Russian Refusal To Change View Depresses West

MOSCOW, April 14 (AP)—Premier Khrushchev's answer to President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on nuclear tests and his refusal to budge from the Soviet position was viewed by important Western sources today as a rough one. The tone of the Khrushchev letter depressed Western diplomats, who saw no indication that the Russian has changed his stand in any degree either on the German and Berlin situation, nuclear testing, disarmament or general East-West relations. In the light of the latest Khrushchev letter to Macmillan and the unflinching position in Berlin and elsewhere, one Western commentator said, "He talks peaceful coexistence but acts China."

Equipment from the Burley BLM was sent to the fire and the Burley rural and Snake River Mutual fire departments were standing by in case they would be needed. No damage from the blaze was known. It was reported that the fire was under control, but that wind could possibly blow it out of control and further up Clear Creek canyon.

15 Teachers Required in Area School

RUPERT, April 14—The need for 15 more teachers to fill vacancies for next year's teaching staff was announced Wednesday by Candace Meyer, county superintendent.

Four first grade teachers are needed, Meyer said, with vacancies in all elementary grade levels. In the high school there is a need for a girls physical education teacher, two English teachers, one combination English-library teacher, and an instructor for the wood working shop.

Five teachers have signed contracts, he said, including three area residents. Mario Rupert will teach in the high school, with Gary Masson and the elementary grades. All are graduates of the Blaine county high school. Others lived in Judy Mosby and Margaret Mackens. Miss Mackens will teach English and reading at the Washington school, and Miss Mosby will teach in the elementary grades.

All principals in the district have been re-hired, Meyer reported. They include Leona Anderson, Minico; Robert Briggs, Washington; Della Goodman, Memorial; Gene Snapp, Lincoln; Richard Hamilton, Pershing; L. O. Christensen, Heyburn; Boyd Earl, Paul; Gene Humphries, Pioneer; and Sherman Paek, Acquia.

A trustee election will be held May 14, Meyer announced.

Three of the five trustee districts will hold elections this year. In district No. 1, Heyburn, Arlo Montgomery is completing an appointed term and will seek reelection as will Russell Adams in district No. 2, Paul, and Harold Peterson, Rupert, district No. 3. Voting will be at the school buildings lying within the districts, with No. 3, Rupert rural, voting at the Lincoln school, Raegle.

A tax apportionment plan for teachers' retirement was recently approved by the board, Meyer said. Meyer reported that the board has approved the $1,543,450 proposed budget for the coming year. Assessed valuation of the school district is listed at $13,631,328, Meyer reported.

He said that the board had been considering the advisability of asking for an additional two or three mill plant facility levy to provide a fund for future expansion of classroom facilities.

Among the needs for the district are additional rooms at the high school to house shops for metals, electronics, wood-working arts and crafts, mechanical drawing and music classes. An agricultural building is also needed, Meyer said.

Additional classrooms will soon be needed at the elementary schools, he said, with Pioneer probably the first to be considered. New laboratories for chemistry, biology and physics at

ONE MILLION SILVER DOLLARS is a lot of hard cash with a least of attracting attention at a glance of the 30 tons of silver dollars. The convoy is transporting the money to Seattle where the coins will be placed on display at the World's fair. The caravan spent two hours in Twin Falls Saturday morning. (Times-News photo)

Two Trucks With Million in Silver Dollars Stop in T.F. During Trip

Two large tractor-trailer rigs, parked on Main avenue here Saturday morning caused quite a ripple of excitement in the two hours they remained in town. Each of the trailers contains one-half million dollars in silver dollars. An estimated 2,500 persons filed past the narrow viewing windows for a look at the stacks of silver during the caravan's stay.

Even before the trucks came to a full stop a line of interested persons had queued up for a glimpse of the cargo. The vans, hauling what old-minco are also needed, Meyer said. This situation is one of the prime reasons for the staggered classes planned for the fall term.

A new music room and shop facilities are needed at Paul and at the Washington school in Ruthven plant at the old building in Heyburn and Pershing elementary in Rupert should be revamped.

Playgrounds need to be black-topped and fenced, he said.

The board decided to postpone for a time the proposal of additional levies, Meyer pointed out that the district could raise sufficient funds through a five mill levy to handle most of the improvements mentioned, whereas it would not be possible for some years to bond for enough to carry on such a program.

time stagecoach robbers' dream were made of new steel chaps. As they rolled through sagebrush scattered desert across southern Idaho.

Six Pinkerton detectives and two Idaho state police cars formed the escort. On approaching Twin Falls city police and Twin Falls county sheriff's officers joined the entourage.

The 18-man crew accompanying the unique cargo had lunch in Twin Falls and refueled the trucks and six cars before leaving for Mountain Home. The caravan, going by way of Jerome, reached Mountain Home about 2 p.m.

Plans were to stay in Boise over night and to leave for Walla Walla, Wash., Sunday morning.

The million cartwheels were loaded onto the truck at the Philadelphia motel April 5 and are destined for the Seattle World's fair. There they will become a part of the exhibit of Behlen Manufacturing company, Columbus, Neb.

On the highway, the vehicles travel like a military convoy keeping in touch with each other by radio.

Average speed of the convoy is 45 miles per hour, reports Mary Weidner, wagon master. In addition to the million bucks in the trucks, there is a Fargo Express box on the lead truck containing several thousand more silver dollars. The convoy pays all expenses for the caravan out of this fund.

"We seem to be generating more interest the further west we get," remarked a crew member.

Each trailer contains two welded steel boxes that contain a quarter of a million silver dollars each and weighing seven and one-half tons.

Behlen officials said they took one man, using a machine counter, 24 days to count out the million dollars. They calculated the dollars would weigh about 8,000 feet in the air if it were possible to stack them.

Laid end to end in a row, the dollars would stretch for about 22 miles. The interest on the six-month period will be in money if left in a bank for the six-month period it will be on display at the fair is $30,000.

The company loses about $5 per hour in interest on the money every hour of the day and night. The two hours in Twin Falls cost $10 in interest.

Weidner said they have been approached by hundred of coin collectors asking if they could go through the cartwheels.

"They do not realize what they are asking when you consider it took a machine 24 days to count out that many," he observed.

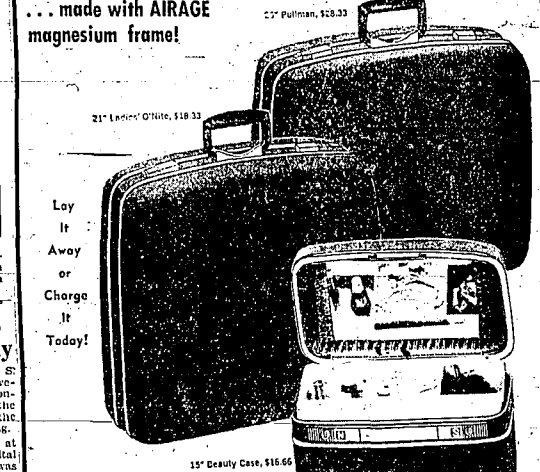

The caravan is expected to reach Seattle Tuesday. Once the Dividends Still Can Be Claimed

BOISE, April 14 (Special)—Some 23 million dollars is still available in tax-deferred, to some 210,000 Korea veterans who hold "RS" term insurance policies, according to Loryn E. Kopan, director of the Boise veterans administration center.

This special dividend, Kopan pointed out, is available only to those veterans who still hold policies with the prefix "RS" in front of their policy number. No other government life insurance policyholders are eligible, Kopan said.

All "RS" policyholders have received detailed information about their policies and it is to their advantage to return the card sent to them or to contact their nearest VA office for assistance in obtaining their dividend. They must act before Sept. 14, 1962, or the dividend cannot be paid, Kopan added.

Jap Boats in Alaska Area To Be Taken

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 14—Alaska officials are preparing to seize Japanese fishing boats in the Shelikof straits claimed by the state as territorial waters. The Anchorage Times reported today.

At the state capital in Anchorage, Gov. William A. Egan said "certainly would not deny" the report.

The report was brushed off further question. Anchorage Times reporter Jerry Bowker telephoned from Kodiak Island, Alaska, that Capt. E. L. Mayfield of the state police were believed to be heading a party of officials scheduled to board the Japanese vessels.

A Japanese fishing fleet, consisting of a mother ship, the Banbu Maru, and five catcher boats, has been reported in the Shelikof straits for nearly two weeks. Friday, Egan said they were taking bearings for use.

The Shelikof straits, 20 miles wide at the narrowest point, lie between Kodiak Island and the Alaska peninsula. The waters are claimed by the state under a state attorney general's opinion.

Farm Plans Discussed at Bureau Meet

Richard Stafford talked on farm committee at a meeting of the Twin Falls Farm Bureau meeting Tuesday night at the Twin Falls county farm bureau.

Stafford pointed out that the plan of the department of agriculture is to increase control on all commodities in order to insure a generous amount of each farm commodity. Therefore a comparative low parity price on all farm products is holding down inflation at the expense of the farmer, Stafford said.

Federal aid to education was discussed by the group. It was pointed out that this was a field in training our children to depend on the federal government, thus, encouraging them to become socialists. It was also mentioned during the meeting that the national school board went on record at the national convention in Chicago, as opposing federal aid to education. The group decided to local school boards don't do the same. "Our learning will be forced on us from Washington."

The group discussed the letters that were sent to farmers by banks and savings companies last week. The letters state the government will automatically liquidate 20 per cent of the interest earned on everybody's earnings. Ivan Garman reported on the industry. He said the industry is opposed to the way the government is operating the business for them.

'62 Program Of Kennedy Hits Logjam

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—President Kennedy's major 1962 legislative proposals have run into a logjam in the Senate Finance Committee, which threatens to extend the session for weeks.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D., said the worst he's seen in his 32 years in the Senate. "I don't know how we're going to work our way out of it."

In the end, the committee may clear most of the bills including those at the top of the President's list — tax revision, trade expansion and health care — for the year.

But, if it does, the July adjournment target set by House leaders and even the Labor day closing hoped for in the Senate probably will have to be abandoned.

The committee has developed a bill for the budget because of the administration's proposals involve the taxing power, which comes under jurisdiction of this committee, and because all such legislation must originate in the House.

Byrd retained a personal plea from the budgeter because of the committee open its public hearings on the tax and trade bills before passage by the House.

YOU CAN BE GLAD COOK ELECTRICALLY

because FLAMELESS cooking saves so many ways...

SAVES SURFACE HEAT
With direct metal-to-metal contact, all of the heat goes into the pan, doesn't heat up the cook.

SAVES OVEN HEAT
Electric ovens require no oxygen, so they need no flue and are insulated on top and bottom and all around. All of the heat goes into the meat.

SAVES FOOD
Meat juices are retained in the roast, not carried off with waste heat, so there's less shrinkage. Flameless surface cooking requires less water for boiling, less grease for frying.

SAVES CLEANING
Kitchens are clean and easier to care for with flameless cooking. Curtains, windows and walls stay clean longer. Elements burn clean.

SAVES YOU
You can set the oven to turn on while you're away. Meat thermometers and accurate temperature controls remove guesswork. You cook better... live better... electrically.

DRESS UP your kitchen! You'll find a wide choice of decorator-styled ranges, ovens and built-in units at your electrical dealers.

VISITOR TO SOUTH AMERICA, Betty Jo Carey, 22, Kimberly, returned home Wednesday morning after spending six months in Uruguay as an International Farm Youth Exchange peace worker. Miss Carey lived with eight rural families for 20 days each during her trip. The IFY program sends youths from the United States to live with families in the rural and agricultural sections of foreign countries. Purpose of the program is to promote peace and understanding in border countries by meeting the people. Miss Carey looks at travel poster about South America. Kimberly Girl Returns From 6-Month Visit to Uruguay on Farm Youth Trip

KIMBERLY, April 14—Betty Jo Carey, 22, daughter of Mrs. Oma Carey, 514 Monroe street, Kimberly, returned home Wednesday morning from a six-month trip to Uruguay, South America, where she participated in the 4-H foundation-sponsored International Farm Youth exchange program.

Miss Carey left Idaho Aug. 29, 1961, and spent the week in Washington, D.C., for orientation before flying to Uruguay from Miami, Fla.

While in Uruguay, she lived with eight different rural families.

"I worked, played, sang, cried and whatever they did, I was a part of them," Miss Carey said Wednesday afternoon during an interview.

Purpose of the IFY program is to promote world peace by living with and understanding people, explains Miss Carey. "Therefore, we felt that the only way to do this is to go out and live with the people. The program was that we would spend 20 days with each family."

Asked if she felt she got to know the people in a brief 20-day period, she said, "Yes, this is amazing. They told us we would become attached to the people. It was a little hard to realize that in 20 short days you might really become a member of the family, but in some homes often after I had just entered a home, I felt accepted and became a part of the family. It is amazing that you can become that attached to people so easily, so quickly."

She explained that although it was not required that IFY visitors from the United States be 4-H members, those with a farm background were preferred. However, 4-H or farm background was not absolutely essential.

Miss Carey was graduated from Idaho State college, Pocatello, in June, 1961. She knew in January she would go to Uruguay. After receiving her assignment she studied the Spanish language for four to four and one-half months before leaving.

After a five-day orientation period in Montevideo, she started her tour of the Uruguayan rural areas.

"I missed the mountains," said Miss Carey, noting that it isn't a mountainous country.

She said, "One of the things I noticed is the contrast we found within the country. In many places we would find the very modern things being used and in other parts of the country we would see these things they had been using since the country was settled."

Although farming methods varied from modern to ancient, farm produce remained basically the same throughout the country—sunflowers, pinto beans, sugar beets, flax, wheat, soybeans, sheep and cattle. Main agricultural exports are wool and beef.

When living with the families, Miss Carey notes she cooked for them. "They liked the cakes and pastries," she said, "and I did learn a lot of Uruguayan recipes from them that I can use here. In the home I helped cook, sweep floors, make the beds and whatever they did." She adds that it was generally found that the woman's place was in the home and the man's was in the field.

Each of the eight families had at least one child who was a member of the rural youth clubs, similar to 4-H clubs.

"The rural clubs in each area took care of me a lot of things. The groups held regular meetings, just like 4-H clubs and often Miss Carey would show colored slides of Magic Valley and Idaho and talk about the United States.

"She mentioned that, although she learned some Spanish before going to Uruguay, it was difficult at first.

"I almost wore out a dictionary looking up words and of course no one spoke English. Of course you want to communicate, they ask a lot of questions and I got along quite well. It was much easier after I'd been there two months and had learned more."

She noted she was asked almost anything. Whenever she used anything, she was asked if we have it in the United States. Agricultural and political questions were also asked.

"I was fortunate enough to live with average families and one or two were possibly a little below average. In other words, I wasn't living on the large ranches where they have a lot of money. I felt it was a good experience that we could live with the average family," she said.

Miss Carey pointed out that all Uruguayan education is free, including college-level learning. The first six years of elementary schooling is required. The elementary school education can be followed by four years of high school, two years of preparatory school and four years of university work, if desired—all for free.

When asked if the country's free school system was apparently successful, Miss Carey said,

"Yes, I think so. Often you don't find as many going to school as you might think, with the free education, but this can be because it's difficult for them to go to the university. Often it's difficult for these families even though their free education to take advantage of it.

"We thought we were doing real well, understanding all the things, but we weren't sure. One very large room, very beautiful rooms and the guide told us that St. Howard had been here. We thought that was very nice, but we didn't really know."

"We thought possibly St. Howard was one of the saints from the Bible, but we weren't sure. On the way home, we asked the director of the program that was with us about St. Howard and she looked at us rather funny."

"Then the puzzled leader asked, 'Don't you even know your own president?'" It dawned on the group then that the guide had been talking about Eisenhower, although the way it was pronounced, it sounded like "Saint Howard."

Half-way through the six-month visit, she met with other IFY students in Montevideo to compare experiences and evaluate the program. They also were able to meet with three Uruguayan youths returning from a similar trip to the United States.

First family on Miss Carey's agenda lived on a 60-acre farm about 90 miles from Montevideo. They raised flax, sugar beets and wheat. The second family, which lived in the same area on a 200-acre farm, raised about the same crops. The larger farm was also more mechanized, with more modern farm machinery.

Whenever possible, the exchange visitors would go to Montevideo between farm visits to mail letters and have film developed. Farms she lived on were from eight to 25 miles from town. Climate compared favorably to southern or central California. She noted that when she arrived there it was cool, remaining cool for about five weeks. Uruguay was not as humid as the Southern United States, but temperatures in the northern area of the country hovered in the high 90's, while those in southern Uruguay dropped to the 70's.

Rupert Holds Final Rituals For Hamblin

BURLEY, April 14—Funeral services for LaVoy Hamblin were held Thursday at the Rupert LDS ward chapel with Bishop Clark Cameron officiating.

Family prayer was given by Melvin Mancoske. Intercession was offered by Robert Simpson. Obituary was read by Bishop Clark Cameron. Speakers were Alton Hanson, and President Wade Baker.

Hal R. Matthews and Mrs. Blanche Bray sang a duet. Soloists were Mrs. Galvin Crane and Wallace Baker. Mrs. Sybil Luke, Mrs. Hal R. Matthews and Mrs. Alice Hanson were soloists.

A 4-H extension agent, jokingly told Miss Carey Wednesday afternoon that since she missed Idaho's extremely cold weather last winter, maybe she would be "lucky enough" to get some cold weather next winter.

A highlight of the tour was a visit to one of the World's largest ranches—30,000 acres with 200 employees. The ranch, which used modern methods of farming, raised beef cattle, sheep, barley, wheat and sunflowers. Grapes from the ranch's own vineyards were used to make wine. The ranch had two schools and its own store.

After the tour was completed, the youths had four days of consultation in Washington, D.C., where they met IFY exchange youths from the United States to other countries.

Miss Carey, who has nine years of experience in 4-H work, said that the six and one-half month period spent in Uruguay was "the equivalent of at least a two-year education or more."

"I think we learned to know the people—what they felt and how they reacted to things. Of course if you're an average tourist you don't meet the people of the country."

Miss Carey concluded, "I want to tell as many people as I can about this experience so they might also learn to know and love the people of Uruguay as I have."

She already has several speaking engagements scheduled for Orange and civic club meetings. A calendar of Miss Carey's speaking engagements is being kept at the county agent's office by Olan Genn.

Lois Baker were accompanists for the musical numbers.

Benediction was given by Dale Butler. Mrs. Vera McBride played meditation music.

Pallbearers were LaVerri Montgomery, Carleton Tolman, J.

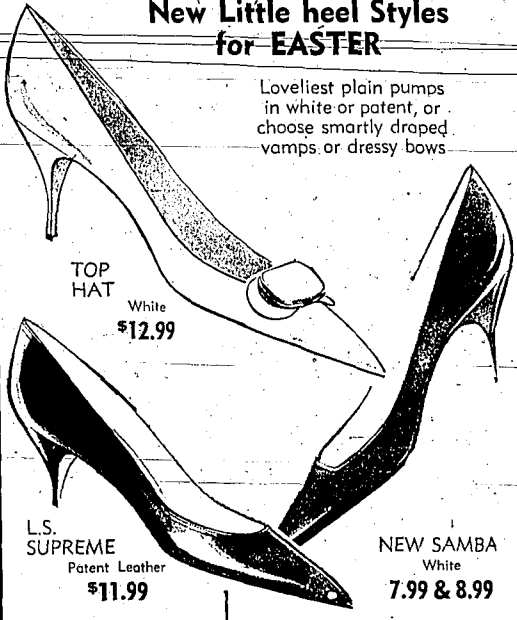

Evan Osborne, DeVon Hunsaker, Glen D. Anderson and W. E. Aldridge.

School Bond Election Stirs Great Interest for Blaine

HAYLEY, April 14—More interest is being manifested in the school bond election to be held Monday than in any of the previous five which have been held over the past several years.

The bond issue, which calls for $985,000 for school improvement purposes, will provide funds to erect eight elementary school rooms and six high school rooms and a gymnasium at Carey, 14 elementary school rooms and multipurpose room in the Hayley elementary school and add four rooms for shop, music and science in the Hayley high school.

Four rooms will be added to the Ketchum grade school, the present building will be renovated, a new front entrance installed and additional land purchased for playground use.

The purchase of necessary transportation equipment and the funds for architectural, bonding, legal and financing fees are also included in the proposed bond issue.

Strong opposition to the issue is being manifested by Bellieve, whose students would be transferred to the Hayley schools. Noel Pratt, Carey, past president of the Carey PTA and a member of the Blaine county school committee, spoke on the election at the Hayley Rotary club Thursday.

Pratt pointed out that Blaine county youth are handicapped by the condition of the school.

The history and intent of past bond elections were outlined by Pratt, along with the percentage by which each failed to pass. The worst defeat he stated, was when a central high school plan was on the ballot.

In defense of the current bond election, Pratt remarked, "Some are still very much in favor of a central high school, but we cannot afford it. We can't build a central high school with the money available, and it would mean another bond election in less than 20 years."

Pratt stated, "We need a program that we can pay for. We have more schools now than we can support and if Monday's issue fails, there will be a substantial deficit for the current school year."

In answer to a question as to why Bellevue was left out in this proposed bond issue, Pratt stated that Bellevue had been offered a new grade school and turned it down. "It isn't economically feasible to operate a high school at Bellevue," he said, "and Bellevue refused a grade school."

Bellevue high school has been retained since consolidation after the Blaine county school board of trustees had ordered it closed.

Members of the Blaine County School board have stated they intend to close the Bellevue high school at the earliest possible time and plan to increase the facilities at Hayley high school for the 43 Bellevue high school students.

One hundred and nine students attend Bellevue grade school.

Election polls will be open from 1 p.m. Monday until 8 p.m. Voting places will be the Carey high school; the Lawrence Llyla residence at Gannett; Bellevue school; Hayley elementary school and Ketchum school.

Eastern City Opens Room On Whaling

NEW-BEDFORD, Mass., April 14 (UPI)—A $250,000-Herman-Melville whaling room was opened officially today at the New Bedford Free public library.

During the mid-19th century, New Bedford was the center of the world's whaling industry. In 1851—Herman Melville wrote "Moby Dick" his famous story about the industry—aboard the whaling vessel Achahnet out of New Bedford.

Officials said the Herman Melville whaling room contains the best source of available material on the whaling industry. It is reported to rank "only second" in content to the National Archives at Washington, D.C. regarding preservation of ships logs and maritime data.

Mayor Edward F. Harrington used old blubber cutters to snip a rope to open the new whaling room. The rope was used aboard the whaling vessel "Wanderer" during the mid 1800's.

Reserve Unit Acts During Mock Event

About 50 members of the Twin Falls 3602nd Air Force Reserve recovery squadron participated in a decontamination exercise Saturday afternoon at Joslin field. A plane from Hill air force base, Ogden, Utah, and several members of the Ogden unit took part.

The plane, a modern type of the Flying Boxcar, carried Lieut. Col. Wilfred Tooman, reserve group commander from Boise, and five members of his staff. Also on the plane were the two pilots from the reserve unit at Hill air force base and some equipment to supply the local unit.

The problem began when the plane, supposedly to have passed through an area of radioactive fallout, could not land at any regular air force field and had to land at Joslin field because of engine trouble, lack of fuel, or some other problem that could be encountered during a real attack.

Immediately upon landing members of the Twin Falls unit went into action by checking the plane with Geiger counters and hosing it down with water (water was not used during this practice but would be used in real circumstances). After preliminary "touchdown" checks on the aircraft personnel aboard were checked for radiation and then examined by a medical officer.

This completed the major portion of the exercise. A squadron conference was held afterward to discuss various steps in the whole operation.

Military guards moved in to guard the plane while the pilots and crew moved to a nearby building to discuss the operation.

One officer did state that the exercise was a success and noted that the exercise was accomplished in less than five minutes.

Library Fete Ends as Play Is Presented

The highlight of events for National Library week for the Twin Falls public library was the presentation of a dramatized version of "Hansel and Gretel" directed by Mrs. Eugene Sturgill, reports Arthur DeVolder, city librarian.

More than 400 children and 42 parents saw the drama as well as the puppet show by Gertrude Yost and Terrell Yost Saturday. The puppet show was based on "Gertrude McFuzz," taken from the book by Dr. Seuss.

Two morning performances were given of "Hansel and Gretel" and due to many children lined away, a repeat performance was given in the afternoon with 108 children and nine parents attending.

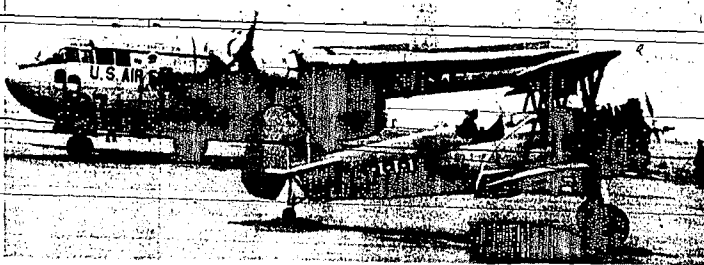

Jerry Sturgill portrayed Hansel and Gretel was played by Sherri Helder, Roy Ruby Lips, the witch, was played by Dennis Dytting and Frankie Billinger supplied makeup for the witch.

The program ended the story-telling series for the season. DeVolder said. New programs will be given during the summer, and announcements will be made during June.

AN EASTER HAT-BUYING RITUAL and the accompanying expressions of doubt, criticism and finally pleasure are enacted by Mrs. Lelley Arrington, Twin Falls. After trying on a good many styles, she narrowed the selection to these two. Left, she inspects the effect of a modified pillbox of fine, soft straw. The navy svelte creation is covered with silk machine stitching and is hand-bowed with navy velvet. A borealis jewel accents the front. "It just doesn't do anything for me," says Mrs. Arrington, as she studies the possibilities of a flowered bucket-type cloche, center. The flowers are soft beige organza carnations on a starched lace form. The shape of this hat is ideal for bouffant hairdos. The decision made, Mrs. Arrington takes another look in the mirror as her new Easter trimming. Spring just isn't spring without a new hat! (Times-News photo)

"A ROSE IS A ROSE IS A ROSE" but which one is it? asks Mrs. Glenn Schaefer, as she prepares to add another milliner's delight to her collection. The flowered fantasy which she holds is a dished picture hat of orange rough straw; the flowers are silk chiffon in citrus colors. The portable garden which Mrs. Schaefer wears is a cloche of starched lace (or mesh), the silk yellow. Flowers for hats, 62, include everything from daisies to dogwood. Hats in these photos were furnished courtesy of Idaho Department store, the Paris and Best's Millinery. (Times-News photo)

Federer Weds Miss Naylor in Kimberly Rites

HANSEN, April 14 — Sharon Kay Naylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Naylor-Hansen, became the bride of Charles L. Federer, Spokane, Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Federer, Birmingham, Ala., in rites April 14 at the Kimberly Christian church.

The Rev. Martin Torrence officiated at the double ring ceremony before tall candelabra of lighted tapers, baskets of white gladioli, large white chrysanthemums and greenery, tied with blue satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a floor-length nylon organza and lace gown with a net over satin underskirt. The fitted lace bodice featured lace cap sleeves and a rounded scalloped neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins. The full, gathered skirt formed a V.

The skirt was styled with lace medallion panels at each side of the front, and featured a full bustle back with a self-material bow and flower, worn over a large hoop.

Her crown, fashioned of pearls and aurora borealis stones, featured turreted topaz pearls. The crown held her shoulder-length double net veil.

She carried a crescent bouquet of pink miniature roses and lily of the valley tied with white satin streamers knotted with pink ribbons.

She wore a single strand cultured pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom. She also wore an engraved gold brooch over 60 years old, belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Vance Naylor.

Carolyn Naylor, LaPuenta, Calif., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her white lace over blue sheath dress was trimmed with blue and accented with a pearl and rhinestone pin.

De Ann Naylor and Lita Naylor, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. Each wore a light blue dress of cotton with self-color tulle skirt. Each dress featured a full gathered skirt, styled with rows of gathered lace. Rows of lace also were on the flaring cuffs of the short sleeves.

Low rounded necklines and self-colored buttons down the front were features of the fitted bodices. Each carried colonial bouquets of white carnations accented with blue velvet leaves and a blue net center bow.

Each wore a white headband with a gathered net veil fastened with a large white button.

Ellen Buchanan, Kimberly, cousin of the bride, and Nancy Hollifield, in white over blue dresses, were candlelighters. Each wore a wristlet corsage of white

Mrs. Everett Bully sang the "Wedding Prayer" and the Rev. Mr. Torrence sang "We Lift Our Prayers." They were accompanied by Joy Walker, organist.

Mrs. Naylor chose a blue linen sheath dress with a matching jacket and navy blue and black accessories. Her corsage was of blue-tinted carnations, accented with white satin leaves and net.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Naylor, grandparents of the bride, were guests; Mrs. Naylor chose a turquoise print afternoon dress. Her corsage was of white carnations, white satin leaves and net.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with blue-butterflies, small bluebells, hearts beaded with net, and bluebirds holding gold wedding rings. It was topped with large bells and lilies of the valley accented with blue net.

The flow-Mrs. Federer was graduated from Hansen high school in 1950. She attended the University of Idaho, where she was a member of Alpha Gamma Delta.

She also attended Kinman Business college, Spokane, and is employed with General Electric Supply company there.

Old Pros Will Help With Davis Cup Team

NEW YORK April 14 (AP)—Uncle Sam is calling upon a couple of tough old pros, Pancho Gonzalez and Pancho Segura, to get the country back on a winning keel for the Davis cup tennis. Bob Kelleher of Los Angeles, the new team captain, and the establishment of this unprecedented board of strategy in announcing the six-man squad "being readied for the summer campaign," they have hired Segura as a regular coach, the 49-year-old Los Angeles attorney said today.

"We hope to have him with us most of the year. We will take advantage of Gonzalez' services when we can."

Segura has been working out for a month on the Pacific Coast with Stan Douglas, the former Stanford football player from Santa Monica, Calif.

Gonzalez and two other men—the coach—Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla.—will go to Paradise Island in the Bahamas next week for a week's intensive training under Gonzalez, who is pro at the Flushing Meadows tennis club.

"The Panchoes won't be teaching tennis," Kelleher said. "Our boys are too far advanced for that." They'll be giving a post-graduate course in strategy and tactics.

Gonzalez is rated one of the world's greatest strategists. He is credited with pulling off the Davis cup upset of the century in 1935 when he coached Alex O'Connell to victory over the Australian, Segura also is rated an outstanding tactician.

"We hope to have Segura rejoin the team right after Wimbledon," Kelleher said. "I think we have the talent to go all the way."

BUREL April 14 (AP)—Greek Money, racing in the Brandwine stable sicks of Donald F. Rice, defeated several Kentucky derby hopefuls and lowered his odds for the Preakness when he won the $25,000-added Chesapeake stakes at Laurel today.

Lowering the 1 1/4 mile track record to 1:43 1/5, Greek Money scored 3 lengths over Prince Campbell, Dedmond, Dedmond was a half length in front of Daddy B. The 2-year-old colt was seeking a bid to Louisville for the derby on May 5.

While Greek Money, who returned $120 for $2 of the second choice, is not eligible for the derby, the second and third Chesapeake finishers—as well as Merion R. Frankel's Bidwell, who finished fourth, are named for the big heat at the Downs.

With Arthur Chambers at the controls, Greek Money was kept out of the gate and rumbled in that position for the first three furlongs.

Greek Money, who had finished second to Daddy B. in a tune-up race for the Chesapeake, passed the favorite with little trouble on the final quarter-mile command when three furlongs out and then pulled away to win with Chambers using the blink handle for encouragement.

Having spent the winter on the farm, Greek Money was now named for the 1 1/4 mile Kentucky derby, but will be ready to race the winner of that race in the Preakness stakes on May 18.

Brown, Ortiz Prepare for Delayed Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 14 (AP)—World lightweight champion Joe Brown and challenger Carlos Ortiz were back today in Las Vegas preparing for a 12-round fight for the title.

The two were set to battle Feb. 24 in Las Vegas Convention center, but the match was suddenly postponed two days before the fight because the champion was hit by a severe case of tonsillitis.

The battle now is scheduled for April 21. It will be nationally televised by ABC, starting at 10 p. m. PST.

The 35-year-old Brown apparently is back in fighting trim, fully recovered from the throat trouble. His trainer, Bill Barrett, said the veteran fighter, 24, shook off the effects of the ailment.

The crown was the 12th defense of the title by Brown, who won it in 16 rounds from Vicente Arzola in Manila in New Orleans, in his 41st fight, has been stopped. Brown has won 28 of 49 bouts in 113

Baylor Tanks 61 Points as Lakers Topple Celtics

BOSTON, April 14 (AP)—Battling Los Angeles moved to the threshold of unseating Boston from the National Basketball Association title 120-121 tonight behind the Baylor and last-minute effort by incredible Elgin Baylor and last-minute help from Jerry West. The Lakers lead in the best-of-seven playoff series final 3-2. Baylor tore up the NBA championship final record book with his relentless scoring. The army private on leave got six fast-point 30 seconds from the end to move the Lakers from a 116-114 deficit to a 120-117 lead.

While Sam Jones kept the Celtics alive with two field goals, Laker Jim Krebs hit a long jumper from the corner for only his second field goal of the night, maintaining the edge for the winners.

Los Angeles took time out with 16 seconds left, leading 122-121. On the inbound play West was fouled driving for the basket. He connected on both free throws. Just at the buzzer, he hit a jump-shot for the final count, bringing his total point to 24.

Tom Heinsohn scored 30 points while Sam Jones and Bill Russell added 20 apiece for the losers.

Baylor's hottest period was the first when he got 18 of the Lakers' 31 points. His 61 total "exceeded" the previous title series record of 60 points by Bob Pettit of St. Louis in 1958 against Boston.

Baylor had 33 points in the first half, smashing the old mark of 29 by the Philadelphia of Philadelphia in 1947—and tied by Pettit four years ago.

Los Angeles needs only a victory on its home court Monday night to wrap up the first championship for a Lakers team since 1954 and its first in Los Angeles.

Cain's Lawn-Boy Annual

"Indications are we'll enter this season in slightly better financial condition than last year," he said. "But we didn't have to make the deposits they did in the past."

The club is shooting for $900 on opening day to win the Intrastate Pioneer League first day attendance derby and a total season gate in excess of last year's $2,405.

Cowboys Get Two Wins in Exhibitions

Joe Stinnett, converted outfielder, pitched the Magic Valley Cowboys to two victories in the past two days, according to word received here Saturday from Cowboy manager Jack Phillips.

Stinnett went nine innings in leading Williamsport (class A) 2-0 over John Wehner, last year's Cowboy shortstop, and Bobby Sanders, Pioneer league home-run king, doing the most damage for the losers. Williamsport won the second game 5-1 with Don Heasley, 1961 Cowboy pitcher, hurling.

Saturday, the Cowboys rapped Bakerfield (class C) 8-3 with Stinnett going two innings and Phillips leading the win.

Phillips noted the Williamsport camp broke Saturday and said he expected a few 100 Cowboys back in the Leadville camp Monday. Phillips said he did not know which players were due to arrive. He added this probably meant Magic Valley fans would see several familiar faces when the club arrives in Twin Falls Thursday evening.

Idaho Slips Past Gonzaga by 7-6

SPOKANE, April 14 — Bob Verwacke raced home on an error in the top of the 10th to give Idaho a marathon 7-6 baseball win over Gonzaga.

Rich Bennington hit a 400-foot, three-run homer for Gonzaga in the sixth.

LANE CARRIES VERDICT OVER LUIS MOLINA

SAN JOSE, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Veteran southpaw Kenny Lane outpunched Luis Molina tonight in their nationally televised 10-round bout.

Lane puzzled Molina with his scoupy punching through most of the fight, and withstood a rally to win a unanimous verdict again Friday afternoon at Gooding, Idaho.

The loss was the first in 20 fights for Molina who suffered a cut under his left eye in the fifth round and opened a slash over his right eye in the eighth.

Ganny Kenny stung Molina with right-left combination and successfully boxed his way out of range when the hard puncher threw his best shots. He had Molina bleeding from the nose from the third round on and the local barber carried away bruised eyes both eyes.

There were no knockdowns. Referee Jack Downey and Judge Elmer Gandy scored the bout 7-2 while Judge Fred Bottero had it 6-3. The Associated Press scored it 6-2.

The victory was the 70th for Lane against 11 setbacks and two draws.

The Michigan boxer's right jab puzzled Molina in the opening rounds and he never could get his southpaw scored. His hardest punch in the ninth when a right hand to the head sent Lane reeling to the ropes.

Fligherty also won the century dash, Thorne took both hurdles events and Wilcox won the shot and discus throw contests.

GREENSBORO, N.C., April 14 (AP)—Defending champion Mike Souchak and Billy Casper, playing in the final threesome, moved into the 54-hole lead of the Greater Greensboro open golf tournament today with 207 totals. They head into Sunday's final round of a $36,000 tournament with a stroke edge over aging but ever-dangerous Sam Snead and Jerry Steel-smith, a young red-head seeking his first victory over the tour.

Souchak shot a one-under 70 and Casper a 69 for their six-under-par totals for the three-quarter mark.

Snead, who has won here seven times, including the inaugural in 1939, moved up with the day's round of 71. Steel-smith, who played with the co-leaders, shot 70. Two weeks ago Dave Marr for top money in the Azalea Open at Wilmington, N.C.

The field of 91 players came up with 11 sub-par rounds over the par 71 Sedgefield Country club course, a 1,000-yarder.

Major champion Arnold Palmer rose from 40th to a tie for 14th with a pair of 34s for a 215 total, eight behind the leaders. He took a score of 224 to qualify for Sunday's final round.

Peace Corps Tests Slated On Saturday

Peace corps placement tests will be given at 8:30 a. m. Saturday at the Twin Falls postoffice, reports Timothy J. Adams, acting chief of the corps public information division.

The tests will be administered at civil service commission testing centers throughout the country at that time, he said.

Applicants must be Americans and at least 18 years old. There is no upper age limit, Adams noted, adding that persons 60 and older are performing key peace corps jobs overseas.

Married couples without dependent children may apply providing both qualify, he said.

Peace corps opportunities abroad cover many fields including teaching, nursing, engineering, plumbing, carpentry, agriculture, medicine, home economics, architecture, city planning, geology and physical education, Adams observed.

At the testing centers each person will be given his choice between two types of placement tests. One is for men and women who would like to be considered for positions as teachers, he said.

"For this, a bachelor's degree is required but you do not need to be an accredited teacher," he explained.

The other test is for all others desiring to serve in the peace corps, he said.

Jerome County 4-H Council Elects Dale Hopper Chief

JEROME, April 14—Dale Hopper was elected president of the Jerome county 4-H council Wednesday evening at the Frontier Grange hall. William Brown, former president, resigned. Mrs. Verla Hinton is the secretary-treasurer.

L. M. Williams, Boise, district 4-H agent, spoke to the group on 4-H camp. Williams said there are two sites near the Russian John Ranger station that are being considered. They would be used by 18 counties.

As soon as the snow permits, Williams said, the agents from those counties will inspect the area. If accepted the 4-H district will petition the forest service to lease the site. Williams said it is possible that the camp could be used by 1963.

Williams said the camp should be large enough to handle 200 youngsters at a time.

During the business meeting Brown told the group that the fair board will probably have to change the structure of the proposed barn on the backgrounds because of the fire district ordinances. The barn will be built of cinder block or pole construction with metal siding.

It was announced the county commissioners had consented to pay half of the price of a projector to be used for 4-H activities. The other half will be paid by the council.

Brown announced the fairbooks will go to press May 1 and will be available about three weeks later.

It was suggested that a newsletter following each council meeting be mailed to each leader. Brown requested Mrs. Fuller, leader of the Teens-United-with-4-H, to ask her members if they would be interested in handling the project.

The annual judging tour was announced. It will be held during the last half of July. No definite date was set.

Alabama Gets Now or Else Court Order

MONTGOMERY, Ala. April 14—The Alabama legislature, which has not been reappointed since the plantation era of 1901, got a blunt do-it-or-else message today from a federal court.

In an historic decision which followed a 45-minute hearing, a three-judge panel declared unequivocally that the house and senate must be redistricted before a new legislature is elected in November.

Unless the outgoing lawmaking assembly enacts a reapportionment bill in special session this summer, the judges warned that the court will draw up its own plan and order it put into effect.

Tentatively, the panel fixed the deadline at July 18, and ordered a further hearing for that day.

The three judges in their unanimous decree made it clear that the court would not wait much longer because of the time required to get the names of the candidates on the November ballot and for the Democrats—and the Republicans, too, in one or two counties—to pick their nominees.

The traditionally predominant Democratic party will nominate candidates for the legislature, along with scores of other offices, in a primary May 1 and a runoff four weeks later.

Progress Noted in Unit Here

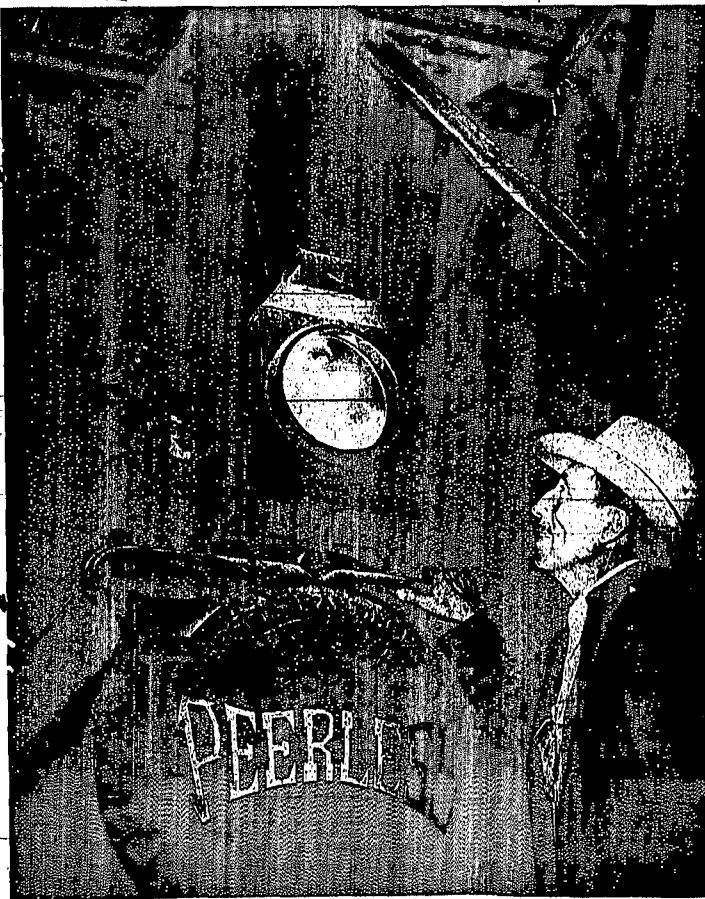

Twin Falls sewage treatment plant, now at the three-quarters complete construction mark, is slated to be in use in September and to be in use in October. The improvement, with an overall cost of $1,316,000, will result in the elimination of the practice of dumping untreated human waste in Rock creek or in the Snake river. Waste from city sewers will even reach Rock creek after the plant's completion, and all waste dumping into the Snake will be treated and eliminated before being released. Paul E. Newton, city engineer, announced last night that he has been granted for the new sewer lines but that some route changes were necessary because of refusal of certain property owners to permit the trunk to pass in the northwest city section. Newton said that the city will be cared for in the Oct. area, he said, but it will eliminate any connections outside the city limits and, because of this, probably will curtail building in that area. Equipment-of-Power-Engineers, Inc., holding the principal contract, is busy laying the huge pipe. Ross Bevan is project manager. Five trunk sewers are called for in the plan. The main city trunk, the largest at 42 inches, will run from the hospital site to the treatment plant in the river canyon by intersecting with the present outfalls of the existing sewer system. The discharge into Rock creek near the hospital will be eliminated. Second trunk has been designated the Perrine cooler trunk and will go from near the Lynnwood shopping center to the river site. The Blue Lakes trunk will run down a natural swale about one-quarter of a mile east of Blue Lakes boulevard. The general area is from the high school to the canyon rim. The canyon connection will take the flow from the Blue Lakes and Perrine trunks into the treatment plant. It will follow the south side access road, the same road (with modifications) up which I. B. Perrine's slingshot line from Shoshone (Continued on Page 23)

Steam Engines, Old Cars Are Counted in Large Collection

Buhl, April 14 - Ed Vogel is ready to get married he wasn't a bachelor farmer who collects things for a hobby. And now he is pretty set in his ways. "I've come to the conclusion, said, that if you collect a wife you cannot collect antiques. I like to collect antiques so I guess I'll just leave it that way." Vogel with steam engines, turned out cars, (Fords, right now) and then to wagons and finally a stagecoach. But that is getting a little ahead of our story. Born in Twin Falls but moved with his parents to the present farm in 1912. Both his parents are now dead and he lives alone and operates the place with the aid of the hired man, Fred Stokesberry. His interest in steam engines probably dates back to the time when his father "imported" two of them all the way from Colorado. He used them in threshing operations from Hansen to Castletford. He threshed mostly wheat and clover, then later took on beans. Funny thing, though, the two original steam engines got away before the younger Vogel decided to collect them. He has done right well, however, as he now owns seven and all are in working order. One of them is mounted in a truck and so it can be moved easily up and down the modern paved highways - without getting the law down on me," Vogel points out. Harvest Crops The farmer not only collects the engines but actually harvests his crops with one or more of them. He also does this work for a neighbor. "You can say what you want to about modern equipment on the farm," Vogel said, "but I still (Continued on Page 27)

Jerome Girl Rides High As Nation Rodeo Queen

The 19-year-old striking blonde who won the title in national competition at Las Vegas last December is a real country and meeting the people in all parts of the nation. Not only that, but gifts are pouring in from all parts of the country, both from individuals and manufacturers alike. Talking to Karen in her folks' farm home near here is just like trying to interview someone in a store crowded with clothing racks. Do you like hats? Well, Karen has received 10 of those big western hats. Total value is more than $200. And over in the fancy belts and four-washable riding saddle. And before it slips my mind, let me tell you about the $400 handmade and hand-tooled and seven saddles which she received from John D. Marston, a nationally known leather expert of Woodward, Okla. The title of Miss Rodeo America and the date 1962 are worked into the decorative theme as is Miss Lavens' name, which is on the cantle. This saddle is on display at Popper's store in Twin Falls and next week will be at the Eastern Western Apparel store, also in Twin Falls. Spain Fears "Vacuum" in North Africa

MADRID, Spain, April 14 (AP) - As Spain sees it, a dangerous vacuum is developing in North Africa. The French are getting ready to leave Algeria. Within 20 months, the United States is to pull out of Moroccan bases set up for the Atlantic air command. Spanish military experts, and some American officials, will believe these withdrawals will mean that hostile elements may move in. "Let the Russians or other pro-Communist elements move into this vital area and both Spain and the North Atlantic treaty organization have been effectively flanked," said one Spanish official. Spain can do nothing about the approaching French withdrawal from Algeria. It seems to hope the United States will negotiate its expiring base agreement with Morocco's King Hassan II. The installations at Sidi Guannou, Nouasseur and Ben Qurric in Morocco are manned with nuclear bombs. President Franklin D. Roosevelt agreed with King Mohammed VI, who died in 1961, that the U. S. air force would abandon Moroccan bases by the end of 1963. Spanish air experts argue that the Moroccan government can never operate the bases. They say the result could be that the Moroccan would call in some other foreign nation to help. There seems no doubt the Soviet Union aims to be active in (Continued on Page 23)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Fuld, long time HAILEY residents, are making plans to attend the World's fair at Seattle this summer. Fuld recalls the first World's fair he ever attended when he was 14 years old, was the centennial at Chicago in 1893. He and his brother, Sidney, had worked and saved their money for many months so they could attend. Joseph Fuld had $100 saved. Although half-fare for the round trip to Chicago was for children up to 12 years of age, Fuld was able to go on the reduced rate because he was so small.

During the month the boys were in Chicago they stayed at their rooming-and-boarding house.

"I don't believe we missed anything there was to see at that fair," Fuld reminisces.

The Pan American exposition in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901 was Fuld's next World's fair.

In 1905 he and his bride, Lulu, went to Portland, and attended the exposition there, after traveling on the West Coast for their honeymoon.

In 1923 he returned to Chicago with his wife to attend the Columbia exposition.

In 1940 they attended the World's fair in New York City. Fuld says their wedding anniversary they will go to Seattle.

MURTAUGH, April 14 — Stanley N. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert N. Graham, Murtaugh, has recently finished his training at the marine corps recruit depot, San Diego, Calif. He is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., for individual combat training.

SIGNS SOMETIMES appear not to mean just what is painted on them. John K. Angerbauer, city councilman, eyes one which is beside the roadway near the intersection of Second street west and Second avenue west where most foot traffic goes to and from the new postoffice. The city councilman, after making the "fun" since the signs were put up several weeks ago, expressed the opinion they probably should be revised to read "Pedestrians: Run for the Curb." (Times-News photo)

Businessmen Losing Weight Trying To Outjump Cars Near Postoffice

John K. Angerbauer, city councilman, declares he has lost 10 pounds since the new postoffice opened just by sprinting to get out of the way of cars while crossing Second avenue west at Second street.

This is the same intersection most businessmen cross to get to the postoffice, and some make the trip two and three times a day.

On the surface the trip should be without much excitement, unless, of course, the Times-News presses are just starting to run when they pass the newspaper building.

But, as Angerbauer points out, there are a couple of signs on the one way traffic street which escape a machine bearing down on him. He continued:

"The stop for students' signs at the junior high school seem to be well observed but these signs near the postoffice are apparently not seen or just disregarded."

"Might be nobody knows what a pedestrian is," said the city councilman as he paused to catch his breath after making a mad dash for the opposite curb to these signs on the postoffice building.

Spys' Mouths May Someday Have Radios

DALLAS, April 14 (AP) — An electronics company has built a transmitter so tiny a spy could send a coded message by clamping his teeth together while appearing to be chattering in the cold.

The electronics firm said the transmitter could be inserted in the mouth of a false tooth. Coded messages could be sent by clamping the uppers on the lower.

The false tooth radio is the size of a molar. The upper tooth is laid with a metal "filling" that changes the radio into a transmitter when the teeth are clamped together.

The small size is achieved through a thin film approach to microelectronics. Patterns of chemicals are deposited on a small surface to serve the same purpose as wiring.

The hidden mouth piece was designed for use in medical research at Brooke army force base medical center in San Antonio, Tex. Doctors put the tiny code transmitter in the patient's mouth to study how often they open and shut their mouths during sleep, eating and other daily activities.

Spain Fears "Vacuum" in North Africa

North Africa, Soviet Premier Khrushchev rushed to recognize the provisional Algerian government, without waiting for the plebiscite to ratify the French-Algerian agreement. The Algerian Moroccan air force flies MIG-17 jet fighters, approximately a match for the U. S. supplied F-80 Sabre Jets of the Spanish air force. The Soviet minister of defense has just concluded an official visit to Morocco.

U. S. air force officials here decline to talk for publication about the schedule for giving up the bases. Privately, some say they hope Washington will raise the question of renegotiation with King Hassan.

ATTEND FUNERAL

DEOLO, April 14 — Mr. and Mrs. Nile Mitchell and children were called to Shelby, Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Mitchell's father.

The city will be filled with athletic businessmen who could qualify as sprinters — that is, unless they are killed first."

The councilman said he intended to discuss the dangerous situation with the traffic department at the next council meeting.

This is not really in my department but perhaps a traffic signal would be the answer to this situation. The signs as now located are easy to see when driving down the street. The truth is that few motorists pay any attention to them."

School Trustee Election Slated

The annual school trustee election will be held at 7:30 p.m. April 24 at Bickel and Lincoln schools only, announces Ernest Ragnland, superintendent of school district 411.

Ragnland said two trustees will be elected for three-year terms. Candidates who have filed petitions to date are Henry Colner, incumbent from zone four, and Edward A. (Bill) Roberts, incumbent from zone three. Roberts is running in zone three and is represented by David Barry who did not file for reelection, Ragnland added.

Ragnland states the latest date for filing nominating petitions will be 5 p.m. Tuesday. Petitions should be filed at the office of the superintendent of schools, Ragnland added.

Sewage Plant Expected to Be in Use By City No Later Than Next October

The town of Rock Creek used to travel. This line is now being placed on top of the road surface. It then will be covered to a depth of some four feet and a new road surface placed above it.

The fifth trunk has been designated Rock Creek. It starts at Locust and Overton avenue and follows Rock creek canyon to the south side of the creek wall almost opposite the hospital. At this point a pumping station will be constructed to lift the water high enough to flow into the main city trunk.

The plant is located at a point in Snake river canyon downstream from where Washington street north intersects the main street at a lookout point, and is spread over a large area.

The main trunk sewer will enter a structure where grit will be removed. Also at this point a 36-inch bypass line takes off and runs to the chlorination area. This bypass is for use in case of failure in the main plant.

Following grit removal the waste goes into two clarifiers which are 75 feet in diameter. Average detention here is for a two-hour period. The waste then moves on to two 50-foot-wide digesters where a temperature of 90 degrees is maintained to aid the process. Average retention in the digesters is 90 days.

In the digesters the heavy material will sink to the bottom and the light substance will float. Both of these will be drawn off and go to great sludge drying beds located along the riverbank. A sludge pump will return any non-drying material to the plant at a specified time for more purification. The water from the digesters will go to the now dumped into the water. The chlorine contact chamber and city plant is designed to care for a city of 40,000 population and also most of the existing industry if that waste is treated.

The city engineer stated that the "millium-cathode" there is a great amount of his work. One interesting feature of the plant is that the hydro-sulfide gas formed during the process will be drawn off and used to heat the home of the superintendent as well as the control house and the digesters. The burning gas will boil water from a supply well near the control house and the water will be piped around for heat. The chlorination and heating facilities will be located in the control house.

After completion the entire area will be landscaped to blend with natural surroundings.

Earl Fullmer will be plant superintendent. He accepted a position with the city in 1954 as supervisor at the filter plant, with the death of Jack Farrar, airport manager, he became acting airport head until a permanent official was hired. He then returned to the water treatment operation.

In August, 1961 he was named superintendent of sewage treatment. He has been closely associated with treatment plant construction in order to familiarize himself with the overall layout. Officials point out that as most of the equipment and piping is underground or enclosed upon completion, it is desirable that the operator have a first hand knowledge of the layout.

City officials have stated that the treatment plant for city sewage next to the city's water treatment plant at Rock Creek area where raw waste from several industrial plants is now dumped into the water. The chlorine contact chamber and city plant is designed to care for a city of 40,000 population and also most of the existing industry if that waste is treated.

U. S. Carries Asia Burden Against Reds

TOKYO, April 14.—For more than a decade, the United States has been scattering money and men from Japan to Singapore in an attempt to build a non-communist world along Red China's eastern border.

Today America still carries the burden of containing the red giant, and the future holds little promise that non-communist Asian nations will assume much of the load.

These nations have not effectively banded together militarily or economically, though all have a common fear of 600 million Red Chinese.

A survey by Associated Press correspondents in Asia shows that three obstacles stand in the way of a united front: ill-fated leadership in some countries and lack of national unity; old quarrels that show no sign of disappearing just because China, a traditional enemy, once again threatens.

U.S. officials would like to link Japan and South Korea in a regional partnership tying down the "softies" of the east. The United States has presented the two nations from ever opening normal diplomatic relations.

South Korea's 600,000-man army makes it one of America's strongest military allies, but the country is burdened with internal difficulties.

Nations China claims the ability to overthrow mainland China's communist regime but American officials elsewhere make it clear these claims are exaggerated.

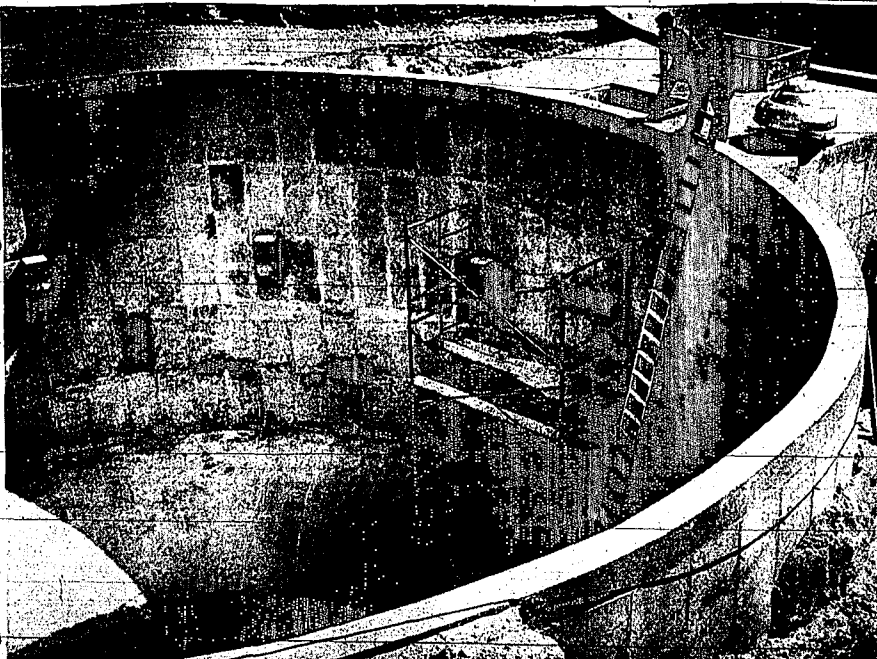

The Philippines, demoralized and economically stagnant, is a bright spot but the United States had to support most of the men, ships and aircraft for Manila's military and the Southeast Asia Treaty organization in the Philippines.

Washington has written off Laos as a positive non-communist force, apparently feeling that communism could be defeated by U.S. troops. The United States now is pushing for a government coalition of rightists, neutrals and leftists.

Prosperous Malaysia is leading an attempt to rally several of its neighbors. Malaysia has proposed a federation of Malaysia, linking itself with Singapore, Brunei, North Borneo and Sarawak as one nation. Malaysia also joined Thailand and the Philippines in forming the ambitious social, cultural and economic Association of Southeast Asia.

Singapore, however, is restoring the federal idea and USA is a long way from being a strong military or political union.

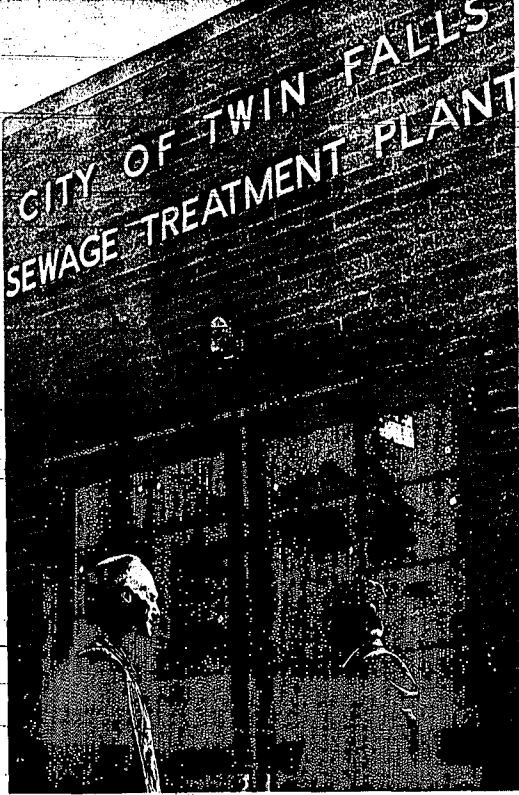

Thus from Japan in the north to Singapore in the south, U.S. armed might forms the only effective deterrent to Red China. It is unlikely to stay that way for a long time.

Jerome Girl Riding High During Her Year Reign as Miss Rodeo America

Continued from Page 23 the comely national title holder said. "If they did not come as straight gifts I would have to pay income tax on the value of the entire amount." Just how does "country girl" get to be on top of the heap as a national celebrity. It is a long road. Karen's trip started not too long after she was born on a sheep ranch in southern Idaho. She recalls that since there is always "sheep punching" on the ranch she started to ride almost before she learned to walk. She owns six quarter horses and has a "genuine" interest in raising Apolopans. She was a member of a 4-H livestock club for many years and has 10 grand championships to her credit. She has won over 100 ribbons in 10 years at a sheep showman and topped grand champion of all livestock divisions for two consecutive years at the Southern Idaho district fair. Karen also rode in two riding clubs, the Jerome Pease-Rite and the Jerome Square Dancers. She started competitive riding in horse shows and junior rodeos at the age of 10. She has ribbons and cups for horsemanship, western pleasure, costume class, trail class, matched pairs, barrel racing, pole bending and goat tying. She won her first major queen contest at the age of 16. Right now she is "laying out" of school at Idaho State college where she was enrolled as a sophomore in elementary education. She is a graduate of Jerome high school. She says that after all this "glitter" was over she will go back to Idaho State and continue her education. "But, really, this year is an education in itself. It is so wonderful," she said. Getting back to her trip to the top, it is interesting to note that in 1959 she took her first "big one" by being named queen of the Intermountain Arabian Horse show at Sun Valley. Then followed in rapid succession the Jerome Pease-Rite queen; runner-up princess at Snake River Stampede, Nampa; Jerome county fair and rodeo queen; Idaho State college Intercollegiate rodeo queen; Caldwell night rodeo queen; Miss Rodeo Idaho at Caldwell, and finally last December, the biggest of them all, Miss Rodeo America at Las Vegas. She now is sponsored by the Intermountain-Rodeo-management and by the Sahara hotel, Las Vegas. Her trips? Practically everywhere. Sometimes her mother goes with her and sometimes she goes alone. She always has her expenses, including transportation, meals and lodging, paid. And when "Mom" is not along, Karen is quick to point out that so far she has had two chaperones at each appearance. When you are reading this story about her she will be making a personal appearance at Colorado State university where the National Barrel Racing clinic is being held. Then many more appearances will follow including rodeos at Wichita Falls, Tex., May 1 through 5; Las Vegas, May 14 through 20; Chickasha, Okla., June 23-25; Coleman, Tex., July 11-14; Blackfoot Stampede, July 15-18; Ogden Pioneer days, July 19-24; Monte Vista, Colo., Aug. 2-4. This only names a few. Within another month it is expected that she will be "booked solid" right up to the year's end when the 1963 queen will be selected at "Vegas." But two trips coming up will be thrillers by any standard. One is the Rose parade in Portland and of course, that one to Honolulu about two weeks before Christmas. When her term ends she probably will come under the category of "expert performer." In Los Angeles she recently appeared on eight major TV programs and five radio shows. "I am almost getting so I smile without really trying to smile," she said. "It is becoming a habit." As Miss Rodeo America, Karen does not enter rodeos as a contestant. Her job is to head entry parades and displays. She is the "queen" symbol of all rodeos in America. Karen is "beautiful" but definitely not "dumb." She entered Idaho State on a scholarship scholarship and was a high school member of the National Honor society. Her college grades average a strong "B" yet she had time to be active in drama and theatrical productions, the Rodeo club and the Ski club. She is the fourth daughter of four girls and has a brother, Tim. Her sisters are Mrs. Douglas Burgess, Las Vegas; Mrs. Byron Jones, Cordova, Alaska; and Mrs. Denzel Larsen, Jerome. Her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lavens, farm near here.

HOLDING TROPHY which signifies she is Miss Rodeo America for 1962 is Karen Lavens. A table top is filled with other awards she has received the past few years. The 18-year-old blonde is a graduate of Jerome high school. (Times-News photo)

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Civic Activity of Sherman Bellwood, Rupert, Wins Space in "Who's Who"

RUPERT, April 14—Active participation in civic and community and especially in judicial circles has won for a Rupert resident recognition and a listing in the current "Who's Who." Sherman J. Bellwood, 49, Rupert attorney and former judge of the eleventh judicial district, was named last week as one of the new names being listed in the "Who's Who" publication for 1962. Bellwood was appointed to the judgeship by Gov. Robert E. Smylie in 1957 and was reelected to the post in 1958. He resigned to reenter private practice in 1960 and is now associated with William T. Goodman in Rupert. Bellwood was graduated with high honors from the University of Idaho where he majored in political science and pre-law. He received his bachelor of law degree from the University of Michigan law school in 1941. Admitted to the bar in February, 1942, he entered private practice in Halley where he was from 1942 to 1947, except for a time spent in the service. Bellwood attained the rank of captain in the United States Army, submarine mines division. He later served for seven years with the judge advocate general's department as a member of the reserves. Bellwood was born at Sugar City, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Bellwood, reside at 1341 11th avenue east, Twin Falls. He married Eleanor Jane Egan, daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. T. Bailey Lee, May 14, 1938. They have one son, Sherman Lee Bellwood, a senior at the Minidoka County high school. After opening a law practice in Rupert, in 1947, Bellwood, except for the time spent as district judge, has maintained a law office here. He has served as prosecuting attorney for Minidoka county from 1951 to 1957, and as attorney for the city of Rupert from 1950 to 1957, and is presently holding that position, with Goodman. He has served as president of both the Fourth and Eleventh Judicial District Bar associations, and has been a commissioner for the Idaho Bar association from 1957 to 1960. He was vice president of this organization in 1958-59 and president in 1959-60. Bellwood is presently serving

SPACE STORMS

BURBANK, Calif., April 14 (UPI)—A Lockheed physicist warned today that before man can venture safely on interplanetary space journeys, he must be able to predict solar storms. Dr. Carl von Kenschitzki, head of the plasma physics research, reported that solar flares produce intense radiation that may be fatal to space travelers caught up in it. "If man can predict solar flares with accuracy, he can undertake space journeys during safe periods, avoid dangerous areas or have time to take protective measures," he said. time in study. THE OLD DAYS return again when Ed Vogel, Buhl area farmer, rolls down the highway in this 1918 model T of the famous Ford line. Vogel's collecting hobby has resulted in gathering many pieces of new equipment, including no less than seven steam engines, two cars and assorted wagons. (Times-News photo) think that the steam engine is better than a combine."

The steam engine is used to run a grain separator driven by a long drive-belt. Coal is used as fuel. It is possible, however, to rig up the engine so that they will operate on straw or oil.

Late in July or early in August, he annually attracts hundreds of curious as he sets up one of the steam engine outfits to harvest his barley, oats and wheat. Sometimes he finds it hard to operate because of the flow of vehicular traffic into the field.

Actually there is no set place to look for steam engine in case you want to collect some. Vogel found his by word of mouth, by friends giving him a tip or by looking for them in the Piper Clipper airplane which he keeps at the local airport. He is a licensed pilot.

"But after a while, he admits, he ran out of places to look and engines to find, so, after putting the seven he now owns in good working order, he turned his attention to old autos.

Right now he has two — both Fords. One is a truck and the other is a "snazzy" passenger car. The two are in good shape after a lot of work on the part of Vogel.

He uses the old truck for farm work. The passenger car, a 1918 Model "T", sports a brand new 1922 license and is ready to go. The license fee is "right down at the bottom, only $7.50," he recalls.

He points out the truck was practically intact when he acquired it but the passenger car was "practically built right here on the farm." Parts came from everywhere but all are authentic and all originally were on the 1918 model.

"When I got these two autos running, I started looking around Nevada and was the last one in use," Vogel declares. "That is good enough for me. I have a good pair of mules and they love to pull the steeze. Sometimes I go for a ride just for the sake of riding."

Getting back to the fact Vogel is a bachelor. If he had it to do over would he do it the same way?

"I still like antiques," he declared.

Henry Ford Confident of Auto Future

DETROIT, April 14 (AP)—Henry Ford II and his "glasshouse gang" face the future confident they can gradually increase their share of the domestic auto market, make sizable inroads into the world market for vehicles and run with the best in the race for outer space.

In the 16½ years since he took control of the company from his aging grandfather, young Henry has changed almost everything but the name—products, people, facilities and philosophy.

From an ailing concern losing nine million dollars a month and heading nowhere, Ford has become one of the world's best managed large companies, generating cash after dividends at the rate of 250 million dollars annually, and with an unchallenged grip on second place in the auto industry.

Henry Ford II has been firmly in the driver's seat all the way.

He has had lots of help, which he is the first to admit. But he has learned well from those he hired to help him.

A different student who quit Yale because it didn't interested him, Henry II has developed his own style of running a man who said "I didn't know enough to be scared" when he took over the company at 28 into a performance without dominating, listens with insight and leads without dictating.

Like his grandfather, Henry Ford is the Ford Motor Company. Unlike his grandfather he makes no attempt to run a one-man show.

Henry Ford resisted change, building his Model T and later his Model A far past the peak of public demand.

Henry II has broadened and modernized the range of company activities into outer-space, home appliances, electronics and scientific research.

In an interview in his office on the top floor of the imposing 12-story "Ford Center" office building Dearborn fondly called "The Glass House" by many who work there Henry Ford II outlined the future something like this:

"Domestic auto sales—"We will increase gradually, but not very fast. Our product, price and quality are as good as anyone's."

"Worldwide vehicles sales—"I have great confidence we can increase our penetration of the world market. We're looking to stop us."

"Space and defense—"I think one billion dollars a year in defense contracts would be a reasonable amount" (total defense business of Ford, General Motors and Chrysler last year came to only 500 million dollars).

"Some of Ford's brightest hopes for the future lie in the world wide market."

A year ago the parent company paid 368 million dollars for 100 per cent ownership of Ford of England, largest of its foreign subsidiaries. Previously the parent company had owned about 55 per cent.

"Ford Motor company's foreign sales, averaging two billion dollars annually, account for 48 per cent of the company's revenues."

"On the domestic front Ford's perennial sales battle has been against Chevrolet, a fight it won in 1957 and again in 1959. But with the variety of models the race has become confused."

"It would be very foolish for us to see losing General Motors as a goal," Henry II said. "After all, they're bigger than we are."

"On new products in the transportation field, Ford's score to date is two resounding successes—the Thunderbird and the F100— and one dismal failure—the Edsel."

"Only this week Ford showed it learned the lesson of the Edsel. A car must be right for the market. So Henry II, in a sudden announcement, canceled plans to build a subcompact car in the United States this year."

"This car, known as the Cardinal, would have been built as much of a gamble as the Edsel. Henry II said the odds weren't worth it."

"The Cardinal will be built abroad, using some parts made in the United States."

Richfield Eyes New Curriculum

RICHFIELD, April 14 — Supl. A. M. Derr stated this week a possible solution for securing additional curriculum for Richfield high school is being studied by the school boards of Detroit and Richfield. Cooperative hiring of a home economics teacher for the two schools and a possibility of music is being discussed. Richfield schools will close May 8.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Business Reacts Sharply to Steel Price Hike, Cutbacks

NEW YORK April 14 (AP)—The business world whirled dizzily during the week as steel prices slipped up and then fell right back down.

U.S. steel corporation felt off the fireworks with a surprising announcement Tuesday that it is raising steel prices $3 a ton, or 3 1/2 per cent.

President Kennedy was infuriated and denounced the raise as "a wholly unjustifiable and irresponsible defiance of the public interest."

The justice department launched a grand jury investigation and subpoenaed records of steel companies.

Under a barrage of criticism and retaliatory action from the government, the steel front crumbled Friday.

The first break in the ranking came when U.S. Steel in its backed down and rescinded its rise.

Both business and the government had been ailing at the price boom, coming as it did, within a week after the steel industry and the national laborer's union had signed a new two-year contract.

The contract provided for 40 cents an hour in fringe benefits but no wage increase in the first year.

Kennedy was coldly furious when he assailed the leading producers' action in his news conference Wednesday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara estimated the increase would cost the government $1.5 billion in the defense bill.

The justice department was considering efforts to break up the trust.

U.S. Steel said it had no intention of raising prices again.

Volume on the New York stock exchange for the most recent week totaled 15,282,720 shares.

Steel production fell off during the week as users stopped stockpiling after the labor contract agreement eliminated possibility of a strike-induced shortage.

President Kennedy stepped in to another hot issue during the week when he halted the West Coast shipping strike by taking action under the Taft-Hartley law.

Heavy sales of automobiles were the key to the rise.

Output during the week was estimated at 142,000 passenger cars and 100,000 trucks.

The census bureau reported that the steel industry climbed to the highest level in nearly five years.

Rice Follows Mart's Slump To Year Low

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The stock market stayed a moderate recovery this week after plunging sharply to its lowest level of the year in an unfavorable reaction to an inflationary hike in steel prices.

Trade was the heaviest in over a month during the January, confused period which ended with a market rally.

After Wednesday's close the President attacked the move as contrary to the national interest.

The decline was converted into a rally late Friday when inland rice prices advanced.

In the past, a steel price increase has pressed a big rise in stock prices with such inflationary news sending investors charging after common stocks as a hedge against declining purchasing power of the U.S. dollar.

Other business news, more favorable than not, was shoved into the background by steel developments.

Trading for the week closed on 15,282,720 shares from 15,282,720 a week earlier.

U.S. Steel was the week's most active stock, rising 2 1/2 points to 48 1/2.

Blue chip features included Du Pont off 5 1/2, Union Carbide 3 1/2 and Eastman Kodak 2 1/2.

Behind the first steel firm to decide to hold the price line gained a point but others in the group generally declined from 1 1/2 to 1/2.

At the same time, the steel industry's earnings were narrowly mixed.

U.S. Steel was hit for $1.2 million in declines in the steel industry, though iron 5 1/2 in the otherwise soft drug where Bhatlaji-Myers shed three and Norwich 3 1/2.

IDAHO WATERS are well stocked with black bass, particularly largemouth, Howard Parnell, Boise, tries some early season luck in Brownlee reservoir on the middle Snake river. A partial list of some of the waters include nine lakes and three rivers. The lakes are Shepard, Gamlin, Fernan, Hauser, Chatcolet, Round, Benawah, Lovell and Carey. Rivers include the Snake, Clearwater and lower Salmon. Bass can be taken in most places in April. (Fish and game photo)

Prospects for 1962 Water Remain Good

JEROME, April 14—Carroll Wilcomb, manager of the North Side Canal company, reports prospects for a normal water year still appear good. Wilcomb expects the Jackson lake held 174,000 acre feet Tuesday, compared to approximately 133,000 acre feet last year.

Wilcomb says 720,000 acre feet compared to 677,000 in 1961. American Falls is now full with 1,703,000 plus compared to 1,550,000 a year ago. Wilcomb said that present predictions are that Jackson lake will fill and Pullsaders will shed over 1,000,000 acre feet. Normal flow will probably hold up through June with normal watershed temperature and precipitation conditions, Wilcomb believes.

The first North Side Canal company water was turned in Tuesday. Wilcomb said that water has been confined to some pre-irrigation of ground for corn planting in the Weedell area. A small head also will be worked through the system in anticipation of irrigated needs.

Irrigation water will be held out of certain laterals in the Jerome area until about April 15 for permanent cleanup of weeds and completion of construction.

Jerome water will be turned into the ditches between April 15 and 22, depending on the time it takes the flow to reach the city headgates.

Early Season Angler Can Take Bass In Several Idaho Rivers and Lakes

BY JIM HUMPHREY
Idaho Fish and Game Department

William R. Ridenbaugh, Boise, planted 2,240 largemouth bass in the rich green waters of the Boise river some 20 years ago. Little did he realize that the descendants of these hardy and prolific game fish—later would provide countless hours of fun and recreation for anglers.

It is common among knowledgeable fishermen to be secretive, at times misleading. Such was not the case with Ridenbaugh. His records show the original bass were brought in by express from Missouri in 1847. The importation amounted to 50 fish averaging six inches in length. Later he received additional stock for his ponds from the U.S. fish commission.

These were the brood stock, whence came the fish of his own rearing for the initial release to the Boise river. Ridenbaugh retained the fish of another population pond of greater acreage.

Early records trace the migratory patterns of the bass from the Boise river downstream to the Snake and Columbia rivers. So rapidly did they spread throughout the basin of the lower Columbia, they were market fish almost from the start.

Today, many waters are well stocked with black bass, particularly largemouth, and a partial list around the state from north to south to east must include at least 10 lakes. These are Shepard, Gamlin, Fernan, Hauser, Chatcolet, Round, Benawah, Lovell and Carey.

Idaho rivers in which the bass are found are the Snake, Clearwater and lower Salmon. These waters are stocked with smallmouth bass, according to the Western Bass club's fishing guide, Norman Lawrence, Lewiston, gets the credit for the first planting of smallmouth bass in the Clearwater river a few years ago. At any rate, these fish are abundant in that drainage in the Perce and Clearwater counties, and the Salmon river drainage in Nez Perce and Idaho counties, and

Brochure Is Discussed at C. of C. Meet

Final plans of the new Twin Falls brochure were discussed by the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce board of directors during a Friday noon luncheon in the Rogerson hotel desert room.

Board members discussed sections of the new brochure which will be printed in about two weeks. William Grange, secretary-manager, said the board would view the first brochure after it was printed to correct any errors there might be.

Lovell Dick, managing editor of the Times-News, gave a brief report of his talk with Dr. Grant Morrison, specialist on community and junior colleges in the department of health, education and welfare, two weeks ago.

Other reports were given by Mrs. V. M. Parick, of the tourist and convention committee, and Owen Fisher on the organization of a United Fund.

4-H Unit Meets

Duties of a Junior 4-H leader were outlined at a meeting of the Fern-Hers 4-H club last week at the Twin Falls Grange hall, by Jo Ann Owens and Curtis Eskola.

Nancy Norris and Jerry Kuykendall reported on their recent trip to Chicago for the National 4-H club congress.

After the meeting the group played games and refreshments were served.
