

ARGENTINA MILITARY CHIEFS who overthrew President Arturo Frondizi here, met in Buenos Aires early Thursday after discussing the situation with political leaders.

Frondizi Ousted, Arrested in Bloodless Armed Forces Coup

Buenos Aires, March 29 (UPI)—The Argentine armed forces today ousted and arrested President Arturo Frondizi in a bloodless coup. He was flown immediately to confinement on Iquitos Martin Garcia island. The coup dismissed 11 days of political crisis stemming from the surprise March 18 election victories of followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron. The Frondizi ouster left Argentines temporarily without a president. The armed forces did not appear immediately able to convince any of Frondizi's constitutional successors to take the post. The commanders of the army, navy and air force convened an urgent session today to consider the situation. It was believed they would form an interim government.

Classes Are Set For Monitoring

RUPERT, March 29—Classes in radiological monitoring will be started in Blinnock county, as soon as materials are available, according to Rupert C. Lindsay, county health department chairman. Lindsay reported this week that Mark Johnson, teacher at the county high school, had recently completed an instructor's course in California and will conduct the local schools. Johnson attended a special week-long training course under the direction of the department of defense in Anaheim, Calif. This was the first school of its kind to be taught by the department. "The intensive course prepared teachers to conduct radiological monitoring schools in their local areas, under the county civil defense committee."

Lindsay said that registrations for the schools would be announced as soon as materials had been received. These materials will include radio active materials as well as instruments, he said, and will be taught only to persons 18 years of age or over.

Health Problem

No health problem is closer to the family, the home and the community than mental illness. Yet doctors and other health specialists say that far too many of the mentally ill suffer from "society's rejection."

"There seems to be a conspiracy of silence," says Dr. Kenneth Appel, who headed the federal joint commission on mental illness and health which studied the problem for five years.

His point is that most of our large public mental hospitals are many miles removed from the centers and hence out of touch with patients' families and friends, with the best medical treatment, with rehabilitating jobs.

In the same vein, Dr. Jack Ewalt, commissioner member and superintendent of the Massachusetts mental health center, adds in a recent talk:

"Many communities seem to take little cognizance of the mentally ill in their planning... and the citizens apparently prefer to think of mentally ill persons as a commodity to be exported to some distant state hospital as soon as identified."

Evidently the whole trend of thinking among mental health specialists and the many government leaders is away from the big, isolated institution so common today.

Governors of the 60 states, meeting in Chicago last fall for the second conference on mental health, said expert signs are that three-fourths of the acutely ill mentally would not require costly institutionalization if they had intensive treatment in adequately staffed and equipped community facilities.

One-half the hospital beds in this country are occupied today by the mentally ill, even though recent census of state mental hospitals shows a striking 32,000-patient reduction since 1946—a considerable part the result of wide treatment with tranquilizers.

Still, the tragic find is that hundreds of thousands of mentally ill people get little or no treatment. Just 15 percent, 277 mental hospitals offer anything more than custodial care of patients. Even where treatment services exist, less than half the patients get them.

What can communities do? According to Dr. Ewalt and others, they can begin by establishing their own services for psychiatric patients, including such units in general hospitals, with out-patient services added. Child mental clinics are needed. And hospital-insurance plans should include mental patients.

Much can be done with such persons living at home and going to clinics and other specialized agencies for treatment. To encourage release of more patients to homes, Secretary Ribicoff of health, education and welfare has ordered that parolites from mental hospitals can draw relief funds if they go to their own or certain other homes.

It Isn't Fair to Bop Hare, Carolina Court Made Aware

HALEIGH, N.C. March 29 — It isn't fair to bop the hare. So to speak, said Richard Meek. In fact, it isn't even sport, he told the court. He left the justices to decide the proper form of rabbiticide. But, as spokesman for the bunny, he had an idea most infunny. He was for a shotgun blast to make a rabbit breathe his last. Before this thingy gets too goony, we think it's time to tell the story. Attorneys for both sides of the celebrated Fredrick County case, and-ones rabbit hunt appeared before-the-state-supreme-court Wednesday to argue their cases. The justices tossed a barrage of questions at Richard Meek of Charlotte, who sought a court order outlawing the "bunny bop," which has become an annual affair-of-the-town-of-Harmony's American Legion post. Representing the legion were Arthur Beckham and C. B. Winberry of Statesville. The legions make an afternoon out of it each fall and the deceased rabbits make up the menu at a subsequent barbecue. Last year, after weeks of public outcry against the ticks and stones hunt, the legion bowed and made it a shotgun affair. Meek told the court the ticks and stones hunt, constituted a public nuisance, not because the rabbits got hurt, but because he taught children to use brute force.

Recording Is Featured for Rotary Meet

BURLEY, March 28—Our free enterprise economy here in the United States is falling to pieces, while the communist party is gaining, stated Dr. John Farber in a tape recorded speech heard by members of the Burley Rotary club Tuesday noon at the National Hotel.

Farber said the difference between the civilized and uncivilized countries is that of transportation. In the civilized countries, ideas can be exchanged through modern commercial mode of transportation, while in some countries are very limited in commercial transportation.

Four visiting Rotarians were James Rosenbaum, Butley, and Russell Bennett, Earl Haroldson and Wallace Smith, all Twin Falls.

Other guests were Ned Pollard, Jack Phelps, Roscoe Rich and Kent Church.

Doris Chisholm was program chairman.

Science Unit Is Requested

WASHINGTON, March 28 (AP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for authority to set up a new office of science and technology. He said the coordinated efforts in the two fields coordinated in the interests of national security and general welfare.

His proposal went to Congress in the form of a reorganization plan.

The proposed office would be headed by a $25,000-a-year director who would report directly to the President. The director would be appointed by the President, subject to confirmation by the Senate. A deputy director would get $20,000 a year.

Soviet Airplane Downed in Laos

YENYEN, Laos, March 28 (AP)—A twin-engine Russian aircraft crashed in flames some seven miles south of the Loacien rebel air base at Phong Savan, the pro-western government announced today.

Reliable foreign sources also confirmed the "recent" crash, but could not supply the date or circumstances.

The brief government announcement said eight bodies were found in the burned wreckage, including those of four white men.

Soviet planes with Russian crew members long have been flying into and supplies to Phong Savan and the nearby plane-depot air base.

Dean Speaks for Chamber at Buhl

BUHL, March 28—Dr. David Kendrick, dean of the college of business administration at the University of Idaho Moscow, spoke on the basic changes in the world today when he addressed members of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce during their meeting this week.

He stated, "We are in a very important transitional period in our history and the value of the private enterprise system is stressed at the university. He noted the training at the university is to help prepare young people for a more productive life and to teach them how to produce up to their capacity."

Dr. Kendrick related, "To make the students aware of good moral standards both in life and in business is one of the foremost aims." He noted we are living in a more and more complex society and it appears that we will have more and more governmental rules and regulations whether we like it or not.

"The government is going to be an increasing factor in our daily lives, he asserted, and stressed the hope that businessmen will be strangled with too many regulations."

SHAKING HANDS are William M. Baumer, center, assistant to the chairman of the board of directors of the Johnson and Johnson company, New Brunswick, N. J., and Lee Fillmore, right, past president of the Twin Falls Rotary club. Baumer spoke to the club Wednesday noon at the American Legion hall. While in Twin Falls Tuesday and Wednesday, Baumer stayed with his brother, John M. Baumer. Baumer left for New Jersey late Wednesday night. He spoke on "What politics mean to businessmen." Health Panel Plans Attack Against Polio

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The U. S. public health service called today for an intensive, double-barreled attack on polio before the 1962 "season" arrives, Surgeon General Luther L. Terry said clearing Sabin oral vaccine this week for full use had provided a possible avenue for "early elimination of the disease."

Terry said both the oral vaccine, which can be swallowed from a spoon in much the same manner as cough syrup, and Salk vaccine, injected with a needle, should be used in mass immunization programs.

He said it would be left to individual doctors and health officers which vaccine to use. Since there has been no mass production yet of the oral vaccine's three types to protect against the three types of polio, availability might be a deciding factor, he said.

Terry stressed the importance of beginning immunization of infants between the ages of six weeks and three months with a series of four doses. The first three would be given at six-week intervals. The fourth would follow the third by six months.

Idaho's Idle Roll Slumps

BOISE, March 29 (AP)—Spring weather over the state has resulted in a seasonal reduction in Idaho's insured unemployment during the past three weeks, the employment security agency said today.

With the return of milder weather, construction which was halted during the winter months has been resumed, resulting in the majority of southern Idaho cities reporting fewer persons claiming benefits.

However, warmer weather resulted in soft ground in northern Idaho and this stopped some of the woods-working activities in the lumbering industry. This caused a slight increase in insured unemployment in the northern part of the state.

At the end of last week, the unemployment figure was 10,246, or 2.99 fewer than a year ago at the same time and a drop of more than 2,000 during the past three weeks.

Snow Averages Show Increases

McALL, March 29 (AP)—Snow measurements taken near here are slightly above average, R. A. Finn, assistant district forest ranger, said today.

Measurements taken at the new house near the McCall ski hill showed that total snow accumulation to date is 62.25 inches. Water content is 16.65 inches. This compares with a 17-year average of 57.83 inches of snow and 16.52 inches of water.

At the Lakeford snow course, about 10 miles east of here, present measurements show an accumulation of 54.41 inches of snow and 17.12 inches of water. The 21-year average for this course is 49.92 inches of snow with 15.97 inches of water as of April 1.

Panel members were John Roper and Nancy Tate, seniors; Kathy Prockett and Art Freely, juniors; and C. H. Eason and Barbara Howard, sophomores.

Budget Meet Set for Buhl

BUHL, March 28—The Buhl school budget for the 1962-63 term will be presented at a public hearing 8 p.m. Friday, April 6, in the senior high school building.

It was decided that trustees meet in special session Monday evening.

In reviewing the budget Rex Engelking, superintendent, informed trustees the total budget for maintenance and operations cost will have to be lower this coming year than of the past school term because of a decrease in revenue. The decrease, he noted, was caused by a $100,000 drop in school district assessed valuation and the apparent loss of one classroom unit. A class unit is based upon average daily attendance of school children in public schools of the district.

It was noted the budget calls for the same 30-mill levy for maintenance and operations as for the past year as well as an 11.1-mill levy for bond interest and sinking fund.

In other business trustees extended contracts to all personnel in the district. Superintendent Engelking reported there are vacancies on the teaching staff for a senior high school English instructor, a reading and spelling instructor for the junior high school and a sixth grade opening for a man teacher.

Mrs. Ivan Anderson, 17th Street, spoke to members of the Presbyterian Women's association on "Christianity under communism" at the church.

Food for Americans

By GAYNOR MADDOX

You'll like this dessert. Looks like a beautiful egg on a bed of cream. Old-fashioned in feeling, modern in its use of an angel food cake mix.

Old-Fashioned Easter Egg Cake
1 package Hawaiian angel food cake mix
1 1/2 cups water

Seven-Minute Frosting
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
Green and red food coloring
1 teaspoon water

1 1/2 cups (about) flaked coconut
Prepare cake mix with 1 1/2 cups water as directed on package. Pour 5 cups of the batter into an ungreased 1 1/2-quart, ovenproof baking bowl. Four remaining batter into an ungreased 13x9x2 inch pan. First, bake the cake in the pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes.

Remove from oven. Invert on cake rack, and cool thoroughly. Place the bowl on the lowest rack of oven and bake about 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly upside down, resting edges of bowl on cup or cans. Prepare seven minutes frosting.

Then remove the 13x9x2-inch cake from pan. Frost top and sides with about 1 1/2 cups frosting, and blend in melted chocolate. Cut the bowl-shaped cake in half. Frost tops-of-halves with chocolate frosting. Then lay halves on frosted cake, cut sides down and tops meeting in center to form egg. Frost egg with chocolate frosting. Divide re-remaining white frosting into 3 equal parts. Blend 6 drops green food coloring into one part and 6 drops red food coloring into another part. Push remaining white frosting through a decorating tube, making fluted trim around base and circles at both ends of egg.

Decorate egg with flowers and leaves of the green and red frostings. Across top of egg write "Happy Easter," using one of the frostings. Then combine 4 drops green food coloring, 1 teaspoon water, and the coconut, blending well. Sprinkle green coconut over white-frosted cake to look like grass.

Boxer Still on Critical List; Legislators Mount Attack on Pro Fighting

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—Boxer Benny (Kid) Paret is maintaining the slight improvement which he showed Tuesday, a medical bulletin issued by Roosevelt hospital said Wednesday. The bulletin added the condition of the fighter, shorn of the world welterweight title and a beaten, senseless in 12 rounds by Emile Griffith last Saturday, remains critical. The 25-year-old Cuban-born Paret has been in a coma since the fight. Griffith, after picking up his $15,000 purse for the bout, went into seclusion.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE, Jim Hagen (24), Bartlettville, prepares for a crash during action under the rebounding ball in the national AAU basketball tournament in Denver Wednesday night. Getting the ball in Don Kojis (45) while Roger Brown (41) misses his shot at possession. Bartlettville won. (AP wirephoto)

Paret's purse of $50,000—less a $2,000 advance he received to apply to payments on a Miami home—is still waiting for him. It is the largest check Paret ever earned.

Meanwhile at Columbia, S.C., a bill to cut the "brera" out of boxing rings was introduced in the South Carolina legislature Wednesday.

The bill by Rep. Ed Grant, D., Richland, stipulates that all boxing rings in the state be decagon in 18 feet in circumference. A decagon has 10 sides.

Grant explained that a decagon is almost a circle and that presents a fighting ring being placed in a corner.

He said he was prompted to offer the measure because of the severe punishment that Paret underwent in the match.

"Boxers would be required to wear protective headgear and to use at least six ounce gloves under terms of a bill filed with the Massachusetts legislature Wednesday in Boston.

Rep. Walter R. Kostanski, D., Montague, sponsored the bill and said it stemmed from the same cause.

California boxing figures rallied to the defense of their sport after Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown termed the fight game "a racket" and "brutal."

"Brown told reporters that he expected action to outlaw pro boxing in California would be introduced in the 1963 legislature. But later he said he had 'no plans at this time' to ask for abolition of the sport."

"A boxer who is properly conditioned and knows how to defend himself is in a lot less danger of getting hurt than persons in many other sports," said Archie Moore, one of boxing's all-time greats. "Boxing has given a chance to make something of themselves and provide for their families."

Brown said his rap at the fight game was not motivated by the fight in which Paret was seriously injured.

Boxing was legalized in California in 1924 by a public vote and the amendment made the sport officially a part of the constitution.

"To nullify boxing now, the amendment would have to be placed on the ballot again. To get on the ballot, it would take a two-thirds vote of the legislature or a petition signed by at least eight per cent of the voters in the last gubernatorial election, which would be 420,000, of the 1960 race."

State Senator Eugene McAteer, D., San Francisco, said he is against outlawing "anything the people have not exhibited any desire to eliminate."

Assemblyman Lester McMillan, D., Los Angeles, chairman of the government reorganization committee, said: "I'm opposed to such a bill, some investigation might be in order to lighten up the rules, however."

Douglas Hayden, chairman of the state athletic commission, said that "it is the governor's prerogative if he wants to attack boxing but it is up to the public to approve or disapprove of stopping the sport."

Hayden added that boxing "is no better game and people who go into it do so with their eyes open. It is our job on the commission to see that we give the strictest possible supervision."

Russell Leads Celtics Past Philadelphia

BOSTON, March 29 (AP)—Bill Russell stole Will Chamberlain's thunder Wednesday night as the Boston Celtics whipped the Philadelphia Warriors 129-114 and took a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven Eastern division NBA championship playoffs.

Russell outscored and outrebounced scoring king Chamberlain in the crucial first half. Through Chamberlain would up leading all scorers with 34 points, most of them late in the game.

Russell tallied 21 points on 13 of 18 in the opening half and grabbed 14 rebounds to Chamberlain's 11. The big Celt finished up with 31 points.

"The state athletic commission, said that 'it is the governor's prerogative if he wants to attack boxing but it is up to the public to approve or disapprove of stopping the sport.'"

Hayden added that boxing "is no better game and people who go into it do so with their eyes open. It is our job on the commission to see that we give the strictest possible supervision."

Davis Begins Building Buff Football Team

BOULDER, Colo., March 29 (AP)—With his football squad voicing confidence, William E. Davis started building his coaching staff at the University of Colorado Wednesday.

He announced appointment of former head coach Ed Ward as one of his assistants. Ward was fired in 1959 but remained on the faculty in the physical education department. Davis, 33, played under Ward as a third-string quarterback.

Ward, 56, was succeeded by Everett (Sonny) Grandelius who was fired by the board of regents March 17. The regents said Grandelius violated NCAA Big Eight Conference and university resulting practices.

Davis was alumni director prior to his appointment as coach.

Robert Neyland, Former Coach For Vols, Dies

NEW ORLEANS, March 29 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Robert R. Neyland, the single-wing wizard who coached Tennessee's Volunteers to football heights, died Wednesday at the age of 70. The man who produced some of America's top teams and coaches in addition to having a distinguished career as an army engineer, succumbed to the kidney and liver ailment that in 1952 forced his retirement as an active coach after 21 years.

An Ochsner Foundation hospital spokesman said Neyland, who had been hospitalized for 14 for tests and treatment, lapsed into a coma Tuesday night.

Neyland's Tennessee team won 17 games last year and tied 12 during the 21 seasons he coached. His next-to-last team finished No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll in 1952 and won the national championship. Since 1953, he had tied a Heisman post as athletic director.

Among the coaches trained by Neyland were Bowen Wyatt, who carries out the Neyland tradition of single wing powerhouses at Tennessee; Bobby Dodd, the Georgia Tech veteran whose teams rank among the strongest year after year; and the rivals in the 1952 Rose bowl, Minnesota's Murray Warmath and UCLA's Bill "Burr" Berman.

At a time when football went in for the wide-open game, Neyland stuck to emphasis on fundamental foot-crunching blocking and hard tackling. Although he made a concession to the times and adopted the two-back team system three years after the start of single wing powerhouses to teach football the way he had for 20 years. And his teams continued to play the way they had—they won.

Neyland was born Feb. 17, 1892, in Greenville, Tex. After studying engineering at Texas A and M for a year, he entered the U.S. military academy, graduating in 1916.

In 1938, after retiring from the army, Neyland inherited a Tennessee team that had lost several major games. Starting almost from scratch, he built perhaps his greatest team. Undated and unranked for three seasons, Neyland's 1938-40 teams played successfully in the Orange, Rose and Sugar bowls, making him, at the first-choice, to take a team to three major postseason games in a row.

By 1944 to football's place of fame in 1958, Neyland was hailed in 1949 for a four-year term as chairman of the powerful National Collegiate Athletic association football rules committee.

Neyland, who rose to brigadier general in the army during World War II, is survived by his wife and two sons.

Funeral services will be held at the Rose mortuary in Knoxville at 2 p.m. Friday. Burial will be in the U.S. National cemetery in Knoxville.

Schoendienst To Be Put on Active List

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., March 29 (AP)—Red Schoendienst, who retired as an active player at the end of the 1961 season, probably will be reactivated as a Louisville manager, John J. Kane said Wednesday.

Schoendienst, 39, is listed as a nonplaying coach but he has been used in a pinch hitting capacity and as a late-inning replacement at second base in exhibition games this spring.

Schoendienst appeared in 2 games last year, mostly as a pinch hitter. He was named to the Kane said he planned to make the move a day or two before the season opens April 10.

Schoendienst was out a full year in 1958 with tuberculosis while a member of the Milwaukee Braves. He was released outright at the end of the 1960 season. He rejoined the Cardinals, with whom he had played for many years, last season.

Wild Turkeys Are Planted in Idaho

BOISE, March 29 (AP)—More wild turkeys from Colorado have been released in Idaho to join 17 others which were transplanted from Colorado a year ago, the state fish and game department reported Wednesday.

Acting director Robert L. Ball said the turkeys were live-trapped and flown to Boise, from where they were taken by truck to the brakes of the Little Salmon river southwest of Hingham.

The turkeys were traded for five mountain goats shipped to Colorado.

Levi Mohler, chief of game management, said the planting basis "and may result in complete failure."

He said wild turkeys generally are plentiful in areas where pine are available as winter food. Some turkey ranches have succeeded, however, he said, in yellow pine forests similar to those in the lower Salmon river sector where pine is not grown but where other winter food is available.

Old Jarbidge Mining Days Are Recalled

Tales of the now nearly defunct mining town of Jarbidge, Nev., highlighted the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Twin Falls County Historical society held at the Episcopal Bishop Rhea auditorium Tuesday night.

More than 200 persons heard the featured speakers, Dr. H. W. Swanson, 80, and Charles Hawkins, 90, tell of the "old times." They were interviewed by Hollan Hobbie, television performer and historical society member.

Also featured during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Craig and Charles Grant. Mr. and Mrs. Craig plan, old time "stomping" music was featured. Both men have made the millions they played during the evening.

President Homer Roberts announced the regular appointments for the year and asked members to work on any committee they desired. The program was introduced by Helen Porterfield, secretary, who said the next general meeting, the end of May, probably would be a field trip.

Report Given On Activities Of Red Cross

David Withall, Boise, American Red Cross field representative, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Twin Falls Red Cross chapter held at the auditorium Monday night. He said a million dollars has been saved by residents of Idaho in the past year through the blood program.

Withall reported that the efficiency and generosity of the LDS church in eastern Idaho in February reduced the anticipated expenditures of the Red Cross in the disaster by a considerable amount.

"We have never experienced anything like this during a disaster," Withall said. "With 1,700 families homeless, or about 6,000 people, not even one emergency shelter was needed."

Only about half of the $400,000 originally estimated by the disaster officials will be used in the emergency relief and rehabilitation program in the flood areas, Withall said.

"However, this $200,000 is still a considerable amount more than we have needed in Idaho in many years, as in the 10 years prior to this disaster, we had only $100,000 for small disasters in the state."

"This type of effort must have complete support of time and money," he said. "It is essential in all of the present agencies if it is to succeed." Withall told the Red Cross workers,

Withall explained the operation of United Fund in Boise and Nampa, and warned his board members that they should not expect such a plan to eliminate their work.

"This type of effort must have complete support of time and money," he said. "It is essential in all of the present agencies if it is to succeed." Withall told the Red Cross workers,

13 Members of Twin Falls FFA Chapter Attend Meet

Thirteen members of the Twin Falls high school FFA chapter are attending the 31st annual state FFA convention in Burley. The three-day convention started at 11 a.m. Thursday and will conclude Saturday noon.

Those attending from Twin Falls are Raymond Poe, Jon Wells, Ralph Renke, Gerald Heinke, David Brown, Joseph Quensell, Jerry Dickard, Gary Sullivan, Grant Smith, Tom Griffin, Tom Sommer, William Groves and Fred House. They will attend the meeting as delegates and also will compete for several state awards.

Three local members scheduled to receive their state farmer degree Friday morning are Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells, Heinke, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Heinke, and Dickard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dickard. Only two per cent of the state FFA enrollment can receive the degree at any one time. It is the highest degree to be awarded by the state FFA association.

The degree is based on each member's outstanding project program, leadership program, program participation in FFA activities and scholarship throughout the school year. One star farmer will be selected from the state farmers in each of the state's nine districts. One of the nine district star farmers will be chosen as state star farmer. Alvin Harris, Twin Falls high school chapter, was state star farmer last year.

Three other members of the local chapter are competing for state foundation awards. The boys and their division are Poe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poe, farm electrician; Ralph Renke, farm mechanic; and Quensell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Quensell, state dairy farming award.

Seven members of the chapter will compete in the state parliamentary procedure contest Thursday evening against winners of two other areas in the other district areas in the southern Idaho area contest March 12. Team members are Poe, Brown, Wells, Gerald Heinke, Smith, Griffin and Sommer.

John Lawrence, unit adviser, notes that three chapter members also are applying for election to a state office. They are Poe, who is currently chapter president; Brown, chapter vice president; and Wells, chapter secretary. Jerry James, a member of the Twin Falls chapter who is attending the University of Idaho, was elected state FFA treasurer last year. At this year's convention he will talk on the future of FFA in Idaho during the Friday afternoon session.

Poe and Griffin are official chapter delegates to the convention. They are members of the FFA relations committee and the Kansas City travel committee. The latter group is in charge of making arrangements for transportation to the national FFA convention in October in Kansas City, Mo.

Lawrence explained Wednesday evening that Wells will substitute for either of the delegates if and when it is necessary.

Poe also is chairman of the reporters' scrapbook committee, which will determine the awards for various chapter scrapbooks. Sullivan, Twin Falls chapter reporter, will enter his scrapbook in competition.

The local chapter also will compete for the state standard chapter award and the state superior chapter award. Two chapters from those selected as "superior" chapters will be chosen to represent the state in the national chapter award program at Kansas City.

The local chapter also is responsible for providing an usher and one courtier carrying the state convention. Wells and Smith are chairman of this committee. They will be assisted by members of the Bull, Castelford, Filer and Kimberly chapters. Groves and House will represent the freshman class first-year vocational agriculture students at the Burley convention.

The supervisor said the function of the committee "shall be to consider broad questions of policy, programs and procedure affecting the administration of forest service activities in the Sawtooth national forest and give the supervisor the benefit of its opinion."

He pointed out that he desired the earlier consideration of the committee on all pertinent matters affecting the forest program. The term of membership is for three years. Committee members will select the chairman.

Dog Poisonings Reported False

City Dog Catcher William Dye reported Wednesday morning that false reports have been going around that dogs are being poisoned in the city.

Dye mentioned that in most instances dogs have not been poisoned on purpose, but died after getting into garbage cans. He cautioned residents to watch things as well as clean up their meat which has been tossed innocently into a garbage can, often with their dogs.

He added that one dog, which reportedly had rabies, was sent to Boise for an examination. It was determined it had distemper.

He reminded city dog owners that deadline for dog licenses is April 30. They may be obtained from the city hall.

Blue Springs Is Described In Magazine

The Blue Springs located in the Snake river in the mountain valley, is described in an illustrated article in the April issue of Sunset magazine.

The article points out the springs, located three and one-half miles upstream from the well-known Thousand Springs, are fed by crystal-clear water which rises through two successive patches of fine sand and flows out into the less transparent Snake river below.

The strange action of the undercurrents keeps bringing the finest sand to the top, in top sharply defined areas that stand out clearly against the pebbles and the coarse gravel comprising the rest of the bottom of the cove where they are located.

The shifting edges of these patches often form heart-shaped outlines that have given rise to romantic legends dating back to Indian lore. Only practical way to reach the site is by boat.

$83 Raised

DIETRICH, March 29 — Mrs. Floyd Kistler, chairman for the local heart fund drive and Lincoln county memorial chairman, reports $83.35 has been collected with workers still to report.

Volunteers for the drive were Ernest Reynolds, Herb McCowan, Mrs. Ben Lauer, Roy Hubert, George H. Phelan, John McCune, Mrs. Lindell Cooper, Mrs. Franklin Orr and Wilford Hubert.

PROGRAM CANCELED

HAGERMAN, March 29 — The all-school amateur hour, which was to have been held Friday has been canceled because of the death of Supt. Cleamont Prince.
