FOOD CENTERS

NATIONAL WARRIGIG

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 — Although Nikita Khrushchev refuses to produce enough food, the Russian dictator is flooding the free world with oil in such a way that he is being regarded as the Kennedy administration's oil action.

Instead of trying to buy the type enterprise system, as he threatened some years ago, he has been able to obtain oil at bargain prices or better, the product is essential in war or peace. He is constantly expanding his petroleum markets by taking advantage of the profit-and-loss considerations which must govern his Anglo-American competitors.

Ironically, our closest allies in Western Europe, including NATO members, are among his best customers, with Italy as the chief offender. Its broad-based in the markets of Middle East and Latin America—this is producing a social unrest in those lands and making them more vulnerable to communist infiltration and subversion. Khrushchev boasts that he uses trade as a "weapon" rather than as an economic tool.

COULD CUT OFF SUPPLIES—The principal danger in which a United States senator calls this economic bottleneck is the threat in event of a World War III. Should Khrushchev integrate America and Russia's countries with his petroleum monopoly, and make them increasingly dependent upon him for supplies, a wartime cutoff by him would leave them in a perilous state.

Despite warnings by members of Congress and the industry, recent administrations have neglected this acknowledged menace. But President Kennedy has asked the National Petroleum Council for a report on the situation.

An effort is under way to persuade NATO countries to boycott Russian oil, it is expected that the Communist Market nations can be persuaded to limit Russian imports, although Italian objections must be overcome.

As an indication of Washington's concern, the defense department recently canceled contracts with Japanese firms which relied on communist oil. Khrushchev responded by offering to loan from the Pacific to the Pacific if Japan would build the pipelines. The U.S. is protesting such a deal.

"RIVERS OF OIL PREDICTED—Only a joint boycott by the anti-communist nations can build the necessary barrier, it is questionable whether united action and agreement can be achieved. In view of Khrushchev's successful penetration of so many of our markets, a friendly nations, and he has offered to provide to underdeveloped countries in Asia, Africa and Latin America. In payment for their copper, Japan and Italy are building tanks for him. Russia, head of the Italian fuel trust, is the primary oil supplier to Europe. He predicts that "rivers of Russian oil will soon flow into Europe."

Mattoli, who seems to be more powerful than the government at Rome, buys supplies of oil, and exports it at cut-rate prices in competition with the United States. Then I worry about it. He is said to be dictating with the new Algerian regime in the hope of replacing France as developer of the Sahara oil fields.

TINE OF OIL RISING—Russia's increase in petroleum production has made it a more marketable product. In 1953, she reported only 33,000 barrels to free world countries. In 1961, the total was 1,000,000 barrels. She is expected to reach one million by 1965. The Soviet has now replaced Venezuela as the world's second largest producer, ranking second to the United States.

Because of the fact that Khrushchev regards oil as a substitute political weapon is his primary practice. He sells it to the free world countries, and the Soviet Union, and the satellite countries. He limits home consumption by controlling the output of motor vehicles. There are 10 million cars in the Soviet Union, as against 20 million in the United States.

While, while economic on the peaceful use of his vast surplus of oil within his empire, Khrushchev devotes it to his military and sea forces, to the conquest of outer space and to the complete domination of a vital sector of the free world's economic battlefield.

VIEW OF OTHERS

"MODERATION IN ARKANSAS—The Arkansas primary made a contribution to the national election. J. W. Fulbright to the senate and the important chairmanship of the foreign relations committee. The election was a surprise, as it was expected that in nominating Gov. Orval Faubus for a fifth term.

Because of the governor's record in the Little Rock school crisis, it might be assumed that Arkansas voters are as susceptible to racial appeals as ever. But the fact is that the voters are more sophisticated. Faubus made few appeals to racism in this campaign. He struck a pose as a moderate, and pointed to his record of moderation and law and order. He was a moderate, and pointed to his record of moderation and law and order. He was a moderate, and pointed to his record of moderation and law and order.

RIGHT TO BE HEARD—Dr. Max Olinus of Worcester has been vindicated in an ongoing and noisy struggle for many years. In the administrative leadership of the nation's dentists.

This is the import of the decision by the judicial council of the American Dental Association repudiating the action of both the Worcester Dental society and the Massachusetts Dental society in ousting Dr. Olinus in a hasty, over-flustered decision.

To us it always has seemed that the charges against Dr. Olinus were such as to justify the misnamed the names of certain dentists who once had signed a petition opposing fluoridation of water. But now, Dr. Olinus has been vindicated in a long and noisy struggle for many years.

The court's decision that the charges against Dr. Olinus were such as to justify the misnamed the names of certain dentists who once had signed a petition opposing fluoridation of water. But now, Dr. Olinus has been vindicated in a long and noisy struggle for many years.

POT SHOTS

By K. C. THALER

LONDON, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Kremlin's top ideologue has confirmed by implication that ideological differences still divide the Communist bloc.

The Soviet leader, Nikita Khrushchev, has been quoted as saying that the "principles" of the revolution are still being fought. He said that the "principles" of the revolution are still being fought. He said that the "principles" of the revolution are still being fought.

Both movements, he argued, are "diametrically opposed" to the "revolutionary labor movement." He called for continued criticism of either deviation by the Moscow party line.

Now comes a move in Congress designed to abolish this country's military aid program to Latin America. This is the theory behind the move is that the left hand of America is doing the right hand is doing. ### Photos Reveal Sleeping Pilots

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (AP) — The Flight Engineers union today turned over to the federal aviation agency a series of photographs purporting to show pilots sleeping or reading in the cockpit.

One showed an airline stewardess apparently flying an airplane.

The Flight Engineers International association (FEIA) produced the photographs, "whose existence had been rumored for some time," at the request of FAA Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby.

FEIA President Ron Brown said first he declined to turn over the pictures. He said they were in the hands of private individuals and not the union. FAA General Counsel Nathaniel H. Goodrich then demanded that FEIA identify the flight engineers who took the pictures.

Russ Sputnik Breaks up in Flaming Show

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 6 (U.P.)—The Soviet Union's four-ton sputnik IV, put in orbit 28 months ago, apparently broke up over Wisconsin early Wednesday, causing a rain of sparks and debris over the state, according to unidentified flying objects.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said it had asked its network of professional and advanced amateur skywatchers to begin a watch Tuesday night. Smithsonian mathematician said the satellite was unlikely to fly high beyond 100 miles.

Ole V. Hagen, a satellite computer from the Milwaukee Astronomical Society, was watching the sky from his back yard at 4:45 a.m. when he saw it just as it started to break up, he said. "It looked like little sparks. For a moment it appeared as a streak. Then it began to change shape and string out."

There were six distinct parts lined up two at one end, two at the other and two in the middle which appeared to be one about the other.

The breakup started law enforcement officers in a wide area of northern Wisconsin. Rough calculations indicated that the heaviest piece fell into Lake Michigan. It did not burn up in the air.

Sputnik IV was launched May 15, 1960, the state said. The summit conference which later was wrecked by the U.S. spy plane incident.

At that time, Soviet announcements said the vehicle contained the necessary equipment for a lunar landing, and that it would return to earth with a full moon, and more over, various instruments weighing about 3,200 pounds.

There were several reports that a human voice had been heard by free world listeners who monitored the space ship's radio signals, but none ever was confirmed.

Udall Visits With Red on Top Subjects

MOSCOW, Sept. 6 (U.P.)—Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev visited U.S. Interior Secretary Stewart Udall for an unexpected conference today, possibly to discuss the Berlin situation and the latest U.S. incident.

The statement said Khrushchev looked to the meeting for Khrushchev's public comment on the U.S. affair which has put new strain on Soviet-U.S. relations.

Udall returned to Moscow from a tour of hydroelectric stations yesterday and was invited to Udall to fly to Khrushchev's dacha near a vacation retreat of Sochi for a talk with the premier.

The cabinet member is the highest ranking American official in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev, the new U.S. ambassador, has not yet taken up his post although his predecessor, Llewellyn Thompson, left last month.

The Russians already have rejected the western view on the situation in Berlin and the alleged flight of an American U-2 reconnaissance plane over the island of Rügen in the Baltic Sea.

Pilot Would Drop Bomb if Ordered

COLUMBIA, Ga., Sept. 6 (U.P.)—The pilot of the B-57 which dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima in 1945 says he would do the job again if he were told to do so.

Beig. Gen. Paul W. Tibbets, Jr., now 67, was a colonel when he piloted the B-29 Superfortress over the Japanese city.

At nearby Ft. Benning, a reporter asked Tibbets Wednesday if he would do it again.

"I certainly would," said Tibbets. "My participation in the bombing was directed by military orders and I was acting under those orders at the time. I would do it again if called upon to do so."

Space Agency Experiments With Landing

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6 (U.P.)—The space agency is experimenting with landing a small, unmanned, parachute-like airplane.

The "paraglider" is called the Rogallo wing for Francis Rogallo, who thought it up at the Langley (Va.) research center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

It can be packed in 10 cubic feet of space and inflated upon effect of air in 45-foot wings. It roughly resembles a giant version of the paper airplanes school kids have been making in the classroom since the turn of the century.

The Rogallo wing, which strikes some people as resembling a bat, may be used for ground landings of the two-man Gemini spacecraft, which are scheduled to start orbital flights in the middle of next year.

If the wing works all right for Gemini, it may be adapted to the three-man Apollo spacecraft, being developed for the moon missions.

In repeated flights, the Rogallo wings have been turned into the sky by airplanes and then released for successful, controlled landings.

These atavistic and inflatable wings will give astronauts far more freedom of movement than pilots of the one-man Mercury and two-man Gemini spacecraft.

Once its retro rockets put it in a descent-from-orbit trajectory, the Rogallo wing is expected to change its shape automatically before impact. The Mercury capsule is towed by a "tumbler" landing which opens at 10,000 feet. All Mercury flights are planned to end at sea where they are hoisted by a ship.

The landings were planned because they are much safer than those on land and because there is no chance of getting fouled up with trees, buildings and the open ocean.

But sea landings necessitate the deployment of a stable recovery fleet of ships and aircraft and space engineers always have hoped the time would come when astronauts could land and crawl simply like people.

As one NASA official said, "There's something incredibly unorthodox about a parachute landing."

Beverly Kevan Pittman Marries In Lutheran Rite

Beverly Kevan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Kevan, Twin Falls, became the bride of Mr. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorothy Pittman, Boise, in ceremonies Aug. 18 at Immanuel Lutheran church, Twin Falls.

The Rev. C. H. Rathjen performed the double ring rite before a background of blue and yellow gladioli and blue chrysanthemums, tied with yellow ribbon bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length gown of white embroidered satin designed with a rounded neckline and bell skirt; she wore matching shoes.

Her elbow-length veil of tulle was held by a small crown edged with seed pearls. She carried a large white chrysanthemum corsage with small white mums. She wore a single pearl on a silver chain—a gift of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Harold May, Seattle. Mrs. May wore an apron-afternoon dress styled with a rounded neckline and cap sleeves. She wore a bow tie of the same material. She carried a bouquet of rust-colored spider chrysanthemums tied with green and gold ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Bunny Thorne, Twin Falls, and Mrs. Laurence McFarland, Boise. Each wore a dress like that of the matron of honor and carried a bouquet of spider chrysanthemums tied with gold and green ribbon.

Flower girls were Cheryl and Connie Nilson, cousin of the bride. Each wore a striped dress with white lace trim and a matching bow headpiece. They scattered chrysanthemum petals from a white basket.

Best man was Laurence McFarland, Boise. Usher was Eric Brown, Boise, and Garth Hager, Pocatello.

Woman Tennis
Ace Sees N.Y.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (AP) — The first-time U.S. Open tennis player left her home at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. J. Priest, in Pacific, Mo.

But the short skirts, eye makeup and bouffant hairdos of many U.S. women surprised her not.

"It is the same at home and all over Europe," said Mrs. Vera Puzosova-Bukova, the Czechoslovakian tennis player.

"We asked her if Mrs. Kennedy was considered a style setter in Czechoslovakia," said a U.S. official.

"No, she is not copied so much," said the U.S. official. "When we asked her whether the United States or Paris had the most influence on style in Czechoslovakia, we got lost with language difficulties."

Mrs. Bukova's vocabulary of English, which she learned in school, was limited. My knowledge of her language was not. The U.S. official said she was making every effort to discuss world affairs.

Mrs. Bukova is one of three women-tennis players from behind the iron curtain participating in the National Amateur Championships in New York.

She is among the 150 players from 34 nations, in this the largest foreign representation in the 52-year history of the tournament. The increase is largely due to the efforts of the U.S. Open tennis committee.

We talked with Mrs. Bukova at the Manger Vanderbilt hotel where most of the players are quartered. Their variety of languages has turned the lobby into a babel-like confusion.

Mrs. Bukova, since her arrival last week, has had little time to sight-see because she was busy practicing to get used to tennis on grass courts in her native Prague. She is now on the "hot" court, she said.

She had managed to crowd in one tour by car. "I have never seen such high buildings," she said. "In our country, the highest building is 10 stories."

She'd been going to Port of Spain occasionally by subway. "I got lost," she said, laughing, summing up her impression of New York's underground transit system.

"If Mrs. Bukova's first visit to the United States, although she has been to London, Rome and Moscow frequently."

She said that she won the women's singles tennis match in Moscow in 1951. She and her partner got to the semifinals in mixed doubles at Wimbledon in 1951 also.

An Australian pair beat them.

Miss Benke and White Wed in Washington Rite

JEROME, Sept. 6 — Karen Louise Benke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Benke, Jr., Jerome, and Billy Ray White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald White, Jerome, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Benke, in Jerome, Idaho.

Red and white gladioli and light blue lilies decorated the background for the wedding. The Rev. Maynard H. Kragh, pastor of the church, performed the nuptial ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of imported white satin, with a round neckline, long sleeves, and softly pleated skirt gathered to a fitted bodice. The bride wore a white tulle veil and carried a bouquet of two dozen red carnations.

Mary Gail McCain was maid of honor. Kathleen Surber, sister of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid. Billy Jo Wilson and Nancy Merrill were bridesmaids.

The attendants were full-skirted dresses of red velvet and white. The bridesmaids wore white dresses with red velvet accents.

Brian W. Benke, Jr., the bride's brother, Donald Stewart and Ernest Gonsky were ushers. The groom wore a white suit with a red tie.

Assistants at the ceremony included Mrs. Ralph Benke, Jr., Mrs. Clifford Hooten, Mrs. Pauline Benke, Mrs. Susan Mead, Judith Morrow and Lynn Johnson.

For a wedding trip to Canada, the bride chose a knit suit of royal blue trimmed in black. Her accessories were black with white gloves and a white carnation corsage.

The newlyweds will reside at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Benke, in Jerome, Idaho. The bride attended the University of Idaho, where she was affiliated with Alpha Phi.

The bridegroom is a student at Pacific Lutheran University, Tacoma.

Hold Picnic
SHOSHONE, Sept. 6 — North Shoshone Homesteaders' picnic was held at Mary E. Gooding park.

Games were played under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Quisenberry.

Officers, elected are John Quisenberry, Gooding, president, and Mrs. W. P. Bell, secretary.

The fourth year will be held on the fourth year of August. Mr. and Mrs. Les Cady, Blackfoot, former residents of North Shoshone, were present.

Mrs. Bukova, 31, said she had been ranked No. 1 among women players in Czechoslovakia for the last 10 years. Her sister, Helena, 35, is 12th. Her husband, of one year, Cyril Buk, was national junior champion but now devotes less time to tennis and more to studying engineering at one of Prague's universities.

Mrs. Bukova explained why her last name differs from that of her husband. The Puzosova family has had a long history in her homeland, customarily, the married woman attaches the last name "to her husband's last name."

The Czech player, blonde with short-cropped hair, is an athletic, five feet, seven inches tall and weighs 140 pounds.

Daughter, she started playing tennis at a club in Prague after World War II. She is now a member of the Czech national team.

"She'd rather be on the court than in the kitchen. 'With my cooking,'" she said, "is better than my husband and I eat out."

Budget Pamphlet Display Is Featured at T. F. Postoffice

An eye-catching exhibit calling attention to government publications which offer tips on family purchasing and budget problems has been placed on display at the Twin Falls postoffice. Postmaster W. W. Prantl announced today.

At the same time, Prantl expressed gratification that Twin Falls has been chosen as one of 100 cities throughout the country to test public interest in the publications.

"Our population," he said, "represents a typical cross-section of community life. I should think the citizens of Twin Falls would be very much interested in reading material which will be helpful in planning their daily living."

"President Kennedy considers the interest of the consumer—and that means all of us—as important that he issued a special message to the congress on the subject last March 15. Certainly the President's Consumer Advisory Council is to be commended for devoting this program in line with the President's directive."

The exhibit, to be given a prominent place at the Twin Falls postoffice, is headed, "U.S. Government Publications to Help Your Daily Living." Five joined-gentle illustrate tips for the home handyman, aids for family purchases, health in the home, recreation for the family, and feeding your family.

At the bottom of the exhibit are instructions for the pamphlets, which range in price from one cent to $2.75. Prospective buyers are asked to check their choice on the government printing office order blank. The blanks can be mailed along with special documentary stamps purchased from postal window clerks. The use of coupons eliminates the need for money orders or checks in small denominations and will simplify the accounting.

The list of publications, selected by a number of government departments and agencies in cooperation with the President's Consumer Advisory Council, include such topics as infant and child care, health and safety, the purchase of food and clothing, housing and home service, appliance purchasing and recreational opportunities.

The display will be on view for 90 days, Prantl said. In the fol-

U2's Flying Over China, Man Says

HONOLULU, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Honolulu Advertiser today reported that high altitude American U2 airplanes may be going over parts of the China mainland.

According to a story by military reporter Scott Stoen, "a high-ranking Chinese Nationalist officer has said privately that the U2s are being used to photograph the coast of the China mainland."

"It is also known that the U.S. has some very excellent maps of portions of the China mainland. The maps obviously came from an aerial source."

"The story speculated that the planes are based on Okinawa—where the U.S. can maintain a tight security on their operations."

Europe Ties Being Rushed By 2 Chiefs

BONN, Sept. 6 (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer appeared today to be rushing France and Germany toward political union despite advice of their allies to go slow.

Both Adenauer, 85, and de Gaulle, 71, are known to feel that political union of western Europe is necessary to block communist expansion and that might they said the time had come to start doing something about it.

"It is necessary to act now," de Gaulle told a state dinner. "Those who are ready to act should act," Adenauer answered, "and I believe the others would join us."

It was not determined whether the two planned to sign some formal agreement before de Gaulle goes home Sunday night, or whether they just hoped to jar their common market allies into speeding progress toward political integration.

The Dignelux countries feel political union should be delayed until Britain has joined the common market. The sixth member, Italy, wants any steps toward unity to be slow and cautious.

Adenauer's press chief said the private talks, which began yesterday were concerned mainly with the political construction of Europe. What specific ideas they discussed were kept secret.

British diplomats took a resigned view of the situation. They pointed out that de Gaulle's disposition of Britain's application for membership in the common market if Adenauer and de Gaulle decided to forge ahead.

Shortage of Water Feared By Iran Shah

BOOER, Iran, Sept. 6 (AP)—The Shah of Iran, on the second day of his inspection of the earthquake-battered area around this city, expressed concern today over a shortage of water for the about 200 survivors of the disaster. The Shah, his eyes grim behind dark glasses, ramped out last night. He is touring an area the size of Massachusetts and, according to plane, helicopter and jeep.

About 1,200 bodies have been recovered here. Only a jagged heap of mud bricks and dust remains of what once was a city of hundreds of huts.

Villagers pressed forward to kiss the Shah's boots. "Help us, kiss the Shah's boots," "Help us, kiss the Shah's boots," "Give us water," were some of the cries.

The Shah said the water shortage was one of the most serious. The earthquake had destroyed underground pipes which supplied this area.

"The earthquake area had a population of 40,000 before the quake," he said. "As far as I know, 30,000 are still alive, but about 25,000 of these have been left homeless."

At least 25 nearby villages are in ruins.

One Missing
NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 6 (AP)—Some classroom props for a biology demonstration at Wood County High School turned out to be more than the teachers bargained for.

Mrs. Paul Standerford said 10 chicken snake eggs were delivered for biology classes last week. During the week-end four of the eggs hatched and the baby snakes wriggled to freedom.

One snake turned up in the hall another was discovered by Shirley Bortner, a teacher, and two more were found—the third in their science classroom.

The fourth snake? They're still looking for it.

U.S. Has No Arms Orbit Plans Slated
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 6 (AP)—The United States "has no program to place any weapons of mass destruction into orbit," Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell L. Gilpatric said Wednesday night.

A thermometer arms race in outer space, Gilpatric said, would not contribute to the nation's security.

"I can think of no greater stimulus for a Soviet thermonuclear arms effort in space than a United States commitment to such a program," he said. "We will not do it," Gilpatric said in a speech prepared for a meeting of Midwest industry and university representatives.

There is no doubt that either the United States or the Soviet Union could put H-bomb-carrying satellites into orbit, "but such an action is just not a rational military strategy for either side for the foreseeable future," the Pentagon official declared.

Gilpatric, however, did not rule out the use of U.S. action to defend against antiellite warfare.

He said that while the country is pursuing peaceful, cooperative efforts in space through the United Nations and otherwise, "We will of course take such steps as are necessary to defend ourselves and our allies, if the Soviet Union forces us to do so."

Gilpatric's speech on military space amounted to an official administration enunciation of policy.

In Washington, a Pentagon spokesman said Gilpatric's remarks had been approved by the White House and represent the administration's position on the military space program.

Testing
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 6 (AP)—Prisoners who rioted in the Texas county jail "just wanted to test me—to see what I would do," says Sheriff Bill Hauck.

Hauck, appointed just last month, fired wax bullets from his 45 caliber pistol and his deputies turned fire hoses on 12 rioters. That ended the 2½-hour uprising.

Some inmates complained to Hauck about a noon meal but after the riot Hauck said they admitted there was nothing wrong with the food.

Gospel Plan Discussed at LDS Confab

MATFA, Sept. 6.—“Study the scriptures and learn the gospel plan,” advises Franklin D. Richards, assistant to the council of 12 apostles, Salt Lake City, Utah, speaker at the Fall River LDS state quarterly conference at the Matfa statehouse Sunday.

“The gospel is the plan of life which will bring us joy,” he stated. “None of us is perfect, but the principle of faith brings happiness in our lives and we can be perfect in many things.”

LeRoy Withlin of the general welfare committee, Salt Lake City, also spoke. He advised church members to seek first the kingdom of God and in the right manner, it will be theirs. He stated that the principle of faith brings happiness in our lives and we can be perfect in many things.

“Own your own home and if you have a garden plot take a garden,” he advised. “Pay your tithes and offerings and the Lord will bless you. Discard greed and covetousness.”

Edwin Pasicki, state president, conducted both the morning and afternoon sessions of the conference. He presided over the sessions and explained the necessity of clarity and preparing for a temple marriage.

Other speakers at the morning session were Don Chandler, Orville Gray, Mrs. Franklin D. Richards and Earl Udy. Herbert Zollinger conducted the session with Mrs. H. E. King as accompanist.

Mrs. Roscoe Ward, Mrs. Wallace Taylor, Mrs. William Jones and Mrs. Curtis Duffer, all singing a number and the youth chorus from the Fall River LDS state sang two selections, directed by Mrs. Ed Holman, Orville Gray accompanied.

Earl Udy was advanced to the office of high priest in the Melchizedek priesthood. Prayers were given by Wallace Tracy and Charles D. Lind.

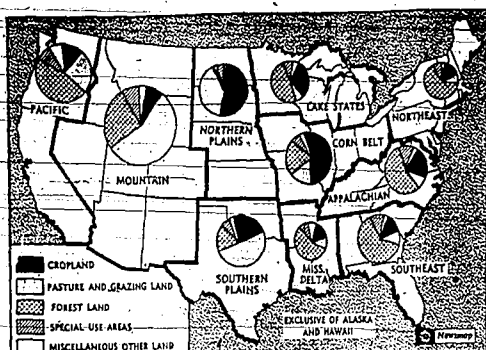

LeRoy Withlin spoke in the afternoon, explaining the two groups which receive most of the help from the welfare plan are young persons who have married too young and middle-aged widows.

He urged young persons to learn a profession or trade before marriage and pointed out a high percentage of early teenage marriages end in divorce.

Other speakers at the afternoon session were Charles Ward, Edmund S. Miller, Jay Gottle and Raylin Harper. Main theme of the conference was matrimony.

Prayers were given by Lano Elson and Allen Nye.

VARIED CLIMATE and geography give each section of the United States a different role in the nation's economy. Newsweek reports based on information from the department of agriculture, shows the major uses of land as compared with the total land area in regions. In the East, South, Lake states and Northwest, forestlands predominate. In the Middle and Northern Plains, it is cropland, and in the Southern Plains and Mountain states, pastures and grazing lands. ## Grocers Help With Lunches For Children

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's grocers are giving a boost to housewives planning back-to-school lunches by securing a variety of economical sandwich fillers this week-end.

Baking hens, turkeys, picnic hams, pork loin roasts and fresh hams are among the items regionally featured at supermarkets that lend themselves to sandwich makings. A national chain features fresh ham at 49 cents a pound in New York-outlets.

Also attractively priced are bacon, sausage, eggs, dairy, juice concentrate and milk and cream.

Lamb is a widespread feature with several national chains offering a variety of lamb cuts at special prices. One chain is selling leg of lamb at 52 cents a pound in the New York area.

Beef attractions include pot roasts and round steak in the Midwest, and ribs of beef in the Northeast.

Oysters are just coming into season and there are several other fish and seafood attractions.

Apples, especially Michigan crabapples, are moving into good supply. Cantaloupes, in near record supply, continue attractive and the pear crop looks unusually good.

Other fruit features include Thompson seedless grapes, tangerines, peaches, plums, grapefruit and lemons.

Vegetable buys include green beans, cabbage, carrots, celery, tomatoes, potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, lettuce and other greens, peppers, beets, eggplant.

Carnival

A cartoon by Dave Coverly. A man in a dark suit and white shirt stands on the left, pointing his right index finger towards a sign. The sign is rectangular and has the words "DON'T ENROLL IN LIBERAL ARTS" written on it in a jagged, hand-drawn font. To the right of the man, two women are standing and looking at the sign. The woman in the foreground is wearing a polka-dot dress and a hat. The woman behind her is wearing a light-colored coat and a hat. Above them is a sign that says "FURNITURE" in a simple, sans-serif font. The background is a simple line drawing of a carnival booth. In the bottom left corner, there is a signature that says "DAVE COVERLY".

NFO Watches Mart Closely For Prices

CHICAGO, Sept. 6 (AP) — The National Farmers' Union is watching the market closely today for signs of a price advance. The group is particularly concerned about the price of wheat, which it feels is being held down by the government's stockpiling program. The union's executive director, John L.
