INTERNATIONAL COMMUNIST "Are You Really Serious?"

WASHINGTON—The Moscow breakdown in the social and economic structure of the Russo-Chinese communist empire indicates that the Communist Party of the United States and its Western democracies have achieved a position of superiority in the world which has never existed before. It is the first time that Washington has enjoyed a position of superiority in the world. The principal reason for this is that the Soviet Union has shown itself unable to produce a sufficient quantity of industrial equipment to supply its own needs. STRAWS IN WIND

In virtually all of the period since the Great Depression, the United States has been progressively more liberal. The emphasis on liberalism reached the point long ago at which political parties were judged by their degree of liberalism, not by whether they were liberal or conservative. And until recent months, conservatism has been almost a nasty word.

LET DOWN BY RUSSIA

As a result, Mao has had to cut back industrial production by 10 per cent for want of workers, raw materials and machinery which he has expected from the Soviet Union.

NOT EVEN CROCODILE TEARS

In this crisis, Khrushchev has not even expressed regret over his communist plan.

BURDEN CRUSHING

In accounting for Russia's economic and political problems, many experts believe that the burden of the financial and material resources in the Soviet economy must be far heavier.

FAIR REPORT

"Oh, what do you folks think of the fair?" Did you learn a lot while you were there?

SCHOOLS TAKE ANOTHER BLOW

The superintendent of schools at Idaho Falls took his last bow by announcing his resignation. His reason for wanting to leave should take no one by surprise, for it is a constant problem of school administrators and one which will not be resolved until enough people are aroused enough to do something.

TEACHERS' STATUS

Teachers should be paid salaries commensurate with the training, talent, responsibility, and industry of the profession. They should not be the victims of despicable attempts to prevent federal aid to education through tax deductions.

New Law Needed on Trailer Brakes, T. F. Man Declares

Editor, Times-News:
It is time to correct a lot of undifferentiated trailers on these laws regarding trailer brakes and breakaway switches. We have an election, come up and some of these laws made a new room always sweeps clean. For the past year, we have had a brake law on trailers and as far as I am concerned it is just a blanket to promote a trailer sale. The law is not in line with the law in the car behind. I am writing you because I am hauling a couple of boxes, cans or taking your kids on a trip in a trailer. If the present law was modified just a little you

Writer Says Gold Should Be Kept in U.S. by Amendment

Editor, Times-News:
Since the gold reserve act of June 25, 1934, it has been unlawful for a citizen to own or export gold in making coins formerly used in the United States. This act gave the president the power to increase the price of gold from $20.67 per ounce to $35 per ounce. Roosevelt set the price by proclamation at $35 per ounce and further increased the price per ounce, still exists. The first price of gold was set in 1837, at $1.35 per ounce. The increase in the price resulted in a profit for the government.

N. Y. Writer Says Freedom Loss Is Controls Danger

Editor, Times-News:
Many Americans deplore the tactics of the John Birch society and at the same time are seriously concerned with the Kennedy administration's program to increase presidential powers and centralization of government control. Break Seen In Carpenter Seattle Tie

SPokane, June 2 (AP)—The lengthening carpenters strike was cracked slightly today with the announcement that work would be resumed Monday on three men's residence halls at Gonzaga university by an independent contractor.

The same contractor also will resume construction on elementary school projects in Pullman and Pasco, Weldon T. Newbury, executive secretary of the Spokane District Council of Carpenters said.

Newbury said the interim agreement under which work will start up again provides for a 25-cent hourly wage increase. The agreement will run only until a strike settlement is reached between union carpenters and the Associated Contractors, he said.

Thursday, four Inland Empire college presidents, meeting here, called for increased attempts at education. They warned that if a work paralysis on about 16 million dollars in construction continued, "many hundreds of students in our area will not be able to attend college next year."

Scares Pup

The violent lightning storm which swept the Malheur valley area early Saturday evening appears to have done little damage other than to temporarily disrupt electrical and telephone service. The person it did bother indirectly was Clara Kinn, 511 Quincy street, Twin Falls. She was a small boy who during the height of the storm when thunder was heard, he hid under the bed, frightened and ran off.

Clara called police who started searching for the boy. He was found, safe but frightened on Monroe street.

Yugoslavian Foreign Aid Faces Fight

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—A fight over an amendment to limit U.S. economic aid to Yugoslavia may ensue this week's senate discussion over President Kennedy's $48 billion dollar foreign aid bill.

The measure, set for debate Tuesday, also carries among other things authority for $600 million dollars this year and $500 million dollars for three succeeding years to finance the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

Sen. William Proxmire, D., Wis., served notice he will make a floor battle to cut out Kennedy's authority to continue Yugoslav aid. He also continued loans and sales of surplus farm commodities.

In a recent speech to the senate, Proxmire declared that foreign aid is not aiding freedom when it supports a government as tyrannical as the Tito government of Yugoslavia.

Lonnie Griffin Taken by Death

Iraq Breaks Relations Over Kuwait

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Protesting U.S. recognition of Kuwait, the government of Iraq today recalled its ambassador to this country and asked U.S. Ambassador John D. Jaraman to leave Baghdad.

The U.S. state department said it would comply promptly with Iraq's request—but expressed formal regret at the break.

Kuwait is the oil-rich former British colony to which Iraq asserted a claim of sovereignty last June. The independence of Kuwait had just been asserted in an exchange of letters between it and Britain.

President Kennedy accepted Friday the credentials of Kuwaiti Ambassador Abdul Rahman Ghalib al-Fatih.

Iraq's action was announced in Baghdad, and the Iraq Embassy here said in a statement the exchange of ambassadors by the United States and Kuwait was "an action which is considered unfriendly by the government of Iraq."

BALTIMORE (AP)—Herman H. Diers, 47, said a "dick" boot handed to him by some teachers gave him an electrical jolt and "almost knocked my false teeth out."

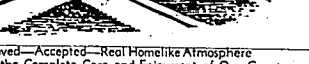

When one of the juveniles asked Diers "How did you like the book, Pop?" Diers couldn't resist the straight line.

"Shocking," he replied.

Calm Returns After Truce For Algiers

ALGIERS, June 2 (AP)—The secret army organization has suspended its bloody terror reign and made preliminary peace proposals to Algerian nationalists, French sources said today.

This was the reason for the precarious three-day truce that for the first time in long months restored a measure of calm to this city of fear, they said.

The secret army now awaits an answer or concrete steps from the National Liberation Front or the provisional Algerian executive. The FLN led the long Muslim rebellion against French rule, ended by a ceasefire in March. The executive of Muslims and Europeans was set up under the truce agreement.

A sudden return of terrorism in the days to come would imply that the proposals were turned down and that no compromise should be expected, the informants said.

The secret army hopes to obtain additional rights and guarantees for the million French settlers in an independent Algeria. In exchange, it offers to eliminate terrorism and persuade the Europeans to remain in the country. It is preserving its economy, the sources reported.

Bid for GOP Post Made By Schofield

Keith Schofield, candidate for the second district Republican nomination for congress next fall in Twin Falls, said today that he has the best chance of unseating Ralph Harndon.

His background best qualified him to go the job, Schofield said. The fact that I am a conservative will present a clear choice to the Idaho voter. I will choose conservatism. I am 48 years older than Harndon and my experience has been broader than his. In addition to a grasp of Idaho affairs, I have gained as a native son of the second district, I understand foreign affairs and foreign interests which are such cause for concern to Idahoans as taxpayers and patriots.

My eight years in Latin America including service as an assistant attaché at the American embassy in Caracas and as a vice consul in Caracas, Venezuela, plus service as an infantry officer in England, France and Germany during World War II have given me a background which the voters will recognize and which Harndon cannot match. In addition, my education has been excellent and I am young and aggressive.

This combination of qualifications makes me the obvious choice for the Republican nomination for the second district congressmen.

Cool Fans Dig Frank's Flip Side

LONDON, June 2 (AP) — Squads of chaminzo fans tried to crush a champagne breakfast for Frank Sinatra today after he sang for three hours with only one break at a charity concert in London's royal festival hall.

"There's never been anything like it for us," said a spokesman at the American singer's hotel. "Imagine, fans screaming for you at 4 o'clock in the morning!"

Sinatra, 47, gave one of the greatest performances of his career to raise money for underprivileged children.

Attended by Princess Margaret, her husband Lord Snowdon and a group of friends, the concert began at midnight.

After a brief cool-off, Sinatra ran a gauntlet of fans at 3:10 a.m. and rode across the misty Thames a race to his hotel.

Thirty-five breakfast guests awaited him.

The party was given by California restaurant owner Mike Romagnoli, who is accompanying Sinatra on the worldwide tour with his 17 shows.

Cradle to Grave Security Scored

BOHLE, June 2 — Idahoans are but one generation from the pioneer development of our nation and have not been brainwashed into accepting the philosophy of government-sponsored security from the cradle to the grave," declared James Annet, GOP candidate for nomination as second district congressman, at a luncheon meeting Friday in the 11 and 13 cafe here.

"Democrats and Republicans alike share a common bond of money to pay for all this protection of the left wing extremism of the New Frontier Administration," he said.

Sentiment runs high throughout the congressional district, he said. In opposition to those programs of the "New Frontier" which require vast spending of taxpayers funds.

"It is not uncommon to find people who previously approved Democratic policies asking 'Where are we, the taxpayers, to get money to pay for all this protection?' Annet asked.

Colonel Sees Extra Heavy Road Traffic

Hundreds of Idaho army national guard vehicles will be on southern Idaho highways next Saturday as quadrennial road for 10 days annual active duty training at Gowen field near Boise.

Col. Edward Ebert, Boise commander of the 110th annual cavalry and Saturday morning 1000 squadrons will train at the site through June 22.

He issued a warning to private motorists who will be on the highways next Saturday to diversify to avoid accidents with military vehicles.

"We have an excellent traffic safety record for coming to and leaving Boise and we ask for the cooperation of Idaho motorists to preserve this record and avoid any unfortunate circumstances," the colonel said.

"Traffic will be particularly heavy on U.S. highways 30 and state highway 25, the commander said. The convoys have been selected as an aid to crowd the highways anymore than necessary. The units will start to leave field early Saturday morning and convoys will continue to travel the highway through the afternoon.

"The cooperation of the traveling public is appreciated as the commander lead for another ten weeks of active duty training," the commander said.

Stock Trades Are Frantic During Week

NEW YORK, June 3 (AP)—Stock trading averaged a frantic 10 million shares a day this week, leaving weary Wall street speculators to build up the greatest post-blast since 1929 after the week-end.

What made their task all the more distasteful was the knowledge that the same results on the price level would be attained accomplished in a single hour of hectic trading. The popular average gained the Dow Jones average showed the S&P 500 index showed almost no change at all.

The nightmare began in the opening session with the market taking its worst beating since another historic "black Monday" 2 1/2 years ago which kicked off the greatest stock market rout and subsequent business depression since 1929.

Things went from horrible to catastrophic on Tuesday—morning, but as recovery began, high-speed stock tickers "flashed" the news to 15-million investors.

Most blue chip finished near red. Among the few showing significant changes were Alcoa up 2 1/4, Chrysler 2 1/2, despite a government anti-trust suit. Procter and Gamble off 1/4 and Swift up 1/2.

High speed tickers, almost an hour late in reaching floor, again, wiping out the rest of the initial loss. Friday saw a modest reaction on sharply curtailed trading—only 600,000 shares.

There was widespread agreement on the market's future course, despite general agreement that a test of "Tuesday's" lows is immediately ahead.

Stock Market Skid Is Termed Thunderclap on Sunny Day

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—The stock market skid early last week was a "thunderclap on a sunny day," drawing anxious looks from the exchange.

The economy was sound, everyone said, and new reports were encouraging. Still, the market took a dip Monday and early Tuesday night, before recovery.

During Tuesday's bad slide, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon emerged from a conference with President Kennedy saying "we don't see any reason for panic selling."

Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges, and later Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D. Minn., proposed tax cuts to spur the economy. The thinking of many business leaders was the same.

Humphrey, assistant Democratic leader in the senate, proposed cuts of two to four percentage points in corporation taxes and "two percentage points in personal income taxes."

The franchise market activity, creating record lags in the ticker tape and running up near-record fering rising interest rates, this analysis ran. When the drop came, however, many observers, including American Stock Exchange Chairman Edwin Packer, said they were surprised at its intensity. They worried that fear would feed on itself, causing selling to deepen, smothering the general economy; perhaps causing a pull on business growth index.

When the option came Tuesday night, the relief reflected in a rising cheer on the floor of the New York stock exchange was widely felt.

While the recovery was continuing Thursday after the holiday recess, the labor department announced heartening employment figures. It said employment in May, up 140,000, for an all-time record for the month—Unemployment, meanwhile, dropped 1.6 per cent from a year ago to 3.74 percent.

There were also reports that the eight-week decline in production in the important steel industry might be leveling out. The week-to-week drop of one per cent to 1,646,000 tons reported Monday was the smallest drop since output began to decline in the wake of a labor contract hitting strike fears. Steel users have been dipping into their strike-hedge stocks since then, rather than placing orders, for many of their supplies.

The healthy automotive industry produced the greatest number of cars in a year since 1957.

New Frontier Is Wasteland For Secretary

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Respected Jack Roman, at first surprised by his firing as official White House stenographer after 21 years under four presidents, said today he feels much better.

The genial, black-haired Roman, who died last Sunday, had written a transcript for the White House, said he is looking into half a dozen job offers and would at least equal the approximately $12,000 a year he made on the White House payroll.

"They tell me if you are a court reporter they lock the door and won't let you out," Roman said, meaning that men with a fast shorthand pen, such as he employed, are in great demand.

The 51-year-old London-born Roman, who has hobbies as chess, music, amateur photography and art model building, was given notice by Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, then he requested for work Friday.

To replace him in turning out stenographic transcripts of the conference of the 100 (official) stenographers in Great Britain, the White House has hired a local young stenographer, mentioned in the Alderson Reporting Co.

He said Kennedy is a fast writer. "Salinger is the best," he said. "Salinger is the worst," he added. "Salinger is the most abnormal speaker. He never encounters it. He sits there with a clear stuff in his mouth and expects you to know what he's saying."

Scholarships Awarded by Dilettantes

Jeane Matsuoka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Matsuoka, 160 Washington street north, and Karen Kirkman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kirkman, Piler, were each awarded a $100 scholarship by the Dilettante group of Magic Valley.

Miss Matsuoka studied ballet seven years under Lucille Tunnley and Beverly Hackney, 8th and 10th streets, and then danced in the four productions of the local dance group. In Mrs. Hackney's dance recitals she had solo parts in "Swan Lake" and "The Nutcracker."

Last summer she studied ballet with the San Francisco Ballet company in school. Miss Matsuoka has been active in P.H.A., Pep club, Drill team, G.A.A., and student societies.

Karen Kirkman has studied piano for eleven years, five under Mrs. Trala Bellini. She was champion Twin Falls piano winner and received a scholarship to the University of Idaho Summer Music camp. She may also present her own recital.

Miss Kirkman, a senior at Piler high school, has been active in band and chorus, P.T.A., Pep club, and Ski club. She is a delegate to the 1962 Idaho State. She has been a cheerleader and mascot.

Judges for the audition were Mrs. Lloyd Walker, Mrs. Robert Blotock, Jr., and David Mead.

Wally, Duke Celebrating Anniversary

LONDON, June 2 (AP)—Britain's long retired monarch King Edward VIII, celebrates Sunday the 25th anniversary of his marriage to the woman for whom he gave up a throne.

Unlike other couples, who can usually count on a crowd of relatives and children around at a time like this, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will celebrate their silver wedding day at the Atlantic.

The luxury liner United States will be about midway on its voyage from New York to Le Havre when the duke and duchess alight for a small champagne dinner party. They are traveling to Paris where they own a mansion.

Just before sailing, a reporter asked them in New York whether they were happy.

"We certainly are," the duke replied. "Just look at us. We look happy, don't we?"

Asked whether they recalled predictions their marriage would be short lived, they responded almost in unison: "We made it last."

"Littering"

Placement of political advertisements under the aegis of the ad-walkers of care, in mail boxes and under house doors without permission of property owners was described Saturday afternoon as "littering the streets with debris" by Twin Falls Justice of the Peace Robert E. Pette.

Judge Pence pointed out that state law prohibits placing promotional material on private or public property without written permission of the property owner. The law provides that if a publicity company grants permission to a candidate for public office, the firm must also grant permission to all other candidates for the same office.

Judge Pence said that the law will be enforced in Twin Falls county, emphasizing that the enforcement will include placing material on cars parked along the street.

Bubbly, Nubby Fabrics Herald Fall Fashions

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Fashion's big change for fall and winter 1962 lies with developments in fabric more than in changes of silhouette.

As shapes go, women's apparel remains basically the same natural one that the nation's number one current center provided in spring collections—relatively natural, shoulders up-ended, skirts with enough ease for walking and sitting, and skirt lengths continuing to end at the middle of the knee-cap.

These are the trends midway in the preview of new collections—previews to continue solely through mid-June. The clothes will begin to show in the stores by late July.

Watch for the superlatives to roll with the subtlest of fabric surface and fabric luxury comes up.

—The news is in the new fabrics—all surface interest, bubbly, textured, said manufacturer Edward Abbott at the opening of his collection.

—Tweeds are so nubby they're called cobblestone. Lacy woolls are so airy they're billed as chiffon Bouffes. Mohair are so long half they're called Diana Woolens. And there is such an abundance of overall level treatments of fabrics for evening wear these dresses shouldn't ever be discarded; the handwork in them makes them museum pieces.

Oleg Cassini, who designs for the president and First Lady's forthcoming trip south of the border, said a mass of new fabric treatments in his wholesale collection.

Charm embroderers, copied from the decorative scroll on a Mexican cowboy's regalia, hand-woven wool costumes for day. These many with Mexican-style bolero jackets, were inspired by the president and First Lady's forthcoming trip south of the border. Cassini included a group of floor length formal made of Lascian silk—some of these borders of the hem in hand-painted flower or peasant designs. These, he said, were successors to the Indian vest which several firms has Americanized.

"I am showing a new elegant, simple silhouette that indicates the body without showing it," said Cassini, who has made the models at the knee-cap.

"The line is easy with skirts slightly lengthened." The "lengthened" skirts still hit the models at the knee-cap.

Cassini, always the clown doing a fashion commentary, opened his show with a broom suit in the same color as his French frock, Murphy. The model carried a basket down the runway and Cassini asked the dog what he thought of the clothes. The dog howled.

Cassini translation: "Great collection."

Glistening fabrics and daring necklines on sheer silhouettes highlighted the Wilson Pompadour collection for Edward Abbott.

"A group of short black dinner dresses—in crepe, matelée, jersey and sheer wools, bared the backs in a deep U-shape all the way to the waist. The fronts, in some instances were slit nearly to the waist."

COWBOYS NIP ELECTS, RETAIN LOOP LEAD

Stouder Strikes Out 13 Men in Posting 2-1 Win; Game Set at 2 p.m. Today

The Magic Valley Cowboys coupled a pair of unearned runs with the pitching of righthander Jim Stouder Saturday night to nip the Great Falls Electric 2-1 and maintain their Pioneer league lead. Stouder, after surviving a shaky start settled down in the rain-punctured night in the final six innings and set down 13 Great Falls batters on strikes. Jim Couch and Hank Allen performed the hitting heroics to score the two runs off pitcher Dale Williams, who pitched well and deserved a better fate.

The two teams will meet again at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Great Falls welcomed Stouder in rough fashion in the first two innings before the nervous righthander got back on his game. He received solid support from his teammates, who turned in errorless ball and three double plays to snuff out the beginnings of Great Falls threats. Stouder started one of the double plays himself in the second inning that erased the best Electric threat of the night.

Pret Adolfo Phillips contributed greatly to the victory as he turned on his speed in left field to haul down apparent extra base hits.

The game opened with Great Falls on top as the second batter, Darrell Griffith, sliced a wrongfield triple to leftfield that Phillips couldn't quite catch up with. It bounced off the tip of his glove. Then Jim Livezey flied a sharp single in left to send Griffith home.

In the second inning, Clarence Jones led off with a double and Fred Lawton followed with a single to put runners on first and third with no outs. Williams lined a shot back through the hole that Stouder caught in the web of his glove. He threw to first to double up Livezey and Griffith and ended the frame with a long fly. From that point on Stouder held Great Falls in hand.

The Cowboys had to have help to get to Williams' pitching and they got it in the fourth. Bubba Wenslow led off with a high pop fly and was safe when the ball somehow popped out of Griffith's glove.

ISC Coach Is In Favor of New League

POGATELLO, June 2 (AP)—Idaho State college basketball coach Johnny Evans said he would prefer the term "conference" to a conference which would include all sports, but was definitely interested in one which would consist of basketball only. It was the only way to get things moving toward a new league.

Evans made his statements after receiving word ISC athletic director Johnny Vester had met in Coeur d'Alene with officials of Portland State, Portland, Oregon, Seattle, Idaho and Weber college concerning formation of a new league among the six schools for NCAA recognition.

"The winner of such a conference would stand a good chance of getting an automatic bid to the NCAA playoffs each spring," said Evans.

"I believe a conference would be a healthy situation, much better than playing at the mercy of an independent."

Colorado State Tops Falcons to Cop NCAA Berth

OREELEY, Colo., June 2 (AP)—Colorado State college pushed across two runs in the 11th inning today to defeat the Air Force academy, 6-5, for the NCAA district seven baseball championship and its 12th berth in the college world series.

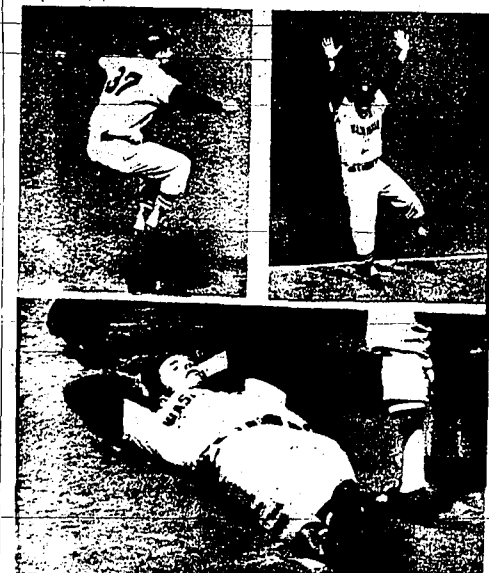

The loss was a heartbreaker for the Falcons, who sustained their only previous loss in the double elimination tournament to defending champion CSC in the first round yesterday and snapped back to eliminate Brigham Young university and New Mexico.

The championship game was tied, 4-4, after nine innings, then was interrupted for 20 minutes by a rainstorm. After a scoreless 10th, the Falcons took the lead in the 11th when Bear Shortop II sprang a tumbled Willie Perna's grounder and let Darrel Bloodworth score from second.

In the bottom of the 11th, Joe Bonaguita walked and scored on Cary Harper's triple to right centerfield. Kim Spence brought Harper home with a single.

ON THE TIP OF THE club a golf ball sets a serious study from Cary Middlehoff during action in the Memphis open golf tournament Saturday. However, the ball bounces to Don Wilson. Middlehoff's tee shot between the cup and the ball kept the San Diego pro from getting a birdie. (AP Wirephoto)

11 Americans Advance in French Open

CHARENTI, France, June 2 (AP)—Pete Dreyfus, Neidville, N.C., and Fletcher Jones, North Hollywood, Calif., led a strong American contingent in the second round of the French amateur golf championship today.

Jones, tipped as the man to watch in this tournament, overcame Leslie Evans of Britain 8 and 6.

Brady, who took second place in the Swiss amateur championship last week, eliminated Michel Gontard of France 5 and 4. Brady said, "It was like under-par for 10 holes we played, and I was putting exceptionally well for me. I didn't miss a putt the way around, that is, any putt that I thought I should make."

Bob Falkenberg, an American transplanted to Brazil and a former Wimbledon tennis champion, advanced with a 2 and 1 victory over Guy d'Armenas of France. Falkenberg defeated Dreyfus in the final of the Swiss championship.

Many of the American players competing here stopped off for a final tune-up before going to the British amateur championship, which opens June 11.

The French tournament is being played over the 6,800-yard par-72 Chantilly course, generally considered France's best.

Scotchball Handicap Win

INOLEWOOD, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Winnony, scoring his third straight sixes victory at a spring distance, won the $2500 Hollywood Handicap in a battle of speed horses at Hollywood park today.

Harrington Nips Scott on Split Decision

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Stan Harrington, Honolulu welterweight, recovered from a fifth-round knockdown tonight and hammered out an upset split 10-9 decision over the challenger of Philadelphia in their television fight at Madison square garden.

Twenty-eight-year-old Harrington, floored for the first time in his career, barely retained his feet at the count of 10 but rallied quickly and was throwing punches at Scott in the Philadelphia corner after he belted the fifth round.

Harrington, weighing 148½ pounds, is Scott's 148½-pounder in a referee and one of the judges on a rounds back, referee Barney Pell favored the fight. Harrington, 5-1-1, and judge Bill Reuch agreed, 6-2-2. Former judge Tony Reel had Scott ahead, 5-4-1.

United Press International had Harrington winning, 5-2-2, and a well-known American boxing magazine favored Harrington, 10-1.

It was a heartening triumph for Harrington, father of six, because in his only previous battle outside of Honolulu — in the same garden on Jan. 7, 1960 — he lost a decision to Mexican Cesar Ortega. He thought the verdict that night was unjust, and a press poll supported his contention 9-4-1.

Accordingly, Harrington was delighted to accept tonight's fight as a substitute for Jorge Fernandez of Argentina, who had to remain in Buenos Aires because of his ailing wife. Matchmaker Teddy Brenner finally convinced Stan he would get a fight in New York this time.

After Harrington's victory tonight, Brenner said, "I'll try to match Harrington and Fernandez at the garden on July 16."

Winnony Takes Handicap Win

INOLEWOOD, Calif., June 2 (AP)—Winnony, scoring his third straight sixes victory at a spring distance, won the $2500 Hollywood Handicap in a battle of speed horses at Hollywood park today.

Seattle Delays Action on Loop

SEATTLE, June 2 (AP)—Seattle university will take no action on a proposed basketball league, Eddie O'Brien, athletic director, announced today.

O'Brien said he will submit a report on the proposed league to the Seattle university board but that it will not meet until next September.

Other schools involved in the proposed league are Idaho, Gonzaga, Graceland, Pacific Lutheran, State, Weber and Portland State.

O'Brien has just returned from a meeting with heads from those schools at Huxton Lake. Huxton, he said, had six of the schools favor the new league but the athletic directors will meet again in October.

Three Homeruns Carry Detroit Past Cleveland

The Detroit Tigers blasted three homers and got sharp relief pitching from Hank Aguirre and Terry Fox Saturday for a 5-2 victory over the first-place Cleveland Indians. Charlie Maxwell, Billy Brutto and Rocky Colavito joined the seven homers as the Tigers posted their 11th victory in 14 games.

Torres Hurls Eden to Win Over Jerome

EDEN, June 2—Julian Torres beat the Jerome Legion post to two hits and five runs Saturday night to win a 2-2 victory last night.

Eden's win was made easier by 18 outs given up by pitcher Jan Hamler. The victors cracked out eight hits including home runs by Clark and Rogers.

The game was the first of the season for both clubs and marked the first time Eden has fielded an American Legion team in 10 years.

Hebert Grabs 1-Stroke Lead At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 2 (AP)—Duncan J. Hebert, veteran 15-year-old, shotmaker, fired his second straight five-under par 63 today for a one-stroke lead over Gary Player at the three-quarter mark of the 19th Memphis open.

Hebert's brother, Lionel, played the low round of the day with a scintillating 64. His 29 on the 18th hole followed a 35 on the 17th, and a one-over-par 35 on the front nine, to give him third place at 200.

Young Bruce Crumpton, Sidney, Australia, who shot the lowest round of the tourney with the 64, was in a three-way tie for fourth place at 201 with national champion Gene Lee and Tommy Jacobs of Tulsa, Okla.

Arnold Palmer, golf's leading money winner this year, started his fourth round with a four-under-par 66 which included one eagle, five birdies and one double-bogey.

The Pennsylvania musician turned golfer finished with a 70 to tie for 10th place.

Tournament officials estimated the crowd at 12,500—the largest gallery ever to witness a day's play in the five-year history of the Memphis event.

Cicada Takes Mother Goose Stakes Win

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Meadow stable's Cicada, champion 2-year-old filly of last season, captured the second race of the triple crown for fillies today at Belmont park. She led off the way and scored a one-length victory in the $66,175 Mother Goose stakes.

Willie Shoemaker rode the bay daughter of Bryan O'Salsburg by Bossuet and he only had to stir her up a bit near the finish when E. Barry Ryan's Firm Pony proved to be closing in the final one-eighth of a mile.

Firm Pony took second money by four lengths over Harbor View, Yarns Royal Pacific in the field of six 2-year-old fillies. Flaming Day and Lincoln Center had been scratched earlier.

The winner carried her sixth victory in eight races this year, including the Acorn at Aqueduct May 19, the first of New York's triple for sophomore fillies. If Cicada can add the $100,000 Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont June 23, she will become the first to score that grand slam.

She was also first to flower when the Acorn and the Coaching Club title was upset by front-running in the Mother Goose.

The winner was timed in 1 minute, 50 seconds for the 1 1/2-mile race and those in the crowd of 37,000 who established her odds-on favorite received $3.70, $2.50 and $1.50.

Giants Regain National League Lead, Dropping Mets Twice

By The Associated Press
Hurvey Kuenn's two-run homer in the eighth enabled the San Francisco Giants to complete a doubleheader sweep over the last-place New York Mets with a 6-2 second game victory after the Giants to regain unopposed possession of the National League lead while the Mets' losing streak was stretched to 14 games.

Willie Mays hit his 18th home run of the season in the eighth, each with a man on base in the first game while Jack Sanford subdued the Mets with seven hits and an attempted double play in which Elio Chacón came all the way from second with the winning run.

Craig Anderson, who replaced Yusef Brad Miller in the third, had the Giants win control for four innings while he walked Chuck Miller leading off the eighth. Don Hall, who hit a two-run homer in the second inning, fouled out and pinch hitter Ed Bailey forced Hester St. Miller ran for Bailey and rode home on Kuenn's second homer of the night.

The Milwaukee Braves packed all their scoring into the first inning and veteran southpaw Warren Spahn breezed to his 20th victory in a 4-1 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 41-year-old Spanier scattered six hits, struck out five and walked only one in handling the Braves' home line in Elmsford, N. Y., was to have qualified in the New York area. Because of his 20th victory, he was exempt from the local qualifying race on the 15th.

Pinchhitter Wally Poff's two-run homer with two out in the ninth gave the Cincinnati Reds their 14th victory over the Chicago Cubs.

The Reds held runners on base in the eighth and ninth innings, blanketed the winning rally on Mandy Roukoff's third hit, but one single after Frank Robinson was retired for the second out, Jerry Lynch doubled for a ninth-inning rally.

Roberto Clemente slammed his fifth home of the year in the eighth at Pittsburgh with two men aboard, recording his 10th career home run.

Pirate Dick Stuard got his 10th hit with a man on base for the Dodgers, who dropped to 10th in the year for Houston with the bases empty in the bottom.

Law went the distance, giving up 10 hits, striking out seven and walking none.

The Los Angeles Dodgers' 13th home run in the game was ended abruptly by Dennis Bentz, a 22-year-old rookie southpaw who bunted Philadelphia's Phillips to an easy 1-0 victory.

Bentz allowed only four hits and struck out five in his first National League start before 12,414 spectators.

Wismer Claims American Football Loop Will Field Four New Teams by 1963

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP)—Owner Harry Wismer of the New York Titans said today the American Football league will mushroom from its present eight teams to 12 by 1963 and that the expansion will not include Washington, D.C., because of the rival National League.

Washington Redskins, Wismer, a member of the AFL expansion committee, said the new cities in addition to the nation's capital will include Atlanta.

His announcement came on the heels of a federal judge's recent ruling in Baltimore that all territories and Wismer hinted the rival NFL shouldn't bat an eyelid "now when we move into Washington, D.C. and Atlanta."

The ruling by U.S. District Judge Robert C. Thomas came after the AFL sought $10,000,000 in damages for the NFL's expansion into Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul. Judge Thomas ruled the NFL didn't have a monopoly power to restrict competition and thus owed the AFL nothing.

The judge also held the AFL was not entitled to relief on the question of whether the NFL had conspired against the junior professional league by granting franchises in Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul to increase from 12 to 14 members.

At present, both leagues operate in only two cities—New York and Dallas. Other AFL cities now are Denver, Buffalo, Boston, Houston, San Diego and Oakland.

Originally, the AFL planned about 100 franchises in 1950 with clubs in Dallas and Minneapolis-St. Paul. However, Minnesota backers pulled out when the NFL offered its franchise there.

Teams in the NFL are Green Bay, Wis.; New York, N.Y.; Baltimore Colts, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, Washington, Baltimore, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Dallas, Pittsburgh, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Turnesa and Hogan Won't Play in Open

PORT WORTH, Tex., June 2 (AP)—Four-time U.S. Open champion Turnesa and two-time major golf winner Hogan won't play in the U.S. Amateur crown, withdrew yesterday.

Turnesa, 41, who won the U.S. Open in 1952, U.S. Open in 1957.

Hogan was scheduled to make his first qualifying test since 1940 at Pittsburgh Monday but reported from his hometown here that he had lost a week's structure through arthritis.

"Naturally, I'm sorry I can't play," he said. "The only year I've missed the U.S. Amateur is 1957. But these things happen. The only thing I can say is that I'll try to get back in 1963."

Hogan said he first was bothered by pains in his left shoulder in 1957. He was diagnosed as having arthritis in the left shoulder.

He said he tried to practice Thursday and decided then that his arm wouldn't allow him to compete.

"I couldn't swing," he said. "I've never had a home in Elmsford, N. Y., was to have qualified in the New York area. Because of his 20th victory, he was exempt from the local qualifying race on the 15th.

Idaho-Gonzaga Game Set for Twin Falls

The University of Idaho basketball team will return to Twin Falls this season following a three-year absence, announced J. Neil (Skip) Stahley, athletic director. The Vandals will play Gonzaga university in the Twin Falls high school gymnasium June 16 in the second game of a basketball doubleheader. The Twin Falls Bruins will host the Idaho Falls Bruins in a southern Idaho conference opener.

While lining up the game earlier this year, Idaho coach E. Captains stated they will be very happy to return to southern Idaho. The school has many good players on its roster. Stahley said he believes they should get the chance to play in an arena play as often as possible. He hopes to be able to keep Twin Falls on its schedule on a person and annual basis as it was two years ago.

After enjoying several successful games in Twin Falls, usually playing the Utah State Aggies, the university was forced to curtail the practice schedule to permit a general big holiday tournament in Portland, Ore. This year, the Vandals also appeared in Twin Falls during the Christmas school vacation.

Idaho will play Idaho State at Timblee the night before, doubling the trip to accomplish two goals.

This will mark the first basketball game for the Twin Falls team in the local gymnasium.

Because so much of our schedule and their, it had been before, it was nearly impossible to come up with a schedule for the local gymnasium. Twin Falls athletic director said the fans in this area get excited over both sides of the game when they are being good ones.

Idaho will play Idaho State at Timblee the night before, doubling the trip to accomplish two goals.

Burley Man Urges Unity In GOP Vote

BURLEY, June 2 — James Annett wound up his campaign for the second district Republican congressional nomination Saturday with a request that all conservative Republican voters unite behind one candidate.

"The ultra-liberal candidate Orval Hansen," Annett said, "has been campaigning for this nomination for more than six months and now that he is far out in front, he hopes that the conservative Republicans will divide their votes between the other four candidates and allow him to secure the nomination by default. If the voters show this they will have little to choose from if Hansen runs against Harding in November."

"I have emphasized to a conservative Republican," Annett stated, "and I have worked hard to tell the voters exactly where I stand: I am firmly against the government taking over the distribution of electric power in Idaho but despite repeated warnings Hansen has never made a statement on this issue."

"Of the four candidates who count themselves conservative, I am the only one who has stood up to Orval Hansen and his union boss mentor Darrell Dorman. If Republicans are to have a candidate who will stand up to Darrell Harding they will need a man who is not afraid to fight, a man who will carry the fight to every city, village and farm in Idaho. I believe that my record shows that I am that man."

Friday Annett accused Idaho AFL-CIO president of "double talk."

"With one breath," Annett said, "he says that I am unacceptable to labor and with the other says that seven out of eight times in the 1955 state legislature my vote was right as far as labor is concerned. Dorman should make up his mind. What Dorman is saying," Annett said, "is that I have been fair with labor and yet I am not personally acceptable to him. Whether any union boss likes me as a candidate is not the meaning to me. I will always support any labor legislation which is fair and protects the rights of the workers if at the same time it protects the rights of the employers."

Buhl's Initial Ice Peddler Recalls Business as Being Quite Profitable

The first ice business in Buhl turned out quite well from the standpoint of profit. There was no competition and all you had to do to get ice was to saw it up and store it against the chance of a hot summer. At least that is what L. F. Wiseman recalled.

Wiseman came to Buhl in 1907. He made the trip from Walla Walla county, Washington, and especially the Buhl-Twin Falls area, was considered a good farmer but at that time the Wiseman family was one of many pulling up stakes somewhere else and moving in.

His father, Jeff Wiseman, filed out in that area and he filed "on a piece," too. But things were under the Carey act. Young Wiseman's place was five miles southeast of Buhl. He later sold the place.

L. F. WISEMAN

After helping his father for a year at Buhl he struck out on his own. He returned to Portland and married his school days sweetheart, Beatie Rice, and brought her back to Buhl.

At that time he constructed a heavy barn and sales stand under the name of the Idaho Live Stock company.

It was a horse trader," he recalls, "and also sold of hay and grain."

It was at this time that he started the ice business. The ice was secured by putting up a small dam in the Buhl city park and the water was flooded through the dam. The cold waters provided him with plenty of ice which was cut up and hauled to the ice house, packed in sawdust, and held until summer. Ice was then taken from the canal system.

Delivery in the summer was made by horse and team and aside from individual house calls, the ice also went to cafes, hotels, and other places. It was artificial refrigeration at that time and all cooling or preserving was done by ice.

In 1912 he sold the ice business and the building. He then started practicing in the buying and selling of livestock, especially horses. These he shipped out mostly to the Portland and Denver markets. He continued in this business until about World war I, when he purchased a ranch east of Rogerson and ran cattle in that country.

During the war he also engaged in the horse business and shipped in hundreds of head from the Walla Walla country. It was about that time that horses were being discarded from the farms and ranches in the Washington and Oregon areas. However, the tractor craze did not hit in the Buhl-Twin Falls area until later and most farmers here had from 50 to 100 head of horses on the place.

Although the depression and market crash did not hit general farming until 1929, it struck farmers of this area starting in about 1921, Wiseman recalls. He says that he has never heard himself boast.

"I lost everything I had excepting the will to work," Wiseman said.

At that time Swift and company had loaned sheepmen funds to buy flocks as backing and, because the sheepmen were unable to meet their notes, the company started taking over the flocks. Wiseman landed a job with Swift and took charge of the feeding of all the sheep in the Gooding area. He cared for

Funeral Is Held For Mrs. Ford

HEYBURN, June 2 — Funeral services for Mrs. Linnia Ford were held Thursday afternoon at the Heyburn-LDS chapel with Gardlund Christensen, bishop's counselor, officiating.

Family prayer was given by Elaine Anderson, invocation by Elaine Anderson and obituary reading and hunting in season. It just went to make up for all those years I was too busy making a living to enjoy the outdoors like I should have," he said.

"When I retired," Wiseman recalls, "it could not be called real retirement. Actually I just slowed down a little."

At 77, Wiseman is still active and his work has turned into history of the area.

He is an active member and co-program chairman of the Twin Falls County Historical society. He is a former member of Rotary.

One of his happiest associations has been as a member of Masonic groups.

Later this month he will be honored by members of the Buhl lodge 53, AF and AM, when he is given a 50-year membership pin. He is also one of the few holding memberships in both Buhl and Twin Falls units. He is a charter member of the Twin Falls Keweenaw lodge No. 94. He is also a member of the York file in Twin Falls and the El Korah Shrine in Boise.

The Wisemans have two sons. Howard resides in Twin Falls and Claude lives in Salt Lake City. A daughter, Mrs. Clyde (Ruth) Koenig, died in 1958.

Lifetime Hobby for Local Woman May Turn Into Profitable Sideline Work

Making a lifelong hobby turn into a profitable one is being accomplished by Mrs. Herb Deagle, Greenwood drive.

"The hobby is—making dolls on order. It all started years ago. At first I started to make dolls for my two little girls at home. Mrs. Deagle's mother used to make all the dolls for the three sisters. As a result it was only natural that all three sisters learned to sew and have carried the work with them into later life. Recently she placed a classified ad in the Times-News for help on doll clothes. Business is doing up. In fact, one of her orders was not for a doll dress but for a dancing costume for a girl who was stated to appear in a revue.

"It was more than I bargained for," Mrs. Deagle said, "but it turned out fine and the work is very pleasant."

It was not the first time the doll dress maker had experience with items other than miniature dresses. Although she is mother of two sons, and has no daughter to sew for, she keeps in practice by making shifts and pajamas for the boys. She also makes the shifts her husband wears. He is

Barber Plans Opening Day Fishing Trip

So he came to Twin Falls in 1939 and has resided here with his family since that time.

Has bartering changed? One thing has, he says. Shavers are practically a thing of the past. Four or five a week is a big run nowadays.

And the hours. In the "old days" the average shop was open nearly 70 hours a week.

Until three years ago the barbers of Idaho stayed open at least 60 hours but with the Monday closing this time has been cut to 55. Actually it goes over a little now and then when customers get in just before closing time.

So even with a five-day week the barbers are still open longer than most regular retail stores, and work at least 10 hours a week longer than the 40-hour group.

So Green opens that he has actually carried the fight to get fishing Monday—one way or another.

to the various places where his auctioneer's chant is needed.

At many of the rodeos and fairs one might run across a booth labeled "Messersmith Auctioneering Service." This service consists of a chuck wagon trailer, load speakers, portable loading chute and the other items the auctioneer might need and use. The service is operated in conjunction with John Wert, Wendell, and Irvin Eilers, Gemsbury, both auctioneers.

If one should run across this display at a fair, chances are you couldn't buy anything. The booth is displayed just so cattlemen, buyers, sellers and interested people can sit on a bale of hay and pass the time of day.

The various items on the many ventures in which Jim Messersmith is interested provide pleasant changes of pace. They keep him busy but not too busy for his wife, Judith, his son, Jack, and daughter, Janet.

"They like life on the farm and when daddy gets up in the morning it could be fun guessing what he will wear today—auctioneer, salesman, teacher, or farmer."

THREE IN ONE blossom is displayed by Mrs. Jack Sears. The annual tulip blossom was grown by Mrs. Frank Morris, 1423 Fifth avenue east. Two of the blossoms are in full bloom and the third is ready to bloom. Another feature about the plant is each tulip has a double row of petals around the blossom. (Times-News photo)

Local Resident Grows Three Stemmed Flowers

Another nature and the good green earth sometimes combine to pull strange pranks on the citizens who inhabit this planet. And as a rule it happens to people who least expect it.

Take for example Mrs. Frank Morris, 1423 Fifth avenue east. Mrs. Morris has been raising flowers for years and has been growing them in her present home for five years.

This spring while checking some of her tulips Mrs. Morris noticed that one of her tulips actually was three tulips. It had three stems on one root. In addition to having a three-in-one plant the bulbs of the tulips have a double row of petals.

Mrs. Morris mentioned this curiosity to some of her neighbors and they began checking the rest of Mrs. Morris' tulips.

They discovered that Mrs. Morris had other tulips with double rows of petals.

As to why this happened and if there was any explanation for it Mrs. Morris was at a loss for one. She followed the same procedure in planting this year's crop of flowers as she did in the past.

Perhaps Mrs. Morris was destined to be a potential candidate for Ripley's "Believe It or Not." One thing for sure, she'll be checking next year to see if she is raising regular tulips or double petal ones.

Elimination of Trash Fish in Rivers Of Idaho Goal of University Study

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, June 2—The nemesis of fish rehabilitation—the fact that worthless fish pollute streams with scrap fish when an area is polluted—will be a thing of the past if a University of Idaho experiment is successful.

The U.S. fish and wildlife service, bureau of commercial fisheries, has presented a $15,000 grant to the university to support the research under the direction of Dr. Craig MacPhee, associate professor of fishery management.

Usual methods of ridding waterways of scrap fish is to add poison or toxic water to kill the fish in the area, which is later replanted with desirable species. Dr. MacPhee's idea may end the loss of worthwhile fish and still spell an end to scrap varieties.

LOSS OF WORTHWHILE FISH may be a thing of the past during trash fish elimination if a project of the University of Idaho is successful. Dr. Craig MacPhee is shown examining nets which will be used in a new program.

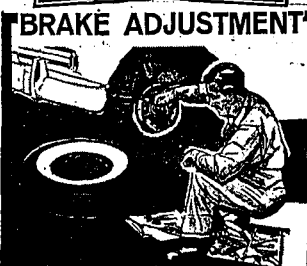

"Fish spawn at different times of the year," said Dr. MacPhee. "Trash fish spawn at different times than trout, by adding toxin to the water to kill the sperm of the scrap fish during spawning time, the species will eventually die out in the area."

The idea was mentioned to the fish and wildlife service, and the result is the $15,000 grant to support the experiments for a year. Certain scrap fish are a factor in the salmon and trout populations because they eat the young fry and are competitors for food.

Toxins will be tested on fish in special stands at a field station on the St. Joe river. Later, the effects of temperature on the performance of fish sperm toxins will be conducted in the small animals laboratory on the campus.

The experiment will be conducted in three parts. First, the effect of toxins on scrap fish sperm will be determined; second, the maximum and minimum amounts of toxin which will do the job and not harm desirable ones applied a surplus of cheap labor and made it possible for Hong Kong products to undercut competing nations on the world market.

A refugee who reached Hong Kong in midweek said a communist guard ignored him as he waded the Shumshun border river and crawled under Hong Kong's boundary fence.

"The word went all through our village that the guards would not try to stop us—and they did not," he escaped, 23, told relatives, who passed the story on to newsmen. He said he did not know who brought the report to his village. He said he had spent several days with would-be refugees from other villages and they all had gotten similar reports. He said he and the others had no idea why the communist authorities were allowing them to cross freely.

The question also puzzled western diplomats trying to assess the communist motives. A number believe that the reds say people, goods, both at home and overseas, in letting hungry people batter at Hong Kong's door and then be refused admittance. They pointed out that there was no red border relaxation until after Hong Kong publicly announced in mid-April it was going to end all overseas trade. Some believe the communists saw a good opportunity to embarrass Hong Kong and the free world and at the same time dim the beacon of hope which Hong Kong has always been for mainland Chinese in time of trouble.

Refugees in China Prove Big Problem

By FORREST EDWARDS

HONG KONG, June 2 (AP)—The little diesel switch engine and its string of 10 passenger road-coaches made the two-and-one-half mile trip six times today.

At the end of the line the passengers got out and trudged toward a wood-planked bridge that had a guardhouse. Fifty yellow starred red flag at the end, Hong Kong sent 6,000 refugees back to their own land. Somewhere among them was a middle-aged Chinese peasant woman who when caught by Hong Kong border police pistol was shot before, had bitterly begged, "You are sending us back to starve."

Hunger now and fear of famine have sent upwards of 80,000 fleeing across Hong Kong's 22-mile-long border since May 1. They forded rivers, climbed rock walls and tore down fences, crawled under barbed wire. They crossed in tens and threes and by hundreds in mass waves of 500 to 1,000 at a time.

Some 55,000 were rounded up by police and soldiers and sent back by a Hong Kong government that had absorbed nearly a million in the past 14 years and has no room, facilities or money to absorb more.

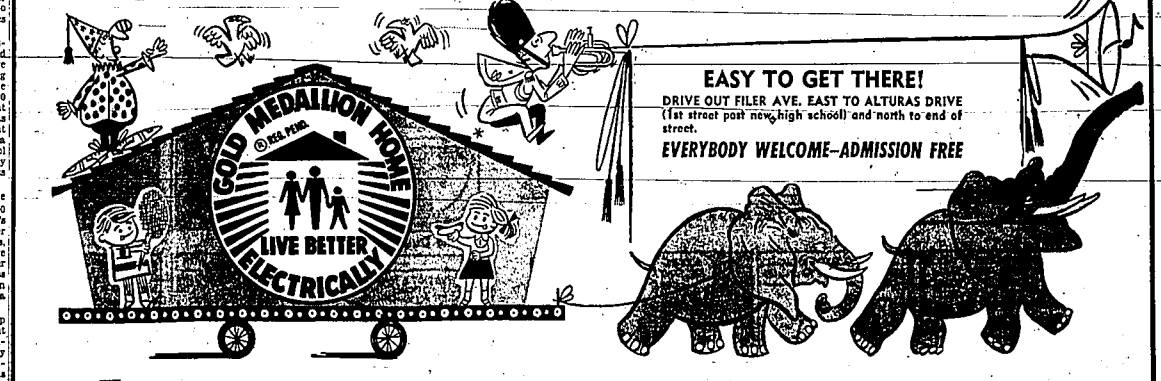

Some 8,000 to 10,000 were believed to have escaped the hell-brother-quieted border and a host of scavengers among Hong Kong's million and one-half million people. Some will find jobs but most are unskilled peasant farmers who will become a further burden on Hong Kong, which spends 10 percent of its total budget in relief and will spend 35 percent next year on housing, health, education, welfare facilities and relief for refugees already here.

In the past six years Hong Kong has built 11 huge residential projects and moved 400,000 refugees into modern ferro-concrete apartments. The refugees, however, has not been entirely absorbed. Hong Kong owes part of its postwar industrial growth to the political refugees who fled the communist takeover of the mainland.

The rich ones brought capital which they sank into new businesses and factories. The poor

Jerome Sets 5-Mill Levy

Vote Aug. 14

JEROME, June 2—Jerome residents will vote on a five-mill school levy Aug. 14. Two thirds majority is necessary to pass the levy. The five mills will raise approximately $40,000 a year. Superintendent Ernest Schaefer said that this money is urgently needed.

Schaefer points out that for the last several years the district has lost approximately $200,000 a year "has been taken from the maintenance fund and been put into a fund called capital fund. This fund is used to purchase new equipment and permanent fixtures."

Recently a group of Jerome residents started the school building and studied the needs of the district. This group recommended that a levy be initiated for the next 10 years.

The $40,000 would be used for equipment for both students and teachers. Schaefer said that the equipment would be used to conduct a program of maintenance and point out the equipment needed in the schools. Schaefer said that if any money is lost this year, the school district would be put in a reserve for future building.

Schaefer said that both Pleasant Plains and Lincoln schools are not in good shape. He said the floors in Lincoln are in rough condition and the school is being used to replace in an old building.

The school board has partially completed repairs to the school buildings in this district. The board voted to call the special election on Aug. 14 to vote on the school levy. The board also approved a budget of $475,249 for the new school year starting on Sept. 1, 1962.

Judge Candidate Speaks in Buhl

BUHL, June 2—Lloyd J. Webb, Jr., candidate for district judge, spoke on the subject "The Law's Relationship to the Buhl Community" at the Buhl Rotary club Thursday.

He outlined the development of the system of law through the centuries and the importance of law, explaining the fact that law today plays an increasingly important role in the lives of all citizens.

The speaker also discussed the evolution of the common law and the importance of the courts in the evolution of the law.

Webb noted the delay inherent in lawsuits and the recent procedural steps taken to reduce that delay. He also discussed the importance of cases in and out of court, including the new Idaho rules of civil procedure.

Webb discussed a new discussion of the need for additional streamlining of legal process and the importance of the courts in the evolution of the law.

STRICKER STORE MARKER at junction of highway 30 and Claborn corner, east of Kimberly, is slipped into place on a concrete foundation. Present at the time, from the left, were Murrel E. Blandberry, Mrs. J. H. Bingham, first vice president of Twin Falls county chapter Daughters of Utah Pioneers; Mrs. C. L. Luke, chairman of the marker committee of the same group; I. T. (Petie) Creed, vice president of the Twin Falls County Historical society, and two Idaho Power company employees who aided in setting the marker. Mrs. Bingham displays a temporary copy of the lettering which will be placed on the marker, directing people to the old store and reconstructed stone cellars, now owned by the DUP organization. For many years the store has served the people of Rock Creek. (Times-News photo)

Two historic markers have been placed in time for beneficial use during the coming tourist season through cooperation of the Twin Falls County Historical society and the Twin Falls county chapter, Daughters of Utah Pioneers. I. T. (Petie) Creed, vice president of the historical society, supervised installation of both units. One marker, a granite shaft which formerly marked the Oregon Trail site south of Twin Falls, was moved to the new parking area being prepared for tourists on highway 30 west of the city never the Seventh-day Adventist church. This is some distance from the actual trail and historic Stricker store can be reached by traveling five miles south and one east from that point. HISTORIC OLD STRICKER STORE is covered with a false galvanized roof in an effort to preserve it. Constructed in 1863 and purchased by Herman Stricker in 1876, it was the first trading post west of Fort Hall on the Oregon Trail. I. T. (Petie) Creed, Mrs. C. L. Luke, center, and Mrs. J. H. MORE Than Power

COMES FROM THESE LINES

They Produce Needed Tax Revenues

In facing up squarely to the financial problems of state and local government, as well as to those of public education, Idaho taxpayers have come to realize the importance of tax revenues from investor-owned business like Idaho Power Company. Without those tax revenues, the direct tax on individuals would necessarily be increased in very substantial amount — or taxing districts would face a critical dilemma.

There is no halo attached to the taxpaying process. It is simply and unavoidably a cost of doing business which in the case of Idaho Power represents about 30 cents of each dollar received from power consumers. It is our largest single item of expense, and amounted to $12,200,000 for the year 1961, with the larger share going to Idaho. Obviously, it is also the largest component of electric rates which are still a third below the national average.

Like other taxpayers, Idaho Power would welcome a tax reduction which could be passed along to the benefit of consumers, but this is not likely. The hard fact remains that tax revenues from businesses like ours are needed by government and by schools.

This being the case, advocates of tax-free federal power for Idaho, including those who seek to escape their proper share of the tax burden, do a genuine disservice to the state and to its various branches of government.

All taxpaying enterprises, including ours, merit public understanding of the role they play in the tax support of needed public services. Elimination of this role spells complete change in the economic system upon which American government and public institutions rely.

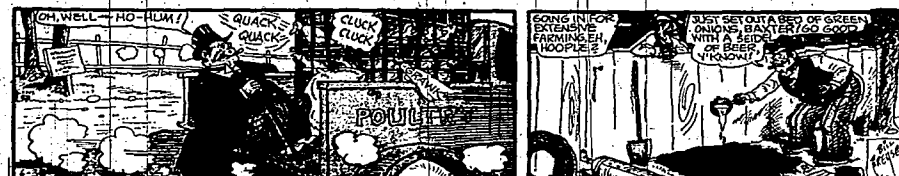

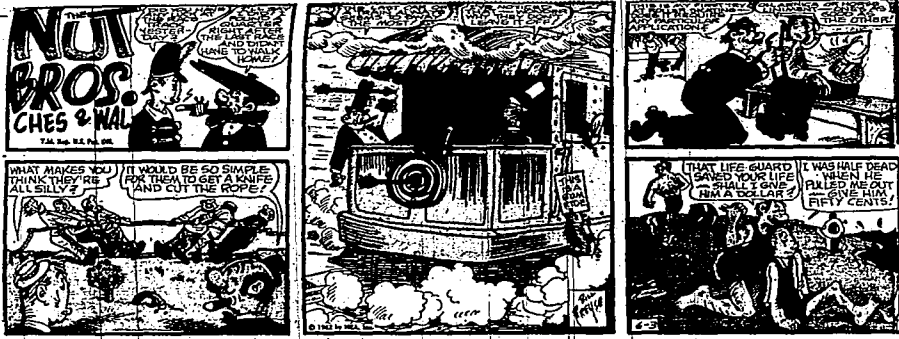

Did You Know?

There are 4,237 Idaho owners of Idaho Power Company, and they hold corporate voting power exceeding that of Company shareholders in any other state.

Few other business enterprises approach the widespread local-ownership Idaho people have in Idaho Power Company. In addition to the more than 4,000 direct owners, there are the thousands of indirect owners represented by insurance company policies, employee pension trust funds and other institutional investments.

Directly or indirectly, you and your family are likely to be part owners of Idaho Power Company.
