WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (UPI)—A dwindling band of weary and frustrated lawmakers convened today for what they hoped would be the last meeting of the first Kennedy congress.

As weary negotiators sought for a compromise on this issue they were not sure the congress could meet their goal of adjourning tonight. It already was the longest congress in 50 years.

As the session's final minutes ticked away, the speaker, Wm. W. Sullivan, D., chairman of the powerful house rules committee, waded through the maze of legislative business.

Across the capital Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said the session would adjourn tonight if H. R. Gross, R., a cross said he wanted to know that future sessions would be held by the senate.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The general belief that the administration has disappeared as a bitter political issue has been expressed by the fact that it occupies an important position in the campaign plans of the candidates for the White House. Most of all it will be running against Nikita Khrushchev and the Russian satellite.
The issue has merely assumed a different and more dramatic character in the days and weeks when former Vice President Nixon now running for the White House governmentally, notably Alvin Karpis. It has been raised anew and in more virulent form because of the Khrushchev-Castro dispute. The administration's attitude that he will press his demands on Berlin "after the American election."
Assuming that Khrushchev will be more boastful and belligerent than ever after Nov. 6, the congressional candidates feel that they must play him in order to avoid the charges that they are pro-Russia after he has "led with his life."

RAY OF LIGHT AN ISSUE—Specifically, the Republican will charge that the administration has been particularly virulent in seeking to topple the Cuban bullseye. According to their contention, the administration's attitude today would not be a surprise if President Kennedy had more said the bareheaded one immediately after his communist sympathies were exposed.
The administration's unexplained role during the Cuban invasion of the Bay of Pigs will be the GOP's most impressive argument, in the opinion of many, that had not been withheld. American aerial support at a tactical moment, Castro would now be a forgotten man and a relic of the past.

White House silence on this critical question has provoked both political and popular curiosity. It has had a definite effect on the campaign and the Republicans intend to harp on it between now and Nov. 6.

EXPLANATION WANTED—The President may have had good reasons, diplomatic or military, for withholding active American participation in the invasion, which some believe is still being planned for some time before the change in administration. He may have been convinced that a bilateral move that might have embittered Latin American nations.
Whatever his reasons, GOP campaigners will try to force him to offer an explanation for the last-minute backdown. In effect, they aim to force him to admit that he was not a defender, moreover, office-seeking members of his own party would welcome a statement from him that they could use to attack his administration.
If it were true that this issue has not vanished from the American scene, congress would be in the handling of the foreign aid bill, and members on both sides of the aisle in both chambers insatiable on baring economic aid and continuing to demand that the administration show a lack of faith in the administration's hope that they could be weaned from communism by a more fully American attitude.

Their prohibition was especially significant because, unlike Cuba, Dictators Tito and Gomulka are not only in the hands of the West, but Nor are they any great economic asset to the Soviet Union in the field of trade.
In fact, Poland requires Russian assistance, and the Soviet Union is likely to be forced to try to increase trade with the West. Yugoslavia sells to and buys more from the Common Market than any other European state she does from the communist bloc.
But popular sentiment against any kind of overture to Russia and against any kind of congressional canvases. It is, perhaps, a higher price than it was when the suppressed activities of the administration were the subject of Nixon, this "pro-Russia" and the house un-American activities committee.
Today's concern is understandable. The committee's concern is understandable. The committee's concern is understandable. The committee's concern is understandable.

POOR JUDGMENT
There has been a lot of talk about installing seat belts. In fact, all the people who advocate the belts are missing the boat.
Somehow, it seems all the belts are installed in the wrong cars. Instead of putting seat belts in the cars that aren't going to be involved in accidents, let's put 'em in the cars that will be in accidents.
Whoever is in charge of the program rarely manages to install a safety belt in a car that's going to be involved in a wreck. Let's put the belts on the cars that will be involved in accidents. Let's put the belts on the cars that will be involved in accidents.

World Corners

BY PHIL NEWSON
Previously, most expressed grave doubts.
Foreign Minister Thant's speech of Thailand's Oct. 12 was not a feast of evils, and that it actually worked at all, only would be because the United States and Russia guaranteed it. Of this, he expressed grave doubts.
Only Russia, he said, could guarantee withdrawal of the 10,000 Viet Minh troops and he said he doubted that Russia could force it will upon Red China.
Others believed the Soviet Union at least would make an attempt to fail, they said, would mean Russia would forfeit the chance of agreement on the bigger issues, nuclear testing, disarmament and Berlin.
S. Var Singh, Indian chairman of the International control commission, believed the United States is taking a necessary but calculated risk.
The extent of that risk daily becomes more apparent and more certain. The control commission has recorded the departure of more than 100,000 Viet Minh troops and he said he doubted that Russia could force it will upon Red China.

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The dimensions of the space age, the distance between Europe and Asia, the distance between a mere step across the street.
Yet taking a step across the street and the highly prosperous new world coming into being, the "tough" and "tender" world bound to conclude that the world is greater than it seems—and must be.
The headlines from Berlin to Glasgow told the story of the civil war in Mississippi. For America's European friends, charged with presenting a favorable picture of American life, it was a double-edged sword.
As one of them put it: "If someone had been able to give Khrushchev the opportunity to speak on every television radio network in the West for a week at a time, he would have chosen nothing like the harm of the Mississippi conflict would have done. He would have learned to discount Soviet propaganda. But it is what you do with the news that you and your friends and deluged your comrades."

Let it be said at once that the headlines from Berlin to Glasgow told the story of the civil war in Mississippi. For America's European friends, charged with presenting a favorable picture of American life, it was a double-edged sword.
As one of them put it: "If someone had been able to give Khrushchev the opportunity to speak on every television radio network in the West for a week at a time, he would have chosen nothing like the harm of the Mississippi conflict would have done. He would have learned to discount Soviet propaganda. But it is what you do with the news that you and your friends and deluged your comrades."

Contaminated Potatoes Are Condemned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—A total of 34,000 pounds of potatoes contaminated by pesticides have been seized by the food and drug administration today. The seizure was made recently in Washington, Oregon and Idaho.

The FDA ordered the seizure after its agents found the potatoes contained about 1/16th ounce of the permitted residues of aldrin and dieldrin, chemicals used in the control of insects and plant diseases. FDA officials expressed doubt that the contaminated potatoes in any significant amount have reached the market. They expressed belief the seizures have successfully blocked the contaminated supplies. One official of the FDA said one would have to eat potatoes over a long period before danger to the liver would probably result. Investigators are under way to determine if the pesticides were used by potato growers in compliance with the manufacturers' recommendations.

The association stated, "This was a unanimous vote on the grounds we feel it is not morally, socially or economically right for the people of our state. Best harvesting and potato diggers are both under way at the Red Richert farm west of Piler, Fred Shurt, Piler, finished digging the last of his potato beans last week. Some of the beans were scattered by wind. Vernon Lassen and Walter Mathison, two local farmers, are cutting their field corn for ensilage this week.

Clay Jones and Cleon Durfee, Almo, started cutting grain on Oct. 10 and harvested the first of the week.

Harold Ward and J. Spencer Black were rounding up their cattle from the Elba range and bringing them to their home ranches at Almo last week.

Thurman and Gail Hansen, Richfield farmers, have completed harvest of 255 acres of beans. Gail Hansen is the only farmer in the Huxley area raising potatoes this year. He expects to begin harvest of his 35 acres in mid-October.

T. J. Heath is chopping the third cutting of hay at his ranch near King Hill and will move to the Eugene Oberst ranch this week.

William Arbaugh has finished baling 150 acres of third cutting of hay and is getting to stacks in the W-V-Kino-Kran-wood of King Hill.

Twenty-six acres of corn was cut for ensilage at the Ray Thompson ranch six miles south of King Hill and 20 acres was sold to Ray Hinely for winter feeding of stock. Hinely trucked his ensilage to his ranch 20 miles north of Otway Ferry and dumped it in a back injury last spring. He is driving a school bus for a number of miles and Mrs. Vinsant is working at the Manhattan cafe.

L. M. Bauger, north Shoshone, has purchased a home in Gooding moving from the Gwin Rice ranch in north Shoshone area. The property, recently sold the farm.

SUGAR BEET harvesting is well under way in Twin Falls county. Activity at the Amalgamated Sugar company plant near Twin Falls shows the beginning of the beet pile. By the end of the harvest season the pile will be considerable size. The beginning of the season indicates that the harvest is near normal, and many growers are satisfied with the crop yield. Many improvements have been made at the factory, and the "beet dumps" have been improved to facilitate the trucks which haul the beets. Each year the company tries to improve service to the farmer making it quicker and easier to unload and return to the field. Railroad cars bring the beets in from outlying areas. When cars are not available the beets are stockpiled. (Times-News photo)

Bill Clears Proposals on Co-op Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Adopted by both the House and Senate, the conference report on the 1962 tax bill was cleared for the White House in early October. Of particular interest to dairy cooperative groups is the clearing up of the long-standing uncertainty on co-op taxes and tax deductions for expenses relating to legislative activities.

The bill provides that patronage refunds by cooperatives will be deductible by the association if 20 per cent of the refund is paid in cash and there is agreement by the patron to account for it in his own tax return. This may be done by tax deduction.

In the matter of tax provisions for legislative activities, the measure permits the deductions of those expenses incurred in presenting statements or communications to members and committees of congress. Dues paid to trade associations or farm organizations are deductible in proportion to the deduction allowed the organization.

Special Dip Can Control Algae

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—The agriculture department reports that a commonly used commercial disinfectant will effectively control algae growing on clay flower pots.

Grassman of the Year is named as a special banquet at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 13 in the Oregon room of the Grand Hotel in Twin Falls. The event is an annual affair jointly sponsored by the Idaho Grass Growers Association, Farm Bureau, Idaho Conservation Division, Idaho Dairy Producers Association, Idaho Power company, Idaho Cattlemen's Association and the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Bureau Awards Reforesting Contracts for Rangeland

BOISE, Oct. 12.—The district office of the bureau of land management has announced the awarding of contracts to seed 1200 acres of rangeland and reforest to create windbreaks. The contracts amounted to $120,000.

One contract of 8,000 acres, the largest of the project, was awarded to Stanley J. Downum, Pate, and the other of 2,500 acres, the second largest, was awarded to James N. J. was conducted by James E. Armstrong, Boise.

These two seedings in the Owyhee project area are a part of the comprehensive plan to reestablish the federal range. Acting State District Manager William T. Mathews said, "These seedings are but a beginning of the accelerated program planned under the Owyhee project for rehabilitation of the range lands to southwestern Idaho."

Activity Picking up at Twin Falls Sugar Factory as Harvesting Starts

Sugar beet harvesting in Twin Falls county is well under way. Many area farmers have started harvest operations and harvesting should be in full swing in the next few days depending on weather conditions.

A new drying facility has been added to the sugar company plant near Twin Falls and many other changes have been made at the factory dump ground and at other dump grounds in the outlying districts which are served by the Union Pacific railroad.

Management is moving to correct the situation by trying to create more interest in doing this type of work among contractors of the area.

Work has also been started on seven spring developments for range livestock and wildlife use in the Wilson unit, presently under adjudication, and also improved in the Owyhee project area.

Bids are being circulated for development of four livestock water wells to be drilled this fall. Two more are planned for development during the early spring months.

Storage tanks and pipeline distribution systems are being planned for these well installations.

Bids will be circulated for spraying approximately 3,000 acres of aspenbrush early next spring. Eradication of aspenbrush through aerial application of 2-4-D has proven to be a very effective means of increasing range forage production.

Spud Hearing To Resume

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — The hearing on a national marketing agreement and order for potatoes will resume today in the Senate. In 1962 acreage totaled near 24,000.

Following a study of plant capacity, acreage contracts will be allotted next spring. Prospects for a larger crop this year seem good and things are going well before or after the fall potato harvesting season.

will be reconvened in Denver, Dec. 4. It is being resumed at the request of the national potato industry committee, original proponents of the program.

The hearing originally was opened in New York City on March 12 and continued at Toledo, O.; Minneapolis, Minn.; Pocatello, Idaho; Bakerfield, Calif.; Amarillo, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga. The hearing was recessed at Atlanta April 21.

The advisory committee met here July 12 and recommended the hearing be reopened either before or after the fall potato harvesting season.

NOW DEEP WELL PUMPS—UP TO 6% MORE EFFICIENT

Every Wintroath pump installation is now made with Wintroath UHF deep well pumps. They're up to 6% more efficient for two basic reasons. First, new design and surface finishing techniques give the UHF pumps unexcelled and frequently unequalled peak efficiency. (Wintroath will certify performance.)

Second, these deep well pumps are designed for much broader efficiency curves. Result: they maintain much higher average efficiency, even during normal water level changes throughout the season.

How much will you save by using Wintroath's UHF deep well pumps? Replace an existing unit that has run several years with a new Wintroath UHF, and you may gain as much as 10 or 15 percent in overall performance, with the resulting reduction in power costs. If you use a UHF pump on a new well, you can be assured of having the most efficient installation possible.

The Wintroath UHF pump line is detailed in our new UHF Pump Booklet. Ask your Wintroath representative for it. Contact Wintroath Vertical Pump Servicer, P. O. Box 708, Burley, Idaho or South Yellowstone Highway, Idaho Falls, Idaho. Or write: Wintroath Operations, Worthington Corporation, Alhambra, California.

Parasite Can Cost Rancher If Ignored

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 12 — How many ranchers are growing worms instead of beef? "Almost all of them, in a certain extent," Anthony Timmons, technical service manager, Leslie Salt Company, contends. "Large animals, like cattle, can harbor large colonies of parasites and still appear to be perfectly healthy."

"But worms do make a difference, he stressed, in how much cattle eat. "After all, worms need food, just as the cattle do, and they consume the covered wagon of the rancher. An average group of 300 stomach parasites will consume during a year as much as 400 worth of salt-mineral mixes, vitamins—protein supplements and so on."

"This waste could be avoided by mixing small quantities of phenothiazine with the salt and ready being fed to the cattle. This method of killing the worms can be done in a few days and ranchers are already paying to feed the worms, Timmons added."

"The difference undetected worms make in feed consumption was dramatically shown in one trial where 100 head of calves were wintering on range and being fed a commercial meal supplement," he reported.

"Half of the herd was given phenothiazine, half was not. These receiving phenothiazine ate only half as much supplement as the control group did. But the calves which were not given the supplement still were able to outgain the others by six per cent."

Cattle Group Notes Active Market Year

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 12 — Figures released by the American Herford association in a report on the year-end market for registered Herfords, Transcenders of opulent blood, and a number of other breeds combined, said Paul Swaffler, AHA secretary, said.

"The Herford breed remains the number one beef breed in the nation, being in the top five in every year since 1954," he stated. "During this past fiscal year, the American Herford association recorded 42,289 calves, nearly twice the number of all other beef breeds combined."

Charles O'Rand, Baber, Ore., association president, reported, "Registered Herford breeders have enjoyed the best demand in several years; however, most breeders have been unable to ship out their own herd numbers in order to satisfy the demand for bull calves. As a consequence they have been reluctant to sell females for establishing new herds. This situation is expected to change with the current increase in transborder trade."

Association field staff members also report the same situation in regard to availability of commercial Herford females as it was in the previous year. "The demand exceeds the supply for females to stock commercial herds."

Secretary Swaffler, commenting on noteworthy activities of the breed and its organization, said, "Herford breeders took the initiative in introducing a herd sire feedlot and carcass evaluation program on an industry-wide basis. The program is being conducted at a research center at all participating cattle from the various areas being fed and handled together in one new feedlot, similar to market conditions."

GOODYEAR SUPER TORQUE

COAST TO COAST

PLEASE BLOW YOUR OWN WAGON

PIONEER PACER is being set by this tractor and trailer which is traveling from coast to coast being the lifeline of highway wear and tear on tractors and tires. The tractor will average about the same speed that the covered wagon made when it crossed the country. Special safety equipment has been added to the regular equipment on the tractor in the form of additional lights. The trip is sponsored by the Goodyear Tire company and the results of the cross-country trip will enable tire engineers to make improvements on tractor tires. The wagon will carry a special Goodyear tire display.

Tractor Is Towing Wagon Across U.S. To Research Tires, Safety on Roads

AKRON, O., Oct. 12 — A transportation-oriented crossing that will come close to matching the slowness of the covered wagon is expected to be completed in mid-November.

The mode of transportation is a regular farm tractor being driven from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific in a unique test by The Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of Akron.

Although it is a production model, the tractor's accessories are extraordinary. The tractor is equipped with all of the latest highway safety equipment and with special design tires.

Purpose of the trip is to evaluate the safety devices and tires over 8,000 miles of highway driving, driving of a type many farm tractors just do daily from home to field.

Lighted with bulbs mounted inside the tire, the Neolanth tractor tire is revolutionary in that it contains no tire fabric or piles.

"The purpose of our trip is to find out if a W. J. Baber, manager Goodyear Farm Tire sales."

"We hope the findings of the trip will contribute to improved safety for the farmer who must drive his tractor on the open highway."

"To do this, we have fitted the tractor and farm wagon with all of the safety features recommended by the National Safety Council, and even a few of our own. Over the many miles to be driven, our engineers will judge the worth of each of these devices."

Honey Crop May Hit New Record

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — The crop-reporting board has estimated the 1962 honey crop at 10,000,000 pounds, or 15 per cent more than the previous record crop in 1961 and 12 per cent over production of the 1950-55 average.

This year's crop is being produced on a smaller acreage of bees, about 100 per cent below the volume on hand in 1961. Production per colony is expected to average 101 pounds.

The board's estimate is based on a survey of 10,000 colonies in 10 states, which is similar to the previous record crop in 1961 and 12 per cent over production of the 1950-55 average.

Farm Law to Provide for Soil Reserve

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — The new farm law makes special provision for farms coming out of the soil bank's conservation reserve this year.

Farmers whose soil bank contracts expire Dec. 31 may continue their land in conserving uses for another year under a 1962 land use adjustment program authorized by the new law. The department may provide assistance totaling up to 10 million dollars during 1962 calendar year.

"The conservation reserve, the long range action of the soil bank program of the late 1950's, was operated under contracts of three, five, and 10 years' duration. Farmers received payments for taking their lands out of production and putting them in conservation use. The three-year contracts are expiring at the end of this year."

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman has urged farmers who have land on which contracts expire this year not to desert the protective cover on the land until they can become acquainted with provisions of the new program.

Terms and conditions to be offered farmers for continuing to hold eligible land in a conserving use are expected to be similar to those for the existing contracts. Specific details concerning payment rates and other provisions will be available around mid-October in county agricultural stabilization and conservation service offices.

The conservation reserve contracts due to expire this year are expected to be about 1,900 farms. Overall, some 23 million acres are now held out of crop production by the conservation reserve.

Under the 1962 program, as well as the conservation reserve, farmers will be required to provide a cover which will protect the soil from wind and water erosion.

Dairy Support Prices Are Less

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Dairy price support purchases in September totaled 132,224 pounds of butter, $7,762,222 pounds of cheese, and 12,079,218 pounds of non-fat dry milk. These compare with $60,011 pounds of butter, 10,087,482 pounds of cheese, and 25,528,000 pounds of non-fat dry milk in September, 1961.

Uncommitted stocks on hand at the end of September, 1962, totaled $48,879,198 pounds of butter, $2,850,846 pounds of cheese and $1,577,208 pounds of non-fat dry milk.

Mergers Could Assist Co-ops

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Officials of farm co-operatives should consider mergers and consolidation as possible means to increase their organizational efficiency, a government farm credit administrator claimed recently.

"Consideration of mergers," noted Glenn E. Heitz, director of farm credit administration, "must be approached from the standpoint of increasing efficiency and improving service to the farmer, with personalities and the vested interests of institutions kept in the background. Heitz is a featured speaker at the coming convention of the National Milk Producers Federation."

Two key factors which weigh heavily in favor of mergers, Heitz said, are narrower margins in the face of increasing business volume and competitive pressures from large, highly-centralized groups.

U.S. Continues Buying of Milk

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Purchase of 18.7 million pounds of nonfat dry milk was announced by the U.S. department of agriculture in early October. Prices ranged from 16.28 cents a pound for four million pounds, to 18.64 cents a pound for 18 million pounds.

The department will continue to report offers of non-fat milk further notice.

The nonfat, to be packed in 44-pound bags and cartons, and strapped shipping containers is marketed for foreign donation. Deliveries are to be made each week starting as soon as possible and continuing through the week of Dec. 10.

Farm Exports Increasing During 1962

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13 — Exports of agricultural products in July and August of the current fiscal year were slightly larger than a year ago. Exports were two per cent above the same months in 1961-62. Increases were particularly marked for wheat, cotton, animal fats, and dairy products declined. Fruits, hides and skins, and meats were unchanged.

For several months prior to August, exports were stimulated by anticipation of implementation of variable import levies scheduled to be imposed by the European Economic Community or common market, on and after August 1. Part of the decline in August exports can be attributed to unchanged 1962 inventories accumulated in anticipation of import levies.

Imports of agricultural products for consumption in July totaled 300 million dollars, compared with 215 million dollars in the same month in 1961. Imports of both supplementary and complementary non-competitive products were smaller. Among the complementary products were smaller imports of cocoa, latex, coffee and carpet wool.

Feeding Meet at Tuesday for Gooding

GOODING, Oct. 12 — Cattle and sheep producers are invited to attend a feeding conference (call people) to be held at the Gooding Chamber of Commerce at 10 a. m. Tuesday.

The meeting is sponsored by the Twin Falls National Livestock Association and the Idaho Livestock Association. The conference will be held in the Gooding Chamber of Commerce. Dr. D. Donnell Burritt is director of the Idaho Livestock Association and has had 12 years of experience in teaching and extension in livestock at five different universities.

A member of the Nutrition Council of the American Livestock Association and a member of work have been made of mineral and vitamins.

Dr. Burritt is head of the animal husbandry department of the University of Idaho. He received his M. S. degree from the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Burritt is also a member of the National Livestock Association and the Idaho Livestock Association. He has been in the livestock business for 12 years and has had 12 years of experience in teaching and extension in livestock at five different universities.

Quality of Spuds Harvested This Fall Is Generally Good

From all indications it appears that the 1962 southern Idaho potato crop will be smaller in total yield and size. However, quality will be better than the previous year.

There are several factors that have to be considered concerning the 1962 crop. First of all, there was less acreage planted this year. Some estimates have placed the acreage at 10 to 15 per cent under the total planned in 1961. A late spring and a rather cool summer has curtailed growth. A September frost then killed the vines and growth was substantially reduced. The final 30 days of the growing season determined the size of the potato.

The Citizens Committee on the bill to the house floor because the house interior committee has not been meeting.

The Citizens Committee on Natural Resources has attached this delay in a statement. The committee called it in effect, a blockade against wilderness legislation.

Figures on Farm Workers Listed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — Nearly 2.6 million different persons worked on farms for wages in 1961, states an advance report on the hired farm working force for the year. About 1.6 million worked less than 20 days—the average was 10 days. Another 1.1 million averaged 134 days.

The hired labor makes up the smallest share of the farm work force. In July, and August, 1962, due largely to the uncertain weather, a few farmers were willing to start early because they feared additional early frosts. Some preferred to keep the spuds in the ground with the idea that some additional growth might be attained.

Weather conditions thus far have been anything but ideal for spud harvesting. Generally potatoes are harvested in about 25 per cent complete throughout the state with some areas, upper Snake river section, ahead of the rest of the state and other areas behind schedule.

Harvest operations in the Mini-Casita area are still not in full swing but it is expected that harvest efforts will be under way in the next few days. Weather is the delaying factor.

No Waste Land Is Found in Europe, Oakley Farmer Says

OAKLEY, Oct. 12—People in European countries and Russia all seem very energetic and there is no waste land to be seen, according to an Oakley farmer, Herschel Bedke, who has returned from a "people to people" goodwill tour.

—Belgium is the only country he visited where horses are used for commercial meat. There are no large farms there and Belgium is a wet country, farmers have a hard time getting things dry enough to harvest.

Grain was being processed like the early settlers in the U.S. did, with bundles put in shocks by hand. Livestock was over and with the Industrial and Agricultural Achievements Award for the year.

The group he was traveling with toured the Industrial and Agricultural Achievements Award for the year.

The corn compared about the ground he is here. The soil is extremely fertile and even with a dry year this particular farm produced 200 bushels to the acre, Bedke says.

Confab Set

POCAHELLO, Oct. 12 — The 70th annual convention of the Idaho Wool Growers Association will be held here Nov. 18-20. According to Ray Lincoln, Twin Falls, association president, the convention will provide a round of events and subjects of direct concern to all owners of sheep.

—Special committees will report in detail on issues assigned.

The convention will provide an opportunity for the 10 year average report that some supplemental feeding is being required for livestock for the first year in some areas of the state.

Onion Crop Will Be Near Average

BOISE, Oct. 12—Production prospects for onions in Idaho improved considerably during the fall months and a crop of 224,000 hundredweight is now forecast, reports the department of agriculture. The improved condition of the crop will bring the production to near average levels and will be nearly 20 per cent higher than last year's crop.

Conservation Group Seeks Bill Action

LEWISTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—A coalition of conservation groups in Idaho has urged the U.S. House of Representatives to pass a bill that would allow the federal government to purchase land in wilderness areas, protecting it against most further development for other purposes.

The bill already has passed the U.S. House of Representatives. It has a majority of the house committee members. It is in no hurry to get it on their own agenda.

They want the house to pass it on a version of the bill that has been passed by the U.S. House of Representatives.

Minor Gains Noted for Crop Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Prices of farm crops so far this year have averaged about 10 per cent above those of a year earlier, the agriculture department reports.

The demand for price situation. With a smaller volume of crop marketing, cash receipts from livestock and poultry are more than one per cent greater than a year earlier. Receipts from stock and poultry are about the same, with both the volume of marketing and average prices.

Most of the increase in cash receipts was from crop sales. Cash receipts from all farm marketing through August this year totaled an estimated $6.8 billion dollars, compared with $6.5 billion dollars in 1961. Cash receipts through August were well above a year earlier. Production of cotton, truck crops, corn, and soybeans.

Substantial declines were estimated in receipts from marketing of wheat, eggs, turkeys and other products.

Crop production, expectations, based on the Sept. 1 crop production report, indicate that 1962 may total two per cent less than 1961. Indicated good grain production is down eight per cent from 1961, which is a sharp decline from 1960. The wheat crop this year is estimated at 11 per cent below 1961. The reduction is largely a result of the 1962 voluntary wheat program.

Production in four major crop categories, feed grains, hay and forage, vegetables, and oil crops, is expected to average two to five per cent less than a year earlier. Production of cotton, tobacco, and sugar crops is expected to average three to five per cent more than a year earlier.

Production of livestock products is expected to total about the same as in 1961. An increase in production of dairy products may offset a decline in output of poultry and eggs. Total meat production is expected to be unchanged.

The department said domestic use of food and other farm products continues to rise with population growth, and export levels continue to increase.

Poultry Unit Says Surplus Hurts Market

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12—The broiler industry may overproduce in 1962. There is no present indication of the curbing in production planning which will be necessary to prevent a repetition of the low prices of 1961, reports the Poultry Survey Committee.

The 1962 turkey crop may exceed 1961 levels, reports the committee. U. S. farm turkey prices for September-December, 1962, will average 27 1/2 cents for five cents above a year earlier.

Returns to egg producers in the 12 months beginning with October will be about the same as the preceding year. The hatch of egg-type chicks during the first six months of 1962 is expected to be four to six per cent over the same period of 1961.

As stated the committee, comprised of 10 top poultry producers from 10 states. The committee was sponsored by American Egg Producers Association and National Turkey Federation. The next meeting of the Poultry Survey committee is scheduled for Dec. 14. The group meets four times a year to forecast prices and production of poultry.

Total turkey supplies available during 1962 will be about 100 million birds less than a year ago. Demand will be approximately the same or higher than a year ago.

The January carrying of broilers is expected to be 200 million pounds. This would be substantially less than the 260 million pound carryover into 1962, but it would still be the second largest of record.

Broiler prices during October-December, 1962, will average about 35 cents per pound, according to the committee. This is expected to be slightly higher than the comparable 1961 period.

The July-December average for the chick hatch is expected to be slightly higher than in the same period of 1961. However, the January-June, 1962, hatch is expected to be 10 per cent below the same months of 1961 with the hens and pullets on farm January 1, 1962, will be one to two per cent below January 1, 1961.

Farm prices of broilers will average about 14 cents for the October-December quarter, a number of birds marketed will be about 10 per cent greater than the fourth quarter of 1961. Prices will be about one cent higher. Broilers will be marketed at somewhat higher prices compared to a year ago and will have less competition from red meat and turkeys.

Science Is Experimenting With New Methods to Assist Farm Hand Labor

BY ALTON BLAKESLEE
EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 12 (AP)—To harvest apples and other fruit easier, a new machine is being developed by Michigan State University.

To plow the land, vibrate and loosen the ground, scientists are experimenting with new methods.

These are examples at Michigan State University of using new science and imagination to solve farm problems.

Consider fruit crops. Costs of harvesting by hand are rising. You can shake a tree mechanically, but it is still a job. It is costly. You can use a tractor with a fruit harvester, but it is still a job. It is costly. You can use a tractor with a fruit harvester, but it is still a job. It is costly.

3 Week-End Meetings Set by Idaho Cattle Feeders Unit

BOISE, Oct. 12—Announcement of three week-end meetings of the Idaho Cattle Feeders Association was made by Frank Shields, secretary-manager.

Oct. 20, the Idaho-Eastern Oregon district members will meet in the Saratoga hotel, Caldwell, to have discussion on advances in beef cattle feed nutrition by Dr. Joseph Bertrand, Los Angeles.

He is a member of the technical service group of the animal nutrition department of commercial solvent corporation. In this capacity he contacts colleges and agricultural experiment stations in the United States arranging field trials and other animal studies in connection with C&S feed supplements.

Jack Finley, district vice-president of ICGA, will call the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m., at which time there will be an invitation to all members and their guests to inform the technical service group of the meeting. Finley also indicated the meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m., at which time the directors and officers will meet for a "no-host" dinner and hear an explanation of the national livestock and meat board has just this year appointed an industry committee.

Cassia Area ASC Funds Received

DELO, Oct. 12—Carl Osterhout, Delo, chairman of the agricultural conservation committee for Cassia county, announced the entire amount of funds received by the county had been obligated to producers for accomplishments of conservation type projects.

The conservation practices include a list of about 20 items, he said, such as contour-plowing, leveling programs, range seeding and concrete ditch lining.

Osterhout said the entire $24,000 requested by Cassia farm producers through the government cost-sharing conservation program had all been allocated to producers.

He also said the entire amount was obligated in less than three weeks. Osterhout noted that the next allocation will not be received until spring.

Wool Group Backs Plan For Industry

PORTLAND, Oct. 12—The wool growers of the U. S. are solidly behind their promotional program to expand the use of lamb and wool under the National Wool Act, said Roy A. Ward, manager, Pacific Wool Growers.

The statement was made following the tabulations of ballots in the recent referendum vote on the continuation of deductions from wool payments.

The continuation had overwhelming support with only nine per cent of the producers voting against the proposal.

The department of agriculture announced the preliminary results of the voting on Oct. 1.

The referendum was held to determine producer approval of a proposed agreement between the Secretary of agriculture and the American sheep producers. The agreement would continue deductions from wool payments made under the National Wool Act of 1954 for the 1955-56 marketing year.

The deductions would provide funds to finance the council's activities, promotional, and a related market development activities on lamb and wool.

In Idaho 95.5 per cent of the producers favored the promotion program.

BOISE, Oct. 12—Potatoes used for table use from the 1949-50 crop amounted to 154,600,000 hundredweight, according to the crop reporting board. Sales for table use varied only a small amount during the period 1957-59, with a gradual increase to 164,600,000 hundredweight during the 1959 season to 181,900,000 hundredweight during the 1961 season. The 1962 crop is expected to be a low of 162,200,000 hundredweight in 1962 to a high of 203,000,000 hundredweight in 1963.

The amount of fresh potatoes used for processed food items such as chips, french fries, dehydration, and canning continued to increase 15,000,000 hundredweight from 1961 crop in comparison with 15,750,000 from the 1960 crop and 16,000,000 hundredweight from the 1959 crop.

Usage of 1961 crop potatoes for french fries, 160,000,000 pounds and french fries, 160,000,000 pounds. This was 23 times the 19,500,000 hundredweight used from the 1960 crop and 15 per cent of the total 1961 production.

Processors of potato chips and french fries last year totaled 215 million dollars in sales. Potatoes used for making french fries from the 1961 crop increased 19 per cent from a year earlier and totaled 15.9 million hundred weight against 13.4 million from 1960. Processors of french fries, granules, dried and other forms of dehydrated products used 8.5 million hundredweight, a decrease of 14 per cent from the 10 million hundredweight used in the 1960 crop. The volume potatoes used in other food items was 12 per cent greater than the amount a year earlier.

Processors of starch and flour handled 20.5 million hundredweight of the 1961 crop, twice the amount processed during the 1960 season and 11 per cent above the 18.4 million hundredweight of the 1959 crop. During the 1961 season, 162 million hundredweight moved to starch and flour under the government diversion program.

Farm Loans to Reach New Record High During 1963

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Agriculture department officials predict that lending by the farm home administration in fiscal 1963 will total about $72 million, to surpass substantially the fiscal 1962 record of $68 million.

Officials said the overall increase for fiscal 1963 would be reflected in practically every lending category of FIA.

The fiscal 1962 lending record topped by 61 per cent, the 1961 total of $68 million dollars, and was 106 per cent above the 33 million dollar loan in 1960.

About 200,000 families used FIA credit during 1962, up 10 per cent from the year before.

Repayment by borrowers during the year totaled $13 million dollars in principal and interest. This compares with repayments of 30 million dollars last year, and a similar amount in 1960. About 22,000 borrowers repaid their loans in full during fiscal 1962.

Of the 637 million dollars loaned by FIA in 1962, slightly more than 300 million dollars went to 174,743 farmers to buy equipment, livestock, fertilizer, pesticides, feed, tractor fuel, and other supplies for farm and home. The comparable figure for 1961 is expected to be less than 1962.

Ownership loans amounting to $78 million dollars, were made to 17,768 farmers in 1962 to buy develop, or enhance, farm land. Ownership loans in 1963 are expected to reach 20 million dollars.

Water development and conservation loans in 1962 totaled $3 million dollars. In 1963 they are expected to total $3 million dollars. Watered lands in 1962 were stepped up to five million dollars next year. The new water conservation program is expected to reach 10 million dollars in 1963.

Miss Braegger Marries Barrus In Chapel Rite

RUPERT, Oct. 12 — The Paul DDD ward chapel was the setting for the marriage of Nan Braegger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Braegger, Paul, and Robert R. Barrus, son of Mr. O'Dell McGane, Rupert, Sept. 29.

Bishop Jay Maxwell performed the double ring rite. Tall baskets of bronze and yellow mums decorated the chapel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of delustrated satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and an oval neckline and a long, sheer, tiered, hip-hooped skirt full to soft fulness ending in a chapel train. The bride's elbow-length veil was held by a velvet crown.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and tangerine carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Beverly Mackenzie was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Edna Neisaur, Pat Kowalski and Hugh Braegger, sister of the bride. Junior bridesmaid was Diane McLane, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants were dressed in alabaster or "dresses" in fall shades of brown, orange and gold. Their flowers were bronze and white mums.

Leonard Axson was best man and ushers were Fred Barrus, brother of the bridegroom, and Ernest Stuart.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Braegger chose a beige linen suit with beige and brown accessories. Mrs. Barrus wore a multi-colored wool sheath. Each wore a corsage of bronze mums. A reception was held honoring the couple after the ceremony.

Magic Bowl Opening Features Joe Joseph Hockey Deal Is Called Off

TORONTO, Oct. 12 (AP) — The million-dollar hockey deal is off.

The Toronto Maple Leafs, reigning Stanley cup champions of the National Hockey League, today called off the deal for the $1,000,000 offer from the Chicago Black Hawks for which they had agreed to make trading units on the floor of the automatic pin-setting machines, all new fiber glass seating section and new ice rinks.

Joseph was a member of the "Chief" team which shattered the ABC team scoring record with a 2.24 total. It wiped out a mark which had stood for 21 years.

During the 1962 professional bowlers tour, Joseph won first place in St. Louis and the 118,000 Speedway champion of championship event. He was third in the Memphis open.

He shared in the 1958 Detroit "Double" title and is a three-time winner of both the "Big Ten" and "All-events" crowns in his home town, Lansing, Mich. He is one of 140 of the nation's top professional bowlers.

Tri-State Officials Reiterate Strict Game-Fish Regulations

PENDELTON, Oct. 12 (AP) — The fish and game agencies of Oregon, Washington and Idaho adopted a resolution Thursday saying they would continue enforcement efforts against all persons found violating fish and game regulations. In the past state regulations. The resolution put the agencies on record as saying that Indians should comply with the same rules as other fishermen and hunters.

The officials were on hand for the one-day meeting of the Oregon Game Commission, Idaho Fish and Game Commission, Washington Department of Fisheries and the Washington Game Department.

Representatives of the agencies unanimously voted to propose to their state legislatures an increase in license fees. The additional revenue would be used for the increased expenses and programs of conservation and administration.

Land acquisition for hunting was singled out as one of the largest increased expenses.

John Biggs, Washington state Game Department director, said license fees are approaching the maximum the average person can pay. He said other sources of income will have to be tapped, such as pheasant tags.

Biggs and Phil Schneider, director of the Oregon Game Commission, said they favored the self-supporting structure of the five agencies and urged resistance to efforts to consolidate funds from outside sources.

A spokesman for the Idaho Game and Game Commission, Raymond Holmes, agreed that the agencies should seek to stay self-supporting but said some outside help may be needed in his state.

Holmes said the current drainage of fish and game commission funds by counties which take a portion of all fines collected is costly.

In reference to the land acquisition:

"However, we decided from the point of view of hockey in Toronto and also from the point of view of the Maple Leaf fans to resist this temptation, although it was hard to do so."

The three of us hope to be actively engaged in professional hockey for a long time and came to the decision that over the long haul it was in the best interests of the fans, the team and ourselves that we turn down this fantastic offer.

"So the matter is ended."

Upsets Seen In Week-End Grid Contests

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 (AP) — College football already has had a good shaking up with the rise of a flock of new contenders for conference titles and postseason bowl games. More of the same may be coming up Saturday.

Penn State in the east, Alabama in the southeast, and Texas in the southwest, are maintaining their predicted pace but there's a big storm of upsets brewing in the Big Ten.

Ohio State, Michigan State, Purdue and Iowa were the favorites to fight it out for a Rose Bowl bid. All have been beaten or tied by teams from the far west.

Meanwhile, Wisconsin, Northwestern and Minnesota have stepped up with more muscle than expected and the Big Ten apparently is in for a real Donibronk.

Northeastern and Minnesota clash Saturday in the 11st major bowl game of the Big Ten season. Wisconsin tries on Notre Dame for size in a non-conference home game that will give a truer picture of the Badgers who so far have racked up 10 wins.

The Cornhuskers, figured about fifth among the league's eight teams, upset Michigan, 25-13, but bowled over Iowa State, 35-22, after an easy opener against South Dakota. They play North Carolina State this week.

Out in the far west, of course, is the real boom. Southern California knocked over Iowa, UCLA toppled Ohio State, Stanford topped Michigan State and Washington tied Purdue.

Washington, rated strongly for the coast title, may wind up No. 2 behind Southern California and UCLA but that will have to wait awhile. Southern California is idle this week. UCLA has a pushover against Colorado Monday State, 69-13, and Indiana, 30-6.

More Rain

CORVALLIS, Ore. Oct. 11 (AP) — Heavy rain showers fell on Multnomah as a storm again Thursday and officials said the site of Saturday's Washington-Oregon State football game "looks like a lake."

A tarpaulin was down to try to protect the turf, but officials said the field was wet from previous rains. They explained they could not put the tarpaulin down too many days in advance or the grass would be killed and the field would have even poorer footing.

The forecast is for more rain.

Lavorate Still Unconscious

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 (AP) — Alejandro Lavorate, the injured Argentine boxer, remained in a coma Thursday for the 20th day. The South American heavyweight has been hospitalized since he was knocked out Sept. 21 in a bout here with Johnny Higgins of San Francisco.

"I'd like to get it over with," Houk said, "but the weather is what you can't handle. If we can't go tomorrow, we'll go the day after tomorrow. It's just a matter of postponement has to be made."

Stanford has been on the ground in earlier games against Tulane and Michigan State as well as Oregon State—running the ball 129 times passing 83.
Sutherland said earlier this week "a slow field would favor the heavier team and Stanford is that. We'd prefer a dry, fast track."
The weather, however, looks for clouds and rain at the 3:30 p.m. (PST) kickoff time.
"You can talk all you want to about Stanford's running game and their big line," said Jim, "but you've got to see a Curtice team that couldn't or wouldn't throw the ball. You won't be shocked if Jack has his quarterbacks thrown against us."

Record of Jordan Hit By Walker

In a hard-hitting press release Thursday evening, Lloyd E. Walker, Democratic legislative party chairman hurled a heavy barrage of accusations at Len Jordan, Republican House member, which ranged from fraud and hypocrisy to laziness and selfishness.

Walker asserted that Jordan's activities since taking office "have amounted to little more than a fraud upon the people of the state. The senator went to Washington to receive great phrases about carrying on Dewarshank's work in support of the Burns Creek dam and the Bruce Eddy dam which he proposed to renege on."

Walker's most scathing attack declared that while Senator Church and Representative Pfost fight for these projects in Washington, D.C., Jordan is trying to get in extra campaigning time at the hustings.

"It appears from the record that Jordan left Washington, D.C., on Oct. 27, 1961, and has not returned since," Walker declared. "The following day, the senate acted upon the Burns Creek dam project and the Burns Creek dam was about the entire day and took no part in the debate to support Idaho's interest."

"That same day," Walker continued, "the senate passed the conference report on the trade expansion act, the Jordan also was absent the day $4 million dollars was appropriated for forest access roads badly needed in northern Idaho. Jordan was not present when the $2 billion dollar northern aid bill was passed."

"Most important," Walker said, "is the senate-house conference on the rivers and the Burns Creek dam and the Bruce Eddy dam which have been under heavy legislative consideration by our court-secus senator has been one telegram to the conference at the Burns Creek dam project."

Jordan represents a few special interests, Walker claimed. "Political chiefs and their cronies called upon every citizen, particularly those who respected Dewarshank, to force Jordan to run on his own 'disastrous' record."
