

Rusk Hits Reds for Policies

ATHENS, May 4 (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the NATO alliance today that the United States would continue to "talk" with the West but has shown an evidence of a basic change in its policies.

Rusk said the Soviet appears to be more impressed with the western military buildup in the Berlin crisis than with any of the other major world issues. Nevertheless, he said he believes the talks should go on with the West but that the East will not come from it to fall into any more traps.

Rusk said the assembled foreign ministers of the 15-nation alliance that the United States is prepared to stop its current arms race with the Soviet if the Russians accept an agreement on international verification of nuclear test ban treaty.

He cautioned against too much optimism on the outcome of the talks, saying it has been the United States and the Soviet Union.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Avon, Danish Foreign Minister J. O. Krag and Belgian Foreign Minister De Maesseneq, also supported the idea of continuing the Berlin talks.

Home said Soviet economic problems, including the growing problem of the grain and food shortage, might affect the arms race and "lead" the Kremlin to a more realistic attitude.

Rusk, according to NATO conference spokesmen, said the West is looking for three basic conditions for a new pact: a continued Western presence in West Berlin, free access to it and freedom of movement.

Tivov Greeted By Americans In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md., May 4 (UPI) — Russian Communist Ghernem Rukh, a people's hero in the Soviet Union, visited a big U.S. crowd today in Baltimore, and was greeted by Americans who remained but policed friendliness.

The Soviet explorer, who had driven to Los Angeles from Washington and had been to the plant of Sparrow Hawk and Parakeet, was escorted by Baltimore police.

He was accompanied by his pretty bride, wife Tamara, on his tour of the plant, operated by Bethlehem Steel, described as the largest in the United States.

The visitors' Russian pride seems out when he told the installation might be the largest in the world.

"It is well known that the biggest mills in the world are in Magnitogorsk," he told according to the national news agency's reports. They're only counting on "but" have only seen one open hearth there and you had better ask the experts."

Troops Eyed For Possible Return Home

WASHINGTON, May 4 (UPI) — The Defense Dept. today said that it would consider recalling 40,000 noncombat troops home from Vietnam.

Bennett, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on defense, said that this would be done as a means of curbing the outflow of dollars and improving the balance of payments in U.S. armed forces.

"It is my conviction that well-trained troops would be of great help to our allies and would be beneficial in many ways and would result in a saving of billions of dollars of our financial position," Bennett said.

Leader Asks U.S. to Lead In Expansion

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 4 (UPI) — President Kennedy beckoned to America today to spur timidly around the free world into a genuine Atlantic partnership of expanding, two-way international trade.

The choice confronting the nation in May 1962, Kennedy said in a prepared address, is "to move forward, or to stand still."

More trade, the President stated, will mean more jobs, more income, more freedom, and more respect for the individual. It will also mean more peace and stability for the world.

The President's address is the first since he took office in January. He said the U.S. must lead the world in expansion of international trade.

Hagerman Ranch Foreman Dies From Injuries in Truck Crash

HAGERMAN, May 4 — A request will be held in the death of Leticus Sorrorson, 65, Hagerman, foreman, who died Saturday at a hospital, Jerome, of injuries received in a one-vehicle accident about 4 p.m. southeast of Hagerman, according to Gooding county sheriff's officers. Hospital attendants said death was attributed to head and internal injuries.

He was taken to the Jerome hospital shortly after the accident by a Weidell physician. No definite cause of the tragedy is known, but Deputy Sheriff Bill Bunn, who investigated the crash, said the driver may have misjudged a small curve.

The 1959 two-ton Chevrolet truck was found on the road, apparently west of Gooding, officers said. The truck was found on the west side of the road by the sheriff's office. Hagerman, who was driving, was taken to the hospital by ambulance and died Saturday.

Teen-Age Drinking Said Grave Problem

County juvenile authorities are presently confronted with an increasing number of violations involving alcoholic beverages, reports Twin Falls Probate Judge Zeno Am Warberg. During the past month, numerous teen-age "beer busts" have been held in Twin Falls county as well as adjacent counties, she observed.

"Each day we become aware of more and more instances of youths holding these parties," she said, adding that in nearly every case, "with few exceptions, automobiles are involved."

"We are seeking the parents of these parties as being held in private homes where the parents are away," she noted.

Officers are bringing in at about 300, and various out-of-the-way spots, and said officers are getting reports of these parties turning into tragic accidents. Judge Warberg said.

Youth Names To Be Given For Offense

BLAKEPOOT, May 4 (UPI) — Attorney General Ramsey Clark announced today that in the future, all juveniles arrested and found guilty of consumption of alcohol in the United States will have their names listed in the names of their parents.

"The Justice Dept. parents don't want their names and the names of their children in front of the public," Clark said.

The Justice Dept. announced that Blackfoot girls, each 16, were fined $25 and given five days in the county jail. The girls were charged with possession of liquor. Benson said the girls' names will be published.

"The girls are 16 and 17 years old," Clark said. "They are not getting into trouble."

Paratroopers Are Dropped On Dutch Isles

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea, May 4 (UPI) — About 25 Indonesian paratroopers have been dropped on the Dutch island of New Guinea, according to a Dutch news agency.

Marine Forces in Venezuela Port City Spark Revolt

CARACAS, Venezuela, May 4 (UPI) — Government warplanes today heavily bombed Carupano, eastern port city where 1,000 marines revolted and formed a "provisional government." The rebels' actions came after a surrender ultimatum. The rebels charged into Carupano and nearby Caripito joined the revolt movement. The rebels, commanded by four-star general, demanded the immediate resignation of President Romulo Betancourt. They called on other military units throughout Venezuela to join them.

The rebels proclaimed themselves the "democratic army" and boasted of 400 men. They claimed total control of Carupano and pledged to place themselves at the disposal of congress. "The revolution has triumphed," the rebels declared. "We are now in Venezuela," a rebel communiqué said. It said "triumph of the people was achieved."

Japanese Police Arrest Trainmen

TOKYO, May 4 (UPI) — An engineer and four other trainmen involved in Thursday's three-train wreck which killed more than 130 persons were arrested today on suspicion of criminal negligence. Both houses of parliament scheduled similar sessions to begin an investigation of the tragedy. Police, reducing their casualty figures, listed 154 dead and 235 injured. The fire department had 152 dead and 235 injured, 144 seriously.

The wreck occurred on a freight train which crashed in the city of Mori. The train was carrying a carload of 100,000 bricks. The train was derailed and caught fire.

Test Shot

WASHINGTON, May 4 (UPI) — The first test shot of a new nuclear warhead was fired today in the Pacific Ocean. The shot was fired by the U.S. Navy's Operation Stryker. The shot was fired by the U.S. Navy's Operation Stryker.

Truck Blast Kills Driver, Causes Fires

ALBUQUERQUE, May 4 (UPI) — A poorly-trapped gasline truck loaded with fuel blew up with a roar today, killing the driver and causing fires that spread to nearby buildings.

The driver was killed but there were no early reports of other casualties.

Reuther Asks For Economic Improvement

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 4 (UPI) — Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers union, called today for more drastic action by the government to end unemployment and to spur the economy.

He said in his report to the union's 13th annual convention that the situation in the country was "grim" and that the government must take action to improve the economy.

Doctors Revolt In New Jersey

By United Press Staff

The doctors' revolt designed to stymie President Kennedy's medical care for the aged program, reached today in four New Jersey hospitals.

The doctors vowed that if Congress does not pass a law to help the program, they will refuse to treat patients. The doctors' revolt is part of a larger movement of doctors to improve their salaries and working conditions.

Processed Spuds

Volume Reported

BOISE, May 4.—Volume of potatoes processed in Idaho from the 1961 crop by the end of March almost equaled the total for the 1960 crop, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

It said volume processed amounted to 19,264,000 hundredweight up to March 31 compared with 15,964,000 in the corresponding period last year, and with 20,000,000 for the entire 1960 crop.

"This year's potatoes, however, showed a tendency to ripen more quickly than last year, and time processed for food, such as a total of 13,567,000 hundredweight compared with 14,360,000 last year."

News Around Idaho

BOISE, May 4 (UP)—Output of red meat by Idaho commercial slaughter plants during March amounted to an estimated 12,244,000 pounds, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today. That was three per cent more than the production in March last year, and was 11 per cent above February production this year.

KELOOGO, May 4 (UP)—A 15-year-old Kellogg junior high pupil died in a hospital here early Friday from injuries received when he came in contact with a 1100-volt power line Thursday night. Shoshone county authorities said County officials and representatives of the power company were attempting to determine how the boy came in contact with the line, which service the Big Bunker Hill company operates here.

FOCATELLO, May 4 (UP)—The Focatelto city commission passed up an offer Thursday night to share in a buried treasure of gold. Loren Johnson then gave the gold to be buried on his property. They asked permission to search for it and offered to give one-eighth of what they find to the city. Commissioner Earl Fend thought the city should hold out for 50 per cent of what is found, but the commission agreed after more discussion they would ask for 25 per cent. But the discussion was never brought to a vote.

FRUITLAND, May 4 (UP)—Protection for Southwestern Idaho fruit orchards was advised again today with the outlook for temperatures below freezing tonight. Harold Harvey, U. S. weather bureau meteorologist here, predicted low temperatures down to 28 degrees.

BOISE, May 4 (UP)—The board of engineers for rivers and harbors approved today the construction of a dam and a power plant on the Snake river. The project is approved and the Blackfoot dam and reservoir on the Blackfoot river and the Blaine dam and reservoir on Willow creek.

Muscular Dystrophy Chapter Is Formed for Magic Valley

The Magic Valley chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association received its charter Wednesday night, when it officially was organized by Mrs. Ernest Gooding, Fortland, regional director of the association.

Mrs. R. B. Madsen, president of the chapter, notes that the chapter was formed because of the increased interest in the disease and because of the successful fund-raising drive that took place last fall. The drive was headed by Miden Jackson.

Other officers in the organization are Mrs. Ernest Gooding, Fortland, regional director of the association; Mrs. R. B. Madsen, president; Mrs. M. J. Madsen, secretary; Mrs. M. J. Madsen, treasurer. Jackson will again head the annual fund drive.

The purpose of the committee is to help the children of the Magic Valley chapter will seek to organize a patient organization on a local level, headed by Troy Kirkland, Buhl. Street Plan Rejected at Rupert Meet

RUPERT, May 4 (UP)—Plans for an improvement district on highways 77 and 24 within the city limits was rejected Tuesday night at the meeting of the city council after a vote of 14 residents and businessmen affected by the project sided against it.

The district would have included the installation of sidewalks along the highway and 77 from Scott avenue to the city limits, and on highway 24 from a signpost to the intersection west to Sixth street.

According to a council spokesman, the objections were based on the estimated cost of the project rather than the project itself. The council voted to further study the project, including a meeting with all property owners concerned with the planned district.

A bid of $10 per foot made by Ralph Denton, Murtagh, for the new city well was accepted. The well will be drilled on city property on 11th street from a tunnel into existing mains and tank.

The council also voted to call for a bid for a new pump to be installed in the well.

Further discussion on the property exchange between the city and the highway department was heard, and work on the final steps of the exchange were initiated. The property in question is the present site of the highway district on the 1000 block of a street and property located just south of the city limits beyond the end of south fifth street.

The city plans to move its garage and storage equipment from the location near the water tank to the property on A street, and the state highway plans to build abed at the new location.

Clark Cameron, mayor of the Rupert third ward, appeared before the council representing the business committee and requested a complete survey and establishment of grade levels on property located between the Rupert third and fourth wards are planning to erect a building. Cameron said, and other preliminary work will be done soon.

Church Branch To Be Formed

Appelle D. Blair Jensen of the Reorganized LDB church, Independence, 261 E. Main, is planning to organize the Twin Falls mission into a branch.

Appelle Jensen met with area church leaders Monday night. The meeting was opened by pastor Lyle Pullmer. The invitation to erect a building was given by Luther Doyle, district missionary secretary.

Donations were given by Apostle Jensen; Houston Hobart, Salt Lake City; Beverly's protestant, Lyle Glanier, district president; Hale Glanier, Hagerman branch pastor, and Luther Troy, all officers, were retained until the regular election in September. Benediction was given by Lyle Glanier.

Observance Is Planned for National Music Week Here

Activities planned for National Music week, May 6-13, were outlined Wednesday by Mrs. Ernest Gooding, public chairman for the Federated Music clubs of Twin Falls.

Activities for the week will begin with worship services at 7 p.m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian church, said adding that the theme for the week is "Let the World Rejoice With Music."

Tuesday the junior high school chorus, directed by Lynn Bernick, and the boys' trio featuring Mike Barney, Mike Bryson and Don Walker, will present a program for the Federated Junior Music clubs at 4 p.m. at the Junior high school gymnasium.

The same day the senior high school students will present a program for the Twentieth Century club May breakfast. Instrumental, vocal and ballad numbers will be featured.

At 7:30 p.m. Wednesday the Twin Falls public schools will hold band night at the Junior high school gymnasium. 400 students from grades seven to 12 are expected to participate in the event.

The Boils and Basque square dance club and Basque dancers will present a special program entitled "Dance Around the World" at 8 p.m. at Balderston Wednesday.

The Donna Maundin dance studios will present a program at the Pler high school auditorium at 8 p.m. May 12. Proceeds from the program will go to the Idaho Society for Crippled Children and the Lions club canteen conservation fund.

Mrs. R. L. Treasey will give a recital at the Methodist church sanctuary May 13. During the week White's Music center will hold a series of recitals. The first recital day, beginning at 10:15 p.m.

Norman Borde, dancer and choreographer from Hollywood, Calif., will be guest artist at Nichols dancing school during the week.

Several Twin Falls merchants have planned displays. Mrs. Rose Reppert, adding that the city library will feature a special music sheet display.

Open House Set At Area Hospital

RUPERT, May 4 (UP)—An open house for the new Idaho Memorial hospital will be held by the city.

The purpose of the hospital will be to provide for the needs of the Twin Falls area. The hospital is being built on a site in the city.

Tours of the hospital will be conducted for the public. The open house is being held to inform the community of the new hospital and to receive suggestions for improvements.

For Drivers who CARE about cars

Make it a habit to add a shot or two of Rislone to prevent or cure engine trouble

As a gas in the blood of some drivers, you'll see them in neighborhood after neighborhood, checking out an automobile engine first hand. These folks have formed a good habit early in life. A car's something to care for, and Rislone is one product that helps them keep their automobiles operating at peak power. Rislone is not a cure-all, but it does help prevent or cure many engine troubles caused by drivers. Rislone dissolves engine gum and sludge deposits, frees sticky valves, restores lost compression. So tell the drivers who have the Rislone habit to prevent or cure engine trouble: Rislone is a good car care habit.

Along Fences and Canals

Gordon Drage is directing alpine timothy on his ranch in the Carey valley. A planter in the Blaine soil conservation district, under whose direction the work is being done, Drage says alpine timothy is a superior pasture grass, but his foliage is regular timothy grass, but his foliage along the entire area.

Kelvin Justison has planted 15 acres of his Carey valley ranch in whistler grass. This fall he will plant another 15 acres in Siberian wheat grass. He plans to compare the yield of the two grasses.

Henry Jones has completed a 10-acre seeding of Siberian wheat grass on his ranch south of Carey. Jones will produce certified seed.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dorsey have just completed setting out some 300 everbearing strawberry plants on their 25-acre ranch north of Hailey.

C. W. Gardner and Willis Castle, whose Silver creek ranches adjoin, will experiment with seedlings for pasture this year. Gardner has completed sowing 30 acres of bunch wheat and alfalfa. Castle on his land near Carey has planted 10 acres of whistler wheat grass. The plantings will not produce anything this year and very little next year. As the soil is identical on the two acres a good comparison will be able to be made this year.

This land on the James Peterson ranch in the Carey valley is staked and engineers of the SCR are completing their designs to level the land.

James Hurst will complete leveling a five-acre tract of land on his river-bottom ranch south of Broadford.

Harold Whitby is leveling his ranch in the Carey valley this week.

John McConnell, Shoshone, and Ray Achenback, Jerome, sheared sheep at the Ervin ranch Thursday for Braun, M. E. McKindrick, Alex Dilbas and Debers Bell.

Mrs. Pearl Rasmussen, King Hill, was helped by the Orange community service when she had to move heavy equipment on her ranch. Assisting were William Cain, committee chairman, and Frank Jones and Karl Anderson, Orange master. Mr. Rasmussen died recently.

Fairfield farmers report quite a bit of winter kill of wheat from snow mold in Canaan prairie. Some fields show nearly a complete winter kill. The wheat was planted on the north side of the valley between Fairfield and Corral.

All field work has been halted in Canaan prairie because of the heavy rain that fell last Friday. Only farmers who have land with good drainage have been able to get in their fields to do any work since the snow melted.

The Rex Simpsons have just completed building a new dairy barn on their ranch southwest of Bull. The new barn replaces the one lost in a recent fire. The Simpsons also report their grain is all up and they will be ready to plant red beans sometime next week.

The D. S. Wray southwest of Bull are busy this week watering their ground in preparation for planting blue beans.

Karl Richards, Detroit, Mich., has purchased the former Terrell Foster ranch three miles west of Glenora Park. The ranch will be supervised by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Erickson, King Hill. This gives Erickson 200 acres additional land to run their Breasted duck. They have sold their other 200 acres to a purchaser who wants stock to build up their herd.

Elmer Hickey and sons, Lyle and Harold, branded and dehorned cattle Monday and gave them the usual spring vaccines. Their stock includes Hereford and Holsteins.

Farm Equipment Company Demands Tests, Engineering

BLACKSBURG, Va., May 4—Engineering of farm equipment is not done in an "ivory tower," says a report by the Agricultural Engineers' Association. The report, which is the result of a study by the association's engineering committee, demands that engineers test their designs in actual farm operations before they can be approved for mass production. The report also demands that engineers design their equipment to meet the needs of the farmer, not just the needs of the manufacturer. It also demands that engineers design their equipment to be durable, easy to use, and safe.

With these specifications in mind, the product engineers apply themselves to designing and developing a new, efficient machine. This means that the specifications must be clear and specific. The engineer must know exactly what the farmer needs and what the machine must do. The engineer must also know the limitations of the materials and the manufacturing process. The engineer must design a machine that is safe, durable, and easy to use. The engineer must also design a machine that is efficient and economical. The engineer must design a machine that is reliable and easy to maintain. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the operator and the bystander. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the environment. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's investment. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's reputation. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's future. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's family. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's community. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's country. The engineer must design a machine that is safe for the farmer's world.

Black Angus Calves Frisking in Sun At Deer Creek Ranch in Hailey Area

HAILEY, May 4—Some 150 brand new Black Angus calves are frisking in the warm sunshine in the corral on the Deer Creek ranch. Most of them were born during cold, cloudy and wet weather which has dropped stockmen this spring.

Jess Beckley, manager of the ranch for Carl Burt, Inc., New York City, hasn't had much sleep the past month, watching the calves in barns and corral at the "upper ranch."

The older cows are being wintered on a new feed ground from which cottonwood trees were removed last summer, along Big Wood river near the Deer creek bridge.

Many times heifers have to have assistance when calving. And calves must be warmed and kept dry when they are dropped in snow or it is raining.

Beckley states they have had 90 per cent stillborn calves. There are still some heifers and

Red Meat Market Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, May 4—Red meat production in the United States during 1961 totaled about 28.6 billion pounds, up one per cent from 1960.

Beef production last year was 15.3 billion pounds, up four per cent from 1960; pork production was 11.4 billion pounds, down two per cent; veal totaled one billion pounds, down six per cent; and lamb and mutton totaled 800 million pounds.

Beef accounted for 53 per cent of the total red meat production, pork made up 40 per cent, veal four per cent, and lamb and mutton three per cent. Land production totaled 23 billion pounds in 1961, compared with 2.6 billion pounds a year earlier.

FAIRFIELD, May 4—A parish "expansion" program has been moved to the Lee Tucker farm on the Baseline road and will be set on the foundation and basement which has been prepared for it. The frame house will be veneered with brick—it was built on a concrete and will replace the brick home destroyed by fire last summer.

Co-op Endorses Group Tax Plan

WASHINGTON, May 4—The co-op tax proposal supported by National Milk Producers Federation was embodied in the general tax bill, and was passed by the House in May.

It provides for the current collection of 50¢ on net savings made by farmers through their cooperatives, and includes the provision under which members may agree to allocated equities in their taxable income through amendments-to-by-laws-of-the-cooperatives.

Producers

WASHINGTON, May 4—There are many animals that produce milk, says a recent issue of National Milk Producers' Leading the parade is of course the cow. Among the many others is the zebu in India; the buffalo in India, Asia and Africa; the yak in central Asia; and the plem in Mongolia, China and northern Asia.

Tariff Changes in European Common Mart Affect Trade

WASHINGTON, May 4—Tariff changes in controlled markets of European countries, beginning Jan. 1, are beginning to affect world trade in meats and other products. Cattle Group Holds Parley At Caldwell

CALDWELL, May 4—Cattle feeders from throughout Idaho and several adjoining states will be in attendance at the Idaho Cattle Feeders' Beef-O-Rama celebration tonight, Frank Shurtz secretary-manager, said today.

The Beef-O-Rama will consist of a social hour, a buffet of beef dinner and an informal evening of dancing at the Caldwell city lodge this week.

The celebration climaxes a day of information on experimental cattle feeding and a tour of practical commercial cattle feeding which was covered at the University of Idaho's Caldwell branch experiment station's 35th annual field day.

The Idaho feeders association has again this year cooperated with the university in running an experimental feeding program using 50 yearling steer calves. The feed trial is being conducted at the university experiment farm, and results of this trial were discussed by J. J. Dahmen, superintendent of the Caldwell station who is also chairman of the farm field day.

Reports on vitamin A in beef cattle nutrition were given and a report of urinary calculi and summer heat stress was also performed by the animal husbandry department of the university.

Ralph Olmsted, Twin Falls president of the Idaho Cattle Feeders' association, will give a practical cattle feeding, and will welcome the feeders and guests at the evening banquet.

Registration on vitamin A in beef cattle nutrition were given and a report of urinary calculi and summer heat stress was also performed by the animal husbandry department of the university.

Hailey Man Starts New Industry in Wood River Valley—Producing Eggs

HAILEY, May 4—John Fox has started a new industry in the Wood River valley. He is producing high quality eggs, and selling all he can produce to the local market.

Today John Fox has three flocks of laying hens. The first house he built accommodates 1,000 birds; the second 1,500; and he has 2,000 in his newest combined hen house, cooler, room for feed grinding and mixing concrete and general work room.

He has all his baby chicks from a hatchery in Paul. They start laying when 22 weeks old and continue to produce for about 18 months. They are then sold for stewing hens.

He grinds and mixes all of his own feed, using concentrates and small grains. The flavor of the egg, he states, comes from the food the chicken eats. He has worked on this theory and experimented with different feeds until he believes he has at last an egg as anyone in the country.

He has installed a new 8 by 12-foot cooler room which keeps the eggs at 45 to 50 degrees and at high humidity. To date he has used it only for over-ripe eggs—he can produce no later than the day after they are gathered.

He and his wife, Maxine, go to the work room each morning at 6 a.m. and candle, grade and box the eggs. At 8 a.m. he starts feeding and is finished by 9:30 when he tries not to vary more than five minutes in his feeding time.

It isn't long before others of the crowded class take up the fight and the "mouse-eyes" are in danger of their lives. They cannot be removed from the group for even a day and then returned, or the walls flex them on them. And thus it was that "dubbing" came about.

When the chick is a day old the bone along the top of her head is cut. This eliminates all facial problems.

Gradually he decreases the daylight 15 minutes each day until the birds are 22 weeks old and begin to lay. At this time they are only receiving 13 hours of light. He states that the birds mature more slowly with less light and their first eggs are larger when they do start to lay.

At 22 weeks the daylight hours are gradually increased and again built up to 20 hours. Operation of the remainder of the Fox ranch, which is owned jointly by John and Mrs. Mildred (widow of the late Dr. E. W. Fox), are not mentioned for this major project.

At present there are 285 acres of land under cultivation. One hundred and forty acres is under a springer system and the remainder is leveled and dyked for irrigation. The fields are laid out in rectangular 200 feet long, 140-foot wide. Fox states, speed up machine work. This spring Fox has planted 230 acres to a three-way mixture of grain for use in feeding chickens. Only one field has been left in alfalfa.

Water from Quigley creek, which runs through the ranch, is conserved in two reservoirs. Last year John Fox was sponsored by the Upper Big Wood River Grange as their candidate for the grasmann of the year.

His wife, Maxine, grew up in Jerome. She is a registered nurse.

Farm Journal Staff Claims Outlook Is Bright in 1962

PHILADELPHIA, May 4—Farmers in most sections of the country are looking forward to a year of high or higher than average crop yields. The outlook is bright in the corn belt, and in the cotton belt. The outlook is bright in the cotton belt, and in the cotton belt.

It is a good indicator of the farmer's state of mind, are reported ahead of last year in many areas. Use of fertilizers, insecticides, weed killers and other chemicals is expected to reach record heights. As farmers seek to boost production efficiency and income on reduced acreage called for in government programs.

Fat Determines Flavor of Meat

WASHINGTON, May 4—Fat gives lamb its distinctive savory flavor, a new U. S. department of agriculture study shows. This study, conducted by agricultural research service chemists, confirmed previous tests of beef and pork flavors.

Further research indicated that fat contains the compounds responsible for the characteristic flavors of different meats. It eliminates the fat from a sirloin steak, from a fresh ham roast, a brace of lamb chops and all that is left is something that only generally tastes like meat. The lean, the taste testers said, contributes a flavor that apparently is common to all meats.

Cooperative Dairy Barn Constructed At Big Savings by Two Area Farmers

WAITING FOR COWS is Roy Rapp, Rapp and Dale Eden built the dairy barn to save money and time. The milking barn will handle 12 cows. Six are milked while six others are prepared for milking. The lower level houses the milk room and storage tanks. Milk is picked up every other day about noon. The door in the upper level leads to a 1,700-bushel feed storage room. Overhead storage permits easy feeding at milking time. (Times-News photo)

Long-Legged Spider Freak Creature in World of Pests

ELIZABETH N. J., May 4—If there are status seekers in the world of pests, apparently daddy long legs is not one of them. He shuns the limelight, wreaks no damage upon man and swells under a varied assortment of aliases.

Field reports received by the National Pest Control association indicate that these long-legged, spider-like members of the spider family are more abundant than ever before, particularly in the Southwest. But there are no sure-fire controls, since "daddy" falls into the pest family taxonomic category.

"Daddy" is alleged to have served one useful purpose. Lettered credits "daddy" with pointing the way to the cows or the way home if his legs were removed. And children, perhaps in normal defiance of adults, still find this species of the spider family fascinating.

A member of the order of phalangida, "daddy" is also known as a grandtitan-graybeard. In northern New York state, better known as the harvestman by entomologists, and is frequently referred to as harvestman, harvest spider, shepherd spider, hay-maker and pseudo-spider.

But in scientific literature "daddy" has a steepest point-note. Eggs, laid in service of wood, in the ground or under stones in the autumn, are hatched in the spring. They grow into adults rapidly, but rarely attract attention until mid-summer.

"Daddy" usually hides by day, but emerges at twilight to search for food. He is described as "omnivorous" in his world habits, feeding on soft-bodied insects and in some instances on vegetable matter.

Although "daddy" has still-like legs, he does not raise his body much above the ground when he walks. And when disturbed, he usually stands on six legs, moving the second pair about in the air as feelers.

It has been suggested by some that the length of the legs, combined with the fact that they separate easily from the body, serves as a means of protection from such animals who might prey upon the species. The enemy is usually left with only the legs.

The National Pest Control association says there are no known chemical agents commonly used by pest control operations which are effective in controlling daddy long legs. Spraying with DDT might run the insect out, but a new horde would probably invade the house. When it rains, however, "daddy" will depart by his own accord.

USDA Purchases Cheddar Cheese

WASHINGTON, May 4—Purchase of more than two million pounds of pasteurized process cheddar cheese was announced this month by the U. S. department of agriculture.

"Further requests for cheddar, packed in five-pound loaves, as well as bids for processing natural-compatibility creamery production owned cheddar also were announced by the department.

Accepted bids ranged from 37.1 cents per pound for 20- to 300 pounds to 37.60 cents a pound for 235,200 pounds. Acceptance of new offers to sell pasteurized cheddar will be governed by requirements of the USDA's current buying prices for natural cheddar.

It keeps one man hustling to milk six cows and get the other six ready for milking."

Eden milked five figures that Rapp milks 3. The only thing that is duplicated in the entire operation is they have separate milk tanks and separate records. The tanks hold 450 gallons and are stainless steel.

Eden noted that most of the dairy operations have the main milk feed tube overhead in their operation the main tube is wait high and so is the vacuum tube that operates the milkers. This makes it easy to switch from one side to another. The vacuum tube and the main milk feed tube run parallel to each other and locate a two-inch pipe that operates the milkers. Most of the tubes in the operation are stainless steel. There are some sections made of cast-iron pipe. Milk can be viewed on its way to the stainless steel storage tanks.

"The milk flows from the cow to the storage tank by gravity flow and compressed air is forced into the tube to speed it along. It would be possible to milk the entire 12 cows at once but the six

Survey Shows Spud Acreage Will Decline

BURLEY, May 4—The March potato planting intention report of the U.S. department of agriculture released March 19 reports that Idaho growers intend to plant 11 per cent less acreage in 1952 than in 1951.

Eden noted that most of the dairy operations have the main milk feed tube overhead in their operation the main tube is wait high and so is the vacuum tube that operates the milkers. This makes it easy to switch from one side to another. The vacuum tube and the main milk feed tube run parallel to each other and locate a two-inch pipe that operates the milkers. and six system proves to be more efficient. Another feature is that they can action off the cow with a crossbar if at the end of milking three cows were turned in, they can place three cows in one place by using the most herringbone milking barn. Rapp and Eden expect to do more work on their milking barn this winter. For example, they don't have all the automatic lifts on the feed bins. The feed bins are 18 by 20 ft. and will hold 1,700 bushels of grain.

The one thing that is appreciated most is that it requires less labor to do the milking. The lifting and hauling of milk gone, hoses to clean the animals are accessible and the barn doesn't get nearly as dirty with a modern dairy barn. The operation is easier on the cattle. They are milked on a better schedule. Young heifers are the most considered work to get a good herd. The barn passes grade A special milk. The result of income and the heifer takes its part and milked with little trouble at the first time.

Nitrogen Can Boost Yields

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, May 4—Nitrogen added to grassland areas can increase yields up to 250 per cent, A. C. Blalock, assistant professor of agronomy at the University of Idaho, reports following three years of testing in the state's intermediate wheatgrass in northern Idaho.

"Field results using 50 pounds of nitrogen had little effect, possibly due to inherent fertility of the soil and soil conditions," however, the same application yields 250 per cent in the second and third years.

In the third year of tests, tonnage yields through the use of 50 pounds of nitrogen were nearly three tons per acre. This compares with one ton per acre where no nitrogen was applied.

Blalock, testing in grassland areas were obtained when alfalfa was included, said Blalock. "The results are applicable to other grasses in northern Idaho."

Application of nitrogen to grassland areas can be made either in the fall or early spring.

New Tractor Tires Tested

WASHINGTON, May 4—A treadless tractor tire outperformed a regular tractor tire by 40 percent in tests conducted recently by U.S. department of agriculture engineers. It also proved to be 16 per cent more effective in converting axle power to drawbar power.

One reason for the experimental tire's success is that it has a more stable casing and therefore makes more uniform contact with the soil. Engineers also believe the flattened tread base and narrow rim improve performance through better distribution of weight over soil.

The test tire features radial ply construction—the tire casing cords set in parallel layers across the tire at right angles to the direction of travel. In conventional tire casings, the cords are in diagonal layers.

If research findings hold up, engineers visualize the future tractor tires featuring radial ply construction, flattened tread base, narrow rim and modified treads for optimum traction in both routine and heavy pulling.

Predator Kills Are Announced

BOHMER, May 4—For the first three months of 1962 the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports the following kills of coyotes and cats in the predator classification.

Blaine county reported 10 coyotes and 22 cats killed. No kills were reported in Camas county. Cassia county reported 43 coyotes and 11 cats killed. Jerome county reported 46 coyotes and eight cats killed. Lincoln county reported 12 coyotes and one cat killed. Minidoka county reported seven coyotes and one cat killed while Twin Falls county reported 53 coyotes and 25 cats killed.

Survey Showing Aid of Program

WASHINGTON, May 4—A survey of the effectiveness of the milk food stamp program shows that retail food sales increased eight per cent in stores participating in the program. Sales of both meat and produce increased with the use of stamps. In about the same proportion as total sales. There was some variation among areas as to the amount of increase in sales of various food items.

Size of the store was not a significant factor in the effect. The program had little effect on advertising and merchandising practices of retailers.

Federal Crop Risk Insurance Application Deadline Nears

Farmers who have not yet protected their crop investment with federal all-risk insurance were warned today by FICD District Director Douglas H. Berch that the closing date for applications is only 11 days away.

"Unless their applications are in by May 15," Berch said, "they will not be covered. If any of the many possible causes of crop destruction occur this year, these farmers face the possibility of financial disaster. It is urged then to protect themselves and their families against the possibility of unnecessary extreme hardship or ruin."

Chairman Seeks Farm Sugar Law

WASHINGTON, May 4—Postponing the scheduled May 11 hearings on extension of the sugar act, chairman Harold D. Coolidge, House Agriculture Committee, today expressed the hope that his committee will act promptly on the general farm bill following Easter recess, and it may proceed with the sugar hearings early this month.

After having turned down the administration's dairy control program, the house group adopted a plan under which bonus payments would be made to milk producers cutting their production under 1961 levels.

The senate agriculture committee voted to report a bill without dairy provisions.

Holstein Herd Has High Mark

BATTLEBORO, Vt., May 4—The Holstein-Friesian association of America has announced a new lactation average for the "New York" Holstein herd of Joubert, Botz and sons, Rupert, 266 20 completed production records averaging 16,533 pounds of milk and 509 pounds of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly accepted two milkings a day, 305 day mature equivalent basis. This provides a uniform basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

The University of Idaho supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the official herd testing program of the national Holstein organization.

MANY FIRES

WASHINGTON, May 4—There were 28,512 forest fires in 1961, one every five minutes, the forest service said recently. The average fire consumed 346 acres an hour, or a total destruction of 9,845,274 acres.

TWO NOSED CALF has no trouble eating when dinner time rolls around. The unique animal, born on the Horse creek ranch, has been adopted by a Holstein cow whose first calf died. Ranch owners said a two-headed calf is somewhat common though short lived but one like this is very rare. (Times-News photo)

Heifer Born With Two Noses Still Living on Area Ranch

BY O. A. (GUS) KELKER Farm-Ranch Editor

ROOSELTON, May 4—A two-nosed calf, which also has two forelegs, but only one mouth opening, is 16 days old today on the Horse creek ranch of R. J. Hawes, west of here.

Three times a day the new mother walks to the pen where the adopted calf is kept and feeds during the first few days of life, according to Tony Bailey, ranch foreman. After that it was found that because of the mouth structure the calf was unable to nurse the mother, but a Holstein cow, which had given birth to its first calf on the same day the heifer was born, "adopted" the animal and now the two are almost inseparable.

Here said that in his years as a cattle raiser he has seen several two-headed calves born, but this is the first one he has ever noted with one head and two noses.

Valley Cows Top National Totals

BATTLEBORO, Vt., May 4—The Holstein-Friesian association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in the Magic Valley area.

Stephanie Four Stars 3954589, a seven-year-old owned by Louis Bott and Sons, Rupert, produced 18,500 pounds milk and 527 pounds butterfat in 321 days.

Hilday Luckett Esquire 2831976, a 13-year-old owned by Thomas E. Mabery, Rupert, produced 18,128 pounds milk and 637 pounds butterfat in 363 days.

In general, the annual production of the average U.S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 1,000 pounds of milk for 306 days while on test.

Buhl Cow Scores High Test Marks

PETERBOROUGH, N. H., May 4—A registered Guernsey cow, Thunderbird Marcus Rowena, owned by Ray Cullifer and Sons, Buhl, has completed an official production record, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club.

This record was for 9391 pounds of milk and 820 pounds of fat. "Rowena," a three-year-old, was milked two times daily for 306 days while on test.

Dazzling... isn't it - The... make future... Cobbs and Babe Ruth... a lot of time sitting around... all those little old... acts?

In Spring, a young man's fancy generally turns to thoughts of baseballs and Knott's league, but some young baseball players, such as Gregory Willis, the boy on the cover, must spend a period of time each day practicing the piano.

Blue's Ideas Refreshing in Comedy Game

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP) - In these days of sick comedians and sick jokes, Ben Blue is a refreshing change of pace. He is a village humorist based on the simple philosophy, "Always leave 'em laughing when you go."

Blue is a rare bird in show business. He got a foothold in writing his own comedies, some 40 years ago, and at age 60 he's still going at a mile-a-minute pace.

Ben is the envy of many of his colleagues for his collection of the best of old traveling bookbags and he's his own boss - Blue his comedian, you see, is also Blue the businessman.

He has been operating the club for four and a half years and he decided to pack up his location and shut down for a complete renovation.

Good Isn't Good Enough For Lemmon

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP) - "It's not enough to be a comedian, you must be good nowadays," says James J. Leavelle.

By the time a guy lines up a sister, takes his wife out to dinner, fights traffic, pays for a lot of trouble and gets home. You can't get it in his picture.

GORBY RETURNING: May 4 (AP) Comedian Leo Gorcey, who retired six years ago to his ranch in California, says he is returning to acting. He recently visited Allied Artists for which he made total of 60 Bowery Boys comedies.

ROBERT WALKER, 22, whose father was a Hollywood star of the 1920s, is getting ready to begin his own career in the film industry. The young actor's mother is actress Jennifer Jones. The elder Walker died in 1931 at the age of 32. (AP wirephoto).

Robert Walker's Son Begins Film Career; Resembles Dad

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP) - The luncheon crowd in the MGM commissary stared as the tall, slender figure strode into the room. "None had to ask his name. It was Robert Walker. The young man is 22, about the same age his father was when he started his Hollywood career."

"The first Robert Walker was a shy, respected boy from Salt Lake City who found fame in a small but important role as a private in the wartime film 'Hullabalo'. He followed with 'See Here, Private Harrow' and 'The Clouds Roll By'." "The Clouds..."

"I got up to high school," he said. "I went to 15 or 16 different schools and didn't like any of them. I just didn't care about the subjects. I got along pretty well in English, but things like mathematics held no charm for me."

"I didn't do any acting in school. I wasn't the least bit interested in it. I was only in the last year or two, he said."

"I'm not taking a course in playwriting in New York and I decided I should know something about the problem of acting."

"What I'm looking for is not just comedy, a drama, a romance. I must be all three. I found it in 'The Apartment' picture. We were also out in this picture."

"This picture was 'Days of Wine and Roses' and I had just finished the last scene."

"Of course, everything always goes on for a while after the picture," he admitted. "But I think we've got a good chance with this one."

THE TEEN-AGER WHO ALWAYS LOOKS SPRUCE and pretty has done her homework in more ways than one. Here, she gives costume jewelry, a hair, left, with a soft brush and warm soaps. Never soak costume jewelry. She washes her nylon, center, before they are worn. This removes factory finish and makes them fit more snugly. She sets aside time at the end of each week, right, to clean her clothes and make all necessary repairs in anticipation of the next use.

Organization Key to Beauty for Today's Teens

One girl to every class invariably looks so neat and trim that she's the envy of her classmates. But unfortunately they attribute her immaculate appearance to some intangible gift and shrug it off with such comments as "some people are just born that way."

They'd do better to uncover the fallacy in their thinking. For the difference between the well-put-together girl and the careless classmate can be summed up in the simple word: organization.

She's achieved her trim look by mastering the trick of keeping up with her clothing care on a weekly basis. No accumulation of rumpled stockings and rippers for her. Her needs as she goes.

Repair and upkeep of clothing can be labeled "fun" by any stretch of the imagination. But it can be less tiresome when handled with a reasonable amount of regularity. An hour or so every Saturday morning should be ample time to take care of the previous week's damage. And the surest way to avoid that "nothing to wear" panic is to establish a weekly session with needles, thread and a wash basin of soda.

You can bet your boots that the gal who always has that "dandy" look never got it by putting away torn, damaged or dirty clothing. She wouldn't have that posed, groomed appearance if she'd reached for a favorite sweater on a busy morning only to find it lacked a button.

Why not reserve a section of the closet shelf for the things which need attention before they can be worn again? And deposit your soiled clothing in your own personal laundry bag. This way, wearables and unwearables don't get mixed up.

Your jewelry shouldn't be overlooked. It's worn to dress up your clothes and it won't if it isn't clean.

Most jewelry can be washed if care is used. One-piece prong-set pieces or string jewelry can be completely immersed in sudsy water. Anything with a paste setting is better wiped with a sudsy cloth so that the stone won't loosen. Artificial pearls can be washed very successfully if handled gently to prevent puncturing the "skin" of opalescent material.

Your possessions will last longer if you're always wanted to be if you organize your cleaning and repairing instead of letting these chores become so monumental through neglect that you can't bear to face them.

Spring Cleaning Is for Men

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)—What role does a husband have in your spring cleaning?

As professional house cleaners and Service Master see it, it's a matter of knowing your man and how to work with him or around him.

Here's their rundown on the male personality types and how to deal with them at spring cleaning time:

The scavenger. No sooner do you finish cleaning out closets and drawers than he begins rifling through discarded items for old fishing tackle and worn slippers. The only way to deal with this type is to keep him at a safe distance from rubbish piles. Don't give him a chance to undo your hard work.

The artistic hogger. He's freer with the confusion of house cleaning is an elaborate get-away plan which may involve staying late at the office, a bowling date or even an out-of-town "business trip." Since his presence would only add to the confusion, it's best to let him go his way and count on his help.

The straggler. He'll freer with advice than help in accomplishing the work. The most effective tactic here is to appoint him head of the "mopping team" or "time and motion" expert. Then take over quietly behind the scenes.

The lost frontiersman. This is the lost soul at spring cleaning time, a mad sight, wandering from room to room, looking for a familiar chair to which to settle with his paper. While he couldn't be considered a spectator activity, he may 4-5, 1962

Air Condition Luxury Label

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Air conditioning finally has cast off the luxury item label and 1962 could be the year when the air conditioner becomes as commonplace as the refrigerator, according to scientists of the General Electric company.

This new technology, the scientists said, have done a way with the general belief that air conditioning was something only the rich could afford and other folks could do without.

Within 10-year period, they said, the nonrigid conditioned home will be obsolete in a great part of the country because of recent widespread acceptance of air conditioning as a necessity for year-around good health in all climates.

More than 100,000 more than 100,000 units were sold by the air conditioning industry in any one year. At the turn of the decade, annual sales were doubled and by 1963 more than 1 million units were sold. Sales leveled off at about 1.6 annually. Introduction of zonal air conditioners is expected to open up new markets this year.

The zonal unit has the necessary capacity for cooling whole zones, such as living-dining areas, plus the individual control supplied only by through-the-wall units. Individual units in zonal systems also assure that an entire building will never be without cooling capacity, GE scientists said.

Do-It-Yourself Work Can Cost

Horse's Ego Gallops on After Award

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)—Inflated egos among human performers are not unusual following the Oscars. Academy awards, but a fat-headed horse is something else again.

Mr. Ed, the Palomino television star, collected a Patsy award last week as the best animal video actor and he's been hearing around ever since.

According to pretty Connie Hines, who costars in the "Mr. Ed" series, the equine Barrymore was temperamental enough before he posed out dogs Lassie and Tramp for the highest acting award an animal can win.

"I can't complain about playing security fiddle to Mr. Ed," Connie said honestly. "After all Allen Young and I haven't even been nominated for Emmy awards."

"But Ed will really be hard to live with now. He knows darned well he's the star of the show and he won't let us forget it."

The outfit owner (the talks on the show) is given to walking off the set when he's fagged or tired of sorts.

"I'll never forget the angry Mr. Ed when the director called me on my day off," Connie recalled. "I asked why I had to rush to the studio and he said,

Film Test Was Most Trying Time

Sandra Dee, who stars in the title role of "Tammy Tell Me True," reveals now that her screen career shines so brightly—that her most trying Hollywood ordeal was her original screen test.

The young blonde beauty describes it as an experience she probably would not be able to duplicate were she to face it anew under similar circumstances.

Now a three-year veteran of studio sound stages, Sandra points out that she had just turned 15—and as yet had never kissed a boy—when producer Ross Hunter put her before the cameras for test footage.

"Mr. Ed walked off in a huff and we'll just have to shoot around him."

"That was the day they put Ed through a car wash and I didn't want to let on because as long as I was going through with the test I naturally wanted it to come out right."

Sandra says her main concern was to make it appear that she was an experienced hand as telling a young man about her feelings and making him convinced by subterfuge to her whims.

"All the time I was going through the various pieces of business suggested by the scene," she elaborated. "I was carrying like a fish out of water because I found it was hard to catch my breath."

It was this reaction, she later learned, which helped to turn the test into such an impressive piece of celluloid.

Pigeons On Assembly Line

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)—Prof. William W. Cummings of Columbia University has conducted successful experiments which showed pigeons could be used as inspectors on assembly lines.

He taught a pigeon to pick out flaws in painting on small parts. The pigeon was placed in a cage where it observed the parts through a small transparent window.

Next to this window was a piece of opaque glass. When a bad part showed the bird pecked the transparent glass and was rewarded by a bit of food. He pecked the opaque glass when he observed no defects.

"A workaholic on the job," Irving Ink, newspaper editor. (AQ: "A horse could work better at the job.")

"An outstanding citizen," Arnie Armppumper, governor. (AQ: "And the judge said, 'Will the defendant rise,' and he got up on his feet.")

"A fighter for the farmers," Terry Tuber, Potato Growers president. (AQ: "He brought a pitchfork into the bar and said he'd fight any two farmers in the place.")

"He really knows the score," Charlie Corporation, respected historian. (AQ: "He really knows he scored a 7 on that hole but he wrote down a 4.")

And so it goes in an election year.

There's sports glare on television this weekend, if you're looking for an excuse not to work in the yard. In addition to four major league baseball games coming into Magic Valley, there are the Tournament of Champions golf meet at Las Vegas, the Kentucky Derby, the Saturday night fight and sundry other week-end usuals. Let the wife know the lawn.

Special edition of a newspaper has a way of becoming annual affairs as it seems only logical that after our first issue last year of an Outdoor Living edition we should try again, and again and probably again. But unlike other subjects which can be treated once or twice and discarded, the one of outdoor living in this neck of the woods is a veritable gold mine. Within three weeks of the first issue, News will go for No. 2 in the Outdoor Living section. We have unearthed a wealth of new information and have treated some of the same subjects in a different manner. With more and more persons moving outdoors during the summer, it should be of interest to a large audience. The preliminary outlook is good and on May 22 we hope you'll approve.

It's the little things that count. Take for instance the man we called the other day about an advertisement. It went something like this: "May I help you?" "I want to place an ad in that section." "What section?" "Oh, you know, that little thing with all the stuff in it on Friday." What price glory?

Happy note for harried housewives: Only three weeks and the kids will be home all day.

While unwrapping (or is it unwrapping?) a Butterfinger candy bar the other day we noted a small capital "K" on the wrapper almost unnoticeable. We went immediately to people who store various little facts of relative unimportance and discovered that the "K" is a mark specific to the Jewish people. When a product has this mark, called a Kosher mark, it means the Jewish people can eat it and live within their dietary laws. Another mark on products which you may have seen is a circled "M" which also signifies the kosher mark. And while we're on the subject of marks on products we have one we'd like to see abolished or at least cleared up: It's the "KD" on packages. This means "knocked down" and means that the complicated electric motor you bought the boy must be assembled by a fumble-fingered parent first. It's tricky, and although it might save a couple of bucks on the price, we're just as soon pay the extra cash to save the work involved in assembling. Wouldn't it be just as simple for the manufacturer to put "unassembled" on the package? We can just see the happy parent sitting up Christmas eve and part of the morning assembling some truck he bought thinking it would be all in one piece. We guess it pays to read everything nowadays. You might learn something.

We've been told that the average family income for 1961 in the U.S. was $7,020. Unfortunately, the many average figures, it tends to be misleading. A little investigation shows that half the families in the U.S. had incomes of $5,728 and some 53 per cent of all families had less than $4,200. Only 17 per cent of all families had incomes of $10,000 or more. This might serve as a reminder to merchants who are planning to cut down on their bargains. Incomes still aren't too high for people to appreciate a good buy.

The Emmy award nominations have been made for the television industry and we have two nominations to make. First, two of the women nominated for best actress awards, Cara Williams and Gertrude Berg, are on shows that aren't returning next fall. Second, the two best shows of the season, The Night Gazer and Mrs. Kennedy's best of the White House, aren't even mentioned.

Fair Is "Cultural Leap Forward"

BY BOB THOMAS
SEATTLE, Wash., May 4 (AP) — The World's Fair is giving Seattle a great cultural leap forward. And that other American cities need to follow suit is some imagination and several million dollars.

You had only to witness the Century 21 Exposition's opening night gala to sense Seattle's transition from a cultural backwoods to a potential Athens of the West.

It was quite a show, the cream of Seattle society, plus some Stink-milk visitors, gathered to the massive new marble and cherrywood opera house to hear a concert that would do justice to any musical capital in the world.

First Milton Kalins conducted the accomplished Seattle Symphony through a Beethoven symphony. Then bushy-haired Van Cliburn ripped through a Rachmaninoff concerto in his historic style.

The glittering audience took to cheer Igor Stravinsky as the actually neo-occidentalism walked singly to the podium. He conducted his Prelude Suite with vigor.

This was a dazzling start to what shapes up as the most culture-minded world's fair in history. The performing arts committee has combed the world for attractions such as England's Old Vic company, India's Uday Shankar dancers, the Philippines' Bayanhan dancers, the Ukrainian State Dance company, Poo-Hsing Chinese theater, Le Comedie Canadienne, Royal Dramatic Theater of Sweden, and D'Oyly Carte Opera of England, etc.

For the less long-haired there will be Victor Borje, Roy Rogers, Lawrence Welk, Count Basie, Benny Goodman, Ella Fitzgerald, Arthur Godfrey and even Yogi Berra and Huckleberry Finn.

What makes the Seattle fair impressive from a cultural view is the construction of magnificent new buildings to house the arts in future years. The opera house—actually an old civic auditorium that was gutted and rebuilt—may be the handsomest in the United States. Soprano Maria Costa tells me she considers the acoustics the best she has ever heard.

Built especially for the fair were a jewel-box playhouse that seats 800 and a spectacular art museum. The 5,500-seat arena for ice shows and other spectacles was given a new front. The stadium, formerly for high school football, is adaptable for rodeos, water-skiing shows, etc.

MENUS

By Helen McCully

As you know - dinner is the problem meal - hence our new menus for dinner only, with a recipe for each dinner.

Here are five Dinner Menus to enjoy this week.

SATURDAY
Dinner Menu

Falls Brand Ground Beef Balls
Spaghetti
Fresh Fruit Cocktail
Cookies
Milk
Coffee

FALLS BRAND GROUND BEEF BALLS

- 1 1/2 pounds Falls Brand ground beef
- 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1 clove garlic, chopped fine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 dash pepper
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 6 cubes 1/4-inch slice Cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce

Mix together beef, bread crumbs, green pepper, mustard, garlic, salt, pepper, egg and catsup thoroughly. Shape into 16 small balls with a clove of cheese buried in the center of each.

Broil meat balls in heated oil over a hot broil. Four in each pan and cook for a low broil for about 20 minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking until brown in color. Serve over spaghetti to 6.

TUESDAY
Dinner Menu

Falls Brand Assorted Cold Cuts
Vegetable Casserole
Radishes
Brownies
Cery Bread
Milk
Coffee

VEGETABLE CASSEROLE

- 16 thin white onions
- 24 inch-thick potatoes
- 1 cup thin carrot strips
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 Dash pepper
- 1/2 pound butter or margarine, melted
- 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 clove garlic, crushed

Start oven at 325° P or slow.

Combine onions (carrots and celery) suitable for this recipe, potato cubes, and carrot strips in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle with cloves, salt, and pepper.

Mix melted butter or margarine with lemon juice, sugar, and garlic. Pour over vegetables and cover tightly.

Bake 1 hour. Remove lid and continue baking until top is well browned. Serve 8.

SUNDAY
Dinner Menu

Falls Brand Ham Slice with Apricots
Baked New Potatoes
Cucumber Salad
Strawberry Sundae
Coffee
Milk

FALLS BRAND HAM SLICES WITH APRICOTS

- 1 1/2-inch slice Falls Brand ham
- 6 to 8 whole cloves
- 2 teaspoons brown sugar
- 1 cup canned apricots
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Start oven at 375° P or moderate.

Score fat around ham slice to prevent curling during baking. Insert cloves in the fat.

Put ham in a shallow baking pan and lightle with brown sugar. Place apricots on top, spooning on some of the apricot syrup. Dot with butter or margarine.

Bake, uncovered, for 25 to 30 minutes. Serves 4 generously.

FRIDAY
Dinner Menu

Friday-Burgers
Potato Chips
Mixed Vegetable Salad
Strawberry Shortcake
Coffee
Milk

FRIDAY-BURGERS

- 1 can (1 pound) salmon or 2 cans (7-ounce) chili (tuna)
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 (1/2-teaspoon) butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
- 2 eggs, beaten
- Few sprigs parsley, chopped
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 (1/2-teaspoon) prepared mustard
- 1/2 bread or cracker crumbs
- 8 hamburger buns

Put salmon in a bowl in small pieces. Don't drain. Cook salmon in 1/2 cup prepared butter or margarine until brown. Drain. Add onion, chili, salt, parsley, salt, mustard, dry bread crumbs, egg or cracker crumbs and fry in remaining butter or margarine until brown on one side. Place on cold buttered hamburger buns.

Can be prepared according to package directions. Drain and eat. Add some chopped green onion, baked radishes, sliced green pepper, and onion mayonnaise to hold salad together.

Conductor Brought More Than Experience for Job

BY DOLOE SMITH
By POPULAR DEMAND
 The veteran conductor, Hermand Johnson, brought to a recording of Bach's St. John Passion more than just experience. He called "Vibrations." Light has extended his "percussion" technique to make this sound even more real, without being more bombastic. The result is more pleasure for audiophiles through this exquisite recording (Westminster-719).

His singers were all phenomenal. With Bach, Johnson was that of the Vienna Academy and Vienna State Opera. Johnson is actually the St. John Passion in one of the most difficult of Bach's major works to perform with absolute authenticity.

The Cleveland orchestra recording is a complete triumph. Victor, which makes it amazing that RCA Victor grabbed out the Cleveland Orchestra recording for an outstanding recording of the great choruses in the oratorio literature, leading off with the beautiful chorus of Handel's "Messiah." This Cleveland Orchestra Chorus is one of the best in the country. (LSC291).

Seersucker Giving Way to New "Beat-the-Heat" Suits for Men

NEW YORK, May 4 (AP)— New Orleans gets pretty hot and sultry during the summer months and it is only natural that people there should have been pioneers in the wearing of seersucker suits. The Hindus started it in India by turning out a cloth called "strainer," made of linen or cotton and having stripes that alternated flat and puckered.

The three Hasepel Brothers, Joe, Sam and Walter, who live in the family rice and sugar business in New Orleans but do much of their business in manufacturing seersucker suits. That was 52 years ago and their first suits had a certain resemblance to the striped pajamas which then were the basic use for seersucker, along with bedspreads and other items for the home.

By 1908 they had improved it with a silky-looking finish called "Booby" or "Calcutta" and in 1910 it became a washing machine classic worn by Princeton, Yale and Harvard boys; rich bankers and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Screenplay Makes Money for Couple

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)— Former FBI agent Gordon Gordon and his wife, Mildred, wrote a book and screenplay, "Experiment in Terror," which was an FBI agent who earns $4,000 a year. The book has earned $100,000 for Gordon so far and earnings are expected to increase considerably with release in mid-April of a paperback edition. The story also will be filmed by Columbia Pictures.

Turnabout Fair Play He Thinks

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)— Actor Alan Ladd obviously believes in turnabout. Late last year while filming "One Foot in the Hell," Ladd was hired by character actor Blaine Brown to clean out a gang of gunfighters. When Ladd was filming his own "Ladd Enterprises" "13 West Street" he hired Adams for the role of a private detective who works up a gang of teen-age hoodlums.

Here Are Ways Girls Can Earn Some Money at Home

By VIVIAN BROWN
 Many girls have inquired about ways to earn money at home. Because outside jobs are scarce. Study your community's needs to determine what would be in demand.

Staging children's parties is an idea. You supply everything down to the cake and help run the party on a big day. Busy parents are likely to pay well for this service. Be careful to estimate your costs properly, tacking on your own fee.

Another made to order, money maker for young people is raising and selling plants. Booklets and pamphlets on growing plants in your area may be obtained from state agricultural services. A book or two borrowed from the public library can further supplement your knowledge.

People who make money in plants usually specialize in herbs. African violets are a popular collector's item. Their many strains may be propagated easily in little clay pots. Decorate the pots by spraying them and pasting a wide band of brads around the rim. Or search out attractive containers to place the pots in.

Garden vegetables can pay their own way. If you get an early start. Many gardeners prefer putting in plants instead of seeds. Give extra service such as wrapping tomato roots with newspapers.

"Choose" vegetables not commonly found in your area. Provide recipes along with your plants and you'll be especially popular.

Herbs are easy to grow and sell. Good herb books can acquaint you with all the more necessary to provide a little pamphlet with your herbs. Remember, as a sales pitch, that some people make a popover of herb foliage to use for scented linens.

Fast Growth

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP)— Music-making in America has grown faster than any other leisure-time activity, the American Music Publishers Association reports.

Today, more than 23 million adult amateur musicians and more than 13 million school-age children study or play instruments. In 1947, only 14.5 million adults and 8.5 million children were classified as amateur musicians.

Disney's World Promises to Be Bigger After Improvements for Disneyland

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)— The wonderful world of Walt Disney is becoming more wonderful. Disney is a man of many enterprises, not the least of which is Disneyland amusement park where improvements are in progress that promise to outdo old Mother Nature.

Disney and his engineers—the "Imagineers"—have worked out an improved system of animating life-size replicas of animals and birds. The kiddies and grownups will be enthralled with new projects to be installed for the summer season.

They'll see a herd of life-like elephants cavorting around a waterfall and playfully dousing each other with streams of water from their trunks.

They'll see exotic birds like the cockatoo and the kookaburra come to life and sing in symphony in the new Tiki room as the Hawaiian Gardens.

Seven years and some 30 million customers after the founding of Disneyland, Disney still views this enterprise with the

Veteran Star Has Opinions On Questions

HOLLYWOOD, May 4 (AP)— Whether he plays Abe Lincoln, Dr. Gillespie or just Raymond Massey, he's a man of forceful opinions.

Recently he was doing all that. Massey went directly from playing the elder doctor in the successful "Dr. Kildare" television series back to his old role as the Great Emancipator. He was performing in a small but important sequence for "How the West Was Won" in Cincinnati.

Then he went right back to the tiny screen, and, as Raymond Massey, he made it clear he has great respect for television. He took issue with FCC chairman Newton Minnow's much-repeated view of television's "vast wasteland."

"I think it is a misconception that has been perpetuated by television columnists," said Massey. "Television is not a wasteland. It is the greatest medium yet devised for entertainment."
