Sorry Exhibition

What was described by wire services as a "furious exchange" between two principals in the stockpile investigation should have been described as a sorry exhibition. Sen. Stuart L. Symington charged George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury, had impugned the motives of the senate. Whereupon Mr. Humphrey exploded and they ended up questioning each other's integrity. It was rather an incredible development involving two men who had cordial discussions only the day before.

What does it all mean in politics, personalities, election year fodder, August heat in Washington? Perhaps all these factors are involved. But more, it's just another indication that congressional investigations, while monopolizing headlines, seldom accomplish a great deal. To the contrary, they probe divert attention from the primary function of Congress—writing laws of the land.

Perhaps it only seems that way, but congressional investigations appear to pop up all over during an election year. And they're noted more for their partisanship than for an objective search for facts. It has been reported, for instance, that the stockpile investigation was precipitated by the need to offset the sensational Billie Sol Estes disclosures.

Investigations should be considered outside the province of congress. The government has literally thousands of trained investigators on the payroll and its various agencies whose sole function is investigative work. If investigations are indicated, they should be entrusted to the proper agency. When that bureau completes its investigation, the fact officials should be called in to report. Congress reports should carry recommendations for additional legislation, if so indicated.

That's the point where congress should enter the picture. Getting back to the stockpile probe, the mere size of the program would indicate there was nothing to be wonch watch made all along during the program to avert anything that did not appear absolutely above board. Here, again, the government has an ample number of investigators to make such continuous checks.

FORWARD STEPS—Hoover established the federal board to purchase various commodities, and all subsequent relief programs have stemmed from the idea of government assistance. He set up a corporation which subsequently saved American industry from paralysis. Many of his constructive proposals were blocked and permitted FDR to set the credit for them.

Had Roosevelt cooperated with Hoover after the federal board in November, 1932, the depression might not have become as deep as it did in 1932-33. The late Jesse H. Jones, who headed the board, later testified that Hoover's help was not needed to close the banking system.

IN NOBLE MOTIVE—Hoover's great blunder, sociological as well as political, was that he did not discern the evil effects of prohibition. He believed that the house veterans affairs bill...
Backed by an active lobby, the measure would pay a lifetime pension of $10,275 to every man who served 30 days in uniform in 1917 or 18...
In some respects, voters, themselves, can be blamed for development of an arrogant attitude on the part of officials.

Student From Korea Talks At Club Meet

Kyu Sik Lee, Seoul, Korea, student at the College of Idaho, spoke at the Twin Falls Kiwanis club, Thursday night at the American Legion hall.

Lee discussed the economic differences between Korea and the United States. He pointed out in 1948 his country first tasted western culture, having been ruled as a typical Oriental nation for 4,000 years. Often referred to as the "Hermit kingdom," Lee said Korea has been invaded by several Chinese dynasties since 100 which is one reason for this nation of 23 million people being so economically depressed. Lee said the Korean people themselves felt the foreign aid received has not been distributed equally.

Lee first visited this country in 1955 with a group of Korean boys sent on an exchange program by the Snake River council and the Methodist Youth foundation. Later through the efforts of Dr. Joseph Marshall and the Rev. W. A. MacArthur, he was awarded a $1,000 scholarship at the College of Idaho, spending his summers with Dr. Marshall and working at Camp Bradley.

Visiting Kiwanians were Wayne Egan and Wayne Claiborn, both Pocatello. Guests were Henry Rice, Oceanide, Calif.; Elmer Rees, Murtaugh, and Merrill Stanbury, a Winston-Greer, both Twin Falls.

New Well Shows Adequate Water

RUPPERT, Aug. 18 — A more than adequate supply of water was assured this week by tests of the new well being drilled in the north part of town, according to city officials today.

Tests showed a capacity of 3,000 gallons per minute. Mayor Glover Acock said, which should be sufficient to take care of all needs of the city for the next 20 years. The well will be pumped into city water mains at the site of the water and was expected to lower the temperature of the city water by several degrees. The old well is 72 degrees, he said, and the new one just 55 degrees, which should make considerable difference.

Figures for the water department show a consumption of some 800 gallons a minute, the mayor said.

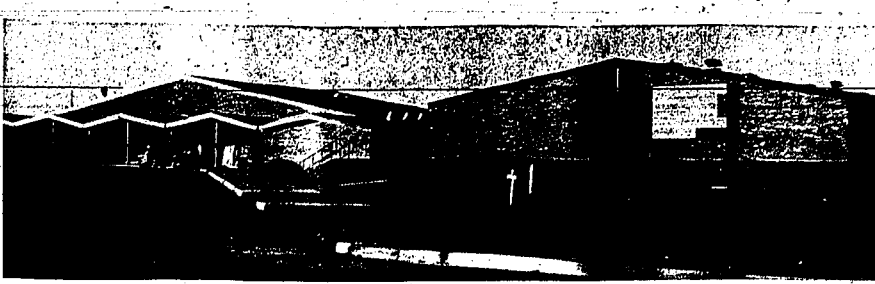

Crews are making the necessary connections to channel the new well water into the mains.

NEW 30-CLASSROOM ELEMENTARY school in Buhl is scheduled for completion for the opening of school Aug. 27. Open house at the new structure has been tentatively for Sept. 2. The modern three-level unit is located on 18 acres across from the high school and will serve grades one through six with 750

New Buhl Elementary School Readied for School Aug. 27

BUHL, Aug. 18 — The final touches are being added to the new 30 classroom elementary school building here in preparation for the opening day of school Aug. 27. Rex Engelking, superintendent, says tentative date on Sept. 2 has been set for open house at the new building.

The modern, three-level unit is located on an 18-acre site across from the senior high school building. It will serve grades one through six and approximately 750 children will attend classes here.

The building is accented with pastel cement, asbestos-tile paneling, bright multi-colored mosaic tile trim and decorative glass doors. The interior of the building is done in soft pastel shades and hallways and inside rooms are lighted with fluorescent fixtures in addition to translucent glass bubbles through the roof which provide some natural daytime light. The floor throughout the building is of cement laid with decorative asphalt-tile.

The west wing of the building will serve grades one through three and the east wing will serve grades four through six. The spacious classrooms in each wing are done in pastel shades and are lighted with simultaneous fluorescent fixtures which follow the contour of the ceiling.

Each room is equipped with a sink and drinking fountain, adequate shelving space, attractive strip windows and colored chalk boards. Splashes of bright colors and multi-colored mosaic tile trim add to the attractiveness of the room.

An inter-communication speaker system and a bell system are found in each classroom. Heat and ventilation is provided by ducted electric heat and each room has a thermostat for heat control.

Outside each classroom can be found a colorful display board to match a colored paneling on the door and a recessed area in the hallway will serve as a coat closet.

Faculty work room is provided in the hallway and they could be converted to classrooms if the need arises. Engking pointed out a kindergarten class also has been made available in the school.

Lavatories done in bright tile feature both inside and outside entrances. Three playground areas will be available for youngsters. Each side of the building is being grassed to be used as a play area. However, behind the center wing will be the main playground which is blacktopped. Slides, swings, merry-go-round, children scheduled to attend. The building is constructed of brick accented with pastel cement asbestos paneling. The structure features an inter-communication system, a multi-purpose room, library, music room, sickroom, teachers' lounge and kitchen as well as offices for the principal and nurse. (Times-News photo) basketball and volleyball courts have been installed.

The center unit of the building will house the multi-purpose room, library, music room, sickroom, teachers' lounge and kitchen. The multi-purpose room featuring hardwood floors will serve as a dining room, for physical education purposes as well as an auditorium. Tables recessed in the wall can be folded out to feed between 400 and 425 children. Folding chairs are placed in roll away carts and are stored beneath the stage.

A spotlight stage area is also found here, as well as adjoining shower rooms, storage space and a loading ramp. A separate heating system, an electric blow type unit, is used to heat this room.

Just off the multi-purpose room is the modern up to date kitchen. Other features of this section includes a dishwashing area, walk-in cooler, dry storage room, vegetable storage bag can, room, cook's rest room and closet. An unusual feature of the Remodeling of the senior and Junior high school buildings is also under way. In the senior high school building a new chemistry and physics room with a dark room has been installed. building is that water pipes are run in the ceiling rather than underground, and pipes are so concealed that it looks like a natural part of the ceiling.

A fire alarm system has been installed throughout the building grounds is under way. A fire alarm system has been installed in both the junior and senior high school buildings. The P. H. Buhl school is also being renovated from an elementary school to serve as a junior high school building for seventh and eighth grade students. The cost of the new school and remodeling program has been made possible through the $885,000 bond election passed in May.

...for a once-a-year buy on just the one you want!

Getting ready for a vacation trip couldn't be easier: a Chevrolet, pack your family and go. And that first part is easiest of all with what your Chevrolet dealer has to pick from: The Jet-smooth Chevrolet, America's favorite family car with a ride that only seems expensive; the Chevy II, about as lively and luxurious as you can get for a low, low price; the sporty Corvair, a rear-engine beauty that just refuses to be run-of-the-mill. One of these 4-doors (or a two-door for that matter) is sure to fit your family and budget just fine. So, okay—what are you waiting for?

FINAL PLANS for the 1962 Twin Falls county fair and rodeo Sept. 5-8 were announced Friday evening during a kick-off dinner sponsored by the county fair-board in the Rogerson hotel Desert room. Discussing events scheduled for the fair are, seated, Earl Hutchison, left, Gannett, in charge of rodeo stock, and Thomas Parks, fair board secretary-manager, and standing, Cecil Blinn, Kimberly, who will be in charge of horse racing Sept. 6 and 7. (Times-News photo)

National Championship Cowboys Are Scheduled for County Fair Rodeo

From 10 to 12 national championship cowboys will perform and compete in rodeo events at the Twin Falls county fair and rodeo Sept. 5-8. It was announced during a fair publicity and kick-off dinner meeting Friday evening in the Rogerson hotel Desert room. For fair board officials, county commissioners and news media representatives.

Benny Reynolds, Melrose, Ore., world champion cowboy of 1961, will be among the champion rodeo performers, noted Earl Hutchison, Gannett, who will furnish livestock for the rodeo.

It was pointed out that another highlight of the 1962 fair will be the appearance of two chariots and two four-horse teams from NMBA's award-winning film spectacle, "Ben-Hur." The chariots will be driven by photo-representatives wearing costumes similar to those used in the motion picture.

Cecil Blinn, Kimberly, fair board member in charge of afternoon entertainment, noted there will be horse racing Sept. 6 and 7 in the fairgrounds arena. There will be six races each day with $100 prize money in each race. Cow cutting contest events participants in rodeo events on their own merits and ability.

He announced the Twin Falls rodeo "will have more champion contestants this year—than all other Magic Valley rodeos combined." At least 10 to 12 national championship rodeo performers will compete and Benny Reynolds, last year's world champion cowboy, will participate in all four rodeo performances.

Hutchison also announced that the "Ben-Hur" chariot teams will appear as rodeo entertainment and said it is "the greatest attraction ever shown at a rodeo." He mentioned that during Salt Lake City's recent "Days of '49" celebration and rodeo, for which he furnishes livestock, the "Ben-Hur" teams accounted for large increase in crowds over the previous year's rodeo.

He stressed the championship competition and said that Glenn McSpadden, "one of the greatest rodeo announcers in the nation," will be in charge of the rodeo.

Barry stated during the meeting that "everyone should treat themselves to at least one good rodeo a year."

It was suggested that the rodeo clowns, queen contestants or champion cowboys visit schools in the county to encourage students to bring their parents to the fair and rodeo. Barry said that a committee would be formed to coordinate appearances at the school.

Ernest Ragnand, superintendent of Twin Falls school district No. 411, was present and indicated visits to the schools could be arranged.

Horse Racing to Be Feature At New Race Track at Jerome

JEROME, Aug. 18 — A race track, the first phase of the Jerome Recreation association planning, will be used during the Jerome fair and rodeo, Thursday through Saturday, thanks to the foresightfulness of several Jerome residents, officers point out.

These men already have done a great deal of the ground work and planning.

When finished there will be facilities for baseball, including little league, pony league and high school. There will be a track for high school meets and a football field.

The association now is working on acquiring 15 acres, including a spur of the railroad. Tom Prescott, chairman of the group reported that the prospect of the railroad giving the land to the association is favorable.

Tidy Tasters at Jerome Convene

JEROME, Aug. 18 — At the meeting of the Tidy Tasters, demonstrations were given by Debby Moulton on good skin, Carol Bentzinger on good eyes, Mary Frances Kias on first aid and Janice Bentzinger on how to tie your baby.

Others were given by Cathie Bentzinger on how to entertain a child, Carol Bentzinger on how to prepare a baby's bottle and Diana Featherston on how to make a toy for an infant or toddler.

The supper for the Cooking III girls was held Thursday evening at the home of Mary Frances Kias.

Twin Falls to Participate in Testing Publications Interest

Public interest in government publications which offer tips on purchasing and family problems will be tested in a pilot program by 100 postoffice clerks around the country beginning the first week in September. The Twin Falls postoffice is one of the 100 announced Postmaster W. W. Franta.

The pilot project, undertaken in response to President Kennedy's consumer message to congress last March 15, will include public reaction to publications ranging from food buying to low-cost vacations in national parks.

Publications sold through the government printing office are available at prices ranging from five cents to $47.

The clerks to be used in the project were chosen on the basis of a cross-section of the city's population file in the 1960 census and will range from a 45-year-old New York City office to Kernell, Tex.

Pioneer School Opening Planned

PAUL, Aug. 18 — Principal Eugene Humphries of Pioneer school reports classes will begin August 20 with registration Aug. 23. The staff includes Eugene Humphries, sixth grade; Bernice Strong, first grade; Lucy Easton, second grade; Muriel Franzen, third grade; Tex Malan, fourth grade; Howard Peck, fifth grade; and Henry Bernita, a new teacher from Rupert, sixth grade.

The program, designed to inform the public on available consumer services, was planned by the postoffice department in cooperation with the President's council of economic advisers and a committee of special assistants for consumer activities from a number of government agencies.

Each postoffice in the pilot project will be supplied with a table-top display explaining the program, including a supply of order blanks listing the publications. Envelopes pre-addressed to the government printing office will be coded so that orders can be identified and reaction analyzed.

A bothersome porcupine was scooped out of town early Friday by Twin Falls Police.

City police were called about 3:30 a.m. Friday by Mack Maupin, 1640 Willow lane, who reported there was a "big porcupine in the neighbor's hedge," and several dogs were "giving it a bad time."

Police investigated and a notation on the police blotter said: "Result of investigation: Escorted to edge of town."

Shoshone Tennis Courts Finished

SHOSHONE, Aug. 18 — The city tennis courts, a joint project of the city of Shoshone, Civic club and Rotary club, is now in use.

Ferry Hadlock has offered to give lessons Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Regulations necessary for upkeep of the courts include tennis shoes only are to be worn and baseball cleats and bicycles have been outlawed. Citizens are urged to take care of the courts.

Members of the Civic club donated $800 to start the project and in two years raised the money. Complete cost was about $1,000.

Hawley Raps Church Vote On Farm Bill

GOODING, Aug. 18 — Sen. Frank Church, D., 10th, was criticized Friday by John F. Hawley, Boise, for his support of the administration's farm bill which Hawley deemed "one of the most repulsive measures ever put to congress."

"All Idahoans and particularly our Idaho farmer should remember that Frank Church voted for this bill when it passed the senate," said Hawley, who accuses Church's senate seat.

"It had not been for an all-time put to congress."

"The fed grain provision of this bill would have stifled our young growing Idaho fed grain industry."

"But perhaps the most reprehensible provision of the entire bill provided that if the farmer did not accept the many new controls by a two-thirds vote then Mr. Freeman could punish them by dumping the huge farm surplus on the market and send farm prices to rock bottom."

Hawley was in Gooding for the Gooding county fair and rodeo. He continued on his handshaking tour Tuesday through Washington and Gen. counties.

Writer Supports Legalized Gambling for Next Election

Editor, Times-News: So you are against gambling? No law? Do you propose to let gamblers go free in Twin Falls where they win $70 in a few minutes in a penny-quart game from one sheep herder and pay no tax.

No wonder the gamblers themselves vote with the good people of Idaho and the gambling barons of Nevada to keep legal gambling out of Idaho. Nevada collects the tax, the Idaho people pay the farmer. Gamblers "dollars are folded" you say.

There is another plan that would raise plenty of money and not tax gamblers too. Why not tax gamblers too? "We might as well eat the devil as drink his breath."

Miss Damitz Is Terrill's Bride in Washington Rite

JEROME, Aug. 16.—Pamela Damitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Damitz, Westlake, Wash., became the bride of Robert Lynn Terrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Terrill, Jerome, in ceremonies June 9 at the Presbyterian church, Westlake, Wash.

The Rev. David White of United Brethren church performed the double ring rite before a gathering of baskets of pink carnations, aqua stock and white chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of heavy white silk tulle finished with a square neckline and long sleeves of white lace. The front panel of the skirt was designed with an overlap of white lace accented with rhinestones.

Her fingerless veil of French tulle was held by a pair of white satin roses. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations centered with a white rose and a long streamer of white lace. Her shoes were aqua sheath dress with a matching overshoe. She wore a short veil held by a satin rose and carried pink carnations.

Bridesmaids Sandra Thompson, sister of the bride, Dorothy Hitchcock, and Loreta Kennedy followed in the maid of honor. Pam Ferris, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Ringbearer was Tommy Sorells.

Best man was Craig Dunn. Ushers were Jack Campbell, Roger Eshenower, Mike Ruth, Steve Salmon and Edward Ferris.

Mrs. Arnold pianist, accompanied Robert McKinley, soloist.

The mother of the bride selected a beige silk lace sheath gown decorated with a scalloped neckline and hem. She wore matching shoes and apricot accessories. Her corsage was of apricot carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pastel pink linen sheath dress with rose gloves and a corsage of rose-colored carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church social hall. The bride's table was centered with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums, aqua stock and pink carnations. The cross-shaped wedding cake was decorated with pink bells, small white flowers and aqua forget-me-nots.

In charge of gifts were Carolyn Irgen and Mrs. Dale Patzkert. Serving were Mrs. Jerry Brown, Judy Fairchild and Mrs. Dave Wyrick.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. G. D. McManis, Baltimore, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Danitz, paternal grandparents of the bride, Portland, Ore.; and Mrs. Lloyd Rapp and daughters, Southfield, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunckel, Boise, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Pete Peterson and sons, Seattle; and Allan Terrill, brother of the bridegroom, Jerome.

For a wedding trip to Sun Valley, the bride wore a blue silk suit with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Terrill is a graduate of Moses Lake high school. The bridegroom is a Jerome high school graduate. They will reside in Cascade valley, Wash.

Jamaica Women Test New Type Of Birth Control

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Jamaican women—15-48-month babies of family planning have proved the effectiveness of a simple technique of birth control which costs only one-half cent per application.

A report in the New York State Journal of Medicine notes that the experience in Jamaica public health clinics could act as a guide in setting up public health sections on the critical problem of family planning, especially in under-developed countries.

Dr. A. R. Panchment and Aubrey Russell of the St. Elizabeth and Manchester health departments, reported that the technique used during the trial reduces the pregnancy rate very substantially. It involved use of foam producing liquid inserted with an inserting instrumented sponge.

The sponge, a plastic type treated chemically to foam rubber, is moistened on each side with just one-fourth of a cubic centimeter of the foam-making liquid.

Pressure on the sponge produces thousands of tiny bubbles containing a 57 per cent solution of effective spermicide used in other official contraceptives.

The liquid was chosen because it is the cheapest and also particularly well adapted to hot, humid climates.

One cause of the stiff, costing clinics about 30 cents, costing 60 exposures when used as directed, according to the New York firm (Durex Products company) that supplied material for the field trial.

Dr. Panchment and his associate said the foaming liquid was distributed to patients in small dropper bottles to make measurement easy.

"The patients were also told to return when they required additional material," they reported. "They were instructed how to use the material."

Of 640 patients who started in the trial, 60 dropped out, leaving 577 using the technique as the end of the period. The total number of pregnancies was 16.

Mathematically, as the investigators figure, the results indicate that if a woman in the West Indies were to use the same technique for 25 years, she could expect one pregnancy objective for a contraceptive to be used among people of low economic status. The specific items they set out to meet included the following:—Simple to teach, simple to use, one requiring a minimum of equipment, inexpensive, stable in areas of high heat and humidity, safe and free from irritating toxic materials, and effective. "Now that family planning is becoming more widely accepted in well-developed countries," the investigators concluded that the technique met the ideal.

American-Boys Learn About TV And Milkshakes

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—A group of American boys grew up in Iran and Jordan, and they learned television set and milkshake part of a child's American life in an amazing new experience.

They embrace me sometimes, stopping to point and ask questions and read every street sign, they said their father, Delmer Dooly, 41, "I've been away from the TV set in the hotel room. They had their first milkshake today and each had an extra while sitting the counter stools, but this is new to them."

Dooly, his pretty brunette wife, Thelma, 37, and their two sons, Douglas, 6, and Allen, 4, both returned to the Twin Falls on a one-year leave from their job with the Near East Foundation.

Media has been a privately supported "peace corps" type of assignment of four years in Iran and one-half in Jordan. Dooly acted as technical agricultural assistant to the two governments at their request.

The foundation is nearing the 10-year mark of offering technical aid to emerging countries. At present, projects also are operating in Ghana and Korea.

The Doolys were stopped for a few days in New York before continuing to Columbia, Mo., where Dooly enrolled in the University of Missouri to study for his doctorate in agricultural science.

"Maybe our boys were growing up in some of the things you children take for granted state-side," said Mrs. Dooly. "But we feel their lives have been enriched—living in the Near East, both of them speak Farsi and Arabic (the Jordanian language). Douglas often had to translate for us."

It is a region rich in history, the Jordanians have a deeply religious culture. They speak with reverence in almost every sentence. We've swam in the Dead sea. We walked the way of the cross on Good Friday in Jerusalem... went to Bethlehem on Christmas eve."

While Dooly, a native of Madison, S.D., is studying, Mrs. Dooly plans to enjoy an automobile and a washing machine and someone that's baking for a while. Her washer was an antiquated number, she said, and she hated the family's bread supply.

Double Wedding At T.F. Church Unites Couples

FILER, Aug. 18—In a double wedding ceremony Aug. 11 at the Twin Falls First Methodist church, Carol Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, Filer, became the bride of Ignacio Aguirre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anselmo Aguirre, Ybaunaguas, Viscaya, Spain; Miss Moore's sister, Gayle Mathers, was married to Jose Bengochea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benigno Bengochea and the late Janella Bengochea, Ermete Viscaya, Spain.

The rites were solemnized by the Rev. Henry J. Garmhart. Each bride wore a street-length pink nylon over tulle gown styled with a lace jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. They carried pink feathered carnations and white feathered chrysanthemum. Each wore white accessories and a hat with a veil.

Gayle Lee carried the rings on a white satin cushion.

A reception for 60 guests was held at the YWCA building. Serving refreshments were Annita Blair and Lois Jagles. Guests were registered by Jackie Stephens.

The three-tiered cake was decorated with white roses and ornate figurines. It was flanked with arrangements of pink and white gladioli and pink tapers.

The couples honeymooned in Las Vegas, Nev. They will reside in Filer. The new Mrs. Bengochea is a secretary for Joe Bellabury; her husband is employed at the Cavataugh ranch, Buhl. Mrs. Aguirre is employed at the Addison Avenue Town and Country. Aguirre is employed at Globe Seed and Feed company.

The couples plan a trip to Spain in 1964.

Bratkowski's Passing Leads Rams to Win

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—Quarterback Zeke Bratkowski tossed three long touchdowns passed to the Los Angeles Rams to defeat the Minnesota Vikings 33-21 in a National Football League exhibition game before 23,814 tonight.

On the second play of the game, Bratkowski hooked a pass to the Los Angeles Rams' tight end, Red Bull, on a 59-yard punt. Later in the half, Bratkowski hooked a pass to the former Georgia star center, Red Bull, on a 57-yard punt. Bratkowski passed to tight end Red Bull on a 57-yard punt. Redlegs Beat Dodgers 12-1 to Tighten National League Race

With Joe Nuxhall's four-hit pitching for support, the Cincinnati Reds won on a hitting spree Saturday night that cut down Los Angeles' National League-leading Dodgers 12-1. For Nuxhall, who found himself in the minors earlier this year, it was one of the southpaw's complete control.

The homer, mashing an old friend from San Diego at the third victory without a loss for the 34-year-old lefthander since the Reds bought him from San Diego at $100,000.

For the Reds, it was a 15-hit exhibition of batting might, with every man in the line-up getting at least one safety. Frank Robinson beamed up his long home run with two hits, including his 32nd homer this year.

Fairly Broad Gain Charted In Stock Mart

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The stock market registered a fairly broad gain this week as a combination of the symbols JPK and USDB stirred up the market. How far ahead of us is the chaotic days of early August.

The week got off to a rousing start as Russia's spectacular space escape caused nearly as much excitement in Wall Street as it did in the Kremlin. As could be expected, the immediate reaction in this country was: How far ahead of us is the chaotic days of early August.

However, the Russian incident was not alone in stirring Wall Street. A bullish interpretation of President Kennedy's tax message rally" took its natural course, followed with the senate's vote and leading debate on a communication bill, both of which were followed Tuesday's closing Dow-Jones Industrial average above 600 for the first time since June.

On Wednesday, the D-J average rose to its highest point since 1954, and the heavily trading market since mid-June. With this tucked under its belt, the investing community breathed a sigh of relief and set back to the long-heralded "summer rally" take its natural course.

As one brokerage house put it, "It is not unreasonable to expect that the market will continue to rise slowly but surely the market came back with renewed vigor under the chemical and electronics.

A week of favorable news, including the announcement of a new stock issue, higher stock prices, and a promise of tax revision legislation, was capped Thursday when federal reserve action, formerly of the University of Southern California, set the four-quarterly record with a new record of 10.5 percent.

Although Len, 29, was a member of the U.S. 1956 Olympic team, peace corps official said he would be satisfied to get into the college service. The African governments are keenly interested in sponsoring and fostering the tremendous interest in sports in their countries," the corps said.

Only Mild Ripples Result As Tax Cut Plan Is Rejected

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—The prospect of an immediate income tax cut vanished during the week. But a mild ripple in the market was caused by the rejection of the Kennedy tax plan.

Most public reaction from the business community to the decision was favorable although there were expressions of opinion that Kennedy's address to the nation had political overtones.

On the heels of the President's speech, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges released 1.9 billion dollars of frozen funds to speed up federal aid in housing programs. The action doesn't give the state extra money but will enable it to speed up its housing program.

However, a national industrial conference based surveys found that manufacturers cut capital expenditures by 12 percent in the second quarter, which would reflect a slowdown in plant and equipment investment.

On another sector of the labor-business front, the immediate insurance of a nationwide railroad strike was averted. A federal court refused to lift a temporary restraining order that barred the strike.

Mr. Paul Embree, who has served at the Nuneaton, mission in Southern Rhodesia, will appear and show slides at the United Methodist church at Filer at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Ex-Olympian Will Enter Peace Corps

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP)—Ex-Olympic runner James Lea, sometime holder of the world 400-yard record, has accepted a position in the Peace Corps duty in Africa.

Lea and his wife were among 20 volunteers, most of them now physical education teachers in American schools, who already have said they would like to serve with the corps.

The corps said women as well as men have been invited by the three French-speaking countries to coach and assist in training of regional and national teams.

Lea, formerly of the University of Southern California, set the four-quarterly record with a new record of 10.5 percent. Although Len, 29, was a member of the U.S. 1956 Olympic team, peace corps official said he would be satisfied to get into the college service.

Merger Hurts Elects Past Billings 3-0

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 18 (AP)—Bookie John Mercer picked up his first win of the season for the Rams in a 3-0 victory over the Vikings in the fashion by setting the Pioneer league leading Billings.

Billings down on just one hit. Mercer was 3-0. Zeke Faulkner had the only hit off Mercer and that was a solid single to centerfield to lead off the eighth inning. Mercer was a little wild, however, as he walked five and struck out seven.

Great Falls picked up its first win in the fourth. Eddie Griffith's double to start things off was the first hit for Great Falls. He took third on a grounder and was singled home by Eddie Reed.

In the seventh, the Electrics picked up two insurance runs. Fred and Pete Calmano hit back-to-back singles. Reed was out at first. Bob Caronick was out at first. Bob Caronick was out at first.

Beatty Leads Five Men Under Four-Minute Mile Barrier; Sets U.S. Mark

LONDON, Aug. 18 (UPI)—Jim Beatty of the Los Angeles track club, cleared less than two weeks ago, led four men through the four-minute mile barrier at White City stadium today and set an American record of 3:55.5. It marked the first time the mile had been run in under four minutes by five men in the same race. In conditions tailor-made for a record assault, Beatty was shooting for the world record of 3:54.4 set by Peter Snell of New Zealand on Jan. 27, 1962. As it was, he had to settle for a new American mark of 3:55.5 set by Dyrrol Burstein at Eugene, Ore., May 22, 1961.

U.S. Buries British In Curtis Cup Play

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 18 (AP)—American women amateur golfers won five out of six single matches today, completing an 8-1 rout—widest margin of the British in the 12th Curtis cup competition, the thrashing topped a 7 1/2-1 1/2 United States triumph in 1960 and kept on this side of the Atlantic the trophy the Americans won two years ago in England. The U.S. has won the cup eight times and the British twice. The competition ended in a 10-0 sweep for the Americans which started in 1922. Jane Robb Ferguson, an 18-year-old beauty, defied the British to lead off by crushing Judy Bell, Wichita, Kan., in the largest winning margin of the series.

Jan Roberts, 19, a last-minute addition to Britain's all-time best team, made a gallant effort to pull out another triumph for the visitors but lost to Phyllis Magie Valley Pioneer League golfer at Halliwell park. It was the largest crowd at the park in several weeks. Pocatello took 15-1, ending a seven-game winning streak.

Many of the fans came to the game on complimentary tickets mailed by the ball club. And a number of the fans gave a donation of $2 to the ball club although use of the tickets does not mean a fan must pay for them. Among the unusual donations were these:

- A $10 contribution by the Kluge featuring rolling green and blacked background by deceptive female showgirls.
- Helene Gunderson, Kirkland, Neb., turned back a threateningly in the late stages of the match on the 22nd hole.
- The U.S. after blanking the club on the 11th hole, then stiffened in Saturday's 30-hole match over the 6,527-yard par-72 Broadmoor course, standing in mountains 6,500 feet above sea level. None of the competition broke par on the 11th hole featuring rolling green and blacked background by deceptive female showgirls.

Jaipur Takes Stirling Win Over Ridan

BARATOSA SPRINGS, N.Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—Jaipur took over the final stride today to capture the $67,500 Travers stakes in one of the greatest horse races ever held at Baratosa race track.

The results probably clinched the 3-year-old championship for Jaipur, odds-on favorite of a crowd of 25,000.

Jaipur, owned by George D. Widener, and the 3-year-old W. K. Middleweight Invader, Ridan, hooked up in a head-and-head duel for the full mile and quarter. It was a six-furlong quarter battle and the fourth largest crowd in Baratosa history saw Jaipur smash the great Man O'War's 1920 Travers stakes record with a time of 2 minutes 30 seconds. The record was set in 2:09 4/5 here 42 years ago.

The clocking also equaled the fastest time ever posted in the ancient contest, opened in 1864. Lacey Draw, another Wildcat, set the record in 1864. Jaipur, 44-1, was the favorite at 2-5 odds, under 100 pounds Aug. 24, 1966.

This was a two-horse scrap all the way as Willie Shoemaker on Jaipur and Manuel Ycaza aboard Ridan fought it out down to the wire. Jaipur led by 1 1/2 lengths but failed to hold on. The winner paid $2.50, $2.20 and $2.00 for the first, second and third home. Walter M. Miller, military manager, returned $3 as he wound up a length behind the betting leaders.

Three Share St. Paul Golf Tourney Lead

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 18 (AP)—Frank Wharton, Doug Sanders and Johnny Pott moved into the lead in the competition for the 5,000-dollar St. Paul Open golf tournament today with 15-under-par 70.

A stroke off the pace were Dave Hill, Dave Ragan and Joe Sampson.

Sanders, one of the game's leading money winners, needed 20 strokes to reach the 18th green for the undisturbed lead. But he stroked the ball three feet past the hole on the green, and Pott knocked in spectacular shots on the last hole. Wharton, who laid off the tour for most of the summer, flipped sand-trap shot a foot from the hole and nailed a birdie. Pott, an 18-foot putter, also made a hole in one, and Pott, calmly rolled in a 20-footer for his birdie.

Sanders finished with 66, three under par today, Wharton had 67 and Pott a 70.

Cambridge's 28-hole leader at 133, sagged to an even par 72 today when he developed putting woes. Hill had 98 to jump into contention and Ragan had 71.

Peter Cooper, the 47-year-old warhorse who had two consecutive five, recorded 70 today for 200. He was tied with PGA champion Gary Player, who turned in a magnificent two, strots behind the leading trio.

Today's race gave British track fans their first glimpse of a sub-four-minute mile since 1922. The 1922 race was won by Britisher Roger Bannister who was the first man to break the one-minute barrier when he clocked 3:59.4 at Oxford, England, on May 4, 1954. The barrier now has been broken 78 times, but it still is back—'and they're not checking no longer.

Beatty and his York team-mates now leave for Helsinki for another assault on the mile record on Aug. 20 as part of the European tour.

Bruins Grid. Hopes Hit 11-Year High

THE TIMES-NEWS Sunday, Aug. 19, 1962 17

Football prospects at Twin Falls high school are at an 11-year high.

If any school in the Southern Idaho conference could say that, immediately that school would be a favorite. But in the past 11 years, Twin Falls has had only one winning team that coming last year on a 6-4 record.

Since winning the conference championship in 1951 and posting a 9-1 record, the hapless Bruins have mounted a 22-97-6 worst-loss record. Of course, its conference winning percentage hasn't been that good.

In fact, since 1951 Twin Falls has beatenampa only once (1951), never beaten Boise, although they the Braves twice won one, tied one and lost the rest to Caldwell; spite with Idaho Falls, including the two years the Tigers were out of the conference football; won three of 10 from Pocatello and lost all four to Borah, the newest CIF member.

They were winless in 81 consecutive games during that period. They were winless in 81 consecutive games during that period. They were winless in 81 consecutive games during that period.

But with the advent of Paul Olson three years ago the football team has begun to pick up. This year the Bruins will be coached by their varsity men from 1951 and coaches, who are senior Larry Smith backed by individual sophomores clubs lost only one game between them.

There also are 45 sophomores out this year.

Although the Bruins will be losing the smallest unit in size, the 1962 edition will be the heaviest in several years—averaging out at 185 pounds. And there will be great speed and depth in the backfield.

The last Bruin offensive line averaged 170 pounds with the guards going 137 and 140 pounds. They will be replaced by 165-pounders this year.

The coaching staff is looking forward to the year despite the fact only 10 lettermen are back. The biggest name is Doug Show, 6-foot, 2-inch, 180-pounder who plays leftback. Show has run the 100-yard dash in 9.9 and won the state track 440 and 220-yard titles. At wingback is senior flyer Joe Colclum, 156-pounder who runs the century in 10.2. Fullbacks are 180-pound senior Larry Smith backed by junior 190-pound Curtis Eaton, who in the first 15 yards is the fastest man and most of the size is found there.

"We definitely will be stronger than at anytime since I've been in Twin Falls," says coach Oleg. "But nobody's going to be pointing the favored role at us as long as Borah and Caldwell still are in the conference. Pocatello and Idaho Falls will have very big lines. Borah will be young but also should be tough. I think we'll be a lot better but I think this outfit of the conference is way up. Borah and Caldwell are the teams to watch, though."

In the interior line comes Gary McGuire, probably the best "center" on the team despite his 170 pounds, and red-headed Bob Satterwhite, 206-pound tackle. Duke Whitehead, 185 pounds, is a two-way guard. Ed Cannon, 180 pounds, and Norman Ulrich, senior letterman transfer from Jerome, who is 135 pounds, fill the center spot.

Behind them come 33 juniors from last year's undefeated sophomore team and most of the size is found there.

The Magic Valley... shooting... park record Thursday night in a special "advertisers' night."

Under the plan the Cowboys... something like selling the ball park for a night... they have done well for a night and let the park be free.

The Joyce park record is 5-16, which in view of the overall attendance of the past few years seems out of reach. But there is always hope.

Members are buying the tickets... below the guarantee for the sponsors' share of the purchase... they reach the break-even point.

Some of the sponsors have distributed over 200 and one is writing toward his 50th birthday... "I said before, we are not looking for this to make us money."

The financial blind in Pocatello is beginning to sell. That franchise had only about 1,200 admissions through July 31.

Record-Breaking Continues in Swimming Meet

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 (AP)—Canadian Mary Stewart, Vancouver, and German Wiltrud Urselmann led record assaults today in the national AAU women's outdoor swimming championships.

Stewart bettered all existing listed marks in the 100-meter buttermilk in a time of 1 minute 07.6 seconds in the Portage-park 50-meter Olympic pool.

The robust, 20-year-old fraulein eclipsed the mark set by an American record in the 100-meter breaststroke in 1:20.6. Ingrid Paunstrater, 19, Hamburg, Germany, was second in 1:21.0.

The 100-meter butterfly national, American and world record is 1:39.2 set by Susan Egan of Philadelphia in 1961. The 10-year-old defending champion was a disappointing fourth in 1:55.4 while Kathy Ellis, Indianapolis, took second in 1:46.4 and Carolyn Wood, Portland, Ore. third in 1:50.2.

The official meet record in the 100-meter freestyle was set by Marianne Hargreaves, Van Nuys, Calif., in 1961. The American record in 1962 was set by Santa-Ciara, Calif., two years ago. The world standard is 1:29.3, set by East Germany's Barbara Gobel in 1961.

Donna DeVarna, 16-year-old San Francisco, Ore. broke her own national and American record in repeating as the medley last year in 2:33.3.

At the sun on the second start, the bubbly diver went to the front and stayed there to win by a big margin over 16-year-old Sharon Fineman, Los Angeles, who was second in 2:38.3.

Miss DeVarna set her records in 1962 by knocking out Hagan (Kiki) Bausey. He whipped Bausey in a return the same year and defended it once in 1963 and twice in 1961.

Another repeater was Carolyn House, Los Angeles, who set a national record of 4:52.3 in winning the 400-meter freestyle, which she had won in 1961.

Some of the sponsors have distributed over 200 and one is writing toward his 50th birthday... "I said before, we are not looking for this to make us money."

Tie Silk Is Winner of Trotting Title

WESTBURY, N.Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The Silk of Canada won the $50,000 Roosevelt International 1100 — symbolic of the world's trotting championship — beating the defending champion, Su Mac Lad of the United States, by a neck at Roosevelt Racetrack tonight.

A crowd of 53,270, the second highest attendance ever for a harness race, saw the Canadian horse, driven by Keith Waples, get up in the last stride to edge Su Mac Lad, who led in the 1 1/2 mile race virtually from the start. Time was 2:34.1.

The Silk, owned by the Miron brothers, Adrien and Gerard, of Quebec, paid $225,000 and $140,000. Su Mac Lad, the ever-money favorite, returned $350 and $280 and Porterhouse, the second, paid $320. Biletteler of West Germany finished fourth.

AUSSIES GAIN FINALS. BEIRUT, Lebanon, Aug. 18 (AP)—Australia's Roy Emerson defeated Bobby Wilson, Britain, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4, in the semifinals of the Brouman International tennis tournament today. Australia's Neale Fraser beat Germany's Wilhelm Bungert 6-2, 6-4, 8-6, in the other semifinal.

Emile Griffith Given Split Decision Over Denny Moyer in Non-Title Bout

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith, weighing the heaviest of his career, but looking like a bantam, won a split 10-round decision over middleweight contender Denny Moyer tonight in their non-title rubber-match at the Tacoma Sports arena.

It was Griffith's second victory in three fights and it earned him the right to challenge middleweight champion Paul Pender for his portion of the split crown.

Griffith, 24, New York, registered his sixth straight victory although he weighed 156 1/2 pounds, the heaviest of his career.

Moyer, Portland, Ore., put up an excellent fight and did most of the forcing but his punches generally lacked the explosive force and speed of Griffith's. Denny, 25, weighed 154 1/2 pounds, as expected.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Madison Square garden said he was arranging for Griffith to slipped when he missed a punch and touched the canvas with both fists but did not fall down completely.

Moyer's bout attracted a paying crowd of about 3,000 and a gate estimated at $12,000. Griffith will receive a guarantee of $10,000 from television and 30 per cent of the net gate, probably about $2,700 for his share.

Moyer gets a $5,000 television guarantee and 25 per cent of the net gate, probably about $1,500.

The ringside nobles included Gov. Albert Rosellini of Washington and many officials of the National Boxing Association, which opens its annual convention Sunday at Tacoma's Winthrop hotel.

The previous two Griffith-Moyer bouts were staged in 1960. Griffith won their March contest at New York on a decision that season. He was barged but lost the verdict in their terrifically and knocked into the turn mat at Portland, Ore., six months later.

Because he is the champion and because of his harder punch,

Isaac Walton Leader Seeks Elk Control

JACKSON, Wyo., Aug. 18 (AP)—The national president of the Isaac Walton League of America took a stand today contrary to the official position of the group he heads when he came out in favor of public hunting in the Jackson Hole federal elk refuge.

L. C. Binford, Portland, Ore. deplored what he called "firing squad" killing of elk last winter in Yellowstone national park.

He estimated that the 5,000 head of elk that were killed by park rangers would have produced 100,000 furs of recreational hunting by private parties, and would have meant 2.5 million dollars spent by hunters in the area.

"Hunting is a recreation," Binford said at ceremonies marking the 50th anniversary of the founding of the elk refuge just north of Jackson. It is also the only accepted tool for keeping numbers of game birds and animals in balance with their habitat.

Binford suggested the league he heads should turn toward protection of the refuge and the animals overgraze as well as the animals themselves.

He termed hunting the moral way to keep the animals under control.

The league and the national park service have opposed opening national parks to public hunting.

However, a committee of the league is studying a proposal that hunting be permitted in sanctuary areas under controlled conditions. There is now some elk hunting allowed in Grand Teton national park and a committee recently named by Interior Secretary Stewart Udall is looking into expanding the policy.

The refuge here, now totalling 23,548 acres, was established in 1912 to keep elk from running wild in the streets of this resort town in the winter. Thousands of elk die each winter at the refuge.

2 Teams Ousted

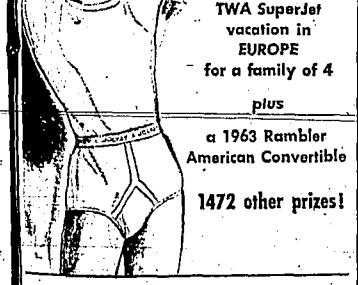

LAB VEGAS, N.M., Aug. 18 (AP)—Nevada defeated Oregon 4-3 and California trounced Utah 5-1 today in the opening round of the Pacific-Southwest American Legion regional baseball tournament.

Griffith was favored at 2-1 tonight despite his weight and despite the fact that this was only his second bout since he recaptured the crown from the late Benny "Kid" Paerz on a 12-fight at New York on March 24.

Emile defended his title at Las Vegas, Nev., successfully on July 13 against Ralph Dupas. Griffith's title was not at stake tonight because both he and Moyer scaled well above the 147-pound limit.

Hard Salmon Tract Life No Drawback to Kunkels

By O. A. (Gus) KEMLER
AMSTERDAM, Aug. 18 (Times-News)—All things considered, the Salmon tract has been a hard land, but to the Kunkels of Amsterdam, living in the area more than 50 years has been a challenge, met and surmounted.
And now even Amsterdam, a once proud Dutch community six miles north and one-fourth of a mile west of Rogerson, has all but disappeared. So have the hearty Dutchmen who, with high hopes of a productive land, found promises unfulfilled and gave up and moved away, one by one. Only a few Dutch settlers remain in the area. But the Kunkels are still there and, among other things, now even own the few remaining buildings of the old town venture.
Arrived From Oregon, Mo. The migration of the Kunkel family to this section of Idaho from Oregon, Mo., where kinfolk had roots for years, all came about because a railroad man clerk had time on his hands and proceeded to read picture postcards and advertisements he was sorting on a run.
That clerk was A. E. Kunkel, eldest of those now living on the Salmon tract. One of the cards he scanned extolled the Jerome area being opened at that time. It caught the fancy of the reader and he and a mail clerk friend, Waldamer Weddle, came west to Idaho.
They found that practically all the good land in the Jerome area was gone. An attorney told them of an area "just as good as Twin Falls and Jerome" which was to be located south of Twin Falls. They gave him power of attorney and in 1908 he filed for them. Weddle's 120 acres were near Berger now part of the E. L. Rayburn holdings and Kunkel's was near where he now resides.
Married in 1910 In 1910 Kunkel was married in Missouri and a year later he and his wife headed west to settle on (Continued on Page 2)

Heyburn School Teacher Decorates Room For Youngsters by Painting Characters

HEYBURN, Aug. 18—Mrs. Victor Hill likes to paint. It makes little difference to her if she has an easel or not. If one corner of the bedroom looks a little bare, she'll paint a scene on it.
Actually, Mrs. Hill is one of those people who seem to have a natural talent for fixing things. She has always liked to sketch, draw, and come up with something unusual and original for her home.
Mrs. Hill has always tried to improve her home no matter where she has lived. She recalls that one home they had in Utah had a bright blue bedroom. In order to tone it down she drew a flamingo on one of the walls.
The Hills are relatively new to Heyburn. Hill is a retired railroad worker who always wanted a small farm, so they located on a farm north of Heyburn.
The house needed considerable renovation before Mrs. Hill would be satisfied. The wall between the kitchen and the living room was rebuilt and an open fireplace constructed on one end. The fireplace divides the two rooms. The fireplace brickwork was worked in to the wall scheme and gave the kitchen a modern appearance. What was once a bare wall running from the kitchen to the living room was lined with bookcases and shelves. The family television was placed in this wall and can be viewed from the living room or kitchen.
All this started from a rough design Mrs. Hill had in the back of her mind.
Next the back bedroom seemed cold and bare. She lived it up with sketches and painted similar creatures on the walls. In one corner there are chipmunk and a squirrel. The fireplace has a cub bear and a squirrel leaning against a tree and the rest of the room is fixated in a similar way.

BRIGHTENING what was once a bare corner in her daughter's bedroom is this sketch of a cub bear and a squirrel. The artist is Mrs. Victor Hill, Heyburn school teacher. She believes illustrations added to the rooms make them bright and cheery. Along the walls of the room are other forest creatures which the daughter has nicknamed. One thing for sure, you can't purchase this design, and it is original, claims Mrs. Hill. Her handwork with pastels and art are evident throughout the rooms of the Hill home, which is located north of Heyburn. (Times-News photo)

TRIANGLE PARK MESS is inspected by W. A. Ostrander, former city councilman. The refuse was spilled from a can in the triangle park factor Washington school. It is used extensively by tourists because of the shade and a drinking fountain. Whether "dumped" by dogs or humans, spilled refuse is found frequently on park property. (Times-News photo)

Doggone It, Anyway! Fine Mornings Are Difficult

The morning was pleasant. It was rather early and before the heat of the day.
W. A. Ostrander, who lives at the corner of Addison avenue and Lincoln street, was up early to work on a fence project. He was humming rather over a wide area.
Just then a Times-News photographer happened by and dumped again.
You will never believe it but the third morning, also at about the same time, the photographer traveled by once more. Ostrander was not up this time either, but the trash was dumped.
That made two stops for the photographer as against one for Ostrander.
NEXT MORNING about the same time, the photographer started from home to the newspaper office. Was the one dumped again? How could he know? He went up yet, but the can had been dumped again.

Military Will Aid Magic Valley Girl Studying Physical Therapy

Completing one's education can be difficult and sometimes expensive, but Barbara Silvers, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Silvers, 1355 Eleventh avenue east, has figured out a way to finish her schooling and get paid for doing it.
She enlisted in the United States air force as a physical therapist and has received a commission.
Barbara, a 1958 graduate of Valley High School, received her diploma from the University of Idaho last June. Like many other June graduates she had to go on to complete her education. While attending the University of Idaho she worked on the campus newspaper and became acquainted with the air force recruiter who used the typewriter in the newspaper office in the evenings.
The recruiter talked to her about the advantages of attending school with Uncle Sam paying the bill. It sounded good, so she enlisted. During her three-year stay in the military she will get an opportunity to study at the University of California medical school and work in some of the military hospitals throughout the United States and the rest of the world.
She left Twin Falls last Thursday and will report to Gunther Air Force base, Montgomery, Ala., where she will undergo 30 days of indoctrination. From there she will report to the University of California medical school for 12 months. Upon completion (Continued on Page 2)

PACKING her last bag before leaving for Alabama is Barbara Silvers who was commissioned in the U.S. air force. Miss Silvers joined the military to further her medical career. She will attend the University of California for one year and then serve as a physical therapist for the two remaining years of her tour. Instead of struggling to attend graduate school, she will receive officer's pay, quarters, and other allowances. Upon completion of schooling she is being given an overseas assignment and travel while working in some of the better military hospitals. (Times-News photo)

Skill Needed To Describe Los Angeles

By JOE LEWIS
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18 (Times-News)—Sometimes, especially if you live here and want to describe the town to someone who doesn't, you get the feeling that Los Angeles doesn't really exist.
"Trying to describe LA is like capturing a drop of mercury. You try to put a finger on it, and it slides away."
The physical facts are easy enough: Los Angeles has 453 square miles, flanked on three sides by mountains and on the fourth by water; it's blanketed with smog, criss-crossed and bisected by freeways jammed with murderously mindless motorists, dotted with palm trees and dotted with clothes left bleaching under a hazy sun, like decaying cattle skulls, by despairing writers trying to describe the town.
When asked what LA is really like, it's easy to refer to fearless Edie Pittman, who tells us that LA is a smoggy, semitropical town's partner, devoid of character, or culture, but she calls, kooky, quacky and quacky. (Continued on Page 2)

Life in MAGIC VALLEY

He and Mrs. Reuben Woody, who have moved into WENDELL after living on a ranch two miles east of TUTTLE the past 48 years, recall their many experiences over the nearly half a century. During the hours and days they spent on the land so they could see it, there was always plenty of excitement. On one occasion when Mrs. Woody was mowing alfalfa with a team of lively horses, she wouldn't drive any other kind if she could help it, and her small and oldest son sitting on her lap, the team bolted and ran as a 1000 horse came running by. She and her son fortunately were thrown off the mower and ran to the side opposite the stick at a corner of the field. The team continued running, turning the machine into one operated by a hired man. The impact was so great the iron wheel of the other machine was broken. The team went on to the house and stopped when they ran into a fence. After the horses were released, Mrs. Woody got back on the mow with the same horses hitched to it and mowed until dark.

The land for the ranch was one of the first in Tuttle to be cleared. Other land cleared at about the same time was that of pioneers of MAGIC VALLEY, Mr. and Mrs. William Justice, Mrs. Justice still lives at Hagerman.

The Woody ranch has an old river right for irrigating water filed for by the Woody's and granted by the government in 1905 from the Malad river which flows near. The Malad is a combination of Big and Little Woody rivers. At first segebrush was used by the Woody's and Justice for a dam in the river to raise the water, so it would run into the irrigation ditches, but every spring they had to be made of concrete.

The dam is in the river above where it plunges into the canyon north of Tuttle. There is also a 70 per cent right in American Falls reservoir.

The Woody's own a ranch in the valley adjacent to the Tuttle ranch but in the canyon of the Snake river, part of which is owned for many years as Woody's cow. They sold this in 1930 to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leach, Hagerman.

At one time the couple milked 23 cows and Mrs. Woody drove a milk route with Mr. Woody and from farms north of Hagerman and hauled it into the cheese factory there.

The couple built a new house on the ranch, making it one of the most attractive homes at Tuttle. Mrs. and Mrs. Woody have five children; Lyons, a successful Tuttle farmer and avid fisherman; Pearl, who is Mrs. Wood's Fredrickson, GOODING, a registered nurse; William Woody, HALEY, a soil conservationist; and Mrs. Henry Nicholas, Denver, a lawyer.

The three younger children were born on the ranch and all attended schools at Hagerman. The Woodings celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at their home in January, 1960. They have sold their 230 acre ranch to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wolfe, FAIRFIELD, who have four children.

It seems the city of GOODING has some citizens with an unusual talent—rain-making. Recently a group of Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes, strolled in various types of attire, including wig-wags, moccasins, feathers, war paint, etc., gathered at the intersection of town to dance for rain.

Old 901 beat down unmercifully, and the local fire department, feeling sorry for the perspiring folk, drove their truck over and generously sprinkled the dancing "Indians." But, it seems this help wasn't needed. The following Monday, Gooding allegedly reported "a trace" of precipitation.

Not only that, the dancers did such a good job, it rained again Tuesday.

Some of the dumbfounded tourists were heard to mutter, "What in the world is the matter with those people?" But the brave Indians danced on.

The cause of all this festivity comes from the state Jaycee organization. During July and again in August clubs throughout the state are encouraged to hold these rain dances, in conjunction with the state Jaycee "Keep Idaho Green" program.

They dance in the street, and hand out literature relative to care with matches and camp fires. The club within the state that holds the last dance before it rains in each of the two months is presented a $100 prize.

Participating in the dance were Ken Ruby, Bel Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Harold LaCroix, Myrna Noorda, Pat Beverwood, Arden Suttaman and Ray Fremed.

According to Ruby, Jaycee president, no official word has been received as to whether the local club won.

A Shetland pony for each of his grandchildren was the idea John A. Clark, OAKLEY, had when he purchased his first pony for his first grandchild about 10 years ago. However, he is two months from his now has 12 grandchildren and only 10 ponies. He and W. B. Whitley own about three dozen of the ponies ranging in color from bays, blacks and pintos.

Two of the ponies came from Yucatan, South America. Clark sold the one he had. They originally were sent to Iowa to a feedlot ranch where they were purchased and shipped to Idaho. Whitley raises his share of the ponies for selling purposes.

A little over a year ago these men purchased a FOA Shetland stallion called "Little Biting Bull." At the present time he is at the Boyd Hunter ranch in the area near Neal Hunter is breaking him to ride.

Clark says there have been a dozen colts born in the herd this past year.

During the spring months it is quite a sight to see these dry colts romping through the green grass in the local pastures and their many colored mothers grazing in the same field.

Some of these ponies were seen in the July 26 parade celebration, pulling a wagon full of children.

The bright-and-shiny harnesses were made by Edward George, a former harness maker of Oakley, and complements the ponies' colors. Other children are usually seen riding the ponies in saddles by themselves and add much to the parade.

No Changes

HAILEY, Aug. 18 — Representatives of the agricultural stabilization and conservation soil conservation service, forest service and the Blaine county agriculture agent, met at the SOO office Tuesday night as a development group to make recommendations for changes in the agriculture handbook.

After lengthy discussion, the group voted not to make any changes in the handbook.

SOMEWHAT PUZZLING to 5-year-old Danny Bean is this Christmas tree-like plant growing in one of the alleys in Twin Falls. The tree isn't a tree at all. It's just a large weed. At first, the weed was mistaken for a small pine. The weed grew in a crack in the asphalt. (Times-News photo) and now years later she is picking up the art she has been painting. Her sketching in the past has always provided her with a change of pace from her every day chores. "I always found it pleasant to draw and have enjoyed it; now that I am learning how it should be done correctly it is even more relaxing," she says.

Heyburn School Teacher Occupies Spare Time by Painting Characters

She has no illusions about being another Van Gogh; she simply wants to paint for the relaxation it gives.

"The entire Hill family is occupied with something. Mr. Hill has his farm. Mrs. Hill her painting. Nadine's main interest lies in music and she does some painting. Mrs. Hill's son, Leslie, is interested in repairing automobiles.

Mrs. Hill is a firm believer that hobbies enrich one's life and each member of the family enjoys the rest.

Tucked away on one of the shelves in the Hill home are many sketches she has made. Most of these she is planning to convert to oil paintings. Time, of course, is the big factor. Besides painting, she plans to work around the house fixing up the flower beds. There are still some changes she would like to make in the house and then there is the third grade coming up this study art. She picked teaching!

Like most LDS families in Heyburn the Hills are interested in genealogy. Mrs. Hill painted a family tree on one wall of her bedroom. On the different branches of the tree she has illustrated the members of her family.

Because of her undeveloped talent with a paintbrush she is often asked to assist with various projects.

For nine months out of the year Mrs. Hill teaches school. Art isn't one of her subjects. But several of her friends suggested that she take some training in art. She is now enrolled in an art correspondence school.

She set aside one corner of her bedroom and converted it to a small studio. Here she placed her easel, oils and brushes. Her ambition is to learn to paint well enough to satisfy her inner desire. She has always wanted to paint. She noted that early in life she had to decide whether she wanted to be a teacher or painter. She picked teaching!

Jerome Correspondent Is Mother of 5, Leads 4-H Club and Plays Golf

JEROME, Aug. 18—Mrs. J. R. Churchman, the Times-News correspondent in Jerome, is the mother of five children and also has time to be a 4-H leader and lead among her hobbies, reading, golf and playing golf.

Her pet duties are people who call and offer payment for keeping their names out of the paper for traffic violations. Housework and bookkeeping are other duties, but she likes to sew occasionally.

This year Mrs. Churchman became a 4-H leader "because" she was so impressed with the 4-H program after reporting the fair for three years.

She has six girls taking cooking, I, forestry and gardening. Forestry presents a problem because she has no room for it.

She likes books, both owning and reading them, and says her pet peeve is people who don't return borrowed books. She reads at least an hour each day at night and enjoys music, both classical and popular, as a listener.

"I would like to own a baritone ukule, but would probably end up giving it to one of my daughters as I can't read a note, but would like to learn to play one," she commented.

Mrs. Churchman also is interested in old glass and glass reproductions. Last winter she hooked a rug which is now being put to good use in front of their fireplace. She worked on it while watching television and plans on finishing another one now on the frame this winter.

The correspondent enjoys golfing for "exercise, fresh air and relaxation," and comments that she almost flunked a course in golf at Moscow and has improved only slightly. She also likes swimming and has completed a number of five children and also has time to be a 4-H leader and lead among her hobbies, reading, golf and playing golf.

When YOU Need MORTGAGE FINANCING or Seek Mortgage Investments... You Need a Mortgage Banker!

A good mortgage banker is a two-way specialist. A specialist in helping builders, realtors, architects, farmers and attorneys in his area find the right lender to finance their work. A specialist in helping national lenders find the best loans.

A good mortgage banker knows far more about the national money market than any builder, realtor or landowner can take time to learn: He knows which of the many national lenders he represents offers the best market for each kind of loan.

A good mortgage banker knows far more about the local real estate market than any national lender can take time to learn.

Every good mortgage banker's services reflect his expert specialization — the advance thought and planning that pay off handsomely for borrower and investor alike.

Did you see it at the fair . . .

or was it at your neighbors?

It is no surprise that some of the lovely kitchens and other wonderful "Live Better Electrically" features for modern living on display at the Seattle World's Fair seem familiar to Snake River Valley families. That's because families in this area of abundant low-cost electricity are pioneers in modern electrical living.

Our homes use almost twice as much electricity as the national average, at rates still one third BELOW the national average. Here electricity is plentiful, electricity is low in cost. Aren't you glad you live better electrically?

Fair visitors will recognize the kitchen shown here as part of the "Home of Living Light" exhibit.

Los Angeles Is Community Defying All Description

The city, population two and one-half million, is the hub of a southern California industrial-entertainment-resort complex that up, heatbroken, serving meals at the beach.

Like most Angelenos, I came from elsewhere, and I complain about smog, traffic congestion and rising taxes.

And like most Angelenos, I'd sooner slip the Pacific Ocean through a dirty straw than go back to where I came from.

It's a promise, a down payment on the future.

It's a treacherous freeway rush to the next century. And you know if they ever have freeways to the moon, they'll build the off-ramp here.

LA's the shriek of grinding brakes, squealing tires and clanking gears, and the lullaby beat of bongo drums and the clink of coffee-house cups.

It's the clank, whirr and bite of jackhammers, bulldozers, drills and pickaxes, tearing and gouging roads and hills, building bridges from the dreary reality of today to the golden promise of tomorrow.

As a metropolitan center, Los Angeles is relatively young, although its birth is as ancient as the Pueblo of Our Lady, Queen of the Angels of Porenculencia.

Today the pueblo, just a cow town for more than a century, is bigger than the combined areas of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Boston, Buffalo, St. Louis, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco.

You could fit the entire principality of Monaco within the city's

Affection

Today is the 15th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wood, 230 Tyler street.

And today, in the personal column of the Times-News, an ad space, appears the following:

"This is to certify that I, Joseph R. Wood, am responsible for all my wife's debts; to acknowledge on our 15th anniversary that I love my love for her has grown each year; and to declare that she is my greatest asset in this life as an industrious homemaker, devoted mother, and faithful wife."

ing skytempers, tall buildings are popping up like palm trees on the boulevard and elsewhere.

Despite the Hollywood legends, Los Angeles really isn't a swinging night-time town, except for tourists and fringe members of the entertainment industry, because of immense distances involved in traveling to and from the city, most Angelenos are too tired after work to do much entertainment seeking.

But it's hard to beat LA's accessibility to the outdoor life. If you have the time, energy and money, you can swim at the beach, hike under a desert sun, and hike at a mountain, all in one day. But you'd also need steady nerves to fight the traffic.

At night, when the town relaxes, the visitor sometimes senses a feeling of isolation, of estrangement from other human beings. You can sense a dream-like quality when you watch the palm trees, stiff and forlorn, towering like lonely sentinels over asphalt streets barren of people but brimming with cars.

LA, alas, has people as forlorn as its palm trees. They haunt the dance studios, write to lonely hearts' clubs, and listen to all-night disc jockeys.

Most of the newcomers come in search of jobs or sunshine—but others come to forget, sometimes a marriage or business failure.

If you want to get away from it all, you can look down from the Hollywood or Baldwin hills in the late afternoon after a brisk kind has blown away the smog and see the immense sweep of the city, suffused in sunlight, the Pacific shimmering at its back.

Some people think of LA as a hazy trying to get up town, vicariously as a spinster getting a vicarious thrill out of an unrequited reputation as a shady lady.

At heart, LA is a square town, as hipsters would say. Its patina is bohemianism, is artfully for the tourists. Underneath there's a deep vein of puritanism that the spiritual took in the Midwest and the Bible belt.

TWO MONTHS AGO a corner of Kiwanis Nook in Shoshone falls park looked like this. Weeds were high and underbrush tangled when John Roatton showed changes after the summer Hi-Y club members looked it over with Ernest Craner, parks superintendent, right. Club members made it a summer project to clean up the long-neglected area. (Times-News photo)

Hi-Y Club Members Complete Project To Restore Kiwanis Nook at Falls

Partial restoration of Kiwanis Nook in the Shoshone falls park area, was accomplished this last summer through volunteer labor furnished by members of the local Hi-Y club.

The picnic section was first established more than 30 years ago by local Kiwanis club members. Extremely popular when first opened, it did, however, fall into disfavor over the years because it was not properly maintained.

When this season started it was deep in weeds and tangled undergrowth. Approaching Ernest Craner, Twin Falls city parks and recreation superintendent, officers of the club offered their services in a cleanup campaign. The offer was accepted.

One of the difficulties encountered by the youths during working time was tangled growth, extremely hard to eliminate. Principal cleaning work centered along the trails in the more open areas.

Craner, inspecting the site, commented that it was "a job well done."

"The parks department thanks the Hi-Y members for the fine cleanup they accomplished. More work is needed to put the area into tip top shape but a giant step in this direction has been taken by the donated labor of the boys taking part."

Magic Valley Girl Decides to Boost Medical Education via Military Aid

Increase in the school plant facilities levy in Minidoka county will be voted upon Sept. 7 by voters. Her education, she should be able to save money plus having adequate funds for entertainment and travel. Actually Uncle Sam foots the travel bill.

During her 12 months at the University of California she will simply have to report to a duty officer. There will be no uniform to wear and she will stay on campus and receive a quarters allowance. Barbara doesn't object to wearing a uniform. In fact, she states they are quite stylish.

"In all probability my uniform will be medical tops," says Barbara.

The first six months after completing schooling, she will work as an assistant therapist. Welecoit, and 20.6 cents by Texaco.

Meyer said that after further study into the situation, the district may install larger tanks for gasoline at the school garage if the purchase of gasoline in tank lots offers sufficient savings to merit such a change.

Teachers hired to fill vacancies caused by recent resignations include Ellen Green, for Acquia; A. J. Hendrix, for Washington; Elmer Moor, Heyburn; Edna Stephenson, Minico; Tone White, Paul; Bernita Henry, Pioneer; Edward Anderson, Minico, and Elaine Beard, Acquia.

Plant Facility Levy Vote Set For Minidoka

Meyer pointed out that the tax revenue within the district has failed to keep pace with the growth of the student body, and at the present time the district is unable to plan or take any steps toward relieving the classroom shortage, or to buy all the buses needed.

Advantages of the levy method of raising money is that it is collected yearly on an accumulation basis with no interest as in the case of bonds, Meyer said.

The board accepted bids for liability insurance and for gasoline for the operation of the fleet of buses.

The Bell Agency, submitting a bid from the American Casualty in the sum of $2,668.61 was accepted, after a bid of $2,423, submitted by the Allen Agency, was rejected because no policy was carried with the preferred coverage.

Other bids submitted included one for $2,104.29 by the Taylor Agency; $2,680.12 by the Farmer's Insurance; and $1,710.44 by the Rupert Abstract for General Insurance company.

A bid for excess power submitted by the American Oil company was accepted over other bids of 21.8 cents by Carter; 20.6 by Sinclair; 20.57 by Phillips; 20.5 by Smith Oil company; 20.56 cents by Continental; 20.39 by

TWO DAYS AGO the same Kiwanis Nook location showed changes after the summer Hi-Y work project. Weeds had practically disappeared, paths were once more visible and undergrowth had thinned out. Because of dense tree growth it is impossible to take a picture that would show the overall project. Signup Dates Are Reported At Shoshone SHOSHONE, Aug. 18 — Registration for Shoshone high school students will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Supt. John Severson.

Juniors and seniors should register Tuesday and freshmen and sophomores will register Wednesday. Anyone who cannot register during those hours may call at the school during office hours next week.

School will open Monday, Aug. 27. The superintendent said book fee will be $4 and student activity $5.

The school board reviewed legislation passed from the State Teachers' association.

There are vacancies in the music and home economics departments in the high school, the official said.

Safeguard Valuables on Vacation Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (U.S.—Carriers cost the nation 700 million dollars in lost money last year, according to a survey taken for the American Express company, with three out of five of the losses occurring while people were traveling or in public gathering places. Therefore, the company suggests four rules for safe traveling.

1. A woman should keep a hand on her purse when out in public and hold it in her lap when sitting down.
2. A man should keep his wallet flat and thin with the currency arranged neatly. It should be carried in the inside jacket pocket or side pants pocket, never in the hip pocket.
3. It's best to carry as little cash as practical and pay for purchases, meals and rooms as much as possible by check, travelers check, credit card or charge account.
4. The hotel room and car should be locked when not occupied. Even so, money and valuables should not be left behind.

Award-Winning Cast Stars In Emotion-Charged Picture

One of the most brilliant casts ever assembled for a motion picture, including three academy award-winning stars, appears in Stanley Kramer's highly acclaimed film, "Judgment at Nuremberg," which starts Wednesday at the Grand-Vu drive-in theater.

The film itself won two of Hollywood's coveted Oscars for 1961, including best actor award for Maximilian Schell's powerful portrayal of the defense attorney.

The screenplay, which won a second Oscar as best of the year, is based on the second or lesser known of the Nuremberg trials held just after World War II in which it was the grave responsibility of three American judges to fix or reject the guilt for Nazi excesses upon four German judges who sent hundreds to their deaths. Permitted justice to be distorted and perverted in Hitler's Germany.

Other notable performers in the cast, which has been acclaimed in cities where "Judgment at Nuremberg" has played two-a-day "roadshow" engagements, include Judy Garland in her film role in six years, Richard Widmark, Marlene Dietrich and Montgomery Clift.

Other honors achieved by Kramer's distinguished film are best screenplay and best actor (for Schell) by the New York film critics; over 30 places in the "best 10 of 1961" by newspapers throughout the country, and a "Best 10" by the National Board of Review.

On My Own Time

BY BOB HARTLEY

There literally are hundreds of organizations for addicts of one kind or another. Oftand you might think of several, or even belong to a few. Until a short time ago there was no group for treatment of probably the most vicious addiction there is. Fortunately some thoughtful women banded together recently in Washington, D.C. to form this vitally needed service group: Impulse Buyers Anonymous.

We can think of no type of person who causes more threats of personal harm, economic crises or more wealthy merchants than the impulse buyer — a carrier of a disease second only to the psycho-neurotic addict in its impact on the amount of money spent each minute of the day by impulse buyers. Now, thanks to this group, husbands might not have to live in fear each time their wives leave home.

There are women in various stages of the disease. But the dangerous ones are the kind who leave home "just to go to the grocery store." Who know what clothes her husband is wearing. If there's another store within a block she's trapped. She may try subtly to avoid the sale signs, but doesn't have the will power.

To help these misguided persons, the IBA has some rules for harassed housewives (and husbands) interested in forming similar clubs or going it alone:

1. Buy carefully, slowly. Take time to shop and compare prices of essential items.
2. Try to discover the basic reason for your impulse buying.
3. Avoid or correct major frustrations. (Are you trying to do a community job for which you have neither the time nor the talent? If so, drop it.)
4. Replace frustrations with a positive sense of serenity. (Try doing what you really enjoy, even a few minutes a day. The change of pace will usually relax you.)
5. Cut down on aimless dawdling in stores. Take along an active child to speed your trip. (If you don't have one, borrow a neighbor's.)
6. Use cash for buying whenever possible and carry only necessary amounts of money in your purse.
7. Please abide by the rules.

Sign of the Times: In Mankato, Minn., a granite monument has stood for 50 years proclaiming for all who care to read its inscription: "Here were hanged 30 Sioux Indians Dec. 26th, 1862." Find it gruesome? Well, the Jaycocks of that community felt it distasteful (apparently they disagree) and they decided to change it. They're going to change it to read: "Dedicated to the Brotherhood of Man... Out of tragedy... a vision of hope." What are they going to say when someone asks them what the new inscription meant?

Embarrass the most challenging job in television is to think up new stunts for the old Lucy-Desi series. Local Observer notes. Every year the family invades the summer screen, you can see little Ricky grow up all over again, and again and again.

So you're in a candidate's life. And you want to know how you can get your husband's vote in November and make more money. Then we pass on to you (members of both parties) some helpful hints for the candidate's wife taken from a political party handbook.

"Remember, you can't please everyone. Be prepared to ignore gossip and nasty criticism."

"Considerate women never let smoke waft in another's face; they never leave their burning in an ashtray... They do not smoke while sitting at a head table."

"Try not to yawn. We know of a congressman who has said 'Am I boring you?'"

"Never let your picture be taken while holding a cocktail glass or a cigarette."

"When sitting on a stage or at the head table, (especially if the table covering doesn't reach the floor) keep the position of your legs. Either cross your ankles... or try to keep the knees together."

"A lady always wears hose with straight seams."

"Learn to like people... and show it! Be a picture of graciousness, charm and dignity... Smile... Listen. Be and act glad to meet everyone."

Spent, spend, spend. Seems as if that's about all we do, even when we don't have the money to do it. Out of New York comes the data that the average American family spends about 60 per cent of its food budget for 10 items. See how you stack up with this list:

Fresh meat, 25.82 per cent; fresh produce, 9.59; tobacco, 4.44; frozen foods, 4.16; baked goods, 4.04; milk, 4.29; soap and detergents, 2.45; canned vegetables, 2.40; cookies and crackers, 2.14; and eggs, 2.24. According to the source this represents the full-time food buying records of more than 10 million households.

The Anti-Digit Dialing league is growing and in some respects we must agree with their fight to keep our identity. If you think you're immune to the digit plague, take out your billfold and record the numbers from items within as did one local chap who found: 484 221 226 9 (credit card); 34 14 88 33 (credit card); 10246 (driver's license); 60761 (credit card); 654 (fraternity membership); 1 220418 (credit card); 733-2781 phone number; 445 638 45 (overdue bill) and so on. But they say you're okay as long as you can remember your name.

Jess Willard, a former heavyweight boxer of some renown, is using CBS-TV for showing an old movie depicting his victory over Jack Johnson, another boxer who once held the heavyweight crown. Jess says the showing disrupts his privacy and interferes with some business deals he has going. There also was some discussion at the time of the fight that Johnson took a dive and Jess claims CBS didn't show the sequences of the knockout which in his eyes proved he was a better winner. He might have a better chance in court if they had shown the Dempsey-Willard fight.

BOARDING TRAIN, Jackie Gleason and line of dancing girls do a brief dance beside his $38,000 private transcontinental train in Los Angeles. Gleason and his party are headed for New York City and want the nation to be sure they know that Gleason and company return to CBS-TV in September. From left are Sue Ann Langdon, Jackie's new leading lady; Gleason, Sally Carter and Greta Sandhoff. First stop will be the overland trek to Phoenix, Ariz. The train will follow a course as erratic as Gleason's walk home from night clubs, going from Phoenix to Denver and on to St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Philadelphia before arriving in New York City. Jackie Departs On Journey by Private Train

ABOARD THE GREAT GLEASON EXPRESS, Calif., Aug. 18 (AP) — Jackie Gleason's $38,000 private transcontinental train departed Los Angeles Union station Thursday night and the Mojave desert no longer is dry.

These were dancing girls, Dixieland bands and, of course, booze.

"As the Great One put it: 'One can fly as well on a train as on a plane.'"

The train, which will follow a course as erratic as Gleason's walks home from night clubs, makes its first stop in Phoenix on Friday. Then Denver, St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Philadelphia. It may make New York in 10 days if the booze holds out.

Purpose of the trip is twofold: 1. Gleason doesn't like to fly on planes; 2. He wants the nation to know he's returning to CBS-

TV on Sept. 29.

The sendoff party had typical Gleason moments.

Midway gilly Curtis, dressed as the son of Reggie Van Gleason, was given several hundred balloons to hold. When he started flying toward Ben Bernardino, ahead of the train, they took about 100 balloons away from him.

On the station platform Col. Tom Parker, colorful manager of Elvis Presley, was selling autographed pictures of Gleason.

"Twenty-five cents, pay no more," shouted the colonel.

Gleason, resplendent in a red vest, red hankie and red carnation in his lapel, trained hard for the trip.

"I haven't had a drink in three days," he said. "It had to be that way. Even Sonny Liston couldn't stand this trip without training."

But the training ended as soon as the train departed. Gleason dismissed photographers by saying: "Pardon-me, fellows, the ice is melting."

"QUICK, hide in the closet, I think it's my husband!" shrieks Janis Paige to Bob Hope as a brief romantic interlude between them is interrupted by a knock on the door in this scene from MGM's comedy of love and laughter in the suburbs, "The Drarey." Miss Paige plays Bob's neighbor in Paradise Village, a typical southern California housing development, where the neighboring housewives are unaware that he is a love expert busy writing another highly controversial book about love. Lena Turner co-stars in the film, which stars Sunday at the Moore-Via drive-in theater.

Director George Cukor Says Women Stars Are "Drarey"

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP) — George Cukor, who has directed the most glamorous dolls in pictures from Greta Garbo to Marilyn Monroe, is about at today's "drarey" state.

"Actresses appear in cycles," Cukor said with some disdain.

"When I first began directing (circa 1930), they were dressy, perfumed and actressy in the old fashioned romantic sense. They appeared to be fragile creatures who might swoon at any moment."

"Then they were made to appear like the girl next door. That was bad enough until the 'method' was introduced and they became the dirty girl next door."

"Cukor, a sensitive individual whose home is filled with great paintings, finds actresses have hit a new low in 1962.

"We are now in an aggressive circle where the actresses are married to television directors and seem very proud of the fact. They also are aggressively simple and sincere."

"They are always busy studying something. Just what it is they are studying I have no idea."

"Most of them cannot speak a line of dialogue without knowing what the motivation is for the character they are playing. They spend so much time motivating they haven't got time to act. Yes, this is the dreary, earnest phase."

Cukor's disenchantment stems from his long association with the very best actresses of our

Psychotics Unite: TV Is Going to Solve Problems

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18 (AP) — Psychotics of the world unite! We now have our own television series.

Beginning this fall our neuroses and tendencies to paranoia and schizophrenia will be laid bare by actor Wendell Corey playing a head-shrinking version of "Dr. Kildare."

"The Eleventh Hour," already shooting at MGM studios, originally was filmed as a segment of the Kildare series but proved so potent Producer Norman Felton decided it could stand on its own merits.

"We retooled the series that included Dick Chamberlain and Ray Mazel (the Kildare star) and converted the show into a pilot for 'The Eleventh Hour,'" Felton said in the studio commissary.

Producer Felton, wearing his been on the psychiatric hospital and notebook is as formidable a television hero as the M.D. with a scalpel in one hand and a favorite nurse in the other.

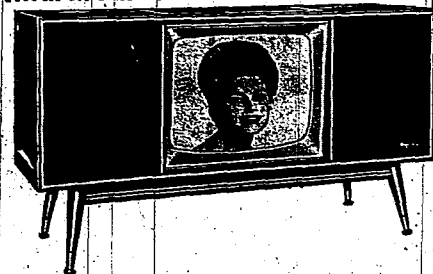

He could be right. A new movie starring Montgomery Clift is titled "Freud."

Psychiatry is opening up now and people are beginning to accept it as a normal means of healing people," he said.

"Perhaps our show can help move the curtain of doubt a little further aside. Medical and psychiatric treatment are inseparable. Kildare combines the two just as most doctors do."

MAGIC VALLEY PORTRAIT

Retired Buhl Minister Finds Little Time for Relaxation, Keeps Active

BUHL, Aug. 18 — Officially, Rev. H. B. Thomas has retired. Unofficially, he is one of the busiest men in town. In June of 1958 he stepped down as pastor of the Toledo, Wash. Presbyterian church and returned to Buhl, Minn., that in all of the United States the Magic Valley area is best.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas is an unusual mixture of a man. He has two loves, his ministry and working the soil as a farmer. So when the call came out that the Hollister community church needed a pastor he agreed to serve as moderator and supply pastor.

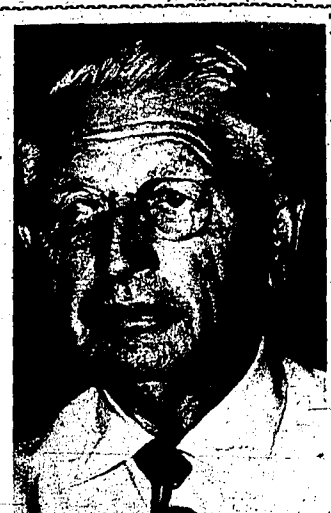

The Rev. Mr. Thomas was born Aug. 12, 1887, at Findlay, O. In 1901 he joined his father and brother at Buhl, Minn., where they homesteaded. In 1908 he moved to Buhl and went to work for J. D. Wiseman and then for Sam Swanson in the grain business.

He never completed high school, but this didn't deter him. He entered Los Angeles Bible institute, known as B. I., in 1916 for training in field missionary work. He was graduated in 1918 and in March of 1919 began work for the Presbyterian Sunday school missionary board with the El Paso Presbytery in Texas.

His territory covered 30,000 square miles of southwest Texas. In 1920 he entered the seminary at San Antonio and was ordained in 1923. During his schooling and following ordination he served in mission work at Rood, Calif. Here he organized his first Boy Scout troop and began an association with Scouting that has until today. He is an active member of the Buhl club. He has served as president of the Buhl ministerial association and is now chairman of the "Army Group." He is a member of the Masonic lodge, Royal Arch, Knights Templar and an active member of the Buhl Grange.

Chances are, if you can't find him at home he is out on some farm working in the fields. He claims working the soil and serving the ministry go hand in hand, and that farming are the best people on earth.

Retirement hadn't slowed him up. He can still fix an old volvo or patch together a wheel.

REV. H. B. THOMAS

Census for Rupert Area Is Outlined

RUPERT, Aug. 18 — An employment census of non-agricultural fields in the area is being conducted under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

The census, sponsored by the chamber, will be conducted by Fricks explained, and agency, include both the employed and the unemployed workers of the area. The questionnaire were sent out this week to all non-agricultural firms in the county, he said.

The objective of the survey is to determine the skills, abilities, professions, and the sex of what broad industrial categories they are employed.

All reports are confidential, Fricks said, and will not be made public, he said. The cooperation of all firms and business concerns is being urged by the president, since, without the full assistance of all groups involved, the census would not be effective, he stressed.

Four counties, Twin Falls, Blaine, Cassin and Minidoka, are included in the survey, Fricks said, and are cooperating with the employment security agency.

Buhl he is the senior member of the ministerial association. He has nothing but praise for the work of the Buhl group and that the residents can indeed be proud of their lovely churches.

Fricks said, and he is proud of his grandchildren. He is presently married to Lois Krueger, formerly of White Salmon, Wash.

Last week he conducted a meeting in the mountain. He got a few minutes he is building around the house. He is doing something in the yard, polishing some of his honors.

One of these days he may find time to retire from his retirement, but don't bet on it.

There are few people in Buhl who aren't acquainted with the Rev. Mr. Thomas or who don't know of him. His association with the Hollister church seems to fulfill all his ambitions. His is a minister and he is associated with the farmers. He takes an active part in the Buhl Grange.

People in need of help are quick to his aid. He has helped raise funds for the Boy Scouts, and that farming are the best people on earth.

Although he is a newcomer to the area, he has made a name for himself. He has been in the area for a long time and he has made a name for himself.

He has been in the area for a long time and he has made a name for himself. He has been in the area for a long time and he has made a name for himself.

Hunter Should Stalk Wary Antelope Before Shooting to Boost Success

By Jim Humbird

Idaho Fish-Game Department Only about one hunter in three who visit at public deer ranges recently for 600 antelope permits in controlled hunts this fall will be stalking the fleet deer runners with magnificent, bronzed horns, lithe bodies and keen senses.

Some venable statures of grace and beauty are among Idaho's most coveted game trophies and must be stalked to lanky winners to limit the amount of hunting pressure in the 22 hunting units and, of course, the ultimate harvest.

Hunters drawing antelope permits this year cannot try again in 1963 no matter what their success may be. Their odds are about 7-10 of bagging a pronghorn, according to the averages. This compares to deer hunter success of 50-60 per cent in many areas and 25-30 per cent on elk.

Some antelope hunters, then can expect to break camp and head for home empty-handed. They will have camped out a bit, roughed it up, seen a little country, gotten the cobwebs out of their stomachs. But there will be no head for the tentacles, no game meat for the locker, nothing to brag about to their friends.

Very, every season there are several antelope left behind as game management people bring hunters and pronghorns closer together.

Naturally trophy hunters prefer antelope of similar size, about half as big as deer, can withstand vital hits as well as antelope. For example, a pronghorn shot through the heart with a slug carrying as much as 1,000 pounds muzzle energy is known to have sped away in full flight to die a half-mile to a black wile still on legs that appeared steady.

Antelope are tricky targets. If visibly hit they may fall and break trophy horns. Hunters are advised to stalk the animal and avoid long range shots. Antelope have been known to run a considerable distance after being hit. Big antelope bucks prefer being alone and as a rule are not found with herds. Recommended range for shooting antelope is 200 yards. The fish and game department estimates that only one hunter in three will bag his antelope. (Fish game department photo)

Antelope, biologically known as "antilocapra americana," falls into a family of its own. This technologically might have had far-reaching effects if the defense attorney had succeeded in making it stick. With a precedent set in a district court trial, not only Nevada, but other western states may have had to overhaul their existing antelope protection laws quickly because other hunters would have tried the same thing.

The Idaho department, as usual, is providing printed leaflets defining geographical boundaries of each of the 22 controlled hunt units for pronghorn antelope. Conservation officers will assist hunters. Also, some landholders have "nuisance" animals and can be expected to tell hunters where on the range they usually roam.

But whenever a shot may be taken at an antelope this fall, the hunter should follow a sure bet sure whether he scores a hit or not. If so, he must do his best at tracking the animal down, just a little common sense and there will be more meat in the locker and fewer wasted carcasses on the plains.

The defense attorney's contention that antelope are not antelope in this country has a basis in biological fact. The North American antelope is not a true antelope as biologically classified and defined. True antelope exist only in the old world and, as a family, they are a large variety of animals found mostly in Africa.

True antelope are such animals as gazelles and lesser kudus, elands, wildebeast or gnus and gazelles. Probably the nearest relative to this family in this new world is the mountain goat.

KNEE DEEP in alfalfa stand three Kunkel brothers whose rise to prominence in the old Amsterdam area near Rogerson, has become a local legend. The brothers came west from

AMSTERDAM'S OLD HOTEL is now home for two of the Kunkel sisters. They use only a portion of the 15-room former showplace that housed, among other things, a postoffice. Jesta

Kunkel stands at the left while her sister, Julla Kunkel, is seated. Jesta was postmaster at Amsterdam for many years. (Times-News photo)

Hard Salmon Tract Life No Drawback For Kunkel Clan in Amsterdam Section

The 120 acres they had never seen.

Beryl Kunkel, A. E. Kunkel's brother and two years his junior, came to the acreage ahead of the newbies because he was of the opinion that a bachelor would be able to put up with more discomfort while living quarters were being built on the farm.

However, the first building he put up was the barn, which still stands. When the bride and bridegroom arrived, he had the barn completed but only one room of the house.

Family members still laugh when they recall that during the initial year, the newbies occupied the one completed room and Beryl, who constructed the barn first, found out what it was like to live in one.

Like his older brother, Beryl Kunkel was a mail clerk on a railroad. He attended the same one-room school in Oregon, Mo., which was attended by his brothers and sisters. He was married in 1922 to the woman who was then teacher at the Amsterdam school. She came west from Indiana.

Marrying school teachers seemed to be a habit for the Kunkel brothers. All the wives taught before marriage.

Dale Kunkel, 12 years younger than A. E., came to the area near Salmon in 1912. His marriage took place in 1917. His wife had come from Chicago to Jerome to teach in 1913.

Julia, the eldest of three sisters, arrived with Dale in 1913. Born in Oregon, Mo., in 1888, she has never married but spent years in the teaching profession in Idaho and was also a former Amsterdam teacher.

Jesta Kunkel, who came west in 1918, is now 77 and, like Julia, never married. The two now reside together in the building which was formerly the Amsterdam hotel. Jesta assisted her father (the elder Kunkels both came west in 1918 and both have died) as assistant postmaster of the Amsterdam office, then located in the hotel building after his death and was also postmaster. That was early in 1940. She held that position until the office was discontinued in 1954.

In 1914, Ruby Kunkel (now Mrs. Leslie V. Dean, Twin Falls) joined the group. Like the other ers, she moved onto the Salmon tract and had lived there continuously until five years ago when she and her husband moved to Twin Falls. She is the "baby" of the family at 69.

Living in an area of short water has not been too easy but from that original 120 acres which enclosed A. E. Kunkel and Beryl Kunkel to come west, the family, collectively, now controls in excess of 13,000 acres of land including Taylor grazing, Beryl and-a son, Bruce, are also stockholders in the Salmon River Cattleman's association which controls another 37,000 acres in Nevada.

As Beryl Kunkel puts it: "Our land is good land—but water cannot be counted on like the Twin Falls tract. Our soil is just as good as the Twin Falls section. It is too bad water in good amount cannot be obtained on a steady basis.

"We found that we could not depend on the water to be here when we needed it so we gradually worked into the cattle business. This really enabled us to all stay here where we wanted to stay.

"This is a hard land, but it is good," he concluded. "And why did they all stay during the early and hard times?"

A. E. Kunkel has a reason for that, too.

"In the early days we just couldn't make enough money to get away. Now, of course, we do not want to leave."

"What does it take to stick it out on a hard tract like against you?" Beryl says it is the ability to do hard work. And he should know.

Next to Yellow Cab, Co.

In the beginning he had nothing but muscle, determination and ability. It couldn't have been that if he had in his pocket when he landed in Twin Falls.

During the long years on the Salmon tract, the principal crops produced by the family have been wheat and hay. These are still the two most important.

And the cattle end of the setup now shows a collective ownership of more than 1,000 head, including more than 200 registered animals.

Production has not been limited to the land. The Kunkel brothers have substantial families. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kunkel have two children, Mrs. Homer (Betty) Roberts, Hollister, and Glenn Kunkel, Pocatello, county agent of Bingham county.

Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Kunkel have five children, including Bruce, who is associated in business with his father and resides near Rogerson, and Mrs. T. J. Barnes.

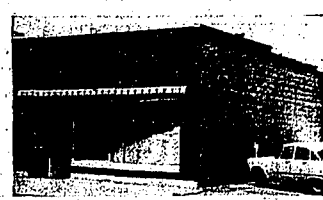

(Claire) Wilkes, wife of Dr. Wilkes, Twin Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Kunkel have five children, including a son, John, who resides in Pocatello and is connected with the Hancock Steel company.

Mrs. Dean, the only married sister, has two sons. They are Leslie L. (Bill) Dean, with the bureau of entomology, research division, Twin Falls, and Lee H. Dean, Post Falls. Mrs. Dean and her husband reside at 1528 Third avenue east.

The Kunkel family also includes other close relatives, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Such is the story of the Kunkels of Amsterdam.

Truck Upsets as Wheel Comes Off

RUPERT, Aug. 18—The driver and passenger of a 1937 Chevrolet pickup truck escaped injury when a wheel came off the vehicle about 8 p.m. Wednesday two miles north of Rupert on a country road.

The accident, investigated by Sheriff Theo Johnson, occurred when the driver, Thomas Rafferty, 18, New York City, was making a turn at an intersection. The right front wheel dropped off the vehicle as it was making the turn, causing the truck to go out of control and overturn onto its side in the borrow pit.

The truck was demolished, the sheriff said.

ORIGINAL KUNKEL HOME still stands where it was constructed 50 years ago. The three original occupants of the home, striking in its day, are, from left, Beryl Kunkel, Mrs. A. E. Kunkel and A. E. Kunkel. The three came west via the Salmon tract south of Twin Falls all because A. E. Kunkel, a railway mail clerk, happened to read an advertisement granting the Jerome area. A. E. Kunkel was first to arrive with his wife, Beryl Kunkel followed. The house is now rented. The Kunkel filing of land on the Salmon tract was 120 acres. (Times-News photo)

Hailey Awards Coal Contract

HAILEY, Aug. 18 — Contracts have been awarded for the furnishing of coal, gasoline and liability insurance for class A given the gasoline contract Hailey buses.

The liability insurance contract was awarded to the R. N. Mc agency. Rex James, Adamson's service stations in Carey, Ketchum, were awarded the contract to furnish gasoline for Springs school buses, Delly, and Ketchum. Delly also service station at Hailey. The school district No. 41 for the 1952-1953 school year, officials report.

EASY, TH' RADIO SAID A JEWEL THIEF HAD STOLEN MRS. VAN ROCK'S TWO-000 DIAMOND NECKLACE!

RIGHT, WASH! AND THE THIEF IS BELIEVED HEADED FOR THE CANADIAN BORDER, JUST AS WE ARE!

GUESS A DIAMOND THIEF LOOKS LIKE ANYONE ELSE, EXCEPT HE HAS A SPARKLER IN HIS EYE!

EASY AND WASH NEAR MCKEE'S NORTH WOODS HUNTING AND FISHING PRESERVE...

EASY, I'D FORGOTTEN THAT HALF OF OTTER LAKE IS ON THE CANADIAN SIDE!

PODNUH, IF YOU'RE STILL THINKING OF THAT DIAMOND THIEF, THE CANADIAN BORDER IS ABOUT 3,000 MILES LONG!

A FEW MINUTES LATER...

ALLO! YOU MUST BE CAPTEEN EASY, MR. MCKEE PHONE ME ABOUT!

AND YOU'VE GOT TO BE PIERRE, THE CARETAKER!

OUI! AN' THESE IS YOUR LITTLE BOY, WASH?

I'M NOT A LITTLE BOY! I SHAVE AN' I GOT TWO KIDS OF MY OWN!

A THOUSAND PARDONS, MONSIEUR! COME, PIERRE FEEX SOM' THEENS TO EAT!

GOOD! I'M SO HUNGRY I COULD EAT A SPINACH SANDWICH ON STALE TOAST!

MR. MCKEE WANTS US TO CHECK ON THE HUNTING AND FISHING, PIERRE! NOW IS IT?

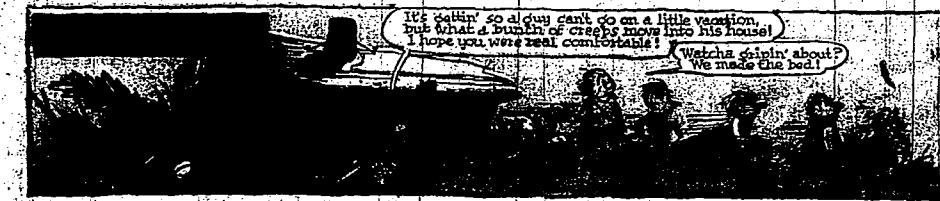

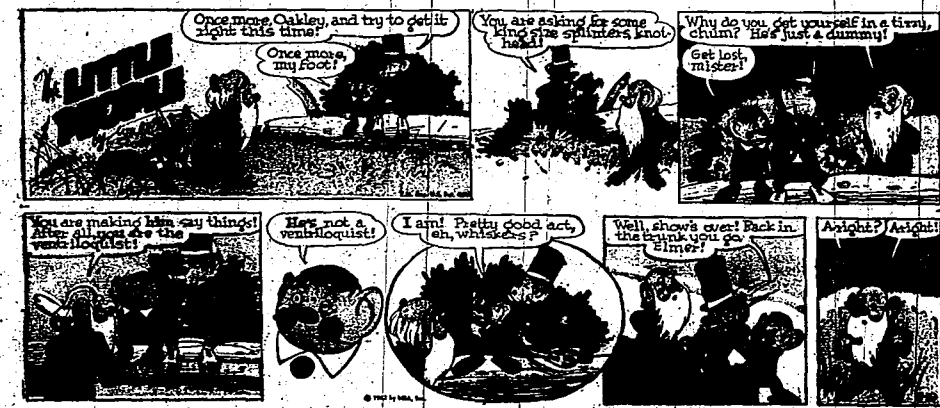

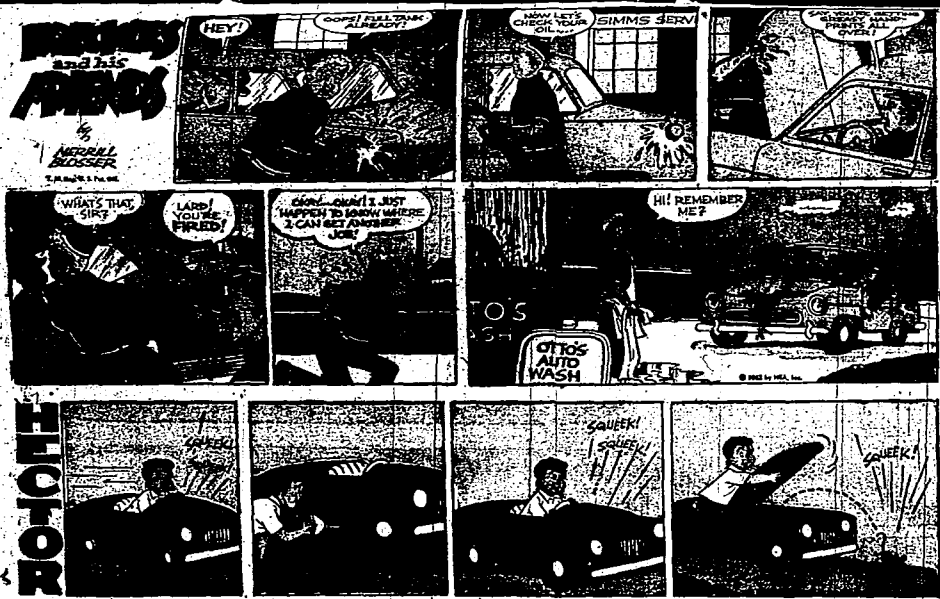

VOILA! THE FEESH FIGHT TO GET AT YOUR BAIT, CAPTEEN EASY!

AN' THE DEER ARE AS MANY AS THE BIRDS! THEES SUMMAIR, THEY EAT MY GARDEN BARE!

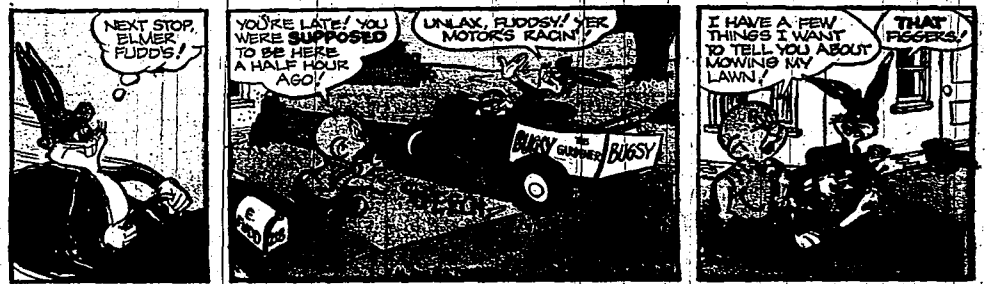

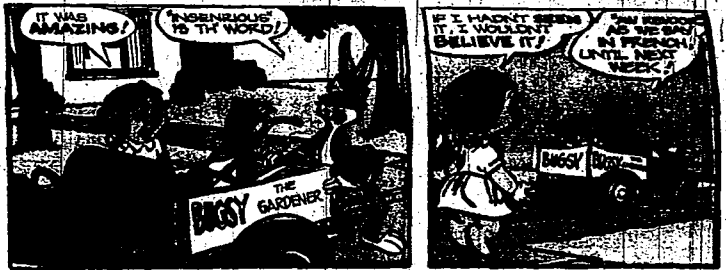

VIOLEERS!

VENING...

LET'S TURN IN, WASH... AND DON'T DREAM ABOUT A GAUGEGLER SWIMMING ACROSS THE LAKE WITH A DIAMOND NECKLACE IN HIS TEETH!

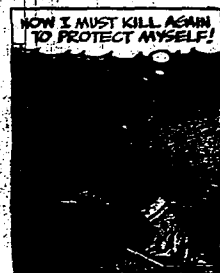

BUGS BUNNY

ROY LAMBERT BEGAN TO STEEL HIMSELF FOR THE TASK AHEAD.

I SHOULD HAVE KNOWN BETTER THAN TO HIRE A KILLER! HE FAILED AND I HAD TO SHUT HIM UP FOREVER!

NOW I MUST KILL AGAIN TO PROTECT MYSELF!

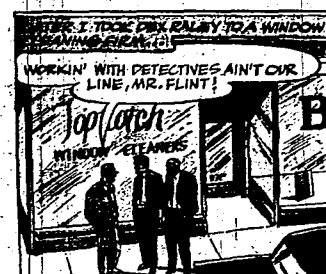

...BECAUSE YOU'RE IN ILL HEALTH, YOU GAVE ROY LAMBERT POWER OF ATTORNEY.

I RELIED ON HIM IN ALL MY BUSINESS AFFAIRS.

YOU SUSPECT ROY, DON'T YOU?

LOOK AT IT THIS WAY--WHEN YOUR AN AUDIT OF THE BOOKS, SOMEBODY PLANNED TO KILL HER.

...I TOOK DEX RALEY TO A WINDOW LEAVING EVIDENCE.

WORKIN' WITH DETECTIVES AIN'T OUR LINE, MR. FLINT!

SURELY SOMETHING WILL MAKE YOU CHANGE YOUR MIND?

UH--WHY COME TO THINK OF IT, THERE IS SOMETHING, PAL!

I'D DO THE JOB MYSELF, DEX, BUT I DIDN'T SEE THE MAN WHO HIRED CONTRACT CHARLIE, SO IT'S UP TO YOU!

FOR YOU I'LL DO IT, VIC!

MY KEY WITNESS, DEX RALEY, DIDN'T LIKE HIGH LIFE, BUT HE MANAGED TO CATCH A GLIMPSE OF LAMBERT.

IT WASN'T MUCH OF A LOOK, VIC, BUT I'M SURE HE'S THE GUY THAT HIRED CONTRACT CHARLIE THE OTHER NIGHT!

GOOD BOY! NOW JUST ONE MORE STEP TO CLINCH THE CASE!

I THOUGHT YOU SAID THERE WAS GONNA BE A BIG FIGHT GOING AT THE PALACE!

WELL, THERE WAS, ONLY NOBODY GOT MAD!

NO PUNCHES WERE NUTHIN'!

TIMES IS CHANGIN', I GUESS! YEH, SEEMS LIKE WE'RE GETTIN' MORE CIVILIZED EVERY DAY!

OH, FORTH! GOOD OL' DAYS!

THOSE WERE TH' DAYS ALL RIGHT... YEZZIE!

DON'T LOOK LIKE UMDA'S GONNA BE AS ROUGH ON KING... WIZER AS WE THOUGHT!

THAT'S NOT HIS NAME! DIDN'T YOU HEAR?? IT'S POOKY!

MY GOSH, ARE YOU GONNA LET A GUY WITH A NAME LIKE POOKY BE KING OF MOO?

WELL, A GUY'S GOTTA HAVE A NAME OF SOME KIND. DON'T HE? EVEN A KING?

...C'MON, LET'S GO!

GOONESS, POOKY, THAT ROYAL ROBES NOT TOO GOOD A FIT, IS IT?

IT'S GOTTA HAVE SOME ALTERATIONS, ALL RIGHT!

LESSEE NOW, POOKY, YOU'LL NEED T' CUT SOME OUTA HERE... AN CHOP A BIT OFF OF THIS...

I CAN'T STAND IT! NOSIR, I JUST CAN'T!

I THOUGHT YOU DIDN'T CARE IF GUY NAMED POOKY WAS KING!

HIS NAME HAD NUTHIN' T'DO WITH IT! I JUST WASN'T HAVIN' NOBODY CHOPPIN' UP! MY ROYAL ROBE...
