The slow moving upper level pressure center is continuing its eastward track into Alberta with a surface reflection located in the western Dakotas. The air pushed ahead of this weather system was quite warm as evidenced by yesterday's readings. The air that is being brought into our region behind the recent weak disturbance is cooler and will bring temperature down to the upper 60s and lower 70s today and tomorrow. The air continues to dry with only a light shower present to allow a few fair weather clouds to develop during the afternoon hours during the evenings.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS
The low pressure system which moved through southern Idaho yesterday is now centered in South Dakota and is being pushed westward by a high pressure system over the Pacific. It is producing fair, clear, and cool weather through Saturday in the agricultural valleys of Idaho and southern Idaho and northern and central Oregon in the western valleys. However, scattered showers and thunderstorms were reported over the mountainous and high valley areas. Maximum temperatures to be lower today. Maximum readings are expected in the upper 70s and lower 80s in the agricultural valleys. The eastern valleys of Idaho, afternoon temperatures will be near normal. No important changes in precipitation is expected on Saturday. There will be a light rain Sunday.

OFFICIAL CITY AND COUNTY NEWSPAPER

WASHINGTON—July 6—President Kennedy has sharply blamed a "rightist foreign policy" for the lack of progress in the Vietnam conflict.

Jack O'Connell, a former foreign policy adviser to President Eisenhower, is the latest to charge that the administration's foreign policy is "rightist."

O'Connell, who was fired by President Eisenhower in 1954, said that the country's foreign policy is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

President Kennedy specifically the two administrations' role in the current foreign policy situation. He pointed out that this country's foreign policy is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

O'Connell said that the danger of this policy is that it would lead to the loss of world peace. He said that the great hope of our first professional military chief executive since World War I.

In forthcoming campaign debates, when Republican candidates and conservative Democrats attack Kennedy's attitude of restraint, an associate Minority Leader Dirksen has said that President Kennedy will die of a heart attack because of the underlying purpose and objective of American foreign policy.

DIRKSEN SUSPICIOUS—Senator Dirksen has been an outspoken critic of the position paper prepared by Walt W. Rostow, director of the foreign policy planning committee. Senator Dirksen, who faces reelection in the senate in the state of Illinois, suspects that Rostow is a "rightist" because of his attitude toward Russia on the ground that Nikita Khrushchev is "mellowing."

Dirksen said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

Dirksen said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

BIBENHORN PARALLELS—NATO has been attacked by President Kennedy. He dispatched additional troops when the East German communists began to build their "dividing wall" in Berlin. He said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

HARMING THE HONG KONG REFUGEE

While with one hand the administration acts to help Hong Kong refugees from Communist China, with the other it enacts legislation that lessens the colony's ability to provide them with the necessities of life.

Still pending before the tariff commission is a proposal by the department of agriculture that the United States raise the customs duty on the Hong Kong textile products to 10 percent.

The 10 percent duty would be intended to offset the 45 percent subsidy the government now pays to the Hong Kong textile industry to help it compete in the world market with cotton grown in other countries. It is this export subsidy that has made Hong Kong a textile center.

The duty that is out in the first instance to be repealed.

Dirksen said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

INTEGRATION IN ATLANTA

The Catholic archbishop of Atlanta, the Most Rev. James H. Hines, has said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

Dirksen said that the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

IT'S HARD ON HIM

So far as a good number of his baseball fans are concerned, the "rightist" attitude of the Kennedy administration is "rightist" because it is based on a "policy of appeasement."

He'll Live Forever

Several years ago when Sir Winston Churchill was critically ill, news services distributed "preparation" material, meaning that Sir Winston was given a great deal of whisky, brandy, and it wasn't long until he was sitting up in bed smoking cigars against doctors' orders and demanding brandy.

Now Sir Winston is back in bed, but this time at the age of 87, after fracturing his thigh in a tumble at Monte Carlo hotel while smoking whisky, brandy, and it wasn't long until he was sitting up in bed smoking cigars against doctors' orders and demanding brandy.

Now Sir Winston is back in bed, but this time at the age of 87, after fracturing his thigh in a tumble at Monte Carlo hotel while smoking whisky, brandy, and it wasn't long until he was sitting up in bed smoking cigars against doctors' orders and demanding brandy.

Enforced idleness isn't designed to improve the temper of a man like Churchill. Given enough cigars and brandy, he may come to some sort of truce with his fractured leg, doctors and nurses, but the truce will be on his terms.

The forces of temperance could never condone Sir Winston's personal habits, but the fighting whisky-drinking old man may have a special place in the hearts of his countrymen. Indeed, he is something of a world symbol of courage, spirit and the bulldog determination of the English.

It's difficult to picture Sir Winston Churchill smoking and drinking in bed. It has to be a temporary situation.

Whatever circumstances eventually remove him from the face of the world, the spirit of Sir Winston Churchill will live forever. Nothing can wipe out the picture of Sir Winston with his big, black cigar and two fingers raised in the form of a V for victory.

NO PLACE TO GAMBLE

Two Nampa men were killed when their light plane crashed into a mountain in the Primitive area some 50 miles west of Salmon. They weren't the first such victims and they won't be the last.

The air route is the easiest means of access to the rough region and many of the fishermen who winter here on an envious glance upward at a passing plane. Yet the roughness of the country, the very reason that prompts air access, also can trap the unwary or imprudent flier.

A half dozen or more airstrips dot the general area where the Nampa-men were killed. The airstrips are not accessible, fishing near some of the airstrips is far better than anything that can be reached by auto and hunters have told how planes must buzz airstrips in the fall to frighten deer from the area.

Under these circumstances, air travel into the Primitive area is going to continue. The Idaho department of aeronautics is well aware of the heavy use made of the isolated landing fields, hence lists "Do's and Don'ts on Mountain Flying" on the back of the state aeronautical license. The license includes the clear warning, "You cannot make mistakes in this territory."

Yet a forest service lookout, a retired flier with many hours in the air, looked down from an 8,500-foot station one stormy morning on a plane flying at least 3,000 feet lower in the Primitive area. The flier said, "Some darned fool has pressed his luck in every bit of bad weather we've had this summer," growled the retired pilot.

The rough Primitive area isn't the place for an inexperienced pilot or one prone to gamble on his luck.

MOST COOPERATE

When the city asked residents to refrain from sprinkling lawns while the water was drained and cleaned, most cooperated. Kenneth Leazer, city plant superintendent, thanked Twin Falls citizens for their cooperation, but noted that a few residents watered lawns anyway during the critical period.

It's that way with nearly any request; the few who are not quite willing to cooperate so long as they know what's happening. Although there's a city ordinance providing for alternate day sprinkling in summer, the law isn't actually enforced. Most residents are happy to cooperate.

Perhaps some day Twin Falls will have a water supply and distribution system that will make such requests rare. On the other hand, peak summer demand for water may require alternate day sprinkling for many years. In any event, most residents will continue to cooperate.

NOT HEREDITARY

Today's youngsters aren't particularly noted for their spelling, but our office made a startling discovery when it came to figuring out something. Some of them aren't even much good at elementary mathematics.

The chess involved some rather beginning multiplication and so it was turned over to the summer help, some high school youngsters. The multiplying fact the lot of one who will be in a senior next year and it was discovered quite soon that the task was beyond ability of the youngsters.

This one happened to be the offspring of a certified public accountant.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

DETROIT, July 6—The real important news here in Detroit is not that the city's military buildup or the trade bill of the supreme court's latest decision. It is the fact that auto mobile sales held steady for the first 10 days in June and seem likely to remain higher for the last 10 days of the month.

The gratings on the new Mustangs market seem to have had no effect on the intentions of prospective buyers. This will still be widely believed, be the second best year in automobile history, with production close to seven million units. This banner year was 1955 when the total was 7,920,186.

The total sales for the entire country since the auto industry with all its satellite, including the huge expenditures in highway construction, add up to possibly 15 percent of the economy. Yet, for all the confidence in continued production through 1962, there is considerable nervousness in the auto community for the long run.

Talks with more than 30 leaders in industry, the unions and government set up this conclusion: The time to set a new labor contract for any worker should be to express in public what they say in private, if only in reference to the political effort to force responsibility on a balanced budget, the prescription can be added up as follows:

(1) An immediate across-the-board tax cut for individuals and corporations. If the Kennedy administration waits for 1963 to announce a tax cut, the resultant hassle over where and how the reform should be applied will be certain to delay action well into next year. The cut would increase the national deficit, but that would be a further spur to business activity.

(2) The announcement at the earliest possible moment of a full-scale depreciation-savings investment plan and equipment, depreciation schedules should be set up to encourage the purchase of new equipment. The depreciation schedule could not be counted on to resolve the dilemma of high unemployment in the auto industry. The reasons for persistent hard-

Bankruptcy Hearing Held For Rooney

LOS ANGELES, July 6 (UPI)—James Rooney, who earned an estimated 12 million dollars in his rambunctious movie career, appeared at a bankruptcy hearing yesterday claiming he has only $500 in assets to pay off $49,914 in debts.

Despite his financial predicament, Rooney said he lived in a $200 home in Encino and had no servants for him and his family.

Rooney, 39, who starred in the Academy Hardy series and many other films, said he was bankrupted by Joseph Ruffalo in federal income taxes, $23,000 in back salary to three of his four previous wives, and $2,000 horse racing losses.

The graying and balding actor said in 1960 a corporation named Barbro Enterprises Productions, Inc., was formed by four attorneys to further his career and catch up with some of his debts. He said the corporation purchased his home, where he lives with his fifth wife and children, and pays him $1,000 a week, as well as providing for the servants.

Rooney said he was attempting to sell his life story for $75,000. He said he discussed the sale with one interested publisher

News Around Idaho

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—Two-year technical courses in Idaho enrolled 320 students in 1961-62, State Vocational Education Director George E. Denman said Thursday. Denman said technical education in Idaho has made "significant" forward strides since passage of the federal national defense education act of 1958. The courses were offered at Boise Junior college, North Idaho college at Coeur d'Alene and the trade and technical school at Idaho State college.

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—Mrs. L. R. Swamer, Boise, left Thursday for Bangkok, Thailand, where he will serve for several weeks as an engineering consultant on irrigation projects. Swamer said he has been named "manager" for the International Bank for construction development. He will review plans for two large irrigation projects and assist the government in setting up an organization to construct and operate them. Swamer has been an irrigation engineer with the regional office of the Bureau of Reclamation here for 17 years.

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—The state board of pardons continued its quarterly session here today after refusing to grant clemency to a north Idaho man serving a life sentence on a charge of first degree murder. Wayne Harper Randall was one of six whose petitions were denied by the board Thursday. Seven were granted full pardons and two cases were continued to a later session.

MOUNTAIN HOME AIR FORCE BASE, July 4 (AP)—Col. William L. Gray, former chief of manpower and organization division at strategic air command headquarters in Omaha, Neb., has been named commander of the ninth strategic aerospace wing at the Mountain Home air force base. His successor, Col. Walter J. Lucas, commander since June, 1960, who is being sent to Washington, D.C., to attend the armed forces industrial college.

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—The internal revenue service said today it will give special examinations again in September to tax preparers who are not certified public accountants. Calvin E. Wright, internal revenue director for Idaho, said the examinations "test technical competence and ethical appreciation" of tax preparers before the internal revenue department. Information and application forms are available at the internal revenue office here, Wright added.

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—George Mousset, director of the Idaho children's home here, said today the methadone addict baby boy, who died in Boise, was buried today. The boy was left on the patio at the Booth Memorial hospital here last Sunday. Mousset said the 19-year-old mother now is receiving medical attention. He said she is giving her former approval that the baby be placed for adoption.

Rupert Men Arraigned in Horse Theft

RUPERT, July 6 (AP)—Two Rupert men were arraigned before Idaho county Probate Judge Jake Wall Thursday and charged with stealing two horses and a mare from the Minidoka county jail here on July 4. The men were held in the jail until Tuesday when Minidoka county Sheriff Theo Johnson returned them to Rupert.

BOISE, July 6 (AP)—Two horses, a 9-year-old black mare and a 2-year-old sorrel gelding, owned by the Rev. Norman Ritzke, pastor of the Rupert First Methodist church, were stolen from his pasture on the east edge of the Rupert city limits.

Pioneers on Prairie Set Picnic Soon

FAIRFIELD, July 6 (AP)—The Camas Prairie Pioneer association will hold the annual picnic on the Camas prairie at the Pioneer camp ground on Soldier creek north of Fairfield. Members are requested to bring a picnic lunch. Coffee, punch and ice cream will be furnished by the association.

Tables will be in charge of Mrs. Olga Naess, Mrs. Ed Krahn and Mildred Robinson. The welcome committee consists of Mrs. Abbott, Freeman Love and Mrs. Irene Leek. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Walton will be in charge of the coffee and the punch will be made by Mr. and Mrs. Lonzo Baldwin. The memorial service will be conducted by Mrs. William Leek.

Mrs. Carroll Yankovic, program chairman, urged all to bring musical instruments and program material. Prizes will be presented for some events.

Fred Walton is president of the organization and all members who have picnic for 25 years or more in Camas county are eligible for membership and are urged to attend and join the organization.

Nun in Jerome Taken by Death

JEROME, July 6 (AP)—Sister Mary Clementine Sattler, 86, died Thursday at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome, of cancer.

She was born Aug. 1, 1905, in Kansas, coming to Idaho as a small child. She was a member of the Order of Sisters of St. Benedict. She was a teacher in both public and parochial schools in Idaho and Washington. She had lived in Jerome since May 1957.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Teresa Hener Sattler, Cottonwood, and two brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held Monday in Cottonwood. The body will be taken to Cottonwood by Cripple-Hove mortuary.

Yearly Trail Ride Is Held At Fairfield

FAIRFIELD, July 6 (AP)—Swallowtail Ranch, Schellung, Wash. 15 and co., following too closely. The annual trail ride of the Fairfield Gun club with an additional 15 persons joining in the campsite activities at the end of the four-wagon return to warn passive motorists. A tractor at the hospital said the fall was not severe.

The incident took place on the second leg of the 4800-foot trail from Mt. Clond, Minn. to Salt Lake City, where they hope to start a new life.

Gulbranson, his wife and seven other children, spent the night some six miles east of here in a pasture. They have covered only 24 miles in the first two days of the journey.

The family was forced to abandon more furniture, a feed box for the horses, a writing desk and the children's bed. The abandoned belongings will be auctioned at St. Cloud, Beseb by fiscal troubles, the family decided to start fresh.

Church Services Slated in Hills

RUPT, July 6 (AP)—Services of the South Hills church will be held Sunday in the South Hills. The Rev. Norman Schmidt, pastor of the church, announced that the church will be pooled along the road to mark the spot which will be at one of the picnic grounds along Rock creek.

Services will include the regular Sunday school classes at 10 a.m. and the worship service at 11 a.m. and a picnic dinner at noon. The afternoon will be spent in recreation. There will be no evening services and there will be no meetings that day at the church in Hills.

A few of the families plan to go up Saturday and camp out and have breakfast together Sunday morning, added the Rev. Mr. Schmidt.

Swim Lessons at Filer to Begin

FILER, July 6 (AP)—marks the beginning of the swimming lessons under the Filer summer recreation program. Mrs. Jack Ramsey, chairman of the swimming program, announced buses will leave promptly at 8:30 a.m. each day from Central school.

The swimming lessons will continue through July 20 at the Filer swimming pool.

Anyone who is not registered and does not take the swimming lessons, may register with Mrs. Lyle Detrick.

Approximately 180 children are expected to take the program to date and four instructors have been hired for the two-week period. Two mothers will accompany the children each day.

Reds Boost Exports to Aid Cubans

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP) — The agricultural department's economic research service said that at almost the same time the Soviet government was raising domestic meat prices by 10 per cent, reflecting a shortage, it agreed to increase its shipments of canned meat and other foods to Cuba during 1962.

On May 18 the Havana news paper "Revolucion" announced an extension of a January agreement between Cuba and the Soviet Union calling for increased shipments of food, machinery and fertilizer to Cuba before the end of the year. The agreement would bring 1962 shipments to a level about 40 per cent above 1961.

The May agreement calls for 20 million cans of meat to be supplied by the Soviet Union to Cuba in addition to 2,500 tons of canned meat, specified in the January agreement. Weight of the cans was not specified. In 1961, Cuba consumed 27,000 metric tons of meat, about 85 pounds per person. U. S. consumption is about 100 pounds per person.

The extension included providing January agreement, including canned fish, rice, whole and de-boned potatoes, and 200,000 pounds of wheat flour, corn, barley, beans and condensed milk was provided for in the extension.

The Soviets agreed to provide tractors, harvesters, agricultural equipment, and other plans for crop spraying, petroleum products, fertilizer, seeds and insecticides, including complete factories.

Cuba would pay the Soviet government with cash, including tobacco, fruit, and metal ore.

Program Set On Canning

Canning fresh fruits and vegetables when they are plentiful and saving food dollars, says Hattie Kilgore, who will lecture and demonstrate home canning at the Idaho Power auditorium, Twin Falls, 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. The lecture will be arranged by the Twin Falls county extension home agent and is open to all interested homemakers.

Mrs. Kilgore is a graduate of Oklahoma College for Women at Oklahoma, Okla. She holds a master's and a B.S. degree in home economics. For several years she has been a staff member of the Idaho State Department of Home Economics, assisting in the operation of canning centers where foods of all kinds were canned and sold at retail prices for use in food preservation in many states.

In addition to her scientific knowledge, Miss Kilgore has a very practical knowledge of the purposes, methods and procedures in home canning.

All methods of canning will be demonstrated or discussed. This is a free lecture, so can on ahead should not miss this opportunity to gain pointers that will be helpful the year around.

11 Farm Agents Visit in Cassia

BURLEY, July 6 — Ten agricultural agents from 11 counties visited in Cassia county today to observe farming practices in Cassia county.

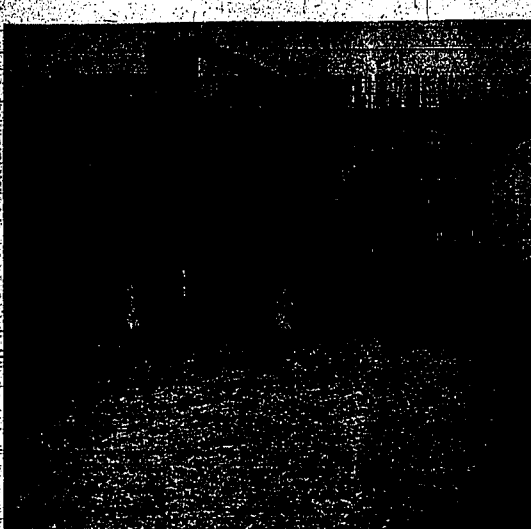

Ivan Hopkin, Cassia county agent, and Virgil Coles, Malheur and Owyhee county extension agent, showed the group some of Cassia county's new scale projects, such as the "Barold" Pickett and Bunn Curtis operations.

They also visited diversified operations of those who raise sheep, goats, potatoes, string beans, peas, cabbage, grain and hay. They stopped at the Reid Bowen farm to observe the sugar beets and cattle feed lots in the fields.

Feed Value Lost In Cutting Hay

BOISE, July 6 — Extensive feed value studies show that feed value is reduced by one per cent when hay is allowed to stand after its optimal maturity stage. In the bloom stage one flower on cut out of 10 stems is optimal and University of Idaho agronomists believe that it is each day of delay in cutting after this stage means less food value.

Proper Credit Management Essential to Farm Operation

BYVETTE BRADLEY, S. O. July 6 (AP) — Credit wisely used is one of the "best buys" in agriculture. Improperly used, it is a poor buy at any price. This statement was made here today by R. B. Toolitt, governor of Farm Credit Administration, at a conference of farmer directors and managers of South Carolina's FCAs. Many farmers who are good farm managers will not find ways to use more money in their operations that will increase their incomes more than enough to pay their loans and the interest on them, Toolitt explained. But credit is not a substitute for income. Farmers who borrow money they can use in such a way as to increase their net income or profit rate, he said. Fortunately, farmers own credit cooperatives. Such as their production credit associations and land-bank associations, are interested in serving farmers rather than making a profit for the lender. Therefore, they offer farmers an extra service in helping them analyze their operations and back their cash flow for the farm, as well as safe for the lender. Associate secretary may provide a safe loan constructive loan unless the borrower is "too ill" furnished. These factors can be even more important than the fact that the farmer's credit associations hold down interest rates and charge interest only for the actual number of days each dollar is outstanding, Toolitt said. Governor Toolitt observed that more farmers become members of production credit associations each year so they can use those credit investments in farm machinery, foundation livestock, and what can pay for themselves.

Custom Harvesting of Various Seed Tails More Than Running Combine

July 6 — Field crews have come a long way since the days when the combine was the only machine used to harvest grain. Today's custom harvesting operation is a complex of various types of machinery and men. The custom harvester is a man who operates five International Harvester combines and two C. B. Hays combines. He says that many farmers now are going to custom harvesting as farmers get larger and more scientific. The Cox operation is set up so work is spread around the calendar—combine work in the fall, fertilizer applicator work in the spring and summer and maintenance work during the winter. A custom harvester is required to have knowledge of a wide variety of operations which will help him to deal with the various types of crops and conditions.

Irrigation Engineers Tour System

Some irrigation engineers and agronomists from 11 foreign countries are visiting Twin Falls today, says Donald Youis, Twin Falls county agent. The group will visit the Magic Valley Irrigation System, a part of a several weeks irrigation problems and practices short course for foreign irrigation technicians. The group arrived in Pocatello Sunday and will visit several southern Idaho and Magic Valley irrigation systems, plus one afternoon at the University of Idaho experiment station, Aberdeen. Dorell Hansen, extension irrigation specialist, is accompanying the group. The group will visit major structures of the Twin Falls Canal company system, including a stop at the Bryan Harris, Jr. farm east of Hansen, and drainage tunnels near the Canyon front farm west of Twin Falls.

Foreign Expert To Tour Valley

An agricultural scientist from Finland will spend several days in southern Idaho during July, according to Howard Roylance, agronomist of the University of Idaho extension service. Dr. Otto Valle, head of the field husbandry department at the research center, Tukuska, will arrive at Boise July 16 for a tour of red clover and alfalfa production in the Magic Valley. Donated Labor on Church Farm Means Rising Early

Some 60 members of the seventh ward LDS church, rested themselves out of bed early last Friday to tackle the job of weeding some 10 acres of beets on the church welfare farm near Kimberly. There are about 80 acres of land on the church farm that is operated jointly by the seventh ward and several other wards. These members donate labor to grow plant, cultivate and harvest the crop which then becomes part of the ward welfare plan of the LDS church. However, sometimes take courses for city dwellers to wrap their hands around a beet hoe and undertake the job of weeding. To accomplish the task of weeding the volunteer members got up with the chickens and by 7 a.m. they were flushed. The workers are of both sexes and of all ages. In fact some of the children really know how to handle a beet hoe. There is one advantage to rising early in the morning, and that is they get the job done during the cool part of the day. The members of the seventh ward know that if the need should ever arise they can keep fellow members of the church from starting and they are assured that the service would be available if ever needed locally. LaHo Spring Declining

July 6 — The 1962 LaHo spring crop is estimated at 10,000 bushels, according to the Idaho Department of Agriculture. This is a decline from the 12,000 bushels reported in 1961. The decline is due to a combination of factors, including a late start to the season and a dry spring.

Split

WASHINGTON, July 6 — In studying the votes of congressmen casting their ballots on the farm bill it was noted that representatives from Idaho were split about 50-50 in voting. Out of 49 votes cast there were 28 votes for rejection of the bill. Four of the votes cast for rejection were by Democratic congressmen who joined with 28 Republicans to enable the near 50-50 split. There were no Republicans from the 11 western states who supported the administration farm bill.

Quality Spuds Lacking In Production of Chips

NEW YORK, July 5 — Two leading U.S. authorities on potatoes have disclosed there is a shortage of quality spuds in making potato chips that could boost prices to consumers, and cause unemployment in many business and industrial fields.

Dr. Ora Smith, a Cornell University potato expert, and other potato researchers for the U.S. and other governments, and Harold Cregar, noted agricultural economist who for many years has spearheaded a program to help young farmers produce low-cost crops profitably, are studying the problem.

Dr. Smith predicted the spud shortage could be averted by the growth of the 600-million-pound potato chip industry and agricultural production in other areas.

Cregar, detailing the grim economic picture forecast in the price of potato chips to consumers and considerable unemployment in the chip industry and allied industries.

Cregar declared there are two areas that can be taken to avert this "spud" shortage.

He said that failure to expand the chipable potato crop would have a marked effect on the country's supermarket, grocery, stationary, and restaurant stores, concessions, restaurants and school lunch programs.

As for the grower plight, Cregar offered a recent survey among growers of chipable potatoes. He said it showed more than three-quarters feel they need help to keep up with the demand for their crop by expanding their acreage.

Every grower of chipable potatoes would like to see an expansion, Dr. Smith explained.

While the market for table-top potatoes (those eaten as food) has expanded to downwardly the growers of chipable potatoes always have a ready market for their crop at a premium price. But now it's reached a point where the market for chipable potatoes is ahead of the output and a shortage is upon us.

Cregar agreed that although the nation's overall potato output is increasing, the availability of quality potatoes required for chips is not keeping pace with the 12 percent a year increase in processing needs.

Chip processors currently are using more than 43 percent of last year's total potato production in the United States, said Dr. Smith.

Smith said chipable potatoes differ greatly from even the best "table-top" potatoes. They must be clean, free of dirt, stems and high in specific gravity or total solids, besides being free of defects which would decrease the usable quantity.

To help growers produce the right kind of potato, the U.S. industry itself has set up a research program. The research of Potato Chip Institute International, a group of chip processors devoted to increasing the grower supply that properly, Smith has spent 18 years in research aiding growers in improving their crops.

He said the institute's research has developed the techniques which have made possible the large-scale production of chips to convert into chips consumers like. These improvements in chips have helped create their tremendous popularity as a snack food, he added.

The institute's research has developed two important instruments used by both the grower and processor, a potato grading method to quickly and accurately determine the specific gravity of any lot of potatoes, and a "chipability" test which can, within a minute, determine the color of the chips produced.

The institute's research has also made available to all potato growers through the National Potato Council, which has worked with growers of the potato, particularly through the National Potato Council, a government-sponsored educational program to help more growers learn techniques of producing chipable potatoes.

Finished Beef Cattle from the Muleshoe ranch, Hammett, are examined by Claude Whitfield, Twin Falls Livestock Commission chairman.

Hammett Ranch Ships 43 Finished Black Angus

Some 43 head of finished Black Angus cattle were sold through the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company yard June 20 from the Muleshoe ranch, Hammett, one of the largest shipments of finished cattle from that section of the state.

Normally, cattle from the Hammett area are fed and marketed by Carl Houburg, manager of the Muleshoe ranch, the shipment was an experiment to see if the ranch could successfully raise cattle from calves to finished cattle, finished calves.

The cattle were fed a grain ration and corn silage in addition to alfalfa. The yearlings were pretty good and because of mild weather the cattle winter fairly well.

The terrain is dotted with canyons and Houburg noted that it provides the cattle with excellent protection from the elements. In addition they usually have a thin layer of grass, alfalfa.

The Muleshoe ranch consists of 740 acres of irrigated, land plus desert range.

In all probability there will be two calves a year; one in the fall and one in the spring. This will enable the ranch to ship finished cattle often than normally.

In addition to the finished cattle will be some feeder calves and some replacement calves. The cattle operation will be of a continuous nature during the year.

Houburg believes that with careful management it will be possible for the ranch to support the entire herd with very little feed buying.

New Program Set To Aid Exports

WASHINGTON, July 5 — The agriculture department has started a new program to assist export of non-fat dry milk. The new program allows manufacturers of exporters to export non-fat dry milk from private stocks.

In return for making these exports and registering the foreign sale with the foreign agricultural service, an export certificate will be made by the department.

These certificates may be used by payment for purchase for export of butter, cheese, non-fat dry milk, wheat or feed grains on a one-for-one depreciation each day thereafter.

The certificates will be redeemed at face value for 60 days after the date of export, with one-for-one depreciation each day thereafter.

Area Guernseys Compile Record

BUHL, July 5 — Ray Cochran and Sons, owners of two registered Guernseys that have recently completed official production records, according to the American Guernsey cattle club here.

A Junior 4-year-old, produced 12,923 pounds of milk and 642 pounds of fat in 303 days.

A Sugar City Silver Rose, a 3-year-old, produced 8,402 pounds of milk and 500 pounds of fat in 303 days.

They were milked two times daily.

Trend Noted In Milk Use

WASHINGTON, July 6 — In 1961, the per capita consumption of fluid milk in the United States was 314 quarts. The year before, per capita consumption was 10 pounds less, and two years before it was 18 pounds less.

This downward trend in milk consumption has been going on since 1935. And with milk production going up, stocks of dairy products are going up, too.

The agriculture department is wondering what to do about the situation. Research already has pointed out many of the problems in the milk industry and has provided a start toward finding some of the answers.

For example, a study of household food consumption a few years ago showed that up to a point, families use more milk as income increases. The break-off point seemed to be about $5,000 a year. Families with incomes of $1,000 to $2,000 a year used 1.2 quarts of milk per person each week, while those with $4,000 to $5,000 used 2.5 quarts per person. But above $5,000, there was no further increase.

There was a difference because of geography, too. In the northern central region, the average person used 3.4 quarts of milk a week in the south, the average was only 2.2 quarts.

Researchers at Pennsylvania State university reported recently that milk consumption drops off sharply in the late teens. The reason, young men thought drinking milk was "sissy" and the girls were worried about their weight.

Wheat Growers Will Ballot On Quotas in Referendum

WASHINGTON, July 6 6:30 p.m. — Under present plans, wheat growers will vote in a referendum July 24 on whether to accept marketing quotas on the 1962 wheat crop to be grown on a national average acreage of 34.1 million acres.

If two-thirds of those voting favor marketing quotas, the commodity wheat producers who comply with their acreage allotment will be eligible to collect price supports at a national average rate of $1.82 per bushel on all the breadgrain they produce.

That is 70 per cent of the parity of wheat.

All this was announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman with the greatest reluctance and only because there is no alternative under existing legislation.

Freeman pointed out that the announcement could be vacated in the event congress enacted new legislation to apply to the 1963 wheat crop.

Freeman said the recent death of the administration farm bill in the house returned the wheat farmer to the pre-1961 laws on the books. — in effect, to those programs which let a farmer market his wheat above the present surplus.

Under the 1962 plan wheat farmers' net income was 10 per cent higher than in 1961. He indicated that the producer would have done even better under the 301 that was in effect.

Miss Johnson Is Cannell's Bride In Nevada Rites
SPRINGDALE, July 6—La Ray Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Raymond Johnson, Springdale, and Marvin Cannell, Reno, were married today in Reno.
The bride attended Springdale schools and Burley high school. Cannell attended Arkansas schools and served four years in the Army. They will reside in Springdale.
The new Mrs. Cannell was honored with a personal shower at the home of Mrs. Jerry Stout, Ferby. A reception is planned.

Eye Pencils Boast Price Tag of $12,500
NEW YORK, July 6—Everything's highbrow about the newest in eye-wear eyeglasses.
A New York jewelry firm announced the production of a pencil costing $12,500 (including tax).
The pencil, all hand-tooled, is five inches in length and has a base of clear Lucite with a monomolite coating. A blob of emerald, even the interior of the pencil is gold plated. The emerald is cut in a diamond shape for the pencil lead. The lead, at least, is conventional. It produces plain eyebrow markings.
The maker (Black Star and Gem) said the pencil was created by the artist... that similar jewel pencils would be available to anyone with similar amounts of money in the bank.

FRESH PINEAPPLE IS PERFECT
The perfect pineapple with its wonderful flavor and aroma is in abundance now. Though pineapple looks juicy, it is actually delicate and should be handled carefully.
A pleasing aroma and orange-yellow color are the best guides to ripeness. The stem should be firm and almost hollow and the fruit should be heavy for its size.

SUPPER: Fresh Pineapple Compote and Salsa (2 or 3 servings)
1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon, 2 inches long
1 teaspoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon whole allspice
3 cups fresh pineapple wedges
Boil berries in season.

Combine sugar, water, salt, cinnamon, cloves and allspice in saucepan. Stir well. Bring to boiling point and boil 2 to 3 minutes. Strain over pineapple wedges. Cool.
Chill and serve in compote glasses. Garnish with berries in season.

San Diego Padres Power Way to 22-14 Win Over Pioneer League All-Stars

July 6 (UPI)—Pioneer league catcher Doyle Wagner, on a one-night loan to the San Diego Padres, slammed a bases-loaded homerun in the eighth inning to break a 1-1 tie and propel the Pacific Coast league team to a wild 22-14 victory over the Pioneer League All-Stars here tonight. Six homeruns were hit in the slugfest, including two by Harry Anderson of the Padres, but it was Wagner's big blow that won the game. Over-up the all-star selection in the last four games of the season. The Padres' win was the first since they were postponed until a later date. It was announced Thursday.

The boat race scheduled for Sunday at Thousand Springs resort here has been postponed until a later date. It was announced Thursday.

Orioles Edge White Sox by Score of 5-4

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Clutch hitting by Dennis Bautista and Jim Gentile rallied the Baltimore Orioles in the late innings for a victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night. Bautista rocked slugger Frank Baumann with his 11th homer in the seventh, while Gentile hit the Sox edge to 4-2.

Baumann, making his second start of the season, was knocked out in a three-run eighth. Gentile, a slashing single with the bases loaded, scored two runs and Bautista's double accounted for another.

Baltimore loaded the bases with none out when pinch-hitter Harry Breeding singled. Johnny Williams was set on third base man-Oscar Smith's throwing error and Dick Williams bent out a bunt.

Then came Gentile's hit and out went Baumann. Eddie Fisher panned Brooks Robinson. Brandt struck driving in Williams, but Gentile was thrown out at the plate. Fisher then got Jerry Adair to ground out to retire the side.

Giants Can't Get "Bonus" Preview

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6 (AP)—The San Francisco Giants learned Thursday that $100,000 bonus pitcher Bob Garibaldi will not be allowed to work out with the team before he officially goes on the roster July 15.

Ford Frick, major league baseball commissioner, ruled negatively on a request by the Giants to allow Manager Alvin Dark and his coaching staff to observe the 20-year-old right-hander.

Garibaldi, a University of Santa Clara sophomore, signed a contract Wednesday that provided the highest bonus ever paid by the Giants.

Dodgers Get 11-3 Victory Over Giants

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6 (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers homered four homeruns Thursday, blasting San Francisco 11-3 and knocking the National League lead over the Giants to one and a half games.

Left-hander Don Drysdale became the first major league pitcher to win 15 games this season. He checked the Giant's power on a double hit as the Dodgers won their seventh straight game.

Drysdale struck out eight Giants, including Orlando Cepeda three times and Willie Mays twice. The hurler missed serious injury in the eighth when he got his glove in front of his face just in time to knock down a line drive by Alvin Davanzo. He also made the loss for a forceout.

Don Barry triggered the hitting against lefty Mike McCormick with a solo homer—370 feet—in the second inning. Willie Davis hit one farther in the same direction with Matuszewska on base in the third. Tommy Edman slugged one 357 feet to left in the fifth, and Frank Howard followed immediately with another in that direction, a 300-foot-clout.

Jose Pagan doubled and scored for the Giants in both the third and fifth innings. Willie McCovey, always strong against Drysdale, walked off his 12th homerun of the campaign, a solo in the sixth.

Right-hander Jim Duffalo re-lit McCormick in the sixth. The Dodgers added a pair of unearned rallies in the seventh after an error by second baseman Chuck Hiller put Willie Davis on base. The Dodgers also stole four bases.

High Winds Halt River Swimmer

Idaho, to the Pacific ocean at Astoria, Ore.

"I'm in pretty good physical shape," reported the 25-year-old former deep sea diver, "but I'm beginning to feel like a fish."

The heavy winds and high waves forced Campbell to call it off Thursday as he made 17 1/2 miles in his attempt to reach the water Thursday. Campbell now has covered 126 miles since he began his ambitious swim on Monday.

BEAVERS EDGE BEES

PORTLAND, July 6 (AP)—Bill Kern drove home four runs with two homers, then scored the winning run in the eleventh inning as Portland edged Salt Lake 5-4 Thursday night.

Phoenix Man Wins Final Shoot Event

SAN VALLEY, July 6 (AP)—Walter R. Hanson, Phoenix, here broke 97 of 100 traps in the final event of the 14th annual Shoshone Indian trapshoot tournament here Thursday.

Hanson, 34, of Wilson, Waterville, Wash., was second and Richard Good of Rock, Ore. third. They both took 86 of 100, but the reverse order in the penultimate round.

In a special mixed couple event in which women shot first and their partners second if they were there, Hanson's four-way tie broke when a second-way tie broke.

Miss Lorraine Kennedy, Tulsa, Okla., and her partner, Frank Bower, Rock, Ore., won a consolation with a perfect score of 100.

The high bronson, Salt Lake City, and the Smith, Denver, were second with 24 and 23. Don Black, Salt Lake City, and Don Truitt, Ontario, Okla., tied with 22.

GS-1000 half premium, half regular gives says Mr. Louis G. Webb, Salt Lake City, an engineer who drives a 1958 Chevrolet station wagon.

12-14 MORE MILES PER TANK

"I fill up with GS-1000 premium and when the tank is half full I refill with GS-1000 regular (or visa versa). There is absolutely no ping and I get 12 to 14 more miles per tank (16-gallon tank). Also, I have had no carburetor or fuel pump expense. Before using GS-1000 I had to have a new gas filter approximately every 2,000 to 4,000 miles. I have gone over 20,000 miles with the same filter using GS-1000."

The increased mileage, together with the lower cost of regular gasoline, adds up to a savings of over 6¢ per gallon with Beeline and Frontier GS-1000.

Cash savings can be yours, too, when you drive with GS-1000... the greatest development in gasoline history!

FLAG BEARERS head one of the groups of Magic Valley riding clubs that appeared in the parade, which started at 2 p.m. Thursday. The parade included over 200 horsemen. It started at the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company, proceeded down

Main street to Sears, Roebuck and company and then returned to the livestock company on Second Avenue west and south. It was the first event of the Magic Valley Western Horse show. (Times-News photo)

July 4 Event At Shoshone Draws Crowd

SHOSHONE, July 6—The largest crowd to turn out to an event in Shoshone in many years supported the July 4 celebration sponsored by the north side communities with Shoshone Chamber of Commerce host.

Pat Bush, Jerome, sponsored by Thriftway Drive, was selected queen with Donna Roto, Dietrich, sponsored by Boston Cafe, Shoshone, and Gal Darling, Jerome, sponsored by Idaho Department store, attendees. The three were selected from among 11 contestants.

Other contestants were Tamale Tipper, Shoshone, sponsored by Farmers Market; Louisa Vrutis, Shoshone, sponsored by Gateway Dogery; Marilyn Johnson, Shoshone, sponsored by First Security bank; Karen Coffman, Shoshone, sponsored by Shoshone Furniture store; Anita Davis, Dietrich, sponsored by Harold Thorne's agency; Diana Frith, Wendell, sponsored by Wendell Lion's club; Loreth Bohmopp, Jerome, sponsored by Hendrickson's, and Diana Pratt, Jerome, sponsored by Today's Top.

The queen received her cue from Gaea-Caroliers, queens of last year's July celebration held at Jerome. Miss Caroliers is a Shoshone girl.

The contest was arranged by Vic Sorelle, chairman of the event.

Judges for the queen's contest were Mrs. Corwin Silva, Roger Kelley, Kenneth Rork and Donald Sandy, all Shoshone.

Herbert Furber, chairman of the parade, said in addition to the children's division, there were floats from various communities on the north side, from Wood River-Center-Orange and Fern Bureau, Shoshone Livestock company, Rawson's Chevrolet, Messersmith's auction, bureau of land management, antique cars from the Southern Idaho Horseless Carriage club, horse and a float with "melodies" by the Shoshone Chamber of Commerce.

To welcome the celebration, Shoshone Chamber, under direction of President Harold Thorne, set up an orchestra on a float and played music prior to, and during the parade and during the queen's contest at the fair grounds. Musicians, besides a Thorne, were Jack M. Murphy, Burton Thomas, Lloyd Knowles, Mrs. Velma Allen and M. J. Dille.

Robert Haddock was chairman of the sports events which included foot races for children and ballgames. Gooding and Shoshone Pony League played some of the games, with Gooding winning 9 to 8 with the last score made in the sixth inning.

Two Peewee games, big and little, were held between teams in Shoshone, under direction of Wally Burketh.

Thomas W. Conner and J. R. Churchman served as co-chairmen of general affairs.

Winners in the various horse races included, in the saddle horse 200 yards, Baby Doll, with Conner owner and Milton Carter, rider; first; Xida's shetland sulky race, Bill Carter, driver, first place; Milton Carter, second, and David Conner, third.

Winners in the kids pony races were Eddie Prescott, Jerome, truck riding trigger, and Billy Carter, riding Lady Saddleman, second.

Over 320-yard races were won by Kenneth Motes' horse, Cooper Ellis with Tyke Mink, Gooding, rider, first; and Baby Doll, owned by Conner and rider Milton Carter, second. Bud Clifford was starter, and judges were Kenneth Motes, Lawrence Cisco and Ernest Carter.

Clayton Feugh, Shoshone, and Tom Hobery, Richfield, were judges for the arena events at 1 p.m. Mrs. Ida Clifford, Gooding, and Mrs. Art Osborn, Shoshone, were timekeepers.

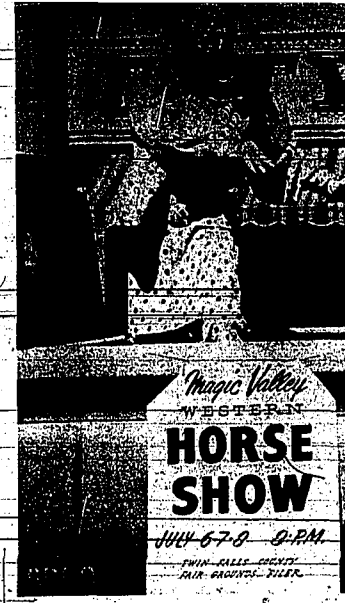

Winners in the calf roping division were Milton Carter, Dietrich, first; Harold Blades, Gooding, second; and Mervin Ridinger, Dietrich, third.

Wild cow milking winners were Roy Couch, Shoshone, first; Harold Blades, second; Roy Robinson, third; and Bud Roseberry, Jerome, fourth.

Figure 8 winners were Dee Wolverson, Richfield, first; Robert Gies, second; Marvin Cole, Shoshone, third; Art Osborn, Shoshone, fourth; and Bob Walton, Jerome, fifth.

Winners of the bull dogging were Mike Elliott, Hagerman, first; Lynn Wood, Hagerman, second; and Lawrence Cisco, Shoshone, third.

Team roping winners were Mervin Ridinger, first; Roy

Couch, Shoshone, second, while trail pulling events were won by Evan Guthrie, Shoshone, first; Ridinger, second; Lynn Wood, Hagerman, third; Harold Blades, Gooding, fourth, and Bud Clifford, Gooding, fifth.

Spud race winners were Bill Kermer, Shoshone, first; Milton Carter, Dietrich, second, and Art Osborn, Shoshone, third. Thomas Conner was announcer.

The fireworks display was set off after arena events, under direction of chamber committee chairman E. L. Gomes and city fire chief Roy Alexander, and fire department officers.

Funds for the fireworks came from the chamber and city council.

A western dance at the Lincoln school auditorium concluded the day's events. Holland (Holly) Houburg's orchestra furnished the music. Ray Oyer and Myron Johnson, assisted by Francis Bergin and Herbert Photos, were in charge of arrangements. Douglas Hansen was chairman

 WE SAVE TO SERVE AGAIN

On My Own Time

BY BOB HARTLEY

After nearly being trampled by a child pushing a shopping cart in a grocery store the other day we came to the arbitrary decision that men, women and children are more likely to go berserk under grocery shopping conditions than during any other routine weekly or daily activity.

There are several types to be watchful for, practically because they don't see you and couldn't care less about your welfare. Somewhere in their sidisciplinary they figure you're over 21 and able to take care for yourself. And if you're not over 21 they think you should be at home with the other children.

Children are less dangerous than you may think, although they may appear to be the worst of the lot. They are predictable. You can figure a child with a shopping cart and little or no parental supervision will run wild. It's not that easy to determine the extent of danger when you're dealing with adults.

For instance there's the husband in a hurry to get the groceries and head for home, a cool beer and television. He usually has a list and his head buried in it most of the time. His mind is occupied with only one thing—getting those groceries and heading home. He believes he is the only one in the store (a trait common to most shopper types) and uses the "bowel stern over" technique, which can be injurious. Steer at least one aisle clear of this type.

Then there's the bargain hunter. Time has proved that these are not the most vicious of shoppers under any conditions. Their prime objective is that special of coffee and they may jeopardize scores of lives until they reach that coffee. However, have the bargain in their pants and are on trial to the check-out.

One of the most unpredictable of the lot is the "buncher." He or she is meandering through the aisles looking for things he might have a need for or something he's forgotten to put on his list. Suddenly, without warning, he spots a special or remembers the item. Then, as if shot from a gun, he dashes to the location, throwing caution to the wind and becoming a potential killer. He calms down when the item is in the basket, but has been known to start cross-stairs for a forgotten item.

While we have a great deal of respect for our elders, we watch them closely in the grocery store. They are most likely to be the aisle cloggers. You'll find them as you come slipping around the corner heading for the straight-away. There, planted as if there were no other people, are our elder citizens, usually fumbling with a grocery list, counting their change or just looking around. They are immovable and to collide with them is no joke. The same effect may be realized by driving your car into a concrete abutment.

Of course there are a number of other types which are semi-visible. There's the speeder, usually on route to a party, or a gift you who hasn't time to wait on the check stand guy and the girl who comes out of the store with her purchases as he darts out the door. The slow poke, in the line, can be a hazard. The unwieldy, awkward, but still not a potential hazard. The talker usually are out of the road and should receive little consideration.

One final word to the wise. Don't rely on the appearance of the individual or the look in his eye to give you a clue about his reaction. Look in for you if a slow-poke and you pass her on a curve only to find just she's a faster, you've had it.

Keep calm and enjoy your shopping days. And hope you'll live to enjoy another.

Whether you approve or not, women, you can be classified in one of six basic shapes. This is the word from a swimsuit manufacturer who lists these six and leaves the rest to your imagination: 1. The Traditional Fall, which is slender, slender, thin hips, 2. The Inverted Goble—small bust and heavy hips, 3. The Classic—large bust and small hips, 4. The Splitter—large, mature figure, 5. The Cardinal—short-waisted, 6. The Perfect Parfait—perfectly proportioned with hips both 18 inches larger than waist.

That distant clank you hear comes from the grave of Henry Ford. It's not the first time he's laughed either. This time it's about V-8 motors. They call it "the engine that couldn't be built," remember? Well, Ford has just released facts showing that the 30 millionth V-8 is off the assembly line. Any doubting Thomases?

One writer notes that a statement by an Italian businessman to an advertising agency man puts to shame all the flaky quotes supposedly have originated at Madison Avenue. The Italian businessman supposedly said, "Well, we'll put our heads together, and if any chance we can't do it, we'll split it." As the man said, that puts much remarks as "her's run it up the flagpole" to shame.

The debts keep piling up at home, don't they? You've got the car payments, house payments, high food bills, the kids' gym clothes, the washer is on the blink, if you think your personal debts are high you haven't taken a good good look at the total. We all incurred June 30. On that date we, the taxpayers, assumed a seven billion dollar debt for the year 1962. You don't have to work those payments into your budget this year, but a day of reckoning will come, you can count on it.

As this observer's last TV report, he is an independent member of the most popular local TV shows. In his report he noted, in his surprise, the "Lara Lee Trouble" is watched by more people than "Ben Casey," with "One Moment Please" a close third.

Formal Partying Back in Vogue

The popularity of formal partying is bustling after a long absence. Dandling it (thanks to the suit?) a favorite pastime. Most women enjoy dressing up. So, to us a formal evening is a chance to look our best. But many a wife has a rough time getting her husband into a dinner jacket.

He'll complain, too, that his dress shoes are uncomfortable and hurt his feet when he dances. And when he's all through fusing, you wonder if the whole thing was worth the bother, no matter how eager you were for a gala evening.

Well, you'll still have the struggle over the dinner jacket but the shoe problem can be solved.

A handsome dress pump for formal wear is now made in genuine patent leather, to which is added a thin layer of flexible foam between leather and lining.

The innovation offers a whole new dimension of comfort, for the foam gives with every turn and twist of the foot. Its inherent flexibility helps the shoe to return to its original shape. It also permits the leather to conform easily to the shape of the foot.

This is a relatively new development in the shoe construction field. It was introduced about a year ago in women's casuals to insure comfort and wearability, and is just now beginning to be worn in dress shoes. If you can't convince him that his feet won't hurt, you'll only be faced with half your original problem. Perhaps if you look a little more stylish, he'll slip into his dinner jacket without protest.

GLOSSY PATENT LEATHER, urethane-foam filled, brings soft, flexible comfort in dress pumps designed for him.

You'll Need to Check This List Before Vacationing

How many times have you only to get a few blocks away from home and remember a window left open—a garage door unlocked—or a favorite pair of shoes left behind?

There are so many last minute things to think of that Jean Kincaid, women's consultant to the Travelers Insurance companies, has prepared this checklist to help you have a happy and safe vacation.

Before closing up the house get to notify the police department and let them know when you're leaving and plan to return. You'll also want to mail newspaper and milk delivery and tell them when to start these services again. As call to the post-office will stop mail delivery unless you want to leave your forwarding vacation address or have a neighbor to pick it up for you.

It's also a good idea to let a neighbor and a close friend or relative know your vacation itinerary. Should an urgent need arise, these people should know how to get in touch with you. To protect your house and property, start a fire. Check all water faucets for leaks; make sure the hot water heater is turned off. The refrigerator should be emptied and turned down. All windows and all outside doors should be locked as should the garage and storage shed. Make arrangements to have the lawn taken care of while you are away. And leave your house key with a neighbor or to some "secret" hiding place that might be discovered.

Having trouble with the car on the road leads the list of vacation worries. A week before the family plans to leave is a good time to have a thorough mechanical inspection and service job done on the car with particular attention to brakes, tires, wheel alignment and steering mechanism.

Before leaving, check with your insurance agent to make sure that the policies on yourself and your husband's car and the house are in good order. You may also want to check into insurance especially designed for vacationing families such as travel accident insurance.

If you're traveling by air to Mexico it's wise to let your insurance agent know so that he can check over your auto liability coverage. Canada, in particular, has financial responsibility limits that vary by province. You'll want to make sure your auto liability limits are high enough to protect you.

"Let Us Pave Your Way"

IT'S TWISTIN' TIME in the movie "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation" and the participants are the stars, Maureen O'Hara and Jimmy Stewart. The comedy is showing at the Idaho theaters.

Jimmy Stewart Is Star in Comedy About Family Trip

Motivators who remember the Jimmy Stewart of "Harvey" and "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" are in for a full-course treat when the latest Stewart laugh provoker, "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation," opens.

Playing Rags Hobbs, a badgered, bettered, yet somewhat noble example of American fatherhood, Stewart takes full advantage of the humor inherent in his real-life role of family man and father of four.

Writing an imaginary letter to his wife (played by Maureen O'Hara) in reference to the extensive Hobbs clan (Lauri Peters, Fobian, John Saxton, Natalie Trundy and Josh Peine), Mr. Hobbs clues the liability to come—"My darling Peggy; There is no man alive who believes more devoutly than I that the family is the rock of civilization, but I will tell you frankly... I would rather be shot from a cannon, than be trapped in the same house with my family for a month's vacation!"

When "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation"—and the whole family does indeed come alone—the stalling incidents with which only unforgiving a series of bad the immense comic talent of a Jimmy Stewart could begin to cope. Everything from a bellows ent water pump to an infuriated 4-year-old to the whole fashion

"in an achievement in screen storytelling in the hands of Arthur Fred Coe and director Arthur Penn." With a foolproof hit play, the old Hollywood way would have been to put the picture in success with an expensive high-powered cast. Coe and Penn, with Anne Bancroft and Patty Duke as the stars preferred to spend the money where it counted the most—on the screen.

able concept of family togetherness" tried up to challenge the Indomitable Mr. Hobbs... and everything, it must be said in honesty, very nearly lets the best of him!

Brando Slating Magazine Answer on "Goofing Off"

By BOB THOMAS.
HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—Marlon Brando is planning a magazine article to answer the writings that he "goofed off on" "Moulin on the Beach." It will mark the first time he has replied to criticism. He doesn't care what is written about his personal life, but he is concerned about reflections on his professionalism.

Brando adheres to the point that his behavior on "The Holy American" has been spotless. Except for two or three days when he was absent with a virus, he has shown up for filming every day, even after the week-end when he chopped his foot with an axe.

No more Marilyn Monroe imitations for Edie Adams—and not because of MEN's current troubles. Edie has worried that she will become too identified with the devastating actress (which Marilyn really enjoys watching).

"When I did my last television special, I did the Marilyn impersonation against my better judgment," she says. "I figured that would be the end of it. Then the television Academy asked if it could use a short clip from the show on the Emmy (least, I imagine my chairmen when they picked out the Marilyn bit) that will be the last time."

Preview time on "The Man of Alcatraz" is a fascinating study of the double murderer turned bird expert, Robert Strand. Director John Frankenheimer again impresses as a bright new talent by the way he balances prison violence with the gentleness in handling the birds.

Art Lomaxer is ideal casting to the producer, who spent over 40 years in solitary. He successfully conveys Strand's compassion for the birds and his reluctance of bridling by any human being. It is unfortunate that the producers saw fit to make of a standard prison-break ending to be what otherwise a new and different view of the resilience of the human spirit.

Vase Clearing
NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—The design of some vases and flower containers makes it rather hard to get rid of the decaying leaves and stems that often stick to the sides.

Here's an easy way out: Fill the container half full of warm, soapy water. Add a handful of carpet jacks and then shake the vase vigorously. Rinse it out and the problem is solved.

GLEASON PREMIERE
NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—The world premiere of Jack's Gibson's Paris-made motion picture, "Gigolo," will be at the Radio City Music Hall as its first attraction of the fall season (date not yet definite).

ACTOR GEORGE MAHARIS, left, stalling for eight weeks because of hepatitis, is back at work on "Route 66." Posing with him are comedian Joe E. Brown, right, and actress Jenny Maxwell. News of his return should cheer his many teen-age fans who missed him on four of the CBS series outings this season. (AP wirephoto)

Maharis' Back on Same Old Route

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—George Maharis is back on "Route 66" after an eight-week detour due to hepatitis.

This news should cheer his many teen-age fans who missed him on four of the CBS series outings this season. The company had to shoot around him while he was battling the bug.

Maharis was again on the road with buddy Martin Miller, though they got no farther than Calabasas, a dusty crossroads in the San Fernando valley. The youngsters were doing a sequence with a trio of ace scene-stealers, Joe E. Brown, Buster Keaton and Eddie Buchanan.

Maharis managed to find an air-conditioned real estate office to cool off after a fight sequence in the 90-plus heat.

"Just what the doctor ordered," he said wryly. "When I asked him if I could take a day to work, he said okay. If I took it easy—four or five hours a day. The first day I worked 10 hours, the second 15, the third 18. This is known as recuperation."

Luckily George is a sturdy Greek and has bounced back from the hepatitis attack with no complications. With his schedule, he's got to have a sturdy constitution. George has hit it big with the younger set, as evidenced by the sale of his record singles and albums. This has put him in demand for features, but so far he hasn't been able to accept.

How long does he expect to keep traveling the same route? "I think next season," the third will be crucial. We're up against Mitch Miller on NBC and a couple of comedy shows on ABC Thursday night. If Miller continues to hold on or if the comedy shows catch on, we'll be finished. Otherwise we might be able to last another year or two."

You Can Give Home New 'Face' for Summer

By KAY BIERWOOD
Changing the face of the home for summer living is an idea many homeowners are excited with. It would be nice to dress up the living room with cool-looking slip covers and take down the heavy curtains.

I know a few homemakers who settle themselves and do just that. One southern-born lady near us slip covers all her furniture with white sailcloth and her wool rug with white duck. This imparts a frosty look to the surroundings, but it is not a very practical answer for most of us.

Effects Impassional
The delightful and dramatic effects possible with fabrics and trimmings are a sure, satisfactory nominal cost are an inspiration for a seasonal change of scene. At a recent home furnishings and winter treatments I picked up ideas from Robert Barringer. Basic furniture is inexpensive, modern, with comfortable, tapered and removable cushions. This type of cushion is easy to slip cover and this, in itself, would encourage a homemaker to make more than one set.

Chair Added Comfort
A rocking chair was covered in red with a thick, moss fringe, and an occasional chair covered in white tufted by cascade fringe added to the comfortable look in this room. At the windows for window blind and white abstract printed. 11-p.n draperies hung on gold rings from a gold rod. Tying the seating arrangement together was a bright red area rug with white wool fringe placed under a circular coffee table.

Shifting the scene to summer, Miss Barringer changes the slip covers of the settee and rocking chair to ones made from more of the blue and white abstract print, seen in window blind. The cool blue and white is accented by white pillows circled with blue cascade fringe.

At the windows in the summer air sweeping the-back curtains in three shades of a linen sheer—strawberry, pale gold and white. These are tied back with white cotton rope and trimmed with bullion and white cotton ball fringe. Green plants were added in brackets on window mullions.

LIVING ROOM FOR WINTER is attractive with its yellow and red, easy-to-make slip covers and blue and white abstract printed. Walls and ceiling provide a deep blue background.

Man Builds Special Stereo Home for Violinist Wife; It Costs $25,000

Dorothy Horowitz is a violinist—not a professional but a talented and good violinist—who plays with the Great Neck, N.Y. Symphony orchestra.

For a hobby, she also frequently plays with string quartets. The quartets usually play in the living rooms of various members of the quartets. The acoustics of the living rooms are invariably bad.

Miss Horowitz's husband, Al, is a home builder. He is developing the Ashleigh Estates at Jericho, N.Y. When Mrs. Horowitz was asked him, could he not build a model home with an acoustically-designed living room?

Horowitz built one. He called it his "Stereo House" and it turned out to be the most popular model home in his whole development.

The ceiling is slanted, so it disperses sound in all directions. The walls are varied in structure to sound waves traveling back and forth will not overlap at the same frequency.

The living room is one-and-a-half stories high. It is on a level of its own with no rooms connecting to it. It is five steps above the entrance foyer and seven steps below the upstairs hall.

Mrs. Horowitz said, after playing with a string quartet, it that it was like playing in a concert hall with a big baffle behind her seat. A minimum of home buyers play with string quartets, so Horowitz tried to extract the maximum commercial possibilities with high fidelity stereo.

He installed a Harman-International T-5000X stereo receiver—two 25-watt amplifiers, tuner with built-in multistep and pre-amplifier set on one chassis—and Weathers bookshelf speaker system.

With the speakers directed toward the slanting ceiling, the system gives the effect of stereo sound from any location in the room. Horowitz estimates that at least 4,000 persons have visited the house and he sold 18 houses like it in six weeks.

The wife of a Forest Hills, N.Y., builder was so impressed she convinced her husband to should buy a home from Horowitz rather than try to build one himself.

The Stereo House sets for around $25,000. The high fidelity components in the living room cost about $350. The T-5000X stereo receiver has inputs for a turntable or changer as well as tape.

Horowitz thinks the advent of stereo has increased interest in musical reproduction among many home buyers. He says the homes of tomorrow will be redesigned for easy installation of components.

People who have listened to music in the living room of "Stereo House" are most impressed with the fact that there are no problems of placing furniture or drapes in it, according to Horowitz.

Tid-Bits
Robert Walker, son of the late film star, has signed a five-year contract with MGM on the strength of his first movie role in "The Hook." Charlton Heston has purchased the screen rights to "The Loves," a 1934 Broadway play. Brett Fisher, star of the defunct violonists "Fiddlers on the Roof," has obtained his release from 20th Century-Fox after three years under contract.

Alcohol Control Begins at Home
BUFFALO, N.Y., July 6 (AP)—One out of every 15 teen-agers may easily become an alcoholic under prevailing conditions of the home. Alcoholism reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. He said education of children should be supported by strict control of "hardly cocktails"—soft drinks laced to children in cocktail glasses—were cited as a potential source of trouble.

Density and Height Are Main Points

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—Factors to consider when buying a rug or carpet are density and height of the pile, as well as what kind of fiber will best suit your needs.

Rosemary Rowland, University of Illinois home economist, says you can check the density of the pile by counting the number of tufts in a square foot section.

With a woven rug, count the stitches on the back. The greater the number of tufts or stitches, the greater the density.

With a dense construction, a deep pile denotes quality. Just be sure deep pile doesn't disguise a sparsely-tufted rug.

In an uncut pile rug, look for frayed dense high-wrist pile and large yarn for durability and resilience. A high twist, short loop rug wears well and is crush resistant. In general, uncut pile rugs are more resilient than cut pile rugs.

If you plan to buy a cotton rug, remember that deep shaggy cotton pile mats down at the first footstep. It's better to buy cotton in a flat construction, such as a beaded rug or a short, high-twist dense pile rug.

Cotton is inexpensive, takes dye well, doesn't pill, and works well in homes with hard floors. It cleans easily, but it also shows soil quickly.

Old Jeanette MacDonald Fans Gather

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—Old movie fans never die, not if they are Jeanette MacDonald.
Party of the singing star's fans gathered here this week, coming from as far away as Australia. The double occasion: the 25th wedding of Miss MacDonald and Gene Raymond; the 25th year of the fan club.

"I'm quite touched by it," said Miss MacDonald. "It was all very spontaneous on their part. It's really quite amazing. You don't see that kind of loyalty very often."
"You surely don't," Miss MacDonald's major film career ended with "Calico" in 1942. Except for a brief return for two films in 1948, she has been absent from the movie stages since then. Yet her fan club remains among the most active.

The 40 far-flung fans started assembling here last week. The festivities for the celebration included a dinner at the Lausau restaurant, given by the Raymonds. The fans were treated to a visit to MGM studios, where Jeanette and Nelson Eddy reigned as the sweethearts of song in the 1930s. The group took a vote for which film they would most like to see. Winner was "Smiling Through," appropriate since it also starred Gene Raymond. Due to a legal complication with the author, it is the only one of Miss MacDonald's films that has not appeared on television.

The fans saw "Smiling Through," plus the "This Is Your Life" television show that starred Miss MacDonald.
"Here of the old school—a real pro. When the camera rolls he's all business—and always ahead of time."
But in the fall he returns to television, on CBS, for a weekly hour variety show which will include a new comedy character—Oklahoma Idaho, the world's saddest cowboy.
"Television is a big thing," he explains, "and I'm too big a ham to let it go by."

Gleason's Return Suggests Tune-up for Panic Button

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—Irresponsibility and inconsideration seem to have become the hallmarks of a new breed of stars these days, and the triumphant return to Hollywood of one of the best of them—Jackie Gleason—suggests a tune-up for the panic button system at Paramount.
Well, Jackie surprised 'em. Trepidation about his television fame and his habit of people judging his drinking by their capacity, he changed to a return to the screen. In knowing that when the bell rings about business still has its real appeal.

Parker Joins 20th Century; Sets TV Show

HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—Fest Parker is on the prowl for a new image and he's going back to Washington to get it.
No more bowties of Davy Crockett, king of the wild frontier. Now it's Ivy League duds, of Mr. Smith's color of the new frontier.
Not that Fest is taking sides in the political arena. He is leaping into 1962 Washington with a new television series, "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington."
Watchers of the life, late show will recall the movie of the same name that starred young James Stewart in 1939. It has been updated for a series to star Fest, who now graduates to the upper house. He was a member of the house of representatives in the Crockett trilogy that made him a star—and problem—eight years ago.
The problems were strictly career. Fest had no quarrel with what the Davy did for him.
"No indeed," he affirmed, "if it hadn't been for Davy, I might not be handling my stellar around town and hunting for jobs."

MARTIN MILLER AND GEORGE MAHARIS arrive at their destination to undertake their latest assignment—testing a new power boat—in "Go Head the River" on "Route 66" Friday, July 20, on the CBS television network.

Here's Advice to Heed for Canning

CHICAGO, July 6 (AP)—A pressure saucepan can take the place of a pressure cooker, reports the University of Illinois home economics department.
The saucepan can be used for processing pint jars and (No. 2 cans of vegetables, says Frances Van Durn, director of food research, if it has an accurate gauge or indicator for controlling pressure at 10 pounds — 20 degrees F.
With a pressure saucepan, add 30 minutes to the processing time required for the pressure canner.

Costs Spent
HOLLYWOOD, July 6 (AP)—The retirement of Monroe Stouros as president of 20th Century-Fox was in Hollywood. Stouros had expected since last fall.
Even before the studio's troubles with such recalcitrant stars as Elizabeth Taylor, Marilyn Monroe and Dean Martin, the Wall Street money men had moved in to depose the Greek emigrants who had risen from busboy to head the town's second largest studio.
A 25 million dollar loss in production plus the astronomical cost of "Cleopatra"—at 30 million dollars, the most expensive movie ever made—doomed the 20-year reign of Stouros as head of the company.
Last September director George Stevens since has moved the studio to another studio and will film it this summer.
But that was only a pittance, compared with the costs of "Cleopatra." The millions in Rome piled up faster than the headlines. As Taylor and Richard Burton jilted about Rome while Fox burned.
As the scenes in "Cleopatra" wound to an agonizing finish, the studio got hit with a deadly body blow by Marilyn Monroe and Dean Martin.
Marilyn got fired from "Something's Got to Give." Martin objected to working with Lee Remick. Martin's replacement, So he quit. Then he died.
This all happened while the stock market had dropped to a level of film being shot.
