PRAYER FOR EASTER

Almighty God, we bow humbly before the glory of Thy Presence. On this Day of Days we thank Thee for everything that tells us of Thy love; the warmth and beauty of the sunshine, the song of birds, the stir of springtime in the air.

We bless Thee for our creation, preservation, and all the blessings of this life. Most of all do we praise Thee for the wonder of Thy redeeming love in Jesus Christ who for us and our salvation didst endure the cross and whom Thou hast raised to honor and glory.

Christ is now crowned with glory, clothed in victory, and vested with the keys of death and hell. Praise be unto Thee, O Lord most high.

A blessed and happy Easter to all!

(Editor's note: From now until election time, the chairman of the Democratic and Republican central committees in Twin Falls county have agreed to publish their articles and news items in this column. This is the first time since 1948 that the two parties have agreed to do this.)

BY DEANE SHIPLEY
Chairman, Democrat Central Committee

The late Will Rogers always started his humor column with, "All I know is what I read in the papers." And he went on to cite what he had read and the humorous conclusion he arrived at from review of the daily papers. It was all very funny back in the 20's and 30's, but it is doubtful if even Will Rogers could make today's leading news items very funny.

DEMOCRAT ADMINISTRATION FLOORS AMERICAN STEEL INDUSTRY IN ROUND ONE

It takes the Democrat administration enough the rest of page one sets up a graphic word picture of the Democrat administration appointment of a man who is the ugly rascal of free enterprise's number one whipping boy—the steel industry. A brief part of the Democrat's record on the steel dragon's nostrils, but no one was singled and within 48 hours he lay prostrate at the feet of our President, and by members of the victorious administration anxious to pose for press photographers with the victor's laurels.

And, amidst the roar of battle, John F. Kennedy, our President's latest and greatest, quickly announced plans to raise his office rentals three to five per cent!

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the Democrat administration has secured the Democrat administration's efforts will save us all 62 cents on a medium size automobile and on a $3,000 automobile and $1.21 on the next steel burial vault we purchase. With these staggering savings clearly stated in their minds, most of us cheerily start filling out internal revenue form No. 104 and happily send in our remittance knowing that it is helping win our battle with private enterprise.

No one will argue that free enterprise is without fault. But for those on the government payroll, we are all part of it. But with all of our faults, private enterprise has created the most abundant economy in mankind's history and at the same time has provided the most abundant and most extravagant government in mankind's history.

No doubt the steel industry has its share of faults. But the point is that it has provided the most abundant and most extravagant government in mankind's history.

BRUINS WIN MAGIC VALLEY INVITATIONAL

Twin Falls' Doug Schow Racked up 18 Points to Trigger Winning Attack

Big Doug Schow racked up three firsts and a second today to lead the Twin Falls Bruins to victory in the second annual Magic Valley Invitational track meet. Schow racked up firsts in the 100-yard dash (10.1), 220-yard dash (22 flat), and 440-yard dash (6.23) and notched second with a throw of 138 feet, 8 inches in the discus. The Bruins posted 60 1/2 points to down second place Boise with 42 1/2.

Sports FROM ALL ANGLES

BY LARRY HOVEY

Once again Magic Valley has its proof that everything is getting bigger and better in the sports world.

The latest action came this morning in Burley where a few schools got together and freshmen and sophomores met for a friendly meet.

Some of the performances were better than great.

Running back through the records of the last 10 years ago, you discover how much improved track prospects are in this area.

For instance, in 1952, the Big Six conference (now Southern Idaho conference) sent its 220-yard dash winner in 22.3 on a curve. Alan Brown, a Twin Falls freshman, toured it in 22.3 Wednesday. The broad jump in that meet went for 19 feet, 7 inches. Scott Strong, Twin Falls, sailed out 19 feet, 11 inches at Burley.

Of course there were standouts in the "old days" of the 50s and before then. But only three of Idaho's state track records reach farther back than 1952. One of these, the 145 set by Lake, Twin Falls, in 1941, will be smashed this year with any kind of waywardly by Caldwell's Ray McDonald, it appears.

"If I had had in this year's club the first year I was in Shoshone, I think we would have been able to into district championship contenders," says Shoshone coach Jim Wallace. "But track has been so strong in the past three years we have little if any chance of winning. We might be lucky to get more than 10 points."

But Idaho still has a very long way from catching up with the rest of the country.

A quick glance at the track and field record book indicates Idaho is not the track metcca of the country.

It's not last, but then it's not even in the middle. Only in the 100-yard dash and the pole vault had the state any semblance of respectability. Idaho's record of 12.1 in the 100-yard dash ranks 121st in the nation with the pole vault (13 feet, 2 inches) is 15th.

These records are based on what the individual states recognize as standards. Some states have the boys divided into weight classes of A through D so while Idaho's record may be 44th, it could be 30th in the single report per state category.

California is running away with the high school records, owing to out of it—including the javelin which is outlawed in Idaho.

Going by events, the Idaho record in the 100-yard dash is 12.1 against 8.4 for the national mark and ranks 12th. The 220-yard dash is 21.7 in Idaho, 20.2 nationally and the state ranks 20th.

440-yard dash, 60 flat, 42nd and 46.1; 880 yard run, 1:57.2, 20th, and 1:51.0; Mile runs, 4:28.2, 34th and 4:11; high hurdles, 14.0, 20th and 13.7; low hurdles, 20 flat, 44th and 18.4; 880-yard relay, 1:32.4, 44th; and 1:29.9; shot put, 44 feet, 6 inches, 48th, and 42 feet, 3 inches; discus, 130 feet, 2 1/2 inches, 31st, and 194 feet, 6 inches, and broad jump, 22 feet, 8 1/2 inches, 57th and 29 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

High jump, 6 feet, 2 inches, 48th, and 6 feet, 0 1/2 inches; and 100-yard dash, 13 feet, 2 inches, 15th, and 15 feet.

The mile, medley and 440-yard relays, are not listed separately but Idaho is behind the national marks.

The two big factors against the state are weather and population. But more to the point is the weather. The early few weeks proved a good case in point as area coaches tried to get boys into condition. It's pretty tough to get loose when the wind is making your eyes water and the temperature is freezing the tears on your cheeks before they can evaporate or drip off.

Boys' setting records where a few colleges and a little javelin build up a good sweat might find those conditions somewhat less than record-breaking.

Like "Man, when's it going to get warm?"

Blanchard Powers, Yanks Past Indians

By The Associated Press
John Blanchard's three-run homer and Whitney Ford's six-hit pitching gave the New York Yankees a 3-1 victory over Cleveland Saturday, the 19th straight game the Indians have lost at Yankee stadium since May 12, 1960. Blanchard hit his homer into the lower stands in left field off Barry Lutzman in the first inning after Bobby Richardson and Mickey Mantle had walked.

Gene Green smashed a 420-foot homer into the left field bleachers in the fifth inning. It was the 4th blow hit into those seats in the history of Yankee stadium.

Boston enjoyed a rare run outplayed against Detroit's Frank Lary and held on for a 4-2 victory in celebration of Fenway park's 50th anniversary.

The Red Sox landed on tough tiger Lary for all their runs and five of their eight hits in the third inning.

Right-hander Don Schwall shook off his sophomore slump, pitched a two-run homer by Al Skone in the fourth and a solo hit by Norm Cash in the eighth.

Booker Ar Quirk and reliever Verne Stock of Baltimore put together a seven-hit shutout as the Orioles handed the Washington Senators their fifth straight defeat.

Johnny Temple drove in the game's only runs with a single in the third and a double in the seventh.

Jerry Lumpe's two-run homer in the seventh cracked a 6-6 tie and helped the Kansas City A's and helped the Kansas City A's to a 9-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox, tumbling the Pale Hose out of the American league lead.

The A's 12-hit attack also included a two-run homer in the third by Norm Siebern, who Friday night clouted a three-run

Miss Smith Holds Tournament Lead

MIAMI, Fla., April 21 (AP)—Marilyn Smith, Jupiter, surged into the lead in the second round of the Sunshine women's open golf tournament today despite wind and rain that lashed the Miami Springs Country club course.

Smith, who hasn't won a tournament since 1959, toured the par 72, 6,233-yard course at par to give her a total of 143 for the first two days.

Sybil Griffin of Baton Rouge, La., also toured the course at par, but her 77 Friday put her in a tie for sixth place at 149.

In second place, two strokes behind Miss Smith, was Patty Berg of Fort Meyers.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS IN T.F. TODAY

Magic Valley Will Host Russets in First Game; Morris Has Pitching Nod

Professional baseball returns to Magic Valley today at 2 p.m. today when the Magic Valley Cowboys meet the Idaho Falls Russets to kickoff the Pioneer league season. Although 18 men will be on the field, much of the attention will be focused on the weatherman. A pre-game ceremony will precede the game during which the two national trophies won last year will officially be presented. But during the afternoon, the club will be aiming for a third trophy—the league opening day attendance derby.

California Derby Is Won By Doc Jocoy

SAN BRUNO, Calif., April 21 (UP)—Doc Jocoy, second-weighted at 120 pounds, won the California derby at Tanforan today but not before he had fought off Blue Serrano in a stirring duel down the stretch.

Doc Jocoy's winning margin in the $42,250 stakes feature was just a nose although he had taken Joyce Willie Harman in front from the break and actually was never headed.

Third in the field of nine three-year-olds over the final distance was Old Regatta.

Doc Jocoy paid $7.80, $3.80 and $2. The time was one minute, 59 seconds.

Nell-S. McCarthy's Santa Anita derby winner, Royal Attack, one of the West's leading hopefuls for the Kentucky derby before Saturday's race, finished sixth.

McCarthy said there would be no immediate decision as to whether Royal Attack would be scratched as a Louisville possibility.

Doc Jocoy's trainer, John Canby, said "if he cools out all right I imagine he will go to Kentucky Monday or Tuesday."

Cleveland Trades Lineman for Back

CLEVELAND, April 21 (UP)—The Cleveland Browns traded tackle Ed Nutting to the Dallas Cowboys Saturday for Merrill Douglas, a fullback-halfback.

Nutting spent most of last season—his first year in the National Football League—on the injured list. He was injured in the Browns' fourth game.

Douglas, 26, is a four-year veteran who played three seasons with the Chicago Bears before going to Dallas last summer. He is a 6-foot, 206-pounder.

Oregon Has 17th Consecutive Win

CORVALLIS, April 21 (UP)—Four errors by Oregon helped Oregon State University to its 17th straight baseball victory Saturday.

This brought the Beavers within one game of tying the school record of eighteen straight games set in 1951.

The two clubs battled on even terms through the first six innings, after which they were tied 3-3, but Oregon State pushed through its two winning runs in the 8th inning.

Oregon outlit the Beavers, 12 to 8, as Cal Dean led the Ducks attack with a homer and two singles. Fred Pettinello also slammed out a homer for Oregon.

Jack Nicklaus Grabs Lead in Houston Meet

HOUSTON, Tex., April 21 (UP)—Jack Nicklaus, a young rookie who has collected money in every tournament since turning pro, used a two-under-par 68 today to grab the 54-hole lead in the $50,000 Houston golf classic.

The 68-70-68—208 for the 109-yard, par 70 Memorial Park course for the 1961 national amateur, champion two strokes ahead of Bobby Nichols, the 36-hole leader from Midland, Tex., and Doug Sanders, Ojai, Calif., Nichols, the St. Petersburg open champion, missed a two-foot putt on the final green to place a 71 behind Sanders after two par rounds, matched Nicklaus' 68.

Tied at 209 were George Knudson, the first-day leader from Toronto, Canada, and Jay Herbert, the defending champion from Lafayette, La. Herbert thus became the first defending champion since 1954 to survive the Classic's 54-hole cut.

A score of 220-10 over par—was needed for Sunday's final 18 holes and the 22 pros eliminated included Bill Collins, the 1950 Classic champion, and Ken Venturi who lost a 19-hole playoff to Herbert a year ago.

Only four strokes separated the top 11 players as the third round "under way and seven of them held or shared the lead at one time or another through the first eight holes.

National AAU Swim Records Are Shattered

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 21 (UP)—Robyn Johnson and Donna de Varona, a pair of teen-agers, won triple crowns as the national AAU indoor swimming and diving championships were completed today on a record-shattering note.

"Miss Johnson, representing the North Virginia swim club of Arlington, Va., shattered the American mark in winning the 200-yard freestyle in 2:34.8—compared with Chris Von Saltza's old mark of 2:36 set in 1959.

The feat established Miss Johnson as the leading point-winner—of the meet—with 26 points to her credit after wins in the 100, 250 and 500-yard freestyles and second in the 400-yard individual medley.

"I think now I can do a little better, next year and the year after and be ready for the 1963 Olympics," said the slim, trim 16-year-old star.

The 16-year-old Miss de Varona, Lafayette, Calif., daughter of a former University of California football star, completed her triple by winning the 100-yard backstroke in 1:04. Earlier she had won the 200-yard backstroke and 200-yard individual medley.

Mrs. Joel Lenzl O'Connell, Santa Clara, Calif., won the three-meter diving with 416.11 points. The runner up was Barbara McAllister, Phoenix, Ariz., with 415.40.

Oregon Shatters USC Dual Track Win Skein at 104

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (UPI)—University of Oregon's powerful track and field team led by double event winners Dmyr Burleson, Harry Jerome and Jerry Tarr today snuffed University of Southern California's streak of 104 dual meets when the Ducks captured the 14th event of the program.

The 220-yard low hurdles, Burleson, one of the nation's top distance men, captured the mile in a strategy race in the comparatively slow time of 4:14.2. He barely was ahead of teammate Archie San Romani as Oregon swept all three places.

Burleson came back to lead another sweep in the 880-yard run in which all three Oregon men scoring points bettered the old meet record. Burleson was timed in 1:49.5 to clip eighth of a second off his old meet mark.

Hurdler Jerry Tarr captured the high hurdles as expected to meet record time of 13.9 seconds and then came back to take the low hurdles in 23.0 for another meet standard.

Jerome had been figured to take the 100-yard dash and lived up to the predictions with a time of 0.7, running into a 42-mile an hour wind. In the 220-yard dash around a turn, he scored an even more impressive win over USC's Steve Nunn, in 20.8 for still another Oregon meet record.

But the biggest upset came in the javelin in which USC's Jim Sikorsky who had been expected to win the event easily was defeated by Oregon's Les Tipton who posted his lifetime best of 238 feet 4 1/2 inches, eight feet ahead of Sikorsky.

Southern California had not lost a dual meet since its wartime defeat by Cal Tech in 1945, although the Trojans were tied by Michigan State in 1949. Since that Michigan State tie, USC had won 78 straight dual meets.

Nine meet records were set, seven of them by Oregon athletes with USC establishing marks only in the pole vault and

Machen and Clay Top Fight Card

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (UP)—A couple of top-ranked heavyweights, Eddie Machen and Cassius Clay, are the main attractions at ex-husband champion Joe Louis' first prize fighting presentation Monday night.

The veteran Machen, ranked No. 2, will clash with Bert Whitburn of Baltimore, and Clay, No. 9 and 1960 Olympic lightweight champion, meets George Logan, Bode.

There are four 10-round bouts slated for the Sports arena end. The other contests feature No. 1 welterweight Ralph Dupas vs. Frankie Ramirez of San Jose, Calif., and lightweight Eddie Charles of Los Angeles against Tony Perez of Mexico.

The Trojan relay quartet, anchored by Gawley, was timed in 3:13, cutting a full second off the mark set by USC in 1959.

The times were good despite the newness of the running track which was completed only two days ago.

The running track had been taken out during the four-year tenure of the Los Angeles Dodgers baseball club in the coliseum. Oregon won nine events at USC's five, with a tie in the high jump.

No End Sighted for Power Of President to Fix Price

Editor, Times-News: If the President has the power to prevent U.S. Steel from raising the price of steel in, practically, might not we have to help the butcher, baker and farmer to help them sell their goods for, tell doctors and hospital bills that they charge for their services, even tell attorneys how much they can charge their clients, also take 20 per cent interest on savings, bonds, etc. That's double taxing because savings and bonds are earnings which have already had tax with held. Isn't that the kind of big government Russia enjoys? I find it rather amusing when I hear about the 107 per cent partly to farmers years past. That was good old war times and has never been paid in dollars and cents. Well, who knows; perhaps we can have future wars and some more good times, if that's what we want.

"Politics" Column Labeled

Interesting and Revealing

Editor, Times-News: The new column headed "politics" was a most interesting and revealing one. One could not help but notice the usual obvious difference in the manner of expression of the individuals representing the two parties. One was a tasteful, well written article, while the other was a harangue of incoherent, erratic nonsense. The crude reference to Abraham Lincoln is not only a vulgar display of ignorance but in itself had facts that it would be considered unpatriotic in the South where I came from. One writer began so ineffectually ted with the fumes of "untruth" he was generating that he was revealing himself as a "Gimme" at his own party. The "Gimmies" are the outgrowth of this writer's party's own ill-conceived policies of taking money from the citizens so that his party may create more bureaus to pay more money to party members to turn around and send a small percentage of this money back where it originated, thus buying more votes for the Democratic party.

The members of the "Gimme" party shall continue to grow so long as the people of our nation continue to send representatives to Washington, who insist on being the "Givers" to the "Gimmies."

I will look forward to future articles in the "Politics" column. After reading the first article I predict that Republicans won't need to work as hard as they anticipated they would.

May we, as good Republicans, show our loyalty to the "code of political ethics" as set up by Lincoln, for a victorious election this fall.

Kennedy Urged To Talk Pricing With His Father

Editor, Times-News: I read where Wallace G. Ollman, general manager of Chicago's mammoth Merchandise Mart owned by Joseph P. Kennedy, has announced rental booms of three to five per cent on expiring leases of the Mart.

These booms were necessitated by increased operating costs, principally labor and taxes, according to Mr. Ollman. These reasons seem to echo the statements given by U.S. Steel's Roger Blough in announcing reasons for price increases in steel.

Mr. Blough was severely chastised by the President in demands that business "hold the line," so necessary to our economic growth and stability.

Perhaps the President should have a little heart to heart talk with his father about price spirals.

Local Couple Makes Free Land Offering to Aid Junior College

If and when a junior college is established in the Twin Falls area, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Rayborn are offering to furnish possible site land with no strings attached. Rayborn, a local attorney and member of the firm of Rayborn, Rayborn and Webb, has practiced law longer than any other attorney in Twin Falls. Recent activity which could lead to establishment of a college here has caused Rayborn and his wife to make the free land offer. The land he has in mind would be a 10-acre tract on Addison avenue east outside the city limits, or a 40-acre piece near Joslin field. In the case of the Addison avenue east site it would probably be necessary for the college group to purchase additional adjoining acreage from other sources. Rayborn, in making the offer, said that when establishment of such a college is assured he will deed the land to the proper authorities. "The land would be free, with no strings attached," the attorney said. "There is only one suggestion I might make—that the venture should be a cooperative one of the entire valley and not just Twin Falls. If this is possible, however, if the college is assured the land will be available in either case." His interest in donating land for a college is not the only one Rayborn and his wife have in the field of education. For many years the Rayborns have provided money to send selected students to institutions of higher learning. His financial aid is centered on deserving students with good grade records, who otherwise would be unable to go to college after high school graduation. Some of these students selected have been aided financially in part while others have had their entire tuition paid, their clothing purchased and other needs cared for. At the present time, for instance, three students are being maintained by the Rayborns, two are at the University of Idaho, Moscow, and one is at Idaho State college, Pocatello. To further this activity the Rayborn Educational Foundation trust has been established. The trust is administered by the First Security bank and three trustees. Trustees are James Phelps, bank manager; John Anderson, of the Stein-McMurray-Anderson insurance firm, and Tom Turner, superintendent of schools at Filer. At the present time the Rayborns are the only donors to the fund, but contributions from other sources will be accepted and used in the same manner in which the present funds are used. Rayborn recalls that the hard times of his early life in getting an education caused him to make the vow that if he ever had the money he would aid others and

Unusual Bone Find at Shoshone Ice Caves Sent East for Study

SHOSHONE, April 21 — The department of mammalogy of the American Museum of Natural History, Central Park, N. Y., under the direction of Dr. Rigwood E. Graham, will be doing a study and analysis in some of the most unusual bones found in a cave two miles east of the Shoshone ice caves. Russell Robinson, owner of the Shoshone ice caves found the bones on a trip to the cave, accompanied by Lindey Carriero, his hired man. They had been waiting for the weather to dry up a little before exploring. Dr. Graham has written to Robinson expressing interest in securing some specimens of the bones originally taken from the cave about three years ago and taken to the University of Idaho by Mrs. Allen Bryan, who was with the anthropology department there.

Assisted University Robinson assisted the University of Idaho personnel in securing the original bones three years ago. Bryan, at the time, was working in the lava blister area at Star lake in Lincoln county. USC failed to identify the bones.

In the conversation at that time, Robinson said, there was some thought the bones might have been from such an animal as a cave bear, but there is no evidence of such animals ever living in either North or South America, though some have been found to have lived in European countries. They are considered a "find" to Robinson, however, and getting them this week was quite a chore in itself.

Cave Long and Deep The cave in which the bones were discovered is a 2 1/2 mile long and 3/4 mile long, dropping to four different levels.

Entering the cave, Robinson said he found a large room about 50 feet in circumference. From there they went down by ladder, into a lower tube, about 25 foot deep, then walked about 200 feet to the first passage way and crawled 300 yards from this level into a larger channel on the third level. The crawl is through a tunnel varying from 16 to 12 inches high in various places. The larger channel on the third level runs about one-fourth mile long and is 4 to 14 feet high and 14 to 20 feet wide. Most of the bones were found in this room.

Entrance Collapsed Answering how the large animals got into this space, Robinson explained the three large entrances to this level had collapsed. At the time the animals went into the cave, they were walking through these entrances.

Since the caves are extremely dark, light for the excursion was made by a gas and seal beam lantern. It was a good thing they had the seal beam lantern along because the gas lantern broke out Monday, and Robinson said this is the first time he has seen ice in the caves. (Continued on Page 11)

HOLDING A LOWER JAW of some early day animal is Russell Robinson, Shoshone Ice Caves. Robinson found the jawbone and many other bones while probing one of the lower levels of the caves. The mate to the bone broke when Robinson attempted to remove it. Robinson has coated the bones with a preservative and is shipping them east for study and classification. The teeth and length of the jaw indicate they came from a large animal. (Times-News photo)

Benedictine Sisters in Jerome Serve Humanity

BY MRS. J. R. CHURCHMAN JEROME, April 21 — What is your life? What is your work? What is your happiness? Each day all her activities will be regulated for her by rules and her superior. A nun makes three vows, poverty, chastity and obedience. By the vow of poverty she gives up her right to private ownership and happiness. They are also humans striving toward a goal. The greatest sacrifice that a sister makes is the giving of her will in obedience to a superior. With the second vow, chastity,

This means that her life—her work, the place of her work and its natural satisfactions and corresponding family responsibilities, to free herself to serve all God's children—the sick, the poor, the orphans, the aged and the children in schools. The sisters feel this is their greatest physical gift to offer God. A Benedictine religious makes her additional vows, one of stability by which she promises to remain in the Benedictine community life and the second vow, chastity. (Continued on Page 14)

They provide a recreational area for the nuns. The grotto is lighted at night. Sister M. Eleanor is the laboratory technician and Sister M. Ida is the office manager at the hospital. # U. S. Studies Financing of Shell House

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — The day may be near when the government will help you buy a home—ones which you can finish yourself.

Three federal housing administration officials are just back from several thousand miles of travel in the South looking at "shell houses." These are something new in low-cost housing, homes which—because they are small and finished only on the outside—sell at prices as low as $1,200. The first emerged as a major factor in the housing industry about six years ago, although they were developed during post-World War II housing boom. Lately they had been catching on.

FHIA makes no rosy predictions. Many of the shells sold today clearly would not qualify for FHA mortgage insurance. But Asst. FHA Commissioner Richard J. Cavan says, "I have no doubt there is great potential. We expect the FHIA will be ready sometime this spring to issue guidelines for insuring mortgages on shell houses."

The house in question has been a bonanza to a number of builders who pioneered the field, but a headache to others. It can be a boon to families with more money than they want to spend, or a financial millstone.

The typical shell house has one to three bedrooms and no basement—it is finished outside but has only bare bedroom floors and partitions inside. The plywood floor is unfinished.

The owner provides his own lot. Though some shells come as high as $12,000, the typical one carries a price tag of $1,800 to $3,000, with no down payment.

Starting with this shell, the owner then puts in his "sweat equity" with hammer and saw. When he has finished the interior and paid off a five-to-seven-year loan, he has an asset worth $4,000 to $8,000.

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

Home economics students of HAILEY high school have purchased the newest in an electric sewing machine. Also they have had two of their treadle machines converted to electric models. This was accomplished through their joint efforts in "making money grow." It all started when the girls decided that seven sewing machines weren't enough for a class of 18 girls. When school board members advised them they could not be able to purchase another machine this year, the girls decided they would do it themselves.

The 30 girls taking sewing decided to hold a contest to see who could make the most money for the project. They divided into four groups.

Mrs. Jay Fowles, their instructor, gave each group $5 the first of March and told them to see how much they could make during the month out of this initial investment. They were not to ask for donations.

The girls made sweet rolls, they made cakes, they made bread and they made donuts, and in a house-to-house canvass sold them throughout the entire county.

At school they sold home-made dainties during the lunch hour. The KETCHUM group sold their wares at two basketball games. They furnished sweet rolls for those who take their coffee break, at the Ketchum Drug-store.

When the money was counted the "Atlas" group of eight girls had won—having cleared $101.50 to turn back in addition to the $5 originally given them. This group was chairmanned by Leslie Cline and other members were:

Vicki Boulton, Joyce Cutler, Patricia Beckley, Toni Croce, Susan Barker, Mary Brooks and Cheryl Fovey.

The "Moon Dog" team chairmanned by Sally Seagle included Mary Anne Nayak, Janis Hanson, Mary Scarborough, Maria Johnson, Barbara Revoir and Jean Maccardio.

Sue Pickett was chairman of the "Magnificent Seven" team which included Dorothy Knau, Karen Rember, Janice Jankow, Becky Barona, Jean Smith and Linda Terrell.

The "Mercury" group included Julie Inchausti, chairman, and Nola Montgomery, Sarah Jones, Kaylene Sailer, JoAnn Young, Marie Dugger, Constance Peterson and Susan Good.

The girls also raised money by serving a dinner for the Hailey Rotary club and holding a cooked food sale.

In addition to paying for the machines, there will be enough money left over to provide for two $50 scholarships for outstanding home economics students.

Mrs. Don Chandler, ELBA

correspondent for the Times-News, wrote this poem to describe the valley for some children.

TWILIGHT IN THE ELBA VALLEY

The twilight comes and moonlight smiles
On cherished fields and standing trees;
The windows of the valley homes shine
With light and love, as if opened with a golden key.

The landscape is as soft as a dream,
The shadows quietly come and go.
The water ripples by in a silver stream,
And the night birds song is sweet and low.

The surrounding hills, purple in the twilight,
Stand like silent soldiers on guard.
Here in the valley is freedom from fear;
And a deep appreciation for the blessings of the Lord.

One of SHOSHONE's finest residents, J. E. Roessler, was feted on his 95th birthday anniversary recently. Born April 8, 1867, near Iowa City, Ia., he came to Shoshone in 1901 and he and his brother, George, bought the present Lane ranch.

On Oct. 16, 1897, he married Barbara Williams. Prior to coming to Shoshone, Roessler worked as a sawmill and farm hand. He is a member of the Masonic lodge, which he first joined in 1897. He also was a member of the IOOF lodge for several years and was a well driller for a number of years after leaving the farm.

The Roesslers have four children, Mrs. Ethel Martin, George Roessler and Mrs. Irene Swager, all Shoshone, and Ray Roessler, Ft. Ord, Calif.

Mrs. Jack Reisch of the North Fork store some five miles above Ketchum, reports 18 inches of snow on the level.

Wednesday afternoon she was puzzled as she looked out the window of the Reisch store, to see a large truckload of snow going south on U.S. highway 20. "Can you imagine anyone hauling snow, after what we had this winter?" she remarked. "I wish they had stopped here and hauled it away."

AS YOUR MINISTER SEES IT

By REV. CLARENCE A. HOIST
Bible and Menominee Chapel

Can you imagine the surprise of the two Marys as they came to the tomb early that first day of the week, with doubts in their minds as to how they were going to get the stone rolled away?

When they see that it has already been rolled away and as they look into the tomb instead of seeing the dead body of Jesus they see "two men standing by the tomb dressed in white garments and hear them say, 'Why seek ye the living among the dead? He is not here, but is risen!'"

Though it has been nearly 2,000 years since that early morning, both men and women, old and young, are still seeking for life among the dead in this world. The Bible tells us "They who live in pleasure are dead while they live." Man with all of his history back of him and all his knowledge at hand that he "cannot use has not learned what Moses knew." The pleasures of sin are only for a season, or what God told Israel many years ago that "Man does not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God."

The need of the hour is for men and women everywhere to know by personal experience that Jesus Christ died for their sins, and rose again for their justification. That He is alive today and the promise He gave when He was here is for us to say, "I believe." Because I live, ye shall live also. But we will never be able to convince the world of this truth until we Christians can not only live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

He who says that Jesus died for their sins, and rose again for their justification, that He is alive today and the promise He gave when He was here is for us to say, "I believe." Because I live, ye shall live also. But we will never be able to convince the world of this truth until we Christians can not only live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

that flows freely from Calvary's side you are still in your sins and lost for time and eternity unless you are willing yet to allow His blood to cleanse you from all sin. The post-Plummer Plummer wrote: "Amazing grace! 'tis heaven below To feel the blood applied. And Jesus, only 'Guns know, My Jesus crucified. The fleecy white stream, I see. I see! I see! and oh it cleanseth me. Oh! praise the Lord, it cleanseth me. It cleanseth me, yes, cleanseth me!"

W. C. Robinson says "If we would know that we belong to God, let us find ourselves where God has graciously placed us in Christ Jesus. He is made unto us wisdom for God and righteousness and sanctification and redemption. The Christ of God is in wisdom, our righteousness, our justification and redemption. He won all of this for us by His human life and perfect obedience, by His death in our stead. He re-created it to us by His word. He gives it to us, makes us partakers of His Spirit. To lay down of Him by faith is to appropriate the wisdom, the righteousness, the sanctification and the redemption that comes from God. To find ourselves by faith in Him is to see ourselves filled with wisdom, clothed with righteousness, liberated from the thralldom of Satan, and transplanted in the Kingdom of Grace. To have Him is to have forgiveness, peace, victory, the hope of glory! However manifold our sins, we were washed, sanctified, purified in the name of Jesus Christ and by the Spirit of our God."

The crucified, buried, risen Christ is the only answer to the world's needs. Can you say this morning "I know He lives, He lives within my heart?"

AN OLD TESTAMENT Bible, translated out of the original Hebrew and printed in 1810, is inspected by Mrs. Richard Turner. On display in Twin Falls, the Bible is a product of M. Library Unit Meets, Talks Of New Plan

At a meeting of the Twin Falls Friends of the Library recently the new constitution was discussed. Mrs. Norman Herzog presided at the meeting and during the discussion of the constitution.

The constitution was drawn up by Mrs. E. M. Wright and Mrs. R. B. Day.

Mrs. Day read the by-laws of the constitution and made several recommendations. Mrs. Joseph Salisbury suggested that dues be $1 a year. The group agreed this would enable the purchase of stamps, allow newspaper circulation of notices and enable the group to carry out several publicity programs.

Election of officers for the group will be held at the Twin Falls public library May 11. A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Herzog, Mrs. Sturgill, Mrs. Salisbury and Mrs. J. L. VanLeeuwen were appointed.

Mrs. Salisbury suggested that a fund-raising project to aid the library might consist of a gathering of representatives from various social and civic organizations at a literary book meeting such a review by a prominent person for which a fee would be charged and the proceeds given to the library.

Other suggestions included various types of programs at the library which would encourage visits to the library. Several other suggestions were also made. No action will be taken until formal installation of officers.

It was suggested that PTA assistance might be obtained in publicity by setting up a program of representatives from various public utilities, pictures of library interest or to point out needs and similar information devices.

After the May meeting committees will be formed to conduct various types of business and give legislation, publicity, and gifts to the library.

Mrs. Jansen Is Bonnet Winner

RICHFIELD, April 21—Easter bonnet contest in the Diet Does Unit of TOPS was won by Mrs. David Jansen who lost four and one-half pounds during the six-week period without any gain.

Cash contributions for weight gains were presented Mrs. Jansen for purchase of an Easter bonnet at a meeting this week held at the home of Mrs. Loyd Lee.

Mrs. Lester Johansen was best loser of the week with three pound weight loss. Twelve members finished at a six pound loss for the week with 12 pound gain.

Mrs. Clifford Dayley and Mrs. Thurman Hansen were runners up in the Easter bonnet contest.

Mrs. Lee and Mrs. Ross Swanson conducted games with prize won by Mrs. Dayley. Mrs. C. A. Johnson read a poem.

Old Bible, Ancient Oil Lamp Features of Religious Items

Several articles of historical interest, owned by the Rev. John Tulk, pastor of the Christ Episcopal church in Shoshone, are on display in Twin Falls.

The display is housed in the window of Sallie's book store in the Lynwood shopping center. Opened during Holy week, it will remain on public view for several more days.

Two articles are especially interesting, according to Mrs. Richard Turner, store owner. One is a Bible which was printed in 1810. It was translated from Hebrew and printed by M. Carey and son, 126 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

The other article is a clay oil lamp taken from an ancient tomb in Palestine. Not much larger than the palm of a hand, the lamp is like those carried by the 10 Virgins.

Also displayed is a book containing pressed flowers from the Holy Land. The book contains pictures of locations from which the flowers were picked.

The Bible was acquired by the Rev. Mr. Tulk while the other articles were gifts.

WHAT EASTER PROVES

CHRIST IS GOD!

The Christian Church celebrates Easter for more than sentimental reasons. It knows that far more important than the crosses and bunnies and baskets is the great historical fact which the day commemorates.

The resurrection of Christ from the dead on Easter morning answers to several crucial questions.

In the first place, by His resurrection He proved Himself to be the Son of God. As the Bible puts it, He was "declared to be the Son of God . . . by the resurrection from the dead."

Furthermore, by the miracle of Easter Christ proved that all His doctrines were the truth. What He had taught about sin, about salvation, about heaven and hell—all must be true.

Thirdly, the happenings of that first Easter morning gave proof positive that the Father in heaven had accepted the sacrifice of His Son for the sins of the world.

And finally Christ's resurrection is the guarantee that all believers will arise some day "unto life, eternal." As Christ puts it, "Because I live, ye shall live also."

These are the tremendous facts of Easter. It is because these things are true that Christ could say: "I am the Resurrection and the Life . . . Whoever liveth and believeth in Me shall never die." Do you believe?

A CUP AND SAUCER is inspected by Mrs. Frank Slack, Twin Falls. She has 97 sets in her collection which she has been gathering for the past 20 years. They range from miniatures to the more massive ones. After collecting for this many years she has articles from more than a dozen nations. (Times-News photo)

Local Woman Getting 'Choosy' After Collecting China for Over 20 Years

Mrs. Frank Slack has been at her hobby for some 20 years and has reached the point where, at the puts-it, she is getting "choosy."

Her hobby is a fragile one and one that requires a steady hand. She collects cups and saucers. At present she has 97 sets, from miniature ones to big ones. They all are on display at her home at 846 Elm street.

During the years in which she has followed her hobby she has become quite an expert on china. For instance, she declares that German china is perhaps the most valuable and that English bone china can be "very cheap or very expensive." Most of the best china (but not all) is made in this area and Japan artists do the most delicate work.

American pottery and china, however, is becoming more valuable year by year. It is being more expertly made all the time. Included in her collection are several very valuable pieces and some that are getting unique. The latter type includes a mustache cup in vogue at the turn of the century. She has pieces from Denmark, Holland, Sweden, Italy, Germany, Canada, England, Ireland, Finland, Japan and China.

But even though it is valuable, her collection is "not in the same class with" that of my most valuable and that English bone china can be "very cheap or very expensive." Most of the best china (but not all) is made in this area and Japan artists do the most delicate work.

Burley Slates Speech Clinic This Summer

BURLEY, April 21—A speech clinic will be held in Burley this summer to help persons of all ages with speech problems, says Mrs. Marie Brown, instructor at the Opportunity school here.

Dr. Gwendyth Vaughn, a professor at Idaho State college, Pocatello, will conduct the speech clinic. The clinic will be open to pre-school children, school children and adults.

Mrs. Brown noted Dr. Vaughn will work directly with each child and also give mother instructions on how to help their children overcome speech problems.

Screening tests will be held from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. Wednesday at Deco elementary school and Dvorshak elementary school in Burley. Students from Malta should go to Deco and those at Springdale and Oakley should meet at Dvorshak.

Mrs. Brown said screening tests detect whether the student has speech difficulties, as they are tested on "specific sounds." Students who show any type of speech problem may have speech therapist work this summer.

The eight-to-nine-week clinic will begin in June with one session a week. There will be a monthly charge of $5 if the student works under a clinic card and $15 a month for private therapy under Dr. Vaughn.

The Cassia county PTA council has donated $50 to the program and other PTA units in the county have contributed.

Bid Accepted on City Fire Truck

GOODING, April 21—Gooding city councilmen accepted the bid of Starling Equipment company, Boise, for a new fire truck when they met this week. The bid was $15,450. The only other bid submitted was by Guts and sons, Oakland, Calif.

Vincent Carter, clerk, said it would probably be three or four months before delivery of the truck.

The council heard W. D. Parks, state plumbing inspector, explain the advantages of having state inspection rather than local and voted to request state inspection for plumbing installations within the city.

The city will call for bids for a new pump house and pumping equipment for the new well and also will purchase 50 new stop signs, councilmen decided.

cold weather of the past season. Temperatures ranged from about 38 to 29 degrees in the channels they entered.

A gunny sack was used to pack the bones out of the caves; that is, all of them but the more precious specimens, like the jaw bones, which Robinson said they carried out gently by their own dissection.

He thinks he has bones from about 10 animals, three different kinds, and he plans to send samples of all to Dr. Graham.

The largest of the animals must have weighed around a half ton, Robinson said, as the skull bones are large and the leg bone circumference is around three inches.

The most peculiar thing about these animals is the fact that their hands and feet are jointed like the human, and 130 percent said they could determine from the bone structure that the animals had stood erect. The jaws look like a cat jaw.

Dr. Graham hears about these findings through the Science of Studying Caves, and notified Robinson.

Discovery of Early Literature Will Aid Records at University of Idaho

Although consisting of only several pieces of paper, a discovery made by Mrs. Hanley (Helen) Payne, Twin Falls, will prove of extreme importance to early records of the University of Idaho.

The discovery consists of two bulletins, a handwritten letter and two pages torn from an unidentified book. The bulletins were numbered one and two of the University of Idaho and the letter and the telegram was the one Mrs. Payne's grandfather, Robert Milliken, received when offered the position as the university's first professor of agriculture.

Mrs. Payne, who is an instructor in secretarial subjects at Twin Falls high school, discovered the articles when going through accumulated articles in the basement of her mother's home near Nampa.

Milliken was botany instructor at the Kansas State Teachers college when he was offered the Idaho position. He was appointed on Oct. 5, 1892, was sent on the Idaho university secretary. It read:

"Will you accept instructorship for one year in agricultural department of this institution. All ground work required. Salary $1,800.00, including board. You come at once. Answer immediately."

Mrs. Payne says her grandfather accepted once. Records show the university had one building at start and a registration of 40 students. Opened on Oct. 9, 1892, the enrollment had increased to 117 at the second term.

bulletins and other material are especially important because the administration building at the university burned about 1904 and records were almost lost. In all probability the first and second bulletins of the college of agriculture, which Mrs. Payne now has, are the only ones in existence. She plans to donate them to the university.

The first bulletin was written in September, 1892, and told of the organization and progress of work at the experiment station. The early experiment stations were set up by Milliken. One was at Grangeville, another at Idaho Falls and the third near Nampa.

"The work of the stations belongs exclusively to the farmers

FIRST PROFESSOR OF AGRICULTURE AT UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO. Robert Milliken, aided in establishment of first agricultural experiment stations. of Idaho," he wrote in bulletin No. 1.

Bulletin No. 2 was issued in December, 1892, and a statement said they were "free to all residents of Idaho who request them." In this bulletin Milliken is listed as professor of agriculture and director of experiment stations. Including Milliken, the university then had six professors.

Mrs. Payne said her grandfather served at the university for two years and then moved to Nampa where he opened a nursery two miles south of that city. The land is still in the family and title to it has been held since the professor first moved there.

"The pioneer professor was instrumental in starting the Nampa harvest festival. It continued under that name for some 30 years and developed into the Nampa Stampede.

"The 100th anniversary of establishment of the first Idaho college was celebrated at the University of Idaho was one, being observed.

U. S. Studies Financing of Shell House

financing of a new, attractive shell house, priced at $15,000. The house, with skill, effort and additional money, he can achieve a $15,000 house.

That's the theory and in many cases the practice. But a number of builders have gone on the rocks some because of inexperience and some because of homebuyers' defaults and delinquencies.

Many shell buyers underestimated the high cost of current financing methods, which have more in common with appliance financing than with home financing. They couldn't meet their monthly payments while buying the finished materials or they couldn't afford to finish the house if they kept up their finance payments.

Some amateur carpenters had to hire local contractors to finish the houses and wound up with total costs greater than if they had bought finished houses.

By and large, the family man who tackles the completion of a shell house does a fairly good job, builders have reported.

While most opposition to shell housing comes from conventional home builders, understandably there are runblings of displeasure elsewhere. The AFL-CIO recently adopted a resolution sponsored by its painters union, opposing FHA insurance of the sale of uncompleted houses.

The resolution said houses with below standard work "tend to precipitate of property, encourage slums and, in general, vitiate prospective home buyers. There can be no objection to individuals doing work on their own homes, the encouragement of building young people into the non-union contractors and in installations that are not only far from acceptable standards, but create many unsafe and unhealthy conditions in the home."

The proposed FHA insurance is authorized by congress under a little-used "low cost housing" section of the housing law, for mortgages of up to $9,000 for 30 years and developed into a number of circumstances.

By offering such insurance to protect the lender from loss on slight dwellings, FHA has been able to induce lenders to invest many millions in unfinished houses, which means that it has substantially cut the monthly payments of some shell house buyers.

A $2,000 house with $200 down payment and an FHA-insured 30-year mortgage would mean monthly payments of about $36. By contrast, a house selling for only $2,500 would cost the purchaser $49 to $53 a month for 30 years, including the basic monthly payments. Many more lenders in the shell-housing field.

Dr. Robinson Newcomb, a housing economist frequently consulted by both industry and government, has supplied further comparisons.

The householder who can afford only a $3,500 shell house on a six-year, 12 per cent loan, could afford a $7,000 shell house on a 15-year, 8 per cent loan.

He could borrow $11,000 if he could find a lender agreeable to a 25-year, 6 per cent mortgage. This is close to the FHA maximum rate — 3 1/2 per cent.

No lender would present FHA from getting into the shell-housing field right away. The Atlanta FHA office already has accepted a few high-quality mortgages on shell homes.

FHA wants to get into the field. Shell housing seems to fit in precisely with the intent of congress in adding the low-cost housing section — No. 203-1 — to the housing statutes.

With FHA's help, many of the financial barriers, the housing industry may find that its next big market is the low-income market — it has long ignored.

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT Youth Activities Take Much Time For Local Department Store Head

In the eight years A. E. (Al) Vaughn has lived in Twin Falls he has participated in practically every organization having to do with youth work. And, in addition, he has donated time and labor in other ways set up for community service.

Perhaps his greatest contribution toward youth has come from his activity in the Kiwanis club. He is a former board member, vice president and president and has been active in the dental program set up for youngsters needing financial aid for dental care. At present he is co-chairman of the special event committee, which is the annual fund-raising program. Sale of candy on a citywide basis provides the necessary cash.

He is also active in Boy Scout work. He has served on the fund drive and as chairman of a Cub pack. He has twice served, and is at present, a member of, the YMCA board and also the joint board set up with the YWCA. He is active in Methodist church youth work and is a member of the advisory board.

Other civic activities include membership and offices held in the Chamber of Commerce. He is a past director and head of the membership committee.

As Kiwanis president he led the local club to the first perfect score in the more than 40-year history of the organization.

Vaughn, at present, is manager of the Sears, Roebuck and company store in Twin Falls. He is married and the father of two children, Becky 15, a freshman, and Bruce 12, a seventh grader.

He started his work in business while still going to high school. He says he grew up in the hardware business, his father owning a store in Aberdeen, Wash.

He was born in Aberdeen and attended school at nearby Houlton. He participated in track and basketball during his school days. His wife, Grace, also was born in Aberdeen.

He started working for Sears in Aberdeen in 1932 selling in the hardware department. Working his way up in the organization, he was merchandise manager at Chehalis and later assistant manager in the same store. He was transferred to Boise as assistant manager and came to Twin Falls as manager.

He spent the time from 1942 through 1945 in the service. He was with the ninth air force and served as first sergeant in a mobile unit. The task of unit was to repair downed fighter planes and her passengers, to practically all nations in Europe. He married in 1943, just before going overseas.

In addition to youth work, his hobbies are pleasure and duck hunting. His family lives at 137 Buchanan street.

How does Twin Falls compare with other communities in which he has lived?

"This is a fine town. It is especially a good town in which to raise children," Vaughn stated.

spare them the hard way in securing an education.

He was born in a one-room cabin 60 years ago in Rayburn, Mo. The town had a postoffice, blacksmith shop, general store and a school. It was called "Rayburn" after "Uncle Richard," he said. The town no longer exists but at that time was 10 miles in the hills from Fayetteville, county seat of Wright county.

Rayburn's father, John C., was a farmer. He died at an early age and left Rayburn with four boys and two girls to support. The mother died three years ago after moving to Boise.

Rayburn had put himself through school. He lived at Rayburn until he was 17 years old and after he had completed eighth grade there and high school at Hartsville.

Because the family was so poor, young Rayburn wanted to complete high school as soon as possible. By doing his studies almost around the clock Rayburn says he finished high school and was graduated after two years.

He then entered Missouri State Teachers college, at Springfield. After two years he entered the university of Kansas where he was graduated with a law degree in three years. He was admitted to practice law in that state but first served as an enlisted man in the army in World War I. He married Effie O'Neil at Newton, Kansas, July 23, 1918.

Mrs. Rayburn lived an interesting life in her own right prior to her marriage.

She did not meet her husband-to-be until she had moved to Colorado; after the marriage, practically forced him to take his first law case "and with no fee," she says.

Mrs. Rayburn and four other girls had moved to Colorado to prove up on 320 acres of land. Each had acquired that number of acres, but Mrs. Rayburn was the only one among them to stick it out and acquire title. But at that, it took some doing for a 21-year-old woman.

It was necessary to live on the land seven months out of the year to homestead it. Mrs. Rayburn filled this requirement for three years and also maintained 40 acres in cultivation during that period. Her parents were farmers and that background aided her in the project.

It was toward the end of this period that she met her future husband. He was traveling with a professional baseball team. Immediately after their marriage the government refused to grant them the homestead, claiming certain requirements had not been met. Her husband took the case and won it. The land was turned over to her and later was sold.

The area in Colorado is used now more for grazing than farming.

After their marriage, and after completion of his army hitch, Rayburn moved back to Hartsville and was elected county prosecuting attorney. He was appointed district judge to fill out an unexpired term and after completing this work he and his wife moved to Pittsburg, Kansas, where he practiced law.

They lived in that area until 1924 and early in 1925 moved to Idaho. The move was made because doctors thought Rayburn had tuberculosis and gave him only a few months to live.

After 14 days travel the left his wife at Pittsburg until he could find a place to settle, he said. There was a place where a brother, E. G. Rayburn, was working as a cowboy.

"For 31 days that brother kept me out on the range, riding out at the time and coming out and sleeping on the ground," in all that time I never saw a house or another person, except a passing cowboy. My brother told me he would cure me or kill me and he must have cured me," Rayburn said. Later tests showed the tuberculosis had been cured and he was in error.

He decided to stay in this area and sent for his wife. They proved up on 320 acres of land one-half mile south and one-half mile east of their present home southwest of Twin Falls. They lived in a one-room cabin made of logs which they hauled down from the south hills.

"We burned a great deal of fuel in those days. We had no money for coal, and there was lots of brush," Rayburn said.

In 1927 he was admitted to practice law in Idaho and in 1928 purchased the present home farm of 100 acres. Now the Ray-

No legal barrier prevent FHA from getting into the shell-housing field right away. The Atlanta FHA office already has accepted a few high-quality mortgages on shell homes.

FHA wants to get into the field. Shell housing seems to fit in precisely with the intent of congress in adding the low-cost housing section — No. 203-1 — to the housing statutes.

With FHA's help, many of the financial barriers, the housing industry may find that its next big market is the low-income market — it has long ignored.

Businessmen Still Gun-Shy After U.S. Steel Incident

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The steel industry's gun-shyness after the U.S. Steel incident continued during the week. Business remained gun-shy, and the industry's biggest move was a price increase.

The gun-shyness began Tuesday when U.S. Steel announced a price increase for its steel. The industry's reaction was to hold prices steady, but the U.S. Steel price increase was a signal that the industry was beginning to move.

The only word that came out of the meeting was that it was "cordial and useful."

Then on Wednesday, Kennedy, who had used the government's steel companies to back down on the price increase, displayed a conciliatory attitude.

But the administration harbors no ill will against any individual, corporation or segment of the national economy, he told his news conference.

The president indicated there would be no punitive action

Recovery Is Reported on Stock Market

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)—The stock market managed a pleasurable recovery after a month of gloom, with a relaxation of tension between President Kennedy and the nation's steel companies.

The gradual thaw in steel-company relations after last week's battle over prices, plus most favorable business news, a batch of favorable first quarter earnings reports from many industries, contributed heavily to the holiday week.

Elimination of some pressure by the passing of the tax selling deadline and a climb in bond interest position on the market to a four-month high were also helpful influences.

The market dipped moderately Monday after the steel companies all rescinded their $5 a ton price increases.

But when Roger Wood, chairman of U.S. Steel, and the President held an apparently cordial meeting and the latter said there was no room for "whispering" since the "mistake" was corrected, the market staged a cautious but steady recovery.

Thursday for the long holiday week-end.

However, there are some feelings of uneasiness in the steel price struggle may have involved long-range investment demand by raising rates that, first-quarter recovery may be hindered by the long holiday week-end.

Also unanswered was the question of whether the steel price struggle will have long-range investment demand by raising rates that, first-quarter recovery may be hindered by the long holiday week-end.

The annual rate of personal income increased to $13.5 billion in March, representing a gain of two billion dollars over February and 20 percent over the 1952 rate.

Wheat Falls, Other Grain Cent Higher Classified

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Wheat and soybean futures fell back this week on the Chicago board of trade, while other grains rose more than a cent in active dealings.

Compared with last Friday, wheat was off 1/4 to 1/2; corn 1/4 to 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2; soybeans off 1/4 to 1/2; and rye unchanged to 1/2 points.

Corn and soy prices came back strong in the last two sessions as weakening earlier under heavy long liquidation and other selling. The market was closed Friday in observance of Good Friday.

Early selling of feed grains stemmed from continued heavy movement of commodity credit corporation contracts for local needs and the resultant heavy liquidation in the futures trade.

Prices of corn when it was first reported would have been a cent in round lots for a while to catch up on paper for previous transactions.

Steel production experienced one of its sharpest drops in more than a year during the week. The decline was due to a five per cent drop from the previous week. It was expected to continue dropping because of inventory buildup when labor peace was achieved.

Heavy production in the automobile and truck industry is maintaining a feel as good as level as it is. An estimated 148,000 passenger cars were turned out in the week, the best record of the year.

Car sales moved at a swift pace in the first four days of April, with a total of 2,000 American-made vehicles. This was an increase of 48 per cent over the same period last year.

Chrysler corporation, first of the automakers to report first quarter earnings, showed a profit of $1.2 million on sales of $48 million, compared with a loss of $1.2 million on sales of $45 million during the first quarter.

Other developments: A substantial improvement in the steel market was reported Thursday for the long holiday week-end.

However, there are some feelings of uneasiness in the steel price struggle may have involved long-range investment demand by raising rates that, first-quarter recovery may be hindered by the long holiday week-end.

Benedictine Sisters Are Nuns for Many Reasons; All Serve Humanity

 in a promise to make each day more perfect than the one before. The sisters' day begins at 6 a.m. They dress and go to the chapel to say the "divine office." This is the official prayer of the Catholic church. Only a few orders of sisters have the privilege of reciting daily these praises of God.

They then participate in Holy mass and communion. Breakfast follows at 7 a.m. Before and after dinner at noon they assemble in the chapel for a short prayer. The prayers of the divine office are said in a chapel. They read the responses at Holy mass.

A 90-minute recreation period is followed by vespers and 30 minutes of meditation and silent prayer. Before 8 p.m. the sisters eat at 3 p.m. the sisters enjoy a coffee break.

If their work permits the sisters read a brief visit to the chapel before their evening meal at 6 p.m. This is followed by another recreation period and the Compline, a night prayer, at 7:30 p.m. The sisters are then free to retire unless duties require further attention. The rules is lights out by 10 p.m.

The winter recreational activities are usually restricted to "busy work" with their hands. When weather permits they also hike, ski, fish, picnic, garden, and even have snowball fights. Everything is done in their traditional long habits.

The sisters learned badminton last summer after losing their last softball in the cooler that runs through their recreational area behind the hospital. One of the nuns ran to the cooler's bridge, lying down flat with her fingers trailing in the water to retrieve the ball, but it slipped through her fingers.

Their winter activities include woodworking. Sister Mary Eleanor has seasoned a beautiful slab of wood from a fallen Catalpa tree. Sister Mary Agnes is knitting an afghan whose bright colors reflect her sunny personality.

A nun supervises each department in the hospital including laboratory, X-ray, surgery, medical, maternity, laundry, nursing home, office, record room, sewing, kitchen, household and administrator. Fourteen nuns are at the hospital.

To become a nun a girl must serve six months as a postulant. This is sometimes before the senior year of high school, but usually after graduation. However, some girls enter a novitiate at St. Gertrude's earlier to take a preparatory course toward a religious life. After being a postulant for a year, the minimum of our year in the novitiate.

This is a period of intensified spiritual training. Temporary vows are now made for a period of three to five years. It is at this time they receive their sister's name, all the rights and privileges and assume the duties of the community. At the end of this period they may leave the convent with no obligation or make their final or perpetual vows.

After the perpetual vows are made the permission of Rome must be given before they can leave. The sister's names are given by the Mother Superior.

Their rooms are simply but adequately furnished with a bed, dresser, chair, and sink with mirror above. Curtains are at the windows and a crucifix and religious pictures on the wall.

The sisters admit their long habits annoyed them at first. However, they reminded me that they do have many advantages including always being in style. No letting hems up and down. They are always well dressed and they mentioned that the sister competes with another to be better dressed.

All they were completely used to them after wearing them a year.

One of the most popular questions about the sisters is their hair under their habit. It isn't shaved, just cut short enough for comfort.

The sisters said they wear a head cover because a woman's hair is her "crowning glory." By covering their hair they make one more offering to God.

The Benedictine sisters are both nursing and teaching sisters. Some sisters are qualified to do either. The sisters who are nurses graduated from schools of nursing. The industry technician X-ray technician and anesthetist have all had special schooling. The teaching sisters receive part of their training in a clinical practice teaching, before beginning to teach. They complete their education for their degrees in the summer.

A school for boys in Donato, Colombia, is being planned to open in 1963, that will be operated by the Benedictines.

There are 14 grade schools in Idaho staffed by Benedictines and two hospitals including the hospital and nursing home at Jerome. St. Gertrude's co-educational high school at Cottonwood has facilities available for resident high school girls. They also operate a junior college for members of St. Gertrude's community.

Approximately half of the Benedictine sisters are from Idaho, but they have representatives from almost every state, several of the older sisters come from Switzerland. The Benedictine community at St. Gertrude's in Cottonwood was established in 1864 by three sisters from Bernex, Switzerland.

In discussing the sisters, they reminded me not to overlook the most popular fancy—the unrequited love. The nuns point out that girls often choose their vocation when they were 15 or 16 and so they could hardly have experienced this type of disappointment.

However, with the early marriages now, one sister said this argument might no longer be valid. The sisters said they felt most girls are drawn to their life in a rough example of some sister they have known or through a desire to do something for God.

A typical nun is Sister Mary Cornelia, the supervisor of the maternity floor. She came from a family of six girls in Wendell and is the only one who chose to become a nun. When she was very young she dreamed a child's dream of being a sister—wearing a rosary from her belt (which the Benedictines don't do) and pointing the pictures on Holy cards, (which she can't do).

When she was a junior in high school she went to school at St. Gertrude's in Cottonwood. Her nurse's training was taken at St. Alphonsus' hospital school of nursing, Boise. She has provided comfort, help, and advice for many Magic Valley mothers who have had their babies at St. Benedict's hospital.

Why are they nuns? Certainly not for the reasons that motivate most persons' lives. They have achieved a happiness and satisfaction few persons realize. Their lives were many and all are illusory.

However, I am sure the hundreds of sick and weary who enter this hospital each year are glad the sisters chose this profession.
