.

Far West Representatives In NCAA Cage Tourney Are Puzzle for Experts

PROVO, Utah, March 16 (AP)—A few months ago, it seems impossible that UCLA, Utah State, Pepperdine and Oregon State would reach the NCAA Far West regional basketball tournament. But there they are—and even more puzzling than how they got there is trying to figure which will go on to the national finals in Louisville, Ky., next week. The regional tournament opens Friday night at the 10,000-seat Brigham Young university fieldhouse with Pepperdine meeting Oregon State in the first game and Utah State and UCLA clashing in the second.

Hiller Set At Keystone For Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 16 (AP)—If there's any doubt of Hiller's position on the San Francisco Giants infield it is second base, but Charlie Hiller doesn't think so. Manager Alvin Dark has stated Hiller would be starting second base and remain there until someone moves him out. Hiller, a cool customer, split last season between Peoria and San Francisco. He batted .354 with the Pacific Coast league club and .239 with the Giants.
 Hiller is convinced that winter baseball during 1960 could have had something to do with his falling to make it as a regular last year.
 "I just didn't feel after last spring," said Hiller. "I didn't do anything to change my swing and the more I think back the more I believe that winter ball may have tired me more than I realize."
 "When I caught my first hit while running to second base against Milwaukee one day last season, I was out for three weeks. When I returned to active duty I felt real good again. I did not play winter ball after last season and the games ahead will prove me right or wrong."
 Hiller has worked many hours in spring training to improve his batting. "Last year," he said, "I batted a few bunts with the Giants. But, I should have hit more of them. When I was with Harrington I used to be considered a good bunter. But, somehow or other I neglected to bunt after I started getting base hits. Maybe I'll capture the touch during the coming year."
 Hiller's potential undoubtedly had much to do with the Giants parting with Don Blasingame. Manager Dark said the first thing that impressed him about Hiller was his bat. "He leads the Texas league in hitting with a .304 mark, nine points better than his closest rival. He also was named most valuable player."
 "I'm not a big strong guy who can fill the homerun ball," explained Hiller, "but I'm a pretty good spray hitter. I hope I can hit 'em where they ain't."
 The little second baseman graduated from St. Thomas college in St. Paul. He signed for a small bonus with the Cleveland organization and in 1958 he was drafted by the Giants.

Bearcats Set To Defend NCAA Crown

Cincinnati opens its defense of the NCAA national basketball championship Friday night as 19 survivors begin regional semifinal play at four campus sites.
 Ohio State, ranked in the Associated Press poll, also begins its drive to avenge an overtime defeat by Cincinnati in last year's final.
 Both Ohio State and Cincinnati have some high hurdles to hop on the way to a repeat final. Cincinnati faces Creighton Friday night, with the winner going against the Texas Tech-Golden State.

Gem Bowling Meet Week-End Play Set

BOISE, March 16 (AP)—Women bowlers from 19 Idaho communities are scheduled to complete this week-end in continuing action of the 1961 Idaho-Montana Women's Bowling Association tournament. At the same time, male bowlers from around the Gem state will be competing in the fifth week-end of the Idaho State Bowling Association tourney at Payette.
 The women's tourney will be the sixth week-end of the women's bowling event. Caldwell Fred Store leads the women's tourney with 2,381.
 Verina Costley-Francis Newman of Homedale set the doubles list with 1,188 and stops this week-end.
 In conjunction with the women's tourney, a 600 roll-off is being held each week-end at Boise's Hillcrest lanes and a high-five team tourney, with entries from 21 southwestern and eastern Idaho communities, is set for Boise Westgate lanes.
 Boise won the high-five crown last year with 2,118, 12 pins better than Rexburg and 21 pins ahead of Nampa.

Sets Record
CHICAGO, March 16 (AP)—Will Chamberlain hit 34 points Wednesday night including four decisive goals in an overtime session, to set an all-time National Basketball Association record and lead the Philadelphia Warriors to a 119-115 victory over the Chicago Packers.
 Chamberlain wound up with 4,000 points for the fractional season, the first time a professional basketball player has hit over 4,000 points in a year.
 The score was 103-102 at the end of regulation play. In the overtime, Chamberlain hit on a field goal his third straight of four hoops, to give Philadelphia a 119-119 lead which they never relinquished.

MARKETS AND FINANCE

Stocks

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Stocks fluctuated on both sides of the dividing line today before finishing in a generally flatback seven-session session.

The earlier advance came in the face of a generally dull and somewhat backdrop but soon succumbed to a round of pre-weekend profit-taking.

Recent news developments include a new record set in personal income, industrial production equalling the December high, retail car sales for the first full year ahead of a year ago, and railroad freight carloadings equaling the December high.

Stocks were somewhat lower following Armed and U. S. Steel both down about 1/4 point. Chrysler dipped more than one-half in the chemicals. Dow tacked up about 1/2, and Dow Jones better than a point.

Among the oils, Amstar declined close to three, Continental more than one and Texaco a point.

In the aerafrax, Republic aviation tacked up a point, and McDonnell slipped about two. Rumors on the street today were that the two companies were going to sign contracts for an army-havy fighter.

Drugs softened with Abbott Laboratories, Johnson and Johnson and Richardson-Merrell down around one point. Pfizer countered with more than one and Johnson with Pharnacial added one.

Feeds were erratic featuring Campbell, Hehrich and U. S. at least one and Borden and Jewell T. at a point or more. Five stocks put in good performance including Campbell, Hehrich and Walgreen—up around one.

Electronics were mixed, component soft and more active in the building materials. U. S. Sylvania added nearly two, Johnson Manville about one-half, and most on estimated higher sales and earnings.

U. S. Smelting was up nearly three at its high. The production of zinc in the U. S. today has many told the SEC today he intends to take part in a proxy fight with U. S. Smelting management.

Elsewhere, ACF Industries, Air Reduction, Ligon, Westcoast, Rex Amstar and Zenon, were at a point or more; Ampac added about a point; Arctic, reeling its earnings. General Electric, and a half million dollar loss following a 3.9 million dollar loss in 1961.

Weather for U.S. Changed Only Slightly

By The Associated Press—The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today with a continuation of unseasonably mild in most areas and a few wet spots.

Coldest weather during to eastern sections of the northern half of the country. Temperatures ranged from zero into the teens.

But some of the cold air dipped into the Southland with freezing weather in parts of Kentucky and Tennessee. Temperatures were mostly in the 30s and 40s in the Southeast as far south as northern Florida.

Readings were in the 20-30 range in the major part of the country below the normal levels for mid-March. Spring starts next Wednesday.

In the West, the 40s prevailed in the northern Pacific Coast states, and ranged into the 40-60 degree range in central sections and the Southwest.

Under simple interest rules, the payment of $60 interest on a $1,000 loan at the end of one year will be 6 percent.

"But business is not done this way," he contends. "This practice among lenders is charge interest at shorter intervals than one year.

BLOOMING CACTUS is inspected by Mrs. Lola Whaley, 1123 Falls avenue east, who notes that the bloom she is holding is the 65th for the plant this season. The cactus bloomed for the first time early last fall. Mrs. Whaley received the plant about six years ago, when it was a tiny sprout about two or three inches long. The blooms last for three or four days, and then start to dry up. After drying up, they drop off. One of the largest blooms on the cactus, which is a giant starfish variety, was 16 inches across. There are about a dozen more buds on the plant. (Times-News photo)

Who Controls Little Wood River? Chamber Meet Asks

SHOSHONE, March 16—Just who controls Little Wood river and an announcement regarding the farmers' right banquet to be sponsored by the chamber of commerce were discussed at the chamber meeting Tuesday noon. The banquet will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday with the Baptist women preparing the meal.

But, who owns the Little Wood river or controls it, at least from the standpoint of flood, was not exactly decided.

Representing the Big Wood Canal company, Manager Leon Orvie, stated he felt that Mans Coffin, watermaster, was in charge of the river, but Coffin stated he felt the city of Shoshone was in charge of the river through the city limits.

Mayor Myrtle G. Burdett reported that the city has written to army engineers at Walla Walla, Wash., seeking assistance in a program to eliminate another flood hole as was experienced recently, and she reported the city will assist in clearing the channel through town.

In reporting on the matter, W. A. Hall, civil defense director, gested of Ward Mills, to invite just one-third of farm group officers instead of all of them, in order to be able to invite more farmers.

Hall and Orvie reported on flood control.

Orvie said he felt a diversion on Dietrich main canal would probably help some, and the diversion could take the water into the sagebrush where it would do no harm.

There was a discussion on the new agriculture stabilization and conservation service building. Pate, the manager, explained the building project.

Stock Exchange Expels Member

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The American Stock Exchange announced yesterday that it has expelled from membership one partner or Josephthal and company, and fined two others $5,000 each on charges of violating exchange rules.

Speaker Hits Idaho's Low Income Rate

HAILEY, March 16 — "Idaho has the lowest per capita income of any state except those in the Deep South," Charles Herndon, Salmon, Democratic candidate for governor, declared at a no-host diner Wednesday night at the Hiawatha hotel here. He addressed the Tetchum Chamber of Commerce Wednesday noon.

At the dinner meeting, the candidate, who has been Lemhi county attorney for 20 years, was introduced by Clyde Sowersby, Blaine county central committee chairman.

The speaker pointed out the low per capita income is true although Idaho is blessed with half a dozen economies.

"Idaho has lost more than 23,000 youth between 1950 and 1960 because there is no incentive for them to remain in the state," he noted, adding the difference between Idaho progressing or drifting lies in leadership which "is unafraid to take a position regardless of political consequences."

He also stated the tax structure of Idaho is a hodge-podge needs to be scientifically studied. Some relief could be afforded taxpayers, the candidate declared.

Herndon stated the corporate tax is keeping industry from coming into the state. He noted there are areas which have not yet been fully explored which would bring in additional industry.

He mentioned the freeport law which provides for stop-over warehouses for through trucks. These bring in considerable income, the attorney said, adding three already have been built in Idaho.

A motor pool for all state cars would save about $100,000 during the biennium, he declared, noting there will be a deficit of four to five million dollars at the end of this biennium and if the state does what it should for education, the amount will be increased another $15,000,000.

Course Completed

KING HILL, March 16—The Red Cross "Mrs." aid class was completed Tuesday night at the King Hill Grange hall. Dan Kelly, port of entry officer, who was the instructor said 16 persons passed the standard course.

Mrs. R. I. Barnes and Mrs. Rodney Rubery received scores of 99 on the test. The class was sponsored by the King Hill Grange and an advanced course will be held if enough persons are interested.

Special PTA Service Held For Richfield

RICHFIELD, March 16—Pounders day was observed at the Richfield March PTA meeting with Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr. in charge of the program. She presented Mrs. Grant Flavel with a life membership award.

Mrs. Flavel, a former Richfield teacher, has served as president of the Richfield PTA and held many appointive and elective offices.

Mrs. Wendell King read the president's message and other articles from the PTA magazine. Program numbers announced by Mrs. Riley were pantomimes by Maryanne Lee and Carol Sibbas and Sandra Sibbas, and songs by Boyd and Merlin King.

William Knatz, unit president, announced the portable science laboratory, a two-year project of the local PTA, had been approved by the government and ordered.

Plans were made for the March 30 father-son and mother-daughter banquet. James F. Briggs and Mrs. Donald Riley were named in charge. Mrs. Ralph Riley, Jr. was appointed food chairman. Mrs. Wendell King, posters, and Mrs. Theo B. Brush, publicity.

Mrs. Wendell King, Mrs. Loyd Lee, and Manuel King were named as nominating committee. The fourth grade and sophomore class were announced as winners of the parent attendance prize for the month. Mrs. Sterling King gave the PTA prayer.

The program was concluded with a father's cake display contest. Loyd Lee won first prize, Manuel King, second, and Sterling King, third. Eight cakes were entered. Judges were Mrs. Ralph Riley, Sr., Mrs. Grant Flavel and Donald Riley.

Mrs. Glen Ross baked the PTA's day cake, decorated in shades of blue. The cakes were served during the refreshment hour and a silver offering taken.

Funeral Held For Mrs. Klaas

Women 'Shirtnappers' Boon to Shirt Industry

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—A new breed of American woman has arisen in the land—the shirtnapper. She designs striped shirts to make her look slimmer and thinner but will take practically any kind she can get her hands on.

The shirtnapper, according to Maurice Parker, president of White House, is a boon to the shirt industry and the reason why men keep on buying an average of 10 shirts a year, a 50 percent increase over the 1950-51 season—a high replacement ratio.

questionnaires at random to women, the most rewarding find from the shirtnapper's standpoint was that 86 per cent of the women wear out more than two men's shirts a year and 76 per cent of this group wear three or more.

The survey also showed women have a great aversion to buying full cut men's shirts for their own and wear only shirts purchased for the male members of the family. They prefer shirts which have been washed five or six times and are not particularly fond of shirts made especially for women.

They wear the men's shirts as pajamas and unashamedly proclaim the long shirtnapper as unnecessary to wear anything else to bed. They also use them as bathing suit tops, tops for filmy nightgowns in cold weather, for housework, to the grocery and at maternity clinics.

Some are worn in some out, some are tied in a variety of knots either at the waist or higher.

Largely as result of the shirtnappers, Parker said, his company had net sales of shirts amounting to 12.5 million dollars in 1961. With shirtnapping still growing, he said, the 1962 figure is expected to reach 15 million dollars.

He noted a 150 per cent increase in sales from 1948 to 1961 and said: "I know we've had a population explosion, but the male population hasn't exploded that much."

Congress, Chief To Be Explored

HOLLYWOOD, March 15 (AP)—ABC news commentator Howard K. Smith will explore the issue of "A Do-Nothing Congress or a Don't-Push President" on "Howard K. Smith-News and Comment" Wednesday, March 21, on ABC-TV.

Smith will explore what he calls the paradox of the President's broad popularity and his seeming inability to move congress for action on much of his legislative program.

Networks Encourage Mail From Viewers—Pro and Con

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—Television makes it easy for you to learn where you should send your entry in the giant sweepstakes unless there is an overwhelming and spontaneous outburst of public anguish at impending loss, whether it will prevent "them"—in most cases the major networks—from going ahead with their plans.

TV networks receive lots of mail from viewers. NBC, for instance, estimates its "normal" monthly receipt of viewer mail at around 15,000 letters. But that is really just a trickle, when one realizes that even an unpopular

Number of Places
The answer is that there are a number of places the viewer may write. But it is extremely doubtful unless there is an overwhelming and spontaneous outburst of public anguish at impending loss, whether it will prevent "them"—in most cases the major networks—from going ahead with their plans.

TV networks receive lots of mail from viewers. NBC, for instance, estimates its "normal" monthly receipt of viewer mail at around 15,000 letters. But that is really just a trickle, when one realizes that even an unpopular net work TV program reaches millions of homes. It is one of the unhappy facts of life that people are more likely to grab pens when they are angry, more likely to write when they disapprove.

The spots where to lodge complaints, congratulations or opinions are four: (1) The station on which the program was seen; the network which broadcasts the program; the Federal Communications Commission whose job it is to safeguard the public's interest in broadcasting, and the program sponsor.

Most TV stations and certainly all networks pay close attention to viewer mail. ABC, CBS and NBC have special departments to handle it. Letters not only receive individual attention and are answered, but all sorts of reports and charts are prepared and circulated among officials.

Quite naturally, the stations and networks, which have plenty of other problems, would infinitely prefer the viewers to spill their wrath on them than, for instance, spatter in ink to the FCC or to the sponsor.

Sponsors get very close attention to viewer mail and are likely to be extremely disturbed by the thought of antagonizing potential customers.

Urges Writing FCC
One crossing organization, the National Association for Better Radio and Television, Los Angeles, feels so strongly that viewer opinion should be heard in the most strategic spots, that it lists the FCC's Washington address in each issue of its magazine under the headline "Want to Protest?"

Each year it also compiles and sells a list of TV's top advertisers, addresses, trade names of product, and the name of the company president.

Parker's company, which conducted a survey of the subject, says 86 per cent of the female population of the country are shirtnappers. She cannot resist the compulsion to buy, borrow or steal a shirt that strikes her fancy from a husband, father or brother.

The company sent out 5,000

'Area Rugs' Show Again Over Floors

CHICAGO, March 16 (AP)—Hardwood floors are showing signs of a trend to area rugs.

Spurring the trend is the open plan of many contemporary homes, leading to the use of area rugs to divide otherwise one-room living areas into dining nooks, music corners, etc.

With so much floor bare, industry runs high in high-styled hardwood flooring. The carpet floor manufacturers report that plank style flooring, in particular, is fast gaining in popularity.

The wide plank apparently strikes an appropriate note of informality in both colonial and contemporary ranch homes.

Available in widths from three to nine inches, this hardwood flooring generally is laid in random widths. Thus, a typical plank floor may be composed of wide planks three to four inches wide, placed alternately.

Superceding the conventional parquet hardwood floor is the modern, more formal in character than either strip or plank flooring it is produced in squares and rectangles of several dimensions. A popular choice is the nine by nine inch square. The blocks can be laid in countless eye-catching patterns.

Comeback for Milton Berle Being Hinted

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP)—The television viewer may feel that the network which broadcasts the program; the Federal Communications Commission whose job it is to safeguard the public's interest in broadcasting, and the program sponsor.

Most TV stations and certainly

Those returns may be joined by Milton Television himself: Milton Berle.

"The network has been talking to me about it," said Berle of his parent (or is it partner?), NBC.

"I admit I'm interested. In fact, I have been thinking about an idea for the last two or three years. It would combine the element of the old Tuesday night show with an entirely different twist. I can't say now what that factor is or I'd be on the air tomorrow."

The main thing I want is the proper time slot. I don't mean it had to be a surefire time; there's no such thing any more. But I don't want to be stuck with an impossible time, as I was with 10:30 Mondays on Jackpot Bowl.

"I'd like a good show, but I myself commended that the sponsor cancel. You can't build a rating at that hour."

Stamp News

To honor the golden jubilee of the Ceylon Boy Scout association, the Government of Ceylon has issued a colorful new 35 cents stamp. It features the Ceylon Scouting badge in buff on a blue background as based on a design by W. A. Ariyaratne. Ceylon is making the occasion with a National Scout jamboree.

The Boy Scout movement was introduced to Ceylon in 1910 by a British engineer attached to the public works department. His first Scout troop was formed at Christ Church college, Matale.

The stamp would still be in circulation when the Ceylon Man in Space stamp issued to commemorate the first orbital launch of a man into space. The stamp was conceived by Postmaster General J. Edwards and Deputy Postmaster General H. W. Brawley. The idea came to him shortly after astronaut Alan Shepard made his first space flight.

The stamp idea was put to officials of the national aeronautics and space administration and the bureau of engraving and printing. They were reminded that never before had a previously unannounced stamp been issued simultaneously with the event it commemorated.

All concerned agreed the plan was feasible provided it could be accomplished under strict security precautions.

Instead of "cloak and dagger" the operation might have been stamp skulduggery and space security.

Robards Has Psychiatrist Role in Film

Broadway star Jason Robards Jr. brings his fine acting talent to the screen, portraying a man torn between love for his neurotic wife and the personal demands of his psychiatric profession, in the adaptation of F. Scott Fitzgerald's novel of the turbulent twenties, "Tender is the Night."

Jason has come a long way from his third major assignment as the hindquarters of a cow in a production of "Jack and the Beanstalk" to lead roles in Broadway hits "The Death-Knell," "Tender is the Night," and "Big Fish, Little Fish." His appearance in Eugene O'Neill's "Long Day's Journey Into Night" prompted critics to comment that he was "the best young actor in America."

"Tender" is only his third motion picture and yet Robards has starred with five of Hollywood's most glamorous women. Deborah Kerr played opposite him in "The Journey," he was Liza Turner's husband in "By Your Side," and in his current role he co-stars with Jennifer Jones, Joan Fontaine and Sir St. John.

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—When children are sick with an infectious disease, serve their meals in bed on paper, cup, plates and bowls. The responsible disease eliminates the need to sterilize their utensils.

"Timber-Topper" Is Latest Device

Photography is a hobby which often breeds ingenuity among its devotees. That's how Ed Clark developed the "polecat" some years ago and has now come up with a "timber-topper." He needed a convenient place to hang his lights when shooting indoors and found that normal light stands didn't go up high enough.

A "polecat" is a telescoping aluminum spring-pole which is wedged between floor and ceiling anywhere in a room. It is adjustable to varying ceiling heights and supports lights, reflectors, or backgrounds at any height. Its location can be quickly shifted as the camera's position changes.

It's Official, U.S. Females Gain Weight

NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The American female is taller, heavier, bustier, longer and hipper than her 1900 counterpart. That does not mean, however, the statisticians say you're more willowy and better proportioned than ever before. The key to the matter, they say, is added height.

Another cause for rejoicing: In 1900, a size 20 was one of the most popular sizes. Today, size 20s are still plenty 20s, but sizes 8, 10 and 12 are quite common. They were relatively rare 60 years ago.

These findings come from a study by the research staff of a single manufacturer. The survey revealed that in 1900, the average woman was 5 feet 3 inches tall and weighed 114 pounds. Today, she is 5 feet 4 1/2 inches tall and weighs 126 pounds.

sory, the "polecat" has since become an article of furniture for standard household lighting fixtures and brick-a-brack shelves. As it found more elaborate uses, it also became more expensive.

Clark, who now produces training movies at General Dynamics' nearest suburb division in Gorton, Conn., recently figured out a method by which photographers could make their own "polecats" at the lowest cost. He devised an inexpensive, ready-made top with a built-in spring called a "timber-topper." When this is slipped over the right length of lumber, the camera fan has made his own "polecat" for a specific room.

The "timber-topper" comes in two sizes. One is a round hardwood cap about seven inches long. Its corrugated rubber base rests against the ceiling without marring it. The other cap and just fits over a standard 1 1/2 inch wooden door which can be obtained in most lumber yards in lengths up to 18 feet. Inside the cap is a spring which provides the tension to hold the pole rigid. The correct pole length is exactly three inches shorter than the height from floor to ceiling. The other "timber-topper" is a metal oblong box which fits over 2 by 3 inch lumber. Eight inches long, it also has a non-skid rubber base which grips and protects the ceiling and an inner spring. The 2 by 3 lumber is cut three and a half inches shorter than the measurement from floor to ceiling to fit snugly in the box when upright.

MENUS

By Helen McCully

As you know - dinner is the problem meal - hence our new menus for dinner only, with a recipe for each dinner.

Here are five Dinner Menus to enjoy this week.

SUNDAY Dinner Menu
Falls Brand Minute Steaks, Parmesan Baked New Potatoes, Asparagus Celery Hearts Carrot Sticks, Coffee, Milk
FALLS BRAND MINUTE STEAKS, PARMESAN
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cups fine, dry bread crumbs
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
6 Falls Brand Minute Steaks
1/2 cup salad oil
2 cans (8-ounce size) tomato sauce
Beat egg, salt and pepper together with a fork. Mix bread crumbs and Parmesan cheese together. Dip steaks into egg mixture, then coat with crumbs. Refrigerate about 15 minutes for coating to dry on and solidify. Heat oil in a skillet. Add steaks and brown on both sides. Four tomato sauce over meat. Bake, uncovered, in preheated 325° or slow oven for 15 minutes. Serve 6.
These spring bouillabaisse takes 15 to 45 minutes to make. When tender, put a crown in center, pack up the sides and place a generous chunk of butter in the middle of each.
MONDAY Dinner Menu
Falls Brand Pork Loaf, Corn Pudding, Green Cabbage, Buttered Spiced Cabbage, Doughnuts, Coffee, Milk
FALLS BRAND PORK LOAF
1/2 cup milk
2 slices white bread
1 small onion, chopped
5 sprigs parsley, chopped
1/2 pound Falls Brand Liverwurst
1 egg
1 1/2 pounds Falls Brand Pork ground
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Beat egg, salt and pepper together with a fork. Mix loaf pan, cure bread slices and let stand several minutes. Then crumble bread fine with a fork or your hands. Combine bread-milk mixture with onion, parsley, liverwurst, and egg as thoroughly as possible. Mix in ground pork, salt and pepper. Pat mixture into loaf pan and bake 1 1/2 hours. Remove from oven, let stand about 10 minutes, then drain off any excess fat. Unmold on hot serving platter. Serve 4 generously.
FRIDAY Dinner Menu
Quick Baked Filets of Fish, French Fried Potatoes, Green Salad, Spice Cakes, Coffee, Milk
QUICK BAKED FILLETS OF FISH
1 1/2 pounds fish filets, fresh or frozen
1 can cream of celery soup
Few grains cayenne
1/2 teaspoon curry powder, optional
Start your oven at 325° or slow. Put fish (fresh filets should be thawed) in a baking dish. Heat celery soup, stirring constantly until smooth. Remove from stove and stir in cayenne and curry powder. Pour sauce over fish and bake 15 to 25 minutes or until tender when tested with a fork. Serve 4.

SATURDAY Dinner Menu
Falls Brand Franks, Sweet & Sour Chow Mein Noodles, Spinach Salad, Strawberry Shortcake, Coffee, Milk
FALLS BRAND FRANKS, SWEET AND SOUR
1 pound Falls Brand Franks
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 onion, coarsely chopped
1 green pepper, cut in thin strips
2 tomatoes, quartered
Can (8 ounces) pineapple chunks
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 bouillon cube
2 tablespoons vinegar
Brown franks in 2" ball in enough water to cover. Remove from heat and let stand about 5 minutes. Drain and cut into pieces about 2 inches long and fast. Heat butter or margarine in a skillet. Stir in onion, green pepper, tomatoes, pineapple chunks, and pineapple syrup. Make a smooth paste of cornstarch and 1/2 cup water. Add to vegetable mixture along with bouillon cube dissolved in 1/2 cup boiling water, vinegar, and fruit. Cook slowly, stirring frequently, for 5 minutes. No longer or vegetables will lose their crispness. Taste to see if it needs salt. Serve 4.
The crisp kind that come in jars

TUESDAY Dinner Menu
Falls Brand Liver with Bacon Noodles, Buttered Peas, Mixed Green Salad, Prune Whip, Coffee, Milk
FALLS BRAND LIVER WITH BACON
1 1/2 pounds Falls Brand Liver, thinly sliced
Flour
8 strips Falls Brand Bacon
Salt
Pepper
1/2 cup chopped green onions
1/2 cup chopped parsley
Coat liver with flour. Fry bacon until crisp. Remove from skillet, drain and set aside to keep warm. Put liver slices in the hot bacon fat and fry over a brisk heat, browning about 1 minute for each side. The slices should be well browned on the outside but still pinkish in the middle. Season with salt and pepper. Sprinkle with green sliced green onions. Serve immediately with pan juice poured over top. Garnish with bacon strips. Serve 4.
A sprinkling of poppy seeds or toasted sesame seeds are good on this.

FOOD TIPS
You're in for a delicious surprise when you sprinkle salted peanuts over vanilla ice cream.

Independent Meat Company sincerely hopes the New Look in Menus by Helen McCully will be more helpful and enjoyable to read and use.

They're 'Hooked' On TV Language

By CATHIA LOWRY
NEW YORK, March 16 (AP)—The alarm went off at 7 a.m. on Monday morning and a fairly well-rested Mrs. Jones of the Jones family had stayed, for lack of anything better to do, glued to the television set.

Mrs. Jones sprang from her twin bed, stretched prettily and announced to her husband, "Dating, I slept a full eight hours—and I feel so rested. No sign of sleeping pill hang-over." Mr. Jones raised a smiling face from his pillow and nodded. "And I feel great. No clogged sinuses, no achy feeling. I guess I won't have to use my nose-graph at all this morn-

Jackets of Corduroy Now Can Be Bought in Peacock Hues

For many years now, male plumage has been confined pretty much to the birds. But at last men themselves are breaking out of the cocoon and giving the brightly-clad girl they escort some competition.

They're taking to the heady brew of color—usually considered only a woman's prerogative—and finding new excitement in odd jackets with the zing of hot shades or the subtle tones of pastels.

And they're discovering what the girls have known all along—that corduroy is ideal for such a fashion.

duray produces a three-dimensional depth just made for color. And because it's all cotton, it offers just enough warmth for breezy days but doesn't encourage heat in the wearer.

So it's no wonder that stylists for men's wear have taken the bold step of introducing corduroy jackets in as many as 28 colors for spring.

Cork, a flattering yellow-beige, is the leading color, followed by sage brush, slate, sandstorm and sparkling red.

These, even with longer jacket versions, go well with traditional grey flannels and later, during summer, with white slacks.

ing, I slept a full eight hours—and I feel so rested. No sign of sleeping pill hang-over." Mr. Jones raised a smiling face from his pillow and nodded. "And I feel great. No clogged sinuses, no achy feeling. I guess I won't have to use my nose-graph at all this morn-greasy kid stuff on his hair. After all, nine out of 10 doctors prescribe the ingredients—his hair, his hair, his hair. He's hopeless, we're hooked." "You mean?" asked Mrs. Jones. "I mean, said Mr. Jones firmly, "that we've got to stop talking like those television characters."

Tennessee Ernie Departs Hollywood for Easy Life

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP)—Too much concentration on one member of the family ain't good for the family and show business fosters that kind of situation. That's why we went away from Hollywood.

This was Tennessee Ernie Ford explaining why he left the local scene eight months ago. He, his wife and their two sons now reside on a ranch in the rolling hills behind Stanford university, 400 miles north of Hollywood and Vine.

That doesn't mean he has left the show biz scene. Next month he will be back stronger than ever dispensing basso ballads and backhill philosophy over ABC-TV five mornings a week as if.

He'll be doing the homey half-hour not from the cavernous studios of Hollywood, but from KGO in San Francisco.

This development has started the TV world, and Ernie, too. "When I told the ABC people that I wanted to do the show from San Francisco, I was ready for all kinds of arguments," he said.

Ernie didn't even draw a deep breath. They said it was perfectly fine by them, and if there wasn't facilities in San Francisco, they'd build some. Now you can't argue with thinking like that.

Ernie was back in town briefly to re-record in stereo his Capitol album of hymns that has already sold an astounding two million copies. There was no doubt that he was a transient here; he was staying in a Hollywood motel.

Ernie left nighttime TV last season after five successful seasons. His departure was voluntary.

Too Short

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP)—The scene called for Bud Buttons to run to a high window and shout into a courtyard. But every time he did it the take was ruined by two large thumps.

Kevin Allen, producer-director of "Five Weeks in a Balcony," finally found what the trouble was: Buttons was hitting the wall with his shoes as he ran to the window.

"Take off your shoes," Allen instructed. "If I do," said the pint-size comic, "you won't see me over the window sill."

Tiger and Hank Planning Bout

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (AP)—Dick Tiger, British empire middleweight champ from Nigeria, takes on hard-punching Henry Hank of Detroit Saturday, March 31, at Madison Square garden, N.Y., in a 10-round bout on "Night of the Week" over ABC-TV. Don Dumphy is the commentator.

Tiger, 23, has won his last six fights. In his last bout, Jan. 20 in Miami Beach, he knocked out Ferdinand Fernandez in the sixth round.

Hank, 37, has been fighting professionally since 1953. He won all five of his bouts in 1961 and last year, in three fights, he lost to Joey Giardello, fought a draw with Allen Harmon and knocked out Harmon in the seventh round.

Teen Idols Took Knocks on Beach

PARIS, March 16 (NEA)—Action on the Normandy beaches this time is but a pale image of what happened 18 years ago. Yet, three young actors appearing in the film "The Longest Day" discovered the climate far more dangerous than a bandstand.

Actors who donned GI clothes for the re-creation of D-Day include Paul Anka, Tommy Sands and Fabian Forte. Singers and professional teen-age idols by trade, the youths found themselves slogging over rough channels, scaling cliffs and generally throwing themselves bodily into the film action which commemorates the beginning of the end of European big-time fascism.

Paul Anka, 20, is the same age as many of those who died on the beaches under German gunfire. Back in Paris for the filming of some interior scenes, Paul was asked why he temporarily deserted the song stage for the simulated battlefield.

"Well, you see, I read the book, 'The Longest Day,' by Cornelius Ryan, and was thrilled by it. I just wanted to do this. It has been the greatest experience of my life."

In their roles as U.S. army rangers, the three young stars frayed with ropes and ladders were buried under clouds of smoke and had their faces blackened with soot and grease.

Side by side with a platoon of 134 real rangers, hired for the 20th Century Fox film, they re-invented the Normandy.

Casualties during the recent invasion were minor, but they caused some anxiety to producer-director Darrell F. Zanuck. Anka tore off a nail and gashed his leg climbing cliffs, but returned immediately to work. Tommy Sands injured his knee when he slipped on a rock. "I wouldn't think of holding up production," he said when it was suggested that he take it easy for 24 hours.

A machine gun fell on Fabian's back, but the 17-year-old singer-turned invader went back to work after a rubdown.

TENNESSEE ERNIE FORD looks like the rancher he's become since he and his family left Hollywood eight months ago to live on a ranch near Stanford university, south of San Francisco. Ford, in Hollywood briefly to re-record in stereo his album of hymns, plans to return to television with a five-days-a-week morning show on ABC-TV. (AP wirephoto)

On My Own Time

BY BOB HARTLEY

Ernie Markov, erstwhile juvenile officer and a member of that unofficial nationwide august group of children's watchers, commented this week that, in effect, when the sag begins to run in springtime anything can happen and usually does. We'll be receiving reports from across the nation and here at home in the weeks to come of antics including cross-country bed-pushing, stuffing phone booths and incineration telephone conversations, and concerning the new ones that will be hatched. Do wonders if AT and T plants publicity men in fraternities. But don't we all get a certain "itch" in springtime? We'd like to think so. For some it means fishing isn't far away. For others it means playing off "gull" clubs. In this part of the country it could be almost anything because of the many activities this area offers to keep us busy. Unfortunately, some of springtime antics will be unbecomely for many will start out innocently and end up being deplorable. While control of emotions and actions is foremost, don't forget to laugh. It's a great season for yuks and limber up the laughing system after a winter of grumbling. Enjoy yourselves and others.

There's been a switch at CBS and it's hard to figure out. Walter Cronkite will replace Douglas Edwards on the evening news. Edwards has held that post for several years and Cronkite has gradually worked himself to the place of being CBS' most valuable man, as far as we're concerned. His excellent handling of the Olympic episode, timely appearances on "The Twentieth Century" and the "CBS Special" series have made Walter Cronkite Edwards, on the other hand, has always been a top newscaster. The answer probably lies in a CBS inter-office memo.

A true sign of better weather to come: Boys and girls sledding through mud to play sandlot baseball on Harrison street.

One of our intelligence workers has intercepted a letter from a Peace Corps volunteer that might be of interest. The letter, from Africa, reads: "Dear Sarge: The conditions here in Africa are frightful. Everybody's dirty, lazy, apathetic, self-indulgent and generally too rampart! So much for the staff, now about the assist."

And for the second week in a row a national magazine has devoted some space to Idaho. This week Gov. Robert E. Smylie was presented a bound copy of Saturday Evening Post with the article on the Gem state. And this week we focus on it by reading the article, that highway 20 stinks. Area is a wonderful place, Mountain Home is busy and Idaho is a great place to visit, but no one should be encouraged to live here.

An astute observer is worried. He's afraid if the new Houston baseball club in the "big league" level will be the year the plunger of the Cal 45 in TV service will become tarantula.

Baseball season for Magic Valley isn't far away and Ben Jewell informs us that ticket sales and pre-season acceptance of another year with the Golden State. We share a hope with Ben that those who enjoyed Pioneer league ball last year will be on hand again and those who shied away in 1961 will give it a try this year. Ben is doing a whole of a job as general manager and Magic Valley also has a National Baseball association title to defend.

Our telegraph editor is worried, and he might be. It was quite a week for him with Jackie Kennedy's visit, a conference by his husband and an announcement of candidacy by Ted. The week before we still had Bobby and Ted in foreign lands. What worries our telegraph editor is that sooner or later Jackie will return and he'll be left with routine news such as Algerian riots, West Berlin disputes, Khrushchev and nuclear testing.

Then there's the guy who called the telephone company to complain about so many changes in the dialing system. He was embarrassed when he learned the television ad "Deal with AT" was for soap.

In the gimmick department theater owners have run around. Remember back right and left? Theaters used these gimmicks to advantage in the 1930's and now they've come up with another in an attempt to offset the impact of television, et al. It's "Race Mile" an audience participating horse races on the screen, racing tickets in the hands of the audience and prizes of $1,000 and $2,500. Persons entering theaters are given cards containing six faces. They pick their favorites in each race and draw them into a lottery box, retaining a check. The races are run on the screen after careful selection to eliminate a chance for cheating. A computer sorts the ballots and the winners are announced quickly. A person with all six winners gets $5,000. As one hand turns, the gimmick may entice people to theaters, but there is no guarantee it will improve the quality of pictures between races.

Mike Clark informs us we can expect some reruns of movies with Academy awards nominations and after that annual affair, movies that won. It'll be a good chance to see some good films that you overlooked before. He also notes that "The Longest Day," Darryl Zanuck's replay of the D-Day landing has been completed and should be headed this direction before too many weeks.

As Jack Peas, trouble and controversy seem to dog him. His new neighbor is a cigarette manufacturer and he's working overtime trying to explain why he smokes cigars.

What bothers us about this Taylor-Fisher fracas is if the couple splits up where can Eddie find a housewife job that pays as well? Page 10—March 16-17, 1962

OLD ENEMY BECOMES TARZAN. Jock Mahoney, actor and stuntman who once was an enemy of Tarzan in a movie, depicts the jungle hero, has now won the role of Tarzan himself in "Tarzan Goes to India." He'll be the 15th actor to play the part since Tarzan became a movie hero. (AP wire photo)

Ape-Man's Nemesis Given Tree-to-Tree Swing Act

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (U.S.)—Tarzan fans, already rocked by the controversy over whether he and Jane are truly at due to another blow.

The screen's latest Tarzan, No. 12, was once the ape-man's nemesis.

Shocking though it may seem, Jock Mahoney is now playing the title role in "Tarzan Goes to India." The same Jock Mahoney was television's ringer rider and manacled Gordon South in "Tarzan the Magnificent."

Now Jock has smashed away Scott's loincloth and is swinging through the Indian jungles as the 15th coming of Tarzan.

Before leaving for India, Mahoney discussed the strange turn in his career. He was finishing up another film in which he plays a dashing blade of early California.

"I hesitate to mention this," he said, "but I just bought a new home. It's on Cabellero drive in Tarzana."

Mahoney's acquaintance with Tarzan goes way back. He once tested for the role when Johnny Weissmuller was put out to pasture, or so he thought. Tarzan, Lex Barker won out, and Mahoney went on to other triumphs.

Last year producer Sydney W. Weintraub chose Jock to play the villain opposite Scott.

"It was a mistake for the help I gave him during the shooting in Africa," said Jock, whose know-how in the action stuff goes back to his beginnings as a stunt man. "I saved him thousands of dollars. He told me he would always find a place for me in the Tarzans."

when he offered me Tarzan." Jock said he pointed out the drawbacks: "My age (42), the fact that I don't have rippling muscles, action is my business, and I've always kept loose, not muscle-bound."

The producer still wanted him, so Jock signed. It is the sequel to a prophetic incident in the shooting of the last Tarzan.

Happiness Is Something Bert Parks Radiates

NEW YORK, March 16 (U.S.)—"Critics have said some rough things about me," said Bert Parks with a beaming smile, including the fact that nobody in the world could be as happy as I am as for me."

Parks, currently in his 40th year of broadcasting, insists, I'm really a happy man. I had a fine childhood with a mother and father who loved each other and loved me. I married the right woman—19 years ago—and am still married to her. I have three wonderful children, I have had them—all no officers or psychiatrists and a little money in the bank."

And even if happiness is not currently chic, Parks believes that it partly explains his successful career, first in radio and then in television.

"I think people enjoy looking at a happy person," he said.

Jurgens Tries For Success In Marriage

MEXICO CITY, March 16 (U.S.)—Film star Curt Jurgens says he is going to give up about half a million dollars a year to make his fourth marriage work.

He said in an interview he plans to cut his pictures from four to one a year to avoid the separations and paid activity entailed. At his own estimate, this will mean a loss of one to $200,000 annually.

Jurgens recommends a similar course for Billy Wood, wife with divorce.

Jurgens, once married to actress Eva Bartok, is currently wed to statuette winner Bichsel. Both are in Mexico, where Jurgens is starring in "The Forbidden Garden" with Merle Oberon.

Simone is a former photographer's model.

"They should never have married me, these actresses. What happens when you marry actresses? Take Eva Bartok. She is an example."

"We are sitting around in our apartment, our chairs in our hands, both a little gloomy, both waiting for the door—being a part, a role."

"The phone rings, and we both reach for it. I answer. It is for her. A producer I listen. They talk about a play or a film. I have dark thoughts. He wants her. He wants her! He doesn't want me!"

"Or, it's the other way around. The producer wants me, and it's Eva who has dark thoughts. Believe me, that is no way for married happiness."

First Bad Man Had 'Nice' Name

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (U.S.)—America's first foreign-born criminal had a name which should be acceptable even to the sensitive censors of "Untouchable" scripts.

He was John Billington, who started a nutty aboard the Mayflower and finally was hanged down last quarter for an embarrassing and killing a fellow Pilgrim.

Writter Philip Reisman, Jr., found Mr. B. while researching "Dogs and Robbers," Sunday night's NBC historical documentary on an indigenous crime.

"Particularly when the world is so full of anxiety and conflict," Parks born, Tarzan, is an Atlanta, Ga., boy, who got a part-time job in a local radio station while still a student in military school.

After two years Bert had a chance to audition for a staff announcer's job at CBS headquarters in New York.

"I lied," he admitted. "I said I was 21 and that I spoke a foreign language. But I got through somehow and they hired me. For $50 a week."

Parks' luckiest break came when he was picked as master of ceremonies in 1946 on "Break the Bank," a quiz show that went on for 11 years. But even this was eclipsed in 1947 when he also took over the hosting chores of "Stop the Music," the radio show that caused Fred Allen's program to drop in six weeks time from the top of the ratings list to 27th place and ultimately knocked it off the air.

He moved over to television early, as his radio show swung to the new medium.

In 1950, he stepped into the lead of Broadway's "The Music Man" for almost a year. Meanwhile, of course, he has the annual "Miss America" contest, in which Parks is as much a fixture as the crowning ceremony, and other odd jobs.

Now he is back in TV as master of ceremonies of a daily audience participation show, ABC's "You're a Song." It is also on Tuesday evenings.

Although he enjoys his work, Parks still hankers for a Broadway role which he could originate.

The Parks live in suburban Greenlawn, Conn., where Bert is a dedicated gardener and lawn-keeper.

His twin sons, Jeffrey and Joel, 16, and daughter, Annette, 13, are in private schools.

Overlooked

HOLLYWOOD, March 16 (U.S.)—Marion Brand's first effort at directing films, "One-Eyed Jacks," was overlooked by the Motion Picture academy except for a photography nomination. But Brand still has a fan in Earl Malden.

Now appearing in his first musical, "Oryza," Malden predicted Brand could become one of Hollywood's top directors—if he wanted to.
